Lebanese Plan New River Project With Own Funds

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Little Lebanon is going to work on a 100-million-dollar river development project — biggest in its history — with an economic aid grants from foreign governments.

U.S. Point Four technicians conducted a three-year survey of the Litani River hydroelectric project, which is expected to double per capita consumption of electricity in Lebanon and irrigate more than 50,000 acres by the time it is finished in 25 years. But when American officials handed the survey report to the Lebanese government, they felt reached. For actually building the system, Lebanon must bear the burden itself. The United States plans no direct government grants. Lebanon's Parliament has set up a semi-autonomous company to begin financing. The company will seek funds from Lebanese government sources, Lebanese private investors, foreign private investors and such leading agencies as the World Bank.

Some foreign experts here believe the whole project could pay for itself if built in stages, one phase paying for the next.

Safety Info On Fires Sent To Schools

NEW YORK — The National Board of Fire Underwriters announced today the publication of a new 21-page pamphlet on fire-safe school buildings to educational institutions throughout the country.

The board said it was giving the widest distribution possible to this publication which presents in brief form the essential elements of fire-safe school buildings and makes recommendations for obtaining fire safety in new buildings and in existing ones.

The pamphlet points out that on an average of once every hour during the working day—3,400 times a year—fire breaks out in some school. Over a period of years, 827 deaths have occurred in 60 of the more than 100,000 schools. Only last spring, the National Board pointed out, fire in an upstate New York school took the lives of three children, seriously injured 17 others.

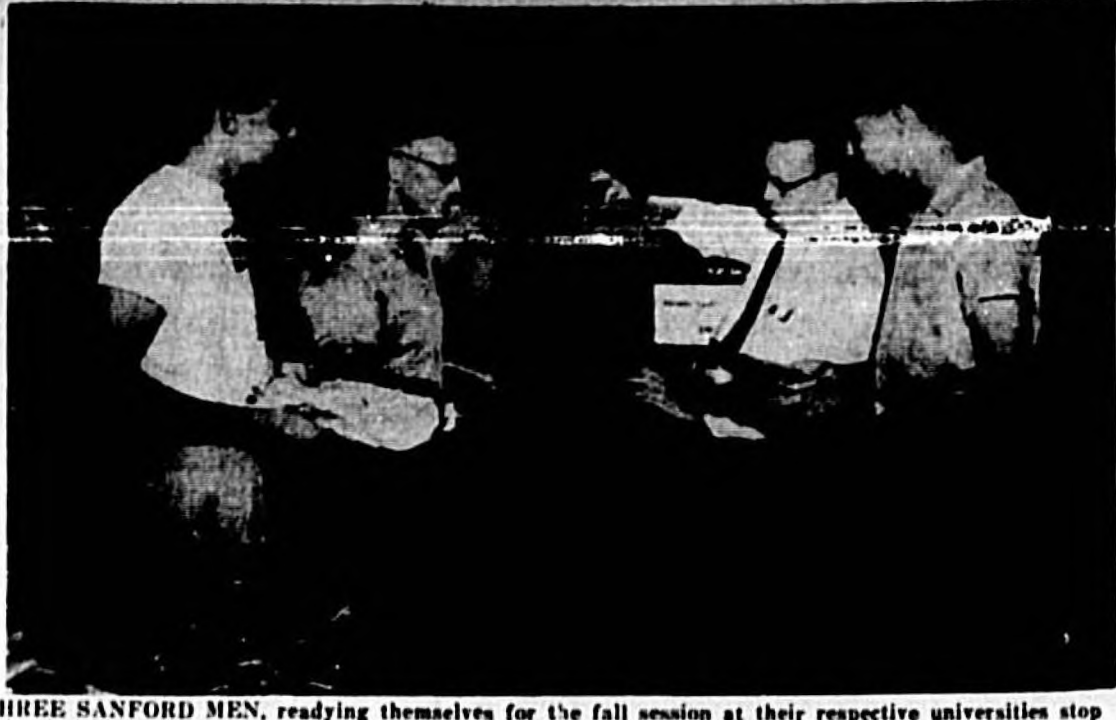

In addition, 11 school fires last year resulted in losses of $250,000 from foreign governments. The structures destroyed included elementary schools, high schools and university buildings.

The pamphlet deals with fire-safe building construction, that is, the limited use of combustible material, fire separation between stories, subdivision of large areas by fire-resisting walls, and adequate exit facilities. It points out that fire extinguishers are needed wherever they may occur. Stand pipe and hose systems are needed in the taller buildings. Automatic sprinkler systems are the answer where more than a limited amount of combustible material is present in construction or occupancy. They are also helpful in overcoming some structural defects and provide excellent control of fire hazards.

Heating and ventilating equipment, electric wiring and appliances, gas piping and appliances, school shops, laboratories, lunch rooms, storage areas, and waste-paper handling arrangements all require proper safeguards for their fire hazards.

Included with the pamphlet is an inspection sheet which suggests that inspections are to be made monthly by the building custodian and a member of the faculty, and quarterly by the fire department. The National Board holds that many existing school buildings can be improved and made reasonably safe. Others have hazards which could be corrected only with such large cost as to make correction impracticable. When that is found to be the case, the National Board said the use of such buildings should be discontinued immediately. "The building may have been used for many years, but that is no proof that fire may not strike tomorrow with tragic loss of life," it was declared.

The National Board added that school fire safety requires more than a building of fire-resistive construction. Fire extinguishing facilities, means for guarding against fire hazards, and regular fire exit drills. Above all, it requires the continuing administrative attention to maintenance of all these features.

Hyacinth Control Division Moves

C. W. Pace, Director of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission announced today that headquarters of the State's Hyacinth Control Division moved to Lakeland in an effort to cut down operating costs. The unit consisting of an aerial crew and two boat crews was formerly based at Williston. At present there are over 140 lakes being maintained, following control operations by the hyacinth group.

"By moving to Lakeland," Pace said, "we will give the unit a more central location. However, one boat crew unit assigned to the North Florida hyacinth control division will continue to operate out of the Williston office."

Pace also announced that with the additional duties assigned to Don R. Luethy, supervisor of the project, since his promotion to the position of chief, fish management, operations for the hyacinth control division at Lakeland would be administered by Dean G. Perera, former pilot of the group. Any inquiries regarding Hyacinth Control work should now be addressed to Box 521, Lakeland.

Happy Birthday today to Mrs. Russell Cooper and Mrs. Harold Coffin.

It was a happy day for Pauline Lucille Mae Farlane who was 21 on Wednesday. It wasn't so much the dinner to which her parents treated her but rather the fact that her dad was able to take her out to dinner after having undergone a very serious operation in July.

We are happy to report that Gaston Crosby is getting along well after his illness. He and Mrs. Crosby are enjoying a vacation in New Jersey.

Joe Gilha will be the Veterans Hospital in Lake City for a while for a complete rest.

No so good is the news of Carol Lederberg, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lederberg who is suffering from first, second and third degree burns on her feet sustained when she ran through smoldering embers, early this week.

When George Pappas of New York paid a surprise visit to the must have set some sort of record, for he traveled 1100 miles to get there, stayed a few hours and then started back, 1100 miles again. Neils tells us the purpose of the visit was to see how a former teacher was getting on.

After ten months in New York, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown are back in their home on Fern Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Dungan had news on Monday of the sudden death of a brother-in-law and they left immediately for Philadelphia. When Mrs. Joan Oldfield first came to DeBary, she was a semi-invalid, so the news of her death was not unexpected. Her going leaves a void among her neighbors and friends who will never forget her patience and high courage in the face of constantly increasing pain. To her devoted husband we extend our heartfelt sympathy.

On Monday we heard of another death, that of Ernest Mueller on Aug. 25, in Chappqua, N. Y. He was 65 years of age and had been in good health when his friend, David Rothschild saw him just a few days before. Death was caused by an aortic aneurysm. Friends in DeBary will remember some of the fine art work he did. He was president for a short time of the Civic Association. His body was cremated on August 28. To his widow and family DeBary friends extend their sympathy.

CLATTER TWENTY EIGHT

WELL, at least Elizabeth Brandt had succeeded in winning Walt part way. Given enough time, she would succeed in winning him altogether.

Cynthia decided to leave him to Norman's mother, as Elizabeth had suggested. So now she said, "Well, I'm glad. I think it will be wonderful." And then dimpling the matter, she turned to get her rap.

He reached out to take her arm and pulled her toward him. She thought he was going to kiss her. Instead, he said, again in his gruff tone of voice, and wearing that fierce scowl, "See here, Cynthia—did that fellow Brandt ever kiss you?"

"Why, yes—he has." She saw no reason to deny it.

His scowl deepened, if possible. He still held her by one arm. "I'd like to tell him a thing or two! You must put him straight—not let such a thing happen again. I think you ought to tell him, Cynthia, that you're going to marry me."

"I will—when the time comes." So far, there had been no asking. Nor had she given an answer.

Walt was taking a little too much for granted. And incidentally, his firm grasp was hurting her arm.

"Meanwhile," the young doctor said sternly, "I don't think you should see so much of this Brandt fellow."

"I have no reason why Norman and I cannot be friends."

"Well, I suppose you'll have to be friendly because of that benefit performance—and now, with his mother taking so much into her hands." Walt said. "However, when that's all over with, you need not be friends with Norman Brandt or with his family, either."

That was not Cynthia's conception of friendship. To use people for all you could get out of them, then drop them.

She said, "You're hurting my arm, Walt." Apparently he had no intention of letting her go. He was too angry, now that Norman's goal, so to speak, had come to between them.

She recalled the time, not so long ago, when Norman had been with her here in the waiting room and how, when he had kissed her, she had felt Walt's unseen presence.

She recalled the time, not so long ago, when Norman had been with her here in the waiting room and how, when he had kissed her, she had felt Walt's unseen presence.

"I'm sorry." He let go of her arm. He picked up his gray felt hat, then his small black bag. "I want to be able to walk home tonight. I promised to stop on my way and make a few calls."

"Oh, that's perfectly all right." Cynthia said. It she married a doctor, he would have to get used to many days apart that would be counted as she took care of her patients. She put her cape around her shoulders. Walt, who had the outside door after them, saw that it was locked for the night. For a moment she hesitated.

Crestview Is Site Of New Shirt Plant

CRESTVIEW—Plans are under way for the transfer of the Tanco Corp. makers of boys' sport shirts, from Chicago to Crestview because of an abundance of skilled textile workers here.

Ray Muskatow, president, and Ben Muskatow, vice president and general manager, said Wednesday that the firm was leaving Chicago because of "labor difficulties, the climate and lack of room for expanding the facilities of the plant." The brothers said the firm employs between 300 and 400 workers, mostly women.

City engineers and architects are studying plans for construction of a plant, expected to cost about $15,000 before asking for bids. The transfer is to require about a year.

Turn Crop Residue To Lessen Disease, Attack Of Insects
GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Vegetable, crop residues left on the land after the crop is harvested can be the source of serious trouble later. The wisest thing for growers to do is destroy such residues immediately.
Dr. James Montelaro, assistant horticulturist with the Agricultural Extension Service, declares that a well-planned program of sanitation well carried out, will go a long way toward reducing disease and pest control problem in succeeding crops. Since such crop residues are ideal for breeding insects and keeping alive and spreading diseases, it is wise to turn under crop residues as soon as possible.

Before turning under the crop residue, it is best to make a final application of a combined fungicide and insecticide spray or dust. This is good insurance—whether or not you get what is left from your vegetable turned under right away. It will help prevent a rapid build-up of insects and diseases that might otherwise spread to younger plants in the area.
Don't forget, Dr. Montelaro advises, to plant your vegetable they have been plowed and thoroughly disked. A good cover crop will ease erosion from wind and rain, conserve valuable plant food, and increase the productivity of the soil.

Soviet Blunder

There is a tendency in the West to credit Soviet diplomats with a greater degree of cleverness than they actually possess. On a number of occasions they have been guilty of costly blunders which simple common sense could have prevented.

Recent instances of this blundering were evidenced in the Russian protest to Iran demanding that that country refrain from participating in the Turkish-Pakistan defense pact. The protest touched off the temper of the Iranians who replied in effect that Russia should mind its own business. The reply said that the Iranian government had the right to "take all measures that it judges desirable with a view to insuring its security and the defense of its independence and integrity." It stated Iranian readiness to join regional military alliances if those alliances serve Iran's interest.

Before the note Russia had made a determined effort to gain Iran's favor. Certain concessions were granted by the Russians to accomplish this and reports from Iran indicate that the concessions were working in Russia's favor to some degree. The Russian attempt to interfere in Iran's affairs, however, dissipated the gain and gave Iranians proof of the Soviet desire to dominate them.

Had the Reds taken an intelligent approach to the problem of Iran's possible participation in the Turkish-Pakistan pact they might have avoided a showdown which actually pushed the Iranians closer to doing just what the Russians wanted to prevent them from doing.

No country, no matter how small, wants to be dominated from abroad. The Iranians made that quite clear. It is a lesson that the Russians are not likely to remember, however.

JAMES MARLOW

New Law Poses Puzzle For Official

WASHINGTON (AP)—Things were pretty lively when William F. Tompkins came to Washington last July. His work seemed fairly well cut out for him.

The Eisenhower administration had just made him an assistant attorney general and put him in charge of a brand new section in the Justice Department: the Division of Internal Security. His new job was to prosecute Communists and subversives in general.

He is it and not a novice as a prosecutor. He's tall, with a lean and friendly face, and an unassuming manner.

When the new Republican administration took over here in 1953 it picked Tompkins—he had been a member of the New Jersey Assembly to be U. S. attorney for all of New Jersey.

With a great deal of energy he recruited a staff to work against racketeers and so impressed the administration it tapped him for bigger things. Atty. Gen. Brownell brought him here.

The President nominated him in May and he took office July 9. The reason his work seemed fairly well cut out for him was this: There were the last two main laws on the books for the government to use against Communists.

It seemed, when Tompkins took over, that all he had to do so, so far as laws went, was to make those two well enough to give the Communists an even greater dose of the miseries. After all, the government had been using them for years.

One was the Smith Act, passed in 1940. Through this one squad of Communist leaders had been tried, convicted and sent to the penitentiary. The other was the McCarran Internal Security Act of 1950.

The government has been using the McCarran law for four years in an effort to make Communists register. The Communists are fighting it in the courts. The Supreme Court won't give a final verdict on its constitutionality before next spring.

The Eisenhower administration through Brownell, long before Tompkins got here, had asked Congress for a few more laws. Not blackbustlers. Just a few laws to tighten up on communism.

The one thing the administra-

spread and a 25 horsepower, four-cylinder engine. It took off from a monorail track and was capable of the amazing speed of 41 miles an hour, just five miles faster than called for in the Army specifications. In the final test before it was approved it flew for one hour without landing, carrying two passengers over a distance of 125 miles.

Today, with jet planes breaking the sound barrier so frequently that it no longer attracts much attention, it is a bit difficult to remember that just 45 short years ago the first Army plane was purchased by the government. The reminder is proof of the progress that has been made in less than fifty years.

Way Down South In Sanford, Florida

By C. R. Dawson, BSA, MSA.
DON'T SEEM POSSIBLE—The amount spent in Florida on deep sea fishing is greater than the combined grosses of the state's citrus and cattle industries.

DON'T TRY—You can't tell the bad egg by its shell.

HE IS HERE—The whole town is talking about The Jones Boy—Webb Jones, that is.

LOCAL YOKEL—See where Sid Richard is gonna get a medal.

ROLL OF COINS—How round, how firm, how fully packed.

HOT STUFF—Ceramic Engineers are spraying a fiery paint on jet engines to protect them from fire. Brushed on with the scorching blaze of a special spray gun, the paint quickly solidifies on the metal. It adds resistance to blistering heats generated by jet flames.

LUCKY—One unusual Venezuelan sesame plant will be the foundation of a new cash crop for many farmers.

Sesame plants have not been grown in the past due to fragile seed pods but this new variety has tough pods. The seeds produce a high quality oil which is used by the confectionary industry and in shortenings, soaps and other products. After the oil is removed, the seed pulp makes a good livestock feed with high protein content.

The new variety can be harvested with a standard grain combine. Seed for general use will be available in 1966.

WAY BACK—The first Boy Scout troop was organized in England on January 24, 1908.

CLOSE—The length of a unit of time is now known with an accuracy of about a twenty-billionth of a second. This measurement is based on the moon's motion in its path around the earth. To get an accurate value of a time unit, astronomers, for hundreds of years have checked the positions of the moon and the stars.

COWS—If you haven't already made plans for this year feed supply for your beef cattle, better do so right away. One of the first requirements of a good beef cattle program is an adequate supply of good feed.

My New York

By MEL HEIMER

NEW YORK—This time—well, this time you may have made a mistake. You are once again aboard the Tablo II, as the placid old auxiliary cutter picks up a stray zephyr, with her jib and point end of a pool in the shallow Long Island sound, and you are once again making your annual sail. There is this difference; this time you have sworn on oath, virtually in blood, to go swimming from the boat, in 60 ominous-looking feet of water in mid-sound. You must have been crazy or something.

You stretch out on deck, under the blue sky and hot sun, and consider your rash promise. Since boyhood, you have been less than a fishy porpoise in the water. At 10, you used to slide along the sandy bottom of the ocean, saying doggily to yourself what the others were saying up on the surface—

"Everybody can float, now, remember that? You floated—like a waterlogged flat iron."

Now, you can swim, maybe 25 yards under pressure—from the deck of a boat in the shallow end, where you can stand up when tired—and you were going swimming in mid-sound, from Tablo II. For what? Or, rather, for whom?

Back in Manhattan, you are a person of some stature. If he is in the mood, Bob Kriepdler may nod to you when you enter Twenty-One Stars at stage, screen and radio come to you to borrow money. You are good for a fairly good table at Chamboard, and once in a while you will see one of your columns, blown up to billboard size, outside a restaurant—

"Mel Heimer says you must listen to our clockwork plays! You are a big-time, you know? You are a fair sized hotshot on the big drag of Broadway."

Here on Tablo II, you are simply "he." You are "he," spoken of in giggles and with a touch of scorn. As you lie on deck, coming close to destiny, you hear the cook and the cabin boy discussing the project.

"I let he won't do it," the cabin boy says with obvious distaste. "He let out last year. He ain't got the stuff to do it."

"Don't say ain't," the cook comments sharply. "And don't judge him. He might. He just might. Remember—he's different than most people. He... well, he's..."

"A writer?" the cabin boy says with loathing in his voice. "Wise guy you muttered to yourself, lying there. The cabin boy who ate steak twice a day and melted milk once, has the muscles of a shark. He goes through the water with his American crawl like a hungry barracuda. Maybe he's not human, you meditate gloomily. Maybe he's a fish. He certainly acts like one."

Then the rendezvous is reached. The captain drops the hook, in the first mate yells up thoughtfully, one by one the savages peel off the deck into the briny. Soon there are four of them, floating around like many pieces of orange peel thrown overboard—looking up at Tablo II. You can't do that again. Or can you?

Then, numbly, frighteningly, you are off the ladder—and swimming already yet! Swimming in 60 feet of water, you, the gay diva of El Morocco, the bon vivant of 45th street, the snooker pool champion of 48 between 6th and 7th.

The cabin boy goes by you like a power boat opened wide. "There," he yells over his shoulder, "that wasn't so bad, was it? 'Hey, man' he calls to the cook, 'sit him—' he's swimming! Then he laughs and laughs. Very funny. Maybe you'll cut him down to steak once a day."

Finally, the grisly adventure is over. They hoist you back up the ladder. You are crawling up on deck and flop there. The Tablo II rocks gently. You rear your bedraggled head and look over the rail at the cook—"sit hungry!" you yell. "Got any plums?"

"Yes, sir," she says with newfound respect and climbs aboard to fetch them from the galley. You have, it seems, acquired new status—the hard way.

JACK BLOOD BANK CONSIDERED OUTSTANDING JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Officials said a blood, bone and blood vessel bank and radioactive isotope laboratory here would probably be the only one in the country handling that many items.

Dr. Robert B. Melver, president of the Jacksonville Blood Bank, and Dr. John Ross, medical director, said essentially the bank also would store body tissues for which research for banking purposes is now under way.

The new facilities are to be ready in January.

What Is Magic Of San Francisco?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Leave from a touring notebook. What is the charm that makes up San Francisco?

Every great world city, like every outstanding human being, has a personality that sets it apart from others. Who could awake in Paris and confuse it with Rome?

Who could mistake the force of a New York for the great, durable grandeur of London? Hong Kong has a lure inherent even in its name, which sounds like the longing of temple gongs.

But what is the magic of San Francisco? One way for an outsider to learn the secret of a city is to ask the people in it why they choose to live there.

Most cities have only two elements. And the climate doesn't change by the week or the month. Many days here you can drive a mile and find three different climates. That gives an excitement to living.

A lady who moved here several years ago from New York said positively, "San Francisco is a man's town." Asked if she would want to live in a woman's town?

For some one—that's different. Just the other day, the lady Senator from Maine, charming Margaret Chase Smith, was dining in the Senate restaurant when a bug crawled across the table. The Senator hasn't been back since.

Close Timing—Two Florida Congressmen moved rapidly last week to check any ill effects of a red tide story appearing in the Saturday Evening Post. Courtney Campbell of Tampa and Jim Haley of Sarasota got together the next day on a radio show with Dr. Paul Thompson, head of the Florida Wildlife Service here. He had debunked many of the false ideas in the minds of Florida citizens. The tide is not caused by poison gases or bombs.

More impressive to me than its million-dollar glamor is the fact that it has two complete nurseries. Mothers with babies have been the forgotten travelers of the air age, but San Francisco has remembered them.

Hold your hats, boys—Five weeks ago we commented about the rumor that George Smathers might not run for re-election in 1966. Following that story, the Senator stated that he would announce definitely in the early part of 1965 just what his plans are. Now, a new note of suspense has been added to the political mystery program. Will Congressman Charlie Bennett run? Friends of Bennett have known for a long time that he is ambitious to move his office to the other side of Capitol Hill, but his chances looked dim. He is a friend of both Senator Holland and Senator Smathers, and his loyalty kept him from day dreaming about such a race. But, count on this! If Senator Smathers should announce that he will not run again, Charlie Bennett will announce for the Senate before the sun has set, figuring to scare off any heavy opposition.

The many stories going around about George Smathers not running may be a clever way to get newspaper publicity, but many old political heads think the real result will be to get people to think about running for the Senate who wouldn't have thought of it otherwise. Sort of an invitation.

C-C Committees—Three Floridians were named this week by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce to national committees. Heading the National Defense committee is Arthur Y. Appointed to the Distribution Committee is H. C. Avery, president and general manager of the Union Terminal Warehouse Co., Jacksonville.

Irrigation May Be Profitable This Fall

Being prepared to supply additional water when it is needed may prove to be good insurance against pasture loss during the hot, dry months of summer and fall.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture reports it may be possible for farmers to save enough pasture in one or two years to pay the cost of irrigating equipment. Conditions for supplying irrigation water vary, of course, among different farms, and farmers will want to do some figuring before making a final decision.

In tests recently conducted with the Tennessee Dairy Experiment Station, returns from pastures that were irrigated average about $100 more per acre than similar unirrigated pastures—after cost of irrigation and other costs were deducted.

The tests compared irrigated orchard grass, alfalfa, and ladino pasture with unirrigated. It was found that the irrigated plots provided 287 cow days of grazing per acre, against 176 days for the unirrigated plots.

The irrigated plots produced 12,820 pounds of milk and 823 pounds of butterfat per acre against 8,019 pounds of milk and 284 pounds of butterfat from the unirrigated plots, according to the report.

U. S. business men estimate that the nation's industry is now spending 2 1/2 billion dollars a year on research and development, what was spent 25 years ago.

Everybody is an individual out here. People still respect each other. A pedestrian even has equal rights with a motorist. Folks have more tolerance. They don't quibble over small matters.

San Francisco has a sense of vitality and the unexpected. You don't have the feeling that everything is over and done with. Anything can happen.

Uoff Coach Invites Varsity Candidates To Report Sept. 1

GAINESVILLE—Coach Bob Woodruff has invited 64 varsity candidates to report Sept. 1 to begin football practice for the 1954 season of the University of Florida.

The Gators open their schedule just 18 days later when they play Rice in a night-time contest in Houston.

This first game signals the beginning of the toughest 10-game schedule in Florida football history. Following Rice are Georgia Tech, Auburn, Clemson, Kentucky, L. E. U., Mississippi State (homecoming), Georgia, Tennessee and Miami.

Heading up the list of returning players will be Team Captain Jerry Blysk, senior end from St. Louis, and alternate Captain Larry Feott, senior halfback from Pensacola.

Of the 68 returnees, 33 are sophomores, 17 are juniors and 18 are seniors.

Miami Considered For Triple-A Team

MIAMI—This city's potential as a member of a Triple-A International League are being examined.

Frank Shaughnessy, president of the league, said here last night that if and when a vacancy occurs, Miami will be given top consideration as a replacement.

Shaughnessy indicated that if a club is moved to Miami it will be by the league as a whole and said he is not interested in being approached by would-be promoters.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK—There is a strong feeling in tennis circles that young Tony Trabert is about to reach the turning point of his career in the National Championships, which begin tomorrow at Forest Hills.

The expectation is that the defending champion either will win the event for the second time as decisively as to stamp him the world's greatest amateur without question, or will fall back into the ranks of those players who didn't quite have it. Nobody seems quite sure which it will be.

Since he crushed his countryman Vic Seixas in last year's final, the heavily-legged young man from Cincinnati has been an authentic favorite to his admirers. He simply has not played that brand of tennis again, except in brief spurts.

When he had a chance to win the Davis Cup from Australia on the third day of the Challenge Round at Melbourne, he succumbed to Lewis Hoad. That was his third defeat in four Challenge Round matches over a two-year period. Later, in the state championship at Adelaide when the heavy pressure was off, he trimmed Hoad decisively in straight sets.

A partial explanation offered for Tony's in-and-out play in recent months is that he has been troubled by blisters on his racket hand, but he did not have them when he was getting walloped in Australia.

Hilly Talbot, who was Tony's original sponsor and doubles partner, said recently the youngster's only trouble was that he couldn't play quite as good tennis as he thought he could, and that he never would be a real standout until he quit mooning around and threw himself completely into the game.

He wouldn't be surprised if the hurt Tony, coming from his old friend, but it probably did him a lot of good too. If he knows now that he can't afford to be tentative about the crowd in cheering for his opponent, as he was in Australia last winter, and needs to beat down with his big game on every point, then he and Seixas ought to bring that cup back the next time. We haven't anyone else even nearly so good though.

Tony Trabert Seeded No. 1 In Net Tourney

NEW YORK—As expected, Tony Trabert, the top player in the United States, has been seeded No. 1 for the National tennis championship which begins at Forest Hills on Saturday.

Vic Seixas, twice a finalist, is No. 2, followed by Hamilton Richardson, the national intercollegiate champion from Tulane, Art Larsen, champion in 1950, Ed Masten, Straight Clark, Gardner Mulloy, Tom Brown, Bernard Borzani and Bill Talbot.

The foreign seedings are headed by Lew Hoad of Australia, the Davis Cup teammate, Ken Rosewall is No. 2. Then, in order, are Sven Davidson of Sweden, Rex Bell of Sweden, Lennox Fraser of Australia, Owen Williams of South Africa, Kosmo Kamo of Japan, Larne Mann of Canada and Roger Becker of England.

NEW YORK—Frankie Moran, 130 lb., New York, outpointed Al Williams, 130 lb., New York, 12.

The longest touchdown play in Michigan State College history was a 90-yard run by Lynn Chadwick against Arizona on Nov. 19, 1949.

Russ Nixon FSL Leader In Hitting; Two Pitchers Accrue 22 Wins Each

Russ Nixon is on the move again, but this week in the right direction as the youngsters from Jacksonville Beach regained his batting form to hit for league-leading average six points a very respectable .304.

The twin brother, while holding the lead for the 14th straight week, held steady, by the slimmest margin of one, his top spot in two-base hits, and now offers 35 two-packs. Mike Kasabian of DeLand is the last Russ missed out for the honor. Nixon also moved to the fore in total bases, and now owns 214, four more than Don Bartley of Daytona Beach, with whom he was tied last week. However, one game in which Bartley performed is missing from the averages, so the actual leadership in that department is in some doubt.

Big John Barrow Slated For Role In Uoff Contests

GAINESVILLE—They just couldn't help calling John Banks Barrow, 215 pound sophomore guard with Berdick's factors, by the name of "Big John."

But, as far as Coach Bob Woodruff and his assistants are concerned, the word big stands for more than just stature, for Barrow is slated to play an important role in future Florida grid wars. He saw 18 minutes varsity action last season.

Barrow was switched from end to guard in spring drills and made a great showing at that new spot. "He's a fine boy to work with," states Coach Woodruff. "He made the change of positions very well, and he has good speed, is very aggressive, and should play plenty of football for Florida in the next three years."

John hails from Delray Beach, playing two years for Seacrest High School and two at Georgia Military Academy.

While Barrow will be working from the right guard post, he also has a capable sophomore running back in Bob Voshok, 6 foot 3, 185 pounder from Miami Springs.

Voshok was in varsity action for 20 minutes in 1953, and has a reputation for hustling on the practice field and hitting hard carrying out blocking assignments.

Bob was awarded a trophy his senior year at Andover, Mass., for being named the team's "Best Blocker."

In high school he also was a center on the basketball team and ran the 400 yard open in a track meet.

Voshok and Barrow both won freshman numerals last season.

Two Records Go In Southern Loop

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Terrific pitching at New Orleans sent the first night set of three new marks down in the Southern Loop record book today.

All-time Glenn Thompson, a 6-foot-3 Texas castoff, broke the record for a shutout by throwing 17 by fanning 19 New Orleans batters as the Cracker's whipped the first place Peas 4-2.

Bob Bennett of New Orleans, the losing pitcher, fanned nine, giving the frame a total of 28 strikeouts. The previous record for one game was 25.

Bob Lennon, Nashville's powerful centerfielder, broke the home run record by hitting three when he blasted No. 35 in the second game of a twin bill with Memphis. Lennon tied the old league mark of 53 last week.

Nashville downed Memphis 5-1 in the first game, but Chicago's loss to the Braves 4-1, Memphis' combined hit and run strategy kept the Braves from repeating the Houston record of trapping the Braves in the 140 yard open in a track meet.

FSL Leaders Beat 2nd Division Clubs In Pennant Race

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Lakeland, Orlando and Deland continued their tight race for the Florida State League second-half championship last night by venting their spleen on the hapless second-division clubs.

Deland shut out Jacksonville Beach 4-0, Orlando took Cocoa 6-2 and Lakeland defeated Daytona Beach 4-1.

The results left Lakeland one-half game ahead of Orlando and five games on top of Deland with only four playing days remaining. Orlando is only second-division competition from now on but Lakeland and Deland have a crucial doubleheader tonight.

Lakeland's Jack Wante stopped Daytona Beach on seven hits. Landis Neal gave the Peas only four hits but walked nine, and three runs came as a result of his wildness.

Six batters in the seventh inning brought Orlando its victory over Cocoa. The CBs collected 12 hits—six in the seventh—off three pitchers. Mully Solomon kept three batters on base as the winners with eight scattered hits.

One 'Name' Golfer Left In Tourney

DETROIT—The least noticed, and possibly the best, of the prominent golfers in the 1954 National Amateur Championship is Robert Gray, who moves in the social, financial and golfing circles of Long Island, Palm Beach and London.

He's a tall, debonaire man with a touch of gray in his hair at the temples and a touch of Oxford in his accent. He's an American citizen born in Pasadena, Calif., 43 years ago, but he divides his time between this country, England and Europe. He has played in the British Amateur Championship many more times than in the American.

Going into today's 36-hole final, he was the only "name" player left in the tournament and his name was one that had been half-forgotten by everyone but his opponents until he came through yesterday with a sharp 4 and 3 victory over Dale Morey, last year's runner-up.

The other survivors were Arnold Palmer, a 24-year-old former Coast Guardman and Wake Forest College player who is rated top among the rising young amateur stars; 26-year-old Eddie Meiser, a former major league pitcher, and Fred Lengryk, 33 year-old Newington, Conn., dentist whose golf reputation has been obscured by that of his sister Grace.

The semifinals matches sent the two Clevelanders, Palmer and Meiser, against one another, and Lengryk against Lengryk.

Meiser has played in 13 U.S. amateur championships, going as far as the fifth round in 1933 and again in 1932.

Palmer was knocked out of his first amateur by Frank Stranahan in the first round in 1950. He gained ample revenge yesterday by eliminating the eager Stranahan, and then going on to beat Don Cherry up, after a tense, erratic struggle.

For seventy, this is the fourth American championship since he went to the quarter-finals at Baltimore in 1948, and then from qualifying, as a former British Amateur champion, but he came here only because a business deal in Texas fell through and he had some time on his hands.

Wally Ulrich Open Leader

TORONTO—Hotty Wally Ulrich won the men's title in a par-busting field of 81 set out on the third round of the $26,500 Open over the Scarborough Golf course today.

Ulrich, the Rochester, Minn., golfer, deftly stroked a 40-foot putt on the final green yesterday for his second successive six under par 63 and the halfway mark in the tournament.

Atlanta Tomboys forfeited their bid to withstand the brilliant second-sine 31 carded by Bo Wingler of Oklahoma City. The Oklahoma's closing ruff gave him a 62 and second place at 121.

Ulrich was virtually forgotten, with 54 of the 81 third-round qualifiers showing cards equalling or bettering the course's par of 73-71. Dave Douglas of Wilmington, N.C., the first-round leader with only 68 strokes, followed that round with a two-under-par 69. The net result was to leave him in third place with 132.

Tennis Tourney Reaches Finals

MIAMI BEACH—Many top-seeded players were on the sidelines as the Miami Beach Senior-Junior Tennis Tournament got under way.

They have made marked progress, it's true, as results in two days of competition in the European Track and Field Championships here have shown.

But they still lack depth once you get past their outstanding stars.

And you need those seconds and thirds in world class competition. The Soviets also don't appear to have a well-rounded squad when they face the outside world.

Here yesterday at Newfield Stadium they failed to place a man in the 100-meter final.

Winner Heinz Fütterer of Germany had a time of 22.8 seconds to beat the only American competitor, Ed McKeever of St. Louis, who ran 23.3.

Pennsylvania Filly Captures Nine Records In Short Time

COLUMBUS, O.—In just a season and a half at the races, a trim little filly from Camp Hill, Pa., has inscribed her name nine times on the world record table maintained for the harness racing sport by the U. S. Trotting Association.

Only two other horses, the incomparable Greyhound and the great trotting stallion Star's Pride hold more records than Max Hempf's three-year-old trotting filly, Stenographer, the USA announced today.

Greyhound, who led her over all harness horses from 1934 to 1950 still holds 11 records. Star's Pride, who campaigned from 1949 to 1951 has ten, a mark which Stenographer is shooting for now.

Most recent record to be shattered by the fleet daughter of Hill Gallon was the race standard for age, sex and sex which had been held since 1930 when Hanover's Bertha trotted a mile in two minutes flat. Stenographer broke it when she came home for trainer Harry Dal Miller in 1:59.4 at the Illinois State Fair last week.

Stenographer, the beaten favorite in this year's Hambletonian, holds every possible mile record for two and 3 year-old trotting fillies except one and she will probably wipe that off the books before the season ends.

The one she doesn't hold is the 3-year-old mile track standard of 1:59.4, established by The Marchioness in a time trial in 1932. At her present clip, Stenographer probably will reduce that either in a race or in a just against the stop watch.

Stenographer is the world's champion 2-year-old trotting filly over both a mile track (1:59.4) and a half mile track (2:00.3-5) and the champion 3-year-old filly over a half mile track (2:03.4-6) and in a race over a mile track (1:59.4-5). In addition, she holds several two-year-old records which boost her lifetime total to nine.

3 Tilts Scheduled In Girls' Tourney

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—Three games involving teams from Georgia, North Carolina, Alabama and Florida will be played here tonight in the southern regional girls' softball tournament.

Winston Salem, N.C. meets Mobile's Sokols; Fairfield, Ala. meets St. Petersburg, Fla.; and Atlanta Lorceli tries for a second win against LaGrange, Ga.

Lorceli scored five times in the third inning and rolled up an easy 8-2 win over Oak Ridge last night in an opening round game.

Atlanta Tomboys forfeited its game to St. Petersburg last night in the only other scheduled action.

Knoxville, the ninth team and host for the meet, will play its first game tomorrow after drawing a first round bye.

The double elimination tournament ends Monday night.

Reds Make Some Progress In Effort To Rival U. S.

By MEL MARMOR

Bern, Switzerland—Just how far have the Russians come since Helsinki in their calculated drive to build a track and field team that can rival America in Olympic competition?

They have made marked progress, it's true, as results in two days of competition in the European Track and Field Championships here have shown.

But they still lack depth once you get past their outstanding stars.

Winner Heinz Fütterer of Germany had a time of 22.8 seconds to beat the only American competitor, Ed McKeever of St. Louis, who ran 23.3.

Winner In NL Will Be Known In Five Days

MILWAUKEE—The next five days will tell the story of the 1954 National League pennant race.

The front-running New York Giants open a two-game series against Charlie Grimm's Milwaukee Braves, the league's hottest team, tonight, with the second-place Brooklyn Dodgers moving in for four starting with a Sunday doubleheader.

The Braves, boasting 30 victories and only 10 losses since the All-Star break, July 13, will throw long Gene Cooney (13-6) and veteran Warren Spahn (13-10) against the Giants in their determined drive for the flag. Sal (The Barber) Maglie and Ruben Gomez were the likely New York costers.

The Giants, who held a commanding 15½-game lead when the Braves opened up their drive, were down to only six when they moved in for the vital series. The Braves have beaten the league leaders in their last six meetings, sweeping three-game series both here and at New York.

"If we're gonna win it, we gotta win it here," Grimm repeated again yesterday after the Braves had won their fourth in a row, beating Philadelphia 3-2.

The first three games, despite a modest record of 32 wins and 28 losses in County Stadium, figure they can do it. As a matter of fact, they've thought it since the last time the Giants were due in back in mid-July. And with Bobby Thomson in the regular lineup for the first time since his spring training ankle fracture, the "He's got it and the other guys know it. That helps plenty, when you've got to win to keep going."

Lions, Redskins To Meet Tonight

DETROIT—The Detroit Lions, poised and proven, make their first home start of the 1954 season tonight in an exhibition game with the Washington Redskins, making their first start under a new coach, Joe Kuharich, former Notre Dame star lineman, has had charge of the Washington Club only since Sunday, when the veteran Curly Lambeau was fired as head coach.

The National Football League champion Lions, on the other hand, go into the charity contest fresh from a 21-0 swamping of the College All-Stars and a 17-14 exhibition over the Philadelphia Eagles.

Washington was considered a leading contender for the NFL's Eastern Division honors in same pre-season ratings. But the Skins look two straight pastings last week on the West Coast—27-7 by the Los Angeles Rams and 20-7 by the San Francisco 49ers.

Lambeau was fired after a near-fatal feud with Redskins Owner George Preston Marshall, Marshall reportedly was irked because Lambeau would not "get tough" with the players.

Kuharich, experienced as both a player and coach with the Chicago Cardinals, was handed the reins. He moved up from line coach.

In the last 10 Hambletonian trotting races at Gosden, N. Y., five winning drivers were over 60 years old.

Letters TO THE Editor

IT'S A GOOD IDEA

In the Aug. 7 issue of All Florida Magazine in the Jacksonville Journal you ask for your subscribers to drop you a line, with suggestions and advice.

I have one suggestion. I would like to see the section for children put back in. My three children enjoyed it so much and I think other children would, too.

IT'S THE LAW

Enjoyed your article (Aug. 6 issue) on "Little Pet." We had a pet deer in Wisconsin before moving to Florida and it provided a lot of laughs and fun for the whole family.

What I want to know, though, is what right the Conservation people had in taking the deer away from little Linda Allen? If her father found the deer and it was lost and might have died, why shouldn't they be allowed to keep it. That's conserving wildlife and Linda Allen should be rewarded, not made to give up her pet.

OUR COVER

Along about time school starts in early September, the boys break out their marbles—and the girls start on jacks. Jim Jernigan, who took this week's cover, found 12-year-old Ronald Rollin, of Ocala, busy getting ready to "take" the boys in the season's first school yard marble matches. If concentration is important, Ronald looks like this year's champ.

THE PATIENT'S ABOUT WELL

"What's matter with this dang hospital anyway... ain't old Nurse Sourpass gonna check on me this morning?"

"HELLO... are you a new nurse on this floor?... or have they just been hidin' you all this time?"

"Heh, heh, the other nurses always rub my back at least twice a day and stop in to see me all the time."

"How about that?... Said the Doc told her I didn't need no more special attention, and out the door she flew."

ALUMINUM STILTS

By DONALD R. BRANN

HERE'S a brand new way of making playtime equipment that will delight youngsters from six to 60. It's a pair of stilts made from tubular aluminum. Adjustments may be made to place the footrests at three different heights.

Kids will get a kick out of "racing" on these stilts, or simply stiff-legging it around the lawn.

They are really simple to make, and one or two pair can be made in an evening's time. Special "do-it-yourself" aluminum in six foot lengths is now available in many hardware stores, lumber yards and other general stores. A pattern is available, too, which shows you how to convert these tubes into stilts. An electric or hand drill, an ordinary saw, some bolts and short lengths of strip aluminum, and rubber caps for tops and bottoms, are all you need.

One pair of stilts will cost only a few dollars to make, but will give a million dollar's worth of fun. Two or more pairs can be made at less per pair cost than one. So if you really want to make a hit with your youngsters or some neighbors' children, turn out a few extra pairs. If you're really ambitious you may do what thousands of others are doing—make a number of them and sell them through local stores or on direct order. It's a nice way of picking up extra money.

Send 25 cents for Pattern No. 552, Aluminum Stilts, to Pattern Dept., All Florida Magazine, P. O. Box 215, Pleasantville, New York.

TOURNEY UNDER THE SEA

By BUDDY CRUSSELL

FIGHTING baracudas, wrestling sharks, and playing tag with moray eels may seem like a crazy pastime to most of us, but on Aug. 29, swimmers from skin diving clubs across the nation will converge on the coastline reefs of Key West to do just that.

The scene will be that of the National Underwater Spearfishing Championships among clubs from California to New England and from Florida and Cuba, according to Harold Aycock, Florida AAU Committee chairman of the sport.

These underwater shenanigans have developed from what was once a Sunday afternoon pastime to a national sport under the sanction of the Amateur Athletic Union of America.

Recently at Key West, the 21 clubs in Florida staged the state qualifying tournament with the Miami Beach Tritons as winners. State President Burton McNeely of Tampa conducted the tourney.

At the National meet at Key West approximately six 3-man teams will compete for the title, plus the Owen Churchill perpetual trophy and the Helms Athletic Foundation award. Members of the winning team will receive individual trophies.

Second place winners will receive Helms silver awards while the third place team will be given Helms bronze prizes.

The whole affair is jointly sponsored by the National AAU, International Underwater Spearfishing Association, Helms Athletic Foundation and Owen Churchill.

At the tournament site, each team will be assigned a boat, complete with judges and safety equipment. They will be assigned a designated area in which to fish.

When the skills reach their respective areas the teams go off with the aid of inflated rubber rafts, surf boards or any object which they can push to help them stay afloat.

The winning team will be decided by total poundage of fish speared with spear guns. Credit for 40 pounds is the maximum allowed for any fish, and the minimum is seven pounds.

The spearfishermen will be after such species as grouper, baracuda, snappers, mackerel, and kings with various dimensions as sharks, rays, and eels excluded.

The Miami Club of California is the defending champion in quest of a second national title.

Also entered is the Guanabaco Bay, Cuba, Navy team and possibly a Hawaiian team, to give the tourney an international flavor.

Ralph N. Davis, Los Angeles, is the general chairman of the championships and will be assisted by the host president, Burton McNeely, and Harold Aycock, West Palm Beach, who will be the official AAU representative.

The tournament will last about four hours and will have Key West's Edward Casinski, who is the most widely known pro in the sport, as one of the directors. The Cuban diver mentioned is known for his aid in the filming of Walt Disney's movie, "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea," and the underwater thriller, "Under the 12 Mile Reef."

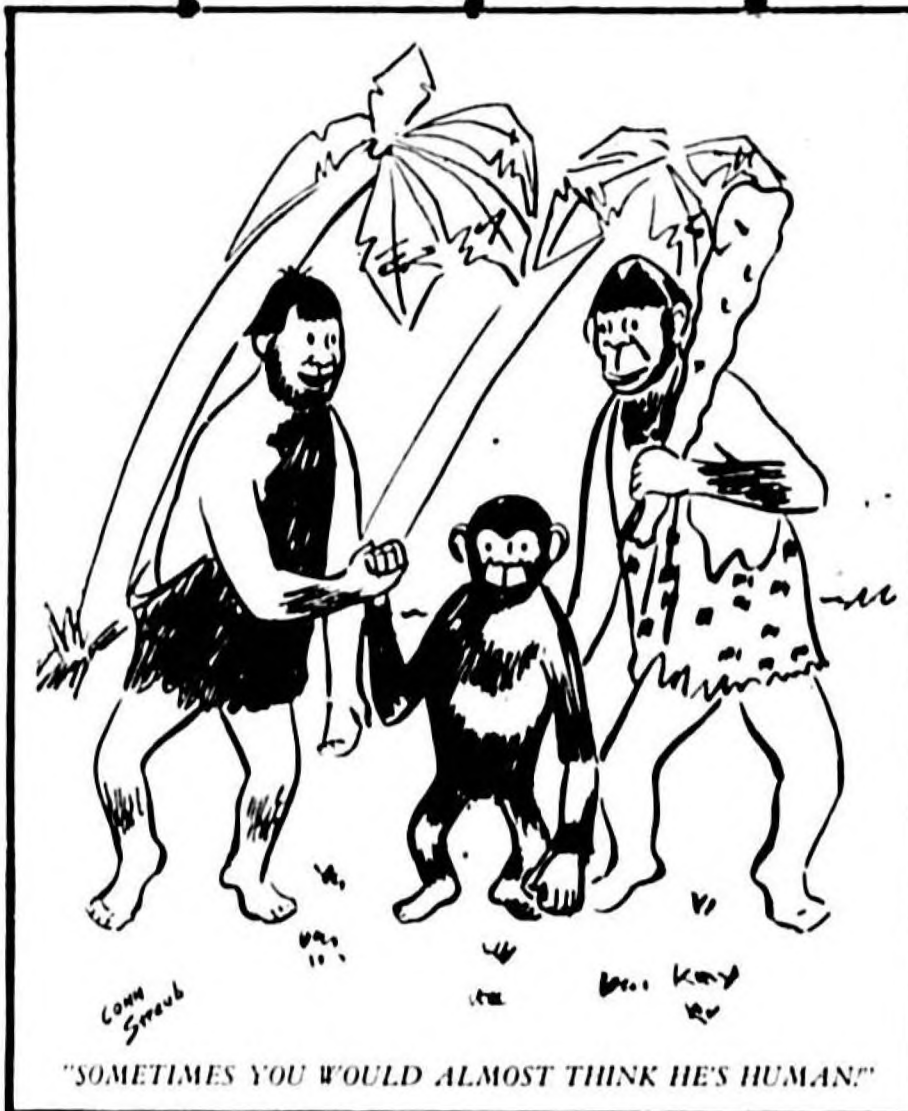

The surplus fish not wanted by the respective swimmers will be given to some charitable institution, a custom established in the past.

CHAMPION SKIN diver of the U. S. is the title of Arthur Pinder, Floridian, who capped the title in 1953 by spearing this catfish on Miami's coast. His feat was recognized by the Helms Athletic Foundation as the outstanding accomplishment among the literally thousands of skin divers along every coastline of the United States.

FUTURE FARMERS OF THE ATLANTIC

THIS OCEAN "farmer" is studying currents off the Cuban coast. He is a student of the University of Miami's Marine Laboratory—and his work some day will help to increase Florida's seafood output.

WHERE DOES a saltfish go when it gets off the hook. These students at the University of Miami Marine Laboratory may come up with the answer.

By PAULINE PESCE

FLORIDA'S SEAFOOD output is expected to increase 100 per cent by 1960, according to a report issued last week by the State Fisheries Department of Intracoastal Waterway, Inc., in cooperation with the University of Miami.

The University of Miami Marine Laboratory is the only one in the United States which is authorized by both the State Fisheries Department and Intracoastal Waterway, Inc., to conduct research on the habits of saltfish.

The Laboratory is headed by Dr. J. Edgar Smith, who has spent the last 10 years of his life studying the habits of saltfish.

Work at the laboratory is being done by the newly organized Florida State University Marine Biology Department, which is one of the youngest departments in the country.

Operations of the Laboratory are financed by the State of Florida and the Intracoastal Waterway, Inc. The laboratory is one of the largest in the world.

The laboratory is one of the largest in the world and is one of the most modern.

How the saltfish are being studied is more ventures than most can imagine.

Your Hosts - Ten Counties on Florida's West Coast

Host City • St. Petersburg

THE Sunshine Skyway stretches 11 miles from Maximo Point on the Pinellas shore to Palm View on the Manatee shore.

★ A series of six hydraulic causeways span 11 miles of open water on Tampa Bay.

★ A traffic survey has estimated that 670,000 vehicles will cross the Sunshine Skyway each year.

★ Sunshine Skyway will double expansion rates in various fields in the many of the 10 counties directly served by the bridge.

SUNSHINE SKYWAY STATISTICS

★ The Skyway is the second largest Public Works project ever undertaken in the state's history, and the largest in Pinellas, or Manatee, county history.

★ A 28 foot roadway is provided over the entire crossing and three-foot walkways are available to fishermen on all bridges. It is estimated that thousands of anglers can fish at one time from the bridge without crowding, and in safety from traffic.

★ More than 16,000 tons of steel were used in the bridge's central span and nearly one million cubic yards of sand was pumped for each mile of causeway.

★ It is the first bridge ever built in which reinforced concrete beams are of the pre-stressed variety—a method perfected in St. Petersburg—to give the bridge structures unusually efficient resistance to salt erosion of reinforcing metals.

★ The central span, built at a total cost of approximately $11,747,982, will withstand wind pressures up to 75 pounds per square foot.

★ The central fixed cantilever span is the ninth longest in the United States, 864 feet.

★ The central bridge span, with 250 foot towers and roadbed, will rise 155 feet above the bay on a five per cent grade, has a horizontal clearance of 86 feet to afford clearance for the largest of ocean-going vessels.

Bridging A Gap

OPENING of the Sunshine Skyway brings an enthusiastic glow to the reports and surveys conducted by a number of research agencies and one, in particular, sees the giant span "bridging a gap" in the tourist business of most of the 10 Florida West Coast counties connected by the Skyway.

The First Research Corporation, of Miami, predicts that as a result of the bridge tourist accommodations in the 10 counties will expand 11 per cent more in the next five years than could normally be expected.

Tourist accommodations today in the 10-county area total 118,000 rooms for rent, a figure that would normally in the next five-year period increase to 144,000. With the bridge, enthuses the report, this growth will reach, instead, a total of 160,000 rooms for rent, a 35 per cent overall increase.

Quoting from the Research company's report:

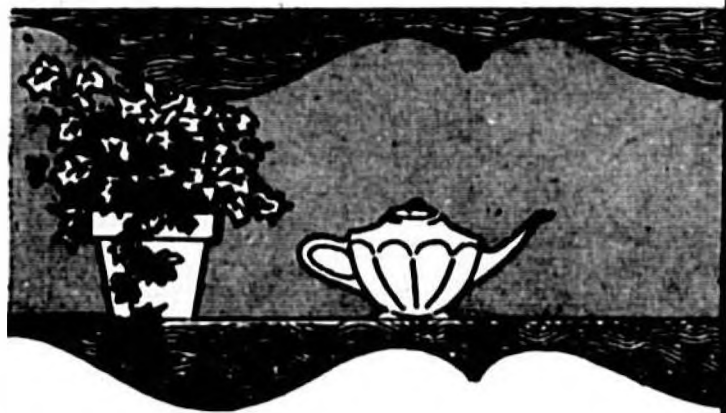

"The two central counties . . . are fairly well situated as far as the tourist industry is concerned, Pinellas, in fact, may be regarded as the hub of the tourist market on the West Coast . . . The bridge will not substantially change Pinellas' dominant position in this industry, and for the first year or so of the bridge's life may actually increase its hold and lead in the business . . . Those who will be attracted to it in the future may be transients who formerly never visited Pinellas County at all, since the peninsula was regarded by them as rather a transportation cul-de-sac.

"Generally speaking, therefore, from the middle of 1954 to the middle of 1955, and especially during the season of 1954-55, it is expected that Pinellas County will receive great attention from tourists, and that the tourist trade will be definitely on the increase during that year, much more so than in the other counties under study."

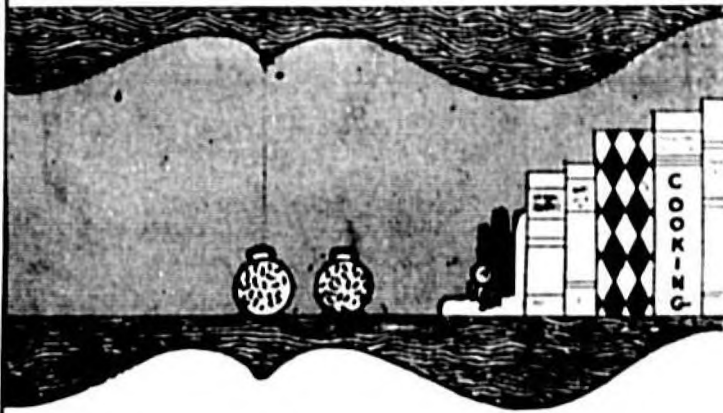

The report predicts fresh emphasis will be placed on northern Pinellas tourist facility development, Tarpon Springs and northward. Tarpon Springs is cited as an especially logical point to pause for tourists northbound from Miami, after going through St. Petersburg.

KITCHEN
Sketch

DURING the summer months when citrus fruit is not as plentiful as during the winter months, Florida offers another fruit high in vitamin C content—the mango. The mango is believed to have originated in Eastern India, Burma, or the Malayan region where it has been cultivated for approximately 4,000 years. Florida was first introduced to the mango in 1833. However, it wasn't until 1861 that a successful attempt was made in the commercial cultivation of the mango in Florida.

The mango tree is evergreen and attains a tremendous size. Some trees, 30 years old, are easily 60 feet tall. The blossoms are small, pinkish white and appear from December to April. The fruit varies in size from large plums to three or four pounds and color varieties also, some being yellowish green and others bright red with brilliant yellow backgrounds. The aroma of the fruit is often spicy and alluring. The flesh is yellow to deep orange, juicy, with the best varieties being almost fiberless. The flavor is rich, luscious and semi-spicy in the best varieties, while others are tart. Best results in growing the mangos are in the southern part of the State, because of its tenderness to cold.

The place of high esteem which the mango has held for centuries is well exemplified in the following Persian verse written by Amir Khusrau during the 14th century:

The mango is the pride of the garden,

The choicest fruit of Hindustan. Other fruits we are content to eat when ripe,

But the mango is good in all stages of growth.

During the intervening six centuries, needless to say, considerable progress has been made, both in horticulture, and in culinary arts, and today the mango still ranks among the favorite fruits of the tropical and subtropical countries.

One of the most recent advances in food preservation is that of freezing. It is now generally known that frozen fruits retain a greater percentage of their original nutritive content and fresh fruit flavor than do those preserved by other means. A number of delicious frozen mango products can be made throughout the mango season, which ranges from May through October, beginning with the green "drops" and extending throughout the balance of the season.

Firm ripe fruit should be used in the preparation of frozen sliced and diced mangos, as overripe fruit tends to break down upon thawing and the use of green fruit results in a poorly flavored product. The ripe fruit is peeled and sliced, or diced, in the same manner as when utilized as a fresh fruit. Three types of packs can be made; namely, the syrup pack in which a light sugar syrup of from 15 to 30 per cent is poured over the fruit, the limeade pack in which a limeade is substituted for the sugar syrup, and the plain, or dry pack, in which no solution is used. The limeade pack is believed by many to be superior of the three. The limeade is prepared in the same manner as for a beverage, the sweetness being adjusted so as to enhance the flavor of the mango itself. Thus when the fruit itself is very sweet a somewhat tart limeade is used than when the fruit is more acid. Sufficient limeade is poured over the fruit in its container to cover the product, the container is then closed and the product frozen.

Frozen sliced and diced mangos can be used as a dessert fruit either alone, or in the preparation of sundaes and similar dishes.

One of the most popular mango desserts is the freshly sliced fruit served either plain or with a few drops of Florida lime juice squeezed over the cut fruit.

For a "new look" try a mango sundae, which is an easy way to serve mangos as well as a delicious dessert for summer days. Be sure to have the fruit well iced. Cut in halves and remove the seed. Fill the cavity with vanilla ice cream and serve at once.

Mango ice cream is another refreshing dessert and you will want to try. Use plain ice cream custard, made by your favorite recipe, as a basis. To each quart, add one pint of ripe mango pulp and freeze.

On our Cookbook page for this week you will find other recipes featuring the Florida mango, which we hope you will enjoy as much as we did when testing them.

FLORIDA TV GOES BIG TIME

ACTION CAMERA ... and with those words a "big time" industry is being launched in Florida. Here is a scene at Rainbow Gardens from one of 104 television movies being made in Florida for national use.

By JOHN W. DILLIN

TELEVISION may mean to Florida what the motion picture industry has meant to California.

A forerunner in this new and rapidly growing industry is Avalon Film Productions of Winter Park, which boasts the largest studio under one roof east of Hollywood.

Typical of the production program being developed and already in action is the filming of an entirely new television series, "Sandy Wright, World Scout," which will soon be seen by the nation's television audience. The series calls for 104 stories and all of these "world" adventures will be shot in Florida.

The first of this series was completed in July at Rainbow Springs, near Dunnellon. Here was a perfect setting of an adventure story shot both underwater and in the natural wooded area surrounding the famous clear water spring.

Avalon is an all-Florida organization, all Florida owned and all-Florida staffed, even though some members came to the state only a few months ago—but they have made their homes here and brought their families.

The many advantages of operating in Florida are almost unlimited. Florida has an abundance of sunshine, perfect for color photography. And many of Avalon's pictures will be made out-of-doors, although the studios can point with pride to two huge sound stages and an entire air-conditioned building, making working conditions bearable while giant flood lights are burning.

The real starting gun of the giant production program was fired when Ed Leftwich of New York joined the organization. He is tops among New York production men and a pioneer with the CBS television department. Name a big show and it is likely he has been technical director.

But the pet at the moment is a new creation. The Lone Ranger and Superman have competition and he will become known to the nation—and Europe—as Sandy Wright, World Scout.

Sandy Wright, however, is only the beginning. Equipment and a studio so modernly built as Avalon will not be overlooked by the industry. Negotiations already are in the final forms to bring Brian Donlevy to Florida to start another new television series of adventures. All these will be completed in the state, even though the background supposedly is the South Seas.

Why did this huge industry, one that may have no limit in growth, select Florida? Thomas B. Casey, president of Avalon, had one way of putting it.

"In New York, one of our writers wrote a script. So far as I know, he had never been to Florida. It was the most perfect description one could read of one of the major tourist attractions of the state with its unspoiled natural beauty: Rainbow Springs. We drove to Rainbow with the thought of doing a few underwater scenes. When we saw it, we had the entire crew there in three days and shot the complete story.

"Frankly, such natural settings save us thousands of dollars. That was the first offer Florida gave us, and it was enough to allow our roots to grow even deeper.

be in the winter of 1955. Since the summer tourist is an auto-

possible that the already-decreas-

minor by the addition of this bridge which, after all, caters to the automobile traveler.

CAR BURNING OIL?

Engineer's Discovery Stops it Quick

Without A Cent For Mechanical Repairs!

If your car is using too much oil—if it is sluggish, hard to start, slow on pickup, lacks pep and power—you are paying good money for oil that's burning up in your engine instead of providing lubrication. Why? Because your engine is leaking. Friction has worn a gap between pistons and cylinder wall. Oil is pumping up into the combustion chamber, fouling your motor with carbon. Gas is exploding down through this gap, going to waste.

SAVE $50 TO $150 REPAIR BILL

Before you spend $50.00 to $150.00 for an engine overhaul, read how you can fix that leaky engine yourself, in just a few minutes, without buying a single new part, without even taking your engine down. It's almost as easy as squeezing toothpaste or shaving cream out of a tube, thanks to the discovery of a new miracle substance called Power Seal. This revolutionary, new compound combines the lubricating qualities of Moly, the "greasy" wonder metal, with the leak-sealing properties of Vermiculite, the mineral product whose particles expand under heat. (Up to 50 times original size.)

Just squeeze Power-Seal out of the tube into your motor's cylinders through the spark plug openings. It will spread over pistons, piston rings and cylinder walls as your engine runs and it will PLATE every surface with a smooth, shiny, metallic film that won't come off! No amount of pressure can scrape it off. No amount of heat can break it down. It fills the cracks, scratches and scorings caused by engine wear. It closes the gap between worn piston rings and cylinders with an automatic self-expanding seal that stops oil pumping, stops gas blow-by and restores compression. No more piston slapping; no more engine knocks. You get more power, speed, mileage.

This genuine plating is self-lubricating too for Moly, the greasy metal lubricant, reduces friction as nothing else can! It is the only lubricant indestructible enough to be used in U. S. atomic energy plants and jet engines. It never drains down, never leaves your engine dry. Even after your car has been standing for weeks, even in coldest weather, you can start it in a flash, because the lubrication is in the metal itself. That's why you'll need amazingly little oil; you'll get hundreds, even thousands of more miles per quart.

TRY IT FREE!

You don't risk a penny. Prove to yourself that Power-Seal will make your car run like new. Put it in your engine on 30 days' Free Trial. If you are not getting better performance out of your car than you thought possible—if you have not stopped oil burning and have not increased gas mileage—return the empty tube and get your money back in full. Power-Seal is absolutely harmless; it cannot hurt the finest car in any way. It can only preserve and protect your motor.

POWER SEAL MAKES WORN OUT TAXI ENGINE RUN LIKE NEW

Here are the Test Engineer's notarized figures showing the sensational increase in compression obtained in a 1950 De Soto taxi that had run for 93,000 miles. Just one POWER SEAL injection increased pep and power, reduced gas consumption, cut oil burning nearly 50%.

	Cyl. 1	Cyl. 2	Cyl. 3	Cyl. 4	Cyl. 5	Cyl. 6
BEFORE	90 lbs.	90 lbs.	105 lbs.	90 lbs.	80 lbs.	100 lbs.
AFTER	115 lbs.	115 lbs.	117 lbs.	115 lbs.	115 lbs.	115 lbs.

BEST INVESTMENT WE EVER MADE, SAYS DRIVER-OWNER

"We simply inserted the POWER SEAL per instructions and made no other repairs or adjustments. Compression readings were taken before and after and showed a big improvement in both cars. As a result the engine gained a lot more pep and power which was especially noticeable on hills. What impressed us most was the sharp reduction in oil consumption. In one cab, we've actually been saving a quart a day and here we have saved $11.30 on oil alone since the POWER SEAL was applied a month ago. In the other cab, oil consumption was cut practically in half. We have also been getting better gas mileage. All in all, POWER SEAL turned out to be just about the best investment we ever made. It paid for itself in two weeks and has been saving money for us ever since, to say nothing of postponing the cost of major overhauls that would have run into real money." Town Taxi, Douglaston, N. Y.

Grand Jury Returns 545 Indictments After 3 Weeks' Probe At Phenix City

Strolling In Sanford

Peter Bukur, co-bandmaster at DeLand High School, has been named chairman of District Four of the Florida Bandmasters Association and will be in complete charge of the district band contest which will be held in DeLand next March. Bukur was elected to the honor at the district meeting of the FBA held in Orlando Friday. The position also automatically places him on the executive committee of the state association, which is the governing board of all bands in Florida. Ray Mueller, bandmaster at Seabreeze High in Daytona Beach, was elected secretary of the district at the same meeting. Both Bukur and Mueller are Stinson graduates and were active in the University band.

JOE ROACH, 11, is shown chained to his bed in his home at Houston, Tex., as he was found by a deputy sheriff. The boy told police that he spent the previous night sleeping in the doghouse in his back yard rather than go into the house and be mistreated. The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Roach, were brought into the Domestic Relations Court where charges were preferred against them.

E. E. Brady, candidate for State senator from the 31st senatorial district, has told of plans to make a campaign speech next Saturday at 4 p. m. at First St. and Magnolia Ave. Brady announced his candidacy a short time before Judge Douglas Stinson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. L. Smith have purchased and moved to the Gables, 401 Magnolia Ave., which they will operate as a rooming house.

Pair Is Arrested On Poaching Count

Acting on a sworn statement State Wildlife Officer Jim Black, Pinecastle, and local sheriff's deputies arrested H. E. "Bo" Cox, Rt. 1, Oviedo and James R. Hodges, Melbourne on charges of illegal possession of game Saturday. The game, a six-point buck, was discovered when the sheriff's office obtained a search warrant and searched the Cox home.

The sheriff's office also reported four Longwood youths were taken to juvenile court today in connection with an estimated $1,000 damage to two unattended Longwood homes.

All windows in the homes were broken and screens were cut, and in some cases even the plaster walls were destroyed, it was reported.

Sheriff Luther Hobby and deputy A. E. McClelland arrested Raymond Edward, Negro, who lives in the county and charged him with operating a game of chance. When the sheriff and McClelland discovered the card game Edwards was taking a 25-cent cut.

Deputies Arrest Goldenrod Man After Shooting

Woodrow Foley, 40, whose address was given by police as Goldenrod, was today charged with assault with intent to murder after his arrest last night by Chief Sheriff's deputy O. G. Owens and Deputy M. R. McClelland.

It was alleged that Foley fired a 12-gauge shotgun into the rear of a 1936 Chevrolet coupe driven by Howard L. Hansell, Goldenrod. Hansell was accompanied by his wife and four children. The pet dog, estimated at six or eight months old, struck the rear of the coupe and shattered its window.

Philip Hansell, 8, was struck in the left arm by flying glass which struck but did not injure the other three children.

Hansell told police the shooting occurred about 9 o'clock last night when he and his family were returning home. He said he had turned up his driveway when he saw Foley standing by an oak tree next to the road, according to police.

Foley threatened to shoot, and as Hansell sped up and drove past, Foley fired his single shot gun into the rear of the car, police said Hansell told them.

Boat And Ski Club Plans Holiday Trip

Pike Act's Validity Disputed

Regret Expressed In 4-Page Report For Conditions

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Leon Circuit Judge W. May Walker was told today the 1953 Florida turnpike act is unconstitutional and the authority it created cannot legally issue bonds.

Attorneys representing Broward and West Palm Beach County taxpayers challenged the validity of the turnpike act as Judge Walker opened hearings on the petition of the turnpike authority to validate an $9-million-dollar bond issue to finance construction of the Hollywood to Fort Pierce toll expressway.

Shelby Dale, representing Broward County taxpayers, claimed the act is unconstitutional because it provides for one member of the turnpike authority to hold two offices.

Dale said that under the turnpike act one member of the road board also serves as a member of the turnpike authority. He said the legislature made no provision to expand the duties of the road board member and that consequently he is holding two separate offices in violation of the constitutional provision that no man shall hold or exercise the functions of more than one office.

Dale also argued that the turnpike act provision requiring the governor to appoint a member of the road board to the authority was a legislative usurpation of the governor's constitutional appointing powers. He said the legislature could not under the constitution restrict appointments by the governor to any certain group.

J. Field Wardlaw, representing Palm Beach County taxpayers, challenged the constitutionality of the turnpike act on the ground that the title of the act did not sufficiently show what is in the body of the law.

He listed a number of grounds, chief of which were that the title of the act says nothing about provisions empowering the State Road Board to spend its money to assist in getting the turnpike under way.

The 19-man grand jury said that while open gambling "has been an infamous carbuncle on the society of the great state of Alabama, spraying its poisonous corruption and inviting an assemblage of criminals and creating an atmosphere for the commission of his other class of crimes which usually follow, when gambling affects an area."

The jurors recommended that the defendants under indictment be called for early trial but no date was fixed immediately.

The jury report said it was taking no action at this time against public officials who might be guilty of neglect of duty but that those matters will be gone into fully later.

Impeachment proceedings will be recommended, the jurors said, against any officials who appear from the evidence to have been delinquent in their official duty.

Picked teams 3rd grand jury.

Government Trying To Recover Profits Paid From FHA Loans

Washington (AP)—The government is heading for a move to get back millions of dollars in "windfall" profits paid out of oversize federally guaranteed loans on apartment projects.

Housing and Home Finance Administrator Albert M. Cole, in a weekend announcement of plans for "decisive action" to that end, said promoters who cut up such millions violated Section 608 of the housing law under which the rental projects were carried out.

He said the law specifies that only earned income may be distributed to stockholders.

The pilot action, Cole said, will be carried out at Fort Lee, N. J., where Sidney Sarnet, president of 13 rental housing corporations, has been indicted to call meetings of preferred stockholders within 10 days for the purpose of removing the present directors of the corporations and electing new ones.

Cole said the new directors will be named by the Federal Housing Administration which owns the preferred stock in the corporations.

The new boards, he said, may sue to recover any funds improperly taken from the corporations.

But Sarnet indicated only he will have a fight on his hands, saying "I will defend my rights in this matter."

He commented at Fort Lee Saturday night, saying he had not yet received formal notice of the action Cole announced.

President Speaks To Legion

Relates Plan At Convention

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today told the American Legion that creation of a mighty military reserve as a bulwark against communism will be "a No. 1 item" on his 1955 legislative program.

"We have failed miserably to maintain that strong, ready military reserve in which which we have believed for 150 years," the President declared in a speech broadcast live over the radio from the White House.

"Now at long last, we must build such a reserve. It is our most important national task and political liability must no longer be a program of abjectly reacting to our defense."

Then he said: "Establishment of an adequate reserve, an objective for which the American Legion and other patriotic organizations have vainly fought for a generation, will be a No. 1 item submitted to the Congress next year."

In his speech to fellow legionnaires, many of whom served under him as supreme commander in Europe during World War II, the chief executive promised:

"This reserve will not unfairly burden those who have already served. This administration will see to that."

The President said that for a century and a half the United States has maintained a powerful military force.

"We have relied, instead, upon the civilian soldier. But we have done so without being fair either to the citizen or to the security of the nation."

He went into no detail about the nature of the military reserve he wants to build. He made no mention of a possible "peacetime" reserve, a plan he said he had outlined a few years ago by John H. Hanah, then assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, and now returned to the Presidency of Michigan State College.

That plan called for every able-bodied young man to put in a military service stint and then join the reserve. The White House said at the time the program Hanah set forth as a plan to thwart any Soviet aggression was under consideration by the National Security Council but that no final decision had been reached on whether to submit it to Congress in that form.

Eisenhower interrupted his 40-minute vacation for 24 hours to fly back to Washington to address the legion. In his address he also gave France another push in the hope of winning ratification of the European army project by that nation.

Without mentioning the country by name, he said progress on the six-nation project "has not fulfilled our hopes." He also declared that in the struggle for free world security and peace, whether the upper does not justify any slackening of our efforts.

Grand Jury Meets To Place Blame For Jail Escape

BOSTON (AP)—Dist. Atty. Garrett H. Byrne hurriedly convened a grand jury today to pin the blame for what he called "a fantastic and unbelievable" jail escape of Elmer (Trigger) Burke, a scrawny but notorious New York gunman.

Byrne said that list includes jail officials, police and residents of about a dozen tenement houses whose windows overlooked the yard of the Suffolk County Jail, from which Burke brazenly broke out Saturday afternoon.

Other developments included: 1. A report by a Manchester, N.H., couple that a man who "can't be mistaken" resembles Burke stopped them on U.S. Route 6 in their home town to inquire what town he was in and how far it was to Providence, R.I.

2. The discovery in the Roxbury district of Boston of a powerful car in which Burke and three accomplices fled from the jail.

3. Discovery in Haverford, Pa., of a partially torn and stripped car which had been stolen a mile from the jail about three hours before the breakout.

4. A demand by a veteran of garrison that National Guardsmen be assigned as jail guards in view of the Burke escape and the recent escape of five dangerous criminals from the state prison colony at Suffolk, Mass.

To deliver Burke, two men broke their way through four locked and barred doors and through a section of bars which had been yanked some time ago and held together with one of the bolts Saturday.

As soon as the two accomplices were freed, Burke and his two accomplices fled.

The FBI that crashed Saturday night was from Biggs AFB near the city on the U.S. Mexico border. It was returning from a 10-hour training flight.

Byrne officials said it made one landing pass at Biggs, circled and started another when power failed and the commander, Maj. L. D. Lamer of El Paso, asked permission for an emergency landing at El Paso International Airport. This was granted, but the crew was unable to keep the big ship aloft.

USAF Crack Teams Investigate Crashes Fatal To 25 Airmen

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—The Air Force has sent crack investigation teams from flight safety headquarters to help probe crashes of two giant B-50 bombers within 24 hours that left 25 dead and 18 injured.

One of the 10-engine planes, trying to land but crippled by apparent power failure, smacked into an open patch near a big housing project on the El Paso outskirts Saturday night. It disintegrated into a fiery, exploding heap, the crewman was killed and 15 injured.

The night before, 24 crewmen died in a crash which critically hurt when another B-50 crashed at Hays City, S.D., while approaching Ellsworth Air Force Base for a landing in "perfect" weather. This was the world's largest bomber.

The Air Force announced investigation boards of inquiry in both smashups from its flight safety headquarters. Chief investigator last year set the lowest accident rate for the first six months of this year. The Air Force said the B-50 accident rate was nine per 100,000 flying hours compared with an average of 14 for all types of SAC aircraft.

The B-50 that crashed Saturday night was from Biggs AFB near the city on the U.S. Mexico border. It was returning from a 10-hour training flight.

Byrne officials said it made one landing pass at Biggs, circled and started another when power failed and the commander, Maj. L. D. Lamer of El Paso, asked permission for an emergency landing at El Paso International Airport. This was granted, but the crew was unable to keep the big ship aloft.

Drastic Action Is Underway To Halt Teen-Agers' Attacks

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A brutally beaten airman remained in serious condition today as Air Force and city officials prepared to take drastic action to halt a series of attacks here by teen-agers on military personnel. Mayor W. A. Gayle and Col. James G. Pratt, wing base commander at Maxwell Air Force Base, scheduled a meeting today with city officials to discuss success from Maxwell and Gunter bases.

The meeting was spurred by a attack Saturday morning on Herbert B. Ward of Montgomery, 21-year-old Maxwell airman, who suffered a brain concussion, probable brain hemorrhage and possible fractures of the skull and face bones.

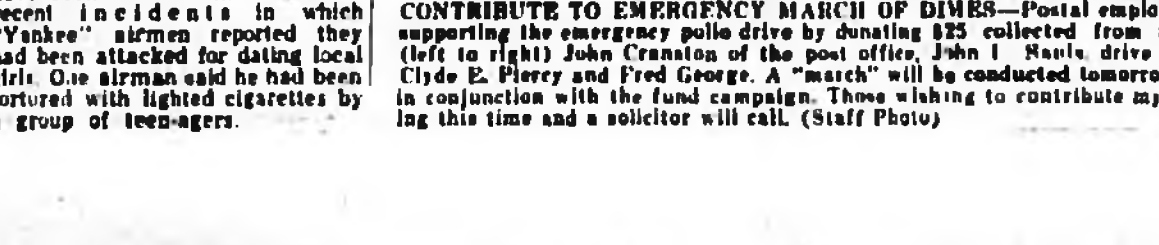

Ned Jones, 17, and another youth, 14, were held without bond after a series of attacks on military personnel. Jones was one of five teen-agers fined $100 each 10 days ago for attacking another airman. Several high school students have been arrested in a series of recent incidents in which "Yankee" airmen reported they had been attacked for dating local girls. One airman said he had been tortured with lighted cigarettes by a group of teen-agers.
