National Vote

Thus there was ammunition for partisan claims from each major party, but puzzling inconsistencies for anyone trying to discover any trend.

At the White House, presidential press secretary Charles G. Ross first declined comment on the election results, but gave an emphatic "no" when asked if the White House was "unhappy" about them.

DETROIT, Nov. 5—(AP)—Eugene I. Van Antwerp, 58-year-old Detroit city councilman, won his first bid for mayor today by a margin of more than 20,000 votes, defeating Mayor Edward J. Jeffries who held the office for four straight two-year terms. Jeffries, 47, met defeat in the city's non-partisan election although, for the first time in four campaigns, he had the support of the CIO unions in Detroit. The Michigan CIO council and the big CIO United Auto Workers Union threw their weight to Jeffries after the mayor insisted, during the continuing strike of CIO garage mechanics, on maintaining a policy of police neutrality in the strife-ridden dispute. In three previous elections the CIO has opposed Jeffries.

On the other hand, all AFL unions except the teamsters supported Van Antwerp this year, after previously backing the mayor. With 1,125 of the city's 1,211 precincts counted, Van Antwerp's vote stood at 207,790 to 184,996 for Jeffries.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5—(AP)—Votes elected a Republican congressman in the fourth Ohio district and gave top-heavy support to a $300,000,000 war veterans bonus in incomplete returns from yesterday's election which brought out heavy balloting despite scattered showers.

Joseph B. Quatman of Lima, a Democrat conceded victory to Republican William M. McColloch of Piqua in the northwestern Ohio race, after an early see-saw battle. The bonus proposal, in the form of an amendment to the state Constitution, gained a 3-to-1 advantage on the basis of totals from nearly half of Ohio's 9,386 polling places.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 5—(AP)—The largest majority ever recorded a mayoral candidate here today swept Mayor Thomas A. Burke, 49-year-old Democrat, back into office.

Shattering the old record of 66,909, Burke polled 164,849 votes to 83,533 for Eliot Mas, former city safety director, board of elections returns from 994 of 1,016 voting places showed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5—(AP)—San Francisco voters yesterday chose Superior Judge Elmer E. Robinson as their new mayor, approved $87,050,000 in city improvement bonds and overwhelmingly authorized continued operation of the hill-climbing cable cars.

Robinson defeated fourth-term Congressman Frank R. Havener and City Supervisor Chester R. MacPhee in the non-partisan mayoralty election. Funds from the bond issues—largest ever voted here—will finance efforts to modernize the city's mass transportation system, provide downtown parking space, repair streets and increase the water system.

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 5—(AP)—Mayor Earl J. Glade broke a precedent of 35 years standing yesterday when he was re-elected to office by a majority of more than 6,000 votes over former Mayor A. B. Jenkins, whom he defeated for the office four years ago.

No other mayor since the commission form of government was established in 1912 had been re-elected. Glade piled up 22,132 votes to 15,935 for Jenkins, famous automobile racing driver, on a basis of unofficial returns from 173 of the city's 184 districts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5—(AP)—A $400,000,000 bonus for World War II veterans and propositions to expand the state public housing program at a cost of $135,000,000 won the sweeping approval of New York state voters yesterday in an off-year election.

The bonus proposal, the largest overall sum ever voted by a state as a reward to its servicemen, swept through by a margin of nearly three to one even though the payments will mean a 20 per cent boost in the state income tax and an additional one-cent levy on each package of cigarettes.

New York City shelved its 11-year-old proportional representation method of electing city councilmen, voting nearly two to one to end its tenure in favor of a system of electing one councilman from each of the metropolis' 25 state senate districts. Two previous repeal attempts had failed.

PR, supported by the minority parties and several conservative civic organizations, was vigorously fought by both Republicans and Democrats largely on their contention that it had enabled Communists to obtain a foothold in the city government. The present city council includes two Communists.

Some 1,600,000 ex-GI's will be eligible for the bonus and its payments of $50 to $250 to those who saw service between Dec. 7, 1941, and Sept. 2, 1945.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 5 (AP)—A non-partisan display of unanimity among New Jersey voters gave the state a new constitution today to replace its 103-year-old charter.

Unofficial returns from all 184 of the state's 3,618 districts in yesterday's election gave a whopping 453,340 majority for adoption of the new, streamlined constitution.

The vote was: Yes—635,073. No—181,724. Terming it "an historic achievement," Governor Alfred E. Driscoll, who instituted the movement for the new charter, said the vote ended "a 75-year search for a modern constitution." The present charter was adopted in 1844, and amended only four times.

Hudson county, Democratic stronghold of former Mayor Frank Hague, paced the affirmative vote with a thumping 136,817 plurality. In 1944 Hague successfully opposed adoption of a proposed charter which had been drawn by the Republican-controlled legislature.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5—(AP)—The Republican party's 63-year control of Philadelphia, site of the Steel Production

"Some officials," said the review, "have insisted that they would close down openhearth blast furnaces they would submit to a 'scrap' market. It will take at least a few weeks to determine if the withdrawal of consumers from the market, or the offering of prices from $3 to $4 below recent highs, will have any lasting effect on scrap price trends."

Turning to steel consumers, the publication said there is "unmistakable evidence" that steel users consider the steel shortage now more serious than at any time since the war.

"The gray market is flourishing to such an extent this week that some scales of cold-rolled 1948 Republican and Democratic conventions, remained intact today with the re-election of Mayor Bernard Samuel.

In other mayoralty contests six smaller Pennsylvania cities returned to the Democratic fold and one switched to Republican. Changing to Democratic administrations were Allentown, Titusville, Reading, Erie, Dubois, and Lebanon. Of those all formerly were Republican except Reading which had been Socialist. Wilkes-Barre was the lone Pennsylvania city turning Republican.

Samuel, who has spent 27 of his 67 years in GOP service as a committeeman, member of city council and mayor, won over Democrat Richardson Dilworth, 49-year-old Marine Corps veteran of two world wars who had conducted a sharply-worded street corner campaign.

BOSTON, Nov. 5, (AP)—Republicans wrested control of two New England cities long held by the Democrats yesterday, but political pulse-feelers found little to gauge voters' thinking beyond their home towns.

While more than two-score Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Connecticut cities voted—the municipal elections for the most part were decided on local issues.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 5, (AP)—Indiana elected a Republican congressman yesterday to succeed a Republican who died in office, but the Democrats gained ground by electing mayor in most of the state's biggest cities.

Ralph Harvey, New Castle farmer and a state representative, easily defeated his Democratic opponent, Frank A. Hanley, Muncie automobile dealer, in the special congress election in the tenth district. Harvey will succeed Raymond S. Springer, Republican who died several months ago.

material have been made at $300 a ton—a new high and at least $50 a ton higher than was the case a few months ago. These prices are in sharp contrast to bonafide steel mill quotations which range between $80 to $85 a net ton delivered for the same type of material.

Reports from some quarters that steel inventories are far above normal are certainly not borne out by gray market activity and by the sharp expansion in the volume of conversion deals, some of which cost the ultimate consumer premiums of $100 or more a ton.

THE TWIN-PACK REPORTER
* Mrs. G. V. Smith, pictured above with her mother, Mrs. Pauline Milligan, was recently interviewed by Gabriel Benzur, Southern Twin-Pack Bread's traveling reporter. Mrs. Smith met her husband, now a member of the Sanford Police Force, when he was stationed in Florida during the war. She gladly made the statement quoted above without pay because she sincerely believes in the superiority of Southern Twin-Pack Bread.

Twin-Pack's flavor is better

"The nice thing about Southern Twin-Pack Bread is that you can use only half a loaf and the rest stays fresh. What's more, I find that the flavor is better. Southern Twin-Pack is our family's favorite bread."

* Mrs. G. V. Smith, Sanford, Fla.

In sunny Sanford, as in hundreds of other communities all over the South, mothers and daughters like Mrs. Milligan and Mrs. Smith prefer Southern Twin-Pack Bread because it has exclusive thrift and convenience features that no other bread can offer. For example, no other bread has the handy zipper opener and the double-wrapped separate half loaves that keeps Southern Bread's delicious freshness sealed in. Enjoy these exclusive advantages for yourself. Look for the name Southern Twin-Pack on the wrapper of the bread you buy.

Patton Says War Something Learned As You Go Along

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK, (AP)—War is something you learn as you go along. Even an old campaigner like General George S. Patton, Jr., found that to be true. He says as much in his own life story—excerpts of which are published this week in the Saturday Evening Post.

Recalling how the Germans threw back one of his armored columns several miles and cost him a number of tanks, Patton acknowledged it was probably his fault for driving his men day and night to a point where they were too tired to resist the Nazi counter thrust.

"I remember being surprised at the time at how long it took me to learn war," he wrote. "I should have known this before."

A few generals are courageous enough to admit they were guilty of mistakes that cost men's lives. It is characteristic of Patton's brutal honesty and superb egotism that he could do so—and still boast that he only made one error in the European campaign.

His story of his own part in the war is a legacy of controversy, written with the prejudices of a strong-willed impatient leader who hated the reins he felt held him from the greatness and glory he was born to.

But from it emerges the clearest picture yet given of the most powerful personality of the war—a man who believed in fighting and loved it. Nobody really knew Patton better than himself.

Here are some of his own pithy comments on his trade:

"A pint of sweat saves a gallon of blood.

"We never had to regroup, which seemed to be the chief form of amusement in the British armies.

"Do not take counsel of your fears.

"If I had worried about flanks I could never have fought the war.

"One does not plan and then try to make the circumstances fit those plans. One tries to make plans fit the circumstances.

"In spite of my reputation as a head cutter, I really am very long suffering.

"Demand the impossible.

"I believe in fighting until lack of supplies forces you to stop; then digging in.

"It has always been my unfortunate role to be the ray of sunshine and the back-slapper before action, both for those under me and also those over me."

Patton hated indecision. He tells of one general, relieved of his command, who asked 48 hours to decide whether to accept a lesser command in another division.

"I did not tell him so, but I realized that any man who could not make up his mind in less than 48 hours was not fit to command troops in battle."

No one who knew the impetuous Patton could quarrel with his own summary of his life—"At least, I have done my best as God gave me the chance." Nor should his countrymen forget this classic warning that gives his military creed:

"Pacifists would do well to study the Siegfried and Maginot lines, remembering that these defenses

China Receives Aid Worth $27,700,000

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—China will be given $27,700,000 worth of grain and medical supplies under the $322,000,000 by Congress in its last session, the State Department announced yesterday.

The program was set up to take over some of the relief chores formerly handled by the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration in Europe and the Orient.

China will be supplied with 50,000 long tons of wheat and 43,000 long tons of rice from the United States and approximately 10,000 long tons of rice from Siam, sources under present plans. The balance of the allocation will consist chiefly of medical supplies.

The food, an announcement said, will be distributed mainly in coastal cities. "For maximum effectiveness, however, the way will be left open to send supplies to famine areas in the interior."

Woman Complains Over Crooked Vote

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 6—(AP)—Marion County election commissioners on duty Tuesday in the court house received a telephone call from a woman who said she wished to make a complaint.

"Is your voting machine jammed?" asked a commissioner.

"Oh, no," the woman said. "Are the votes registering all right?" the commissioner queried, and the answer: "Oh yes."

"Just what is your complaint?" the commissioner wanted to know.

"Well we just want somebody to come out here and keep an eye on these people running the place because we thing they're crooked," said the complainant.

were forced, that Troy fell, that the walls of Hadrian succumbed, that the Great Wall of China was futile, and that, by the same token, the mighty seas which are alleged to defend us can also be circumvented by a resolute and ingenious opponent. In war, the only sure defense is offense, and the efficiency of offense depends on the warlike souls of those conducting it."

Court Rules On Liquor Ordinance

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6—(AP)—The Supreme Court ruled Tuesday that a city of Miami ordinance prohibiting operation of a liquor store within 1,000 feet of a school does not apply to a kindergarten nursery.

The court, reversed a Dade County Circuit Court order and dismissed a suit brought against Boris Rivkind (CQ) and the J-M Corporation to prohibit operation of the store within 1,000 feet of the St. Alban's kindergarten nursery school.

"It is our conclusion that a kindergarten nursery is not a school within the intent" of the city ordinance and state law, the court said, and added "A place where liquor is sold is not a nuisance."

Moscow Claims To Have World's Three Best Dressmakers

By EDDIE GILMORE

AP Newsfeature

MOSCOW—The lady with the exquisitely cut dress leaned across the table and tapped the slim stem of a champagne glass with a brilliantly tinted fingernail.

"What some foreigners fail to realize," she said, "is that we have in Moscow three of the finest dressmakers in the world. Maybe we have more, but I know of three."

"And what does this prove?" asked a pretty young wife from the British Embassy.

"It proves we have styles of our own and ideas of our own about dressing and dress and we'll never go in for those long skirts which have come out of Paris and New York."

Someone wanted to know why. "Because," she said with a certain amount of feeling, "what do long dresses do to a woman? They make out of her a human broom. She automatically becomes a rug sweeper and a furniture duster."

This announcement was local news, but the fact about the three talented dressmakers was not.

At least two of the better dressed women of Europe—whose husbands have served in the foreign diplomatic corps here during recent years—had dresses, and plenty of them, made by these dressmakers and found them excellent.

This correspondent thought it would be a good time to look up the dressmakers, or at least one of them, and she was not hard to find, for a hot path is beat to her door and lots of people know where it is.

"Of course I'm aware of the long dress styles," she said, and then added with icy emphasis, "I'm aware of all styles."

On her desk were several copies of recent style magazines from Paris, New York and London.

"Long dresses? No. I'm not making any."

"Have you had any requests for any?"

"None," she said with finality. "None. None from foreign women and none from Russian women who come to me. I don't think they're going to have much of a future in Russia."

She hesitated.

"There's no need for them among our women," she said.

"Long dresses are a fashionable device for poor figures, especially poor legs. I never saw a poor pair of legs in Russia."

"Neither have I," I said as I got my hat.

She took one shot at me as I was going through her door.

"Long dresses," she said, "are your ladies' iron curtain. What are they trying to hide?"

GOD DOES NOT CHANGE HIS MIND. WHAT HE HAS PROMISED HE WILL PERFORM: Forever O Lord, thy word is settled in heaven.

In spite of everything that was done about getting folks ready to vote, about two hundred of them went down to the City Hall.

Demagoguery took a back seat in Mississippi voting Tuesday when a rural county judge, John C. Stennis, the most conservative candidate in the race, overwhelmingly defeated the opponents of Bilboism.

How the people feel about education and their schools was adequately illustrated in the election Tuesday when both the two mill additional tax levy for operation and another two mill levy for capital improvements were approved almost without opposition.

Donald Richlers, union attorney, and former head of the NRA, puts his finger on the most successful example of Communist propaganda in America.

It may have been his heart condition, or a kidney ailment, that caused John C. Winant, former ambassador to the Court of St. James to take his own life at the age of 58.

Speaking Frankly

If along with Speaking Frankly, the new book by James F. Byrnes, is read Darkness at Noon, by Arthur Koestler, each illumines the other.

While he is trying to push back one tentacle a dozen others encircle from which there is no escape. There are no witnesses for the defense, no aid of the law.

In a Conference of Foreign Ministers of other nations the tactics have to take a higher level. But through the quiet, factual report of Mr. Byrnes they are plain.

The idea comes out clearly that the Russians do not intend to agree with other nations. Small sudden yieldings on minor points are merely intended to disarm.

Then along came the Democrats, who, after looking for a time longingly toward California as the location for their session, finally listened to their new national chairman, Senator J. Howard McGrath.

It looks now as if the main fireworks let off at the G.O.P. convention will come when the presidential nominee is selected and at the Democratic meeting when the vice president is picked.

Two political conventions, one right after the other, are going to try the nerves of old Philadelphia.

1915's Dunkirk

The commander in the worst British defeat in history (until Dunkirk and Singapore surpassed it) has just died at 94. This was Gen. Sir Ian Hamilton, who led the disastrous 1915 attempt at Gallipoli to open the Dardanelles.

Finally it seemed hopeless to continue, Hamilton was relieved by Sir Charles Monro, and the troops were evacuated. They might easily all have been destroyed, but a combination of luck and good management saved them.

Hamilton was not responsible for the disaster. Bad planning at London was the cause, and another general might have done worse. But Gallipoli remained a sore point in British memories, and Hamilton never received another command.

Winant Memoirs Show Interesting Political Slants

BOSTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—Memoirs of John Winant say the late President Roosevelt displayed "cold anger" when Winant told him late in 1938 it was his duty to run for a third term.

The story is told in "Letter from Grovernor Square" a book just completed by the former ambassador to London, who shot and killed himself Monday night.

"I will always remember his cold anger when I told him that it was his duty to run for a third term," wrote Winant. "He answered very bluntly that he had done his part as a liberal and that some of the rest of us could share the burden of carrying forward the things we professed to believe."

Winant wrote that when he suggested to the President that he get by himself and think it over, he heard Roosevelt for the time refer to his affliction by replying: "You know, Gil, I can never be alone," and pointing out of the window of the executive office, he added "I cannot even go out and walk alone under those trees. Always someone has to be with me or near me. I am never alone."

Winant's account is of the years just preceding the war and his term as ambassador.

One of the deeper reasons for wanting to write is the growing disillusionment of today; which not only dims and obscures the present, but is trying to cloud the past.

It has seemed to me that many people do not understand the urgency of these days.

Winant lauded Winston Churchill's writings Prime Minister of Britain, writing:

There has been a shallow acceptance among some people in the United States and a few in Great Britain that he was a Tory determined only to defend the British Empire and was indiffer-

Of Russia, Winant wrote this was the opinion shared by him and Britain's Anthony Eden:

Great faith in the Russians as fighting allies and equal belief in their ultimate desire for a peaceful world."

Democratic resistance to Communism with Russia's own satellites in eastern Europe continues to spread.

The latest country to develop a crisis between left and right is Czechoslovakia. This difference grows out of Communist influence on broadening the base of Red influence in the government.

A meeting of the coalition cabinet yesterday under Communist premier Klement Gottwald resulted in his being given full powers.

The political clash wasn't unforeseen because Czechoslovakia while small in size is huge in love of independence and couldn't be expected to endure indefinitely without protest, efforts to improve totalitarian regimentation.

For two years of anxious effort to fit herself into the Russian scheme of influence and still retain her independence she now has displayed a strong element of resistance to Communism.

Czechoslovakia thus joins other Russia bloc nations which have parties of dissident to Communist domination. These include Poland, Hungary, Romania, Finland, and even Yugoslavia, although the last named country Red opposition has been fairly well stifled—or has it?

Of course one would expect the current Czechoslovak crisis to be bridged temporarily. But the anti-totalitarian element cannot be stifled. It will remain to raise its voice whenever it can, and in this connection it should be noted that smoldering opposition is explosive.

The Czechoslovakian imbroglio is particularly interesting in light of a U. S. State Department statement made in a review of the development of the Marshall Plan for European recovery.

This declares that any government, political parties, or groups which attempt to promote human misery for political profit, will meet with unqualified opposition from the United States.

The report says the interest of the United States in European recovery arises primarily from the fact that "American security has traditionally been based on the kind of democratic Europe which is now in jeopardy."

It adds that "further deterioration might be disastrous to Europe."

It's an ironic circumstance that of all the countries within the Soviet zone of domination in eastern Europe, Czechoslovakia should have been the one to declare her adherence to the Marshall Plan.

That adherence, however, lasted only long enough for Moscow to slam down its fiat, when Prague withdrew.

While eastern Europe was producing this additional opposition to Communism, western Europe displayed further signs of a shift to the political right. Britain, whose Conservative Party administered a smashing defeat to the dominant Socialists in the widespread municipal elections the other day, confirmed her swing to the right in Tuesday's Scottish municipal elections where the Socialists suffered further setbacks.

Even more impressive was a statement by Socialist Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison that the British government mustn't frustrate industrialists by preventing them from doing their jobs.

"I do not see the point of interfering in industry for the sake of interfering and I am worried about the risks of destroying the vigor and self-reliance of private enterprise."

That, I take it, is pretty strong mustard, as coming from one of the leaders in a Socialist government which is in the midst of a considerable nationalization program and has had the great iron and steel industries on its list.

Country Life Gets Favor Over City's For Child Growth

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP)—The product of modern civilization I feel most sorry for is the metropolitan child—the kid who grows up in a large city.

Even bubble gum doesn't make up for the lost pleasures of a boyhood spent in crowded places where asphalt has smothered the grass and stone canyons condense dense the broad sky.

Life in the country or a small town enables a child to grow slowly from elementary savagery into the pattern of civilized man, but it allows him more freedom in the process.

And it holds wonder in him longer, the wonder that keeps him fresh and young in heart.

A boy raised in the hinterland gets to know something about nature, man's mother in the springtime of his spirit. He is educated not only by books, but by elemental and eternal things—wind and rain, the growth of trees, the ways of wild animals and the helpless habits of the tame.

President Truman Adds Heraldry To His Achievements

By ARTHUR EDSON WASHINGTON, Nov. 5 (AP)—Yes, sir, Harry Truman has come quite a way since he was known at the lad who could blow one of the straightest fursaws in Jackson County, Mo.

For instance, he's now hep to heraldry. And that takes considerable hepping.

An executive order, setting a seal for the department of the Air Force, just flew in. It says, among other things: "Shields: Per fess nebuly argent and argent, in chief a thunderbolt or inflamed proper."

"Crest: On a wreath argent and azure an American bald eagle, wings displayed and partially crested proper in front of a cloud argent."

This was signed, "Harry S. Truman."

Well, it turns out this isn't really doubletalk at all. People interested in heraldry talk like that.

Which is reason enough for peering into the history of our crests and seals, and finding out how they got that way.

But, first, a brief explanation. In that order of Mr. Truman's, "Azure" means blue, "Argent" means silver, "Per fess" means divided by a horizontal bar, and "Nebuly" means cloudlike.

The language dates all the way back to when knighthood was a flower.

Arthur Dubois, of the army heraldic section, told a reporter that heraldry has its practical side, too.

"It's the way we make documents authentic," he said. That's why we adopted the great seal on June 20, 1782.

That's a long time ago, but we weren't starting anything.

The Encyclopaedia Britannica says the Greeks and Romans loved doodads on their armor. So did the Japanese and Chinese, and so did the early Aztecs.

There was a reason for this. A man in armor looks pretty much like another man in armor. So, a coat of arms was more than decorative; it was also the way to tell Gus from Joe.

ZACH TAYLOR IS NAMED SKIPPER OF ST. LOUIS BROWNS IN SURPRISE MOVE

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns had a new manager today, James Wren "Zach" Taylor, to succeed Harold "Muddy" Ruel whose work was called disappointing by club officials.

Taylor comes to the Browns from the Pittsburgh Pirates where he was a coach last season. He had served with St. Louis previously. He has spent nearly 20 years in organized baseball.

Club President Richard C. Muckerman, in announcing Ruel's dismissal, said that Muddy's contract, which had one more year to run, would be paid in full.

It was the second consecutive time the Browns have fired a manager for two years and fired him after one. Luke Sewell was relieved shortly before the end of the 1946 season, less than half way through his two-year contract.

This year, material on hand was sufficient for a first division team. Ruel said he was "stunned" by the action and added:

"Mr. Muckerman said he was disappointed in the showing of the club, and disappointed in my work. Well, I couldn't deny that the showing of the club disappointed all of us after we started the season in the cellar and trailed in that position throughout the American League race. I could not agree with the club owner on the second point, my record."

"I fell heir to a seventh place team, and I feel certain that material was not on hand to improve the Browns' position."

Terms of Ruel's contract were never made public, but it was believed to call for salary of about $25,000 a year. Terms of Taylor's contract also have not been made public.

Ruel, 51, resigned as assistant to Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler to take over the manager's job. He took issue with a statement by Muckerman that although the club finished last Taylor served as acting manager of the Browns for a brief period in 1946, after Sewell was released until end of the season. He was coach with the St. Louis club and before that served as manager of San Antonio in the Texas League and Toledo club in the American Association, both Browns farms.

The new Browns manager, 49, played with the Dodgers, Yankees, Braves, Giants and Cubs as catcher during his career.

Ruel said his plans for future are indefinite.

Andersen Will Not See Action Against Mississippi State

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 6 (AP)—Tom (Shorty) McWilliams, the bright star of the potent Mississippi State baseball team, returns to the scene of his greatest day in football here Saturday when the Maroons meet the crippled Auburn Plainsmen in their traditional Southeastern Conference game.

Shorty was a freshman when he played for the Maroons here in 1944 in their 26-21 triumph over Auburn. Among other things, he returned a kickoff for a touchdown to overcome an Auburn lead.

In 1945 Shorty was performing for Army, and in 1946 he was out with injuries. The back who starred in those two Mississippi State victories, halfback Harper Davis, will run at the right halfback post here this week.

Two of Auburn's backs also played prominent roles in the now famous 1944 game. They are Russell Inman, fullback, and Jim McDaniel, also a blocking back. Both are graduates of Birmingham high schools and will be performing before a home-town crowd expected to be between 25,000 and 30,000.

The Plainsmen will be without the services of several regulars, including Hal Herring, ends Ray Williams and Ralph Flynn and fullbacks Bill Cochran and Willis Andersen, but the remaining players should be in better physical shape than last week.

Captain Carl Voyles at Auburn said his squad was in good spirits and suffered no new hurts in the Vanderbilt game last week.

Captain Allyn McKee at Mississippi State was warning his squad not to take the Auburn game too lightly, reminding them that Auburn still holds a 13 to 8 edge in the long series.

Mississippi State is in the running for the Southeastern Conference championship, having won a first conference start last week against Tulane, 20 to 0. The Maroons last lost to Auburn in 1939.

The State squad is somewhat battered, with Harper Davis nursing an injured shoulder and blocking back Truitt Smith still out with an old hurt.

Sports Roundup By HUGH FULLETON, JR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6 (AP)—Ruby Goldstein, a little guy from the East Side, who hasn't done too badly in the boxing business, figures there's just one way to make good in the fistie trade.

"When you're young, you gotta buckle down for about seven years. You train hard and take care of yourself—all the time, not just occasionally. You learn all you can and you make a wad. Then you can have your fun later."

Ruby, now one of New York's top fight referees, was moved to express this theory after officiating last week when Gus Losenovich, a guy who buckled down—pounded the nightlights out of Tami Mauriello, who didn't.

"Sure, someone agreed 'but how many kids will train the way you did 20 years ago?'—A lot of them," Losenovich replied. "You'd be surprised to see how many kids train just as hard—but a lot of them quit as soon as they get a couple of good punches."

Winter sports promoters, who have seen roller gates take a 25 percent tumble in pre-holiday sales, are waiting for the Sonja Henie ice show to indicate whether business really will be bad this winter. . . . The Baltimore Colts and Chicago Rockets, who meet tomorrow night, have thrown 227 and 232 passes, respectively. . . . And one of the best collegiate passing duels should take place Saturday when Lafayette's Frank Downing pitches against Frank Burns of Rutgers. . . . Still on the same subject, Sam (Sugar Bowl) Correns says the best football players he has seen this season are Charley Conery and Barney Poole of Mississippi.

Grandstand Quarterbacks

When the Cornell 150-pound team beat Penn. 9-6, the other day, the rival quarterbacks were Snavelly and Munger. They weren't the same guys who used to mastermind against each other before Carl Snavelly returned to North Carolina, but Cornell's Francis (Bud) Snavelly is Carl's nephew. Penn's quarterback is Pete Munger.

The rain, dripping past the windows of coach Earl (Red) Blaik's office, furnished a subject for speculation about Saturday's Army-Notre Dame game besides threatening to hamper Army's preparations. . . . Indoors, Blaik refused to supply an accompaniment of tears, although his well-known fact that this year's team resembles the "Black Knights" of the past three seasons no more than the color of Blaik's hair resembles red. . . . "I wouldn't be surprised if it rains Saturday," said Earl. "I haven't, but I always like to see the customers have a good time." . . . More seriously, he explained that rain and power to overcome soggy going and because a wet, slippery field makes it harder for a pass-defender to change direction to cover a receiver who knows just where the play is going.

Although Blaik insists that 1947 "definitely is our down year," he doesn't appear too gloomy about the future. . . . Augie Dielens, who made a lot of passing against Notre Dame, is coming along well as a quarterback under study to Arnold Galiffa. . . . And both these youngsters are good enough that Bill Gustafson is definitely a halfback now. . . . Davis Parrish, who played fullback at high school in Whitesburg, Tenn., "will be a pretty good and in another year" and Bennie Davis is going to be a great tackle some day. Bill Youman already is "a better center than Jim Enos." . . . These boys all are in the class of 1950.

Refusing to discuss the end of Army-Notre Dame relations, Earl snorts: "They all seem to think it was Blaik that's the childlike thinking. It's asinine to think that I alone would be responsible for ending such a series."

Alfred Gustafson is a coach, Alex Yurkevich, finally has made the gig about putting a uniform on the team manager come true. . . . At full strength, Alfred's squad numbers 23 men. When five were missing one night recently when a dummy scrimmage was scheduled, Alex not only conscripted Manager Bob Cheny, a 150-pounder, but also grabbed 14-year-old Dick McLane, son of the director of athletics. . . . MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Many sufferers believe their backaches are due to over-exertion, but the real cause of their trouble is the blood. The kidneys are Nature's old way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. If they become clogged, the waste and acids remain in your blood, and cause many ailments, such as rheumatism, leg pain, loss of appetite, nervousness, headache, and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes denote a clog in the urinary tract with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your Druggist for Don's. This is a stomachic diuretic, and peacefully gives relief for over 40 years. Don's gives better relief and will take the 18 miles of kidney tubes and out poisonous waste from your body. Square Biscuits, Yet!

I see by a neighboring paper, that the round biscuit is on the way out. Yes, sir, home-management specialists have found that the square biscuit lends itself to assembly-line production and easy storage better than those customary ovals. Well, we're all for progress, but that's one new idea we just don't cotton to. A round biscuit, spiced nicely amidships with snappy country cheese, looks like a biscuit! Tavern-Goers Gassed By Carbon Monoxide

CLAIRTON, Pa., Nov. 6 (AP)—Sauntering amiably into a tavern to quench his thirst early today, Harold Ausburn was shocked by both a death-like silence and the fact everyone else there was unconscious. Police said carbon monoxide had felled them, one after another.

Molotov Bomb

(Continued from Page One) towns. But for the war, which destroyed many important agricultural centers, we would be better supplied today than any other country in Europe or elsewhere.

Molotov said the 30 years of Russia's history since the revolution could be divided into three periods:

The first, between 1917 and the first establishment of Soviet power, up to the first five-year period.

The second, the period of the second World War—the great patriotic war.

The third, the new period which is just beginning.

The Foreign Minister declared that "not only in the countries friendly to us, but elsewhere, there are millions of people devoted to the Soviet Union."

"Everywhere capitalism rules," he added, "it oppresses the working people, enslave the working people of the colonies and the dependent states. Peoples in whom knowledge has brought awakening see in the successes of the Soviet Union the approach of their own liberties from the yoke of the enslavement."

Molotov asserted the Soviet Union was intent upon following a path toward "durable and lasting peace."

"All true friends of peace and they constitute the majority in any country can rest assured that the Soviet Union will defend the cause of peace to the last," he said.

He recalled Prime Minister Stalin's interview last May with Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination of the United States. At that time, he reminded his audience, Stalin declared that the difference between economic systems was not an obstacle to peace.

"If collaboration was possible in wartime, why not in peace?"

Foreign Minister

Other cabinet members resigning were Finance Minister Alexander Alexandrin, Public Works Minister George Vantu and Culture Minister Radu Roscalet.

The resignations of three Liberal Party undersecretaries of state also were accepted. It was indicated that the vacancies in the cabinet would be filled within two or three days.

Meanwhile in Czechoslovakia a Communist-engineered government crisis pitted Communist Premier Klement Gottwald, a former blacksmith, at the top of the heap of persons as Czechoslovakia's political wrong man.

He wrested from the nation's coalition cabinet last night complete authority to rebuild the government of semi-autonomous Slovakia, where the crisis was born and where the predominantly conservative, anti-Communist Slovak Democrats are the majority party.

The cabinet decision was interpreted as a major victory in the Communists' open drive to gain complete control over the whole nation. An eight-party coalition now governs.

Informants close to the cabinet said Gottwald won by a vote of 12 to 10, with three Social Democrat ministers casting the deciding votes. They joined with six Czech Communists and three Slovak Communists against four Czech National Socialists, three Slovak Democrats and three Catholic People's Party ministers.

And in the Moscow-backed Polish government intensified its inquiry into the flight of Stanislaw Mikolajczyk, which it asserted was "actively aided" by an unnamed embassy, and indicated new arrests would be made shortly of persons suspected of helping the opposition leader escape.

Three of the group who fled with the Polish Peasant Party leader Oct. 20 were declared officially to have been arrested after crossing the Czechoslovak frontier.

"All true friends of peace and they constitute the majority in any country can rest assured that the Soviet Union will defend the cause of peace to the last," he said.

He recalled Prime Minister Stalin's interview last May with Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination of the United States. At that time, he reminded his audience, Stalin declared that the difference between economic systems was not an obstacle to peace.

'Tokyo Rose' Wants To Go Home To U. S.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 6 (AP)—Tokyo Rose, the wartime radio Tokyo broadcaster who sank more fleets than America ever built, wants to go home to the United States.

The U. S. consulate here said she had applied for entry and her case "is being processed in the same way as thousands of others." The final decision, the consulate said, will be made in Washington.

The Los Angeles-born woman, whose maiden name was Iva Toguri, applied for entry as Iva D'Aguiua, using the family name of her Portuguese husband. Held for a time by occupation authorities in Sugamo prison, she was released Oct. 25, 1946, for lack of evidence.

Arce Attacked

Turning down British appeals for compromise on the "Little Assembly" Vishinsky said "We shall never meet you half way" on this issue.

Vishinsky charged Arce was guilty of "libel and a distortion of facts" if he considered that Russia was standing in the way of big power unanimity. Instead of Russia, he said, the United States, Britain and France which were operating outside the U. N.

Dr. Arce told the political committee last night in the debate on the interim assembly that the Security Council was about to paralyze the U. N. and that it was up to the assembly to act.

Assailing frequent Russian vetoes, Arce said it depended on the assembly as to whether the U. N. lasts and added that the greatest obstacle was the "so-called" Security Council.

Other U. N. developments: 1—President Truman named Alan Goodrich Wright, ambassador to Belgium, as U. S. representative on the Balkan Commission.

None of the other delegates has been named. Headquarters will be in Salonika, Greece, with the commission scheduled to begin functioning Nov. 21.

2—A four-nation group set another meeting for late today in between the U. S. and Russia over efforts to iron differences between the implementation of the proposed partition of Palestine into Jewish and Arab nations.

"Material shortages—varying as to locality but including cement, nails and rock lath—are still plaguing builders two years after V. J. Day."

"The labor supply generally has improved except in south Florida, where a lack of skilled workers may make serious inroads on construction unless filled."

Jaycee Luncheon

President Brailley Odham and Secretary Gordon Bradley gave accounts of the State Conference held in West Palm Beach last weekend. President Odham stated that an outstanding program in governmental affairs is being completed by the state organization, and that world trade and public health were given lengthy discussions at the session.

Bradley stated that the state organization went on record in favor of the food train for aid to the hungry people in Europe and passed a resolution to request aid from the federal government for draining for Florida. It was reported that Jack Morrison, Halter Krohn, Edward Kircher, George Williams, Bradley and Odham attended the convalescence.

A Youth Government Week is being planned by the organization to acquaint the youth of the county with the fundamentals of government. The program will be held during the third week in February. Youths from all over the county will run for the different offices of the city and county. The teen-agers will then give them an opportunity to be installed in the offices and to learn of office duties and qualifications of candidates.

Carl Prescott reported that the Jaycee bowling team is making progress in the bowling league. Jack Morrison, governmental affairs chairman, expressed delight in the large vote cast in the recent election, and that the campaign to get out the vote would be continued through the general election in December.

SHATTERED IN THE SNOW on Annette Island near Ketchikan, Alaska, is the remains of a Pan-American World Airways DC-4 after it crashed head-on into a 3,607-foot mountain peak. A Coast Guard rescue crew reported that all 18 persons aboard the craft perished. (International)

Florida Building

In Miami, more than $23,000,000 has been spent on residential building so far this year, compared with $9,000,000 for non-residential projects.

Incomplete reports show that permits were issued for 14,157 dwelling units throughout Florida. The number of dwelling units authorized—4,543—as well as in total construction volume—$18,812,400.

"While there is a tremendous volume of construction under way throughout Florida, some builders believe that peak activity has been reached," Cowles commented.

"High costs—placed variously at 50 to 100 percent above the pre-war level—are still holding back many would-be developers, especially in the multi-unit apartment and commercial fields.

"On the other hand, many builders and individuals, apparently decided that costs will not drop materially in the immediate future, are going ahead with construction plans.

"Material shortages—varying as to locality but including cement, nails and rock lath—are still plaguing builders two years after V. J. Day."

"The labor supply generally has improved except in south Florida, where a lack of skilled workers may make serious inroads on construction unless filled."

Georgia Politicians Take It Seriously

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 6 (AP)—William S. Morris, chairman of Governor M. E. Thompson's faction of the Democratic Party in Georgia, was knocked down and humiliated by a supporter of Herman Talmadge at the Richmond county court room today.

The incident occurred shortly before a hearing was scheduled to open in a court suit by Talmadge's Democratic Chairman James S. Peters to determine which faction controls the party in Georgia.

"Roy," Morris asked, "do you publish the Augusta Courier?" Harris replied, "Yes, Bill, I do."

"Well," pursued Morris, "anybody who publishes that is a —"

Without answering, the chunky Harris leaped upon Morris, a taller and heavier set man, knocked him sprawling in the jury box and beat him about the face. Other attorneys intervened and pulled Harris back, helping Morris to his feet.

F. E. Roumillat and J. W. Hargrave were introduced to the group as guests.

Meyer Fired

Perelle said he never saw any of the expense accounts referred to by Meyer.

Representatives of Hughes complained before the Senate today that they were being prevented unfairly from answering immediately a committee claim that Hughes should pay the government $5,019,921 in taxes for 1946.

Committee Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) contended, however, that Noah Dietrich, executive vice-president of the Hughes Tool Co., told him he did not want to resume the stand at once. Dietrich was the witness when hearings recessed yesterday.

Dietrich took sharp issue yesterday with the statement read by Williams to the committee of which he is a member. And, as the hearing recessed, the Hughes official told reporters:

"I am going to take the stand and show just what the Hughes losses were on war contracts."

Williams' statement, which was put into the record, said a study of tax records of Hughes and his companies show a "tax deficiency of $5,019,921."

Tax Reduction

ation when it reaches him. However, it was learned that the administration is definitely planning to offer its own tax program to Congress next year.

The question of emergency aid to Europe and inflation at home are of equal importance, he said. He hopes Congress will act on European aid first. He will make that clear in a message at the Nov. 17 opening of the session.

A long-range plan for helping Europe, after the stop-gap program, will be sent to Congress when it is ready—either before or after the regular session beginning in January.

On other subjects: Taxes—The Administration's views will go into the annual message to Congress on the state of opinion at the start of the regular session in January. As tax-cutting bills, as he did twice for vetoing another Republican last session, that will be decided when the situation comes up.

Food—The President has no expectation that Charles Luckman will resign soon as chairman of the Citizens Food Committee. Even though a reporter said the Agriculture Department estimates that all the hundred million bushels of grain America has been asked to save now is in sight.

Wheat—The President discussed yesterday with Tom Campbell, Montana wheat grower, a proposal for regulating the price on wheat, but Mr. Truman did not commit himself.

In the "no comment" department: The Senate investigation of Howard Hughes' wartime plane contracts, the House Un-American Activities Committee investigation of Communism in Hollywood, a suggestion by grain exchanges that they would like a congressional inquiry into their operations.

Poultryless Day Is Seen Glutting Mart

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6 (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today on the fifth poultryless Thursday of the Food Conservation Program—that the nation's markets are being glutted with poultry.

Prices are going down, it added, and city dealers are urging country shippers to hold their chickens back for lack of a market.

Gold storage stocks of frozen poultry, which on Oct. 1 were at record levels for that date, continued to increase last month to such an extent that the industry was said to be running out of space to store dressed poultry.

Kraft Paper Mill Seeks Florida Site

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 6 (AP)—Inquiries on sites for a new $9,000,000 Kraft paper mill and an $8,000,000 manufacturing industry have been turned over to Florida cities by the State Advertising Commission.

Commission Director Roy C. Beckman also said today he has issued a bulletin to communities throughout the state on proposals of "two nationally known engineers" to buy a chemical manufacturing plant in Florida.

All three inquiries, he said, came as a result of the state's $500,000 a year national advertising campaign.

Wage Hour Law

in presenting lumber industry statements to the committee today.

Tichy recalled that the act passed in 1938 was intended to raise substandard wages and spread employment at a time when our economy faced chaos in an era of widespread unemployment.

He said the law's requirement of time and a half wages for hours worked beyond 40 a week was aimed at "spreading the work."

"We have no widespread unemployment today nor any of the conditions existing which require a continuation of this legislation," Tichy said.

"Assuming this legislation to be a 'prescription' for a sick economy, is it not harmful to continue the administration of that 'prescription' when the patient has recovered?"

"Has not our economy recovered during the past several years? Is it our fear that any perpetuation of this act when it has outlived its usefulness will only serve to harass our economy and mollify those who wish to disturb and disrupt it?"

Both Tichy and Douglas argued that if the law is continued there should be no increase in the present 40-hour weekly wage minimum. The AFL and CIO have urged a 40-hour week.

"If the Congress is unwilling to undertake full repeal at this time," Tichy said, "we most seriously urge you that at least make the Fair Labor Standards Act more equitable in application and administratively more practical to those who have to live with it day by day."

Tichy and Douglas suggested a series of amendments to the present law if it is allowed to remain on the books. Generally, these called for clarifying present exemptions and coverage of the law to eliminate what they called "the uncertainties and ramifications of the present act."

ty officials and civic leaders will be invited on a cruise.

Plans were immediately started by Mr. Leland for carpenter work on the rear of the Municipal Bath, while for a waiting room for boat passengers, and Mr. Leland said that he would confer with City Manager H. N. Sawyer in regard to details of this work.

E. M. Armistead, director of Tourist Activities, conferred with Mr. Leland and Mr. Higgins, in regard to cruises for tourists, which are expected to be one outstanding feature for entertainment of winter visitors.

Al Lee of the Coast Guard Auxiliary was called into consultation to secure the services of a Sanford pilot to aid in bringing the boat here from Palatka.

The cruiser, after leaving Bar Harbor, took an ocean route as far as Cape May, then progressed up Delaware Bay and the rest of the way south via the inland waterway.

Mr. Leland told this morning of the fire devastation in the Bar Harbor residential areas and of active work in fighting the fire which he said, took freakish turns with changes of wind.

War Contract Said Ordered By Patterson

Procurement Officer Held Up Hughes Air-Plane Contract For Three Months In '44

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—A former air force general testified today that the late President Roosevelt, Jesse Jones, and other "powerful friends" of Howard Hughes were interested in a wartime contract for Hughes in 1943.

Bennett E. Meyers, retired major general, gave this testimony before a Senate War Investigating Subcommittee as he identified a recorded telephone conversation of Oct. 21, 1943, with Robert Lovett.

Lovett then was an assistant secretary of state. Hughes at the time held a contract to build a huge flying boat and was attempting to get on contract to build 100 (F-11) photo reconnaissance planes.

Meyers, then a deputy chief in aircraft procurement, read the telephone conversation into the committee record.

"Lovett: Because this is one of those borderline cases, that can be embarrassing if we get into, for example he has got very powerful friends here in Washington."

"Meyers: Yes sir, Jesse Jones and the President and everyone else seems to be in it."

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) broke in on Meyers and asked him to reread this again. Meyers did.

Meyers said that in 1943 he felt a multi-million dollar war plane contract awarded Hughes "had an odor" and warned that it might "draw congressional criticism."

Louitt Tells Why He Rejected Offer

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 7 (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Henry J. Louitt said today he had declined to accept election as bishop of the western New York Episcopal Diocese because of a desire to meet "the missionary challenge" of his work as suffragan bishop of South Florida.

In a letter supplementing his telegraphed declination of the bishopric yesterday, the 44-year-old native of Buffalo told the Very Rev. Edward E. Waller, chairman of the notification committee, that "21 years ago I accepted the call to serve our Lord and His church in the Diocese of South Florida" and added: "Never have I regretted accepting the missionary challenge presented by that growing state, nor in the passing years have I ever felt called by God to serve elsewhere in His church."

Bishop Louitt was elected Oct. 24 at a third convention of Diocese delegates, inaugurated by previous deadlock at conventions in Niagara Falls on May 20 and in Buffalo on June 10.

The standing committee will meet at noon Monday to set the time and place of a new convention to elect a successor to the Rt. Rev. Cameron J. Davis, who retired officially Sept. 1 but has been carrying on the duties temporarily.

Pollution Of Florida Streams And Lakes Condemned By Health Board

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 7 (AP)—Citing widespread water pollution in Florida, the State Board of Health estimated today it will take $186,000,000 to install adequate sewage and garbage disposal and water treatment plants.

David B. Lee, chief sanitary engineer, and John C. Patterson of the State Board of Health included in their report a map showing "polluted areas" nearly every stream or bay on which there is a city to dump waste and sewage.

They included the St. Johns River from Palatka to Jacksonville, Biscayne Bay at Miami, Pensacola Bay, the Caloosahatchee River at Fort Myers, and the major parts of Tampa Bay, St. Andrews Bay at Panama City, St. Lucie inlet and the Halifax River near Daytona Beach.

"The need of stream pollution abatement in Florida is of vital importance to our public water supply systems," Lee and Patterson said. "Less than one-half of our citizens have domestic water available that has been treated in any way. Consequently, over a million Floridians consume untreated ground water."

The sanitary engineers said "nearly every community, of any size of Florida has failed to provide itself with adequate facilities for disposal of domestic sewage or garbage and rubbish. In many cases storm sewerage is conspicuous by its absence."

"As a direct result of the daily discharge of millions of gallons of raw or inadequately treated domestic sewage and trade wastes into natural bodies of water, 232

fish-raising ponds have been condemned, their report stated. "In many of these areas, shellfish are no longer to be found because of the pollution densities. Many other areas may be hazardous for the taking of shellfish."

The seafood industry has estimated reopening of condemned areas of Pensacola Bay alone would more than double the state's income from shellfish, Lee and Patterson said.

They said "one minor epidemic of any of the fifth-borne diseases could disseminate a tremendous number of visitors from coming to Florida for years; it would impede progress in the industry; it would certainly retard the development of any community until such time as assurance could be given that conditions encouraging such disease had been corrected."

The cost of providing adequate safeguards in cities and towns was estimated at $120,000,000 for sewage collection and treatment, $60,000,000 for water supply and treatment and distribution, and $6,000,000 for garbage and rubbish collection disposal.

Tornado Strikes Fishing Village Killing 2 Women

GOLDEN MEADOW, La., Nov. 7 (AP)—A tornado swept the small village of Galiano, six miles south of Golden Meadow, last night, killing two persons and injuring ten others.

A half hundred residents were reported made homeless in the little village of trappers and fishermen and two other persons, an elderly woman and an infant, were reported missing today.

The funnel-shaped cloud, born of a coastal disturbance, was reported to have destroyed ten residences and damaged an equal number of others.

The dead were listed as Mrs. Henry Danos, 28, mother of three children; and Miss Frazie Pittre, 41 years old. The infant daughter of Whitney Heibert was missing and feared drowned, while (Continued on Page 5)

Wider Use Of Streptomycin Seen In Treatment Of Tuberculosis

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Wider and less expensive use of streptomycin in the treatment of tuberculosis was envisioned today by two Denver doctors.

Reporting on reduced-dosage experiments with tuberculosis guinea pigs, Doctors J. J. Coper and Maurice L. Cohn, of the National Jewish Hospital asserted in the technical journal "Science."

"It would appear that the amount and frequency of administration of streptomycin in tuberculosis can be reduced without appreciable loss of effectiveness."

They said information gained from the animal experiments was preliminary and incomplete, but added:

"This information should extend the present use of streptomycin as an adjunct to the treatment of human tuberculosis and make streptomycin available for human treatment where excessive administration previously was economically prohibitive to certain cases."

The doctors said the drug "is still limited in production," and "economically beyond the reach of some institutions and tuberculosis individuals."

A Washington pharmacist said the present "off-the-shelf" price of the drug for civilians was $5 a gram, compared with $7.50 a gram a year ago when it was scarce.

He said he believes that in cases of tuberculosis where "a lot of it" is needed, the charge might run about $3.75 to $4.00 a gram, but that cost of administering it might add another dollar per gram.

It was learned that the Army has reduced its daily dosage for streptomycin-treated tuberculosis cases by one-half. A year ago, a total of two grams was given daily; today, one gram is given.

The prescribed course of treatment in the Army has also been reduced from 120 days to a lesser period.

An Army doctor who declined to be quoted by name told a reporter:

"We've found it (streptomycin) to be a valuable adjunct in the treatment of tuberculosis, but it is not the final answer by a long shot."

GERMAN GOVERNMENT

LONDON, Nov. 7 (AP)—Authoritative Whitehall sources said today Britain and the United States had tentatively agreed upon creation of a "provisional parliament" for western Germany if the Big Four failed to agree on a German peace treaty.
