WHERE ECONOMY ORIGINATES

1. PRICE CUTS ON STAPLES.

A&P starts the New Year by cutting the price on A&P Brands of staples such as Dry Milk, Beans, Peanut Butter, Mayonnaise, Luncheon Meat, Fish Sticks, Spaghetti, Macaroni, Spaghetti Sauce, Cheese Slices, Frozen Shoestring Potatoes and other items that are important to a family's diet So now you can get meaningful savings on many frequently purchased items.

2.WEEKLY SPECIALS DEPARTMENTS

Outstanding weekly specials to include meat, fresh fruits and vegetables and grocery items. And when A& P saves you money on meat, that really means something. Because at A&P, you know you're always getting fully matured meat that's cut, trimmed and priced for value. Take our beef, for instance. We sell only one quality of beef at A&P. And it's backed by our unconditional money-back guarantee and our Butcher's Pledge. That's the A&P Butcher's promise to always pack the better side of every cut down. So if you like what you see in the store, you'll love what you see at home.

3.AWARE LIST CONTI

We're continuing our Early Warning System against price increases: The Aware List. Every week we will voluntarily post a list of price increases, such as those received from manufacturers, a full seven days before we actually change our price. That gives you one week to purchase at the old price, subject, of course, to product availability. You'll also find "Be Aware" shelf tags on many frequently purchased items with the day of the price increase right on the tag. Of course, the Aware List won't include perishables like meat, eggs or fresh fruit and vegetables, where markets fluctuate daily, items controlled by law; or advertised specials.

4. CONSUMER PROTECTION POLICY

We're of course continuing our committment to making you an Aware Shopper by reminding you of what every A&P store owes you and by informing you of ways to get the most for your money. Look for the signs in A&P stores spelling out all the protection A&F gives you: 1. Guaranteed Satisfaction. 2. Exceptional Value. 3. Low Price with Absolutely No Compromise in Quality. 4. Rain Check Product Availability. 5. Product Freshness Through Open Dating. 6. Consumer Information. 7. Courteous Service. 8. Cleanliness 9. Safe and Healthy Products. 10. Shopping Convenience. 11. # NATION IN BRIEF

Nixon Marks Birthday

With Little Fanfare

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) - Former President Richard M. Nixon, secluded in his oceanside estate once called the Western White House, observes his 62nd birthday today.

Rabbi Baruch Korff, among Nixon's staunchest supporters, was one of the few persons on hand for the occasion, and provided the freshest account in weeks of the nation's former chief executive.

In a telephone interview Wednesday, the rabbi described Nixon as "sad at the course of events" that saw him fall from the presidency in the Watergate scandal. But the rabbi, who founded the President Nixon Justice Fund to try to sore up his troubled finances, said Nixon has been "heartened by the expression of good will" flowing in from around the world for his birthday. Nixon's birthday plans for today were simple, the rabbi said - just "a quiet day with Mrs. Nixon." Sometime during the day his daughters, Julie Eisenhower and Tricia Cox, were expected to call from their East Coast homes to wish him a happy birthday.

Justice Gave Names

WASHINGTON (AP) - A Justice Department domestic intelligence unit provided the Central Intelligence Agency with names of between 9,000 and 10,000 U.S. radicals in 1970, a Justice Department official confirmed Wednesday

James T. Devine, now with Justice's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, said the names of domestic radicals were provided to the CIA with a request that the spy agency increase its surveillance of these people while hey were on trips abroad. It could not be learned whether the names supplied by the Justice Department were the same ones mentioned in a recent New York Times story alleging that the CIA conducted illegal domestic surveillance on antiwar activists and had the names of 10,000 Americans in its files.

Cancer Virus Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) - National Cancer Institute scientists are studying a virus found in the cultured blood cells of a leukemia patient that they believe may be a long-sought human cancer virus. They are conducting additional tests on blood from the patient and other biochemical tests to seek further support for their conclusions. If it is confirmed that the virus is of human origin and not a viral contaminant from an animal, medical researchers would have a powerful new tool to develop accurate methods of early detection of some forms of cancer and perhaps more effective treatments.

Oil Strike Looms

DENVER (AP) - An oil industry workers strike will be called by tonight unless a contract settlement with the nation's oil companies is reached, the president of the union

A.F. Grospiron of the 60,000-member Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union set the deadline for reaching agreement on a new contract late Wednesday. "The next 24-hour period will provide a settlement or a strike," Grospiron told newsmen. "It will determine whether or not we will announce strike action."

Doctors Cite Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) - The growing problems that physicians encounter when seeking medical malpractice insurance is "a major crisis problem" facing the nation, according to Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger

While medical malpractice insurance is not normally a federal responsibility, "we cannot sit by and watch a significant number of doctors be unable to get very necessary coverage," Weinberger said. In addition, the rising premium costs are making medical care more expensive, he indicated.

School Supt. William Layer's recommendation to the board was to approve SEA, which claims to represent more than 900 employes in Seminole's school system.

Rosenthal said the next item on the SEA's agenda is to get down to the negotiating table

Health Program Timing Is Poor

The federalized cradle-to-grave health insurance program which has been a pet project of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy is being dusted off for what looks like a concerted drive by labor unions to get it adopted in 1975. The swing toward a more liberal tone in the 94th Congress enhances 'the prospect for such a quantum jump by the federal government into subsidized health care.

The Kennedy plan to make the government responsible for the doctor and hospital bills of all Americans will be sponsored in the House by Rep. James C. Corman, a California Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee which has been expanded to grease the track for social legislation of this kind. Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, who will head the lobbying effort has, by some curious reasoning, decided that this period of inflation and business recession is an ideal time for embarking on what would be the costliest new government program of the decade,

Mr. Woodcock figures that Americans who are temporarily out of work due to recession will rally to the cause of national health insurance because their own group insurance will be suspended. From. the standpoint of practical politics this might indeed be the best time to try to push the program through, but from every other standpoint it is the worst time.

The effort to control the federal budget as a means of stemming inflation is in enough trouble with enactment of new recession-relief programs at a time of declining tax revenues. The Kennedy-Corman-Labor health plan would tap general tax funds for $12 billion a year and raise another $12 billion with a new payroll tax to be paid by employes and their employers. When the $52 billion already being spent annually on the federal Medicare and Medicaid programs for the elderly and poor is added in, the federal budget would carry a $76 billion item for health insurance-at the start. Any illusion that the tax burden could be held at the starting level is shattered by the experience with the runaway costs of Medicare and Medicaid.

Even liberals in Congress may find this program hard to reconcile with their theory that the tax burden ought to be lightened for the sake of stimulating economic recovery and helping people cope with inflation. The program also must be measured against the fact that more than 80 per cent of the working population has some kind of health coverage already. Do the people at large really want or need federal health insurance? Congress might well consider whether legislation is necessary to provide emergency health protection for workers who are laid off perhaps temporary coverage under Medicaid. However, the condition of the federal budget, the condition of our economy and the condition of the pocketbook of the individual taxpayer all unite to make this the worst possible time to plunge into the kind of all-embracing health program that Sen. Kennedy, Rep. Corman and the labor leaders have

Weapon Review

The Congress alone, says the Constitution in plain language shall have the power to lay and collect taxes to provide for the common defense of the United States, to raise and support armies and to provide and maintain a navy.

The founding fathers, averse as they were to standing armies, could hardly have envisioned the present situation, in which the Congress annually raises a large sum ($82.6 billion in this fiscul year) to maintain the country's defense establishment in time of peace.

About $20 billion of this total goes for strategic weapons and defense against them, a budgetary area of decision-making which now involves the danger of intercontinental nuclear war. No policy area of congressional decision is more delicate or more awesome.

for a showdown with the oil-producing countries might have been avoided. In an economic sense, before it is too late.

They want President Ford to serve notice upon the oil potentates that present oil prices are ruining the Western world and, therefore, constitute hostile action.

They point out that the United States has befriended the principal oil rulers in the past and Ford to press forcefully for an oil price reduchas helped them develop their fields. The policymakers advocate, therefore, that the President draw upon this good will to seek an oilprice settlement that will avert the economic collapse of the West.

If a peaceful settlement cannot be reached, they believe military intervention will become inevitable. They don't see how the United States can stand by helplessly while the Western world is plunged into economic and political chaos.

They contend that the United States must take the lead in pushing down world oil prices. The other consuming countries apparently are too divided and disorganized to unite against the oil-producing bloc. They are also paralyzed with fear that their oil might be cut off completely. The backroom strategists urge, therefore, that the United States should prepare to act on its early evening and I was motoring west, carefully negotiating the Appalachian twists of Highway 50. Suddenly my headlights caught the outline of a man running across the road. As I drove closer he got quickly into a pickup and shot off into the night. No wonder. A few feet off the macadam, partially resting against a tree, was a deer; the hasty fellow in the truck was a poacher - he beat it to avoid identification.

I got out to see the deer. It was a sight to turn the stomach. The poacher had probably jacklighted the creature, then blasted it at close range. The deer, a young doe, was punctured with holes, its head completely split from the impact. I guessed the bunter used a shotgun with punkin' balls; the animal didn't have a chance. I'm told poaching is a way of life in eastern West Virginia and that restaurants will purchase venison with no questions asked, thus fairly decent profits can be made from the slaughter. But even without the profits, say the veterans of the area, poaching would be popular; the manager of a roadside explains it this way: "Every man and boy in the county is a hunter. Everyone carries his gun in his car or truck. If they see a deer at night, it's just natural for them to take a shot; people here are fulltime sport-

It's interesting that the roadsider couple poaching with sportsmanship. > RAY CROMLEY Energy: The

Mirage And ' The Reality

WASHINGTON (NEA)- President Ford is getting bad advice on energy. It's come, principally, but not entirely, from Nixon holdovers, mesmerized by the concept of self sufficiency. And from theoreticians, unencumbered by engineering and economic realities. These men have made dreamworld projections of what this country can do with oil shale. sunshine, coal gasification and liquefaction, nuclear power and windmills in the next five to 10 years or so.

In part, this is good. These possibilities should be explored to the hilt. But much of what is dreamed of will take two to four decades or more for sound, orderly, economical development, and then not lead to self-sufficiency. Of course the latter is not desirable economically in any event. In the beginning, self- sufficiency was intended more as a politcial slogan than an attainable economic goal. But Mr. Ford's men persist, against all logic, in acting as though, they were dealing with reality when working on their plans for 1980 and 1985 energy production in the United States. Persistence in this selfhypnosis will only lead to major financial boondoggles and to eventual disillusionment. There's another, more logical path open to the President and the United States. Our problem now is not, of course, a world petroleum shortage, but an oil cartel, small enough and, in the main, sufficiently close kit to raise prices or to run a boycott an time they choose. The leaders with an article, we would gladly accept the help. of this group are also rich enough in dollars, and Your readers might like to know that Billy small enough in population, to afford boycotts. TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - Don Pride, who resigned as Gov. Reubin Askew's press secretary to run for secretary of state, is set to rejoin the Askew administration as director of the Bicentennial Commission. Lt. Gov. Jim Williams, appointed by Askew as Bicentennial Commission chairman, said Wednesday he would ask the panel at its Jan. 31 meeting to name Pride as its executive director.

Williams was expected to announce today the temporary hiring of Pride to study the commission's progress in planning Florida's part in next year's celebration of the 200th anniversary of the founding of the United States.

Chris Carrier Home

CORAL GABLES, Fla. (AP) - As a search continued for his abductor, 10-year-old kidnap victim Christopher Carrier returned home to unopened Christmas presents after a 12-day stay in the hospital.

A 24-hour police guard continued at the boy's home Wednesday, as police said they were checking out "hundreds of leads from Lake Worth to Key Largo" for a man described by the boy in a composite drawing. The boy underwent surgery Dec. 27 for a bullet wound to the head, inflicted by a man who apparently left the fifthgrader to die in the Big Cypress Swamp on Dec. 20 after snatching him from within yards of his family's fashionable Coral Gables home.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's ex-wife and I (his present wife) are the best of friends. I had nothing to do with their divorce. In fact, I never even met Ray until they were divorced. People find this hard to believe. They seem to think that whenever there's a divorce, there's got to be someone waiting in the wings.

Ray never hated his ex-wife, and she never hated him. They just decided after five years that they couldn't make a go of their marriage, so they called it quits. (No children involved.) After I married Ray, I met his "ex" and we became friends. My brother (who's a naval officer) came to town, and I introduced Ray's "ex" to my brother, and wouldn't you know, it was love at first sight! They were married New Year's Day in our home, and Ray and I stood up for them. Everybody thinks we're the craziest people in town because we didn't let divorce make us bitter and backbiting. Please print this to let people know that just because two people are divorced doesn't mean they have to hate each other. DEAR LOVE: Lovely! It's not every man who lucky enough to marry a woman who has a brother for his "ex." DEAR ABBY: They say in most marriages, you grow closer as the years go by. Not us.

After 20 years, there isn't much left to our marriage. We have three teen-age children, and after the last one leaves us we will have nothing. Some days we don't have even five words to say to each other. If one of us should die, I don't think the other would miss much. He would miss his meals and clean clothes, and I would miss his paycheck. Do we go on like this until one of us dies? Or do we go our separate ways and try to make new lives for ourselves? I am 45 and he is 50. MARKING TIME

DEAR MARKING: If you both agree that there isn't much left to your marriage, why not talk about it? Try to remember what you saw in each other 20 years ago. Get some dialogue going! Communicate. Even if it's bitter and argumentative, it will clear the air, and perhaps signal the beginning of a new start. It's worth a try.

Overeaters Anonymous (O.A.) works on the same principle as Alcoholics Anonymous. Members accept the fact they are compulsive eaters foodaholics - a condition which usually cannot be cured, but can be controlled.

"I have accepted I can never again eat sweets," someone explained. 'because just one bit could start a binge. Now, when I'm tempted, or need the 'comfort' of food, I take a bubble bath instead, or call

This way she can check if her menu plan is sound, and at the same time makes a committment to both herself and someone else. Nor does she have to think of food again for 24 hours. If she does feel like snacking, she grabs for the phone . . . before she takes the first bite. O.A. is a loosely structured group, with rotating leaders each session.

NASCAR Announces New Point System

NASCAR announced this week that championshi points in the Winston Cup Grand National division of NASCAR will be awarded under a new system during the 1975 season

The system, which will go into effect for the upcoming Winston Western 500 Jan. 19 at Riverside, Calif., is based on a simple formula and will apply to all Winston Cup

The winner of each event will be awarded 175 points. Five additional bonus points will be awarded to each driver who leads during a race and an additional five points will be awarded to the driver leading the most laps during each race. This system will make seasonal racing more competetive.

The race on the 19th will be 500 miles on a 2.62 mile track. The estimated posted awards will be $104,600.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) -- Has Coach Bud Grant created another "issue," another smokescreen to divert attention from the mounting pressures of a Super Bowl game, another way of psyching up his Minnesota Vikings? It looks that way. It appears he's found his new, improved version of "sparrows in the showers," and this time the sparrows seem to be roosting on quarterback Fran Tarkenton's valuable right arm. Last year, when Super Bowl week was threatened with being enveloped by a mammoth yawn, Grant came up with an issue, what he called the Vikings's less-than-satisfactory practice facilities. Eventually, the whole thing was characterized by Grant's throwaway line about sparrows.

This week, too, was being underwhelmed by the ritualistic sparrows. On Monday, someone had asked Grant whether he had And Grant was ready to deal with it. "Everytime he gets a sore pregame practices and news conferences as the Vikings and some more birds hidden up his sleeve - if he had another issue. arm, he has a great day," he said, perhaps trying ever-so-cleverly Pittsburgh Steelers prepared for Super Bowl IX. Only briefly did On Wednesday, he did ... or so it would seem. Halfway through the daily briefing session Grant casually mentioned that to throw the Steelers ever-so-slightly off guard. "It's a good omen something newsworthy surface. for us," Grant said. "I think he worries about it and he always First it was the viral infection that has hospitalized Pittsburgh Tarkenton had a sore arm, much as someone might suggest that defensive end Dwight White for four straight nights. Then it was seems to throw a little better with it. I'm sure if he's still sore on it looks like rain. Tarkenton's brief verbal swipe at Oakland's Ken Stabler and Sunday, he'll have a great day.' Perhaps it was merely another throwaway line, merely an Miami's Paul Warfield, who had bad-mouthed both Super Bowl observation, but probably not. Grant, like all pro football coaches If that's the case, Tarkenton's adrenalin was positively gushing teams. Then it was the calf injury that is likely to keep Minnesota and clearly more than most, is a tactician, a calculating man, not all through the season. # Deltona Open Weekend Set

DELTONA - Give the promoters of the Deltona Open Golf Tournament a sunny day and warm temperatures and they'll be happy. "Everything's set. We're ready to go," said Deltona Pro Buck Galdden. "Now we're just hoping the weather's good." The Florida PGA Winter Tour stops at Deltona this weekend for a pro-am and a two-day professional tourney. More than $10,000 from tournament proceeds is expected to be donated to the Central Florida Zoological Society for a zoo between Sanford and Deltona.

Approximately $20,000 in cash and prizes will be awarded.

Sixty-one foursomes will compete in a proam event Friday. One pro and three amateurs comprise a foursome. The teams will tee off in a double shotgun start at 7:45 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. Approximately 240 pros will compete fo close to $15,000 Saturday and Sunday. Among the pros playing in the tournamen are defending champion Bob Stroble, Denny Lyons, Nate Starks and Charlie Owens.

Gene Sarazan will compete in the pro-an The women competed in a mini-tourney

Tuesday that raised $1,500 for the zoo. Lee DiLeo led the 63 women with a low gross 86. Dorothy Evans had a low net of 7 Lee DiLeo, Norma Brown, Betty Ward and Vivian Tagh registered a net 60 for top honors

Allison in the Matador.

Drag racing's Don Garlits has said, "I think it is time to return to NHRA competition and show those guys how to run top fuel cars." His return came in the form of a victory at the Supernationals.

Reports are that this year he will have a brand new car that will be used in national competition only, while his old car wal be used for match racing. It seems that there is never an end to where the super slick stuff STP can be used. Recently, mid-western bird anciers found that STP applied to posts which supported elevated bird-feeders prevented squirrels, cats and other varmints from climbing the poles go get at the food, or the birds.

Next, Standard University in Palo, Cal. began using STP to coat its expensive new aluminum goal posts and thus keep fans from climbing the uprights and tearing the posts down in victory celebrations. Other colleges and pro football teams quickly followed suit.

Charges Dropped

In Fishing Ordeal

TITUSVILLE, Fla. (AP) - Two men accused of rigging a fishing tournament have had charges against them dismissed in Brevard Circuit Court. Judge Tom Waddell Jr. dropped the fraud conspiracy charges Wednesday in a pretrial hearing, in effect agreeing with defense arguments that the facts alleged did not amount to a crime. But Asst. State Atty. Harry Stein said later the state would still try to bring George Oates and Bernard Keene to trial. "We disagree with the finding," Stein said. "We will review the matter and either file amended iharges or appeal the ruling." Oates, president of American Bass Fishermen, said he felt vindicated by the ruling. Oates and Keene, both of Cocoa Beach, Fla., and Logan Fischer, of Davie, Fla., had been charged with conspiring to lure entrants into a rigged bass-fishing tournament. According to the charges, two of the tournament's winners entered fish caught before the contest and one split a $500 prize with Oates. No action was taken on charges against Fischer, court officials said.

NHL 'Stars Picked

MONTREAL (AP) - Boston's Phil Esposito, the National Hockey League's top point producer, and Buffalo's highscoring "French Connection" line of Gil Perreault, Rene Robert and Rick Martin will give the Divisions 3 and 4 team a potent offensive punch in the NHL All-Star Game Jan. 21 at Montreal. The four players were among 12 named to the squad in balloting Wednesday by members of the Professional Hockey Writers Association. Of the dozen, four were from Boston, three each from Buffalo and Montreal, and two from Los Angeles.

Boston players picked, in addition to Esposito, were defensemen Bobby Orr and Carol Vadnais, and forward Johnny Bucyk. The Montreal representatives were goalie Ken Dryden, defenseman Guy Lapointe and right wing Guy Lafleur. And chosen from Los Angeles were goalie Rogatien Vachon and defenseman Terry Harper. The only unanimous choices were Vachon and Orr, each collecting the maximum of 135 points.

Olympics Uncertain

MONTREAL (AP) - An air of confusion has settled over the 1976 Summer Games with Mayor Jean Drapeau offering one view and the Olympic Organizing Committee taking another on the key questions of where - and even if - the Games will be staged. "We are going to have the Games in the installations as now planned, or there will be no Games," Drapeau said Wednesday. Buh spokesmen for the organizing committee said other alternatives are being considered, including using the

WASHINGTON (AP) - Despite its cries of anguish about inflation, the National Collegiate Athletic Association has concluded its 69th annual convention without taking any major steps to cut the rising costs of collegiate athletics. Discussions in formal meetings and in hotel corridors for the past week have centered on the rising costs in sports but the convention, which ended Wednesday enacted only one measure dealing with inflation - a resolution to study the subject.

Burma Shave Signs Gone From Roads By GUS STEVENS The Herald Services

They say there are a few remaining along some Texas highways and that there also may be some survivors in the Deep South.

What they are are those famous Burma-Shave signs, those friendly and often amusing companions on the nation's highways and byways. Years ago they seemed to be everywhere and now they apparently are as endangered a species as the whooping crane. Do you remember?

A peach - looks good - with lots of fuzz - but man's no peach - and never was. Children would press their eager faces to the roadside windows of the family car and shout with delight when they saw the little procession of a half-dozen signs approaching on the next curve. Some of them were funny. Some delivered safety messages. Some even delivered hard sells for the shaving product. Come to think of it, the signs might have made more of an impact on the American public than did the product.

He played - a sax - had no B.O. - but his whiskers scratched - so she let him go. Why they vanished perhaps only the chairman of the board, the company president and the board of directors know. But, while some may survive, the signs aren't reproducing with any authority.

Could be the interstate highway system was what sealed their fate. Interstate signs have been frowned upon and there aren't many that make it to the fringes of the giant multilaned divided ribbons of concrete and blacktop.

Henry the Eighth - Prince of Friskers - lost five wives - but kept his whiskers. Maybe as the speed of highway traffic increased, the company - perhaps spurred by Nader-style safety critics

- came to believe that the signs were dangerous. As the signs whizzed by, frustrated drivers might have been tempted to slow down, or perhaps even to aim their vehicles at the signs for an instant so that their eyes and brains might register the poetic messages. Past schoolhouses - take it slow - let the little shaver - grow.

Or maybe the company found maintenance of the signs tiresome and expensive. Certainly they would make wonderful trophies in a boy's room. Here again, it could be a dangerous situation what with motorists racing to the nearest Burma-Shave signs, stopping on the pavement, and competing for the little At least one poetic message lamented the danger to the signs. The company kindly singled out birds to take new spending ventures. But with 6.5 million Americans out of work, almost everyone knows somebody who was cut and there is nothing more spending becomes the goal. The most optimistic view of things now is that a recession is also a renewal
