CITY ORDINARY FUND IS FACING $259,714 DEFICIT

Last Year's Expenses For Running City Government Show Deficit Of $191,708.17 With 1926 Balance Of $68,006.99

Auditors Give Three Reasons For Deficit

Study Of Appropriations And Expenditures Shows Interest Fund Overdrawn $96,649.84

Operating expenses of the City government during the past year show a deficit of $191,708.17 and added to this amount is a deficit of $68,006.92 from the year before making a total on July 31, 1927 of $259,714.99. These figures have been revealed by the audit which has been recently completed by the firm of Hall and Pentland.

The deficit has been classified under four heads as follows: Deficit added to Oct. 1, 1926 $ 68,006.92

Equipment purchased during year 58,844.82

Excess of expenses over revenue 128,896.59

Loss of deposits in closed banks 3,966.76

Total deficit $259,714.99

An explanation of the deficit is given by the auditors in their comments in which they say it may be attributed to three reasons. On this subject, the report says: In the first place, it may be stated that, owing to the fact that no separate accounting has heretofore been made for the ordinary fund, it was not known at the time of the preparation of the 1926-27 budget, that there was a deficit in prospect at the beginning of the fiscal year.

FRENCH LINER RAMSSTEAMER, SEVEN MISSING

Norwegian Ship Sinks Quickly After Collision Which Occurs Half Mile From Statue Of Liberty Early In Morning

36 Of Ship's Crew Saved By Ferryboat

Atlantic Liner Was Outward Bound When Small Steamer Suddenly Appeared In Path

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Seven persons are missing and are feared to have been drowned as the result of a collision in New York Harbor early today between the French liner Paris, seventh largest steamship in the world, and the Norwegian steamer Besseggen.

The collision occurred half a mile south of the Statue of Liberty. The Paris, outward bound for Cherbourg, struck the Besseggen amidships as the Norwegian vessel suddenly loomed across her bow.

Her port side cloven in two by the terrific impact, the Besseggen sank immediately.

Twenty-six members of the Besseggen crew were saved by lifeboats from the Paris and ferriesboats that answered the Paris' siren call for aid, the remaining seven, trapped in the stroke and engine holds, are believed to have lost their lives.

The crew of the Besseggen had no time to launch boats, and those who escaped did so by jumping from the deck of the vessel, a sugar freighter, as the doomed boat lurched over its side and settled in less than five minutes.

The Paris resumed her voyage three hours and a half following the crash.

The ferry boat, Brooklyn, south-bound from the Battery to St. George, was the first vessel to reach the scene. On the orders of the ferry boat captain, nearly all the members of the small crew were assigned to lifeboat duty, dropping boats over-side and searching the waters with little success.

Constance Talmadge Gets Divorce From Scotchman On Grounds Of Infidelity

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Constance Talmadge, American moving picture actress, today was granted a divorce from Captain Alistair William McIntosh on the grounds of infidelity. The decree is effective immediately.

Lord Justice Fleming, in handing down the decree, said he granted the divorce only after hesitation caused by the obscurity of the direct testimony. Eventually, he said, he drew the inference from circumstances that the acts alleged in the bill of complaint had actually taken place.

Robert Burkinshaw, a waiter at the Hotel Metropole, Brighton, had testified that on the 19th of June 1927 McIntosh accompanied by another man and a woman arrived at the hotel. He swore that McIntosh and the woman occupied a double room.

Shown a photograph of Constance Talmadge, the waiter declared she was not the woman that accompanied McIntosh.

Burkinshaw said that he took breakfast to the room in the morning and that McIntosh wearing pajamas opened the door. He swore that he heard a woman's voice speaking to McIntosh while he was at the door. Later, he said, he heard McIntosh and the woman both talking together in the apartment.

According to the testimony, McIntosh left the hotel soon after breakfast, leaving his woman companion.

Burkinshaw recalled that on the evening of June 19 he sent a cablegram for McIntosh addressed to an American airman who was planning a trans-Atlantic hop, making an appointment to meet him in Paris. The witness admitted that he never actually saw McIntosh and his woman companion together in a room.

Initial Supper Held In New Parish House; Rev. Glover Extends Privilege Of Use To Community Organizations

An unusually large attendance at the Holy Cross parish house last evening, marked the first meeting of the club in the new parish house. Over 75 members and their guests were present.

Supper was served by the Women's Guild of the church, following which the club held a short business session for the discussion of plans for the beautification of the grounds of the church and parish house. On account of the large number of visitors present, the matter was referred to a committee to be reported on at the next meeting.

MANY PRESENT FRENCHMEN FLY AT MEN'S CLUB FROM AFRICA TO OF HOLY CROSS SOUTH AMERICA

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 15.—(INS)—Dieudonne Costes and Lieutenant Le Brix, French aviators, arrived at Port Natal, Brazil, at 12:10 A. M. today, completing the flight from St. Louis, Senegal, from where they hopped off early yesterday.

When the fliers landed they completed the first flight made from the mainland of Africa to the mainland of South America. Costes disclosed in an interview with the International News that propeller trouble developed just off the mainland, and for a time he feared he would have to make a forced landing at sea. The propeller will require repairs which will take several days and delay the flight to Rio Janeiro.

GIRL FLIER AND PILOT LAND IN AZORE ISLANDS

Rescue Steamer Puts Them Ashore Today At Horta Where Pair Are Given Welcome

Fliers None The Worse For Mishap

Thrilling Flight Just Another Adventure To Pretty Aviatix

HORTA, THE AZORES, Oct. 15.—(INS)—"We are none the worse for the adventure and we are overwhelmed by the interest displayed in us," Ruth Elder, bronzed by sea winds and smiling cheerfully, made this statement today to the throng of officials who welcomed her immediately upon her arrival on the S. S. Barendrecht, which rescued Miss Elder and her pilot, George Haldeman, when their trans-Atlantic plane "American Girl" was forced down at sea by a falling oil line.

The thrilling flight and the fortunate rescue constituted just another adventure for the American girl, who has been an aviatrix for several years and experienced many of the perils of the air, and who seemed to be but little concerned over her new experience with the peril of the sea.

With a leather "wind-cheater" buttoned closely around her to protect her from a driving rain, and still wearing the plus fours in which she dressed herself in Garden City before the flight across the ocean started, Miss Elder stood on the deck and gave a description of the flight and the rescue which clearly indicated that she thought it was just more adventure.

"We had every hope of success until the derangement of the fuel pressure pump—two hours before we finally came down," Miss Elder explained. "I was so disappointed to express the disappointment which both she and Haldeman have because of their failure to reach European shores."

Miss Elder paid high tribute to Captain Gooch of the Barendrecht, who, she said, had apparently sighted the "American Girl" and, realizing it was in trouble, had hauled his ship to and stood by to rescue the fliers.

"We were aboard the Barendrecht 15 minutes after we hit the ocean," Miss Elder explained when asked about the thrills of the ocean rescue, and she seemed to accept it all as a matter of course, but she appeared considerably disappointed when she told of the destruction of her plane and its abandonment after it had landed.

The plane landed all right and was in good condition except for the broken oil feed pipe and a hot motor.

Sixteen of the doctors of the city have already promised their support," said Mrs. Fellows this afternoon, "and I am confident that they will all be lined up within the next few days."

The exchange will be located at 1600 Sanford Avenue. The telephone address will be announced later. Mrs. Fellows has been a resident of Sanford for a number of years and she has the support of many friends who hope for the success of the undertaking.

Sales Marked During Three Months

Mich., Oct. 15.—Buick's introduction of new July have shattered all Buick history, C. W. general sales manager of Motor Company, announced today. The July, August and September total this year is as compared with the same period in 1926.

average monthly increase of last three months, over corresponding period in 1926, to more than 4,000 cars, Churchill. "This represents an average increase of 1,000 cars, or considerably better than a day."

It is recalled that these sales figures, and not production totals, such as seems to us highly significant means that the instantaneous reception of the new was not just a flash in the pan but the forerunner of a demand for Buicks, all over the country, based on the performance as best the public's conception of a motor car.

NEW FIELDS RICH

Edie Creek, in New Guinea, become one of the richest gold fields in the world, was a prophecy made by T. Travers Black, a mining expert before the Legacy Club, prominent organization of Sidney W. Black, has just returned from having spent 11 months in New Guinea. Some of the prospect he said, had discovered at Edie Creek, lodes which contained unmeasured riches, and as much as 100 ounces, worth $10 an ounce, to be secured by mining 10 to 20 average yields running 10 to 100 ounces of gold daily, and modern engineering methods adopted in the field, which would be soon, the yields would be abnormally high.

Father Comes Into His Own In Film Coming On Tuesday

Though Mother has been the theme of many a great screen story, "Dad" has been comparatively neglected. He gets his inning, however, in Warner Bros. production of "What Happened to Father," directed by John G. Adolfi.

This delightful film at last brings the much slighted father of the family into his own. Warner Oland, who has won an enviable position on the screen as a character actor, is seen at the beginning of the picture in the guise of a rather absent-minded old fellow, of that carpet-slipper, alpaca-coat variety which is fast vanishing from all but the odd corners of the world.

Florence Fairbanks, William Demarest, Vera Lewis, John Miljan, Jean Lefferty are the other members of the all-star cast of "What Happened to Father," which comes to the Milane Theatre next Tuesday.

STILL AIDS WAIF

Although she sells fruit to pay her rent, and often has little funds, Mrs. Charlotte Amelia Cook, of Wilmington, the first child to be adopted by the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, of England, still is adopting waifs. She has never forgotten that the society saved her, when a little girl, from a jealous stepmother who had cruelly burned her with a red-hot poker. Although she has often not known where her next meal was coming from she has been taking waifs from the streets and adopting them. At one time she was caring for seven babes at once. She refuses all payment for her services to the tots, explaining that she did it as a labor of love to repay the debt she owed the society.

MASCOT SPREADING

Mascots which have made such a hit as automobile ornaments, are spreading to nearly all fields or ornament in England. They are made as jewelry, as "doggie" handbags, as tops for umbrella handles, and are taking their place alongside the gargyle or little god as decorations for the home. One of the most pleasing forms of the craze is the tiny brass knocker, not for the street door, but for the doors of the rooms. They are in the forms of an animal, a pixie or the Lincoln imp, and are not only attractive as decorations but because of their diminutive size give a pleasing "good morning" as the maids use them to arouse sleepers instead of pounding the panels with the knuckles.

MORE SCOPE FOR PRISON LABOR

Finance Minister Mitsuuchi of Japan has proposed to the government a plan for using the labor of prison inmates more extensively. The plan is to train the prisoners in a more systematic and practical way in factory and architectural work so that their services may be employed for the general manufacturing and construction purposes of the country. Experimental training so far given to some prisoners is so reassuring in results that several government institutions have been built by this prison labor.

"Underworld" Film Comes To Milane On Next Wednesday

Paramount, which has been doing some daring adventuring into untrammelled fields, has taken another step which marks a wholly new departure in motion picture production methods.

B. P. Schulberg, west coast executive, announces that in the making of "Underworld" Ben Hecht's remarkable story of gangster life, which reaches the Milane next Wednesday as one of the outstanding Paramount pictures of the year, there was not only a chief director of dramatic action, but what might be termed a "director of photographic effects" as well.

Josef von Sternberg, whose sensational production "The Salvation Hunters" introduced a new method of telling film stories and made him the most talked of individual in Hollywood, was assigned the first in pictures TASO I TO BARTY first post. Schulberg said, Bert Glennon, working under on Sternberg, was nominally the "director of photographic effects."

Von Sternberg has a unique genius for which there is a distinct place in motion pictures," Schulberg stated. "As a director, he stands alone. He and his sense of composition is so extraordinary that to be overwhelming in its results.

ARCTIC STILL UNSOLVED

Mysteries of the Arctic are still unsolved, declared Dr. R. N. Rudmose Brown, president of the geographical section of the British Association while speaking in London recently. He declared that existence of an Arctie continent is still based on circumstantial evidence, that Enderby Land, with more than 33,000 miles of hypothetical coast line, has never been searched for since Biscoe found it in 1831, and that no ship had even penetrated the western shores of the Weddell Sea. The prophesied that eventually the tide of white settlement will definitely set northward, even to the Arctic Seas.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

"I be merry," was the response of Mrs. Sophie Bird, of Loughborough, Ireland, when congratulated on her recent birthday, which was her 104th. "I am very comfortable and shall do my best to hold up for another birthday," she added smilingly. All day long there was a procession of well-wishers who were met with a cheerful word and a smile. Mrs. Bird arises at 9:30 o'clock every morning and retires at nine.

Florida Fliers' Escape

All Florida rejoices over the escape of Ruth Elder and George Haldeman. Fate was particularly kind to them, especially in view of the tragic endings of several other recently attempted flights across the vast expanse of water.

It was an experience that fliers rarely ever have and escape. It must have been the kind of experience that Nungesser and Goli and the other unfortunate fliers had and never lived to tell it.

The thrilling adventure should serve to emphasize more than ever the necessity for calling a halt to trans-Atlantic flying, for the present at least. The period of stormy weather, offers obstacles that should prohibit attempts at present to span the ocean in any kind of a flying machine.

Successful ocean flying of the future will be done in airplanes having two or three engines. Solo flights should be discouraged and only those trips made under most favorable circumstances and with the exercise of the utmost precautions, should be permitted.

Meeting The Employment Question

The Gainesville Sun in its editorial columns recently called attention to another of the numerous problems which face the business men of Florida today. It is a question of whether to employ local people or tourists.

The Sun writes as follows on the subject: "Florida is faced with an unemployment situation to a great extent, in that those who sold real estate during the boom have been endeavoring to get back into some other line of endeavor which will prove more permanent and lucrative.

"In answering the question of whether to employ the permanent resident or the casual visitor, the Florida employer should keep in mind that the man who has lived here for a number of years, and who has his family in this state, will be more likely to stay here than the worker who comes down for the winter months only.

"Therefore the ultimate problem presenting itself is a choice. The most satisfactory conclusion would seem to be to compare the individuals rather than their places of residence. If all other things be equal then the preference should be given to the home again. He must eat and obtain necessities of life, and he has a just claim to employment if his services and ability measures up to those of the outsider.

"Florida is essentially a tourist and agricultural state. It is therefore to be expected that the greatest field for employment is in agricultural pursuits. Our industries are fast developing, and more fields will be opened to the industrial worker who desires to come and live among us.

GIRLS MARRYING YOUNG ANNISTON STAR

Girls in the United States and other places may be turning down offers for marriages for careers, but not in England. Statistics compiled in Britain show that girls of Great Britain are marrying younger men than before the war, while on the other hand, men are waiting until a later age to choose their life partners.

Marriages of the "Spring and Winter" variety are becoming more common. It is revealed by figures on the average ages of brides and grooms. The average age of brides was formerly between 25 and 30 years. Now it is between 20 and 25.

The tendency of men now to wait until later in life to marry in other years may be explained by the high cost of living, encountered in post-war days. Maintenance of homes and providing wives with clothes and luxuries they demand are becoming expensive, perhaps causing men to hesitate about assuming the responsibilities of married life.

In the fact that men are delaying marriage may be found the explanation of the drop in the average age of the brides. Observing that the men are apparently hard to catch since they live single longer, girls probably are encouraged to greater activities in their campaigns to land husbands.

The older he grows, the wider becomes the gap between his age and that of the girls who attract him. The modern girls are also somewhat inclined to give preference to older men, having a feeling of superiority over boys of their age. This preference and the fact that men are supposed to become easier to subdue and lure into matrimony as they grow older may be combined as another possible contributing factor.

As Brisbane Sees It

Safe, Praise Heaven. When Mongols Come Riding. The Wise Ishimu. Only a girl. By Arthur Brisbane Copyright 1927 by Star Co.

RUTH ELDER, courageous young Florida girl, is safe on a ship that picked her out of the ocean. Ruth's mother, who prayed constantly while her daughter was flying and put the family Bible in the airship, weeps for joy. Other mothers are weeping with her.

THE NATION WILL hope that Ruth Elder and other girls will stay on the ground hereafter, or do their flying over land, and let men like Landbergh if there are any like him, do the ocean flying. Columbus' job was for a man and so is the job of ocean flying. The Greek philosopher jumping into the mouth of a volcano to attract attention was brave, but foolish.

IT is folly in anybody but a lion tamer to enter the lion's cage. PEKING, WHERE SLEEK mandarins live in silk gowns, shivers at news of 15,000 Mongolian horsemen approaching the capital. From Peking, west through Russia, Germany, down to the Pyrenees, populations have learned to fear the men with slanting eyes that murder as they came.

THOSE MONGOLIANS AND Tartars of whom Genghis Khan and Attila made conquering armies, are no longer dangerous to the civilized races that can easily dispose of them with poison gases and bombs from the air, as long as they ride to war on shaggy ponies.

BUT WHAT IF the airplane spreads through the world as Ford's car has spread, and Mongols and Tartars come traveling through the air? On that day prosperous Americans in their counting rooms will shiver with good reason, as the soft Mandarin shivers now in Peking. Dollars won't protect them.

PROFESSOR COLLINS of Smithsonian Institution says Eskimos leave their wives for five months, each year to make a good catch of seals certain. At the end of the five months the bladders of all seals captured during the year are thrown into the water to please the seal tribe.

SEPARATING FROM WOMEN for a part of each year is often the rule in many savage tribes. Many red Indians paid little attention to their wives except in spring. This gave the squaws the rest of the year to look after children, and was probably a relief. If the plan were tried in this country, making the husband's absence eleven months, instead of five the number of divorces might diminish. Men's minds are easily bored.

KING ALBERT OF Belgium, estimable gentleman, but, in the saying of the French, one who, "did not invent gunpowder," exclaimed, "only a girl," when he heard that his grandchild wasn't a boy. He wouldn't have said, "only a girl" had he known some of the real queens—Elizabeth, Marie, Theresa, Semiramis, and especially, that African queen, Tomyris, whose son was killed by King Cyrus, when she was foolishly got drunk on wines that Cyrus left as a trap.

TOMYRIS WHO HAD warned Cyrus not to hurt her son, caught her great king, chopped off his head, put it in a goat skin full of human blood, saying, "Now drink all you like." "Only a girl," does not describe her, or Bertha, mother of Charlemagne, Nancy Ramolino, the broad-chested mother of Napoleon, or Emma, who made Alexander the Great, "Which is your favorite mother in history?"

THE BREAKING POINT comes at different places in different individuals. Othello choked his lady because he was suspicious. She had done nothing. The Do Rimini hunchback murdered his brother and his wife because they made eyes at each other.

Things like that would not disturb Frank Cochet, of Chicago. When she put poison in his wine he only remonstrated with his wife, gently. When she tried to choke him he locked himself in his room and waited patiently. But when she killed his 30 canary birds, he sued for divorce.

MARCONI WILL BE welcomed in America as one of the world's great teachers and benefactors. He is one of many living proofs that ancient genius, inherited from the Romans, still exists and works in our day.

Consider the moth. He can do quietly and easily to last year's or even what a sweating 214-pound football player sometimes just can't do to the enemy line.

to the drift toward marriages of young girls easier to win when they finally make up their mind to go out and seek wives. Girls of the flapper age often can be more easily persuaded to marry than those of mature years.

Because the girls of today openly use all allurements possible to bring men to her feet the chances of her marrying are increased over the days when the young woman was forced to wait for a man to come along and woo her. This is probably the best explanation of why they are marrying earlier. It is not so easy to guess why men are putting off marriage until they are older.

BOX LUNCHEON GIVEN FOR LOCAL D. A. R. MEMBERS BY MRS. LEONARDI

Mrs. John Leonardi gave a delicious box luncheon at the Yacht Club to the Sallie Harrison Chapter of the N. S. D. A. R. Friday at 1 o'clock, honoring the past regents, Mrs. R. E. Tolar, Mrs. A. M. DeForest and Mrs. W. E. Watson. The daintily arranged boxes were tied with ribbons of white and blue. Fastened in each knot was a red rose. The color scheme of red was further carried out by large bowls of radiance roses which were gifts of Mrs. George G. Herring and Mrs. W. B. Ballard. Assisting Mrs. Leonardi in serving were: Mesdames John Meisch, Jr., William Holden, R. C. Phillips and the Misses Mell Whitner, Zoe Munson and Fannie Reba Munson.

Immediately following the luncheon Mrs. Leonardi, regent, called the meeting to order and presented Mrs. B. F. Plans for the coming year were discussed and Mrs. R. E. Tolar, chairman of the finance committee, announced that she would give a subscription card party on October 31 for the benefit of the Sallie Harrison Chapter.

Mrs. W. E. Watson read a paper written by Mrs. George D. Hart on the life of Caroline Scott Harrison, who was the wife of President Harrison and a lineal ancestor of Sallie Harrison, grandmother of Mrs. J. B. Starling, for whom this chapter is named. Caroline Scott Harrison was the founder of the National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

A rising vote of thanks was extended to John Leonardi who presented to the chapter its printed calendar booklets for the year 1927-28.

Stockholders Of Telephone Concern Now Total 422,000

On October 15, the American Telephone and Telegraph Company mailed quarterly dividend checks to 421,982 stockholders. This is the largest number to whom the corporation has ever paid a dividend and exceeds by 1,691 the number receiving checks for the preceding quarter.

There were no important changes during the quarter in the distribution of the stock. Only 4 percent is held by brokers, the balance being owned by investors throughout the country and including some 5,000 living in foreign countries.

The average number of shares held per stockholder is only 26. However, more than one half of the stockholders own 10 shares or less and more than three-fourths own 25 shares or less. The number of stockholders owning 5 shares or less exceeds the total number in any other American corporation. No stockholder owns as much as 1 per cent of the outstanding stock.

Mississippi Stages Comeback in Commerce

Tonnage being carried on the Father of Waters by the packet boats and large lines has increased so in the last few years that commerce is again almost as great as in the glorious '80s when the river was the chief carrier of the Mississippi valley. Here are pictured steamboats at the St. Louis levee, about to depart for points along the river from Keokuk, Ia., to New Orleans. Last year more than 1,000,000 tons of river freight moved through St. Louis alone.

Texan Tells How He Got Acquainted With the Good Work of Black-Draught as a Laxative.

Glennora, Texas.—"I had a sick spell when just fifteen years old," says Mr. George W. Maness, R.F.D. 2, this place. "Anyone who has had chills, like I had, is apt to remember them. I was a sick boy—just lay around the home, weak. My skin was yellow and I could hardly stand up. I had hard chills. "My father gave me quinine. Someone told him to give me Black-Draught with it. He brought some home, and they fixed it up like a tea. It wasn't very good, but I was so sick I would take anything. "After a few days, I began to feel better. I was hungry and could eat. I kept on taking the tea for awhile and I got well. I haven't had chills since. But I have taken a lot of Black-Draught since that time. It is a family medicine with me. "Where assistance is needed in the way of a laxative or cathartic, Theford's Black-Draught should be taken, as often as necessary, to open the bowels and put them in a healthy and normal state of activity. Try it; it a dose."

"LASSES" WHITE MINSTRELS ARE COMING TO CITY

Popular Road Show Scheduled To Appear At The Milane Theatre on October 26th

On October 26 at the Milane Theatre the acknowledged king of minstrelsy, "Lasses" White and his all Star aggregation of 40 burnt cork artists will make their eighth annual visit here. It is a very generally conceded fact that "Lasses," since becoming a star, has done more to restore minstrelsy to the popularity it enjoyed 10 or 15 years ago than has any other black face artist. He has an individuality that never fails to capture and hold his audience and his wholly original style is simply irresistible.

The aim of "Lasses" and that of his managers, Spaeth and Company when planning this season's program is said to have been, that while preserving the old time minstrel atmosphere, to at the same time introduce some novelties that would properly fit into the offering. Of the latter an example is said to be the first part which is called "See America First," all mirth and melody but presented in scenic environment and with electrical effects that mark it as both novel and exceptionally pretentious.

A radical departure in afterpieces is promised in "The Emancipation Bull Fight" which, as in the case of the first part, is a creation of the stars. The olio has a song and dance number, "The Blackville Union Station," that calls into action all the singers and dancers in the company while "Dixie Memories" serves to introduce the All Star Quartet of vocalists. Other numbers are popular "Bill" Doss, with a new monologue, "Fat" Wilds, Ukelele Champion of United States, "Jack" Bean celebrated Yodler and "Gene" Gerfald, female impersonator. With "Lasses" his fun makers are "Mobile" Ben McAtee, "Billy" Doss and "Fat" Wilds.

Maxwell Gordon and Grover Shepp, with alternate as interpreters and the usual array of humorists includes Leonard Perkins, a high tenor recruited from the ranks of Grand Opera, Carroll Franks, Bob Maupin, Eddie Allen, Myron Morris, "Jimmy" Cochran, America's foremost bass, Jack Bean and Edwin Thomas lyric tenor and the dancing corps has such exerts as Chet Wilson, Roy Frances, Emmett McAtee, Gene Holden, Eddie Lester, Joe Lee, Harry Best and Jack Hayes, dance instructor.

The All Star band and orchestra this season numbers twenty-two with the former under the leadership of William Swengo and the latter directed by Prof. John Amis.

GOLDMAN STILL ON

The famous Goldman band continues on the air with even more zest than heretofore. Its concerts are broadcast every Monday and Saturday evenings at 7:30 eastern time from both WEAF and WNYC, the New York municipal station.

Francis Wilson to Star on Eveready Hour as Rip Van Winkle.

FRANCIS WILSON AS "RIP"

FRANCIS WILSON will be the guest artist on The Eveready Hour to be broadcast over the WEAF chain this Tuesday evening, October 18, at 9 o'clock, Eastern standard time.

Mr. Wilson will repeat the excerpt from "Rip Van Winkle," which proved the outstanding hit of his highly successful radio appearance on the Eveready Hour in September of last year. At that time the great actor's contribution to radio entertainment was hailed as one of the biggest successes recorded over the air since the inception of broadcasting.

In addition to the redoubtable "Rip," Mr. Wilson will enact a portion of his characterization of the equally redoubtable "Bob" Acres from Sheridan's "The Rivals," and excerpts from his own play, "The Bachelor's Baby," which ran for three years on the road.

The Eveready Revellers and the other members of The Eveready Group, including the Eveready Orchestra, with Nathaniel Shilkret conducting, and Virginia Rea as soprano soloist, will participate in the program. The orchestra will play among other selections music from "Erminia," one of the plays in which Mr. Wilson starred.

LAW FOR LAYMEN

Prof. David Stewart Edgar, of St. John's College School of Law, has begun a series of talks on "Law for the Laymen," from station WGBS, New York. Other members of the faculty will continue the series every Tuesday evening at 8 eastern time.

SYMPHONY FOR SUMMER

Woodwinds, strings and brass make up the 15-piece orchestra, under the direction of Hugo Mariani, that is broadcasting a summer series of symphony concerts every Sunday night, at 9:30 eastern time, over the WJZ network.

Norma Talmadge Is Hilarity Provokes Bobbed Camille In Emotion In Latest Monday's Picture Langdon Picture

Norma Talmadge in the title role of her unique, modern version of "Camille," the famous romance of Alexandre Dumas the younger, is the treat in store for the patrons of the Milane Theatre on Monday.

The story of the screen "Camille," while following closely the theme and spirit of the classical romance, is visualized in settings of the present day. The "Lady of the Camellias," most celebrated of all the Parisian demi-mondaines, is interpreted by Miss Talmadge as a captivating, brilliantly gowned, bobbed-haired heartbreaker of the present generation.

Desiring to make "Camille" one of the outstanding triumphs in Norma's career, Joseph M. Schenck, who produced the picture for First National release, recruited notable cast for the modern picturization of the Dumas classic, and assigned Fred Niblo as director.

Gilbert Roland, a young Spanish actor who recently was placed under a long-term contract by the schenck organization, appears as "Armand," the impetuous young lover of "Camille." Lilyan Tashman and Rose Dione have important roles as "Olympie" and "Prudence," respectively. Portraying the various wealthy and titled admirers of the "Lady of the Camellias," Harvel Clark is cast as "The Baron" and Alec Francis as "The Duke." Other supporting players are Helen Jerome Eddy, Albert Conti, Michael Viseroff, Evelyn Selbie and Eta Lee.

Picture At Milane On Next Saturday Has Heart Throbs

A procession, pitifully small, moving down the single meandering street of a rude settlement in the Kentucky mountains, forms a part of the affecting screen drama, "Judgment of the Hills," which comes to the Milane Theatre on next Saturday. The townspeople are on their way to the railway station to extend a welcome to a hero returning from the war.

But the "hero" upset all their calculations, and the mountaineers returned to their homes, shocked and disappointed. The "hero" had run true to form! "Judgment of the Hills" tells an absorbing story of the southern mountaineers and is said to be one of the most powerfully moving screen stories seen this year.

Good Day Programs Have Been Assured By Large Stations

NEW YORK, Oct. 15—Radio's future lies in the development of as great broadcasting features during the entire day as are now being presented in the evenings.

This statement comes from George F. McClelland, vice president and general manager of the National Broadcasting Company, operator of the WEAF, WJZ and KGO networks of broadcasters. McClelland gives four reasons for asserting that broadcasting will have to make a daytime job of it, in fact one of 16 hours daily. These are:

1. There are 21,000,000 women in the country who remain at home most of the time and who are eager for musical, educational and informative features the radio can bring.

2. There are 25,000,000 school children in the United States, the majority of whom are still waiting an organized plan of service that will bring radio to the classroom.

3. There are millions of night workers whose only time for entertainment is by day, and for whom radio can bring increased pleasures and instruction.

4. There are the many radio stores which want first class radio programs during the day, so that prospective buyers of radio receivers may be convinced of the value of radio.

"Figures Don't Lie" Has Working Girl Playing Lead Role

Some years ago a little golden haired girl, her dream of being a great dancer shattered, started to prepare herself to be a private secretary. Today, that same girl, a famous movie picture star, is taking the role of a private secretary in a production by Paramount, "Figures Don't Lie," which will be seen at the Milane next Friday.

Eather Ralston is the name of that blonde girl who takes on the screen the part she almost had to take in life. Eather Ralston never wanted to be a private secretary. Her ambition has always been to be a great actress. But on two different occasions fate ruled otherwise. The first occasion was when the tiny five-year-old girl met with an accident while performing as an acrobat with her father's troupe. The hospital and then school followed that accident. The second occasion was a few years later when real success as a dancer seemed far away.

It was then that a private secretary's career was considered for the girl who dreamed of being a great actress. She started for school in Washington, D. C., to prepare for that career when fate took another hand in the game. The Ralstons moved to California and once again hope flamed high in the heart of the girl who had never relinquished her ambition to become famous through the big public. A new avenue to her in Hollywood immediately set about "into" moving pictures. This just a few years ago.
