OVER TO LET TENDS MAKE S CAMPAIGN

Republican Candidate for Presidency Will Enter Indiana Or Ohio Tilt Personally

Hoover's office To Seek His Choice

Personal Prestige Is Protected By Tacking His Plan Of Action

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—Although Herbert Hoover has staked out for himself the hottest of political fights imaginable—the Watson organization in Indiana, and the organization in Ohio—his plan is not to personally invade either state in his own behalf.

In these states, as elsewhere, he would be left to friends to take the lead in the Hoover campaign and the charges that are being hurled from hundreds of forms during the next two months.

This is in line with the plan of the Hoover handlers to have the Hoover campaign in a person of the office of the man, and not the man himself.

Hoover is a man of great ability and a high reputation, and it is not surprising that he has become a national prestige and a national asset.

Blizzard Strikes Atlantic States

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—(INS)—As a heavy snow storm swept over the Eastern Seaboard today, and government forecasters issued warnings to shipping along the coast, old-timers unwrapped their mufflers long enough to tell their grandchildren of the "great blizzard" which occurred forty years ago, locking the Atlantic States in its grip from Mar. 11 to 14, 1888. All up the coast the snow blew in behind a buff and disrupting traffic in the cities and making travel difficult generally. It was predicted that heavy weather would last throughout the day and night.

TRAIN HITS AUTO TRUCK INJURING TWO LOCAL MEN

L. D. Adams, Lake Monroe farmer, was still unconscious at noon today following a grade crossing collision late Thursday afternoon when an Atlantic Coast Line passenger train crashed into a truck and a car on the grade.

J. C. Taylor, son-in-law of Adams, was reported by attendants at the Fernald-Laughton hospital to be painfully, but not seriously hurt, his injuries consisting of numerous cuts and bruises. The extent of Adams' injuries has not been determined as yet, but he is believed to be in a critical condition, possibly suffering concussion of the brain.

Further X-ray examinations are to be made of both men to determine if internal injuries were sustained. Taylor is reported to be suffering considerable pain and from nervous shock. The men's wounds from instant death is regarded as being miraculous.

Levine Departs For New York After His Flight To Havana

HAVANA, March 9. (INS)—Dr. Wilbur Stultz, Charles A. Levine and Miss Mabel Bull, the "Queen of Diamonds" hopped off at Columbia Field in Levine's monoplane Columbia at 9:22 o'clock this morning on their return flight to the United States. They had arrived on Tuesday after a non-stop flight from New York. Levine said the return journey to Mitchell Field, N. Y., would be made by easy stages.

According to Levine's plans the Columbia should reach Mitchell Field on Sunday.

Before his departure Levine said he intended to attempt a trans-Atlantic flight within the next two or three months and that Miss Bull probably would accompany him as a passenger. On account of the warmth of his reception in Germany when he flew to that country last year, Levine probably will make Berlin his destination on his next trans-Atlantic flight.

LOST RECORDS BALK PROBING OF SLUSH FUND

Disappearance Of Evidence Of Contributors To Campaign Fund Of Republican Party Retards Investigating Body

Senate Committee Will Continue Hunt

"Wheat King" Confirms Report
That Leading Republicans
Were Given Sinecure Bonds

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9. (INS)—The disappearance of all records of contributions to the Republican National committee during the 1920 campaign when Harry F. Sinclair was distributing bonds of the Continental Trading Company with a levered hand, today placed an obstacle in the path of the Senate public Lands Committee's search for the $3,000,000 Liberty Bond "slush fund."

The Senate committee will continue hunting for recipients of the bonds, first by back-tracking all known Continental Bonds redeemed at the Treasury, and second, by an appeal for volunteer testimony. Thus far the committee has traced $100,000 in Liberty Bonds from Sinclair to the Republics and identified $95,000 of these bonds as the original property of the Continental Company.

Confirmation of the Senate committee reports that Sinclair bonds were given leading Republicans in Chicago in return for slush contributions was obtained from James A. Patten, one-time "wheat king."

Patten told of getting $20,000 in bonds of which $20,000 have since been identified as Continental bonds—and giving the Republican National Committee a $25,000 check. This procedure, according to members of the Senate committee, was followed by the Republicans in Chicago.

Several Cases Are Transferred By City Officers To County

Charles Haynes, negro, charged with the theft of shoes and stockings from another negro, and Elizabeth Beaufort, negro, charged with stabbing her sweetheart here last November, were both turned over to county authorities today following the sounding of their cases on Municipal Court docket this morning.

Citrus Heights Home Is Destroyed By Fire

A five-room stucco bungalow at Citrus Heights, suburb of Sanford, was destroyed by fire early this morning. The house, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hurley, was partly covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have started from an oil stove, which Mr. Hurley lighted to heat water. Awakening some time after lighting the stove, Mr. Hurley found the house in flames. All of the household goods including most of the personal effects were destroyed.

FLYERS MEET DEATH

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Mar. 9. (INS)—The bodies of two Marine Corps aviators who met death when a huge volcano of the Nicaraguans lunged at their plane as they were attempting to land at the aviation field at Estal, causing it to crash to the ground, awaited shipment here today for burial in the United States.

Rodman Wanamaker, Said To Be Heaviest Insured Man In U.S., Dies Suddenly

NEW YORK, Mar. 9.—(INS)—Rodman Wanamaker, New York Merchant, philanthropist and patron of arts and sciences, who died today at his estate in Atlantic City, was reported to be the heaviest insured man in the United States. Policies on his life totalled $7,500,000.

He was one of the foremost merchants of the world. He inherited the widely known Wanamaker Stores in New York, Philadelphia and Paris from his father, the late John Wanamaker.

Rodman Wanamaker's death this morning was sudden. A cold contracted last Sunday developed into pneumonia, to which he succumbed at 2:30 o'clock. At his bedside were his son, Captain John Wanamaker, and his daughter, Mrs. Hector Mumms.

The funeral services will be held at Lindenhurst, the family estate at Germantown, Pa. It is assumed that Mr. Wanamaker's business was organized will be the beneficiary of a large part of his heavy personal insurance.

Wanamaker was 65 years old. He was born in Philadelphia Feb. 12, 1863. He graduated from Princeton University in 1886 and went into the mercantile business with his father.

While one of the outstanding merchants in the world he was also a great aviation enthusiast. It was his dream, he declared, that there would be aircraft travel between London and New York so that he could spend the week-end in England and be back home here for work on Monday. He backed Commander Richard E. Byrd in his record-breaking flight over the North Pole and his recent non-stop flight from New York to France.

Through Wanamaker's generosity many historical sites and monuments have been preserved. He was author of the idea for the "National Light" memorial to the World War dead on Madison Square and was largely instrumental in gathering funds for its erection.

D. A. R. WILL MEET FULL HOUSE WILL HERE NEXT YEAR HEAR PIANIST IN FOR CONFERENCE RECITAL TONIGHT

Selection of Sanford for next year's conference and the annual election of officers featured the closing session yesterday of the Florida Daughters of American Revolution meeting at Sarasota. The city was also honored by the organization in the election of Mrs. John Leonard as first vice regent to serve for a term of two years.

The election of Mrs. Leonard to the second highest office in the state organization was in recognition of the splendid service which she has rendered in other important capacities. She served for six years on the state board and was then elected regent, an office which she filled for two years. This was followed by one term as regent secretary and for the past two years Mrs. Leonard has been state treasurer. Her election as first vice regent was unanimous.

Mrs. Leonard has been prominent in club activities for a number of years. She is at present serving as regent of the Southern Harrison chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution. She is a former president of the Sanford Woman's Club and of the Woman's Club Federation of Woman's Club.

Bringing next year's conference here is a signal honor for Sanford. Local members of the organization today expressed pleasure at having an opportunity to entertain the state convention. The Sarasota meeting was declared one of the most successful and enjoyable in the history of the Florida branch.

Junior Boys' Ball Police Seek Slayer League Will Open Of British Soldier Here On March 26 Killed During Night

Plans for inaugurating the junior boys' basketball league were discussed by members of the Lions Club at their meeting yesterday. It was announced that the season will open on March 26 with eight to ten teams participating.

Lion will be assigned to each club as manager while the boys will elect their captains. Expenses for equipment will be defrayed by the club.

George W. Gray was welcomed as a new member. Curtis Jones, director of the recent musical show, was a guest as was Rev. Frank Marler, pastor of the First Christian Church, who gave the principal address. Dr. H. W. Rucker and George Brantman sang several numbers.

Martin To Speak In Mayo This Evening

MAYO, Fla., Mar. 9. Gov John W. Martin arrived here this afternoon on the second day of a short tour from Tallahassee and will speak on his campaign for the United States Senate tonight. What Perry residents declared was the largest political audience in the history of the city gathered in the courthouse here last night for the Governor's address when he reviewed his administration and disproved some of the charges other candidates are making against his record in office.

After speaking at Cross City, the county seat of Dixie county tomorrow night, the Governor will return home for the March session of the pardoning board.

PROPHETS SAY HATHAWAY IS LEADING RACE

Political Prognosticators Of Tallahassee Declare Head Of State Road Department Is Most Favored Candidate

Sidney Catts Gets 2nd Position Choice

Other Candidates For Office Of Chief Executive Are Given Outside Chance By Seers

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 9. (INS)—Through the haze and smoke of the tempestuous opening campaign in Florida's 1928 political battle, Foss A. Hathaway, chairman of the State Road Department, was today seen as the leader in the gubernatorial race by political prognosticators.

Hathaway's leadership in the multifaceted race may be more political fiction, but nevertheless, this is the opinion of those few political whips who sunter through State House corridors and to whom most candidates concede the credit of "being on the inside" and "knowing what's what."

These same persons claim that Sidney J. Catts ranked second in the race, Doyle Carlton, third, John S. Taylor fourth, W. A. Mackenzie, fifth, T. J. Appleford, sixth and Paul M. Benbow, seventh.

Youth Injured When He Falls From Bus Near High School

Junior Russell Echols, 14 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Echols of West First Street, fell from the Florida Laughton Hospital today as the result of severe injuries which he sustained in an automobile mishap that occurred this morning in the vicinity of the Seminole High School.

The youth was suffering from a broken ankle and a fractured hip with possibility of internal injuries. As soon as he was reported to be somewhat improved although suffering considerably. His condition was not regarded as critical.

Eggs Scattered In Auto Mishap Here

An auto collision this morning at Ninth Street and Palmetto Avenue resulted in no loss of life nor damage to the machines, but upset several dozen eggs on the pavement and almost caused a local shortage of peckle-bonies; and consequent boost in prices. A Studebaker touring car driven by J. Hankerson, negro, crashed into a Dodge sedan driven by W. J. Shirley, farmer, who was on his way to town. The impact sent eggs flying in all directions. With the street converted into a golden stream, another motorist splashed through throwing the sticky substance on a crowd of bystanders. Chief of Police Roy G. Williams was among those annihilated.

CONDIT PUTS OFF PROPOSED FLIGHT TO PLANET VENUS

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Mar. 9. (INS)—The non-stop flight to the Planet Venus planned by Robert Condit will not be made this winter, he announced at his ocean side bungalow here today.

Condit's sky rocket projectile lay in its hangar ready for the 50,000,000 mile flight upon ten days notice, however, its inventor and pilot said.

An attempt to fly from the earth to the Planet Venus will be made later this summer under the auspices of the Jules Verne Society of New York, Condit said.

Louisiana To Exact Penalty Of Death From 3 Prisoners

BERIDDER, La., Mar. 9. (INS)—Louisiana has three hangings on her legal calendar for this afternoon.

Death threatened to cheat the gallows of part of its prospective prey Joe Genna, doomed to die today for the murder of Joseph Brevelle, taxi cab driver, was dying in the local prison this morning from poison swallowed last night in an attempted suicide. Genna and he had carried the poison eight months and intended to kill himself just before his hanging.

Physicians worked to prolong his life until sometime between noon and 1 P. M. so the state can legally send him into eternity on the gallows.

Nolton Presseaux, doomed to die with Genna for the same crime, bravely made ready.

At New Orleans another hanging is scheduled for this afternoon. Matt Seminary, prize fighter, must die for the murder of his sweetheart, Miss Lillian Hoyle, in a street car more than a year ago.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—An attack upon the alleged "dictatorial" policies of the national officers of the United Mine Workers was made before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee today by E. E. Herriman, president of the Clearfield Bituminous Coal Corporation, a New York Central Railroad subsidiary. His company operates in central Pennsylvania.

Negro Riot In Miami Results In 2 Deaths

MIAMI, Fla., Mar. 9. (INS)—Special precautions were being maintained by police in the negro quarters of Miami today following a church riot last night in which "Princes" Laura Kofey, negro preacher, and Maxwell Cook, leader of a negro mob, were killed.

Cook is alleged to have entered the negro church at the head of a gang who all fired at the negro preacher standing upon the platform. The congregation, rushing to their pastor's assistance, beat the mob leader so severely that he died a few minutes later.

Sanford Shrine Club Will Sponsor Polo Match To Be Played March 23

The first polo match ever played in Sanford has been arranged for Friday afternoon, March 23, according to an announcement today by Edward F. Lane, president of the Sanford Shrine Club under whose auspices the contest will be staged.

Negotiations for the match have just been completed following a conference earlier in the week between representatives of the National Professional Polo Association and officers of the Shrine Club. The competing teams will be Florida and New Jersey and the match will be staged at the Municipal Athletic Field.

The contest will be played with the sanction of the national association and will be credited towards a $25,000 championship purse that has been raised for the season's play.

Bucky Harris Puts Blame On Himself For Team's Flop Last Year, But Thinks He Has Learned Good Lesson

By David J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 8.—They called him the boy manager when he was winning pennants several years ago but today the boy was a man and he proved it as only a real man can by declaring that he, himself, Stanley Harris, was more than a little to blame for the fact that the Washington Senators weren't a better ball club last year.

"Success," he said "may have gone a little to my head."
Having lifted that vest-full from his abdomen, the first baseball man ever to admit publicly that a mistake was all he next turned his attention to the New York Yankees, who are one of the things to which you turn your attention at the slightest provocation or none at all. He doesn't think the Yankees are a kick-in for the pennant as the current version would have it, and cites as his reasons the following:

- 1.—The Washington Senators.
- 2.—The Yankees' elderly pitchers.
- 3.—The conviction that Ruth and Gehrig will not repeat their 1927 records.
- 4.—The Washington Senators.
- 5.—The belief that the Yankees got all the breaks last year, and none of these happened to be none.
- 6.—The Washington Senators.

Quite so, Mr. Harris, with remarkable self-control, is able to view the Washington Senators with almost no distaste. He thinks well and kindly of the Senators if it seems and they think well of him. It is only when the question of the Yankees and the Philadelphia Athletics arises that kindliness is allowed to run in the outside lane. It appears that he concedes the former nothing and gives the latter slightly less. He didn't say so but I gathered that he somewhat detains the venerable gentlemen of Philadelphia.

The Senators? Well, just a better ball club, my good fellow, and right here, I want to say that I live only for the day when some manager will invade me into the clothes press to tell me in the spring that his club is worse than mine.

"Most of all, we will have a different manager," he said.

"Same name, Harris, but a different fellow. I guess I took too much for granted last year. Anybody can manage a club that is winning."

"Next year we will have the best pitching of years and that absolutely goes. I could start any one of 12 men in a major league with a team with perfect confidence. I would obtain a well pitched game. Four of these pitchers, Lash, Gange, Hadley, Geston and Max Barry, are particularly effective against the Yankees."

"Third, the fact that we will

Training Briefs

International News

TAMPA, Fla., Mar. 8.—(INS)—Clyde Milan, veteran ex-Senator who is now back with the club in the capacity of coach, has been made assistant manager of the club. Bucky Harris will be in charge of the team when he is with it, but in his absence Milan's is to be the boss. The Nationals went to Avon Park today to battle with the Cardinals in the first game of the spring training season.

CATALINA ISLAND, Cal., Mar. 8.—(INS)—The Cubs regulars were happy today over shaking their jinx long enough to beat the camp "goofs" in a practice ball game. It was the first victory for the regulars in a long series of family tilts. Jones, Grapp and Hance pitched for the regulars, allowing the goofs only three hits and shutting them out 4 to 0. Malone, Welch, Helly and Bush took turns in the box for the goofs. They yielded a total of eight hits.

SIREYPORT, La., Mar. 8.—(INS)—Bib Falk, one of the five "lost" regulars, was present and accounted for when the White Sox lined up for the daily training drill today. No word, however, has been received as to the whereabouts of Johnny Mostil, Bill Barrett, Charlie Barabie and Bill Hunnefeld.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Mar. 8.—(INS)—Manager Huggins of the Yankees has dispatched an ultimatum to Urban Shocker, the recalcitrant spitballer. Shocker wrote Huggins that he had quit, but mentioned that he was dissatisfied with the salary offered him. This led Huggins to believe that an agreement might be reached.

CLEARWATER, Fla., Mar. 8.—(INS)—Four hits by Partridge and a homer by Bissonette featured a practice game in which the Brooklyn regulars beat the Yankees, 12 to 6.

Man-Made Lake Is Part Of Power Plan

BANGOR, Wales, March 8.—(INS)—An artificial lake covering an area of three square miles and comparable in its beauty of setting to any natural scene of water in the country, is one of the features of the new North Wales electric power scheme, which will be in working order next July.

For three years, 1,000 men have been at work to harness for electrical purposes, the rainfall of 36 square miles of mountains round Trawsfydd, in North Wales.

As soon as the official opening has taken place work will be started to increase the size of the lake to five square miles.

Roll one with P.A.!

OPEN the P.A. package and treat yourself to a fragrance you'll never forget. Now... put a pinch in a paper and roll. Notice how easy P.A. rolls. That's because it's crimp-cut, the logical form for home-rolled cigarettes. Light-up and get that wonderful taste of wonderful tobacco. Cool and refreshing as a dip in the surf. Mellow and mild as April sun. Mild, but with a full, round body that puts pleasure into every puff. You can't beat P.A. for makin's. Beat it? Say, you can't catch up to it! Prince Albert makes a jimmy-pipe perform, too. Try P.A. both ways. That's a tip!

"Where are the papers?"

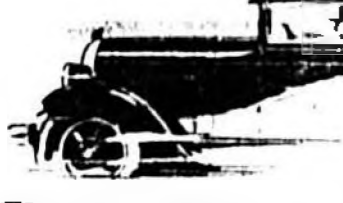

Here they are—OCBs, made in France by the celebrated Bolloré Mills, expressly for R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Put some P.A. in an OCB paper. Watch it lie down and roll up into the best home-rolled smoke ever—150 leaves, 5c, where you buy your tobacco. Ask for OCBs in the handy book.

RIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY SHALL WANT NO GOOD THING: For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will he withhold from them that walk uprightly.—Psalm 84:11.

PRAYER: O God, our Heavenly Father, Thou hast given us Thine only begotten and well-beloved Son, and with Him thou wilt freely give us all things.

THE ELDRITCH LADY By E. M. H. —In G. K.'s Weekly— The knight who loved a lady Followed after, followed after, For he thought he heard her singing. And he dreamt he heard her laughter;

And he saw her hair streaming, On the wind that whistled by Yet the atoms called out to stay —him, But he never heard their cry.

And the knight who loved the lady Followed, followed to a river, And underneath her dancing feet He saw the grasses quiver.

For he thought he heard her singing, As the little ripples found him, And in the running waters He felt her arms around him.

We've been wondering if the Tampa Times's "Seminole girl" is a local product.

London has a snake hospital. Perhaps they can teach the adder to keep the books.—Dunell—Times.

Bank statements published throughout the state show a continual improvement in financial condition.

"Owners Are Asked To Keep All Dogs Shut Up 15 Days"—headline. That's a long time for even a male dog to remain quiet.

A woman was arrested in Kansas City for spanking her sixteen year old daughter. Some sixteen year old daughters sometimes need it.

Political observers seem agreed that Catts is running second in this gubernatorial race. Well, so long as he is second we do not care.

Wonder why Carlton wants to debate on the inefficiency and favoritism of the Road Department? If he knows anything, why doesn't he just get up and tell it?

Grand jury is finding dirt in Miami. Police Department over two years old. It is inevitable that once in a while grand juries will go to work, but then the statute of limitations is brought into play.

Other newspapers about the state are now busily engaged in conducting stray ballots. Wonder how the candidates for sheriff or the clerk's race would like to have The Sanford Herald conduct a little preliminary election?

In the straw vote conducted recently by the Jacksonville Journal, Foss Hathaway received 145 first choice votes, Sidney Catts 117, and Doyle Carlton 108, which may prove anything or nothing at all, depending on who your favorite candidate is.

It strikes us that the farmers of this district could realize from two to three times as much on their crops annually if they would organize some kind of iron bound marketing association. But this will probably never be done. Two or three floor seasons in a row have shown the necessity for it.—Sanford Herald. Even then it seems to be impossible to get farmers to organize, and after they have done so to stick together.—Eustis Lake Region.

The Political Outlook

With the conventions of the two major parties scarcely more than three months away, the national political situation grows in importance and interest. Their decks cleared for action, both the Democrats and Republicans are confronted with the prospects of red hot battles for the nomination. At this writing it appears that the Republicans are in for almost as much of a contest as the Democrats, although the prospects for an earlier agreement upon one candidate seem to be much better. The battle lines are more sharply drawn within the Republican ranks, but their problems involve men rather than issues.

There still seems to be a certain amount of talk of stampeding the Kansas City convention and drafting President Coolidge for another term. The possibility of the Chief Executive running again, however, has been dismissed by almost everyone except Mayor Thompson of Chicago and Charles D. Hilles, who persist in talking about the subject with as much alacrity as old women at a sewing circle. With Mr. Coolidge eliminated from serious consideration, the party heads are faced with the task of selecting a standard bearer from among a group composed of some of the outstanding men of the administration.

Herbert Hoover, of course, is the most formidable of all the avowed candidates. Apparently he is the President's own choice, but that possibility seems not to have had any effect upon several others, who cast longing eyes at the nomination. There are Governor Lowden and Vice President Dawes to be reckoned with, to say nothing of Senators Curtis, Watson and Willis. In addition there may be a half a dozen favorite sons placed before the convention. It seems certain that Mr. Hoover will enter the convention with a large following with possibly Governor Lowden running second and the others trailing. Too much trading, however, may prove the undoing of the Commerce Secretary, in which event the nomination is almost certain not to be tendered to either Lowden or Dawes or any of the others who have been prominently mentioned, but to some man who has taken no part in the controversy.

In the meantime the Democrats are having trouble aplenty. Despite the inclination of several of the candidates to forget the dry question, prohibition is destined to play a prominent part in the Houston convention. With the announcement of the candidacy of Senator Walsh, the campaign against Al Smith is given considerable impetus. The New York governor is an out and out wet, while Walsh is bone dry and added to this is the fact that he has the support of McAdoo, unrelenting foe of Smith. While Smith and Walsh forces fight it out, picturesque Jim Reed asks the party to forget everything else and concentrate upon a campaign to rid Washington of corruption.

It looks like a merry time is just ahead. In June when the two parties convene at Kansas City and Houston the weather will be hot and politics hotter. Meanwhile there is nothing for the poor citizen to do but to watch the smoke and hear the battle guns roar.

The Child's Eyes

A little boy who went to school in a town not many miles away was thought by his teachers to be very dull and stupid. He would not pay attention and was always talking or playing with the pupils who sat near him. It was often necessary for the teacher to punish him and sometimes he played hooky from school. His parents did not know what to do with him.

Then one day a specialist came to the school and called the children a talk on "ear, eyes, nose and throat" and told them how important it was to keep all these organs in perfect working order. He told them that lots of times people had trouble with their eyes, or their nose, and did not know it. He said that sometimes students were considered dull when in reality there was only some trouble with their eyes.

The little boy thought about what the specialist had said and when he went home he told his mother that he would like to have his eyes examined. He said that he had never liked to study because it always "worried him." His mother consented to the examination and it was found that the boy was quite far-sighted and should wear glasses. After that he rapidly improved in his studies and the teachers had no more trouble with him as a "bad boy."

The Tampa Times asks the question "Is little Tommy really a bad boy" or is it just that he has bad eyesight" and then goes on to state that the General Director of the Eyesight Conservation Council of America has said that many of the young offenders who are haled into juvenile courts are there primarily because of defective eyes. He further says:

"Bad eyesight leads to inattention in school, to unfair competition and to disrespect for authority. Bad eyes lead to truancy and the truant child is a criminal in embryo."

APPLEYARD'S CHANCES BROOKSVILLE JOURNAL

The announcement of Colonel Appleyard of Tallahassee as a candidate for the governorship of the state will do nothing more than make the affair a more complicated "mess," if we must be candid and say it. The colonel's appearance upon the scene is indeed a matter of very poor judgment upon his part to say the least. He must know that he will stand but little chance of ever becoming governor of the state. His candidacy will do nothing more than strengthen the chances of another, whom we do not believe should have the reins of government in his hands.

Colonel Appleyard is a highly respected and esteemed old Confederate veteran and he has many friends over the state and more especially those connected with the newspaper fraternity. His friends in the newspaper world feel that he has done wrong by announcing that he is to be before the people in the primary. They feel that he is working an injustice to himself and to the people of the state.

THE LIVE TOWN BOSTON SOUTH GOSMAN

Some communities have a reputation far and wide as "live towns." Something is always doing there. And some places are commonly regarded as sleepy and dull places and you almost never hear of anything going on there. What constitutes the difference? Even in the sleepy place, people have to do their daily work and they may work harder than they do in the live place. Their place of business may keep open longer towns around adding parks and playgrounds, they provide the same for their own people. If they find cities in their state having lectures and concerts and clubs, they try out the same thing themselves. Their idea is to give their people the advantages they can expect elsewhere so far as that is humanly possible.

Improvements are always going ahead there. Business men are or fixing up their old ones. Ugly things and eyesores are removed. The citizens are constantly improving their homes and whenever there is any shortage of dwellings, some one comes forward with the capital to build some more.

Something doing all the time. That is the kind of thing we want in Boston. We have had much of it in the past and if we can maintain this spirit of giving our people the advantages they can fairly expect in a community of this size, we shall be abundantly repaid for our effort.

JAIL FOR JURY TAMPERING TAMPA TRIBUNE

Tampering with the dignity of a high court is a serious business. The interesting experiment of the Sinclair defense in shadowing jurors has brought jail sentences upon Harry Sinclair, upon the hotel detective, William J. Burns, and upon a Mr. Day, of New York. Sinclair gets six months, which is additional to a previous three months sentence for contempt of the United States Senate.

Justice Suddens, in passing sentence, commented that these men had perpetrated a "disastrous thing—a breakdown in a criminal trial."

It is difficult to avoid a sentence for contempt of court, even with the resources and power of great wealth. We doubt if Messrs. Sinclair, Burns or Day serve their "time," but they will come, so unfortunately it is that they will realize the consequences of their conduct.

In these days of "fixing" the jury, it is not in practice, the jury is a sacred thing and a properly respected jury should be above manipulation or "fixing." The fact that the loose morals of some of them were exposed in a recent case were sufficient to cause the jurymen to be regarded as a "bad lot" and to cause the judge to disqualify them. The resulting sentence will have a general effect, even though the jurymen never saw the man whose attention they had turned.

Miserable Expedient TAMPA TRIBUNE

The Reverend Sidney J. Catts is hearing from those pulpit and platform men some attitude of respectability toward the advocate of a law violation in the State. His endorsement of "local option" by each county could decide in each whether it desired to track betting and their forms of gambling and law evasion to evok the indignation of those who are heretofore been held in more or less esteem.

It is a sorry spectacle that is presented by a candidate for high office in Florida playing to the church element and the gambling element at the same time, talking law enforcement, prohibition, rightness, religion, to one crowd and "local option," nullification, horse racing and legalized vice to another.

Are Floridians, by dividing their votes among hopeless candidates, going to run the risk of having that kind of Governor?

NEW INVENTIONS AIDS ENGINEERS IN EXPERIMENTS

Mechanism Spinning At High Rate Can Be Made To Appear To Turn Slowly, Permitting Study Of Strain On Parts

NEW YORK, Mar. 9 (INS)—Mechanism spinning at the rate of 2200 revolutions a minute can now be made to appear to turn as slowly as the wheel of an old cart.

In a recent test, a newspaper clipping was placed on one blade of a propeller. The propeller was set spinning at 2200 r. p. m. Yet to the observer, the blade appeared to be moving so slowly that the print was easily read.

If, not satisfied with merely watching, the engineer wants a photographic record, that can be had, too. A new movie camera takes 3,000 exposures a second.

The value of these inventions is that it is, at last possible to see what actually happens to shafts, fly wheels, valves, cams, springs, and other parts when they are under terrific strain. For instance, the actual amount of twist in a crank shaft can be observed, and an automobile engineer at last is able to see exactly what happens to a valve spring when a motor is pushed to its highest possible speed.

How It Works

As described in the latest issue of the Journal of the Society of Automotive Engineers, the invention that enables the human eye to follow the motion of high speed machinery is called the stroboscopia. It gets its effect by flashing light on a rotating shutter. This can be perfectly synchronized with the machine that is being observed, in which case the machine will seem to be standing still. Or it can be adjusted so that each glimpse the shutter affords will be just a fraction later in the cycle. That is, between one flash and the next, the propeller, or fan, or fly-wheel, will have made one complete revolution and a fraction more. To the eye, therefore, it will appear to be whirling slowly. There was an old device, the stroboscope, that did this imperfectly. It had to be used in the semi-darkness. The stroboscopia can be used in broad daylight, and it gives a wide angle of vision.

The new movie camera is equally interesting. Ordinary movies are shot and projected at the rate of sixteen a second. The familiar slow motion movies are shot at the rate of 100 exposures a second and projected at the standard speed of 16 a second. The new chronotone camera takes photographs at the rate of 3,000 a second.

Continuous Film

Obviously the film could not be started and stopped as often as that so the new camera entirely abandons the old method of using a shutter and of jerking the film along intermittently. In the chronotone camera, the film moves continuously. The separate views are obtained by matched lenses, 18 of them mounted on a wheel that whirls between the open shutter and the film. The individual exposures are actually longer than on the ordinary slow motion camera, because the new camera does not lose the time the old one requires for closing the shutter.

The principal value of the new camera is for study of high speed machinery, but it has other uses as well. For example, films of pigeons rising from the ground in flight discovered for the first time that the outer half of the wing flexes with a graceful undulation like a dancer waving a Spanish shawl. To the unaided eye, and even with all previous cameras, the outer half of the wing of a pigeon in flight seemed rigid.

Forestry Students At California Have Fine Arrangement

BERKELEY, Cal., Mar. 9 (INS)—Students at University of California can "work" in any forest in Western North America without moving out of Berkeley.

This happy arrangement for forestry students in particular has been worked out under the direction of Professor F. S. Baker.

Students grow the "forests" right in the laboratories, although instead of taking a couple of hundred years, two acres of timber can be grown in a few minutes. Only a 100 foot tree is reproduced at just five inches tall.

Professor Baker has gathered data from the virgin forest regions of the west showing how many trees of different sizes are found typically on an acre. In some cases maps are available showing just how the trees are arranged on the ground.

Each student has about two acres of forest to work with, two acres being about 11 inches square. After the forests are "grown" they are "cut over" according to forestry methods and the students determine how many thousand board feet are removed. They can determine by measurements how much timber there will be in 50 years on their acreage.

This Mark Stands for Bread Goodness

You know that every business man whose aim is to give the public honest, meaningful, of course, selling things that are reliable and give full value—is a very factor in building a good for his community.

You know that a country's prosperity depends upon the ability of its business interests to produce goods and services. The thing that delights a member of Quality Bakers of America is our knowledge that there are 90 of us faithfully serving 90 communities that cover a very large area in the States, which represents a large percentage of the population. We are giving—NOT ASKING—25,000,000 people to get Quality Products in the year.

Most of these people, we want to say, think so much of the Quality Bakers of America that they establish fixed principles in their respective communities, and to give them products of Character and that they are spreading wherever they travel. The name QUALITY BAKERS OF AMERICA means what it says—and to look for the mark on the wrappers of the bread.

Without doubt, there will be an extension of the public face that Quality Bakers of America have, so that all over the country will be represented that there will be a group of members of the Quality Bakers of America doing their building good reputation and communities.

The keynote of the Quality Bakers of America is quality attained, individually and collectively, is furnished through the Bureau of our organization, retains regularly more people working every day year to perfect our service.

These specialists and their cities are all highly trained, very efficient. They keep up with us all the time with conditions that are practical and full. They operate without fail. Their chief objective is every one of our plants on plain of efficiency and to maintain high standards of on a uniform basis.

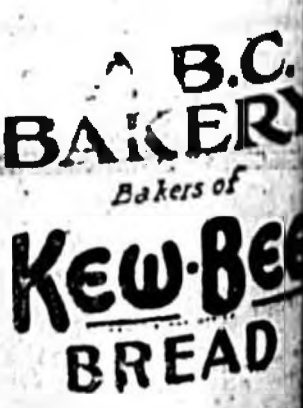

QUALITY always comes from their considerations and actions.

While all other branches of business are subsidized one big and vital thing—Quality—nevertheless, the many other features that make us vital and we get value from the Bureau in standing them, too.

You folks must appreciate the advantages that we, as a member of Quality Bakers of America, getting from this Central Bureau.

We could not afford to relegate one of our specialists and him on our payroll regularly alone employ 60 people in those to those we now employ—us give you the service you know you like. For your own satisfaction in your own patronage of our Quality products—for which we thank you.

We are not in the least concerned with the success of other goods in our territory, because we busy attending to our own business which is making definite satisfactory progress.

markable Play
Be Staged Soon
London Theater
NDON, March 9.—(INS)— of the most extraordinary ever to be produced on the stage will have its premiere March 27 when "Is It a Fortune" is put on at the New Theater.
The producer of the play, Miss Kington, proclaims that this is a "psychic" one, and it was dictated by the spirit of Wilde only a few months ago.
Kingston, who for twenty-years has been interested in the research, knew Wilde from since he was a child of twelve, heard reports that Wilde's had dictated the play to a medium, and immediately set out the spiritualist in order
she might investigate the authenticity of the claim.
Satisfied myself that the writing of the play was automatic,"
Kingston said in an interview.
Further prove this, I asked the several questions, and the answers were written at once with amazing rapidity. I asked the name of the play should be instantly the pencil wrote,
"Is It a Fortune?"
The play is similar to Wilde's
"The Importance of Being Earnest."
It concerns the period he lived in, so naturally it is a trifle fashioned.
The play is being produced in aid of a benevolent society.

Latin America Will Have
Dean Of Diplomatic Corps
If Sir Esme Howard Quits

TOKYO, Mar. 9.—(INS)—
The British ambassador to Japan, Sir Esme Howard, has been destined for a new distinction, that of providing the dean of the diplomatic corps in Washington, before the year is out.
Cable dispatches from London have revived the report current here from time to time in recent months of the prospective early retirement of Sir Esme Howard as British Ambassador to the United States. Heretofore these reports have suggested the transfer of Sir Esme to one of Britain's major diplomatic assignments in Europe, but the most recent hint is that he is to return to private life when he leaves
Washington.
On September 15, Sir Esme will be 65 years of age, the established age for retirement in the British diplomatic service. With such a brief interval until he would be eligible for retirement it is not within the realm of probability that he would be given a new assignment.
In Poor Health
Ambassador Howard has not enjoyed the best of health the last year, although at the present time he appears to be in excellent physical condition, capable of actively carrying on for something to come. It will be recalled, however that he was ill for several weeks last summer while at the summer embassy on the Massachusetts North Shore.
Sir Esme became dean of the diplomatic corps last summer, by virtue of the seniority of his tenure here as major diplomat. He succeeded to the ranking position through the retirement of Baron de Cartier, the former Belgian ambassador.
But for the fact that he re-

PROPHETS SAY HATHAWAY HAS LEAD IN RACE

 would be a violation of the State Constitution, has thrown the proverbial monkey wrench into the Democratic machine. This case is now before the State Supreme Court and is expected to be decided momentarily.

An unfavorable opinion from the Supreme Court will automatically eliminate with Taylor, W. A. MacKenzie, a member of the 1927 House of Representatives.

Taylor, at present, is under a handicap of suspected ineffectuality and, according to capital politicians, will not rank better than fourth in the race unless a speedy decision in his favor is handed down. Taylor is said to be popular with all factions in the state and will prove a contender "in the running," if declared eligible as a candidate.

In event Taylor and MacKenzie are eliminated by a court decision that they are ineligible, it was said by his friends here, James M. Carson, Miami Attorney, will toss his hat into the ring. Catts is making a strong stump appeal on a platform recommending the use of so-called "obscene and filthy books" in the psychology and sociology classes of the Florida State College for women, seeking abandonment of Everglades Drainage, repeal of all recent state game and fish laws, and abolition of the Department of Game and Fish and the Shell Fish Commission, economy in every state department, and local option on the operation of race tracks.

Hathaway is basing his campaign principally upon his record as "Florida's greatest road builder" and pledges his efforts towards completion of a state road system and economy in government, according to capital habitues. Taylor is seeking a "safe and sane administration," and the adoption in Florida of a workman's compensation act. Applegate is making a strong appeal to labor, Hearcom, who is president of the Pompano Horse Club, has a strong appeal towards farmers, it was said.

Nathan Mayo, according to recent indications, has the edge on Sparkman for Commissioner of Agriculture. Ernest Amos was said to be leading over Stewart and Martin in the three-cornered race for State Comptroller and A. S. Wells leads over Phillips in the race for State Railroad Commissioner. J. O. Cassidy is said to have the lead over Mrs. M. Mann for the other membership on the railroad commission.

Governor, Martin, through his intensive stump speaking campaign in every county in the state, has given him the benefit of a Senator Tompkins in the race for Senatorship, according to capital opinion.

Secretary of State H. C. Crawford, Attorney General Fred H. Davis, State Superintendent of Public Instruction W. S. Gray, then, State Chemist R. E. B. Supreme Court Justice L. W. W. Strum and Attorney General and State Treasurer, F. C. Loring have no opposition and the consensus of opinion was to the effect that they would have none.

HOOVER TO LET FRIENDS MAKE HIS CAMPAIGN

 Hoover, has staked his all in the Indiana primary, insofar as Indiana's 33 delegates are concerned. The Indiana law provides that the winner gets all the votes in the convention, so there will be no split delegation.

The Lowden managers, who at first were inclined to go into the state if Hoover entered, altered their plans at the last moment and decided to stay out, hoping to fall heir to the Hoosier bloc after the tallying begins at Kansas City. The Lowden position is predicted upon the assumption that Watson will emerge a winner in Indiana and that the known friendliness of Watson with vice president Dawes and Lowden himself will operate to throw the 33 votes to Lowden after the native son stage has been passed.

This is in keeping with the general Lowden policy of picking up second choice preferences wherever possible, and accounts for the fact that Lowden will nowhere step on any native son toes. He has now kept out of Ohio, Indiana, and will stay out of Kansas and Nebraska.

The task of defeat in the Senate of Watson in his own state is considered by the practical politicians of Washington as an even more difficult one than that of defeating Will in Ohio. In both states the Senators control the state organizations. However, there is admitted disaffection for Will in the larger cities of Ohio, while in such weakness has not manifested itself in Indiana against Watson. In the last Republican primary in which the Hoosier veteran participated he carried 94 out of the 102 counties in the state, even though he emerged with only a narrow victory in the ensuing November election.

 The passenger train struck the car with such force that it crushed it some distance ahead of a complete wreck. The occupants were thrown aside by the truck, which in a long residential section.

According to reports submitted to local railroad authorities, the two men disregarded the flag man's warning in attempting to cross. After the switch train pulled a number of freight cars had passed the crossing, the flag man, it was said, was warning the approaching car to stop. The railroad expressed the belief that the truck driver mistook the warning to be for the switch engine and thinking he could cross before it returned started the machine.

The train operator, the passenger train reported to head quarters, did not know the truck and that the train speed had been reduced in keeping with regulations of the road.

Shipping Firms Of Sanford In Favor Of Esch Appointment

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce and local shipping organizations have joined other Florida cities in addressing a request to Senators Esch and Clegg, at Park Traummell asking the Florida members in the upper branch of Congress to vote for confirmation of John Esch Jr. of Wisconsin as a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

This was made public today following an exchange of telegrams between Sanford organizations and the Florida senators. Florida's anxiety to have Esch remain a member of the commission is prompted, it is declared, by the favors which he is said to have shown shippers of this state in various rate cases. The appointment is declared to have aroused factionalism in the Senate and a battle is in prospect over the confirmation.

On Wednesday the Chamber of Commerce wired the Florida senators as follows: "Our growers and shippers of fruits and vegetables inform us that it is very essential to the best interests of Florida that Commissioner Esch be retained a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Our information is that he has been in sympathy with southern agricultural interests giving his support to petitions for freight rate adjustment. Your support of his reappointment will be appreciated."

Similar messages were sent by the American Fruit Growers, Florida Vegetable Cofaction, Sanford-Orlando Truck Growers, Chase & Company, F. P. Dutton and other shipping firms. Senator Esch replied as follows:

"I have known Commissioner Esch many years and hold him in high regard. Unless further information changes my views I expect to vote in favor of confirming the President's nomination of him."

Stokes Purchases 1st Street Market From W. F. Bailey

C. W. Stokes, well known in Sanford business circles, has acquired the meat market formerly operated by Bailey's Cash Store and will operate it as Stoke's Market.

Since selling Fota the meat market and grocery store to W. F. Bailey two years ago, Mr. Stokes has been connected with Wilson and Company, wholesale meat company with headquarters at Jacksonville. His territory has included practically all of the state.

Mr. Stokes has had a long experience in the meat business and for several years operated one of the leading markets of Sanford. In taking possession of the local place, he announces that a full line of choice meats will be carried in stock at all times.

The place has undergone renovations. It has been redecorated and repaired to present one of the most attractive business places in the city.

Snow Storm Halts Endurance Flights

DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 9.—(GNS)—Wind-driven snow swirling over Lake St. Clair this morning forced Eddie Stinson and his copilot George Haldeman to abandon their attempt to beat the world's endurance record for airplanes after being in the air 18 1/2 hours.

Stinson and Haldeman made a safe, if hazardous, landing at 2:58 A. M. Stinson said he would try again for the record but "not today." He and Haldeman gulped down eagerly the first hot food they had had since early yesterday morning. Then they went to bed.

HOOPER LEARNS POLITICAL TRICKS EXPERTS BELIEVE

Washington Observers Think Hoover Has Learned The Tricks Which Will Enable Him To Win The White House In '32

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—For a good many years now Hoover has been the custom of the political railroads in Washington to use at the political proclivities of Herbert Hoover.

As a mining engineer, as a business engineer, as an efficiency expert as an astute economist, Hoover always has been willing to grant Hoover's abilities, but as a politician—no.

Had Hoover been possessed of any political sense, they said, he might have been elected to the presidency in 1920. His popularity at that time, immediately after the war when the country was in the throes of economic and business reconstruction, was sufficiently great that he received votes in both Republican and Democratic primaries and conventions—an almost unprecedented in contemporary politics.

Lately, the practical politicians who infest Washington have been taking a re-inventory of Hoover, and they have discovered that the quiet-mannered man who in 1920 didn't know what he was doing in the Cabinets of two presidents during the last seven years for nothing, nor has he had intimate day-to-day contacts with members of Congress, job-hunters and favor-seekers without acquiring that sixth sense of caution that, combined with an air of seeming frankness, is part of every politician's stock in trade.

Secretary of Commerce. He asked four specific and pointed questions: 1. Did Mr. Hoover favor incorporating a bone-dry plank in the next Republican platform? 2. What was his attitude toward enforcement and what would be his attitude in event of his election?

3. Did he favor repealing the 18th amendment? 4. Did he favor repeal of the 18th amendment or the Volstead law?

Hoover's Answers
The anti-Hoover people rubbed their hands in anticipation of the mental labors Mr. Hoover would have to go through meeting that one!

Yet Mr. Hoover made a reply that accomplished the seeming miracle of satisfying both the wets and drys—a truly magical performance. He said he did not favor the repeal of the 18th amendment and he was in favor of enforcement of all laws. Prohibition, he said, was a "great experiment, noble and far-reaching in purpose" and it "should be worked out constructively."

The drys liked it because he spoke of the 18th amendment and law enforcement; the wets saw a ray of hope in that phrase "it should be worked out constructively," in his failure to mention or endorse the Volstead Act by name.

The flood control bill was even more enlightening. Mr. Hoover was "invited" before a Senate committee to express his views as an expert on the controversial aspects of the flood control problem.

It is said that because of contraction, automobiles rattle most in cold weather. How different with men; they rattle most when they're hot. —Orlando Reporter-Star.

Real Sheik Husband Of Famous La Belle Fatima Faces Death In Chicago

CHICAGO, Mar. 9.—(INS)—All Ben Deb, who was a sheik and a real one—long before the American movies and slang popularized the Arab, is dying here.

From the hot sands of the Algerian deserts, All Ben Deb came to this country in 1861 and for many years was a featured rider with Barham and Bailey's circus and later Ringling Brothers' circus. He amazed audiences by his fiery escapades of horsemanship heretofore never seen in America. He was the "Lindbergh of the Sawdust Circle."

At the height of his career the sheik married La Belle Fatima, a circus dancer of fame. The couple had one son who served valiantly in the World War, receiving several citations for bravery, who afterwards died in America as the result of injuries and illness received in the battles.

Stuck To Saddle
All Ben Deb stuck to his saddle throughout the advancing years. Veteran circus men shook their heads and urged the white bearded Algerian to forsake the tanbark laurers for a more easy going existence. But All Ben Deb refused.

At an age when many men enjoyed an occasional nine-hole game of golf, All Ben Deb mounted his wild horse and tore around the circus tent with all the vigor of youth. He was then 60 years old. La Belle Fatima, whose limbs had long since lost their agility, accompanied him to the circus tents every night. The old sheik once confided to an acrobat that without La Belle Fatima he could never carry on. Then came a damp fall in 1913 with pneumonia weather. La Belle Fatima fell ill and died before the Christmas holidays.

Spring came and All Ben Deb reported for duty at the circus. Something was gone from his fiery makeup. Managers told him he had better quit the game but All Ben Deb was adamant.

IOWA IS PLANNING HUNDRED MILLION GOOD ROADS BILL

Special Session Of Legislature Will Convene Monday To Consider Proposal For Flotation Of Big Bond Issue

By International News Service—DES MOINES, Ia.—Iowa, shunned by motor tourists because of "bad" roads at last has hopes of being pulled out of the muck.

To that end, an extraordinary session of the state general assembly has been called by Governor John Hammill to convene in Des Moines March 5. A working majority of the legislators have pledged the governor they will vote for a bill submitting a $100,000,000 bond issue to a referendum vote at the general election in November.

Money for construction and maintenance of permanent roads in Iowa is derived from the combined sources of a three-cent gasoline tax, motor vehicle license fees, federal aid, and a primary road fund, which is part of the State levy. More than $16,000,000 is thus raised and expended annually.

At the last regular session of the assembly last winter the state road control bill was passed. The highway commission was increased from three to six members and given complete control over the designation and improvement of paved roads.

Then ensued a scramble among the various counties to pass bond issues. The total began to mount and it appeared that it would shortly exceed the $100,000,000 bond issue which has been a burning question in the state for several years.

Thus, Governor Hammill, who went into office in 1925, against a state-wide bond issue, declaring for a "pay-as-you-go" land sales policy, was won over to call the special session on that question which might be submitted next fall.

Woman's Building At San Quentin Pen Is Recently Opened

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Mar. 9.—(INS)—Standing as a monument to prison progress, the newly-constructed women's building at San Quentin state penitentiary, has been opened for occupancy.

As far removed from the squalid character of the traditionally accepted dungeon as the medieval ox-cart is from the airplane, the new quarters for female prisoners embraces within its walls the most modern of conveniences.

It is equipped with fine executive offices, spacious recreational and vocational rooms, large white dining room, up-to-date kitchen and laundry, rows of apple-green doors, opening up on cells which are like chambers in a girls' boarding school, an infirmary, equipped with five white beds, a diet kitchen, a magnificent bath and shower rooms.

And in a corner of the spotless infirmary, there is a little white crib in readiness for such emergencies as arise more or less frequently in the experience of a prison matron.

"We haven't much use for that crib now," the San Quentin matron says. "But sooner or later we'll get a case entering which will be a maternity case, and a baby will be born within these walls."

Dickson-Ives Company Celebrates 30th Anniversary Of Partnership

ORLANDO, Fla., March 9.—Celebrating the 30th anniversary of the partnership between H. I. Dickson and Sidney Ives, the Dickson-Ives company in Orlando begins its anniversary Friday, March 9. The event continues through Saturday, March 17.

Record values will be offered shoppers of Central Florida during this event, say store officials. A number of interesting features are planned for this celebration.

Dedicating the anniversary to the Citrus Industry, the yellow and green theme will be carried out throughout store windows, interior displays and in the various departments of the great four-story building at Orange and Central in Orlando.

Displays of fruit will be made and each afternoon an "Orange Tea" will be served. These orange teas will be pure orange juice, the fruit being supplied by various fruit marketing agencies of Central Florida.

Boston Chinaman Claims To Be The Oldest In America

BOSTON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—Wong Duck, of Oxford Place, Boston's Chinatown, is the oldest Chinaman in the eastern section of the United States.

He is 95 years of age and is the only Chinaman in New England to wear a nightgown. Every other of the native Chinese have cut off their long queues as civilization overtook the customs of the Orient.

Automobile Prime Necessity In Crime Statistics Indicate

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Mar. 9.—(INS)—That the automobile is a prime necessity in a life of crime was revealed in an examination of prison records here today.

More than 85 per cent of the 4,000 inmates of San Quentin used automobiles to assist them in committing the offenses for which they are imprisoned, "historians" on file here show.

Highwaymen head the list. Almost without exception they used automobiles for the hold-up and quick getaway.

Check passers find an automobile essential to their "profession." The open highway beckons to all "paper hangers" after cleaning up a town.

Burglary records show that in almost every case the loot was recovered in automobiles.

Few prisoners were captured on trains or used them as a means of escape. Some arrests occurred on debarcation from steamers. But records show invariably the automobile was turned to as a means of escape.

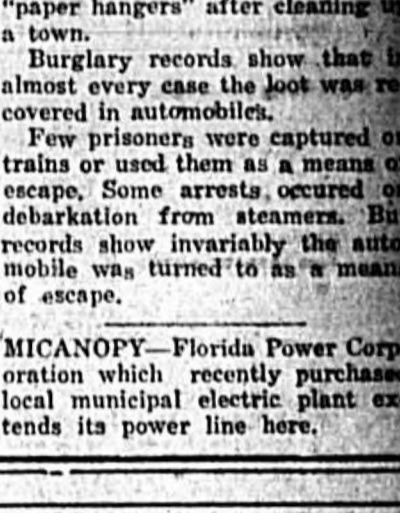

MICANOPY—Florida Power Corporation which recently purchased local municipal electric plant extends its power line here.

Tavares will be completed within 60 days.

AUTO IS CAUSING CANCER INCREASE SURGEON THINKS

Inhalation of Gas Fumes is Causing Many Deaths From Disease of The Lungs Says Great English Doctor

LONDON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—What the increasing use of the automobile is probably one of the contributory causes of the large increase in cancer mortality during recent years is the belief of Sir William Arbuthnot Lane, the distinguished English surgeon.

Ten per cent. of those who die from cancer die from cancer of the lungs, according to Sir William, who believes that the inhalation of gasoline, tar and other fumes from the roads of today make it all the more important that precautions should be taken to guard bodily health.

"According to figures which have been supplied to me from Vienna," Sir Arbuthnot told International News Service, "the percentage of cancer of lung to all cancer cases dealt with in the post-mortem examinations during 1923 was 10.30, against .54 in the year 1895.

"These same figures show that cancer mortality in several large towns in America has doubled during the past ten years.

"It is obvious that the conditions are coincident with the appearance of the automobile and the use of tar and other constituents in the roads, and I believe we are faced with a new element which makes it all the more important that we keep our bodies in perfect health.

"I am convinced that cancer is a disease of civilization as we know it, and its comparative absence among the natives of certain parts of India, for instance, is due to their more natural form of living.

"Proper bodily sanitation is essential, and that can only be achieved by natural modes of living. Observation over a long period made by medical men in the Punjab, for instance, show that cancer there is rare, whereas, when natives acquire the habits and foods of the white man their incidence of cancer is equal to ours."

Pittsburgh Couple wins Marathon Dancing Crown After Lasting 61 Hours

PITTSBURGH, Mar. 9.—(INS)—After marathon dancing proved successful in middle western and southern states, Pittsburgh, tried it out and liked it. And Pittsburgh liked it so well, it stuck its chest out and claimed the world's champion marathon dancing team, and hurled a defy to the world at large.

For Albert Bonach, 22, and Marianne Jaque, 19, youthful specimens of Pittsburgh's coming generation danced 61 hours and fifty-five minutes to lay claim to the title. It took that long for them to put an end to the perpetual shuffle, the all day drag, the slow motion marathon of their nearest competitors.

The record broken, a mere 52 hours and 46 minutes, was passed many hours before their opponents were willing to admit defeat. Even then Tony Neimair, partner of Tony Phillips, was unwilling to concede the prize.

Tony was still strong—strongest of all she said—when Tony collapsed. Tony took a 12-minute rest to which he was entitled—they were given 15 minutes in every six hours—and couldn't come back. Tony cried just a bit.

They were playing that song of suspicion, "Is She My Girl Friend" when the jig was up. A dozen friends of Albert and Marianne who had wagered a pretty penny closed in on them with their genuine thanks.

It was just too bad for Tony. She could have danced on and on. In fact she was moving her soft-slipped feet and shaking a mean shoulder when Tony, his neck sore and his back ailing, called it a dance. And nobody stepped up to ask, "May I have the next dance?"

The winning team shuffled slowly but monotonously for the last five hours. The diminutive Marianne's head buried against the tired but willing bosom of Albert.

Outside the dance hall thousands crowded away their lunch hour, awaiting the news. The dance ended shortly before one o'clock. It looked like Armistice Day. Spectators had been banned and the boys and girls were hungry for the news.

Albert had the edge in moral support. His mother sat in a ring-side seat, an orange in one hand and a newspaper in another. She passed the paper to her son and while he and Marianne shuffled along they saw their printed picture and read how they were establishing history.

"Albert almost ran to Cleveland once," Mrs. Bonach, rightfully proud of her son, confided. "He's a great athlete—Oh no, Marianne's not his best girl!—Albert works here in the dance hall—at the soda counter. Marianne's a nurse maid. Albert and Marianne are $100 richer for their feat, or should it be feet? For their approximate 62 hours of labor, they received about $1.60 an hour.

There wasn't supposed to be a second prize, but Mill Crandall, the owner of the dance hall, was moved by the efforts of Tony and Tony, and he gave them each $50.

Woman Sues Town For Snow Damage

LONDON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—Charging that a heavy fall of snow cost her a considerable sum of money because her guests were forced to extend their visit four days, Lady Peel, wife of Viscount Peel, First Commissioner of Works in the present Government, has entered an extraordinary claim with the Peterfield Rural District Council.

Lady Peel asks for approximately $35 for expenses incurred in employing men to clear the snow from the roads in the neighborhood of her home, and demands that the Council pay for the costs of cars to take her guests away, as well as the additional expense incurred in entertaining them during the four days they were snowbound.

The Chairman of the Council, C. W. Seward, said the snowstorm was clearly "an Act of God" and advised the Council to take no responsibility for it. The Council, in an unanimous agreement, and voted to ignore Lady Peel's claim.

A Two Dollar Dinner For Six

Cream of Pea Soup * Salmon Croquettes Buttered Beets
Baked Potatoes Dinner Roll Butter
Lettuce Salad
Peach Meringues
Demi-tasse

Pea Soup: One can peas costs 15 cents, one pint milk 8 cents. Drain peas from liquor, add two teaspoons sugar, one pint cold water, simmer twenty minutes. Rub through sieve, reheat, thicken with two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons flour cooked together. Scald one pint milk with one slice onion, remove onion, add milk to pea mixture and season.
Salmon Croquettes: A pound can salmon costs 45 cents, one egg 4 cents. Add a cup white sauce, seasoned with salt, cayenne and one teaspoon lemon juice to flaked salmon. Spread on plate to cool. Shape, dip in crumbs, egg, and crumbs again. Fry in deep fat, drain.
Sufficient potatoes cost 6 cents, one can herbs 25 cents, lettuce 10 cents, sufficient salad dressing 6 cents, rolls 10 cents, butter 6 cents, sufficient coffee 6 cents.
Peach Meringues: Can peaches 25 cents, sponge cake 15 cents, egg 4 cents. Cut stale sponge cake in rounds with cookie-cutter. Moisten with peach syrup. Put half peach, cut side up, on each cake. Top with meringue, using three tablespoons confectioner's sugar to one egg white. Bake slowly until meringue is done. This leaves 15 cents margin for minor ingredients.

Thinks Women Will Dress More Simply

LONDON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—In another ten years, women will dress as simply as men.

That is the opinion of H. B. Tappie, a leading couturier of New York, who is at present paying a visit to London's fashion salons.

In an interview he declared, "Don't believe what you hear about longer skirts, and more femininity. Woman's remnant of femininity is expressed by her craze for 'glamorous jewelry'."
Tappie who is evidently a convinced admirer of early Victorian fashions, then added, "The revolution

ENGLAND TRIES TO PICK DONOR OF GREAT GIFT

LONDON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—Nation-wide speculation regarding the identity of the mysterious donor has resulted from the announcement that the British Government has been presented with $2,500,000, to be held in trust for a number of years and eventually applied to the reduction of the National Debt.

Cash and securities to this amount have been handed to Baring Brothers, the well-known and old established banking house who will act as trustees. The heads of this bank, one or two members of the Government, and the lawyers who have acted as intermediaries are the only persons in the know.

Close Secret
His identity and the conditions under which the trust will be administered are a closely guarded secret which no amount of questioning will induce Lord Revelstoke, chairman of the bank, to reveal.

In endeavoring to locate a man wealthy enough to make such a gift, the newspapers have narrowed the search down to fewer than a dozen names, which include Lord Revelstoke himself, Lord Howard de Walden, Bernhard Baron, the brothers Solly and Jack Joel, Lord Bearsted, the Marquis of Bute, Lord Vestay, Earl Cowdroy, Lord Dewar, and Lord Derby, with Lord Revelstoke as perhaps the best bet.

London's richest ground landlord Lord Howard de Walden is worth many millions. The value of his property can be judged from the fact that he recently sold a small portion of it for $20,000,000. He is declared to be the kind of patriotic citizen who would be likely to make this form of gift.

PEACE DRIVE CONTINUES

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—(INS)—The drive of peace organizations against naval preparedness is continuing unabated throughout the country despite the action of the House naval affairs committee in slashing the Wilbur $740,000,000 ship building program to $274,000,000.

Other Great Fortunes

The Marquis of Bute is probably one of the three richest men in the country, with a reputed annual income of $1,000,000 a year. He possesses property in the seaport city of Cardiff worth $35,000,000 alone.

One of the nation's wealthiest men, whose name is famous for his philanthropic donations, is Bernhard Baron, the tobacco multi-millionaire. In recent years he has contributed to charities something like $7,000,000.

The Joel brothers are both believed to be worth more than $100,000,000, and the riches of the eighty five year old Lord Ashton, who amassed a great fortune out of linoleum, are on the same scale.

Lord Derby is perhaps the most famous of English multi-millionaires, his fortune being in the neighborhood of $30,000,000.
