

RASKOB SEES PROHIBITION AS LEADING ISSUE

Stands Squarely Behind Shouse As Permanent Head Of Executive Committee

CHICAGO, June 21.—(A.P.)—Prohibition was named as the outstanding issue of the 1932 presidential campaign today by Chairman John Rankob of the Democratic national committee upon his arrival at convention headquarters.

Rankob stood squarely behind J. Edgar Hoover, chairman of the executive committee, as permanent chairman of the convention. He said any attempt to supplant Hoover would be a breach of good faith. He drew an issue with Governor Roosevelt's forces who are backing Senator Walsh of Montana, for the post.

Rankob declined to name his choice for the presidential nomination. He declared against abolition of the two-thirds nominating rule for this convention. As for prohibition, Rankob said he is willing to leave the plank to the decision of delegates.

Blitch, superintendent of the state prison farm at Raiford, who died in Jacksonville following a stroke of paralysis. He served in that capacity 14 years and is widely known throughout the country for the humane manner in handling convicts. The vacancy created by his death will be filled by L. F. Chapman, assistant prison superintendent, who was appointed by the board of commissioners of state institutions.

RIOTING CHILEAN MOBS PROTEST AGAINST REGIME

Clash With Troops In Most Serious Fray Since Overthrow

SANTIAGO, Chile, June 21.—(A.P.)—Rioting mobs protested against the new socialist government of Chile last night, storming the arsenal on the outskirts of Santiago and clashing repeatedly with Carabineros.

The outbreak in the capital and Valparaiso was the most serious since the overthrow of exiled Gen. Carlos Ibanez in 1931.

The mob was repulsed at the arsenal.

The Carabineros, acting under a decree of martial law, battled the rioters in both cities in defense of the junta headed by Carlos G. Davila, who was returned to power last week by a revolutionary coup which overthrew the short-lived government of Col. Marmaduke Grove.

Those were many minor casualties, a few seriously wounded and considerable damage was done. The great confusion in the streets made it impossible to check accurately on the injured.

Machine guns were mounted on the presidential palace which was strongly guarded, indicating the government was prepared for stern measures to end the rioting. Iron bottles were put up on business houses and American Ambassador William S. Culbertson, requested the junta to provide greater protection for United States citizens and interests.

Strikes are spreading as the chief weapon of the workers, who favored the extremist regime of the imprisoned Col. Grove. The slaughter house workers are scheduled to walk out today, joining tramway workers, bakery workers, and copper employees.

Striking streetcar workers, who had favored the extremist regime of Marmaduke Grove, burned and looted several tram cars.

Police were hard pressed in breaking up almost continuous demonstrations in the capital, which was tense all day.

Sholtz Stand Upon Truck Operation Is Explained In Wire

Dave Sholtz's real stand in regard to the operation of trucks over Florida highways is revealed in a telegram received at Sholtz-for-Governor headquarters this morning by Hugh Lator, secretary of the club.

Answering the instigators of a story that he is opposed, to all truck lines operating in Florida, Mr. Sholtz says in his telegram, "I am opposed to unlicensed and unregulated heavy freight trains 60 feet long carrying from 25 to 60 tons of merchandise, and often bringing their own gasoline with them to Florida. Fully licensed and regulated truck operators should understand and appreciate the protection given by this stand to legitimate business. I do not intend that this shall apply in any manner whatsoever to our own farmers, citizens and truck power, who use our highways in the ordinary and customary operation of their business. I am advocating strongly substantial aid to agriculture. The prosperity of every state depends on the farmer and industrial enterprises. The distribution of the farm products is essential to the farmers' welfare, and of course I advocate no measure to curtail his activities.

"As to the abolishment of the Game and Fish Department I believe that the functions of this department can be properly and much less expensively be performed under the direction of a cabinet officer and through the office of local authorities. We cannot have tax reduction without eliminating somewhere governmental expense."

ROOSEVELT IS COUNTING UPON HOME SUPPORT

Convention C a ptains Of Governor Think They Will Receive Ninety Of 94 Votes

CHICAGO, June 21.—(A.P.)—Convention captives of Governor Roosevelt, of New York are counting on 90 of the Empire State's 94 votes to carry him to the edge of the two-thirds necessary for the Democratic nomination for the presidency on the first ballot.

James A. Farley, the governor's spokesman here, would not say this flatly yesterday but he plainly indicated it as he talked with newspapermen, explaining how he expected a first ballot victory.

"If you take 90 of the New York votes," said Farley, "and put them in the Roosevelt column you will see we only need 15 or 20 more."

Asked if he was counting on the 90 New York votes, Farley smiled and said "Ask John F. Curry when he comes here. I think he will tell you." Curry is a Tammany leader and is due here Wednesday.

Alfred F. Smith, another of New York's most prominent sons, and William G. McAdoo, of California, also are due here Wednesday morning to wage the fight against Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, without apparent position, the Roosevelt machine proceeded yesterday in taking command of the convention organization, putting up J. Bruce Kerner, of Montana, as chairman of the rules committee. With a fight entering around the two-thirds rule for nomination, the rules committee and the permanent chairman have become key positions in the convention to open a week from yesterday.

Farley significantly said yesterday he would not be ready to announce the position of the Roosevelt forces on the retention of the old two-thirds rule until late in the week.

FURLOUGH PLAN IS HOPED TO SAVE HUNDRED MILLION

Method Pushed For Reducing Governmental Payrolls

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(A.P.)—Defeated in efforts to cut the pay of federal employees 10 to 20 percent, Democratic leaders yesterday obtained House approval of a broadened and drastic compulsory furlough plan expected to save $100,000,000 next year.

The method of reducing the government payroll was similar to the proposal advanced by President Hoover for a month's vacation without pay, but would apply in some cases to 40 percent instead of a 20 percent cut. The 80 percent suggested by the administration is to be applied to the House and Senate employees.

After the House had approved the plan, the Senate conference on all other points at issue. Chairman William C. Clegg of the House committee asked passage of a motion for discussion with the Senate of a pay cut ranging from 10 percent on salaries over $120,000 to 20 percent on all over $20,000.

After an hour's debate, Republicans, aided by Tammany and other Democrats who bolted their party, defeated this proposition, 244 to 127.

Then Mr. Clegg presented an alternative plan, the one finally agreed to by a 26 to 42 vote.

This approach of the administration plan of furloughing for one month without pay all federal workers making more than $1000 a year, but not over $10,000 excepted. Mr. Clegg explained the change would increase the estimated saving from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000.

The new plan also would reduce the salaries of senators and representatives 10 percent of the greater and this provision is part of a bill to increase the legislative branch which would be furloughed and who make from $1000 to $10,000 a year, 8 to 13 percent.

Paint-Up, Clean-Up Campaign Bringing Unexpected Results

Thirty Seminole County and Sanford property owners plan to do $18,125.00 worth of repainting, painting, and new construction. It was announced this morning by trade body officials who are sponsoring a "Better Summer" campaign to stimulate repainting and painting here as a means of providing employment during the next few months.

This sum, averaging $606.08 per project, far surpasses the expectations of the trade body leaders who began the campaign last Tuesday. Cards were distributed at various civic club and other meetings, and readers were asked to sign them, giving an estimate of the amount of work they expected to do this summer. Thirty cards were collected during the first week.

Trade body leaders are also well pleased with the amount of work that has recently been completed and reported to them, a further indication of the way the people of this county, who can afford to do any work, are taking advantage of the low price of materials, and the importance of giving employment to men needing work.

A total of $3610 worth of this work has been reported as finished. Those reporting work recently concluded are: Spicer and Son, $625 for repainting and painting on the Holly Apartments; Mrs. Pearl Hansell, $500 for painting and repair to the Montezuma Hotel, Methodist Church, $400 for repainting and painting; Henry Schomaker Jr., $400; repairs; Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Clemens, $300, remodeling and repairs; W. L. Cooper interests, $600, repair and painting; H. M. Papworth, and the M. F. Robinson estate, $255 on three repair jobs; Dr. R. D. Caswell, $140, paint and repairs; W. L. Coleman, $150, repairs; H. J. Denton, $135, painting; C. A. Hyrd, $65, painting and lathwork; Reilly Co., $50, painting.

As a means of stimulating further interest in this movement all persons are invited to report estimates of work contemplated or actual cost of work completed. No names will be given out of those who sign up for contemplated work unless the person so desire.

NEW TAX LAW IS PLACED IN EFFECT IN U. S.

Revenue Machinery Is Expected To Obtain Huge Sum In Order To Balance Budget

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(A.P.)—The revenue producing machinery of the government began turning today last night, bringing into the treasury additional millions under the new tax law designed to balance the budget for the first time in two years.

When the clock struck 12 the major features of the new measure were automatically calculated to return $1,000,000,000 additional taxes tonight.

The only taxes remaining to be imposed are those on postal rates and the tax on motor vehicles, collectively expected to return $100,000,000. The government expects to receive $1,000,000,000 in July.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, the deficit was $200,000,000, while an analysis of approximately $1,000,000,000 in new taxes is expected to be received by the government for the present fiscal year.

The amount at the close of business today showed a deficit of $1,200,000,000. The figure, however, was considered more favorable by the day's payment of income taxes on the first quarter in July.

Report of various methods of raising revenue of the revenue act authorized for $1,000,000,000 in the new law, taxes due to huge accumulation of stocks by the government have been put in a House bill to limit such accumulation to $500,000,000. The Senate is yet to act.

BORAH STAND ON G.O.P. PLANK IS CRITICIZED

Senator's Refusal To Support Hoover Is Causing Stir Among Political Leaders

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(A.P.)—James G. Coffey, Cleveland lawyer, who played a leading role in drafting the Republican platform, told newspapermen today that Senator Borah "totally misinterpreted" the prohibition plank.

He flatly disagreed with Borah's contention in his Senate speech yesterday that the plank is tantamount to repeal, although admitting that he suggested a Fourteenth Amendment would take the place of the Eighteenth.

Meanwhile a future of political questioning rang out in the weeks of Borah's dramatic announcement that President Hoover will not have his support for reelection if the platform platform is adopted at the afternoon session of the convention. Borah's driving campaign for Hoover of 1928 has been regarded as one of the greatest individual contributions to the President's election.

Borah's decision, which had been temporarily granted by Republican officials, who had crowded it, finally would have to bear its fruit in the prohibition plank adopted by the party at Chicago.

It hardly has confirmed not only the prohibition plank but the entire platform as a whole, especially in the past six years.

What have they been demanding for the past six years?

"I think that they have given a chance to determine whether or not the 18th Amendment shall continue in force or whether it shall be repealed and laws taken out of the constitution."

Second, that they should be permitted to express their wishes through state constitutional convention and through state legislatures.

The platform grows out of these demands on the platform English consequently it was formulated in November the platform is a record of an opportunity to take the repeal of the 18th Amendment through the medium of state legislatures. It is from all these sources.

First prize is the honor of any 11½ size in the Sanford Department Store, 101 East First Street. This is the first prize for women contestants.

G. O. P. PLANK ON PROHIBITION IS TERMED AS FAIR

Is Defended By Burke, General Counsel Of National Committee

PITTSBURGH, June 21.—(A.P.)—James L. Burke, general counsel for the Republican national committee, yesterday defended the prohibition plank adopted by the national convention at Chicago.

Burke, who participated in the debate which preceded adoption of the plank, said that upon his arrival from Chicago yesterday he found much of the letters in his desk, asking for interpretation of the plank.

"And I was prompted to answer immediately by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler's Sunday criticism of the plank," he added.

"One of the greatest evils in American politics is the tendency of partisan or public enemies to jump at conclusions," he said.

"The sincerity of both sides is admitted."

"I personally never believed the 18th Amendment belonged to the constitution. I believe it to be a police power specifically reserved to the states and never intended to be surrendered to the federal government."

"Now, our many so-called well-meaning friends who are attacking the Republican platform let us face the facts squarely."

"First, that they have given a chance to determine whether or not the 18th Amendment shall continue in force or whether it shall be repealed and laws taken out of the constitution."

Second, that they should be permitted to express their wishes through state constitutional convention and through state legislatures.

The platform grows out of these demands on the platform English consequently it was formulated in November the platform is a record of an opportunity to take the repeal of the 18th Amendment through the medium of state legislatures. It is from all these sources.

Garner Urges Repeal Of Prohibition Law

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(A.P.)—John Garner, speaker of the House and one-time Texas governor, swung his political lance toward the Democratic presidential nomination today with a statement urging repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment.

"When the prohibition amendment was proposed I, as a member of Congress, voted against it," Garner said. "I never believed it would be workable and it should be repealed." That was the only reference Garner made to prohibition in a statement that set forth his views on the condition of the nation.

Volusia's Consent Must Be Obtained For Catching Fish

Sanford fishermen whose week appeal to the Board of County Commissioners that they be allowed to take mullies and fish from the lakes and streams of this county despite the fact that the department of Game and Fish, Washington, D. C., has refused to issue a permit for the purpose, will be granted by the Board.

Local commissioners recommended that the request be granted as a measure of relieving an employment situation among local fishermen. The commissioners approved the taking of fish with gill nets from the St. Johns River, Lake Monroe, and Lake Wales.

Some months ago, a similar action was taken by the County Commission. At the same time the Volusia commissioners refused to give their consent to the use of nets in these waters.

The department writes, "Inasmuch as these waters are situated in both counties, the State Game Commissioner cannot authorize that the use of these nets be permitted in these waters without the consent and approval of both county commissions of both counties affected."

FEDS DISAPPOINT FANS IN LOSING LISTLESS GAME

Crackers Hand Locals 2nd Defeat Of 1st Half Play By 5-2

By PETER SCHAAL.

As natural consequence of having practically lost the first half of the game, the fans of the Daytona Cracker team were disappointed in losing to the Daytona team Thursday, Manager Joe Barnes' Celery Fed, with their "dampers" very apparently down, walked through a listless ball game with the New Smyrna Crackers here yesterday afternoon, coming out on the short end of a 5 to 2 score. It marked the second time that the Crackers have handed the Fed a defeat during the first half, by the way.

Manager Barnes chose to start Cal Dennis, since Tom Phillips has an ailing arm and Buddy Lake is being saved for next Thursday at Winter Park. Cal got in trouble by walking the first man, and then saw three straight hits fall just out of reach of any fielder. Two runs came over almost at once, and out came Dennis. Phillips took up the chinking and before the inning was over, the two men left on base by Dennis had scored.

Phillips held the Crackers in three hits until he asked to be relieved at the end of the seventh. Buddy Lake then held the Crackers hitless and off the sacks in the eighth and ninth. The Crackers had scored one run in the sixth by combining two hits with an error.

However, with a four run lead, left-hander Bill Lettz held the Fed at bay although they got 11 hits off his delivery. Lettz had good support in the field, and the Fed seemed to get on bases only to have a batter pop up to keep runs away from home plate.

There were few features for the edification of the 500 or so fans present. Every hurler on the hill appeared to be just throwing them over. Lettz bore down toward then end, especially when Martin, Pittman, and Chapman came to bat. He even struck out Red Martin, the first time any hurler has done that this year.

Great fielding by Eddie Moore, Fed shortstop, was probably the Fed's best offering in a defensive way, while Pete Schrard's bottle bat punched out three hits in four tries as the feature on defense. Schrard was taking the place of Red, temporarily out of the game.

While the Fed were losing to New Smyrna, the up and coming Winter Park nine put a crimp in the Deland pennant aspirations by beating Deland 7 to 6. Imagine that! At the same time, Daytona won a lucky game at Cocoa by a 3 to 2 score. Bill Strickland allowed Daytona only one hit, but lost the game when four errors were made. Imagine that!

Today, Deland and Daytona are tied for first place. Sanford is second, and Cocoa third. What will probably be the best game in this league this year will therefore be seen at Daytona next Thursday when the Reds and Islanders get together. Tige Minor, this league's most promising hurler will match talents with Lefty Lane, the left handed sensation. The title goes to the winning club. Don't you know the park will be filled with people!

While the Fed as a whole are disgusted over their showing in the past two games, club moguls take a more philosophic view of the whole affair. They figure that the club did a good thing by not winning the first half. If it had won, chances are that second half games here wouldn't be as exciting, crowds would fall off, and maybe the Fed would go into a post-season series rather stale. Therefore, the plan today is to get three or four new players, cut down to 12 men, and fight like the dickens to win the second half and pennant. Not a bad idea at all. Fans would do well to consider this logic before doing too much complaining. After all, fans here have never seen better baseball for the price, 35 cents.

The Fed close the first half with a game at Winter Park Thursday. Next Sunday they open the second half at Deland, and come here Thursday week for a game with Cocoa.

Big Crowd Attends Mid-Night Benefit Staged At Milane

Crackers Hand Locals 2nd Defeat Of 1st Half Play By 5-2

Catching the spirit of a group of Sanford, Deland and Orlando professional and amateur performers who donated their time and talent for the occasion, a large Sanford audience attended and enjoyed the benefit performance at the Milane Theater Friday at midnight. All proceeds, and they were more than that reported at Orlando, were turned over to the Century of Progress Florida exhibit committee to be used in making this state's exhibit at the Chicago World's Fair next year one of the most elaborate of any there.

From beginning to end the program moved with a smoothness and finish that indicated long and careful rehearsals. As a result, the individual performance was well received, with Sanford talent sharing generous applause along with clever Deland and Orlando entertainers.

While each player scored in his or her part, a former Keith vaudeville star, Hal Butler, now residing at Deland, received hearty applause for his skit "Nertz", assisted by Frank Bell, manager of the Breka Theater, Deland.

The opening feature was devoted to Sanford talent. It was in the form of a minstrel first part, with Harry Kent as interlocutor. During this first part, the following were heard in songs: Mrs. Eustis Peaks, Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. R. L. Glenn, F. S. Lamson, Bill Hoffman, J. M. Stinecipher, George Schiffley, Homer Clause and the Kiwanis Quartet.

Others seen during this portion of the program were Mrs. Homer Clause, Mrs. B. C. Moore, Miss Mabel Bowler, Mrs. Hugh Labor, Bob Pearson, Ed Lane, B. C. Moore, Carl Williams, H. W. Rucker, and R. H. Williams, all lending a voice in ensemble singing.

Following Mr. Butler's skit, Vernon Wooten, well known Deland pianist offered several popular selections as his part of the program.

The Misses Edna Jackson, Ernestine Wiggins, Alice Hamrick, and Evelyn Morris and Eldon Wiggins, pupils of the Jackson Dance Studio, Orlando, were well received in a series of tap and toe dancing numbers, accompanied by Miss Mary Gilmore.

The program concluded with the presentation of three short sound films.

NEW YORK, June 28.—(A.P.)—A fistie feud of two years standing, embittered by brooding frustration on one side, keened to razor edge on the other by pride and eagerness for vindication, will be settled by Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling in Madison Square Garden's new bowl on Long Island Tuesday night.

The prospects are that one of the smallest crowds in heavyweight championship history, with gate receipts no more than $300,000, will gather in the dusk of the big stadium that seats 77,000 for the final squaring of long overdue scores.

Two years ago in the Yankee Stadium the big, blustery sailor from Boston, and the calm German youth, who looks like Dempsey, fought for the heavyweight championship vacated by Gene Tunney. For three full rounds and part of the fourth, Sharkey battered the courageous teuton, and seemed definitely on the way to the final goal of an erratic career, the heavyweight title.

But in the fourth round Sharkey loosed a low left hook that dropped Schmeling groaning to the floor. The German's seconds screamed foul and leaped into the ring. Referee Jimmy Crowley paced back and forth, trying to make up his mind.

Then he gave Schmeling the decision, the first time in heavyweight history that the title of the Sullivan, Corbetta, Jeffries, Fitzsimmons, Johnsons, Dempseys and Tunneys had passed to a challenger on a foul.

Strange and unusual things may happen Tuesday night, but there can be no repetition of that picture. Since that night the New York State Athletic Commission has put into effect a "no foul" rule, whereby the aggressor loses only the round in which he strikes a low blow, and if necessary a contestant is given a minute's rest before he is forced to continue.

So fine have been the performances of both Sharkey and Schmeling, the latter tremendously improved, in training workouts for the past five weeks, that there is little unanimity in choice of a favorite.

For the first time in many years, not a single large wager has been made on the match by the "big shots" of New York and the Mid-West, who usually have anywhere from $50,000 to $100,000 each riding on the fortunes of their choices. Small bets range from 7 to 5 on Schmeling to even money.

With ticket prices ranging from $2.50 to $25, despite depression costs in every other industry, the ballyhoo has been almost futile, re major news of the engagement has been dropped in prize fighters. Most harmful of all, the engagement has been dropped in between the annual Poughkeepsie regatta on Monday and the start of the National Open golf championship on Long Island.

So the optimistic predictions of a gate of $750,000 have gradually shriveled until even the most daring believe that $400,000 is all the venture can expect.

The general forecasts of financial failure have had no effect, however, on the activities of the warriors. Probably no two heavyweights in all ring history have come down to a championship tussle in better condition. At 201 pounds, Sharkey is superly trained; his timing, punching, and boxing have been perfect, and he seeks at last to have mastered the wayward temperament that cost him three great opportunities in the past.

Schmeling at 190 pounds, is immeasurably improved over his form of two years ago and even his showing in knocking out Young Stribling in 15 rounds in Cleveland last summer. He has unlimited strength and stamina, although he still seems easy to his sparring partners in practice.

The bout, for 15 rounds, will be broadcast over a national network with Charles Francis Conroy, novelist and former boxer, at the microphone. It is scheduled to start about 9:30 P. M. (E.S.T.)

Inviting is the word... Chesterfield's attractive white package is certainly the proper introduction to the cigarettes inside it. For it suggests right off...they're pure. Examine the paper Chesterfields are rolled in. It's white...and pure. Now light up...You'll notice there's neither taste nor odor of burning paper. You get the full flavor of fine ripe tobacco. To make sure of purity... every ingredient and every method used in making Chesterfields... is checked by a staff of scientists. You always open that clean white package with confidence. It reminds you of the purity back of that satisfying taste. And remember, they're milder too!

Worthy Of His Trust

With the single exception of the governor's race, the campaign in Florida, which is attracting the most attention and causing political minded citizens the greatest concern, is for the office of state comptroller. That the contest is close is illustrated by the fact that in the first primary Amos and Lee were within a thousand votes of each other while Swearingen was eliminated with approximately forty thousand votes to his credit.

Mr. Amos is finding his chief difficulty during the present campaign in the prejudice which exists against the "ins" and the popular belief, which has almost reached the proportions of a superstition, that Mr. Amos is in some way connected with, and to blame for, the failure of a large number of banks in Florida during the past few years. This prejudice is of such force that a true and tried public servant is in danger of being sacrificed in favor of a High-lands county politician about whom the state generally knows little or nothing.

Well informed persons advise us that the reason most banks in Florida failed was that the people who owed the banks money, would not, or could not, pay their obligations. The comptroller had nothing to do with that. There is also a rather well founded belief that the strengthening of state banking laws, limiting and defining more specifically the type of loans a bank may make, might have had a very beneficial effect upon our state banking system. But the comptroller is not invested with law making powers.

This is a duty which properly falls upon the legislature. Mr. Lee, now opposing Mr. Amos for the office of state comptroller, has been a member of the legislature since 1927 and the record does not reveal a single instance in which he has attempted to improve our state banking laws. Now that he is a candidate for comptroller he pledges himself to strengthen the banking laws, without having, even if he is elected, the slightest authority whatever to do so.

The duty of the comptroller is simply to enforce the laws as they are written. If the laws are not right, Mr. Lee can take his share of the blame for not having perfected them while a member of the law-making body. That Mr. Amos has enforced such laws as have existed with regard to state banking has been proved time and again when frequent investigations of his office, prompted by certain disgruntled individuals who have been sued on notes or have failed to obtain desired receiverships, have given him a clean bill of health.

The office of state comptroller is a vital one to the welfare of the people of Florida and the resumption of prosperity. It involves not only the liquidation of all closed state banks, but the management of all fiscal affairs of the state government. Millions of dollars of the people's money are entrusted to the comptroller's care. Mr. Amos, who in all these troublous times, has never lost a dollar of the state's money, has proved himself worthy of this trust.

Time To Paint And Repair

Gratifying news comes from the Chamber of Commerce that the "Better Summer" campaign, being staged in an effort to stimulate activity in painting and repair work in Seminole County, has resulted in thirty pledges being received, amounting to $18,182.50. The average per person for the total amount pledged aggregates $606.08, and according to the trade body officials far exceeds their expectations.

The Herald has already pointed out that economy can be practiced now better than ever before, with the price of labor and materials at a low ebb, by taking advantage of this situation to repair and paint houses and buildings that have been neglected.

Not only will the dollar stretch further, but every day that a paintless house is not attended to, and every day that a rotting floor or beam is not taken care of, means a larger expenditure in the long run. The wise property owner should see to it that his investment is protected by paint and new wood and he should do it now when his cost will be extremely favorable.

People are more or less imitators and if the movement for freshly painted and repaired houses can be given sufficient momentum, it should go a long way towards improving the general appearance of the city. This in itself is a worthy objective, for no one can have great pride in his city if its houses and buildings are delapidated and unkempt.

We hope that every owner of a house and building in Sanford will, so far as it is possible, co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce campaign, and thereby protect his own interests, help improve general business conditions of the city, and aid in dressing up the appearance of the community.

The Chamber of Commerce is proving a big help to the building trades by sponsoring this movement at the present time.

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Three home runs by Orlando and a fight were the features of yesterday's game in Sanford. As to which club can gain the victory will be decided by the board of managers of both teams in a meeting to be held as soon as possible. The game was claimed by Sanford on an unfair decision but Manager Cheney will contest the game on the grounds of a broken rule in regard to passed balls at home plate.

The many friends of Forrest Gatchel will be glad to learn that he is connected with a grocery firm in Jacksonville and lives in a new position and what is more to the point, the firm likes Forrest. While sorry to lose Forrest from Sanford, we are glad he is making good.

SHOLTZ FOR GOVERNOR

WAUCHULA ADVOCATE

"The nomination of Dave Sholtz as democratic candidate for governor," says the Fort Myers Press, "is indicated to practically a mathematical certainty by a study of the final figures."

The Press goes on to point out that "figured by any process of informed political reasoning Sholtz can safely be given 100,000 of the 150,000 the two leaders didn't get Tuesday, leaving 50,000 for Martin. That adds up to a final score of 155,000 for Sholtz on June 28 to 115,000 for Martin. And, if anything, Sholtz is given by far the worst of the division. Instead of splitting only two to one with Martin on what they have to work on he is more likely to attract nine out of ten in the next couple of weeks."

We doubt if Sholtz can pull nine out of ten of the other candidates' votes, but we do think he will get enough to win by a good margin. Which brings to mind the fact that on May 6 this newspaper said, editorially: "Dave Sholtz made a profound impression upon the people of Hardee county in his speech here Saturday night. To us it looks like the race is between Hardee and Sholtz."

Some of our friends laughed at us, while others merely commented, "I don't think Sholtz has a chance."

We felt that if he made the same sort of speech elsewhere that he made here, he did have a chance—and a good one. We still think so. At this time there seems to be little doubt that Dave Sholtz will be the democratic nominee for governor, and will win handily in November.

He is a native of Florida, a Presbyterian; young, active, energetic; and we believe he will give Florida four years of conservative leadership.

BOOMERANG

TAMPA TIMES

The Times holds no brief for Peter O. Knight. As is generally known, it has differed sharply with him on many public questions. Disagreements between the two have been more numerous than agreements. Despite this, it has always conceded and proclaimed the value of Colonel Knight to this city and state as a strong constructive factor.

Here in Tampa and throughout the state Peter O. Knight is esteemed, as he deserves to be, for the big things he has done for Florida in the way of interesting powerful financial interests in the state and identifying them with the development of many of its resources. Through his influence money has been brought here in large volume for this purpose.

Therefore, purely in spirit of justice, the demagogic attitude of Stafford Caldwell in picturing Colonel Knight as a selfish exploiter, ready to sacrifice the public interests for his own benefit, is denounced as despicable. However, it is in keeping with Caldwell's radical reversal of attitude in the present state campaign. Before he was eliminated in the Democratic candidate for governor none of the candidates were more severe in denunciation of John W. Martin than was Stafford Caldwell. He charged Martin as the chief offender in the increase of the taxation burden and with gross prostitution of the powers of the governor's office in promotion of his personal interests and ambitions. Now he is supporting Martin.

In doing so he denounces Dave Sholtz as a candidate of the corporation interests of the state represented by Colonel Knight. Yet The Times has in its possession proof that Stafford Caldwell in November, 1930, appealed to Peter O. Knight for support of his candidacy for the governorship, saying in conclusion of a letter to him: "It is my earnest hope that the merit of my views and program as enunciated throughout the campaign and the opinion you form as to my ability and willingness to faithfully serve the state will ultimately lead to my securing your hearty support."

In passing, just to show the demagoguery of Caldwell's diatribe against Colonel Knight, it is known throughout Florida that Peter O. Knight supported John W. Martin for governor in 1924 and that no vituperation was then indulged against him by Stafford Caldwell seems to have hurled a political boomerang.

MAKING THE "INS" THE GOATS

MIAMI HERALD

Depression years are bad for incumbents of office who face the necessity of going before the people for re-election. The voter goes to the polls, sometimes hungry and jobless, always aggrieved at the situation. He wants someone on whom he can place the blame, and in the absence of a "goat," he usually vents his ill temper upon the office holder by voting against him. Mr. Voter frequently doesn't stop to consider the relative merits of candidates. When he's angry, he just votes against every man who has a job.

Such a condition of mind is apt to cause the people to lose the services of highly valuable employees—men who have had rich experience in office and have been capably administering their affairs. A case in point is Ernest Amos, state comptroller. Mr. Amos has held that office since 1916. He is the manager of Florida's financial affairs. He audits the books of all state and county departments, and directs the motor vehicle license bureau and a host of other bureaus which are necessary for the proper conduct of Florida's business. Many banks have failed in Florida. The comptroller has auditing supervision over banks, and handles liquidation of closed banks. Mr. Amos has returned to depositors of closed banks $31,000,000, in spite of adverse business conditions. He has performed all the duties of his office adequately and well. Yet, because many people lost some money in defunct banks, and are naturally displeased about it, some of them are throwing bricks at Mr. Amos. In calmer moments, they will realize that he could not have prevented the banks closing. He has administered them since they were closed as well as that job could have been done, in the light of all the present circumstances.

Mr. Amos is an asset to Florida and is too valuable for the people to take a chance with his opponent in the comptroller's office. His long experience, his patriotic zeal and his unquestionable efficiency all point to the necessity of keeping him as long as he offers himself for public service.

Chuluota Family To Stage Annual Picnic

A custom of long standing will be repeated at Chuluota on July 4 when members of the Jacobs family will entertain their friends and neighbors at a barbecue and basket picnic that begins at 10:00 o'clock in the morning and continues until dark.

Other than a small barbecue to be asked for the barbecued meat that will be prepared by N. C. Jacobs and County Commissioner S. F. Long, every other item on the day's program will be free.

Horse-racing that brings together this county's fastest ponies and horses; tournament riding that has its trials and spills; an old-time fiddling contest, and dancing are among the attractions. The Jacobs estate is on the Brunley Ranch Road about two miles east of Chuluota. It was the seat of a social rally which in May when some 3000 persons gathered to enjoy a barbecue and horse-racing contest.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"IS THE UNIVERSE, INCLUDING MAN, EVOLVED BY ATOMIC FORCE?" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, June 19.

The Golden Text was from Psalm 19: 1. "The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handiwork."

Among the citations which summarized the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God was upon the face of the waters. And God said, Let there be light; and there was light. (Gen. 1: 1-5.)"

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The spiritual world is a source of light and heat, and is the source of all life and intelligence."

Ex-Caldwell Backer Changes His Position

Ocala, June 21.—A. C. Blowers, well known Ocala citizen and active in first primary support of Stafford Caldwell, has issued a statement to the press here saying he would not follow Caldwell in supporting Martin against Sholtz in the second primary. Setting forth his position, Blowers said: "The policies of Mr. Caldwell as he expressed them to me and from the platform were in directly opposite to the policies of Mr. Martin and he turned such bitter guns on Mr. Martin that it came as a severe shock to me when he announced on Monday morning that he would support John Martin against Mr. Sholtz. Particularly is this so because I personally heard Mr. Caldwell at one time, in answer of an inquiry about Mr. Sholtz, say that Mr. Sholtz was a man with a good platform and sufficient support to be in the second primary."

Is your telephone in your Neighbor's home?

Of course it's embarrassing to ask an obliging neighbor for the "loan" of his telephone, knowing that you cannot return the favor. But the greatest imposition is on yourself and your family. The home without a telephone is cut off from ready access, especially in these days when friends and relatives live in scattered suburbs and cities. Your name in the telephone book makes it easy for friends and business associates as well to reach you and your family. Ordering a telephone is easy. Ask any telephone employe to explain straight line and party line service or call the business office. Modern telephone service is so low in cost that it really doesn't pay to try to do without it.

George Bancroft To Play Here Wednesday

A gusty adventure-story of the hectic days during the Russian revolution is the vehicle for George Bancroft, at the Milane Theater, Bristol, with tense dramatic thrill, "The World and the Flesh" provides the ebullient Bancroft with his most sensational characterization since "The Mighty," according to preview critics.

Paramount has gone to great pains in providing an abundance of authentic atmosphere for its burly star in this film production. Scores of scenes in scenes of indoor and outdoor locales heighten the realism of the story which moves rapidly from one thrilling episode to the next.

Miriam Hopkins, blonde favorite of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," "The Smiling Lieutenant" and "Dancers in the Dark," heads the supporting cast which includes Alan Mowbray, George E. Stone, Mitchell Lewis, Oscar Apfel and Reginald Barlow.

Bancroft is seen as the domineering sea captain, whose rough-and-ready sailor crew worship him. At the outbreak of the revolution they take an active part in the onslaught upon the aristocrats. Bursting in on a group of fleeing nobles who are feasting at an inn in a seacoast town, they make the fugitives their captives. But a counter-attack by loyal Cossacks turns the tide and Bancroft, with three of his men, become prisoners. With Miriam Hopkins, a peasant girl who has long been living a life of luxury with the aristocrats, the revolutionaries are taken aboard the ship for transportation to a city that is still loyal to the government. In a new outbreak aboard ship, Bancroft and his men take over the vessel and steer it on a course to Theodosia, a town in the hands of the revolutionists.
