Club Hears Stories Of Three Battles

Readings on three historical battles were given at the meeting of the Robert E. Lee Chapter, Children of the Confederacy, which was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Nancy Dighton on West Twelfth Street, with Miss Dighton and the Misses Mary and Ann Walton, hostesses.

A paper on "The Battle of Olustee" was read by Miss Elizabeth Whigham, and "The Battle of Natural Bridge" by Miss Ann Walton. An article on General J. J. Dickson and the Battle of Gainesville was discussed by Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, chapter sponsor.

A proposed amendment to the bylaws was read. It was decided to hold the next meeting on Southern Memorial Day, Apr. 28. The business meeting was presided over by Miss Lucy Roumillat, president.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. N. Dighton. Those present were: Miss Whigham, Miss Roumillat, Miss Mary Walton, Miss Betty Wathen, Miss Jane Thigpen, Miss Mary Wight, Miss Martha Wight, Miss Margaret Spencer, Miss Catherine Spencer, Miss Letitia Gormly, Miss Dighton, and the Misses Walton; also, Charles Cameron, Elmore Graddock, Mrs. Roumillat, and Mrs. Dighton.

Oliver Stanley, president of the board of trade, told the commons, gravely worried over the government's delay in rallying European democracies in a united front.

"I have informed the federation (of British industries) that while there can be no doubt regarding the value of the preliminary work which they have accomplished (in trade discussions) with German industrialists, recent political developments have created a situation which, while it lasts, has made further progress impossible."

Prime Minister Chamberlain refused to end the secrecy surrounding British diplomacy, but said his plans to form a bloc against aggression went "a good deal further" than mere consultation among the interested powers.

Hollywood Producer Persuaded Pianist To Play In Films

To Lohan Mendes goes the honor of persuading Ignace Jan Paderewski, the world-famous pianist to emerge from his retirement and appear for the first time in a film production, "Moonlight Sonata," which opens at the Ritz Theatre tonight.

Tired of the accepted idea of a musical film, Mr. Mendes felt that the time was opportune to introduce to the screen some of the world's greatest personalities. In music his choice fell on Paderewski. He met him in Paris over nine months ago, and after many talks, the maestro said he would be willing to consider the matter if a suitable story could be found.

Hans Rameau, the scenario writer whose work impressed Mr. Mendes in Vienna, provided the outline for "Moonlight Sonata" and this was handed to Paderewski to read and he expressed delight with it. Edward Knoblock was then set to work on the English adaptation and dialogue.

Mr. Mendes' next step was to induce Marie Tempest to appear in the film. She had turned down after offer because the stories submitted to her were never sufficiently dignified. She read "Moonlight Sonata," and pleased with it and delighted at the thought of playing with her old friend Paderewski, and consented to making her talking picture debut. In the cast also are Charles Farrell, Barbara Greene and Eric Portman.

Gerardo Machado Dies In Hospital At Miami Beach

Cuban Republic and finally in Europe, with indictments for murder hanging over his head, was the lot of Gerardo Machado.

He was the victim in August, 1933, of a revolt in the army which had been the chief prop of his stormy administration. He fled by plane on August 12. A series of coup d'etats followed within five months. All dug inexorably into the acts of the Machado administration.

They accused him of lulling the Cuban people into complacency by an extravagant program of public works while he and his intimates enriched themselves. They held him personally responsible for terrorist acts culminated by a series of summary executions, including him on charges of murder and sought to extradite him.

In the face of these developments Machado fled from Nassau, his first haven, to Montreal, then to Philadelphia, N. Y., to New York, to Philadelphia and finally, in July, 1934, to Santo Domingo, D. R., where he was confined to a prison house.

Machado, an accomplished orator, went into the Cuban presidency in 1925 for a four-year term under pledge not to stand for reelection. But in 1928 the Cuban congress, of which he had won control by astute party maneuvering, amended the constitution making the presidential term six years.

This would have held him in office until 1933, but after the

States Tax Income

WASHINGTON, (AP)—State and local governmental employees appear safe from Federal income tax claims on their 1933 income, but the tax status of Federal employees is at the mercy of State Legislatures as a result of yesterday's Supreme Court decision.

But meanwhile the world economic depression had descended upon Cuba. The sugar market collapsed, districts were added to political unrest. There were revolts, riots and attempts to assassinate Machado. Congress granted him power to suspend constitutional guarantees and he struck back at his enemies by means of censorship, suppression of anti-administration newspapers, courts martial and wholesale arrests.

France And Italy No Nearer Reconciliation

French Stand Solidly Behind Daladier's Stern Answer To Mussolini Demands

France Signs Rumanian Pact

Great Britain Plans For Unprecedented Expansion Of Army

By Associated Press
Premier Daladier's blunt statement that France would yield "not a foot of our land nor one of our rights" today left Paris and Rome still far from reconciliation in their dispute over Italian colonial claims on France.

Daladier's strong words in a broadcast speech last night put the first step up to Italy if Italian-French differences are to be negotiated and seemed to have won both political and popular approval in France.

The Paris press was unanimously behind the premier and even the socialists and communists, his chief opposition, acquiesced their endorsement.

Violinist Found After Hazardous Mississippi Trip

MEMPHIS, Mar. 30—(AP)—Hope Brewster, who played her violin as she drifted 90 miles down the treacherous Mississippi river in a 16-foot skiff, was brought back to Memphis last night from Helena, Ark., where she had stopped for a night's rest before resuming her hazardous journey to New Orleans.

Object of a 300-mile search by airplanes and speedboats, the talented young music student awakened in her hotel room today and prepared to continue her 800-mile trip, riding with the current of the flood-swollen, winding stream.

On the trip of a waitress, Helena was found and detained here. Memphis police were notified that the beautiful, 25-year-old girl had been found and Capt. Frank Gilson and Frank Sturm, at whose home she lived, went to Helena and brought her back. At first she was reluctant to return. She had started a trip she had wanted to finish. She was surprised that some believed she had drowned.

RETURNED TO MEMPHIS

After locating her in Helena, Ark., searchers finally convinced Miss Hope Brewster, beautiful 25-year old violinist, that she should not continue her hazardous journey down the Mississippi River to New Orleans in a 16-foot skiff for which she paid $2. She disappeared several days ago and searchers had feared she had drowned in the turbulent river made dangerous by high water.

Daladier Warns II Duce France Will Resist Grab

Premier Says French Desire Peace But Will Defend Rights

PARIS, Mar. 30.—(AP)—Premier Daladier last night answered Mussolini's claims on Djibouti, Tunisia and the Bues canal by accusing the Italian dictator of uttering false statements and said that Rome must take the first step toward settlement.

In a blunt reply to Mussolini's Sunday speech to Rome asserting fascism's "vital rights" in the Mediterranean, Daladier warned that the French nation would "arise as one man" and fight, if necessary, to resist any Italian territorial grab.

Daladier—now a dictator almost as powerful as Mussolini—poked over the radio and his speech was broadcast in five languages, including Italian, to all parts of the French empire.

Group Formed To Advertise State Road No. 3

Bagwell Named Officer In St. Johns Trail Association

The St. Johns River Trail Association for the purpose of advertising State Road No. 3 from Jacksonville through Central Florida was formed at a meeting of officials of Chambers of Commerce and others interested in routes along the coast in Palatka yesterday, according to Ralph W. Bagwell, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, who was named vice president of the organization.

Former Mayor John W. Campbell of Palatka heads the new group, with A. G. Blauprest, executive secretary of the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce, as vice-president and L. V. Conrath, secretary of the Deland Chamber of Commerce, as secretary-treasurer.

"The association was formed to promote and advertise the beautiful scenic route through Central Florida which begins at Jacksonville," Mr. Bagwell said, adding that "plans call for Miami as the ultimate southern terminus with a route through Kamsmead, Holopaw and Oklawaha City. However, the first objective of the association will be to improve."

Legislation Is Discussed By C. Of C. Group

Committee Favors Repeal Of Two Citrus Laws And Adoption Of Criminal Code

Legislative matters pertinent to Seminole County were discussed at the first meeting of the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon when the committee recommended that the board of directors of the trade body pass resolutions asking repeal of certain citrus laws and the enactment of a criminal code, members of the committee announced today.

Presided over by Chairman Fred R. Wilson, those attending the session went on record as favoring repeal of the state statute providing for and controlling "artificial coloring of certain citrus fruits and fixing penalties for violation thereof." It was also recommended that the board of directors pass a resolution requesting repeal of the law prohibiting the grower from selling his fruit to trucks directly from the groves.

The legislative committee also recommended that the Chamber of Commerce ask the Florida Legislature to enact into law a more simplified procedure for criminal courts.

Lions Are Shown In Colored Movie By H. H. Coleman

H. H. Coleman gave a private showing of the technicolor film taken by him on his recent trip through the south west of the United States, down into Mexico and northwestern part of the United States, at the regular weekly meeting of the Lion's Club last night at the Valdez Hotel.

These films were taken by Mr. Coleman, an amateur movie camera enthusiast, who exhibited technical shots of Yellowstone National Park and other places visited on his trip.

The remainder of the evening was devoted to a business session during which it was voted to attend the chapter night of the Mount Dora Lion's Club which will hold its first meeting with a dinner-dance celebration at Lakeside Inn in Mount Dora at 8:00 o'clock Monday evening.

Surviving are one son, R. I. Fanning of Washington, Ga.; three daughters, Mrs. Gilstrap of Atlanta, Mrs. J. E. Stark of Alice, Tex., Mrs. Thurmond of this city and a number of grand children.

Growers Vote For Elimination Of 3rd Grade Fruit

Ban Is Seen As Support To Citrus Advertising Program

LAKELAND, Mar. 30.—Elimination of third grade oranges and grapefruit from shipment north for the remainder of the season has been agreed on by members of the growers committee and shippers advisory committee to create the federal marketing pact, it was announced last night. Recommendations to that effect will be made to Secretary Wallace Tuesday.

Summaries of reports on orange and grapefruit conditions in the state were made by Frank Seymour, manager of the growers administrative committee. No report was made on tankings.

The ban on low grade fruit is expected to support the advertising program of the Florida Citrus Commission in northern markets. With fruit practically unlimited as to grade and quality, consumer confidence has been shaken and the industry apparently has not been receiving full benefits from its advertising program, the growers decided.

The marketing policy was made on the estimate that 6,000,000 boxes of oranges and 3,000,000 boxes of grapefruit will move north after Apr. 1, Seymour said. The report to Washington said in part:

"There is a grave possibility that as a result of the continued drought, large quantities of Florida oranges will be shipped which are too soft to conform to grade requirements for U. S. No. 2. The committee believe that fruit of such quality will fail to give consumer satisfaction and will result in a general adverse effect."

Church raffles are banned in Volusia.

DAYTONA BEACH, Mar. 30.—Local churches were warned yesterday that Florida's ban on gambling games would even extend to raffle cake raffles and bingo games.

G. E. Rollins Appeals For Support Of Salvation Army

Another appeal for support of the Salvation Army in its attempt to raise funds with which to carry on its activities during the coming year was made today by chairman of the drive, George Rollins, who also announced that Apr. 2 has been set as the deadline for making of the $3500 set as a goal for the maintenance fund campaign.

Pointing out that there are at present a great many requests for assistance made to the Salvation Army daily, Mr. Rollins stated that in all probability this number will be increased as more and more are thrown out of employment during the summer months. He pointed out that the Salvation Army would be unable to take care of these cases unless the organization has funds on which to draw.

Antlers To Hold Tri-City Meeting Here; Prominent Lodge Officials Will Attend

All plans for the tri-city meeting of Antlers from Daytona Beach, New Smyrna Beach and Sanford to be held here Friday afternoon and evening, have been completed, Herman Echols, chairman of the arrangements committee announced today.

Visitors coming for the occasion, which convenes at 4:00 o'clock Friday, will include Frank O'Brien of Jacksonville, president of the Florida State Elk Association, also Robert H. Bolton of Jacksonville, member of the Grand Lodge Antlers Committee and J. Walter Hawkins, of Deland, a grand loyal knight. The members of the advisory council will also be in attendance.

The following schedule has been planned for the session: 4:00 P. M. Registration at Elk Lodge for all local and visiting Antlers and Elks. 4:00 P. M. Street parade of candidates for initiation led by members of the local bugle and drum corps from the Elk Club to Park Avenue, accompanied by all Antlers.

Babson pleased with courteous treatment.

Ralph Bagwell, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce today received a letter of appreciation from Roger W. Babson for the courtesies shown him on his recent visit here while making a part of his "sustenance farm" survey of the state, to determine the areas best suited for the establishment of small farms.

Pension Tax Change Hit By Altmeyer

Security Board Member Says Proposed Change Would Cause Higher Levy Later

Plan To Export Cotton Ignored

President Names Former Senator Comptroller General

WASHINGTON, Mar. 30.—(AP)—Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer of the Social Security Board advised Congress today that if the scheduled increases in the old age pension taxes were postponed, the levies would have to be raised sharply in later years or the general taxpayer would have to bear a substantial part of pension costs.

He testified before the House Ways and Means Committee. Altmeyer said he thought an eventual contribution to the old age pension system from general revenues was desirable. Ignoring the president's suggestion for a cotton export subsidy program, the senate Agriculture Committee approved a bill which would permit farmers to reclaim up to 5,000,000 acres of cotton now held as collateral for government loans.
