John Temple Graves Addresses Stetson's 1948 Graduating Class

DELAND May 31 (Special)—"Democracy is the true answer to the atomic threat and promise for democracies alone can be trusted not to make war," John Temple Graves, editor, author and lecturer said here today as he addressed 113 members of the senior class, the largest graduating class ever to go out from Stetson University.

Immediately following the address, a degree of doctor of laws was conferred upon him by President J. Ollie Edmunds. Three other honorary degrees were given. They were: Juan C. Orndain, in charge of all government publications in the Philippines and a graduate of the Stetson School of Law, doctor of laws. The Rev. Robert G. Lee, president of the Southern Baptist Convention and pastor of Bellevue Baptist Church, Memphis, doctor of divinity. Lyman P. Prior, head of the voice and theory department of the Jacksonville College of Music, doctor of music.

Bachelor of arts degrees went to 80; bachelor of science, 20; bachelor of science in business, 21; bachelor of music, 9; bachelor of laws, 6; master of arts, 9, and master of science, 1.

Four awards were made to students. Dorothy Flory, Pequea, Penn., received the Delta Delta Delta award for the freshman woman having the highest scholastic average. Jimmie Nell Fleming, of Orlando, received The Honor award for the freshman woman most outstanding in scholarship, leadership and campus activities. Louise M. Hargis, of Leesburg, received the Benedict Spanish Scholarship Award. O. Douglas Stenstrom, of Sanford, received a year's subscription to United States Law Week, given by the publishers and Stetson University.

"We believe that no matter what the cynics and the old guard say," said Mr. Graves, "there can be decent standards of living and well-being in this age of productive miracles, and we believe that, no matter what the socialists and controlled economy people say, there can be liberty with this flag. We know that liberty doesn't amount to much unless there is a certain amount of welfare, unless men are reasonably free of the sheriff's hammer and the bum's rush. But we know, too, that neither the welfare and security amount to much without freedom."

"We had a group of people once in the South with more social security than any others ever had or will have. They were secure against old age, sickness, unemployment, every mortal vicissitude. But they happened to be slaves, Negro slaves. And in our wisdom and justice we freed them slaves (or rather, some unfortunate gentlemen from above the Potomac came down and did it) and we have subscribed to the great notion because security is not enough—because in our country we believe liberty and bread can both be had.

"Liberty and bread. Sometimes, as in the 1930's, the stress needs to be on bread. Sometimes, as now, it needs to be on liberty."

TB BOARD RULE
TALLAHASSEE, May 31—(AP)—Attorney General Tom Watson sued today the State Tuberculosis Board has no authority to employ medical personnel who have not passed Florida's basic science examination.

Watson said the three state tuberculosis sanatoria are operated by the Tuberculosis Board and not by the cabinet, as are other state hospitals.

A state law specifically empowers the cabinet to employ out-of-state medical personnel, who have not passed the Florida examination, when it is unable to obtain adequate personnel residing in the state.

"I find no provision under the laws of the state of Florida placing the three state sanatoria under the control of the Board of Commissioners of State Institutions," Watson said.

Therefore, he added, the Tuberculosis Board is not exempt from the Florida law requiring the employment of Florida residents who have passed the basic examination.

SMITH RETURNS
MOSCOW May 31 (AP)—U. S. Ambassador W. B. Smith was back at his desk today.

He returned to Moscow Saturday from a fishing trip in Norway. He was not feeling well and went to bed, but was up last night for an embassy dinner for Mrs. Lucius D. Clay, wife of the American military governor of Germany.

Meet The Candidates

By RUSSELL BRINES AP Newfeatures

TOKYO—Gen. Douglas MacArthur sat alone in his study at the American embassy, writing a statement with pencil, as he often did. A few minutes later it was taken to his headquarters, five minutes distant, and mimeographed for the press in the customary way.

Until then, no one in Tokyo knew that the "old man" had decided at last on perhaps the biggest personal gamble of his long career.

The brief statement, which announced his presidential availability, put MacArthur's extensive military record on the political block. It made him a target for the roughest kind of criticism. It signaled the possible end of his career as supreme commander for the occupation of Japan—a project for which he has fought and worked intensively.

The decision, therefore, hardly was made lightly. But once made, it was disposed of quickly and with finality.

Thirty minutes after the statement was released, MacArthur reached his headquarters office. He plunged at once into occupation affairs. His aides knew better than discuss politics with him. One of the general's closest advisers was asked if he knew about the decision in advance.

"You know how the 'old man' works," he answered.

That was the closest thing to saying MacArthur had calculated the risks, made the final choice and put it into execution on his own.

This carried over into politics the essential methods which the general has utilized, in war and peace, during more than fifteen years of top command. The swift and final decision, the calculated gamble, the direct action and unquestioned authority—these make MacArthur.

He has the military man's preference for direct action. In combat he was noted for his aggressive strategy, the thrust and the counter thrust designed to keep the enemy off balance. "Hit 'em where they ain't," was a favorite headquarters motto.

In the formative days of the Japanese occupation, his methods were the same. The defeated Japanese government never knew what to expect next in the way of reform from headquarters.

MacArthur frequently has appeared impatient with the delays of international machinery. Having started the movement for an early Japanese peace treaty, he proposed recently that the United States take action, by herself if necessary, to reduce economic restrictions and uncertainties.

Early in the occupation, the supreme commander began what has been more or less of a continuing controversy with communists. He began his campaign in Japan long before official United States policy moved in that direction.

On the other hand, he refrained carefully from using his extensive authority to intervene directly in Japanese affairs during the early part of the occupation. Democracy at "bayonet point," he said, would not last, and the Japanese were to be given the opportunity of working out their own destiny, as far as practicable.

In recent months, the growing economic crisis brought repeated warnings from MacArthur that action by the Japanese government was imperative. None came. So military government teams have broadened their range of activities to include pressure on Japanese officials for the proper collection of taxes, increased production of coal, a balanced budget and similar necessary improvements.

The occupation takes its tone from Gen. MacArthur himself. He makes all basic policy decisions, closely supervises the full range of activities and keeps himself remarkably well informed on events under his jurisdiction.

Headquarters and military forces in Japan are highly loyal to the general, accept his loyalty and the increased authority it gives him as an essential part of his military position.

The desire to avoid ruffling or upsetting the "old man" appears to be always present at headquarters. He has become visibly depressed over newspaper criticism, and he is known to have a sharp tongue when aroused.

He relies upon the advice of numerous experts and other officials, but none can be considered so close as to exercise dominant influence.

One of his evident favorites, however, is Brig. Gen. Courtney Whitney, head of the government section, who is one of the few men with "backdoor" access to his chief's office. Whitney was a lawyer in pre-war Manila and later a guerrilla commander in the Philippines. He is believed to have political ambitions.

How much influence Whitney might have if MacArthur actively enters the campaign is unknown at present. One of the general's former officers, ex-Gov. Philip LaFollette of Wisconsin, is head of United States campaign headquarters. LaFollette, a colonel, was a public relations officer in the Philippines.

MacArthur has deep loyalties and demonstrated affection for other men who have served with him. His particular favorites are veterans of Bataan and Corregidor who are known in Tokyo as members of the "Bataan Club."

The general speaks frequently of those early war days with unabashed sentimentality.

The general speaks frequently of those early war days with unabashed sentimentality.

In his office, he is known as a fair but driving taskmaster. He maintains a heavy personal schedule, without pause for holidays, Sundays or vacations. He expects key officers to match his hours and his energy—which, even at 68, has worn out younger men.

Nevertheless, he remains in excellent health. Army physicians constantly watch him. A year ago, they reported his reflexes were those of a man of 60.

But the general takes little interest in athletics. His principal hobbies are reading and motion pictures. Perhaps his major health precaution is sufficient sleep. Guests find him a genial host and an impressive talker. He likes to amaze them with a wealth of detailed information and an unusually retentive memory.

Throughout his career, MacArthur seldom has lost. He has climbed steadily in the army, to the highest honors it could offer in each position he has thrown himself into the job with confidence. In late years he has pushed himself onward, as if following a restless destiny.

SEINING CASE
MOORE HAVEN, May 31—(AP)—Glades County Judge J. M. Coss today quashed charges against six commercial fishermen of unlawful seining in Lake Okechobee and unlawfully possessing certain fishing equipment.

Judge Coss after an extended legal argument by attorneys for the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and the fishermen, held there was some "reasonableness" in the fishermen's contention that seining in the lake was not reducing the lake's population of food fish.

The action in the county court is expected to be followed by an appeal to the circuit court and eventually reach the state supreme court.

Nation's Business, Politics Pause Momentarily To Honor War Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—It takes a long, long time to lean up a battlefield.

It isn't finished when the mortal debris and the broken weapons are taken away and the crops cover the maimed earth again.

There's much more to it than that. It takes generations to clean up a battlefield. One lifetime for the hurt to heal, perhaps several lifetimes for the hate to heal. And eventually someone has to foot the bill for the battlefield.

America today lays memorial wreaths on the graves of all the servicemen who died to keep the nation's pattern of freedom. It is a land still busy cleaning up its battlefields, old and new.

Only two of its nine wars have been written off the books. They are the Revolutionary War and the War of 1812. The others are still being paid for.

I don't know what the Revolutionary War cost to fight, but at least 4,644 of the 250,000 to 395,000 soldiers were killed. The government afterward paid pensioners $70,000,000.

The war of 1812 cost $119,624,000 to fight. Incomplete records list 1,950 of the 528,274 troops as killed. Hiram Cronk, the last veteran of the war, died in 1908. But one widow of an 1812 soldier was still getting a $50 a month pension in 1938.

Up until 1933 the U. S. paid out $46,207,000 in war of 1812 pensions.

The last veteran of the war with Mexico died well over a decade ago, but a few months ago 47 dependents of the soldiers of 1845 were on the pension rolls. The war cost $173,298,000 to fight and the lives of 1,549 of the 116,597 men who served. Total pensions paid up to 1933 were $60,424,348.

Memorial Day is an outgrowth of the first U. S. billion dollar war—the "civil-war-between-the-states," which cost the North some $3,000,000,000 in four years, 110,070 battle dead and 231,791 who died of disease.

But the government by 1933 had expended $7,698,591,101—twice the initial cost of the war—to the Union veterans. The Southern states paid the confederates, of whom 56 still live. There are only 52 living Union veterans. But last September 28,351 persons were still on the Civil War pension list.

The brief Spanish-American war cost $1,901,962,000 but only 700 American lives in battle. Some 294,554 saw service. By 1933 Spanish-American war pension costs totaled $811,819,000.

But all these were peanut wars in terms of cost compared to the two World Wars.

The first World War sent 4,600,000 Americans into uniform. More than 61,000 were killed or died of combat wounds and 66,000 died of "flu" and other diseases. The treasury in 1920 estimated the tab for this conflict at $24,600,000,000. In 1927 Treasury Secretary Andrew Mellon raised the estimate to $47,957,272,333. Still owed and unpaid by foreign countries from this first World War is about $15,000,000,000.

The second World War cost more than three hundred billion dollars. It cost more in blood, too, than any previous American war—about 376,000 lives. And more than 14,500,000 men entered the Armed Forces—more than the total that had fought in our country's eight other wars.

Today there are in America 18,400,000 veterans of its wars. Well above 3,000,000 disabled veterans or survivors of deceased veterans draw monthly pensions. The veterans program this year will cost about twice what it cost Abraham Lincoln to wage a four-year war.

It takes a long, long time to clean up a battlefield.

Automotive Industry Ends One Of Its Poorest Output Months In Two Years

By DAVID J. WILKIE Associated Press Automotive Editor

DETROIT May 31 (AP)—The car industry Saturday wound up one of its poorest production months in nearly two years with an indicated output of about 334,000 vehicles.

The May total was the lowest month's volume since July 1946 when the factories shipped 318,934 units. It brought the year's total to date to about 2,067,000 vehicles. Of these approximately 1,471,500 were passenger cars and 595,500 were trucks.

This is far below what the industry hoped to attain during the first five months of this year. However, a much more optimistic outlook prevailed throughout the industry with the lessening of labor tension.

Settlement of the General Motors-UAW wage dispute averted a strike of some 225,000 workers that would have altered nearly 60,000 vehicles a week from the industry's output.

Some factories may work next Saturday on an overtime basis to make up for the production lost by the Memorial Day holiday. It is not likely, though, that enough of them will do so to bring the week's production much above that of the work period ended today.

The trade paper Automotive News placed this week's United States output at 61,788 cars and 27,319 trucks, compared with last week's 58,968 cars and 26,854 trucks. Ward's automotive reports estimated this week's as-semblies at 61,340 cars. It also revised last week's car output to 58,968 units and placed truck production for that period at 24,187.

The car industry has not had a 100,000-unit week since mid-April. At that time General Motors began a series of one-week shutdowns blamed upon materials shortages resulting from the coal strike. As GM got all its plants back into production the Chrysler strike began.

The industry's "big three" of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler have been able to replenish their dwindling steel stocks during recent weeks of curtailed car output. While they may not reach capacity output at any time during the remainder of the year, all are virtually certain to attain new post-war production highs. Few of the car makers want to venture predictions right now concerning the year's total output volume. "Steel," they say, "continues to be the industry's big question mark."

At the start of the year all the car makers were agreed the factories would increase output by from 10 to 15 per cent over 1947. That would take production well over the 5,000,000 mark.

The factories lost a lot of production ground in the five months just completed. Most of it could be regained with a couple of 500,000-unit months, now being predicted in some quarters.

So the industry chancellors are a bit cautious in making flat production about what lies ahead production-wise.

21 Men Die As Craft Swamps In Rough Seas

10 Marines, 11 Of Navy Drown As 50 Foot Launch Returns To Carrier Kearsarge

NORFOLK, Va., June 1. (AP)—Twenty-one men—10 Marines and 11 Navy men—perished in Hampton Roads last night when a Navy launch swamped in choppy waters while returning 90 men to their ship after Memorial Day liberty.

Rear Admiral C. A. F. Sprague, commander of a twelve ship task force whose sailing for the Mediterranean was delayed by the tragedy, issued this statement to newsmen at 9 A. M. today from his flagship, the aircraft carrier Kearsarge:

"Preliminary report of loss of life or missing personnel may be placed at 22, nine Marines and 13 Navy.

"Report considered accurate and includes best estimate of possible stragglers" (men absent over leave).

"Further checking now in progress."

A 50-foot open launch was swamped in a wind and rain storm at 8:45 P. M. as it was returning a liberty party to the Kearsarge, anchored two miles off the Norfolk Naval Station. The launch, which was attached to the carrier, was swamped when only 200 yards off the Kearsarge's port beam.

The launch, almost awash, was towed to the naval station piers by a tug and pumped out. There were dozens of life jackets visible under the sea and in a forward compartment.

At 9 A. M. today all Naval tugs and small craft that had been searching the area were withdrawn, leaving two Coast Guard ships to continue the search.

Sprague, replying to questions on board the Kearsarge to interview survivors, said he did not know whether it would be possible.

Sailing of the task force was postponed on June 1.

Mr., Mrs. J. J. Bolly Sell Home, Farm; Move To Daytona

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Bolly have sold their farm and beautiful country home to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dunlap, formerly of Ohio, but more recently of Daytona Beach, and have purchased a beautiful Ocean Front home at 924 North Atlantic Boulevard, Daytona Beach, J. W. Hall, realtor, announced today.

Mr. Bolly has been a resident of Sanford for 35 years. He was a charter member, and president for more than 20 years of the Sanford-Orlando Truck Growers Association. He is also president of the National Farm Loan Association, a subsidiary of Federal Land Bank, Columbia, S. C. and vice president of the Sanford Production Credit Association. Mr. Bolly is also a Mason, Shriner, and Knight Templar.

Mrs. Bolly is president of the N. Y. Home and Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy and author of book, "Rock of Life." Both Mr. and Mrs. Bolly are members of The First Baptist Church.

The sales price of their home and farm here was reported at $38,000 and the purchase price of their Daytona property was $40,000. Mr. Hall, who negotiated the deal, declined.

Other recent sales by Mr. Hall included two duplexes at 848 1/2 North Halifax Boulevard, Daytona Beach to Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Arnold, parents of Mrs. W. K. Stokely, 1816 E. Fourth Street, for a price of $35,000.

George Spencer Is Honored At Rollins

George Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Spencer of this city, received the special undergraduate award in chemistry as the most promising chemistry student at Rollins College in the annual Honors Day program yesterday in the Annie Russell Theater. Mr. Spencer was chosen by the faculty for this award.

Among the other students honored at this time was Miss Janet Metzler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hetsel, who was elected in Pi Gamma Mu for her outstanding work in the social sciences.

Also receiving awards yesterday at Rollins in the Honors Day program was Herman Brumby, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brumby, who was awarded a football letter. He also received a letter as a member of the Rollins College crew.

Czech Government Hails Sunday's Vote As Approval Of Red Acts

PRAGUE, June 1. (AP)—The Czechoslovak government, which got itself re-elected by an 89.2 percent majority Sunday, unanimously hailed the vote today as popular approval of its February maneuvers and actions since then.

Cabinet ministers issued a series of statements insisting that the people now have spoken in favor of the February revolt in which the Communists took control of the government. This was a development which even ordinary observers predicted weeks before the election, when the handpicked single government ticket was announced.

Nearly 11 per cent of the voters were recorded as casting blank (opposition) ballots despite a lack of secrecy surrounding the actions of voters. They cast their ballots and threw away the tell-tale discarded in watched waste baskets.

The number of mutilated ballots was not announced.

In at least one election place the commission was instructed to count all empty envelopes and envelopes containing photographs of President Eduard Benes as votes cast in favor of the government.

This was a day of sober second thought for those who voted the white protest ballots with the knowledge their identities might be known or checked.

But after all the campaign threats against potential white ballot voters as traitors, the press today gave them only fleeting attention.

Taft Clashes On Tariff Policy In House Trade Law

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today Congress has a "constitutional duty" to write tariff-making standards into the reciprocal trade law.

William L. Clayton disagreed. Clayton, former undersecretary of state for economic affairs, told the Senate Finance Committee that such standards cannot be set in advance. Therefore, he added, no attempt should be made to write one into the law.

Clayton testified as the committee began hearings on the House bill to extend the trade agreements act for one year beyond June 12. The bill would cut presidential tariff-making powers and give (Continued on Page Eight)

City To Seek RFC Loan To Construct River Warehouses

The City Commission passed a resolution to apply to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for a loan to construct a warehouse and terminal for handling freight into and out of Sanford by way of the St. Johns River at an adjourned meeting last night, it was reported today by City Commissioner John Krider.

Plans for the warehouse have been received from Smith and Gillespie, an engineering firm in Jacksonville, which does work for the City of Sanford. The plans furnish data on the costs of erecting the desired building and estimated the size of the building. Present plans call for a structure with 30,000 square feet of space to be located on city owned land west of French Avenue on the Lakeshore Boulevard. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Higgins of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, asserted today.

City Manager Saver has been instructed to complete financial information and City Attorney Fred R. Wilson has been instructed to secure all legal requirements for the transaction before the application will be filed with the RFC.

Commissioners also announced a lease on the main banner building at the Municipal Airport to Bohannon and Penn and discussed the lease of the buildings occupied by the West Virginia Training School, Mayor Robert A. Williams said.

House Group Gives Up On Trying To Guess Next Year's Tax Refunds

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today gave up trying to guess how much income tax refunds will cost next year.

Because of "many imponderables," the committee recommended that the treasury be given an indefinite appropriation "to assure availability of adequate funds to make payments promptly."

Normally the refunds run in the neighborhood of two to three billion dollars a year, and in the past the committee has cut the treasury's estimates and made fixed appropriations.

Today's recommendation recalled that last year Congress cut $800,000,000 from the department's $2,081,000,000 refund request and later had to make two additional appropriations totaling $1,022,000,000. There looked the total for refunds in 1948 to $2,289,000,000.

The committee said the amount to be refunded to taxpayers in 1948 "will be contingent upon a

Flood Forces Evacuation Of 120 Mile Area

Columbia Has Taken At Least 20 Lives; Causes $37,000,000 In Property Loss

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—President Truman today ordered "full resources of the federal government" mobilized for aid in the Pacific Northwest flood disaster.

He directed the Army, the Interior Department and housing officials to investigate and make recommendations for "additional legislative authority to meet emergencies of this character."

PORTLAND, Ore., June 1. (AP)—The Columbia River flood, which already had taken a toll of at least 20 lives and property loss of more than $37,000,000, forced mass evacuation today of a 120-mile section at the lower end of the stream.

The river had already caused the Northwest's greatest disaster as its crest approached the rich farmlands from the Portland area to the sea. Army engineers gave the warning to evacuate, but said many of the thousands of residents already had fled.

The toll of dead will not be known until waters recede. No estimate of damage throughout the area was available, but the Portland Housing Authority said damage at the crumpled war-housing city of Vanport was $27,000,000. The only other estimate was $10,000,000 damage in the Kelso, Woodland and Kalama district of Southwest Washington. There were only two small areas affected.

Before the Vanport disaster, Army engineers had predicted the Columbia and its tributaries would cause a total loss of $30,000,000. The engineers now won't make any kind of an estimate.

The river, second largest in the nation in amount of water discharged, is at flood stage for 750 miles. The crest will reach the Portland area tonight or tomorrow.

Part of Portland's downtown area, including the union station, was under water today after the Willamette River topped the seawall. The station is Portland's only railroad depot, and trains were unable to use it.

In North Portland, where more than 18,000 persons were left homeless in Sunday's Vanport disaster, the flooded area was topped by the bursting of two more dikes. On top of these two dikes were the approaches to the (Continued on Page Three)

Georgia Delegates To Demo Convention Will Not Bolt Party

ATLANTA, June 1. (AP)—Georgia delegates to the National Democratic Convention will fight President Truman's Civil Rights Program but will not bolt the meeting.

Such a course, while not formally prescribed, was definitely indicated yesterday at a meeting of the 120-member state executive committee.

Actually, the committee left the 72-man delegation with no instructions except to vote as a unit. Chiefly, however, left no doubt that the Georgians would be loyal to the President's program for national laws against lynching, the poll tax and racial segregation and discrimination.

They were equally emphatic that there would be no walk-out, even if the fight against James E. Byrd, Sr., chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, who probably will head the delegation. He told the committee: "We are not going to compromise on Georgia democracy or sell it down the creek."

Boy Kills Sweetheart Then Shoots Himself

LIVINGSTON, Tenn., June 1. (AP)—A 16-year-old school boy killed his 13-year-old sweetheart with a shotgun blast and then fatally wounded himself, Sheriff's Deputy Claude Roberts of Overton county reported.

Roberts said the couple—Edward Burgess and Frances Reeves—lived on farms only a few hundred yards apart in a rural community eight miles north of here.

The double shooting occurred yesterday in a wooded area near their homes.

Roberts said members of each family told him the boy and girl had been "seeing each other for some time" and that there "might have been a quarrel."

Borgia States NBC Knew Of Voice Scripts

Says He Often Objected To Cheap Comedy Which He Was Ordered To Write

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—René Borgia told senators today that at least half a dozen NBC officials were thoroughly familiar with the "Voice of America" broadcasts which have aroused a storm in Congress.

Borgia, who wrote scripts for many of the broadcasts, said "it is not true" that they "slipped through" without knowledge of National Broadcasting Company officials.

On the contrary, he said, he objected often to putting in "cheap comedy" but was ordered to write them as he did.

Borgia testified at joint hearings by subcommittees of the Senate Foreign Relations and Expenditures Committees. The investigation was started after the senators learned last week that the broadcasts told the world such things as "New England was founded by hypocrisy and Texas by sin."

The series of radio programs, called "Know North America," was broadcast by NBC last winter under contract with the State Department. They were Spanish language broadcasts beamed to Latin America.

Borgia, a 62-year-old Venezuelan citizen, told the Senate committee that NBC officials told him to (Continued on Page Three)

Willie McMillan Is Sentenced To 3 Years At Raiford

Willie McMillan, charged with assault with intent to commit manslaughter, was sentenced yesterday to three years in the state penitentiary at Raiford by Circuit Judge M. B. Smith. It was announced today by O. P. Herndon, clerk of the Circuit Court.

The case against Fulton Herndon, who was charged with committing a robbery, was dropped because of a case of mistaken identity.

James R. Matthews withdrew his plea of not guilty to a charge of resisting an officer and entered a plea of guilty to which he was sentenced to three months in the County Jail on a fine of $50.

Vanderbilt Nicholson, charged with assault with intent to commit murder in the second degree on Dennis Stanton, entered a plea of guilty to an offense of aggravated assault. The plea was accepted by the state and the defendant was released on the present bond and instructed to report to the court on the first day of the fall term.

A case against E. B. Smith for operating a lottery was reset for July 2. This is the second time the trial has been set up by the court. Information was filed on the case on Aug. 22, 1947 and the defendant pleaded not guilty on Nov. 4, 1947. On Nov. 18 the trial was set for Nov. 26 at 1:30 o'clock and at that time was set for trial on June 2, 1948.

The court recessed until July 2.

Charles Willis Said To Be Recuperating

Charles Willis, young son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Willis of 1317 Douglas Avenue, is recuperating after suffering an accident at the Seminole High School farm yesterday. Mr. Willis reported at noon today.

"It is too early to determine just how long he will be out of school, but he is much better than he was yesterday," Mr. Willis declared.

The youth is being attended by Dr. Wade Garner.

Amusement Car Hurls Occupant To Death

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., June 1. (AP)—Martin E. Kane, 22, was hurled to death from an amusement park "twister" car while trying to comfort two frightened women riding behind him, Police Chief Fred Swanson reported.

John Bah, 31, was riding with Kane last night at nearby Harvey's Lake, said Kane extended his arm back to women and partially raised his body.

The car, traveling in a spiral and at times reaching a high rate of speed, went into a curve and Kane was thrown out, Bah said. Kane said he tried to grasp his companion and was pulled from the car. He is in fair condition.

Christian Smuts Accepts Offer Of Parliament Post

LAW EMPOWERS LEADER TO TAKE SEAT IF MEMBER WITHDRAWS

PRETORIA, Union of South Africa, June 1. (AP)—Jan Christian Smuts, retiring as prime minister of South Africa, today accepted the offer of a seat in parliament from a member of his United Party.

Smuts resigned as prime minister Friday, following the defeat of his party by the Nationalist-Afrikaner combine in parliamentary elections last Tuesday. The 78-year old leader failed of reelection to his own seat in parliament.

Under South African constitutional procedure, the leader is empowered to accept a safe district from a party member who steps aside for him. This was done by C. W. Clark, member for Pretoria East. Smuts previously had been reported planning to withdraw from politics and retire to his farm at Doornkloof.

Dr. Frances Malan, 74, advocate of a policy of isolation from British empire affairs and segregation of persons of non-European descent, is the new premier.

Smuts, in a message to the people today, asserted he now intends to remain as leader of the United Party, despite the defeat in the election.

"We respect the constitutional verdict of the people, although in the actual results, a minority of electors are in charge of the government of the country," he said.

In the popular vote, Smuts' United Party polled 242,230 of the 1,067,249 votes cast. The Nationalist-Afrikaner combine won 79 of the 151 seats in parliament to give Smuts' party, and Malan was assured of a working majority.

"Whatever ultimate effects of this anomalous position may have for South Africa," Smuts said, "let us minimize the possible evil and do our best to turn it to the ultimate good."

"I know that many of you have me in your thoughts at this time—now an old man after 60 years of hard labor for the advance of South Africa. If there is blame for the present failure, let it be mine, as no doubt the heavy punishment will be."

"I can take it, and I look forward with confidence to the eventual completion of the task for which 60 years has been all too short a period. I hope to continue my part and do my duty as a leader."

"Last, I should not conclude this without an appeal to the people of South Africa to support the President of the Union of South Africa, Mr. Malan, in his new position."

9 Year Old Negro Is Injured In Accident

ALFRED COLLINS, nine year old negro youth, was struck by a truck driven by Paris Toussie, also colored, late yesterday afternoon near Proctors Store on Broadway Avenue, it was announced today by Sheriff P. Mero.

The youth was leaving the store and as he entered the street, struck the rear of the truck, Sheriff Mero asserted.

Collins suffered a fractured skull and was rushed to the Fernand Loughton Memorial Hospital where he was attended by Dr. W. H. Garner. Later he was removed to an Orlando hospital to be attended by a brain specialist.

Toussie is being held pending the outcome of the operations on the child, Sheriff Mero declared.

U. S. Prods Russia Anew On Plan To Return Trieste

GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL SAYS FRENCH, BRITISH SEND SIMILAR NOTES

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—The United States prodded Russia a third time today for a new reply to the American-British-French proposal to return the Free Territory of Trieste to Italy.

The State Department said in a note delivered to the Russian embassy that the problem requires a "very early resolution."

State Department Press Officer Michael McDermott told reporters he understood the British and French governments are sending similar notes to the Soviet government.

Russia never has rejected the principle of returning Trieste to Italy. But it has objected to amending the Italian peace treaty as suggested by the three Western powers. The Soviets claim this would constitute a "private conference" which is unacceptable to Moscow.

The American note sent to Ambassador Alexander S. Panayukhin just as he was preparing to leave for consultations in Moscow on the lend-lease question said:

"It is hoped that the Soviet government will communicate its views at an early date concerning the procedure to be followed for the joint consideration of the (Trieste) matter by the powers concerned."

The Free Territory of Trieste, an important port on the Adriatic coast, is occupied jointly by British and United States troops on the one hand and Yugoslavian forces on the other.

Under the Italian peace treaty, Trieste and the surrounding territory were to become a free territory under United Nations control. But this plan has been held up by the inability of Yugoslavia and the Western powers to agree on a suitable government for the territory.

Following is the text of today's note:

"The secretary of state presents his compliments to his excellency, the ambassador of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and has the honor to refer to his note of Apr. 16, 1948 regarding the proposal that the Free Territory of Trieste be returned to Italian sovereignty."

"In that note the Soviet government was informed that the government of the United States would welcome any suggestions which the government might desire to propose concerning the procedure for drafting the necessary protocol to the treaty of peace with Italy to effect the return of the (Trieste) matter to Italian sovereignty."

"The draft bill, sponsored by Andrews, is before the House Rules Committee. It was approved May 7, and the Rules Committee has scheduled further hearings tomorrow to take testimony from opponents of the measure."

11 Alabama Members Of Meet To Be Named

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 1. (AP)—Eleven members of Alabama's 25-man delegation to the Democratic Convention will be named in today's runoff primary. The other 16 were elected May 4.

Of the 21 candidates before the party voters today, 11 are pledged to walkout of the National Convention if a strong civil rights plank is adopted in the platform or if President Truman is nominated.

Five of the 15 delegates already elected also are pledged for the walkout.

In any event, President Truman already has lost Alabama's 11 votes next November. Presidential electors named May 4 are pledged against casting the state's votes for him, or for any other Democratic nominee who supports the President's Civil Rights Program.

Spokesman Describes Acceptance As Unconditional As Interpreted By Jews

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 1. (AP)—Israeli troops slashing behind an Egyptian coastal spearhead, have captured a town only 100 miles from the Egyptians' supply road. Two of the captured towns today.

LAKE SUCCESS, June 1. (AP)—The State of Israel announced today it had accepted the United Nations appeal for a Palestine cease-fire.

A spokesman for Israel described the acceptance as unconditional. He said, however, the communication from Tel Aviv contained a Jewish interpretation as to what Israel understood the cease-fire to mean.

The deadline for replies from the Jews and Arabs is 6 P. M. Eastern Standard Time, today. Arab League leaders were meeting at Amman, Trans-Jordan, to decide on their course.

The Israeli spokesman said: "Our acceptance is being communicated to the secretary-general of the United Nations as soon as possible. It is unconditional. It does contain our understanding of the terms of the cease-fire."

The cease-fire appeal was voted by the Security Council last Saturday.

AMMAN, Trans-Jordan, June 1. (AP)—Jewish airplanes dropped explosive bombs and incendiaries today on Amman, capital of Trans-Jordan, and killed six Arab civilians, officials announced. Two of the victims were women.

House Armed Group OK's Bill Revising Draft Authority

WASHINGTON, June 2. (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee approved unanimously today a draft bill revising which would give the President sole responsibility for starting a draft of men for the Armed Forces.

The provision, similar to one in an early version of the House bill, would hold off draft operations for at least 30 days after passage of the law. Drafting then would start only when the President decided the Armed Forces could not obtain necessary manpower through voluntary enlistments.

Chairman Andrews (R-NY) will offer the provision as a committee amendment when the draft bill goes before the House for debate. The overhauling was proposed by Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), rank or minority member of the committee.

The draft bill, sponsored by Andrews, is before the House Rules Committee. It was approved May 7, and the Rules Committee has scheduled further hearings tomorrow to take testimony from opponents of the measure.

Sanford Hairdresser Group Has Meeting

Vernice Adkins, president of the newly formed Sanford unit of the Florida Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, predicted at a meeting of the group last night at the Tourist Center that the Association will be a great success and outlined to the members its various objectives.

The Sanford unit, No. 16, was organized at a meeting at the Tourist Center on May 3 and in addition to Mr. Adkins as president, the following officers were elected: Miss Betty Sasser, first vice; president, Mrs. Harriett Slawter, secretary; and Mrs. Anna Mae Chapman, treasurer.

Included in the objectives of the association are to enlighten public opinion concerning cosmetology and its relation to the attainment and preservation of health; to promote legislation beneficial to the profession, and to foster and promote the best interest of the profession and to advocate high ideals and standards therein.

U. S. Citizens Are Confused At U. S. Reaction On Talks

WASHINGTON—Is the new Russian "peace offensive" sincere? Many Americans are puzzled and confused by this question and the cool reception Stalin's proposals have received here. Why didn't American officials jump at this opportunity to talk things over?

A House Foreign Affairs subcommittee which analyzed Russian tactics predicted weeks ago there would be frequent shifts in Russian policy. Reports like this one, and other knowledge of Russian tactics, help explain the American attitude. The committee decided that "razzle-dazzle" is an important feature of Communist policy and that through 100 years of Communist history to support this decision.

On the football field razzle-dazzle is the quick and hidden shifting of the ball from player to player amid so much confusion that the opposing team is dazzled. The committee said the Russians attempt to do the same thing in international affairs. Its report said if Communist policy seems headed toward cooperativeness at one moment, toward uncooperativeness at another and nowhere in particular at a third it's only to hide one truth:

"Economic and political policy and action, collaboration on the surface and subversion underneath, a swing to the right in one period and a swing to the left in another, are meant to serve a single end, the world revolution."

The State Department's attitude toward Stalin's statement that U.S.-Russian differences could be settled along lines suggested by Henry Wallace is in this brief:

These points of difference that Stalin mentioned are old ones. There has been plenty of opportunity to settle some of them in the United Nations. Russia knows this. If she really wants to settle them the way always is open. The subcommittee's analysis of Russian policy is more blunt and explains why many government officials look with skepticism on Stalin's proposal. It says:

A zig-zag of advance and retreat, called the "Leninist line," has been a basic policy explaining Communist strategy for the past 30 years, since the Russian Revolution. This zig-zag line is the cause of most of the confusion as to just what the Communist policy is. The subcommittee traces the zig-zags and zags this way:

1. After the revolution came three years of war, Communism, when the party in Russia drove to the left, nationalizing industries, requisitioning goods and drafting manpower.
2. Then came six years when free enterprise was encouraged, to revive production.
3. Next came the Five Year Plan. The line to the left brought socialization of agriculture, famine in the Ukraine and the slaughter of so many cattle that livestock never have come back to their former numbers.
4. Hitler's rise to power in 1933 brought a shift to the right in foreign relations. There was an alliance of communism with Socialism in France and other countries. Purges of 1937 and 1938 showed how Russia could intensify leftism at home and at the same time cooperate with capitalism abroad.
5. Then came the war. The Russians took what they could on their own. They discussed world revolution with the Germans but set their price too high for the Nazis. The failure to make a deal with Hitler brought the German attack on Russia in 1941. The United Kingdom ac-

ISRAEL'S NEW PRESIDENT IS WHITE HOUSE GUEST

IN WASHINGTON TO CONFER with President Truman at the White House, Dr. Chaim Weizmann, first President of the new State of Israel, is shown with his wife on the steps of Blair House, the official guest house of the United States Government. cepted Russia as an ally. The United States moved swiftly to include Russia under lend-lease. Thus began a new "right" period of cooperating with democratic forces.

6. Until repudiation of the Marshall plan in June 1947, there was cooperation with the democracies. Then Russia began her period of expansion and of "radical leftism."

7. Now there is evidence Russia may be setting on a new "zig" or "zag," possibly touched off by the defeat of Communism in Italy. Is she sincere in wanting world peace?

Committee members say they see no reason for altering a conclusion they reached before the present Soviet peace drive. They concluded:

"The (communists) know when and how to emphasize the line of sweet reasonableness, resorting to appeasement tactics, strictly on the psychological level where it costs least."

Pacific highway, principal North-South route.

The breaking of these dikes left three square miles under water, with houses from Vanport getting through both gaps. Some of them turned end-over-end, and all hope of salvaging these was lost.

No bodies have been recovered from Vanport. Some bodies might be swept so far they never would be found.

Army engineers are investigating the "blow-out" of the railroad embankment which resulted in the Vanport disaster. The rail fill was constructed 40 years ago. Commenting on the fate of what once was Oregon's second largest city, the Portland Housing Authority announced the agency "feels terribly, terribly bad that lives possibly were lost, but all you can do is depend on the advice of competent engineers."

Survivors are scattered in thousands of homes throughout the city, in schools and churches. Most of the separated families are getting together. But the Red Cross has not issued an estimate of the missing.

The major threats downstream from Portland were at Clatskanie, Rainier, Woodland, Kelso, Longview and Kalama. These areas, where much of the population is being moved out by Army engineers, National Guardsmen and civilian agencies, are like vast swamplands.

Physicist Seeks To Find Whether Uranium Fission Causes Volcanoes

By DOUGLAS LOVELACE
HONOLULU June 1 (AP)—Dr. Harvey White, University of California physicist, is trying to find out whether uranium fission causes volcanic eruptions.

If the cracking of uranium atoms is the source of this catalytic energy, then the Hawaiian Islands were pushed up from the ocean floor by the same reaction—only slower—as that which devastated Nagasaki and Hiroshima.

Scientists know that volcanoes erupt when red hot rivers of molten rock and mineral work upward through cracks in the earth's crust and break out at any weak point.

They do not know what source of energy forms these underground pools of molten matter. There are two theories.

One holds that the earth's interior is extremely hot but remains solid under pressure. When cracks develop in the earth's crust, the pressure is relieved and the superheated mass turns to liquid.

The other holds that heat is released through some process, turning solid to liquid. This might be done by oxidation or other chemical activity, or by radioactivity or some other form of atomic disintegration.

Lava, the volcanic outpouring, contains measurable amount of uranium, a natural source of atomic energy.

This led Dr. White to visit Hawaii, where he has collected lava samples from Mauna Loa crater.

White will put Mauna Loa's lava through spectrographic tests, using the light bands given off by each element to find out whether neutron absorbers such as cadmium are present.

Neutrons are the bullets which break down the uranium atom. If lava contains sizeable amounts of neutron absorbers, the atomic fission theory of volcanic action would be ruled out.

Chemical analyses of lava, which varies little in composition wherever it is found, does not positively establish the presence of neutron absorbers.

If the spectrograph tests confirm that there are none, then the theory that atomic fission primes the volcanic pump will be strengthened.

Nature would have produced, in the basalt layer of the earth, conditions similar to the Hanford graphite pile created by scientists to manufacture atomic bomb fuel.

Neutrons, with little to absorb them and no opportunity to escape in atmosphere, would collide with uranium atoms in the earth's interior. The uranium atoms would split, releasing more neutrons. This natural cracking of uranium atoms slowly would heat rock and mineral to boiling liquid, create vast pressures and start the volcanic action.

White, on sabbatical leave under a Guggenheim fellowship, plans to remain about three months in the islands. He hopes Mauna Loa, now nearly three years overdue on its time schedule, will erupt. Fresh lava would give him an opportunity to observe the radioactive "half life" of possible atomic by-products.

Lava contains all the radioactive elements in small amounts but these retain their strength for a long time. By-products of atomic fission lose their strength—some very rapidly—at a regular rate.

If fresh lava is more radioactive than old lava, that would indicate the presence of atomic fission by-products. It also would strengthen the theory that volcanoes erupt because of atom cracking.

Wife Attempts Suicide After Husband Dies

GAINESVILLE, June 1, (AP)—Margaret Reynolds Paige, wife of Thomas R. Paige, who was killed Sunday when a pistol he was examining discharged, was in a critical condition at the Alachua County Hospital this afternoon after apparently shooting herself in the temple about 2 P. M. yesterday.

Paige, who was 35 years old, was foreman of the composing room of the Gainesville Sun and an employee of this paper for 15 years.

Sheriff Fred Holloman said his death was an accident and State Attorney T. E. Duncan said there would be no inquest.

A neighbor heard Mrs. Paige's shot yesterday and upon investigation found the bathroom of the apartment locked.

Police Officers L. L. Wainwright and Truby Dyal arrived within a few minutes and broke open the door to find Mrs. Paige lying on the floor with a lead wound similar to the one which killed her husband Sunday.

South Korea's New Assembly Holds 1st Meet On Self-Rule

SEOUL, June 1, (AP)—Amid proud and colorful ceremony, South Korea's new assembly met for the first time yesterday and heard its white-haired leader urge quick action to get self-rule under way. Chairman Syngman Rhee outlined four objectives: 1. Adoption of a constitution. 2. Formation of Korea's first Democratic government. 3. Initiation of direct, friendly negotiations with Soviet Russia — which occupies North Korea and boycotted the assembly election — "for the just solution of the critical common problems of the two nations." 4. Settle political, economic and other urgent problems with Japan, Korea's former master.

The strong willed, conservative Rhee expressed hope American troops would remain in South Korea until the government sets up its own defense force. He added this was not meant to invite interference with the "exercise of our sovereign rights."

Lieut. General John R. Hodge, U.S. commander in South Korea, assured the grey-robed Rhee the United States "does not intend to dictate to you." Assemblymen applauded. Hodge said military government stood ready to assist the recently elected assembly.

Livestock Markets Report $224,502 In Last Week's Sales

JACKSONVILLE, June 1 — Livestock producers sent 3,721 cattle and 950 hogs to market, through 10 Florida sales centers last week, according to figures available yesterday in Jacksonville offices of Florida State Markets. Reports from 8 of these markets revealed gross cash payments to producers during the week totaled $224,502.77, figures on 2 markets being unavailable.

Summaries of reports from individual markets follow:

The Palatka State Live Stock Market, at its opening sale on Wednesday, received 326 cattle, 22 hogs for a cash total of $17,335.00; top calf bringing $32.00 per hundred pounds. Prices were strong on all classes of cattle.

Arcadia State Live Stock Market received 552 cattle, 41 hogs—total 593 head sold at auction.

Gainesville Live Stock Market, independent, 225 cattle, 425 hogs.

Jacksonville Live Stock Market, independent, sold 174 cattle, 20 hogs, for a cash total of $18,384.22.

Jay State Live Stock Market, 52 cattle, 136 hogs, $7,441.01.

Kissimmee Live Stock Market, independent, 1,272 cattle, 67 hogs, $99,040.26.

Miami, G. E. Sampson and Sons market, independent, 175 cattle, 22 hogs, $16,548.94.

Monticello Stock Yards, independent, 549 cattle, 97 hogs, $37,200.94.

Ocala, Mills Auction Market, independent, 290 cattle, 57 hogs, $20,019.03.

Quincy State Live Stock Market, 104 cattle, 69 hogs, $8,535.26.

The Arcadia State Live Stock Market report noted market was steady and strong on all classes and calves. Prices for cattle on the Gainesville market were reported generally steady to strong. Cattle on the Monticello market sold "steady on plain cattle, higher on good cattle, higher on good cattle, with hogs selling $1.00 to 22.00 higher than last week."

TUESDAY, JUNE 1, 1948

BIBLE VERSE TODAY

From the first Christ's kingdom was planned as a world kingdom, but a kingdom of love and liberty resting on reason and experience and moral law, not on force. Go ye therefore and teach all nations.—Matt. 28:19.

President Truman leaves this week on a tour to the Pacific Coast in an attempt to pick up votes before the Democratic convention meets in July. But it is through the South that the President needs to make his trip.

The Federal Reserve Board reports that about one-fourth of all American families will overspend their incomes this year. However, that will not be a condition peculiar to this year. We have always had plenty of people who spend more than they make, in good times and bad.

The Republicans on the Senate Judiciary Committee, hoping to pick up votes in the South, as the Democrats are hoping to pick them up in Harlem, have side-tracked the so-called "anti-lynching bill." Actually this "bill to encourage, foster, and promote lynching throughout the South," is a political gesture, no matter how you take it.

Forty-five state governments evidently believe it pays to advertise. All but three states in the entire country have set up advertising appropriations in their budgets for this year in order to attract new industries, tourists and permanent residents to their states. Florida has $385,000 in its advertising budget; New York, $826,000.

We wonder what would happen to this country in the next war if Communist propaganda succeeds in thoroughly discrediting our "Army brass" and other military leaders. Does anyone seriously think that we could have fought the last war as successfully as we did had it not been for Eisenhower, MacArthur, Bradley, Patton, Patch, Clark, Buckner and scores of others like them who had dedicated their lives from the time they were 16 to learning the so-called "arts of war"? Could we have done any better if our military operations had been entirely directed by the "six months' lieutenants or petty politicians? Will it be so in the next war?

Because we have never had a flood in Sanford like the flood in Vanport, Ore., it by no means follows that we never could. We do not mean to be a pessimist, especially when we are as badly in need of rain as we are at present, and the river is about as low as it ever gets, but come high water, with the lake at the top of the bulkhead, and then a hurricane blowing in from the west so that the winds at first would be from the south piling all the water up on the north side of the lake, and then changing suddenly after the lull and blowing from the north, bringing that huge mountain of water across the lake against our flimsy bulkhead, and almost anything could happen.

We can sympathize with Ira R. T. Smith who is quitting his job as a presidential clerk, after opening the President's mail for 51 years. In McKinley's time, the President received about a hundred letters a day, more than he could read even if he opened them all. So he hired a clerk to do this for him, and Smith got the job. Things went along pretty well, until Franklin D. Roosevelt became President and asked the "forgotten men" all over the country to let him know their troubles. Then the mail increased almost overnight to about 3,600 letters a day. Of course, Mr. Roosevelt never saw them, but he decided to place the job of the letter-carrier to get something back from Mr. Smith saying that his quills could be used to the President's attention in due course.

Accident Toll

Nearly 40,000 persons are killed annually in the United States in land and air transportation accidents, despite the fact that transportation has become safer in the past few decades, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company reports.

"On the score of the number of lives lost per million miles traveled, great progress has been made in controlling the death rate from transportation accidents," the report states.

Fatalities in transportation accidents have increased, however, in relation to the total mortality from accidents. In 1911, transportation accidents accounted for less than one-fourth of all the accidents deaths among the Metropolitan's Industrial policyholders, whereas now they comprise nearly half the total.

Radical charges have taken place in the past 35 years in the relative importance of the several modes of transportation as means of fatal injuries," the Metropolitan observes. "At present, automobile accidents are responsible for about 70 percent of the mortality from land and air transportation mishaps among those insured, as compared with less than 20 percent in 1911-1915. In the same period, a drop of 80 percent was recorded in fatalities due to railroad accidents, which used to take a heavier toll of life than any other means of transportation in 1911.

The mortality from accidents involving either street-cars or horse-drawn vehicles has become a negligible item, the report continues. This is due largely to the falling-off in the use of these vehicles.

South America

Lee Hills writes to the Chicago Daily News that, though it is part of what has often been called "The Dark Continent," the Union of South Africa is an up-and-coming country, with a spirit of enterprise and a love of freedom which remind the visitor of the United States.

Johannesburg, which sprang up almost overnight when gold was discovered there, is now a clean, modern city, with "more skyscrapers, big modern apartments, elegant homes and clubs, than any city its size in America," says Hills.

Former Premier Smuts has been sponsoring an immigration program with the idea of boosting the white population and alleviating the labor shortage, and 22,000 persons have been admitted since the war's end. Only the lack of adequate transportation prevents the embarkation of 100,000 more who are waiting in England.

Great countries have heretofore been built by discontented, space-hungry immigrants, bringing with them their strength and the will to work. Doubtless the same type of people who pushed their way, regardless of obstacles, from the shores of one great ocean to the edge of another, making what is now the United States, will make of South Africa another great center of civilization.

Protecting Industry

At the root of the congressional move to hamstring the reciprocal trade agreement program is the old idea that imports are harmful, that they destroy industry at home. The authors and supporters of the House-approved bill to limit the program believe that curbs are necessary to make sure that a reckless administration does not make tariff concessions which would destroy American industries.

The language of the measure goes further. It says that the Tariff Commission would have to certify with respect to any proposed trade agreement that it would not harm the American industry involved.

The idea may seem good at first glance. But it is short-sighted. It fails to give full value to the fact that American industry needs an export market, and that buyers cannot pay for American goods unless they can in turn sell goods to America. A tariff to protect one industry from the supposed harm of competition might turn out to be a stifling influence over all trade.

The whole American economy, domestic as well as international, needs more reciprocal trade, not less.

Gus Lesnevich's Wife Gives Birth To Twins

ENGLEWOOD, N. J., June 1. (AP)—Gus Lesnevich, world's light heavyweight boxing champion, became the father of twin girls yesterday.

The twins, born at 4:38 and 4:44 A. M. in Englewood Hospital, bring the number of children in the Lesnevich family to four. They have two boys, Gus, Jr., 6 and Gary, 17 months.

Lesnevich and the former Frances Georgianna Dobson were wed seven years ago. She is a former model.

The twins weigh 5 pounds 10 ounces and 5 pounds 6 ounces. Lesnevich said he expected a girl, but had only one name in mind, Georgianna.

The champion just returned from an exhibition tour. He will leave this country next month for England where he will meet Freddie Mills in White City Stadium, July 26, in a title bout. He is 32.

Hyper-Inflation Is Said On Move In U. S.

NEW YORK, June 1. (AP)—A new wave of "hyper-inflation" as a result of rearmament is underway in the United States, Martin R. Gainsbrugh, chief economist of the National Industrial Conference Board, said yesterday.

Speaking before the 23rd annual convention of the National Association of Purchasing Agents, Gainsbrugh said: "In my opinion each dollar spent for rearmament in the months ahead will push us steadily away from the possibility of absorbing the unparalleled inflation of World War Two toward a new sequence of hyper-inflation."

The National Industrial Conference Board is a private national research organization.

Gainsbrugh said, "We were slowly approaching a price level under which we could live and remain both solvent and strong

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The Democracy of Czechoslovakia was wiped out in last Sunday's Communist-controlled election—a terrible warning to other countries which temporize with the Red line.

This represented the final step in the Bolshevik conquest of the 30-year-old Republic which now becomes to all intents a part of the Muscovite empire. Formal "admission" of Czechoslovakia into the Soviet Union may or may not follow in due course, but that makes small difference. The little nation is now under the Russian totalitarian dictatorship.

There was only one ticket of hand-picked national front candidates so that the outcome was cut and dried. The sole way opposition could be shown was by casting blank ballots under scrutiny of Red watchers—a dangerous defiance.

Despite the risk, 770,701 citizens are said by the ministry of the Interior to have cast these blanks. Another 806,041 voters didn't go to the polls or had their ballots declared invalid. Thus a total of at least 1,576,742 didn't vote. This represented about 20 per cent of those registered—5,005,887. The front received 6,429,145 votes.

A responsible diplomatic official in London said President Eduard Benes might resign soon owing to the "serious state of his health." There are many who believe this great patriot, who was co-founder of Czechoslovakia, is dying of a broken heart because of the enslavement of his country.

Here we have a perfect example of the way Communism proceeds in the conquest of a nation. The Reds first began with specious overtures of comradeship for their slavish brothers. There was infiltration of Communist agents into Czechoslovakia, the unostentatious creation of a Communist Party which gave lip service to the Democratic government. Came the war, and the "liberation" from the Germans by the Russian army, after which the Bolsheviks intensified their crusade within the country.

If the Prague government was uneasy, there was small sign of it. The relations between Czechoslovakia and Russia appeared to be grand.

There was no Czechoslovakian F.B.I. announcing subversive Red activities.

There was no Attorney General Tom Clark stating that the Prague government's authority to dismiss employees having Communist connections was established clearly in law by Supreme Court rulings.

There were no witnesses flatly defying a congressional committee and refusing to disclose whether they are Communists.

There was no House Speaker Joseph H. Martin, Jr., to declare, as he did yesterday in a speech at Gettysburg:

"It is a strange paradox that when we seek to curb their seditious activities, the subversionists seek refuge under the protection of the same Constitution and the same bill of rights they are attempting to destroy."

The Communists and fellow travelers in Czechoslovakia found a friendly atmosphere at that time. Possibly the nearness of Russian fighting forces helped the Red cause some. Anyway, things ran along fairly smooth until Feb. 25 of this year. Then the Communists staged a strong-arm coup and Communist Premier Klement Gottwald emerged as dictator of Czechoslovakia after beating down Benes' resistance in a six-day crisis. Now we have the climax in the rigged national election.

That surely is writing on the wall for all Democracies which are smart enough to read it.

A few months ago. We now are embarked upon a new adventure with inflation which may not be so favorably resolved. It is sheer national folly to justify rearmament as an antidote.

U. S. Cools Some On Buying Of Houses And Automobiles

WASHINGTON, June 1. (AP)—Americans are cooling off some on the idea of buying new houses. Also automobiles, to a lesser extent.

The number in the market for new houses has dropped 30 percent from a year ago, a federal reserve board survey shows. For autos, the number has dipped one percent.

Nevertheless, there won't be either enough houses or cars built this year to meet the demand of those still planning to buy.

And people as a whole are so buy-minded that at least one out of each four families will overspend its income "heavily." These findings stood out in a new reserve board report yesterday on a survey it made of consumer finances and buying plans. The survey also showed that veterans are heavier spenders than others, and that people in the $2,000 to $4,000 a year income classes are more buy-minded than those in the $4,000 to $5,000 class.

People generally are willing to use past savings or credit to carry out their spending plans, the survey report showed, observing that:

1. About 2,000,000 more families or individuals living alone cashed the last of their government savings bonds last year.
 2. Of 17,000,000 who bought furniture, refrigerators, radios, washing machines and the like last year, 9,000,000 did so on the installment plan—nearly twice as many as used credit the year before.
- Yet consumer incomes as a whole rose more than 10 percent last year and the number getting above $5,000 a year increased by 2,800,000 out of a total of 48,400,000 "consumers spending units."
- These units consist of families living together and pooling incomes or individuals living alone. The American population tops 144,000,000.

Southern Educators Gather For Meeting

DAYTONA BEACH, June 1. (AP)—More than 100 educators from 14 Southern states started work here yesterday at the ninth annual Southern States Work Conference.

A 14-day session is scheduled. The conference is divided into four groups to survey these education problems: resource use; instructional materials; health and health education; public relations.

The conference, said Edgar L. Morphet of the Florida Education Department, is aimed at raising education standards in the South. He said it is attracting national attention with observers and consultants from C. Umba and Ohio State universities and the Rockefeller Foundation here.

Delegations had registered yesterday from North and South Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Tennessee, Kentucky and Florida.

Seminole Hi

Friday the students and faculty enjoyed the tour and refreshments furnished by the Florida Light and Traction Company. They opened their doors to visitors exhibiting the new equipment. Different parts of the tour appealed to the different students. Some students mentioned the softening plant, some the central control room, and some the turbines. But the faculty agreed unanimously that the outstanding part of the trip was the ice cream. "Due to circumstances beyond my control" I was unable to attend the tour, but just the same I want a Reddy Klawat, Pin.

The fiend who assembled the physics guises had better look out. If any of our physics class ever finds him he'll be a sure-fire customer for Digger O'Dell, the friendly undertaker. Surely he must hold the record for being bit human to students.

The four new members of the Key Club from the Freshman Class were Alan, Bobby, Ast. Clarence Claus and Denny Stafford. The new president is Arnold Harrington, the new vice-president Bill Kilpatrick, secretary Stanley Brumley, and treasurer, Jack Spencer.

Saturday night was a record night for the Celery Crats. Over 200 high school and junior high students attended this, the last program for the year, Saturday night. The parents served punch and cake and in addition to the regular games and entertainments there was a novelty balloon-popping-gift-guest. Those whose balloons contained a paper received a favor. The eighth graders were invited to attend the program since they will be next year's freshmen, poor things.

Gray Hairs Need Worry You No More

WM. J. BEHNKE'S EAU DENNA

HAIR COLORER
Will cover gray hair in 10 to 20 minutes so that you would not know it ever was gray. It is liquid. One application with a tooth brush or swab does it. No Pack. No Mess.

ANYONE CAN PUT IT ON
You get a natural color. No one will suspect your hair has been dyed. Leaves it soft and lustrous—no dead color—no streaks—no spots—just a uniform color.

WILL NOT TURN REDDISH
It will not turn red. It stays on several months. Shampooing, sea bathing, sun, permanent waving, curling or straightening iron—nothing takes it off. You can cover any gray, no matter how stubborn, or how constant. It also takes care of the roots which turn black. All colors stay put.

WONDERFUL FOR TOUCHING UP
You can put it on just where needed. Can be used over other dyes, or where powdered, henna have been used. Women and men use EAU DENNA to advantage.

DOES NOT INTERFERE WITH PERMANENT WAVING
Full directions in each tin. Sold in Sanford, Fla. at Touchton Drug Company, 121 East First St.

Miss Thelma Inman Weds Paul I. Strong

In an atmosphere of quiet simplicity Miss Thelma Margaret Inman, daughter of Mrs. William C. Inman and the late Mr. Inman of Fulbrough, Sussex, England, became the bride of Paul Inman Strong of Waukesha, Wis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Mark T. Carpenter this morning at 10:30 o'clock in the Chapel of Peace of Holy Cross Episcopal Church. Beautiful arrangements of white carnations and greenery decorated the altar and white candles cast a soft glow over the setting.

Prior to the exchange of vows a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. P. H. Fuller and included "Claire de Lune" by Debussy and "A Lovely Rose is Blooming" by Brahms. The traditional wedding marches were played and List's "Liebestraum" was softly played during the ceremony.

The bride was lovely in a two-piece gown of delphinium blue with which she wore a large white hat and accessories. She wore a corsage of white orchids.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Elmer Wentway of Sanford. Mrs. Wentway wore a two-piece brown and white striped dress with white accessories and tall-tan shoes formed her corsage.

Mr. Wentway served as best man for the bridegroom. Following the wedding a small reception was held in the small dining room at the Mayfair Inn. On the bridal table was placed a three-tiered English wedding cake and pastel flowers and greenery were used in decorating the table. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Martha Pitts-Hays and Miss Elizabeth Dyson. Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Strong plan to make their home in Waukesha.

Mrs. Strong is a native of Hornchurch, Essex, England and attended school at the Sacred Heart Convent at Uplminster, Essex and Ursuline Convent in Brentwood, Essex. In recent years she was associated with her father, who was an architect and family surgeon at 300 P. M. in London. She served for three and a half years in the Auxiliary Territorial Service and following her discharge from service, she recently came to join her sister in the United States.

Mr. Strong was born in Grand Rapids, Mich., and graduated from the Waukesha High School. He is a graduate of Carroll College in Waukesha and is the owner and manufacturer of Old Tavern Food Products in Waukesha. During the war he served for four years with the Army Transportation Corps, three years of which he spent in England.

Monday the sophomore class went on their class picnic to Sandalwood Springs. They were lucky to be able to squeeze in the date among the already over-crowded schedule. Every day between now and the end of school is reserved for some special event or other. Senior parties (hah! hah!) lead other events by a mile. After all the parties planned for the seniors I don't see how we'll have enough energy between us to send one member out to get the diplomas (!) But we only live once, in a while, as John Root says so maybe it's right. I don't know of any student who'll object anyway.

Reduce sauce to low or medium heat and stir constantly until it thickens and boils. Then continue to cook 1 or 2 minutes longer to cook flour completely. Add grated cheese and paprika and stir over very low heat until cheese is melted. Add cubed potatoes and saute gently. 4 to 6 servings.

Mrs. F. Woodruff, Jr. Entertains Fidelis

Mrs. Frank L. Woodruff, Jr. was hostess at her home on Oak Avenue last night for the meeting of the Fidelis Class of the First Baptist Church. Bowls and vases of roses were used to decorate the rooms where the guests were entertained.

Mrs. R. E. Elberry presided over the business session at which time plans were made to continue sending clothing to the Baptist distribution center in New Orleans. Mrs. L. S. Wilkins was appointed on the visiting committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. R. A. Williams. It was decided to continue furnishing milk for a needy child in Sanford, if upon investigation, the child still requires milk.

During the social hour several amusing games were enjoyed under the direction of Mrs. J. E. Garner. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. M. Cameron, Mrs. Lourine Beal and Mrs. Elberry. In behalf of the class Mrs. Elberry was presented with a gift in appreciation of her services as president during the past year. A musical contest was enjoyed with Mrs. John L. Miller playing the piano selections after which refreshments were served.

Those present were: Mrs. F. E. Gatchel, teacher, Mrs. F. L. Woodruff, Sr., Mrs. W. L. Stouffville, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. H. L. Osborne, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. Lourine Beal, Mrs. Garner, Mrs. R. T. Thomas, Mrs. J. R. Ashley, Mrs. J. P. Holtzclaw, Mrs. Edward Kelsey, Mrs. F. E. Cooper, Jr., Mrs. Elberry, Mrs. G. L. Duncan, Mrs. W. H. Duncan, Mrs. Hubert Pearce, Mrs. H. W. Little, Mrs. Winkling, Mrs. J. L. Thonley, Miss Loren Franklin and the hostess.

LOW INTEREST TALLAHASSEE, June 1—(AP)—

The State Board of Administration today borrowed money at the lowest interest rate in two years. A $12,500 issue of Hillsborough county road debt refunding bonds were sold to Clyde C. Pierce Corp. of Jacksonville and the Florida National Bank group for $125,230 at an interest rate of one and a half percent.

CURLEE CLOTHES

Cool -- Smart -- Comfortable

CURLEE SUMMER SUITS

$5 Off On All Suits This Week

IF WE were listing the requirements for an ideal summer suit, we would probably put them this way. It should be cool. It should be smartly styled from fabric with enough body to hold its shape under the stress of hot-weather wear. It should be well-tailored to insure the matter of first coat and upkeep.

If we were starting out to describe the new Curlee Summer Suits which have recently been placed on display in our store — we wouldn't have to change a word of that first paragraph except, perhaps, to add a few superlatives! Curlee Summer Suits are smartly styled from the season's newest summer-weight woolsens and worsteds. These materials have been carefully selected for quality — for their capacity to tailor well and to keep you looking your best. Curlee's skilled craftsmen give painstaking care to every construction detail.

STATE SUPREME COURT

FALLAHASSEE, June 1. (P)—The Florida Supreme Court yesterday declined to interfere with the State Republican Executive Committee's selection of alternate delegates to the National Party Convention.

It refused to entertain suits brought by Joseph P. Moë, Wesley E. Garrison and Mildred C. Johnson, elected delegates who sought the right to name their own convention alternates.

The petitions were presented yesterday. The court denied them without comment.

TWIN CALVES

AMELIA, Mrs. June 1. (P)—Twin calves were born exactly one month apart to a heifer on the farm of R. E. Scott, Scott's Fork, Amelia county.

Scott said the calves, born on Apr. 8 and May 8, are healthy and normal and practically of the same size.

Palestine War Rages Despite UN Peace Plea

Jewish Official Says It Ordered Troops To Cease-fire If Arab Troops Halted

By Associated Press
War went on in Palestine today while Jews and Arabs bled over terms of a United Nations truce which both accepted. The UN had set no hour for firing to cease. A detailed Arab reply to the Armistice was awaited. The Jews said Egyptian troops attacked Negba, south of Tel Aviv, and bombed Hidda, in the same general area. Marksmen of the Trans-Jordan Arab Legion killed 20 Jews attacking the Zion, Jaffa and new gates of Old Jerusalem after midnight in an effort to win back a foothold. Artillery, mortar and automatic weapons exploded through Jerusalem while both sides awaited a cease fire order to become effective. The Jews said they ordered their forces to cease fire at 3 A.M. Palestine time but would resume fire if the Arabs kept shooting. The hour was that which the UN had set as the deadline for replies to its proposal for a four-week truce. An Israeli spokesman said the Jewish acceptance of the truce was unconditional. The Jews, however, doubted their reply with five "reservations" one being that free immigration to Palestine should continue, regardless of whether the immigrants were men of fighting age. This is a partial view of the turbine-generator. Shown at top center is the panel board, and at bottom center is the end view of a large turbine condenser, through which passes 10,000,000 gallons of water daily under full load. At lower right is one of the pumps in supply water to the turbine condenser. The generator increases the output of the Sanford plant to 10,500 kilowatts per hour.

Pope Pius Urges Social Reforms For World Peace

Rome, June 2 (AP)—Pope Pius XII called today for "just and necessary social reforms" to solve problems "growing out of the ruin and revolution of the world and its aftermath." "Not otherwise," he said, could "wayward and embittered hearts" be won back to the "true concepts and sound ideas about the world and God." He invoked "earnestness, loyalty, energy and fairness" for "all men of right principles" for the task, citing especially the "urgent need to provide the poorer classes with housing, bread and work." To Catholics he gave the watchword, "Watchfulness"—lest the enemy, whose identity he did not specify, "retake the ground so laboriously conquered." The speech, which was in Italian and lasted 25 minutes, was the Pontiff's first major address since a Communist-led challenge was turned back in Italy's election April 18 and 19. It was in reply to greetings from 17 Cardinals of the Holy College on his saint's day. The Pope's name is Eugenio Pacelli. His saint's day, coincidentally, on the second birthday of (Continued on Page Three)

GOP Has Selected All But 29 Of Their 1,094 National Delegates

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Republicans have selected all but 29 of their 1,094 National Convention delegates. Indiana picks the last delegation to the Philadelphia June 21 conclave in district caucuses and state convention June 10 and 11. The Hoosier group will be either uncommitted or instructed to Rep. Charles Halleck as a "favorite son."

None of the 13 men having first ballot delegate support so far comes anywhere near the 548 needed for the presidential nomination. However, the camps of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, Harold E. Stassen and Senator Robert A. Taft claim each will enter the convention with upwards of 300 delegates.

California and South Dakota were the last states to choose delegates. California formally ratified a slate of 53 pledged to Governor Earl Warren in a primary yesterday and South Dakota elected 11 more. The latter are unpledged, but are expected to vote for Stassen on the first ballot.
The standing of the 1,055 delegates so far chosen, including pledged and claimed without dispute, is as follows:
Thomas E. Dewey.....148
Harold E. Stassen.....99
Robert A. Taft.....81
Edward Martin.....73
Earl Warren.....53
Arthur H. Vandenberg.....41
Leverett Saltonstall.....35
Alfred E. Driscoll.....35
Dwight H. Green.....27
Carroll Reece.....22
Raymond E. Baldwin.....19
Douglas MacArthur.....10
Joseph W. Martin.....1
Uncommitted.....421

VFW Asks State To Provide Space For Headquarters

Tallahassee, June 2 (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars may be given space for a State headquarters office here if there is any room left over after all State agencies and departments have been accommodated. T. T. Turnbull, Tallahassee attorney, appearing on behalf of the organization, was told by the "Cabinet" yesterday he might seek quarters for the VFW. However, Governor Caldwell said it was not at all certain the rent-free space requested will be available. Turnbull estimated the veterans' group would require space equivalent to about one floor of an average office building. Caldwell commented similar requests probably could be expected from the American Legion and the Disabled American Veterans if the VFW request is granted. "I'm not sure I would like to have a part in committing another administration to what would be a tremendous expense," the Governor said.

Petition For Rerearing Denied In Wright Case

A petition for a rerearing in the case of James A. Wright and wife Margaret nee Maggie B. Zachary involving title to the Zachary homestead at 820 Magnolia Avenue was denied by the Supreme Court yesterday. The petition for the rerearing was filed by attorneys for the Wrights on May 22. The Supreme Court had previously upheld a final decree of the lower court declaring that Mrs. Maggie B. Zachary is the beneficial owner of the property and is entitled to exclusive possession. The Wrights were represented by Francis P. Whitehair of DeLand and Fred R. Wilson and Ernest Housholder of Sanford. Mrs. Zachary was represented by Geo. A. Speer, Jr.

Hi School Exercises To Be Held Tomorrow

Class day exercises will be held at the Seminole High School tomorrow at 10:00 o'clock. It was announced today by Principal H. E. Morris. Mayor R. A. Williams will introduce members of the class of 1923 and awards will be given to members of the graduating class. Mr. Morris declared. Fred Rosetter, salutatorian, will welcome the visitors and Anita Jimenez, valedictorian, will bid farewell for the class of 1948. FOLLO BOARD of the Seminole County Public Schools Board will be held tomorrow at 9:00 o'clock at the Tourism Center.

Citizens Go Deeper Into Debt After Time Payment Controls End

By CHARLES MOLONY
WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Americans went $1,282,000,000 deeper into debt on the installment plan during the first six months since time payment controls died last November. A Federal Reserve Board report showed today that the installment credit for retail buying reached the highest point in history, $6,736,000,000 at the beginning of May. Total consumer credit also reached a record high of $13,526,000,000. This also includes charge accounts and loans repayable in a lump sum, neither of which has been under government control for 17 months. But it was in the installment field that on-the-cuff buyers piled up debt fastest—at an average of $212,870,000 for each of the first six months after dealers were left free to fix their own down payment rates and length of time to pay the balance. The average monthly increase had been only $166,330,000 for the previous 18 months under controls. These generally had required a downpayment of one-third and repayment of the balance in 18 months. A new reserve board survey of consumer spending plans indicates that one out of every four American families will overstep its income "heavily" this year, using credit or savings if necessary. Those who bought goods on credit last year doubled the number in the year before, and 5,000,000 more families reached the verge of debt stage by cashing out their last savings bonds. During the first six months of unrestricted time payments, credit for buying autos on the installment plan went up $71,000,000 a month to a May 1 total of $1,476,000,000. That total was catching up fast with credit for time buying of furniture, radios, refrigerators, washing machines, and the like. This figure rose an average of just under $57,000,000 a month to a total of $1,095,000,000. Credit specialists say debt for car purchases would go up much faster if there were more new cars to buy.

Truman Seeks Flood Danger Record Peacetime Military Bill Is Passed By House

President Pleads For Action On Housing, Reciprocal Trade, Education Measure

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—President Truman made a new plea to Democratic congressional leaders today for passage of housing, reciprocal trade and educational legislation. Mr. Truman's appeal was made verbally at a White House conference as the Senate stretched out its working hours in a bid to dispose of one of three bills labeled "must" by GOP leaders aiming at a June 19 adjournment. House Minority Leader Rayburn told reporters that the President also discussed some of the highlights of the five major speeches he is to make on a cross-country tour starting Thursday night. Rayburn was accompanied to the White House by Senator McGrath of Rhode Island, Democratic national chairman; Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic Senate whip; and Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, party whip in the House. Rayburn was asked by reporters what the prospects were for House passage of the long-range housing bill which has cleared the Senate. "It looks like they (the Republican leaders) are more interested in adjourning than they are in passing legislation," he said. Legislation extending the reciprocal trade program has been passed by the House and hearings are under way in a Senate committee. The federal aid to education bill has passed the Senate and is pending in the House. Rayburn said the three measures are considered particularly important.

Record Peacetime Military Bill Is Passed By House

Over 3,000 Foes Of Red Curb Bill Gather At Capital

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—A record peacetime Army-Air Force appropriation bill was whisked through the House today and sent to the Senate. The measure provides $6,509,939,000 for the two services for the new fiscal year starting July 1. The House scheduled for debate tomorrow another record peacetime defense money bill—a $3,686,743,250 measure financing the Navy for the next fiscal year. Funds included for the Army, Navy and Air Force total $10,196,672,250. The Appropriations Committee also called a meeting for tomorrow morning to draft a multi-billion dollar measure financing the foreign aid program. There were less than two hours debate on the Army-Air Force bill and fewer than 50 members on the floor during the discussion, which was confined to explanations (Continued on Page Three)

Flood Danger Looms Anew In River Rampage

PORTLAND, Ore., June 2 (AP)—The Columbia flood crest bore down on the Clatskanie area today in its rampage to the Pacific ocean. The river lapped less than three inches from dike top and was going higher. Four hundred civilian volunteers struggled to heighten the nine dikes in the threatened area two-thirds of the way down the 100-mile barricaded stretch between Portland and the sea. Behind the hard pressed earthworks is the town of Clatskanie. Its population of about 1,000 has been evacuated. So have residents in other districts of the area. U.S. Army engineers described the situation in the Clatskanie area as "critical." And it put the same label on five other areas, extending as far upriver as Portland where the crest passed yesterday. But nowhere was the margin between safety and destruction as narrow as the cryptic "freeboard, two-tenths of a foot" reported by the engineers around Clatskanie. Upriver, the most vital "critical" points were in the Sandy and Multnomah drainage districts along Portland's north and eastern outskirts. There, 300 troops and 700 civilian volunteers fought to bolster flood-battered dikes and keep Portland's airport and the big Troutdale Aluminum Plant from inundation. Other critical areas were Sauvie Island slightly downstream from Portland; Scappoose, 22 miles down, and Deer Island, near the Oregon shore about midway between Scappoose and Clatskanie. Of these the Scappoose area seemed to be the greatest danger. The engineers said there was a combination threat of dike softness and only one and one-half foot freeboard. Troop-civilian teams battled soft dikes on the two islands.

Henderson Says Reds Secretly Wish Bill Passed For Politics

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—More than 3,000 foes of the Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill gathered in Washington today to protest the legislation. Most of them came from New York aboard three special trains. They were greeted by former Rep. J. J. O'Connell of Montana, a backer of Henry A. Wallace for president, as "patriotic defenders of our ancient American liberties." "The Mundt bill would wreck the Bill of Rights," O'Connell said. A large number of police were at the union station, but there was no disorder. Two mass meetings were scheduled for today and later the delegations were to call on their congressmen. The demonstration was arranged by a self-styled "committee to defeat the Mundt bill" after the Senate Judiciary Committee halted public hearings on the House-approved measure Monday. Most of those from New York are associated with the Committee for Democratic Rights. Others are members of the national non-partisan delegation, which is urging passage of civil rights legislation. Many in the crowd carried placards advocating anti-lynch and other civil rights measures. Leon Henderson, head of American (Continued on Page Three)

Seminole Students Are Awarded State Lewis Scholarships

Tallahassee, June 2 (AP)—The state yesterday awarded college scholarships of $200 and $100 a year to 236 Florida youths who want to become teachers or government employees. They were chosen from those who took competitive examinations last April. The $400 Annis Lewis scholarships were given to 123 students. They must be used at one of the state-operated colleges for teacher training. Following from Seminole County awarded Lewis scholarships: Charline Alice Weltman, Ovelto; Farly Everett Minott, (reg'd) Sanford; following received house scholarships: John Bernard Root, Sanford; Hazel Jessie Ruth, Sanford; Lucy Philon, Longwood. House of Representatives scholarships of $200 a year went to 123 students who may study at one of 10 Florida colleges and universities but also must prepare for teaching careers. Forty-one students won $200 senatorial scholarships. They, too, may go to any of 10 colleges and have a choice of teaching or public service studies. Each recipient will sign a promissory note for each year's scholarship fund. For every year he teaches or works in government after graduation a note will be cancelled. He may repay in cash, however, instead of following a teaching or public service career.

1 Day Remains For Justice Candidates In Friday Election

Only one day campaigning time remains for the two candidates for the Supreme Court vacancy created by the retirement of Justice Rivers Buford. The two are Justice T. Frank Hobson of St. Petersburg, now filling Buford's vacancy until January on an appointment by Governor, and Attorney General Tom Watson of Tallahassee who ran fifth in the recent nine-man gubernatorial race. The statewide runoff primary will be held Friday.

Judge Says New Coal Strike Will Be National Tragedy

White House efforts to settle the railroad labor dispute "have failed completely," union leaders said today. David H. Robertson, representing one of three disputing unions, made the statement after union officials had held a lengthy conference at the White House with Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman. WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldborough told John L. Lewis' attorney today it will be a "national tragedy" if there is a coal strike next month. Goldborough touted this remark as Welly K. Hopkins, attorney for Lewis, and government attorneys argued over the government's request for a court order requiring Lewis to bargain with the Southern Coal Producers Association on a new soft coal contract (Continued on Page Three)

Solon Says Citrus Is Considered In Price Support Bill

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—Citrus fruits are "clearly covered" by the price support provision of the long-range agricultural program legislation pending in the Senate, Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) said today. The chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee told a reporter that "citrus not only can be supported, but it is the explicit intention of the committee that it will be." Although not specifically named in the Aiken Bill, the senator said citrus is covered in two ways: 1. Fresh fruits can be supported up to 90 percent of parity through the use of the so-called "section 32 funds." 2. Citrus juices may be purchased by the Commodity Credit Corporation to reduce any surplus. Aiken described citrus fruits as one of the most important of the non-basest commodities. He said it "goes without question that citrus fruits are clearly covered" in the bill under the discretion given the secretary of agriculture to support the price of non-basest commodities important to American agriculture and to the country.

Alabama Picks 9 More Anti-Truman National Delegates

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
President Truman's bid for another term faced new trouble from the South today. But elsewhere, his campaign picked up strength. Alabama voters yesterday picked nine more delegates pledged to walk out of the Democratic National Convention if Mr. Truman is nominated or if his civil rights proposals are put into the party platform. Five others similarly pledged previously had been named, giving anti-Truman Democrats control of the state's 24-man delegation. In Maryland, however, a state Democratic convention instructed its delegates to cast their 20 votes for Mr. Truman as long as he appears to have a chance to win. Maryland's senior Senator Millard E. Tydings, for the vice presidential nomination. The President also picked up 54 more convention votes in California. This put his total pledged and claimed votes to 589—just 29 short of the 618 needed for nomination. SPORTSMEN MEET The Seminole County Sportsmen Association will hold a meeting at the Yacht Club Building on Lakeshore Boulevard Friday night at 8:00 o'clock to discuss and make recommendations for the coming hunting season. It was announced today by P. H. Lansing, president.

1949 Model Autos Will Be Out By Year's End Barring Strikes

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor
DETROIT, June 2 (AP)—Barring another major assembly line stoppage nearly all 1949 model automobiles will be introduced before the year's end. Besides new model industry circles again are talking about possible production records. If the car builders can get all their labor problems behind them—as now seems likely—they may make 1,000,000 cars and trucks between July 1 and Aug. 31. So far only Ford has 1949 models in production. Other car makers are turning out parts for new models or are awaiting tools to get fabricating work started. Stimulating both new model work and production possibilities is the fact that General Motors, Ford and Chrysler have been able to build up materials stockpiles during recent weeks. GM closed each of its plants for a week during April or May; Ford production was curtailed during a model change-over and the new-entitled Chrysler strike halted consumption of materials by that manu-

Kiwanis Club Holds Winter Park Meet

Today's meeting of the Sanford Kiwanis Club was called off, since the organization held an inter-city meeting in Winter Park on Monday night, with 38 of the Sanford members attending. The Sanford Kiwanians presented the traveling gavel to the Winter Park club. Commander Hugh McKean, head of the art department at Rollins College, addressed the organization on India and its customs, schools and religions.

FISHING LICENSES
New 1948 fishing licenses will go on sale here next week. County Judge R. W. Ware announced today. He warned however, that the NEW LICENSES WILL NOT BE VALID UNTIL JULY 1. Judge Ware reminded fresh water anglers that all persons between the ages of 15 and 65 who fish with rod-and-reel or fish outside their home county are required to have a license. Out-of-state fishermen must have a special non-resident license.
