GOP banking on Brantley

Suddenly it's a one-man race in the Republican primary for the state agriculture commissioner's job.

Rep. Frank Messersmith dropped out of the hunt Wednesday, leaving the GOP fortunes in the hands of Lt. Gov. Bobby Brantley.

Agriculture secretary Doyle Conner announced two weeks ago that he would be leaving at the end of his present term.

Lake Mary budget aired tonight

LAKE MARY — A public hearing for the first reading of the 1990 budget and millage rate is set for 7 p.m. tonight at the commission meeting.

City Manager John Litton is recommending an increase in the property taxes in order to fund a paid fire department with nine firefighters proposed for Jan. 1, 1990.

Litton will recommend tonight a millage rate of 4.3772 from the existing 3.889. In July, the commission adopted a tentative millage rate of $4.65 per $1,000 of assessed property value.

"What they have done is set aside money to fund a full-time fire department and added it to the current millage of 3.889," Litton said this morning.

The proposed budget for 1989-90 is $8,268,000, including the general fund, proprietary, special revenue and debt service funds, according to Finance Director Nancy Teeter.

Navy: Iowa blast intentional

WASHINGTON — The Navy has concluded the explosion aboard the USS Iowa that killed 47 sailors probably was set off intentionally by gunner's mate Clayton Hartwig, who died in the blast. It was reported.

The Navy scheduled a news conference at the Pentagon Thursday to release the findings of its lengthy investigation into the April 19 explosion aboard the World War II vintage battleship.

CBS News said the report "concludes that the most probable cause is that gunner's mate Clayton Hartwig, one of those who died in the blast, set it off deliberately — what the Navy calls 'intentional human intervention.'"

City may get money back

County says it will offer Sanford control of housing programs

By J. MARK BARFIELD
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — Seminole County commissioners might return $170,000 to Sanford for its housing rehabilitation program and offer city commissioners the opportunity to administer housing programs throughout the county.

"I'm delighted to hear that," said Sanford City Manager Frank Faison. He reserved further comment until he confirmed the county's actions.

County commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday to reconsider their previous decision to shift $170,000 in community development block grant (CDBG) money, originally slotted for a Sanford drainage project, to complete the paving of two Winwood Park streets near Altamonte Springs.

The $170,000 was given June 28, 1988 by the county to Sanford to continue the drainage project in the city's Mill Creek drainage basin. The city subsequently found the project would be more costly and federal minority requirements too extensive to continue the project.

On July 25, 1988, Sanford commissioners decided to stop seeking the county CDBG money, which is a program financed by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. City commissioners thought they would be able to receive more money from the federal Small Cities CDBG program, but have not received a grant yet. City officials have decided to seek county CDBG money next year.

Although the city asked the county to give the $170,000 to the city's housing rehabilitation program last month, on July 25 — exactly a year after city commissioners decided to stop seeking county CDBG funds — county commissioners decided to use the $170,000 to pave the final two streets in the five-street Winwood Park paving and draining project begun in 1986.

Commissioners, voting 4-1, said they wanted to use the money to complete a neighborhood community development project in the county. Seminole County commissioner Jennifer Kelley opposed the action, saying the money should remain in Sanford.

Hospital gets new director

By BRAD CHURCH
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The administrator of an Okeechobee hospital will become the administrator of Central Florida Regional Hospital Oct. 1, the day present administrator James Tesar is transferred to a new position.

Roy C. Vinson has been administrator of the 101-bed HCA Raulerson Hospital in Okeechobee for the past four years. He has been with Hospital Corporation of America, the parent company of both Raulerson and CFH, for 16 years.

Vinson was named to the position by HCA, which has transferred Tesar to its division headquarters in Tallahassee, where he will be in charge of special projects for the company's 19 hospitals in Florida.

Vinson grew up in Winter Garden and said he is delighted to be moving back to Central Florida. He received his Bachelor's degree from the University of Florida and holds a master's degree in hospital services management from Golden Gate University.

Vinson and his wife, Diane, have three children: a daughter who is a student at the University of South Florida, a son who is a sophomore in high school, and one in the fourth grade.

Vinson said his family will be moving to the Sanford area as soon as their present home in Okeechobee can be sold and another one found here.

The new CFH administrator now serves on the board of United Way in Okeechobee, is president of the Kiwanis Club, a past board member of the Rotary club, and is one the LONGWOOD — A local resident has a claim on $153,912 in cash, an official from the Florida Lottery office in Tallahassee said today.

Lottery officials said the Longwood winner, one of nine grand prize winners in Tuesday's Fantasy 5 drawings, has not come forward to claim the cash prize.

Three of the winning tickets were sold in Miami and the others were sold in Winter Park, Sarasota, Fort Lauderdale, Pompano Beach and Delray Beach.

Another 1,790 Fantasy 5 players matched four of five numbers for a prize of $223.50 each. A $4 cash prize will go to each of the 53,277 players who matched three of five numbers.

The winning numbers were 1, 2, 9, 23 and 29.

Three seek re-election in Lake Mary

By SANDRA BOUCHANINE
Herald staff writer

LAKE MARY — Three city commissioners have filed for re-election in the Nov. 7 election, and Commissioner Bill Greene will run against George Duryea for seat 3.

Greene won the election last year over Kenneth King for a one-year term on seat 1 which was vacated by Randall C. Morris when he decided to run against Dick Fess for the mayoral seat, a race which Morris lost by only 37 votes.

As a result of a charter amendment voted for in the last election, seat 1 will be eliminated in December, paring it down to four commissioners and giving the mayor voting privileges. Both Greene and Duryea filed for seat 3 on the first day of qualification which began Tuesday at noon.

Greene opened a campaign fund listing himself as the treasurer. According to the file, he reported Smith.

Kirby to head newly created cultural affairs department

By LAURA L. SULLIVAN
Herald staff writer

SANFORD — The city manager has announced his selection to head the new cultural affairs department created when the city commission split the current recreation department.

Mike Kirby, who had served as special events supervisor for more than seven years, was selected as Cultural Affairs Department Director last week.

"I am excited. We have the potential to grow now," Kirby said.

The commission voted July 10 to split the current parks and recreation department on the recommendation of City Manager Frank Faison. The move to divide the two sections came after a city task force criticized the management of the recreation department.

Sue Richards, who served as recreation task force chairperson, said the split will help improve many of the problems his group targeted. The task force had complained of a lack of enthusiasm among recreation staff, too specialized job descriptions for staff, poor management of baseball leagues and a lack of program offerings.

NEWS FROM THE REGION AND ACROSS THE STATE

Traffic dispute ends in gunplay

FORT LAUDERDALE — A motorist opened fire in a traffic dispute on Interstate 95, firing six bullets into another car but missed the driver.

Lytel Gayle said he figured that flashing his headlights instead of making an obscene gesture was the polite, nonconfrontational response to a driver who had cut him off on I-95 near Broward Boulevard Wednesday afternoon.

The other driver, however, returned the gesture by emptying his pistol into the passenger side of Gayle's Nissan Maxima sedan. Gayle was unharmed.

The Florida Highway Patrol was still searching for the other motorist, who drove a late-model brown Cadillac.

Officers see suspect on way to seminar

PLANTATION — Two police officers on their way to a seminar on armed robbery investigations spotted a man walking down the street with money bulging out of the pockets of his shorts.

Detective Larry Massey turned to Officer William Martin and said, "If I were on road patrol, that would be someone I would pull over."

Then a call came over the radio alerting the officers to a $2,000 armed robbery that had occurred 10 minutes earlier Wednesday at an NCNB bank branch a half-mile away.

The officers stopped the pedestrian, Brendan Vincent Masterson, 19, and drove him to the bank, where the teller identified him as the robber. In addition to the money, Masterson carried three handwritten notes that said, "Freeze, I have a bomb. Give me all your cash," a police spokesman said.

Masterson was charged with armed robbery, and is a suspect in several other bank robberies, police said.

Flap over hotel name ends

MIAMI BEACH — Faced with a private plea from developer Stephen Muss and a petition drive from irate residents, Miami Beach commissioners unanimously voted to strip Muss's name from the city's convention center.

The exhibition hall's name was restored to the "Miami Beach Convention Center."

In March 1988, without public notice, commissioners voted to rename the convention center after Muss. The developer owns the Fontainebleau Hilton hotel and had contributed to all the incumbent commissioners' political campaigns. Commissioners said Muss deserved the honor because he had lobbied the state for a local tax to fund expansion of the center.

Some beach residents balked, and opponents gathered 6,500 signatures on a petition to change the name back. They presented the petitions Wednesday, but Mayor Alex Daoud said Muss had contacted him and asked that his name be removed in order to settle the controversy.

Safety group decries unguarded blades

ORLANDO — A national product-safety organization commended Walt Disney World for water safety Wednesday, but condemned recreational boat motor makers for not protecting people from propeller blade injuries.

The Institute for Injury Reduction, a Dunkirk, Md., group founded by trial attorneys, has been urging the boat industry to provide "propguard" protective devices and the U.S. Coast Guard to adopt regulations requiring the devices.

Institute President Benjamin Kelley alleged motor makers have not equipped their products with blade protectors because such a device also would protect the blades from underwater debris, shallows and rocks.

Suspended mayor wins re-election

PALMETTO — Mayor Donald R. Olmstead, suspended from office by the governor two weeks ago after he was charged with felony misconduct, has been re-elected to office.

Olmstead, 41, is scheduled to be arraigned Sept. 22 on charges of official misconduct and falsifying public records, allegedly altering the minutes of a city hall meeting to benefit a real estate venture he is involved with.

The insurance and real estate salesman has denied the allegations and said he was the victim of a political plot.

His supporters have tied yellow ribbons around trees in their yards in support of his claims that he is being held political hostage, and Tuesday he captured 52 percent of the vote to defeat former mayor W.D. Bell by 66 votes of out the 1,554 cast.

GOP field clears for Brantley

Messersmith drops out of race for agriculture secretary job

TALLAHASSEE — Rep. Frank Messersmith dropped out of the Republican primary for state agriculture commissioner Wednesday, leaving the field to Lt. Gov. Bobby Brantley in a gesture of party unity.

Messersmith said he was having trouble raising enough money for a statewide campaign and decided to concentrate on seeking re-election to the state House. He also was recently named president of the American Legislative Exchange Council, a bi-partisan organization of state legislators.

Party leaders had made it known they wanted to avoid the sort of bloody primary battle that has weakened Democrats in general elections in recent years.

Messersmith insisted he felt no overt pressure to withdraw. He did say he encountered considerable pro-Brantley sentiment as he traveled the state seeking political and financial support.

"Everywhere I went I felt like I was walking in the Republican shadow of the Brantleys," Messersmith said. "You can only do that for so long and you get an understanding of what's going to happen."

Gov. Bob Martinez and state GOP Chairman Van Poole were on hand to praise Messersmith's decision. Other state Republican leaders sent congratulatory letters.

"He's our strongest candidate and can win," Poole said of Brantley. "There's nothing to prevent people from running, but anybody even thinking about getting in right now would be swimming upstream."

Messersmith has represented Lake Worth since 1980 and has extensive experience in agriculture. But he has raised only $7,200 toward the Cabinet bid, compared to more than $210,000 for Brantley.

He told reporters Brantley's administrative skills would make up for his lack of expertise in agriculture. While lieutenant governor, Brantley has served as state commerce secretary and overseer creation of the Lottery Department.

Doyle Conner, the veteran Democratic agriculture commissioner, has announced plans to retire at the end of his current term. Senate President Bob Crawford has opened a campaign account and is expected to become the leading Democratic contender for the job.

Feds note lack of new drugs

MIAMI — Federal officials on the front line of south Florida's drug war praised President Bush's national drug plan Wednesday and said a crackdown in Colombia had choked off the supply of narcotics reaching U.S. shores.

William A. Gavin, special agent in charge of the FBI in Miami, also warned that the violence now rocking Colombia could spread to south Florida.

"It is possible, I'm not saying it's probable," Gavin said.

Patrick O'Brien, special agent in charge of the U.S. Customs Service in Miami, said the flow of drugs into south Florida had dropped by 90 percent since the Colombian crackdown on narcotics trafficking began last month.

"It is clearly a drop off, and it clearly correlates to what is happening in Colombia," O'Brien said. "Everything has just come to a standstill."

O'Brien and other federal agents praised Bush's comprehensive plan, which the president announced Tuesday evening in a nationwide television address.

"I'm very pleased with it. What I like about it is it's balanced," he said.

The plan calls for increased spending for law enforcement, prison construction, education and treatment.

O'Brien also praised the plan for coordinating the efforts of several federal agencies, and he said he hoped that approach filtered down.

Coast Guard rescues 26 in four days

MIAMI — Coast Guard crews rescued Wednesday eight Cubans floating on two rafts about 36 miles southeast of Miami, bringing to 26 the number of Cubans rescued in the last four days.

Petty Officer Veronica Cady said seven men found on one raft and one found on a second would be brought to the Miami Beach Coast Guard station. All were reported to be in "good condition."

Immigration and Naturalization Service officials will interview the refugees and likely transfer them to a detention center in Miami, she said. Immigration officials often grant asylum to Cubans who make the journey, which is 90 miles at the shortest point.

On Tuesday night, Coast

Guard officials rescued three Cuban men and one woman floating on an inner-tube raft just south of Cape Florida, and found another dead, Petty Officer Steve Sapp said. Officials also were looking for two Cubans who drifted away from the others on inner tubes.

The survivors, all healthy but tired, were taken to a detention center.

New court exercise facilities raise eyebrows

TALLAHASSEE — Florida's chief justice spent $3,161 on exercise equipment so the seven Supreme Court justices could pump iron in the court basement, but the state's chief financial officer is the one working up a sweat.

On June 27, three days before state officials must return unspent money to the treasury, Chief Justice Raymond Ehrlich used a court discretionary fund to buy a $570 treadmill, a $190 exercise cycle, a $120 rowing machine, a $60 punching bag, a $1,300 gym set, along with weight benches and dumbbells.

In a Sept. 1 letter, Comptroller Gerald Lewis asked legislative leaders to review the way the $5,000 discretionary fund can be used. Lewis said he "reluctantly" paid the tab for the equipment because current laws allow use of the fund for "virtually anything and everything."

"With both state dollars and office space in the Capitol complex at such a premium, I question whether the cost of the exercise equipment and space reserved for its use represent a prudent use of what clearly are limited state resources," Lewis wrote.

He also asked why court employees should be treated differently from other state workers who must pay membership fees at gyms and health clubs to exercise.

"This is not uncommon," Ehrlich said. "If you go to the Supreme Court of the United States, you'll find a hell of a good facility. The Congress has fancy facilities with a masseur and what not. Ours is just a little jack leg (makeshift) facility. It never occurred to me it would be an issue."

Elderly woman reports kidnap, robbery

SANFORD — City police are investigating the robbery-abduction of an 83-year-old Sanford woman who said she was forced from her East Second Street house by an intruder at about 2:30 a.m. Wednesday.

The woman said the robber woke her and took her in her car to an unknown location where he stole three rings from her. He had already taken $100 from her purse.

During the abduction, the woman said, she was hit in the mouth and for a time locked inside the trunk of her car. The robber eventually gave her the keys to her car, after demanding her automatic bank teller card. Police said she drove home and called police.

Man arrested after alleged kicking

WINTER SPRINGS — Winter Spring police report charging William Cinacimeno, 19, of 186 Lori Ann Lane, Winter Springs, with aggravated battery. They allege he kicked Danielle Hoffman, 23, of 172 Lori Ann Lane, while Hoffman was down on a lawn at 170 Lori Ann Lane.

Hoffman was transported to South Seminole Community Hospital, Longwood, for treatment to his arm and abdomen, police said.

Cinacimeno was arrested at 2:15 a.m. Wednesday, following the attack. Bond is $4,000. Police report Cinacimeno also fought them when being arrested. Charges of battery on a policeman and resisting arrest were added.

Arrest made in Lil' Champ robbery

SANFORD — Theodore Dellafield, 20, of 41 Lake Monroe Terrace, was charged by Sanford police with armed robbery in connection with a Sunday night robbery of the Lil' Champ, 301 S. French Ave.

The arrest was made at the police station at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday. Bond is $7,000.

Jailed woman accused of theft

SANFORD — A woman accused of stealing and pawning items from her former roommate's rural Apopka house was arrested at the Seminole County jail at 12:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Maria Joan Rivet, 32, a jail inmate, is charged with grand theft and dealing in stolen property. Seminole County sheriff's deputies allege she pawned the stolen items including photo equipment and a microwave oven at pawnshops in Seminole and Orange counties. A fingerprint on a pawnshop ticket helped close the case, deputies said.

Robber demands cash, check

WINTER PARK — Lawrence Peters, 5129 Lake Howell Road, rural Winter Park, gave Seminole County sheriff's deputies the name of a man he said robbed him of $75 and demanded he write a $2,500 check.

Peters said the suspect bound him with an extension cord before leaving his house with the cash and check at about 5 a.m. Wednesday.

Man arrested on a DUI charge

SANFORD — The following person faces a charge of driving under the influence in Seminole County:

- Anthony Vincent Bradshaw, 35, 144 Academy Ave., Sanford, was arrested at 3:10 a.m. Wednesday after his car crossed the centerline of County Road 46-A, Lake Mary. He is also charged with resisting arrest without violence, driving with a suspended license and careless driving.

Stepping up to danger

A Seminole County firefighter uses his arm to push a duct pipe away from him as a fire burns at Orlando Chair Company, 212 Hickman Dr. in the I-4 Industrial Park, yesterday afternoon. Smoke was contained to overhead ducts used to vacuum dust from the work area. A fire department spokesperson said the fire started from friction created by a sanding machine.

Bob Allen, executive director of the Space Coast Development Commission in Titusville, will be the guest speaker.

Rich United Corporation will be honored as Sanford Industry of the Year. The luncheon will be part of Industry Appreciation Week.

Tickets for either event may be purchased for $10 at the 400 E. First St. chamber office. For more information, call the chamber at 322-2212.

Corrections

- Due to incorrect information received, the Herald reported Wednesday that James Teasar, administrator of Central Florida Regional Hospital, is being transferred to the Hospital Corporation of America division office in Jacksonville. The company's division office is in Tallahassee.

- The amount of money stolen in a Sunday night robbery of Cumberland Farms, 217 S. Park Ave., Sanford, was less than $50, not $500 as reported Tuesday's paper, according to a store spokesman.

Stop beach erosion, state official urges

PALM BEACH — Additional taxes and other measures need to be taken to stop beach erosion in Florida, which has seriously affected about 217 miles of prime waterfront land, Secretary of State Jim Smith said Wednesday.

In an address before the annual meeting of the Florida Shore and Beach Preservation Association at the posh Breakers Hotel, Smith said about 25 percent of the 795 miles of Florida beaches have succumbed to erosion and there is no plan in force to reclaim them.

"Beaches are to Florida what the Alps are to Switzerland," he said. "Since beaches are the primary draw for out-of-state visitors, we might ask ourselves if we're ready for 25 percent fewer tourists."

Ways to rectify the funding problem include a 1 percent increase in the hotel tax collected by coastal counties.

Out of control

How many congressmen does it take to screw in a light bulb? The number has yet to be agreed upon by the congressional committees with jurisdiction over incandescent lighting.

This joke, currently making the rounds on Capitol Hill, is told only half in jest. Congress is so busy micromanaging every federal program and agency that it is remarkable the government functions at all.

The rampant proliferation of congressional panels and their burgeoning staffs is central to the problem.

There are now 20,000 congressional staffers, a three-fold increase over 15 years ago. Congress has no fewer than 150 subcommittees with staffs who justify their existence by holding hearings and writing reports that solve few problems but hamper the day-to-day management of government.

The Department of Defense, for instance, is overseen by 107 congressional committees and subcommittees. According to Defense Secretary Richard Cheney, the Pentagon receives each working day 450 written inquiries and more than 2,500 telephone calls from Capitol Hill.

On an average day, the department submits an average of three reports mandated by Congress. Each one consumes more than 1,000 man-hours and costs an estimated $50,000 to prepare. Meanwhile, senior defense officials spend almost an entire work week preparing for the 14 hours of congressional testimony they provide each day when Congress is in session.

Despite this excessive congressional scrutiny — and sometimes because of it — the Pentagon is plagued by chronic management deficiencies.

There are also 84 committees and subcommittees that oversee the Department of Housing and Urban Development. One wonders what they were doing while "Silent Sam" Pierce and several of his top aides were allowing influence peddlers and politically connected grant applicants to plunder the federal treasury. This glaring oversight failure, coupled with the savings and loan fiasco, should prompt Congress to ponder its micromanagement myopia.

Other examples of congressional interference abound. One obscure clause in an appropriations bill for the Interior Department would prevent department employees from keeping count of information requests from Capitol Hill. Under this Orwellian provision, Interior staffers would be barred from keeping their bosses informed about the extent of congressional demands for documents and other information.

During the mid-1970s, there was much talk on Capitol Hill about curbing the imperial presidency. Today the real problem is the legislative branch's inexorable expansion of its authority and prerogatives.

And now, here's to a new year

New Year's Day doesn't mark the beginning of the new year. Labor Day does. People come back from the beach, or from the mountains, or to their senses, and start afresh.

It's foolish to have new year's predictions around New Year's Day. We need predictions for the new year just after Labor Day. So we will get them, now, here.

All the silly ways to make predictions will be used in the present exercise, indiscriminately. False prediction methodologies include a) the future will resemble the past, b) straight-line extrapolation, c) new machines that are coming, and d) watching key personalities.

Using such methods explains why we still use the horse and buggy, why we ran completely out of oil, why we commute to work in strap-on helicopters, and why in 1979 everyone knew that Reagan and Gorbachev would be the big players of the 1980s.

Here's what will happen:
● On Labor Day 1990, President Bush will be prudently negotiating to get our hostages back.

● After one more un-hot summer, a new scientific theory will emerge: "global cooling," creating the well-known "refrigerator effect." Suburbanites will be urged to burn their leaves to pump additional healthy carbon dioxide into the air.

● Damn! Someone else will come up with my two favorite inventions. One is an inflatable suitcase that is activated by a CO2 pellet. When the bag is inflated, you may hail a cab. Cabs screech to a halt, expecting a fare to the airport. The other invention is a foldable tennis racket that can be packed in a real, standard-sized suitcase. The tennis racket can also be used to defend yourself from cab drivers fooled by your inflatable bag.

● A blue-ribbon committee will announce that America is too deeply in debt, that we're mortgaging the future of our children, and we'll have to pay the piper, probably by the Silly ways to make predictions.

year 2050, if not later. (Their formulation does not include the education, roads, medicines, and defense of the republic that our children will have received from deficit financing.)

● People will begin talking in computer language, probably WordPerfect. Thauly: "Please F1 my subscription" (Cancel.) Or: "F3, F3, I'm drowning" (Help, Help.) Or: "Democrats, move to the Shift-F6" (Center.) Or: "Alt, F4 that bitch" (Block.)

● Mayor Koch will still be the mayor of New York.

● Readers' choice: Jesse Jackson (will) (will not) be running for mayor of Washington. No choice: Jesse Jackson will be running for president.

● "The '90s" will have begun. This is so even though the '90s do not officially begin until Jan. 1, 1991, which has something to do with when the year zero was. The '90s begin when people say "Well, we're in the '90s now."

● The long-awaited recession will be coming soon. Probably in the 1990s.

● The long-awaited Soviet defense cuts will be coming soon. Probably in the 1990s.

● China will be moving toward democracy.

● The contras will still be around. Where?

● This prediction is over. It's time to F7 (Exit).

GEORGE F. WILL

Falsely clarifying the past

LONDON — In Whitehall, a steady trickle of tourists shuffles through the subterranean rooms where Winston Churchill and his war cabinet conducted business while the bombs fell. Taped voices of Neville Chamberlain and Churchill and Hitler echo through the concrete corridors.

Across the river in the Imperial War Museum, visitors must make reservations for "The Blitz Experience," a simulation complete with smoke, sounds of air-raid sirens and make-believe bomb explosions. It is very popular. It lasts eight minutes.

A recurring theme in modern thought, in writings as diverse as those of Freud and Proust, is the insistent, disturbing prompting of uncontrolled memory. And a recurring political task is the recapture of the past through cultivated memories, those mystic chords that bind people into communities. However, commemorations, such as those of the events of 50 years ago, can give false clarity to the past.

What really began in September, 1939? The late A.J.P. Taylor was a contrarian, but he had a point when he said the Second World War began in April, 1932, when Mao Tse-tung and Chou Teh declared war on the Japanese in the name of the Kuomintang. Taylor said the war in the European theater began in March, 1938, when the army of the great power, Germany, crossed a frontier — Austria's — to force political change. John Lukacs says that what began 50 years ago was "the last European war." As a European war it lasted until December, 1941, at which point it became a world conflagration the fate of Europe fell into the hands of the United States and the Soviet Union.

What certainly began on Sept. 1, 1939, was the quick conquest of Poland. By December, 1939, only two European states were really involved in combat — the Soviet Union and Finland. British and German troops did not meet until April 20, 1940, in Norway. And as Taylor wrote, until 1942 a wife in London was more apt to be a war casualty than her husband in the army.

The outcome of the war was settled in the first week of December, 1941, on Dec. 5, when the Red Army launched a general offensive on the Moscow Front, and on Dec. 7, when America was dragged into the war.

No one knew what the world was slipping into 50 years ago. A Washington Post headline of Sept. 3, 1939, said: BOTH SIDES AGREE NOT TO BOMB CIVILIANS. The war that in its first month featured charges by Polish horse cavalry ended with two atomic blasts. In 1941, the U.S. Army had 20,000 horses, the most since the Civil War.

Paul Fussell, in his quirky, dyspeptic, fascinating new book, "Wartime," is an archeologist of the American and British psyches, unearthing evidence of their conditions during the war. He confirms the judgment that it was a war in which disillusionment set in before the first shot was fired.

In 1914, Rupert Brooke spoke for many when he thanked God for the outbreak of war, rejoicing in it as an awakening from "a world grown old and cold and weary," relieving war as a cleansing, invigorating experience, "as swimmers into cleanness leaping."

However, the nations that turned wearily to the Second World War had read "All Quiet on the Western Front," and seen the movie of it, as well as "Grand Illusion." They had read Dos Passos' "Three Soldiers," Hemingway's "A Farewell to Arms," Robert Graves' "Good-bye to All That," and other literature conveying the taste of ashes from the last war.

The Second World War was, Fussell says, a war of impersonal forces, shaped by developments in mass production and propaganda. It was Krupp against General Motors, a war in which anonymity, the annihilation of individuality, was underscored by the name given to the men who conquered the ground: G.I. (government issue) Joe.

Eugene Sledge, a Marine whose memoirs Fussell has rescued from obscurity, recalls Okinawa, where replacements were killed before the units learned their names. "They were forlorn figures coming up to the meat grinder and going right back out of it like homeless waifs, unknown and faceless to us, like unread books upon a shelf."

Yes, of course the war was a ghastly experience, a macabre of modern forces that a poet has called "the conspiracy of the plural against the singular." But it was waged on behalf of singularity. Suppose our side had not won.

Yes, of course the war was a ghastly experience.

FDA caught up in 'generic' scandal

WASHINGTON — The Food and Drug Administration is reeling from a generic drug scandal that began in a garbage can in a suburb of Washington, D.C.

For much of 1987 and 1988, the city garbage collectors were not the only people interested in Charles Chang's trash. It was examined nightly by a team of private investigators.

Chang was chief of the generic drug division of the FDA. A drug company that suspected Chang was showing favoritism couldn't get the FDA to follow him, so the company hired its own detectives.

In the time-honored tradition of detective work, they emptied Chang's trash every morning at 3 a.m., pawed through it for clues and replaced it by sunrise. What they found was enough shredded receipts, airline tickets and photos to prove that Chang was on the take from drug companies.

Last spring, Chang and two other FDA chemists pleaded guilty to accepting illegal gratuities from some drug firms. The convictions vindicated longstanding complaints from other drug companies that the FDA was playing favorites in the competitive game of generic drug approvals. Since Congress opened the door to generic versions of brand name drugs in 1984, the name of that game has been speed. And some companies figured out that wheels of the FDA could be greased.

The truth might never have come out if one courageous company, Mylan Laboratories, Inc., hadn't decided to do its own investigation because the FDA wouldn't.

In May 1987, an attorney for Mylan told high level FDA officials about suspected hanky panky in the generic drug division. The FDA refused to investigate, so Mylan hired Charles Perkins, a former Air Force investigator.

Mylan's attorney, Val Miller, told our associate Jim Lynch that Perkins and his crew tailed Chang for 13 months. Following him in traffic wasn't easy. Chang flipped so many U-turns at red lights that Perkins was afraid the prey had noticed the detective's bald head one too many times. But apparently Chang was simply an erratic driver.

At one point, nine detectives in rental cars with cellular phones tailed Chang and a band of chemists through two days of pharmaceutical conferences and dinners. Perkins braced a tiny camera under his dinner plate and shot pictures of Chang and his entourage of industry pals.

Perkins' impressive dragnet included two London agents who investigated Chang's meeting there with an executive of a New York drug firm, American Therapeutics International. The clue for that meeting surfaced in the garbage can.

In the end, it was Chang's trash that betrayed him. In November 1987 Perkins found paperwork in the trash that indicated a drug company executive had sent Chang a VCR. The nightly forage in the trash also yielded scraps of confidential FDA documents and damning receipts. Chang went to some pains. He would shred a paper and stuff half of it in the bottom of a soup can and the other half in a cereal box.

Three companies have pleaded guilty to giving Chang cash. Federal investigators have tracked almost $20,000 in goodies received by Chang, including a free trip to Hong Kong, furniture and computer equipment from American Therapeutics International.

Detectives emptied Chang's trash every morning at 3 a.m.

about," Richards said. "I am pleased with the selection." The cultural affairs department will oversee baseball and softball leagues, Soap Box Derby, volleyball, summer playground programs, road races and other athletic activities. The Boys Club, now finalizing an agreement with the city to run Westside Center, and the downtown youth center will also be a part of the cultural affairs department. The parks department, which will continue under directorship of department head Jim Jernigan, will oversee parks, ball fields, the Sanford Civic Center, Henry Shelton Sanford Library and Museum, the cultural arts center and the Golden Age Games. Kirby said the structure of the department is still under design. But because the switchover was well-timed between major programs and events, the department will have time to organize. "We know people have many concerns about Little League, so we're going to start planning now for next year," Kirby said about the recent criticisms of city baseball programs. As supervisor of special events, Kirby sought Sanford's franchise for the Central Florida Soap Box Derby. Kirby directed the first race in Sanford July 15. Kirby graduated from the University of Florida in 1980. The Gainesville native and his wife Debbie, a probation officer in Orlando, live with their two children in Longwood. Before his employment with the Sanford recreation department, Kirby worked with Central Florida Boys Clubs in Orlando. He is also a football announcer for WNSI radio.

Duryea said he still felt confident about November's election. "I think my record is good. I think I've been physically responsible. I've been the only dissenting voice in a lot of issues. I've been alone in some of my opinions, but I think they've been responsible," he said. Duryea is a 14-year resident of Lake Mary.

Commissioner Thomas Mahoney qualified yesterday and will run for re-election for seat 5 and as yet has no opponents, according to Edwards. Mahoney opened a campaign fund and appointed his wife, Lois, as treasurer. He listed Demetree Builders Inc., Orlando, a real estate and investment company, where he is employed as a financial advisor, as his source of income. Mahoney, 33, is currently serv-

Florida processors ponder Brazilian orange price cuts

ORLANDO — Florida orange juice processors say they might not, as in the past, match the latest Brazilian wholesale juice price cut because the South American juice is inferior and in short supply. It is too early in Brazil's season for much juice to be available, but this week's price cut from $1.85 to $1.60 a pound results from an expected large crop, said chief economist Robert Behr with the Florida Department of Citrus. He said Florida processors do not seem ready to follow the Brazilians in the short term, although individual firms are reviewing their pricing. The price of Florida wholesale juice is about $1.70 per pound. U.S. agriculture officials now estimate Brazil's harvest will reach 260 million boxes. Brazil, the only orange juice producer surpassing Florida, last raised prices in March, April and May following a severe price slash in January.

NOTICE OF CHANGE OF LAND USE

The City of Sanford proposes to change the use of the land within the area shown in the map of this advertisement.

A public hearing on the proposal will be held on Thursday, September 21, 1989 at 7:00 P.M. or as soon thereafter as possible, by the Planning and Zoning Commission of Sanford, Florida, in the City Commission Room, City Hall, Sanford, Florida. The Planning and Zoning Commission, acting as the City of Sanford's designated Local Planning Agency, will consider an amendment to the Future Land Use Plan Element of the Comprehensive Plan.

Interested parties may appear at the meeting and be heard regarding the transmittal of the proposed plan amendment to the City Commission.

Copies of the proposed amendment to the Future Land Use Plan Element of the Comprehensive Plan are available at the Department of Engineering and Planning and at the City Clerk's Office at City Hall, Sanford, Florida and may be inspected by the public. For further inquiries contact Jay Marder, City Planner at (407) 330-5670.

ADVICE TO THE PUBLIC: If a person decides to appeal a decision made with respect to any matter considered at the above meeting or hearing, he may need a verbatim record of the proceedings, include the testimony and evidence, which record is not provided by the City of Sanford. (FS 286.0105)

Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission

De Klerk claims ruling mandate

PRETORIA, South Africa — The ruling National Party was re-elected today by the slimmest margin in 35 years, stung by white voters divided over whether to grant greater rights to the black majority or retreat behind the repressive policies of apartheid.

Seven hours after polls closed Wednesday, it was certain the National Party would form the next government and rule for another five years.

Despite a voter swing to the left and right, acting President Frederik de Klerk declared a "clear mandate" to implement his party's agenda for reform in the racially divided country.

Marcos on trial in Manila

MANILA, Philippines — President Ferdinand Marcos declared a meager income "scandalously disproportionate" to his vast properties, a prosecutor charged today at the opening of the ousted leader's trial in absentia.

The proceedings were the first to be held on 35 civil cases brought three years ago against the exiled Philippine ruler and 380 relatives and political cronies for violations of the anti-graft and corrupt practices act.

The suits, brought three years ago in an anti-corruption court, seek $100 billion in damages and recovery of amounts that will be established during the trial.

Solicitor General Francisco Chavez told reporters the proceedings are meant to show to other courts that the Philippines is serious about corruption claims against the Marcoses. Similar suits have been filed in New York, California and Switzerland.

Netherlands election held

THE HAGUE, Netherlands — Caretaker Prime Minister Ruud Lubbers appeared likely to form his third consecutive coalition government after his Christian Democrat Party retained its 54 seats in general elections, remaining the largest party in Parliament.

But Lubbers' former coalition partners, the rightist Liberal Party, suffered a serious setback in the Wednesday elections, dropping five seats from 27 to 22.

Political observers said the Liberal losses were likely to spell an end to the coalition partnership because the Christian Democrats cannot form a stable government with a one-vote majority in the 150-seat Parliament.

Colombian extradited to Atlanta

United Press International

ATLANTA — Accused Medellin cocaine cartel financier Eduardo Martinez Romero arrived before dawn today at Atlanta's private Charlie Brown Airport, ending an overnight extradition journey from Colombia.

Martinez was taken away to an undisclosed destination in a car, and was to face a hearing later in the morning before U.S. Magistrate Joel Feldman in U.S. District Court in downtown Atlanta.

Tight security marked the 4:30 a.m. EDT arrival of the U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration plane that brought Martinez to the United States under an extradition treaty Colombia's president reactivated last month in a renewed crackdown on escalating drug-related violence.

After arriving in Atlanta, Martinez was flown by helicopter to a parking lot near the Richard B. Russell federal building. He was escorted by heavily-armed federal agents to a holding cell to await arraignment.

Martinez, 31, was indicted in March by a federal grand jury in Atlanta on charges of aiding and abetting the distribution of cocaine by laundering millions of dollars for Colombia's notorious Medellin cartel.

U.S. Attorney General Dick Thornburgh said late Wednesday that Martinez's indictment resulted from the undercover Operation Polar Cap, which began in Atlanta and became the largest investigation of money laundering ever conducted by U.S. law enforcement.

Federal officials said the inquiry revealed an operation that laundered billions of dollars in cocaine profits through U.S. and foreign banks. The investigation resulted in charges against more than 127 people and banks in Panama and Colombia.

Embassy in Beirut evacuated

United Press International

BEIRUT, Lebanon — The evacuation of all 30 Americans from the Beirut Embassy was prompted by threats, linked to Lebanon's Christian strongman, to take Americans hostage or shoot down a U.S. helicopter. U.S. officials said.

The evacuation Wednesday marked the first time since World War II that there has not been U.S. representation in the Lebanese capital, which has been torn by a civil war since 1975.

The move followed reports that Christian strongman Gen. Michel Aoun suggested taking 20 U.S. hostages, a telephone threat to blow up a U.S. support helicopter and a decision by demonstrators surrounding the Embassy to cut off the compound's water and electricity. Lebanese and American officials said.

Two U.S. military helicopters flew Ambassador John McCarthy and 29 American staff members to Cyprus from the compound in the northeastern suburb of Awkar.

IN BRIEF

AMERICAN LEAGUE

Yount, rookies power Brewers

ANAHEIM, Calif. — Robin Yount and rookies George Canale and Bill Spiers clobbered home runs Wednesday night, leading the Milwaukee Brewers to a 7-4 victory over the slumping California Angels.

The third-place Angels, who have lost six of seven games, fell 5 1/2 games behind Oakland in the American League West. Milwaukee snapped a three-game losing streak with the triumph.

Yount and Canale hit two-run homers and Spiers connected on a solo blast to support starter Chris Bosio, 15-9. The right-hander pitched 8 1/3 innings, allowed eight hits and four runs.

Elsewhere in the AL on Wednesday, Oakland held off Boston 7-5; Cleveland blanked Baltimore 9-0; Detroit routed Kansas City 11-5; Toronto trimmed Chicago 4-2; Texas edged Minnesota 3-2; and New York bounced Seattle 5-3.

SOFTBALL

Men's fall leagues forming

The Sanford Recreation Department have announced the formation of men's Class B and C softball leagues for the fall.

The cost to enter will be $275.00 per team. Teams will be permitted a maximum of 20 players and all must be 16 years or older at time of the first game.

Cut off date for fees for both leagues will be Friday, Sept. 15. The B league will play at Chase Park on Monday nights starting Sept. 25 and the C league will play at Chase Park on Wednesday nights starting Sept. 27th.

Interested parties should contact the Sanford Recreation Department at 330-5697 between the hours of 8:30 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

FOOTBALL

Sanders to play for Falcons

ATLANTA — Deion Sanders ended his baseball season in the middle of a game with the New York Yankees Wednesday night and headed to Atlanta to begin his NFL career with the Falcons.

The Falcons and the lawyer for the flamboyant defensive back reached an agreement earlier in the night to sign the first-round draft pick from Florida State to a four-year contract.

Financial details of the contract were not immediately available, but a Falcons spokesman said Sanders' lawyer, Steve Zucker, approved a four-year pact with an option year.

It was not clear whether Sanders would play in Atlanta's season-opener Sunday in Los Angeles against the Rams.

Sanders was playing left field for the Yankees in Seattle Wednesday night. He was 0 for 3 and left the game after flying out to left in the top of the seventh. He shook hands with his Yankee teammates and headed for the airport.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Cardinals just half game back

NEW YORK — Ozzie Smith scored on a grounder from third base in the eighth inning Wednesday night and Pedro Guerrero knocked in two runs to lift the St. Louis Cardinals to a 3-2 victory over the New York Mets.

The victory put St. Louis a half game behind first-place Chicago in the National League East.

The Mets are in fourth place, 3 1/2 out of first.

Smith reached on an error by second baseman Gregg Jefferies to open the eighth inning and went to third on a single to right by Jose Oquendo. Smith scored on a grounder by Guerrero.

The winner was Frank DiPino, 7-0, the third Cardinal pitcher.

Elsewhere in the NL on Wednesday, Montreal out-slugged Pittsburgh 11-6; San Francisco bounced Atlanta 7-2; Philadelphia hammered Chicago 9-1; Cincinnati beat Los Angeles 9-5; and San Diego shaded Houston 3-2.

Swimmers ready to go

By MARK BLYTHE
 Herald sports writer

With a defending state championship team and five other competitive squads Seminole County will once again be a hotbed for swimming in 1989.

Lake Brantley's girls won the state championship a year ago and, though losing two important seniors, they return a great deal of talent this year and can possibly make it two years in a row.

The boys will feature another hotly contested battle between Lyman and Lake Mary with Lake Howell looking to apply pressure.

Oviedo and Seminole are having trouble with numbers. Seminole is also having trouble practicing as its practice pool has been closed for renovations.

"We've had a real problem trying to practice," Seminole coach Tony Ackerson said. "It's been difficult because we're still trying to get people out, but it's tough when you don't have a place to practice."

Seminole will begin sharing pool time with Lyman High School to get in as much practice time as possible. The Tribe is coming off a strange year as both the boys and girls teams were weak in dual meet action but both fared well in the district meet.

"We peaked for the district and that's how I wanted it," Ackerson said. "We also had a lot of people become eligible right before the districts and they stepped in and did a nice job."

The boys team which placed fourth in the district a year ago will have close to 10 members plus divers and is led by Jeff Belford.

"We're looking for big things from him (Belford)," Ackerson said. "He's been looking real good in the few practices we've had so far."

Belford was part of the state qualifying medley relay team last year and hopes to return to the state level in his senior season with Seminole. Belford also owns the school record in the breaststroke.

Other Seminole athletes to watch will be Rusty Keeling a senior diver and sophomore Bryan Pavlak. Seminole will also look to beef up its squad in the next couple of weeks to add depth for the season.

"Things are looking good and I'll be happy to get the team back in a pool," Ackerson said. "It really hurts when you don't get the proper practice time."

Seminole's girls will be led by Cissy Burgess who owns nearly every school record. Burgess had a strong junior season and looks to be among the state's best this year.

"We're really looking forward to seeing her do well this season," Ackerson said. "She's been looking real good and we expect her to uncork some really good times."

Seminole will have to wait a few weeks to finally get a taste of any kind of competition as its first few meets were scheduled at its home pool.

"We won't get to compete for awhile," Ackerson said. "But that may not be so bad since we really haven't been together much."

Lyman is looking to have another strong year in both the girls and boys. The boys won the conference last year and return a strong unit

Oviedo setter Eddie Pizzano played two brilliant matches for the Lions, leading them to victories over both Apopka and West Orange Wednesday

Lion boys net two

From staff reports

APOPKA — Oviedo whipped both Apopka and West Orange in the opening boys volleyball matches for all three teams Wednesday night at Apopka High School.

The Lions thumped Apopka 15-3, 15-8 before routing West Orange 15-7, 15-0 to give them a quick 2-0 record this season. Oviedo will return to action today in DeLand.

"In our first match, against Apopka, we were real jittery," Oviedo coach Terry Rzepkowski said. "We played well enough to win but we weren't really doing the kind of things it takes to win."

Oviedo turned it on in its second match, though, and left no doubts who the better team was as the offense and defense both sparkled.

"In the second game we played good defense and got our spikes down," Rzepkowski said. "Our blocking was also very good and we had good setting for our hitters."

Eddie Pizzano played a brilliant all-around match for the Lions as he had four aces in the four games and used an effective jump serve to keep his teams opponents off balance.

"(Eddie) Pizzano served real well for us and his setting was tremendous," Rzepkowski said. "He also came up with some clutch plays at the net for us."

Zach Hodgins played a major role in the second match as he sat out the first. Hodgins came up with six big kills in the West Orange confrontation and got the Oviedo offense rolling.

"Zach Hodgins was the key in the second match," Rzepkowski said. "He really got things going with his spikes and blocks."

Tom Ezell also had a strong match for the Lions as he had a total of nine kills in the two matches to lead the Oviedo offense. Bill Barto and David Gould also added strong support with their net play.

Oviedo will look to continue its strong play today when it travels to DeLand for its opening Seminole Athletic Conference match of the season. Oviedo is looking to improve on last year's fourth place finish and would like to start off the conference schedule with a win.

"We want to play consistently," Rzepkowski said. "I think now that we have a couple of games behind us we'll be all right."

Tribe, Ram girls enjoy opening match success

From staff reports

Seminole High School's girls volleyball team opened its season with a tough 15-12, 15-10 victory over Bishop Moore Wednesday night in the season opener for both teams.

Seminole, 1-0, will return to action today in Kissimmee Osceola and will try to continue winning. Both Bishop Moore and Osceola are important confrontations for Seminole since both teams are district opponents.

"We played a good defensive match," Seminole coach Beth Corso said. "Yolanda Baker, a returning senior, gave us only one point but she was real important to our defense."

The Tribe was led by Cricket Snow who had eight service points and had nine kills in the game. Snow also served the winning point in each of the games. Charlene Guy, a newcomer to Seminole had five kills in her first match.

Shawn Cohen had seven service points and three kills as Heather Brown had four points serving and eight kills. Jennifer Bengie also played well at the net and set well for Seminole.

"We had some jitters in the opening game but settled down," Corso said. "We looked much better in the second game."

In other action Wednesday night Lake Mary hammered Apopka 15-2, 15-2, at Lake Mary in the both school's season opener.

Lake Mary, which is coming off one of its best seasons, returned several key players from last year's team and are looking to be a force this year.

"Apopka had trouble with its serve receiving and we never really were tested," Lake Mary coach Cindy Henry said. "We didn't get in as much attacking as I would have liked."

Lake Mary will return to action tonight against always tough Lake Howell. The two schools will also play in boys volleyball action before the girls.

"Everyone for us looked good," Henry said. "Apopka will be much better after they get some experience. They have some good athletes but I think they've had a tough time being able to practice, they have something wrong with their gym."

Henry was especially pleased with the play of sophomore Tara Calvin who served real well for the Rams. Lori Leckie and Kelly Jacobo added support as did veterans Tammy Scott, Heather Peters and Melissa Mau.

"We'll see just what kind of team we have tomorrow," Henry said. "We're still untested and I'm anxious to see how we look against a tough team."

Loch Lowe also played Wednesday night and dropped a 15-12, 15-0 match to Melbourne Central

Academy flattens SCC in fall season opener

By DEAN SMITH
 Herald correspondent

The Seminole Community College Raiders baseball team opened a 41-game fall schedule with a 9-3 loss to Wes Rinker's Florida Baseball School Academy Wednesday afternoon at Sanford Stadium.

Leading FBS, a year-round team that plays nearly every day, was Mark McClnock of DeLand who came up with three hits in the seven-inning contest.

Head Coach Jack Pantelias and assistant Lefty Renaud of the Raiders, made sure that all 35 players who dressed saw action.

Because of construction at the college and inclement weather this was the first day that Seminole has been on the field.

The next action for the Raiders will be next Tuesday when they again take on Florida Baseball School at Sanford Stadium. Game time is 4:30 p.m.

J & J, Sanford Electric win big in women's softball

By DEAN SMITH
 Herald correspondent

The electric companies, J & J Electric and Sanford Electric, were the both big winners in Sanford Women's Slowpitch Fall Softball League action at Ft. Mellon Park Tuesday night.

In the first game of the evening Sharon Paulk drove in five runs to lead a 15-hit attack as J & J defeated Central Florida

Fabricators 17-4 in a game called after four innings. J & J scored six runs in the first inning, two runs in the second, and nine runs in the third to complete the scoring.

Paulk collected the five RBI with a double, single, and a sacrifice fly. She also scored two runs. Also contributing were Jackie Suggs (double, two singles, two runs scored, three

Lake Howell starts football season ranked No. 9 in 5A

By DEAN SMITH
 Herald correspondent

For the first time in school history, the Silver Hawks of Lake Howell High School are ranked in the preseason Class 5A state football poll.

In a poll released Tuesday, the Florida Sports Writers Association pegged the Silver Hawks as the No. 9 team in the state. Defending national champion Pensacola-Pine Forest was ranked No. 1.

"It's quite an honor for Lake Howell athletes," said Head coach Mike Biscaglia. "It's a feather in our caps, so to speak. It's nice that people around the state think enough of our program to rank us this highly."

But it really means nothing since we haven't played a game. All we've done is practiced and played one half of football in a jamboree. Our performance against an always tough Winter Park Wildcat team will tell us a lot about how good we might be.

"We will put it to the kids that this is quite an honor to be bestowed upon us and that they will have to put forth a lot of effort to uphold it. It gives the kids quite an incentive to do well."

This is not the first time that Lake Howell has been ranked in the state polls. They got as high as No. 4 in the state three years ago when they finished at 9-1. But this is the first time they've been ranked in the preseason poll.

If Lake Howell's performance in the jamboree last week is any indication the faith the writer's have shown is legitimate. In 24 minutes of football the Silver Hawks scored a 27-7 victory over Lake Mary. They scored on every possession but the last one and if they had had more time they might have scored then too.

They did this despite junior star running back Marquette Smith getting just nine yards on five carries. But senior fullback Cortez Graves and senior quarterback Dan Vereck more than made the difference. The Silver Hawk defense was also impressive holding the Rams to just 84 yards total offense with one interception and one fumble recovery.

"I was pleased with the execution," said Biscaglia. "It was just the opposite of the spring jamboree, when we were all tense and nervous and couldn't do anything right."

"If we continue to execute well and don't tense up against Winter Park, we could make it an interesting game."

UNITED PRESS INTERNATIONAL

NEW YORK — Defending champion Steffi Graf, playing with typical machine-like efficiency, yielded merely two games to Helena Sukova Wednesday to cruise into the semifinals of the U.S. Open against Gabriela Sabatini.

Aaron Krickstein also earned a berth in the semifinals for the first time but wasn't happy the way it came about. Jay Berger suffered cramps in his left leg midway through the third set and had to retire in the fourth, giving Krickstein a 3-6, 6-4, 6-2, 1-0 victory.

"It's a difficult situation, not the way you want to get into the U.S. Open semifinals," said Krickstein, the 14th seed. "It's a great opportunity. Maybe I'll play a great match and be in the final."

Krickstein will face second seed Boris Becker in the semifinals. The three-time Wimbledon champion overpowered unseeded Yannick Noah 6-3, 6-3, 6-2 in an evening match. The West German lost only 11 points in 13 service games.

Becker, seeking his first Open final, played nearly flawless tennis. He fired his groundstrokes into the corners to set up easy volleys and hit line-hugging passing shots when Noah approached the net. "I don't think I had made one easy mistake," said Becker, who had 38 placement winners versus 14 by Noah. "Boris was just too strong," said the Frenchman. "I feel like he was the only one on the court."

The rejuvenated Noah, who was talking of retirement three weeks ago, was the easy unseeded player to reach the quarterfinals. "I'm disappointed by this match but I'm going to remember the others," he said. Graf, seeking to achieve her 10th consecutive appearance in a Grand Slam final, crushed Sukova 6-1, 6-1 in 45 minutes before Sabatini was stretched for 2 hours, 17 minutes in disposing of French Open champion Arantza Sanchez Vicario, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1.

There were 16 service breaks in the Sabatini-Sanchez affair and following a gallant effort, the 17-year-old Sanchez lost when she failed to put away easy smashes on the final two points. Graf has a 16-3 advantage over Sabatini, her doubles partner, including last year's U.S. Open final when Graf completed her Grand Slam.

Sports program more than sports

By BRAD CRONIN
Herald staff writer

LAKE MARY — Despite what Vince Lombardi may have said, winning isn't the only thing, especially in the Seminole YMCA Youth Sports Program.

Kline Estess, program director for the Lake Mary-based YMCA, sees the program's philosophy as a major drawing factor.

"Some people want their kids to be superstars and they want it now, so they leave our league," Estess said. "We don't stress the winning aspect—win at all costs. The parents really enjoy that, and we've had a lot of people join our league because of that."

Registration is now open for the first session of the sports program, which will continue throughout the school year.

The program for youngsters up to age 12 will begin with soccer Sept. 16. Registration for that program ends Sept. 13.

The youth sports program will focus on four areas: soccer, basketball, T-ball and coaches pitch baseball, and track and field.

"It's more than the sport that they get out of this," Estess said. "You also teach them what it's like to be on a team. It's no longer just you, it's a team."

"Because of our philosophy—everybody that comes out plays—we help them not only develop in the sport but also their gross motor skills and coordination."

Estess said the program has three objectives:

—Involving families as much as possible in the kids' activities through coaching, helping on the sidelines, providing refreshments, or just being the cheering section at games.

—Teaching young people the basics of the sports. The fundamentals of each sport are taught and practice sessions are broken down into warm-up, a review of skills learned at previous sessions, and then the learning of new skills. Each session ends with a "huddle" in which health, nutrition and teamwork are discussed, and the day's practice is critiqued.

—Having fun. Estess said no official scores of games are kept, although the participants usually keep track. Everyone who registers plays in every game so that no one is a bench warmer, he said.

"It doesn't matter how good you are or how bad you are—we're going to try to play you at least half of the game," Estess said. "The kids are going to be labeled winners and losers later in life. Right now, it's for them to learn and have fun. Let the kid decide when he grows up whether he wants to be a professional player, not when he's 6."

Estess encourages kids to participate in as many of the sports as they want, giving them options for future participation.

"Each program lasts eight weeks—long enough to understand the sport and acquire some skills in it, but not enough to develop the kids into one-sport specialists," he said. "The program can help kids decide what sports they want to pursue as they get older."

Teams are formed on the basis of age: 6 and younger, 8 and younger, 10 and younger and, if enough sign up, 12 and younger. The T-ball baseball program is for only those children age 6 and younger, and coaches pitch baseball is for only those 8 and younger.

"We make up teams according to where they would prefer to practice," Estess said. "Greenwood Lakes Middle School has been the most popular practice site in the past, and we may have three or four teams there."

The first practice at the beginning of each sports season (except basketball) is held at Greenwood Lakes, close to the YMCA. Then, teams are split up to practice at the sites closest to the members' homes. Other sites include Rock Lake Middle School in Longwood, Teagus Middle School in Altamonte Springs, and Idyllwild Elementary School in Sanford.

The first basketball practice will be held at the YMCA.

Most of the practice sessions are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays between 5-6:30 p.m., Estess said.

During the last six weeks of each season, games and track meets are held on Saturday mornings.

Basketball season begins Dec. 2 with a registration deadline of Nov. 29. Baseball starts Feb. 17, with a registration deadline of Feb. 14. Track and field starts April 10, with registrations due April 4.

All coaches are volunteers. Estess said some are high school or college students, but he likes to recruit as many parents to coach as possible.

Youngsters learn hand-eye coordination and how to hit the ball in T-ball, which involves swinging at a stationary baseball, Estess said.

In the coaches pitch program, coaches toss the balls to their own teams. Estess said at that stage of skill, kids throw too many wild pitches. Because coaches will try to throw good pitches to team members, the kids will learn how to hit a ball thrown over the plate, he said.

The track and field teams competed with a couple of other

YMCA branches and a private elementary school team from Orlando last year, he said.

The track season is capped by competition in the Golden South Classic in Winter Park over Memorial Day weekend. After competing, most of the kids stay to watch the following high school invitational meet, Estess said.

Last year the sports program had 70 participants for soccer, 100 each for baseball and basketball, and 25 for track and field. Estess is hoping for more kids to sign up this year.

All programs are open to both girls and boys. Estess said all but the baseball teams usually have quite a few girls in them.

To register, one can pick up a form at the Seminole County YMCA, located on Longwood-Lake Mary Road, near Lake Mary High School.

Costs for the program are as follows: soccer, $25 for YMCA members, $35 for non-members; basketball, $25 for members, $35 for non-members; T-ball and coaches pitch, $35 for members, $45 for non-members; and track and field, $30 for members, $30 for non-members.

Fees are due on the registration deadline. Fees include team shirts, about two weeks of practice and six weeks of games.

For more information, call the YMCA at 321-8944.

Talking about son's death helped

DEAR ABBY: The letter about how a mother who has lost a child in death should respond when she is asked how many children she has prompted me to share my experience.

I have two daughters living and one son who died last January on his 29th birthday.

The first time I was asked this question following my son's death, I was standing in the checkout line at the grocery store the Saturday before Mother's Day. The gentleman ahead of me asked me "I had any Mother's Day plans. I said, "No." Then he asked me how many children I had. I hesitated for a moment, then said, "Three, but I lost my son in January—that's why I'm not celebrating this year."

He asked how old my son was, and was his death an accident. I told him my son was 29, and I felt that his death was an accident because my son loved life so much I'm sure he would never knowingly overdose on drugs—but like so many young people of his generation, overdosing on drugs was something that only happened to "the other guy."

The man was very sympathetic and told me that he had recently turned his 16-year-old son in to the police for selling drugs. He said he had mixed feelings about what he had done, but after talking to me, he was convinced that he made the right decision. Now his son was getting the help he needed and he wouldn't be responsible for contributing to the possible loss of other lives. We said goodbye and wished each other luck.

ADVICE

When I got to my car, I sat and cried for a few minutes. Yes, it hurt to talk about my son's death, but in a small way, I had helped someone else.

Now when someone asks me how many children I have, I will always answer, "Two daughters, and one son who died." If questions follow, I'll answer them.

But not including my son who died is like saying that he never existed. With 29 years of memories, some good, some bad, my son will always live in my heart.

SACRAMENTO MOTHER OF THREE

DEAR MOTHER: My heart goes out to you and to all parents who have lost a child in death, which is the most tragic loss one can experience. That's why I recommend Compassionate Friends, a national fellowship of parents who have lost children in death. They meet and find comfort in consoling each other.

For those who have never heard of it, but have lost a child—of any age, regardless of how long it's been—the address is: Compassionate Friends, P.O. Box 3696, Oak Brook, Ill. 60522-3696, or call at (312) 990-0010.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I agreed to chip in with a group of friends to buy a 50th wedding anniversary gift for a couple we have known for many years. The group giving this gift consists of eight married couples and one widow.

One member of our group—the widow—adamantly insists that the cost of the gift should be divided by 17. We think it should be divided by nine.

WHAT DO YOU THINK?
IN DOUBT IN ARIZONA

DEAR IN DOUBT: Is the widow's deceased husband going to be at the anniversary party? Of course not. Therefore the cost of the gift should be divided by 17—each couple paying two shares, leaving the widow with one.

The Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) has issued an Emergency Permit to Volusia County Sheriff's Department and Seminole County Sheriff's Department. The permit authorizes the use of a mobile, reactive, shock sensitive, or explosive materials.

An emergency permit pursuant to Sections 402.70(5) and 402.70(3), F.S., and 17-30.205, F.A.C., was warranted because there was an imminent and substantial endangerment to human health and the environment. This issuance of this permit resulted in environmental benefits as compared with the previous storage conditions of the waste. The permit was drafted in accordance with the provisions of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act and the Florida Resource Recovery and Management Act.

Persons wishing to comment upon the permit issuance or to the permit conditions are invited to submit same in writing within forty-five (45) days of the date of this notice to the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation, Twin Towers Office Building, 2600 Blair Street Road, Tallahassee, Florida 32309-7400. ATTENTION: Raul Clark. The public notice number should be included in the first page of comments.

All comments received within the 45-day period will be considered in the formulation of future emergency permits. Publish Sept. 7, 1989 DE1-54

Milk-drinking adults smarter than animals

DEAR DR. GOTT: The dairy industry is bombarding us with claims that everyone needs to drink milk. Meanwhile, food-supplement people tell us the human animal is the only one that drinks milk beyond infancy and that animals are smarter about this than we are. What's the truth?

as readily or as cheaply by any other food supplement. Therefore, you can understand why promoters of these supplements tend to downplay the benefits of milk.

If you like milk, drink a couple of glasses of the low-fat product a day and avoid getting into arguments about how smart

DEAR READER: Animals don't drink milk as adults because their mamas won't nurse them, and they are not smart enough to know how to get the stuff out of a cow, pasteurize it, bottle and market it. Most animals will drink milk if it is offered to them.

I believe milk is a valuable and important addition to a well-balanced diet. It contains calcium, protein, vitamins and fat. Unfortunately, it's the fat that may cause problems for some people on low-cholesterol diets. Therefore, I urge my patients to drink low-fat or skimmed milk, so they get all the benefits without the additional cholesterol in butterfat.

My recommendation takes on additional importance in light of several recent studies that show women who are most likely to develop osteoporosis (bone softening) in later life are those whose bones were calcium-deficient in their younger years.

They enter menopause with a low "bone density," meaning that they have failed to store up enough calcium during their reproductive decades. Perhaps if more of us drank milk, we would enter old age with stronger bones.

Like you, I am somewhat dismayed by the dairy industry's media blitz, particularly with respect to butter and cheese—two foodstuffs that contain unacceptably high levels of cholesterol for people who must reduce dietary fats. Nonetheless, the industry is probably correct that milk is a healthful source of many important nutrients. These nutrients are not supplied

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
 Whoever heard of cue-bidding with the 8-5-3 of the opponent's suit? North was not really demoted when he bid three spades. He had four-card support for his partner's opening bid and enough high cards that he would have opened the bidding himself. If he bid an immediate four hearts, partner would play him for less strength and more distributional values. So three spades filled the bill, as long as South knew it only showed a sound raise to four hearts and did not absolutely promise a control in spades. Since South had a garbage opening bid, he bid four hearts and hoped he could make it. The play came down to knowing how to count.

West led three high spades and then the queen of diamonds. Declarer took the ace, drew two rounds of trumps, and then played dummy's diamond king and ruffed dummy's last low diamond. West had shown with six spades and two hearts, and had followed to three diamonds. That left West with no more than two clubs. Since East had at least five clubs, it was right to play for the club queen to be with East. And virtue was rewarded. Of course it was possible that West held the doubleton queen of clubs and declarer would be set. That would be bad luck, but at least declarer would have made an educated guess as to the location of the club queen.

HOROSCOPE

By Bernice Bede Osool
YOUR BIRTHDAY
 Sept. 8, 1989

In the year ahead it looks like you are going to take on a very ambitious project. Success is in the offing if you don't give up easily. The size of your return will be predicated upon the effort you expend.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) The best way to defuse small domestic crises which might occur today is to keep a cool head and take things in stride. Do not let your temper take over. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today by mailing $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) It's important today that you do not prejudge the behavior of associates before they even do anything. Rushing to judgment could create a number of unnecessary problems.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)

There's a chance you might be denied doing something enjoyable today because of your past extravagance. Unfortunately, it is a lesson you may have to learn the hard way.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) If you sulk about the house today with a cranky disposition, don't expect family members to cater to you. They won't be in a mood to deal with a foul temper.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be extra mindful of how you interact with others today. Your patience could be rather thin and if someone does something you dislike, you might respond in an unbecoming manner.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Some special form of assistance for which you've been hoping might not be forthcoming today, so to be on the safe side, it might be wise to have a back-up plan prepared.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Objectives you are desirous of achieving today may not be handed to you on a silver platter. Be prepared to put out additional effort for what you deem important.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today you might relegate your logic and objectivity to second place and resort to the unproductive luxury of emotionalizing. This won't solve problems.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you're not careful today you might be drawn into an undesirable arrangement and obligate yourself to engage in something in which you'd never participate.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It's necessary today that you do all that you can to be cooperative. An important relationship could be jeopardized if you are too self-serving.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Systematize your work today and set a realistic agenda for yourself. If not, you could become quickly fatigued or uninspired doing tasks in a disorganized fashion.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try to keep everything out in the open in your social involvements today. Tricky or petty political maneuvers could be interpreted as deceitful and cause you to lose face.
