of you who'll be trying your luck in this week's doubles (9:30 a.m. both Bantams & Jr/Srs) and the singles at 1 o'clock, BOWLING POT POUREI .

Since we had so much good luck about two weeks ago with our Six Game Handicap Sweeper, we're trying it again this Saturday at 9 p.m. Note the change in days from Friday to Saturday. It's open to both men and women and it's handicapped . . . should be well over $200 in prize money, awarded to both scratch and handicapped scores.

ight Bowling, as usual, starts at 7 p.m. . . . the same starting time as our Stars of the Laues tourney. Incidentally, there's a special story to tell on one of this week's Stars of the Lanes champs. So many times, whenever you hear of a special event (like this one), you automatically think it has to be someone who's been in the sport for a long, long time and who usually is carrying a high average. Right?

Well, this week (get set for another version of a sweet ole lady story) Sarah Lee bowled low scores to win . . . but then remember - she is only bowling for a couple of months.

STEVE SANBORN

And what makes this one even more unique is that this 'charmer' is 70 (that's right - seventy) years of age! So, it's with a great deal of pleasure that we salute Sarah in an individual high of twelve giving us a lot of depth. This son Lee as one of our two weekly winners . . . the other being points to spark his team along. really helped the team to take Discus - 1 Benson, 2 Bracken Lefty Jesse Cook.

O.K. . . O.K., So, I promise to mention you had a 206 in the Seminole Junior College bowling class last Monday. I promise . . . I promise. Of course, when I showed Steve Sanborn this week's listing of high games from our Saturday morning youngsters, he asked that I just as soon forget all about mentioning his score. (Ha . . . that'll be the day. After bugging me that much, I even got a mug shot of good buddy, Steve-ab-reene, too.) here's an idea of how well they were pocket punching this past Saturday, Larry Brown had a 203, Mike O'Higgins a 205, one pin more than Harold Herbst's 204 and Kevin Spolski finished

No Wonder

After reflecting (that's catching yourself day-dreaming mah friends) on the reason why so many are coming out for the weekly Stars of the Lanes, I can now see why . . . IT'S PROFITABLE, THAT'S WHY.

Each of the two winners get these prizes: surprise gifts from Holcomb's Card & Gift Shop, Mona's Flower Shop, Seminole Hardware in Longwood; haircut from Betty Anne's Hair Styling, suit cleaned free from Sanford Plaza Cleaners, five gallons of gas Plaza Phillips 66 Service Station, and the very latest local merchant to join is Sanford's Piggy Bank with a combination slacks and matching top.

I know . . . I know what you're going to say, "Betcha some of thoe guys would look cute in it, too!"

Fresh Cole Slaw You con't have to be Irish to enjoy corned beef and cabbage! As a flavor combination, It's a natural and everybody's favorite. Wipe a 4 to 5-lb. corned-beef brisket with damp paper towel, place in large kettle, cover with cold water. Add a medium clove of garlic, a medium yellow enion (halved), 2 whole cloves, 10 whole black peppers, 2 bay leaves, ¼ teasp. mustard seed. Bring to boil, reduce heat, simmer 5 minutes, then skim. Cover and simmer 3 to 4 hours until fork-tender. During last 15 minutes, add a medium head of cabbage cut into wedges. To make it a one-dish meal, add during last 25 minutes 6 medium petatoes (pared and quartered). And you can turn it into a "New England Boiled Dinner" by adding 6 medium carrots and 6 medium white turnips or parsnips (pared and quartered) when you add the potatoes. To serve, remove corned beef and vegetables from liquid. Slice beef, arrange on large pletter, surround by vegetables. Serves six to eight.

For the eating o' the green, make an Emerald Fruit Mold, using lime gelatin dessert, adding grapefruit sections (cut into small chunks) and diced apple. Individual molds on curly endive or surrounded by watercress are attractive. Dilute mayonnaise with a little orange juice, add a drop or two of green food coloring, and spoon over molds just before serving. For this meal, you don't need the luck of the Irish to have everything turn out delicious! Sliced Cooked Salami or From Our Dairy Dept. Kraft's Cracker Berrol Sharp Cheddar ... Margarine to collect her ausband's life insurance was denied, even though she had not heard from him for eight years. The court noted that the missing man had abandoned his family once before, that he was a fugitive from justice, and thhat his girl friend had vanished at the same time-all good reasons for him to "lie low."

Nor does the presumption of death apply if there has been no reasonable effort to locate the missing person. For example, a court refused to presume that an absent husband was dead, when it appeared that his wife had not even bothered to ask her in-laws if they knew where he was.

By CECILY DROWNSTONE issociated Press Food Editor One of the best cakes ever to it the American culinary scene is the old-fashioned one called 1. . 3. 4 Cake. It got its name because it calls for 1 cup of butter, 2 cups of sugar, 3 cups of flour and 4 eggs plus appropriate amounts of leavening, sait, milk and flavoring. That cake was extremely copular in the last century and still is.

But somehow or other an ex cellent 1, 2, 3, 4 Cookie got lost in the shuffle of recipes. We found a rule for it in "The Boston Cook Book" by Mary J. Lincoln, first published in 1883 and long out of print.

When we tried the 1, 2, 3, 4 15 Cookie, we thought it was worth _ reviving. So here's the recipe just as Mrs. Lincoln gave it except for a few details. In the separated and the whites beaten before they were added. In testing, we found results were the same when the eggs were added without separating and beating

The original recipe called for one teaspoonful spice; we use that useful presentday mixpumpkin pie spice. And still another innovation: for dropping the cookies we like a modern stainless steel cookie droppera good gadget to have in the Nowadays many mothers are nutrition-conscious in practical ways. They don't keep telling their youngsters to eat suchand-such because it's full of vitamins and minerals; they just add nutritious ingredients to everyday dishes and make those dishes taste good.

One of the nutrient-rich ingredients they're likely to use is wheat germ, and they use it in ingenious ways-from working t into a meat-loaf mixture to sprinkling it over pancake bat-

A wheat-germ recipe we tried recently is going into our extra-good file. It's for Walnut Gems -a cross between a muffin and a cupcake. The gems are delicious served warm from the oven or reheated.
