U.S. Offers Reds Slash Arms Pact

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States offered Russia an agreement today to slash American and Russian troop strength to 2,100,000 men each provided the Soviets accept controls against cheating.

But Russia's Vladimir Zorin demanded agreement first on "general and complete disarmament."

"Let's not tie ourselves up here with paper measures," Zorin said.

The U.S. offer was made by Frederick M. Eaton at the end of another three-hour session of the 10-nation disarmament conference, almost in exasperation after Zorin continuously sidestepped all Western attempts to get him to discuss guarantees against cheating.

Eaton reminded Zorin that the United States already had offered to freeze U.S. and Russian armed forces at 2,300,000 each and then reduce them to 2,100,000 men.

"We are prepared to accept these measures immediately," Eaton declared, "so long as they are accompanied by the verification machinery we consider essential."

But the session broke up without any further reply from Zorin. Zorin went to lunch with French Delegate Jules Moch, continuing the informal diplomatic conversations begun last week.

Moch had also tried to get the conference off center by proposing that experts get to work to study concrete techniques for various disarmament measures. The Russians withheld a reply.

Before today's session, authoritative sources said the United States may soon offer to give advance notice of missile launches if the Soviets promise to do the same.

They said the offer probably would be made in an effort to get the 10-nation disarmament conference, now in its third week, started on something concrete.

Seminole Census Starts Next Week

Sanford and Seminole County doorbells will start ringing next week.

The doorbells will be some 100 enumerators beginning the job of counting heads for the 1960 census.

The local tallies will be a part of a 100,000 man effort to count which will go throughout the nation to enumerate an estimated 100 million persons.

The mammoth counting job in the county is expected to be completed during the latter part of April.

The second stage — the gathering in of the detailed household questionnaire which will be left at every fourth house — is slated to be finished by mid-May.

The usual procedure is to make the results of the tally will be made by the local census office as soon as the tabulations are finished.

No U. S. Manned Moon Shot Set Until After '70

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, says that the United States will not send a man to the moon until after 1970.

Glennan, president of Case Institute of Technology on leave to the NASA, made his prediction in the March issue of Engineering and Science Review, the school's undergraduate scientific publication.

Candidates Clash Over Financing State Roads

MIAMI (UPI) — Nine Democratic gubernatorial candidates gave quick answers to a dozen campaign questions Monday night but clashed sharply on the financing of highways and the reason a full-length turnpike failed to pass the 1963 Legislature.

Appearing on the same platform for a 90-minute television program were campaigners Farris Bryant of Ocala, Jacksonville Mayor Hayden Burns, Doyle Carlton of Wausatch, Ted David of Hollywood, Fred Dickinson of West Palm Beach, the Rev. George Downs of Winter Park, Klan leader Bill Hendrix of Oldsmar, John McCarty of Fort Pierce, and Jim McCortey of Hialeah and Clewiston.

The program invited the tele-shown questions from viewers. But the number of candidates and lengthy commercials limited answers mostly to only a few seconds by each.

Bryant, Carlton, Dickinson, David, and McCortey argued strongly but inconclusively about whether to build a toll road to pay for the 1963 Legislature's construction of the Florida Turnpike.

Lake Waters To Recede Soon

Lake Monroe is still rising, but very slowly, Sanford Public Works Director S. M. Richard said today.

Richard said he thinks the water will start receding by tomorrow or Thursday. This morning's readings found Lake Monroe 6.61 feet above sea level. This is the highest point the lake has reached since 1963 when the waters went to 9.41 feet above sea level.

Richard said the lake has gone over the sea wall at Ft. Mellon Park and at the French Ave. and Seminole Blvd. intersection. The waters are just on the grass there and Richard does not expect them to reach the street pavement which is higher than the grass. The waters could harm the pavement by softening it if they reached the street, Richard said. However, to do real harm to Seminole Blvd., the lake waters would have to float the pavement, he added.

The high waters could also damage sewers leading into Lake Monroe by backing up and exerting pressure within the pipes, Richard said. Damage to sewers will not be known until the lake has gone down.

The lake has risen a little over four inches since Saturday. This shows a leveling off, since last Tuesday the waters were rising about 4 to 5 inches per day. The high water mark last Tuesday was 5.4 feet above sea level. Richard said the lake usually has its highest waters in October when they vary from four to six feet above sea level.

Coffee Clubbers To Host Navy

The monthly meeting of the Coffee Club sponsored by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held 10 a. m. Thursday at Mrs. Appleby's Restaurant in the Valdez Hotel.

Coffee clubbers will have an opportunity to meet Capt. Robert W. Slye, commanding officer of Sanford Naval Air Station and several of his administrative staff who have recently come aboard the station.

Candidates Clash Over Financing State Roads

Dickinson and McCarty accused Bryant and Carlton of hobnobbing a Miami-to-Jacksonville turnpike in the Miami-Fort Pierce toll road that was finally constructed.

The candidates did little to clarify the 1963 voting record.

All nine, however, said they favor extending the present turnpike to the Georgia border.

The same five lawmakers and former legislators, plus Burns, also argued about who has the best program for meeting Florida's highway needs.

Burns ended the turnpike argument by saying that in Jacksonville he has done something about highway needs. He said he led the Jacksonville expressway system which has just opened a new north-south leg to provide clear passage through the city.

All the candidates agreed: They are against a state income tax, favor Florida's so-called right-to-work law, favor creation of new counties if it becomes necessary to help population growth, are against a 10-cent increase in war veterans, and against an increase in the present state gasoline tax.

Civil Rights Bill May Be Strengthened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some backers of civil rights legislation predicted today the Senate Judiciary Committee would strengthen the House-passed bill which it must act on by midnight.

Sen. Kenneth E. Keating (R-N.Y.) told reporters he was confident "we will have a bill out" by midnight and predicted it would be stronger than the five-point House measure.

Keating said he thought the committee would "clearly and in some cases strengthen" the House bill "and in no case weaken it."

Another committee member, Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, said "there could be some changes other than technical amendments." Sens. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. (D-Mo.) and John A. Carroll (D-Colo.) also foresaw some changes.

Judiciary Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) said Charles J. Bloch of Macon, Ga., a special Georgia assistant attorney general, and Deputy U. S. Atty. Gen. Lawrence F. Walsh would testify today at the committee's second day of closed-door sessions.

In 6 1/2 hours of testimony Monday, Walsh and Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers defended the House bill as it is, including the administration-backed provision for court appointed referees to guarantee Negro voting rights.

The committee took no action Monday on a host of proposed amendments, some to weaken the bill and others to strengthen it. Rogers expressed fear that any changes in the House bill might endanger final congressional approval.

But he told the committee that if it changed the measure, he hoped it would add two provisions struck by the House. One would give federal aid to localities trying to integrate schools. The other would make a permanent agency of the president's committee on non-discrimination in federal contracts.

One major test facing either the committee or the Senate when it resumes debate on civil rights Wednesday was the so-called Lausche amendment to make retroactive penalties for obstructing court-ordered school integration decisions apply to all federal court decrees.

The proposal, sponsored by Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio), was added by the Senate to its own bill, now set aside in favor of the House measure. But, with labor opposing the amendment, the Senate later knocked out the entire court order section.

Sewage Treatment Plant Demands Renewed By State

Sanford's sewage treatment plant problem with the state Board of Health came up again Monday night in connection with a subdivision being developed here.

The Board of Health sent a letter to Leffler and Bush, engineers for developer Phillip Zeuli, saying that the board couldn't approve a Sanford sewer extension into Zeuli's new development because Sanford doesn't have a sewage treatment plant.

"As you are probably aware, the City of Sanford does not have a sewage treatment plant, though it does have a fairly extensive sewage collection system which discharges raw sewage to the receiving waters. In view of this fact, this agency does not feel that we can consider the approval of further extension of the system serving the City of Sanford," the letter said.

One commissioner said he couldn't see why the board was so demanding about a sewage treatment plant when a recent Zeuli Lake Monroe showed that its waters are not made a menace by sewage.

City Commissioner J. H. Crapps said he doesn't favor building a sewage treatment plant, "period."

Commissioner Robert Brown pointed out that the city is putting aside funds periodically for a future plant.

The commission told City Atty. William Hutchinson and City Manager Warren Knowles to work out a way to get sewers to Zeuli's subdivision.

The commission also voted to accept Zeuli's subdivision for annexation if he puts in a Scott Ave. extension angling into Eighth St. and if the county approves Zeuli's plan. The subdivision is near Scott Ave. and Eighth St.

Lansing Fund Nets Near $1,000

Three projects sponsored in cooperation with the Elks Club, Moose Lodge and Seminole County Sportsmen's Assn. brought in almost $1,000 for the Porter Lansing Fund last week.

A contest sponsored by the organizations brought $400 and Seminole Sporting Goods Co. donated the profit from an outdoor motor.

A barbecue staged by the Order of DONS netted the fund $300 and $300 came through the Toss-a-Hatchets Hunt Club.

Next event to raise money for the fund for Porter Lansing, critically injured in an automobile crash, will be a benefit baseball game Saturday night between two San Francisco Giants farm teams, the Tacoma, Wash., and Harlingen, Tex., squads.

The city has granted use of Memorial Stadium and the two teams will play at 8:30 p. m. Tickets may be bought from members of the Elks, Moose and Sportsmen's Assn. and at 40 business locations around town.

The Elks Club has been named central collection agency for the fund and deposits may be made to the fund at the Sanford Athletic and Florida State Banks. Accounts have been opened in the name of Porter Lansing Fund and deposits may be made directly to the funds. Contributions also may be mailed to P.O. Box 1259.

Portion Of Lake Bridge To Close

The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad is engaged in reconstructing its bridge at the west end of Lake Monroe and starting at 7 a. m. Monday, the south opening of the drawspan will be closed to navigation.

Officials said that the south opening will be closed until approximately Dec. 1. The north opening through the drawspan will be opened at any time for the passage of navigation.

A crowd of about a thousand shouting Negroes and multicolored stoned buses and cars in Capetown. Police stormed the rioters with clubs and tear gas shells. They fired shots over their heads but not into the crowd to disperse it.

Last week, police at Sharpeville and Lange fired into crowds of African demonstrators, killing 80. African nationalist leaders called a 24-hour work stoppage Monday to protest the killings.

Plans Requested

The City Commission ordered architect plans for enclosing the fire station on French Ave. Monday night. Completely enclosing the station would cost about $3,500.

Flood-Swollen Prairie States Face New Threat

The threat of thunderstorms to-day added new danger to besieged prairie belt communities battling rivers already swollen to near record levels by a spring thaw.

Hundreds of persons left their homes as the rampaging rivers neared their highest levels in 20 years.

National Guardsmen, civil defense officials, the Red Cross and the Salvation Army teamed up with police and volunteers to battle the floods in an eight state area.

The first big warmup of the season melted some of the heaviest snows in a half century and sent rivers surging over their banks in a wide area from the Dakotas to Kansas and Missouri.

Rain falling today across the country's mid section promised to send the rivers to even new heights.

Many families driven from their homes in low lying areas found shelter in municipal buildings. Other refugees were housed in private homes situated on higher ground.

Entire communities were isolated and tens of thousands of acres of farmland were under water. Property damage could not be estimated.

Three deaths were blamed on the floods — one each in Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri.

At Stour City, Iowa, officials removed 300 residents from the Springfield district in advance of an expected major flood crest on the Floyd River.

Volunteers sandbagged entrances to stores and offices in the Springfield district which was hit by a wall of water 10 feet deep in a 1963 flood. Weather observers did not expect today's flood to be so bad as the one seven years ago.

But forecasters predicted the Big Blue River would crest 10 feet above flood stage at Blue Rapids, Kan., and Barmston, Neb., which would equal the highest flood stage since 1961.

Church Service, Political Rally Requests Denied

The City Commission Monday denied requests from the Civic Center for church services and political rallies.

One petition came from the Seminole County Ministerial Assn. which wanted to hold Easter Sunrise Services in the center. The other request came from the County Democratic Executive Committee which wanted to hold a political rally there, with all county candidates present.

The requests were denied after discussion of the original rules laid down when the Civic Center was opened.

Commissioner Robert Brown pointed out that two of the rules formulated when the Civic Center was opened were that its chairs were not to be borrowed and that church services were not to be allowed there.

Another factor in the discussion was the possibility of having incidental students from the Civic Center. The city has taken a positive stand on keeping the facility completely segregated.

News Briefs

Red Tide? TAMPA (UPI) — State conservation authorities made an aerial check today of an area in the Gulf of Mexico where floating carcasses of dead fish have been sighted recently. Dr. Robert Hutcheon, chief of the State Marine Laboratory at St. Petersburg, said it was not yet known if the "red tide" caused the fish to die.

Flood Group Formed BROOKVILLE (UPI) — A group of legislators banded together Monday to do something about preventing floods which damaged their 11 counties last week. At a meeting here, the lawmakers formed a committee to seek organization of "the central and southwest Florida water control management."

Motions Denied MIAMI (UPI) — Civil Court Judge Norman Hendry denied motions Monday for a summary decree fixing ownership of the chimpanzee Mr. Moke, sought by the St. Louis Zoo and his animal trainer, Robert Tomarsch. Denial of the motions, presented by both sides, means a jury will decide ownership sometime between June and September.

Board Approves Lights Request

Sanford's Sanlando residents pulled a switch on the City Commission last night.

They asked the commission to let them keep their old street lights on Phoenicia and Valencia Drives and on E. 14th St.

It seems the city has been putting in nine new lights to replace 15 old ones on those streets. The new lights are on wooden poles while the old ones are on metal poles.

Floyd Palmer of 335 Valencia Dr. headed a delegation of nearly 15 Sanlando subdivision residents who preferred the old poles for their greater beauty. They also thought the old system would give more light.

"The people are very serious about keeping the lights we have," Palmer said, and he presented a petition from 50 persons to prove it.

A round of applause greeted Mayor Earl Higginbotham's motion to take the new lights out and put the old poles back.

The city was replacing the lights because it would be cheaper to put in the new poles with overhead wires rather than replace three quarters of a mile of the old damaged underground wire system. But City Manager Warren E. Knowles decided a transformer nearby would eliminate replacing all the underground wires.

Castro Declares War On Anti-Reds

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro declared war today on Cuba's anti-Communists, charging that they "weaken faith" in his revolutionary regime.

In his third television in two days, Castro lashed out specifically at Luis Costa Aguiar, a college friend whose daily television commentary has become the nation's leading anti-Red forum.

Castro's appearance on the Telemundo Pregonaria TV show was presented in the form of a press conference, but the newsmen on the panel had an opportunity to ask only one question: "What is your opinion of the current controversy over communism in Cuba?"

The Premier's reply took four hours, ending at 1:25 a. m.

Costa, who has not been heard from since a Communist-led mob barred him from the studio Friday, was expected to seek asylum in one of the foreign embassies here.

Arson Believed School Fire Cause

The old Rosenwald Elementary School which burned down Feb. 17 was probably set on fire. District Fire Marshal Mark Cleveland Sr. said Monday.

The Sanford fire chief said he was "pretty sure it was arson" which destroyed the four room brick school. The culprit has not been found but cases of this type are never dropped, Cleveland said. The company which insured the school has not yet made its report. County School Administrative Assistant Walter Teague said Monday.

The 28-year-old school was built of brick and heart pine and would cost about $40,000 to build today, Teague said.

Liaison Board Member Named

Wight Kirtley was appointed temporary Liaison member between the Sanford Zoning and Planning Board and the Board of Adjustment Monday night, and engineer William F. Bush was made a temporary member of the Zoning and Planning Board.

Kiwans To Get Flag

Sanford's American Legion post will donate a United States flag to the Sanford Kiwanis Club and longtime Kiwanian Douglas Scott will present a Canadian flag at the Kiwanis meeting in the Civic Center Wednesday. The presentation will be made during the club's noon luncheon meeting.

Showcase Turns Out Absorbing Fare

By FRED DANZIG
NEW YORK (UPI)—Sunday night's "Sunday Showcase" on NBC-TV, "The American," was unusually absorbing and meaningful.

It unfolded an intricate web of ironies with an admirable mixture of subtlety, directness and compassion.

Author Merle Miller effectively conveyed the frustrations, deep feelings of guilt, hostility, cynicism and frustration attributed to Ira Hayes, the Pima Indian who became a war hero, savored public adulation and died as a tormented, ineffective alcoholic at the age of 22.

Also illuminated with memorabilia effect were the less honorable aspects of governmental Indian policies, the heartlessness of over-commercialization and the often-overlooked dual nature of heroism—its reality and its fiction.

Miller's witty dialogue added to the impact of his carefully selected, neatly constructed scenes. Further locomotion was given the production by John Frankheimer's direction. Frankheimer used his cameras with remarkable eloquence and contributed greatly to the play's power. The production was videotaped on location in Tucson, Ariz., and Stony Point, N.Y.

Lee Marvin portrayed Marine hero Hayes, who was shown into the national limelight following the celebrated two Jimmies fighting in 1945. Marvin caught the varied nuances of his role magnificently. Steven Hill also delivered a sturdy, compelling performance as George, Ira's pal, who saw Ira being abused and used to help him. In lesser roles, but of equal excellence, were Frank Corrado, Milton Selzer, Frank Overton and Tom Carlin.

I hope our "good neighbor" policy is hardy enough to survive such things as Sunday night's "Mexican Fiesta" on NBC-TV. The fur purported to be a book musical filmed in color against various scenic attractions south of the border. While there were some interesting shots of the Pyramid of the Sun, the Floating Gardens of Xochimilco and a bull ring, most of the routine night club acts from Mexico City. The show lacked imagination, freshness and credibility.

 Modern research has perfected many new medicines to keep aches and pains away.
 Geriatric vitamins add increased energy. Certain drugs help ward off heart troubles and hardening arteries. Losing excess weight lessens strain. But, only a physician knows how to prescribe the proper medication. Consult yours for regular check-ups. He can help you keep aches away.

Plenty Of Summer, Fall Sports Viewing Slated For Channel 9
 An intensified sports schedule on WLOF-TV Channel 9 for this coming summer and fall was announced today by Walter Baker, program director.

The American Broadcasting Company network revealed that it had contracted to telecast major baseball games from both National and American Leagues every Saturday afternoon during the season. During the fall, the network will also provide local viewers with on the scene "live" telecasts of the major football games of colleges affiliated with the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The specific games to be telecast have not as yet been scheduled.

WLOF-TV will also telecast top boxing events from Madison Square Gardens on Saturday night. Dates for the beginning of the fight telecasts have not been announced. According to Mr. Baker, "WLOF-TV will be the most active sports station in the area reflecting the ABC Network's policy of dominating sports telecasting."

Expectant Mom Survives Ordeal
MIAMI (UPI)—An expectant mother, both her legs broken, lay for 18 hours in an open boat on Biscayne Bay Sunday.

The boat was impaled on a piling under a busy causeway but the motorist passing overhead could not see it.

Mrs. Walter Davidson, 26, expecting a child in July, survived the ordeal and was in fair condition at a hospital today.

Her husband, air line pilot Walter Davidson, said he was steering the motorboat under the causeway across Biscayne Bay Saturday night when it struck the piling in the darkness.

The impact broke Mrs. Davidson's legs and impaled the boat. Davidson said he fired several flares without effect. He said he held his wife in his arms most of the night and that she never lost consciousness.

Miss St. John Made Science Editor At Snead College

Pamela St. John, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. St. John, has been selected to edit the Snead College Science Club newspaper, "Protoplasmic Spurts."

The "Spurts" is published bi-monthly to keep the members posted on events in current scientific developments and other activities of the club.

Writing is nothing new for Miss St. John as she used her journalistic talents for the high school paper in Sanford. She was also active in the Journalism Club, Pep Club, Tri-Hi-Y and on the honor roll.

Since enrolling at Snead in the fall quarter of 1959, Miss St. John has performed with the choir, worked with the annual staff and served the science club as sergeant-at-arms.

Pam hopes to become a high school instructor with a major in English and a minor in journalism. After completing work at Snead, she will enroll at Alabama College, Montevallo.

GREETING MRS. DOYLE CARLTON and her traveling companion, Mrs. Martin Roberts, at the Sanford Women's Club Thursday were Mrs. Douglas Stenstrom and Mrs. Ernest Southward, wives of Carlton supporters. Animated Magazine Program Successful

The Fine Arts Department of the Sanford Women's club presented the annual "Animated Magazine" program to about 100 people at the club house. Attractive arrangements of spring flowers were placed throughout the club and officers of the Fine Arts Department served as hostesses.

Mrs. George Wells, president of the club, extended the official welcome. Mrs. A. W. Woodall, president-elect, introduced the performers and turned the pages of the magazine. Ledr. Jack Langford, of the Sanford Naval Air Station, gave the editorial and spoke about some of the hardships the Americans faced, while they were prisoners of war.

The Deanna School of Dance students presented a charming display of talent and looked like something out of "Alice in Wonderland" with their costumes in various shades of pastels.

Mrs. Arthur W. Lambert read two poems written by Chester L. Beach of DeBary. They were very expertly sketched in a matter of minutes by Mrs. Gretchen Crowell, a local artist.

Appearing in an amusing skit entitled "A Century of Ladies and Novels", was Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. B. B. Crumley, Mrs. C. L. Redding, Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Mrs. Alfred Chiles, Mrs. E. W. Christensen, Mrs. William H. Siemper and Mrs. William Kirk.

The Dick Aiken family presented several musical selections, both vocal and instrumental. The children accompanied him at the piano, sang with him and several played piano solos.

The Wester family also contributed to the musical part of the program. Birger Wester played the violin, his brother, Harry, the piano and accordion and Mrs. Birger Wester accompanied the entire group at the piano. Pete Schirard thrilled the audience with his Viola Harp. He was accompanied by Harry Wester on the piano, then joined the Wester family and the entire group played during the social hour.

Pfeiffer Choir To Present Program At First Methodist Church April 1

The forty-two voice Pfeiffer College Concert Choir will present a program of religious and secular music in a special concert at 7:30 p. m., April 1, at First Methodist Church. The colorful North Carolina college choir is visiting this area on their 1960 spring tour.

The program to be presented here will include both religious and secular music of interest. Critics have given special recognition to the choir for their tonal qualities, diction, phrasing and interpretation.

On the current tour, the group will sing 17 concerts, under the leadership of Glenn Draper, the college's director of choral music. In the summer he is director of music at Lake Junaluska, N. C., Methodist assembly area.

The choir in past years has been given national recognition by major radio networks and by the Voice of America. Its members sang with the Billy Graham program during the Graham crusade in Charlotte, and also during the Jurisdictional Conference of the Methodist Church held in Atlanta, February, 1959.

Accompanist is Miss Martha Dawkins, Rockingham, N. C., a rising senior at the college who is majoring in church music and organ.

The appearance of the choir in this area will be of special interest to Methodist women as the college is supported by the woman's division of the Methodist Board of Missions. It is located at Misenheimer, near Charlotte, N. C., on a 600 acre campus.

A broad program in the liberal arts is offered by the college including majors in music, business, education, fine arts, languages, literature, religion, the natural sciences and social sciences.

Some Baseball Talent Coming

The working agreement which the Sanford baseball organization made with Kansas City for this season appears about to pay off with some talent for the local diamond scene. Manager Robbie Robertson has notified Greyhound President Harold Kastner that Sanford will get to choose players for its roster right after the Class B Sioux City, Iowa, entry fills its roster.

He pointed out that the Sioux City team was fairly well set at the end of last season and said "this means we're almost getting the pick of the camp."

With the excitement furnished by Seminole High School's team this season, a contender for the Florida State League honors would give sports fans here the frosting on their cake.

We hope the Greyhounds' association with Kansas City works out for all concerned, but it's the fan they'd better consider if they expect him to come out to the park. And it takes good ball players to provide excitement for the man who buys the ticket.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Hary mentions a very "hazy" topic in modern education. But it needs to be aimed in public for society demands that teachers and students maintain the highest standards of honesty in their work. And part of every good teacher's job consists of preventing cheating during exams:

CARE E - 414: Hary H., aged 35, is a law student.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I was brought up as an active member of a church.

"And for my last two years in high school, I served as president of our Young People's Society. So it disturbs me a great deal to see the terrific amount of cheating that now goes on during examinations.

"All during college I was aware of it, but now in professional school it has become alarming.

"It is my estimate that nearly half of my fellow students cheat during their final exams.

"And the professors don't take much precautions to stop it. In fact, I have seen some of them actually shake their heads approvingly at some of the cheaters, but do nothing else.

"And it hurts us honest students, for when they grade on the curve, the cheaters who look up the answers right from their books, naturally can make higher grades.

"Thus, they get the 'A' marks and we honorable men may get 'C'.

"During my freshman year, 21 students dropped out because of low grades.

"Yet I personally know that several of those were honest students who knew more law than many of those who cheated steadily to keep from flunking out."

Cheating used to be regarded as a serious crime. A generation ago, at Northwestern University, it was deemed sufficient reason to expel a student.

Now it has gained such respectable status that a lot of professors smile indulgently and a r r g u e "Everybody does it."

And many profs abet such cheating by use of the so-called "honor" system.

They blandly walk out of the room and leave the students alone during exams, relying on their "honor" to maintain honesty.

Well, there is no honor among thieves, and cheaters are thieves!

So the "honor" system is a farce and simply plays into the hands of cheaters, meanwhile penalizing the honorable students.

It is the responsibility of every teacher to prevent cheating and to protect the exams like a hawk.

Seat students in alternate seats. And I also gave my Northwestern University psychology students alternate exams, so they weren't even answering the same questions as their neighbors on the right and left.

A good teacher should not sit at his desk and read a magazine during exams but should keep his eyes roving over the class.

He can detect the slightest abnormal movement of any pupil, even in a room with 250 students.

Good teachers also grade the papers and hand them back so the pupils can profit from their mistakes. Prof's who refuse to hand back graded papers are likely to be lazy or crooked themselves.

For a lot of favoritism occurs in college exams. And this can be "covered up" most neatly by never handing back the graded papers to the members of the class.

So send for the "Tests for a Good Teacher," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c (non-profit). They apply to all teachers, whether in Sunday school, or college and high school.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — It's going to take a quarter-million dollars in tax money to give the starting flock of Capitol Hill a kick in the teeth.

Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Capitol architect George Stewart have drawn up a master plan to wire the Capitol Building with a gismo guaranteed to forever rid the dome of the roosting birds.

This will undoubtedly go down in history as the most expensive shock treatment ever administered by either political party to a flock of chattering birds. The cost of chasing them away is almost as much as the dome itself cost originally.

If those startlings, who flutter here by the millions every dusk, ever thought this was a free country, their hopes are shattered now, for their last resort for appeal, the Supreme Court of the United States, is getting wired, too — at a cost of $35,000.

You can't blame Mr. Sam and the architectural man for taking some extreme measures. Not only has the big repaired Capitol dome fallen victim to the massive dome bombers, but other important domes as well — 50 million hats.

Until the system — 50,000-watt — is installed, Stewart was strung one-inch-mesh mackerel fish netting — several thousand dollars' worth — around the dome and across the roof of the Supreme Court Building.

Somehow, the incongruity of that grey fish bunting over dry land has so mystified the startlings they've temporarily found refuge in the trees. This ingenious idea is, fortunately, a temporary measure until the current painting program is completed.

Then will come the wiring job. It will cost about $60,000 to put an electronic ring around the Senate side of the Capitol, another $60,000 for the House side, and about $120,000 for the dome itself.

Actually, there will not be enough juice in that wire to electrocute the birds — just a half-ampere charge that flicks on every 12 seconds.

The wire will be strung one-half inch off the ledge where the startlings roost. The 12 seconds will give a bird just enough time to settle itself comfortably, then — aw-ww! — the shocker. I'll be more like a quick tickle, Stewart said, enough to send the birds flying off somewhere.

Of course, shooting them off the Capitol building won't solve the problem for the city itself, which has been plagued for decades by the astounding bird population explosion. It'll simply chase the birds to other government buildings.

It's amazing how the surplus startlings have so far escaped coming under control of the Federal government. Ezra Benson could have easily incorporated the birds into some kind of Department of Agriculture soil-bank idea.

On the other hand, I wouldn't be surprised if Congress passed a resolution to appropriate a quarter-million dollars to some committee to investigate why it costs a quarter-million dollars to chase startlings from one building to another.

Mixed Feelings Expressed At Youth Meet; Ike Worried At Delinquency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's young people were described today as pampered, self-indulgent, materialistic, uncommitted, milling about without a sense of direction and lacking in high ideals.

Before the same gathering, the same young people also were described as sincere, intelligent, un-hypocritical, ambitious for achievement and hungry for firm and forthright parental guidance.

These widely varying appraisals of the younger generation emerged from the first round of speeches before the White House conference on children and youth.

Some 7,000 delegates from all parts of the nation are attending the week-long conference, which opened Sunday night with an address by President Eisenhower.

The President lined up squarely with the defenders of modern youth. He acknowledged concerns about juvenile delinquency which "has increased each year for the past 10 years." But he warned against pessimistic generalizations which "attribute to the many the failures of the few."

"I have an unshakable faith in the overwhelming majority of fine, earnest, high-spirited youngsters who comprise this rising generation of Americans," Eisenhower said.

His optimistic view was seconded by one of the nation's foremost social scientists when the conference split up today into five separate and concurrent "theme assemblies."

Dr. Talcott Parsons, professor of sociology at Harvard University, said today's young people are "understandably hesitant and uncertain" about some aspects of life. But on the whole, he added, they are "active, eager and ambitious and are undertaking very great efforts to secure training for worthwhile achievement."

"I would think it very difficult indeed to prove that any previous American generation has had higher ideals," he said.

Dr. Abram L. Sachar, president of Brandeis University, was considerably less sanguine. He said the outstanding characteristics of modern youth are "lack of concern, and lack of commitment to larger issues that exceed purely individual pains and satisfaction."

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

RACINE, Wis.—The slim, boyish figure on the platform talks with the utmost earnestness. The presidency, he says, is the most important office in the world—for peace, for the future of mankind—and he is asking them to vote for him for president.

Sen. John F. Kennedy had flown out from Washington in his private Conair in the late afternoon after being recorded on three important votes in the Senate. Met at the Milwaukee airport he was driven the 20 miles to Racine at a fast clip, talking all the time about the trend in the Wisconsin primary and what may or may not happen April 5. There is just time to wolf down half a sandwich and then he is being ushered onto the narrow stage of the Eagles' hall.

A crowd of perhaps a thousand filling every inch of floor space has been standing for an hour waiting for the star of the evening. They break into wild cheering and then a rousing campaign song. There is an overflow of perhaps 200 in the basement and still others waiting outside to get in.

What he says in his talk of 10 minutes is commonplace enough. But he puts into it a kind of seriousness, an eager intensity, that sets up a current of communion, excitement even, between himself and his audience in this steamy, smoky, overcrowded hall. Call it personal magnetism or whatever, it is the quality essential to the politician or the actor.

Then they file past to get that fleeting, almost shy grin and a few friendly words. This is a typical Kennedy "reception."

Given an initial push by Mrs. Polly Fitzgerald-Kennedy clan at work in Wisconsin, the real organizing effort was largely done by six young Racine women who had never had any experience in politics before. They made up the lists, did the phoning, sent out the invitations and they are delightfully happy at the result.

This kind of rally had little resemblance to the old-fashioned political speechifying. There is something festive in the atmosphere. People are wearing their dress-up clothes as though it were a party, which indeed they feel it is.

Cris-crossing back and forth across the state, Kennedy intends to keep up this pace until the campaign ends. He wants to believe the optimistic reports that come from every side. But he has heard reports of the effective organizing efforts of union leaders for his rival, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, and before he is on the plane again flying to LaCrosse there will be an intensive session with his lieutenants.

The kind of campaign Kennedy is conducting in Wisconsin follows the pattern he set when he first ran for Congress in 1946. It is a campaign of caution and calculation designed to win friends and influence people and to do so without arousing any unnecessary heat on the controversial issues.

The president he set when he first decided to enter politics has been followed here, too. That is to terests of all the people and not just those of one party or one economic and social level. How well he has succeeded is shown in the polls taken not only by his own private poll taker, Louis Harris, but in independent polls in 10 states around the country. They consistently show him far in advance of all other Democratic candidates, with only Adlai Stevenson in most instances running close to him.

While among his managers in this state there is the traditional fear of overconfidence, it is widely believed that the Wisconsin primary will verify this result. In view of these predictions Kennedy must win big if he is to clinch his front-running position and add to the euphoria of success that he and his clever managers are counting upon for the final push. He must get at least two-thirds of the 30 delegates voters and not less than 55 percent of the total popular vote in the primary April 5. Any poorer showing—say an even break with Humphrey—would fail to provide the demonstration of strength counted upon in Wisconsin.

The political identity he has sought to establish is that of a moderate yet forward-looking leader who wants to improve the lot of those at the bottom of the economic pyramid without in consequence harming the position of those at the top. It is fair to say that this is the New Deal line minus the attack on those who, in the ideology of the past, are out to prevent the bottom one-third from getting a larger share of the pie.

Harris and the other opinion specialists are cautioning Kennedy that he must under no circumstances respond to Humphrey's attacks on his record and on him personally as an appealing young man with no real commitment to conviction or political philosophy. Such a response would blur the image of a friendly figure above partisanship and put him on the level of the politician competing for votes in a name-calling contest. But such advice is probably superfluous. In all his earlier campaigns Kennedy has listened to his advisers on one side and on the other and then has gone his own cool, dispassionate way.

What's Wrong With Yanks? Just Everything

Tues. March 29, '60—Page 5 The Sanford Herald
Kennel Club Action Ends Monday

United Press International
What's wrong with the Yankees?
The answer last season seemed to be "everything" and so far this spring it's been pretty much the same. The deposed champions, so confident they would come roaring back this year, have lost 11 of 7 exhibition games and averaged only 2.7 runs a game. They're not hitting, they're not getting solid pitching from key men and they're not playing well in the field. In short, their American League rivals are beginning to think Casey Stengel's "tigers" won't come roaring back at all but will be pretty tame little cats again this year.

Nobody ever lost a pennant in the Grapefruit League standings, of course, but what can you say about "bombers" who have been shut out twice, held to one run four times and held to two runs in two other games?
The Los Angeles Dodgers handed them their third straight defeat Monday when they rocked Bob Turley for eight runs and 10 hits in six innings. Turley, who slumped to 8-11 last season after a 21-7 mark in 1958, has been plugged for 18 runs and 20 hits in 17 innings.

Johnny Podres made it look easy as he yielded six hits, walked none and struck out three in seven innings. Gil Hodges homered and Bob Aspromonte had three singles to lead the Dodgers' 12-hit attack. Podres has allowed only three earned runs in 19 innings this spring.

Ron Kline became the third St. Louis pitcher to go nine innings—Larry Jackson and Wilmer Miller did it Sunday and Monday—as the Cardinals scored their ninth win in 10 games. Kline scattered six hits and walked four. He has yielded one run in 19 innings. Joe Cunningham had three hits and made two out-standing defensive plays in the outfield.

Ray Herbert allowed only three hits in seven innings stretching his scoreless spring string to 18 innings and Marv Throneberry wacked a two-run homer for the Athletics. Throneberry's homer was off Paul Foytack and the Athletics added two runs off Don Mossi on a double by Rocky Bridges, two walks and a sacrifice fly by Al Kaline.
John Bushardt, only 4-5 with a 4.90 earned run average for the Chicago Cubs last season, permitted one run and five singles in seven innings for the Phillies who won in the ninth on a run-scoring single by Bobby Del Greco. Bushardt has permitted two runs in 17 innings this spring. Joe Nuxhall's nine shutout innings for the Cincinnati Reds went to waste when the Orioles pulled out their victory on Walt Dropo's base-filled single in the 10th. Dave Nicholson blooped a single to right that brought in the tying run and left the bases filled.

Action tonight at Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club will furnish the last Tuesday night of pari-mutuel competition until next winter. The current season ends Monday.
Racing will start at 8:10 tonight, with 10 events on tap.
In the Grade-A ninth affair, two old-time favorites are expected to share quinella honors by running first and second.
They are O. B.'s Modest and O. B.'s Scare, products of the Oswald Brothers Kennel which has produced at least 90 winners throughout the season. Both greyhounds were born in 1956 and each has nabbed four triumphs this season at the local track.

O. B.'s Scare is a tall gent who weighs in at 68 pounds. The black greyhound has won four out of nine starts at Sanford-Orlando. He'll have the five-box in the ninth, and the handicapper rates him a 4-to-1 shot.
Other outstanding racers scheduled for feature running are Sihalase, Zephyr Fire, Ed's Money Clip, Poco Lad, Pete O'Leary and Fabulous Fac.
Re-Elect Officers
MIAMI (UPI) — The Hialeah Race Track stockholders re-elected their officers and directors at Monday's annual meeting. Eugene Mori Sr. again will be president with Walter H. Denovan as vice-president, Everett Clay as secretary and Eugene Mori Jr. as treasurer.

Covington Covers Sports

By JERRY COVINGTON

Tonight the Seminoles will be at home for a baseball tilt with Evans of Orlando and the game will be played under the lights at Memorial Stadium. Last week they opened the season in near freezing temperatures and a fine crowd braved the cold to come out and support them. Now that the weather has given us the proper atmosphere for playing the national pastime we are sending out the call for everyone to turn out and support these youngsters. Due to the high cost of playing night baseball it is a must that the local fans give these youngsters their full support so that they may continue to play at night.

There is another baseball tilt coming up this week that also deserves the full support from everyone in Sanford.

Practically everyone knows by now of the terrible auto wreck that has hospitalized Porter Lansing for some time and a drive has gotten underway to help ease the high costs of the many medical bills. For as long as I can remember, Lansing has been one of the finest sportsmen in Sanford and no one is more deserving of support from our sports minded folks.

Saturday night Tacoma of the AAA Pacific coast league and Harlingen of the AA Texas League will face each other in a benefit game for Porter. You have a chance to see two fine ball teams in action as well as performing a great public service.

Admission will be 35 cents for children and 75 cents for adults. The entire proceeds will go to the Lansing fund.

It was certainly a sight to behold the other afternoon as I rode down First Street. As I approached the ball diamonds in Ft. Mellon park it looked like a small army scattered over the fields. More than 200 youngsters were there armed to the teeth with baseball bats, gloves and rubber cleated spikes and they were giving it their all.

This was the try-out session for the Little Major League that will soon get underway. Eight teams will make up the league this year and from the looks of the young hopefuls that tried out they need eight more. There was only room for so many youngsters and there were over 70 that they couldn't find room for.

If you aren't a baseball fan already you might as well plan to become one because the wonderful game has invaded the city for the summer. From here on out you can watch teams in action from the little league right on up to the professional Sanford Greyhounds.

When you see these bright eyed youngsters so excited about making a team you can easily see why baseball is called our national pastime.

Greyhounds Expected To Get Top Choice Of KC Rookie Stars

Sanford Greyhound catcher-manager Robbie Robertson notified club president Harold Kastner this morning that Sanford's team will be selected from the Kansas City Athletic player pool at Pensacola after the class B

Seminole Face Evans Tonight

The Sanford Seminoles will be seeking their first win of the young season here tonight when they go against hard hitting Evans of Orlando. Game time is set at 7:30 p. m. and everyone is urged to come out and support the local club.

The young and inexperienced Seminoles lost their first game of the season last Tuesday night when Colonial of Orlando defeated them by a score of 7-2 and they will be out to even the record tonight.

Righthander Mike Roberts has received the call from Coach Dave Laude to start on the mound for the Seminoles. In the game last week, Roberts came on in relief in the second inning and went three innings giving up one hit and no runs. He displayed good control on the mound and he shows signs of being the number one man on the hill staff this season.

The infield will get a big boost tonight with George Perides back in the lineup at second base. George was injured in the basketball tournaments last month and has been out of practice until last week. He was the regular second baseman as a sophomore last season and his experience in the infield will play a big part in the defense of the Seminoles. Although he isn't a power hitter he has the ability to get on base as he should also bolster the offensive attack.

Hard hitting James Markham will be at first base, Billy Rowles at shortstop, and Terry Christensen at third base, to round out the infield. Johnny Whelchel will be working behind the plate and in the outfield Ray Lundquist will be in left, Alex McKibbin in center, and Mike Carlo in right.

league Sioux City club makes its selections.

"This means," Robertson said, "we're getting almost the pick of the camp because the Sioux City team was pretty well 'set' at the end of the 1959 season. Players soon will be coming down from the Dallas and Shreveport clubs, too, and I'd say our complete roster ought to be ready about April 9. I'm well satisfied," he said.

Robertson spent last week looking over a crop of 28 pitchers and eight catchers, some of them already assigned to the Sanford team. He said "the crop of talent is looking very good this year, much better in fact than at the same time last year, especially the pitching."

Farm club infielders and outfielders reported today, completing the camp roster.

Kansas City's farm club this year are: A. A., Dallas-Fort Worth; A.A., Shreveport (team Sanford is working directly with), Monterey; B., Lewiston and Sioux City; C., Visalia; D., Sanford, Albuquerque.

Farm director Hank Peters announced the signing and assignment of two husky youngsters to Sanford Saturday. They are: Leo James Grah, a 6'8" right-handed 19-year-old pitcher from Chicago, signed by scout Jack Sanford, and weighing 210 pounds; Elwood Jerome Hasland, a 6'2" third-sacker who was 19 Nov. 6, and comes from Sioux Falls, S. D.

Robertson says both boys should "easily make the squad and I predict they'll be stand-outs because of their hustle."

It now appears, according to president Kastner, that the Sanford club likely will arrive here Saturday night April 16. The season opens at Leesburg Tuesday night, April 19, with Sanford's first home game the next night, also with Leesburg, a Baltimore Orioles farm club.

Mather Wins Kegler Loop Crown

The Sanford City Bowling League finished its season in grand style last Wednesday, as the Mather of Sanford team, facing a possible tie for first place, swept all three games from the Burnett Painters to finish the season on top.

Harry's Liquors came in second, after making a close race until the last evening, and the Burnett Painters were in third position. Fourth place was not decided until the last game when Gene's Seminoles Cleaners and Laundry edged out New York Life Insurance by a half game. Colony City Printing took two games from Harry's on the last night, but was too late in starting its move and finished in the tail-end position.

Individual honors were taken by John Uhr with a high average of 173 for the season. Al De Palma rolled a 253-417 series for high game and series, with Garry Fox getting a 597 series. Al and Garry were behind John in average, with Dick Richards in fourth, Buck Ferguson in fifth, and George Kenis in sixth for high averages. The Mather team took the honors in high team game and series with a 913 game and a 2615 series.

The League will meet this Wednesday at the Lake Monroe Inn for a banquet to be followed by an awards presentation and a business meeting.

Jones Licks 'Jinx'; Pastrano Next

NEW YORK (UPI) — Unbeaten, ranked light-heavyweight Doug Jones has licked the No. 13 "jinx" and now his next target is the experienced Willie Pastrano in a televised bout at Miami, Fla., on April 22.

Celtics Favored In NBA Playoffs

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Celtics, modern-super-stars of the National Basketball Association, hope to build an insurmountable lead over the St. Louis Hawks in the second of their best-of-seven series tonight.

The Celtics, champions of the East and heavy favorites to their third playoff title in four years, crushed the hapless Hawks by record-breaking proportion in their Sunday opener and shoot tonight for the second of a possible four-game sweep.

A Boston playoff crown would mark the first time in six seasons that an NBA titlist has defended successfully. And the Celtics were meeting a Western entry from St. Louis that upset the earlier Boston bid for a double crown in 1958.

The strategy of wily Red Auerbach, who has survived more NBA firings than any other coach active in the business, apparently was far too much for the Western Division champs who went down to 148-122 defeat in the opener. Nine scoring records, most of them pinned to Boston's point guard, fell in the opener as four of the Celtics, Tommy Helms, Frank Ramsey, Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy, netted 20 points or better.

Familiarization Bowling Night Slated By Loop

Bowlers from the current City League will be rolling at the new Jet Lane during a special "familiarization" night slated April 6 at 9 p. m.

It was decided during the course of the meeting at Jet Lane that on this night, both the currently active bowlers in the existing city league and those newcomers to the Sanford area would have an opportunity of rolling a few games together prior to the actual start of league play which will be the following Wednesday, April 13.

All persons interested in joining this new league should contact Jet Lane and register.

This "city summer league" will be composed of five member teams made up of the better local bowlers in this area.

Church Plans 'Victory' Fish Fry

Arrangements Chairman of the Elder Springs Baptist Church Bond Drive, W. W. Coleman, announced that the church would celebrate its victory in selling $50,000 in church bonds at a fish fry Friday evening at 8:30 p. m.

The fish fry will be at the Muse Fish Camp on the Wekiva River. The Bond Drive was launched last week to finance the building of a new educational building. The building will make possible the teaching of 400 more in Sunday School, will include four nurseries, a kitchen, and banquet area. All will be air conditioned and heated.

General Chairman, C. F. Westman, said that there were about one-half of the bonds left unsold at the first of this week, but they are going fast. The bonds come in denominations of $250.00, $500.00, and $1,000.00 and pay five percent simple interest.

Special financing arrangements can be made through a local bank for those who want these bonds but have no cash reserve. To reserve the bonds or for additional information, call the church office, FA 2-2022.

The Sanford Atlantic Bank is acting as the Paying Agent and Depositor for the Bond Program. Those who are interested in the Church and the Church's program have a special invitation to come and celebrate this victory with the church family.

Constable Nabs Chicken Thief

Sherlock Holmes has nothing on Constable J. Q. Galloway when it comes to tracking down his man.

A Negro woman called Galloway Sunday night and said that three chickens had been stolen from her W. 18th St. home. Galloway found tracks leading from the chicken enclosure to George Lisenbe's home at 1811 Alexander Ave. Galloway found one chicken on the premises, and that the other two had been sold.

Lisenbe, a Negro who came here from Nashville, Tenn., was charged with the theft.

Educator Raps 'Progressive Education,' Socialism

"Progressive" education and the soft sale of socialism in school textbooks was scored by a former DeLand school teacher here Monday.

Mrs. Helen Witt of DeLand told the Sanford Rotary Club that there are thousands of young Americans from six to 16 who can't spell, read or do simple arithmetic. There are all too many youngsters today who think that what they feel like doing is right, she said.

Basic science courses and mathematics have recently been sidetracked in favor of more "progressive" courses, Mrs. Witt said. She quoted Dean John R. Dunning of the Columbia University School of Engineering who said that in 1955 the number of U. S. engineering students had slipped from 50,000 to 20,000 while the Russians had increased their prospective engineers from 28,000 to 54,000.

Of the 16 missile scientists working under Werner Van Braun, only one is an American, and he is ranked fourteenth.

More than one half of the young persons in the United States think that people can't make decisions for themselves; they think the government should make the decisions, Mrs. Witt said.

Declaring the socialist and communist trends promoted by some American educators, she told of the 29 University of Illinois freshmen who were asked about forms of government by their professor.

"Everyone knows that communism is the ideal form of government. We learned all about that in high school," was the reply from 16 of the 29.

Foremost among the "progressive" educators who are indoctrinating students with the idea of the socialist state are five teachers from Columbia University Teachers' College, Mrs. Witt said. She named Rudd, Counts, Dewey, Kilpatrick, and Tugwell as "the mystic knights of Morningside Heights."

The new "progressive" education tries to indoctrinate students with the idea that a successful America must be planned by the national government, Mrs. Witt explained. The new "progressive" education, instead of concerning itself with imparting facts, turns to political indoctrination of children to bring about a new social order.

"And 'progressive' education doesn't stop with political indoctrination," she added. It teaches that the spiritual concept of man's soul is false, that the idea of morals and true value is false because these values are constantly changing with man's environment. This new philosophy would have other persons do young people's thinking for them, she said.

Mrs. Witt quoted Harold Rudd of Columbia Teachers' College as saying that the American Revolution was simply a brawl between American landlords and the British. Some textbooks teach that the Revolution was actually a brawl and struggle between colonial landlords and poor farmers. Her daughter's history book devotes just one and a half pages to America's struggle for freedom.

There are books now used in United States high schools that stray from the facts. One text leaves the student with the impression that the governments of the United States and of Soviet Russia are quite similar. Another, seeking to put across the idea of a "one-world" government, refers to the Allies in World War II as the United Nations. The United Nations wasn't formed until the war ended in 1946, Mrs. Witt pointed out.

There are books in our schools that make the dictatorial government of Russia look attractive by playing up its power for single-minded purpose and decision. Another doesn't explain American free enterprise, but emphasizes that one third of the people in the United States are underfed. It soft-pedals the fact that two-thirds are well fed, she said.

"Our children are being taught that the responsibilities for the woes of the world rest on the shoulders of the United States," she said. Mrs. Witt pointed to Bradley's "World Geography" saying that it promotes the idea that the United States is selfish and builds up a one-world theory of government.

FAA Studying Problem Of Pilots Taking Tranquilizers Before Flights

WASHINGTON (UPI) - An airplane crash that took 36 lives last fall has raised a whole new set of questions about a modern American standby - tranquilizers.

The accident, involving a Piedmont Airlines DC-3, occurred on a mountain near Charlottesville, Va., on Oct. 30. The pilot, Capt. George Lavigne, of Washington, was among those killed. One passenger survived.

The House Appropriations Committee Monday night released testimony that Lavigne had been consulting two psychiatrists about personal problems, and that he had been taking tranquilizers for at least six weeks before the crash.

There was no evidence, however, that he had taken the pills, or had access to them, the day before the fatal flight.

The testimony was given by Oscar Bakke, former director of the Civil Aeronautics Board's Safety Bureau who is now with the Federal Aviation Agency (FAA).

Bakke said that after eliminating other possible causes of the crash one by one "it is apparent to us... that the weakest link in this particular operation lies in the captain of this aircraft himself."

The FAA, which lays down and administers flight safety rules, said airline pilots are not specifically forbidden to take tranquilizers. But there is a rule against flying while under the influence of drugs - which a spokesman said would "apply even to taking too much aspirin."

The spokesman said the FAA is conducting a study to determine whether special regulations are needed to govern the use of tranquilizing drugs.

Bakke also testified that some

Church Schedules 'Victory' Dinner

The First Methodist Church has made plans to serve 800 members and friends at the Family Night Victory Dinner Wednesday which will mark the last week of the Total Enlistment Program of the church.

Supper will be served from 5:30 to 7 p. m. in the Fellowship Hall. Those who prefer to eat early, and yet be present for the Love Feast, will have time to see the color film, "Family Affair," to be shown in the church while they are waiting.

Highlight of the program will be the celebration of the "Methodist Love Feast," beginning at 7:15 p. m. in the sanctuary with a songfest of old and beloved hymns. Following a meditation by the pastor, the Love Feast will be observed. For many Methodists this will be a new experience. It may be the first time this service has been observed in the local church.

A nursery with competent attendants in charge will be open for pre-school children during the program.

Nixon Pledges Fighting Campaign For Presidency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon pledged himself today to a fighting campaign for the presidency extending beyond the Eisenhower administration's record.

Nixon's statement of his intentions, long awaited by many Republicans who feel he cannot rest on the Eisenhower program alone, carried a specific promise of his own new farm program.

The vice president made his presentation in the heart of the Midwestern farm belt in a speech Monday night at the Nebraska Founder's Day celebration in Lincoln, a traditional GOP event.

His remarks drew praise from GOP senators in Washington. Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.), top GOP member of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said Nixon had served notice he wouldn't be bound by the farm program of Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson.

Nixon, unopposed for the Republican nomination, predicted that the 1960 presidential campaign would be "one of the closest and hardest fought . . . in America's political history."

York Wins Fight For Benefits

PALL MALL, Tenn. (UPI) — Alvin C. York, the tall mountain man whose deadly aim with a Springfield rifle made him the nation's top hero of World War I, will get a $22 monthly Social Security payment as long as he lives.

The Social Security office in Knoxville announced Monday that York — now 72 years old, broke and semi-invalid — will receive the money monthly for the rest of his life.

For 10 years ex-Sgt. York has been fighting a government claim that he owes $85,442 in income taxes from an estimated $152,000 he received for rights to the motion picture "Sergeant York." The red-haired old soldier has been stricken with a variety of ills for almost 20 years, and he insists all the money went for medical bills.

African 'Unrest' Grows; Strong Measures Called

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — A state of emergency was declared in virtually all of the Union of South Africa Tuesday, the government announced today.

Police, acting under the proclamation, rounded up at least 100 anti-government leaders, including some white men. Leaders of the African National Congress and opposition political groups were seized.

The proclamation empowers the government to rule virtually by decree with the right of arrest and detention of persons for periods of up to 90 days.

The announcement said the state of emergency was declared in 80 of the 100 magisterial districts in South Africa, torn by racial violence. The districts comprise virtually all of South Africa with the exception of tribal and mine rural districts.

Indications were that some branches of the administration had not been advised.

A spokesman at the Justice Ministry, asked about the authority for the arrests, said only that South African law empowers authorities to act under emergency regulations four days before they formally take effect.

Supreme Court Justice Joseph Ludorf placed a priority phone call to Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd's office in an effort to find out whether an emergency had been proclaimed.

Primary Race Becoming Hectic

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Sen. John Kennedy and Hubert H. Humphrey entered the last hectic week of Wisconsin primary campaigning today.

The strain was beginning to show on the Massachusetts Democrat, who brushed angrily Tuesday night when a reporter asked him what he would do if the Catholic Church forbade him to meet Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

"Of course I would meet Khrushchev," the weary Kennedy, a Catholic, retorted.

Kennedy, who has led a well-oiled campaign troupe on a continuous whirlwind tour of Wisconsin, drew more fire from Humphrey, who referred to Kennedy's wealth by observing that politics may become a "plaything of the rich."

Humphrey, a self-professed "poor man's candidate," lashed out at Kennedy's Senate voting record on taxation.

The Minnesota indicated Kennedy's record fell short because he failed to vote with Democrats in 1964 to reduce tax relief for upper income brackets, and in 1959 opposed higher tax exemptions and a cut in the depletion allowance on oil reserves.

Pick-Up Station Dedication Slated

Dedication ceremonies will be held at 10 a. m. Friday for a new courtesy pick-up station at the entrance to the Sanford Naval Air Station on Onora Road, Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider said today.

Krider said that the station was constructed under the sponsorship of the Chamber to aid Navy men to get a lift into Sanford.

Navy, county and city officials will participate in the ceremonies Friday, Krider added.

Havana Franchise Move Denied By Baseball Men Here

A small twister struck near DeFuniak Springs today, destroying a church and damaging several other buildings.

Sheriff's Deputy Jerry Alford said no one was injured when the twister dipped down into the small community of New Harmony, some 14 miles northwest of DeFuniak Springs, about 3 a. m.

The small twister occurred during a period when a line of thunder storms moved across the Florida panhandle. The Weather Bureau had forecast the possibility of tornadoes and high winds.

One tornado damaged two barns near Cleveland, Miss. Another damaged three houses and destroyed valuable timber on the outskirts of Peterman, Ala. A third tornado was reported near Tupelo, Miss., but apparently did not touch the ground.

A severe windstorm struck the Middle Georgia town of Manchester, near the Little White House at Warm Springs, Ga. The storm felled trees and power lines and damaged the roofs of homes. There were no injuries.

Winds up to 80 miles an hour ripped a house from its foundation at Elba, Ala. Heavy rains and rising creeks forced the closing of U.S. 27 between Columbus and LaGrange, Ga. Wind and hail stones damaged trees at Paris and Huntingdon, Tenn.

The storm winds were triggered in a line of severe thunderstorms that swept from Pine Bluff, Ark., into Middle Tennessee. Weathermen said the storm moved across Tennessee at a 40-mile-an-hour clip.

Rains were heavy throughout the entire storm area. Evergreen, Ala., reported 3 1/4 inches of rain. Line Hill, Ala., recorded more than four inches in a three-hour cloudburst.

MIAMI (UPI)—Five bug-bitten, weary Americans, freed by Cuban officials Tuesday after four days of close questioning, related here today.

They were taken into custody early last Sunday after their yacht ran aground on the western tip of Cuba because of engine failure.

The group, headed by John Steele, 60, of La Puente, Calif., arrived at Miami International Airport Tuesday night, haggard and hungry and carrying their few belongings in cardboard boxes.

The $50,000 yacht, the Bob-Kat III, lay on a reef off Cape Francis, Cuba, a derelict. It was owned by John Park of Torrance, Calif. The Steele group was delivering it to him from Fort Lauderdale.

The question, however, by militia near who, derided and headlined as army intelligence headquarters in Havana. The Cubans wanted to know why a rifle and a pistol were on the boat.

"I told them we carried them for protection, what else?" said Steele. "I also told them we have a constitution in America and Americans have a right to bear arms."

The Casselberry Fire Dept. will meet in the town fire station at 7:30 p. m. today.

Drainage Pipes Near Completion In Loch Arbor

Two road and drainage improvement programs costing nearly $100,000 are expected to be completed by the end of next week, County Engineer Robert Davis said today.

Davis said that 240 feet of pipe has been laid in the Loch Arbor area as part of a $50,000 drainage program that, when completed, will eliminate flooding there.

The building of trenches to hold the pipes from Lake Drive south were completed late last week and the pipes laid Monday and Tuesday.

Loch Arbor was one of the hardest hit areas during the abnormal rains the week of March 14.

Commissioner from that district Homer Little, reported during that time water was up near many homes and the area was "one big puddle of water."

Davis reported also that county work crews hope to finish paving the four-mile longwood-Lake Mary Road at a cost of over $30,000.

The work was started two months ago, but heavy rains and bad weather have held up the paving, Davis pointed out.

Battered Rights Bill Goes To Senate

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate liberals began an uphill fight today to patch some gaping holes inflicted by the Senate Judiciary Committee in the House-approved civil rights bill.

The committee, after two days of closed-door deliberation topped off by a marathon seven-hour session, voted Tuesday night to send the severely battered bill to the Senate with no recommendation on what should be done with it.

Before returning the bill to comply with the Senate's orders, the committee changed — and in most cases weakened — every major part of the House measure.

The Senate was scheduled to begin debate on the bill today but the measure's ultimate fate apparently will have to be worked out in a House-Senate conference committee.

An effective combination of the committee's five Southern Democrats and varying Republican members remained in command throughout the judiciary group's voting.

The 15-member committee considered a total of 32 amendments. Fifteen were accepted and 17 rejected. Most of them were relatively minor.

Fire Destroys Citrus Plant

WAUCHULA (UPI) — Firemen wet down the rubble today of two buildings of a citrus pulp processing plant destroyed in a $100,000 fire Tuesday night.

Police said John Klepp, 45, beat his wife and a 13-year-old daughter, then sprayed gasoline on his wife, himself and the house and started the fires. The house burned to the ground.

Five other children escaped without injury. Sheriff Charles Lowry said Mrs. Marjorie Klepp, 32, told him she had been ill and was in bed under sedation when her husband came home, found the dishes unwashed and flew into a rage.

'Unfit' Population Limit Is Favored

County Health Director Clyde Brothers explained the world controversy over "population explosion" Tuesday and said he favors limiting of population among the unfit and poverty stricken.

Dr. Brothers told the Lions Club at their noon luncheon "the way the world's population is growing we must limit it some way or starve to death."

"This is my opinion and not the opinion of my superiors," Brothers emphasized in saying that in the future population control will be a necessity.

He said that "this problem will increase in generations to come and something must be done about it."

Brothers also outlined plans for the health center now being constructed at Ninth St. and French Ave.

He said that at the present time there is not enough of a staff to do justice to the health center, "but we hope to add a nurse by the fall and other personnel as soon as the budget allows it."

Brothers said the health unit will concentrate on full development of a well-rounded education program regarding health, especially for schools.

He said he would like to see physical exams given to all pre-school children and hopes to work with the school system in the area to have them made.

Brothers said he hopes to do more work in the field of eye and ear tests for youngsters and complimented the Lions for their right conservation program.

He pointed out that the biggest job his office will have is to educate the public to make sure polio shots are given to all youngsters.

"We have failed to educate the public to the necessity for proper medical care and sanitation," he added.

Red Cross Hears Disaster Report

Directors of the Seminole County Chapter of the Red Cross Tuesday heard a report by Chairman Col. J. O. Gregory on the recent meeting in Tampa to study methods on combating flood conditions during abnormal rain spells.

Gregory, along with other county officials attended the meeting last Saturday after this county was put in a disaster area status.

Gregory told the directors that although the county was included in the disaster category, the Sheriff's office and other local agencies had only one call for assistance within their jurisdiction.

Gregory also told the group that Lake Monroe is very high and that an "ill wind" could put the county in the same spot it was in during 1953 when the water and the water hyacinths overflowed the banks and came up to the steps of the courthouse.

Septic Tank Cleanup Starts

Casselberry residents who have defective septic systems have started cleaning up and repairing their tanks, Mayor W. M. Benson said today.

Several owners of faulty tanks have switched to sewage systems, the mayor said.

Fifteen septic tanks in Casselberry have been declared defective. There are 15 others which the mayor has called "inadequate sewage disposal systems."

He said the chief trouble with the faulty tanks are that they are too small or have no bottoms.

U. S. Opens Probe Into Propaganda Plot By Castro

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department has begun an investigation based on an FBI report to be an American plot's admission that he flew to Cuba to carry out a Castro propaganda plot.

Department spokesman Francis W. Tuohy Jr. said an affidavit from William J. Shergales, 35, of two right-armed male male flying the flight, was in the hands of U. S. officials in Havana.

Tuohy declined to discuss the content, saying only that "the U. S. government is investigating all phases of the matter and will have no comment until that investigation is completed."

William Cooper, a reporter for the Scripps-Howard newspapers, said in a Washington dispatch that Shergales admitted the flight "was planned by Castro agents, presumably to provide anti-U.S. propaganda."

Shergales, of North Hollywood, Fla., and Howard L. Rundquist, 35, of Miami, were arrested after their Piper Comanche crash-landed in Cuba March 21. Cuban military officials said the two men were attempting to pick up a Castro foe and fly him to the United States.

Man Executed In Murder Over Greased Shovel Row

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah (UPI)—James W. Rodgers died before a firing squad at dawn today for the murder of a man who supposedly didn't like the way Rodgers greased his power shovel.

Rodgers, 49, protested until his last second that he was innocent of the 1957 shooting of Charles Merrifield, 33, a scoop shovel operator at the Rattlesnake uranium mine in southern Utah.

The open air execution was conducted about one mile northwest of the main buildings at Utah's Point of the Mountain prison. Five riflemen fired from behind a canvas screen about 25 feet from the old oaken chair to which Rodgers was strapped.

Rodgers lashed against the straps as the four bullets—one of the rifles contained a blank—struck his body, he gave a few gasps and was still.

Sheriff Seth Wright of San Juan County directed the execution. His signal for firing was the wave of a handkerchief. The four bullets made a close pattern on a small white target pinned to the front of Rodgers' blue shirt.

Asked by the sheriff if he had any last words, Rodgers replied, "No. No. That's all there is to it. Only I'm not guilty."

When the sheriff approached with a black hood that was slipped over his head, Rodgers smiled and asked, "What you got there?" Wright replied, "Same thing to keep you warm."

"Don't worry," Rodgers countered, "I'll be where it's warm pretty quick."
