Rural Renewal Program Yields $65 Million To Arkansas

By Tom Nolan Newspaper Enterprise Assn. ASHDOWN, Ark (NEA) -

The seeds which led to the rural renewal program - a harvest which has yielded about $65 million in federal grants and loans to Little River County-were sown in early April 1960, when John F. Knnedy began his West Virginia primary campaign.

Kennedy's victory in the primary-most experts agree it was the key step in his rise to the Democratic presidential nomination - was the result of hard work and determination.

The dismal living conditions in that depressed area opened Kennedy's eyes to the realities of poverty. "He wallowed in poverty for aix weeks," says an observer.

"Hubert Humphrey was his schoolmaster," adds another. "Humphrey pointed the issues out, and Kennedy developed them. He had to in order to win the primary. But he never forgot them."

Kennedy saw poverty conditions first hand there and they became living symbols of something that had to be destroyed. This led to the creation of the Rural Areas Development (RAD) program in 1962, a series of directives which mobilized the full resources of the Department of Agriculture (USDA) to aid rural America.

One of the directives established the rural renewal program, mainly an effort to check the vast exodus of people from farms to cities.

If the architect of the rural renewal program was John Kennedy, the contractor has been Orville Freeman, director of the sprawling Agriculture Department, which crit ics note "Is growing faster than the number of farmers is declining."

Freeman, whose role in the war on poverty has been greatly expanded by President Johnson, is currently changing USDA's orientation from that of a "farmer's department" to one of a "people's depart-

"The answer is not to transform rural poverty into urban poverty, but to strike at the causes of poverty and rural decay," says Freeman.

To help the low-income farmer, Freeman points out, USA can do two things. "We can use the commercially oriented approach," he says. "But to really help the poor farmer who's earning less than $2,000 a year, we'd have to raise price supports 150 per cent. And that just doesn't make sense.

"The only other thing we can do is help him build a decent home and live in a decent community." Freeman's advice to farmers is not "Don't leave the farm," but simply "Give yourself an option or two." He points out that only one of ten young men entering farming is going to be able to make a better living than in almost any other business he might Freeman stresses the need for local initiative in the war on poverty. In the last four years, progress has been spectacular not only in the rural renewal program-where Little River County is the only pilot project-but in the many areas of USDA aid (loans and grants) which can be initiated on an individual basis. Hard - working and strong-willed, Freeman - who, as a Marine lieutenant had part of of his jaw shot off by a Japanese sniper during World V'ar II-had to literally force his "people-oriented" approach past skeptical Agriculture Department veterans.

In the process, Freeman has discovered a vast new area: a kind of rural constituency. "It may well be the biggest constituency in the country," says one of Freeman's associates, "and Orville always looking for new ways to serve

The road has not been easy. Freeman has not been a particularly popular Secretary of Agriculture, but the job has never been one which creates heroes. At times, virtually every farmers' lobby in the country has been calling for his scalp.

'Miss Flame'

In State Meet By Jane Casselberry Seminole County's "Miss Flame," Hobby Lee Watkins, of Casselberry, will be a contestant for the title of "Miss Florida Flame" on May 6 at the State Fireman's Association convention in Jacksonville. The Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department, which sponsored her in the "Miss Flame of Seminole County" contest held at the Longwood Fire Department's Fourth of July celchration, will sponsor her at the convention. Money for the trip was allocated at a recent meeting of the town council.

The pretty 17-year-old redhead will be accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Watkins, of Quintuplet Drive, Bobbie is a senior at Lyman High School,

She has chosen to wear in the contest a lovely white satin gown with a scoop neckline and belt shaped skirt highlighted by a large white satin rose at the waistline.

REDUCED PRICE Last week we advertised this fine old two-story home at $12.000, a very reasonable price. The owner called long distance and said if it would sell fast he would let it go for $10,900. We think he's "giving it away," but that's Hild business. If you want to raise your family in a real HOME, and not a crowded "crackerhoz," this is your Ever thought about that word - its deep, stirring meaning? We start out as part of a family. And even though we know we are "little" it doesn't matter. We are part of the family-that's important. And what we will become—the family is looking out for that!

Then one day we are grownups. And again we are part of a family. But now we are "big." Oh so big! For what the rest of the family will become—that depends on us!

How important a part did the Church play in your transition from being little to being big? Well, in this free land, the chances are good that you grew up spiritually as well as physically.

But, even if you didn't-it's not too late! Not only can you see your children off to a free and fine education, but you can come with them to church . . . where the "little" and the "big" learn of GOD . . . where the truth of Christ's teaching guides the destiny of THE FAMILY.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor en earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a store-house of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy

nor civilization can aurylve. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regu-larly and support the Church. They
