

Egyptians Continue Fight; Jordanian Front Is Quiet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Egyptian forces threw up stiff resistance to Israeli troops in the western Sinai Desert today, but a cease-fire prevailed on the Jordanian front. The Israelis said they had seized all of Palestine west of the Jordan River and the Dead Sea, extending their boundary to that of pre-1948 Palestine.

Although the Israelis accepted Jordan's offer of a cease-fire, Egypt vowed to fight on despite a second truce call from the U.N. Security Council.

An Israeli army spokesman said Egyptian and Israeli infantry units were still fighting at Bir Gif Gifa, about 45 miles east of the Suez Canal on the central highway through Sinai. He reported the Israelis were also meeting tough resistance at the Mita Pass, just east of the city of Suez and the southern end of the canal.

The Israeli government announced its forces had taken over Jordan's Hebron Hills south of Jerusalem and reached the Dead Sea. Earlier they had reported capture of the Jordanian bridge north of Jerusalem and west of the Jordan River. But Old Jerusalem, despite its capture Wednesday, was still out of bounds to all civilians because some isolated pockets of snipers remained, and some sniping also reported on the roads from Jerusalem to Bethlehem.

Israeli forces held key points in various stretches of Egypt's Sinai Desert, including eastern approaches to the Suez Canal and Israel's main objective, Sharm el Sheikh overlooking the entrance to the Gulf of Aqaba. But an Israeli spokesman in Tel Aviv categorically denied that any Israeli troops were on the banks of the canal despite a report from Israel's delegation to the U.N. Wednesday night that Israeli troops had entered Ismailia, at the midpoint of the canal.

Gen. Moshe Dayan, the Israeli defense minister, told newsmen Wednesday: "It is not and was not our aim to get to the Suez Canal. Why go there and get involved in something that is not our business?"

Apparently digging in for the protracted negotiations that are certain to follow the end of the fighting, the Israeli government named Brig. Gen. Haim Herzog commander of its troops in the area taken from Jordan and Gen. Moshe Gonen commander of the Gaza Strip and the northern Sinai Peninsula.

Gen. Dayan told newsmen Israel would not give up any part of Jerusalem and would maintain its right of passage through the Gulf of Aqaba, its route to East Africa, Asia and the oil it gets from Iran.

The U.N. Security Council met in New York and passed a second cease-fire resolution, calling for a halt in fighting by 4 p.m. EDT Wednesday. Israel announced its willingness to stop fighting if the Arabs also stopped. Late Wednesday night Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban notified the Security Council that a truce with Jordan had taken effect at the deadline set by the council.

But Jordan was the only Arab belligerent to break ranks. A senior Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo declared: "Egypt will fight on." Algeria Radio, ignoring Jordan's action, said all the Arab countries involved in the fight had refused to accept the cease-fire and still had faith in victory. Iraq also rejected the U.N. truce call.

After announcing Wednesday that its forces in Sinai had fallen back to their second line of defense, the Arab High Command claimed today that its planes had wiped out an Israeli armored unit advancing on a coastal road behind El Arish and resistance inside El Arish was continuing. El Arish, only 30 miles inside Sinai from Israel, fell to the Israelis on Monday. The Israeli drive since has been reported far west of it. The mood in Cairo was one of sullen despondency alternating with optimism at the occasional radio claims of local successes and the proclamations of the flag.

Radio had claimed Wednesday that Syrian forces were advancing through Israeli villages in northern Galilee.

Today the Syrian radio claimed that Syrian guns shot down five Israeli bombers within half an hour in a battle that began at dawn.

Americans continued to stream out of the Middle East in the wake of the widespread break in diplomatic relations between Arab governments and the United States. A group of 12 arrived in Tehran from Iraq. Nearly 300 from Lebanon got to Cyprus by ship to take planes for Athens. The U.S. Embassy in Algiers ordered the 442 Americans in Algeria to leave.

The wholesale break stemmed from an Egyptian charge that U.S. and British planes had attacked Egypt and Jordan during the first day of fighting Monday. Cairo Radio had said King Hussein of Jordan told Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser the planes were detected on Jordanian waters, but qualified sources in the British Embassy in Amman and in the Jordanian government said Hussein's government had informed the U.S. and British embassies Wednesday that no British or American planes had been observed over Jordanian territory during the fight.

The U.S. and British governments denied the Egyptian charge repeatedly, calling it a malicious fabrication. Today the Egyptian Communiqué charged that Egyptian troops had observed three U.S. Air Force planes heading south this morning from the Sinai, but qualified sources in the British Embassy in Amman and in the Jordanian government said Hussein's government had informed the U.S. and British embassies Wednesday that no British or American planes had been observed over Jordanian territory during the fight.

Seven other countries broke relations with the United States: Egypt, Syria, Iraq, Yemen, Algeria, Sudan and Mauritania.

UN In New Truce Call

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Members of the U.N. Security Council awaited a summons today to session today to check on Arab and Israeli compliance with its cease-fire resolution and consider further steps to stop the fighting in the Middle East.

At the insistence of Soviet Ambassador Nikolai T. Fedorenko, the council unanimously backed up its original cease-fire demand that the warring governments cease all military activities by 4 p.m. EDT Wednesday.

Both the Soviet resolution and the appeal Tuesday night received the unanimous support of the council.

Israel informed the U.N. Wednesday night that a cease-fire with Jordan had gone into effect at the specified deadline.

But an Egyptian government spokesman in Cairo, asked about the new truce call, declared: "Egypt will fight on."

The council also had on today's agenda a Canadian proposal that the council ask its president, Ambassador Hans B. Thors, to take the necessary measures to bring about full and effective compliance with these resolutions.

Some diplomats considered the resolution an attempt to reduce the role of Secretary-General U Thant in the crisis. But Canadian Ambassador George Ignatieff denied this. He said it was designed solely to give someone the "paying no heed" to the earlier call for an immediate cease-fire. This, he warned, "may create an even more menacing situation in the area."

He read the text of a Soviet message to the Israeli government threatening to sever relations with Israel if it did not comply with the resolutions. The statement also warned that the Soviet government "would implement other necessary measures stemming from the failure of the Israeli government to accept the cease-fire appeal."

Senate OKs Abortion Bill

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The disputed abortion bill, labeled "humanitarian" by its supporters and a step toward mercy killings by foes, has cleared the Senate unscathed.

After an exhaustive debate that lasted nearly three hours, Senators approved Wednesday the bill liberalizing Florida's 99-year-old abortion law by 26-17.

It now goes to the House for consideration, unless someone in the Senate who voted on the prevailing side (yes) moves that the bill be brought up for reconsideration. This must be done within one legislative day after passage and requires a majority vote.

A hushed Senate chamber, and before those defending their own territory cease fire. Foreign Minister Abba Eban of Israel reiterated his government's acceptance of the cease-fire if the Arabs did likewise and said it should have been possible to begin to implement it 24 hours since all the governments concerned were represented at the U.N.

Since the adoption of the original resolutions, he went on, representatives of Syria, Iraq, and Egypt had spoken. "But I cannot find in any of those speeches that we Syria," he said, "are the United Arab Republic, accept the cease-fire."

"Surely there is only one thing that the world wants to hear from those countries at this time — whether they accept the cease-fire."

He wants to keep it that way. State law protects turtles from May to Sept 1—about the length of their egg-laying season. Anyone caught disturbing one of the sea-beans or its eggs can say up to a $500 fine or spend six months in jail.

Navy Pilots Slam Red Airfield

SALGON (AP)—U.S. Navy carrier pilots thrust deep into North Vietnam Wednesday to damage a major MIG airfield badly and leave a secret Red missile base a cauldron of flames and uncontrollable rock-ets smoking skyward and across the ground.

The U.S. Command also reported increased ground action after a four-hour lull in the war in the South. There were two sharp fights near the demilitarized zone, another near Saigon, and a handful of guerrilla raids including the destruction of a 200-foot bridge 10 miles from Saigon.

The weekly casualty report from the U.S. Command hit a six-week low for American losses but both South Vietnamese and enemy losses increased over the week before. The command said 214 Americans and 2,470 Communists were killed in action last week, while the South Vietnamese reported 235 of their troops killed.

The big raid on the secret site housing Soviet-built missiles was made by pilots from the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise after aerial photos disclosed the highly camouflaged base hidden in a forest 30 miles southwest of Hanoi.

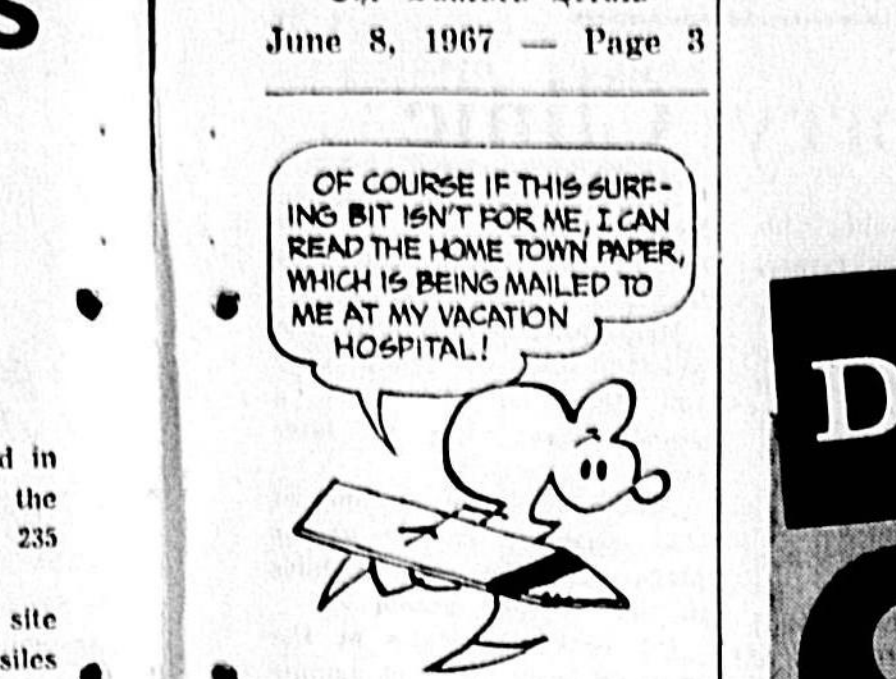

Waves of Phantom, Skyhawk and Intruder jets flashed into the area with bombs, rockets and cannon fire. Pilots reported the site erupted in explosions of white, orange and black smoke towering 5,000 feet up.

The narrow 40-foot missiles which pilots call "flying telephone poles" sometimes went slithering off violently when blown from their transport vehicles.

"Brevard is one of the heaviest turtle crawls in this part of the world," Morgan said. However, the latest turtle nesting case came at Crescent Beach, outside Brevard.

Conservation officers charged a Gainesville man after finding him towing a 300-pound turtle out of the water with his car. The poacher may get what he wanted after all. If the judge sends him to jail, the turtle is scheduled to show up any day on the menu at the county home.

In addition to the cops and poachers, there's a third group involved in the yearly seaside drama—the "turtle watchers" who seek out the big ones to observe and photograph.

The "watchers" serve another function. According to the patrol, they frequently help the "watchers" in hot water before the turtle soup is cooked.

The American Indians, long before the coming of the white man, concocted a rum drink they called "Coow-woow."

Turtle Crawl Causing Quick Steps

TITUSVILLE (AP)—The "turtle crawl" isn't a new dance, but it's causing some quick-stepping on Brevard County beaches.

Huge sea turtles crawl in from the ocean to lay their eggs. They sometimes find poachers and egg snatchers waiting for them. Recently hunters with a taste for turtle have found someone waiting for them, too — officers of the State Conservation Patrol.

Li Henry Morgan of Titusville, the patrol's chief spokesman, said the turtle crawl is "not a game to us. The turtle population is one of the few natural resources that is on the increase."

He wants to keep it that way. State law protects turtles from May to Sept 1—about the length of their egg-laying season. Anyone caught disturbing one of the sea-beans or its eggs can say up to a $500 fine or spend six months in jail.

Praise For Judge Mize

A Sanford policeman recently gave an out-of-town man a ticket for failing to stop at a stop sign.

The out-of-town man last week wrote a letter to the Herald.

But the letter did not complain about the ticket. It was complimentary.

"The reason I am writing this letter," the man wrote "is to commend the city of Sanford in the selection of the Judge."

The man says Judge Vernon Mize "handled the cases before him in the most efficient manner that I have witnessed in a court room. I have been in court a lot, since my father was a county judge, and I have been interested in court procedures. Judge Mize made all feel at ease and explained to each and every one who appeared before him the reason for his verdict.

The Herald would like to commend both the court and city commission. Commission for not interfering with the duties of the court and the judge for running a fair and efficient court.

Chains Of Friends

"It's a small world" is a cliché we are all guilty of repeating whenever we meet a stranger who happens to know someone we know.

Now a psychologist has set about proving that the world is really much smaller than we had thought.

In a new magazine called "Psychology Today," Dr. Stanley Milgram of Harvard University reports on a project he conducted to discover the speed with which contact could be made between perfect strangers using the medium of mutual acquaintances.

In one experiment, he chose a "target" person in Massachusetts. "Starter" persons in Kansas and Nebraska were told the target's name, location and employment and were given a document to send to him. But they were only permitted to send the document to someone they knew on a first-name basis who, in turn, would pass it on until it reached someone who knew the target personally.

Only four days were needed to make contact between a Kansas wheat farmer and a Cambridge, Mass., divinity student, and only two intermediaries were required—a minister friend of the farmer and a seminary instructor at Cambridge.

That record compares favorably with the efficiency of the U.S. mail.

Out of 44 chains completed by Nebraska starters, the number of intermediaries ranged from two to 10. The median number was five.

Milgram's experiments have more than curiosity value. He believes there is an application to such serious problems of noncommunication as between whites and Negroes, between economic groups and between nations.

It is reassuring to think that despite the fractionizing of the world into nations, ideologies, religions, clubs, cliques and a thousand other larger or smaller islands—that no matter how populous the world may become and how insignificant the individual may feel or how remote he may be from those who are trying to get to him, everyone ultimately knows everyone else through longer or shorter chains of friends.

It would be interesting to extend the experiment through history. Undoubtedly there is someone alive today who knew someone, not dead, who knew someone (if we go back far enough) personally knew any great historical personage we might choose.

It's not only a tiny world but a timeless one.

All the failures in communication Milgram encountered were due to someone failing to co-operate somewhere along the line, thus breaking his link in the chain of friendship.

Hal Boyle Says.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—"What'll I do?" children often ask in a rainy day.

They are in a funk. Their powers of invention and imagination have deserted them. Leaving them desperately bored.

Grow-ups, too, sometimes find themselves in the same plight. Monday turns their lives into one long rainy day, and they don't quite know what to do with themselves.

This is ironically said, for, of course, there are many wonderful things worth doing if they'd just turn on their brain power and think a bit. Why not, for example, take a vacation and try to make a few of their forgotten daydreams of their youth come true?

Here is a guide list of possible goals, built around the mental escapes of many an office worker's daydreamer:

Buy an ugly, discarded two-ounce light bulb with a group of pals and see if you can't turn him into one long rainy day, and they don't quite know what to do with themselves.

Take up karate and see what happens after a month of training when you try to break a brick with the side of your hand. Write Lyndon Johnson and ask him point-blank either to invite you to a White House dinner or declare publicly that you are a social disaster area. Get out all of the Christmas gifts, necessities you've hidden away in your closet for the last 25 years and have them converted into a sports shirt. You'll be amazed how the girls at the beach will go for you.

Build a better mousetrap and see how long it will take for the neighbor to beat a path to your door. If that doesn't get any results, build a do-it-yourself love nest and see what happens.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The Republican party's star reporter of Senate freshmen is very much in the show case, as many party people hoped it would be. But the dovish leanings of two new senators tend to complicate GOP image-building for 1968.

Nonpolitical sources in Oregon report that Sen. Mark Hatfield, the party's most outspoken dove on the war in Vietnam, is sagging badly in his home state as a result of his steady pounding on the issue.

One listening-post type, who hears much comment from Oregon voters, said anti-Hatfield sentiment seems to be rising in response to what he terms the senator's "shrill" antiwar observations.

Hatfield, of course, will not face the electorate for more than five years. But he won in 1966 by a thin 24,071 votes over incumbent Robert Duncan, and these new reports can hardly be a joy either to him or his party.

Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois is less clearly dovish than Hatfield, but in many of his public utterances on Vietnam the dovish element has drawn crucial attention.

Yet there is no great sign these comments are endearing him to American voters. In large, not to some of the Republicans who support him.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Lionie is exhausting his few hours daily so he can also free his harassed mother. Meanwhile, he will learn the give-and-take of group play and this not be such a grandiose idea as he later enters first grade.

And he will expand some of that excessive energy as he plays with the other kiddies in the Nursery School.

(3) Schedule picnics at the park or beach, and let Lionie run.

"Dr. Crane," his weary mother began, "we live in a little 4-room city apartment, 3rd floor back.

"So Lionie doesn't get out to play, though I let him walk with me to the supermarket once a day.

"Lionie gets into mischief almost constantly, so what can I do?"

"For his daddy is irritable due to office worries so he scolds Lionie unnecessarily."

PARENTS, BEWARE

If you busy modern parents want an "A" grade for the year you deal with child problems, then take this test:

(1) Let your child run, romp, ride a tricycle, etc.

(2) Let your child play with other children.

(3) Schedule picnics at the park or beach, and let Lionie run.

Herpetologist Explains Snakes To Kiwanians

The ABC's and even some XYZ's of the alphabet on snake behavior and human responses were spelled out by Jack Ramon, life-long herpetologist, at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club in the Civic Center yesterday.

Following a general explanation of the four poisonous varieties of snakes to be found in Florida—rattlesnakes, cottonmouth, moccasins, copperheads and coonals—Ramon turned to rattlesnakes with some comments on the rattles.

He warned against relying on the sound of rattles for warning, which can be as soft as a hum and as loud as drums fifty feet distant, as some rattles do drop off in times of wet weather and when the snake drops its skin several times a year. The rattles strike from an erect position from the coil. Florida's strike from the coil flat on the ground.

Send the kiddies along using the car, unless the distance is over a mile, for this serves as a hike with daddy and adds zest to Lionie's day.

(6) At family reunions, schedule a "praty hunt" on the lawn.

For "leg" action drains off far more energy per minute than mere "arm" action at a desk.

"Lionie needs a tricycle so he can at least ride back and forth the full length of the driveway.

Then call the youngsters back to the house for a happy hunt for 20 to 30 minutes and stay out of the kitchen, thus relieving the women folk.

(7) Buy a climbing pole for your apartment so he can shimmy to the ceiling hundreds of times, thus wearing down his surplus energy.

And send for my booklet "20 Games for Children," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Keep it in your car for auto trips, too.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Mideast war is a bridge between two worlds, the ancient world and the one we know for it is linked to both and in a very real sense is like a chapter out of the Bible.

Over 3,000 years ago the wandering Hebrews saw Palestine, called the land of Canaan then, wanted it, fought the Canaanites for it, and conquered them, making it their homeland.

Later under their hero king, David, they subdued the neighboring Philistines, too. Today the Jews have another hero, the United States is fighting against Communist domination of the country.

But where the Mideast war touches the modern world is in the possibility—not yet over—that this revival of an ancient war might involve in a global way the two great ideological opponents, the Soviet Union and the United States.

Those two judging from what they did Tuesday night in the U.S. Security Council, are not

Smith Hurls Three Hitter In Senior Loop

Ricky Smith hurlled a three-hitter in his first Senior League start of the season last night, leading the Longwood Braves to a 7-2 victory over Sunland at Cooper Field in Casselberry.

Both Longwood and Sunland had three hits apiece in the contest. Catcher John Massack stroked two singles and shortstop Brian Brewer laced one for the Braves. LaFollette, Tiffany and May had singles for the Yankees.

A triple by Paul Sawyer highlighted a two-run rally in the sixth inning last night which gave Sunland a 3-4 victory over Casselberry in the Major League.

Phil Holder had rapped a two-run single in the fifth inning to put Casselberry ahead 4-3, but the Yankees rallied in the sixth. Hoffmann was the winning pitcher and Charlie Diggs hit a pair of singles for Sunland.

Dan Perry belted a double and Paul Gleason and Steve Christmas had singles for the Indians.

At Altamonte field on Tuesday night, Altamonte Twins edged the Altamonte Panthers 7-5 with Mathew Heith the winning pitcher. Mike Simmons laced a pair of singles for the Twins and Donni Patti and Heith also had hits for the winners. Mike Clazzo belted a double for the Panthers.

Fight Results

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

BATTING—Bob Aspromonte, Altamonte, stroked five hits and drove in three runs as Houston battered St. Louis with a 25-hit attack, 17-1.

PITCHING—Jim McGlothlin, Angels, allowed just four hits and struck out nine as California blanked Baltimore 4-0.

The normal life span of a pitcher is between one and two years, says the Miami Seagraves' Capt. Bill Gray.

Roaring Tiger

CPO Edges Rotary

CPO took Rotary 3-4 in the Sanford Junior Baseball League action last night. Jim Warner led American Oils' slugers with two singles with Kap Braden adding a homer. Braden was credited with the win. Ricky Smith and Ben Mendoza each picked up two singles for Rotary.

The Cubs edged by the Tigers 14-13 in a spectacular six-run final inning to post their sixth straight win in the Pee Wee Eastern League. Kit Johnson was the winning hurler. Clark Gallagher pelted a grand slam to lead the Cubs from the plate. Jeff Patton got two singles and a round tripper for the Tigers.

The Only Sunshine In 'Angel' Camp

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now, if only it doesn't rain on Jim McGlothlin's parade.

McGlothlin, who seems to labor with a constant cloud over his head, has brought a ray of sunshine into the last place existence of the California Angels.

The young right-hander hurled his third straight shutout Wednesday night, running his season record to 6-1 with a 2-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The blanking extended his string to 13 runless innings and lowered his earned run average to 1.00.

There were only three other games played in the American League Wednesday. New York and Washington split a two-night doubleheader with the Yankees taking the opener 7-1 and the Senators copping the second game 2-1. Kansas City defeated Detroit 4-2. Boston's doubleheader at Chicago and Cleveland's game at Minnesota were rained out.

McGlothlin has allowed just one earned run in the last 49 2/3 innings he has worked and his only problem has been work-over.

rather the lack of it. The early season rash of rainouts deprived him of several starts but that's nothing new for McGlothlin.

"I don't know what this power of mine is," mused McGlothlin, while watching a storm wash out four of his early starts. "This is always happening to me."

"Back in 1963, I was going to be the opening day pitcher for Hawaii. It poured for four days."

The Angels got McGlothlin in the opening day of Josey Pete Richter in the first inning and the youngster made it stand up against the Orioles, who had scored 27 runs against California in a doubleheader the day before.

Jim Fregoso drove in an insurance run with an eighth inning single but McGlothlin, who allowed four hits and struck out nine, didn't need it.

Fred Talbot hurled a six-hitter for the Yankees in the opening day of Josey Pete Richter in the first inning and the youngster made it stand up against the Orioles, who had scored 27 runs against California in a doubleheader the day before.

Rodgers Looks For 'Friendly' Monster

GRAND BLANC, Mich. (AP) — Buick Open defending champion Phil Rodgers won his 10th title today as a friendly monster would make his golfing game well enough.

The 29-year-old California led a field of 144 minus the glare of Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player in a four-day assault on long playing Warwick Hills Country Club.

Often referred to by the press as "The Monster," Warwick Hills remains one of the toughest challenges on the PGA tour, and virtually all the pros learned if the hard way Wednesday in a pro am tournament.

The 7,200-yard course was chopped to 7,120 this year, but the addition of 33 traps and several clusters of small trees set the price of the clubhouse taking to them.

"These greens on the back nine are real tough," said veteran Sam Snead, unhappy with his back nine although he picked up three birdies coming in on his 10th hole.

Rodgers parlayed a red hot pattern into $80,000 in prize money on last season's PGA tour, including a $20,000 top money in the 1967 tournament.

Why Bookies Concerned Over Derby Victory

EPSON, England (AP) — Australian jockey George Moore and his colt, Royal Palace, have British bookies quite concerned after their classy victory in the English Derby.

Some bookies have given 1,000-1 odds against Moore winning the five classic races of the flat season, and Moore now has won three of them — the 2,000 Guineas, the 1,000 Guineas and the English Derby. No jockey ever has won them, and the Oaks and the St. Leger in one season.

More than one million pounds ($2.8 million) was paid out by the bookies on Wednesday's Derby, a victory which made Royal Palace worth more than 500,000 pounds ($1.4 million).

In Baseball Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — John Michael Adamson, a right-handed pitcher from the University of Southern California, and Ron Bombard, a high school first baseman from Atlanta, have been singled out as the top amateur prospects in the game as a result of baseball's free agent draft.

Adamson, who failed to pitch with the Philadelphia Phillies, was drafted into the secondary phase of the draft by the Baltimore Orioles. Bombard, who was drafted by the Atlanta Braves, was picked by the Atlanta Braves.

Bowler of the Year Finalists

ADAMSON appears in line for a sizeable bonus from the United States Bowling Congress. However, he can not negotiate with the player's third year in the league, with those from three to nine years of service getting lesser amounts.

Under the agreement, players with 10 years of active service will get a maximum of $60,000, while those with 15 years will get $75,000. However, he can not negotiate with the player's third year in the league, with those from three to nine years of service getting lesser amounts.

Nolan Fans 15--But, THAT McCovey!

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Willie won't soon forget Gary Nolan, and Nolan will long remember Willie.

Willie fans will remember the 12 pitches Nolan threw past him Wednesday night as chief victim of the young Cincinnati right-hander's 15-strikeout performance.

Nolan will remember Willie McCovey for the one pitch he didn't throw past the San Francisco first baseman—McCovey's first home run raised out.

"He's just tremendous," Cincinnati Manager Dave Bristol said of Nolan after the fourth inning of his decision. "I told him if he got Willie May's, I would keep him in. He's such a man in every way you just have confidence in him and go along with him."

"It was a good pitch I made up for it a grounder. It was just one of those things."

but ran into trouble right at the start of the ninth.

Hal Lanier led off with a single and advanced on a sacrifice. Pinch hitter Jim Davenport walked and after Alou, who got four hits of Nolan, lined out, both runners advanced on a wild pitch.

Haller drove in the winning run when no play could be made on his high looper in front of the mound.

The Reds scored three runs off Juan Marchand in the sixth. Pete Rose honored for two of them. The other scored when Deron Johnson singled, went to second on a throwing error by May's and came home on Tommy Helms' single.

Willie Mota drove in two runs with a bloop single and Matt Stargell honored in Pittsburgh's victory, Tommie Skirth, 4-2, won the route for the third time in the Pirates' last 26 games. No other Pittsburgh

So many of my readers who are asking about clothes, not so much as to what they should have but what their husbands should have — for a vacation trip to Europe, the summer resorts, city trips and cruises.
I asked for advice on men's attire from the best source of such fashion information, The American Institute of Men and Boys Wear. They are the spokesmen for the creators of male apparel.
To look her best and feel that her escort matches in style is of interest to any woman. A well-dressed man, husband or just an escort, is a woman's top fashion accessory. All right, all right, a man said that.
A Mr. and Mrs. wardrobe needs some planning and you to check your plans.
City shopping and sight-seeing, U. S. and abroad. Tied, tropical or wash-and-wear suit; pastel-length shirt and tie; excellent dress shirt; grey slacks or dark sport coat and shoes; coordinates are essential. (Note: India do not wear pants when in Latin American countries.)
In this attire, the Mr. will be appropriately dressed for any restaurant, public or private spots of interest and on the evening, unless you attend a party.
Country sightseeing: sport shirt, slacks, well-fitting and neatly pressed.
A cardigan pullover sweater is a good addition for cool evenings, air-conditioned buildings and food spots. Comfortable but smart casual shoes and a protective hat for winter.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our local Cub Scout pack had a pinewood derby race. Each boy was to make a pinewood car from a block of wood and four wheels. The chairman of the project explained that the cars could actually be supposed to make the cars.

On the day of the race, only one kid showed up with a car that looked like he could have made it himself. All the other cars looked like they had been designed and constructed in Detroit. It was a farce. The children were only spectators. I welcome your comments, and those of your readers.

DEAR YUK: It's sad. Projects that encourage fathers to spend more time with their growing sons are fine. But when a father takes over the project and submits it as the handwork of his son, he is giving the boy a lesson in dishonesty.

Then if his son gets in trouble with the law, this father is the first to cry, "Where have I failed? I have always done so much for that boy."

DEAR ABBY: In our office we have about 50 men and 50 women. Recently a good looking little chick of about 18 or 19 joined our ranks. She seems nice enough but she comes to work every day in a mini-skirt or a mini-dress and I do mean mini!

Everyone agrees that she looks real cute in these outfits. But do you think this is appropriate dress for an office? How does one go about setting some limits on runaway hemlines?

WORKS HERE

DEAR WORKS: The office manager should call in an efficiency expert to calculate how many man hours are lost — "bird-watching" and the cute little chick will be a dead duck.

DEAR ABBY: My 10-year-old son is in Viet Nam with the marines. The last five nights he was home he dated a girl (I'll call her Mary) every night. He barely knew her and never dated her before that. I was amazed to learn from his first letter that he had sent Mary an engagement ring. I wish this couple luck. They will need it.

DEAR PERPLEXED: Nothing. Don't call her. And don't write one word about her to your son. Mary sounds horrible, immature, and aggressive. And as for your son—you should be at home in bed with a cold. That's what you need. They will need it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "A SORRY SAP" IN AMARILLO: Put it down as another old friend with a short memory and forget it. If the dentist asked for his fee while the patient's tooth still ached, he'd come out a lot better.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 6700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90068. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jacoby On Bridge

Jacoby and Son

One thing that distinguishes the good bridge player is that he is willing to overbid a trifle on his way to game.

He knows that if you wait for sure things you won't get as often but you aren't going to be a winner.

A match point player would probably drop the bidding on today's hand at two spades. He would reason that a three spade bid might change his potential plus score to a minus and by passing at two spades he would not get a really bad match point score even though game could be made.

Tommy Tallor of New York never plays match points. He reasoned that there might well be a good play for four spades and even if it didn't grow on bushes so he held to three spades and hoped for the best.

Wingate Bishy who sat

Actually the play wasn't too tough. Tommy's Jack of trumps took care of East's ten at trick one and he decided would be to get rid of the opposition's trump.

He led back a trump. West put up his ace and played a third trump.

Then Tommy went after the club suit. Since it broke 4-2 he had to use dummy's last trump to ruff out West's jack of clubs. This left him with three possible losers in hearts and nothing to do but lead a heart to dummy and hope for the best. East ducked the heart lead. Tommy ducked also. He still had time to play up to his king of hearts again and there was always the chance that West might make a mistake. West didn't. He shifted to a diamond but Tommy took dummy's ace, led a heart, rose with his king and scored game and rubber.

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—I have a very simple, quick way to clean my dust mop. No matter how hard one shakes a mop some of the dust always remains. I lay the mop on the sidewalk, dirty side up, take the broom and extend it. This only takes a few seconds and my mop is dust-free.—MRS. F. S.

DEAR POLLY—in answer to V. V. L.'s problem, let her try lining the drawer with blue tissue paper or, better still, with blue plastic dry-cleaning's bags to keep her clothes white.—HELEN

DEAR POLLY—I am sure most of the readers already know that a garment with a row of buttons can be ironed more smoothly if placed button side down on several thicknesses of bath towels. It is a nuisance to place the towels on the board every time I iron a shirt so I made a pad using three bath towels. At the wide end of the board the towels were stitched together and folded under the board with the ends tucked in place. At the narrow end the edges were folded under and cut to fit, then stitched together to form a pocket which fits neatly when pulled over the end of the board. The entire garment can be ironed very nicely on this pad. It is easily removed when ironing other things.—MRS. C. M.

DEAR GIRLS—This would also be wonderful for embroidering.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I have one of those automatic cameras that take pictures in a few seconds and I would like to take pictures from television programs. I cannot seem to get a picture no wonder if there is a special film I should get or if I can really take a picture satisfactorily.—VERONICA

DEAR POLLY—I always place my salad plates in the refrigerator or freezer for a short time before putting salad on them. This is a specially good rule to follow when serving a guests or frozen salad as it keeps it from becoming soft and ragged-looking.—BERTHA

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Despite the delays and the most everyone seems to be exercising where any practical decisions on money matters are concerned and the tendency for all to feel abused there is a big change you can expect. Mary is presently up a tree. Off to the pleasure you like as soon as you have completed important duties, but be sure you do not irk him in any way. Use that fine talent you have that is not connected with business. Be happy, more successful.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Even though outside matters appear rather dim, the situation at home is ideal, so stick to that. Avoid getting into legal business. This could lead to much heartache later on, if you are not careful.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 23): Forget any limitations of a financial nature and concentrate on the person who is doing very satisfactory. Be at your attractive best and then be on the go. Be sure you take the right beauty and health treatments.

SCORPIO (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Clear up situations that have been put a criminal record. Be patient.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19): Handling things around you with greater care is the keynote to today's success. Be more willing to do what is expected of you. Show admiration for a partner who is doing something very spectacular, clever and original.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 19): Instead of listening to a romantic associate at home, limber up and follow one in the outside field of your endeavor. Back a partner who is loyal beyond your back. Show that you can be relied upon also.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Do whatever will make your surroundings more beautiful, attractive and you attract those you admire more readily. Old friends can also be won back. However, be very tactful with everyone.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he, or she, will be one of those sensitive youngsters who early is apt to feel unhappy with his, or her, lot in life, so be sure to teach early how to be independent and how to weather the buffeting of life. Being objective is the answer here, since the ideas are far ahead of those of most others. Success can be great.

The Stars impel, they do not compel! What your year of your life is largely up to YOU!

It all seems like a fantasy world until the crew begins to see odd things and react strangely. It's a weird episode, at all times a good day to do his work at home, thus cramping Samantha's style. BERRY'S WORLD

"Be prepared for me to splurge on clothes, come fall—skirts may go back down to MID-CALF!"

World Almanac Facts

In 1737, Benjamin Franklin was deputy postmaster in America. By 1753, he was made postmaster general for the colonies, says the World Almanac. As the revolution approached, Franklin became increasingly involved in anti-British activities and was summarily dismissed by the king of England on Jan. 30, 1774. Later, however, the Second Continental Congress restored Franklin to the post.

Arab PWs Get Kosher Food

BEERSHEBA, Israel (AP)—Hundreds of commandos from Ahmed Shalabi's Palestine Liberation Army reached their promised land and soon found themselves behind barbed wire. Stripped of their machine guns and daggers, the guerrillas whose fiery leader had vowed they would drive the Israelis from Palestine were put to work building a prisoner-of-war stockade 10 miles north of Beersheba. Israeli military police reservists guarded them.

A convoy carrying 600 captive Palestinians and Egyptians arrived from the Gaza Strip Wednesday and some 400 more were to follow them to the camp. The camp commander said other POW camps were being set up in the Negev Desert.

Arabic-speaking Israeli officers interrogated officer prisoners and some of the men. The camp commander, an MP captain, said the rules of the Geneva Convention were being strictly observed.

"The food they'll be getting here is as good as they ever had," the captain said, adding with a smile, "though it'll be strictly kosher."

Mid-East Crises Nixes Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Middle East crisis appears to have given the Johnson administration the boost it needed to approve congressional approval of legislation to head off a nationwide rail strike.

Some House critics of the President's proposal complained privately that the fighting between Israel and the Arab states has all but blocked efforts to revise or block the legislation.

The Senate approved the bill June 7 in Wednesday and the House Commerce Committee takes it up today.

Congress has until June 19 to prevent a nationwide strike by some 1.7 million shopcraft workers. On that date, a current Congress-ordered 47-day no-strike-no-lockout period runs out.

Draft Measure Headed For OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A compromise draft extension bill, including a provision that would strip the President of his power to order a lottery induction system, advisers headed for prompt congressional approval.

Final action on the measure, which would extend the draft law four years beyond the scheduled June 30 expiration date, could come by early next week.

House-Senate conferees resolved differences Wednesday in separate measures passed by the two branches. The compromise version was returned to both houses for final action. The legislation provides for continuing present deferments for college undergraduates and does not change the President's authority, which he says he'll use, to reverse the present induction order and call up 19-year-olds first.

She: Yeah, they have less money.
He: What's the difference between a grant and a loan?
She: The Economic Development Agency may give you a grant for planning... But, when you talk about construction... They call it a loan.
He: Sure been a lot of committees appointed lately.
She: A committee is a lot of unfitted people collected by a lot of unwilling workers to do a lot of unnecessary work.

On Feb. 8 of this year Peace Justice Hugh Duncan was accused by the state auditing department of exceeding his jurisdiction to the tune of some $8,000. That is what he alleged, only the county. He still hasn't paid up.
"What are you doing about it?" sez it to the county attorney.
"I'm still investigating it," he answers.
I got one of these fast.

A couple members of the County Commission tried to pull a real cute at the last meeting. They tried to waive building permit fees for the portable classrooms for the school system on the grounds the buildings would be temporary structures and would require little if any service from the building department. John Alexander, chairman, put a stop to it on the grounds, the only one benefiting would be the contractor.

Community Action now has all its commitments for the "Head Start" program. The Missionary Baptist Church outside Altamonte said okay for using the facility for the classes... Now all we need are the funds.

Oops department - Yesterday we mentioned Dick Williams' quitting as baseball coach... Dick's track coach. Sorry about that. Guess I'm just bitter about track because I one was clocked in the 100-yard dash at four minutes.

George Darbs has been reappointed as an elementary school principal here... He used to run the show at Bear Lake. Everyone knows he's not coming back. Probably he'll accept a job with FEA or National Educational Association.

In Municipal Court today an 18-year-old boy was fined $50 for possession of alcoholic beverages... Another boy was picked up on the same charge and he was turned loose.

City Commission Monday night will look over the new vacant building condemnation Station, "and this prepares us well for next year's county."

Cecil A. Tucker II, county agricultural agent, said that "although we are close to the end of the growing season all remaining crops are perking up with this rain."

He added that 1.92 inches of rainfall have been recorded in June at the Agricultural Center "which will amply supply citrus for about 12 days."

Why would the school board purchase real property for the new Lyman High School knowing the state would consider the 30 acres sub-standard sized? No real requirements for a 45-acre Lyman's size is high.

You bang your head against the wall telling people to shop here... spend more time in here... hold affairs here instead of Orange County, and what happens?... Ninety per cent of all the graduation parties are held elsewhere... On that happy note I'll call it a day. Have a nice weekend Sanford and Seminole and I forgive you for everything I've done to you.

Port Authority Shuns U.S. Aid

Start of the Port of Sanford, authorized by the state Legislature this week, will not await federal funds but will take form at once with the financial muscle provided by a $800,000 loan from Jena Pancher, Sanford industrialist, according to port officers. This was made clear at a meeting of city, county and Chamber of Commerce representatives today as they sought to implement the legislative action without getting into the development area" under the Economic Development Act.

Both Andrew Carraway, chairman, and F. P. Rommilt Jr., port authority administrator, explained their advocacy of private financing through the Port Authority as the only way to implement the legislative action without getting into the development area" under the Economic Development Act.

That this whole matter of federal funds is inserted in the state of Congressional action was brought out by several. To avoid any local-based confusion over the best way to get together an overall plan to submit under this development. Mayor Joe Baker agreed to support.

write all involved, the county, the port authority, the Seminole Chamber of Commerce, Community Action, Sanford Industrial Commission, to name a member for a coordinating planning committee who would get together an overall plan to submit under this development. Continued on page 1A.
