Invention of W. T. Donnelly Will Solve Big Part of Question

INVENTOR HERE

LAST WINTER AND IS RECEIVING MUCH FAVORABLE NOTICE IN NORTH.

Right in line with the ship by water campaign of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce is the following letter from W. T. Donnelly who spent a month here last season and who is an enthusiastic Sanford booster and a member of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce:

New York, July 30, 1921. Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.

Gentlemen:—In one of your publications, you gave the "Dawn" and "New Era" space and described the system of electric propulsion as applied to a convoy of boats.

We are sure you will be interested in the report of the Canal Committee to the New York State Barge Canal conference, dated June 30th, 1921, copy of which we enclose, and which will give you an idea of the development of the plan for electric propulsion up-to-date.

This report has received considerable notice in New York newspapers and we thought you would like to know about it as some of Mr. Donnelly's friends in your city will be interested.

Mr. Donnelly is now on his way from New York to Oswego passing through the New York State Barge Canal and demonstrating this system with his boats.

We enclose a clipping from the Journal of Commerce dated July 21.

The clipping follows:

William T. Donnelly, the well known dry dock designer, yesterday demonstrated his new idea of a unique application of electricity for the propulsion of boats. A large number of shipping men, marine engineers and naval architects boarded the two 30-foot boats—the New Era and Dawn—while they were moored to Pier 2 in the North River and saw a practical application of the system. In the Dawn a Van Blerc gasoline engine had been installed to drive an electric

PRESIDENT IS OPTIMISTIC OVER ERA OF PEACE AND SEES DISARMAMENT COMING

Landing of the Pilgrim Fathers Observed by Big Celebration

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Aug. 2.—Another Mayflower came to Plymouth yesterday, this one the presidential yacht, bringing President Harding and an official party to join in formal observance of the tercentenary of the landing of the pilgrims.

The Mayflower's passengers of 300 years ago, landed on a wild coast marked only by Indian trails. Those of yesterday made landing to an official welcome in scenes that offered striking contrast with those that faced the others. Through the streets of the town streamed thousands of governors, lesser officials, men of high social degree and those of labor. Many of the men formed in a colorful parade in which were direct descendants of both the first settlers and of the friendly Indians with whom they lived in peace.

Hope that the disarmament conference called by the United States may bring to the world a new era of peace and freedom, was expressed by

Race Clash Feared As Result Negro Killing White Lad

PETERSBURG, Va., Aug. 2.—Panic of citizens last night were searching the country near Farmville, Va., for James Causey, negro, charged with running down and killing Herbert Pillow, a young white boy, with an automobile late Saturday.

Pillow and his father, reports from Farmville state, were walking along a paved road a few miles out of town when the automobile which Causey was driving struck the boy, killing him almost instantly. It is reported mob violence is threatened in the event the negro is captured.

Telephone reports from Farmville at 9:30 o'clock last night state that negroes are congregating in various parts of the town and that police officers are experiencing difficulty in dispersing them and preserving order. It is feared that a race clash may ensue in the event Causey should be captured.

YOUNG MAN WHIPPED BY MASKED MEN

LAKELAND, Aug. 2.—One of the most brutal crimes ever committed in this section was perpetrated near Mulberry late Saturday night, when six masked men waylaid an automobile in which William Musgrove, of Prairie Peble, with his nephew, L. B. Hughes of Georgia, were returning from Mulberry to Prairie Peble.

When a short distance out of Mulberry, Musgrove, who was driving the car, noticed a car crosswise of the road and stopped. As soon as his machine came to a stop the six masked men surrounded the car and took Hughes, a youth of twenty-two, out of the machine, after having covered both occupants with six-shooters.

Musgrove was told to leave and he drove back to Mulberry, a distance of less than a mile and summoning help returned to the scene of the holdup but no trace of the party was found.

Shortly before daylight Sunday morning an automobile party driving from Lakeland to Mulberry found young Hughes in the road, naked, with a gash in his head, both eyes blackened, and his body covered with bruises. He was taken to Mulberry, where he was treated by Dr. Pierce.

Hughes said that his captors took him to a mine near Prairie Peble and after tearing his clothes from his back tied him to a post and lashed him unmercifully with a piece of leather belting. He said that when he asked the men why they were trying to kill him, that the only reply he received was a pistol barrel shoved into his eye by one of the members of the gang while another struck him over the head with the butt end of a revolver.

Postmistress of West Palm Beach in Custody

FOUND MAIL SACKS

FOUND IN ROOM AT HOTEL THAT HAD CONTAINED STOLEN MONEY

ORLANDO, Aug. 2.—W. H. Miltmore, proprietor of the Arcade restaurant, was found dead, shot through the heart, in a room at a local hotel about 10 o'clock last night.

Lena Clarke, postmistress at West Palm Beach and daughter of a minister of that place, who registered for the room Sunday afternoon, is being held by the local authorities, charged with murder.

Baxter Lee, chauffeur, who drove the woman from West Palm Beach, is also held as an accessory before the fact.

Beside the body in the room two cut money bags, which had presumably held the sum of $32,000, stolen in a robbery of the West Palm Beach postoffice last Tuesday, were found.

According to the story of the clerk at the hotel, the young Clarke woman registered at the hotel late yesterday afternoon. Miltmore went to the room around 6 o'clock. No shot was heard and no inkling of the tragedy came to the inmates of the hotel until the authorities went to the room to make an investigation.

Chief Vestel states that about nine o'clock a young woman came to police headquarters and requested to see the chief of police privately. He asked the young woman to come with him to his office in the city hall. She told him that her name was Clarke and that she came from West Palm Beach. She asked him if he knew Miltmore and he replied that he did.

The young woman then went on to tell of the robbery at the West Palm Beach postoffice where she was postmistress. She stated that she had suspected Miltmore of the robbery and had enticed him to her room in the local hotel. She said that she had known he was a morphine addict and that she had given him some of the drug, which she had procured in West Palm Beach from a doctor's case. She said that she did this to hold the man until she could notify

HUNDREDS CASES OF PELLAGRA IN STATE OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Aug. 2.—More than 400 cases of pellagra in Oklahoma were today reported to Dr. A. R. Lewis, state health commissioner, who said he was sure there were from 500 to 600 cases in the state. The disease is becoming prevalent among the Indians, according to the health commissioner, especially among the women, who stay at home much of the time and live principally on corn bread and salt pork. The men spend much time in towns where they eat various foods and thus escape pellagra, according to the commissioner.

TOWN MARSHAL WHIPPED

ORLANDO, Aug. 2.—City Marshal Harris, of Winter Garden, after receiving a severe whipping at the hands of unknown parties in that city Sunday, was urged to depart from the community. He caught a train from Orlando Sunday afternoon.

Harris says his activities in breaking up a bootlegging combine at Winter Garden are the cause, and from other sources his connection with negro trouble in that city is assigned to the reason of his enforced departure. It is reported that the same parties who whipped Harris bought a ticket for Harris' wife for a small town in Tennessee.

This is the fourth whipping to occur in Orange county during the past several months.

It is astonishing how much publicity these men who are against Sunday newspapers manage to get in the Sunday newspapers.

SANFORD, THE GREATEST WINTER GARDEN IN THE WHOLE WORLD

From the Industry Press, Industry, Illinois

Among the many fine descriptions of Sanford written by the members of the National Editorial Association there are none quite so good and certainly none with as good descriptive matter as the following from the Industry Press, of Industry, Ill.:

At Winter Park we transferred to the fleet of automobiles which the Sanford boosters sent over, and started to the "Celery City." This was another fine trip over good roads. The people all over Florida seem to have unbounded faith in the future of the state, but we saw the most striking example of this between Winter Park and Sanford.

In a little clearing in the brush by the side of the road, miles from any town that we could see, was a small tract of land which had been surveyed and platted, white stakes indicating the boundaries of the lot, and a sign big enough that even those who ran might read announced that early buyers could secure choice lots in "this addition at low figures." On inquiry we were told that the place was seven or eight miles from town. Whether the addition is to become a part of Winter Park, which we had left, or a part of Sanford which was several miles ahead, we did not learn. Verily, we had not found such faith in all Florida.

While the promoters of this project may have been too optimistic it is really surprising how towns grow in Florida, and additions a long way from town are quickly reached and incorporated in the main part of the city.

We arrived in Sanford about eleven o'clock and spent about two hours driving about the city and through adjacent truck farms which are devoted mainly to the growing of celery. Other vegetables are grown but celery of unexcelled quality is grown in vast quantities there, and Sanford is known as "The Celery City."

The city is about the size of Macomb, has wide paved streets, beautiful residences, and a substantial business section and seems to be a prosperous city. It is the head of navigation, for large boats, on the St. Johns river and a heavy freight and passenger business is carried from there to Jacksonville.

The Clyde line operates a fine line of river steamers between the two points and a ride on the beautiful St. Johns river is a real treat if one has plenty of time for travelling. A fine tourist hotel, which is to be a prominent feature of the beautiful water front which Sanford is planning, will be built in the near future. The structure will embody the latest ideas in resort hotel construction and when completed will give Sanford a hotel of which any city might be proud.

The celery and truck fields were very interesting, and much time was spent driving through the farming area near town.

The celery was being harvested. Hundreds of men, women and children were in the fields gathering and crating celery and trucks were busy hauling crated celery to the cars. As no stops were made, we got no statistics concerning shipments, but the total must be large.

Colored labor is generally employed though occasionally white folks are seen working in the fields. A great many of the laborers, as well as the operators, live in town. Good roads make it possible to reach the farms in a few minutes, any time of the year. Nearly every farm had a jitney bus or two standing by the roadside, waiting to transport workers to town when the day's work was done.

The land about Sanford is very level, of fairly good color, judged from a corn belt farmer's point of view, and is very productive. Intense cultivation is practiced, and, fertilization and irrigation are employed to stimulate the rapid growth which plays an important part in the growing of good celery. Spraying is also necessary to bring celery to maturity in the best condition, but the grower's reward comes at harvest time and a field of celery, ready for cutting is a beautiful sight. To a lover of celery, the "breath of new mown hay" of which the poet sings, is a weak-sister to the rich, teasing, nut-like perfume that floats on the breezes that cross a celery field.

At one farm, a truck load of celery was waiting for the visitors, and as they passed, every one received a mammoth bunch of clean celery and a small sack of salt. As it was noon, and we had been driving all forenoon without food or water, the gift was greatly appreciated.

Sanford was the originator of a new system of sub-irrigation, known as the Sanford system. It has been followed with marked success and a crop failure under this system is unknown. The land, as stated before, is nearly, if not quite level and is irrigated from artesian wells. These are drilled and cased with gas pipe three or four inches in diameter fitted with valves for regulating the flow of water. We did not learn the depth of these wells, but were told that the cost ranged from $75 to $150 each and that so far as known, would flow forever. Some of the older wells had been flowing for forty years. There are over 3,000 wells in the Sanford Celery Delta and no perceptible decrease in output has been noticed.

After the well is drilled a supply main, a four inch tile, is laid along the high end of the field, with smaller tile branching at right angles at intervals of 18 to 24 feet apart. These smaller tile run across the field at a depth of 16 to 24 inches below the surface with a fall of one inch to every hundred feet, and empty into an open ditch at the other end. Each tile, however, just before it reaches the ditch, passes through a controlling box built of cement which has three openings one above the other. By closing these openings the water can be held back in the soil of the field to a height of twelve inches above the tile. By opening or closing outlets the amount of water supplied to the plants can be regulated to meet the requirements. One very necessary requisite to this kind of irrigation is a subsoil of clay or hard pan at from two to four feet below the surface to hold the water brought in by irrigation. A porous subsoil would allow the water to escape below. If the subsoil, for instance, is three feet below the surface, and water is turned on thru the system, no moisture will begin to come to the surface until the eighteen inches of earth between the tile and the subsoil is saturated with water. When this is done the moisture is then drawn to the surface by capillary attraction. Seminole county is practically the only area of any considerable extent where this system can be applied.

The above system of tiling serves in a dual capacity. In times of excessive rainfall, the well is shut off and the outlets to the tile outlets opened and all surplus water drains off immediately. Sanford fields can be worked within three or four hours after the heaviest rains.

Air is also necessary to plant life and this system of irrigation assists in applying air to the very roots of the plants. This sub-aeration is also of considerable importance as a means of protection in cold weather.

To buy land at $200 per acre and spend $250 per acre more to irrigate it may seem a foolish waste of money, but the yield from such land is so much greater than it otherwise would be, that the expense is justifiable. An acre has produced seventy tons of vegetables in a single nine months' season. These vegetables sold for over $5,000 in northern markets. After deducting $1,000 for freight, $4,000 was left for the grower. In one instance $32,000 worth of lettuce and cucumbers were produced on a 22 acre tract.

The foregoing instances are unusual but the normal revenue from an acre ranges from one to three thousand dollars. Improved land is priced from one to two thousand dollars per acre. It requires three or four years' cultivation to bring the land to its fullest productivity.

The communications, made public today, were sent out in accordance with resolutions adopted at the Denver convention.

BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMEN'S CLUB.

The Business and Professional Women's Club held its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening at the Woman's Club. The meeting was well attended and most enthusiastic.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. John Leonardy, and an interesting business program followed. The president announced the appointment of Miss Virginia Smith to represent the Business and Professional Women's Club in the Conopus Club.

After the business program the Research committee was given charge of the meeting. Miss Mell Whitner, the chairman, had arranged a program on the "Ten Commandments of Business." These were read and discussed by different members, among them being Mrs. E. E. Cox, who gave a fine exposition of the first commandment: "Thou shalt not quit." Miss Annie Lee, Miss Fannie Reba Munson, Miss Virginia Smith and others also spoke on different commandments. Mrs. R. C. Maxwell read a poem, "You Can If You Think You Can." Altogether this program furnished a lesson and an inspiration to all present.

After the program Grape-Nut ice cream was served.

This club now has over one hundred members and is rapidly becoming an important factor in our city.

SERVICES AT HOLY CROSS CHURCH.

The only services during August at Holy Cross Church, will be the Vesper service each Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The rector spends August for his holiday at Daytona Beach at the Manor apartments on the beach. While there, he will officiate at Saint Mary's church, at Daytona, and the new Daytona mission, Trinity chapel, now holding services in the beach theatre in the Arcade, during the absence of the Daytona rector, Rev. Fr. McKay.

The story of pirates at sea is rather absurd. Why should they go to sea when they are free to operate on land?

CHULUOTA

Everybody seems to be enjoying the good old summer time. The nice rains of afternoons keep the weather cool for the evening and night.

Miss May Long, who was very ill last week, is much better.

Miss Sadia Blackburn left last week for her old home in Elliston, Ky., where she will visit her sister and brothers until September when she will enter Eastern Kentucky state school for this coming school year.

Miss Dittmyer of Ft. Pierce, the B. Y. P. U., state worker, was with us last week. She taught a class in B. Y. P. U., training and assisted in organizing a young peoples union here.

Elmo Lightfoot and wife are visiting at David Self's this week.

Mrs. J. F. Story, who has been at the hospital in Orlando for a month, is home again very much improved in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dann have for their guests this week Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dann, of Orlando, and Mrs. Ruth Ponce, of Jacksonville.

A number of our folks spent Wednesday camping and picnicking on the St. Johns prairie. All report a pleasant time.

Lee Futch, who has been working for the East Coast Cattle Co., for the past year, is at home here for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Aulin and son, Theodore, Jr., of Oviedo, were visiting J. T. Jacobs, Sunday afternoon.

Matthew Best and Mayme Futch were married in Sanford last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Mary S. Nixon has purchased a beautiful home in Orlando and with her brother, Chas. T. Steever, will move there at an early date. We are indeed sorry to lose this estimable family from among us. The Nixons and Steevers are among Chuluota's earliest and staunchest citizens, and the best wishes of a host of friends go with them to their new home.

Mr. Wynn and Joe Nixon have purchased a turpentine business near Ocala and will take charge of it at once.

Henry Futch and family have moved to their new home just purchased east of Chuluota.

The remains of Hazel Harrell Colvin arrived from Arkansas last Friday and were interred in the Chuluota cemetery Sunday morning. Hazel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Harrell, of this place. She was reared here. She was married to Lee Colvin in the winter of 1920. She went with him to his home in Arkansas, where she died in November. Her body was temporarily buried in Arkansas with that of her infant daughter, Grace Lee. A few weeks ago Undertaken Hand, of Orlando, arranged to have the bodies of both mother and child brought home for burial in the family lot in the Chuluota cemetery. The father and mother, brother, Fred, and sister Daisy, and Mrs. Rogers, and family of Orlando, and Chas. Harrell, and wife, of Winter Park, were all present at the burial service. The funeral services were conducted by Prof. J. Tilden Jacobs and the remains were laid to rest among the relatives of her family.

J. E. Snyder, our genial merchant, planned a delightful surprise for Mrs. Snyder last Sunday. It being her birthday, Mr. Snyder arranged with Mrs. C. D. Brumley to have the refreshments prepared at her house. When the guests arrived the delicious refreshments came too, which all who partook enjoyed to the utmost. The evening was pleasantly spent in visiting, singing, etc. The guests took leave at a late hour, wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

BUSHNELL—A husky wildcat which weighed twenty-five pounds, was captured several days ago by Dr. J. T. Clark and W. J. Fussell, of this city, who tackled the animal with their bare hands and succeeded in subduing it only after Fussell had been scratched severely. Dr. Clark escaped without injury. Dr. Clark and Fussell were driving to the Bethel sawmill near here when they saw the cat in a palmetto clump. They were searching for clubs with the intention of killing it when one suggested that they take it alive. The cat fled with the men after it and every time it would stop to rest they would close in. The chase continued for about three miles when the men managed to corner the animal. Fussell grabbed the cat about the neck and with the assistance of Clark its feet were tied. The prize is now in a strong cage here.

SAY IT IN "BLAH"

Pitcher Carl Mays of the Yankees has coined a new word to hurl at umpires. It's "Blah."
When his ump ruffles the submarine pitcher, he gets the "Blah" stuff submarined at him. Umpire Chill contends that this newly coined word for baseball players is okay with him as it doesn't mean anything. That's a good tip to other quick-spoken ball players. Just say "Blah." It gives you the satisfaction of showing just how you feel about a thing without having to take a vacation and a fine.

MAY BE PSYCHOLOGY

Pitchers occasionally shift their jinx around from one club to another.
Take Sam Jones of the Boston Red Sox.
Jones used to beat the White Sox by simply "throwing his glove" at them. This year the Sox have beaten him twice.
Dutch Leonard of the Tigers is another hurler who has lost his charm. Last year Leonard beat Cleveland three out of four games. This year he is "pick-in" for the Spunkies.
This pitcher's jinx is an unaccountable thing in baseball. Maybe it's psychology.

Baseball Notes

University of Pittsburgh has awarded letters to 13 members of the varsity baseball team.

Leo Barrett, a semi-pro first baseman from Sugloaw, has joined the Pittsburgh Nationals.

A critic in New York says with reasonable good pitching the Giants still have a look in for the pennant.

Catcher Frank Dehaney has located again. He is now with Winston-Salem in the Piedmont league.

Joe Pirrone, Los Angeles youth recently released by Tacoma, was taken on by Salt Lake for a trial.

National Association of Minor Leagues has announced a nation-wide campaign against baseball pools.

Shortstop Johnny Smith, formerly with the Indianapolis A. A. club, has joined the Philadelphia Nationals.

Bunny Hearne, veteran pitcher of Kroh, who has been southpawing for majors and minors, is now with the Wilson club of the Virginia league.

Pete Hughes, infielder, has been purchased by the Galveston club from Oklahoma City of the Western league.

Kato Tanaka, the Babe Ruth of the Japanese baseball team, now touring this country, hasn't lost any baseball yet.

Walter Knight, a pitcher, has been sent to the Rochester International league club by the New York Americans.

Wilbur Davis is not only pitching good ball for the Augusta club, but he is one of the Sally league's leading hitters.

Why should a pitcher throw good balls to a batter when he goes after bad ones? Answer: There isn't any reason.

The Baltimore club has sold Nigel Marlette, utility infielder, to the Spartanburg club of the South Atlantic league.

Outfielders in Navin field in Detroit are playing 30 feet further back than in previous years. Blame is on the lively ball.

That veteran of veterans, Floyd Kroh, who has been southpawing for Wichita Falls this season, has been given his release.

Enoch ("Ginger") Shinnault, catcher of the New Haven club of the Eastern league, has been sold to the Cleveland American League.

St. Louis Browns have purchased Jay Reilly, a second baseman from the Vancouver club of the Pacific International league.

However, there has been nothing in the speed shown by our pitchers to indicate that the league ball travels any faster than it did before.

Just showing how the White Sox have changed. In the game of June 21 against Cleveland Ray Schalk was the only 1920 regular in Kid Gleason's lineup.

Mutt Williams may not have been able to pitch winning ball for Dallas, but with San Antonio he's about as good as any twirler in the Texas league.

A pair of Howard college players who are with Wilson in the Virginia league are being touted strongly. One is Walker, an infielder, the other Head, a catcher.

Paul Hinkle, Butler college baseball coach, who recently signed to play with the Indianapolis association team, has been shifted to Spartanburg of the Sally league.

Adolfo Pieratti is pitching some fine ball for Houston, win or lose, and the young Californian may get another trial with Branch Rickey Cardinals this fall, if not sooner.

Babe Ruth has nothing on Connolly, San Antonio outfielder. He hit three homers in one game and the next day came back with another, thus making it four in two straight games.

Several minor league clubs attempted to open negotiations with Duffy Lewis when Washington let him out, but he turned them down, hoping to catch on with some big league club.

Diamond Squibs

Joe Boehling has found himself with Bridgeport.

Frank Gay, shortstop, has been taken on by Salt Lake for a trial.

Peoria has purchased Catcher Louis Gazollo from the Wichita Western league club.

Terre Haute has sent Pitcher Lefty Palm to Hay City of the Mint league, under option.

Detroit got waivers on both Sugg Sutherland and Vernon Parks and they go back to Portland.

Torporcer, the infielder who wears spectacles, has been recalled from Syracuse by the Cardinals.

The Detroit club has purchased a shortstop from the Bristol club of the Appalachian league, named Jimmy Wilcox.

Shortstop Clyde Defate is back in the Western league, the St. Joseph club having purchased him from Columbus.

Infielder Henry Gingsland has been sold by Salt Lake to Portland and Monroe Swartz has been turned back to Seattle.

Yes, there are colored players in the major leagues. Sure thing! Brown of the Giants and Blue of Detroit, for instance.

Pitcher Bill Matthews of the Baltimore International league club has been sent to the Moline (Ill.) club of the Three-I league.

The High Point club of the Piedmont league announces the sale of James (Red) Holt, first baseman to the New York Americans.

Eddie Lennon, who has been on the Bridgeport pitching staff for several years, has been released to Portsmouth of the Virginia league.

One of the late additions from the college fields to the Athletics is Walter Wolfe, a southpaw pitcher. He hails from Lebanon Valley college.

George (Duffy) Lewis located himself last week and will be back in the Pacific Coast league. He has agreed to join the Salt Lake club.

Catcher Ollie Fuhrman, turned back to Connie Mack by Atlanta when Bill Bariden was signed, has been transferred to the Norfolk club of the Virginia league.

Pitcher Joe Cooper, last year in the Minor league and this year playing independent ball, has come back into the fold and has joined the Bloomington Three-I team.

Chief Leonard, captain and pitcher of the Colgate university baseball team, has joined the Chicago Cubs for a trial. He was an all around athletic star at Colgate.

A new collegian with the Chattanooga team is George Johnson, who comes from Alabama. The Detroit club had signed him, turning him over to Chattanooga for seasoning.

Walter Keeley, the youngster who has been with Rochester under option from Brooklyn, has been recalled by the Brooklyn club and shipped to Rockford of the Three-I league.

The Kitchener club is the latest in the Mint league to appeal to the fans for help. The officers of the club announce a deficit of over $11,000, part of it from last year's operations.

Ike Boone, the Alabama star, who is doing such great work for the New Orleans Pelicans, will naturally go to the Brooklyn Dodgers under the working agreement between the two clubs.

The three best pitchers in the Coast league are all major league dilettantes. They are Johnny Couch, Frank O'Doul and Arthur Reinhart. O'Doul is the most spectacular, because of his long winning streak.

George Swartz, left-hander of the Dallas pitching staff holds the honor of pitching the first no-hit game of the season in the Texas league. He sat Houston down without a safety in a 1 to 0 game on June 23.

That curfew law is the thing.

Now let it be enforced to the letter for every child in the city.

And let the police force get active in finding out just what the young boys are doing at night.

Many of the kids twelve and fourteen years old are getting cigarettes and whiskey. Where are they getting them? It should be somebody's business to know.

August is supposed to be a dull month but it will be one of Sanford's best. The business men of this city will not allow for any dull months in Sanford and they intend to put on the special sales all of this month and make it worth while to come to Sanford to trade. The business men of this city realize that it is wise to dispose of their summer goods while it is summer and get ready for their fall and winter goods that are coming along from time to time. It is the wise merchant that puts on sales and sells the goods while the selling is good and it is the wise merchant who advertises judiciously and uses the Daily and Weekly Herald to set forth his special bargains in a manner that will make them move. It is up to the merchants of any city as to whether they want to take a vacation during the summer months or whether they want to keep things moving by putting on sales and keeping business moving.

OUR BOYS

Boys are nervous animals and in the "calf stage" between the ages of 12 and 20 are apt to have many queer ideas of the world in general and they are at once the pleasure and despair of their parents, their teachers and their friends. Boys must have some outlet for their buoyant animal spirits and the best way to give them an outlet is to give them something to do in the day time in the way of work and recreation of some sort at night. There are many ways in which they can be taken care of and Sanford men are doing their utmost to take care of them in the right manner. In this work, however, they are receiving but poor support from the parents of the boys who could be and should be receiving benefit from the efforts of a few public-spirited men. The Sanford men who have plenty and who could give to the institutions that are endeavoring to care for the boys are the ones who are giving nothing—no time or money—and it will come home to them with full force some day that they have had the greatest opportunity of their life to serve and they have passed by on the other side. Few men in this city give any time to the growing boys, the future citizens of the city and state. Few men wish to take up any time with the education of the youth and consequently with the exception of a few who have done and are doing all they can to keep the boys in the decent places, there has been but little accomplished in this respect.

And what will the harvest be? You can get your answer from present and future events. And this laxity on the part of the majority of the men of Sanford can be laid at their doors and not at those of the real men of this city who are doing all in their power to keep the boys clean and are doing it by their own individual efforts. If every citizen of Sanford gave a dollar a year to the community fund for the betterment of the boys through the various organizations that are working here for the boys there would be some of the greatest stunts pulled off here for the benefit of the boys that the world has ever witnessed.

But these men do not take any interest in this great movement and the great movements lag for the want of necessary funds with which to prosecute the work and the boys roam the streets and fall into bad company and you know the rest.

HARDING MEANT WELL

Anent the campaign that President Harding wanted to pull in the south to stamp out pellagra we believe that he was actuated by the best of motives and that he wanted to help the South. It might have seemed like bad advertising to say that the South was hard hit by the low price of cotton and that some of the people were not making high wages and they were not getting the proper food and consequently pellagra had broken out again. But regardless of all that it seems to us that President Harding in his statement wanted to help the South and that he really had information from official sources that pellagra had developed to an alarming degree in some of the Southern states. Florida was not specified and some of our Sanford physicians who know, say that pellagra is in the South and most of us who have studied the situation also know that it is in the South and has been in Florida. If the president of the United States wants to give the South the assistance of the board of health and other bureaus to stamp out the disease we think his heart is certainly in the right place and he had no wish to injure Florida or any other Southern state. We are always willing to give a man credit for trying to do what he thinks is right and we believe President Harding was right.

THIS WOULD PAY WAR DEBT AND BONUS

Not one rich man's son out of 17 ever dies rich, Dr. Russell Conwell ascertains. Usually the rich man's son squanders it in some spectacular way, setting a bad example to other youths of the country. Then why not solve our tax problems and pay our deserving service men a bonus, as every other country has done, using as an instrument an inheritance tax which shall operate on swollen fortunes. A tax, for instance, that would take all but one million dollars of each swollen fortune upon the death of its owner, would pay off the war debt in this generation and impose no hardships on anybody. The worst it could do might be to turn the minds of some of our gilded youth toward something more really satisfying and wholesome, than hunting for a good time.

Such an inheritance tax would pay for the war in twenty years. It is a tax that could not be passed on to the people. As nearly all existing great fortunes either were built up or were doubled during the war, while the young men of the country were sacrificing their opportunities or their lives and health, it is only simple justice that after this wealth has served its accumulator, that all there is remaining of it over a million dollars should be turned over to the government for the purpose of paying off the debt created by that war. Can you see anything wrong about that?—Capper's Weekly.

NO SECTIONALISM IN THE INCOME TAX

The income tax returns by states for the year 1919 throw an interesting light on the alleged sectionalism of the tax. The great manufacturing states of the North and East, New York leading, necessarily contributed the largest amount of tax revenue. Ohio, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Illinois, all paid taxes on net income in excess of $1,000,000,000 and New York on nearly $3,500,000,000. But analyzed with respect to the average tax bill of the individual tax payer, the figures effectually dispose of the charge of a conspiracy of the cotton states to mulch the North.

Thus, this average for North Carolina, Claude Kitchin's state, was $269.20, as compared with $183.27 for Ohio. For Louisiana it was $243.73, as against $235.41 for Illinois, $237.36 for Pennsylvania and $204.18 for New Jersey. Georgia's and Florida's averages were $155 and $140.26 respectively, as against $125.10 for Colorado and $126.67 for Minnesota. In Alabama the average was $114.45 and in Arkansas $120.20, which compare with $109.35 in Indiana and $118.15 in Iowa.

Altogether the tax appears to find the income, from whatever section of the country derived, and to operate equitably. Where wealth is concentrated a larger aggregate will be taken by the tax collector, this being an inescapable condition of the levy. But the fallacy is pretty well disproved that there is any degree of sectionalism in the income tax.—New York Times.

TRANSPORTATION BY STEAMER AND TRUCK.

There seems to be no doubt but that freight rates have reached a point that compels us to look for additional methods of transportation—by truck and by steamer. Florida, has been dependent on two lines of railroads for the transportation of huge quantities of produce for too long—seemingly. We have a short thirty miles on our West Coast to build which would give a short line to northern points and relieve the very evident congestion of both outgoing and incoming freight. When we look back over the years that this short span has been lying practically all graded, we begin to wonder if we have not been treated unfairly. That piece of railroad was started and abandoned, and the contractors paid off for the amount of labor uncompleted. The railroad evidently foresaw something or other that would redound to their benefit over the longer haul.

In justice to the railroads it must be admitted that this section of the state is the child of their creation. But the child has grown—so much so that it is now being improperly administered to. We complain, and we think with good reason. We must take to the water and to the motor truck. The Mallory and Clyde lines of steamers have been operating to Florida points, and to the everlasting credit of these lines it must be stated that both have built their business from a non-profit basis to the volume they now enjoy—which is not at all on a really paying volume, it must be understood. There are other lines operating from the West Coast: The Gulf and Southern Steamship Company, plying between Tampa and New Orleans, and the Peninsula and Occidental Steamship Company, between Tampa and Cuba.

In the past we have been troubled with car shortage and bad rolling stock, especially in refrigerator cars. Congestions of traffic have caused tremendous losses to Florida shippers and consignees. If the railroads are overloaded, and if it is impossible to handle freights at other than a well-nigh prohibitive rate to Florida growers and shippers, then we feel it should be right and proper for us to turn to those other methods of transportation that are not overloaded, not subject to congestion of traffic, and which will constitute a competitive way without which we are hardly likely to get anywhere on a plane of justice or equality. South and Central Florida are being stifled. We must come up for air, and we think the way lies via the water and motor routes. We want to get along in amity with the railroads, but we think this matter of transportation is bigger than they know of—or possibly care to think of.—Florida Grower.

BOBBED HAIR.

Some reformers are never so unhappy as when they have nothing to reform. Perhaps that is the reason why some of them, after expressing disapproval of the extreme in feminine attire, want to regulate the length of women's hair. Such regulations would have little or no effect, generally speaking. Attempts have been made to regulate women's apparel by law or by proclamations, but not much success has attended them. The attacks on bobbed hair doubtless would pass without serious notice were it not that some industrial concerns in the east have made rules against it. Some years ago various factory owners and railway executives issued orders against the use of intoxicants by their employes because it lowered standards of efficiency. The moral question had nothing to do with the situation. Now it seems, the office executives have decided that girls with bobbed hair are not efficient. It is suspected that any office girl who goes to work attired something like a Christmas tree will be too busy with her mirror, lip stick, eyebrow pencil, rouge pad and powder puff to give all of her time to her employer. There will be sympathy for employers who have struck against turning their office into theatrical dressing rooms. But why a girl can not be just as efficient with bobbed hair as with long tresses is not clear. A girl with bobbed hair has less hair with which to fuss, but it may require more fussing.—Indianapolis News.

AUTO CAMPS NOT SO NUMEROUS

After all the starts made in Leesburg towards the establishing of a free auto camp, finally culminating last winter in a camp that housed a good many travelers, some of whom were grateful and more were inclined to knock the accommodations, we find that only a few towns in Florida are intending to operate these camps the coming winter.

There is another feature of camp life that may add to the inconvenience of those who may return expecting an even greater number of places in which to camp than they had offered them last year. The state board of health found a great deal of objection to some of the camps last winter and a number of people were removed and placed under medical care because they were carriers and spreaders of disease. In some instances in a number of the camps, the investigations made by the health officers disclosed immoral conditions which were extremely undesirable and we were informed only last week by one of the retiring members of the health board that it was the intention to see that more stringent regulations were adopted this winter if the old board had remained in office.—Leesburg Commercial.

A heat wave is not quite so bad as a crime wave. The psychologists don't waste so many words trying to explain it.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Yes, it's hot but the little showers cooled it off considerably last night and it was much cooler. Also the clouds kept the bulb down some yesterday and altogether it was not so worse. We can look for some hot weather this month but when we say hot we do not mean the kind of hot weather that is handed out to the northern states in this month. And then the report today is not bad:

5:40 A. M. AUGUST 2

Maximum 94

Minimum 71

Range 74

Barometer 30.18

Rain, trace. Calm and clear.

August is here.

Some hot child, he is too.

But the backbone of old summer will soon be broken.

Hon. Chris. Codrington, editor of the DeLand News, was a visitor to the city yesterday.

There are as many places of amusement and probably more around Sanford than any other part of the state. All they need is developing.

A squad of men from Company D left yesterday for Jacksonville where they will take preliminary training before the encampment takes place. The company will entrain here Friday morning for Jacksonville and the boys expect to have ten days of vacation and training that will be of great benefit to them.

Stevens being absent, First Vice-President G. W. Knight presided and there were excellent reports from all the committees. Many good things are planned by Sanford Rotarians for the future.

Greene Smith, the efficient baggage master at the A. C. L. union station leaves today for Bainbridge and other points in Georgia where he will spend the next two weeks on a well earned vacation.

DR. MOORE HAILS FROM PENSACOLA TO SANFORD

And Not From Milton as Stated Yesterday in the Herald

On yesterday we were made to recite that Dr. Tom Moore, the optometrist, who has recently arrived in the city to take up his abode and find his fortune, came from Milton to Sanford—this is not the situation. Dr. and Mrs. Moore came to Sanford from Pensacola. He has been in Milton, but not to stay any length of time in years. When Uncle Sam called for fighters he was teaching school in West Florida, but heard the call and spent two years in France and Holland answering that call. Upon his return he took up the study of his chosen profession, optometry and optics, received his degree from the Northern Illinois College of Optometry, took his practical work in the manufacturing department of the Florida Optical Company at Jacksonville, came to Sanford, married Miss Nettie Malines, and the two then went to live in Pensacola where Dr. Moore has for the past year been in charge of the examination, testing, fitting and manufacturing department of the Ingram Optical Parlors, which firm is well known throughout West Florida, Eastern Alabama and South Georgia. Dr. Moore states that he believes in the future of Sanford and to that end he expects to contribute by giving Sanford an up-to-date Optical Parlor. He has purchased Dr. Brand's place, and is now rearranging the fittings, moving in new furnishings and receiving large quantities of both rough and finished stock. Dr. Moore states that he will be well equipped to examine, test and fit any pair of eyes in the city, with glasses made especially for that pair of eyes. He is also able to do manufacturing of lenses and shortly expects to fit his manufacturing department sufficiently to supply all other opticians and optometrists in Middle Florida. The Herald joins in wishing Dr. Moore much success.

RUBY DE REMER HELD MOST PERFECT BY ARTIST

Paul Helleu, Says Leading Woman of "The Passionate Pilgrim" is Beauty Queen

Ruby De Remer, who has the leading feminine role in "The Passionate Pilgrim," the superb Cosmopolitan picture released by Paramount, and which will be shown at the Star Theatre tonight has been proclaimed the queen of American beauties by Paul Helleu, the celebrated French artist.

Mr. Helleu states that Miss De Remer "is perfection in beauty of feature, coloring and grace." The artist is an authority in this regard and his judgment is regarded as the final word so that when he asserts Miss De Remer to be the most perfect type of American femininity, there is none to dispute the dictum.

Miss de Remer has the role of an invalid heiress in "The Passionate Pilgrim" and during most of the action of the story, she is seated in a wheel chair. But love finally cures her and she finds happiness in the love of a man she has befriended—the role portrayed by Matt Moore. The cast is large and exceptionally brilliant.

MASONS ATTENTION.

Regular meeting of Sanford Lodge No. 62 F. & A. M., will be held tonight at 7:30 in the Masonic hall. Work in the Third Degree will be exemplified. All visiting Masons are cordially invited to attend. Refreshments.

WEST PALM BEACH.—Plans are being drawn by County Engineer Roy F. Goldman, for wooden bridges to supplant the ferry service across the West Palm Beach and Hillsborough Canals here. Mr. Goldman estimates that the bridges can be built for approximately $8,000 and although their construction has not been definitely decided upon the county commissioners are said to be in favor of expending part of the first money realized from the issue of bonds voted July 1 for such work.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

WHEN MIXED WITH SULPHUR IT BRINGS BACK ITS BEAUTIFUL LUSTRE AT ONCE

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

ROD AND GUN CLUB HELD MEETING LAST NIGHT AT COURT HOUSE.

The members of the Sanford Rod and Gun Club met last night in the court house for the purpose of adopting by-laws and the discussion of several other important matters.

Seven new members were reported by the committees that have been working on membership, which makes a total membership of 132. The committees have not completed their work and expect to bring in number of applications at the next meeting which will be held on Monday night, August 8th.

By-laws for the government of the club were adopted and are now being drawn up. Printed copies will be sent to each member in a short time. Plans for the new club house were also discussed at last night's meeting and it is expected that an announcement concerning the starting of work on the building will be made as soon as the membership committees have completed their work.

JACKSONVILLE.—In line with the actions of other cities in the state, steps have been taken in city council here toward curbing the nocturnal promenades of this city's juveniles, but according to some of the councilmen, any proposed curfew ordinance will meet with strong opposition. Councilman Garcia would have all persons under the age of 16 off the streets by 9:30 under the terms of his proposal.

CLEARWATER.—Three prominent citizens of Clearwater indulging in the popular local sport of catching mullet with cast nets, experienced the surprise of their lives one night last week when they threw a net into a school of fish in McKay's creek near Indian Rocks. Tavor Bayly, banker, John Davey, landed proprietor, and Charles Campbell, all "mullet hounds" as Campbell, in charge of the party, expressed it, were the co-stars in the play with an alligator four feet long as the leading man. "We stopped at McKay's creek and castnetted along the bank with varying success," said Campbell, in telling of the affair, "but the most sensational part of the evening was when John Davey threw his net over a four foot alligator. That gator just dragged poor Davey all over the flat at the mouth of the creek. When Mr. Alligator got tired of the fun, he stood up on his hind legs, carefully unfastened the net and left. Davey didn't have such bad luck, after all, for there were twenty-four big mullet left in the net."
