Many Won Medals, But No One Left Empty-Handed

"Wait until next year" might be the theme for those who didn't win medals during the week-long Golden Age Games in Sanford. But no one left empty-handed.

According to one senior, "When these games are over, even if I don't win any medals I've made a lot of friends and had a lot of fun."

According to Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce executive director Jack Horner, approximately 900 games participants left with gold, silver or bronze medals.

"We had 2,272 entrants in the games, and we would have loved to have given everyone a medal just for participating, but I'm sure even those who didn't win enjoyed themselves and will be back next year," he said.

According to Horner, city residents and such people as Gilberto Gonzalez from Puerto Rico and others from Arizona and California attended the events.

"Last year we had about 1,500 participants, and each year we just keep on growing," Horner said. "And we don't plan on stopping, either. In fact, General Foods has indicated it still wants to sponsor the games next year."

Horner said several of this year's events were tremendous successes, including the Arts and Crafts Show, track and field events, swimming, and the midweek dinner-dance, which was sold out.

"I guess after seven years of putting the event together we're getting to know what we're doing," Horner said. "But one thing is for sure — there is no way we could have enjoyed the success of the games without the tremendous support of the city and Parks and Recreation Director Jim Jernigan, local businesses, individual events sponsors and city residents. Everyone really made this year's games an overwhelming success."

Horner said the games, which cost General Foods about $20,000 and individual sponsors an unknown amount, brought about $300,000 to $400,000 revenue into the city.

"We are unique compared to other such programs because we are not funded by tax money at all," Horner said. "The support of the games is so good we have no need to be subsidized by taxes."

Horner said the Sanford Golden Age Games is the "first of its kind" and that there are currently seven such games across the country now as a result of Sanford's program.

"We also had the opportunity this year to help three more

Games To Be On TV

For those who were unable to attend the Golden Age Games, or who attended and want to see the events again, Orange-Seminole Cablevision will air two half-hour shows Tuesday and Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 3.

areas develop programs, including Ocala, Dallas, and Clarksville, Pa.," he said. "They hope to begin next year." Horner said many of the participants asked the chamber to consider including other events such as diving, drop-kick football field-goal competition and photography in next year's games. He said these requests will all be considered.

"We couldn't have asked for a better year," he said. "Many expressed the thought to me that they'll be back next year."

Chairman Due To Be Chosen By Board

By LEE DANCY
Herald Staff Writer

A chairman and vice chairman for the Seminole Board of County Commissioners will be elected during tomorrow morning's regular meeting.

Commissioners will elect two of their colleagues to the posts to serve for the 1981-82 year during a reorganizational meeting. Commissioner Robert Sturm is the current chairman and Sandra Glenn is vice chairman.

Other items on the board agenda include two requests to vacate current rights-of-way. One of the rights-of-way is known as Iroquois Landing, in Indian Mound Village. The property is located on the St. Johns River, on Chicasaw Drive.

None of the various county agencies or businesses servicing the area objected to V.P. Rozon's and E.B. Stowe's abandonment of the property. The staff of the county Land Development Division did not object either, according to its report on the property.

Seminole County wishes to vacate a right-of-way at the end of Euna Lane in Oriental Gardens off N. Lake Boulevard. The county wants to abandon the property to prevent Euna Lane from becoming a through street and allowing industrial traffic through the residential area, according to a Land Development Division report.

No county agencies or utility companies servicing the area objected to the proposal when polled. The county Land Development Division also had no objection.

The county Health and Human Services Department is asking the board to approve a proposed contract between the Seminole County Commission and the Florida Department of Community Affairs to secure a $6,000 state trust fund grant.

The County Commission has budgeted $27,000 — $6,000 of which will match the state grant — to be used in the county Community Coordinated Child Care program. Both the county Legal Department and Office of Management and Budget have reviewed the contract and approved it.

Another contract, between the county, the county Mental Health Center and the Community Mental Health Board will be reviewed by the commission. Approved funding includes $62,000 in county money for the Mental Health Center and $6,745 in county funds for operating expenses for the Community Mental Health Board.

Requests for public hearings on 15 proposed zoning changes also will come before the commission tomorrow.

One public hearing, if granted, would focus on a request to rezone a three-acre tract on Lake Howell Road, approximately one mile south of the intersection of State Road 436, from agricultural to two-family-dwelling zoning.

A People Person

She Runs Sanford's Personnel Department

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

She's a department of one in Sanford's governmental structure, although she does receive clerical assistance from the Civil Service Board office. But, basically, Personnel Officer Francie Wynalda is charged solely with the personnel office and equal employment opportunity administration.

Her office has a budget of $23,713, including her $17,041-a-year salary. The Civil Service Board's budget is $15,324.

"Currently, we have 276 permanent, full-time personnel in the city's employ," the 33-year-old Ms. Wynalda said. "This number does not include the city physician or attorney, because we contract for their services."

Ms. Wynalda said she, as city personnel director, is not the final authority for hiring and firing but provides a "support" function for the city department heads and City Manager W.E. "Pete" Knowles.

"We're here as staff support, and I feel the department heads understand we're here to help them," she said. "I could jump up and down and say hire Mary Brown, but no one has to hire her. A department head can hire whomever he wants."

So if Ms. Wynalda doesn't hire and fire employees, what does she do as city personnel officer?

"I am responsible for recruiting, advertising and screening applicants for city jobs," she said. "And, in addition, I ensure that the Civil Service Board, which certifies the applicants if they are hired, runs smoothly. I also ensure that minorities and women are recruited according to state guidelines, represent the city at hearings for unemployment-compensation claims, hold employee orientation meetings periodically, prepare the employee handbook and maintain city personnel policies and procedures."

Ms. Wynalda said the most unpleasant part of her job is representing the city at unemployment-compensation hearings.

"If it is determined that someone is not entitled to receive compensation, it is still difficult to stand there and ask the unemployment-compensation officer not to give someone with a wife and family any money," she said. "However, we don't do this sort of thing halfway. We always make sure we have documentation and that there is a good cause for the request not to grant compensation."

According to Ms. Wynalda, there have been few major employment problems during her four years with the city. She said that during that time only two grievances have been filed with the Civil Service Board.

... "We never want to be out of reach."

The breakdown of city employees by categories is as follows: There are currently 16 management personnel, including all administrative personnel and department heads. Of these, 15 are white males and one is a white female, the assistant finance director.

There are 19 professional personnel employed by the city. This category includes such personnel as police captains, lieutenants and the personnel officer. There are 16 white males, two white females and one minority male in this group.

There are 18 technicians, including such persons as the police sergeants and building inspector, employed by the city. Of this group, there are 16 white males, one minority male and one white female, who is the building inspector.

There are 41 personnel making up the office clerical category. Of this group, 30 are white females, seven are minority females, three are white males and one is a minority male. This group includes police dispatchers, the city storekeeper in charge of parts, supplies and maintenance of city vehicles, and other secretarial and clerical personnel.

The city employs 26 skilled craft personnel, including 15 white males, 10 minority males and one white female. This category includes plant operators, equipment operators, mechanics and building-maintenance personnel.

The largest group of city personnel is the service maintenance workers, with 90 employees. They are charged with refuse collection, custodial duties, some equipment operation, mechanic-assistant duties and labor. Of these 90 workers, 67 are minority males, 20 are white males, two are white females and one is a minority female.

"There are jobs in the city where women and minorities just don't apply, even though we advertise actively," Ms. Wynalda said. "We give everyone a chance to apply for a particular position, and city employees are given the first shot."

"I'm proud of the fact that we have many women and minorities in what were once considered non-traditional jobs," she said. "We have a woman plant operator — a first for the city. We have a black police sergeant and we have male clerical personnel."

"We try to understand what our employees deal with every day," she said. "From time to time, the city manager, his assistant and I go out in the field and ride with the refuse collectors — that's a tough job they have — and we work down at the Police Department for a few hours and at other positions to find out what our people are doing and how we can help them do their jobs and serve the city better. We never want to be the management out of reach of the employees."

Batchelor Seeks Seat In Congress

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Eight-year veteran state legislator Rep. Dick Batchelor, D-Orlando, announced his candidacy for Congress at a press conference in Orlando this afternoon.

But the congressional district the 33-year-old Democrat will seek to represent is dependent on the reapportionment plan that will be approved by the Florida Legislature in the 1982 session convening Jan. 18.

"I don't know precisely what the new district will look like," Batchelor said today, noting he will fight hard for Orange County, with its 460,000 people, to be placed in one district with 50,000 more added to Orange from either Seminole or Osceola counties. In the reapportionment plan approved by the Legislature, four new congressional districts are to be created to give the state a total of 19.

Currently, Orange County is carved up among three districts — the Fifth, Ninth and 10th.

The Fifth, now held by Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Altamonte Springs, includes, in addition to Orange, most of Seminole County and part or all of six other counties. The Ninth, represented by Rep. Bill Nelson, D-Melbourne, includes all of Brevard County and part of Orange, and the 10th, represented by

...but which district?

A graduate of the University of Central Florida in December 1971 with a degree in political science, Batchelor is in the advertising business. A native of North Carolina, he has lived in the Orlando area 24 years.

A potent force in the Legislature, Batchelor is chairman of the House Energy Committee and of the Joint Legislative Auditing Committee. He has also headed the committee on Health and Rehabilitative Services and the Ad Hoc Committee on Aging. He has headed five satellite subcommittees.

"I asked not to be on the Reapportionment Committee," Batchelor said.

He said he has no problem with Orange and Seminole's being joined in one congressional district. "Seminole and Orange obviously have a lot of common interests. I've done extensive work with Seminole County," he added.

Batchelor said he has announced nine months prior to the September primaries and even prior to reapportionment because "it helps to be the first one out." He added that since he is going to relinquish his House seat, he felt it appropriate to let others who might seek the seat know of his plans.

"I'll be spending the nine months raising money and organizing in the districts and will run a campaign on a person-to-person basis. I'll be putting on my walking shoes. This is the most effective way of running a campaign. I can't afford to buy an election," he said.

I'll be spending the nine months raising money and organizing the districts and will run a campaign on a person-to-person basis.

Rep. L.A. "Skip" Bafalis, R-Fort Myers Beach, has parts of southern Orange and other counties southward.

"It has never made sense to me that Orange County should be split among three congressmen," Batchelor said. "Orange is a high-impact growth area, and it stands to reason it should have its own congressman."

Batchelor announced his candidacy for the Fifth District congressional seat in January change its regular meeting schedule on a trial basis.

Batchelor went on to win reelection to the Florida House, carrying all 140 Orange County precincts and polling only 2,000 fewer votes in Orange than President Reagan in the 1980 general election.

Man Charged In Murder

A 26-year-old Lake Monroe man is being held without bond at the Seminole County Jail this morning, charged with murder in the shooting death of James W. Robinson, 1320 Dunbar Ave., Lake Monroe.

Edwin Scott, P.O. Box 219, Dunbar Avenue, was arrested just before 3 a.m. Sunday.

Seminole County deputies report two men were holding Scott down when they arrived on the scene.

Seminole County Sheriff's Department spokesman John Spolaki said all that is known about the incident this morning is that there was an argument, Robinson pulled a knife and was shot with a small caliber weapon.

Robinson's body was taken to Seminole Memorial Hospital, where an autopsy was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. today.

Geneva Man Burned To Death

A 20-year-old Geneva man was burned to death Sunday when he tried to burn some trash by lighting it with gasoline. Seminole County fire investigators theorize the gas can used by William M. Burnett, P.O. Box 82, Geneva, exploded and burst into flames, killing him at the scene, one mile south of State Road 46E on Cochran Road.

Burnett's body was discovered by relatives who became concerned when they were unable to reach him by phone,

To Pick New Leaders

School Board Scheduled To Reorganize Tuesday

A new chairman and vice chairman are to be elected by the Seminole County School Board at an 8 p.m. reorganizational meeting Tuesday at the school administrative offices, 1311 Mellonville Ave., Sanford.

Currently serving in the positions are Bill Kroll, completing his first term on the board, and Roland Williams, respectively.

The board will also consider reaffirming the continuing service of Ned N. Julian Jr., as School Board attorney. In addition, School Superintendent Bob Hughes is recommending that the board in January change its regular meeting schedule on a trial basis.

He is urging the board to hold regular meetings at 3 p.m. on the second Wednesday of each month and at 7:30 p.m. on the fourth Wednesday. The board has been meeting on the first and third Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m.

In other business, Hughes is recommending that the board approve Paine

Webber Jackson & Curtis, stockbrokers, as a depository of School Board "liquid" funds for investment.

In a letter to the board, Stephen Kokoska, investment broker with the firm, said the "liquid" assets would be invested in Treasury bills, government bonds and notes.

If the board approves Paine Webber it also must seek approval from the state Department of Education.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

In March, The Shuttle Will Fly Toward The Sun

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The space shuttle Columbia is to spend seven days in orbit on its next flight in March, carrying a four-ton instrument package designed to gaze at the sun and study the ship's space environment.

Space agency sources said astronauts Jack Lousma and Gordon Fullerton have been assigned to fly the Columbia on the third flight.

Missile Destroyed In Air

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A Trident missile that veered off course just seconds after it was launched from a submarine had to be destroyed, Air Force officials said Sunday.

The missile ignited on target but went off course 55 seconds into flight and was destroyed by an Air Force Range Safety officer at the control center in Cape Canaveral.

Big $ In Florida Grass

MIAMI (UPI) — Surprised law-enforcement agents say Florida-grown marijuana may be one of the leading cash crops in the state.

Federal and state officials have admitted for some time that drug trafficking is the state's No. 1 industry. Attorney General Jim Smith recently said it will amount to some $10 billion this year.

More Spending Cuts Urged

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — Federal Reserve Board Chairman Paul Volcker says further cuts in government spending will do more to help the ailing housing industry than increasing the money supply to help lower interest rates down.

"We can't effectively deal with your problems by pumping up the money supply," Volcker told the National Association of Realtors annual convention Sunday, where some 10,000 realtors and brokers have gathered.

Southern Bell Work May Peeve Motorists

Motorists traveling U.S. Highway 17-92 near 27th Street in Sanford will be inconvenienced somewhat for the next month as Southern Bell closes one lane of traffic in order to install new equipment.

"We'll be putting in two large cables and a manhole in the far right northbound lane," according to Southern Bell's Sanford manager Larry Strickler.

"We've built a temporary lane so there will still be two lanes of traffic, but it will be a little different," Strickler said.

"We'll be out there Monday-Friday for the next four weeks," he said. "The job will cost about $1 million. We're replacing some existing equipment and installing new stuff to accommodate growth in this area."

SWAT Team Bags Robbery Suspect

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County Sheriff's Department's Special Weapons and Tactics (SWAT) team surrounded a condominium at the Lake of the Woods development in Fern Park shortly after 3 p.m. Friday and arrested Frederick J. Lonsdale III for a September 8 bank robbery in Orange County.

Detectives from Seminole and Orange counties, continuing their investigation of the robbery at First Federal Savings and Loan, Sand Lake Road, Orlando, entered the residence at 663 Woodbridge Drive without firing a shot, according to Seminole sheriff's spokesman John Spolski.

Once inside, they arrested Lonsdale and charged him with robbery with a firearm, Spolski said.

The deputies had an arrest warrant for Lonsdale signed by Orlando Circuit Judge Fred Pfeiffer. Lonsdale was booked into the Seminole County Jail then transferred to Orlando to face charges.

Since a firearm was used in the commission of the felony, Lonsdale is being held without bond.

NARCOTIC NO-NO

A police officer was waiting when Richard S. Martino, 25, of 1029 Denton Road, Winter Park, arrived at the Eckerd Drug Store in Seminole Plaza, Casselberry, to pick up his prescription Saturday.

That's because the pharmacist was suspicious when a prescription for hycodan was called in.

In checking with the Orlando physician's office which purportedly made the call, the pharmacist was told they issued no prescriptions for hycodan, which contains the narcotic hydrocodone.

After the officer observed the drug purchase, Martino was arrested at 8:40 p.m. and charged with acquiring a controlled substance by misrepresentation. He was later released from the Seminole County Jail on $5,000 bond.

BUS WITHOUT CHARGE

A Diamond 12-volt battery valued at $84 was taken from School Bus 66 at the Seminole County School Bus garage, Timocuan Way and General Hutchison Blvd., Longwood, Wednesday morning, police report. Also stolen was a Blackhawk transmission jack valued at $404.

The dog, a German and Kish hound, was shot in the shoulder, eye and ear and has been taken to a veterinarian.

An investigation into the incident is continuing.

ARSON SUSPECTED

A maintenance room fire at Shenandoah Village, 4220 S. Orlando Drive, Sanford, early Sunday afternoon, may have been arson, Sanford Fire Department investigators said.

The deputy reported he noticed Ganas had trouble standing and was staggering. He arrested Ganas for driving under the influence and unlawful blood alcohol level.

The deputy reported the Cavalier bouncer told him he took the knife away from Ganas when he pulled it out in the lounge. The knife was turned over to the deputy.

According to Dan Dagg, Seminole County School assistant superintendent for instruction, Ganas is coordinator of physical education and driver education for the school system. He does not teach students how to drive, he said.

Lake Wayman Residents Want Deadline Set For Cleaning Shore

Lake Wayman area residents in Longwood want a deadline established for the city's shoreline cleanup efforts and a factual determination of who owns nearby property vacated by the city of Longwood in 1961.

Approximately 38 Lake Wayman area residents packed the City Commission chambers Nov. 9 to protest city workers' removal of duck feces and debris from only one of the three lakfront property owners' shorelines. The disgruntled residents received a promise from the commission that the rest of the work would be completed.

These same residents will return to City Hall this evening demanding a deadline for completion of the work. They also want a positive determination of whether the city actually vacated the property where Lake Wayman Circle once was located.

Lake Wayman Circle was a city street that once ran around the entire lake. Such people as Diane Ryan and Larry Hoffman, both residents of Georgia Avenue — the city street that now borders part of the lake — want to know the actual location of Lake Wayman Circle and whether the city legally decided it over to property owners fronting the street.

Mrs. Ryan said the residents' interest in Lake Wayman Circle focuses on whether the shoreline is public or private property. She said Ben L. Beckner, a lakfront property owner, has erected a fence with "no trespassing" signs around his property.

The fence effectively prohibits area youths from fishing on Beckner's property and is unsightly, Mrs. Ryan said. If the property where Lake Wayman Circle was once located actually belongs to the city, Beckner's fence would be illegal.

IN BRIEF Saudi Arabia's Peace Plan Wins Praise From Egypt

United Press International
A high Egyptian official praised Saudi Arabia's Middle East peace plan as a "very hopeful and promising sign" and a Saudi diplomat said his country's proposal called for recognition of Israel. Egyptian Foreign Undersecretary Osama El-Baz told a news conference Sunday night the Saudi plan amounts to a call on both Israel and the Palestinians to recognize each other and urged the Reagan administration to open a dialogue with the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Israeli Attack Imminent?

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Concern that Israel is about to launch a major attack on south Lebanon was increased by an hour-long exchange of shells that Palestinians blamed on artillery movements by the Israeli-backed Christian militiamen. Lebanese government and Palestine Liberation Organization officials warned Sunday that an Israeli attack was imminent.

Did Soviets Spy In U.S.?

LONDON (UPI) — Previously unidentified Soviet spies operated for years in the United States, developing close ties with the White House and even helping to write a speech for an American vice president, the Sunday Times reported. A judge has barred the newspaper from naming the "Communist activists" under an injunction that runs until Thursday, when the court will hear final arguments and make a ruling.

IN BRIEF Hinckley Doing Well After Suicide Attempt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — John W. Hinckley Jr., described as having been a "walking depression tank," was in satisfactory condition today following his second suicide attempt since being arrested on charges of trying to assassinate President Reagan. Hinckley, 26, who last spring took an overdose of headache pills, Sunday tried to hang himself in his cell at Fort Meade, Md., but was cut down — semi-unconscious — by guards, a Justice Department spokesman said.

Death Of A Salesman

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Budget director David Stockman, praised and blasted for his broadside criticism of Reaganomics, is reportedly being lifted as the administration's chief Capitol Hill budget salesman. Congressional sources say although President Reagan gave Stockman "a second chance" after his published remarks in The Atlantic magazine, they say the comments severely damaged Stockman's credibility and requires a new point man.

New Study Claims Americans' Cancer Risk Now One In Three

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new federal study says nearly one in three Americans will get cancer before age 74 and that one in six Americans will die from it. Seen as the most detailed look on record of the dreaded disease, the National Cancer Institute study found cancer is more likely to occur among blacks than whites and less likely to occur among women than men. It also found three types of cancer — rectal-colon, breast and lung — account for more than two-fifths of all cancer deaths. The recently published 1,042-page report documents the first five years of results, from 1973 to 1977, of an NCI study of cancer occurrence and death rates in five states, five metropolitan areas and Puerto Rico. The study covered the states of Connecticut, Iowa, New Mexico, Utah, and Hawaii; and the metropolitan areas of Detroit, Atlanta, New Orleans, Seattle-Puget Sound, and San Francisco-Oakland. The encyclopedia-sized study provides detailed information on how cancer affects Americans by race, sex, age and geographic location. It examined data on more than 375,000 cases. In general, the study said, Hawaiians have the lowest cancer rates of all. Using a new measure called the cumulative rate, researchers found an American's probability of getting cancer before age 74 is 30.8 percent. For men, the probability is 34.2 percent; for women, 28.4 percent. In Puerto Rico, however, the cancer risk is only 18.3 percent — and other statistics also indicate a lower rate of cancer in areas with high Hispanic populations. The average American has a 15.1 percent — or nearly one in six — chance of dying from cancer before age 74, according to the new cumulative rate statistics. For men, the rate is 18.6 percent; for women it is 12.4 percent. For black men, the death rate is almost double the average — 37.6 percent. Recent statistics supplied by NCI at congressional hearings indicate 45 percent of patients diagnosed as having serious cancer probably are cured, most by surgery alone, and mortality rates are falling for people under 45. Survival rates are improving for seven of the 10 major forms of cancer in whites, and six of the 10 in blacks, according to the recent NCI testimony. Other findings of the newly published study: —More than half of all malignant cancers are diagnosed at age 65 or older, compared with only 12 percent of cancers confined to one site, such as bone cancer or cervical cancer. The median age for diagnosis of malignant cancer is 65.4 years; for site cancer, 37.1 years. —The median age at which cancer was diagnosed in men — 66.9 years — was higher than in women — 63.5 years. The median age for death was 67.9 years and, again, was higher for men than for women. The age of diagnosis and death was also higher for whites than blacks. —Digestive system cancers, including colon and rectal cancers, accounted for 23.7 percent of diagnosed cases, and 28.5 percent of deaths. —Respiratory system cancers accounted for 15.8 percent of cases and 22.9 percent of deaths, reflecting the higher mortality rate for lung cancer which alone accounts for 21.7 percent of all cancer deaths. —Breast cancer accounted for 14.1 percent of all cancers — 27.7 percent of cancers in women. It also accounted for 9.2 percent of all deaths, but for nearly a fifth of cancer deaths in women.

Governors: Stop Crying

The nation's governors cheered when the Reagan administration announced its "new federalism" drive to cut Washington red tape and turn federal-aid funds over to the states with a minimum of red tape and strings.

They hailed President Reagan's bare-bone rules for $6 billion worth of health and social service block grants to the states — only five pages in the Federal Register, compared with 320 pages of superseded regulations from previous administrations. And they were delighted when a hodge-podge of categorical grant programs dealing with separate social problems were stripped of their heavy burdens of instructions and squeezed into nine federal block grants. As the name suggests, these are blocks of funds providing greater state discretion in their expenditure. For example, money may be shifted from one program to another within overall educational or welfare programs.

Unfortunately, the President's new federalism was ambushed in Congress. Some of the proposed deregulation was watered down and the block package did not offer as much discretion to states as envisioned. Nevertheless the block grant concept survived and the budget cuts were substantially preserved.

Now, however, the governors are making a loud outcry because, as Gov. George Busbee of Georgia and past president of the National Governors Association laments, federal spending cuts are turning state budgets into "disarray and chaos." Vermont Gov. Richard A. Snelling, current association president, predicts loss of public support for Reaganomics and even a "tumbling down" economy unless some action is taken to relieve the suffering states.

Undoubtedly the withdrawal of ever-increasing federal aid is painful for some states. But the self-serving, cry-baby attitude of the governors is not going to change the Reagan administration's fiscal restraint or win much public support. On the contrary, the governors should adjust to the historic opportunity represented by the Reagan administration's departure from pervasive federal controls of recent years. Instead of crying for more federal assistance and complaining about the President's reforms, the governors should be tightening their belts and organizing some financial reforms on their own.

Some Nerve

Stockholm says the Soviet submarine that ran aground near a Swedish naval base probably was carrying nuclear weapons. The incident thus has implications not just for Sweden but for the rest of Scandinavia and for Western Europe.

Soviet propagandists will have to fall back and regroup in their campaign to play on the fears of nuclear war among Europeans. They have been trying mightily to promote the idea that nuclear weapons from America are somehow a threat to NATO countries where they might be deployed.

Moscow will now sound unconvincing in its appeal to make the Baltic a "sea of peace." The Baltic would be a lot more peaceful if nuclear-armed Soviet submarines were not prowling its coastline, wouldn't it?

President Brezhnev also can expect little enthusiasm for his proposal to Finland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark that they join in foregoing nuclear weapons in order to create a Nordic "nuclear-free zone." What is the purpose of that? To leave the Soviet navy as the only bearer of nuclear weapons in the area?

It takes considerable nerve for a country as armed to the teeth as the Soviet Union to pose as a champion of peace and disarmament. It will take even more from now on.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Honestly, Daddy! Freddy isn't a little old for Halloween get-ups — he's a full-time punk rocker."

By DONNA ESTES

Rising street crime is rapidly becoming the number one concern of Americans from coast to coast and the wide treatment of violent crime in print and broadcast media points up its troubling dimensions.

Sen. James McClure, chairman of the Republican Conference of the U.S. Senate, said for these reasons GOP senators are beginning a legislative offensive against crime.

During this month, McClure said, anti-crime measures to be considered by the U.S. Senate include:

—Consideration of a bill modifying the use of habeas corpus procedures to plug a loophole many feel convicted felons use to gain early prison release.

—Encouraging states to use habitual offender laws to impose life sentences on career criminals.

—Holding public hearings on violent street crime, the causes and effects, focusing on the role of the federal government in combating and punishing career criminals.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation said crime in the United States was up in 1980.

Areas where crime has increased include: murders 23,044, up 7.4 percent; rape, 82,088, up 8 percent; robberies 548,809, up 17.5 percent; aggravated assault 654,957, up 6.6 percent; burglary 3,759,193, up 13.9 percent and larceny 7,112,657, up 5.6 percent.

U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Altamonte Springs, will hold a town hall meeting at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 24, at the Oviedo City Council Chambers, 20 E. Broadway St.

"At the end of the first session of the 97th Congress draws to a close, I'm anxious to hear what people in the Fifth District have to say about how Congress and our national government have measured up these past 10 months," McCollum said.

McCollum said the format at the town meetings is informal and topics discussed will be whatever those in attendance wish to address.

Persons wishing to call the Washington office of U.S. Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Winter Park, may now do so at no cost. A toll-free WATS line has been installed in her office and the toll-free number is 1-800-432-5104. The line will be manned during office hours of 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

She said residents in Winter Park's local dialing area should continue to use the local number — 628-1738. In addition to the Winter Park office, Mrs. Hawkins maintains two other offices in Miami and Tallahassee.

Human Rights Policy

"Human rights is at the core of our foreign policy because it is central to what America is and stands for."

You'll never guess where that statement comes from, unless you've been paying attention to Washington-dated stories dealing with subjects other than AWACS and the perils of Al Haig. (Yes, there actually are some.)

It comes from inside the administration. It begins a State Department memorandum arguing the need for a strong human-rights policy and envisioning the consequent benefits for the American image and influence in the world, a vision considerably different from that hitherto favored by this administration.

"Human rights is not something we tack on to our foreign policy but is its very purpose: the defense and promotion of freedom in the world. . . . We will never maintain wide public support for our foreign policy unless we can relate it to American ideals and to the defense of freedom. . . ."

"Human rights — meaning political rights and civil liberties — conveys what is ultimately at issue in our contest with the Soviet bloc. The fundamental distinction is our respective attitudes toward freedom. Our ability to resist the Soviets around the world depends in part on our ability to draw this distinction and to persuade others on it. . . . Our human-rights policy must be the center of our response. . . . Overall U.S. foreign policy, based on a strong human-rights policy, will be perceived as a positive force for freedom and decency. . . ."

"Our struggle is for political liberty. We seek to improve human-rights performance whenever we reasonably can. We desire to demonstrate, by acting to defend liberty and identifying its enemies, that the difference between East and West is the crucial political distinction of our times."

The memo is full of lines like these that could not make the case better if they had come from the previous administration — which, as you may recall, did make human rights a centerpiece of a since much-criticized foreign policy.

Oh, to be sure, there are some qualifications. Human-rights concerns must be balanced against U.S. economic, security and other interests. The pressures upon a regime and the nature of its enemies must be considered. (Such as in El Salvador, for random example?)

And in a passage that stops just short of naming Nicaragua, we are admonished that human rights are not advanced by replacing "a corrupt dictator with a zealous Communist politburo."

But, as the previous administration discovered, such a policy "means trouble, for it means hard choices which may adversely affect certain bilateral relations. . . . There is no escaping this without destroying the credibility of our policy, for otherwise we could be simply coddling friends and criticizing foes."

What it all adds up to is a statement on policy that is not yet policy. It comes from inside the administration — the second echelon in the State Department.

Afghan Rebels Poorly Trained For Battle

WASHINGTON — The Russians have learned to their sorrow that the hardy tribesmen of Afghanistan are courageous and effective guerrilla warriors. But they have also, presumably, learned what my associate Peter Grant found out while traveling with the rebel forces that for weeks had been besieging the strategic crossroads town of Tamiir: The tribesmen are hopelessly incapable of conducting conventional military operations.

Part of the problem is the guerrillas' drastic shortage of equipment. But perhaps the biggest trouble is the fierce independence and pride of the freedom fighters themselves. Planning and coordination are almost totally absent; even rudimentary discipline is a rarity.

Self-reliance and individual initiative are valuable commodities in a mountain ambush. They can be a fatal flaw in the siege of a fortified town. Here's what happened one day while my roving correspondent was outside Tamiir:

The 800-man Afghan Army garrison, with its 20 Soviet advisers and quantities of Russian tanks, artillery and ammunition, depended for its supplies on helicopters. They flew in a couple of times a week, and each time they succeeded in landing and making their deliveries, the siege was extended for a few more days.

With no anti-aircraft weapons beyond rifles and bazookas — their one captured Russian ground-to-air missile having been fired ineffectively the day Grant arrived — the guerrilla forces depended on mortars to attack the gunships when they landed. Yet after waiting for the helicopters for four days, the mortar unit was caught by surprise when the choppers finally showed up. One mortar position hadn't been set up; another had no ammunition. Recalcitrant rifles were in one place; their rockets were in another.

The reason for this confusion, apparently, was that the besieged garrison had sent out word that they wanted to discuss surrender terms. Since there was no central leadership among the four tribal groups that were encircling the two, each individual Mujahidin evidently decided for himself whether the siege was over or not.

The conference was ultimately held, but the negotiations ended abruptly when a rebel leader shot and killed the Communist representative.

Other examples my associate reported show the seriousness of the Afghan tribesmen's lack of elementary military training:

— "One day we were about to fire a mortar from a hidden position when I noticed two members of the group making a fire for tea. I pointed this out to the commander, and he angrily ordered the men to put out the fire."

— At one point, a 10-man unit assigned to keep watch on a strategic road simply walked away without bothering to tell anyone. Fortunately, the Communists failed to exploit the situation.

— "The Mujahidin often reminded me of a bunch of unruly schoolkids — whose teacher

Dictators And The Intellectuals

Socialism in all of its varieties, from "soft" to Stalinist, is a system that aggrandizes the political power of intellectuals.

It is under socialism that the intellectuals give the orders — not financiers, priests, generals, and certainly not ordinary people operating through representative institutions.

That, you might say, is what the great struggles of the 20th century have been all about: Whether a socialist elite of intellectuals shall impose its will through the power of the state.

These reflections were reinforced recently when I happened to read an old memoir, quite marvelous, by the literary critic Alfred Kazin. It is called "Starting Out in the Thirties."

As part of his recollection of the leftist milieu in lower Manhattan during the Thirties, Kazin recalls "one horribly experienced Polish veteran of the revolutionary wars, a kindly but despairing expert on all . . . socialisms — utopian, scientific, social democratic, libertarian and dogmatic — a man with a heavy bald front and a face shaped like a stone by every obstacle in his path. He had gone through everything, that man; he had done battle in many factions and groups, and in every country. He had been through it all — the easy idealism of Socialist students, the militancy of the Syndicalists, the world-shaking mystique of the communists just after 1917 — and he could never again trust politicians of any stripe.

"Power corrupted everyone, and perhaps no one so much as the administrators, experts, professionals, intellectuals who sought dictatorial power over the working class in the name of their emancipation from capitalism.

"The cruties visited upon the Russian working class in the name of socialism, the deceptions visited upon the working class in the name of solidarity, the exploitation visited upon the ruled by the rulers! All was written in the folds of that (Polish veteran's) magnificent bald dome. Gentle as he was, there was nothing to ask him, to talk over, that could modify the tragedy that power represented at all times and in all places, but never so much as for the exploited who, seeking their revolutionary emancipation, had put new oppressors to rule over them from the Kremlin, the Politburo, the Secret Police. There was nothing to talk over. He would only shake his head. He had passed beyond all possible illusion.

"The Russian people had been oppressed ruthlessly under Czarism, but when they revolted, it was under the leadership of a small and arrogant elite of intellectuals, who used the destruction of the old regime to put themselves, the all-sufficient managers, into the essential places. There could be nothing in common between those who worked with their hands, to the last strength of their bodies, and those who sat at desks framing the rules and setting the pace and giving orders.

"This Polish veteran . . . was a living memorial to the futile heroism of the revolutionary movement. For him, socialism had become its past."

Posey Pep Talk Hits Spot

Seminole 'Heart' Beating Along

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Sports Writer

Now that Jerry Posey's Fighting Seminole football squad has had the weekend to let the dust settle after its 21-6 district title victory over Daytona Beach Mainland, the Tribe coaching staff will be hard at work, trying to coax a few more beats out of the heart of this 1981 team.

And to a man, that's how the Seminole brain trust labels this year's 7-2 edition of the Fighting Tribe — all heart. Well, almost all heart. There are a few arm, legs, helmets and shoulder pads thrown in there, but head honcho Posey makes it clear what earned his squad a perfect 6-0 conference record heading into Friday's home closer against Spruce Creek.

Sanford, who has already clinched the Five Star Conference championship too, plays Vero Beach in the first round of the 4A state high school football playoffs. The game will be Friday, Nov. 27 at the Seminole High School field at 8 p.m.

"We've had teams in the past that have had more size, more speed and more individual talent," says Posey. "But I can't remember a group with more heart than this one."

Posey's cardiac conversation at the Seminole's pre-game meal may have provided the Tribe's appetite for Buccaneer-a-la-big game.

His inspirational chatter came in the cozy confines of the Colonial Room Restaurant, where tackle Bill Painter's pop ples his trade and picked up the meal ticket.

Posey paced the carpet looking for the right words.

"It's all on the line tonight," he told his squad. "Mainland is bigger than us, and probably has more speed, but I don't think they have the heart that this team does."

"And that's what you have to do tonight, reach deep down for something extra," continued the Tribe coach.

"You've got a chance at the

Thanks to 281 yards on the ground by Lenny Sutton, Vic Williams and Johnny Littles, thanks to the field leadership of vastly-improved quarterback Jeff Litton, thanks to outstanding play by both the offensive and defensive lines and thanks to a little "heart," the Seminoles left the Buccaneers with the red faces.

"It feels great, absolutely great," said a happy Posey after the win.

"You know, you can look back at a couple of times where this team really showed heart. We won one ball game in triple overtime and another game in four overtimes earlier this year.

"That takes heart." The Tribe's "heart" was the District 9-AAAA football championship. And the beat goes on. Friday at 8 p.m. against Spruce Creek in a regular season — closing homecoming event.

Marauders Rust Knights, 27-9

Central Florida's Knights bolted to a 9-6 first-half lead, then rusted in the second half as Penn State-Millersville eventually prevailed, 27-9, at the Tangerine Bowl Saturday before 4,365 shivering fans.

The Marauders mowed down the Knights like they have seven of their nine opponents this year — on the ground. Fullback Bob Coyne went over 1000 yards for the year by picking up 110. He took second fiddle to Rick Stonewall, whose 37-yard TD burst put Millersville up and away, 19-9, in the third quarter. Stonewall rang up 117 yards.

UCF, dropping to 4-5 with big and "bad" Bethune-Cookman coming to the T-Bowl Saturday, was once again bothered by an impotent offense.

Speedy running back John Muldoon put the Knights on the board early with a nifty 16-yard scamper, but quarterback Mike Wood promptly gave it back later in the quarter with a pass interception.

John Jameson picked up Wood's misguided spiral — the first of three interceptions for the ex-Lake Howell standout — and rambled 47 yards for the tying score.

Both extra points were missed, but Scott Ryerson atoned for his mistake by booting a 34 yard field goal to send the Knights into intermission, 9-6.

Wood was just 9-of-27, for 108 yards. UCF could muster just 62 yards in the second half. — SAM COOK

Inhospitable SCC Wins Own Tourney

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Sports Writer

It's a sure bet that Seminole Community College basketball coach Joe Sterling has never sent a letter off to "Dear Abby" or "Ann Landers," asking advice on how to treat company.

If Gentleman Joe had, he would have been informed by the twin purveyors of pomp and protocol, that when you invite someone into your home, the host is supposed to go out of his way to make a guest feel comfortable.

You know the old sayings. Our home is your home. Kick your shoes off and relax. Can I get you anything?

After Saturday night's performance in the hosting role of the 1981 Raider Classic, SCC's basketball manners will have to be excused. Sterling's Raiders proved to be rather rude Saturday night, whipping Valencia's Matadors 102-92 to win the title game of their own tournament. Combined with SCC's Friday night preliminary round blitz over out-cast Warner Southern, the Raiders are off to a perfect 2-0 encore to last season's 29-3 effort.

"Overall I was really pleased," said Sterling of the quick start.

"We really couldn't tell anything the first night against Warner Southern, but Valencia was tough and it was a good early season game for us."

One of the question marks hanging over the Raiders in the early season is the play in the pivot.

Seminole High product Reggie Butler's performance did a lot to ease Sterling's mind. The 6-8 sophomore scored 13 points in the title game and handled himself well under the boards.

"Reggie's play was a bright spot for us," complimented Sterling. "We know we need a solid effort in the middle and he showed signs that he can handle the job."

Sterling was equally pleased with the 16-point effort of Va. Beach, Va., freshman Mike Smith, who spelled Butler in the pivot.

"He did a real fine job coming off the bench for us," said Sterling. Veteran sophomore Arthur "A.J." Jackson didn't do a bad job coming off the bench either. The Boone High product pumped in 14 points and his overall performance earned him a spot on the Raider Classic All-Tournament squad along with backcourt mate Travis Filer.

Filer, his usual smooth-as-silk self, led all scorers with 27 points while balance in the offense was evidenced by All-State sophomore Bruce McCray's 20 points along with 11 from wingman Reggie Barnes.

"Barnes did a very credible job in his first start," amazed Sterling. "And Bruce (McCray) did his usual good job for us."

"Overall I thought we played decently for an early season outing. We had some real good spots and some spots where we didn't look good."

The Raiders have a busy week ahead. Tuesday night SCC travels to Temple Terrace to face Florida Junior College.

"They'll be tough, they're practically the same team we faced in the state tournament last year. They have four starters back and a newcomer who beat another returner out of the starting job," Sterling pointed out.

Following Tuesday's game against Florida Junior College, SCC will take part in Valencia's tournament on Friday and Saturday. The Raiders face Gulf Coast in Friday's lid lifter at 8:30 p.m. points. Winter Park, 80, Lake Brantley, 95, and Edgewater, 112, followed. Tom Hammontree's Lake Howell squad was seventh. Lyman's girls were ninth.

The county's only other survivor — Lyman's boys — finished fourth in their meet. Edgewater easily cruised to the victory with 36 points, while John I. Leonard, 67, Winter Park, 105, and the Greyhounds, 137, followed. Lake Howell was 12th.

Lyman, Lake Brantley and Trinity Prep begin preparation this week for Saturday's state meet at the DeLand Airport course.

The 4A girls will take place at 9:30 a.m., while the boys 4A is at 10:15 a.m. The 2A girls is at 11 a.m., while the 2A boys follow at 11:45 a.m.

The top four teams qualified in the 4A, while the top two teams qualified in the 2A. The top five individuals qualified in each division.

John I. Leonard of Lake Worth won the meet with 52

Elsewhere in post-season cross country competition, Lake Brantley's girls turned in an impressive third place finish in the regional tournament Saturday at Titusville.

Ellen Stern, a junior, paced the Patriot effort with a 12:15 two mile good for a seventh-place finish. Senior Tracy Bonham (12th, 12:35), Kathryn Hayward (18th, 12:38), Traci Rowland (36th, 13:18), Shari Killan (40th, 13:29), Kim Lubenow (49th, 13:52) and Joanne Hayward (57th, 14:01) followed Stern across the line.

"Ellen ran a super race," said a pleased Pat coach Jim Marshall. "But Kathryn Hayward was really impressive too. That's her best time since the Beach Run."

Saints Seize District Title

Coch George Austin's Trinity Prep girls' cross country team captured its fourth straight District 2A-4 championship Saturday at Trinity Prep.

Eighth grader Adrienne Poltowicz led the Saint charge by cruising the two-mile course in 12:06. She was followed by senior Shannon McNulty (second, 12:08) and senior Tracy Johnson (fourth, 13:43). Beth Shaffy (14th, 13:36), Alice Rosen (18th, 13:44), Linda Willis (19th, 13:54) and "Punkie" Lingle (20th, 14:08) completed the scoring. McNulty is from Lake Mary, while Johnson and Lingle are both from Sanford.

The Lady Saints compiled 37 points to 47 for runnerup Mt. Dora Bible. Daytona Beach Father Lopez was third with 49, while Make Gibson's Lake Mary squad was fourth with 102.

Freshman Kim Averill paced the Ram effort with a third place finish in 12:46.

Sanford Rec Needs Tennis Involvement

Last weekend the 1st Annual Sanford Recreation Dept. and Optimist Club of Sanford Tennis Tournament was held and everyone connected with the event agreed that it was a great success.

The Optimists, with Tom Whigham from the club acting as co-chairman of the tournament, have taken this vital initial step in trying to promote tennis for the young folks of Sanford. The tournament will be held each year and with a lot of publicity and hard work could become a major tennis event in the area.

Sanford has been in desperate need for many years of some sort of program to help develop some really good young players. In a town the size of Sanford, in one of the very best areas for tennis in the world, it is a big mystery and a real shame that we have not had better players come out of our city.

In the past seven or eight years Sanford has not produced a high-ranking girl or boy, when compared with other cities of comparable size.

Why? — In the opinion of this writer, the better athletes have gone into other sports — sports that are more emphasized in middle school, junior high and high school, sports with more money given to them by the schools etc.

Seminole High, Sanford's only high school, does not even have tennis courts. It goes deeper than the schools though as most area clubs simply do not cater to the young players. Very few programs have been set up for the younger players.

Emma Spencer has worked for many years with the junior players and has done a good job. Doug Malczowski is now working with some good youngsters, so maybe things are on the upswing. But we need more, much more.

The City Recreation Department needs to get seriously involved in a good program for the youngsters on a year round basis. A pro needs to be hired to run a top quality program and new and better courts need to be built.

If these steps were taken plus a closer look to improve our high school program, Sanford could catch up in the production of junior players in only a few years.

Jets Knock Off New England, 17-6

Michaels' Popularity Grows With Streak

By United Press International

Three weeks into the season Walt Michaels was a most unpopular coach. His New York Jets, who won only four games all last year, had been crushed in three games, giving up 100 points in the process. Critics called for his removal but Michaels remained calm. Eight weeks later, he is having the last laugh. During that eight-week stretch, the Jets have been among the hottest teams in football. Sparked by a defensive unit that leads the NFL in sacks, the Jets ripped the New England Patriots 17-6 Sunday for their sixth victory against one loss and a tie in the last eight weeks.

But more importantly for the Jets, Oakland downed Miami 33-17 and St. Louis drubbed Buffalo 24-0, allowing New York to slip into second place in the AFC East, just one game behind Miami. The Jets and the Dolphins will square off next week in Shea Stadium, with first place on the line.

Miami has not beaten the Jets in their last six meetings. Bruce Harper and Tom Newton capped long drives with scoring runs and the Jet defense had eight sacks and forced two turnovers in sending the Patriots to their ninth loss in 11 games. Harper dashed 4 yards through the driving wind and rain late in the first half and Newton added a 5-yard scoring run for his first TD of the year. Pat Leahy had a 47-yard field goal for New York. The Patriots were held to field goals of 42 and 29 yards by John Smith.

The eight sacks, including three each by league leader Joe Klecko and runner-up Mark Gastineau, gave the Jets 46 for the season. Klecko has 15½ sacks and Gastineau 14.

Linebacker Greg Buttle set up 10 points with an interception and a fumble recovery to help the Jets win in Foxboro for the first time since 1975.

Elsewhere Sunday, it was Philadelphia

38 Baltimore 13; Green Bay 21 Chicago 17; Cincinnati 24 Los Angeles 10; Minnesota 20 New Orleans 10; Pittsburgh 34 Atlanta 20; Denver 24 Tampa Bay 7; Kansas City 23 Houston 10; Cleveland 15 San Francisco 12; Detroit 27 Dallas 24; and Washington 30 the New York Giants 27 in overtime. San Diego is at Seattle tonight.

In the other division race, with five games left Cincinnati holds a 2-game edge over Pittsburgh in the AFC Central and Denver leads Kansas City by a game and San Diego by a game and a half in the West. Denver and Cincinnati play each other next week.

In the NFC, Philadelphia holds a 1-game edge over Dallas in the East, Minnesota owns a 2-game advantage over three teams in the Central and San Francisco still has a commanding 3-game lead over Atlanta and Los Angeles in the West.

Raiders 23, Dolphins 17
Marc Wilson threw three TD passes as Oakland built a 21-point lead to beat Miami. Wilson threw first half TDs of 13 yards to Todd Christensen, 37 yards to Bob Chandler and 1 yard to Derrick Ramsey. Oakland added an insurance TD with 1:29 left on a 15-yard run by rookie Chester Willis.

Cardinals 24, Bills 6
Otis Anderson rushed for 177 yards and two TDs to become the all-time leading rusher in St. Louis history as he sparked the Cardinals to an upset of Buffalo. Anderson's TD runs of 18 and 8 yards, Neil Lomax' 2-yard TD pass to fellow rookie Stump Mitchell and Neil O'Donoghue's 35-yard field goal highlighted the Cardinal offense.

Browns 18, 49ers 12
Matt Bahr, who played the first five games this season with San Francisco, kicked a 24-yard field goal with 43 seconds left to lift Cleveland to a victory that snapped the 49ers' winning streak at seven games.

Eagles 28, Colts 13
Ron Jaworski passed for 294 yards and two TDs and Wilbert Montgomery rushed for 115 yards and two more TDs as Philadelphia sent Baltimore to its 10th straight loss. Jaworski, who hit 19 of 29 passes in three periods, fired TD strikes of 15 yards to Keith Krepfle and 30 yards to Charlie Smith. Montgomery scored on runs of 5 and 1 yard.

Lions 27, Cowboys 24
Ed Murray's 47-yard field goal as time elapsed boosted Detroit past Dallas, which blew a 17-0 lead. The Lions' field goal unit reached the field as time was running and wasn't even properly lined up until four seconds remained. The snap was made with two seconds showing.

Vikings 20, Saints 10
Tommy Kramer surpassed 10,000 yards in career passing, throwing for 287 yards and a touchdown, and Ted Brown ran for another score to carry Minnesota past New Orleans. Kramer completed 19-of-40 passes, including his 18th TD pass this year, an 11-yarder to Joe Senser.

Bengals 24, Rams 10
Pete Johnson scored three TDs — all set up by pass interceptions — to pace Cincinnati over slumping Los Angeles. Johnson's scores came after interceptions thrown by Dan Pastorini, who also was sacked five times before leaving the game early in the fourth period with a concussion.

Chiefs 23, Oilers 10
Rookie Joe Delaney set a club single-game rushing record with 193 yards and also scored to carry the Chiefs past Houston. Delaney broke by one yard the previous club record of 192 yards set by Mike Garrett against the Jets in 1967. He also broke a club record with his fifth 100-yard game this season, erasing the old mark also set by Garrett in 1967.

Steelers 34, Falcons 20
Terry Bradshaw's personal record of five TD passes led Pittsburgh past Atlanta. Bradshaw, a 12-year veteran, threw TD passes of 6 and 19 yards to John Stallworth, 18 yards to Bennie Cunningham, 14 yards to Randy Grossman and 22 yards to Lynn Swann. He completed 13-of-21 passes for 231 yards. Atlanta's Steve Bartkowski hit 33-of-49 passes for 416 yards.

Redskins 30, Giants 27 (ot)
Mark Moseley, who sent the game into overtime with a 49-yard field goal with no time left in regulation, hit a 48-yarder 3:44 into overtime, lifting Washington over the Giants. Scott Brunner, inserted with 1:46 left after Phil Simms suffered a separated shoulder, threw a 27-yard TD pass to John Mistler with 45 seconds left, lifting the Giants to a 27-24 lead.

Packers 21, Bears 17
David Whitehurst threw three first-half TD passes to lead Green Bay past Chicago. Whitehurst threw two TD passes of 1 and 39 yards to Harlan Huckleby and one for 2 yards to Terrell Middleton.

Tampa Bay's Jerry Eckwood turns the corner and heads up field, but Denver Bronco Aaron Kyle slips past a block by James Wilder to trip up Eckwood.

Bucs Blitzed, 24-7

TAMPA, Fla. (UPI) — The Denver Broncos remain atop the AFC West Division today with an 83 record but may be without starting quarterback Craig Morton, the NFL's top quarterback.

Morton, the league's oldest player at 38, went down Sunday with a shoulder injury in Denver's 24-7 victory over Tampa Bay.

Team officials said it was a shoulder sprain, but the veteran Morton said he thinks his right shoulder may be separated.

"Someone hit me and I fell on my shoulder," Morton said. "I don't know about next week. I'm not going to risk the whole season to play just one game."

Morton had thrown a 12-yard touchdown pass to tight end Riley Odoms before going out in the second period after completing 10 of 14 passes for 73 yards.

Steve DeBerg, obtained at the end of pre-season from the San Francisco 49ers, came on to lead the Broncos to a 17-point second half, totally dominating the third period.

DeBerg completed 10 of 15 passes for 70 yards and one touchdown, but his one interception gave Tampa its only points when Cedric Brown went 40 yards for a touchdown on the first series of the second half to tie the score at 7-7.

But the Broncos, aided by two key penalties on Tampa's Norris Thomas, charged right back into the lead and dominated the game the rest of the way with reserve running back Larry Canada running for a 1-yard touchdown in the third period and catching a 3-yard pass from DeBerg for a fourth period score.

Fred Steinfurt added a 31-yard field goal in the final period.

Canada had a perfect 3-for-3 day. He only touched the ball three times and two of those resulted in touchdowns and on the third he blocked a Larry Swider punt that set up the

Tampa Bay

Morton-to-Odoms touchdown.

Although Denver's defense dominated Tampa's offense, the key to the game may have been the two 15-yard penalties on Thomas in the go-ahead touchdown drive.

He was called twice for unnecessary roughness against Rick Upchurch, once hitting him when he was out of bounds and the second time for hitting him on the head on a play away from the flow of the ball.

That occurred on a 3rd-and-12 play that gained only three yards but instead of 4th down, the Broncos had a 1st down on the Bucs' 10 and three plays later Canada rammed over from the 1-yard-line, giving the Broncos the lead for good.

Thomas said later he was keying on the ball and didn't realize Upchurch was out of bounds on the first play, and said the second call "could have gone either way."

"I just play aggressive," Thomas said. "It could have gone either way."

But Upchurch said there was no question. "The play before, he took a swipe at my head and the referee told him to say off my head," Upchurch said.

The loss dropped Tampa to 5-6, two games behind the 7-4 Minnesota Vikings in the NFC's Central Division, and tied with Detroit and Green Bay, next week's opponent.

The excited Canada, who is backup to the Broncos' top runner — Rich Parros — scored his first touchdowns since his rookie year of 1978 when he scored three times and had first blocked punt at any level of competition.

"I just sometimes wish I could do some things like today," the third-year pro said. "You just hope your chance comes along."

The Longwood-Winter Springs Chamber of Commerce will meet on Nov. 23, at noon, at the Quality Inn, Longwood.

This will be the last luncheon of the year. The 7th Annual Awards and Installation banquet will be held at the Quality Inn on Dec. 3, at 7:30 p.m.

Bear Baila had a surprise on his birthday, Nov. 4. His wife, Joyce, took his birthday cake to the bowling alley and had the entire Bell Tell league sing to him and share his cake.

Another surprise. Bear bowled at 203 for the first time ever!

Winter Springs Brownie Troop 907 worked on their Thanksgiving projects on Nov. 10. They made turkeys mounted on cardboard, out of colorful scrap material. The girls also made Thanksgiving cards for their parents. They are in the process of selling the Girl Scout Calendar for 1982.

Plans are being made for a mother-daughter camp-out for April 24.

Their leader, Meta Porter, made suggestions to the parents for Christmas gifts for the girls. She suggests the girls receive gifts they can use on the camping trip, such as a nylon dunk bag, mess kit and silverware set.

The Winter Springs PTO will meet Tuesday, Nov. 17, at 7:30 p.m. Grades 1-5 will present Thanksgiving skits.

Last Friday the PTO presented the movie "Popeye" which was open to the public. The PTO is hoping to have more of these Friday night movies in the future.

The Advisory Board committee will meet on Nov. 19, at 9 a.m. All parents are invited to attend.

The elections are over at Sterling Park Elementary. And the winners are: president, Channing Conway; vice-president, Doug Schlicker; secretary, Randi Good; and treasurer, Nicole Compton.

The students voted on the computer system and the results were instantly tabulated.

Couple Repeat Vows On 40th Anniversary

Emory and Elizabeth Avrett of Sanford, celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary on Nov. 3.

One of the highlights of the happy occasion was the couple reaffirming their marriage vows. The Rev. Dr. Virgil Bryant, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Sanford, performed the ceremony.

Later the Avretts were united with their family the first time they have all been together in 15 years.

The couple are the parents of the following five children: Herbert L. Avrett, Atlanta, Ga.; Lavoughn Phillips, Houston, Texas; James D. Avrett, Ft. Stewart, Ga.; Catherine Rentach, Sanford; and Richard L. Avrett, Yuma, Ariz.

The couple's 13 grandchildren also attended the festivities which included a surprise anniversary party at the Holiday Inn, Sanford Marina.

Others helping the couple celebrate were a nephew, Bobbie Avrett and his family, Joyce and Michelle, and Marsha Anderson and her daughter, Natalie.

The Avretts were married Nov. 3, 1941 in Macon, Ga.

Families Should Have Own Holiday Tradition

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago you ran an article about a woman who never cooked her own Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner. Instead, she went to her mother's or her mother-in-law's. She wrote to say that she wishes now that she had done her own holiday dinners.

That letter was terrific. If you could publish it again, it would be a great help to a lot of people.

I am a grandmother who wishes my married children would cook their own holiday dinners and invite me as a guest!

PAID MY DUES DEAR PAID: It wasn't hard to find, and here it is:

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for years, and around holiday time someone always asks, "Should we go to his mother's or to my mother's for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinner?" Your answer has always been: "Why not alternate?"

Abby, my husband and I struggled with that problem for years. We resolved it according to your suggestion. Both sets of parents lived nearby, and it seemed the only fair thing to do. So, for 22 years, we spent Thanksgiving and Christmas in their homes instead of our own.

It never dawned on us until this year — now that our children are ready to strike out on their own — that we never developed our own holiday traditions. We always went to Grandma's for the holidays. She insisted on doing all the cooking herself, then complained for months about how much work it was and how tired she got. When we, her daughters and daughters-in-law, asked if we could bring something for dinner, she wouldn't hear of it. When we brought food without asking her, she refused to serve it, so we finally gave up. I realize now what a high price I've paid over the years for peace in the family. I wish I hadn't.

Abby, please urge young marrieds to dare to have their own holiday celebrations in their own homes. Suggest that they invite their parents and grandparents, who might even be relieved to be finally free of the burden of entertaining three generations.

DOING MY OWN THING DEAR DOING: Thank you for an excellent letter. Perhaps it will inspire others to do their own thing, too.

DEAR ABBY: Why is it that I see only Planned Parenthood mentioned in your column? Why don't you ever mention natural family planning? It is the only method of birth control that has no bad side effects.

Please be fair and answer this in your column. FOR NATURAL FAMILY PLANNING

DEAR FOR: In order for the natural family planning method to be absolutely foolproof, the couple must recognize indicators of fertility, chart their symptoms and abstain from all marital relations during the fertile phase of the cycle.

Very few women are able to calculate their "safe" periods reliably. Women who miscalculate are called "mothers."

DEAR ABBY: This is no joke, so please give us a serious answer. Our son is a "Junior," named for his father. He is 35 years old, married and divorced twice, the father of four legitimate children, and three (that we know about) who aren't legitimate. He has made a mess out of his life and has given us plenty of headaches.

Needless to say, our son's reputation is terrible and his credit is lousy. His creditors are always getting my husband mixed up with him because his name is the same and he doesn't always add the "Jr."

My husband would like to change his own name for this reason. Can it be done?

NAMELESS, NATURALLY

DEAR NAMELESS: Yes. He may change his name as long as his intent is not to defraud.

Cheese Can Cause Migraine Headache

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column about migraine headaches. Since the lady in question was on a high protein diet for seven years, it is quite likely that she may have included considerable cheese in her meals. Aged cheeses may cause migraines and you might want to pass on that information to her. People who have migraines because of eating cheese may be completely cured if they will stop using cheese.

DEAR READER — Thank you for your helpful suggestion. Yes, aged cheeses can cause migraine headaches in some people. It contains a substance called tyramine which has almost an adrenaline-like action in the body.

The tyramine comes from the bacterial fermentation of the cheese, which is why it is found in cured cheese — as opposed to fresh cottage cheese. Cheddar cheese is a good example of a cheese rich in tyramine. The tyramine comes from one of the natural amino acids, tyrosine, found in the complete protein of cheese.

You are kind to worry about whether the lady found this out or not, but she did. The Health Letter number 16-12, Headaches and What to Do About Them, which I sent her contained that information. I'm sending you a copy and other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 1861, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. The Health Letters are provided to give such additional information that space does not permit in the column.

Cured cheese with tyramine may also cause a sharp rise in blood pressure in some people taking antidepressants. Tyramine, with the same effects, is found in a number of foods and beverages aged to improve their flavor. To avoid tyramine-precipitated migraines a person needs to eliminate sour cream, Chianti wine, sherry, beer, pickled herring, liver, canned figs, raisins, bananas, avocados (particularly if overripe), chocolate soy sauce, pods of broad beans, yeast extracts or meat tenderizers. People taking antidepressant medicines should avoid all of these unless specifically told otherwise by their doctor.

Other foods that may cause headaches in migraine patients include sodium nitrate in cured meats and monosodium glutamate, commonly used in Chinese cooking.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Will you please settle a long-standing argument between my sister-in-law and me? She believes that shaving off hair causes it to grow in thicker. I think that although the hair feels prickly when it grows back there are no new hairs that grew as a result of shaving. It won't be too long before her daughters will be asking to have their legs and underarms. I'd like the matter settled for their sake.

DEAR READER — It has been well established that shaving does not increase the number of hair shafts or make hair thicker. Each hair shaft grows from a single hair follicle deep within the skin where it is not touched by shaving. It is like the bulb of an onion in the ground and each "bulb" only grows one hair shaft above the surface of the skin.

The stubble after shaving feels stiff and hard the same as a freshly mowed meadow provides a stubble. As the shaft grows out its length is softer. But the bottom line is that shaving does not stimulate hair growth.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Tuesday, November 17, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY

November 17, 1981

This coming year you are likely to be more ambitious and persistent than you have been in the past. These will be the major qualities that will contribute to your success at achieving goals you establish for yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A goal you have in mind today may not be as easy to attain as you first thought. However, don't let this disturb you. You have enormous resolve to draw upon. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph, which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) A friend may seek your help today for some purely selfish purpose. You'll be aware of his or her underlying motives, but you will assist this person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Up till now you may have failed to succeed in a venture because of too much wishful thinking, but today you'll treat all factors realistically and make large strides forward.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Base important decisions today on what you know is right and proper, instead of making concessions merely to appease another.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you are performing work or services today, it's best that you have the terms put in writing, rather than to make a verbal agreement.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) This should be an enjoyable day with friends, but don't ask probing questions they may be reluctant to answer. They'll tell you only what they want you to know.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Enjoy yourself today, but treat with gravity that which deserves to be taken seriously. This holds true especially in cases where frivolity may hurt another.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Try not to be too critical today if another makes a mistake regarding something you warned him or her about. Give a lift, not a lecture.

CANCER (June 21-July 21) Situations you personally manage should turn out profitably today, while those directed by others might not do as well.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) When managing those in your charge today strive to be firm, but fair. If you hope to get your points across, you must let them know you mean it when you speak.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Try to keep your financial or business affairs as confidential as possible today. Guard against blurting out something to the wrong party.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you're very generous and giving, but today you could become a trifle stingy over small, unimportant items. Don't let pennies cloud your perspective.

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

Alan: "Didn't you invent the weak jump overall for use in the Culbertson-Lewis match back in 1951 or 1952?"

Oswald: "It was 1951. The bid was called 'Psychic' then because in theory all single jump overcalls were very strong bids of course. It wasn't psychic since all players at the table were aware of what my weak jump overcalls were."

Alan: "Did you ever try one with just a five card suit?"

Oswald: "Never. It was almost always a six carder if made at the two level and a seven carder if made at the three level."

Alan: "Then you would have simply passed with this South hand."

Oswald: "Yes. Not only is it the sort of hand that has practically no declarer's advantage, but with two jacks it may produce tricks on defense."

Alan: "I opened one diamond with the East hand in a recent match point game. South stuck in a two spade bid. North continued the preempting with four spades. I doubled."

Oswald: "You had no trouble taking two tricks in each side suit and a diamond ruff for plus 100."

Alan: "No trouble at all. It was an absolute top since we just couldn't bring home a slam anywhere." (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ADMIN.)
