Eye Bank Asks Pledges To Aid Blind Persons

Az appeal has gone out to the citizens of Seminole County asking them to consider the giving of a most precious gift at this Yuletide season—the gift of sight to the blind.

This lasting gift, which has no monetary value but whose intrinsic value is inestimable, is made by pledging the donation of the eyes after death to the Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Association (SHEBA).

At the present time 485 persons in Seminole County and DeBary have signed a pledge to give their eyes after death so that someone else may see, and the list continues to grow steadily.

Rev. Elton Richards, of Longwood, is president of the Stage Exhibit organization with Hibbard Casselberry, of Casselberry,

Carefree Rogues Under Bridges Of Paris

PARIS - (NEA) - Yes, it's Christmas time for the Paris lochards, too.

What is a clochard? He is a vagabond, a displaced person from society-in short, a bum. But a special kind of bum.

While his counterparts elsewhere in the world sleep by railroad tracks and factories. the elochard of Paris sleeps under the mighty bridges of the Seine, with historic Notre Dame Cathedral and the Louvre Museum as a back-

Harassed by police, cameracarrying tourists and the great enemy winter, the clochard pursues his way of life with dedication. Not all of them are old. Some younger men have chosen the life of a tramp perhaps to escape the regimentation of factory or in reaction to the severity of military service.

No exact figures are available. Estimates place the clochard population of the French capital at from 10,000 to 30,-

'Natural' Beauty Contest Slated

DELRAY BEACH (UPI)-The judges will see the bare facts of beauty when John Dawson starts the parade of "natural Miss Godiva" contes-

Because he believes that the only real beauty is natural beauty, nudist camp operator Dawson plans to send the contestants down the walk under the slash pines in the "altogether."

"The only true measure of beauty is in the nude. . .artificial beauty falls flat like a wet balloon when the clothes come off," proclaimed Dawson in announcing preliminary plans for the contest he says will be staged next March at the nudist camp.

Bathing suits won't be allowed but maybe professional models will. Dawson said he would have to consider the latter question, but his first thought was that "I don't believe it would make any difference in terms of natural beauty. Natural beauty cannot be painted on."

Dawson, whose daughter and her sallor sweetheart were married in the nude at the Sunny Acres Lodge nudist camp last spring, said the American Nudist Association, of which he is an official, is modern Lady Godlya.

Dawson said the contestants also will be judged on talent.

LONDON (UPI)-Lawrence Freedman, whose 70-cent bet a record $844,860, plans to invest the money "in the best and safest way I can."

Freedman, 34, director of trading etamp company here, accepted his check after bracing himself with three scotches.

"This is the biggest deal I have ever pulled off," he observed. "I am going home for a good night's sleep."

Freedman, married and the father of one, won the fortune by correctly forecasting the football results last weekend. Asked what he would do with the money, Freedman replied: "I shan't buy a new car, I've just got one. I am going to invest it in the best and safest way I can."

He said he had no "system" of picking winners and last week had "filled in my coupon as I always do every Thursday."

It's Still Fun To Snap Photos At Christmas

The camera that trails a youngster delivering a gift, or sights a street-corner Santa talking to an awe-struck child can often yield a little photographic masterpiece. But even if your photos aren't apt to win a prize, it's still fun to take pictures, especially during the holidays. And a really exciting project for the amateur camera fan is a photographic essay on the Yuletide 66230B.

Begin taking photos at the first hint of the season, making up a list of likely subject matters well in advance. Start with the first appearance of Santa, cover a shopping stint, and carry right on through Christmas Day activities, It's all there for the taking . . the expressions of anticipations and excitement, the story-telling action, the colorful holiday setting. The trick is to catch it early and completely, and in color, if poss-

Shoot more than one picture of each situation, particularly those involving children, and in picture - story sequence. Shooting in sequence is a wonderful way to record the anties of youngsters. When you're photographing a child, it's a good idea to come in as close as your camera will allow, including only that background which is important to the meaning of the picture. If you think the youngster may suddenly move toward you, step back an extra foot or two to allow a safety zone.

Group shots of children can really tell a story, especially during the holidays. Photographing four or five children instead of one may pose a problem but the solution is simple. Stay on the sidelines and snap when the youngsters are so absorbed in their own activities that they won't notice you. Opportunities like this abound at Christmas. Your best angle in such a situation is a high one . . a foot or two above the children's heads. Alm down so that you look into the group. In this way, none of the children will block your view of the others and all will be nearly the same distance from the camera.

Make sure your camera is in working order for your project, and that you have plenty of flash blube, fresh batteries and color film.

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a divorces, 29, with two children and am considered attractive. About a year ago I spotted an eligible bachelor in town, so I moved into his apartment building hoping to make his acquaintance. I made his sequaintance all right, but that's about all. He says hello pirasantly when we meet in the hall, but I've never been atle to get him into my apartment. I telephoned him one evening to tell him my bedroom window was stuck (it really was) so he sent a janitor up with a hammer. He's not going with anybody special and he's not a goody-goody because I've seen him entertain women in his apartment. None of them is as attractive as I. How can I get him interested without having it look like I'm chasing GETTING NOWHERE DEAR GETTING: It's not easy to chase a man without having it "look like" you're doing what you're doing. Face it. He's not interested in you. And any more moves in his direction will make your scheming so obvious that he's apt to hide when he sees you coming.

DEAR ABBY: I was one of nine children in a very poor family so I had to quit school in the 6th grade. I slways wanted to get a better education but I never had the chance. I feel so bad when my 8th grade son asks me to help him with his homework and I am too dumb to help him. My husband can't help him either, as he never got through the 7th grade himself, I asked around and found out there is a night school for grownups, I could go four nights a week from 6 to 8. My husband laughed at me and said he never heard of a 32year-old woman going back to school. My heart is broken. Please tell me what to

DEAR ABBY: I live in a very nosy neighborhood. Yesterday, the woman next door ran to her window the minute she heard a car pull up in front of my house. I saw her peeking through her Venetian blinds. And she saw me, too. Then she called me on the phone and said, "I didn't mean to be nosy. I just wanted to see who it was, and by the way, I didn't recognize him. Who WAS he?" Another neighbor stopped me in front of my house and said she had heard I was collecting Social Security and she was curious to know if I got it

DEAR ABBY: How can my husband and I invite friends for dinner, but tactfully ask them not to bring their children? Abby, we love children, and have three of our own, but we never drag them along to the homes of friends when we are invited for dinner. Would it be rude if I said specificantly please to leave their children at home?

Kinkajou Lifted By Kidnapers

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) -San Francisco police today sought a kinkajou-whose very life may depend upon the success of their search. Honeycomb, a native of La tin America which looks like cross between a monkey and a raccoon, was kidnaped from the Josephine Randall Junior Museum. Authorities sald the animal probably was taken by someone who wanted an unusual pet, but warned that the ordinarily quiet and friendly Honeycomb could become savage if mistreated.

They also pleaded for the animal's immediate return so that she can be properly cared for. A kinkajou cannot live in the cool San Francisco climate.

Where Twig Is Bent

Government figures recently announced disclose that teen-agers in this country are committing suicide at the rate of two a day. And the rate is increasing.

Add this to the alarming nationwide epidemic of teen-age crimes and acts of violence and we have a problem and a challenge no responsible parent can ignore.

Why should so many youngsters seek self-destruction at the very threshold of life in an era when tomorrow is more exciting than today?

Why should so many commit acts of frightening rowdyism, brutality, vandalism and passion in a nation that is prosperous, civilized and progressive?

Why should such dreadful confusion, despair and insecurity overwhelm these young people in the face of the greatest emphasis that has ever been placed on child care, psychology, psychiatry, education and

Perhaps the logical place to begin looking for the answers is in the home. In the schools and churches, too, of course. But primarily in the home and the family circle.

Suppose in every home parents were to take a self-imposed test: - Are we setting a parental example we are proud to have our children follow?

- Are we spending enough time with our children to make sure we understand each other?

- Do we know where our children are, who their companions may be, and what they're doing or likely to be doing?

- Do our children have the advantage of discipline that is fair but firm? Do we offer them the protection and security of basic ground rules to which they can subscribe with understanding and dignity?

- Do we take pains in this house to visit with each other-to share

Finally, do we have in our family spiritual values that are important, respected and lived by?

If enough parents can pass that test, the teen-age problem is on the way-wardness are sure to flourish.

Thought For Today

The glory which thou hast given me I have given to them, that they may be one even as we are one. -John 17:22.

Example is not the main thing in life-it is the only thing .- Albert Schweitzer.

Do not judge by appearances but judge with right judgment.-John

The world is governed more by appearances than by realities, so that it is fully as necessary to seem to know something as it is to know it. -Daniel Webster.

Deltona Buys M Q Ranch

north of Sanford has undertaken a large expansion program with the acquisition of the M Q Ranch recreation area in a three-way deal estimated to cost $1.6 million.

The ranch is located on the Butler chain of lakes and Deltona officials reported today these will be connected by deeper canals to provide better boating facilities.

They also said 13 lakefront lots have been given to the Germany sales office of Mackle Brothers, Deltona developers, and will be offered to Germans desiring to move here. Herman Morris, owner of M Q Ranch, traded the "dude ranch" to Mackle Brothers after the latter had acquired the Camphor Farms in Putnam County. Morris said he will continue his ranch program at the new site and using the old brand. He has 90 days to complete the move. Gaston Bridges, sales director for Deltons, reports the M Q location will be platted and lots will be sold

Longwood Boy Struck By Car Four-year old Robert A. De-

Pres, of Longwood, suffered a leg fracture and head injury Friday when he was hit by a car on Longwood Street in Longwood.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper Duane Harrell said the child darted into the path of a car operated by Mrs. Margaret Crawford Brakefield, of Longwood. The boy was taken to Florida Sanitarium and Hospital for treatment.

Trooper Harrell said the victim was dragged about 18 feet underneath the car before the driver stopped. No charges were filed.

Police Seek Cool Driver

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) - Police today were looking for a motorist who wasn't hurt a bit over the weekend when his 1957 Chevrolet overturned twice on the Long Beach freeway.

Witnesses told police the auto flipped end-over-end twice, landing on its wheels. The apparently unperturbed driver just drove off minus his windshield and window glass.

'Messy' Office Clears Students

BERKELY, Calif. (UPI)-Student demonstrators at the University of California have been cleared of vandalism charges during their sit-in at the university's administration building.

Police reported that the files in the office of UC President Emeritus Robert C. Sproul had been pulled out and papers "strewn about" the floor.

"My office always looks that way," Sproul told police.
