MAN WAS KILLED AT DELAND SEVERAL WEEKS AGO

(By The Associated Press)
DELAND, March 7.—Acting on information which authorities said was furnished by the Ku Klux Klan Mrs. Alice Shields was arrested today at St. Cloud on a warrant charging her with the murder of her husband, Wm. Shields, 60 years old, who supposedly was shot from ambush near here the night of February 6th. Peter Smith, a negro, in jail here as a suspect since the killing and the woman in a statement to officials charges the negro with the actual killing. The couple were enroute to their poultry farm several miles from town the night of the killing. The woman told the authorities the car was stopped by obstruction in the road and when her husband alighted to remove it someone killed him with a shotgun. She was uninjured but apparently suffering from shock and was brought to the hospital here.

300 Tramps Invade New Orleans on One Only Freight Train

NEW ORLEANS, March 7.—Traveling in true hobo style, 300 tramps and hobos arriving here on a single freight train from Texas points were guests of New Orleans last night, some of them being entertained at police station and others visiting points of interest about town. Yesterday's arrivals were a vanguard of another 300 headed toward the city, according to some of the men arrested. The tramps were traveling 40 in a car and alighted from the train all the way from the city limits to the railroad yards, according to the police. Their stay in the city will be brief, police told them in their official welcome and offered all of them accommodations at the police stations and parish prisons. Jail sentences and hard work on Texas roads, as penalties for vagrancy and loitering, was the reason for their emigration, the men are said to have told the police.

Coite Hill and C. G. Brown, prominent business men of Orlando, were in the city today. They have many friends here who are always glad to see them.

The Rotary Club had a fine meeting today at noon at the Valdez Hotel with visitors present from Daytona, Orlando and Wilson, N. C.

REPUBLICANS HAVE FAILED TO KEEP FAITH WITH THE VOTERS OF AMERICA

(From the Florida Metropolis)

The Jacksonville Metropolis interviewed the Florida delegation as to their views of the accomplishment of the present congress and the following replies were received:

Senator Trammell Says Whatever Was Done "We Democrats Did It"

ORLANDO, March 7.—In the fall of 1920 in campaigning in Ohio for the national Democratic ticket everywhere I spoke I found a sweeping tide of sentiment for a change in the administration. No one could give a concrete reason for the desire for the change but it seemed a change they must have.

Seven years and more of the greatest prosperity ever enjoyed by our people, the success of the nation in the greatest war of history counted for naught, in comparison with the world progress made by the Republican candidates. The change came and for one year now we have witnessed the inability and the failure of the Republican administration to successfully meet and solve the many public problems confronting the country. The American people are disappointed. They are rapidly losing faith in the present administration.

Even our Republican friends see the clouds gathering and realize that in the elections of this year the Democrats are going to make great gains. The Republican administration forces have within one year accomplished practically nothing for the general good of the people of the nation. Never before has there been such widespread financial and industrial de-pressions. Yet our Republican friends have afforded no relief they have failed to measure up to the situation.

Whatever has been accomplished worth mentioning has been brought about by the Democrats and the progressive Republicans. These forces brought about the farmers' relief measures.

The large reduction in the appropriations for the army and the navy and the reviving of the appropriation for federal aid for good roads. The Republicans promised to go after the profiteers. They have gone after him by reducing his taxes about four hundred million dollars a year. They promised to reduce taxes they made practically no reduction on small incomes but reduced on large incomes in a gross amount of six hundred million dollars annually.

The promised new tariff law yet sleeps in the committee. The promise to the ex-service men has been brushed aside. No relief has been afforded our people from excessive freight and passenger rates. No steps have been taken to check the profiteers.

No real economy has been inaugurated except as forced by the Democrats, joined by a few Republicans. To use the language of the streets, the present national administration has "Fallen Down on the Job."

STORMS SWEEP STATES OF GEORGIA AND S. CAROLINA MANY REPORTED KILLED

BRYAN URGES ALL DEMOCRATS TO HURRY UP

SAYS IT IS UNWISE FOR DEMOCRATS TO PROLONG DEBATE.

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 7.—It will be unwise for the Democrats to prolong the debate over the armament conference treaties in the senate because "every day's debate will tend to divert attention from the economic issue" in the coming congressional campaign, while the Democrats will be placed in the position of opposing "any steps towards peace," William Jennings Bryan declared in a statement here last night.

"The sooner these treaties are disposed of the better," Mr. Bryan declared. "I do not mean to say that no reservations should be adopted. Any reservation that any Democrat wants to propose should be proposed and acted upon but there should be no unnecessary delay. We denounced the Republicans for delaying the action on the treaty of Versailles. Why should we bring condemnation upon ourselves by delaying action upon these treaties especially when by doing so we divert attention from the economic question which must be paramount in the fall campaign?"

Mr. Bryan declared that the Democratic party had a splendid prospect of "gaining the next congress" which would "enable us to lay the foundations for a winning campaign in 1924." As might have been expected, he added, the weakest point in this administration is its economic policy. "This was to have been expected," he explained, "because the Republican party is made up of two distinct groups—the reactionaries who control the leadership, and the progressives who furnish the bulk of the votes."

The revenue bill, enacted at the last session, Mr. Bryan described as "bad," adding that it "ought to be the leading issue in the West because it was the Western Republicans who revolted against Republican leadership" when the bill was drawn.

The four power Pacific treaty, he contended, was "based upon the thirty treaties negotiated by the late administration" and when the Democrats vote for this treaty, he added, "they are simply approving their own policy which the Republicans have adopted."

Endorse President's Plan for Assisting U. S. Merchant Fleet

Fletcher Tells Body Subsidy Has Never Built a Fleet

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 6.—Resolutions approving the policy of the administration for aiding the nation's merchant marine were adopted Saturday by the National Merchant Marine Association and presented to President Harding by the delegates who attended the association's annual convention which was brought to a close by the election of officers and the adoption of a program in the interest of shipping generally.

Commissioner Chamberlain of the shipping board, addressing the convention deplored what he termed "foreign interference" with American shipping. Senator Fletcher, of Florida, another speaker, commenting on the subsidy provision of the bill before congress, declared that "ship subsidy never in all history had built up a great merchant marine," and J. Howard Pew, president of the Sun Oil Company, made a plea in the interest of the oil tanker in discussing the petroleum industry and its relation to a merchant marine.

MEMBER THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Look out, bootleggers. Col. L. G. Nutt and his force of prohibition agents are coming to Florida. They intend to clean up the state or drink it up.

The Four Power Treaty will have no obligations or entangling alliances says Senator New. It will be some treaty, then, the likes of which have never been seen under sea or on land.

Headlines in papers say the Stars and Stripes are flying over Armenia. This probably means another drive and more contributions. We would advise the Stars and Stripes to hold back a little while until we can take care of those at home.

The Florida delegation in congress says the Republicans have not kept the faith and not only have they broken faith with the party and with themselves but they have accomplished nothing, have kept none of their promises and are a bunch of "pooh-bahs," just like that.

Lloyd George will get in forty-eight hours. Well, Lloyd, old chap, that is "Rawther quick work" for an Englishman at that. And whichever way the blooming cat jumps we are with you and they will go a long way before they get another one just as good as you.

Good for the Langhorne Sisters. They are Mrs. Chas. Dana Gibson and Lady Astor now but they are still real Southern women and believe in helping the girls of the South. They are heading a subscription list to give awards to 100 Southern girls in the way of free scholarships. The Langhornes of old Virginia are true to the soil from which they sprang. We need more of them.

The State Agricultural Statistician of California says it is impossible to estimate the damage to the citrus crop the recent freeze out there produced but that it is a big damage. He also estimates that about 20,000 boxes of California oranges are available and this will be all for this season. If this is the case Florida oranges should bring good prices this year and next year and there should be no holding back on the fruit crop in this state. Bring on all the oranges you can for next season. They will bring the price.

The Herald believes that if the city of Sanford could get a supply of pure soft water of the Elder Springs type that the future of this city would be assured. As to whether there is sufficient flow at Elder Springs or not remains to be seen but it is certainly worth investigating. This water by actual test is 99.98% pure chemically which is pure enough for all intents and purposes and this analysis was made without any filtration of any sort. If there is sufficient supply of this water for the city of Sanford a large reservoir could be constructed and the water filtered before going to the consumers and Sanford would undoubtedly have the purest water that could be found anywhere.

Judge C. B. Parkhill, of Tampa, State Attorney for this circuit, will be a candidate for governor in the campaign before the 1924 primary, according to announcement made in The Pensacola Journal a few days ago.

Another well-known citizen who has aspirations in that direction is Col. Chas. H. Spencer, of Tampa and Seffner, Judge Parkhill and Col. Spencer are most highly esteemed by hosts of friends throughout the state. Both of them are so well known, and probably have views and ambitions so near alike, that the electorate will look for some sort of an arrangement whereby one of them can be governor from 1924 to and through 1928 and the other from 1928 to and through 1932.—Plant City Courier.

OUR GREAT CELERY CROP

More than a half million dollars have already come back to Sanford growers this season for their celery and the crop is about half gone. This is something for the calamity howlers who are decrying the advantages of Florida to think about. Florida sand may be a great gag for the jokesmith back north to tag jokes about but the cold hard facts are something that cannot be juggled and if any section of any other part of the United States can make as good a showing this season or any other season as Sanford section we will give up the ghost and stop talking. TWELVE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-ONE CARS OF CELERY have already been shipped from the Sanford section. Count 350 crates to the car and the price at an average of $2 per crate one can easily figure up what the Sanford celery crop is doing and about half of the crop has already been shipped. Florida shipped 6 cars Saturday and California shipped 2 which shows that Florida has nothing to fear from the shipments in California this year as their crop is almost exhausted now and will not enter into competition with Florida. All this state needs to do in the celery line is to watch the thermometer, ship only good stuff and keep it well distributed and success will crown the efforts of the Florida growers.

THE WATER ROUTE AND THE RAILROADS

River and canal sailors in another generation may be as common in our country as railroad men.

The transportation problem is getting tangled into such a snarled knot that chances are the United States will have to follow older countries and develop a great connected system of inland waterways.

The ship, as a competitor of the box car, might work wonders at making the railroads furnish good service cheaply.

There is talk now, for instance, of a Great Lakes-to-Ocean waterway to enable ocean ships to travel as far inland as Chicago and Duluth via the St. Lawrence river.

Scores of similar projects will be proposed within the next 20 years. Many of them will be built.

Our country has 28,000 miles of potentially navigable rivers. Only 2,000 miles of these have been sufficiently improved to make them dependable for navigation.

Time was, when river traffic had the field to itself. As in other countries, our civilization in spreading inward from the coasts followed the rivers.

Then came the railroads. Following the civil war, a period of great railroad expansion threw many bustling river towns into eclipse.

The rivers are coming to life again. Uncle Sam at present is improving 192 harbors, 204 rivers and 83 canals and other waterways.

Government expenditures on these projects in the fiscal year 1921 totaled more than $57,000,000.

The water-borne commerce of the United States totaled 369,269,926 tons in 1920, the latest year for which complete figures have been gathered. Of this 111,139,686 tons were handled on the Great Lakes and 43,187,893 tons on rivers and canals.

Roughly, 31 tons of freight were handled on the Great Lakes, rivers and canals for each 74 tons of exports and imports by ocean routes.

It is an enormous foundation on which to build a mighty freight traffic on inland waterways.—Dayton News.

PAY YOUR OBLIGATIONS.

"How's business?" "Business is looking up, but collections are rotten."

This conversation is heard nowadays wherever business men meet. It is the language of the street, but it is expressive for everyone knows what it means. It means that every firm having accounts to collect is having trouble getting the cash.

The credit business all over the country has grown to such an extent that any person with a reputation for integrity and stability can open accounts with merchants and others in his home town at least. Credit is a convenience to the customer and if not abused is advantageous to the business house extending the courtesy. Credit is based upon confidence—the belief that most people are honest.

UNCLE HANK

A man isn't necessarily worshipful his wife when he kneels before her to button her shoes.

More than that it is based upon the belief that the majority of men and women will not only pay their debts but will pay them promptly.

It is a fact, of course, that there are many people, formerly prompt in meeting their obligations who are now compelled to ask an extension of credit. But there are many who are taking advantage of the situation—customers well able to pay their bills who are letting their accounts run from month to month. Thus the retail merchants burden grows heavier. He, in turn, must either borrow money or ask the indulgence of those he owes.

The buying public is crying for lower prices. The merchant will be better able to meet the demand if he can collect for merchandise already delivered. And if the individual pays his account, the merchant, the business man, the manufacturer will be able to pass the money on to where it belongs.

It is one of the ways to normalcy.—Florida Post.

BRING HER TO SANFORD.

John Ringling had one of his fine yachts here this winter and promised to come back next winter if we had a suitable boat basin and other accommodations for him. All of these improvements will be made if the bond issue goes through as the bonds carry an appropriation for a fine boat basin and other lake from improvements.

Sunday's issue of the Times-Union contains an illustration and description of a magnificent power houseboat now being built for John Ringling by the Consolidated Ship-building corporation at Morris Heights, N. Y. The boat will be 125 feet in length, 21 feet 3 inches beam and will draw when fully loaded 4 feet three inches. The hull will be of steel, and the boat will be very seaworthy. It will have a speed of 13 to 14 miles an hour. The owners' and guests' quarters will consist of four large and two smaller staterooms and five bathrooms, and the boat is to be equipped with every convenience.

Mr. Ringling, who has a beautiful estate at Sarasota, where he spends his winters, has the proper idea of getting all the pleasure possible out of life in Florida. He has lost several fine boats in storms, and one was recently destroyed by fire; but having tasted of the delights of cruising in these waters, he is evidently determined to enjoy this health-giving sport to the fullest degree.

BUILD UP THE VACANT PLACES.

Sanford has many vacant lots in the business portions and the residence sections of the city that should be built up as soon as the owners can get money enough to swing the deal. We hear so much about the large buildings that will be erected that we get tired looking toward the sky line to see if they have been started. There was never a growing city that needed houses and store rooms as badly as Sanford. He have lost at least one hundred good families this winter because we did not have homes for them and there are twelve or more business firms waiting for better store rooms now and they will take them as soon as some real up-to-date store rooms are built. Palatka and other cities have the same kick and the Palatka News sums it up as follows: "All over the state home building program are being urged, and there is great activity in many Florida towns in this direction such as has never been seen before. There is much need for a similar program in Palatka. There is in process of formation a building and loan association to aid wage earners to build and own their own homes, but unless there is a disposition on the part of some of the large landowners in Palatka it will be extremely difficult to make the program a success.

The tax books show large quantities of vacant property in the city, unimproved lots on which no house has stood in years, if ever. Real estate men declare that the holders of this property, in many instances, refuse to set any price upon it, nor will they consider erection of dwellings on them. In many instances the owners are not residents of Palatka, but are content to swing onto their property with a low assessment for taxes against it until such time as all other property owners around them have made improvements and enhanced the value of their property.

"We can imagine no more reasonable proposition for the tax assessor than to put a full value assessment against this property that it may pay its proportionate part of the cost of city government and improvements at the same time it is enjoying the benefits which will bring about enhancement in values."

WHY BOYS LEAVE HOME

A judge trying a boy in a Western court for some delinquency, called the father into court and questioned him severely and closely as to his relationship with his son, and concerning the boy's life. It was found that the boy had three good regular meals at home, a bed to sleep in, and was given good clothes, and ample spending money, BUT:

"(1) In the previous six months he had not been at any place in the evenings with his boy, not to a concert, a hockey game or anything of that sort.

"(2) He had not any definite knowledge of where the boy had been spending his evenings. (3) There had never been a social evening arranged in the home for the boy or his friends."

The editor of a Missouri paper was driving his car one night recently along a quiet highway when his spot light fell on a parked darkened automobile in which sat a boy with a girl in his arms. "Where in hell's her folks?" cried the Missouri editor to the man beside him: "And where in hell's his folks?" demanded the man beside him.

Carelessness of where the boy goes, and ignorance of where the boy goes, means bitter regret and self condemnation—when it is too late! That father who had not been anywhere with his son in six months, whose knowledge of that son's evening whereabouts was represented by zero, whose social home program had not on it one evening for the boy and his friends, doubtless was filled with righteous indignation that a son of his should have been haled into court for wrong doing. The "Folks" of that girl snuggled in the arms of a boy in a darkened auto by the roadside, doubtless to day refuse to believe the story told by the indignant Missouri editor in his paper could have any application in their home.

But, the boys and the girls of the age are going wrong because there is nowhere else for them to go.

"Children obey your parents," is preached and scolded by pastor and parent; but never a word of that companion text, "And ye parents provoke not your children to wrath!" "Honor thy father and thy mother," is dinned into the young mind from dawn to twilight; but, "Whoso shall offend one of these little ones it were better for him that a millstone were tied about his neck and he cast into the depths of the sea," is never heard of!

We have long believed if Father David had been more companionable with and affectionate to his handsome son King David would not later have been urged to cry out from his heart: "Would God I had died for thee, O Absalom, my son, my son."

"Where in hell's my folks?" That's just the question that is in the heart, the bitter heart, of the boy and girl of today.—Tampa Tribune.

KRAUT MAKING TIME.

One of the large truck growers near Orlando said to a Reporter-Star representative that he has five or six car loads of cabbage in the fields that he would be glad to sell at two cents per pound but there is no buyer for it because freight rates are so high that even at that low price shippers can not put it into northern markets at a profit. Knowing that cabbage is selling in the north at from 8 to 12 cents we see what per cent of the cost of our products goes into the pockets of transportation companies. Perhaps Mr. Dillon, president of the Associated Railway Executives will answer this by saying that people have learned that cabbage is not essential to the daily bill of fare and are therefore not eating as much cabbage as of yore, which accounts for the slump in the price. These railway executives have a clever way of getting away from ugly facts that stare them in the face.

For Florida, the remedy is snuer kraut factories. Hundreds of cars of snuer kraut are shipped into Florida annually from the west that could as well be made right here in the state. Thousands of tons of cabbage rots in the fields each spring. If a factory was located in each large cabbage producing area, this surplus would be absorbed in a very profitable manner would all be consumed in a home market. These factories are inexpensive and no skilled labor required except in the foremanship and general management.

Gradually people are awakening to the fact that big packers and railroad companies have the country organized on a false basis of distribution that is entirely too costly to the general public. Having made this discovery, the next step is to take action that will relieve the situation.

Secretary Hoover in commenting on the excessive freight rates and the part they play in retarding business, said that this is the beginning of the end of large industrial centers. Distribution costs will be reduced by locating factories near the source of supply of raw materials and thus cutting transportation charges to the delivery of the finished product. This is the one lesson that Florida should learn quickly and profit thereby.—Reporter-Star.

HONESTY IGNORED.

A mail pouch containing $100,000 was stolen in San Francisco. The bandit who stole it killed a post office clerk in the hold-up, and subsequently killed himself. The money was missing. Frederick Groves found the pouch under an ash can in a vacant lot. He might have kept the loot and lived on it for the rest of his life. He handed the bag over to the post office authorities with all its contents intact. And he was thanked publicly.

That was good as far as it went, but Groves needed a job. He has been out of work for some time. He has made the rounds of various federal and municipal offices, business houses and charitable organizations, but according to the San Francisco Bulletin, nobody has any work for him.

Here's a queer state of affairs. Surely, if a man stealing a fortune should be punished, a man honest enough to restore a stolen fortune to its public custodian and its owners should be rewarded. It is a defect of our social system, as Edward Bellamy pointed out long ago, that while we penalize crime and vice we take virtue for granted.—St. Augustine Record.

THE TIDE TURNS.

The turn of the tide has come. There is no doubt about it. The signs are so clear that they cannot be mistaken by those who lay aside their memories, prejudices and own personal conceptions and survey the facts as they are.

Before business itself improves, feeling must improve. It is the simple truth that the feeling in this country, north and south, east and west, is vastly improved. There has come the settled conviction that it is going to be a much better year.

Before orders come, there must be the inquiries. The inquiries are coming and already in steadily increasing volume. And many of these inquiries are already being translated into orders.

The tide has turned—there is no doubt about it. Times are ready going to get better this year, and that right along. In the south, where agriculture is still the greatest source of income, the folks are not even "going to wait on the next crop." They're going to get busy right now. There are reserves in the south—of money, of courage and of enterprise—that have not yet been touched. The magic call of improved business conditions is bringing this money and this human energy into action.

How vastly important psychology is! Thus January was a month of improved feeling and of improved business, and all this in the face of a cotton market which fell a cent or so during the month. The folks have just simply determined to go ahead and work and pull out; "business" has made a mighty resolve to function; and both these resolutions will be—and are being—carried out.

Take fresh heart, and get to work.—Industrial Index.

Five cameras, fifty mechanics and several hundreds extras were used in taking scenes for "Boomerang Bill," a Paramount picture featuring Lionel Barrymore, at the Manhattan Casino in New York City. "Boomerang Bill" will be shown at the Star Theatre to-day.

The story required the taking of scenes in a dance hall where Boomerang Bill has a fight and meets the girl with whom he subsequently falls in love. Instead of building a dance hall setting in the Cosmopolitan studio, the casino was leased so that there would be no sign of artificiality about the scene. Those supporting Mr. Barrymore are: Marguerite Marsh, Margaret Seddon, Frank Shannon and Matthew Betts.

CON MEN WORK OTHERS IN THE OLD FLIM GAME

THIRD MAN IDENTIFIES STINSON AS ONE OF GANG WHICH OBTAINED $3,000 FROM HIM

ORLANDO, March 7.—Another link in the chain of evidence against Har- rison Stinson, one of the six alleged con- science men arrested recently at Mo- bile in connection with swindles said to have been perpetrated in Orlando since January 1, was revealed today by the announcement by Postoffice Inspector H. G. Sutterfield that a man had identified Stinson as one of several who victimized him in Okla. early this season.

The gang got $3,000 from him, ac- cording to Inspector Sutterfield's in- formation, whose name was withheld at the time being in order that con- siderates of the suspected con men should not molest him. He will go to mobile tomorrow to appear against Stinson at a preliminary hearing on March 9th.

The newest victim of Stinson, alias J. Hankins, is a tourist, Sutterfield said, and lives in Ohio. The same like stock market game which Stin- son and his partners are declared to have worked on Barney Knapko and J. Cohen, while in Orlando, was used to get the tourists' money it is claim- ed.

The witness, who is expected to give important testimony when the government commences prosecution of the six men in the event they are held after preliminary hearing in Mo- bile, March 9, identified Stinson from a picture in the possession of Inspec- tor Sutterfield. He said Stinson had operated under the name of Cousins while in Okla, where the $3,000 haul was made. He could not identify any others of the sextette now under ar- rest, and it is believed Stinson was working with a different set of con- federates before he came to Orlando.

A winter visitor from Kentucky named Wilson also identified Stinson and another member of the group, whose photographs have been received by authorities here, as two men who attempted to work the "pocket- book" game on him on the shores of Lake Eola during the same week that the Knapko swindle is alleged to have taken place.

Radcliffe Chautauqua Opened at Monroe on Saturday Afternoon

Fine Program Has Been Featured and Will Close Tonight

LAKE MONROE, March 6.—(Spec- ial).—The Radcliffe Chautauqua opened its splendid program Saturday af- ternoon at Lake Monroe. Miss Lucile Corbett, the Junior worker, and one of the very best upon the road, who had been with the school three days preceding, opened the program with a short performance by the school chil- dren. Miss Corbett also gave a short talk upon Stories for Young and Old and a demonstration of organized play.

Mr. Swift, the Chautauqua director, then opened the real Chautauqua pro- gram. The Pago Trio upon the pla- no, mando-viols and xylophone, held the audiences closest attention as they executed some rare music with an originality and technique possible only to the artist. Miss Andrews, the pianist, also gave very entertain- ing readings and Miss Hoskins charmed us with her sweet soprano voice.

J. William Terry, a widely known lecturer, writer and traveler, was then introduced and delivered the lecture, "Making the Dream Come True." His words were strong and inspirational and taught a great lesson.

In the evening Mr. Terry again en- tertained with his great lecture "The Spirit of the Colonists" and filled his words with simple home-like thoughts and suggestions that always go straight to the heart of the listener. He told the story of the bold adven- turers of early days, of those who forced their way westward, answered "the call of the wild," and wrote their name with their blood across this country of ours, comparing them to the present day adventurer who is up and doing and achieving better and greater things each day. He taught us how to get poetry from our every day life, change the common place to the beautiful, live so that our hearts will keep forever young.

The Pago Trio again entertained in a most delightful manner, closing the program for the evening.

Sunday afternoon a big union ser- vice was held in the auditorium of the school, Mr. Swift, the Chautauqua di- rector, conducting the services and speaking upon the broad subject: "God." A great crowd attended and were enthusiastic over the big lesson sent home by Mr. Swift.

This afternoon and evening the Swiss Alpine Yodlers entertain, also Mr. Swift delivers his lectures, "The Storm" in the afternoon and "The Spirit of the Patriot" in the evening.

Great Industrial Improvement Shown For This Month

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Fore- cast of great industrial improvement in the month of March was made yes- terday by the United States Em- ployment Bureau, in connection with its monthly report on employment conditions in the United States.

"Reports from 231 of the principal industrial centers with but few ex- ceptions show a general improvement in employment conditions, Director Jones of the service announced, 'And breathe an enthusiastic spirit of hope and confidence in the future. Weather permitting, March will begin an era of great activity.'

Employment conditions showed practically no alteration during Feb- ruary, according to bureau studies, one-half of one per cent more men being on reported payrolls at the month's end than at its beginning. Only the textile and paper industries evidenced increased unemployment, and this was more than made up by additions to working forces in nearly all other lines.

Of sixty-five centers from which statistics are gathered by the department forty-four showed small percentage increase in employment while twenty-one including Manches- ter, N. H., a textile center with a payroll decrease of 66.3 per cent, re- ported fewer men on payrolls. New York city reported an increase in em- ployment of 1.9 per cent, while Chi- cago had a decrease of one-half of one per cent.

Lumber and lumber products mills in North and South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, reported a net decrease in the month of 252 among their em- ployees, while eighty-five fertilizer factories showed a gain of 634. Pay- roll figures in the textile industry al- so showed a slight increase but the prevailing sentiment was said to be "uncertain as to future conditions."

Employment reports from Virginia, the report said, "continued to show reductions throughout the state." Textile mills reported a small decrease in the number of employees as com- pared with the previous month as did Virginia coal mines.

In Georgia the textile outlook was described as "unfavorable," and em- ployment generally "shows little change over last month." Fertilizer plants, however, were declared to be entering the season of greatest ac- tivity and probably would increase their payrolls for several months to come.

North Carolina's situation was apparently a duplicate of that obtained in her sister states; textiles and lum- ber plants showed small changes and fifteen fertilizer factories reported ad- dition of 590 workers to their rolls. Reports from individual towns indi- cated the surplus of labor was chiefly to be found in the "floating" type, "but Winston-Salem and Wilmington recorded an oversupply in some skilled lines."

Florida recorded unemployment in skilled and unskilled labor connected with phosphate mines and "floating labor" but a spirit of optimism was declared to be evidenced throughout the state.

BEGIN PROBE LOBBY OF INSURANCE TRUST

JACKSON, Miss., March 6.—Hearing will begin today by the special committee of the house of Missis- sippi legislature appointed recently to investigate charges made by Gov. Leo M. Russell, in a special message to both branches, that fire insurance companies who withdrew from the state a year ago, when anti-trust pro- ceedings were instituted against them had fostered the $100,000 damage suit brought against him by Miss Francis Birkhead, his former stenographer al- leging seduction.

Among other matters to be taken up by the committee include further charges made by the governor that the same companies were maintain- ing a lobby in Jackson to influence friendly legislation.

The committee yesterday informed the governor that he would be per- mitted to have a personal representative present at the hearings but stated that he would not be allowed to ques- tion witnesses.

Lane Addition Will Be Sold at Auction Sale

NEW SUBDIVISION BORDERING ON SANFORD-ORLANDO ROAD WILL GO QUICKLY

Sanford's real estate activities con- tinue to increase, according to local dealers, all of whom report an in- crease in business.

One of the newest developments in Lane's Addition, located on the Or- lando boulevard, which has been sub- divided and will shortly be sold at auction. There are 35 beautiful resi- dence lots in the subdivision, which has been staked off, and a force of workmen are now engaged in clearing off all the undergrowth and opening up cross streets.

Mr. Lane states that he considers the placing of this property on the market will mean much to that sec- tion of the city, as new residences will be constructed. When seen by our reporter, he stated:

"We have sold a number of lots in Lane's Addition, and felt that it would add to the value of those al- ready sold to put the entire property on sale at auction, and thus find quick purchasers who will become neighbors to those who will build houses on their lots. We have se- cured the services of the U. S. Realty Auction Co., of Knoxville, Tenn., and St. Petersburg, Fla., to conduct the sale. The auctioneer will be McLean of Knoxville. The U. S. People are members of the National Board of Realtors, and have conducted some of the largest auction sales of the country. One of their recent sales was the famous Wm. G. McAdoo resi- dence in St. Petersburg, which was sold only last week for a substantial price. The auction way of selling property, is growing in favor with buyers, as it enables them to name their own price instead of having to pay a valuation fixed by some one else."

Mr. Lane stated further that the exact date of this sale had not been decided upon, but it would be about the 17th of this month—just as soon as the improvements are completed—and the date will be announced in a few days.

BIG DEVELOPMENT PLANNED IN EAST ORANGE COUNTY

The eyes of Orange county develop- ers are turned to the East, and es- pecially toward that part of the East that will be bisected by the new East Coast road.

One of the big companies that has secured holding in that area and have the lid on waiting for the big day to dawn, is the East Orange Land Com- pany.

This company was incorporated about six weeks ago for $180,000 with a little garden patch of twelve thou- sand acres accredited to it. And there are some choice Orange county boosters in the company, and these boosters figure they have a tract of land that will make settlers sit up and take notice when wheels com- mence to spin thru it on hard roads, which are now in process of build- ing.

Judge J. M. Cheney is president of the company; M. M. Smith is vice president; and C. P. Dickson, sec- retary-treasurer. J. E. Turner is also in the list, which includes also the names of Thomas Hopkins, Dr. C. D. Christ, W. M. Igon, of Lake county; Arthur Schultz, F. E. Baxter, J. C. Lettice and R. D. Barze.

Mr. Turner discussing today the company's activity, said an active ef- fort is being made to sell stock in the enterprise, but not an acre of land was being sold.

The land, Mr. Turner asserted, is located in both Orange and Seminole counties, and will lie directly on the East Coast road from Orlando, as well as being bisected by the road from Sanford through Oviedo and to the coast.—Reporter-Star.

FIRST CAR LOAD POTATOES BRING $12 PER BARREL

J. E. Boaz, of the Boaz Potato company, received a telegram from one of his brokers in New York today A. E. Meyer and company, announc- ing that the first carload of Florida- grown potatoes had arrived there and had been sold for $12 per barrel for No. 1a. No. 2a brought $10 per bar- rel.

The message to Mr. Boaz did not state where the potatoes were grown, but it is known that they came from somewhere in south Florida, and that the price indicates that Hastings po- tatoes, which are well established in the market, will bring a higher price. The Hastings crop will not begin to move until after March 20. It was stated several days ago that the first digging would begin in the Hastings district on the twentieth.

Growers who had begun to worry about the warm wet weather, feel very much encouraged now that cool- er weather arrived in time to prevent any serious trouble from blight. Many had already started spraying their crops as a preventative mea- sure.—Palatka News.

WHAT IS A TEA HOUND?

(By The Associated Press) JACKSONVILLE, March 7.—While the definition of a "flapper" is occu- pying a prominent place in the nation- al forum, the question of just what constitutes a "tea hound" has come to the front among some of the aged in- eligibles here.

It's mostly a neighborhood discus- sion, which arose when a 15-year-old miss returned home crying one after- noon from the younger set rendez- vous at the soda fountain. Inconstant man—this time, as reflected in the younger generation, was at the bot- tom of her troubles.

"Why, I made that man what he is," the little miss wailed; "When he came to me he didn't know how to act with a sweetheart. I made him a tea- hound and now he's thrown me down." The neighbors to whom she tear- fully related her story thought her conduct scandalous—and so did the parents if sounds emanating from the ordinarily serene home meant anything.

International Contest Between Polo Teams at West Palm Beach, Fla.

Will Be One of Attractions of American Legion Meeting

WEST PALM BEACH, March 6.—An international contest between teams representing England and America for the championship of the world in auto polo will be here March 15, 16 and 17th, during the state convention of the American Legion and annual Sun Dance. Auto polo is the newest and most exciting sport of the continent just now and a real thriller. Several of the world's ablest players will participate.

The American team will be headed by "Bill" Endicott, a dare-devil on wheels. They are now playing at Miami Beach. The English team now playing at Havana, Cuba, will be here within two or three days. A large purse and several fine cups will be awarded the winning team, and the contest is for the best two out of three days' scoring covering stated periods of play.

Auto polo is regarded by those generally who have been fortunate enough to witness it, as a thrilling climax of modern achievements, a tornado sport of modern times, that would make the ancient Romans blush in comparison with these spectacular and death-defying feats. Time after time machines crash, a wheel or axle is broken, or a player injured, whereupon other machines or men are immediately replaced without a moment's delay. In fact this great sport is said to be "too fast for the movies" and too expensive for any save the rich to enjoy. But it is being brought here at thousands of dollars of expense as one of the premier attractions of the annual Sun Dance and American Legion convention because thousands who are coming here expect diversion and the unusual entertainments.

That pre-eminent place which Barney Oldfield occupied on the race track or motor-dromes, "Bill" Endicott, head of the American team, enjoys in equal distinction in auto polo, a more fascinating form of sport, with countless thrills and breathless suspense.

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, March 6.—Government revenues collected during January—the first month of operating of the revised tax law—showed a decrease in receipts of nearly $65,000,000 compared with January 1921, according to reports compiled last night by the internal revenue bureau.

Receipts during January aggregated $131,000,000 against $191,000,000 for the same month last year, the major shrinkage being in the income and profit taxes, which declined from $87,000,000 to $44,000,000.

Collections under the national prohibition act increased nearly $50,000, receipts for January aggregating $214,000 compared with $164,000 in January, 1921. The advance of accounted for by an increase of $144,000 in taxes on grape brandy used in fortifying sweet wines, all the other items showing decreases.

Tobacco increased about $492,000. The total for January from this source aggregating $20,433,000 against $19,941,000 last year. The increase comes mainly from chewing and smoking tobacco, receipts from cigars and cigarettes showing decreases.

Senator Fletcher Says Failure Can Be Written

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—A year ago the Republican party went into full power over all branches of the government. Two years before that they had a majority in the house and senate, which they greatly increased in the election of 1920.

The people who wanted a change got it full and complete. Pretense and deception were the chief factors and they have played their part ever since.

The results are no reduction of extortionate taxes, no tariff revision, no reorganization of departments promoting economy, no reduction in expenditures, no restoration of prosperity, our foreign trade is greatly reduced, domestic trade is below normal. Agriculture, the basic industry, has been discriminated against and deplorably depressed; transportation problems and trouble are unsettled; no constructive measures have been enacted except a few forced by the agricultural bloc, composed of Democrats as well as Republicans; fiscal affairs not advanced; purchasing power of the people reduced to lowest point; industries discouraged; business not revived; wealth concentrating in hands of few. There never was such lawlessness and violence. The economy claimed is imaginary.

Appropriation bills carrying the amounts below estimates are promptly followed by bills to cover deficiencies.

Credit is claimed for disarmament conference, but that was compelled. The administration has adopted the Wilson foreign policies so bitterly denounced throughout, except as to separate peace with Germany and associated nations. The idea of hte budget and abolishing nuisance taxes were urged by Democratic administration and delayed or defeated by Republican majority in both houses. Extra session of congress was called last April the bill is just now being mulled over by majority of farmers' committee, undecided as to construction. The majority seem unable to agree upon any program or policy and are incapable of carrying out either. Competent leadership seems sadly lacking. Party in power appears given over to dispensing patronage and sports. The serious affairs of the people and the problems of the country they either neglect or are incapable of handling. Across their first year's record must be written "failure."

Congressman Sears Says Three Years of Bonus But No Action Yet

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—It is easier to criticize than to construct; it is easier to tear down than to build. I therefore trust what I say will be taken as a review of actual conditions. Last April a special session of congress was called by the president for the purpose of: First, revising the revenue law; second, passing a tariff law. We have now been in session nearly a year and what is the result?

Revenue Law: A revenue law has been passed, but this I voted against because it left the tax the same or virtually the same on those least able to pay said tax and reduced the tax on those more able to pay. If you do not believe the above statement wait until you pay your tax this year or wait until an additional tax is imposed next year to meet the deficiency.

Tariff: The house passed a tariff act which I voted against because to my mind the same could not be defended. As part proof that my attitude was correct it is only necessary for me to state the house and senate passed an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars to make an investigation of the act as passed by the house in order to find out if possible just what the house act meant. They are still investigating and the bill has not even been reported to the senate by the senate committee to which it was referred.

Bonus: For three years the Republicans have been in control in the house and senate, and yet they cannot decide what to do with the bonus proposition. As the Democratic members of the committee considering this question are not permitted to meet with the Republican members I cannot tell you what kind, if any, bill will be reported. I am only wondering how long the Republicans will continue to camouflage on this question. Time alone can tell.

Emergency tariff: An emergency tariff law was passed but what has been the result? Wheat was then selling for approximately two dollars per bushel while now it is only selling for approximately one dollar per bushel. I said on the floor of the house substantially the following: "The farmers asked for relief and you (the Republicans) passed resolutions in the form of the emergency tariff law. This did not give any relief and the farmers again came to you for assistance and asked for bread and you gave them a stone in the form of 'the war finance corporation'."

While I would not ask for special or unreasonable legislation for any class, we can but admit if the farmers are forced out of business, for their occupation is a business, cities will wither, decay and die and as a natural result the nation will die.

You must remember the Republicans have been in complete control of the house and senate for the past three years and that for the preceding year there was only a bare majority of three or four first on one side and then on the other. Although we had a Democratic president this state of affairs left him for one year practically powerless and for the last two years of his administration helpless. During the past year the Republicans have had a majority of more than 125 in the house and an overwhelming majority in the senate and could therefore pass any law they desired regardless of the opposition of the minority. I will in view of what I have said answer your telegram on failure of Republican party to make good by simply asking the question: "What has the Republican party accomplished during the first year of its administration?"

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Up to summer weather again right here in the heart of March and with snows and sleet in the northern states. Have you noticed the green in the trees and the flowers and grass and the mocking-birds singing amidst the orange blossoms — sounds like a real estate man's "ad" don't it? But honestly folks "ain't we got fun" down here in Sanford? Just glance over the temperature and then send it to some poor benighted person in the north who thinks we are going blind over "moonshine" and with hookworm and other "Southern diseases."

DEATHS

JOHN NIX DIES IN NEW YORK.

The many friends in this city of John Nix the well known head of the commission firm of John Nix & Co., will be grieved to learn of his death which happened last week. The following is from the Produce Bulletin:

"There was a large attendance at the funeral services of John W. Nix, president of John Nix & Co., which took place Tuesday, at Fairchild's Funeral Parlor, Lefferts Place, Brooklyn.

"As was noted in these columns last week, Mr. Nix died at his home at Great Neck, N. Y., after a long illness, at the age of 68. There were many beautiful floral tributes at the funeral; in fact, there were four truckloads of flowers, two of which were sent to hospitals.

"Not alone was there a good representation from the produce trade, where John W. Nix was esteemed for over half a century, but business men from other lines who knew the deceased were present to pay their last respects."
