Gladys George Has Title Role In Stirring Film

A motion picture to stir the hearts of old and young alike comes to the Ritz screen Tuesday and Wednesday with the presentation of "Madame X" with Gladys George in the memorable title role and a featured cast of artists which includes John Beal in the role of the son and Warren William as the father. Based on the play by Alexandre Dumas, with a fresh screen treatment by John Meehan who adapted such Norma Shearer hits as "The Divorcee" and "A Free Soul," the new picture emerges as a classic of all time, its heart-stirring story of a woman's degradation and ultimate sacrifice to save the name of her son completely modernized in its narrative and the psychological treatment of its characters.

The title role of "Madame X" is no stranger to Gladys George who made it one of the greatest successes in stock previous to her sensational Broadway hit in "Personal Appearance" and her subsequent triumph on the screen in "Valiant" and "The Word for Carris" and "They Were Him a Guy."

John Beal, who played opposite Katherine in "Little Minnie" now appears in his most difficult and most dramatic part as the son who, not recognizing his mother, is forced to defend her in a melodramatic charge. Warren William comes to his new role fresh from his recent hit with Jeanette MacDonald in "The Firefly" and others who have important parts in the new production include Reginald Owen, William Henry, Henry Daniell, Phillip Reed, Lynne Carter and Emma Dunn.

The direction of "Madame X" was entrusted to the veteran Wood, who has established himself as one of Hollywood's foremost directors in both motion picture and comedy. Having recently won laurels for his masterful direction of "The Sign of the Cross" and "The Sign of the Cross," Wood's direction of "Madame X" is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

MANY LAUGHS IN "DOUBLE WEDDING"

Double stars... double romance... double laughs... that's the combination offered in "Double Wedding," new William Powell-Myrna Loy comedy at the Ritz Theater Sunday and Monday. The hilarious roman's comedy of an itinerant artist and a fashionable modiste is crammed with laughs and grand entertainment for the whole family.

Bill Powell And Myrna Loy In New Romantic Comedy

A side-splitting laugh treat is in store for moviegoers who attend the opening at the Ritz Theater this week for the attraction playing there Sunday and Monday will be "Double Wedding," contriving those perennial favorites, William Powell and Myrna Loy, in what is described as a picture even funnier than their famous "Thin Man" series.

Based on the continental stage success, "Great Love" by Fernand Noizet, the new romantic comedy tells the story of four people—Charlie, a penniless but happy-go-lucky artist who makes his home in a trailer; Margit, owner of a fashionable New York gown shop; Irene, her sister with yearnings to be a movie star; and Waldo, Irene's half-hearted suitor.

It is Margit's determination that her sister should marry the somewhat unromantic Waldo, but instead Irene meets the devil-may-care artist and falls completely under his spell. The dignified Margit enlists all the persuasion she can command to break up the affair between Irene and the artist, only in the end to fall a victim to his adaptable charms herself.

It is Powell, of course, who plays the highest artist. Usually seen in a heret and smooch, although once making his appearance in nothing more than a pair of pajamas and a comical coat, he has a role which gives him ample opportunity for the sly comedy and wit which has made him celebrated as one of the funniest actors in pictures.

Miss Loy is equally at ease in the part of the gown shop proprietor whose dignity and pride gradually crumbles before the barrage of mirth fired by Powell. Her new role gives her a chance to wear a stunning assortment of gowns, designed by Adria and heralding the latest in fashion innovations.

In the other two leading roles are Myrna Loy as Miss Loy's movie-struck sister, and John Beal as her misbegotten suitor. Beal who recently scored in the dramatic role of son in "Madame X" now shows what he can do with strictly comedy portrayal.

CO-STARS IN "MADAME X"

Gladys George and Warren William come to the Ritz Theater Thursday and Friday in "Madame X," which is said to be an amazingly dramatic film filled with heart-stirring tenderness. John Beal, Reginald Owen and William Henry top the list of the supporting cast.

George O'Brien Plays Lead In Film Featuring Adventure And Romance

Thrilling adventure dealing with the boat, just leaving for Honolulu, and later to combat the smugglers, who pick up the yacht party following a storm and shipwreck, make an exciting story. George O'Brien's latest starring picture, "Windjammer," at the Ritz Saturday.

One of the most spectacular scenes in "Windjammer" brings O'Brien and William Hall, who enacts the leader of the smugglers, together in a terrific fight in the hold of the ship, an old four-masted schooner, loaded with munitions. The climax of the scene sees the boat set after by oil lanterns, blown to matches by an explosion.

Constance Worth, beautiful young blonde Australian, succeeds the task of serving a multi-national fleet with a ship's supplies. "Windjammer" is a picture of adventure and romance, and is a very interesting and well-told story.

Exciting Sweethearts Of The Screen Are Co-Starred In "Second Honeymoon"

Acclaimed by increasing numbers of fans with each new picture as the most exciting sweethearts of the screen, Tyrone Power and Loretta Young are co-starred again in Twentieth Century-Fox's "Second Honeymoon," coming Thursday to the Ritz Theater. Already hailed as the merriest, "marry-out" romance of the year, the film is said to be their perfect picture together. Their love is never again, but this time they mean it with all their hearts.

Love at first sight is romantic enough, Tyrone and Loretta agree, but love at second sight—MMM! They fall for each other twice in this gay hit. After "Loretta" under a thrilling "Honey Moon" and this "Honeymoon," to find they have fallen in love all over again.

Having left Tyrone because he was mad, irresponsible and gave her no sense of security, Loretta finds the words him back for the same reason. But a honeymoon renewed is not so easily accomplished as a honeymoon "ended," especially when Loretta's second husband is considered. Played by Lyle Talbot, he is a common garden-variety of spouse out-bloomed by the hardy perennial that is Tyrone's and Loretta's love.

There are others, also, who have a say in the matter. There is Stuart Erwin, who is crazy about pretty Marjorie Weaver and, as a conscientious gentleman's gentleman, wants his wife, Loretta, to come into a similar state of mind. Then there is Chester Tracy and J. Edward Broderick, a sophisticated couple, carelessly throwing interesting bits of wisecracks into the conversation.

Japanese Regret "Terrible Mistake" In Sinking Gunboat Belonging To United States

Christmas Spirit Pervades Sanford Survey Discloses

Stores Of Local Merchants Are Decorated For Christmas

A festive spirit pervades the downtown section of Sanford as local merchants decorate their store windows and interiors in preparation for the annual influx of Yuletide shoppers. From one end of First Street to the other, Christmas decorations have either been arranged or are in the process of taking form, and on every hand there are the familiar signs that Santa Claus will soon be here.

As one walks along the main business artery of Sanford, eastward from the Roussell and Anderson Drug Store, by Ivey's Shoe Store, Yorell's and West's, the casual observer will be vastly impressed with the efforts made to dress up for old Saint Nicholas.

On the other side of the street, across a block from the Roussell and Anderson Drug Store, the Yonkers Drug Co. has decorated its display with the holiday scene, while further down First Street, the Florida Pharmacy, the Florida Power and Light Co., Lacey's Book Store, and Sedgwick's have all decorated in the spirit of Christmas by generous use of colored crepe paper, tinsel and other ornaments.

In the next block the Hill Hardware Co. has an extensive window display featuring the many lines this firm handles and attractively arranged in the Yuletide motif. Across the street, the Sanford Furniture Co. is decorated in yards and yards of colored streamers. Further along Tule & Mathews, the Seminole Creamery, Home's and Mow's have dressed up their windows with attractive decorations.

Along Magnolia Avenue, the Scott Caraway window stands out as an example of decorative skill, emphasizing the holiday spirit. The note of Christmas is evident at Mathews with a large display of toys displayed while Sally's Baby Shop goes in strong for a winter atmosphere reveal for doors and windows illustrating the work of Jack Frost.

Colman's, Randall Electric Co., Berman and the Sanford Electric Co. are gay with crepe paper, tinsel and imitation Christmas trees, and this same motif is carried out by the Magnolia Pharmacy and by Stanley Rogers over on Sanford Avenue.

All in all, Sanford presents a festive appearance and the influx of shoppers on the streets are sure indication that the efforts of merchants to make their stores attractive have not been without avail.

One American Seaman Is Killed, 18 Are Injured In Attack On Yangtze River Boat

Vigorous Protest Is Made By Hull

President Says Action Will Be Determined On Patriotic Basis

SHANGHAI, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Tuesday the British gunboat Bee reported early today she had rescued eight Americans, seven of them seamen from the United States gunboat Panay, sunk in the Yangtze River above Nanking by Japanese warplanes Sunday. These rescues brought to 81 the known survivors among the 72 persons believed to have been aboard the Panay when she was bombed. The report from the Bee further said it was understood the two other Americans—not included in the 81—were safe ashore. One seaman died of wounds. Fifty-four were known to be ashore at Hsienan about 35 miles upriver from Nanking. 15 of them wounded, some gravely. At Washington, Japanese Ambassador Hiroshi Arima called on Secretary Hull to express his government's "deep regret" over the bombing.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 13.—(AP)—The Japanese Navy tonight accepted full blame for the warplane bombardment and sinking of the United States gunboat Panay, and two Standard Oil Company ships and avowed "profoundest regret" for the "terrible mistake."

It was believed the Panay was hit late Sunday and that she went down almost immediately. The last direct radio from the ship were heard at 1:30 P. M. Sunday, when she was in contact with the U. S. gunboat Lason. The operator on the Panay stopped sending in the middle of a sentence, and it was feared then the Panay had been hit.

United States officials in Shanghai attempted throughout the night to get in touch with the Panay, and were not gravely worried until 10 A. M. when the first reports the ship had been sunk came in.

The U. S. State Department received reports in Washington that the following 15 American nationals were in Nanking on December 7 and some of them may have been on the Panay.

Cecilian Music Club Has Varied Program

An interesting and varied program was presented by the Cecilian Music Club on Saturday afternoon when the annual practice of bell numbers preceded the coming Yuletide season. Included piano and string selections. Mirambe numbers were given by Rosemary and Marjorie June Burdick with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Burdick. Mrs. Munson told a few things on bells.

"No one knows how old bells are—the Bible tells us of bells worn on the horns of ruminants of Jewish High Priests."

"At the present day we still have the door bell, phone, school and dinner-bell, bell and bell heard in alarm the bicycle bell, the bank safety deposit vault, the locomotive bell."

"Bells summon to worship. When I came to Sanford every church rang for services. Where are now those bells? . . . Bells once tolled for funerals, rang happily for weddings."

"In some services bells play important part. The song used only at most supreme moments. We would not omit the vesper evening bell rung wherever there may be such bells to ring. A good catholic will immediately patas in his duty, say a prayer, certainly a beautiful custom."

"At one time only foreign countries had chimes and carillon. Today America has many beautiful chimes and carillon, including the Bok Tower at Lake Wales, Florida."

"Bells in Revolutionary Days helped preserve the nation. Paul Revere in his famous rides from town to town warned the people through the ringing of bells."

Mrs. Amelia Noble told "most interesting stories of the Liberty Bell, which, despite its historic crack, she said, is America's most loved bell."

The following music selections were given:

1. Evening Star—Wagner—Liszt
2. Peggy Motter
3. Fairy Waltz—Strauss
4. Catherine Clark
5. General Dumb Bell—Polka

Mrs. Sloat Visits Local Rebekah Lodge

One of the outstanding meetings of the Seminole Rebekah Lodge Number Forty Three was held in the Odd Fellow's Hall on Friday evening, the occasion being the official visit of Mrs. Lilyan B. Sloat of Orlando, president of Rebekah State Assembly.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of cut flowers, fern and potted plants.

Mrs. Sloat was introduced and given a hearty welcome by those present after which she was escorted to the seat of honor.

The business of the meeting included election of officers the following being elected to serve for the ensuing year:

Noble grand—Mrs. Mae Rubow
Vice grand—Mrs. Matilda Jones
Secretary—Mrs. D. C. Howard
Treasurer—Mrs. G. E. McKay

Mrs. Sloat gave an inspiring address after which Mrs. McKay, a close friend of Mrs. Sloat, in behalf of the Seminole Rebekah Lodge presented her a gift as a token of love and appreciation for which she thanked the Lodge in a charming manner.

Guests present were from Orlando, Kissimmee, Ft. Myers, and St. Cloud and included Mrs. Anderson, past president, Mrs. Elsie Tabner, marshal, Mrs. Ruth Kenney, district deputy president, Mrs. Mamie Bordwell, past district deputy president.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed.

Judge Bert Fish Is Guest Of Honor At Sanford Luncheon

stated, is the chief geographical attribute of the country, and is primarily responsible for the rich agricultural production. From the Nile the entire country is irrigated by means of canals, without which the country would be limited to one crop a year, but with them is capable of producing three fine crops annually.

Other crops with which Egypt abounds were listed as rice, sugarcane, sorghum, melons, wheat, barley, beans, flax, clover and maize. There are about 1.2 million acres under cultivation in Egypt, Judge Fish stated. There are approximately 15,000,000 persons residing in Egypt and the Greeks compose the largest part of the foreign population. There are only about 200 Americans there, he said.

Further discussing the Nile River, Judge Fish said that its source lies some 4000 miles from its mouth, being the second longest river in the world and having its source in the wet equatorial regions of Central Africa. The Nile basin, he added, covers about a million square kilometers, or about 2-10 the area of Europe.

Discussing the religion of the Egyptians, Judge Fish said that about 11 million of them are moslems, a million Copts, and that only about 300,000 profess other faiths. It does not get as cold in Egypt in winter as Sanford, Judge Fish added, and in the summer, Cairo, its largest city, and also the largest city in all Africa, becomes much warmer.

After outlining the extensive judicial system under which the Egyptians operate, Judge Fish outlined briefly a typical day at the U. S. ministry which he characterized as one of the largest in the Near East. In summer he said the legation moves to Alexandria to avoid the heat in Cairo.

In concluding his address, Judge Fish declared that only when one has lived abroad can he fully appreciate the pleasures and benefits of his own country. He called attention to the fact that two-thirds of his family, of which there are only three left, have lived in Sanford for a quarter of a century, and expressed his appreciation for the kindness which has always been shown him here.

Witnesses Say Jarrell Ran 'Cuba' Lottery

Nearly Score Of Witnesses Called By State In Effort To Convict Jarrell

Lees' Sales Were $100 Per Week

Lees Also Testified Jarrell Employed Forty-Six Salesmen

Nearly a score of witnesses were called by the state this morning to testify in the lottery trial of Joseph Jarrell recently indicted by the Seminole County Grand Jury for conducting a lottery known as "Cuba" in Seminole County.

Among the most important witnesses were Bud Sauls, a former employee of The Arrow, First Street beer parlor owned and operated by Mr. Jarrell, and Andrew Lees, both of whom testified they had sold "Cuba" tickets, the proceeds of which were turned over to Mr. Jarrell who in turn paid off the winners through them.

Mr. Lees also testified that Mr. Jarrell had 46 salesmen, of whom Mr. Lees was one, working in Seminole County and that his own sales averaged $100 a week.

Gov. Cone Tells Flog Prosecutor To Do His Duty

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Governor Cone wrote, State Attorney Rex Parker, at Tampa, "I am glad to do my duty in the prosecution of the shoe-maker bootlegger trial at Barlow."

The Governor wrote he would not relieve Parrior of the prosecution nor replace Judge Robert T. Devel of Barlow of the Polk County criminal court as presiding judge nor ask the supreme court to clarify its opinion on case.

Parrior had written the Governor and Attorney General Cary D. Landis that he could not continue as prosecutor unless the legal situation was clarified.

Governor Cone declined to make public the text of his letter to Parrior but said it contained his assignment to the case. "I wrote him that I was going to do with telling the courts what kind of decisions they should make," Cone told reporters. "I changed judges everytime they gave a ruling I didn't like. I'd be changing them all the time."

Salvation Army Receives Numerous Appeals For Food

The vast majority of the appeals which come to the Salvation Army are for food, according to Capt. Fred R. Fera, who explained this morning that more than 75 percent of the money contributed to the Emergency Stocking Fund will be devoted to the purchase of food for Christmas baskets.

Only a relatively insignificant part of the fund can be utilized for toys and similar gifts for children, the Salvation Army leader said, and in no case will more than 15 or 25 cents be spent or toys for any one child, because of the far greater demand this year for food.

There will be no duplication of donations by various charity organizations to the poor, he said, because the Seminole County Welfare Board acts as a clearing house for such operations.

Local Merchants Form Group To Protect Credit

Efforts to overcome unfavorable credit conditions which have been prevailing locally for some time, got underway with the formation Saturday of what is known as the Merchant's Co-operative Credit Board, it was announced yesterday by D. K. McNab, secretary of the new organization.

All in all, the merchants' association, G. E. Stone, president, explained, the purpose of the board is to set up a credit system under which the local organization will operate. It was pointed out at this meeting that the credit system has become so important in their accounts with local merchants as to constitute a serious credit situation.

Under the Stone Co-operative System, as explained by Mr. McNab, the Merchant's Co-operative Credit Board will send out two notices to persons who are behind in their bills, notifying them of the amount of their bills and requesting payment. The second and final notice will contain a warning that if the bill is not paid promptly, the association will be notified.

Under this system a person who does not pay his bills with one merchant, will be unable to secure credit with another, it was explained, since all merchants will be advised of the names of all persons who do not pay their bills, and no merchant will be willing to credit a person who has a large and long overdue account on the books of some other merchant.

"It is not the intention to work any hardship on any person who is honestly trying to meet his obligations," Mr. McNab explained, "but we are trying to find some way to protect the merchants against persons who deliberately buy things they have no intention of paying for."

Senior Regular Army Instructor Visits Here

Colonel H. P. Cross, of St. Augustine, Senior Regular Army Instructor of the Florida National Guard, made his regular quarterly inspection at the Sanford post of the Florida National Guard yesterday accompanied by Mrs. Cross, local National Guard officials reported today.

Colonel Cross expressed himself as well pleased with the progress in training made by the three local units. Company D, commanded by Captain H. C. Washburn; Headquarters Company 1st Battalion, commanded by Lieut. George A. DeCotton, and the Regimental Medical Detachment, commanded by Maj. Arthur W. Knox. He also complimented the local officers on the appearance of the Army building and grounds.

Colonel and Mrs. Cross were guests at the Mayfield Hotel while in the city and were shown around Monday night of local, Col. and Mr. Joseph C. Hutchison, of their home in Indian Head Village.

WPA Project Re-Paving Of Celery Avenue Okayed By City

Improvement Costing $8,500 Provides For Widening And Construction Of Fill

A WPA project which contemplates improvement to the lower section of French Avenue between Commercial Avenue and the Lake Shore Boulevard, was given the approval of the City Commissioners in the regular meeting in the City Hall last night, and City Engineer Fred T. Williams was instructed to submit the project to officials of the Works Progress Administration for their approval.

The City's contribution to the project which calls for an expenditure of over $8,500 is slightly over $3,000. According to Mr. Williams the project calls for the widening of the street to 24 feet and constructing a fill at the lower end so that the grade of the street will be more nearly that of the State highway.

The Commissioners also authorized the installation of colored lights from Park Avenue to Oak Avenue and from Magnolia Avenue to Sanford Avenue on First Street, also at the intersection of Magnolia Avenue and Second Street. The flag pole at the lower end of Park Avenue will also be decorated with two strings of the colored lights throughout the Christmas season.

Papworth Shows Need For Revision Of Tax Structure

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 14.—(AP)—Mr. Papworth, a prominent citizen of Sanford, gave a specific illustration of the need for revising the state's tax structure in a letter to the Florida Tax Revision League released here yesterday.

Mr. Papworth used the M. F. Robinson estate, which he manages as a concrete illustration. The text of Mr. Papworth's letter is quoted below:

"This estate owns an orange grove at Orange City, Volusia County. It was frozen down during December 1934 and we lost the entire crop. Since then we have been putting out money to try and bring the property back to a paying basis. Understand we have not received a cent in return since 1933. Now note the way we have been assessed:

"1934 we paid the assessed taxes amounting to $112.22.
"1935 we paid the assessed taxes amounting to $123.22.
"1936 we paid the assessed taxes amounting to $123.75.
"This year if you please we are assessed $202.18."

"The assessor knows there is no chance for any return from this property for the next two or three years, yet we have no redress or compensation."
"In commenting the Tax Revision League said: "This, in our opinion, is a clear illustration of the inequality and thoroughly degrading effect of our antiquated and vicious tax system."

Japs Meet Major Demands Of U.S.; British Interested

John Bull And United States Working In Close Co-Operation In Present Crisis

SHANGHAI, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Fifty-two survivors of the bombed United States gunboat Panay today made their way from an inland refuge back toward the Yangtze River carrying their two dead and eight seriously wounded.

Awaiting their arrival from Hasaban some 20 miles inland the United States gunboat Oahu, the British gunboat Bee, three Japanese warships and a Japanese airplane stood by at Hsienan to aid the injured.

Two known dead in the Japanese bombardment Sunday of the Panay and three other American vessels were: Charles E. Kaminberg of Ocean Beach, Calif., and Sandro Sandri, an Italian newspaperman, who sought refuge on board the vessel.

Available information of the attack which endangered 70 foreigners mostly Americans was that two were dead, eight seriously wounded, two slightly wounded, and 11 foreigners and 21 Chinese were missing and probably a total of 66 saved.

LONDON, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Great Britain and the United States worked in close concert last night in the grave Far Eastern situation growing out of Japanese attacks on gunboats of both nations on the Yangtze River of the lower Yangtze.

Members of the House of Commons cheered Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's statement that British ships had fired on Japanese planes after they had been bombed and shelled.

Eden told Commons the British ambassador to Tokyo had "made the strongest protests" to Japan for the shelling of the British gunboat Ladybird at Wuhu, up the Yangtze from Nanking.

Eden conferred with both Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and Herchel V. Johnson, the United States charge d'affaires, before making his cautious statement to Commons that the two Anglo-American powers were "in consultation" on the serious international developments in Japan's undeclared war with China.

The British foreign office was understood to be watching American public reaction to the Panay sinking for its possible effect in changing United States policy in the Far East.

Eden told Commons today "the seriousness of these incidents needs no emphasis" and asked members not to seek any further statement from the government because of "the grave issues involved."

Members of Parliament, however, immediately began to ask questions on the strength of Britain's base at Hongkong. Defense Minister Sir Thomas Inskip replied to discuss the matter.

Tom Williams, Laborite, asked Eden how any Japanese explanation could be recalled "when they say first it was an accident and secondly there were instructions to fire on every ship."

Eden replied, "that in just one of the questions in which I had rather not give a reply."

Huge Fires Blaze In Nanking After Falling To Japs

Troops Continue Past City In Pursuit Of Retreating Chinese

SHANGHAI, Dec. 14.—(AP)—Great fires blazed in fallen Nanking tonight as the Japanese army relentlessly pursued its punitive mission deep into China routed on past the conquered capital, Japanese aviators reported flames raging through what had only a few weeks ago been the proud seat of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's government.

Fragmentary reports filtering in over the disrupted communications indicated the actual fighting had ended within the walls of Nanking, and Japanese troops without slackening their offensive campaign were carrying their operations far afield.

The official Japanese announcement said the fall of Nanking came after an intense attack in which the army in cooperation with aerial flares maintained relentless onslaughts from the ground and the sky throughout the day.

The announcement said the Chinese defenders were driven northward through the city as the Japanese advanced from the southern and eastern positions. It said that the Chinese had bitterly contested every foot of the territory, but that the invaders had taken numerous government buildings which had housed military stores and weapons.

Japanese warships were reported attacking up the Yangtze and exchanging fire with Chinese batteries several miles below Nanking.

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Chamber building tonight at 7:30 o'clock, T. K. Hutcheon, president, announced today.

The Mid-Florida Osteopathic Society will meet with the Tampa Osteopathic Society on Dec. 16, at 8:00 P. M. in the Y. W. C. A. Building, Tampa. Dr. Henry Tele of New Orleans will be the guest speaker.

The regular dinner of the Sanford Shriner will be held in the Vesper Hotel Thursday night at 7:00 o'clock, local lodge officials announced today and urged all members of the organization to be present.

The election of officers for the coming year will be held at the regular convention of the Monroe Chapter No. 15 R. A. M. in the Masonic Hall tonight at 7:30 o'clock, D. R. E. Starr, High Priest, announced today.

The regular weekly meeting of the Sanford Lions Club scheduled for Wednesday night has been dispensed with on account of the benefit football game they are sponsoring between the St. Mary's Celtics and the Sanford Blackcats, J. J. Galloway, secretary, announced today.

Tokio Note Expresses Regret, Promises Indemnification And Future Carefulness

Nippon Wastes No Time In Replying Assures Steps To Prevent Recurrence Already Set In Motion

By Associated Press
Further exchanges today marked the progress of diplomatic representations growing out of the Panay incident. Japan met the major demands of President Roosevelt on the sinking of the United States gunboat before they were presented formally.

The Japanese note expressed regret, promised indemnification, and stated measures had already been taken to prevent the recurrence of the incident.

At Washington the State Department announced the American government had sent a formal note protesting the bombing. The demands were the same as those set forth by the President.

In Tokyo Japan today delivered a formal note to the American Embassy which met in principle the major points of President Roosevelt's demands for satisfaction for the sinking of the United States gunboat Panay.

Foreign Minister Koki Hirota had bitterly contested every foot of the territory, but that the invaders had taken numerous government buildings which had housed military stores and weapons.

1. Expressed apologies and regrets.
2. Promised indemnification.
3. Promised measures "to prevent a recurrence of the incident" already had been taken.
