Hudson out as SHA director

Interim director hired, board members resign

By Dan Ping Editor

SANFORD — Federal agents seized the Sanford Housing Authority's financial records Friday morning as three members of the authority's lame-duck board approved a resolution transferring daily operation of the agency to an interim director. The board also placed the housing authority's current director, Timothy Hudson, on administrative leave until April 20, the date his resignation takes effect. The decision ends

Hudson's control of SHA.

His legal woes may have just begun, however. Agents from the FBI and the Inspector General's Office seized SHA records and will determine if criminal charges should be filed.

A lengthy investigation last month by the Department of Housing and Urban Development resulted in SHA being named a "troubled agency," and HUD officials cited Hudson's mismanagement and the SHA board's lack of oversight as key factors.

Friday's actions follow two days of whirlwind activity that began Wednesday night with the Sanford City Commission approving an agreement to accept the resignation of four of the five board members. The fifth board member, Ida Stephens, resigned earlier in the week. The agreement allows board members to serve until April 30, albeit with substantial restrictions.

The date was a sticking point for City Commissioners Whitey Eckstein and Randy Jones. Wednesday's meeting was supposed to be an evidence hearing to consider whether the SHA board should be removed. Both Eckstein and Jones pushed to reject the agreement, saying board members had failed to take appropriate action to correct problems at the housing authority.

"Let's get started tomorrow morning getting rid of Ms. Revonda Thomas' rats," Eckstein said. "We need an immediate change."

School board concerned about state's voucher bill

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

SANFORD — Several Seminole County School Board members believe Florida's public education system is under attack from state legislators.

Following a trip to the state's capital, several board members returned to the county with a low opinion of several bills currently making their way through the Florida House and Senate. "It is not a pretty picture," Board Chairman Sandra Robinson said during Tuesday's School Board meeting. "I am not in the least bit optimistic. I feel public education in Florida is being attacked."

Bandy Robinson, Seminole County School Board Chairwoman, said she believes

Kathy Andrews helps teen-ager obtain dental work

By Michelle Jeria Managing Editor

A smile means a lot to Kathy Andrews.

So, when the Winter Springs native noticed 17-year-old Marie Neide Leres dos Santos of Brazil didn't smile for photographs, Andrews wanted to find out why.

"I thought it was odd that she never smiled," Andrews said. "I thought maybe she had bad teeth."

She was right. Now, with some financial help from Andrews, the Brazilian teen-ager is no longer shy about showing off her pearly whites.

Andrews, who doesn't have any children of her own, began a long distance correspondence with Santos five years ago after she decided to become a Christian Children's Fund sponsor.

"I saw an advertisement on TV, and I thought it would be something neat to do," Andrews said. "They show you the children in their bare feet and the thatched huts they live in, and it isn't a hard sell." The Christian Children's

Johnson settles into director's job

By Joe DeSantis Staff Writer

SANFORD — Oregon and Central Florida may lie more than 3,000 miles apart, but Seminole County's new Public Works Director Gary Johnson sees a great degree of similarity between the two.

"There's a number of parallels between what is transpiring out west and what is going on in Seminole County," observed Johnson, settling in to his third full week on the job.

"Managing the work, monitoring resources and personnel, and funding challenges are almost identical mirror images between State government and local government.

Johnson has a great deal of experience in both.

Prior to signing on the first week of March as the County's new Public Works Director, Johnson served five years as Region Manager at the Oregon Department of Transportation's Region 2 in Salem. There, he was responsible for more than 500 employees and an annual operational budget of $60 million with construction contracts valued at $65-75 million per year. He also rode herd over 1,800 miles of state road projects in the Region 2 area. Johnson has spent more than 25 years in the public sector including a stint as City Engineer for Pinellas Park, Fla. He is a Certified Professional Engineer and holds a B.S. in Engineering from Stevens Institute of Technology in New Jersey. "During my first week I attended a Seminole County Commission meeting and a meeting of local Mayors dealing with the penny referendum for schools and roads," he said.

"It's refreshing to see the cooperation across municipal and County boundaries. It kind of validates my decision to come here. Already I'm comforted that I made the right choice about working for Seminole County."

Johnson said one of the biggest challenges of his posi-

Casselberry man named Fire Marshal of the Year

The Florida Cabinet honored 13 of the state's Fire and Emergency Service Professionals Tuesday. Among them was Bart Wright, with the city of Casselberry, who was named Florida Fire Marshal of the Year.

The presentation was made by Governor Jeb Bush and State Treasurer Tom Gallagher, who also serves as State Fire Marshal.

"Firefighters and emergency service professionals put their lives on the line to protect our families, friends and neighbors," Gallagher said. "The individuals we've honored here today represent some of the state's finest.

Wright has been employed as a Fire Inspector with the city of Casselberry since April, 2000. Previously he was Deputy Fire Chief/Fire Marshal for the City of Maitland.

He is also the current chairman for the Central Florida Fire Marshal's Association, and has been with the organization since 1994.

In the resolution naming Wright as Fire Inspector of the Year, he is credited with being instrumental in maintaining the high level of instruction provided at the Central Florida Emergency Services Institute, particularly while serving as coordinator for the Fire Safety Inspector/Continuing Education Program.

He has an exceptional positive attitude toward his responsibilities and is highly self-motivated and excited about his role in the fire service, continually looking for new ways to improve the existing programs.

SEMINOLE SUMMARY

A GLANCE AROUND OUR COUNTY

Easter reflections: Why a bunny?

Some, for that matter, probably most people often wonder why Easter moves from day to day over the years. This year, it's April 15. In 2002 it will be March 31. In 2003 Easter will be observed on April 20, and in the year 2004 it will be April 11.

Nick Pfeifauf

The date is established from the lunar calendar; the first Sunday following the first ecclesiastical full moon on or after March 21, but between March 22 and April 25. The Council of Nicaea (AD 325) prescribed that Easter be celebrated on the Sunday after Passover, as that feast's date had been established in Jesus' time. After 1582, when Pope Gregory XIII introduced the Gregorian calendar, Orthodox Christians continued to use the Julian calendar, so Easter can sometimes be as much as five weeks apart in the Western and Eastern churches. This year however, Easter falls on the same date for both churches.

The day commemorates the Resurrection of Christ. The resurrection was first discovered when women discovered the empty tomb with the stone rolled back, at sunrise. Therefore, we have sunrise services.

Many communities and churches will be having sunrise services and while it may seem early to get up, while it's still dark, it is a once-a-year event and for Christians, one which should be honored. (You can catch up on the missing sleep later, while the kids are hunting for eggs). One city, Winston-Salem, N.C., has Moravian bands marching up and down the streets before dawn, to awaken people for the event, specifically the Moravian Easter Resurrection Sunday.

Back in the second century, shortly after the start of Christianity, in many cases, Christians would be arrested, even killed for observing a celebration in honor of Christ. Therefore, they would schedule their observances on a date when pagan celebrations were held and could use that as an excuse.

One of them was called Eastre, the name of one of the Anglo-Saxons' goddesses, thus the origin of the name. The event, held in the Spring, included pagan feasts, dancing in the streets and all types of goings-on.

The earthly symbol of Eastre was the rabbit. Thus, the Easter Bunny. The tradition of the Easter Bunny was accredited to having been brought to this country by the Germans shortly after the Civil War.

From the earliest times of Christianity, the egg was a symbol of rebirth. They were therefore given as gifts. Christians, mostly poor folks, couldn't afford to give anything of value, but most of them had chickens. Richer people often wrapped eggs in gold leaves. Poorer people colored them brightly by boiling them with the leaves or petals of certain flowers tied around them. (Personal note — try boiling eggs wrapped in various colors of onion skins, secured with a rubber band — it'll surprise you).

Hopefully, if you've read this far, you now know why Easter's dates move around, why we have the Easter Bunny and colored Easter Eggs. Heck, I learn a great deal just by researching for columns such as this. Now, go to your place of worship and learn the true meaning of the observance.

Have a happy Easter.

Tips for cops

Seminole County Sheriff's Deputy Sherrell Donlan accepts a donation from Red Lobster customer Susan McHaffie during the Tip A Cop event held to raise money for the Special Olympics.

Friends in high places? Local school board members were jolted when freshman state Rep. David Mealor, the low-key former mayor of Lake Mary, took a high-profile stance on the school voucher issue. Some of Mealor's campaign literature featured a picture of Seminole County Superintendent Paul Haggerty, and School Board member Larry Furlong endorsed Mealor. Days after taking office, however, Mealor not only showed support for vouchers, he co-sponsored a bill that sets aside money from the state's general fund to be used specifically for private schools. That's not sitting well with local school officials, especially in a tight budget year. Mealor allegedly told the chairman of the School Board, Sandy Robinson, "You have no friends up here," referring to the legislators' preference for vouchers over increased funding for public schools. "We may not have any friends in Tallahassee, but he's sure losing them down here," Furlong said. "I've never seen anybody who forgot so fast and so much after promising to so many. (Speaker of the House Tom) Feeney's got him on a string. He's told Mealor if he wants to rise in the Republican leadership, he's got to do Feeney's bidding for him on school vouchers." Furlong is so incensed about Mealor's flip-flop, he wrote a poem titled "Ode to a new State Representative." While the Clock isn't ready to dub Furlong the new poet laureate of Seminole County, the second-term school board member does receive points for creativity:

"Dirty David Mealor, Promised to be a public school healer, 'No more for vouchers,' he swore, But now he's giving away the store, He's just a liar, a stooge and a stealer."

Dean on the move. Used appliance king Dean Ray said he's given up his political aspirations, at least for now, to concentrate on his business dealings. Ray, who owned 11 appliance stores in Detroit, has his eye on the old Heilig Meyers building on 17/92. He's prepared to make an offer on the facility, provided he can work out all the details with the city. That may take some doing. Community development director Charles Rowe said he hasn't heard formally from Ray, and the building has some problems: no sprinkler system, and a sewer easement running under the building. Ray, the eternal optimist, said he thinks the problems can be overcome. Time will tell.

Switching tickets. Andrew Van Gaale, the promising young Democrat who ran unsuccessfully against County Commissioner Grant Maloy, has joined the ranks of the Republican Party. Evidently, Van Gaale has decided that the best way to get elected is from the right side of the ticket. He's by no means the first County Commissioner Carlton Henley was a long-time Democrat before switching parties. It's interesting then, that Henley's seat is the one Van Gaale is reportedly coveting. The political wags around the county say Van Gaale will challenge Henley in the next Republican primary. Whatever the outcome, Seminole County Democrats must be wondering what they can do to keep good young prospects from bolting to the GOP. If it keeps up, Bob Poe, Harry Jacobs and Dean Ray will be the only Democrats in the county come November 2004.

School Bus driver charged
Oviedo police and firemen were called to Alafaya Woods Blvd. and Shaffer Trail Wednesday afternoon in response to a traffic accident. When they arrived they found a vehicle had collided with a utility/light pole, knocking it down, with live electric wires still attached. The driver was able to exit his vehicle and was uninjured. Police found a second vehicle reportedly involved was a Seminole County School Bus, which had left the scene. The driver of the bus, Michelle F. Rivers, 28, subsequently returned to the scene. Police said the bus had apparently pulled into oncoming traffic and the car, which had the right-of-way, struck the pole to avoid hitting the bus. After Rivers returned to the scene with the bus, she was charged with violation of right-of-way at an intersection, failure to give information at an accident scene, and leaving the scene of an accident with property damage. Damage to the car was estimated at $2,500.

Traffic Stops
• Miguel Angel Diaz, 41, Regal Point Terrace, Lake Mary, was arrested by Florida Highway Patrol troopers Sunday. Diaz had reportedly been involved in a head-on crash at Lake Mary Boulevard and Lake Emma Road. Diaz was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol.
• Brian Patrick Ward, 32, Stonebrook drive, Sanford, was stopped Saturday by Sanford police on West Lake Mary Boulevard. He was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, reckless driving, and driving with a suspended license.

• Vincent Eugene Foster, 25, of West 15th Street, Sanford, was arrested at the Sanford police station Saturday. He was charged with driving with a suspended license, possession of an open container in a parked vehicle, possession of under 20 grams of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia, and introduction of cocaine to a correctional facility.

Domestic Cases
• Todd David Abbott, 34, Hidden Arbor Court, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police at his residence Saturday following a reported altercation with a female. He was charged with battery, domestic violence.
• Maury Antwon Ivy, 21, of Delray Beach, was arrested by deputies on Bieder Avenue in Sanford Saturday, after a reported dispute with his father. He was charged with battery, domestic violence.
• Neville Devone Fuller, 25, Ellen Place, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Saturday in William Clark Court after an altercation with a female. He was charged with battery.

• Jimmie Lee Saddler, 54, Drew Avenue, Sanford, was arrested by Sanford police Monday at his residence after a reported fight with his wife. He was charged with battery, domestic violence.

Concealed weapons
Sanford police arrested Henry Lee Johnson, 51, and Jordan Lee Carmichael, 25, both of San Marcos Avenue in Sanford, near their residence. Responding to a third call regarding a disturbance in the area during the past few days, they investigated and found both men in possession of a knife. Each was charged with carrying a concealed weapon (knife), disturbing the peace, and resisting an officer without violence.

Banfield Funeral Home
Family Owned & Serving Central Florida Since 1989
We are alarmed by the decision of some corporate-owned funeral homes to remove PreNeed trust funds from the Trust. Florida Law does allow a funeral home to buy a bond in lieu of depositing PreNeed funds in a state approved trust. As the time you pre-arranged your funeral we told you your money would be deposited in a state approved trust fund according to the requirements of Florida Statutes. As promised, the proper deposits have been made to the trust fund. Our promise to provide a loving and respectful funeral according to your wishes will be honored. Your peace of mind is important to us...so we send this assurance that your money will stay in the trust fund until we certify to the trustee that death has occurred and we have provided the services and merchandise. Our funeral home is family owned and operated and we thank you for knowing our family is good to our word. If you have any questions, please call us.

Cash Machine King heirs turn U.S. icon into dollars

Dexter King, second son of the famous civil rights crusader, had a dream. He wanted to turn his father's legacy into a cash machine like Elvis Presley's. So six years ago, he made two visits to Graceland, Presley's Memphis home, to find out how to turn his dream into dollars. And now the younger King's vision is finally taking shape.

Images of his father, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., are being used in commercials for Atlanta-based Cingular, a cellular telephone company, and Alcatel, a French telecommunications company. King's "I Have a Dream" speech, once a soul-stirring appeal to America's conscience, is now nothing more than a cheap appeal to the nation's never-satiated appetite for the latest consumer gadget.

Cynthia Tucker

In the Cingular commercial, King's words are heard alongside those of Kermit the Frog. Leave it to MLK's family to accomplish what his arch-enemy, J. Edgar Hoover, could not: tarnish King's image. King's heirs have turned one of the last century's greatest heroes into a shill for commercial interests.

If the King children were seeking money to support their father's work, the commercials would be a little easier to take. It would still be unsettling to see MLK, who was troubled by personal wealth and unfettered capitalism, used as a pitchman for a corporation. But you could take comfort in the notion that the selling of the great man's words and likeness would promote the causes for which he gave his life: nonviolence, racial harmony, economic justice.

Certainly a nation growing increasingly diverse, but still roiled by divisions of race and class, could use more programs and plans intended to pass on MLK's philosophy.

But the money that Cingular and Alcatel are paying to use King's image will not go to teach schoolchildren how to resolve their conflicts without guns, or to promote coalitions between Latinos and African-Americans, or to raise the wages of hard-working men and women barely making ends meet. The money will go into the greedy, grasping hands of King's children.

In cheapening his legacy, they may also have delayed a broader acceptance of their father's true importance. Oh, it's true that the King holiday is nominally celebrated by all 50 states, and schoolchildren in most places have at least a passing familiarity with his name. But too many white Americans stubbornly cling to the view that King was a black hero, a man whose accomplishments narrowly benefited only black Americans. Now, it will be all too easy for them to dismiss him as another superficial figure in popular culture, just another fleeting celebrity, who will fade quickly.

King's heirs, especially son Dexter, have tried to mine gold from their father's speeches and sermons for a decade. They failed at their efforts to start a Disney-like for-profit museum in Atlanta, a kind of "I Have a Dreamland." And, despite conversations with filmmaker Oliver Stone, they have been unable to find much profit in developing a movie of King's life. (While Dexter King has moved to Southern California to pursue a life as a Hollywood film mogul, he has yet to put together a "deal.")

In 1997, the King heirs announced a huge deal with Time Warner, which bought rights to market King's sermons and speeches as books and CD-ROMs. The family went so far as to allow King's words to be repackaged and sold as a so-called autobiography. At the time, they expected to earn between $30 million and $50 million in 10 years, but sales may not have met their expectations.

Now, by selling off their father as just another advertising gimmick, they may have finally struck a rich vein. If the Elvis Presley estate is the model, they could yet find all sorts of additional ways to make money. And all sorts of ways to further sully their father's legacy.

Israelis have elected known war criminal

To the editor:
As if things weren't bad enough already, Israelis have not elected Ariel Sharon, of all people, to become their new prime minister.

Sharon enters office promising to ignore the agreements he inherits, strengthen and solidify the occupation and crush all forms of Palestinian protest and resistance. Should Palestinians persist in their rock-throwing protests against the occupation, he warns, Israel will move quickly to impose "unilateral separation," annex large chunks of the occupied territories and place a permanent siege on Palestinian population centers.

It's not just Sharon's massacres such as Sabra and Shatila in 1982, Gaza in the early 1970's and Qibya in the 1950's that prompted deep anxiety. His whole career is marked by a willingness to use extreme brutality against unmarried people, not only without moral restraint but even without any sense of how counterproductive it can be for his country and career. His political type is marked by reckless individualism and an unwillingness to cooperate with or inform colleagues, so that the normal checks and restraints of government seldom have any effect on his actions.

Handing power to such a man at this moment, when Israel is already in the occupied territories, is exceptionally dangerous.

When challenged to "let the army win" in the West Bank, Prime Minister Ehud Barak explained that while Israel has the military power to kill 2,000 Palestinians in one day, it does not do so because this would make matters worse. Sharon is the one Israeli political figure who might conclude that since Barak's tactics of shooting demonstrators, rocketing houses and murdering political leaders have not ended the uprising, another massacre ought to be given a chance.

Yet this darkest of clouds may well have a substantial silver lining. Israel, under Sharon, will almost certainly be held to a different and more acceptable standard of behavior than was applied to Barak's government. Barak was treated by the U.S. Government and in the media as a dove of peace who could do no wrong. The shooting of hundreds of unarmed demonstrators, many of them children, the cold-blooded assassinations, the frantic settlement activity and the refusal to abide by agreements under his leadership did not produce any significant criticism of Israel. Sharon can expect to be subjected to a kind of American scrutiny from which Barak was immune.

More important from the Arab point of view, Sharon's election ought to be the catalyst, at long last, for a unified and coordinated Arab stance against Israel's brutal reaction to the Palestinian uprising. In particular, Egypt and Jordan should inform Israel that there is a very real diplomatic price to be paid for shooting down hundreds of unarmed Palestinians and refusing to end the occupation.

And, in the end, it is the occupation that this election is all about. Many feel that the election of a man most Israelis have long regarded as, at best, a loose cannon and embarrassment is a clear sign of panic. This is widely misinterpreted as fear of violent Palestinian demonstrations, but the fact is that these demonstrations have almost all taken place in the occupied territories, far from Israel's population centers.

The panic results more from the shattering of an illusion held dear since 1993 that Israel can have peace without really ending the occupation.

Barak's proposals, after all, offered the Palestinians not genuine statehood and liberation but a kind of super-autonomy, with Israel retaining permanent control of all the borders, most of the water and much of the land of the West Bank, and abrogating the rights of the Palestinian refugees. The Palestinians are correct in rejecting such a future of subordination and dependency. They have confronted Israelis with the choice they are unable and unwilling to make - a choice between peace and occupation. The realization by Israelis that they simply cannot have both has come as a profound and existential shock and produced the panic that elected a war criminal.

Green sends words of hope to families

To Ms. Hill,
I have really been burdened with your situation. I know you must really be sad right now, but know that you can be forgiven and healed through Jesus Christ. I am praying for you.

Shelby Green

To Mr. & Mrs. Brown,
Please don't let your grief hurt Ms. Hill. Two wrongs will never make it right. If you really want healing for your pain, it is found in forgiveness. Ms. Hill surely had no intentions of hurting anyone. Remember she is faced with double grief.

We all have made mistakes including going over the speed limit, but none of us would do so knowing it would cause such a tragedy. I hope you can find the strength to turn this around and honor God and the legacy of your child.

My prayers are with you all,
Shelby Green

Joyce disagrees with Woodruff's vote on SHA

An open letter to Art Woodruff:

Shame on you. You haven't even sat on the Sanford City Commission for two weeks and you have apparently already forgotten your own campaign slogan. Let me remind you what it was, "Let's Put Residents First". You will probably never have a better opportunity in the next four years to demonstrate exactly what that campaign slogan might have meant than the issue that was brought before you regarding the fiasco of the Sanford Housing Authority.

Your vote to retain the inept, incompetent, out of control SHA Board rather than consider rectifying immediately the deplorable living conditions of the residents of the public housing projects was unconscionable. Could your vote have been based on the fact that several of the SHA Board members were former colleagues of yours at Seminole high School and had your campaign signs in their yards? I can't wait to see how you vote on something that Jeno Palucci, your biggest campaign contributor, might want to do.

Obviously you have already fallen into the typical politician mode, promised them anything to get elected, but once in office you forget your campaign slogans and promises. Shame on you!

K. Joyce Sanford

From A to Z

Art Zielinski asks people what they think ...

It's that time of year that many of us dread — income tax time. The final day for filing your return is Monday, April 16. So our question today is, "Are you finished filing your income tax return?"

Oh yes. I already sent my money in. If I have to pay, I send it the first of April. If the government owes me money, I would have sent it faster.
Bonilla Edwards, Deltona

I'm an accountant, so of course I'm done. I E-file my return and suggest that people do the same. If you're getting a return, you'll get it in about two weeks.
Joe Martin, Atlanta

I got mine done on Feb. 1, my birthday. It's something you have to do, so just get it done and out of the way.
Wayne Marshall, Orange City

Yes, I'm all done. We already got our return. When you know you're getting a return, then you send it in sooner.
Ruth Tempesta, Longwood

I sent my tax return in over a month ago. I don't waste any time. I always send it in early. I have to laugh at people standing in line at the Post Office just before midnight.

tion is to constantly monitor population growth, commercial and residential development, and then formulate the best game plan to keep up with changing transportation issues to deal with those changes.

"Quite frankly I was a little surprised that voters approved a high speed rail ballot referendum in November. Although I can't say it's the first time I've seen the electorate express interest in transportation issues without knowing where the money is going to come from."

Johnson said he shares the recent sentiment expressed by Seminole County Commissioners that a diversion of transportation funds for local road projects is a possibility depending on how the State Legislature addresses the high speed rail issue.

"In my estimation any road or transportation project and its funding should stand on its own merits. High speed rail may be an alternative in the future, but the fact is, in Central Florida the majority of travel is done in automobiles."

The new Public Works Director sounded genuinely fired up about his new duties and relocation this week while alternately meeting staff and setting priorities while he and his wife, Dorothy continue to unpack boxes from their recent move.

"Kevin (County Manager Kevin Grace) and Jim (Deputy County Manager Jim Moreno) have been very supportive and professional in helping with my transition from Oregon back to Central Florida," said Johnson.

"I consider myself a hands-on manager and plan on spending plenty of time in the field with the troops. We are fortunate in Seminole County to have a group of bright, young, energetic and smart people at the helm. The diversity and composition of our local County workforce is also refreshing—it's something the Oregon area lacked."

Johnson said the major priorities in his first few months on the job will be to evaluate internal management operations and work toward accurate measurement of manpower and materials while increasing productivity and efficiency within the Public Works Department.

"Getting a handle on resources, planning the work and measuring maximum productivity are high on my list," said Johnson.

"Seminole County is fully underway in transforming itself from a bedroom community to a full fledged 'living where you work community.'"

"The challenge is to continue the level of service we provide and over time improve it district by district throughout Seminole County."

centers and nutritional programs.

As a sponsor, Andrews was given information about how her donations helped Santos' community, and she also received letters and photographs from the teen-ager.

Although a cheerful writer, Andrews started wondering why Santos never smiled. To find the answer, she contacted the Christian Children's Fund.

Andrews found out Santos was in dire need of dental work. She had a small overbite and her teeth needed capped. However, the Christian Children's Fund would only pay for half of the $500 needed to perform the surgery. That's when Andrews decided to make sure the teen-ager would be smiling when the next photograph was taken of her.

"It didn't take me long to realize $250 is a drop in the bucket by American standards," Andrews said. "But, the same amount can go a long way in countries like Brazil."

A couple months ago, Santos left her small village of Belo Horizonte to travel to the nearest city where she could receive dental treatment. Andrews knew all went well when she received a letter and a new photograph from the teen-ager.

"When she smiles now, her teeth are straight and white and perfect," Andrews said. "She has a perfect smile."

"It was the best $250 I have spent in ages," she said. "It feels like I've done something that makes a difference."

Although Andrews said she would like to visit Santos one day, she realizes the money could be better spent for other things.

"The money I would spend traveling to Brazil would buy a couple years of stuff for other children," she said. "And, I hope other people will open their hearts and wallets to help."

"Helping children is a wonderful thing to do," she said. "I think, at times, it does me more good than it does for the kids."

Schools

two of the three are likely to pass.

One of the voucher bills, No. 903, calls for the SCRIPT (School Crowding Relief Intervention for Parents and Teachers) grants program to be established to help with school overcrowding. SCRIPT would allocate $3,000 annually to help pay private school tuition to parents of students in overcrowded public schools.

According to the sponsors of the bill, the SCRIPT program will save the state money. They profess the $3,000 is less than the approximate $5,000 it costs to provide a student public education.

The bill was recently approved by the House and was sent the state Senate, which Robinson said, seems more favorable to Florida public education.

Also during Tuesday's meeting the Board:

- Appointed Michael Pfeiffer as principal of Rosenthal Exceptional Center effective June 1, 2001.

- Declared April 19 Holocaust Remembrance Day within Seminole County Public Schools. This day has been set aside for remembering the victims of the Holocaust and for reminding Americans of what can happen to civilized people when bigotry, hatred and indifference reign.

- Approved the negotiation of a renewal proposal with United HealthCare for medical insurance.

- Approved the revised rates for the EDCC program.

Seminole County Public Schools also recently received the Department of Education's review of its 1999-2000 Educational Equity Act Plan.

The review confirmed that all high schools within Seminole County are now in compliance with all components associated with Gender Equity in Athletics, and will no longer be monitored by the DOE.

The next Seminole School Board Meeting will be held 7 p.m. April 24.

SUVs vastly improve during last twenty years

In the last 20 years, SUVs have changed dramatically in the way they are used, from rough-hewn utility vehicles to mainstream passenger vehicles.

That shift may explain the sharp improvement in reliability that we discovered when we examined data mined from our annual surveys between 1980 and 2000.

In each of those surveys, we asked readers to relate their real-life experiences with their cars and trucks during the previous 12 months.

From their responses (the 2000 survey, our most recent, covered more than 500,000 vehicles), we calculate problem rates that serve as a barometer of a model's predicted reliability.

Back in 1980, American SUVs — the only ones for which we had enough data to track — had an average of 138 problems per 100 vehicles.

By comparison, the average trouble rate for all new vehicles that year was 88 problems reported for every 100 cars. By 1990, the rate for American SUVs was down to 49 problems per 100 vehicles, and had shrunk to 23 per 100 by the year 2000.

Meanwhile, Japanese SUVs, which had started to appear en masse by then, had an excellent problem rate of only 16 in 1990, and had improved to nine in 2000.

Now, Japanese-nameplate SUVs — whether they are manufactured in Japan or North America — have surpassed Japanese-nameplate cars as among the most trouble-free vehicles on the road.

In fact, the most reliable vehicle in our 2000 survey was the Honda CR-V — a mini SUV that registered a mere five problems per 100 vehicles in a year in which the average trouble rate for all new vehicles was 20 problems per 100.

SHA

Eckstein was also critical of the agreement because he said housing authority board members violated the state's open meeting laws.

"How did they all agree to this?" Eckstein asked. "They didn't have a meeting. They didn't give public notice it was up for consideration. How did this come about if they didn't violate the Sunshine Law?"

Maitland attorney Gerald Rutberg, who represents the housing authority board, said the discussions he had with each board member were part of the attorney-client privilege and not subject to open meetings law.

"I'm convinced it meets both the letter and the spirit of the Sunshine Law," Rutberg said.

Commissioner Art Woodruff, who voted for the agreement along with Commissioner Velma Williams and Mayor Brady Lessard, agreed with Eckstein about the need for speed, but questioned whether removing the board was the fastest way to get action for housing authority residents.

"I read the HUD report. This lady needs her stove fixed," Woodruff said pointing to the document. "Is her stove going to get fixed faster by removing the board? That's what it comes down to for me. By removing the board it isn't going to make certain her stove is going to get fixed immediately."

Woodruff said he believed the agreement offered the chance for the city to focus its resources on making improvements rather than directing blame.

"During this hearing I had a quote in front of me," Woodruff said. "I had it on my wall in my classroom when my yearbook students would complain about their classmates not pulling their weight. I don't know who said it, but it says, 'It's a curious endeavor to seek to place blame when it is action that is needed. That's what we need, action."

Federal agents load a moving truck with boxes of Sanford Housing Authority's financial records.

Part of that action began Thursday afternoon as city staff members canvassed SHA's occupied units. Each resident was asked to fill out a survey indicating what improvements are needed.

"I wanted the residents to know the beginning of the end is near," said Mayor Lessard, who helped hand out the surveys. "I thought it was important to get out here today. We promised immediate action, and that's what we want to provide."

Lessard said the surveys will give Richard Moore, the interim director appointed by the housing authority board, a head start on solving problems.

Moore is the vice president of Stephenson & Moore Inc., a company that specializes in rehabilitating distressed properties. Moore's company has worked with housing authorities in Tampa, Miami, Boston and Chicago. The company has also done a number of local private apartment complexes, including Regatta Shores in Sanford.

City Manager Tony VanDerworp said Moore's credentials were among the best of those the city considered.

"I began researching these companies a couple of weeks ago knowing that a search for an executive director was probably going to occur," VanDerworp said. The city manager said a check of Moore's references provided "glowing remarks."

VanDerworp also said he spoke with John Niez, the director of HUD's regional office in Jacksonville, and indicated HUD was "absolutely, 100 percent" in favor of hiring Moore.

As of late Friday afternoon, VanDerworp said some paperwork remained to be filled out, but "bottom line, (Moore's) on the job." He said Moore would post flyers throughout the SHA complexes informing residents how to contact him and his company.

"They're going to have someone on site all weekend for the residents to contact," VanDerworp said.

For his part, Moore said he was ready to begin improvements Monday morning. "I've already got a crew of people lined up," he said.

"It will be an organized, efficient operation," Moore added. "Our main concern is the residents. They will come first."

While city officials see Moore as the solution to the short-term problems at the housing authority, more long-range tasks still remain — namely, appointing a new board and hiring a permanent director who will remove the "troubled agency" label.

Lessard said he has begun interviewing potential board members and expects to announce those appointments within two weeks. The City Commission must approve Lessard's action.

Sanford Deputy City Manager Roger Dixon knocks on a housing authority resident's door during a survey to determine what improvement need to be made.

Under the terms of the resignation agreement, current board members will begin a national search for a new executive director, but the new board will hire the director. Furthermore, both HUD and the city will have input regarding who is hired. That process is not expected to be completed for at least three months.

Sanford Mayor Brady Lessard talks with the media as federal agents seize SHA records.

History of sheriff's office is topic of meeting

By Grace M. Stinecpher Herald Correspondent

The history of the Seminole County Sheriff's Department was the program topic at the recent Sanford Historical Society meeting. Capt. Al Sanchez, who has been with the department since 1974 was the speaker, assisted by Lt. Bill Robbins, who has been with the department since 1964, and Pete Robinson, special events coordinator.

Capt. Sanchez explained that Seminole County was formed from Orange County, April 25, 1913, following a bitter sheriff's race and other issues that divided the two areas.

Charles M. Hand was appointed first sheriff of the new county by Governor Park Trammell. He served until 1917. Charlie Hand and his brother owned Hand Brothers Livery Stable. He had also been a railroad man and would later serve as tax collector and mayor of Sanford. He was re-elected sheriff 1920-28 and 1936-48.

Sheriff Hand wasted no time in hiring three new deputies and began supervising the construction of the city jail. The first recorded arrest in Seminole County was on July 5, 1913, for petty larceny.

E.E. Brady was elected sheriff in 1917 and served until 1920.

Deputy Sheriff Cleve Jacobs was shot by a man from Louisiana on Sept. 14, 1922, who was trying to steal a pair of pants. The suspect was tried and convicted, and became the first and last legal hanging in Seminole County.

James E. McClelland served as sheriff from 1928 until 1936. Sheriff Hand was again elected and served until 1947 when he resigned because of health reasons. On February 22, 1947, R.E. Whitten, a deputy, was appointed by Judge R.W. Ware to serve until Governor Millard Caldwell appointed Percy Mero a few days later. Mero was elected in 1948 to a full term.

In 1952, J. Luther Hobby of Lake Mary, won election by an overwhelming majority and served until 1955 when he was suspended from office by Governor LeRoy Collins. Hobby, a deputy, and two others had been arrested on Federal warrants charging a moonshine conspiracy in which Hobby was accused of taking protection money.

The governor appointed Denver Cordell to fill Hobby's remaining term. Hobby's trial resulted in a mistrial and he was allowed to be reinstated to office on Aug. 2, 1956.

In 1961, a new jail was built next to the courthouse. Sheriff Hobby ran for re-election and won a close race with J.Q. "Slim" Galloway.

Nov. 8, 1967 saw the first escape from this jail, but they were back in custody within 24 hours. The next day, under allegations of irregularities, Hobby announced his resignation. Peter Milliot was appointed by Gov. Claude Kirk to fill the remaining term.

The next sheriff was John Polk who served from 1968 to 1990. During his tenure, there was a tragic fire at the jail, killing ten prisoners and a guard. Another tragedy was the killing of Deputy Sheriff George Pfeil, who happened upon a robbery in progress. On March 28, 1989, Deputy Hugh Thomas was killed in Chuluota by Tony LeMasters, who then killed himself.

The county jail at Five Points was completed in the late 1970's under Sheriff Polk.

In November, 1990, citing ill health, Polk announced his retirement and Major Don Eslinger was appointed to fill his remaining term. Eslinger has been overwhelmingly re-elected since then. He has brought many new innovations to the department.

In December, 1998, the sheriff's office moved from its facility at the airport to a new 120,000 square foot Public Safety Building on Highway 17-92 in south Sanford.

During the Society's business meeting, conducted by vice president Jay Jacobs, volunteers were secured for serving as guides during an art exhibit and award reception at the Sanford Museum, sponsored by Congressman John Mica, and also for staffing a booth during the Spring Fest and Earth Day on April 21 at the Student Museum.

It was reported that society membership now totals 132 and the publications committee was hard at work on the Swedish History of Seminole County. The newsletter committee was commended for the new newsletter format. Its editor, Grace Marie Stinecpher than asked for volunteers for processing future newsletters for mailing.

An announcement was made that the city's 125th birthday would be celebrated September, 2002, with R.T. Hillery of the city's recreation department in charge of festivities.

Sanford Main Street director attends national meeting

By Walt Padgett Special to the Herald

The National Town Meeting on Main Street, the premier conference for commercial District Revitalization, was held in Indianapolis, Indiana April 1 through 4.

Sponsored by the National Main Street Center of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, the meeting attracted 1,500 attendees from throughout the United States and Canada. Those attending included city planners, city managers, elected officials, board members and program managers of CRA's (Community Redevelopment Agencies) and CID's (Community Improvement Districts) and BID's (Business Improvement Districts) as well as Main Street Managers and Directors.

A dozen representatives from Florida attended the meeting. Representing Sanford were Roberta "Bert" Padgett, Main Street Board Member, and Walt Padgett, Executive Director of Sanford Main Street, Inc.

The four-day meeting included educational sessions, field sessions and vendor exhibits. Educational sessions included Tourism and Retail Development, Success in the Experience Economy, Heritage Tourism, Raising Equity Through Tax Credits, Events for Fun and Profit, Storefront Rehabilitation, Attracting New Business Downtown, Developing Your Downtown Potential as a Visitor Destination, and many others.

Representatives from Sanford attended two field sessions. The first, entitled "Neighborhood Activism is Alive and Well" was a tour of three distinct strongholds of neighborhood restoration and activism in Indianapolis.

Cottage Home, just east of downtown was built as a working class neighborhood in the late 1800's, and has survived factory closings and interstate intrusion to become one of the city's quirkiest and friendliest neighborhoods. Woodruff Place, east of Cottage Home, is a neighborhood of stately homes and Irvington, a little further out was the home of renowned painters, writers and academics drawn to the enclave around Butler University's first campus.

The second field session entitled "Historic River Towns Excursions" was a comprehensive tour of four of Indiana's oldest river towns located on the Ohio River. The tour began in Madison, one of the nation's oldest river towns, with the exploration of their 19th Century commercial district.

Next, the tour followed the Ohio River Scenic Route to Rising Sun, Aurora and Lawrenceburg. These cities were all trying to preserve their unique character while attempting to cope with urban sprawl and riverboat gaming. Two of the towns were developing "River Walks", (especially interesting since we have embarked on a river walk project here in Sanford).

Like most national meetings, the opportunity to talk to and network with others, who have similar interests and face the same challenges, was the highlight of the trip.

How does Sanford fare? Better than many communities, but not as far along as some. One thing is certain, we are blessed with many, many assets, some historic, some not, that other communities don't have. Certainly we are on the right track, but success will require strong support from city government and the entire community of Sanford, not just the merchants on First Street and residents of the historic district.

The most obvious lesson learned from four days of networking, talking and attending educational sessions and field sessions is that if we are to succeed in our efforts to revitalize Historic Downtown Sanford, all of the various organizations in town must work together.

Walt Padgett is the Executive Director of Sanford Main Street, Inc.

Oviedo upsets Rams

By Henry Uhlenbrauck, Jr.
Herald Correspondent

LAKE MARY — After losing to nationally-ranked Lake Mary twice earlier in the season, first at the Big Blue Bonanza at Lake Brantley and later at home, Oviedo was ready for vengeance when it traveled to take on the Rams Wednesday night.

Right from the start the Lions came out hitting and didn't let up until the end, getting at least one hit in every inning but the last two.

The big blow for Oviedo came from Nate Green, as he blasted a three-run home run, that went over the 364-foot mark, in the third inning that gave the Lions a 5-0 lead.

To the dismay of Lake Mary fans, Oviedo was able to take advantage of some key errors made by the usually tight Rams defense.

Lake Mary ace, Adam Sanabria, gave up five runs on six hits and suffered his first loss of the season.

"I wasn't as aggressive like I had been in the past," Sanabria said. "I knew I was pitching the slowest I had been all year."

Even with the loss Rams coach Allen Tuttle said that he would take a 21-3 record every year.

Even when the hosts were down 5-0 after three innings, Oviedo first-year head coach Kevin Wainscott, a Lake Mary grad and former assistant coach, knew it would come down to the wire.

The Rams got two of the runs back in the fourth inning and, after the Lions scored what proved to be the winning run in the fifth inning, closed to within a run by plating three more runs in the sixth inning.

But it proved to not be enough as Oviedo was able to show they could take on Lake Mary on the Rams' home field.

The Lions jumped on top in the second inning. Bridger Hunt led off with a single and Colin Irvine was hit by a pitch. Green would load the bases with a single to left and Brian Brooks and Randall Ford would both lift sacrifice fly's to the outfield to give Oviedo a 2-0 lead.

The Lions would add to their lead in the third inning when Jason Wolf singled to right-center and Hunt would double to deep center ahead off Green's smash over the left field fence.

Lake Mary finally broke through against Irvine in the fourth inning.

Kyle Bono and Matt Mergo both walked and advanced a base on a balk. With two outs, Josh Gray hit a double to center field, scoring Bono and Mergo.

Down 6-2 entering the sixth inning, Kyle Bono again got things started by drawing a base on balls and Trevor Berryhill would single to center.

With one out, Mergo would double in Kyle Bono and Austin Pride, who forced Berryhill at second, with a shot to left-center field. Gray would then score Mergo when he reached on a throwing error.

SCC softball team gains respectability

No. 10 Raiders split with No. 1 nationally-ranked Lake City

By Dean Smith
Sports Editor

SANFORD — Despite having a gaudy record and moving up to the No. 3 spot in the State Poll, there was still a question as to actually how good the Seminole Community College softball team was.

Even though they had swept four games with Daytona Beach Community College and beaten No. 2 state-ranked Indian River Community College three-out-of-four, a 12-3 and 3-0 sweep at the hands of defending national champion

Lake City Community College last month kept a dark cloud hanging over the Raiders.

But the sun shown brightly on SCC on Thursday as Jodi Wood scattered seven hits as the Raiders not only upset the nation's No. 1 ranked team, they shutout the Timberwolves 2-0 in the opening game of a Mid-Florida Conference doubleheader Thursday at Raider Field.

"The LCCC game was great," said SCC head coach Courtney Miller. "Jodi pitched an awesome and smart game and our defense made some huge plays, especially in the third inning after they loaded the bases with only one out."

"Blake (Hoorbeke) had two big clutch hits for us. I felt like we could have even scored one or two more runs."

"I'm so proud of these kids, they wanted to win so bad. It's not every day you get to knock off the No. 1 ranked team in the nation."

Miller went on to say that this win made her career at SCC as it was the first time they had beaten the North Florida powerhouse in her eight years at the local college.

The Raiders also got some impressive news earlier in the day when they found out that they are now ranked No. 2 in the state behind Lake City and No. 10 in the nation. Gulf Coast Community College from Panama City is also ranked No. 13 in the nation.

The victory in the first game gave SCC an eight-game winning streak since dropping the first game of a doubleheader with Santa Fe Community College late last week.

The streak included doubleheader sweeps of conference foe's St. Johns River Community College (5-4 and 6-2) See SCC, Page 2B

Seminole ties consecutive wins record, gains district No. 1 seed

SANFORD — Angelo and Dominic Petracca combined on a three-hitter as Seminole wrapped up an amazing week with a 5-0 victory over Spruce Creek in a Class 5A-District 5 baseball game at Alumni Field Thursday afternoon.

The shutout was the third of the week for the Fighting Seminoles, following 10-0 run rule victories over both Hopkinsville, Kentucky and Lake Howell, and gives the Tribe an 18-game winning streak, tying the school mark set by the 1992 State Championship team.

The game was also the final home game of the regular season, giving Seminole a 9-0 record at Alumni Field, and was also the final Class 5A-District 5 contest, giving the Tribe a 14-0 district record and the No. 1 seed for the upcoming district tournament that will be held on Melching Field at Conrad Park in DeLand starting April 23rd.

Overall, Seminole is now 20-6 and ranked No. 10 in this week's Class 5A State Poll. The Tribe will close out the regular season with a pair of See Tribe, Page 3B

Seminole softball streaking

By Dean Smith

SANFORD — The Seminole High School softball team is not the only Sanford squad red-hot at the moment, the softball team is simmering pretty good too.

Thursday evening at the Seminole High School Softball Complex, the Fighting Seminoles won their 10th game in 11 starts, 3-2 in 11 innings over Dr. Phillips, as Mindy Crouse hurled eight innings of two-hit, five strike out relief.

Jenny Abendroth worked the first three innings before giving way to Crouse, who won her eighth consecutive decision and improved to 10-2 on the season.

The winning run scored on an error in the bottom of the 11th inning.

Abendroth was 2-for-3, including a double, and drove in a run for the Tribe, while Kara Lively also had two hits.

The victory was the third of the week for Seminole, which claimed its first victory ever over Winter Springs and also knocked off a much-improved Lyman squad.

Coach Dave Rogers' charges are now 16-8 on the season and 8-3 in Class 5A-District 5, but the Tribe will be the No. 2 seed because Spruce Creek rallied to defeat the Greyhounds, 4-3, on Thursday to finish 17-2 overall and 9-2 in the district.

Lyman (11-12) took a 3-0 lead with the help of five Hawks errors after two innings, but Spruce Creek got a pair of runs back in the bottom of the second inning and tied the game with a run in the fifth inning before scoring the winning run when Winter Springs transfer Jessica Grimaley crossed the plate on a dropped throw with the bases loaded.

The tournament will begin a week from Monday at Daytona Beach Community College.

Seminole will close out the regular season with three tough games next week, traveling to Oviedo on Tuesday at 7 p.m., hosting Colonial in its final home game on Thursday at 7 p.m. and then traveling to Orlando on Friday to take on Edgewater at 5 p.m.

On Tuesday, the Tribe had picked up a big 6-3 victory over Lyman at home.

Lions end Rams' lacrosse season

Special to the Herald

OVIDEO — A young Oviedo team (three senior starters) beat an even younger Lake Mary team (only five upper classmen at the game) 7-3 in a hard fought battle that ended Lake Mary's season in the first round of the district playoffs at John Courter Field on Thursday.

Like the regular season game played between these same two teams on the same field, the Lions broke a second half 3-3 tie to go on for the win.

Unlike the first game, however, this game was contested much better by the young Rams.

Lake Mary star David Sloan scored the only goal of the first period, a period in which Oviedo outshot the Rams 10-7 and controlled much of the play.

The second period was all Lions as they outshot the Rams 15-4 and outscored the visitors 3-0 in the period. Only the heroic efforts of Lake Mary sophomore goalie Chris Almandarez kept the Rams in the game. Chris McCall and Brian Jones (twice) scored for the Lions.

The Lions exhibited the same deadly patient offense and smothering defense that they demonstrated in the teams' first meeting. The few mistakes they made were quickly erased by junior goalie Will Reedy.

Lake Mary turned the game around early in the third period on two goals by their other offensive star, sophomore Jordan Supraner, with both goals being deftly set up by sophomore Patrick Rauch.

Oviedo closed the period on two goals by Geoff Dwyer who neatly parked at the goal mouth and received terrific threaded passes through the entire Rams midfield and defense first by Jones and then by Kevin Liljenquist.

Unlike the first game, this lead was still not comfortable for the Lions. It wasn't until late in the fourth quarter when Jones finished the hat trick that the game was put away.

Lake Mary, which finished the season with a 5-9 record under coach Denny Kurir, will hold its team awards banquet on May 10 while Oviedo, which improves to 10-4 under head coach Eddie Norton, moves on in the playoffs playing Winter Springs, a 7-6 winner over Lyman.

OVIDEO — The Oviedo softball team remained red-hot this week as it edged powerful Edgewater, 1-0, on Wednesday and then handed state-ranked Winter Springs its second loss of the week, 2-0, Thursday night at Oviedo.

The Bears (18-6) still win the district title and No. 1 seed in the district tournament as they finish with a record of 7-1 in Class 6A-District 3. The Lions will be the No. 2 seed with a district record of 6-2.

Winter Springs had plenty of opportunities to win the game as the Bears left nine runners stranded, three in the third inning.

But Oviedo's defense was strong enough to hold Winter Springs at bay and the Lions took advantage of some miscues from the Bears' defense, which committed three errors on the night.

Oviedo got on the board first in the third inning when Jamie Dalton doubled and scored on a two-out wild pitch.

Dalton came through again for the Lions in the fourth inning as her two-out double would score Nicole Nielson, who earned the pitching victory with help from Kelly Raw in the sixth and seventh innings, with an insurance run.

DeLAND — Chris Maher pitched no-hit ball into the sixth inning and John Howell's sacrifice fly in the ninth inning scored Kevin Gerrity with the game's only run as Winter Springs defeated DeLand, 1-0, on Wednesday at Dog Park. Maher left after seven innings, allowing two hits and striking out eight. Tyler Graham allowed no hits over the final two innings to get the victory as the Bears improved to 11-15 overall and 3-5 in Class 6A-District 3. The Bulldogs fell to 10-10 overall and an almost unbelievable 0-6 in district play. On Tuesday, Winter Park remained undefeated against Seminole County baseball teams as they beat Winter Springs 5-1. The Wildcats, which replaced Lake Mary as the number one ranked Class 6A team in the state this week after beating the Rams last week, are now 19-3 on the season. Even with the loss, the game proved to be a morale boost as the struggling Bears held the Wildcats to seven hits total, and just one run until the fifth inning, even tying the score in the fourth inning. But it would be the Wildcats proving why they are tops when their offense got a boost with a run-scoring wild pitch and a two-run home run in the seventh inning by Matt Gerber.

Jeff Cook led off the Bears fourth inning with a single to right field. He would advance on a wild pitch and would later score when Howell singled to the same spot as his teammate. That would be all the Bears could muster as Winter Park just overpowered the Bears with their pitching. In other baseball action from Thursday, Greg Moreira improved to 7-1 on the season, hurling Lake Brantley to a three-hit, 10 strike out, 8-1 victory over Osceola. Jeff Strickland, John Shaw and Ray Horal had two hits and two RBI each to lead the Patriots attack. Jameson Schultz gave up two earned runs on five hits over five innings and Kyle Summerville went 2-for-3, including a triple, and drove in three runs as Lyman topped Lake Howell, 6-2.

The streak came to an end in the nightcap on Thursday, as Lake City (51-2 overall, 22-2 in the Mid-Florida Conference) ended a two-game losing streak (it had also lost the second game to Santa Fe on Tuesday) with a 4-1 victory, holding the Raiders to only a seventh inning home run by Hoorelbeke.

SCC, which is now 45-9 overall and 17-7 in the conference, will close out the regular season with important conference doubleheaders at home against Florida Community College at Jacksonville on Tuesday and in Ocala on Thursday against Central Florida Community College. Both doubleheaders are set to begin at 2:30 p.m. and 4:30 p.m. The Raiders need at least a split of those games to hold onto second place in the M-FC.

Freshman Yo Johnson opened the bottom of the first inning with a single and went to second on a sacrifice by Lake Mary freshman Rachel Bradley, from where she scored on a two-out single by freshman Hoorelbeke.

In the Timberwolves third, two one-out singles and an error put runners on second and third. A walk loaded the bases, but Wood got out of the jam by inducing a pop up to second and a ground out to third.

SCC then got an insurance run in the bottom of the third inning. Johnson again led off with a single and moved to second when Lake Mary's Lindsey Manz reached on a one-out error. Hoorelbeke then singled to right, scoring Johnson.

Wood (21-5) only got two strike outs, but she also only walked two and pitched quickly, keeping her defense on its toes and they responded by getting nine fly outs and nine ground outs.

Johnson finished the game 3-for-3 with two runs scored, while Hoorelbeke was 2-for-3 with two RBI, and Bradley, Kristin Hughes and Kathy Noble had one single each.

In the late game, the Raiders only had one hit, a single by Rachelle Schmidt, before Hoorelbeke's leadoff home run in the seventh inning.

In an added note, Becki Rodak made her first pitching appearance since high school in the first game against SUNY-Caton, allowing no runs on two hits over three innings to get the win in the first game.

Providing the offense in other games:
Game 1 vs. St. Johns — Johnson (3-for-3, two runs, RBI), Hughes (double, run), Hoorelbeke (single, run, RBI), Cooper (single, run), Kim Stork and Lake Mary's Lauren Bradley (single) and Schmidt and Oviedo's Lisa Field (RBI).

Game 2 vs. St. Johns — Hoorelbeke (2-for-3, double, run, two RBI), Rodak (2-for-3, run), Schmidt (double, run, two RBI), Bradley (single, two runs), Johnson (single, run) and Manz and Field (single, RBI).

Michelle Miranda (2-for-3, two runs), Elizabeth Boyce (double, run, three RBI), Bradley and Rodak (single, run), Field (run) and Digna Abello (RBI).

Game 2 vs. SUNY-Caton — Hughes (4-for-4, three runs, RBI), Bradley (3-for-3, triple, double, three runs, five RBI), Boyce (2-for-4, triple, two runs, two RBI), Stork (2-for-2, double, two runs, three RBI), Manz (2-for-2, double, run, RBI), Miranda (2-for-4, run, RBI), Rodak (2-for-2, two runs, two RBI), Field (single, three runs, RBI), Megan O'Donnell (single, run, RBI), Hoorelbeke (single, RBI) and Abello (run).

Lions

Continued from page 1B Even with the loss, the Rams still lead the district race and will clinch the No. 1 seed if they defeated DeLand in a make-up game on Friday. Oviedo (17-9) is in second place and would earn a tie, and force a coin flip for the No. 1 seed, if Lake Mary faltered to the district winless Bulldogs. Both teams have good non-district tests next week, the Rams host Lake Howell on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m., Seminole at 7 p.m. on Thursday, and University at 7 p.m. on Friday; and the Lions host Seminole on Wednesday and Lyman on Thursday at 7 p.m. at Mikler Field.

Softball

Continued from page 1B Seminole took the lead in the bottom of the first inning when Gase led off with a walk, was sacrificed to second by Poloche and took third on a wild pitch before scoring on a two-out single by Lively. The lead went to 2-0 in the second inning when Beaudoin and Ashley Hill ripped back-to-back doubles. The Greyhounds cut the lead to 2-1 in the top of the fourth inning as Sarah Tillotson and Amanda Pickelsimer walked and Tillotson scored when Ashley Knaus' fly ball was dropped for an error. The Tribe answered right back in the bottom of the fourth inning as Abendroth led off with a walk before the next two batters made outs. Norvell also walked and stole second before Mandy Priddy, the only senior on this year's team, singled in Abendroth. Gase then ripped a two-run single to give Seminole a 5-1 lead.

The Tribe's final run came in the fifth inning on back-to-back singles by Abendroth and Beaudoin and a sacrifice fly by Hill. Lyman cut the lead in half in the top of the sixth inning as Amanda Pickelsimer singled and Knaus followed with a bunt single. Kendra Cotter moved the runners up with a sacrifice and Kristen Brown and Jessica Voss both had RBI singles. But that was as close as the Greyhounds would get as Abendroth retired four of the last five batters she faced to claim the victory. In a game from Wednesday, Katie Pickelsimer went three-for-four, including a triple and a double, and drove in two runs to back Megan Burke's complete game seven hitler as Lyman stopped Lake Branley, 7-3. Lake Mary, meanwhile, closed out its regular season with a 4-0 whitewashing of Lake Howell on Thursday. Abby Anderson went five innings, striking out three and allowing only two hits to get the pitching victory. Clarke Wood led the Rams offense, going three-for-three, with a double, and drove in a run.

Lacrosse

Continued from page 1B Jones (three goals, one assist), Geoff Dwyer (two goals, three assists), Chris McCall and Bryan Von Dohlen (one goal each), and Kevin Liljenquist, and Brian Gashlin (one assist each). The winning goal was Will Reedy. Providing the offense for the Rams were Jordan Supraner (two goals), David Sloan (one goal) and Patrick Rauch (two assists).

Keith Parrett (No. 15) slides in with a stolen base during Seminole's 5-0 Class 5A District 5 victory over Spruce Creek on Thursday. Parrett has a big day at the plate, going 3-for-3 with a double, two runs scored and an RBI.

Tribe

Continued from page 1B tough Seminole Athletic Conference games at Oviedo's Paul Mikler Field on Wednesday and at nationally-ranked Lake Mary on Thursday. Both games are set for 7 p.m. starts and are important to Seminole in that a win over the Lions would break the school record for consecutive wins and a win over the Rams would give the Tribe a perfect record in the SAC.

Seminole came out and took the fight right out of the Hawks in the first inning on Thursday. Senior righthander Angelo Petracca got out of the top of the first inning by throwing just eight pitches, seven for strikes, and striking out two Spruce Creek batters looking. In the bottom of the first inning, with one out, Chris Krall grounded a double just inside the third base bag and Angelo Petracca followed with a double down the right field line, his fifth straight game with an extra base hit, scoring Krall. Jason Louwsma then reached on an infield hit and when the throw got past first, Angelo Petracca scored and Louwsma went to second. Louwsma went to third on a long fly to rightcenter by Jake Davis and scored on a double by Keith Parrett, who then scored on a ringing single to left by Matt Fraysier, giving the Tribe a 4-0 lead and ending the day for Bethune-Cookman signee Mike Turchon. Seminole would get one hit in each of the next four innings off reliever Aaron Jenkins, but could not push another run across the plate. It did not matter, however, as the Hawks could get nothing going against the offerings of Angelo Petracca (6-1), who allowed only a pair of singles and one hit batter over six innings, walking none and striking out five. He also got two super plays from his middle infield as both shortstop Louwsma and second baseman Anthony DiFonzo made plays on the wrong side of second base to take away Hawk batters bids for hits. In the bottom of the sixth inning, Parrett got his third hit of the game and stole second. He then moved over to third on a fly to right by Fraysier and scored on a single to left by Uriah Kimmig. Dominic Petracca, the younger brother of Angelo, came on to pitch the seventh inning and after giving up a leadoff single, retired three batters in a row, the last on called third strike out. Parrett finished the game three-for-three, including a double, scored two runs and drove in one to lead the Seminole offense. Also contributing to an 11-hit attack were Krail (2-for-3, two doubles, run), Angelo Petracca (2-for-3, double, run, RBI), Kimmig (2-for-3, RBI), Louwsma (single, run), and Fraysier (single, RBI). On Tuesday, senior Brandon Pharis continued his outstanding pitching, giving up three singles, while striking out three and waiking two in hurling a five inning shutout at Lake Howell to raise his record to 3-1. The Tribe took a 2-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning, then blew the game open by scoring three runs in each of the third and fourth innings before closing out the game with two more runs in the fifth inning. Davis paced a 10-hit attack, going 2-for-2 and also getting a sacrifice fly to drive in four runs. Other contributors included Angelo Petracca (2-for-2, two triples, three runs scored, three RBI), Louwsma (2-for-3, run RBI), Krail (2-for-4, four runs), DiFonzo (1-for-2, two runs), Dominic Petracca (1-for-3), and Fraysier (RBI). For the Silver Hawks, William Delgado, Mark O'Brien and Brad Easterday had one single each.

Students, faculty are keeping fit at Crooms Academy

By Arthur Zielinski
Staff Writer

Keeping physically fit through exercise and proper nutrition has become an important activity for many people. Losing weight, stopping smoking, and keeping in shape are goals set by people of all age groups — even the young.

At Crooms Academy in Sanford, athletic trainer, Alan Haines and coach Howard Hawkins are working hard to improve the fitness and health of students and teachers.

Haines, who has spent 24 years in education and 27 years in athletic training, and Hawkins, who has taught for 29 years (15 years at Crooms) realized to accomplish this goal, much needed exercise equipment and a refurbished fitness center were sorely needed.

To secure a major portion of the funds needed to purchase equipment, Haines and Hawkins applied for, and received, a $20,000 grant from the American Heart Association Youth Fitness and Tobacco Prevention/Education Project and the Florida State University Center for the Study of Teaching and Learning.

Currently, the school does own several pieces of exercise equipment. However, Haines said the equipment is starting to show its age, and in some cases may become unsafe for students to use. The new equipment, he remarked, does come with a high price tag.

At a cost of $7,000, the centerpiece is a device called the TruFit 600 System. It's described as a "health management system for fitness and health assessment." The machine is capable of measuring blood pressure, body weight, blood chemistry, girth measurements, and lung function. It is also used to test strength and flexibility and give a complete cardiovascular assessment. Students and teachers using the TruFit 600 can download this information into a computer and create a personal health file. Additional equipment included one Trimline treadmill, $4,000, one Stamina recumbent bike, $2,000, two digital blood pressure meters, $185, 25 Polar heart rate monitors, $3,200 and numerous support equipment for the TruFit 600 System.

Haines said their project title was called REACH (Ready Everyone to Achieve Complete Health) for Fitness. A portion of the grant, Haines remarked, will be used to establish a "Wellness Center" on campus.

See Fitness, Page 2C

Lajerika Roberts tests her flexibility using the state-of-the-art TruFit 600 System. Health information from the machine can be downloaded into a computer for a personal health file on each student and teacher at Crooms Academy.

Crooms Academy Athletic Trainer Alan Haines points out several different programs to student Samuel Padua while exercising on the Stamina Recumbent Bike. The $2,000 bike was purchased in an effort to upgrade the school's exercise equipment.

Jermaine Mikell, a seventh-grader at Crooms Academy, gets an exercise workout on the school's new Trimline Treadmill. Coach Howard Hawkins instructs Mikell on the proper way to use the equipment.

Tasty secrets

Pendleton continues barbeque tradition at Rib Ranch

If you love to eat barbecue food, and you happen to be driving along Highway 17-92 in Sanford, it's hard not to notice the enticing aroma coming from the Rib Ranch. Owner Patricia Thompson started the business in 1981, and one of her first employees was Leroy Pendleton Jr. Pendleton worked at the restaurant from 1981 to '87, then returned in 1990 as the head cook. He's the one responsible for the mouth watering taste and smell of barbecue beef, pork and chicken. To find out some of his secrets for a great barbecue, Herald Staff Writer Arthur Zielinski stopped at the Ranch for lunch and talked with Pendleton.

Q: What do you like the most about being a cook at the Rib Ranch?
A: Just cooking. I love to cook and see that people enjoy the food. I also love working for Ms. Thompson. She is like my second mom. We all work as a team. Everyone here is like a family that works together.

Q: What kind of meat do you think makes the best barbecue — beef, pork or chicken?
A: I think that beef and pork are equally good. But I personally prefer the beef. I'm a beef man. The pork is a better seller, most people like the chopped up pork. However, ribs sell the best on weekends. When the weekend comes, people prefer the barbecue ribs.

Q: When you smoke the meat, what kind of wood gives the food the best flavor?
A: We use blackjack oak. We used hickory, but it's not that good, it's all right, but it doesn't give the flavor.

Blackjack oak is a better cooking wood, it gives the meat a more smoky taste. But, it's hard to find locally. People will sell it to you, but it's expensive.

Q: Does it take a large amount of wood to smoke the meat? How much wood do you use?
A: Yes, it takes a lot of wood because we use a pit, not a smoker. What we use is a "real pit" with just fire and wood. Unlike some other places, we don't use an electric or gas smoker, with some wood to add flavor. I start to build the fire each day around 9:30 a.m. to get it ready for the meat. It only takes about 15-minutes to get the fire going.

Q: How long does it take to cook and smoke the meat?
A: For beef it takes about three hours to make certain it's cooked all the way to the center. The ribs will take around 1 1/2 hours and the chicken will take about an hour to cook.

Q: If you cook the meat longer will it taste better, or is it possible to over-cook it?
A: You definitely don't want to over-cook the meat. When you use a pit to cook, you're cooking at a higher temperature than a smoker, and the meat will dry out if cooked too long. We use a two step process. First place the meat on a lower rack next to the fire to cook, then we move it to an upper rack to let it smoke. We cool our meat to 45 degrees to prevent any kind of bacteria or contamination. Then we heat it to 160 degrees and keep it at 140 degrees for serving.

Q: Do you make your own secret barbecue sauce? And are you willing to share the recipe?
A: Before we cook the meat we rub it with a "special" seasoning, that's the secret part. And yes we do make our own barbecue sauce, and that's a secret too — he said with a big grin.

Bollingers take reigns of Eastern Star

Special to the Herald

SANFORD — Sanford's Debra and Mike Bollinger were recently installed as Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron of Seminole Chapter No. 2 Order of the Eastern Star for 2001-2002.

The ceremony took place at the Sanford Masonic Lodge and was led by Installing Officer Sister Jean Puhl, Past Matron, and Assisting Installing Officer Brother Gene "Skip" Puhl, Past Patron, from Ormond Beach.

Sister Nancy Valaer gave the welcome in the place of Sister Kay Ladd, Chapter No. 2's Worthy Matron for 2000-2001, who had already left on planned three-year cruise of the United States.

Brother Chuck Valerius also gave good-bye remarks as the outgoing Worthy Patron, prior to the 2000-2001 officers retiring.

In addition to the Puhl's, other members of the installation team were Sister Virginia Sapp, Past Matron, as Installing Marshal, Sister Nancy Crawford, Past Matron, as Installing Chaplain, Sister Miriam Pitts, as Installing Organist, and Sanford's own Cheryl Jessup as Soloist.

Following a beautiful Star Point Ceremony, the installation ceremony took place with the Bollinger's being installed as Worthy Matron and Patron; Sister Reverend Margaret "Peggy" Hegeman, Past Matron, as Associate Matron;

Lake Mary choir updates wardrobe

Members of the Lake Mary High School Choir burst into ecstatic cheers and thunderous applause late Saturday when their Choir Director announced that the day long fund-raiser had been successful enough to replace the very old, outdated cranberry dresses that one student said had been with the choir since the dawn of time. While that was an exaggeration, the uniforms were a couple of decades behind the times. The new costumes for the women are very up to date and very pretty. In addition to the costumes for the women, the men will be getting new vests for their tuxedos that match the women's dresses. The new uniforms will be ordered immediately.

That means when the choir goes to the state competition in May, they'll look as good as any other choir there. And for the students going to Europe this summer, they won't be giving any of the Europeans the impression that Florida is still stuck in the '80's.

Arts Festival Declared A Hit

After a week's delay due to inclement weather, the Lake Mary Elementary school was finally able to present their 9th Annual Spring Arts Festival. "Jammin' with the Arts — Floribbean Style" was the theme. Held at Lake Mary City Hall, the annual arts festival gave parents and Lake Mary residents a chance to see the kind of artwork that elementary school age students are capable of. Every child had a piece of art in the festival. And there was some very impressive art work at every grade level, thanks in a large part to Lake Mary's Art Teacher, Diane Neetz.

PTA President Ginger Flynn presents Lake Mary Mayor Thom Greene with a plaque of appreciation from Lake Mary Elementary School

PTA President Ginger Flynn welcomed the audience to the event and thanked the city for its continuing support of the elementary school. She then presented a plaque of appreciation to Mayor Thom Greene.

In addition to the art, there was food, fun, and of course, entertainment. The Lake Mary High School Drama Club was represented by four very talented students who brought a little bit of Broadway to the evening.

Lake Mary Elementary School has more than just talented artists. The Lake Mary Elementary Band played a beautiful set for the audience. The band, under the direction of Amy Gonzalez, has come a long way since the beginning of the year. Not all elementary schools have bands, and Lake Mary is very fortunate to have a music teacher capable of running not just one, but two bands. The Lake Mary Elementary Band consists of a Beginning Band and an Advanced Band.

The High Tide Band brought a little Jimmy Buffet and Bob Marley. The band played twice during the evening, always with a little bit of that "Floribbean" flare. Juggler Todd Kay amazed the audience with his act. There seemed to be quite a few would-be jugglers in the audience after Kay's performance.

As with any event, things only run smoothly if you have volunteers to help things along. Kim Friedman was the chair for the Arts Festival. She is also in charge of the entertainment. Gina O'Day was the artwork coordinator. Carolyn Horne and Janie Paone were in charge of the food. Kathy Murphy was in charge of the face painting and the tattoos (no, not real tattoos) and Kim Harrington was in charge of publicity.

The Lake Mary PTA was very fortunate to have contributions from Dixie Taylor of Coldwell Banker Real Estate, Central Florida Title Company and David Vorozilchak, APAC.

First Presbyterian Church

It was 1926. A small church, then known as the Lake Mary Community Presbyterian Church, held their first Easter Sunrise Service on the shores of Lake Mary at Evansdale Park.

The minister at the first sunrise worship service was Rev. James M. Thompson. His son, Jimmy Thompson, will be attending the 75th sunrise service. In a state where people think there are few things older than the mouse, a 75 year history is quite impressive.

The sunrise service eventually moved from Evansdale Park. The late Mr. & Mrs. Frank Evans offered their lakeshore home for the services. Their daughter, Claire O'Connor has owned the home for many years and continues to offer it as the site for the Easter Sunrise Service.

The public is invited to attend this joyous celebration. The service will begin at 7 a.m. Easter Sunday at 227 Clermont Road. To get to Clermont, go south on Country Club Road from Lake Mary Boulevard. After crossing the railroad tracks, Clermont Road is the second street on the left.

Fitness

which will be made available to all students, staff, parents and individuals in the community surrounding Crooms Academy.

Haines explained each student will develop their own "wellness plans" that will be computer monitored using the TruFit 600. This information will be downloaded and students will printout a record of their exercise program during the school year.

Helping the students stay healthy means keeping away from tobacco products. The school is planning a "Tobacco-Free Field Day" sometime in May, which will be partially funded by the Seminole County Tobacco Prevention Coalition. Tobacco Prevention Coordinator for the Seminole County Health Department Michael Mobley will be coordinating work between the Lake Mary High School SWAT (Students Working Against Tobacco) team and the Crooms students.

According to Haines, the coalition will provide the materials for the Life Skills Curriculum for all of the Crooms middle school students and along with the training of the REACH teachers. The REACH classes, Haines said, are the main focus for the schools tobacco and other drug prevention education.

The grant, said Haines, will not only help Crooms improve the equipment and facilities, "it will expose the students to a plethora of opportunities, and they will become empowered, independent, and health-minded critical thinkers in control of their fitness and future."

Dr. Joseph Boyle Cites Whiplash "Vital Period"

Dr. Joseph Boyle of the First Health Chiropractic Clinics, shared an important message for automobile accident victims, Thursday evening, to make them aware of the importance of an immediate chiropractic examination for all whiplash injuries.

During the dinner seminar, Dr. Boyle stated, "The first three weeks after a whiplash injury should be called the "vital period of treatment."

"If accident victims would only realize the need for immediate examination and treatment following an automobile accident," says Dr. Boyle. "During the three week period following an accident, proper care and treatment of a whiplash injury can often save the accident victim a lifetime of pain and discomfort."

"Remember," Dr. Boyle stated, "a whiplash injury doesn't always produce symptoms until days, weeks, or months after an accident. Many accident victims are "stunned" after an accident and don't feel pain and stiffness associated with whiplash. However, after a night's sleep, or even longer they usually experience a stiffness or soreness of their neck. This is a tip-off of a whiplash injury."

"Of course," Dr. Boyle added, "many whiplash victims feel pain immediately."

The most common symptoms of a whiplash are stiffness and tenderness in the neck and headaches. There can also be visual disturbances and shoulder pain. "And, he noted, "in 50% of the cases, there is low back pain."

What is a whiplash and what is its cause?

Dr. Boyle stated, "A whiplash injury is caused by a sudden violent bending of the neck in one direction, and then in the opposite direction. This sudden violent bending misaligns bones, tears muscles and ligaments and sprains joints."

The most common cause of a whiplash is an auto collision. However, a sudden jerk on one or both arms, a violent blow to the head, a reflex jerking of the head due to fright or sudden noise, or any kind of a fall that causes forceful movement of the head and neck can cause a whiplash injury.

"Incidentally," Dr. Boyle pointed out, "I recently read that a research council of the U.S. Air Force demonstrated that the normal neck can withstand a forward snapping motion 50 times the force of gravity before a major injury occurs, but only a backward snapping of five times the force of gravity can be tolerated."

He also noted that the elasticity of the neck structures decreases with advancing age. Dr. Boyle added, "The older the accident victim, the more likely he will be injured and disability occur."

"There are many complications of whiplash injuries. Strains, sprains, fractures, nerve injuries, muscle spasms, ruptured discs, nerve compression, brain and spinal cord injury and traumatic arthritis," Dr. Boyle added.

"If the accident victim has not received proper care and treatment following the injury," Dr. Boyle added, "all too frequently, an old whiplash injury comes back to haunt the person." "When I say there is a "vital period" after a whiplash, I mean just that. It's the one and only golden opportunity to give proper care, treatment and correction."

When should you determine whether or not you have been injured in an automobile accident?

"At any time you experience a soreness or stiffness in your neck after an accident, you should consult a Doctor of Chiropractic. Chiropractic doctors are specialists in spinal disorders and will advise you frankly and sincerely, should you require medical care, they will refer you to an appropriate physician," Dr. Boyle said.

Dr. Boyle maintains an office at 3801 W. Lake Mary, in the Publix shopping center, and can be reached for further information at 321-7500.

Woman's club reviews 'Arts Alive in

The Easter spirit prevailed at the April meeting of the Sanford Woman's Club when sounds and signs of the religious holiday filled the quaint clubhouse.

In keeping with the colorful décor, Carole Kirchhoff, arts department chair, arranged a program on "Arts Alive in Sanford." Longtime award-winning Sanford artist Ashby Jones spoke to the group about the Sanford-Seminole Art Association and the scholarships available. Ashby showed some of his paintings including a charcoal rendering of Ralph Bagley, while explaining the charcoal technique, according to Phyllis Senkarik. Ashby said the art association meets the fourth Saturday of the month and holds a membership show every February.

Ron Rose, executive director of the Sanford-Seminole County Chamber of Commerce informed the women about the numerous cultural activities available in the Sanford area. Phyllis said he also encouraged participation in the Seminole Cultural Arts Council Inc.

Patricia Merritt Whatley spoke on the Tajiri Arts, a performing arts school in Sanford. She showed a video of students and their accomplishments in the educational and arts program designed for students from ages 3-19.

President Betty Jack conducted the business meeting and called for routine officers and committee chairman reports. Mindy Tooley, chaplain, led the group in an inspirational message and Tina Joseph directed a group singing accompanied by Donna Smith.

Second Vice President Jane Saxon read the resignation of Missy Pacheco and a new member, Wanda Ross, was installed. Carole Kirchhoff reviewed forthcoming arts events. Public Affairs chair, Bettye D. Smith, reported on the need for water conservation and announced forthcoming public events.

Home Life chair Linda Sparrow disclosed that the following bell ringers will receive certificates from the Salvation Army: Vivian Buck, Marty Colegrove, Pat Foster, Viola Frank, Phyllis Hodge, Rose Jacobson, Charlotte Knowles, Bettye Smith, Carol Kirchhoff, Phyllis Senkarik, Polly Pezold and Jewel Williams.

Chairman Charlotte Knowles reported that the Literary Group will meet at the home of Emy Sokol April 18 when poetry will be reviewed.

Steele guest speaker for fellowship meeting

David Steele, television play-by-play announcer for the Orlando Magic, will speak at the inaugural North Seminole Mens' Breakfast, Thursday, April 19, at the Heathrow Country Club. The breakfast, from 7 until 8:30 a.m. is jointly sponsored by Markham Woods Presbyterian Church Mens' Leadership Team and The Gathering USA. It is the first in a planned series that will provide Christian fellowship opportunities for men who live and work in Seminole County. Tickets are $15.

The breakfast series is designed for men working in the booming Lake Mary High Tech corridor who are unable to attend mens'

It's hard for wife to forgive husband's deceiving friends

DEAR ABBY: I have a dilemma. Two years ago, my husband had an affair. We weathered the storm; our marriage is intact. However, the aftershocks keep coming when I least expect them.

DEAR HURT AND ANGRY: Considering that the couple aided and abetted your husband in the affair and offered no explanation or apology for their part in it, your feelings are justified.

Dear Abby

A couple my husband and I had befriended when we were first married are being married this fall. During my husband's affair, they covered for him and kept his affair a secret from me. In many ways, they made it easier for him to carry on without getting caught. During this time, they would have nothing to do with me. Even after I discovered the affair, neither offered me any support, and I never received an apology.

Now their wedding festivities are under way, and they are starting to warm up to me again. They have asked my husband to be in the wedding. He wants to throw them a big wedding party, and of course, he will want to buy them an expensive gift.

I grit my teeth thinking about having to play the friendly hostess to two people who betrayed me and whom I have not yet forgiven. I have not told my husband how I feel because I am committed to letting go of the past and not holding this affair over his head. He has been an exemplary husband ever since it ended, but I really want no part of this wedding. Please help me.

HURT AND ANGRY,
AUSTIN, TEXAS

Before letting the plans for the party go further, tell your husband exactly how you feel about hosting a party for the couple who had a hand in nearly destroying your marriage. If he's expecting you to play hostess, he needs a wake-up call.

P.S. An affair is like an earthquake; it causes cracks in the foundation of the marriage. If you and your husband haven't already done so, schedule some sessions with a marriage counselor. Until you do, the "aftershocks" will continue, and your union could crumble.

Easter traditions

Easter has forever been the highlight of spring. The holiday not only marks the religious resurrection of Christ but also the beginning of life for the new year.

Sica Nacu

As the most important event in the Orthodox Christian calendar, Romanians traditionally start celebrating Easter on Saturday evening. Dressed in their best cloths and holding candles, people gather together around churches. During the Easter Resurrection Mass (Slujba de Inviere) held just before the midnight, the priest comes out of the altar to give the blessing, distribute the holly bread and bring out the flame from which everyone will light their candles. Suddenly the darkness is lit up and thousands of people holding candles take to the streets.

Everyone tries to keep the flame alive until they arrive home. There, around the table, the family comes together for a special Easter meal. Roast lamb, Greens soup with lamb, Baked lamb with scallions, Boston Bib salad with lots of fresh dill, green onions, new red radishes and a lot of painted eggs are served with Paska braided cozonac dough with a sweet mixture of cottage, which is the traditional Easter Sunday bread — "Cozonac" (Panattone) — cheese and eggs.

One of the most beautiful Romanian Easter traditions is painted eggs. The shells of hard-boiled eggs are dyed in colorful patterns, with a rich red the prevailing color. They are often decorated with folk motifs. Designs are made with an implement called a "condei" — a small cartridge filled with paint with a sharp point on the end. There are a myriad of motifs used on painted eggs. The most popular ones are the cross, the star, the sun, the wave, the zigzags, and stylized flowers. Sometimes, motifs are applied using natural leaves. Traditionally, it's the women who paint Easter eggs, and they have to do it on the Thursday before Easter. Women are not supposed to do any work on Friday. Easter painted eggs with bright colors in geometrical patterns or stylized figures, animal and floral designs are traditional for Eastern Europe, from Romania, Moldova, Ukraine, to Lithuania. It started a long time ago as a pagan ritual. Christianity adopted this pagan tradition and Easter eggs have become an indelible feature of the feast commemorating the Resurrection of Christ.

In many parts of the world, one finds ancient myths in which the egg is a symbol of the Sun, spring and revival of nature. Ethnologists of the 20th century have discovered that the ancient beliefs of many peoples regarded the "Egg of Light" as a source from which the world had sprung, developing from Chaos to Order. In Eastern Europe, the tradition of painting eggs goes back thousand of years — clay eggs, once evidently painted and dating from the 13th or 12th century B.C. — were unearthed by archaeologists from river Nistru (Dniester) to Moldavia and Vilnius, Lithuania.

Christianity imbued the painted egg with new meanings, transforming it into the Easter egg and giving it a new symbolism. But, they could not eradicate the elements of pagan beliefs associated with the painted egg. Easter eggs, blessed in church by a priest, were continued to be used as charms for many different reasons — to make bees give more honey; to guard against misadventure on a journey; or to secure happiness in marriage.

Some of the patterns and signs on painted eggs have symbolism that have come down to us probably from the pre-historic times.

Wavy patterns symbolize rain; dots symbolize grain which is about to sprout; squares and rhombi symbolize the earth and its fertility and the Greek cross symbolizes the sun. All the figures representations, of course, are highly stylized. Up until the beginning of the 20th Century, natural dyeing materials were used, such as onion peel, birch leaves, hay, oak or alder bark.

Very popular was the dark dye produced by soaking and boiling a mixture of alder bark and rust.

Dyed eggs were placed in a hot oven or hot water for the wax to melt. Patterns in several colors were produced by painting them with wax on a lighter color and placing the egg in a darker dye. Similar patterns could also be scraped with the tip of a knife.

How To Paint Easter Eggs

As well as making inspirational gifts, decorative eggs make a lovely table setting for Easter Sunday. Just arrange them in pretty, colored bowls or baskets on a little foliage or freshly cut grass, and place at either end of the table. Or follow the German tradition of hanging decorative eggs from spray-painted branches then scatter them throughout the house just as you would holly at Christmas time. The eggs could be either blown or hard-boiled and dyed.

How To Blow Eggs

Wash the egg and prick top and bottom with a thick needle or hatpin. Peel away a little shell at the base. Holding the egg over a bowl, seal your lips over the top and blow hard. The egg will resist then come out in a rush! Rinse the shell carefully in cold water and prop up to dry.

Alternatively, eggs can be hard-boiled after they have been washed (and the shell degreased).

How To Color Eggs

Use only food-grade dyes, such as red food dye or other colors. Dissolve the dye in warm water, add a pinch of salt and few drops of vinegar, then bring to boil.

Dip the hard-boiled eggs and leave to color on all sides. After dyeing, leave the egg to dry on a plate.

You could use onion skins to create a really glamorous Easter egg! Boil eggs (in shells) with onion skins and they'll turn a rich, glowing bronze. Then paint patterns on them using gold, silver or bronze pens

Alternatively, melt some candle stubs in a saucepan over a low heat. Dilute a few drops of different food dyes in glasses of water. Dip egg first in dye then into the melted wax just to cover the dye mark. The wax seals the dye so you can dip the egg in several colors without them running into one another.

You could also try patterning the egg with little stick-on circles and stars. Then paint with poster or spray paints. Peel off the labels to reveal the shapes in contrast underneath. For a two-color effect, paint the whole egg first in a light color, stick on the labels, repaint in a darker shade and remove labels (the shapes will retain the original pale color).

leaving Disney, John was honored at a breakfast at the Grand Floridian in celebration of his 41st birthday. John, Shirley and kids met Lourine at Lakeview Nursing Center where she is a resident and had lunch at Angelo's in downtown Sanford. The group later visited cemeteries, homes where Shirley and Lourine had lived and other sites.

Back at the nursing center, John signed autographs for the residents who were in awe of the famous star of TV's "Dukes of Hazzard." The next day, he took the children to Silver Springs, one of his favorite haunts when he was a child. The visitors departed for John's home in Agoura Falls, Calif., where Shirley will spend about six weeks before going back to Nashville.

Needless to say, Lourine was beyond being thrilled. "It was such a surprise and John is so good-looking. He certainly doesn't look 41. Oh, we had such a wonderful time," she extolled.

Welds Do Paris

Valerie and George Weld are still on cloud nine following a week's visit to Paris and neighboring sites. "We had a great time," she said. "George and his natural curiosity...we couldn't get enough."

They were guests of George's nephew, Rolf Weld, who is an attaché at the American Embassy in Paris. They toured the embassy and later were special guests at the famous Club Lido.

Kate Vanderliet, the six-foot, one-inch lead dancer at Club Lido, formerly danced at Lake Tahoe and Las Vegas with Thom Greene, a local dancer and teacher at School of Dance Arts. The Welds were entertained backstage after the show. "It was just wonderful. She (Kate) was just as wonderful backstage as on," Valerie said.

They took the fast train to Brussels and were impressed with 50 or so restaurants in a block and one-half stretch and the antique brick streets. Touring the Louvre, Versailles Palace, Notre Dame, museums and churches was exciting for the couple. "The escalator ride up the Eiffel Tower was quite a thrill," Valerie added.

Although the weather was damp and chilly, there's a bright ending to the long flight home. There was a glitch in the Welds' booking, so the airlines flew them gratis first class back to America and you can bet they were not the least bit offended. In fact, they smiled at the pampered red carpet treatment all the way across the Atlantic.

Hillmans Visit Germany

Mary and Barry Hillman have returned from Germany where they visited their daughter, Laurie, and her husband, Air Force pilot Lt. Michael Hartson who is stationed at Ramstein. "It was absolutely fabulous," Mary said.

The Hartsons have been in Germany since January and are comfortably settled in their new 5-bedroom town house which was not quite complete when they moved in. Barry loaded one of his suitcases with tools to add some customized touches to the sprawling residence.

Mary said he made 18 trips to Hornbachs, the Home Depot of Germany. "It was a work trip," she laughed.

The Hillmans visited a clockmaker's village in the Black Forest and thoroughly tested Germany's finest cuisine as well as explored some charming Old World shops and boutiques. "The flowers took your breath away," Mary said.

There were orchids, tulips from Holland and even blue roses, she added.

As luck would have it, son Andrew Hillman was also serving temporary duty with the U.S. Army at Ramstein during his folks' visit to complete the family reunion setting in Germany.
