The officials of the Sub-Tropical Mid-Winter Exposition called today Seminole County Day, but if the interested crowds that flock to the comprehensive exhibit of Seminole county's agricultural products in the Agricultural building, and the myriads of all-angled questions which they ask about the variety that catch the eye are a criterion, yesterday was Seminole County Day as well as today, and tomorrow will be and so will every day this week. The Seminole county exhibit, which greets you on the right as you enter the hall is a whopper—and C. M. Berry, county agent, doesn't need to tell a single whopper about it—it talks for itself loud and deep. So numerous and interested are the inquiries attracted by the display, that one disgruntled Orange county farmer watched the throngs enviously for a few moments, and spent his covetousness of fame by ejaculating: "Why don't that darned fellow tell 'em it's really part of Orange county, anyway." The background of the exhibit is a huge display of corn that marks a revolution in agricultural development for climatic needs. If there have been any dubious cynics as to the ability of Florida soil to produce a corn not only in profitable quantities but of a quality peculiarly adapted to the Florida climate, his doubts fade when he realizes the Sanford hybrid. Successful corn raisers in other states have practically settled upon the White Dent as the ideal seed—at least the White Dent qualities have converted the majority of growers—but owing to the peculiarities its softness was a disadvantage in the Florida climate. Then the Cuban flint was introduced, and its rock-like shell presented just as many disadvantages as the White Dent, but it remained for progressive experimenters of Seminole county to evolve a cross between the two that retained the qualities of each adapted to tropically moist latitudes, and the Sanford Hybrid is the result. The successful results that have followed the planting of this corn not only have made a name for Seminole, but probably mark the beginning of an agricultural history for the peninsula as a

Daytona Sets Up Still in City Hall Building

DAYTONA, Feb. 18.—One of the most complete moonshine stills ever seen in these parts and this neighborhood, is no stronger when it comes to stills, was found on Sunday by Deputy Sheriff T. O. Milton in a swamp back of Kingston. He brought the still and placed it in the city hall, where it was the center of attraction today. Milton had a fine line on the still for some time, but previous to Sunday had found that the owner had moved it each time he dropped around to investigate.

Gainesville May Modify Sunday Laws

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 17.—Laws forbidding the operation of theatres on Sundays may be modified, according to present indications, and Gainesville may soon have Sunday shows if present plans materialize. An ordinance that would revoke certain sections of the law is before the city council of Gainesville, and several members of the council have made it known that they are very favorable to the plan. Many church members have stated that they will not oppose such plans or modification of the laws.

whole. The Sanford Hybrid display is the work of Hon. L. A. Brumley, chairman of the board of county commissioners.

Seminole and the celery have been synonymous in truck thought, but the fair visitor this year takes in forty-three different kinds of marketable vegetables, let alone the fruit, all grown in Seminole, from the celery that has brought fame and fortune to the county, to the very rare Dill plant that puts the dill in the pickle. Here are found growing on the same plant, flowers in bloom and fruit in the pod of delicious garden peas, and the sportsman's eye is attracted by the alligator hide fifteen feet long and the handsome bunch of live 12 and 15-pound wide-mouthed bass, still kicking and fresh from their habitat of the St. Johns river—and all found in Seminole.

Strawberries, rich, red and luscious, potted for the fair, bear flowers on the same plant, and rare vegetables like broccolo and the wild eggplant are in a display by C. M. Berry. The magnificent display of grapefruit and oranges in the Seminole county exhibit is the effort of Chase & Co. of Sanford, and a remarkable display of celery growing in its native soil, is shown by Albert Dornier, of the same place. Lettuce in elegance of quality and fresh from the garden is displayed in all its juicy moisture by Partin Bros. of Wagner.

The possibilities of truck products in Seminole is illustrated by an extensive display of lettuce, celery and cauliflower from the gardens of Ed Ward and Tim Tietzema, Geneva, demonstrates the finer processes of a specialized agriculture by a comprehensive display of honey, strained and in the comb, and various exhibits of commercial beeswax.

The Fine Arts building is shaped like a wheel, with a central hub and spokes radiating in several directions. In one of these spokes is a woman's exhibit that is superb, for Mrs. Wakefield of Geneva is the ne plus ultra in the wonders of her preserves and jellies. She has this display arranged in beautiful style with a trelliswork around the booth, and in the booth is what at first sight seems a jeweler's display of rubies and emeralds, and in reality is the jellies of guava and mint with an electric light shining through them. Mrs. Wakefield has as well all sorts of things made of guavas from the past to the preserves, with every variety of orange and grapefruit marmalade, candied komquats, preserved loquats, and preserved and jellied roseate, all in the highest perfection of art and cookery.—Reporter-Star.

Will Be Attorney-General if Everything Goes Well

BUT THEY ARE TOO BIG TO BE GIVEN ANY SANFORD REPUBLICANS.

(By The Associated Press) ST. AUGUSTINE, Feb. 17.—Problems of various kinds to be solved before the inauguration were talked over today by President-elect Harding and Harry Daugherty, of Ohio, who managed his campaign for the presidency last spring and who is expected to be attorney-general in the new cabinet. Final make up of the cabinet itself occupied first place in their consultations. Only cabinet posts not yet virtually assigned are navy, commerce and labor.

ASK PRESIDENT TO SHOW HOW SPENT WAR FUND

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—After heated debate the house yesterday adopted a resolution calling upon President Wilson for an itemized statement showing disbursements and allotments of the $150,000,000 war fund voted by congress. The resolution, which was adopted, 211 to 79, was attacked by Democrats who charged that it was put forward at this time to defame and malign President Wilson in the closing days of his administration. Reference to expenditures by the American peace commission at Paris fanned the flames on the Democratic side and turned the debate into strictly partisan channels.

ST. AUGUSTINE, Feb. 17.—With seven of his ten cabinet appointments virtually determined, President-elect Harding and his chief political advisers are sifting over finally the available material for the portfolios of navy, commerce and labor.

For the navy post, Frank O. Lowden of Illinois still is considered a possibility, with several others holding an even chance should he finally decide not to enter the cabinet. Half a dozen names are in the hat for the secretaryship of commerce, with the odds seeming to favor a Southern Republican. The list of available for head of the labor department is understood to have been narrowed to four men—John J. Davis of Pennsylvania, James Duncan of Massachusetts, T. V. O'Connor of New York, and Representative John L. Nolan of California.

As the list stood today with navy, commerce and labor vacant, it was understood to contemplate the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes of New York for secretary of state, John W. Weeks of Massachusetts for secretary of war, Andrew Mellon of Pennsylvania for secretary of the treasury, Will H. Hays of Indiana for postmaster-general, Harry M. Daugherty of Ohio for attorney-general, Henry Hugh Wallace of Iowa for secretary of agriculture, and A. B. Fall of New Mexico for secretary of the interior.

Of the three vacant places, the navy secretaryship is proving the most troublesome to fill. It now is regarded as certain that Mr. Lowden can have the navy appointment in he wants it, and there are many indications of strong pressure to induce him to accept.

The growing wave of agitation for Southern representation in the cabinet may land a secretary of the navy from South of the Mason and Dixon's line, but the general impression here is that it will be more likely to be felt in the choice of the secretary of commerce. The movement is one of the strongest influences now being bro't to bear on Mr. Harding's headquarters here in the main and has taken the form of a bid for sectional representation rather than for the allotment of any particular place in the next president's family of counselors.

Representative C. Bascom Slemph of Virginia and T. H. Huston and Newell Sanders of Tennessee are two of those most prominently mentioned for cabinet appointments in the petitions that are coming to the president-elect. Some of the requests have mentioned the commerce secretaryship as a fitting reward for the South because of the present movement for expansion of Southern industry.

From outside the South have come many petitions for the appointment of John Hays Hammond of New York or Herbert Hoover of California to the commerce post. There also has been talk of Charles D. Hilles of New York and several others. All four of those now in the front of consideration for the labor secretaryship are union men.

There are a lot of people who feel about congress just as Gen. Dawes does, but they haven't his vocabulary.—Norfolk (Neb.) News.

Chairman Good of the appropriation committee, who reported the resolution introduced by Representative Gould, Republican, New York, declared that if any injustice had been done the president, the Democrats were responsible, by attempting to create the impression that "there was something vooked in the money spending," when the resolution itself did not intimate that there had been anything improper.

Mr. Good declined to offer an amendment calling on various departments for an accounting which was the method adopted. Democrats stated, in asking for an accounting of Spanish war funds in President McKinley's day.

"The American people will never forget the great achievement of Woodrow Wilson," said Mr. Byrns, "and his name will fill the brightest pages of history after his detractors are dead and forgotten."

Representative Rogers, Republican, Massachusetts, attacked reported expenditures of the peace commission at the Hotel Crillon in Paris, calling attention specifically to an item of $125,000 for damage to the hotel property. He said he did not know if chandeliers were in the damaged list or at what hour of the morning they might have been broken.

SANFORD GROWING BIGGER REACHES OUT IN MANY WAYS SUB-DIVISION ARE IN ORDER

And Many of Them Are Being Exploited
Just Now

NEED OF LOTS

IS APPARENT TO PEOPLE WHO
SEE THE WONDERFUL GROWTH OF SANFORD

The healthiest signs of growth of Sanford or any other city is the growth of the suburbs and if this is a sure enough sign and all the wise ones say it is, then this city is growing some.

A ride or a walk through the suburbs of Sanford will show the signs of new houses going up everywhere in the city limits and many miles beyond the city limits and investors from other points are coming here to take up the realty business because they see the golden opportunity that this city offers over any other at this time.

The strongest point about Sanford realty is that the prices are right and within the reach of all and this is bringing many investors here at this time. The subdivisions are extending along the Orlando road at present and this part of the city seems to have a stronger bid than in any other direction although the west side is improving and several fine mansions are talked of even miles out in the celery belt. With the present-day methods of transportation it is no hardship on anyone to live even ten miles from this city on a good hard road for the auto puts the suburbanite within easy distance of the city even that far away. To the man who has been shut up in the narrow confines of a city the country has a compelling charm that calls him out of the city to the green fields of the country and the only mistake the real estate men make in this line of endeavor is in making the suburban lots as small as they are in the city. The man who desires to live farther out wants plenty of elbow room and is moving out for that purpose. One way round this question, however, is the very reasonable prices levied on many of these subdivision lots, F. O. Bieder for instance, selling his lots as low as $25 each and at this rate one could buy an acre of land at a very reasonable figure. At any rate this healthy growth of Sanford is very gratifying to everyone and Sanford is growing in all directions.

Booze on Ships Shows Deep Scheme to Smuggle Dope

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A ruse by a detective and the accidental overhearing of a conversation atop a Fifth avenue bus caused raids on two ships in New York harbor today and the seizure of more than $20,000 worth of drugs on the one and whiskey, laces, revolvers and other goods on the other.

Thomas E. Rush, customs surveyor of the port, was riding on the top of a bus last week and overheard two men in conversation say it was an easy matter to smuggle goods off ships. He found the men were connected with the steamer Fort Pitt-bridge, which arrived recently from Vigo, Spain. A searching party was sent to the ship and under several tons of coal fifty-one bottles of whiskey were found and in a cargo hold several thousand dollars worth of laces, lingerie and other articles were stored.

The drug raid was carried out on board the steamer Florence Luckenbach after Detective Bernard Boylan, disguised as a longshoreman, is said to have gained the confidence of Frederick Sunoff, the ship's quartermaster, and had told him a friend would pay thousands of dollars for enough cocaine to last for a year. Sundolf, Boylan said, let it be known that drugs were on board the Luckenbach and later was arrested and locked up, charged with being a drug vendor. Dr. Carlton Simon, special deputy police commissioner in charge of the narcotic staff, said he was certain Sundolf was connected with an international drug smuggling ring. The drugs bore German stamps.

Man Claiming Orlando His Home, Stabbed in Jax By a Woman

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 5.—Nan Vaughn, young woman, is being held in jail here today without bail, as the result of the serious stabbing last night on a downtown street corner of a man who gave his name as Orlando, Fla. Cowan is expected to recover. The stabbing occurred, according to J. C. Warner, of Philadelphia, Cowan's companion, when they were approached by two women, one of whom spoke to Cowan about some money he owed her and then suddenly cut him in the left breast.

THE NEW SOUTHERN COLLEGE

The hearts of Florida Methodists were greatly grieved, last Saturday, when the news came that two of the large buildings comprising our Southern College plant had been destroyed by fire.

This was soon followed, however, by an expression of relief that none of that splendid body of young people entrusted to the care of our church for educational purposes had lost their lives in the holocaust.

Southern College, of course, will be rebuilt, and that with as little delay as possible. The people of Florida will see to that. Not even such a calamity will cause the great Methodist Church of Florida to desist from its holy purpose to provide Christian education for its boys and girls.

Where the new college will be located is yet to be determined. There is a not unnatural preference on the part of some, to rebuild at Sutherland, partly for sentimental reasons, partly because of the two buildings which the fire did not consume.

It is our deep conviction, however, that the new "Southern" should be better located than the old; in some more conveniently accessible place, and where there are facilities for fighting fires, if another should occur.

That no lives were lost when this sudden destruction swept down upon our college is truly remarkable. Such good fortune might not be ours another time, if we again place ourselves in a position of such helplessness and peril. We must take no such chances again.

PERJURED TESTIMONY UNEARTHED IN THE MOONEY BOMB CASE— MAY HAVE BEEN CONSPIRACY

Various towns will no doubt compete for the good fortune of having this great and growing educational institution located in their vicinity; and some attractive offers may be expected. We trust they will receive due consideration from the trustees, and that one accepted where our students will be safest, physically and morally.

With such knowledge of Florida as we possess, we know of no better location than Lakeland, whose superior water and unexcelled climatic conditions and ready accessibility from a large part of the state are very much in its favor; as is its moral and religious atmosphere.

We hope the citizens of Lakeland, both Methodists and others, will see the great advantage of having this splendid institution located here, and will rise to the occasion with such splendid liberality as will admit no failure to secure it.

Meanwhile, let the Methodists of Florida voluntarily increase their allotment in the educational movement to a round million dollars—as we did in the Centenary campaign—and put Southern College on its feet, with better buildings, in a better location, and with better equipment than it has had hitherto.—Florida Christian Advocate.

There are still a few fools who prate about the glories of war, in spite of the present-day misery of Europe.

Witness Named McDon- ald Now Resides in Trenton, N. J.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Frank P. Walsh, of counsel for Thomas Mooney, convicted of murder in San Francisco in connection with the preparedness day bomb explosion in 1916, today telegraphed San Francisco authorities apprising them of the alleged confession by one witness in the case that he gave perjured testimony at the trial. A special grand jury is now investigating the alleged conspiracy to convict Mooney. The witness named was John McDonald, now a resident of Trenton, N. J., with whom Walsh had a long conference last night.

WELAKA BLOCK SOLD AGAIN HANES SELLS TO WIMBISH WHO WILL RESIDE HERE

in Past Forty
PROPERTY MOVES IN SANFORD THESE DAYS AND
NEW CAPITAL BEING IN-VESTED HERE.

(From Monday's Daily)
The Welaka block has been sold again, this time the sale being made by F. W. Hanes to Capt. John L. Wimbish, both parties being from North Carolina. Mr. Hanes has been the owner for a few weeks only, buying the block from J. D. Bowman and Mr. Bowman bought it from Douglass & Symes. This makes three sales in 40 days of the same business block which is a record especially since all parties are well satisfied with their profits and the last named party, Captain Wimbish says the other parties did not know when they had a good thing and he intends to hold the property and realize something on his investment until such time as he desires to sell it again.

All of these sales show that real estate is moving in Sanford and it is a sure sign that outside capital is interested here to a large extent. Mr. Bowman, who is a live wire and keeps stuff moving all the time has taken an option on the Hines Block across the street and has already received several fine offers for this block but wants to either fix it up himself or sell to some one who will fix it up and make Sanford beautiful as well as prosperous. This block will likely change hands again in a few days.

Capt. Wimbish, who is a well known railroad man will make Sanford his future home it is said by those who know him best and will not only reside here but will invest in other property.

Volusia Farmers Are Uniting

Having tired of sacrificing profits in selling their produce and paying exorbitant prices for home necessities, the farmers of Volusia county have decided to adopt farm bureau principles. Not only have they decided to adopt, they have adopted. On February 5 they actually organized and affiliated themselves with the farm bureau movement which is sweeping the country.

Upon this occasion they had present to speak to them J. W. Coverdale, of the national farm bureau, and he explained to them that this new organization has as its purpose getting the farmers to buy and sell co-operatively. He explained further that there is no partisan influence behind the farm bureau, and that it is solely for the benefit of the farming interest of the country.

Volusia is well organized and is already at work, endeavoring to aid the farmers in purchasing their spring supplies.

SEN. FLETCHER WOULD HAVE FEDERAL MUSIC

INTRODUCES BILL FOR EACH STATE TO HAVE CONSERVA-
TORY OF MUSIC.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Senator Fletcher has just introduced a number of important bills, among them are the following:

A bill to establish in Florida and other states a national conservatory of music for the education of pupils in music. A general board of regents would be organized to supervise the work under federal appropriation.

Another bill would amend the national defense act to provide for the following amendments:

"When by reason of death or disability of a member of a family of an enlisted man a member of his family becomes dependent upon him for care or support, or for other good and sufficient reasons, he may in the discretion of the secretary of war be honorably discharged from the service."

To extend rediscount privileges to farm loan bonds and to promote their sale is the purpose of another bill just offered by Senator Fletcher. It is provided that any bank of the Federal reserve system may buy or sell farm loan bonds. Any member bank of said system may accept time drafts against a deposit of such bonds as security. Acceptances of a member bank thus made or the direct obligation of such bank maturing within sixty days when accompanied by farm loan bonds as collateral security not less in face value than the account of such direct obligation shall be eligible for discount by any Federal reserve bank.

Senator Fletcher has also proposed an amendment to the deficiency appropriation bill providing for $800,000 to continue the development of a submarine base at Key West.

BURGLARS VISIT CHAS. BRITT'S HOME

(From Monday's Daily)
Burglars visited Charlie Britton's home early this morning, probably learning that he had a big day in the store Saturday and wanted to see "something different" and they tried to open one of the windows with a bar. Charlie never allows anyone to open anything round him unless he is allowed to come in so he awoke in time to hear the robber chase down the street while A. W. Smith, who lives next door, was shooting at him every step. It seems that Mr. Smith heard the intruder trying to open a window in the Britt house and started the artillery at the zero hour while Charlie was trying to look at his watch to find out what time it was. But anyway Charlie says he will be fixed for them tonight and if they come back they will have to either take a chance on the Ford roadster or go to jail.

HOTEL BOARD CLEARS $10,000 IN PAST 2 YEARS

BIENNIAL REPORT OF COMMISSIONER CATER SHOWS FIRST PROFIT FROM DEPT

Florida's hotel commission turned over $10,108.19 to the state treasury during 1919 and 1920, over and above its expenses. It is shown in the biennial report covering that period, which was submitted to Governor Cary A. Hardee Friday by Hotel Commissioner Jerry W. Carter. Collections for the two-year period reached $39,683.50. It is shown, while the disbursements of the department were only $29,575.31. This is the first time a deficit has not been shown since the department was created in 1913.

Mr. Carter's report shows that 5007 hotels and restaurants came under the supervision of the hotel commission during 1920 and 4661 in 1919. Of the $30,000 authorized to defray the expense of the commission during 1919-20, a balance of $424.69 was left at the end of the past year.

"Aside from striving to improve the general conditions of the hotels, rooming houses and restaurants of the state, through the regular inspection work, the hotel commission has recognized the necessity and justice of maintaining a supervision over the remodeling of old as well as the construction of new buildings, which would come under its jurisdiction upon completion, and has thus saved the owners and builders of hotels, rooming houses and restaurants the necessity and expense of altering their buildings to comply with the law after completion," says Mr. Carter.

"To this end the present administration of the hotel commission out of its funds and without expense to the general taxpayer has maintained a department that would compare favorably with what is known in a great many states as a building department and very often operated at a cost to them that would greatly exceed the entire expense of the Florida hotel commission."

A tabulation, compiled by E. A. Ehmman, supervising architect of the division of construction and maintenance, covering the two-year period of the report, shows that 120 permits on improvements costing more than $4000 were issued during 1919-20, with an estimated valuation of $5,474,500. Of this number 70, with an estimated value of $3,198,500, were issued during 1920. The buildings are classified as follows: Hotels, 35; apartment or rooming houses, 77; apartment hotel, 1; dining rooms, 5; and employees' quarters, 2.

Improvements costing approximately less than $4000 are not enumerated in the report.

"Our records show the complete destruction by fire of one hotel and complete destruction of one wing of another and several smaller fires put out either by the occupants themselves by the prompt use of the chemical fire extinguishers or by the fire department before serious damage was done," the report says. "No loss of life occurred. Considering the fact that more than 3000 buildings come within this department's jurisdiction, it may be said that the efforts made to reduce fire risks have proven of certain value. Strict compliance with all provisions of the hotel inspection act was constantly insisted upon, and by constant and everlasting propaganda by word of mouth or by correspondence everybody was asked to live up to this department's motto: "Help Prevent Fire, Make Florida Safe. Safety First," which was a reminder stamped on nearly every letter.

Particular attention was paid to smoke fires, fire places, cooking and heating apparatus of all kinds, their location in relation to combustible materials and fire-proofing in the best manner possible such rooms containing any sort of heating apparatus.

OCALA, Feb. 14.—A mob broke into the county jail here early Saturday night and seized a negro who had been arrested earlier in the afternoon on the charge of assaulting an aged white woman Friday, and taking him to the place where the crime was committed, hanged him.

The negro is also said to have confessed that he was the negro who made an unsuccessful attack on an eleven year-old white girl at her home in the country near here Thursday afternoon.

STATE PRESS ENDORSES NO-FENCE

MEETING IN TAMPA CALLED UPON LEGISLATURE TO SUBMIT QUESTION TO VOTE

TAMPA, Feb. 15.—Voicing the sentiments of progressive men and women of all sections of Florida, the State Press Association, meeting in Tampa during the South Florida Fair last week, unanimously endorsed the Florida No-Fence League's campaign against the open tick-abounding free range, called upon the legislature to submit the question to a vote of the people, believing that they should decide the momentous question, and thereby aided a movement that must be successful if Florida is to develop as it should along agricultural, horticultural and industrial lines, as well as in stock-raising—that is, in the breeding of beef and dairy cattle of the highest grades. The above "Better Florida" slogan outlines the aims of the No-Fence League in an emphatic manner. Seventy-three editors attended the fair, marveled at the remarkable showing of Florida-bred live stock, and every one who attended the meeting expressed confidence in the outcome of the No-Fence League fight.

President Gilbert D. Leach, of Leesburg, presiding, the following resolution was introduced by John L. McWhorter, associate editor of the Tampa Morning Tribune, seconded by Wayne Thomas of the Plant City Courier and Thomas Advertising Service of Tampa and Jacksonville and J. G. Gallimore, editor of the Bartow Record, and adopted by a standing vote:

"Whereas, the stock laws now existing in the State of Florida are non-progressive and not conducive to the development of the best interests of the state, and the time has come when there is a serious drawback to development,

"Therefore, Be It Resolved, That the members of the Florida State Press Association assembled at Tampa, Florida, this eighth day of February, 1921, do hereby endorse the movement of the Florida No-Fence League as set forth in its platform of principles, a copy of which is attached hereto.

"Platform of principles of Florida No-Fence League:

"It is the intention of the Florida No-Fence League to press forward for the enactment of a bill by the next legislature to prohibit the running at large of live stock, to become operative January 1, 1923, by a referendum vote of the people, and containing a provision that any county, or part of a county, which does not want to be included within the operation of the law may, by a local option vote, exempt itself, making provision at the time of exemption for the protection of adjoining or surrounding counties or parts of counties from depreciation by its open-range stock."

BRITAIN OPENS AS MARKET FOR FLORIDA FRUIT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—A profitable market for Florida grapefruit undoubtedly can be developed in Great Britain, the American agricultural trade commissioner in London reports to the Department of Agriculture in announcing that consignments of Indian river grapefruit of Florida arrived in London in excellent condition. If American growers can land large quantities of the fruit in the same good condition, the commissioner reports, a substantial market could be developed.

ANOTHER REDUCTION IN GASOLINE PRICE

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The Standard Oil Co. of New York, yesterday reduced the price of gasoline two cents a gallon, making the wholesale price 28 cents. This is a drop of 8 cents from the high mark of 31 cents reached in 1920. Kerosene was also reduced 1 cent a gallon, making the wholesale price 17 cents.

ROD AND GUN CLUB MET LAST NIGHT TO HEAR REPORTS ON MEMBERSHIP

HASTING SPUD CROP CUT IN HALF FOR YEAR 1921

The Orlando Perishable Traffic League, S. J. Sligh, chairman, in its efforts to unite the fruit and vegetable growers of Florida in looking toward concerted action in bringing to the attention of the Interstate Commerce Commission the absolute necessity of a readjustment of the existing freight rates if the Florida fruit and vegetable industry of the state is not going to be destroyed, is gathering valuable data from all parts of the state in its efforts to gain the relief that is so vitally needed. A survey of the potato industry as represented by the Hastings section offers some startling revelations.

This report of conditions in this section furnishes the following figures that will prove of interest:

Freight on 1-ton fertilizer from Jax to Hastings, Fla.	$ 1.56
Freight on five sacks seed potatoes from Maine to Hastings at $1.74	8.70
Freight on forty empty barrels at 5 cents	2.00
Freight on 40 barrels potatoes from Hastings to New York at $1.46 each	58.40
	70.66

You will note on one acre of potatoes the railroad gets a total of $70.66 freight from a forty barrel field. The farmer paying freight on one ton fertilizer, five sacks seed potatoes, forty empty barrels and forty barrels of potatoes.

You will also notice the following figures showing a net loss of revenue to carriers over a quarter million due to decreased acreage resulting from excessive freight rates:

1920-23,112 cars potatoes containing approximately 622,400 barrels were shipped.
1921-1,556 cars potatoes, estimated yield, containing 311,200 barrels.
Using these figures and basing the movement as from Hastings to New York, the result in freight revenue to the carriers is as follows:
1921-622,400 bbls. at $1.10 per bbl, freight	$684,640
1921-311,200 bbls at $1.16 per bbl, freight	454,352
Loss of revenue to carriers	$230,288

Conopus Club Will Establish Branches in Florida Cities

JACKSONVILLE, Feb. 15.—After having successfully perfected the organization of the first Conopus club in Jacksonville, which will be accomplished Saturday, Feb. 19, at an informal dinner held in the roof dining room of the Hotel Mason, District Representative Frank P. Burch will at once begin plans for the organization of clubs in each of the Florida cities over 5,000 population, the first of which, will be located in St. Augustine.

The Conopus club is an international organization something similar to Rotary and Kiwanis but even broader in its scope in that it embodies the supplying of commercial reports, collections of accounts and maintaining a central clearing house for all information desired by the respective clubs or their members.

Organized in 1919 by a coterie of Detroit and Buffalo business men, the Conopus Club now has a large number of branches throughout the United States and Canada, and has established permanent district headquarters for the five states of Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North and South Carolina in Jacksonville.

There are no restrictions in the Conopus club with the exception that members must be representative business men or professional men in their respective lines of endeavor.

The derivation of Conopus means "co-operation" or "work together," taken from the Latin words "Con" and "Opus," and is all the clubs already organized this spirit is being maintained to the gratification of the national heads.

National Organizer J. D. Browne, state senator from Buffalo, N. Y., will in all probability attend the opening functions of the Conopus club in Jacksonville, after which he will tour the state, making St. Augustine his first stop on his itinerary.

Twenty-eight boys in Osceola have been signed up lately for club work. Citrus growers are spraying and fertilizing groves, and general conditions for citrus men are more favorable.

And Progress of Building Committee and Other Matters

The Rod and Gun Club held a good meeting last night and while the entire membership was not present on account of other matters that precluded their attendance there were many of the stockholders present. Judge Householder presided in the absence of Dr. Puleston, the president, and called the meeting to order and after the reading of the minutes the chairman called for committee reports.

The report of the building committee as submitted by Col. Knight showed that the architect has been over the ground and was making preliminary sketches and the chairman of the committee called for expressions from the members as to what their plans were if they had any and as all suggestions should be made while the preliminary plans are being shaped up. Col. Knight wanted to correct several erroneous impressions that had been discussed about the club being anxious to build a dance floor to the exclusion of other good features and said the matter of the club building was in the hands of the members and that the dance features of the club were only secondary and that the auditorium of the new club house would be built with the view of making it a central meeting place for the members and the citizens generally and that many other features would be added as the matter progressed. The place to keep the yachts in time of heavy winds was taken up and all other matters that would enter into the building of the home. The house will be built on the unit plan and other parts added as the money is forthcoming as it was decided last night that the Rod and Gun Club would not go into debt for the building and would start operations as soon as two hundred members could be secured and if this number could not be had the club would build a place on the unit system with the money on hand but they would not solicit new members with the idea that they were being induced to come into a club that had a heavy debt to start with and this feature would be eliminated entirely.

It was decided to again take up an active membership campaign and endeavor to interest all the people of the county in this project at once. At present there are 120 members and it seems certain that the requisite number of two hundred can be obtained in the next few weeks and the work start at once. Every citizen should be interested in this building that will fill a long-felt want in the social and commercial life of the city, making it a place where the yachtsmen from other states can tie up their boats winter and summer, get all the conveniences of the club house, where the citizens of Sanford can gather for social intercourse, where the city can invite conventions to meet and where they will be gun club grounds, lawn tennis, croquet, swimming pool and many kindred amusements for winter visitors and the home people. In fact it will be the general gathering place for the people of this county and city and the visitors to the city and should prove a wonderful inducement for people to come here to visit and a most valuable adjunct to hotels and business houses alike.

The members will meet again in the court house Thursday night, February 24th, at which meeting all are requested to attend.

MILD WINTER HURTS GROWERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The mild winter has been to a great extent responsible for low returns to producers of fruits and vegetables because of rot and the accumulated costs of storage and extra handling, the Bureau of Markets said in a report last night. Prices started low and continued moving downward until "disagreeably close to vanishing point," the report added. Late winter finds the six months' depression at its lowest, it said, and wholesale prices have found new low levels.

Dealers hold perhaps one-sixth of the potato stocks remaining and the farmers have the rest, the report continued, and at present the potato markets in producing sections are close to demoralization.

"In the west," the report said, in discussing the potato situation, "the price paid to growers is down close to feeding value, around 25 cents per bushel, but growers are still selling to some extent because doubtful about the profits on feeding live stock, or because they must have a little money."

TURPENTINE TAKES BIG DROP

SAVANNAH, Feb. 15.—Sprits of turpentine broke sharply in price at the call of the market here today. It went off 42 1-2 cents a gallon, sales being made at 50 cents.

The last quotation at which spirits were sold was 99 1-2 last November. The sales today were 367 casks. The market has been inactive since last fall. It is expected now the readjustment will be followed by active trading. Rosin failed to follow the lead of spirits, the quotations being the old price of $11 for all grades and no sales.

AVERAGE TOBACCO PRICE 22 CENTS PER POUND

WILSON, N. C., Feb. 15.—With the season nearing its end figures compiled by the Wilson tobacco board of trade show that 54,015,180 pounds of tobacco have been sold on the Wilson market this year, bringing $11,856,152.31 or an average of 22.26 cents a pound. During the entire season last year 42,000,000 pounds of tobacco sold here at an average of 53.67 cents per pound.

With the opening of the gates yesterday morning at 8:30 visitors to the eleventh annual Subtropical Mid-winter Fair began to pour through the gates, and by the afternoon the streets of the grounds were alive with humanity. The exhibit buildings, tastefully decorated and with the golden Florida orange predominating to lend a rich coloring, won exclamations of admiration from the thousands who were perhaps witnessing the agricultural wealth of this section for the first time. Volusia, Orange and Seminole counties had sent the choicest products of their fields to gain the attention of the visitors, and the various communities of Orange county carried the rivalry on, each contributing something unique in production and display to help write their name on the minds of those who stopped to admire. The various organizations and business concerns of Orlando have sent to this year's fair a display that is in keeping with the progress that they have made since the last fair. The automobile exhibit, with its display of the many beautiful makes of cars that are handled by Orlando dealers, was an especial feature. A "mile of fun" best describes the midway where Johnny J. Jones is located.

Engineer Millar of A. C. L. Met With Most Serious Mishap

The Lakeland Star of Saturday contained the following:
 "The many friends of D. L. Millar, who is an engineer on one of the passenger trains of the A. C. L., will learn with regret of the serious accident which occurred at Millards, Fla.
 "The unfortunate victim was running the train with his head out and on passing a refrigerator car on another track with the doors swung open, he struck his head against the doors with a terrible force, badly cutting and bruising the right side of his head."

Secretary of State Has Important Record

Complete information regarding the records of the office of Secretary of State H. Clay Crawford during the past two years are contained in a report of the office, to be submitted to the legislature at its approaching session. The report contains a list of Florida governors from 1821 to 1921, primary and general election returns by counties, members of the various state boards, all state officials who receive commissions through that office (including members of the 1921 legislature), federal and circuit court calendars, county officers (showing the various suspensions and resignations and a complete list of county officers for 1921). These appear in an appendix of the report.

Among other interests facts revealed through this report, it is shown that 3,038 notaries public were appointed during 1919-20. During the same period, the state of Florida made requisitions on other states and counties for 211 fugitives from justice, while other states made requisitions on Florida for 93 fugitives.

Eleven death warrants were issued during the two years and rewards were offered for the arrest and conviction of 20 persons charged with various crimes.

What Made California Great Is Making Florida

It has been conceded, even by some of the most enthusiastic Californians, that Florida possesses far more natural beauty than California ever had, but they will always insist that California is more beautiful than Florida now. Floridians who have visited California are willing to admit that there are many more beautiful places in California than in Florida, but they have been all man-made and these man-made beauty spots can more easily be created in Florida than in California.

We have seen the wildest and barest spots in Florida transformed into beautiful gardens almost overnight. The reason for this is that the soil is rich and the climate is friendly, and what would be miracles in other sections are mere child's play in Florida. All over the state this is being done and as a result Florida will undergo a transformation in the next ten years that will place it in the front rank of beautiful sections in the world.

One thing that is doing as much toward making Florida as beautiful as California is the splendid development of many subdivisions in the various cities and suburbs of the state. During the past year many millions of dollars have been expended by private capital along this line and today there are thousands of acres that were dreary pine woods or tangled hammock or weed-choked prairies, in and around the progressive cities, that are now beautiful residence sections—actual parks in themselves. Wide paved boulevards, many of them with parks in their centers, filled with ornamental trees and shrubs and flowers; smooth cement walks and every modern improvement are installed in these subdivisions, and the people who build their homes in them have nothing to worry about but to build and beautify their own lots in conformity with the beautiful streets and parkways installed by the owners of the property.

When our city and county and state officials wake up to the wonderful beauty of these subdivisions and their value to the city and county, they will have laws passed that will prevent the subdividing of acreage except it is improved, in accordance with the size of the city or town it adjoins. This will add substantially to the value of their town or city, will save the taxpayers hundreds of thousands of dollars and will form an attraction to bring visitors and hold them.

Another feature that Florida will have to adopt that has been one of the great attractions in Florida, is wider streets and roads. With tens of thousands of automobiles in every city and all through the country and more coming every year, the day of the narrow street or road is past and we must prepare for the wonderfully increased traffic. Again the developers of subdivisions have caught the spirit and most of the boulevard drives in the latest developments are from seventy to one hundred feet in width.

We have the opportunity to lead the world. Why not take advantage of it? By adopting the modern method of developing properties—eviction town and city can save much money in taxes and at the same time develop more rapidly and along better lines, by making a provision that all properties opened for subdivisions be improved in accordance with the city regulations and requirements. It is well worth considering seriously.—Florida Times-Union.

DEATH OF DR. B. C. DODDS.

(From Wednesday's Daily)
 The city was shocked this morning to learn of the death of Dr. B. C. Dodds which occurred at the hospital last night about 11 o'clock. Dr. Dodds had been seriously ill for several days after an operation for appendicitis the case being more serious than was first supposed when it was diagnosed as appendicitis and after the operation complications made the case an aggravated one that seemed to baffle the skill of the surgeons here, and those who were called in consultation from neighboring cities. All that was possible by the brothers of the patient in the medical profession was done for him but it seemed that this good man being ready to go was taken from our midst even while the hope was held out that he might recover.

Dr. Dodds had been a resident of the city for the past year, coming here from Huntington, Tenn., where he practiced medicine for many years and where he was well known and beloved by all who knew him. Shortly after his graduation from medical college he met his wife who was at that time visiting in Tennessee and as Miss Minor, of Ocoee, Florida, she was wooed and won and married at the old home in Orange county the happy couple going back to Tennessee to reside. The lure of Florida was strong with both of them however, and they decided to cast their lot in Sanford, purchasing the Walmsa home on Magnolia avenue and coming here to make their future home. Dr. Dodds had built up a fine practice and with his family had also won a large place in the hearts of all the people. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and the Brotherhood Class where his talks were greatly appreciated by those who knew that his life was the life of a true Christian and he lived this life from day to day. His going casts a gloom over the entire community and the only light penetrating the darkness is the thought that he has been gathered unto his Father in the realms above. Deceased leaves a wife and little daughter to mourn the loss of husband and father and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to them in the hour of sorrow. No arrangements have as yet been made for the funeral.

A FORMER SANFORD BOY TO BREAK WORLD'S RECORD COAST TO COAST FLIGHT

Lieut. W. D. Coney to Make Trial Washington's Birthday

MOTHER WAITING IN BRUNSWICK FOR BOY TO MAKE RECORD AND COME HOME SAFE

The following from yesterday's Times-Union will be interesting to the Sanford friends of Lieut. W. D. Coney, who formerly resided on Calvary avenue and whose brother, H. B. Coney, is living here at the present time:

With a mother in Brunswick, Ga., praying for his success in the bold undertaking of crossing the continent on wings in the fastest time yet made by man, Lieut. W. D. Coney, U. S. A., is now preparing for the trip that he hopes will bring him two things at the same time—a record flight and a home-coming.

For his destination is Pablo Beach and his home is at 928 Union street, Brunswick, Ga. And they may be said to lie side by side when it is considered that the aviator who expects to traverse the continent in eighteen flying hours or less would consider the few miles between as nothing.

While the nativity of the flyer is only of local interest, the flight he is about to make will be noted all over the country—the world in fact—since his success or failure will furnish an additional lesson in the science of aviation, said to be yet in its swaddling clothes.

His experiences will go into text books of the next few years; his charts of winds, air conditions encountered, etc., will be valuable data not alone to the military forces but also to the commercial flyers as well. The dream that one day the country shall see transcontinental express planes hurtling through the air ways will come to fruition the sooner by his attempt.

He is expected to arrive at Pablo Beach at 5 p. m. on Washington's birthday, February 22, and, if his plans mature, will complete passage with only one stop.

Leaving Rockwell Field, San Diego, Calif., sundown, February 21, Lieut. Coney will make a night flight, stopping the next morning at Fort Worth in order to breakfast and refill gas and oil tanks.

This part of the passage of the daring aviator is considered the hardest, bridging the distance between the San Diego hangars and the Texas panhandle in a way never before attempted by living man.

On the next "hop," he will leave Fort Worth as soon as possible on a non-stop flight to Jacksonville, losing three hours of time in flying eastward from his original starting point but expecting to sight the Florida metropolis at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, upon which he will "coast" down to Pablo Beach, completing the flight. The total time, if these plans are carried out, will amount to twenty-one hours with less than eighteen flying hours.

It is then very probable that Lieut. Coney will then again arise and start off for home where his mother, Mrs. E. F. Coney, awaits his coming.

As said above, Lieut. Coney is from Brunswick, Ga. Born at Atlanta, Ga., November, 1893, he is the son of the late Edgar F. Coney of Brunswick, where his boyhood days were spent.

In 1916 he went to the Mexican border with the Brunswick riflemen, returning in the spring of 1917.

Just as war was declared, he came back from the border to accept an appointment to the officers' training school at Fort McPherson from where he went to the ground school at Georgia Tech when transferred to the air service for which he exhibited special aptitude.

Lieut. Coney's enthusiasm for this branch of the service reacted against his pet aims for he became so expert that he was denied his wish to go to France, as happened in similar cases, and had to instruct others in the art of flying who in giving a good account of themselves over the firing line helped solve his disappointment.

Foremost in experimental flying, Lieut. Coney was selected as the pilot to try this flight and was given a specially constructed machine for the purpose.

A rehabilitated DeHaviland biplane will be the one in which he takes off, the front seat compartment being used as a storage space for extra gasoline and oil. All together, he will have on hand 160 gallons of high grade gasoline with which to make the flight. He estimates that this will be sufficient even though head winds are encountered.

So, if the flight is successful, the triumphant bird man can go out again amongst the scenes where, when a boy, he would lie on the sward in the warm Georgia sun and wonder at the soaring of the birds, and reflect that he has not only succeeded in outflying those he once envied but has done something for the glory of mankind.

And his mother will be glad.

WILL TEST THE POWER OF LLOYD GEORGE

PARLIAMENT WILL TRY HOME RULE ON THE GREAT LEADER.

LONDON, Feb. 14.—King George, accompanied by Queen Mary, the Prince of Wales and the Duke of York, at noon Tuesday will open a session of parliament which promises to be a test of continuance of the coalition government of Premier Lloyd George. Constructive measures which head the program include the new budget schemes of protection to safeguard key industries against foreign competition and prevent the dumping of foreign goods and also for remedying exchange conditions; a plan for relief of the finances, new drink licensing regulations, creating of Irish parliaments under the home rule bill and reform of the house of lords.

There is much rumor that the government will try to spike the guns of those criticizing it for waste by presenting an economy budget providing for a total expenditure of 950,000,000 pounds. The protection schemes for which the free traders are preparing ambushes have not yet been disclosed nor the new licensing system. The drink trade is still under the board of control created during the war as a temporary measure, to meet special conditions.

The first Tuesday in April is considered the probable day for bringing into effect the home rule act. The present outlook is that only the Ulster government will be formed in which event the viceroy and chief secretary for Ireland will nominate Irish privy councilors to form an assembly which will exercise the powers of a parliament until conditions in Ireland become more peaceful and an attempt can be made to operate the act in the South.

Harding's Plans for World Peace Far from Definite Formulation

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 14.—While the cabinet problem was taking on new elements of uncertainty President-elect Harding let it be known that his plans for international peace and disarmament also are far from definite formulation. Taking note of published reports that a disarmament conference would be called early in the new administration, Mr. Harding said he had made no such plans, although the idea fitted in with his general scheme for an association of nations.

There is always a silver lining. When you can't get coal and the house is cold, the flies will all die.

NATION SHOULD FORGET AMOSITIES AND LOOK FORWARD TO RECONSTRUCTION

Will Be Keynot of President-Elect Harding's Inaugural Address

(By The Associated Press) ST. AUGUSTINE, Feb. 14.—On the nation forget amosities and partisanship of after war period and put its shoulder to the wheel of reconstruction is expected to be the keynote of Harding's inaugural address. Although the address is still far from complete it was learned today that considerable work has been done towards its preparation and the subjects it will cover virtually selected. It is understood to be brief and will attempt no detailed discussion of any problems awaiting solution.

One outstanding feature expected is to be an appeal for confidence in the nation's business stability linked with assurance that during the next four years the administration will keep away from meddling methods in its relations with the business world. A detailed statement of taxation policy will be reserved until congress is called into a special session in April.

California Still Shipping Celery

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 14.—For the first time in several seasons the Northern celery crop is spreading over February and into March. Last week a close survey in the Walnut Grove and Antioch districts showed around 300 cars remaining, most of which should move during the next fortnight. Most of this crop is in the hands of the California Vegetable Union. Sizes in the main are small, although a small percentage of the cuttings shows good sizes.

Estimates of the Southern crop yet unmoved vary, the latest being 250 cars. A short time ago indications were for at least 450 cars or more, but the steady cutting for mixed car orders has reduced the surplus. The best sizes are coming from the San Diego district, where there is a small acreage just coming. The limited Orange county crop is cleaning up steadily and should be out of the way early in March. This will leave the El Monte district to supply packers. A few fields show blight, while in others, growers, having abandoned hopes of getting cost, let the weeds take possession. With the 1919 season failing to pay and the low prices and light demand for the 1920 crop El Monte growers will probably put in less acreage the coming season. For a summer crop potatoes will probably be put in on a large scale, growers in this district making a practice of two crops every season.

A late estimate shows 90 per cent of the Northern crop shipped and 75 per cent of the Southern crop.—N. Y. Produce News.

Woman Returns Wallet With $2,800 Cash to Owner

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 14.—An honest woman today returned to George E. Smith of Pittsburgh, Pa., a wallet containing $2800 in cash, which he lost last week in Williams Park. She found the wallet soon after the owner had dropped it out of his pocket while he was playing checkers in the park. She did not know who was the owner until she read a news story in a local paper telling of the loss of the money by Mr. Smith. The finder then looked him up and gave him back his property. He thought somebody had stolen it and never expected to get a penny of it back so he was greatly delighted, and left here today for other points in Florida before returning to his home in Pittsburgh.

Gorgeous Pageant at Eustis on The 22nd

Eustis will be the only city in the state to celebrate the 110th anniversary of the ceding of the Floridas to the United States. The event will be staged in a natural amphitheatre about Lake Dot within the city limits of Eustis. The spectacle will be in three parts, arrival of Spaniards, exchange of flags, the Indian wars with capture of Ocooca. There will be boat races, airplane stunts, street dance, fire works and many other events to follow during the afternoon and evening. The city is making preparations to take care of thousands of visitors. The affair is given under the auspices of the American Legion Posts of Lake county.

PADEREWSKI WILL NOT PLAY PIANO AGAIN

GREAT ARTIST WILL GO TO CALIFORNIA FOR LONG REST.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—The professional piano playing career of the world famous Paderewski is at an end.

The distinguished Polish musician, whose artistry at the piano has delighted the music lovers of two continents for more than a generation, announced his retirement from the concert stage, confirming recent cable dispatches upon his arrival here yesterday on the steamship France.

"Piano playing is a closed chapter in my life, although I may do some composing later," he declared when asked if he would resume his musical career.

Five years of hard mental labor in the field of international politics in behalf of his native Poland have left their imprint on his physical appearance. Old age and worry have whitened the long and bushy hair of his head, which countless thousands of persons have seen waving back and forth as he kept time with the music produced by his magic hands, while the lines in his face have deepened and the sparkle in his eyes has dimmed.

The artist-statesman, who is accompanied by his wife, will spend a few days at rest here and then visit Pittsburg, where he will address a Polish gathering on Washington's birthday after which he will go to his ranch in California for a long rest.

Commenting on the signing of the peace treaty between Poland and Soviet Russia, the former premier declared that "Poland expects to live as a loyal neighbor to Russia." He also asked newspapermen to convey to the American people the sincere gratitude of the Polish nation for the part America played in gaining its independence.

The old town is picking up.

Keep it going by your own faith in your community.

It is already backed by the richest gifts of Nature. Now let man do his part.

Some people here seem to have forgotten what Dr Russell Conwell told them at his lectures a few weeks ago.

Dispatches say immigrants were found full of vermin on coastwise steamers spreading typhus. Wish we had them in the "old red mill" at Gonnicoourt, France, eh, boys?

The Sanford Daily Herald is ever proving itself a loving neighbor by its consistent advocacy and support of the Sub-Tropical Mid-Winter Exposition.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

Dr. Neal, Rev. McConnell and Ed Saltar were the principal speakers at the Orlando Board of Trade luncheon yesterday. All of them are good men, too, in their different lines of business, you know.

Whenever the laws send automobile thieves to jail for a period of five years it will stop auto thieves. Whenever the laws send the moonshiners to jail for five years it will stop moonshining—not before.

Wish we could "ooze" down to the Subtropical Fair at Orlando and see all the exhibits and then "ease" down to Johnny Jones' shows and see that million dollar diamond glittering on Ed Saltar's manly bosom just once more.

While you are giving out postmistreships to the many millions of your school friends, Warren, you want to remember that there are several right peart Republicans here who would like to be admirals of the Swiss navy or something of that sort.

Women in the house should be careful about letting agents in the door. One of these agents assaulted a woman in DeLand the other day and others of like kind have been known to be "come ons" for burglars. Better keep the screen door locked when you talk to them.

The big time of the year will be the annual meeting of the Florida Press Association at Tampa in April. This will be the getting together of all the newspaper men of the state and will be a conglomeration of business and good fellowship that is hard to beat in any profession or any line of business.

George V. Hobart writes a poem to President-elect Harding at St. Augustine. George can now be a member of the cabinet as you will remember that when Fred DeBarry wrote a song about President Wilson he received the appointment as 42nd assistant postmaster—nit.

We believe that many of the merchants of Sanford are missing a lot of good business by not taking more space in the Daily Herald. People do not know what you have in the new things and new lines unless you let them hear from you every day. Try it and see the difference.

They say that St. Augustine is filled with people who formerly knew Warren Harding in Marion (wherever that is) and it seems that when he went to school that it was one of the biggest schools in the world because now he has exact'y 5,396,497 school mates who are anxious to get jobs of some kind in and around Washington and the suburbs.

In twenty-two days from this date Woodrow Wilson will pass out—a martyr. Henry Watterson—"Mars Henry," as everybody lovingly calls him, writing from his winter quarters in the New York World, says this about him:

"There is nothing in politics now except two empty bottles—both a little dirty—one labelled 'Democrat' and 'other 'Republican.' Wilsonism has gone by the boards. I will not say it has had its day. It will come again. Nothing is surer, whether we like or dislike Woodrow Wilson, than that he will show high up on the record."

If there are any tourists in the state of Florida who are not catching their share of the fish just come to Sanford and try your luck. They are here in quantities.

One hundred members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce attended the banquet held Thursday night for a get-together meeting.—DeLand News.

When Harry Beeman, of Orlando, gets ready to build a new five story hotel he says, "Edwin tell the contractor to see me in my office," and the hotel is started—just like that.

The Canopus Club is among the new ones striking the state. By the time that Sanford gets through with the various clubs that are now forming we will all be broke or in jail or dead.

The Rod and Gun Club meets tonight at the court house and all those who are interested in bringing the tourists to Sanford with this excellent institution should attend the meeting. If you are not a stockholder become one tonight regardless of what your ideas may be on the subject.

Bainbridge, Ga., has a "Jick, the Hugger," who wanders about town a-kissing the girls. "The man is undoubtedly insane," says the Bainbridge newspaper. We don't know many of the Bainbridge girls, but this brutally frank comment from their own home paper ought to, as Longfellow used to say, hold 'em for a while.—St. Augustine Record.

This is the gladsome season when the folks east about looking for a suitable location upon which to build a home and this is the season when Florida looks the best and when all nature seems attuned for the house building stunt. Prices on building material are down and the prices on lots are reasonable and this is the accepted time to start that building.

Sanford will have one of the finest Chautauqua programs this season that this city has ever had and it is hoped that the Chautauqua will be well patronized and that the week's Chautauqua will become one of the institutions of Sanford. We need some of the higher class entertainments regardless of the fact that they have never been well patronized here.

Property do move in Sanford and as soon as the big things are put over in this city in the next two months property will move sure enough. One hardly realizes from outward appearances just how lively this city of Sanford is getting. Now is the time to invest your money in Sanford for property values are going higher every day.

There are a lot of petty thieving stories each day and it would seem that some means should be taken in Sanford to stop it. Auto tires seem to be among the many items on the list of the missing and while the work does not bear the car marks of a professional it is probably being done by local talent guided by one who knows how to dispose of the stuff in other cities. A dose of hot lead would stop much of this thieving.

We heard by grapevine telegraph the other day that Sanford would have those golf links and a fine country club after all and this is indeed gratifying to the editor of the Herald. We are not any golf expert but we have aspirations along that line and we know three million tourists who would like to swim the St. Johns river to get to Sanford and play golf if we only had the links. But all of these things are coming and you can't keep a good man down.

This is the week of the Sub-Tropical Mid-Winter Fair at Orlando and it is hoped that Seminole county people will respond to the appeals made through the Herald for one of the finest exhibits that have ever been made at Orlando. Seminole County has the goods but it is rather difficult to get the people sufficiently interested to get the best out for an exhibit. Bring your green stuff to Miller's store and keep it coming all week. Let Seminole be the greatest thing at the fair.

Do one thing, Mr. Harding, when you get into office. Cut out about forty of those press bureaus in Washington that are sending tons and tons of stuff for the newspapers to print free. You know how it is Mr. Harding. You have been receiving them yourself in your office at Marion and it is hardly necessary to call your attention to it. We received three tons yesterday with the "permission to publish as soon as received" but no money for publishing same. Honestly, Mr. Harding, you can save the government a million dollars at least in saving all this good paper upon which this rot is written.

Editorial in Tampa Times says: "How Shall Germany Pay her large Indemnity?" We are not interested in how Germany shall pay but we are interested in "Why Should America Pay Any?" The allies won't the war and yet we pay. We win and yet we lose. When do we quit paying war tax? When do we quit paying income tax? When do we get through winning the war? When do we eat?

The Welaka block has changed hands so many times that the constant handling will soon wear off the dougllass—at least it might—but if Douglass and Symes find out that it is wearing off they will stucco it with gold dollars the next time and get away with it. And anyhow the Welaka block must be a good one—it has changed more than any other block in the state and makes money for old and new owners each time.

The Sanford Herald is moving for a down-town ticket office. Anyway, one who ever has been in Sanford and wanted to catch a train, knows just how badly that convenience is needed.—Tampa Tribune.

Right you are, brother, and while our down-town ticket office will not catch any trains it ought to catch the tourists and visitors to the city generally by giving them the required information and the chance to buy their tickets on train or boat the day before, without going a mile to get it.

Before women may act as jurors in Florida, it will be necessary for the legislature to amend the law defining who may act as jurors. The present law limits jurors to male persons over the age of 21 years who are residents of the state of Florida. It is probable that women will never be called for jury service the same as men, yet the law should be changed so that they could act if it were deemed advisable at any time.—DeLand News.

The Sanford Herald beats our 12 1-2 pound bass with the story of one caught in the Econlockhatchee creek, weighing 14 1-2 pounds six house after it was caught. A large part of the name of the creek is believed to have been weighed with the fish; and, besides, the Herald's story was "double headed!"—Tampa Tribune.

Come up here, Jawn, after you have finished taking the gas out of Gasparilla and try taking the con out of Econlockhatchee and if we don't show you or at least make you see larger fish than you have ever seen before you can have all the moon in moonshine.

We are still being furnished with beautiful operas and light arias and Spanish delicatas and Italian spaghetti and Roman candles and other musical extravaganzas from the different types of hand organs, foot organs, mouth organs and other kinds of organs by the unfortunates from all parts of the world who have been invited to come to Sanford and take up a collection on the various corners and also in the middle of each block. We do not believe that the merchants are in cahoots with any of these fine old families of renowned artists but it does look like the city officials are close kin to them in some way for they allow them to come and stay all winter.

The holidays are over and it is now high time we were getting down to facts and looking toward some concrete plan for the building of Sanford along the right lines. There are people here now who want to invest in Sanford with the idea of building homes and business blocks and they are deterred by the price of those vacant lots that are now being allowed to grow up in weeds and are doing nothing for the owners or for the appearance of the city streets. Exorbitant prices for vacant property are keeping this city from growing as it should grow and those who are responsible should be made to pay the taxes instead of allowing the burden to fall on home owners.

This is the big week of the Orlando fair. How would you like to own the bridge across the St. Johns at Sanford for this one week?—DeLand News.

Don't mention it, Chris. The county commissioners of Volusia and of Seminole counties should be ashamed of themselves that they ever allowed this bridge to be built by a corporation. The two counties had the chance of a life time to build this bridge and could just as easily built it at that time as Scholtz could build it but they could not see any farther than their nose and allowed it to pass into the hands of a corporation and you know the rest.

Despite the peculiar influence of moonshine, Florida continues to ride the high wave of prosperity.

Speak unkindly or profanely with bread in your hand and you will be sore troubled before it is digested.

ALL TOGETHER

The spirit of getting together builds cities, makes two blades of grass grow where one grew before and makes an oasis in the desert. As Mr. Groover said at the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce the other night it was one of the first requisites for any city that expected to grow. It is one of the vital necessities of Sanford today. Every citizen that expects Sanford to grow and this should certainly be one of the first thoughts of every citizen, should endeavor to align himself with the men and women who are helping to put it over and putting it over is never done except by standing together, allowing all petty jealousies to be forgotten and regardless of who may be at the head of these different movements for a Greater Sanford, get behind them and push forward instead of pulling backward. There are so many big things that are coming to this city that if every citizen in Sanford would only join the Chamber of Commerce and help those already in harness there would be no difficulty in surmounting the greatest obstacles and putting anything over. If every citizen would only join the Rod and Gun Club the new club house that is being built for the benefit of the citizens and the visitors would be built almost over night. If every citizen would only join in every good movement that is started here and see that it is put across there would be no trouble in building this city to twenty thousand people in a few years. If every farmer would only join some organization for the benefit of the farmers the growing, shipping and selling of farm products would be placed upon a more stable basis. If every merchant would join in some association for the benefit of the business interests of Sanford and with the idea of pushing trade in this vicinity we would get all the trade of this part of Florida. If every citizen of Sanford would join some church in Sanford the churches would be filled every Sunday and the city would be one of the best cities in the world. If every citizen would make up his mind to join every good movement for the betterment of his city and the betterment of mankind Sanford would be one of the most wonderful cities in the country. We cannot expect all of these things but we can and do expect a better spirit of co-operation on the part of those who have been hanging back from all of these good movements for the betterment of this part of Florida. We can and do expect every real citizen of Sanford to do his part toward the betterment of Sanford and if he cannot join all of these movements he can at least lend his influence and praise them instead of knocking them and become more of an optimist instead of a pessimist. We can and do expect more unselfishness on the part of some and we can and do expect more work for Sanford on the part of some and we can and do expect a more concerted effort on the part of all the citizens toward getting those big things for Sanford that are on the verge of coming here and yet may be lost on account of the niggardly spirit that would ask all for one and none for all. The time has passed when any special coterie of people in Sanford should either expect to dominate politics, religion, Chambers of Commerce, clubs or society and when this idea that we are all working for the common good predominates here just then will our city get the advantages of the wonderful location which our city occupies to ourselves. We can all take these matters to ourselves. We all get the blues at times and feel more like knocking than boosting. We all have our "off days" and we are many times sorely beset with difficulties, troubles and sorrows but when the time comes that we are men enough to forget our own particular troubles and grouches and start to pulling together instead of pulling apart right then this city will take on a different aspect. We are improving all right and a much different spirit prevails here now over that of a few years ago but the spirit of give and take does not appear in a large enough measure as yet. Try it. Do it now.

DR. B. C. DODD.

In the passing of Dr. B. C. Dodd we feel that we have lost a true friend and that Sanford as a whole has lost a true friend and a fine Christian gentleman. He was of the type that is growing scarcer every year. He was one of those true, red-blooded Americans who stood for the best in life with an unwavering faith in mankind and an unwavering faith in the power of the church over evil. Sanford can ill afford to lose men of the type of Dr. Dodd and we mourn his loss as a brother and true friend. Peace to his ashes.

Smile and the world smiles with you; grin, and the world asks, "Where'd you get it?"

ONE IS ENOUGH.

There has been some criticism of Governor Hardee's tax commission suggestion, principally on the ground that the governor proposes one instead of three commissioners. As one paper expresses it (we have mislaid it and can neither name the paper nor quote its exact words) it would take one man three years to learn enough about the business to earn one year's salary.

That would be, and is, perfectly true, provided that sort of commission is what the governor has in view. There are commissions and commissions, however, and it is the Telegram's understanding of the governor's views that he does not intend to recommend a commission with plenary powers, such as some of the states have created, but a tax department, presided over by a commissioner, charged with the duty of enforcing taxation laws as prescribed by the legislature, and co-ordinating the efforts of the various officers charged with tax-law enforcement.

In addition, he contemplates, as we assume, that the tax commission or bureau would gather data and supply the legislature with information in the light which the statutes could be made to conform more closely to the needs of the state.

We feel sure Governor Hardee does not contemplate any abridgement of the powers conferred on the legislature by the constitution. That body would still determine the subject of taxation, fix the rates, prescribe the general laws of collection and exemption, and the task of the commission would be the purely administrative duty of carrying out the legislative will. In that case, one man is enough. There would be no more necessity for two tax commissioners, or three, than for a triple secretary of state or a quadruple attorney general. As the head of the taxation department any good man, of ability, integrity and acquaintance with the state's fiscal needs, can earn his salary from the first day of his term, and save the state many times the cost of his department.—Lakeland Telegram.

THE EDITORS.

It is understood that about four score "really and truly" Florida editors were present at the press breakfast Monday night. The state was well represented. It was a fine bunch of men; the manner in which they conducted themselves stamps them as fine fellows. Of course, there was lots of fun, for that is one of the moving spirits of the press breakfast. You cannot associate with a real rotarian and be gloomy. In fact we do not know a "gob of gloom" in the entire rotary aggregation of this or any other city. The editors, being naturally the greatest gatherers of sunshine in the world, appeared as fitting sidekicks to the rotarians.

The state press of Florida, as an association, has done much to forward the progress of the state. In all lines of endeavor its suggestion has been felt and followed; and at times when it has been necessary for it to come down hard on a man or a measure, that man and that measure have seldom gotten by its veto. This is well illustrated in the past elections, both primary and general, when the press of the state, almost without exception, undertook to encompass the defeat of those radical politicians who had gotten hold of Florida. It succeeded those shrdlu shrdlu shrdlu un un un every man it went after. The statewide bonding amendment was another proposition which had the weight of the press against it, and its defeat was so overwhelming as to be a lesson to those who sought to confuse and embarrass this state and its program of progress.

Today, the press of Florida has started for the reappointment of the state. After years of playing with the people and ignoring the most positive command of the constitution of Florida, the legislature is going to be called on by the press to do its long deferred duty. It is going to have the combined force of all the best journalistic brain and influence behind it for the sole purpose of seeing that the people of Florida get that just representation in the eyes of the law that they are promised and pledged under their constitution.

Another thing which has engaged its attention is the struggle of the people to be free from the tyrannous over-running of a certain small but powerful element in the state who would hold back Florida from agricultural development for the sake of the cattle which they graze on lands not their own. Practically every paper in the state is now engaged in writing, or reproducing editorials on this subject, the sole tenor of which is to waken the legislature to realize that it is being called on to represent the people in deed and in truth, and to cease being an arbitrary master.—Tampa Tribune.

Some Saturday Thoughts

We Americans, in common with other peoples, are living in a restless age.

Before the world war all Europe slept on a volcano, dreading the day when the thunders of eruption would be heard. That eruption came almost in the twinkling of an eye, bathed two countries in the blood of millions of men, drove kings and emperors from their gilded thrones, reduced aristocrats from affluence to poverty, turned the world topsy-turvy, and made civilization a mockery and a byword.

Release from the privations entailed by war, instead of sobering humanity, seems to have turned its head. Profiteers are legion and profligate spenders are even more numerous. Prodigality has swept us into a sea of uncertainty and conjecture from which not even the wisest ones can tell how or when we will emerge.

We are up in the air, knowing not which way to turn, or whether to turn or stand still, forge ahead or mark time.

It is a condition calculated to produce even the most aggravating form of restlessness in a people accustomed from our early days to a sane and simple existence.

A time will come when we as a people will emerge from our present condition of indifference to consequences. It may be a year, or two, or five, or more, and great changes may take place before we are again a normally moving people. But we Americans are not a class to be kept forever keyed up in a turmoil of excitement. In some way or other we will find our level and resume the wholesome existence we enjoyed before the world was set ablaze by the fires of war. It is a hope which buoy us up and reconciles us to the idiosyncracies of a people apparently gone mad in the game of life.

It is possible that when we pass on to our ultimate rewards our children may inherit a better world than the one in which we are living today. The experiences through which we are passing may imbue us with knowledge and furnish us with the wisdom to apply it for the good of posterity. Having fallen into the pitfalls of life ourselves, we may have the resourcefulness to teach our children to avoid them. A man never picks up the same hot poker twice. And we of today have picked up so many, and of such varying degrees of heat, it is to be hoped there will be but few left to scorch the fingers of our offspring.

People who smart under the lash of false charges and malicious accusations have at least one ray of comfort to cheer them through life. Its death they will not be robbed of the fruits of their virtues. When St. Peter halts them at the gates he will have a record of their deeds complete that no single incident will be omitted. Every act will be judged in fairness and without bias, and the divine spirit of magnanimity will prevail over all. There will be no false charges or malicious accusations at the gates of Paradise. All who are worthy will be welcomed, and no trades or combinations will be necessary to effect an entrance.

The man who is continually finding fault with his neighbors has a thousands devils working within his being. The condition of the soul finds lodgment in the mind and expression from the lips, and it is well to bear this in mind the next time you hear one person picking another to pieces.

LOUISIANA BARS TICKY CATTLE

Louisiana, the last state to accept tick-ridden cattle from Florida, recently put up the bars against such cattle at the port of New Orleans, leaving Florida breeders no place in the Union in which to dispose of cattle that are so infested.

Progress has been made in recent years in the fight against the pecky and injurious tick, but it is becoming generally realized that the one solution of the problem is through doing away with the free and open range and forcing the enclosing of all cattle.

A campaign with this end in view, and which has the endorsement of the Florida State Press Association and other organizations, is being waged by the Florida No-Fence League, which is composed of progressive men from all sections of Florida. The next legislature is confidently expected to submit the necessary question to the vote of the people.—Tampa Tribune.

DEMOCRATS BLOCK TARIFF BILL BY VOTING SUGAR INCREASE ON FORDNEY

Think They Have Indefinitely Tied Up the Bill

SUGAR IMPORT

VOTE ALMOST SOLID TO INCREASE TARIFF ON SUGAR

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The senate made real progress in its consideration of the Fordney emergency tariff bill today and when the eight-hour session ended it had taken up and adopted four of the nine remaining amendments which had been recommended by its finance committee.

At the close of the day's work Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, in charge of the bill, said prospects were good for a vote tomorrow. A vote tonight had been the object of supporters of the bill, but they were thwarted by a series of speeches, some extremely heated, which delayed action on amendments.

After it became apparent that final action on the bill could not be had tonight, Mr. McCumber sought to conclude consideration of all committee amendments. This plan likewise suffered defeat.

Among the amendments accepted by the senate was the substitute sugar schedule proposed by Senator Smoot, Republican, Utah, for that agreed upon by the committee. The Smoot amendment would place the tariff at one cent per pound, in addition to the present duty of the same amount, while the committee amendment to the house bill would have added approximately three cents a pound to the present rate.

The other amendments adopted by the senate would provide rates as follows: Butter and butter substitutes, eight cents per pound; cheese and cheese substitutes, twenty-three percent ad valorem; fresh milk, two cents per gallon; cream, five cents per gallon.

Senator Thomas, Democrat, Colorado, voted against the Smoot sugar duty; while sixty-seven votes were recorded for it. In joining with the supporters of the bill to put over the sugar amendment, Democratic opponents of the measure claimed to have won a point which, it was said, will eventually cause trouble for the measure's proponents.

The near-unanimous vote, it was declared, will force members of the senate conference committee to hold out to the end of the session when the bill goes to conference. The house refused on three occasions to add sugar to the commodities for which protection was afforded, and leaders said there was no reason to expect a changed sentiment.

Trite arraignments and acrimonious charges, as well as logic, characterized the debate. Senator Williams, Democrat, Mississippi, held the attention of seventy senators for more than an hour when he launched an attack on the whole tariff bill that sparkled with wit, sarcasm and sincerity in turn. Seldom, if ever, have as many senators sat as they did today, unmindful of other matters, to listen to a speech of one of their own number, and Mr. Williams rewarded them.

The Mississippi senator charged proponents of the emergency tariff with seeking to legislate money out of the pockets of the public into the pockets of those benefited by the bill. He declared that the tariff provisions on sugar were such as to make any industry profitable.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, said the Republican party had framed the bill "to catch votes" of senators from the cotton, sugar, cattle and other principal agricultural producing sections. He declared the measure would add from one hundred to one hundred and fifty million dollars to the price of sugar alone.

On Sunday there will be special union services of the two churches in the tent and eminent speakers have been prepared for three services.

EAST SANFORD

Sunday, the 20th is the regular appointment here for Rev. W. T. Rancher of Apopka.

Mrs. Uchida is at home from Philadelphia, Pa., where she has been studying violin music at the Conservatory of music.

Mrs. Jack Thompson and children are here with her sister, Mrs. I. D. Hart. Mrs. Thompson has the sympathy of many friends in the tragic death of her husband and little son.

Little Miss Mary Helen Morse was the guest of Alice Chorpinger from Saturday until Monday.

Mrs. A. Corpany was very pleasantly reminded of her birthday the evening of February 10th. Several friends gave her a surprise party and several gifts. Cake and coffee and celery hearts were served and a pleasant evening passed.

Mr. and Mrs. Malnes, former Trenton, N. J. people, have bought the F. G. Dieterick place on the west side of Lake Silver.

Miss Barnett Brantley was given a shower and farewell party Monday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Brantley. E. M. Massey, the bride-groom, arrived on Sunday, the wedding occurred on Tuesday, the happy couple leaving at once for Montgomery, Ala.

The marriage of Miss Mollie Kinard Joseph and Clyde Muse has been announced as occurring last week.

Several members of the Joe Cameron family attended the Orisado fair Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meriwether and Miss Helen Chorpinger visited the fair on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Fichner, who have been guests of Dr. and Mrs. Fay of Cameron for the winter are at Daytona Beach for a few weeks stay. They will return here before leaving for their home in St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. and Mrs. W. F. Dresser, guests for the winter at the W. W. Dresser home on Marquette avenue, spent last week visiting friends at Weirsburg on Lake Weir.

Beautiful spring weather; all the forest trees are leaved out except the hickory; fruit trees with new foliage and blooms. The wild yellow jasm: mine and white and blue violets in bloom in the hammocks. Even the kill-deers and other birds have returned from the tropics, and Jack Frost has a through ticket north.

This week is the big week in celery. Shipping at Moore's Station is the biggest shipping point on East Sanford. The siding is not large enough for all the cars used in one day and cars needed are waiting at other points to be placed as loaded cars are taken out. Some growers have set out pepper plants, other sweet corn and snap beans planted.

CHULUOTA

Great Scott! Look at us this week! This is Valentine's Day. It looked more like the Fourth of July, and besides we had an Orlando business man stop in a few minutes. Yes and that ain't all, we had a fish man from New Smyrna to stop in this ore town today. Then, too, someone's tire on a filver had a blowout and John Long's did the same but it was no wonder for what it was carrying.

Mr. Wm. Jacobs nerved himself up enough to kill a couple of fine porkers for home use today.

Some of the small school children sold fruits and vegetables for the Red Cross to the amount of $1.28 on Saturday.

Oh, my, and those good things to eat those ladies of the Red Cross had to sell to us weaker fellows all day Saturday, one taking a glance over those tables just had to buy something. If any one went away hungry it was not for quantity or quality.

There must be something going to stir in town soon for Dad Brumley and Geo. Jacobs were seen talking around the corner Saturday with an earnest look on their faces.

Most any of these Chuluota crackers can skid around the corners and dart between pine trees with their brand new flippers with such agility that it would make Barney Oldfield shudder if he was to undertake such stunts.

By the stunts and maneuvers one can see being pulled off by the management of the Inn these days you'd think they were going to entertain that Harding-Bryan-Edison combination that visits Miami and St. Augustine sometimes. When it comes to doing things right now Wainright has us all faded with a big saw mill in action gathering in the pines.

Daniels, Lee & Storey are fetching in the ties while Dunn takes a fish, some times.

Stanley and Rogers seem too busy raking in the coin for the necessities of life to even watch that bird hit from tree to tree with a string on its tail. But the assistant postmistress did not fail to spare enough time to point it out to less diligent eyes.

David Self is having his 5-acre tract near R. R. Roberts' cleared preparatory to a fine orange grove some day. He will have to go some if he ever gets a finer looking young grove than Rod has right now.

California Had 62 Quakes in 1920 and 80 the Year Before

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—There were fewer earthquakes in the United States and throughout the world last year than in 1919, but those of a destructive character were more numerous and their calao was much more volcanic activity.

Records compiled by Prof. Francis A. Torndorf, director of the seismological laboratory and head of the department of geology of Georgetown University here, show 93 earthquakes were felt in the United States compared with 97 in 1919, while reports from all parts of the world show 161 quakes were reported as compared with 468 in 1919.

Eleven of the earthquakes last year resulted in destruction of life or property, while in the previous year only 7 caused such losses. The most destructive during 1920 were those at Mendoza, Argentina, and the Tepic district of Italy, both of which occurred in December; and those reported from Mexico City and Vera Cruz, Mexico; Minas Geraes, Brazil; the Island of Yap, in the Pacific Ocean; Cadiz, Spain; the Island of Formosa, the Island of Malta, Japan; Fivizzano, Italy; Glarre, Italy, and Grenada, Spain.

California reported the largest number of earth tremors of any locality in the United States in 1920, with a total of 62, while in 1919 California reported 80. The Georgetown University seismographs recorded 82 quakes during the year. None of the earthquakes reported in the United States resulted in any loss of life and extensive destruction of property.

In addition to California's 62 reports for 1920, five were felt in Utah; three each in Washington, Oregon, Missouri, Illinois and Colorado; two each in Maine, Tennessee and South Dakota, an done each in Wyoming, New Hampshire, Montana, Virginia and South Carolina.

In Italy and the immediate vicinity of the country there were 127 earthquakes reported during the first eleven months of 1920, as recorded by the Royal Central Office of Meteorology and Geodynamics.

LIFE

A man comes into this world without his consent and leaves without his will. During his stay on earth his time is spent in one continuous round of contraries and misunderstanding.

In his infancy he is an angel; in his boyhood he is a devil; in his manhood he is everything from a lizard up; in his duties he is a darned fool; if he raises a family he is a thief; if he raises a cheque he is a chump and the law raises —l with him. If he is poor he is a poor manager and has no sense. If he is rich he is dishonest but considered smart. If he is in politics he is a grafter and a crook; if he is out of politics you can't place him and he's an undesirable citizen. If he goes to church he is a hypocrite and if he stays at home he is a sinner. If he donates to foreign missions he does it for show; if he doesn't he is a stingy and a tightwad. When he first comes into this world everybody wants to kiss him; before he goes they all want to kick him. If he dies young there was a bright future before him; if he lives to a ripe old age he is only in the way and is living just to spite some relative or to save funeral expenses.

PEDDLER BOUND OVER ON CHARGE ASSAULT WOMAN

MATRON REPEATS TO COURT STORY OF ASSAULT, FIRST TOLD TO HUSBAND.

DELAND, Feb. 15.—Wm. Quinn, a young white man who with two companions has been selling furniture polish around DeLand, was yesterday held without bail by County Judge J. Lee McCrory on the charge of rape against a white married woman of DeLand.

When court convened the judge requested the fifty to a hundred spectators to leave the court room, also requesting lawyers not interested in the case and newspapermen to also leave. All complied with the request. Quinn, who is a stranger here, is charged with entering the woman's home in the absence of her husband ostensibly for the purpose of selling polish, and while there it is charged he forcibly assaulted her. Upon the return of her husband, she told the story of her abuse.

Officers Pete Carlton arrested Quinn and his two companions, who took them before the woman, who identified Quinn as the man who committed the outrageous crime. Quinn then attempted to take "leg ball." He was shot at twice by Carlton, one shot going through his hat and parting his hair, and the other striking his leg and bringing him to the ground.

The woman in the case was on the stand yesterday morning and told a straight tale of her horrible experiences. Quinn was represented by J. A. Scarlett of the firm of Scarlett & Jordan, while the state was represented by Alfred Greene, a Daytona lawyer, partner of state attorney, David Sholtz.

Quinn was held without bail for grand jury investigation in April. Quinn claims that no force or coercion was used.

One Dollar Sale

Perfection Tires

For a limited time with every tire bought at list price we will give one tire of same size for ONE DOLLAR. Some of the reasons why Perfection Tires rank above the ordinary:

FIRST.—Because they have a breaker strip of Pure Asbestos, a patented feature which prevents heating and tread separation.

SECOND.—Because of the broad surface that comes in contact with the road which more evenly distributes the weight.

THIRD.—Because the tread is designed to prevent skidding. Compare our prices and you'll see what you save.

Remember

All adjustments are made in our store. You are not sent to a factory which necessitates delay.

The table decorations were unusually lovely, the red and white flowers, and red hearts, which were used in graceful profusion, prettily suggesting the Valentine season.

Over the white cover, red ribbons of crepe, interwoven in lattice design, formed the foundation for the floral adornment. The table was centered with a big white birthday cake with its regulating number of red candles and at either end of the board were tall vases of red roses and sweet peas, arranged with white sweet elysium.

From the chandeliers was suspended a lovely basket of flowers, carrying out the general floral scheme. DR. STEPHEN OF N. Y. WILL LECTURE HERE

Four of the progressive citizens of Sanford have arranged to have Dr. Stephen S. Wise, of New York, come to Sanford on February 25th for his lecture on "My Vision of America."

It will be remembered that Dr. Wise is the leading Jew in America today. He is brought to Sanford not as a Jew but as a great American. Dr. Conwell said while in Sanford, "Every person in the city should hear Rabbi Wise." Prof. Sherman Smith of New York City, while here last week said, "Dr. Wise can throw more brains over the footlights than any American living."

Arrangements have been perfected to have the lecture in the Temple auditorium. Tickets have been placed at the low rates of $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children.

Tickets will be on sale at the Herald office and Bower & Roumillat's drug store.

RETURNS FROM NORTH CAROLINA

Hon. E. A. Douglass and J. D. Bowman have returned from North Carolina where they visited for several days and interested North Carolina capitalists in Sanford and Seminole county. While away they were instrumental in helping F. W. Hanes sell the Welaka Block to J. L. Wimble as well as to interest several other North Carolina capitalists in coming to Sanford to invest where the investments mean more than in any other part of the country. They were accompanied home by Messrs. F. W. Hanes of Yadkinville, Prof. J. H. Allen of Elkin, W. C. Brown of Winston-Salem and several others.

On the way down the weather had been cold and rainy and cloudy in North Carolina and on the train Mr. Douglass said it would be fine weather with the sun shining as soon as the train crossed the St. Mary's river and came into Florida and sure enough when the party were awakened in Florida the sun was shining and everything was lovely—but then it is always this way in Florida and Mr. Douglass knew what he was betting on—a sure thing, but the folks from the North did not know this.

What Mrs. Brenninger, of New York, Says About Rat Poison

"Tried preparations that kill rats, but RAT-SNAP is the only one that prevents disagreeable odors after killing. Also like RAT-SNAP because it comes in handy cakes, no mixing with other food. You don't have to dirty your hands, it's the best for household use." Try RAT-SNAP. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Ball Hardware Co.

STEALING AUTO TIRES.

(From Tuesday's Daily) Some thief broke into the garage of Henry Wight last night and stole several auto tires. This work is getting to be monotonous and it is almost certain that an organized band of auto tire thieves are holding forth in the city. A little sleuthing on the part of the police force when they are not busy would round up some of these petty larceny boys.

Farmers should throw around premises RAT-SNAP. It's sure and safe. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Ball Hardware Co.

And all of those who are to send in celery and lettuce and other green stuff are requested to keep it coming each morning. Leave it at Miller's store or let Frank Miller know about it the afternoon before and he will make arrangements to get it.

CANNOT BANKRUPT ROADS TO PAY BIG WAGES WHEN ACT IS IMPOSSIBLE

Railway Labor Board
Hears Arguments
Today
IS IMPORTANT

FROM THE MASS OF EVIDENCE BROUGHT OUT AT THE HEARING

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The United States Railway Labor Board today heard arguments on the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad's plea for permission to reduce wages. The case produced a wider variety of evidence and is said by railroad men to be of greater importance than any other single line dispute brought before the board.

The argument hinged on whether the board has jurisdiction over the road's financial status, which furnished the railroad's principal reason for wanting to reduce wages. It was declared that a reduction of wages was made imperative because the road faced a monthly deficit of $100,000.

Colonel Bugg, president of the road, summed up the road's position thus: "Is the board going to disregard conditions of traffic? Is the board to fix rates regardless of the railroad's earning power? If the board can fix wages without regard to other conditions then the claims of the employees, then it is just as well that we have no representation here."

For the employees, W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, stated his case thus:

"It has never before been suggested that wages be made to depend on the financial condition of a road. We are willing to make a test case before the courts on the constitutionality of the transportation act. If the contention of the A. B. & A. stands, then on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, which is able to pay twice as much, we will come in tomorrow with a request for an increase in wages."

Representatives of the A. B. & A. were on the stand most of the day. Colonel Bugg answered many points of the employees' argument in previous testimony and added there was no use to ask the Interstate Commerce Commission for a larger share of rates on hauls extending beyond the A. B. & A. lines. He said he thought the road was receiving its fair division.

Before any conferences were called with employees, Colonel Bugg said, officers of the road went over all the difficulties and "followed every thread which promised relief before asking for a wage reduction."

Morris Brandon, counsel for the road, declared if the board disregarded inability to pay for one road, it could do for all roads and the result would be chaos. He said the wages granted by decision No. 2 of the labor board last July were the highest ever paid the men and were granted under "extraordinary conditions when the cost of living was the highest ever known."

Statements on labor wage cuts included twenty-four from Atlanta, eight from Tifton, five from Douglas, and the remainder scattered among Cordele, Brunswick, Tallageda, Chandler Springs, Zirkle, Thomasville, La Grange, Montezuma and Moultrie.

There were also four from Birmingham.

The Atlanta exhibit indicated a general reduction in wages in that city, with common labor receiving twenty cents an hour this year, carpenters seventy to seventy-five cents an hour, and brick masons ninety cents. The Cordele board of trade said fertilizer factories paid common labor twenty cents in 1920, and this season were paying fifteen cents an hour.

Several farmers reported that whereas last year they paid farmhands $1.50 to $2, they now get all they need at half that rate. One of these farmers said this rate referred to negro labor.

A large acreage of watermelons in DeSoto is being planted here this year and much of the seed is being treated with corrosive sublimate for the prevention of anthracnose.

HOOVER SAYS PRODUCTION MUST INCREASE

NO ADVANCEMENT UNLESS THE OUTPUT CAN GROW STEADILY

SYRACUSE, Feb. 15.—Continuous improvement in productivity is necessary for the advancement of civilization, national progress, better human relations and higher standards of living, Herbert Hoover declared in an address here last night before the Convention of the American Engineering Council.

American industry, including agriculture, he said, is at present running from 30 to 40 per cent, below capacity production. Co-operation between industries, and with labor and government, was cited as a means for guaranteeing an increase which would be "certain even if it is slow."

The danger of oversupply as a limiting factor in production, was dismissed as without "proper foundation." The speaker added there is no such thing as overproduction.

"The commodities or services produced by the whole nation," he continued, "are capable of absorption by the whole nation if they are of the right character. When ten men or one hundred million men divide their united output they can, by doubling their output, have twice the amount to divide. There is no limit to the increase of living standards except the limitations of human strain, scientific discovery, mechanical invention and natural resources."

"The absorption of increased productivity lies in the conversion of luxuries of today into necessities of tomorrow. Wheat bread, railways, good roads, electricity, telephones, automobiles and movies were once luxuries. There is no limit to consumption except the total capacity to produce, provided the surplus of productive power is constantly shifted to new articles from those that have reached the saturation point of demand."

The speaker said that waste in American production were measured mainly in unemployment, lost time due to labor conflict, losses in labor turnover, failure to obtain maximum production of the individual, poor coordination of great industries and failures in transportation, coal and power supplies.

Stabilization and standardization of industrial output by agreement, eliminating overlapping efforts and seasonal activities were cited as one means of bringing greater production.

FLETCHER WORKS FOR SOUTHERN PORTS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—A move to retain ocean freight shipments to the southern ports was made today by Senator Fletcher, Democrat, Florida, when he introduced in the senate a resolution calling upon the Interstate Commerce Commission to furnish "full information regarding all traffic agreements, arrangements or understandings between the eastern trunk line railroads and the foreign flag steamship lines."

The resolution was sent to the commerce committee.

Senator Fletcher said the eastern roads were attempting to "knock out" the rates through which the southern ports are now getting part of the business and concentrate it all through New York and the eastern ports.

SIDNEY J. CATTS IS NOW AN ATLANTIAN

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Feb. 15.—Sidney J. Catts, ex-governor of Florida, has now taken up his residence in Atlanta, Ga., where he and his family are now located. "The Searchlight," a weekly newspaper published in Atlanta, in its last issue welcomed Florida's former chief executive to that city as one of her citizens and pays a half column tribute to his career, characterizing him as "a living example of the old school of the South who has fought many battles with the enemy and whose life is clean and virtuous."

EX-ALDERMAN SAYS COMPARATIVE STATT INCORRECT

CALLS ATTENTION TO RECENT
AND WANTS CORRECTION

February 11, 1921.
Editor of Herald,
Dear Sir:

I read with considerable interest the statements which have been published by the city officials tending to show the condition, or rather a comparative state of one year of administration of the city of Sanford as compared with the former year. On the face of the statements it would seem that the new administration has worked wonderful things but if you will analyze the statements as follows you will soon discover that the figures do not show what they are intended to show, namely: the improvement in running the city and saving money for the taxpayers. Being a member of the old city government and thinking that while connected with it I took some little interest in the affairs of the people I beg to submit the following in connection with the statements as given to the public as being correct. First I wish to call your attention to the statement of 1919 which covered the last year of the old government. You will find an item under expenses of water supply amounting to $5,865.03 they were not fair enough to put in the same statement that this amount was for over two years of water supply for the city. But in the statement for 1920 they did state that they had paid for water during the year 1920, $395.00 when as a matter of fact they have paid $987.50 and owe for water for the same year a balance of $1,382.50.

They also state that they have paid $2,011.91 for lighting but they did pay $2,288.27 and they also fail to tell you that they owe for lighting to the Southern Utilities Co. for the same year $2,905.00. These amounts added together will total $5,126.36, deducting the $2,815.27 the amount claimed to be an excess of income over the expense will place a deficit of $2,311.09. I ask you is it fair to so arrange figures and not pay the current expenses in order to make a showing? If it is not done for this purpose then it must be lack of knowledge of the affairs of the city as conducted. So much for that.

Inasmuch as the present officials have endeavored to make comparative statement let us compare the following and ask yourself are you getting more or as much for your money?

Are the streets any cleaner or as clean for $9,149.55 than they were for $8,635.16? Is there any better order and less robberies for $8,613.11 than there was for $3,260.70? No not less but about four times as many. Do the parks look any better for $528.77 than they did for $260.40, has the legal affairs of the city been conducted any better for $2,233.51 including city judge and city attorney than you did for $1,647.45 and do you know what is covered by department of records and taxation to the amount of $8,143.92? I know it is taxation and I expect part of it the conduction by a foreign attorney the affairs of the city. I do not know nor do you? Is it so stated? I do know that the office of city manager cost more to run than did the council, the mayor, the clerk and assessor, the chief of police, the care of parks and printing and stationery. While making a comparison let us compare. If you will study the two statements carefully you will see that the one mill which we added in 1919 would have taken care of the deficit in a few years which was as a matter of fact considerable less than it shows because several items covered a period over a year. I desire to call your attention to the item of road and bridge fund of $5,053.98 which is included in their income for 1920, $2,959.77 of this was due the city at the end of 1919 and the balance was the fund due for the year of 1919 and they had no right to use funds due for a year as an income for a given year of their administration.

They are to be complimented on increasing their income even though over $8,000 was received through a city criminal court of record (such amount of fines assessed by a city of this size unknown), yet an increase of income does not justify an increase of expenses unless value has been received therefrom.

Had our income been as much as theirs and had we collected our road and bridge fund and paid only one year water supply we would have shown an excess over expenses of $7,874.40.

I ask that you carefully look at the statements and compare the amount of money paid for the like service and then draw your own conclusions. I welcome improvement but when a statement is made and over four thousand dollars of expenses are unpaid yet the payments are so placed on a statement as to leave the impression that it is a complete payment for a given service I consider it unfair and as a member of a former board whose record seems to be attacked through a statement I can not refrain from replying and laying the facts before the tax payers of Sanford.

Yours very truly,
FRANK L. MILLER.

LABOR BOARD TO HEAR REDUCTIONS CASE ON MERITS

OVERRULES LACK OF JURIS-DICTION PLEA OF EMPLOYEES

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Pleas that the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic wage controversy now before the United States Railroad Labor Board be declared without the board's jurisdiction and the present wage rates be continued were overruled by the board today. The ruling marked the determination of a fight by the labor side to throw the case out of court on the contention that financial inability to pay the wages laid down by the board last July should come properly before the Interstate Commerce Commission and not before the labor board. The poor financial status of the road has been given as the reason for a wage reduction to be effective February 1st, which was recently ordered rescinded by the board.

The board's ruling decided that each side in the controversy be permitted to present its evidence in its own way. Any evidence considered irrelevant would be stricken out later, the chair said. Half a day's time was taken up in the argument of E. P. Curtis, vice-president of the Order of Railway Conductors, speaking for all employees of the road. The decision overruling his contentions, however, permitted railroad representatives to take the stand this afternoon and Col. B. L. Bugg, president of the A. B. & A., presented a mass of statistics in the road's behalf. Mr. Curtis, reviewing the case, told of the road's proposal on December 20, 1920, to reduce wages by one-half of the amount of increases granted since December 31, 1917. According to Mr. Curtis, the reason advanced by the road for the cut was financial inability to pay operating expenses, of which the employees' pay roll constituted seventy-one per cent. The road was said to be operating at a deficit of $100,000 a month, due, it was explained, to the general slump in business and the poor financial and industrial situation in the Southwest.

Notices for the wage reductions were posted to be effective February 1, and the matter was brought before the labor board by the employees. The road was directed to rescind the order and the employees advanced the argument that the whole case be thrown out as beyond the jurisdiction of the labor board. Mr. Curtis cited the decision of the labor board in the general rules hearing last Thursday when it was declared that matters pertaining to the financial status of railroads were properly under jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Morris Brandon, attorney for the A. B. & A., declares the road was prepared to present other evidence than financial inability to pay in support of the proposed reduction. He said the dispute centered around whether or not the present wages should be continued and maintained the road's right to present any evidence it desired in favor of its reduction proposal.

Trammell Asks Freight Relief

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 15.—Senator Park Trammell yesterday introduced in the Senate the following resolution: "Be it resolved by the Senate that the Interstate Commerce Committee of the Senate be and is hereby requested to investigate the present high freight rates being charged on citrus fruits, vegetables, and other perishable farm products, with a view to bringing about early legislation that will result in a reduction of the existing freight rates on such perishable products."

Quaker Minister Is Grateful to Tanlac

Rev. Parker Moon

Nearly everybody in Southwest Missouri either knows or has heard of the Rev. Parker Moon, who for a full half century has devoted his life and talents to Sunday school and organization work for the Society of Friends or Quakers.

"Uncle Parker," as he is more familiarly known, came from fine old rugged Quaker stock, and there is not a better known or more highly respected citizen in that part of the state. In referring to his remarkable restoration to health by Tanlac, he said:

"About five years ago I suffered a general breakdown. My principal trouble was nervous indigestion. My appetite was very poor and my food seldom agreed with me, and I had to live on a very restricted diet. I suffered a great deal from headaches and dizzy spells; I had severe pains across the small of my back and was badly constipated most of the time. In fact, I was so weak and rundown I was not able to attend to my duties."

"This condition made me very nervous and I could not sleep at night. Frequently I would lie awake most all night and was in that condition more or less for five years. My physician said he could not do anything for me and suggested a change of climate. I then moved to Texas and went back and forth three times but did not get the relief I had hoped for. Finally, I got so bad off I was not able to get around with any degree of comfort. I was also told I had heart trouble.

"I had read about Tanlac and, as it had been very highly recommended to me, I decided to try it. I got a bottle and had taken only a few doses until I could notice a marked improvement in my condition. I noticed, especially that I was not troubled any more with sour stomach after eating, which was a great relief."

"I kept on taking Tanlac until I fully regained my health. My appetite is splendid; I enjoy my meals and I do not find it necessary now to take any laxative medicines of any kind. I can sleep much better and am not nearly so nervous."

"I take great pleasure in recommending Tanlac to anyone who needs a good system builder, or who suffers with stomach trouble. I have recommended Tanlac to a great many of my friends, and am pleased to reach others by giving this statement for publication."

Tanlac is sold in Sanford by the Union Pharmacy.

Florida Farmers to Get Together

All agricultural interests are to be invited to meet with the Florida Farm Bureau Federation in Gainesville on March 10-11. For months communities and counties have been organizing and doing business. Last fall a number of county representatives got together and perfected a temporary state organization. The main purpose of this March meeting is to make this temporary organization permanent.

After organizing permanently, the state federation will become a part of the American Farm Bureau Federation, as 42 other states have already done.

The Florida Farmers' Union, the Florida Citrus Exchange, the Florida Horticultural Society, the Florida Swine Breeders' Association, the Florida Poultry Association, the Florida Dairymen's Association, the Florida Aberdeen-Angus Association and all other kindred agricultural societies will be invited to attend this meeting and to become affiliated with the Florida Farm Bureau Federation.

KILLED CASHIER AND ROBBED BANK AT HOUSTON TODAY

Phosphate Mines in Pebble District, Announce Wage Cut

TAMPA, Feb. 16.—All of the owners of phosphate mines in the Pebble district, which covers two-thirds of the mines in this state, have announced a 25 per cent reduction in wages effective the coming week. The reason for the reduction, as given by the operators, is that the credit situation in Europe is such that Europe's normal consumption of phosphate for fertilizer purposes has been greatly reduced and the low price of cotton in the South has led to threat of reduced acreage and a consequent lessening in demand for fertilizer.

Voluntarily Cut Wages.

TAMPA, Feb. 16.—At a meeting last night the local unions of brick layers, plasterers and masons passed resolutions for a voluntary reduction in their wages from the present scale of $1.25 an hour to $1. The lowered cost of living was given as one reason why the reduction was possible, another being the belief expressed that lowering the cost of construction would provide more work in the building trades.

NUTT ROMANCE CRACKED.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 15.—St. Valentine's day here saw the Nutt romance cracked, when Hazel Nutt yesterday filed suit for divorce in the Duval county circuit court against John F. Nutt. The charge was desertion.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HELD MONTHLY BANQUET 100 MEMBERS PRESENT

Listened to Fine Address By F. T. Groover of Jacksonville

TOWN BUILDING

WAS AMONG THE MANY IMPORTANT SUBJECTS TOUCHED UPON BY SPEAKER

(From Friday's Daily)
About one hundred members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce sat down to a banquet at the Valdez Hotel last night and after getting away with one of the famous menus of this fine hotel, having their pictures taken by flashlight and getting their teeth on a good cigar pushed back their chairs to the call to order by President J. G. Ball, who in a few well chosen words introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. F. C. Groover, former president of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce and one of the greatest boosters in Florida. Mr. Groover is no stranger in Sanford having been here on a similar mission many years ago and his coming last night was responsible in a great measure for the outpouring of the people for Mr. Groover always has a message of good cheer and the grand spirit of optimism wherever he may be. He prefaced his remarks by reading the verse from a magazine "On Getting Acquainted":

"If I knew you and you knew me
This seldom we would disagree,
But never having yet clasped hands
Both sometimes fail to understand
That each intends to do what's right
And treat each other honor bright;
How little to complain there'd be
If I knew you and you knew me."

and said that there were three things that Sanford and every other city needed to make the progress that they should make and the three things were Organization, Co-operation and Advertising. He said that since facing the big crowd at the table he was convinced that Sanford had the first two but he was almost certain that they had neglected the last for the city had not taken on the growth that it should have with its wonderful location, its farming interests, its lakes and rivers and everything to make it great. That his idea of getting the money for advertising was not to continually drag it out of the business men but to get it from a publicity tax that would fall equally upon the people who wished to make their town grow and those who hung back when called upon to do their duty. Speaking about the advertising of the various cities in Florida Mr. Groover sounded the new note of the entire state of Florida getting together through the Florida Development Board and his own idea of what he had neglected in the years gone by was to take the shore line of the state and from Fernandina to Pensacola give the people an idea of the many kinds of fish there are in Florida waters and then take each county and give the number of lakes and tell the people the many kinds of fish they could catch and he said this information alone would fill the state with visitors who had never heard of Florida even. He paid his respects to the land factors and said that wherever a man said something about Florida that was not right to make him leave the state and on the other hand the chronic knocker should be handed a time table and told just when the trains left town. Talking up the possibilities of Florida in farming he stressed the dairy proposition, poultry, cattle, hogs, etc., the great game of raising winter vegetables and fruits and general farming, our wonderful state colleges and schools of every kind that should receive more advertising than we usually give them. He brought forth a good laugh when he said that if we would but give the people of the United States and Canada part of the truth about our resources it would be like the old man who had but one ox and hitched himself up to the plow with the ox and something startling the beast he ran away with the old man yelling at the top of his voice, "Stop us, we are running away" and we would all be running away with the success achieved if we would but advertise in the right manner. He closed with the thought that we should "work together, get together, play together" and pledged the support of Jacksonville people generally and the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce as a body to boost every movement in every other part of the state for the development and the upbuilding of the state. He was given a rousing vote of thanks at the close of the address and many crowded around him after the meeting to thank him for his splendid appeal for a bigger and better city and state.

HARDING DENIES FRICTION AMONG ANY SENATORS

SAYS CABINET SELECTIONS TO BE ACCEPTABLE TO ALL

ST. AUGUSTINE, Feb. 14.—Although several decisions remain to be made in regard to cabinet selections, President-elect Harding is confident the problem will be solved in a way acceptable to all elements of his party.

Commenting today on reports of serious friction among Republican leaders, the president-elect declared he knew of no feeling on the cabinet question which did not grow out of the normal and proper activities of the friends of contending aspirants for places in his official family. He said he was satisfied with the progress made and felt the whole situation was tending to a proper solution.

Mr. Harding mentioned no names and did not refer directly to published stories that some Republican senators had vigorously opposed certain tentative selections. He did deny, however, stories that he is encountering more delay than he had expected in completing his cabinet slate.

Speed Boats at Miami Smash World Records

MIAMI, Feb. 13.—Four world records were established here today by power boats competing in the annual power boat regatta conducted according to American power boat rules.

Two were made by Gar Jr. II, owned and driven by G. A. Wood of Detroit, Mich., two by Orlo II, with the owner, Geo. Leary, Jr., of New York, at the wheel.

The first event was a ten-mile race for express cruisers for the Star Island trophy. It was won by Gar Jr. II in 18:36 4-5, an average of 32 2-10 miles an hour. Gar Jr. also broke the existing record for two miles during this event by covering the two mile lap in three minutes and 39 seconds. Cigarette, owned and driven by Gordon Hammersley of New York, finished second, with Shadow V, with Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis, the owner driving, third.

Orlo II covered the fifty miles in one hour, 17 minutes and 35 seconds, an average speed of thirty-eight and eighth-tenths miles an hour.

In this race Orlo II covered the twenty-first lap of two miles in three minutes flat, or forty miles an hour thereby establishing a world record for the distance for boats of this type.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't ever hungry. I knew, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—"

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

At all druggists.

ROD AND GUN CLUB WILL MEET AT COURT HOUSE TONIGHT—EVERYONE PRESENT

Many Matters of Interest Will Be Discussed

The Sanford Rod & Gun Club will have a big meeting tonight at eight o'clock in the Court House. The principal items to be brought up will be the matter of new members, of which the club is in need.

The Sanford Rod & Gun Club was organized a few weeks ago by several members of the "13" club of this city. A drive was put on for the sale of stock, no person being allowed to subscribe for more than $100. In this way nearly $10,000 has been raised and pledged. A beautiful site has been purchased and the club now proposes to build a good club house on their property.

As an inducement to secure subscribers now, when they are needed, the by-laws provide that after the stock books are closed no member will be admitted for less than $125. For this reason those coming in now will be admitted for less cost than later.

Every present member of the club is pledged to secure one new member before tonight's meeting. This will give the club ample funds to build a club house that will be in keeping with the city.

The present membership list is as follows: B. W. Anderson, O. F. Allen, W. B. Ahern, R. C. Bower, B. R. Beck, L. T. Bryan, C. L. Britt, J. G. Ball, L. A. Brumley, F. W. A. Brown, J. F. Barrett, Geo. Wholesale Prices for Vegetables and for Fruit Low in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Feb. 14.—Wholesale prices for fruits and vegetables are so low in the New York market that many farmers who shipped produce here received nothing in return but a bill for the balance due on freight charges, Dr. Eugene H. Porter, state commissioner of foods and markets, declared in a statement here today. Even with prices at pre-war levels "people seem to be eating less than usual," he added.

Farmers and wholesalers, the commissioner said, believe this condition due to retail trade not giving the benefit of the low prices to the public. Instances of how substantial losses accrued to farmer shippers were cited.

A carload of lettuce, shipped from Florida, sold here for $339, the commissioner said. Total expenses were $491, which the farmer had to pay. A carload of spinach from Texas sold on the wholesale market for $262 less than freight and cartage charges.

Find Body Deep Sea Monster Near Miami

MIAMI, Feb. 14.—Scientists here are gloating over the finding of a huge deep sea monster off Soldiers' Key, a few miles south of Miami, but are unable to name it. The body of the creature in a state of partial decay was found three weeks ago by Elmer E. Garretson of Huntington, L. I., N. Y., who today towed part of the skull to Miami. This fragment is 15 feet long and seven feet wide and weighs three tons.

Mr. Garretson said he did not know how long the monster was but he saw as much as eighty feet of it. Sharks were devouring the flesh when he first found it. Mr. Garretson said that the creature evidently came up out of the deep waters of the gulf stream to die and this accounted for its presence in comparatively shallow water; about six feet of the skull protruded from the water. Mr. Garretson will head a party which intends to go out tomorrow to try and bring in the remaining portions.

Masked Carnival at Eustis Night of February 22

Gasparilla, the devil, Indians and Spanish maidens, clowns and domino girls, cowboys and suffragettes, will be seen at the street carnival to be held in Eustis the evening of the twenty-second. Tampa, Pensacola, Mobile and New Orleans are going to find Eustis a new rival for grand carnivals.

Early in the evening ropes will be stretched across the streets at various places as follows: Magnolia at Eustis street, Bay street at McDonald, also at the Auto Inn. On one will be permitted inside the ropes without either a mask or a carnival button. These carnival buttons will be obtainable at various places throughout the day and will be dainty souvenirs as well as admission passes.

COMET'S TAIL MAY FLICK EARTH ON OR ABOUT JUNE 26

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—Not the date—June 26th—down in your calendar and watch the skies on that night. Pons-Winnecke, a comet, is now rushing at many thousands of miles an hour towards the earth, and on that night may give old Mother Earth a flick of his tail. Should the head of the comet hit the earth the continuous combustion of the thousands of meteors might set the world on fire, if the view is correct that the head of a comet consists of meteorites.

Pons-Winnecke, however, has about as much chance of hitting the earth as a rifle ball discharged into the air has of striking a bird, but a fragment of the ball may strike the earth and produce a display of fireworks. And there may be some comfort, perhaps, in knowing that in the course of a little time, say some few million years, Pons-Winnecke will return no more. The comet is like a man suffering from consumption. Every time it completes its mad orbit it loses weight by the shower of meteorites which it sheds. As the years go by it gets thinner and thinner and finally will sink into a tubercular grave.

Speed Boats at Miami Smash World Records

MIAMI, Feb. 13.—Four world records were established here today by power boats competing in the annual power boat regatta conducted according to American power boat rules.

Two were made by Gar Jr. II, owned and driven by G. A. Wood of Detroit, Mich., two by Orlo II, with the owner, Geo. Leary, Jr., of New York, at the wheel.

The first event was a ten-mile race for express cruisers for the Star Island trophy. It was won by Gar Jr. II in 18:36 4-5, an average of 32 2-10 miles an hour. Gar Jr. also broke the existing record for two miles during this event by covering the two mile lap in three minutes and 39 seconds. Cigarette, owned and driven by Gordon Hammersley of New York, finished second, with Shadow V, with Carl G. Fisher of Indianapolis, the owner driving, third.

Masked Carnival at Eustis Night of February 22

Gasparilla, the devil, Indians and Spanish maidens, clowns and domino girls, cowboys and suffragettes, will be seen at the street carnival to be held in Eustis the evening of the twenty-second. Tampa, Pensacola, Mobile and New Orleans are going to find Eustis a new rival for grand carnivals.

Early in the evening ropes will be stretched across the streets at various places as follows: Magnolia at Eustis street, Bay street at McDonald, also at the Auto Inn. On one will be permitted inside the ropes without either a mask or a carnival button. These carnival buttons will be obtainable at various places throughout the day and will be dainty souvenirs as well as admission passes.

In response to the inquiry of many telephone subscribers: "What can I do to help my service?" this advertisement is published.

Help Control "Busy" Reports

Out of the thousands of telephone calls made daily, about ten per cent result in a report of busy lines.

This enormous number of busy reports is due largely to the fact that many subscribers repeat their calls at intervals of a few seconds.

Making immediate and repeated calls for a busy line causes much unnecessary work for the operator and is a wasteful use of lines and equipment.

It will improve your service and help the general service of the community if you will wait a few minutes after receiving the busy report before making a second call.

THE MAN WHO KNEW AND WHAT CAME OF IT

We knew a man with an automobile, who said he was a careful driver
AND HE WAS!
He said he would never injure anyone
AND HE DIDN'T!
He said: "If anything happens, it will be the other fellow's fault!"
AND IT WAS!
That didn't prevent the other fellow from demanding money
AND HE DID!
Our man said: "It's not my fault; I'll not pay anything!"
AND HE DIDN'T!
The other chap said: "I'LL SUE YOU!"
AND HE DID!
Our friend's lawyer said: "We can beat him in court!"
AND THEY DID!
Whereupon our friend said: "Ha, Ha, I win!"
AND THEN
He paid his lawyer a fee of $100.00, plus expenses, and ran his car the rest of the year at his own risk. FOOLISH—WASN'T HE?
There was a cheaper way out, and we had told him about it, but he thought he knew better.
Let us tell you how little it will cost for COMPLETE PROTECTION, we to furnish the lawyer, investigate all claims, defend all suits, and pay all losses within the limit of our policy.
