Private Industry May Have To Follow: Cites French Fall

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—The proposed 30-hour Federal work week came under fire this week from Senator Harry Byrd, Democrat, of Virginia, who stated it would mean "all private industry will be forced to do the same."

of France was the thirty-hour week," Senator Byrd said in a statement. "America cannot become a nation of drones and maintain our future economic stability."

usually and would be "disastrous to the future economy of this country."

A new low-cost plan that pays cash for your hospital expenses has now been provided in a new kind of family insurance policy created by the well-known Northern Mutual Casualty Co. As this policy provides, your entire family is covered for hospitalization due to sickness, accident and childbirth.

45 Days in Hospital. According to the liberal provisions of this new plan you get the following benefits: (1) Cash for room and board, up to forty-five days for each member of the family in the given year. (2) Cash to pay for the various hospital extra charges, such as operating room fee, X-rays, anesthetic, medicines, ambulance service, etc. (3) Cash to help pay the surgeon fees. These are many other benefits which make this Northern Mutual policy the most liberal hospital protection ever devised.

No Medical Examination. No medical examination is required. And all the members of your immediate family (ages up to 65) are protected under a single policy, on which you pay one premium each month. In the case of the average family, this premium amounts to only a few cents a day.

Old Established Company. This policy is backed by an old established company which has faithfully served the Middle West for many years. As provided in this policy, you are paid cash for hospital expenses whether the disability occurs at home or at work. And you are not limited to any certain hospital. The money is paid to you. So you pick the hospital, anywhere in the U.S. or Canada. You are provided with an identification card which furnishes the hospital satisfactory evidence of your financial responsibility.

Includes Childbirth Many Extra Benefits. This liberal policy provides many other benefits impossible to list in this limited space. But any one interested can secure full and complete information by mailing the coupon below. There is no cost or obligation. Tear out this coupon now.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1945

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY
 IF WE ARE FAITHFUL TO OUR FRIENDS TO OUR VICTIMS TO OUR OPPORTUNITIES WE CANNOT ESCAPE MULTITUDINOUS BLESSINGS. Prov. 28: 20: A faithful man shall abound in blessings.

Former Premier Tojo of Japan shot himself in an attempt at suicide, but unfortunately he was only critically wounded.

In New Jersey a discharged veteran is smart. At 23 he has decided to return to school to get the diploma he gave up when he entered the Army in 1940, realizing that no one can go far in radar or television without some knowledge of mathematics and English.

Our attention has recently been called to so many honorable citizens whose names were omitted from our list for Honorable Mention that we had about decided to publish a telephone directory, but on second thought we believe we will leave it to the Chamber of Commerce, or the American Legion to prepare an official roster of all citizens on the home front who contributed so perceptively to the war effort. As a matter of fact, there is nothing whatever to prevent any organization, or anybody, from publishing such a list of those who deserve credit.

Before Congress votes to give every unemployed war worker a thousand dollar bonus, it would be interesting to estimate the number of hospitals which might be built for that sum of money. Suppose there are only three million persons who ultimately are entitled to that bonus, and though it is said there will soon be at least eight million without jobs. If each of those three million persons is given a thousand dollars by the government, that would amount to three billion dollars. And with that sum the government might have built ten thousand hospitals costing $300,000 each.

Sanford is gradually making progress toward its goal of becoming "The Port of Central Florida," in fact as well as name, as the U. S. Board of Civilian Engineers in Atlanta backs up the District Engineers in Jacksonville with a favorable report on the 12-foot channel for the St. Johns River. Time will tell, but practically all the freight for Central Florida came down the river through Sanford. But it was slow and tedious work in shallow draft boats and there was no competition from truck and train lines. Now, in order to compete, barges must have depth, refrigeration facilities, speed. When that time comes, Sanford may well become Central Florida's largest city.

The federal government, in response to demands of the people, wants to give everyone a raise. The 75-cent minimum wage is widely recommended. Demands of labor unions for higher wages are encouraged. The ceilings are off of executive salaries. Even congressmen, if President Truman has his way, will be given a $10,000 a year salary boost. At the same time the hours of work will be cut, at once to 40, soon to 30, a week, and even the humble taxpayer who has been the "Forgotten Man" of the New Deal, will get a break. In spite of rising government costs, taxes will be reduced by five billion dollars a year. A course in elementary economics should be a required subject in every public school.

Interest has centered so largely in the war, that we had almost forgotten that next year is an election year and that before long campaigns will be under way in Florida to pick a United States senator and a number of congressmen. Senator Andrews will probably seek re-election and may have opposition from former Governor Holland or Doyle Coker. Representative Hendricks is in a tight competition with Judge Hartung of Lake County being widely mentioned. As a matter of fact, there are several counties in Florida where the housing shortage is so serious

Tom Sawyer in Russia

Do the Russians read American writers? And if so, whom? They read weekly book reviews, plenty of them, and according to Maurice Hindus, student of things Russian, writing in the New York Herald-Tribune, they have some surprising preferences.

The favorite writer is one who was very popular in the United States a generation ago, but today perhaps has lost some ground here—Jack London, author of "The Call of the Wild" and other vigorous novels of the outdoors. His themes of endurance and sacrifice and the un-conquered wilderness appeal to Russians facing much the same conditions in Siberia.

Next to him in appreciation is some one different—Mark Twain, and about no other American author did they ask so many questions.

As in the United States, other American writers have their ups and downs. A few years ago Upton Sinclair was the favorite American author in the Soviet Union. He has lost ground lately, while writers of the day like Ernest Hemingway, Richard Wright and John Steinbeck have come up.

The surprising feature is that the Russian choice does not depend at all on the writer's attitude toward communism. Each is judged on his merits, and the social attitude figures only slightly. This is encouraging, implying judgment on merit.

Hardworking Leader

An unspectacular leader of solid accomplishment was the late James A. Wilson of Cincinnati, for 32 years president of the Pattern Makers' League of North America. He had been a vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, and then counselor for the International Labor Office at the League of Nations headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. During the first world war he was twice sent to Europe on labor missions.

In his home town he was a pillar of good government. For many years Cincinnati had been the booty of a corrupt gang. Wilson was one of the group of good citizens who rescued her from her enemies, and he steadfastly fought all attempts of the old gang to come back. With all his activities he found time to serve on the city council.

There are other Wilsons in the ranks of labor, but they do not always get the credit that is due them.

Advantage Of Laziness

A large city library had a basement room containing current newspapers, a useful service for transients from other cities or for students who wanted to get on the spot accounts of important events elsewhere. Unfortunately the room attracted undesirables, gentry of the road and others whose sole interest was a warm place in which to sit, and if undisturbed, to sleep.

How discourage them quietly? A wise man found the answer: move the reading room up several flights. Even though elevator service was available, the unwashed visitors would not put themselves to the extra trouble of ascending a few flights. Their numbers soon became negligible.

Laziness is a great thing, in other people.

Big Money

When the United Nations get around to it, as they probably will in time, one of the first things they may tackle for the benefit of the Far East is Chinese currency. We Americans may be a little prejudiced along this line, but it does seem as if the money in those parts, or what they use for money, is rather lavish. Correspondent Bob Considine reports some items of general interest.

When the boy who waits on his table seems due for a tip, Bob casually tosses him a thousand-dollar bill. And when his shirts come back from the laundry, or he feels obliged to pay a day's rent, he hands out $2,500. The money he spends is beautiful, and is printed in New York and shipped in bales for 12,000 miles, but there are times when he gets uneasy about it.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

It is beginning to look as though Florida was in for just about the biggest tourist season in its history this fall and winter, and a lot of communities that thought they were overcrowded during the war period are going to find themselves forced to hang out the "Standing Room Only" sign.

While a number of industrial plants are closing down and war workers are being released in certain areas, it will not affect the situation to any marked degree.

There has been no marked reduction in the number of service men stationed in the State. It seems as one group is moved out another comes in and you find as many service men on the streets in most towns now as there were before V-J Day.

Thousands of folks, with more money than they ever had before, are all packed up with no place to go. A year or so from now the whole world will offer us stiff competition for tourist trade and Florida will be forced to go after this business but this winter Europe is not prepared to handle tourists. There is not enough food for the home folks in most countries and practically no housing accommodations even if ships were available to carry such travel.

Nassau, Cuba, Mexico and South America are on their toes and will make an effort to develop tourist business but transportation is still a problem. Florida is about the only place the sun hunter and recreation seeker can reach this winter.

Indications are the restrictions will be lifted by December or sooner and even if they are not, the average American has demonstrated his ability to "go places" if he wants to on make shift tires. Motorists by the thousands will pour into the State and our attractions will all do a land office business. Many points of interest will open up again, such as McKee Jungle Gardens, Marine Studios, white filter springs, Cypress Gardens and others that have remained in operation are preparing for a record breaking season.

South Florida, already disky from angry entities about the housing shortage for its reccon'd throngs pour in from every section of the country. While some hotels and apartments are being returned to private ownership by the Army and Navy, which will afford some relief, it will not be enough to help the situation to any marked degree.

It is going to be a real problem to secure accommodations on South bound planes, trains and buses this winter. While the ODT has partially lifted restrictions and announced that it will permit the operation of tourist trains, such as the Orange Blossom Special, the Vacantone and other, the railroads are so short of equipment that they are going to have a hard time making up such trains and won't be able to meet the demand for reservations.

Folks who imagined that war's end would bring relief from overcrowded trains, planes and buses are doomed to disappointment, at least in our tourist and resort cities, for there will be more house-hunters than there are houses for a long time to come and for every family moving out there will be three eager to move in.

State revenues should take a real jump this winter. Racing will be resumed and indications are betting will be heavier than ever before. Liquor will flow in the night spots and more cigars and cigarettes will be consumed, all of which will pour a constant stream of tax dollars into the State Treasury. On top of this we can look for a marked increase in revenue from gasoline taxes for with thousands of out of state cars traveling our highways day and night throughout the fall and winter season the gas jumps will be kept busy.

If the legislature had failed to provide for any new revenue at the last session, we would still be in good shape, as it is the boys in Tallahassee will have more spending money than ever before. Let us hope they use it wisely.

Fall Parade Of UPSWEEPS ON THE BEAM

BY BETTY CLARKE
AP Newfeatures Editor
HAR fashion for fall will fall on the up-sweep with a variety of shades of blue, purple, and green. The young of the year during wartime who wore workaday found it a matter of pride and less dangerous than a long hair. Not that the modern muse hasn't returned her long hair, she has. But the tucked away neatly.
One of the most interesting things about the up-sweep is that it can be done at home, a handy for times when it is impossible to reach a hairdresser.
Hands are easily accomplished by parting hair neatly from the brows to the neck, gathering all hair on each side and reaching the top of the head.
If you have not time enough to brush your hair, try winding it around a bar of soap. That is, a street-bar, not a washable. The hand will separate hair from shampoo.
Let's say you have a hairstyle however make-up your hair is washed thoroughly with one of the conditioning soap shampoos and rinsed thoroughly with clean water.

Alien Americans Resuming Practice Of Remittances

By MAX HALL
 WASHINGTON—When Giuseppe Torrelli in New York sends money to his mother in Turin, Giuseppe is a factor in international trade.

Though he may be surprised to learn it, he is helping Italy pay for goods bought in the United States.

Now that Europe is free, more and more persons in the United States are resuming the practice of sending money to friends and relatives in liberated European countries.

The treasury department recently smoothed the way by relaxing its wartime restrictions on such payments, provided they are made through banking channels. American officials believe this increasing flow of "personal remittances" will be a useful factor in providing Europe with the U. S. dollars it needs to buy American goods.

But officials here caution a gradual over-emphasis of the economic effects of these payments. They say the dollar needs of European countries in the past two or three years are so great that, in comparison, the amount of dollars obtained through personal remittances will be small.

The economic significance of personal remittances, however, after the war can be illustrated best in the case of Italy.

Italy has long led all other European countries in the amount of personal remittances received from the United States. Greece, Poland, and France follow in that order.

For example, in 1945, Italy imported from the United States $73,000,705 worth of goods, according to the commerce department. Italy exported to the United States only $37,000,000 of goods. This left a deficit which had to be obtained somehow.

Personal remittances from the United States to Italy in that year were estimated at $2,000,000. This sum, alone, therefore, provided more than half of the dollar which Italy needed to make up the trade deficit with the United States.

Contrast this with the present situation. The U. S. Treasury Department estimates that in the last 12 months, remittances to Italy have totalled about $2,000,000. This sum, alone, therefore, provides more than half of the dollar which Italy needs to make up the trade deficit with the United States.

But Italy's most serious remittance needs are in the form of exports. The Economic Administration in Washington estimates that Italy's most serious remittance needs are in the form of exports. The Economic Administration in Washington estimates that Italy's most serious remittance needs are in the form of exports.

There are obvious reasons for a latter time as. People in the United States who might send money abroad are further removed from the old countries than they were in 1919. Ties are growing more remote. Many friends and relatives have died during the last 20 years. Between 1919 and 1940 the number of foreign-born residents in the United States decreased from 11,200,000 to 11,800,000.

In 1919 the total for all countries was estimated by the Commerce Department at $2,420,000. In 1945, Italy alone sent more than $2,000,000, this dropped to $12,000,000 in 1923 and $28,000,000 in 1921.

What happens when a personal remittance is sent to a liberated country?

The present treasury rules, a check is sent through banking channels. Suppose Giuseppe of New York had sent to his mother in Turin, Giuseppe, one hundred dollars in 1919. He would have received the $100 and given the bank the $100. The bank transfers the $100 deposit to the account of some Italian bank. The Italian bank gives the old lady in Turin, 100,000 lire. (Both banks may keep a small percentage as handling charges.)

Thus Giuseppe's mother receives money she can spend in Italy and the Italian banking system requires money that can be spent in America.

Under present Italian exchange controls, the $100 deposit must be transferred to the Central Bank of Italy. The Central Bank gives the lesser bank Italian money in exchange for the dollar credit. Though the $100 is still on the books of the New York bank and has not physically left the United States, Italy's supply of dollars has been increased.

All because of Giuseppe.

90 Men Can Build 30 Houses A Year

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 12. (AP)—A year's five billion dollars in remodeling and maintenance of ten billion dollars needed to repair and replace our war plants is almost meaningless, according to H. I. Northrup, Secretary, National Retail Lumber Dealers Association. What the man on the street wants to know is how much employment will result from home construction in his town.

"Here is one kind of answer to that question, based on a recent analysis made by the Association," H. I. Northrup asserted. "If you're in a small town and you build thirty houses during the first postwar year, you will create full-time employment for about 90 men. If you're in a larger town and you build three hundred houses during the first postwar year, you will create 900 full-time jobs in your town."

At least four kinds of employment can be tabulated as deriving from home construction in any locality. These are:

- 1. Full-time jobs in your town.
- 2. Off-site labor that produces, transports or transforms raw materials on construction materials on the building site.
- 3. State, shun and service establishment construction that results from the development of new shopping centers in new communities.
- 4. Retail jobs that develop in these same neighborhood stores.

Business Expansion Is Called Fantastic
WASHINGTON, Sept. 12. (AP)—The extension of U.S. industry in the last five years has been the most fantastic in the history of the world.

But this story has a darker side. Not all of the wartime growth can be said to be profitable. That is what the War Production Board said today.

The report card high marks in every subject on this nation's postwar output from 1940 through 1944.

The report card is a study to make things increased by at least 10 percent. Twenty-five billion dollars were invested in new plants and equipment.

But a good part of that capacity was created to make war things that can't be used in peace.

This country is used to giant production strides. But in other five years produced as those five did.

The nation's output extended
