 TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
 These who help to build law abiding moral communities should be generously provided with their living necessities. Our farms, homes and factories would have small value in a community of lawless men. For the laborer is worthy of his food.—Matt. 10:10.

For Future Doctors
 Only one-third of the American young people who would like to study medicine have a chance to do so. The rest apply in vain for admittance to medical schools. Yet no one would say that there are too many doctors, particularly in the small city and rural areas.
 This situation has been developing for some time as the cost of medical education has increased. In the last four years, according to the American Medical Association's Council on Medical Agencies and Hospitals, budgets for medical schools have increased 42 per cent.
 Bills pending in Congress would provide for federal aid for five years to construct, equip and operate medical schools. Even this would not solve the whole problem. Additional laboratory facilities and training in clinics, needed by future physicians, would have to be established, too.
 Uncle Sam has a broad and much needed task. Aid to medical education would be a more worthwhile burden than some now laid upon it.

Practical Poet
 The most impractical people in the world are commonly supposed to be the poets. They are not all like that, however. The Bollingen prize for poetry has been awarded to Wallace Stevens, vice-president of a Hartford, Conn. insurance company. His newest book of verse, "The Auroras of Autumn", is his sixth since he began publishing poems in 1923.
 His success in this specialized form of literary achievement recalls one of America's better poets, the late Edmund Clarence Steffens, a prosperous Wall Street banker. Lewis Carroll, who wrote "Alice in Wonderland", was a mathematician.
 The combination of practical ability with poetic imagination need not be surprising. Genuine poets often see deeper into the nature of things than other persons. This superior insight could conceivably help them in everyday affairs. Being a poet has not prevented Mao Tse-tung from becoming the Communist dictator of China.

Korean Victory Is Not Expected To Result In Lifting Of Controls
 EDITOR'S NOTE: Despite all it has been told, the general public shows evidence of having failed to grasp the full meaning of what the nation's rearmament program will bring to domestic life. Military success in Korea will not raise the curtain which has stood for civilian economy. Sam Dawson, Associated Press business news columnist, points out in the following article. It is the first of two analyzing the outlook. The second will appear tomorrow.
 By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK, Sept. 29.—(AP)—After final victory in Korea it's going to be tougher than it is now—tougher for you as consumer and taxpayer, tougher for you to do business if you're a businessman.
 Maybe you think you're going to relax when the shooting ends.

You're an office today that you aren't tomorrow. You're a day-laborer today, the cost of living is going up, taxes are going to be higher; controls are around the corner; there'll be fewer gadgets in the stores so that more guns can be made.
 This won't stop with the fighting in Korea, Washington re-arms. Korea was the straw that broke the back of the democracies' patience. From now on they are re-arming.
 For the United States this means that the present $14-billion-a-year defense bill will be hiked to $30 billion by next summer. Some think it will go to $40 billion the following year, perhaps to $50 billion.
 The important thing to remember is that the program hasn't really started yet. You've scarcely felt it yet, either as a consumer or as a merchant or manufacturer.
 Let's leave the special problems of the businessman till tomorrow, and look at what economists, as well as Washington officials, say is in store for everyone, if the end of the Korean war doesn't reverse public support for the rearmament program to which we are committed:
 1. TAXES: Less take-home-pay, starting next week. Even less next year. The drive to "pay as we go" is going to be tougher on your pocketbook than you now realize, says Treasury Secretary Snyder.
 2. PRICES: Living costs are going up, the Commerce Department predicts today. Already near the 1948 peak, prices in general will go still higher—both for food and manufactured goods, the department says.
 3. CONTROLS: Government controls "are not too long away," says Commerce Secretary Sawyer. Some think price controls are due early next year, unless commodity prices break sharply with the collapse of the Reds in Korea—and stay down, which many think unlikely. Wage controls may follow, to halt the inflationary spiral.
 4. CREDIT CURBS: Present mild restrictions on installment buying, such as the 18-month limit on the car, may be tightened.

United Nations
 The form of the Korean resolution has been largely agreed upon. However, there was some hitch on its sponsorship. The United States and Britain want several other nations to list themselves as sponsors, and are particularly anxious for Asian countries to agree to this step. A spokesman for the Indian delegation said it had not yet received instructions from New Delhi on the sponsorship question. India is particularly desired as a co-sponsor.
 In the Far East it is generally believed, both at General MacArthur's headquarters and by Communist spokesmen, that the United Nations will authorize allied troops in North Korea, and through the Red capital at Peking, will extend their command to the borders of Communist China.
 The request for creating Parallel 38 appears to vastly outweigh the reasons for stopping there. Political and administrative factors are all involved.
 The 38th Parallel is neither a legal nor a natural boundary. Originally, it was drawn purely for military convenience as a mere administrative detail.
 Then the invasion of Korea followed shortly.
 North of the line the Russians quickly established a provisional Communist government composed of Koreans well-versed in Soviet methods.
 It was not a government elected by the people. It still has no legal status. The United Nations authority never permitted representatives of the U. N. to come into North Korea. It became an appendage of the Soviet Union, heretically sealed from the rest of the world.
 In the south, meanwhile, democratic methods—slower, more cumbersome, and far from perfect in planning—were actually being brought about the election of a constituent assembly. A constitution, a president and a cabinet came into being.
 Ernest Bevin, British foreign minister, said in New York today that "the time has come for a united Korea."
 North and South Korea should be regarded as one, and there should be no division such as that created by the 38th Parallel, Bevin said as he left for England aboard the liner Queen Mary.
 But in Moscow "The general impression is that the Russians would regard gravely any effort by American or Allied forces to cross the 38th Parallel and push to North Korea's borders on Russia and China."
 The Soviet Union may have some definite suggestions to make on the proposed unification of Korea, including plans for general elections, to be held when the question comes up in the U. N. In Washington the State Department officially described Russia as "a power-hungry government that is bent on spreading its power by force. It is in a policy outline drafted at President Truman's suggestion, the department said that since 1945 the Soviet Union has annexed more than 500,000 square miles of new territory and has taken more than 500,000,000 people under its control.
 "It is now trying to extend its empire across Asia," the department added.
 These new denunciations of Russia were contained in a 100-page booklet entitled "Our Foreign Policy." In a brief forward and Interior Design.

Tourist Business
 After a cross-country trip a traveler has concluded that the most lucrative business in the United States is that of supplying the needs and whims of tourists.
 Private homes are bedizened with signs advertising their accommodations for those en route; country hotels, smartened up with new fronts and chrome-trimmed lobbies, make their bid for business; rows of roadside cabins take every shape from log cabin to Spanish rancho. Hot-dog and hamburger stands dot the roadways, and the more discriminating enter can find excellent fare at a wide variety of rates in the artfully quaint inns which take advantage of local history and customs to make their surroundings interesting. Financial returns for the owners of great numbers of these hosteries are good enough to pay off mortgages, send children through college, and make life easier in the ways that money has.

These tourist-fed businesses are a shining example of free enterprise by the individual with an idea. Except for zoning laws, which operate for the good of all, there are few restrictions here as to what a person may do with his own property. Every owner of a tourist lodge or a roadside diner is a capitalist, enjoying the fruits of freedom which makes it possible for him both to have a business and to have customers.

Mrs. Henry Ford Dies Of Coronary Condition At 84
 Auto Maker's Widow Remained Active Until Last Illness
 DETROIT, Sept. 29.—Mrs. Henry Ford, widow of the world-famous automobile pioneer, died early today at the age of 84.
 The farmer's daughter who came to great wealth and renown through her husband's genius and her faith in his work was the victim of a heart ailment.
 She died at 2 A. M. in Henry Ford Hospital. A family spokesman said the cause of death was acute coronary occlusion.
 For some time Mrs. Ford had been troubled with a heart condition, and in recent months she had twice visited the hospital.
 On each occasion she had returned to the Ford estate, "Fairview," in suburban Dearborn and acted as in her household and rose garden.
 Yesterday she entered the hospital for the last time. Only a few persons close to the family knew that her condition had again worsened.
 Mrs. Ford was taken to the hospital in an ambulance at noon yesterday.
 At that time she engaged in conversation but later in the hospital she became unconscious and she ceased to speak.
 Her death was announced by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edsel Ford, and her grandson, Henry Ford II, who was 22 and his wife, Mrs. Edsel Ford, who was 20.
 Only a few minutes before she died, Mrs. Ford was "talking clearly" in calling for her nurse to request a drink of water, the family said.
 She asked the nurse, Miss Edna Murphy, to help her turn in bed. Then she fell into a coma, in a moment she was dead.
 Clara Bryant Ford and Henry Ford spent 50 years of wedded life together until her husband's death in 1945.
 Over the six decades they were known as a devoted couple. It was said Mrs. Ford that she was constantly at her husband's side as an advisor and temptress from the time of his early days in a small machine shop until he became world-famous.
 Her only son, Edsel, died in 1945. At that time he was president of the Ford Motor Co., as was his father. He also had three other grand-children, Benson, William Clay and James, all four grandchildren are children of Edsel.

Allied Armies
 The South Korean advance up the east coast had carried nearly 145 miles from their jumping off place near Pohang on Sept. 27, and for two months was the eastern anchor of the Allied southeast beachhead.
 An observation mission, reported the Reds apparently were trying to make a stand on 38 some five miles south of Yanggang and two miles inland.
 The South Korean artillery hammering a ridge on the border. About 12 miles north of a small village was in flames.
 But Kripke said he could spot no sign of the enemy either in vehicles or about from 12 to 15 miles north of the boundary.
 The automobile caravan along the battle-rubbed streets of Seoul preceded the brief noon ceremony in which the capital was restored as a seat of government for President Rhee.
 Seoul's Kimpo airfield from Tokyo and crossed the Han River over a pontoon bridge also flown to the capital. Hundreds of civilians lined the streets. They applauded—evidently not comprehending the significance of the caravan.
 In the battle-scarred capital building, the short letters MacArthur appeared, security officers found and removed a bundle of dynamite with a wire attached. It was enough to have blown up the front of the big building, they said.
 While shattered glass tinkled in the assembly chamber from a blasted door overhead, General

Draft Act
 Hersey said it would take time—possibly two or three years—to build up to the 1,500,000 man army he mentioned. Also, in an apparent indication that the military is thinking of a law Army for some time to come, he said that his recommendation should be adopted if this country is to have a "strong and efficient" military "definitely a generation."
 There were earlier indications that the high command is thinking of an Army of nearly 1,000,000 by next March. Last June 30 the announced strength was 391,000. Present totals are not being announced. However, 50,000 were drafted in September alone.
 In suggesting a 30-month draft, Hersey proposed that six months be spent in training and 24 months in service.
 He also said he thought it would be advisable to give a man at least three months basic training before he reaches 18 years of age. As it is now, he is not liable to induction until he reaches 19, although he must register for the draft when he is 18.
 Inductees always should be permitted to finish high school before going into the service, Hersey said. He added that the objective should be to return the man to civilian life as early as possible.
 Hersey said there are about 8,200,000 men in the draft-age group, but that after deferring categories he listed veterans, 2,710,000; farmers, 118,000; those with dependents, 891,000; those deferred for physical, mental and moral reasons, 600,000; men who have passed 25 but are still carried on the pool books, 1,913,000. Also many thousands of the 18-24 groups are in uniform already, or in reserves.
 Hersey said the two highest sources of manpower not included are veterans and men under 25 who have dependents.
 If these two sources were tapped, Hersey said the present available pool of 1,500,000 could be "at least doubled."
 He pointed out that the veteran group is disappearing through attrition at the rate of 60,000 to 70,000 a month. By this he meant they are passing the top draft age.
 The committee showed considerable interest in the question of deferring students. Hersey said the committee had the committee had had their induction postponed. He said that 772,000 students had their induction postponed.

War Over
 Walker said he had no reserves as of Sept. 29. At one period those of us reporting the war watched him shuffle the 27th Regiment around the front. At that time it was a fire company stamping out a series of blazes.
 Col. John (Mike) Michaelis, commander of the 27th "Wolfhound" Regiment, became known as the "fire chief."
 But Walker said the crisis was Sept. 1 when the Reds launched their last desperate assault along the old southeast beachhead line.
 "For a time I thought they had a breakthrough," he said. "Some of my commanders didn't think they could hold—but I told them they had to hold at all costs."
 The general said that Walker said, when the Reds drove southwest cutting off the Taegu-Pohang road with a push that imperiled the entire U. N. position.
 Walker's troops had put out the worst of the fires in the southeast. The 24th Division was sent up to meet the threat.
 "It was on Sept. 6" he said, "that everyone knew we had whipped. I knew the Reds had lost their punch and that the tough boys of their army had been destroyed."
 The general said that, in his book, Sept. 6 was the real turning point in the war and that the Inchon landing sealed the doom of the North Korean army.
 other 5,000 were deferred because they showed proof of their intention to go to college.
 Chairman Vinson made the suggestion, which Hersey said would be welcome, that Congress write standards for deferment of medical and technical students.
 Hersey pointed out that the medical schools have thousands of applicants which they can't handle.
 "You just can't let people in medical students just because they say they are," he commented. He indicated that he considered a lot of requests for deferment for technical training were pretty firms.

Hints To Housewives

By Anna Mae Sikes

Some fine points on putting in hem useful to women who make their own clothes or alter hems in ready-made garments are offered by clothing specialists of the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Careful instead of clipped hem work is suggested for the woman who would be well-served, and thus the garment gives better returns for the time and money spent.

For an accurate hemline, here is a suggestion which may be new to many sewers. After marking the hem and turning it up, place the iron on the edge of the folded hemline instead of the usual pinning at the top of the hem. Put pins in at right angles to the hemline so you can lace over them and baste close to the fold. After basting, remove pins over you all that.

Object: Modernistic football. Re spin via at the game tonight.

Two inches is a good width for the hem, the specialists advise

With a small transparent ruler and chalk pencil, it's easy to mark an even line around the hem and then cut along it.

For taking in extra width at the top of a hem, they suggest an alternative to hot and mussy lappling over the material when putting in the final hemming stitch. Around the raw edge of the hem top, take large loose machine stitches about 1/4 inch from edge, pull up the lower thread, and gather in the fullness evenly with your fingers. Then shrink in, using a sponge for dampening and a hot iron, for such fabrics as linen and wool which can be shrunk. For cottons, silks, and rayons, which do not shrink, press the fullness flat.

When not using binding of the hem edge, two rows of stitching are better than one to prevent fraying. Steam binding is sayon and can't take a hot iron, so is not recommended for fabrics like linen which demand high heat in pressing.

For finishing the hem try a

Rain Today Could Wash Out Flag Hopes Of Detroit And Brooklyn

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Rain, rain go away, come again some other day." That's what the second place teams in the major league pennant races are chanting today. This is especially true of the beleaguered Brooklyn Dodgers, and to a lesser extent, the Detroit Tigers. Rain threatens to wash out what little chance the Dodgers and Tigers have to catch the Philadelphia Phillies and New York Yankees, respectively.

The Phillies in the National and the Yankees in the American assured themselves yesterday of finishing in no worse than a tie for the pennants in their respective leagues.

Brooklyn, in order to tie the Phillies, must beat Boston twice today and the Phillies on Saturday and Sunday. The Phils are idle today and can clinch if the Dodgers split. Detroit in order to tie the Yankees, must win all three of their remaining games against Cleveland while the Yankees, idle today, drop single games to the Boston Red Sox on Saturday and Sunday.

However, Brooklyn is in danger of having its thin chance wiped out. The Dodgers are scheduled to play their third doubleheader in as many days against the Braves at Ebbets Field and the weather forecast is showers.

If rain prevents the twin bill from starting at the scheduled 1:30 P. M., the games will be started as soon as possible. If necessary, the games will be played at night.

National League President Ford Frick said early today that the doubleheader will be played "if at all possible." Conceivably this means that the teams can play all night if necessary, as the National has no curfew on week day night games.

However, if the games are rained out, the Dodgers will be washed out of the pennant picture since Boston is scheduled to play the New York Giants over the weekend while the Dodgers entertain Philadelphia.

Rain also threatens today's game between Cleveland and the Tigers in Detroit, but there's ample opportunity to make it up as part of a doubleheader on Saturday or Sunday.

Brooklyn missed the boat yesterday by dividing a doubleheader with the Braves while the staggering Phils dropped their second twin bill in as many days to the New York Giants. Philadelphia's once imposing lead now stands at three games.

The Dodgers won the opener, 6-5, but lost the nightcap, 8-4. The Phils were hampered by identical scores of 3-1.

Brooklyn pulled the opener out with a four run rally in the seventh inning against Mickey Hatcher. American League cast-off, Sid Gordon started the Dodgers on the road to ruin in the nightcap. He tripled with one out in the seventh inning and scored when Jack Robinson fumbled Tommy Holmes' grounders to shove the Braves ahead.

Del Crandall followed with a home run and the game was in the bag.

Sal Maglie and Sheldon Jones turned back the Phils. Maglie stopped the Phils on five hits to gain his 18th victory. Two home runs by Bob Thomson put Maglie in the winner's circle. Jack Jones scattered seven hits in out-dueling Robin Roberts. The Giants broke a 1-1 tie in the seventh inning, scoring twice when Whitey Lockman hit a single to left with the bases loaded.

The Yanks were forced to go 10 innings before defeating the talented Philadelphia Athletics, 3-6. Phil Rizzuto singled home Cliff Mape to tie the breaking run and then scored the clincher on Yogi Berra's single.

Tommy Henrich delivered a run-scoring pinch-hit single in the eighth to put the Yanks in front, 6-5, only to have Joe Tipton send the game into overtime with a homer in the ninth.

Detroit stayed alive by edging the St. Louis Browns, 4-3, in 12 innings. The Browns held a 3-2 lead going into the ninth when Aaron Robinson, the guest in Sunday's loss to Cleveland, socked a pinch-hit homer to send the game into overtime.

Fred Mullin walked to start the Tiger 12th. Hot Evers bunted down the third base line but Don Lenhardt had trouble picking up the ball. Lenhardt finally found the handle and when he spied Mullin streaking for third, he fired the ball in that direction, but no one was covering, and the ball sailed into left field and Mullin romped home to win the game.

In the two other games the St. Louis Cardinals blanked Cincinnati, 7-0, in a night contest, and the Boston Red Sox edged Washington, 4-3. Cleveland and Chicago, in the American, and Pittsburgh and Chicago, in the National, were not scheduled.

Gators Groom For Drills In Overtime

Dukes In Overtime

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 29.—(AP)—Florida coach Bob Woodruff put in preparation for the inter-sectional clash with Duquesne yesterday by dividing a doubleheader with the Braves while the staggering Phils dropped their second twin bill in as many days to the New York Giants.

He called the Gator defensive platoons out for a long afternoon scrimmage against freshman using Duquesne-type plays, then worked just as hard under lights in the evening sharpening the scrum and line ground and air assault.

Both groups, especially the defensive units, looked better than they have all season. The improvement was something to Woodruff who anticipates increasingly strong opponents as the season advances. Nevertheless, a full squad was around a Woodruff and his aides took the final round drill before the end-of-the-week tapering off.

Men who showed the ability to halt the Duquesne attack as they stopped freshman plays cold were line backers Kent Stevens, Mack Gilstrap, and Joe Wright as centers who worked with backs Loren Broadbent, Angus Williams, Charlie Smith and J. Hall.

In the line, ends Miley Kelley and Bob Flowers, tackles Jack Pappas, Charlie Laprad and Jack

Notre Dame-North Carolina Tilt Headlines Saturday Grid Show

NEW YORK Sept. 29.—(AP)—Notre Dame, Army and Oklahoma pick up the strings of college football's gaudiest success streaks tomorrow and make their season bows on a loaded program.

All of the gridiron elite will be in action across the land as the "one-two-herp" boys try to steal some thunder from baseball's approaching World Series.

The No. 1 attraction is at South Bend, Ind., where the fighting Irish, tabbed as the country's mightiest, are host to the North Carolina Tarheels.

Sparked by little Dick Bunting, who is still around, the Tarheels played the powerful South Benders off their feet for better than a half last year, but the sluice gates finally opened and Notre Dame prevailed, 42-6.

The game was just one of 38 without a defeat the Irish have piled up since 1945. They are heavily favored to make it 39 tomorrow behind quarterback Bob Woodruff in the pre-season Associated Press poll.

Army, undefeated in 20 straight games, will be unveiled at West Point with Colgate furnishing the opposition. Earl Halk's ends have been rated second behind Notre Dame in the pre-season Associated Press poll.

Oklahoma's Sooners will make their debut at Norman against Denny Myers' Boston College, which was held to a 7-7 standstill last week by Wake Forest. The Sooners are favored to extend their winning streak to 22 games.

The nation's "Big Three," however, must share the early autumn limelight with a half-dozen choice inter-sectional skirmishes and a letter than usual run of important conference contests.

Southern Methodist, boasting one of the season's most highly rated backs in Kyle Rots, invades Columbus to test Ohio State's Rose Bowl champions. Texas' couchboys are at home with another Big Ten stalwart, Purdue.

Other inter-sectional plans will see Rice, the Southwest Conference titlist, meeting Santa Clara at Houston and Southern California playing Iowa at Los Angeles. The latter game is to be the big one in the middle-west night.

Sendis Michigan against an improved Michigan State, Alabama and Tulane knock heads at New Orleans in the game that has southerners drooling.

On the east coast, Navy, under new coach Eddie Ederlatz, opens against Maryland. Dartmouth is host to Holy Cross and Pennsylvania plays Virginia at Philadelphia.

Here are the other top games: Friday night, Georgia at St. Mary's (Calif.), Kansas at Denver, The Citadel at Miami (Fla.), Detroit at Wayne.

And Saturday down south: Auburn at Vanderbilt, Missis-

Georgia Expected To Have Field Day Against St. Mary's

SAN FRANCISCO Sept. 29.—(AP)—St. Mary's of California, onetime football powerhouse, sends its weakest team in years against a rampant Georgia Bulldog here tonight.

About 20,000 fans may turn out for an expected fiasco in which the only question seems to be how big a score does the Bulldog want?

Ty Cobb, the Georgia Peach of Detroit Tiger baseball immortality, appealed to fans to forget the possible score and come see Georgia's sophomore stars, fullback Fred Bilyeu and left half Gordon Hardgrove. Ty will sit on the Georgia bench.

Last week, Georgia upset Maryland 27-7 while St. Mary's bowed 0-40 before College of the Pacific Probable lineups:

FSU Is Bolstered By Six Lettermen For Troy Opening

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 29.—(AP)—The Florida State University Seminoles will be loaded with experience when they open their 1950 football season against Troy State Teachers in the Alabama City tomorrow night.

Six lettermen are included in head coach Don Weller's probable starting offensive line-up and three of the others are transfers with previous college experience.

The Seminoles, who have lost only two games in the past two years and were upset winners over Cofford College in last year's Tampa Cigar Bowl game, are heavy favorites over Troy.

Troy lost to Southeastern Louisiana and Stetson in its first two starts this season.

Couch Veller will send his squad through a final limbering up drill here this afternoon and leave for Troy tomorrow noon.

He said the entire squad is in good physical condition. Only Curtis Campbell, reserve end, definitely will not see action.

Veller said three members of his squad will be called into active duty with the Marine Corps next month. They are Dudley Thomas, quarterback; Leslie Hugh, center, and Walker Morris, guard, all from Jacksonville.

Some of them is on the FSU football team.

If the Seminoles receive the opening kickoff against Troy, Veller said he will start Ted Hewitt and Dwight Osha at ends, Dub Kendrick and Sam Baker tackles, Bob Schmeiz and Loren Malby at guard, Steve Kalaanick at center, Bill Driver, quarter-back, Tommy Brown and Dick Peterson halfbacks and Mike Sellers fullback.

Hewitt, Kendrick, Schmeiz, Malby, Osha and Peterson are lettermen. Sellers played last year with Indiana and Brown was a defensive back with Army's unbeaten squad last year. Driver is also a transfer from Indiana.

The committee is charged with making recommendations to the commission on the basis of the survey findings.

The survey group, headed by the commission's chief fisheries biologist, John P. DeQuine, came to the conclusion after a five-year on-the-spot study, that commercial fishing operations under adequate state regulation would not be harmful to sports fishing.

Over the years, Mr. Corbett indicated there is a decided change of opinion and sentiment on the conclusions of the survey both among sports fishing interests and possibly even among the committee members.

Lansing To Attend Sportsman Meeting

Porter Lansing, president of the Seminole County Sportsman Association, announced yesterday that he would attend the meeting today in Ft. Pierce of a 14-man special committee named by the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission to consider the report of a two-year survey of fishing operations in the St. Johns River and Lake Okechobee areas.

According to J. W. Corbett, chairman of the committee, the committee is charged with making recommendations to the commission on the basis of the survey findings.

The survey group, headed by the commission's chief fisheries biologist, John P. DeQuine, came to the conclusion after a five-year on-the-spot study, that commercial fishing operations under adequate state regulation would not be harmful to sports fishing.

Over the years, Mr. Corbett indicated there is a decided change of opinion and sentiment on the conclusions of the survey both among sports fishing interests and possibly even among the committee members.

Day Fisher and Jack Nichols, senior night anglers, watched the outings on from the sidelines with leg injuries.

The Golden Text is: "What is the chief end of man? To glorify God" (1st Cor. 10:31).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Whither I am afraid, I will trust in thee. In God I will praise his word. In God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me" (Ps. 56:3, 4).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The flesh and spirit can no longer unite in action, than good and evil, with evil the latter will take a halting and half-way position or to expect to work smoothly with Spirit and matter. Truth and error. There is but one way—namely, God and His idea—which leads to spiritual being. The scientific government of the body may be attained through the divine mind" (187:20-27).

"The Right Point of View in Life."
"The best thing is to go from nature's God down to nature; and if you once get to nature's God, you believe Him, and Love Him, it is surprising how easy it is to hear music in the waves, and songs in the wild whisperings of the winds to see God everywhere. In the stones, in the rocks, in the rippling brooks, and hear Him everywhere, in the howling of cattle, in the rolling of thunder, and in the fury of tempests. Get Christ first put Him in the right place, and you will find Him to be the wisest of God in your own experience."
Charles H. Spurgeon.

AMONG THE FIRST on the campus to sign the freedom scroll in the University of Florida's own campaign to aid the "Crusade For Freedom" begun last Labor Day by General Dwight D. Eisenhower were University President J. Hillis Miller and freshmen Evangelina Forbes of Miami and John Yarbrough, Arcadia.

Freedom Crusade Whips Into High As Thousands Sign Up

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 29.—(FNS)—With organizations set up and working in most every Florida community, the "Crusade for Freedom" began rolling in high this week and State Chairman Harold Cole stated that names were being enrolled on the "Freedom Scroll" by the thousands.
Contributions are beginning to come in, too, Cole stated, and he expressed confidence that Florida would reach her quota of a million names on the Scroll, backed up with liberal contributions toward the establishment of a network of Free Radio stations powerful enough to pierce the Iron Curtain.
Scrolls began circulating in the schools this week, and in many communities booths have been set up at convenient locations in the business section, where voluntary workers are gathering signatures and contributions.
Plans for the official dedication of the Freedom Bell in Berlin are progressing and it promises to be an impressive ceremony. When the bell is rung for the first time on United Nations Day, October 24, thousands of other bells will ring out in free nations of the world. It will be a mighty proclamation of Free peoples everywhere and will give courage and hope to the millions enslaved behind the Iron Curtain.
If you have not signed the Freedom Scroll and made a contribution, do so today. Contact your local campaign headquarters.

Jaycee Meet

ported that the City Commission had acted favorably on the Jaycee proposal to establish a picnic ground in the area immediately west of the Zoo, and expressed confidence that the ACL railroad will allow their land there to be used for this purpose.
He suggested that since the title of the land cannot be turned over to the State in order to establish a roadside picnic ground, that the Jaycees clean up the area, build tables and thatched roof shelters.
Macdonald told of plans by the Jaycees to "get out the vote" for the Nov. 7 elections. This will include the placing of a sign on the City clock base. John Williams proposed that the Jaycees hold an Armistice Day Dance.
Following the suggestion of Harold Lewis, the Jaycees voted to have group singing at coming meetings and Volie Williams, Jr. was named as song leader. David Gatchel was appointed as membership chairman, following the resignation of James Fields from his office.

ARTHRITIS

H. K. Ring, D. C.
Arthritis is the name given to a inflammation of a joint. It may manifest itself in a number of different ways but fundamentally is concerned with inflammation of tissues of a joint. Joints capable of the greatest movement are more often involved.
Much of the pain and potential danger of this rather common condition may be eliminated under Chiropractic care. From the Chiropractor's viewpoint this condition is caused by an interference with the nerve impulse from the brain to the tissues of the joint. This nerve impulse travels from the brain via the spinal chord and from there to the tissues by nerves emitting from the cord.
The Chiropractor attempts to locate and relieve this interference and thereby allow the innate force of the body to repair the abnormal condition. Adv.

City Budget

Chamber of Commerce from $1,200 to $1,500.

The annual appropriation for the upkeep of the Zoo was increased from $6,730 to $7,870. An increase of $5,700 for improvements in street lighting and water supply was granted. The Library fund was increased from $4,680 to $5,230.

Due to the fact that the State cigarette tax refund amounting here to about $90,000 annually, required a drop in City taxes of $4,000 a year, the overall tax rate recently reduced from 21 mills to 17.4 mills. This includes a 3-mill operating tax from 11.5 to 8.5 mills, and the debt service millage from 9.5 mills to 9 mills.

Mr. Stämpfer this morning pointed out that he does not object to the expenditure of a reasonable amount on a new stadium or repairing of the old ball park facilities, and added that he likes to see the New York Giants farm club here.

"I can't see though why we should get a Cadillac when we can get along with a Ford," he added by way of illustration.

On the matter of some $23,000 of the $53,000 annual utility tax being pledged toward the stadium project for repayment of loans he said that this money is being taken away from operating expense and essential services.
