Time For Mayor Blow To Make A Decision

At one time or another in our lives we find it necessary to "bend" a little, to achieve a purpose or to end a stalemate. It would seem the time has arrived for Mayor Curtis Blow of Casselberry "to bend a little" in the impasse over that city's police chief position.

Mayor Blow nominated the current chief, Donald Brumley; he was confirmed by the City Council and assumed office in January 1969. But when it came time to renew Brumley's "contract," Blow reneged. Brumley has been serving on a "day-to-day" basis, under an attorney general's opinion, since last Jan. 1.

Blow says he has charges sufficient to remove Brumley from office. He has not made these charges public. He has made them known to Thomas Napier, City Council chairman. Twice Blow has submitted names to fill the police chief's position with someone other than Brumley. The first nomination was rejected by City Council on a 4-1 vote (which really made it a vote of confidence for Brumley). Blow's second nomination comes up for a vote Monday evening.

We hold no brief for or against Brumley; we hold no brief for or against Blow. But a police chief serving with a "day-to-day" basis, under an attorney general's opinion, since last Jan. 1, is not a solution. It is a waste of money. It is a waste of time. It is a waste of the public's confidence. It is a waste of the city's resources. It is a waste of the city's reputation. It is a waste of the city's future. It is a waste of the city's soul.

We suggest that Mayor Blow either re-submit Brumley's name to the Council for further service as Casselberry's police chief or that he suggest Brumley. This would call for a public hearing for Brumley, when Blow would have to make public his charges against the police chief.

The residents of Casselberry would be relieved to have the question settled once and for all.

Free Medical Tests Exposed By Herald

By BILL SCOTT

Some county youngsters entering first grade in September are receiving free medical examinations while others are required to pay for the pre-school examinations before being allowed to enter school.

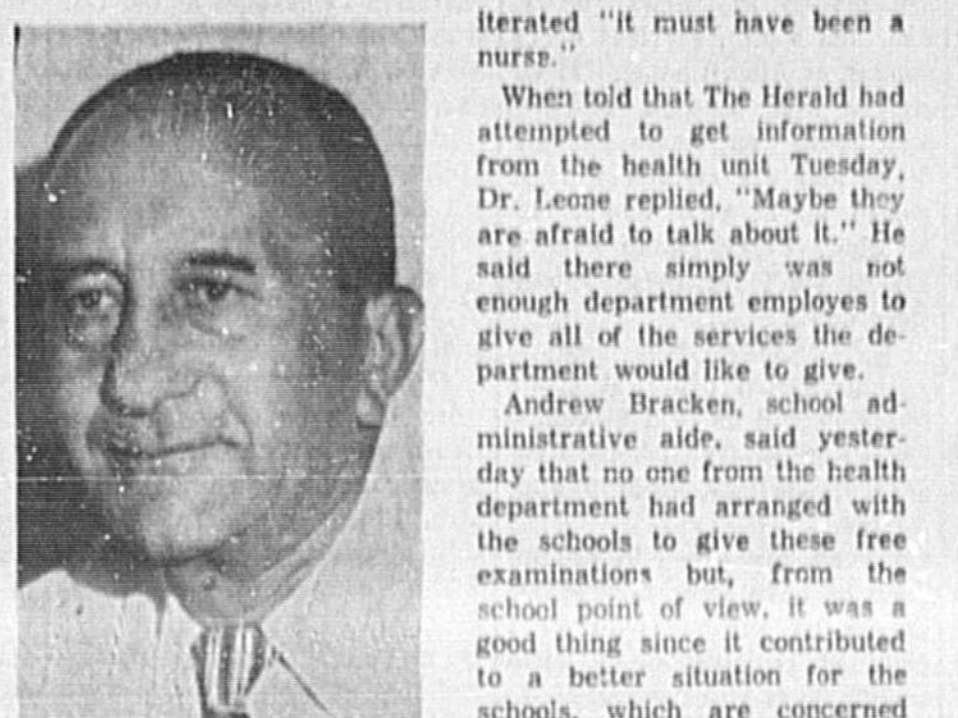

This was admitted this morning by Dr. Frank Leone, Seminole County health department physician, to The Herald.

Leone said he personally did not arrange for the free services of local doctors but felt that health department nurses at the well-baby clinic "may have talked with the doctors about donating their services."

Leone said he did not know just who arranged for doctors to examine gratis children at Hopper, Midway and Goldsboro elementary schools, but advised there was a much higher poverty level at these predominantly Negro schools than at the white facilities.

It was pointed out to Leone that a Sanford doctor had told The Herald he had been contacted by the health department to perform free medical examinations on children at Hopper, Midway and Goldsboro elementary schools, but advised there was a much higher poverty level at these predominantly Negro schools than at the white facilities.

The physician said he was

asked to donate his services in giving the medical examinations which are required under state law.

Dr. Leone said the reason no white schools were included in the free medical examinations was "we can't get around to everyone and since whites out-number Negro, we have to do what we can."

Dr. Leone again emphasized he did not know which person in his department had arranged the examination schedule, which excluded white schools, but reiterated "it must have been a nurse."

When told that The Herald had attempted to get information from the health unit Tuesday, Dr. Leone replied, "Maybe they are afraid to talk about it." He said there simply was not enough department employees to give all of the services the department would like to give.

Andrew Bracken, school administrative aide, said yesterday that no one from the health department had arranged with the schools to give these free examinations but, from the school point of view, it was a good idea since a school money to a better situation for the schools, which are concerned with students getting the examinations before school starts.

Supt. John Angel today agreed with Bracken that no arrangements had been made with the health department which was being used for the examinations.

Neither Bracken nor Angel could offer a reason why white schools were not included in the free exams except to point out the high incidence of poverty in the Negro schools as compared to predominantly white facilities.

Both men agreed that there were many indigent whites who have to pay for the exams.

Two Flyers Said Alive

By CHARNER LEONE

Word has been received that two Sanford men, missing for two years in Vietnam, are alive and well. Lt. Cdr. Leo Gregory Hyatt, formerly of Sanford, and Lt. Cdr. Charles Negus James Jr. are now officially prisoners of war.

Their names are among 80 released for the first time from Hanoi, confirmed by the Committee of Liaison in New York.

The wives of both men were living in Albany, Ga., awaiting the return of their husbands from a tour of duty in Vietnam, when word that they were missing was received. Mrs. James returned to Sanford to live with her mother, Mrs. Barbara Joris, 2402 DeCottes Avenue.

Hyatt has been missing since August, 1967. This is the first time he has been listed as alive. James was captured in May, 1968, sent a tape recording to his wife a week ago. Until then he had not known his status.

Mrs. Joris reports that her daughter, Rozanne, who is a student at Seminole Junior College, was sure that it was her husband's voice that she heard on the tape. The message included birthday wishes to their daughter, 35-year-old Suzanne, and word that he is well. James also said that he had received a Christmas package sent by his wife in hopes that he would receive it. Letters that she has sent over the years were not acknowledged.

The first word of James' safe ty was monitored in Oklawaha against and to see if they (the other cities) wish to pursue action on this matter.

The Casselberry city lead has been tested that each of the delegates bring forms which were distributed to them requesting the status of each city, pertaining to sewers, water systems, ordinances, police, fire, etc., that will be turned over to the Rollins College Prof. Dr. Paul Douglas for study and his recommendations on consolidations of the quad-city area.

"I will await Dr. Douglas' report before I make up my mind whether we should consolidate," Napier answered when quizzed over his feelings toward consolidation. "If Dr. Douglas feels it would be beneficial for the cities, I would go along with his opinion," Napier concluded.

The meeting is slated at 7:30 p.m. at Casselberry City Hall.

Mayor Swofford Lambasts The Insurance Industry

By MARION BETHEA

ALTMONTONE — The conflagration which had threatened to erupt between the suburban fire control district commissioner and Altamonte Springs City Council over rate increases in their contract renewal, turned out to be little more than a smoldering ember at yesterday's meeting to the council.

Mayor Lawrence Swofford explained that unless the commissioners were amenable to executing a contract of longer than one year, it would not be feasible for the municipality to purchase the additional fire equipment deemed necessary by the insurance underwriters to afford a better rating.

District Commissioner Vernon Dunn, who had presented the opposition to the contract hike at a recent county commission meeting, told the council that the district had the right to the citizens in the district and could do more with a combined effort with the municipality.

Dunn continued that the district was willing to pay a just and proportionate share, but that other fire control districts had continuing capital outlay and the suburban district was only paying for the service which would be terminated at any time.

Swofford then injected his running vendetta against the insurance industry with relation to the city having to purchase more equipment to get a better rate. Swofford said that "There is nothing rotter than the insurance industry in Florida... in my opinion it is nothing. The underwriters only work for the industry and all insurance in Florida is slanted to the companies."

Swofford stated further that it would be necessary to expand approximately $25,000 for an additional fire truck, $7,000 for equipment and $6,000 for a fireman's salary.

The opinion was asked of City Attorney S. Joseph Davis as to the execution of a long term contract, and it was advised that it was possible.

Swofford then asked, "Do you think you'll have any trouble over in Sanford with a 3-5 year contract?"

Dunn answered, "We can do anything to protect the citizens of Altamonte." Swofford shot back, "Yes, but the 'little gack' has his thumb on the budget" (apparently referring to County Commission Chairman John Alexander, also called "little Caesar").

Swofford continued that Altamonte Springs citizens pay one mill for fire protection on properties valued at approximately $17 million, and that the citizens of Altamonte should not have to pay more than non-citizens for similar service while bearing the burden of capital equipment costs. Swofford further stated that approximately 64 per cent of fires were in the district. Davis attempted to resolve the entire issue by advising that the city make a study of the fire protection in the district and submit a proposal to the commissioners to negotiate a contract. Davis continued that although the city has the authority for a long term contract, the county also has broad powers under the home rule provision.

The first word of James' safe ty was monitored in Oklawaha against and to see if they (the other cities) wish to pursue action on this matter.

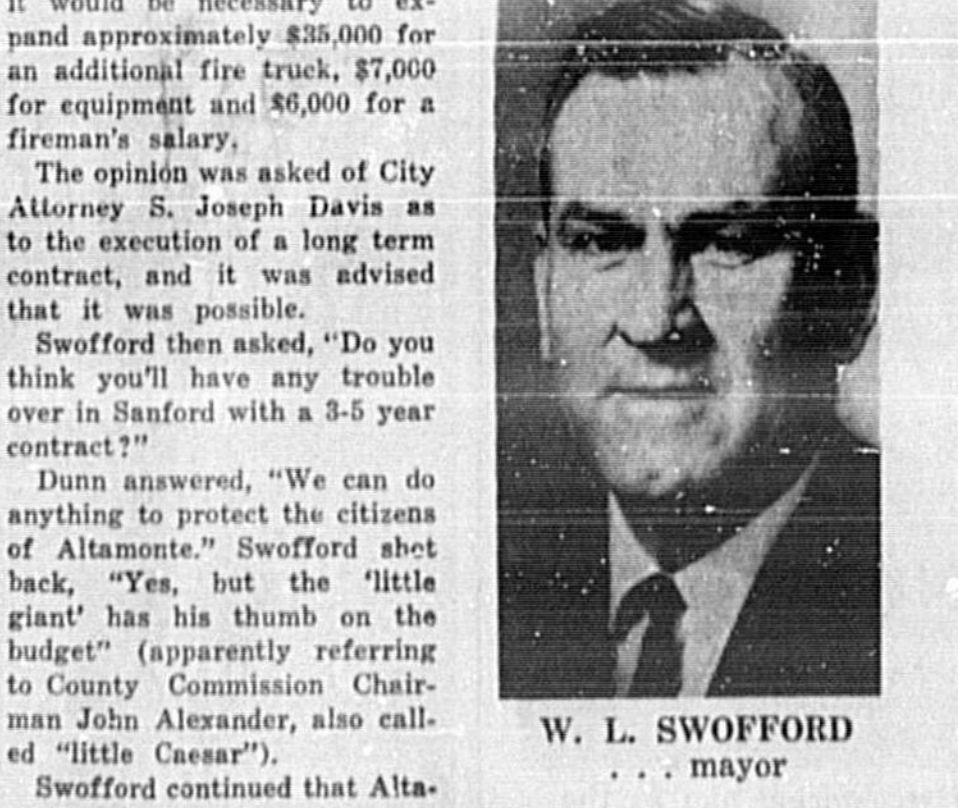

The Casselberry city lead has been tested that each of the delegates bring forms which were distributed to them requesting the status of each city, pertaining to sewers, water systems, ordinances, police, fire, etc., that will be turned over to the Rollins College Prof. Dr. Paul Douglas for study and his recommendations on consolidations of the quad-city area.

"I will await Dr. Douglas' report before I make up my mind whether we should consolidate," Napier answered when quizzed over his feelings toward consolidation. "If Dr. Douglas feels it would be beneficial for the cities, I would go along with his opinion," Napier concluded.

Municipal Merger Parley Set

By TOM ALEXANDER

CASSELLBERRY — South Seminole's four municipalities will take a first formal step to discontinue consolidation tomorrow night, following a request by Casselberry City Council Chairman Thomas Napier to sit down and talk about the plus and minus sides of consolidating the four cities of Casselberry, Altamonte Springs, Longwood and North Orlando.

Napier sent out a letter yesterday requesting that each of the four cities have one or two delegates on hand to research and discuss the possibilities of consolidation.

Napier told The Herald, "I want to know what we are up

Nixon Bowling's Biggest Patron

By MARTY RALBOWSKY
NEA Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (NEA)—The people who run professional bowling in this country are riding a tight line to Washington in hopes of cultivating the nation's leading citizen as their leading fan.

To start the ball rolling, so to speak, they covered the front page of their official program here for the Firestone Tournament of Champions with a color picture of an intense Richard Nixon three-stepping down the White House lanes, backswinging his Don Carter Gyro ball. He is wearing gray slacks, white bowling shoes and a blue-checked shirt, open at the throat.

Thank You, Mr. President

They can't say enough money to any man of either party to assume the highest office in the land. Sure, we can all sit by and criticize their every effort, but trying to imagine yourself in their position for just an instant and see what you'd be tempted to do.

Braves Continue Undefeated; Drop Oviedo Nine, 11-7

The Sanford Junior High Braves remained undefeated yesterday as they bounced the Oviedo baby Lions 11-7. The Braves now stand 4-0 on the season.

Donald Brown started on the mound for the Braves, but saw relief in the fifth inning from Frank Sloan. They combined to strike-out eight. Tulp and Daniels hurled for Oviedo, fanning seven.

The Braves hit the Oviedo game right from the start. They jumped to a 5-0 lead in the bottom half of the first. Ricky Turner led off as he reached base on an error by the short stop. David Barth followed with a home hit. When Dickie Deas drew a base-on-balls, the bases were loaded.

Night Racing Boosts Area

CASELBERY, Fla.—When the Seminole Turf Club launches its inaugural night racing, the local track will take its place among approximately a dozen American ovals that offer thoroughbred racing under the lights.

And therein lies one of the paradoxes of the turf sport. While owners, officials, and knowledgeable newspapermen concur that night racing is the answer to ever-mounting competition for the sport's dollar, few tracks have abandoned the traditional afternoon cards. In the past 10 years, in fact, only three tracks have gone to lights.

Went To Title Up

Once again it's Championship Racing time at Deland Raceway. Fans throughout Central Florida are in for some of the best in dirt track racing. The Third Annual Florida State Dirt Track Championship Race will be held Sunday April 19, at 2:30 p.m.

This year the 100 Lap Championship event will be known as the "Shamrock 100". Competing in the race will be Unlimited late models 1960-1970 in open competition. The starting field is expected to attract some of the top drivers throughout the state of Florida, also expected to be on hand are several of the top Georgia cars and drivers.

The 1/3 mile high banked trioval has been newly treated with an oil type surface should guarantee some fierce competition among the hand charges expected to make up the starting field.

To hand for this year's event will be Larry Flynn of Holly Hill, Fla., the 1969 Champion and Jimmy Stroud of Deland, the 1968 winner. This year the winner of the 100 Lap Feature will take home $700.00 for his efforts. There will be additional money in the form of lap money, cash for the fact of qualifier plus a trophy and also manufacturers awards.

Double Barrelled

OTTAWA (UPI) — Ted Green's lawyer today is expected to try to double-barrel an argument to prevent his client from becoming the first National Hockey League player ever convicted of assault for a fight during a game.

Edward J. Houston, defending Green on a charge of common assault before Provincial Court Judge Michael Fitzpatrick, said he would argue that the charge was invalid because hockey players "consent" to the danger of fights during games.

Paving Saving Cited By Engineer

By TOM ALKXANDER
A saving of some $12,000 to $20,000 may be expected, according to Assistant City Engineer Richard Mathis, of Casseberry, on the proposed paving of Sunset Drive after a review of bids submitted by three different construction companies.
Some $98,000 was allotted to pave the artery in Casseberry, but bids indicate a sum in the area from $82,000 to $86,000 for the complete paving of the mile exposure.
A problem with the non-publication of assessment rolls could delay the project and Mathis was instructed to prepare new assessment rolls as quickly as possible on the average of bids received for publication to allow the project to get off the ground.

Sidewalk Sale Is Scheduled

Does your organization need a good fund? Here's the chance. SISTER, Incorporated and the Downtown Merchants are once again sponsoring the annual downtown Sidewalk Sale and invites civic, church, service and social organizations to participate.
SISTER stands for "Seminole's Interested Sisters To Encourage Rejuvenation." In other words, they promote the City of Sanford, by arousing interest and sponsoring projects which will promote the city.
The advantages to the organizations participating in the Sidewalk Sale are threefold: It's a fun activity for the club members; it clearly demonstrates that the organization is a vital, contributing group in Sanford; and the results of the participation in the sale are financial as well as self-satisfying to the organization.

Another of the fire commissioners asked if reducing the rating would be worth the cost involved and Swofford again explained "insurance" and the "California plan." He continued that "they" (presumably the industry) are trying to get a unicameral legislature, because "it's easier to control than 100 members."

Holy Toledo! Batman Steals Cop's Pistol

Batman - or someone who is obviously attracted by the "Dynamic Duo" - struck last night at the Wackentub Corporation in Orlando and took away the revolver of one of the agency's operatives, Sanford police files disclosed.
The report stated that Mike McClung, a Wackentub employee and a part-time Seminole County reserve deputy, had his gun taken away by a man appearing to be in his late 20s or early 30s, who escaped in an old car bearing the name "Batman" emblazoned across the back.
The report stated the bandit standing about 5'10", produced a gun and told McClung to give up his Smith and Wesson revolver.
The robber then made his escape in a 1961 model, the report stated.
There was no mention of Robin or any other accomplice being implicated in the incident or any information relating to why McClung was selected for the attack.

Saturday's Trip To Moon Will Be Most Hazardous

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Man's third trip to the moon scheduled to start Saturday, will differ in many ways from the previous two.
The landing site is not hazardous but new techniques will be used to help the lander find its target.
The astronauts will stay longer on the moon's surface than their predecessors, will conduct new experiments that include the first lunar use of power tools, and will be able to take a drink of water if they get thirsty on their moonwalk.

Measles May Delay Apollo 13

By HOWARD BENEDETT
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Two of the Apollo 13 astronauts could break out in a rash of German measles at any hour, their doctor reports. If so, their planned trip to the moon starting Saturday will be postponed until May 9.
Medical specialists studied additional blood samples of all three crewmen—James A. Lovell Jr., Thomas K. Mattingly II and Fred W. Haise Jr.—to obtain more information on their immunity levels.
Contact with Apollo 13 backup astronaut Charles Duke, who came down with the disease Saturday, was postponed until May 9.

Lowly Fly Claims County Attention

County Commissioner Greg Drummond digressed from his customary crusade on road signals and improvements and turned his attention to the lowly fly.
The issue revolves around a reputed illegal dump near Spring Lake School.
County Sanitarian Val Robbins reported there is refuse on private property, which was under surveillance by health officials but no illegal dumping had actually been witnessed.
Robbins continued that there had been no evidence of fly breeding which could be attributed to the dump. He further stated that there was "some" dumping on the county right-of-way but that there was a minimum of garbage; the balance was rubbish. Robbins said that an attempt was being made to locate the owner of the property and to have him clean it up.

Grant Is Received

Seminole Junior College has received a $20,000 federal grant to be used to buy a computer for the two-year institution.
SJC President Dr. Earl Weldon advised the grant was obtainable under vocational funds and bids will be called before a purchase is made.
Weldon said the grant must be used before June or the college would lose the funds to buy SIC's first computer.
Another grant, this one for $12,000, was also received by the college from the federal government for use in the school's quality control program, Weldon said.

Coffee Honors Benefit Workers

At an appreciation coffee at the Woman's Club of Sanford, April 7, participants in the International Smorgasbord held recently for the benefit of the Seminole County Mental Health Center, gathered to revive the fun each enjoyed working on this project and to note difficulties encountered and possible solutions for future reference should this affair become an annual event.

Mrs. J. J. Sieczkowski, president of the event, introduced the members of the steering committee which included, Mrs. William Eggers and Mrs. Stuart Culpepper of the South Seminole Women's Club, and Mrs. James Keyser and Mrs. Robert Barthlow of the South Seminole Pilot Club.

Mrs. Keyser, ticket chairman, reported about $4,000 received in ticket sales. Mrs. Marian Barthlow, Advertising Chairman, reported $623.00 in the sale of ads for the program, $66.70 from Oviedo High School Student Body, and donations of approximately $100.00 from other sources, with more coming in daily.

Certificates of Appreciation signed by Dr. Michael Gutman, Medical Director of the Mental Health Center, and Mrs. J. J. Sieczkowski, first vice chairman of the Board of the Center, were presented to groups for the participation in the county wide benefit for Mental Health and in other ways.

The Sanford Herald, with Doris Williams and Mrs. Cecelia Farmer being the chief contacts and angels; The Seminole Edition of the Orlando Sentinel with Mary Ann Campbell always on hand and marvelous editorial support and, of course, Bill Beck at Radio Station WTRR who was so generous with air time for us on all projects and Girl Scouts of English Estates.

Shower Fetes Janice Daniels

Miss Janice Daniels, bride-elect of Martin Richard Satava, of Venice, was complimented with a recent miscellaneous shower at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer. Hostesses were Mrs. W. F. Holcomb, Mrs. Andrew Wolf and Mrs. Ray Braden.

A color theme of yellow and white was used in decorations. The gift table, overlaid with a white cloth featured a beautiful umbrella covered with yellow cellophane fringe adorned with white roses and bows and an arrangement of yellow glads and greenery.

Other arrangements of yellow glads and white Easter lilies were placed at vantage points in the party area. The refreshment table overlaid with a white cloth held a center arrangement of yellow and white mums and greenery in a white container flanked by two tall yellow tapers in crystal holders.

On one end of the table was a large crystal punch bowl filled with yellow fruit punch and on the other was an assortment of cookies, petit fours, mints and nuts, which were served to those attending.

The hostesses presented Miss Daniels with a white carnation corsage and her mother, Mrs. George Daniels, a yellow carnation corsage.

Haid-Higgins

Nuptials Spoken

The marriage of Miss Janet Eriene Haid and Stephen Warren Higgins took place Tuesday, March 11, at 1:30 p.m. at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church of Fort Pierce, with the Rev. Charles B. Hulon, Jr. officiating at the double ring nuptial mass.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Earl Haid of Fort Pierce. Mr. Higgins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Higgins of 815 Beach Court, Fort Pierce, formerly of Sanford.

Following a honeymoon throughout the state, the groom has reported to Hawaii to be joined shortly by his bride.

Home Hints

When laundering anything containing spandex, hand or machine wash in lukewarm water. Do not use chlorine bleach. Rather, use oxygen or sodium perborate type bleach. Rinse thoroughly and drip dry. Use low temperature for machine drying.

Keep a sick child isolated from the others as much as possible, preferably in his own bed surrounded by his favorite toys. Make these toys off-limits for the rest of the children for the duration of the illness. Then wash all the toys thoroughly before returning them to general family use.

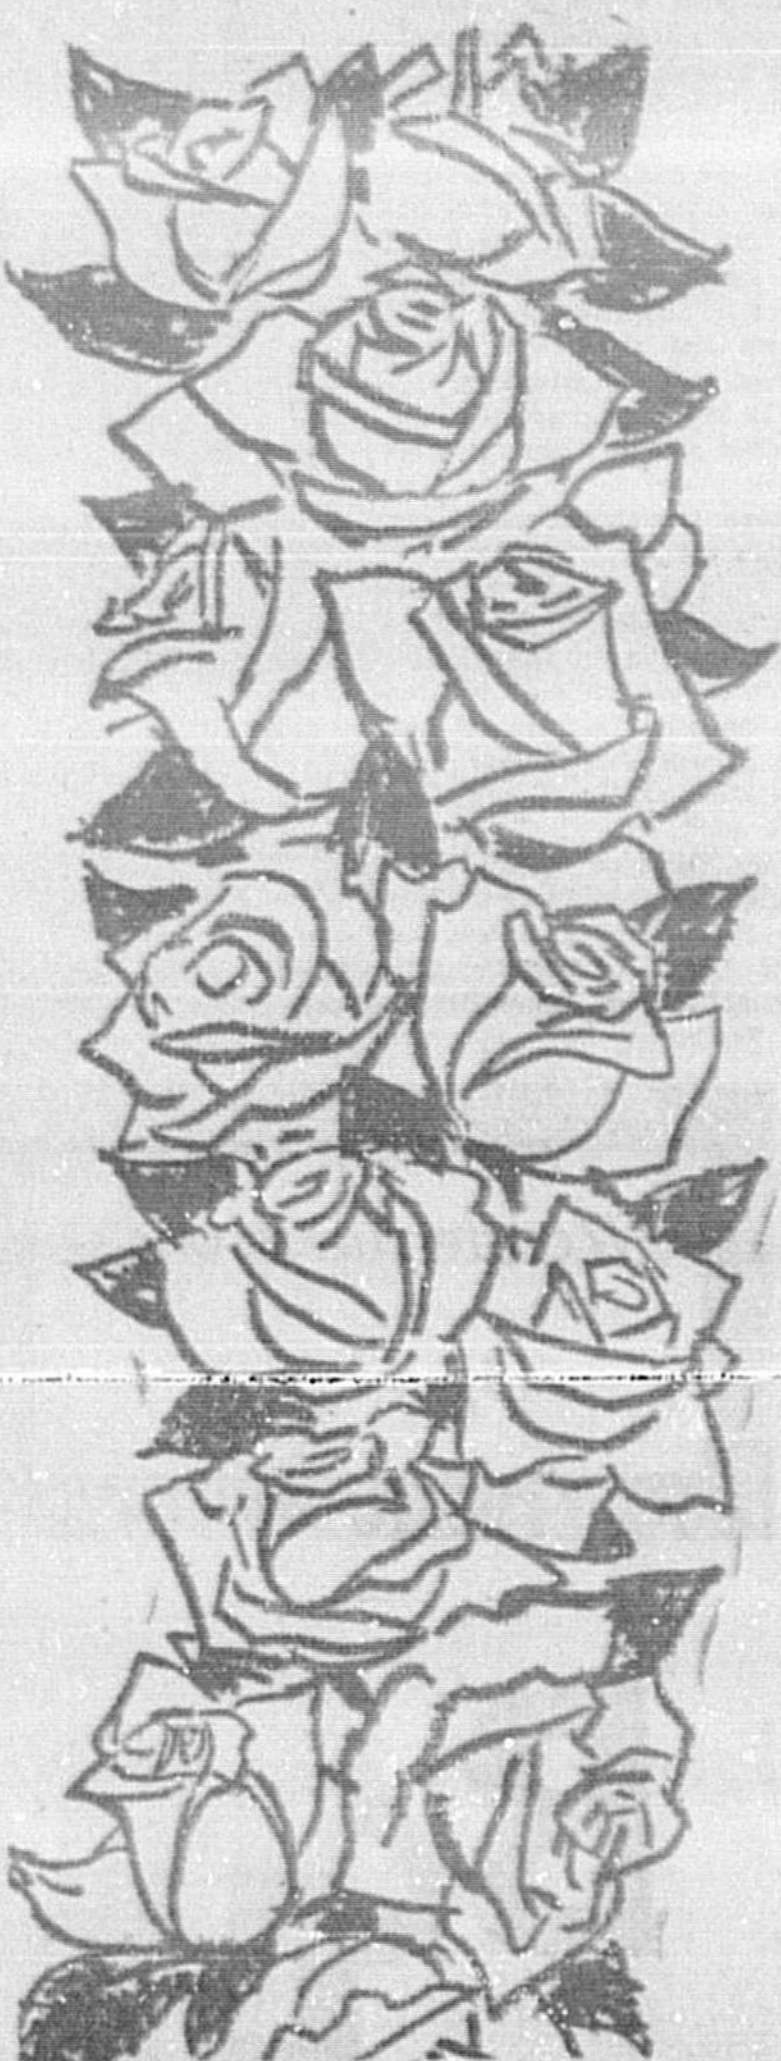

Most cloth window shades are coated with vinyl—which makes them colorfast. When colors dull a bit, just wipe off with a sandy sponge.

Always hang woolen garments immediately after washing. Wool fibers are elastic and slight wrinkles usually will stretch out overnight. You can quickly steam away more firmly set wrinkles from packing or wearing by hanging the garment in the bathroom while you take a hot shower. Properly-shaped hangers are a must for maintaining shoulder lines.

For a new idea in decorating, how about a bedspread made of bright colorful towels, sewn together, then quilted to washable fill and lining?

Now that linens are available in every color, plan your purchases in color code your home.

For example, use yellow hot-ton sheets and yellow-striped top sheets and pillow cases for all the beds, including baby's crib one week; blue, the next; and white, the third. Carry out the theme in the bathroom and do the same with your kitchen towels.

LETTY COTTIN POGREBIN... Wife, mother of three, and publishing company executive, Letty doesn't believe a gal has to sacrifice her femininity to storm the executive suite. She passes on her advice in "How to Make It in a Man's World."

Lady Executive Guards Femininity

By ARLEEN ABRAHAM AP Newsfeatures Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Can a bright, energetic, motivated young woman capture and hold down a high salaried, motivated position in the male-oriented business world without losing her femininity or forgoing the traditional role of marriage and motherhood? Letty Cottin Pogrebin, author of "How To Make It in a Man's World." And, add the petite, attractive, publishing executive, as she tosses her below the shoulder-length hair for emphasis. "I don't see any reason why bright girls can't enjoy the advantages of all three worlds."

After failing to make a go of a job as a copywriter—"I was awfully good at it, but it was full-time," she sought a job as a junior editor. Bernard Geis took her on, but she didn't need a trade union movement. "By the time New York City-born Letty graduated from Brandeis University at age 19, she already had held three summer jobs in different phases of the publishing world. The wife of an attorney, and the mother of three—two girls, 5, and a son, 3—finds it "a challenge and not a problem to succeed in a male-oriented world. You can do it as long as you have an assistant to the director of public relations and advertising and subsidiary rights. She took the job, she says. "The director of public relations and advertising and subsidiary rights for Bernard Geis Associates, Letty has planned and directed ever since." She says, adding promotion campaigns for "Valley of the Dolls." "Sex and the Single Girl" among other books. She sees her job primarily as keeping her out of the business world, but ranks it behind her roles of wife and mother in terms of importance.

"Sex and the Single Girl" is the most irreplaceable commodity in the job market and never since. Letty believes that any creative, bright gal with ability and determination can get there, too, provided she knows the rules for making it in a man's world.

"The No. 1 thing to remember is that too many girls are dead-end in the name of business," she says, opening her green eyes wide in astonishment as though she still has to pinch herself to believe it's real.

Yet, she claims, "Too many girls don't even attempt to pierce the executive ranks. The fear of sacrificing femininity on the altar of success has kept thousands of women in their places." Subconsciously these women believe in that absurd myth of the necessary masculine woman executive.

"Letty doesn't believe the militant feminists have done much to improve the situation. They're also afraid of people, she points out. "They believe it's a choice of career or marriage, motherhood and enslavement. I say forget about the career. It may ignore your suggestions 12 times out of 20, but the last eight ideas just may get you out of the menial job."

How does she manage to do her full-time executive job, her career and keep her kids and kitchen, not to speak of being worried about the baby out of shape condition? "A good housekeeper is a necessity, of course. In fact the choice of a housekeeper is almost instantaneous. I'm not a career woman as is the choice for femininity and I don't want to be a castrate my husband in order to smile."

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I've been married 22 years. We have five children, three are away at college. The two at home are boys, 11 and 12. I want to see if you can help me with my mother for six weeks next summer. I have never done this before and my husband is having a fit. He says I can do it only over his dead body. (What a temptation!)

Every vacation we visit his mother, and that's where he wants to go again. The boys say they don't want to go to visit Grandmother (his mother) again this summer and I can't blame them as there is nothing for them to do there. Only one summer since I've been married have I visited my mother. I have no objection to my husband's spending his summer vacation with his mother, but I want to spend mine with my mother. How can I persuade my husband to let me go?

DEAR DOMINATED: After 22 years of admitted "domination" it won't be easy to "assume" yourself, but you can try. Appeal to his sense of fair play and logic. If he doesn't budge, ask him to put the question to an impartial third party. And if he still gives you that "over my dead body" routine, before you leave for your mother's, ask her to sign a statement stating that when you left he was alive and kicking.

DEAR HORRIFIED: I am not as "horrified" as you are since today are being made to educate as well as entertain children. If such a doll is made, YOU don't have to buy one. Or would you like to improve your sense of proportion on other parents?

South's jump to four hearts illustrates another bridge device: Overvaluation. You can't blame North for blasting to a slam after that jump nor can we fault West for doubling the slam. His trump holding looked good enough to be proof against any series of plays by declarer.

West was so sure of himself that he decided to go out for a big set. Therefore, he opened the jack of clubs and set back to cash in on the expected bonanza.

There was a bonanza, all right, but it wasn't North's South promptly cashed dummy's top diamonds to get rid of his spades. Then he ruffed a spade, ruffed another with a top club, ruffed another spade, played another club to dummy and ruffed a diamond.

At this point, South had eight tricks in hand and held five trumps and two baby clubs. North held two aces, a diamond and the 10-6 of trumps. Poor West still had the five trumps he had started with.

South showed him his hand but West continued to huddle. Finally South said, "I'm in for ten tricks and you're in for five. If you'll take my ten tricks and I'll take your five trumps and dummy's 10 later on."

As a result, the fiber bands will stretch till her breasts become flabby and thus drop lower and lower, thereby making her look older.

There is a medical job agent flabby breasts which recounts the request of a woman who asked her doctor where to point a revolver when she wanted to commit suicide.

Stuff Pork Chops, Bake 'Em

BAKED STUFFED pork chops... they're extra good when they hold a cornbread dressing.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

Dear Cecily, I've been trying to find a recipe for Pork Chops with Cornbread Dressing, but so far have had no success. Can you help me?—Recipe Hunter.

Dear Recipe Hunter, No wonder you can't find the recipe. We've looked into half a dozen comprehensive cookbooks—but none of them features it. We're happy to say that we do have a recipe for the dish and hope you enjoy it as much as our tasters did.—C.B.

PORK CHOPS WITH CORNBREAD STUFFING

1 package (10 ounces) easy cornbread mix
 2 tablespoons butter
 1/4 cup finely chopped onion
 2 tablespoons finely chopped celery
 1/2 cup chopped pared apple
 1 teaspoon garlic salt
 1/2 teaspoon sage
 6 double pork chops.

with pockets
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons solid white shortening
 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed golden mushroom soup, undiluted

Make and bake cornbread according to package directions; cool. Crumble enough cornbread to make 2 1/4 cups. (Serve remaining cornbread split and toasted.)

In a large skillet, heat the butter and onion and celery; cook gently until softened. Add the crumbled cornbread, apple, garlic salt and sage; mix well. Stuff 1/4 cup of this dressing into pocket of each chop; secure openings with toothpicks.

Sprinkle chops with the salt. In the clean large skillet heat the shortening; add chops and brown slowly and thoroughly on both sides. (You may have to do this in two batches.) Arrange chops (discarding fat in skillet) in a shallow roasting pan or baking dish into which they just fit. Spread soup over chops. Cover tightly (with foil if necessary). Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven, turning twice, until cooked through—1 to 1 1/4 hours. Remove chops to serving dish and keep warm.

Four gravy in baking pan into a small saucepan; skim off fat; reheat gravy and serve with chops.

Make six servings.

NOTES:
 If you have a large ovenproof skillet into which all the chops will fit, you can use it for both browning and baking the chops. In this case remove chops from skillet after browning and discard fat before returning chops to skillet to bake.

We found these chops could be made ahead and reheated. To do this, bake chops no longer than one hour at 350 degrees; refrigerate. Reheat, tightly covered, at 350 degrees for 40 to 60 minutes.

A Norse 'Burger Sauce-y

By AILEEN CLAIRE, NEA Food Editor

In the dictionary the "hamburger" has a simple, direct definition of a ground patty of meat a person can prepare in almost anyway. Perhaps it is its simple, direct flavor that makes it a favorite of Americans of all ages.

A burger with gusto makes a great evening meal. One research source claims that "the burger and the pickle have been going together for 74 years and they relish each other's company." Whether agelessly true or false, this is one pun you can put on a bun and enjoy. To save time from mixing a salad, serve on pumpernickel or rye on a bed of beets, chopped gherkins with mayonnaise and horseradish. Add shredded lettuce, if desired, and a fan of pickles.

NORSE 'BURGERS

1/2 cup mayonnaise
 1/2 cup chopped sweet gherkins
 1/2 cup finely chopped canned beets

1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
 1 pound ground beef
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 Shredded lettuce
 4 slices dark pumpernickel or rye bread, buttered
 4 sweet gherkin pickle fans

In a small bowl mix together mayonnaise, chopped gherkins, beets and horseradish; mix together beef, salt and pepper; shape into 4 patties. Broil 3 to 4 inches from source of heat 5 to 7 minutes or until desired doneness. Arrange shredded lettuce on bread; spoon dressing over lettuce. Top with burger; garnish with pickle fans. Makes 4.

Prepare Pickle Fans: Cut into many thin slices lengthwise without cutting all the way to the end. Place on food or tray to be garnished and spread the slices apart to resemble a fan.

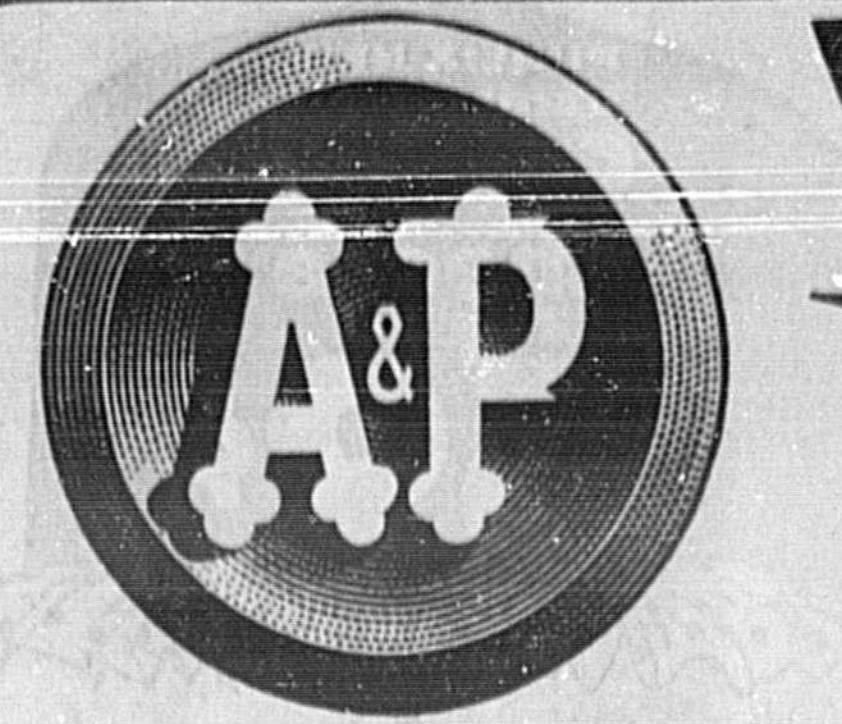

Tomato Aspic a la Blue

At your next bridge club party, serve an exciting luncheon featuring a colorful tomato aspic accented with American blue cheese. A combination of tomato juice, crispy celery, tangy onions, green pepper and crumbs of zesty American blue cheese whet the appetite. This sumptuous masterpiece, served with your favorite tea sandwiches, will be the crowning glory of your bridge gathering.

Hominy, Ham And Cheese

By ALLEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

At the French say, "Plus tu change plus c'est la même chose" or the more things change, the more they are the same.

This is a nutshell wrap up a few editions of "Casserole Cookery" by Marian Tracy, this time in paperback (Berkeley). Mrs. Tracy's first collection of casserole recipes appeared on the day after Pearl Harbor in 1941. Written with her late husband, the book has grown from 20 to 40 recipes. She says in a foreword: "My way of life has changed much, as has that of most of the world, yet casserole cooking has become more and more the way to cook and serve... Even the term 'casserole' changed from meaning a flat-bottomed pan often used on top of the stove to 'anything cooked in the oven and served in the same dish'."

Beginning cooks and experimental pros will appreciate leafing through the recipes for new taste combinations such as a hearty hominy and ham in cheese sauce or a German schinken Kartoffeln (ham, potatoes, onions and green peppers).

HOMINY AND HAM IN CHEESE SAUCE

- 1/2 lb. mushrooms, sliced
 - 4 tablespoons butter
 - 3 tablespoons flour
 - 1 1/2 cups milk
 - 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 - 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
 - Salt
 - Pepper
 - 3 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
 - 1 (1 1/2 lb. or 2 lb.) can whole hominy, drained
 - 2 cups diced cooked ham
- Saute mushrooms in butter until they look cooked but not browned. Remove with slotted spoon. Sprinkle flour in the same pan and cook over low heat until almost dry. Add milk a little at a time, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Add mustard, grated cheese, salt, pepper, parsley and mix well. Put drained hominy in a casserole. Stir ham over it and pour in cheese sauce. Bake in 350-degree oven 40 to 50 minutes. Makes four servings.

SCHNITZEN KARTOFFELN

- 6 raw potatoes, scraped and sliced thin
- 3 medium onions, sliced thin
- 4 green peppers, sliced thin and seeds removed
- 1 1/2 lb. cooked ham, cut in chunks
- Salt
- 2 cups milk
- Freshly grated Parmesan cheese
- Butter a deep casserole. Put a layer of raw potatoes on the bottom, a layer of onions, one of green peppers and finally ham. Sprinkle with a little salt, depending upon how salty ham is. Repeat until all ingredients are used. Beat eggs and milk together and pour in casserole. Cover tightly and bake in 350-degree oven 45 minutes or until vegetables are tender and the egg and milk custardy. Just before serving sprinkle grated Parmesan cheese on top. Makes four or more servings.

AFTER-SCHOOL TREAT

- This nut-to-sweet cookie has good flavor and crisp texture.
- Apple Wedges
- Cocoa
- Molasses Cookies
- MOLASSES COOKIES
- 2 cups unsifted flour
- 2 cups unsifted flour
- 1/2 cup unsifted flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ginger
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup light molasses
- On wax paper thoroughly stir together the flour, baking soda and spices. In a large mixing bowl cream butter and molasses. Gradually blend in the flour mixture. Cover and chill dough for three to four hours or overnight.
- On a floured pastry cloth with a floured straight-edged rolling pin roll out 1/4 of the dough at a time so it is quite thin. Cut out with a 2 1/2 to 3 inch cookie cutter.
- Place one inch apart on greased cookie sheets. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned - 8 to 10 minutes. With a wide spatula remove to wire racks to cool. Store in tightly covered tin box. Makes about three dozen crisp cookies.

Sweet Cheese Blintz

By ALLEN CLAIRE, NEA Food Editor

Pancake houses are popularizing the blintz, a delightful, filled pancake so much a part of traditional Jewish cookery. The thin pancake or crepe is filled with blueberries, strawberries or sliced peaches or with a creamy cheese. Served at breakfast, lunch or dinner, as a main course or as a dessert.

A shortcut recipe for a sweet cheese blintz calls for a pancake mix. Fill with cheese, golden raisins, seasoned with a hint of lemon and vanilla. When ready to serve, sprinkle with cinnamon sugar and a cherry preserves sauce or a dollop of sour cream.

Blintzes may be filled and placed in layers separated with wax paper and kept overnight in the refrigerator. To serve, brown quickly in a small amount of butter.

SWEET CHEESE BLINTZES

Crepes:

- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1/4 cup pancake mix

Filling:

- 1 cup dry cottage cheese
- 1 1/2-cup pkg. cream cheese, soft
- 1 egg
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- seedless raisins
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- Dash salt

Cherry Sauce:

- 1/2 cup cherry preserves
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon red food coloring

For crepes, combine eggs and milk. Add pancake mix, beating until smooth. Place a small amount of butter in a 4-inch (11x11) hot non-stick butter-bubbles. Pour in about 1 tablespoon of batter; immediately tilt pan to coat bottom evenly with a thin layer. Bake until delicately browned on under side; turn and bake on other side. Drain on paper towel.

For filling, combine all ingredients thoroughly.

For cherry sauce combine all ingredients in a small saucepan. Heat to boiling.

To assemble, place about a tablespoonful filling in center of each crepe. Fold the top edge over filling. Fold the 2 side edges over filling; then fold bottom edge over filling to form a small square. Brown blintzes in a small amount of butter.

For each serving, place 3 blintzes on plate, sprinkle with cinnamon-sugar and top with hot cherry sauce. Makes 8 servings.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Sited at a kitchen table, the home owner and his next-door neighbor were intent upon their little game of poker. But a passing policeman, glancing through the window, detected they were breaking the law and played them under arrest.

Most anti-gambling laws do make an exception, either expressly or by implication, for the private home. The theory is that within these limits, society should not mix in. However, even a private home may become "public" enough for the community to become concerned.

What if the gambling takes place on private premises, but not within the house itself? Generally, it is a matter of degree. In one case, a farmer and his cronies did their gambling in a storage building about 250 yards behind the farmhouse.

Car With Race Stripes Results In 3 Arrests

The stopping of a car by an Altamonte policeman has resulted in the arrest of a suspect in the wounding of a service station attendant. Sheriff John Polk announced today that Willie James Mays, 24, Maitland, has been charged with assault with intent to commit murder in the March 17 shooting of Clifton E. Tew, Eastern Oil station employee. Polk reported that Mays was arrested late yesterday at his home after a 1955 car with racing stripes was stopped by John Cooper, Altamonte policeman, to check the tag. The vehicle was driven by Willie Lee Mays, also of Maitland, a relative of Willie James Mays. Accompanying Mays in the car was Thomas Olson, also of Maitland. Cooper became suspicious of the car after talking with Mays and inquired about the car's ownership. Mays replied the auto was the property of a relative who also lived in Maitland. Seminole Detectives Tony Coangelo and Clarence Smith arrested Mays at his home after Tew reported he identified the car as being the one used in the service station robbery in which a man fired three shots into the attendant, wounding him in the left arm, chest and the cheek, after Tew refused to open the cash register. Tew reported three men in a 1955 car with racing stripes had robbed him and it was this car that he identified late Wednesday. Willie James Mays, the alleged car owner, was booked on assault to commit murder charges and Mays and Olson were removed by Peace Justice Robert Carter.

'Tank' Farm Move Questioned Oil Firm Battles City Action

By HILL SCOTT
A Sanford oil company has petitioned the 18th Judicial Circuit Court for a review of the City of Sanford's action to rezone the so-called "tank farm" area along the lakefront and behind the city hall, jail and zoo areas. Attorney Thomas Freeman yesterday filed a petition asking the court for a writ of certiorari on behalf of Murphy Oil Corporation, its clients, and one of several oil companies owning property in the area now zoned M-1 industrial, but which will be rezoned to C-2 general commercial after the council reading of a city ordinance scheduled for April 13. Since the case has not yet been adjudicated in court, the petition for a review may lay the ground work for a possible appeal by the oil company to the courts once the ordinance has been passed at second reading. Freeman called the rezoning an "unreasonable and arbitrary decision by the city commission to severely restrict land use of property owned by the Murphy Oil Corporation." Freeman accused the city of "attempting to take property without just compensation to the owners." Efforts to rezone the area north of Fulton Street between French Avenue and Myrtle Avenue started with a recommendation from the city zoning and planning board to the city commission to change the land use in an effort to create a better image along the lakefront. Commissioners approved the recommendation of the zoning board at the March 23 commission meeting and the first reading of an ordinance to rezone was heard. In a previous commission meeting March 9, Vernon Mize, attorney, and Brown were present to speak for three owners of "tank farm" property. Standard Oil, Murphy and Eastern asked that the zoning change not be allowed, but commissioners turned down the request. There have been past statements that a shopping center developer might want to establish a complex in the area if it were available. Mayor Lee P. Moore advised that a group in Orlando was interested in purchasing the property upon which the city hall jail complex is located for use as a center.

Zoning Variance Starts Hassle

By MARION BETHEA
ALTIMONTE SPRINGS — A more or less pertentory request for a variance for continued operation of a beauty salon on Maitland Avenue elicited a small controversy which culminated in a statement by Mayor Lawrence W. Swoford that he would "resign before I would deny anyone a hearing." The issue stemmed from the request by Michael Rolfe to continue operation of Candlelight Coiffures after expiration of a lease in June. The establishment was involved in a legal dispute with the municipality last fall over the right to operate in an R-3 zoning classification. (This includes apartments, duplexes, and professional offices.) The city contended that the salon was a personal service establishment, and the owner Erma Anzaldo rebutted that it was a profession. The city was allowed to continue to operate until expiration of the lease. Swoford maintained that he was not in favor of the variance, but wanted the area reclassified. However, he stated, it was "un-American to deny a person a hearing" and Rolfe had a right to present his request. City Councilman Alex Sabbarose replied acrimoniously to Swoford that a hearing would mean another possible lawsuit and that $4,000 of the taxpayer's money and been spent in the previous year. Swoford shot back that the people wanted a beauty salon in this area and it should be reclassified "for uses we can live with." Swoford continued that since the R-3 classification does not allow certain uses, "I would vote to change the zoning classification to allow a beauty parlor because I know that the people want it." Sabbarose still adamant ex-claimed, "you just want to start another fuss so you can get headlines ... things are peaceful and quiet now." Swoford contended that "people lying" and "mob rule" caused the whole situation; that he did not want a "dictatorship" saying "I've never done things that way, although may-

Municipal Merger Study Set

By TOM ALEXANDER
CASSIOPERRY — Casselberry, Longwood, Altamonte Springs, and North Orlando officials are expected to air their feelings on consolidation of the four municipalities tonight at a special party called by Cassioberry city council chairman Thomas Nagler. The meeting, slated for 7:30 p.m. at the Cassioberry city hall, will be the first formal chance the cities have had to express their ideas and feelings on the proposed consolidation of the area. Delegates from each of the cities are expected to bring resumes outlining different facilities each of the municipalities now have and plans for the future. These resumes will be turned over to Rollin's professor Dr. Paul Douglas for study and a possible decision of the feasibility of consolidation for the quality-of-life area.

Water Extension Urged

ALTIMONTE SPRINGS — There are 70 homes in this area and the extension cost was estimated at $6,700. City council was advised that the developer is installing his own water system and that the municipality is going to the Mayor W. Lawrence Swoford. The group will be represented by persons from over the county who selected Sanford for the session because of the proximity to Cape Kennedy and Saturday's scheduled moon shot. Nancy Nordstrom, local Selective Service office, reports the group will stay at Holiday Inn and will bus to the Cape Saturday for the Apollo 13 moon shot.

Carswell Rejection Disappointing Here

Seminole Countians expressed general disappointment over the Wednesday action by the U.S. Senate that defeated efforts by President Richard M. Nixon to appoint Florida Supreme Court Judge G. Harold Carswell to the U.S. Supreme Court. To a man, the following persons contacted by The Herald gave disappointed reaction to the 51 to 46 vote repudiation of Carswell. Circuit Court Judge Volle A. Williams Jr., termed the "justice of the Senators' "modesty" in taking the decision. Judge Williams said, "I have known Judge Carswell since 1949 when he and I were admitted to practice in federal court together. The majority of the majority of the U.S. Senate prevails this fine judge from serving his country on the Court." Sanford Attorney Douglas Stenstrom, former county judge and state senator, said he was "very disappointed" in the senator's action. Seminole County Judge Wallace Hall said he was surprised at the state's action since he thought Carswell would be confirmed by a narrow margin. "It's a shame he was defeated as he is an able man and was needed on the court," Hall added. Thomas Speer, assistant state attorney for Seminole County, said the vote was a big disappointment. "I felt he would get confirmation by a narrow margin," he concluded. Sanford Mayor Lee P. Moore said "it was a disappointment to me. I felt they needed a lawyer of the caliber of Judge Douglas's law are ac-
