Johnson named public works director

By Joe DeBantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County ended a seven-month search this week, selecting W. Gary Johnson as the county's new Director of Public Works.

Johnson will begin his new job in February, replacing James N. Marino, who was promoted to Deputy County Manager.

"He's a very strong manager familiar with modern management techniques," said County Manager Kevin Grace of Johnson's selection.

"We had a good feel and comfort level with his style and approach and he's the perfect choice to replace Jim Marino who has done an excellent job in that position."

Regional manager of Oregon DOT replaces Marino, who was promoted to Deputy County Manager

Johnson comes to the position with a wealth of experience. Since 1995 he has served as the Region Manager at the Oregon Department of Transportation's Region 2 office in Salem. There Johnson supervised nearly 500 employees with an annual department operational budget of $60 million and construction contracts valued between $65 to $75 million per year. Additionally, he was responsible for managing a system of 1,800 highway miles.

The new Director's qualifications also include registration as a Professional Engineer in the states of Florida and Oregon. Johnson, who has worked in the public sector for more than 25 years, holds a Bachelor's Degree in Civil Engineering from Stevens Institute of Technology on Hoboken, N.J., and has former Florida connections, having served as city engineer in Pinellas Park.

"He's intelligent, used to dealing with complicated projects and is very good in working with the public and keeping them informed," added Grace. "He's very articulate and carries himself with a solid professional demeanor."

Power for the future

DeBary plant repowering will double its output

By Michelle Jeria
Managing Editor

DEBARY — Across from Seminole County on the banks of Lake Monroe, construction personnel are preparing for the repowering of Sanford.

In less than two years, Florida Power and Light's Sanford plant will start up Power Block 5, beginning the last phase of the state-of-the-art repowering of Sanford and Central Florida. By December 2002, the power plant will double its output of electricity while running more efficiently and making a significant contribution to a cleaner environment.

"Rather than close down the site, FPL decided to rejuvenate it," FPL Sanford Plant Manager Roxane Kennedy said. "When we talk about this in the community, eyes just sparkle."

There's good reason for the excitement. According to Kennedy, the $600 million repowering project will create up to 950 temporary jobs during the construction period and increase tax revenue from $1 million to $10 million for local municipalities, counties and schools in 2003.

Volunteers needed to test area lakes

By Nick Pfeiffaut
Staff Writer

SANFORD — The University of Florida has determined there are 180 lakes in Seminole County that are used for fishing, water skiing, boating, and other types of recreation.

They are seeking volunteers to dip their hands in the water and come up with samples for testing.

The project is called Florida LAKEWATCH. Regional coordinator for Seminole County, David Watson, described how the program works. "Florida LAKEWATCH trains volunteers across the state to collect water and algae samples and water clarity information that can be used to document a lake's nutrient levels. Over time, baseline data are established, providing citizens and water managers with a useful tool for managing lakes."

The lakes and reservoirs in Seminole County are valued for fishing and as wildlife habitats, yet very little is known about them. With Lakewatch expanding in Seminole County, lake residents will gain a rare opportunity to gather valuable baseline data for their lake.

Sandi Hanlon of the Seminole County Public Works Department hopes that residents will take advantage of this opportunity. "The Seminole County Stormwater Division is excited about this volunteer program," she said. "This will be a great opportunity for residents who are concerned about water quality in their area to become personally involved."

People who become volunteers will receive individualized training in monitoring procedures, supplies, and the use of sampling materials, periodic reports of their monthly data, quarterly educational newsletters, access to aquatic science experts at the University of Florida, and invitations to regularly scheduled LAKEWATCH activities.

According to Debi Moseley with Florida LAKEWATCH, persons wishing to volunteer or to find out more information on the requirements for participating, should contact Sandi Hanlon-Brewer, Seminole County Stormwater Division at 407-665-5765, or David Watson, Regional Coordinator at 352-392-4817 (or 1-800-LAKEWATCH).

Police arrest one for sexual battery

Victims say crimes occurred at the man's work place

From Staff Reports

Sanford police have arrested Leonard Lee, 34, of Alton Square, Altamonte Springs, in connection with two separate incidents of sexual battery, one with a child.

According to the arrest report, on Nov. 21, Lee reportedly went to the Sanford Police station and spoke to an officer regarding a woman with whom he had sexual contact on the previous day. At that time he said it was consensual.

On Nov. 27, police met with the woman who told them a man, identified as Lee, took her into a back room and forced her to have sex, while she was supposed to have had a job interview.

On Jan. 2, police made contact with another victim in reference to a lewd act. Again, the perpetrator was identified as Leonard Lee. This time the victim, who is under the age of 16, told officers that Lee, her employer, had conducted several lewd acts in her presence over a three week period before Christmas.

The incidents both reportedly occurred at Lee's office, at the See Arrest, Page 7A

Levin, an orthodontist, and his staff sponsored the third annual "Nearly-New, Barely-Used Shoe Drive." "The final result was a record-breaker," Levin said. "The 17 participating schools (including those in Sanford and Lake Mary) did a phenomenal job rallying their families, friends and the community to make the Shoe Drive so tremendously successful." Four charities — Mustard Seed, Salvation Army, Restore Orlando, Lakeside Alternatives Foundation — will distribute the shoes as part of their operations. Herald photo by Tommy Vincent

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

What's in a name?

Is your name Smith? If so, Saturday, Jan. 6 is YOUR DAY.

There are an estimated 2,382,500 people in the United States named Smith. In honor of all of them, today has been unofficially declared National Smith Day.

The honor is in conjunction with the birthday in 1580 of Captain John Smith, the leader of the English colonists who settled at Jamestown, Va. in 1607, thus making him the first Smith in America.

Since then, they've multiplied. Here at the Seminole Herald, we have our illustrious Sports Editor Dean Smith. If he's an example of the Smith dynasty, I'd say it's a pretty good group of people.

While I didn't count every single one of them, there are approximately 713 Smiths listed in the Sanford/Lake Mary BellSouth telephone book. (In comparison, there were 348 Jones listings). The Greater Orlando white pages lists 1,830 Smiths.

One of the excellent movie and television stars of today is Will Smith. There was Kate Smith singing "God Bless America," sports stars such as Bubba Smith, Ozzie Smith, other movie and singing stars such as Bessie Smith, Jaclyn Smith, Maggie Smith, and a host of other Smiths including Sanford's former mayor Bettey Smith.

Then there was the man who started Alcoholics Anonymous. His name was Robert Smith. One of the long running newspaper cartoons is about Snuffy Smith (which he pronounces Smiff).

Yet we have never had a president or vice president of the United States named Smith. I can find no present governor of any state (in my latest research book) with that name, and unless my memory fails me, we have never had a Florida governor named Smith since the position was established.

I remember a line from the movie "Mary Poppins." Ed Wynn told Dick Van Dyke — "I once knew a man with one leg, named Smith." Van Dyke responded — "Really? What was the name of his other leg?"

The most common derivation of the name is from the ancient practice of having a name connected with one's occupation. In this case, Smiths were often blacksmiths. This doesn't mean all of them shoed horses. Webster's dictionary says a smith is someone who works with metal, forming it into a useful object — such as knives, swords, fences, handtools, horseshoes, and other items. Both my father and grandfather were blacksmiths at one time during their lives — how did I come up with the name Pfeifauf? I wouldn't have to spell it out every time I gave it to someone. (I know the derivation, but I'll tell you some other time).

There are other ways to spell it — the most common being Smyth, or the European spelling of Schmidt. They all mean the same however.

Almost every one of us knows someone named Smith. If you see them, give them a pat on the back in honor of National Smith Day.

Hanging around

It doesn't matter how cold the outside temperature is, a day off from school is a day to have fun. Enjoying her day off from school is Amanda Lord, 7, of Sanford. Amanda decided to give the tire swing a whirl. Seminole County students will return to class on Monday, Jan. 8.

Hat in the Ring. District 2 incumbent commission Dr. Velma Williams is prepared to seek another term on the Sanford City Commission. She pulled a qualifying packet from city hall this week. Thus far Williams, who has expressed a desire to complete projects and initiatives in District 2 is the only candidate seeking the seat. Formal qualifying runs Jan. 8 to Jan. 18. If unchallenged, Williams can skip what looks to be a lengthy candidate debate for city offices scheduled for Feb. 27 at the Helen Stairs Theatre.

Grumbling and tourism grumbings. Not everyone has been enamored with the Seminole County Commission's vote in December to appropriate $600,000 per year for the next 20 years to help build a hotel and conference center on the shores of Sanford's Lake Monroe. Some members of the county's Tourism Development Commission were privately grumbling about the 3-2 vote during the TDC's monthly meeting this week in Altamonte Springs. One board member observed profitability in the hotel industry is marginal these days due to room additions constructed over the past three years. Others were grumbling about the possibility of adding another penny sales tax to the current room tax and of a move afoot to assess car rentals a surcharge of between $2 and $4 per day to help fund local road and transportation projects. Maybe that extra dough will go to create the billions necessary to build high speed rail by 2003 in the Sunshine State.

Try some Windex, Brady. Here's hoping District 1 Sanford City Commissioner and mayoral candidate Brady Lessard doesn't use his pigskin prognostication skills as a campaign platform. Lessard's Crystal Ball has been so far off the mark the last three weeks of the NFL season and into the playoffs that the Seminole Herald has put a stop payment on his correspondent paycheck. If you call your bookie after reading his patented "Lock of the Week," be afraid. Be very afraid.

Truer words were never spoken. This past week, a morning news anchorman on a local television station spoke of the weather, and made a prediction: "It's going to stay cold until the weather warms up." Now here's someone we can put our faith into.

Monetary musing. Overheard this week at the Colonial Room: "The tax collector's motto: 'We've got what it takes to take what you've got.'"

You call this winning? The dust has finally settled from the controversial residential election, but Seminole County taxpayers will pay a stiff price. County Commission appropriated $50,000 in December for legal fees to defend the Supervisor of Elections office and the Canvassing Board from Longwood attorney Harry Jacobs lawsuit. This week the county will vote on appropriating another $198,000 to pay the final legal tab. Our math computes that to $248,000 bucks. And that's for winning the case?

A suspect matching Byrd's description, reportedly walked into the Nations Bank on W. SR-34 and presented a teller with a note demanding money. The suspect then fled on foot.

Within approximately 10 minutes, Altamonte Springs police located Byrd on the property of the Church of the Annunciation, not far from the bank.

He was found with money believed taken in the robbery. Bank employees reportedly identified Byrd, who was booked into the Seminole County Jail on charges relating to the robbery.

Littering
Alan Wayne Davis, 46, Alpine Street, Altamonte Springs, was arrested by Seminole County Sheriff's deputies Thursday, January 4.

According to the arrest report, Altamonte Springs police had been receiving complaints regarding debris on Davis' property, as far back as August of last year. At one time, deputies warned him and even assisted Davis in removing the trash and cutting limbs from trees in the area. At that time, items reportedly found included scrap metal, airplane parts including two World War II P-51 airplane fuselages, and various building materials.

Deputies were called again on Dec. 29, and reported finding a broken above-ground swimming pool and other items which they said amounted to 3,159 cubic feet of debris.

Thursday, Davis was arrested on charges of littering over 500 pounds, causing a nuisance, injury to health, and two charges dealing with violation of Seminole County ordinances dealing with nuisances.

We are alarmed by the decision of some corporate owned funeral homes to remove PreNeed trust funds from the Trust. Florida Law does allow a funeral home to buy a bond in lieu of depositing PreNeed funds in a state approved trust. At the time you pre-arranged your funeral we told you your money would be deposited in a state approved trust fund according to the requirements of Florida Statutes. As promised, the proper deposits have been made to the trust fund.

Our promise to provide a loving and respectful funeral according to your wishes will be honored. Your peace of mind is important to us...so we send this assurance that your money will stay in the trust fund until we certify to the trustee that death has occurred and we have provided the services and merchandise.

Our funeral home is family owned and operated and we thank you for knowing our family is good to our word. If you have any questions, please call us.

A shame it counts as news

Bill Banks was watching football in a predominantly white sports bar last week when he heard some guys talking about the rising number of black quarterbacks in the National Football League.

"It's great how African-Americans over time have developed the skills to play the position," one bar patron remarked. Banks, a professor of African-American studies at UC Berkeley, shook his head. "What do you say to that?" he asked me over the phone the other day. "The man said it as if blacks had finally worked hard enough and now were in the position to show the intelligence and other qualities necessary for the job."

In the NFL playoffs this weekend, five of the 12 starting quarterbacks are black. Pick up any sports section in the country and you'll see the story. The "Year of the Black Quarterback," they're calling the season, heralding an era of broken barriers and fresh perspectives. It has reminded me of 1992's "Year of the Women." Six women had been elected to the United States Senate that year. The good news was it was the highest number ever; the bad news was it was the highest number ever. We were celebrating the fact that women would compose 12 percent of a Senate that governs a country that is 51 percent female.

Similarly, we're celebrating that, in a league that is 70 percent African-Americans, blacks now fill 25 percent of all starting quarterback jobs (eight of 31).

Yet progress is progress. Just two years ago, only one playoff team started a black quarterback. When Doug Williams became the first black quarterback to start a Super Bowl in 1988, race dominated every interview. One excited reporter actually asked him, "How long have you been a black quarterback?"

All-Pro wide receiver Jerry Rice speaks carefully when asked about the increasing number of black quarterbacks. "I'm not going to say it was racism, but coaches and people in general didn't see blacks as quarterbacks," he said the other day from his home. "The way these guys are playing, they're saying a lot by what they're doing — that black people are capable of taking on the leadership and the pressure that goes with the position."

For years, whites have conceded physicality to blacks, accepting their dominance in track and field, basketball, boxing, the so-called "athletic" positions in football. But the more intellectual positions, such as quarterback — and coach and general manager — have remained in the hands of whites. Some say that the embracing of blacks as quarterbacks could signal a shift in some of white America's assumptions about race.

"How significant this is in the big picture, I have no idea," says David Meggessey, the NFL Players Union west coast director. "But it's cracking another stereotype, and that can't be a bad thing." Banks agrees, but with a caveat. "Let's not kid ourselves that it means much beyond football," says Banks, author of the 1997 book, "Black Intellectuals: Race and Responsibility in American Life." In other words, we're not suddenly going to see a surge in the number of black CEOs because there are more black quarterbacks. We're not likely even to see a surge in the number of black head coaches; there now are just three among the 31 NFL teams and no black general managers.

The good news of this playoff season is that African-Americans are getting to play the glamorous and admired role of steely nerved, heady leading man on the football field. The bad news is that, in 2001, it is news at all.

Sanford mayor responds to Hossfield letter

Editor's Note: The following letter is Sanford Mayor Larry Dale's response to Bruce Hossfield's letter published in the Dec. 12 edition of the Herald. Hossfield is the growth management chair for the Central Florida Sierra Club.

Dear Mr. Hossfield:

I am in receipt of your letter dated December 12, 2000, in which you voice the Sierra Club's opposition to the city's proposal to lease Fort Mellon Park for development of a hotel/conference center.

In reading your letter, it is obvious that you have received misinformation from one source or another. Frankly, I'm surprised that you, as Growth Management Chair of the Central Florida Sierra Club, did not come by City Hall to make sure the information you received was accurate and that you had received all pertinent data. To take a position without first having thoroughly researched all of the facts seems counterproductive to effective "growth management." Be assured that my office and staff stand ready to meet with you or anyone else in your organization to share with you the entire process involved in this project to date. However, Mr. Hossfield, in the more than two years in which we have been proceeding with this endeavor, I do not recall having ever seen you at any of our meetings, or at City Hall.

The city shares the Sierra Club's belief that open spaces play a critical part in bringing vitality to cities. That is why the city has been adamant in designating 700 feet of lake frontage for a perpetual park and open space. It is also the reason that the city has set aside 340 acres as open space which includes 71 parks and recreational areas throughout the city with an annual operating budget of $3,629,957. You state that Fort Mellon Park is a "place for people, not for a hotel." I would remind you that it is our people, the citizens of Sanford, who have affirmed through a city-wide referendum that a portion of Fort Mellon Park is indeed a place for a hotel/conference center and also a place for open space and a park. But in all actuality, Mr. Hossfield, if a hotel is not for people, who is it for?

The city of Sanford is likewise concerned about stormwater impacts and that is why we have spent, during my time as mayor, more than $4 million in stormwater improvement projects. As you know, the city has also gone to great lengths and expense to solve its sanitary sewer problems.

Additional misinformation that you have obtained is that the "promoters of this development plan to include a large fishing or boating pier". Again, Mr. Hossfield, had you obtained all the facts, you would have known that the city plans to include a fishing or boating pier as part of the further development of Fort Mellon Park. Furthermore, there are experts in the field of fish and game management who maintain that a properly designated and constructed fishing or boating pier can be an enhancement to the environment and not a source of solid waste and other pollution. "Scenic Hudson", an environmental group in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., that has long been opposed to waterfront development along the Hudson River, is now developing its own waterfront hotel, restaurant, stores and homes. The group is hopeful that their environmentally sensitive development of the waterfront will serve as a catalyst for economic revival in the small town of Beacon.

You point out that "other, superior sites have been suggested." Although I would contend that the superiority of "other sites" is a subjective matter, where are these sites and where are the plans associated with them? Seminole County has given preference to other sites for the past four years, but none have developed as real opportunities.

Thank you for your comments, Mr. Hossfield. Again, my staff and I will be most happy to share with you any factual data at our disposal to assist you in future deliberations.

Yours truly
Larry A. Dale

Mrs. Rodham Clinton goes to Washington

Hillary Rodham Clinton is the first 21st-century politician.

Some politicians are borne into office by a "story." For FDR it was his kinship with the beloved Theodore Roosevelt and his personal courage surviving polio. For JFK it was his tycoon father and his exploits saving the crew of PT 109.

Like these men, Hillary Clinton was borne into the United States Senate on a famous relationship that is itself a story of personal triumph. She is wife of a president: That constitutes her famous relationship. She is the wife of Bill Clinton: That is the story of her personal triumph.

Let me put my cards on the table. I don't believe she knew about Wild Bill's behavior down in Arkansas. I believe she accepted his commitment to cool the act once he reached their shared dream of the American presidency.

As for what happened in the White House with Monica Lewinsky, I believe she was completely in the dark. She was no more a conspirator in the affair than she was its perpetrator. She was its victim, pure and simple.

I say this with neither admiration nor contempt. Some things simply happen to people — say what you will about the need in this world to "drive defensively." In this case, the Clinton bearing the monopoly of the guilt for the Monica Lewinsky episode was Bill.

Now comes the miracle of the Bill and Hillary story. In an era when the evil-doers get death-row sympathy and the victims are brutally forgotten, this is a case in which the perp was punished and the victim singled out for praise.

Bill will spend the rest of his life, Nixon-like, trying to erase his Encyclopedia Britannica insert as "the second president in history to be impeached." Hillary will spend a good many years of the 21st century as the first first lady ever to serve in the United States Senate.

In voting booths up and down the Empire State, average men and women decided that hers was an American story they could not only live with, but value.

His was a story, on the other hand, that most Americans would enjoy never hearing again as long as they live. It is a story that Al Gore believes cost him the presidency and one that cost the presidency itself more dignity than any of us dare admit.

See? There is justice in this world. For doing her spousal duty — believing her husband in the early going and punishing him when he finally came clean — Senator Hillary Rodham Clinton has now earned historic acclaim.

Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

We don't have all that white stuff covering the ground like our neighbor's to the north, but most people in Florida will agree this winter has been a cold one. So we asked both transplanted Yankees and Florida natives, "How are you coping with the cold weather?"

I'm handling it just fine, I like the cold weather. I moved here from Rochester, N.Y. The cold up there is better, it's harder to get adjusted to it in Florida. In New York, when it gets cold it stays cold.

Being from Virginia, it's not too bad. It reminds me of Virginia winters. Now we need about 2 inches of snow, that would make things interesting.

Sanford hospital opens new ER

From staff reports

Central Florida Regional Hospital has opened its new Emergency Department. Following an inspection by the Agency for Health Care Administration, the new area was certified and approved for occupancy.

"We are very excited to have our new emergency department open to better serve area residents for emergency care services," said Rodney Smith, Chief Executive Officer. "With more than twice the space, increased staff and faster equipment, waiting times should be significantly reduced. No one likes to have to wait in an emergency department."

Recognizing the rapid growth of Seminole County and surrounding communities, the Central Florida Regional Hospital responded with a $10.5 million expansion project and installation of state-of-the-art equipment needed to improve emergency services to area residents.

Chief Operating Officer Bland Eng managed construction of the emergency expansion.

The new 20,000 square-foot unit has increased from 10 to 22 treatment rooms with special rooms for treating trauma, pediatric and other injuries. A pneumatic tube system enables faster laboratory testing and new CT and MRI imaging equipment allows testing four times faster.

A special Fast Track service to treat minor injuries has been designed to reduce patient waiting time. Patients with injuries that do not require intensive testing and treatment are able to use the service allowing them to be treated quicker, without the normal wait.

Central Florida Regional Hospital is located on U.S. Highway 46, just 3.8 miles east of Interstate-4's exit 51.

Tourist commission OKs support for three initiatives

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Seminole County's Tourist Development Commission (TDC) threw its support behind three eclectic initiatives this week.

The board agreed to help fund promotional events ranging from the County's annual Fishing Tournament for Paralyzed Veterans, to X-treme Games Competition, to a Public Broadcasting Service documentary on the historical and cultural significance of the St. Johns River.

The commission unanimously approved $25,000 in TDC funds to co-promote with Allen Enterprises, a series of eight X-treme Games competitions, five of which will be held in Seminole County.

According to Allen Enterprises president Dana Allen, the competitions will feature both sprint events of 25 miles and two-day events on 100 miles or more. X-treme games consist of a triathlon competition involving three-person teams competing in hiking or foot travel, mountain biking, and some type of water traverse, either kayak or canoeing. Male, female, coed, corporate and master's competition divisions would be featured in each event.

"Many of our competitors come from South Florida and would stay for two or three days in Seminole County," Allen told commission members.

Allen, whose company has been marketing the relatively new sports phenomenon X-treme Games, also told the commission that the Best Western Marina in Sanford would play host in March to a special three-day training camp designed to house, feed, and train X-treme Games participants. Allen Enterprises would also help market Seminole County to other potential participants in the additional events if plans to conduct throughout the remainder of the State.

The Commission also agreed to provide $8,000 in TDC funding to help conduct the annual Seminole County Paralyzed Veterans Fishing Tournament. Approximately 75 to 125 hotel rooms would be used to accommodate competitors in the event, many from outside Seminole County and some from outside the state.

A third allocation, not to exceed $25,000, was approved for Eagle Productions of Orlando to help underwrite a one-hour television documentary on the historical and cultural impact of the St. Johns River.

Seminole County is one of nine counties bordering the St. Johns that is being asked to help fund the documentary with an estimated production cost of $225,000.

Last year President Clinton designated the St. Johns one of 14 American Rivers to be classified as an American Heritage River.

"The St. Johns River has a number of assets that make it historically important," said Jack Wert, TDC Director.

Private sector funding is also being sought by the producers who plan to spend about eight months filming and producing the documentary, scheduled for world-wide release through Public Broadcasting Service television outlets in the fall of 2001.

Footage not considered exclusively proprietary by PBS would then be used by Seminole County TDC efforts for promotional use on the county's Web site and other marketing vehicles.

In other TDC business this week, Vice Chair Penny Leffel, Courtyard by Marriott/Spring-Hill Suites Sanford was selected as new chair for the next year, succeeding outgoing chair Russ Hauck, Mayor of Altamonte Springs. Bill Beuret, Maison & Jardin Restaurant, was unanimously approved as new vice chair.

The commission also reported that Seminole County Tourism Tax collections for November 2000 exceeded projections by six percent. The county had projected $142,768 in tourism tax collections for the month but actually collected $150,375 for November 2000.

Director

Johnson, 50, said, "I think the greatest asset I bring to the Seminole County position is my experience in local and state government, particularly with transportation issues."

"I'm optimistic about the organizational readiness of the department. I see our biggest challenge as keeping up with the transportation needs of Seminole County while maintaining the quality of life.

Johnson's wife, Dorothy, is also no stranger to the governmental sector. She previously served as City Clerk in Largo, Fla.

The Johnsons have no children but round out their family circle with what Gary labeled, "A mutt named Tara."

Johnson will earn a starting salary of $95,000 per year and will officially begin his new duties on Feb. 19.

Arrest

Kirby Company, 405 S. French Avenue in Sanford.

Lee again went to the Sanford police station on Jan. 4, but refused to speak of the case. He was placed under arrest and taken to the John E. Polk Correctional Facility.

In connection with the first case, he has been charged with sexual assault, sexual battery of a victim over 12 years of age with physical force.

Regarding the second case, he has been charged with sex offense against a child — fondling — lewd lascivious act in the presence of a child under 16 years of age.

Generous Pizzuti
Toys, toys and more toys, three hundred of them to be exact, were donated to the Children's Home Society by the Pizzuti Companies. Bikes, trucks, dolls and more were donated by the real estate owner, developer and property management team of Heathrow International Business Center. This is the fifth year the Pizzuti staff has organized the toy drive to benefit area children.

Generous Goldman
For the fourth consecutive year, S.I. Goldman Company, Inc./Comfort Systems USA, a Longwood based mechanical services contractor donated over 2,500 pounds of food to Second Harvest Food Bank. A check for $1,000 was also given to the Central Florida major distributor feeding programs in an eleven county area.

Moving Up
Harkins Development Corporation, a Lake Mary based builder and developer has announced the appointment of Glenda Kamm Pineda to the newly created position of Construction Coordinator. She has four years experience in construction and holds a Bachelor of Science in Education degree.

New Development
Beazer Homes of Altamonte Springs has acquired a site on East Lake, off Paola Road, in northern Seminole County. David Byrnes, division president, said the builder will open East Lake Reserve with 40 homesites in the fall of 2001. Development of the neighborhood will begin in early spring.

Prices of the homes will range from the $150s to the $220s.

"With the limited availability of land in the Lake Mary - North Seminole region, this site is actually an infill site," said Byrnes. "Before closing, we had over a dozen calls from people interested in buying a home in this rapidly growing area."

Five of the home sites are lakefront. The first new model homes will be available in the fall.

Sanford clay supply business now offers various art classes

By Michelle Joris
Managing Editor

Most of Carol Tague's customers drive up to her business in cars or pickup trucks.

But, customers have arrived by airplane to pick up art supplies.

Nestled between the Orlando Sanford International Airport and various old hangars is Florida Clay Art Co., Tague's 5-year-old business that caters to local artisans in search of pottery and ceramics materials.

After establishing a catalog business that has a mailing list of 6,000 people, Tague has decided to expand the shop to include pottery classes.

"The time was right," she said. "I had the opportunity to use the building next door, so I did it."

By purchasing the additional space, Tague now offers a unique opportunity for potters — clay supplies and studio and classroom space under one roof.

"This place has everything," Cindy McDowell said. "It's got clay, books, glaze ... everything a potter needs."

McDowell, along with Neil Balogh, are pottery instructors at Florida Clay Art Co. Both have won numerous awards for their art and have previously taught pottery at various art centers.

Tague's classes in beginner and advance throwing start Jan. 20. Advanced handbuilding and decorating techniques start Feb. 13.

Judy Lynn, an award-winning pottery artist, will also offer a workshop Jan. 27 and 28. The deadline for registration is Jan. 20.

Florida Clay Art Co. is located at 1645 Hangar Road. For information on classes or the upcoming workshop, call 407-330-1116.

Physicians to establish new offices in Lake Mary Location: The professional building, to be known as Williston Park Office Center, is located on Williston Park Drive in Lake Mary — off Rinehart Road, between SR-48A and Lake Mary Boulevard.

Contractor: Tom Kelley, with Realvest Partners, Inc. said the entire project is under the supervision of Conklin, Porter and Holmes of Sanford.

Property Owners: A group of physicians own the land and building.

Completion Date: Kelley said the completion date could be March or April, "but let's say it will be finished in the spring of this new year," he said.

FYI: At the present time, Kelley said only the one major building presently under construction is planned, although there could be additional buildings in the future. He said the three physicians who own the property will be establishing their businesses in the professional building, occupying approximately 5,800 square feet. The entire building is 18,500 square feet, two story, and will offer approximately 10,000 square feet for lease, in 1,500 to 5,400 square foot spaces, depending on the need of the occupant. Class A finishes are offered throughout the building, with adequate parking. Tom Kelley, CCIM with Realvest Partners, Inc., a Commercial Real Estate Service and Licensed Real Estate Broker, located in Maitland, is handling the leasing of Williston Park Office Center.

Termi-mesh kicks off statewide education campaign

Termi-Mesh of Florida, based in Longwood, has launched a statewide campaign to alert local building departments that to require toxic chemical pretreatment for termites is no longer the only way to protect homeowners from the der ructive insects.

"Everyday, about 40 different Orlando area businesses pay workers to spread chemical insecticides in and around the ground," said Dave Gardner, a principal at Termi-Mesh. "Since the start of this year, that's about 3.5 million gallons of unnecessary chemical insecticides."

Termi-Mesh sells a failsafe non-chemical barrier, a durable stainless steel mesh invented in Australia and used on thousands of homes there and in the United States.

"An alternative to chemical pretreatment exists. It's effectiveness has been thoroughly tested and approved, and it reduces the need for chemical pretreatment from 500 gallons to zero," Gardner explained. Garner acknowledges local building codes can't be rewritten overnight.

"We have begun the process of education, and it will pay for public officials, and voters, to take an interest," he said.

repower its Sanford facility, along with another plant in Fort Myers, in order to meet the increasing demand for electricity in the region. Once the project is complete, output will increase by about 1,200 megawatts, from 933 megawatts to 2,100 megawatts, and the site will serve about 486,000 homes and businesses rather than the 217,000 its able to currently serve.

Repowering basically means adding new technology to the Sanford site that uses clean natural gas instead of oil. The Sanford repowering project will involve the installation of electric generating technology known as combined-cycle, replacing the traditional electricity generating process where fuel is burned in a large boiler.

Combined-cycle technology is 40 percent more efficient than traditional power plant generation because it delivers more electricity per unit of fuel consumed, Kennedy said. The repowered Units 4 and 5 will be more efficient and economical and are expected to run twice as much.

The smaller Unit 3, continuing to use the traditional electricity generating process of oil and natural gas, will run less often and be used primarily to meet summer and occasional winter peak demand periods.

An overhead view of FPL's Sanford plant shows construction of Heat Recovery Steam Generators (HRSG) that will allow the plant to operate 40 percent more efficient.

Kennedy is excited about the new technology planned for the Sanford plant. However, she is more excited about what it means for the environment.

"The most exciting thing is that we will produce all the additional megawatts at a significantly cleaner rate than we've ever done," Kennedy said. "Anything that cleans up the environment is a benefit."

According to Kennedy, the Sanford plant currently produces on average 39,000 tons of megapollutants, including sulfur dioxide, a year. Once the repowering project is complete, the average will be 8,000 tons of megapollutants a year.

"Even though we will be operating and producing more, we will be doing it cleaner," she said. "It's a great project."

Repowering also means a decrease in the number of barges traveling 150 miles on the St.

Johns River to Sanford from Jacksonville. Currently, 350 to 400 barges carrying oil travel the route each year, Kennedy said. Once complete, the number will decrease to 17 a year.

"Some people are upset by this," Kennedy said. "They believe the barges keep the river navigable."

However, Kennedy believes the risk reduction of possible collisions or oil spills on the river outweighs any negatives in regard to fewer barges traveling the St. Johns.

The look of the Sanford site, which was originally established in 1925, will also dramatically change once the repowering project is complete. The two large red and white striped smokestacks and the large blue structures that house the boilers for Units 4 and 5 will be replaced with eight shorter stacks and newer, smaller combined-cycle units.

"I think some people are sad about the dismantling of the stacks," Kennedy said. "Some see them as gates to the community."

"But, I think most people are happy about the project," she said. "We've met with the community on numerous occasions, and people are really excited."

"I think some people are sad about the dismantling of the stacks. Some see them as gates to the community."

Tribe claims 'treasure' at Classic

By Dean Smith
 Sports Editor

FT. PIERCE — Coach Sylvester Wynn's young Seminole High School young basketball team faced an uphill battle as they headed to the Southeast coast of Florida for the Treasure Coast Holiday Classic last week.

But when all was said and done, the Fighting Seminoles were standing atop the heap with trophy in hand and three previously unbeaten squads left looking for answers.

The Tribe entered the eight-team tournament with a respectable 10-4 record, but were faced with the task of playing the No. 4 team in the North Carolina Independent School State Association rankings, the 9-0 Crusaders from Cardinal Gibbons High School in Raleigh.

Cardinal Gibbons took a 14-13 lead after the first period as freshman guard Serena White hit a pair of three-pointers and netted nine points.

Seminole battled back to take a 29-25 lead at halftime as Matia Mitchell scored four points and Mandy Priddy, Danelle Gamble, Laqueena Grayson and Jamala Mitchell tallied three points each.

The Crusaders won the third quarter, 15-13, but the Tribe held onto the lead, 42-40, entering the last eight minutes of play.

The fourth period belonged to the Fighting Seminoles and their defense, which held Cardinal Gibbons to a single basket, a three-pointer by Ali Greiner, while Gamble, a sophomore, scored six points herself as the Tribe cruised to the win, 55-43.

Jamala Mitchell finished with 12 points, while sophomore Chequilla Jessie added 11 points, Matia Mitchell 10 points and Gamble nine points.

Greiner led the Crusaders with 17 points, while White had 15.

Seminole was faced with another unbeaten team in the semifinals, the Eagles from Northwest Christian School in Miami, which has won its district championship all six years of the school's existence (from Class 1A to 4A), and also has a state title and another.

Flat SCC women tumble in overtime to Chipola

By Dean Smith

SANFORD — Where was the fire?

Whether it was a let-down from the tournament or because of a two-hour delay in starting the game, the Seminole Community College women's basketball team did not look like the same quintet that had finished third in the prestigious SCC Wynn Dixie JUCO Shootout last weekend, dropping a 79-76 overtime decision to visiting Chipola Junior College at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center Wednesday afternoon.

The game was set to begin at 1 p.m., but a miscommunication delayed the supposed start until 2 p.m.

But when the visitors from Marianna still had not arrived by 2:15 p.m., worry set in and a time-limit of 2:30 p.m. was put on the game.

Oviedo rolls to 14th victory

By Dean Smith

ORLANDO — There was no post-holiday letdown for the undefeated Oviedo boys basketball team as it came out and scored 30 points in the first quarter on the way to an 88-54 thrashing of Bishop Moore in Orlando Wednesday night.

The Lions doubled the score on the opening period, leading 30-15, then increased the advantage to 19 points, 48-29, at halftime.

Oviedo, which is now 14-0 on the season, kept up the pressure in the third quarter, putting 29 more points on the board to lead 77-36.

Bishop Moore made the score somewhat respectable, outscoring its guests 18-11 over the final eight minutes.

Senior guard Marcus Hayes led the Lions with a game-high 21 points, with junior forward Shawn Witherspoon just behind with 20 points.

Three-point barrage buries Raiders men

SANFORD — Look out below.

Just when it looked like another come-from-behind victory was in sight for the Seminole Community College men's basketball team, a surprise bombing took place and killed the Raiders' chances as St. Petersburg Community College romped to a 96-62 victory at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center Wednesday evening.

The Trojans looked like world beaters as they took leads of as many as 21 points in the first half on the strength of 11 points from 6-foot-9 Nick Berry and eight points from 6-foot-7 Brian Morrow.

But Jason Currington (10 points), 6-foot-10 Che Morgan (eight points) and Dennis Williams (five points) led a rally as SCC closed with a rush to trail 38-31 at halftime.

The second half began as the first with SPJC building the lead back to 14 points, 50-36, behind Patrick McMullen (eight points) and Roger Lewis (four points).

The Raiders then started to cut into the lead behind the play of Williams and Currington, scoring 10 straight points to close to within 50-46 and appeared to have the momentum.

But the Trojans suddenly caught fire from outside as Kyle Schueller came off the bench to hit a three-pointer and after a score by Chris Davis, Morrow hit back-to-back three's and Schueller hit another as SPJC took a 64-49 lead and the rout was on.

The Trojans continued to pile on the points as they tallied 58 points in the second half, most coming on fastbreak layups after the long-range onslaught.

Berry led SPJC with 17 points, while Schueller and Morrow finished with 14 points each, McMullen added 13 points and Lewis chipped in with 11 points. Lonnell West and Trevis Allen just missed double figures with eight points each.

The guard duo of Currington and Dennis Williams led the

In a make-up pick take the Raiders over the Dolphins

Welcome to Round Two my friends, we've had a bumpy start.

The Crystal Ball of Football was ice cold last week going 1-3 in the schedule. About 2 p.m. Sunday afternoon I was a wreck hoping for it all to just end.

This week things will be better, I promise. My wife is in Atlanta all weekend, so I have both the kids. Casey is pulling on my arm while Thor is asking me to play baseball. I'm about to have a nervous breakdown so let's get right to the schedule and find some winners.

MINNESOTA (-8) VS. NEW ORLEANS

The Aint's pulled a fast one on the Rammies last week and take the show on the road for this one. I'd love to see them beat the Vikings, but I'm afraid at some point the young quarterback Brooks will have to come back to Earth. I don't think he can keep up the miraculous performances he's been having, but I hope he does in this one. Vikings 31, Aint's 27.

OAKLAND (-8) VS. MIAMI

The Dolphins come limping into Oakland after beating the Colts last week. Indianapolis played a horrible game and Miami was able to capitalize. They won't be so lucky with the Raiders tasting a Super Bowl berth. This one will be over early giving Miami an opportunity to see some sights in California. Raiders 37, Dolphins 13.

TENNESSEE (-6) VS. BALTIMORE

If anyone can beat the Titans here it's the Ravens. They have the best defense I've seen since the Steelers' Iron Curtain. It's amazing what you can do with a bunch of criminals when you put them in uniforms and tell them to hurt an offense. McNair may have a chance in this one, it's tough to beat the Titans at home, but I really think this will be settled in the fourth quarter. TOO CLOSE TO CALL.

N.Y. GIANTS (-4) VS. PHILADELPHIA

It seems like I haven't seen the Giants play in months. They quietly won the Division and have been resting ever since. The Eagles are on Cloud Nine as their Cinderella season continues. I know how New York will play this game ... slowly. I don't expect a whole lot of scoring so don't be surprised if you fall asleep. As much as I hate to admit it, I don't think the Eagles have a chance. The rare scoring will keep it close, but the Giants will control the entire game. Giants 13, Eagles 6. Each week the Crystal Ball of Football releases his patented LOCK OF THE WEEK. This is the game that after research and contemplation, I feel most comfortable touting as a "sure thing."

Until last weekend we had been on fire ... I intend to make it up to you.

Today I'm going with the OAKLAND RAIDERS (-8) OVER THE MIAMI DOLPHINS. The Cheaters, I mean Raiders, are primed and ready to go. Coach Gruden has this team running on all cylinders and the fans in The Black Hole are foaming at the mouth. The Dolphins are lucky to have made it this far and will soon learn what I mean. Look for the Raiders' offense to open up on a Miami defense that has been given way too much credit.

Do you realize you can still attend a Raiders game for free if you turn in a handgun at the gate? The Raiders, their owner, their coach, and their fans are a different breed.

Enjoy your football this weekend and remember, everything else can wait!

Raiders

Just before the game was called a forfeit, the Indians' bus showed up and after a quick warm-up the game began at 3 p.m.

SCC evidently missed the opening horn as Chipola got the ball inside to Tasha Mathis (10 points), to take a 10-point lead, 12-2, before finally getting going.

Behind freshmen Yolanda Johnson and Brandi Davis and a smothering fullcourt defense, the Raiders started to cut into the lead, closing to within six points, 32-26, with five minutes left before halftime.

SCC then went on a 12-0 run to finish the half to take a 38-32 advantage at intermission.

The Raiders could not keep the momentum going in the second half, mostly because they could not take advantage at the free throw line, hitting just 5-of-11 over the final 20 minutes, including the front end of a one-and-one that would have sealed a victory.

Satoya Spates hit three three-pointers and scored 13 second half points, while Valerie Varney netted 11 points and Mathis eight more as the Indians took a five-point lead late in the game.

SCC tied the game on a three-pointer by Johnson and a driving layup by Narie Berggren, but Takesha Oden and Varney hit one free throw each to give Chipola a 71-69 lead with less than 30-seconds left.

The Raiders' sophomore leader, Shaketa "Kiki" Kindred, who was having an off day from the floor, took matters into her own hands and was fouled trying to get to the basket.

She ignored the hosts troubles at the charity stripe and calmly hit both free throws to send the game to overtime tied at 71-71.

The foul shooting troubles resurfaced for SCC in overtime, while the Indians were making six-of-eight from the stripe, and it proved to be the difference.

The Raiders missed their first five free throws of overtime and finished just one-of-six and also missed several opportunities to take the lead in the extra period and Chipola took advantage to build a 79-76 lead with only 7.1 seconds left.

SCC got the ball down court, but a three-pointer bounced off the backboard, dropping the hosts record to 13-5 on the season.

Mathis led the winners with 18 points, while Spates and Varney added 17 points each.

Johnson led all scorers with 21 points, with Kindred (12 points) and Gabrielle Blankenfeld (10 points) also scoring in double figures for the Raiders. Davis (eight), Berggren (seven), Erin Bradshaw, Sheri Harrison and Linda Cazeau (six points each) also scored for SCC, which finished 16-for-30 from the free throw line after going 10-for-13 in the first half.

The Raiders were to play a pair of games in South Florida this weekend (at Miami-Dade Community College on Saturday and Palm Beach Community College on Sunday) and will then travel to Tifton, Georgia to take on Abraham-Baldwin Agricultural College next Friday (Jan. 12) before returning home to host the Community College of Rhode Island on Sunday (Jan. 14) starting at 2 p.m. at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center.

Final Four appearance.

But this one was all Seminole as the local team took a 15-9 lead after one period and never looked back, building a 57-37 lead after three periods before the Eagles made a run against the Tribe's reserves and closed to within 10, 70-60, at the final horn.

Matia Mitchell, one of only three seniors on the Seminole roster, led the way with a game-high 23 points, while Jessie added 18 points, Gamble 10 points, senior Jamala Mitchell nine points and junior Grayson eight points.

Things figured to get tougher for the Tribe in the Championship Game as they faced a 12-0 Port St. Lucie quintet. But with the momentum gained from beating two undefeated teams under their belts and the trophy in sight, the Jaguars had no chance in the contest played at Indian River Community College.

Jessie scored six points and Jamala Mitchell five points as Seminole took a 15-6 lead after the first quarter, then started to pile it on, outscoring Port

St. Lucie 17-9 in the second quarter and 14-5 in the third period to lead 47-20.

The fourth period was a 13-13 draw, but the damage had been done as the Tribe walked away with an astounding 61-33 triumph.

Jessie was the only Seminole player in double figures with 23 points, but Grayson and Jamala Mitchell chipped in with nine points each.

LaShay King was the top scorer for the Jaguars with eight points.

Despite scoring just six points in the final game, Matia Mitchell was named the Most Valuable Player for the tournament because of her overall play throughout the event.

Jessie was a close second in the MVP voting and was also named to the All-Tournament Team. Seminole, now 13-4 on the season, was to have played at Satellite High School on Friday and will be at Lake Mary for a big game at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday (Jan. 9).

The Tribe will then play their first home games since before Christmas when they host Oviedo on Thursday and Eau Gallie on Friday. Both varsity contests are set to begin at 7:30 p.m. at Bill Fleming Memorial Gymnasium.

Racing for Glory

From Staff Reports

Racers from across the nation gather in Sanford during the New Year's weekend to participate in a Soap Box Derby Rally.

The Soap Box Derby is a youth racing program for boys and girls ages 9 through 16.

Rallies, like the one in Sanford, are held each year at race sites throughout the nation. Participants receive points based on how the finish at each rally, and at the end of the year, the racer with the most points advances to the national race held in Akron, Ohio.

The Sanford Recreation Department hosts several rallies each year at the city's Soap Box Derby Park, located off Reinhardt Road. The city will also host a local race on April 28 with winners in each division advancing to the race in Akron.

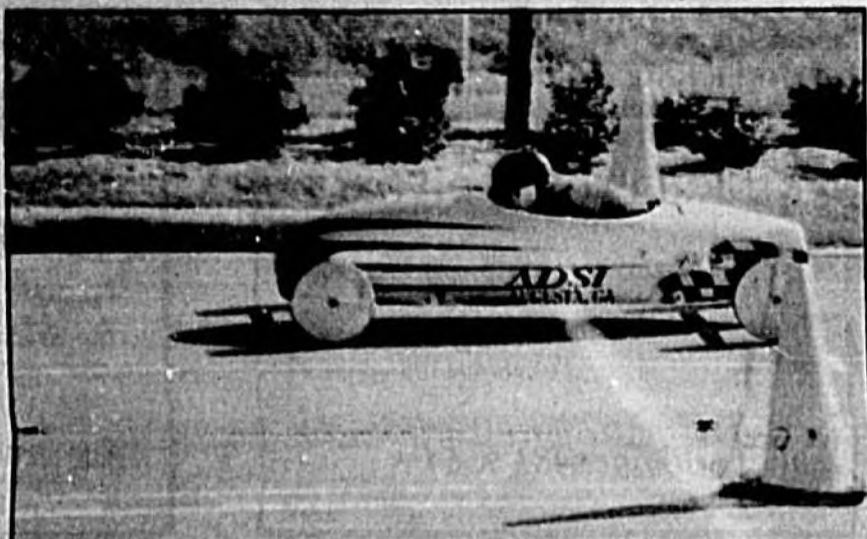

Norm Perry, regional director of the All-American Soap Box Derby, said those interested in competing should attend an informational meeting on Jan. 23 at 7 p.m. in Sanford City Hall. For more information about the meeting, Perry suggests contacting the recreation department at 407-330-5697.

Perry said Soap Box Derby is a unique program in that it encourages close parent-child activities while building and racing the car. He said the construction of the gravity race car reinforces the importance of setting and completing goals while developing traits, such as self-confidence, perseverance and craftsmanship. Parents can learn new abilities while teaching children proper use of tools. The youth is encouraged to do as much of the work as their level permits.

The Derby program is administered by the International Soap Box Derby, Inc., an Akron, Ohio based

On the Record

Mary Campbell discusses her duties as Lake Mary's deputy city clerk

Lake Mary Deputy City Clerk Mary Campbell has an outstanding attendance record for City Commission meetings. She's missed only two during the past six years, pretty impressive for a mother of three sons -- Adam, 30, Tom, 21 and Ian, 19. The Jacksonville native, who currently resides in Winter Springs, began working for the city 14 years ago as the city manager's secretary. As the city grew, so did her responsibilities. Six years ago, she became the city's deputy clerk, keeping the record straight for city commissioners, the city manager and anyone else in the community who wants to know what's happening in local government. Herald Managing Editor Michelle Jerla recently sat down with Campbell to find out what it's like to keep the record straight.

Q: What do you like most about being Lake Mary's deputy city clerk?
A: I love working for Carol (Lake Mary City Clerk). But, what I like mainly about the job is working with people. I am definitely a people person. I've been in public service for most of my life, and I really enjoy working for the city of Lake Mary.

Q: Every first and third Thursday evening of each month, you keep the minutes for City Commission meetings. What do you do during the weekdays?
A: I process all the occupational licenses and help the Parks and Recreation Department director. I also help people who come to City Hall needing information, and I cover other boards when I am needed.

Q: It sounds like a lot of work. What do you do in your spare time?
A: Housework and cook. I also spend time with my granddaughter, Reanna, who is 5.

Q: After spending so much time around politicians, do you ever think about getting into politics?
A: No, definitely not. I don't think that's me. I've never really been interested in politics, except when it comes to City Commission meetings.

Q: While we are talking about City Commission meetings, are you ever worried that you may write down something wrong?

A: Of course I worry. One time, a person told me I had taken down something wrong. But, then he said it wasn't what he meant even though it was what he said. Every meeting is recorded, and if something happens to the recorder, I do short hand. So, there really shouldn't be a problem.

Q: What's the oddest thing that has happened during a Commission meeting?
A: There's really never been something that was extremely odd. There have been times when people have said some odd or funny things. Sometimes, the commissioners even crack jokes and say things.

Q: Talking about the commissioners, do you have a favorite?
A: No, I have no favorites. (At this point during the interview, City Manager John Litton walked into Campbell's office). Actually, I think John is probably my favorite. But seriously, I like all of them. I really do.

Historical society accepting new members

The next meeting of the newly formed Lake Mary Historical Society Inc. is set for Thursday, Jan. 11, beginning at 7 p.m. in the Lake Mary Historical Museum. This is a very important meeting, as officers will be elected for the upcoming year. By joining the society, you will be taking an active role in helping preserve the history of Lake Mary and Central Florida.

Why a society when the city already has a Historical Commission? To put it simply, a historical commission is an advisory board for the city. A society is a non-profit organization with great fundraising and grant capabilities. For instance, the Seminole County Cultural Arts Council has a grant that is available to societies but not to commissions. Dues for the society are just $10 a year and $15 for family memberships. Other membership classes, such as life and students, are also available.

Girl Scouts Cookies Sales Have Begun

What do Ann Landers, Martha Stewart, Cathy Rigby, Rebecca Lobo and five U.S. Senators have in common? They were all Girl Scouts. Like today's Girl Scouts, these women learned to work as a team, set goals, improve math skills and polish their speaking abilities. How? By selling Girl Scout Cookies.

On Friday, Jan. 5, Girl Scouts in Lake Mary and throughout Central Florida began going door-to-door to take cookie orders. Cookies will be delivered at the beginning of February and booth sales will begin Feb. 10.

Why should you buy Girl Scout cookies? Well, besides the fact that the cookies are really good, to support Girl Scouts, of course. But, where does the money go? Part of the money from the sales goes directly to the troop. Part of it goes to the cookie company to pay for the cookies. And, the remainder goes to the Girl Scout Council.

So, what does the Girl Scout Council do with the money? A lot. Proceeds from the yearly cookie sales goes to support and the upkeep of the council properties, such as the Girl Scout camps. Because of cookie sales, troops can camp at Girl Scout camp cheaper than anywhere else, including state parks. Cookie money also keeps the cost of Girl Scout Summer Day Camps and Resident Camps affordable. Cookie money also goes to scouterships for those girls who need it. If a Girl Scout doesn't come to your door and you really want cookies, call the Girl Scout Council at 1-800-367-3906 and tell them what city you live in. They should be able to give you the name of a cookie mom near you.

DeSchepper, Boothe marry

Chantelle DeSchepper of Oldsmar and A. Darvin Boothe Jr., were recently married.

The bride is the daughter of Gayle and Graham Allen of New Lowell, Ontario, and Robert DeSchepper of Barrie, Ontario. The groom is the son of Mary Anne and Mack Cleveland of Longwood and Darvin Sr., and Chris Boothe of Orlando.

The traditional wedding ceremony was held in First United Methodist Church of St. Petersburg on Nov. 4.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Robert DeSchepper, and her step-father, Graham Allen. She wore a Canadian designed dress by Paloma Blanca in a natural French silk fabric with a full box pleated skirt and a boned bodice embroidered with crystals and pearls. Her veil was accented with matching silk trim. At the reception, the bride changed her headpiece to a pearl and crystal tiara.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses with heather.

Matron of honor was Taunja Dille. Bridesmaids were Rebekah Corley, Carrie Wicks and Shallen Hollingshead. The attendants wore sleeveless, scoop neck, slim, floor-length midnight blue gowns made of satin with matching gettette stalls and blue satin slippers. They wore petite matching earrings and necklaces that complimented the blue dresses.

The bouquets of lavender and white roses, purple estilbe and fern had cascading navy satin ribbon.

Best man was Robert Boothe, the groom's brother. Ushers included Jeff Austin, Anthony Knighton and Mark Wicks. Groomsman were Brent Brackin, Daniel DeSchepper and Rod Hollingsworth.

The couple took a wedding trip to San Francisco and currently reside in St. Petersburg, where the bride will graduate in Spring from the University of South Florida and the groom co-owns and is president of MISource Inc.

FOP sponsoring benefit ride

The Fraternal Order of Police, Lodge 121, is assembling a benefit bicycle ride for the families of police officers killed in the line of duty in the State of Florida. Money raised from this event will be given to the Concerns of Police Survivors (COPS), a non-profit organization designed to assist the families of slain officers. The officers will also be recognized during the event.

Everyone who enjoys bicycling is invited to participate. It will be held March 10, 2001, starting at 7:45 a.m. The route is from Bahama Breeze in Altamonte Springs, to Planet Hollywood at Walt Disney World. The ride has been developed for intermediate to expert riders, since the average speed is expected to be 15 miles per hour for approximately 34 miles. Traffic control and support units will be supplied.

For details or registration, visit the FOP web site at www.fop121.org.

Crooms Academy class celebrates reunion

Crooms Academy Class of 1953 held its reunion Dec. 28 to Dec. 31. It's been 47 years since the class of 1953 marched down the halls of dear Ol' Crooms Academy.

Former students toured the new Crooms Academy under the new principalship of Connie Collins, who proudly led the alumni on the last tour before the academy will be torn down and rebuilt as a school of information technology, a dedicated magnet high school. After a tour of the campus that brought back memories, the class prepared for the planned luncheon.

Former principals, teachers and Crooms Academy Class of 1953 gathered for the teachers appreciation luncheon held at the Best Western Marina Hotel Lakeside Landing Room.

As guests gathered and began to meet and greet classmates, teachers and former principals, the setting was the view of the St. Johns River — old memories for many.

Class of '53 President Lemuel Stallworth presided with audience participation as "Lift Every Voice and Sing" with Sylvia H. Stallworth at the console.

Invocation and grace was given by the Rev. Franklin

Caldwell of Virginia. Bettye Roberts Washington welcomed her classmates and guests to the four-day celebration.

Greetings from the city of Sanford were given by the honorable Velma H. Williams, city commissioner, District 2. She spoke about the progress of the city and what is expected in 2001.

Teachers, classmates and guest dined and chatted as lunch was served to more than 50 people in attendance. The lunch consisted of roast beef, chicken breast, green beans, wild rice, potatoes, salad, bread and butter and ice tea.

After a delicious meal, the class sang their class song, "The Halls of Ivey." Presentations were made to former principals Dr. Barbara K. Bentley, Dr. Benedetta Black, and Connie Collins; teachers Jackie Lawson, Nathalie Crooms Jenkins, and C.B. Franklin. Other guests receiving gifts were Roberta Fairson, Steven Jenkins, Kenneth Bentley, Dr. Velma Williams, and the Honorable Congressman Alyce Hastings. The presentations were made by classmate Derry McGill Jr.

Words of thanks were made by the honored principals and teachers.

Words of wisdom came from former teacher and historian Mrs. N.C. Jenkins. She reminded the guests of many memories that are held dear to all alumni of Crooms Academy.

Coach C.B. Franklin shared his memories of various football games and alumni who played football in the 1950s.

A musical tribute to the honorees was beautifully performed by Betty Roberts Washington and Sylvia H. Stallworth "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You."

Dorothy Kendrick Baker introduced the speaker of the hour, Mother Ruby Doe Williams, an alumna of the Class of 1953.

She told us that it is not finished, rather it has just begun. In the 1950s, we knew the teachers loved us, they cared for us, and we respected our teachers and one another. She carried us back into the years at Crooms Academy and through the years when the Class of '53 graduates became teachers in the schools they attended. Truly the speaker walked us through the history of our 47 years of life in the educational arena of Seminole County.

At the close of her dynamic message, Crooms Academy alumni stood and sang the school song "Dear Ol' Crooms

1999, a year full of good times and memories

Millennium memories are being shared in today's column. The past years reflects a lot of sadness for many while others recall a happy, happy year.

Jean Metts, executive director of Seminole Volunteer Enterprises Inc., has been a hard-working community activist for years. Jean has a passion for charitable endeavors and a nose that directs her down the path to the needy.

This past holiday season was extra-special to Jean. "Being involved with the Marine Corps and fire department was the nicest thing to happen to me all year," she said.

Jean told about how the Marines and fire department union united at her facility to distribute toys to 1,700 children in the Toys For Tots program. Each child received three toys and a stuffed stocking in a heart-warming setting. She said she is looking forward to helping with this program again next year. "There are so many needy people out there," she said.

This year, Jean has had a struggle trying to put the pieces together to do what her organization was allowed in the operation of a so-called "soup kitchen." Today, she proudly announces that the stove has been hooked up and meals for the needy resumed on Jan. 5.

The Sanford community grew by leaps and bounds last year and the opening of a theater led to cultural enrichment in downtown Sanford. The 79-year-old Ritz Theater was removed from moth balls to be restored to a state-of-the-art project.

Chief grant writer Helen Stairs raised nearly $2 million to restore and refurbish the old Sanford landmark. What a sweet surprise for Helen when she learned the plush edifice was renamed in her honor.

Natalie Weld will well remember the millennium. After winning the "Miss Heart of Florida Pageant," the talented red-headed beauty dusted off her britches, pulled up her boot straps and trucked — er, danced that is — straight to the Big Apple to audition for a Broadway show.

The show choreographer and director, Luis Perez Jr., is also a product of the local School of Dance Arts, of which Natalie's mom, Valerie Weld and Aunt Miriam Doktor, operate. Incidentally, the two mentors and teachers will also never forget the year, nor will they ever stop smiling over their Natalie's success.

Laurie Hartson, her hub, Lt. Michael Hartson and their adorable, spoiled "babies," two miniature dachshunds, have arrived in Ramstein, Germany where he will be flying airplanes for his uncle — Uncle Sam, that is — for the next three years. The young couple are eyeing a five-bedroom flat to accommodate all the visits they expect from family and friends. Happy 2001. y'all have fun

Betty Jack was a tad apprehensive at being elected prez of the prestigious Sanford Woman's Club for the 2000-2002 term — a big job and a lot of responsibility. But she is all smiles today. The 83-year old organization is probably the largest club in Sanford while membership in other clubs has declined, the SWC has an infusion of "new blood" to enhance the present roster of talented women.

Keep smiling, Betty.

The Rev. Jim Bradshaw, his wife Anne, and their two children are thrilled with the Sanford community. Pastor Jim took over the reins of the First United Methodist Church in June and has received no less than rave reviews from the appreciative congregation.

Jackie Caolo couldn't be happier with 2000. This year will be remembered as the year that her daughter, Susan Boot, and her family from The Netherlands landed in America — make that Sanford — to stay, hopefully. The family, who lived in The Netherlands for 10 years, has already made a big hit on the Sanford scene where they have been accepted with open arms.

The Christmas tree at the home of Mary and Barry Hillman groaned from the weight of all the exquisitely-packaged gifts. Who has the time to do all that shopping? The secret is that most of the gifts were purchased when the Hillmans spent many hours Christmas shopping while touring Alaska last summer.

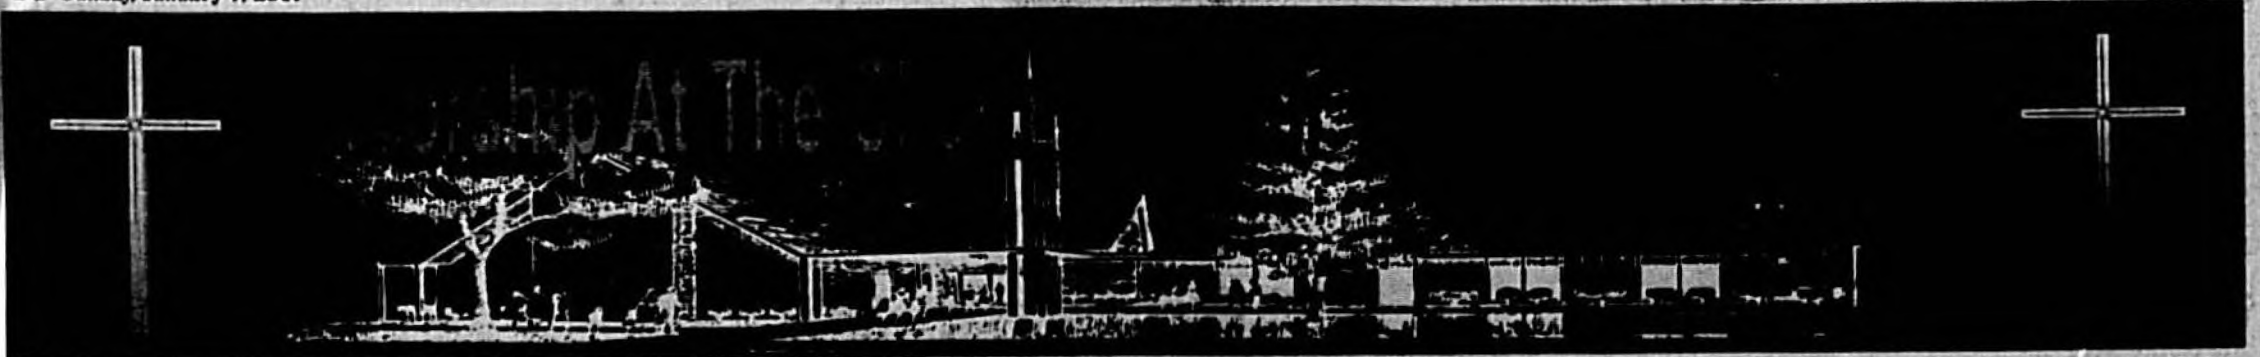

The stork was in serious competition with the turkey on Thanksgiving Day when a baby girl was delivered to Susan and Frederic Gaines III.

Grandparents, as proud as peacocks, blessed with the bundle of joy are Pat and Sanford City Commissioner Whitey Eckstein and Ruth and Fred Gaines, all of Sanford.

Death claimed Ethel Carver, 94, who moved to Sanford shortly after her marriage in Georgia to John in September, 1924. The devoted couple made their home in Sanford during their entire marriage. They celebrated their 76th wedding anniversary in September before her death in December.

Ethel once said she couldn't imagine "life without John." Just as in the popular song, Ethel's philosophy is summed up in the popular song, "Stand by Your Man."

It finally happened in October. Dr. Frank Glantz and his beloved Jean gave up their only daughter — in holy matrimony, that is. Lisa became the beautiful bride of Steve Gelmine on Oct. 14. The couple are living happily ever after in

Churchgoers slam dull sermons

The pastor woke up with the flu on Sunday morning. It was too late to get another minister to fill in, so one of the church's laymen led the service.

But what about the sermon? Who was going to preach? With nobody available, it was decided that the congregation would do without the sermon.

Then a strange thing happened. When it was announced that there would be no sermon, the congregation broke out in spontaneous applause.

Do many churchgoers react that way to sermons? Father Andrew Greeley, the Catholic sociologist and author, once wrote a column in which he said, "I can tell you what bothers most Catholics about church. It's the sermon." The column touched a sensitive cord.

"The outpouring of letters from the laity in response to that column," said Greeley, "may not have been a scientific sample, but the sheer volume of it leaves no doubt about how the average Catholic feels about sermons."

One of Greeley's correspondents suggested a "worst sermon contest."

"There would be awards," said the writer, "for all-round worst sermon, longest, dullest, most inane, most juvenile, least comprehensible and most point-less." "Winners," the writer suggested, "would be locked up in a room where they would have to listen to tapes of their sermons played over and over."

Protestant sermons often don't fare any better with the people in the pews. Jokes about boring sermons abound. Perhaps the best-known story concerns the minister who paused during his discourse to instruct an usher to wake a man in one of the pews who had fallen asleep.

"You wake him," the usher replied. "You put him to sleep."

There is another joke about the minister who didn't have time to prepare his Sunday sermon, so he preached a sermon from one of Harry Emerson Fosdick's books of sermons.

After the service was over, one of his parishioners complimented the preacher.

"That was a great sermon," the man said. "It ought to be published."

"It has been," the minister replied.

Some churchgoers think it wouldn't be such a bad idea for most ministers to "steal" their sermons from books of "Best Sermons" — or, in any case, to make liberal use of sermon outlines and illustrations that are published under such camou-flagged titles as "The Minister's Manual" or "Resources of Inspiration."

"At least we would get a good sermon every Sunday," says one disgruntled churchgoer. "Who cares if most of it was plagiarized?"

Greeley himself suggested that Catholics bothered by bad sermons send their pastors a subscription to "one of the moderately good homiletic services."

One of the biggest criticisms of sermons is that they are too long. One critic proposes a 12-minute limit on sermons. Yet some of the best preachers have held forth in the pulpit for 30 to 40 minutes and left their congregations begging for more.

One of these was the late Rabbi Daniel Silver of The Temple in Cleveland. "In our world," said Silver, "there are few subjects that can be polished over in 10 minutes. Despite our passion for instant coffee and instant success, sermons that are over in an instant are rarely worth listening to."

Silver's temple was filled every Sabbath.

(By the way, I took Greeley's suggestion and gave my pastor a subscription to the Homiletical Review as a Christmas present. It is filled every month with sermon illustrations, stories and ideas for sermons. I'll let you know the results — if any.)

Unkissed teen wonders if she should be like friends

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem. All my friends have started having sex, and

I haven't even been kissed yet. I'm beginning to think that maybe I should tell guys I'm experienced, so I can have sex and be like my friends. What do you think?

Dear Abby

OUT IN THE COLD UP NORTH

DEAR OUT IN THE COLD: I think it's a bad idea. You should thank your lucky stars you haven't been subjected to the pressure that your friends have. Being a teenager is tough enough without worrying about getting a sexually transmitted disease or accidentally becoming pregnant.

I can think of no worse reason to have sex than the fear that you're being left out. While we're on the subject of sex, read on for an eye-opener:

DEAR ABBY: After reading the letters in your column concerning teens and safe sex or abstinence, I sometimes chuckle at the naivete of parents.

Yes, it's mandatory to have frank discussions with your children about sex, birth control, abstinence — all of it. Sharing whatever moral values you want to pass on to them is extremely important. However, having been a teen-ager and then a college student, I think it is naive to think that young adults make important decisions about sex only when they are sober.

The truth is, many of my friends lost their virginity at a party and barely remembered the experience. When alcohol or drugs are introduced into a social situation, a normally mature young adult may not make decisions wisely.

Abby, please remind parents how important it is to talk to their sons and daughters about alcohol, drugs, and finding themselves in party situations. The combination of alcohol and sex really can be dangerous.

REALISTIC IN MAINE

DEAR REALISTIC: You're absolutely right. American culture abounds in images that link alcohol with romance and celebration, from movies to television shows to romantic images portrayed in alcohol advertising.

According to the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol and Drug Information, teen-age girls who drink are more likely to have unprotected sex than those who do not drink.

Sexually active teens who average five or more alcoholic drinks daily are three times less likely to use condoms — placing them at greater risk for sexually transmitted diseases including AIDS. Binge drinkers appear to engage in more unplanned sexual activity than students who do not binge-drink.

Researchers estimate that alcohol use is involved in up to two-thirds of cases of sexual assault and acquaintance or date-rape among teens and college students. A survey of high school students found that 18 percent of females and 39 percent of males (a frightening statistic!) say it is acceptable for a boy to force sex if the girl is stoned or drunk.

Remembering Theodosius

By Nick Pfeiffert
Staff Writer

We are about to reach the anniversary of the birth of Theodosius the Great, born at Cauca, Gallaecia, Spain on Jan. 11, 347.

This happened a long time ago, and while most of us haven't heard of him, he helped establish modern Christianity — from the Romans, who had gods for just about any purpose, to modern the belief in one god.

In the year 379, Theodosius was summoned by the emperor Gratian to become emperor of the East. Approximately one year after assuming the post, Theodosius, without consulting with the religious leaders in his area, issued an edict that made the Nicene Creed (in which God the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit are all of the same substance) binding on all subjects.

Only those who accepted it would be considered Christians. This was the first recorded use of that designation.

Theodosius engaged in a continuing struggle with the west for power. He prohibited pagan worship, but the various emperors of the west had strong connections with pagan aristocracy. The two sides came to blows in 394, but Theodosius came out the victor in September of that year. It was considered a divine victory in which the Christian God had triumphed over the Roman gods.

Theodosius died in January, 395.

non-profit corporation. All Soap Derby cars must be built to specifications established by the All-American as outlined in the official rule book published for the current year's race season.

There are three divisions of Soap Box Derby racing. They are:

• Stock Division — This is a sit-up type car intended for the novice racer to introduce them to the derby experience. The car is built from a kit, which includes a one-piece plastic body shell, precut and drilled floorboards, predrilled axles and complete instructions. Wheels are not included.

Completed construction time for a novice builder is estimated at four to six hours. Age limit is 9 through 16. Weight limit is 200 pounds: car, child and wheels.

• Superstock Division — This kit is intended for the larger child and is designed like the stock car kit. Assembly time is around six hours. Weight limit is 230 pounds: car, child, and wheels. Age limit is 9 through 16.

• Masters Division — The car may be built as a sit-up or lay-down type car. The car is intended for the more experienced and older youths. The Masters car can be designed by the entrant, (as long as it conforms to specifications), or you can use the Masters' kit purchased from the All American. Construction time depends on the construction method used. Age is 11 to 16. Weight is 250 pounds: car, child, and wheels.

Celebrating the Romanian way

Romania's cuisine was somewhat influenced by the other people that lived on its territory such as the ethnic Hungarians, Russians, and Germans that are still living in the middle and western parts of Romania. In the past, the south-east territory of Romania was under Turkish rule for many hundreds of years and there still considerable influences.

Sica Nacu

Dishes such as sarma (le), moussaka, baklava, sarigii, mititei, haiva, and rahat are clearly Turkish in origin. Also, some Greek, Slavic and French influences are felt.

Before the Communist took over in 1945, the cuisine of Romania was rather rich. Even poorer people had ingenious ways of preparing tasty food. Food of all kinds was plentiful and rather inexpensive. Even in the first 20 years of communism the food situation was not all that bad. After that, it became worse and worse. That translates into long food lines, insufficient and inferior food and a general atmosphere of frustration. The best food products were exported to western countries and the natives were left to struggle. Today, the majority of Romanians are starting to eat better, healthier food while still maintaining their traditional rich food for special occasions. And they are never lacking in special occasions, real or invented.

During celebrations for special occasions the host will do his/her best to make the party a successful one. Some people prefer celebrating with family. Others prefer a festive environment. Each has a different menu.

Menu 1

- Aspic in small molds
- Stuffed baguette
- Stuffed eggs
- Soup in cup with pastries
- Stuffed turkey
- Stuffed back or breast of veal
- Assorted vegetables
- Merengues

Almond cake

• Aspic in small molds: For this kind preparation, prepare aspic, ham, boiled tongue, baked chicken livers, stuffed eggs, poached fish. For garnish: olives, peas, cucumbers cut in various shapes, egg whites for flower petals, boiled carrots, red peppers, parsley. You may use tart molds.

Fill the molds 1/3 full with aspic and refrigerate for them to gel. For instance, place a small parsley leaf, 3 peas in a semicircle or triangle, a slice of boiled egg, a sardine and a slice of baked chicken liver in the middle.

In another mold, place a daisy made out of hard boiled egg white with the middle made out of boiled carrot. Place a thin layer of aspic on top. When the edges are gelled, place a parsley leaf, a piece of boiled tongue and an olive.

Garnish the rest of the molds according to your taste. After the molds have been filled another 1/3 full with liver, fish, smoked tongue, fill to the top with liquid aspic and refrigerate so that they gel well. When serving, turn onto small plates and decorate to taste.

• Stuffed baguettes: Mix 7 oz./200 g creamed butter, 2 25 oz./60 g poultry liver previously fried in oil, 4 oz./100 g olives, 4 oz./100 g lean ham, 1/2 pickled pepper. All these are first twice. Mix with 1 tube fish paste, 1 teaspoon mustard, pepper to taste, 3 hard boiled eggs chopped roughly, 1 roughly chopped pickle, 1/2 red and 1/2 yellow pickled pepper (both thinly sliced) and a teaspoon of chopped parsley. Remove the soft insides of a white baguette, stuff the mixture in and refrigerate for 5 to 6 hours. Then cut finger thick slices.

• Stuffed eggs: Peel and halve 6 hard boiled eggs (or as many eggs as guests). Mix the 6 yolks with 1 teaspoon mustard, salt, 2 raw yolks and 5 oz./150 g oil poured slowly. Mix this sauce with some baked or boiled chicken breasts or chopped ham and chopped pickles. Add salt and pepper to taste. Use this mixture to fill (overfill) the egg whites. Garnish with lettuce.

• Soup in cups with pastries:

Make a soup out of turkey bones, a piece of beef breast, one marrow bone, a lot of vegetables. Let the soup clarify and serve in cups with pastries.

• Pastries: Make a French dough out of flour, water, salt, replacing the butter with cold pork fat, or margarine. Roll and fold the sheet 4 times. After that, roll the sheet, cut into small squares, place some filling made out of ground meat, or liver with chopped soup vegetables and 1 egg. Cover each square with another dough square and make sure the edges are firmly sticking together. Bake.

• Stuffed turkey: Remove the skin and bones from 1 small chicken and grind a few times with very little veal or pork and with a white bread slice soaked in milk and squeezed. Mix everything with 2 egg yolks, salt, chopped greens, a tablespoon of peas, pepper, beaten egg whites (2). Use this mixture to stuff the turkey, sew it well. Boil it for a few minutes. Then place in a roasting pan with some fat, wine, pepper berries. Roast and baste with the pan drippings.

• Stuffed back or breast of veal: Take 3 lb. breast or back of veal, remove ligaments and bones, salt flatten with a wooden hammer, spread with mustard and pepper, then refrigerate. Then, grind several times 8 oz pork and 8 oz veal. Add 1 teaspoon of chopped and fried onion, pepper, salt, 2 whole eggs, 1/4 pint cold water, 2 crushed garlic cloves, 1 teaspoon sardine paste. Mix everything well. Spread this mixture on the veal breast/back. Roll. Wrap in parchment paper and tie with string. Put it to boil for 2 hours in a large pan with water, salt and soup vegetables. It is done when you can easily insert a toothpick. Place it between two wood boards and weigh it down. When it is pressed well and cold, remove the paper, slice and serve with tartar sauce.

• Assorted vegetables: Place the roast slices in the middle of a platter and surround with mounds of vegetables: mashed potatoes, peas, sauteed carrots and pickled beets. If you have excess filling from the stuffed turkey, make in into a roll and roast in the same pan with the turkey. Slice and arrange in between mounds of vegetables. Serve with pickled cucumbers, peppers and green tomatoes.

• Merengues: Beat eight egg whites with 10 oz./300g confectioner's sugar and vanilla until stiff. Place the mixture into a pastry bag. Pipe little mounds onto a waxed baking pan. Bake at a slow heat.

Continued from Page 3C Academy." How proud the alumni, teachers, former students and well-wishers are to sing the song of the Orange and Maroon. Yes we sing we will always fight for thee and strive for thee, we'll honor and adore, we'll live for thee and toll until we reach the golden shore.

To give us more strength for the journey, closing words of wisdom were given by Crooms alumni the Honorable Congressman Alyce Hastings, who challenged the class and the citizens that while we should accept our strengths, there is still room for more changes. We must love and accept the challenges God has for our lives.

Congressman Hastings pledged his support to the success of Crooms Academy.

Reunion activities for a successful weekend were dinner and entertainment aboard the Rivership Romance on Friday evening. A family picnic was held Saturday, and Sunday morning worship services were held at St. Matthew Missionary Baptist Church, the Rev.

Leonard J. Wilson, pastor.

The Class of '53 continues to carry their class motto: "Not Finished, Just Begun." The class colors are Pea Green and Pink; the class flower is the Phoenix Ruebelin you guessed (a Palm).

Principal Connie Collins spoke at the luncheon held for the Class of 1953. She gave a brief history of the New Crooms Academy School of Information Technology. The new magnet school will be located on the site of the present Crooms Academy and will provide cutting-edge innovations in both teaching and learning through a technology enriched academic environment.

Collins said students will engage in a rigorous and relevant academic curriculum in order to secure admittance to college. There will be a demand for skilled workers in a technology labor market.

Students graduating from Crooms Academy will earn a high school diploma, can earn college credits, as well as numerous nationally recognized technology related certifications. Students can also earn a Florida Academic and/or Gold Seal scholarship.

As part of their curriculum, students will receive a personal electronic portfolio of their work, will work on a senior capstone project and perform an internship with a local technology business.

Many more opportunities are available to students at the new Crooms Academy of Technology. To see plans or for more information, visit Crooms on West 13th Street, or call 407-320-5750 or 407-320-0458.
