Son James Begins Special Diet Preparatory To Operation

HYDE PARK, Sept. 8. (AP)—Attorney-General Cummings, recently returned from a western trip, today was reported reliably to have advised President Roosevelt that his efforts to elect "liberals" to congress had been politically beneficial.

Cummings, a resident of Connecticut, has endorsed Senator Loneragan for renomination in that state's Democratic convention next week.

He declined comment on that race, but the Connecticut situation apparently was included in his general political talk with Mr. Roosevelt at the summer White House.

After his talk with the attorney general, the President received a model of Admiral Farragut's flagship, the "Hartford," from a group of Hartford-of-the-Hudson war veterans.

Afterward he drove to his Val Kill cottage for a conference with representatives of the National Youth Administration.

Sowell To Speak To Poultry Producers

D. F. Sowell, poultry expert with the Agricultural Extension Service, will be the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Seminole County Poultry Producers Association to be held in the new vocational agriculture building in the rear of the Seminole High School tonight at 8:00 o'clock.

Alex R. Johnson, secretary of the Association, stated that Mr. Sowell will show pictures on how to produce quality eggs, his methods of grading and sizing eggs for market and he will exhibit special equipment for the work.

Mr. Johnson urged store managers and the consuming public to attend the meeting in order to learn the difference between quality eggs and eggs that have not been sized and graded.

8 Florida Cities Get Projects In Re-Housing Work

USHA Lends 90 Percent Of Cost And Provides Subsidy

WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 8. (AP)—Eight Florida cities are participating in the national government's $400,000,000 slum clearance and low rental rehousing program, according to the United States Housing Authority.

Projects to rehouse low-income slum dwellers are to be constructed in St. Petersburg, Tampa and Jacksonville at an estimated total cost of $3,809,658 of which the United States Housing Authority lends 90 per cent of the total development cost and supplies an actual subsidy to insure rents low enough to meet the pocketbooks of small-income families.

Of the $3,809,658 to be spent on the three Florida projects now getting under way, a total of $1,008,000 will be in direct wages to workers at the sites. This sum will provide for an estimated 1,701,000 man-hours of direct labor at the sites and an estimated 2,551,500 man-hours of direct labor "behind the scenes" or a total of 4,252,500 man-hours in all. It is estimated that 1,547 workers will be engaged on the sites over the entire period of construction. In addition to the money spent for wages, it is estimated that $1,694,000 will be spent for construction materials.

In Jacksonville, where the estimated cost of the development is $1,110,025, there will be provided approximately 555,000 man-hours.

Returning from a European tour of two and one-half months, Miss Marjorie Tillis, social science teacher at Seminole High School, said today that the general consensus of opinion in Europe is that there will be no war in the near future unless Hitler should disregard all diplomatic protestations and wantonly attack Czechoslovakia.

Miss Tillis spent a short time in Washington and New York prior to sailing on the Tur. Members consisted of college students and graduates.

The tour took in 10 countries, England, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, Russia, Poland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Switzerland, and France.

Regarding the situation in Germany, Miss Tillis said the people appeared to be back of Hitler in everything he did but that there were indications that if Hitler failed, the people wouldn't support him.

In Russia, Miss Tillis met Walter Duranty, the American journalist, author of "I Write as I Please," and numerous other works. Mr. Duranty, considered by many to be the foremost American authority on Russian affairs, appeared to favor most of the objectives of the Soviets.

17 Killed As Train Strikes Gasoline Truck

PERPIGNAN, France, Sept. 8. (AP)—At least 17 persons were known to have died in a fire which burned the wooden coaches of a railroad train on the outskirts of Gerona, Spain, after a collision with a gasoline-laden truck which exploded.

Many of the victims died fighting to escape the flames, which engulfed the derailed passenger cars.

The truck was part of a convoy carrying gasoline to the Barcelona government capital.

It collided with the train at the crossing and its two occupants, fearing an explosion, fled.

Postmaster Holly Speaks At Meeting Of Junior Chamber

Assessing that Sanford was waking up to its advantages and was making a positive effort to develop its tourist attractions, Postmaster R. J. Holly addressed members of the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night at the Mayfair Hotel.

Mr. Holly stressed the necessity for a co-operative civic spirit in demonstrating examples of civic progress and success, he delved into Sanford's ancient history to contrast its natural advantages with what he said was its lack of spirit and resultant lack of progress.

He lauded the Jaycees for the civic-spiritiveness declaring that he was sure they would supply a great deal of the effort and co-operation necessary to better Sanford's future.

Announcement was made that Andrew Carraway had been officially appointed as chairman of the State Conservation Committee of the Florida Junior Chamber of Commerce. It was also announced that Tom Smith, president of the Florida Jaycees, had recommended Mr. Carraway for a post on the national conservation committee.

Co-Operation Among Citrus Growers Urged

Seminole Producers Hear Kramer Plead For Mutual Efforts In Gaining Goals

Appealing for close cooperation between the growers and the state, L. H. Kramer, president of the State Citrus Growers Association, Inc., addressed members of the Seminole County Citrus Growers Association Wednesday night at the County Hotel.

Mr. Kramer said it was the members of the various local organizations who made the state program strong and without their mutual efforts to put across their objectives the state association could not function as effectively as it should.

He emphasized the necessity for the local units to cooperate their place in the state organization and function accordingly.

Pointing out that it was not the officers of the state association who made the plans and policies of the state group, Mr. Kramer declared that it was the individual grower himself who was the power back of the organization.

Whatever the grower wished to say has its direct effect on the actions of the officers, he added.

In order to explain more fully how the grower held the balance of power, the state president said that all questions involving policy would be submitted to the various local organizations in the form of referendum.

Commenting on plans of the state organization, Mr. Kramer named several projects being worked out by various committees. One of these concerns a marketing agreement which, he asserted, is one of the prime objectives for this year of the organization.

How the agreement will ultimately be worked out, he said, he did not know, but he pointed out the purpose was to get an agreement that will be mutually beneficial to both grower and shipper.

He stated that it was not the motive of the growers organization to make war on the shippers, as, in his opinion, that would have a detrimental effect on both groups.

Rather, he emphasized, it is the purpose of the growers to cooperate as far as possible with the shippers.

The executive committee, he asserted, is ready to present to the State Citrus Commission a request to raise the requirements on the juice content of fruit to 10 percent.

Other matters under consideration, he said, were the investigation of the possibility of securing crop insurance, investigation of selling fruit by weight, and the drawing up of a uniform contract between grower and shipper.

Referring to the internal makeup of the state association, the speaker explained how the organization would work. For finances, he said, the association will depend mainly upon the dollar dues of each member which, under the present set-up, would amount to about $2,500 inasmuch as only 50 cents of each dollar goes for expenses of the state group.

He spoke of a magazine which, he said, is planned to publish soon. From the sale of advertisements in this magazine, he declared, it is hoped to make about $10,000 per year.

Present plans of the group do not call for paid officers with the exception of a secretary.

Fred Forward, president of the Seminole County association, introduced Mr. Kramer.

About 100 persons attended the meeting.

Sudeten Officials Postpone Renewal Of Peace Negotiations

Whipping Of Minority Legislator Prevents Further Moves Despite Hitler's Orders

Alarm Intensified In London, Paris

French Continue To Strengthen Frontier

APPOINTS DEPUTY

Sept. 16 Is Last Day To Register For Hospital Vote

Prague, Sept. 8. (AP)—Sudeten German officials at Prague declared today there was no prospect of renewed negotiations with the government until the whipping of a Sudeten German legislator had been adjusted satisfactorily.

The government sent the inspector general of the state police to the region, near the Polish and German frontiers, where a mounted policeman brought his crop down on the shoulders of a Sudeten German member of parliament during a demonstration at Machlisch-Strazan.

While negotiations stopped, there was increasing evidence that many Czechoslovaks considered the government's latest offers to the Sudeten Germans were too generous.

Adolf Hitler today ordered Sudeten German leaders to renew negotiations with the Czechoslovak government after the break in autonomy talks had given Europe its sharpest war scare in weeks of ten years.

Hitler, all styled protector of the Sudeten Germans, had ordered negotiations suspended yesterday. His change of mind, it was said, was because of his desire to convince the world he was having nothing and no to find a peaceful solution of the crisis.

There was evidence, however, that German promises to Czechoslovakia and with British postmarking efforts was near a deal.

Alarm apparently became more intensified in London and Paris. The British "Times" cabinet, Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain, Sir John Simon, chancellor of exchequer, and Viscount Halifax, foreign secretary, assembled in London. While no formal meeting was held, a meeting of the cabinet was held.

In Spain, insurgent forces appeared to be making "feints" attacks to test government defenses for a weak spot against which to launch a major offensive.

Severe fighting continued on the Yangtze River front in China, with Japanese reporting a steady advance.

Earlier today Hitler was reputedly understood to have advised Konrad Henlein, the "Czechoslovak Hitler," to exact the fullest possible measure of concessions from Prague because British support of the Czechs is waverling.

The "two fathers" conferred secretly last night, in the midst of the property of the tenth annual Nazi congress, on the dangers arising from fresh outbreaks of violence between Czechs and Henlein's Sudeten German cohorts.

Henley was ready to hurry back in Prague to deal with the situation growing out of what the Sudeten and their Nazi supporters called "Czech terrorism" and a "collapse of the Prague and a callous of the Prague government's ability to maintain internal order and prevent bloodshed."

Nazi officials said after the (Continued on page five)

What Has Happened So Far? Chris Hunter and Bill Dennis, rival newspaper columnists, get their long-standing feud in order to post themselves and send Alma Harding, and here to South America in search of her missing aviator brother. Seeking funds and determined to follow, Chris produced a fake passport, supposedly belonging to Harry Harding, and gets his employer, Cobby MacArthur, to send him after her.

Chapter Nine

When Chris tucked the wings of the plane in San Paulo, the first person that caught his eye was a very serious-looking Bill Dennis. "Thunderstruck," he listened speechlessly while Bill explained, without going into detail, that he had managed to learn the truth about the compass.

Alma's eyes radiated renewed faith. After dinner, she went down to see to the plane while Bill Dennis decided to inquire for mail that might have arrived on board boat.

As Alma, at the water's edge, was inspecting the mooring of the plane, a native, dressed in a dirty white, ill-fitting outfit, abruptly stepped up behind her. She jumped.

Alma checked him sharply as she raised his hat. "Have your fight-ropes. You may really need it," she warned.

Chris reflected, "Some time between now and daylight," he said slowly. "Mr. Voodoo is going to kidnap us and take us for a long, long ride."

Chris muttered, "That sound very close. What do you think, Chris?"

Frequent Bathing Is Advocated For Girls At Schools

By BETTY CLARKE. So you're going to college? Cleanliness is next to scholarship—for the wise coed. If you've taken reasonable precautions against sunburn and over-tanning, your skin should be in pretty good condition when you leave for school.

Some people's skin is thicker than others'.

Individuals with light complexions normally have thinner skins than those of darker complexion. Skin thickness in different parts of the body varies with individuals. On the soles of the feet and inside the hands, for instance, the skin is usually much thicker than that on the thighs.

Once you're out of your bath, dust yourself as carefully as possible with a heavy towel before applying your dusting powder.

That will keep the powder from caking on your skin. Put on your makeup before you start dressing.

Simple Rules Of Etiquette Given For Men, Women

By JOAN DURHAM

Two women and a man are walking down the street. Who should the man walk in relation to the women?

Must a man always stand when a woman enters the room?

The questions of where and when to sit, stand or walk are always with us. Here are the answers to a few.

One man walking with two women keeps to the right. Unless a man is very old he should always give a woman a seat when she enters the room.

In a theater, the woman goes to her seat first. The man, the host, sits closest to the aisle. If there is no aisle, the man precedes the woman until he locates seats, then a man at the end of the row until she gets seated in her place. When the entertainment is over he precedes her into the aisle, then lets her go ahead of him.

In a public dining place, the woman is seated first, in the hostess chair—facing the position of the window or the door. The man helps her put her coat over the back of her chair before she sits down. In a group of four, women usually sit opposite each other, with the men whose guests they are at their right.

In an automobile, the woman enters first, sits in the left seat, and the man occupies the seat next to her.

ception is the woman who owns a chauffeur-driven car. It is customary for her to sit in the right rear seat, even though her gentleman guest may have to crawl over her brand new evening slippers to get to his seat at her left. The man leaves the car first and helps the woman to alight.

At dinner parties: The woman guest of honor sits at the right of the host. The hostess sits at the opposite end of the table from the host, unless such seating places two men and two women together. In that case the hostess moves one place to the side. Husbands and wives do not ordinarily sit next to each other; women usually are placed to the right of their partners.

In subways, buses and street-cars: It is still considered proper for a man to give his seat to an elderly or feeble woman. In this day of sex equality, however, an able-bodied woman should not expect a man to give her his seat.

Gainesville Defeats Senators 5-0 To Go Into Final Playoff

Gondoliers Drop Contest To Islets 3-0 Sam Cole Narrowly Misses No-Hit Game

Gainesville defeated Orlando Wednesday night 5 to 0 to go into the final playoff with the winner of the Daytona Beach-Leesburg series; meanwhile, the Islanders were winners of their game from the Gondoliers 3 to 0.

Pierce Corley came with a ace of hurling a no-hit, no-run game for the G-Men but a single by Sam Cole in the last half of the ninth with two men down and none on base blasted his chance of entering baseball's hall of fame.

Charlie Atwater did some fancy hitting himself. Although he gave up nine hits, he kept them well-scattered and fanned 10.

There were six innings when Corley faced only three men each frame. He worked for Daytona Beach, presented a beautiful exhibition when he limited the Gondoliers to four hits. The win ended the series with both clubs having won two games each. Jake Lounsbury, who pitched for the Gondoliers, pitched the 1 1/2 innings but his two of them came in the fourth and fifth big innings and Ed Turecki's three-run home run provided the only scoring of the game.

Many Elevens In Try For Mythical Football Honors

Alabama, Auburn And L. S. U. Seem To Be Best In South

By Lowell (Red) Dawson, Head Football Coach, Tulane University.

With only four for the 1938 season, the football season is fairly good, as a number of championship elevens are being put on the field to play in the South.

Geographically, all seasons of the U. S. are pretty favorable and there is a lot of which and some from the field to see national football. There is a lot of good football being played in the South, but it is not as good as the football being played in the North.

From the South, the following are the most prominent: Alabama, Auburn, Louisiana State, and Holy Cross. The Holy Cross team is the best in the South, but it is not as good as the Holy Cross team in the North.

The Holy Cross team is the best in the South, but it is not as good as the Holy Cross team in the North.

Outstanding Eastern players will include such stars as Bill McKeever, Edmond Hask, W. J. C. and George Peck, a back, Bill McKeever, tackle, and Fred Holland, end of the team. Bill A. Mareski, Holy Cross fullback, and Larkness of Columbia are one of the outstanding players of the country. I'll not be surprised if O'Meara is the surprise pick of the East this fall.

In the Big Ten, Ohio State figures to be better than at any time in recent years. The Wildcats of Wisconsin are better prepared and Minnesota can't be discounted. The Badgers of Wisconsin will probably be the most improved team in the West in conference, but Indiana must also be considered in any surprise possibility column.

Names likely to figure in the headlines this fall from the Big Ten must include Howie Weiss, Wisconsin fullback; Jack Ryan of Northwestern, fullback; Fred Tronko, Michigan, fullback; Ned Kinnick, Iowa's sensational sophomore of last year; Harold Van Every, triple threat fullback of the Gophers; Jimmy Rabb of Ohio State; Marty Christiansen and Larry Buhler, Minnesota.

Alabama, L. S. U. and Auburn appear most formidable in the Southern conference. The Tide team is the better than last year while the Rebels, Tulane's expert in the South, Vanderbilt is another member in most quarters as a football team, while Georgia Tech, the team, Tennessee, Mississippi and the Meigs and Florida are interesting for the lead in several Saturdays.

Rumanian Permission Sought For Passage Of Russian Troops

Litvinoff And Commen Plan Military Movements To Aid Czechs In Event Of Strife

Czech - German Breach Widens Hitler So Engrossed He Fails To Make Scheduled Address

The Associated Press reports that Litvinoff and Commen plan military movements to aid Czechs in the event of a conference at Geneva today between Foreign Ministers Maxim Litvinoff of Russia and Petrosescu of Rumania.

Hitler himself was so engrossed in the crisis he failed to deliver a scheduled address to a women's auxiliary rally at the tenth annual Nazi party congress at Nuremberg.

Sharp rising tempers in Germany and Czechoslovakia today widened the gulf over the Sudeten German issue which is troubling the peace of Europe.

High Nazis, in defiant mood, predicted Adolf Hitler would demand—and get—a plebiscite for 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans of Czechoslovakia whose demands for autonomy he backs.

In Prague, Premier Milan Hodza of Czechoslovakia was flooded with telegrams urging that no further concessions be made to the Sudetens.

Signs of growing public clamor in London for an unmistakable warning to Germany to take no step that might drag Europe into war weighed on British cabinet deliberations.

France pressed Britain to follow her example of war preparedness. One source said the reason was that British diplomacy had failed to convince Germany that Britain would fight if Czechoslovakia were invaded.

Germany's anti-communist allies—Italy and Japan—rallied to her support. The Nazi view was that a plebiscite would give the British an opportunity to "save face" over the failure of unofficial British mediation. Hitler has rejected all Czechoslovak offers of reconciliation.

In Spain, the government reported it had re-occupied positions in the Caballeros mountains captured this week by the insurgents. In China, re-organized Chinese units said they had halted Japanese advances toward Hankow, the provisional Chinese capital.

Italian Warning Italy, siding with Germany, advised Czechoslovakia semi-officially last night to heed the autonomy demands of her Germanic minority.

The Italian position was outlined in Informasole Diplomatics. Diplomats attribute to it the importance of a government communique.

F H A Officials Explain Program Here On Sept. 22

Dewey Battles To Prevent Collapse Of State's Case Pecora Holds "Grave Doubts" On Legality Of Indictment

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey battled today to prevent the collapse of the state's four weeks-old case against James J. Hines, with Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora indicating "grave doubts" on the legal basis of the indictment as he pondered the defense motion for a demurrer.

The youthful prosecutor filed a four-page memorandum with Justice Pecora charging it was perfectly legal to merge charges of conspiracy with charges of completed crime. Styer had asserted that $20,000,000 a year Dutch Schultz policy racket conspiracy had ended with the death of Schultz in October 1935, and was outside the year statute of limitations for misdemeanor.

Yesterday Justice Pecora bluntly told Dewey he would require more than citations of cases in other states to overthrow the decision in New York state.

Asked whether he had anything further to say, Dewey told Pecora that if the court doubted the continuance of the conspiracy in 1936 it was the duty of the court to permit the prosecution to re-open its case.

Pecora retorted that he would be so inclined if the prosecution witnesses had better reputations for veracity than those already presented by the state.

In seeking the dismissal of the indictment, the defense laid its heaviest barrage against the character of the shady underworldlings whom Dewey placed on the witness stand to link, with testimony, the Tammany district leader and the old Dutch Schultz policy mob as he accused of having protected for pay.

Roosevelt Will Not Oppose Lonergan; Hoover To Discuss New Deal In Talks

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—The New York Times said in a special dispatch from Hyde Park that "President Roosevelt's purge of the party conservative and anti-New Deal Democrats will be limited to the present to the few candidates he has already marked for opposition in the primaries, it was indicated today after a conference he presided over with Chief Executive and Attorney General Cummings."

The Times also said it was understood there would be no attempt by Roosevelt's forces to displace Senator Lonergan at the Connecticut State Democratic Convention despite his record of opposition to New Deal measures.

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 9. (AP)—America may find the New Deal "more heinous" than Hitler, Herbert Hoover declared as he traveled East by train to deliver two of three speeches.

Hoover said he would make speeches at Kansas City, Sept. 25; Hartford, Conn., Oct. 17 and Spokane, Wash., Nov. 4 or 5, in which he would discuss the New Deal.

School Matters Are Discussed By Principals

Sanford Schools Open Monday At 9 O'clock And Close At Noon

A meeting of school principals was held Friday morning in the office of county superintendent of Public Instruction, W. Lawton, for the purpose of discussing schedules and other matters preparatory to the opening of the school Monday morning that has not already opened.

Mr. Lawton and three county superintendents who remained to be cleared up before the opening of the school opened such as considering applications for vacant positions and recent resignations.

Among the teachers who have resigned are Mr. Frank Mikol and Dr. King W. R. McCracken who will replace Mr. King in his first department.

The trade school still is seeking a vocational home economics teacher. Mr. Lawton declared, having been unable so far to find anyone who is qualified to take the position.

All white schools in the county which have not already opened open their doors Monday at 9 o'clock and will close at 12 noon. Beginning Tuesday regular schedules will be observed.

Schools in several rural districts began last week but in Sanford the opening date was set more than 10 days later.

Mr. Lawton has emphasized the fact that all students and teachers must have been in the county at least two weeks prior to the beginning of school; otherwise, certificates will have to be presented from a physician showing that there was no epidemic of contagious disease and no case of infantile paralysis in the community from which the student or teacher returned.

Construction In Lake Mary Shows Upturn

26 Homes Have Been Built Or Extensively Remodeled In Past Two Years

New construction and remodeling in Lake Mary have reached an unprecedented proportion, a Herald reporter learned on a visit to one of Seminole County's leading home communities.

In the past two years, the old town reported, no less than 26 homes have been extensively remodeled or newly built. In addition, a Douglas, Fla., contractor of the Seminole County has contracted a new building in which the post office is housed.

The extent of the building program can be seen in the fact that the last U. S. census gave the rapidly growing community only 400 persons and 100 homes, and that in the last two years no less than 100 families from Sanford have constructed homes on the shores of Lake Mary, many lakes.

Pointing out that the business recession had not checked his business, C. A. Shriver, operator of the C. and S. Grocery in Lake Mary, declared he had done a volume of business this summer that he had not done in any other year for a long time. He also expressed optimism over the prospects of a substantial increase during the winter season.

Commenting that there are no homes in Lake Mary available for rent, M. Doolittle, who did not take the stand, predicted a boom in the city should be the result of additional construction throughout next year. There are a few homes vacant in Lake Mary at present but he would be occupied by the winter vacation who have already secured their annual back-southings.

Further reflecting improvement in conditions on Lake Mary, Mr. Doolittle, who is in charge of the post office, pointed out that post office receipts have just passed a little less than doubled during the past three years.

Lake Mary's excellent water supply would be one of the town's most valuable assets, he pointed out, that a recent test of the water supply revealed that the water comes from one of the purest sources of water in the state.

Lake Mary residents also declared that there is a stronger feeling of cooperation and good will existing in Lake Mary than in any other town in the county. "Those of us who are not Yankees are crackers," it was said, and get on along together just fine."

Several families who usually spend only the winter months in Lake Mary have remained through the summer and despite the unusually warm weather have characterized the summer weather here as pleasant.

Commenting on the cool nights, Mr. and Mrs. Heaton of Massachusetts who have a home on the shores of Lake Mary, declared that the nights are even cooler than in many of the northern states during the summer. This is Mr. and Mrs. Heaton's third summer in Florida, although they have spent many winters here.
