Helicopter Crashes While Taking Off From 17th Floor

NEW YORK (AP)—A helicopter crashed and burst into flames yesterday while taking off from the 17th-floor heliport of the Port of New York Authority Building in downtown Manhattan.

The pilot and the only passenger were injured as they tumbled out of the burning craft seconds after it crashed on the 15th floor. It then dropped to a narrow setback of the 15th floor.

Port Authority officials said the pilot apparently forgot to unplug a 30-foot "booster" cable, often used to energize the starter. As the craft rose from the heliport, the cable became taut and jerked the machine down over the side of the building.

Debris and burning gasoline showered the area below, jammed street below, but there were no injuries there.

Port Authority employees and firemen quickly quenched the smoldering skeleton of the craft as it hung precariously on the narrow ledge above 9th Avenue near 45th Street. The helicopter was later hoisted to the 15th floor.

The pilot, Marcel D. Chevalier, 30, suffered a concussion and scalp laceration. He was reported in fair condition.

The passenger, Arthur Truss, 33, a Port Authority photographer, suffered a concussion, fractures and multiple abrasions. His condition was listed as critical.

The heliport is a table-like structure 10 feet above the 15th floor of the building.

AL Batters Streak Toward Possible Home Run Record

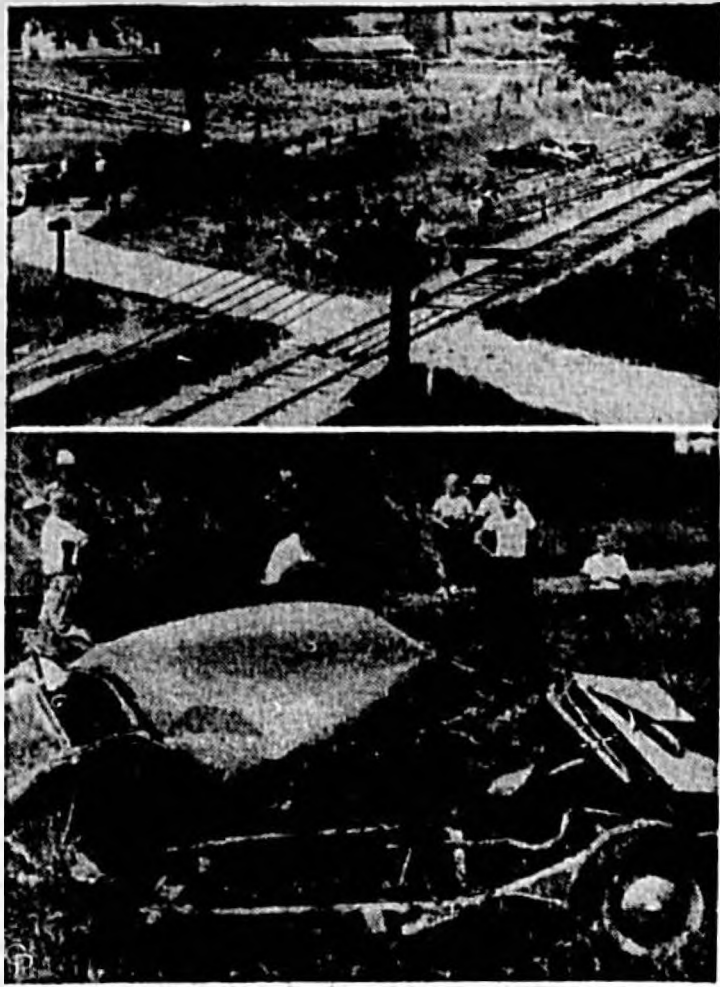

NEW YORK (AP)—American League batters streaking toward a possible home run record, are leading Kansas City's Municipal Stadium the easiest park in which to connect for the circuit.

A total of 107 homers have been hit in baseball's newest major league park, figures compiled by The Associated Press showed today. The Kansas City stadium has replaced Boston's Fenway Park as the American League "bandbox."

The Red Sox park, in which 139 four-baggers were hit in 1954, has been the scene of 102 this year.

Cincinnati's Crosley Field remains the hitters' paradise in the National League with 125 homers. Brooklyn Dodger fans have seen 106 walloped at Ebbets Field while Busch Stadium (St. Louis) has had 100 and the Polo Grounds (New York) 98.

The major league home run figure is up to 1,268 with 717 in the National League and 551 in the American. At that clip, the existing records for both circuits — 1,197 for the NL and 973 for AL — will go by the boards.

A MOTHER and five of her ten children were killed and four others injured critically when their automobile was demolished by a train as the car went over an unauthorized crossing at Darien, Wis. Mrs. Harriet Smith, 33, and her children were driving to buy coffee when their car was hit. At top is a general view of the accident. At right are the wreckage of the car and the farmhouse from which Mrs. Smith's husband, Eddy, watched the tragedy. At bottom is a close-up of the wrecked automobile. (International Soundphoto)

Youths Come Out With Some Advice Concerning Parents

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you want to know what causes juvenile delinquency, just ask the kids. They've got all the answers. Only they call it "parental delinquency."

Some of the 2,500 youths attending the 43rd International Christian Endeavor Conference here drew up a list of charges on the delinquency problem Tuesday.

Here are sample comments: Larry Hock, 15, Portland, Ore.: "There's too much emphasis on those child care books which tell parents to let the kids do as they please. After a while, parents get in the habit of not caring what their children are doing."

Robert Dean, 16, Columbus: "Children respect the advice of their parents. But some parents don't bother with any advice. If they don't teach what is right, then their kids may turn out wrong."

John Broadhead, 16, Kalamazoo, Mich.: "Some parents set bad examples. When a child grows up, he has to talk over his problems with someone. If he feels he can-

Load Of Vegetables 'Disturbing Peace'

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A load of vegetables got a ticket today for disturbing the peace.

Residents near an outlying shopping center complained to the Montgomery County sheriff's office that noise from a parked refrigerator truck was disturbing their slumber. Deputies couldn't locate the driver and were afraid to turn off the refrigerator motor.

So they hung a ticket on the truck charging the driver with disturbing the peace.

not go to his parents, he joins a gang and talks his problems over with the wrong kind of people."

Myrna George, 18, Woodlake, Calif.: "Youngsters sometimes get too much attention at home. Kids want to do something for themselves once in a while."

CONCRETE COOPERATES
... with your eyes and your brakes

Both driving at night, when accident frequency is highest, depends on your being able to see far ahead and to stop safely and quickly if necessary. If you can't see, if you can't stop, you can't be safe.

Concrete cooperates with your eyes. Its light color reflects much more light than dark colored pavements. Concrete's grainy surface diffuses light, letting you see maximum distances forward. You see better—and farther—on concrete.

Concrete cooperates with your brakes. Tires quickly grab and firmly hold to its gritty texture. You get uniformly high skid resistance—rain or shine—on concrete and you can make faster, smoother, safer stops.

Concrete highways are more economical, too. Their moderate first cost, plus low maintenance cost and long life, result in true low-maintenance service.

Concrete is available in many colors and textures. It is also available in many shapes and sizes. It is the most versatile and durable material known.

In Search Of Treasure

The lure of legendary lost treasures should never be underrated. It has driven men to strange deeds, taken them to strange places. It is hardly surprising, then, that at long last an expedition is preparing to search for the fabled treasures of the 'lost city of Salamis.' This is not the island of Salamis off Greece in the Gulf of Aegina, but an ancient city in the island of Cyprus.

This Salamis was reduced to ruins by an earthquake in 330 A. D., and then submerged by a huge tidal wave 600 years ago. Its interest is chiefly archaeological. But off its shores, according to antiquities experts, lie treasures.

Most famous is that carried by three ships blown up when the Turks invaded Cyprus in 1571. They were believed to be laden with loot from Nicosia, which according to legend was the greatest haul since the sack of Constantinople. Moreover, many treasures of lesser value were believed thrown overboard in the vicinity by storm-stricken ships.

The expedition's chief concern is treasure, but the archaeological aspects will not be ignored. The four Britons and one camerawoman will attempt to trace the sunken harbors of Salamis, fish up some of the ancient pottery said to litter the sea-bed of the area and gather new information about the city, which dates back at least to the Trojan wars and once was the home of 250,000 people.

Whatever this expedition uncovers, it is certain to encounter adventures. And if it

Least Authoritative Will Be Heard

WASHINGTON (AP)—The one man at the Big Four conference who evidently has the least authority—Bulgarian Premier Nikolai Bulganin—will nevertheless be able to speak with the greatest finality.

President Eisenhower, Britain's Prime Minister Eden and French Premier Faure may make suggestions on such monumental issues as disarmament and reunification of Germany. To carry through, each in the end will need approval at home.

Not Bulganin. He's in a different position. Each of the Western Big Three is a member of one of the two or more political parties in his own country, holding his job as the result of democratic elections. Each therefore has to think of the effect of his words on the voters back home.

Further, any far-reaching proposal by Eisenhower, Eden or Faure would require formal or informal approval from their parliaments. Only Bulganin, who has a majority in his Parliament, the Democrats, not Eisenhower's Republicans, nor Bulganin's own coalition and a vote of no confidence.

For all these reasons Eisenhower, Eden and Faure have to be sensitive to the thinking at home. It will act as a restraint on all three. It already has on Eisenhower. He has promised Congress he'd go to Geneva.

In Russia, with its single Communist party, Bulganin does not owe his job to the popular will but to the party, which numbers perhaps as many as 4 to 5 million members.

More precisely, he owes his job to the little group of Kremlin Communists who run the party and the government. The Russian government is a rubber stamp for them.

The Play's The Thing

A favorite indoor sport among scholars is trying to figure out who wrote William Shakespeare's plays. The names of half a dozen Elizabethans, including Christopher Marlowe and Sir Francis Bacon, are suggested more or less seriously.

The American critic Calvin Hoffman in Britain just now to open an old tomb which he thinks will disclose evidence supporting the Kit Marlowe claim. The Bacon Society is insisting that Sir Francis be given screen credit in any movie based on a Shakespeare play.

But other scholars take up the cudgels just as vigorously for the stuffy and unfashionable notion that Shakespeare's plays were written by none other than the Bard of Avon himself.

In the vanguard of these is Dr. Leslie Hotson. His new book, "The First Night of Twelfth Night," is an elaborate attempt to prove that only Shakespeare could have written this play. Someone will doubtless write a book contradicting his views.

All this is fun for the scholars. But to the general reader it doesn't much matter whether Shakespeare or Marlowe or even the first Queen Elizabeth herself wrote "Twelfth Night" and "Hamlet" and the rest. It is as true now as it was 400 years ago that "The play's the thing."

Home Rule For Cyprus

"If you can't lick 'em, jine 'em," has long been good advice. The British would not have been at or near the top of the heap so long if they had not habitually acted on this advice. They hung on to Egypt and India as long as they could, but when possession proved no longer possible, they yielded gracefully.

The same story is apparently about to be repeated in Cyprus. This island, key to the Eastern Mediterranean, has been British since 1878. Its population is overwhelmingly Greek, and wants to be united to Greece. Only the Mohammedan minority feels safer with British rule. Now it is reported that Sir Anthony Eden's government is going to give the Cypriotes home rule. A tie with the British empire will continue, but for essential purposes Cyprus will be independent.

Cyprus may still want to be Greek rather than to rule itself. In the same way Texas, when an independent state, gave up that status willingly to join the United States. No matter which way Cyprus moves in the future, a forward step has now been taken.

NEW YORK — Things one New Yorker thinks about:

The Perlan room of the Plaza, which came of age this past April, may well be as elegant a supper club as there is in America. It is, however, no more elegant than its maitre d', the celebrated Fred, and the dark news today is that when the room reopens in September, Fred no longer will be greeting the cash customers at the door. He's retiring.

A one-time footman for the Baroness Alice de Rothschild at her palatial villa on the French Riviera, Fred—last name Barbere—looks more like an ambassador than, say, Eden or Lord Halifax. Incidentally, the stars of that first bill at the Perlan room, on April 5, 1954, were the dancing De Marcos, Renee and Tony, Tony, looking perhaps a day or two younger than then, is still at the grid, with the red-haired, balding Renee, professionally and matrimonially.

A Peruvian coast-mund, which you can't hardly get no more, has been on display of late in the lobby of the Hotel New Yorker. I was fascinated by the beak, which seemed a cross between a toucan and a pelican, in two long, thin, candy and raw egg and is insured for $1,000—but more fascinated by the reason he was there.

Frank Wagonman, the bar's manager, said, "he's just one more of those men who come to the bar for a drink and then get into a row with the bartender because he won't give them a drink."

Production Reaching Record Highs

NEW YORK (AP)—President Eisenhower will be leading from economic strength at Geneva. Figures out this week show production in this country reaching new record highs. And industrial output of the United States' allies in Western Europe is making even more sensational gains over last year.

Whether the Soviet economic system is threatened with collapse, as some Washington officials have been suggesting, or whether it is healthy, as top Russian leaders insist, there is concrete evidence today that the Western world is economically stronger than ever.

This, of course, is just what the Reds hadn't counted on. Ever since the end of the war they've been predicting that capitalism would run into a postwar depression, which would give the Communists a fertile field for subversion.

But this week the Department of Commerce, after taking a second look at the total production of goods and services in the United States last year, reports that despite the much talked about recession, output slipped only 1 percent below prosperous 1953.

And this year the total output has been climbing steadily into new high ground. President Eisenhower goes to Geneva with this nation's economy stepping forth at a record clip of nearly 300 billion dollars a year.

The United Nations Bulletin of Statistics reports this week that the world outside the Soviet bloc states and the mainland of China

Genova. He needs only the approval of the men in the Kremlin.

But, since the Kremlin Communists work as a team and he's their front man at Geneva, he will merely be their spokesman. So it can be taken for granted any offers he makes will have been thought out and approved by the Kremlin beforehand.

So, although Bulganin is not free to make any proposals on his own but only those which have Kremlin approval, he can expect his government to carry through on anything he says unless it serves the Kremlin's purpose to change its mind later.

ing director of the New York Board of Education's child welfare division: "The kids of today are worse now than ever."

One of Manhattan's most vigorous citizens is a lawyer-press agent—columnist television interviewer—named Richard Rothman, and it is pleasant to report that he is energetically setting up a local chapter of a national organization of half-headed men who are leaders in their fields, such as former Postmaster General Jim Farley. "I," Rothman reports modestly, "have lately become more eligible."

Those days, the St. George Hotel pool in Brooklyn is an amiable noisy place. Professor Barrie Daniels, head of a local music school, has been conducting singing and breathing classes there of late, to beat the summer heat.

The cold truth is that the outlanders who are seduced into the nightclubs here in Times Square currently are not really getting value received when they grumble. The old order has passed. Not a hair is thrown from a dark hallway, not a teag is stirred. The other day they had a boy parade wearing 300 Chinese lanterns—almost all of them lit.

That second magazine story of John Warner, Governor-elect of Virginia, who was assassinated in 1954, is a good read. It is a good read because it is a good read.

Mountain Folk Live With Dignity

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—"In saying hill folk live with dignity, I feel that I am not making a misstatement, for indeed they do."

So said a lady here of whom I inquired what peculiar virtues mountain people have.

One example of mountain dignity is Jack Huff, who also superbly exemplifies another continuing virtue of the original Scotch-Irish settlers in the Great Smokies—pride of family.

Would you carry your own mother on your back up a mountain merely to let her see a sunset and a sunrise that you enjoyed and, as a son, felt she should share?

Jack Huff did once. It's a good story. Ernie Fyle told it in 1940, and I'd like to tell it again and bring it up to now.

About 1900 Jack's father came here with a pocketful of timber money looking for more, and ended up by building the pioneer Mountain View Hotel. It lies here in a cup in the hills, now one of America's leading summer resorts.

Jack loved the mountains and didn't want to lean on his pappy. So he decided he'd build a ledge of his own atop Le Conte, one of the highest peaks in the Great Smokies, then reachable only by footpath. This was before the Federal Government took over the area and made it into one of the nation's most popular public parks.

Jack built the ledge largely with supplies he toled up first on his own back, then on the backs of horses.

He now has enough cabins there to sleep 48 people overnight. Ernie Fyle figured in 1940 that Jack had climbed some 15,000 miles in creating his mountain eyrie. During most of his trips up the 7½-mile journey he shouldered a 80-pound pack.

His description of the magnificent view at the top of the peak intrigued his mother. She was time-crippled.

Jack built a special-back chair, and put his mother on it. She weighed more than 90 pounds, but her son carried her up the steep slopes with her favorite kitten sitting purring in her lap.

He thought it was a privilege to do this for his mother, not a hardship. But it still has left him a deep regret. For the weather turned bad. His mother spent several days on the peak and her rheumatism finally forced her to come down again, and she died in time, never having seen the sunrise or set from the peak that Jack loved. It was something he had known she wanted to know, — too — and she never did.

Her son has never forgotten. Jack doesn't pack supplies up the trail on his back anymore. His father died four years ago, and now he has to run the big prosperous hotel here in town.

He worries about the service, says it's hard to find people anymore who want to do a job right just because they feel that's the way a job should be done.

Jack takes his exercise now golfing. His doctor tells him his heart isn't what it was 20 years ago. But his spirit is, and now it's valley-bound. He makes plenty of money, I would guess, but his eyes shine when he talks about the past, and they dull when he talks about the present.

He is a tall, lean, big-eared, courteous, friendly man hungry for yesterday, lonesome for the youthful prime when his mind was free and all his troubles were on his back. He misses climbing, going uphill, building in a new place.

When I asked him about the mountain top, he said: "Up there you never find two days the same. It changes. You can see far. Every moment is different."

Growing older and wealthier in the town below, Jack Huff remembers being happier younger and higher up.

But hereabouts he will always be honored because he once carried his mother up a stony road to watch a sunset she never lived to see. It gives him a respect beyond any bank account.

Johnsen's doing, maybe we'll be heading for home in late July.

Atomic Cold War Triumph—President Eisenhower's momentous "atoms for peace" program is emerging as one of America's solid diplomatic triumphs in the cold war. Since the President announced his plan 18 months ago in a dramatic speech before the UN General Assembly, the idea has caught the imaginations of peoples in every corner of the globe.

Now that a score of nations have already signed mutual agreements with the United States to share atomic know-how and peaceful developments.

Even further, Mr. Eisenhower recently announced his willingness to share half the cost of nuclear research reactors with friendly nations and to furnish them with atomic fuel. Such a bargain offer is bound to attract customers and win friends in areas where the need is for cheap electricity and power.

Senate Speed—House members in the past have annually criticized the Senate about this time of year for delaying adjournment but this year the shoe is on the other foot.

If House members themselves concede that this season, if there is any delay, it will be their responsibility rather than that of the customarily longer-winded Senate.

They take solace, however, from the fact that the main reason for the fast paced Senate progress stems from the skillful leadership of Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson (D), Texas, an alumnus of the House himself.

One House member commented: "The Senate usually slows down the legislative machinery. This year, it's different. Two key problems—the military reserve bill and the minimum wage issue—have bogged down in the House while the Senate has already completed action on them."

Another paid tribute to Johnson. He said: "The leaders are shooting for a July 15 adjournment. That means, if the past is any yardstick, that we can expect to quit sometime between Aug. 1 and Aug. 10; but with the job

Action Is Deferred

On 'Pants Burglar'

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—Fort Lauderdale's "pants burglar" had a deportation hearing at State Prison yesterday but action was deferred. He still has 13 years to go on his sentence.

The U. S. Immigration Service said Alvin Charles Davis, 37, is subject to deportation to his native Canada on two charges of moral turpitude stemming from his Broward County conviction in 1933 and a second degree murder conviction in California in 1937.

He was dubbed "pants burglar" when accused of breaking into Fort Lauderdale motels and stealing the trousers of sleeping guests. The pants were looted for money and valuables, then thrown away.

Begin Treatment Early

To Cure Crossed-Eyes

By HERMAN N. DUNSMUIR, M.D.
PROPER treatment usually can correct cases of crossed-eyes in babies, but the cure must be started promptly.

Newborn infants, of course, can't control their eye muscles. Consequently, their eyes sometimes look in different directions. But, it is often difficult for you parents to determine whether your child's eyes are actually crossed.

Three Months Old
If your youngster's eyes do not seem to be fairly well focused by the time he is about three months old, I'd advise you to ask your doctor about it. He'll probably watch the baby closely for the next three months to see whether his eyes line up properly. If they still appear crossed at the age of six months, he'll probably send you to an ophthalmologist, a doctor of medicine who specializes in treatment of the eye.

Double Images
In cases of squint or crossed-eyes, one eye turns inward, outward or upward. This means that your youngster views an object from two different angles and is unable to fuse the two images into one. To him the world is flat, since he has difficulty in perceiving depth, and filled with double images.

Unable to combine the images, a crossed-eyed child unconsciously blocks out the image seen by one eye. Thus, he becomes accustomed to seeing with only one eye. The unused eye becomes weaker and fails to develop its power to see.

Successful Treatment
There are several things which can be done to correct this. Successful treatment usually requires a combination of remedies. However, the earlier the treatment is begun, the better chance there is for saving the weak eye.

When your child is old enough to talk, he can wear a patch over the good eye to force use of the weakened eye and strengthen its vision. It's usually a good idea to wait until the child can talk so you can make a game out of the patch idea; but, even a younger baby can wear an eye patch.

Wear Glasses
By the time he is about one and a half years old, he can begin wearing glasses to correct his vision. Of course, the non-shattering type of glasses are best for youngsters.

Special eye exercises are also useful in training the muscles. And in some cases an operation is needed. But the important thing is that if you begin treatment quickly, most cases of crossed-eyes can be successfully corrected.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Q.—Mrs. E. B. G. Would it be harmful for a woman afflicted with rheumatoid arthritis to become pregnant?
A.—I know of no evidence that would indicate it would be harmful for such a woman to become pregnant.

Financial Crisis

Forecast For 1957

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—A grave financial crisis is forecast for Florida when the Legislature meets in 1957.

The prediction was made by a special Senate committee set up to study state revenue.

"I know of no responsible official who believes we can maintain the services that are essential in a growing, progressive state without making some adjustments in our tax laws," Committee Chairman Shands of Gainesville said.

He said the committee will hold public hearings throughout the state to get citizens' views on "what changes should be made in our tax structure to make it provide additional revenue."

BANKS, Idaho (AP)—Edward J. O'Toole, 24, of Nampa, drove his cement truck onto a soft shoulder of the highway near here yesterday and plunged 60 feet down a rocky gorge into the Payette River, but escaped with only a few cuts and bruises.

DANGEROUS HORSE
CHICAGO (AP)—Norman Bishop, 19, was taken to the hospital with a skull concussion when his bicycle collided with Bobba King, a white horse ridden by Judy King, 15, daughter of a riding academy owner.

Disney's Lady and the Tramp may be started on learning it was written by the eminent novelist, Ward Greene. This is the same man who wrote the stirring novel, Death in the Deep South, from which came the lurching movie, They Won't Forget. You may remember the busy young girl who plays the victim in that film. Name of Tramp, Lady Tramp. She does anything lately?

Clayton Beaulieu, Miss Alice Andes United In Marriage

Miss Alice Means Andes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Andes and Clayton J. Beaulieu, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Beaulieu, were married recently at the bride's grandmother's home, 606 W. 20th St., with the Rev. John O. Andes Jr., brother of the bride of Wake Forest, N. C., officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

Green palms formed a background for the arrangement of white gladioli used for decorations. The mantel above the fireplace was decorated with fine green fern and white asters along with lilies-of-the-valley. White tapers burned in silver candelabra.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a ballerina length gown of imported Swiss organdy. The off-the-shoulder neckline was filled in with net and the short sleeves were shirred. The bouffant skirt was designed with a scalloped hemline. She wore short shirred organdy mitts that came to points at the wrists. Her elbow-length veil of imported Illusion was attached to a clip bonnet of embroidered organdy and pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a white purple throat-orchid entwined with streamers. Her only jewelry was a single string of pearls a gift from the groom and a diamond ring; her grandmother's.

Miss Ora Ray, her only attendant, was given in a ballerina length dress of pink embroidered organdy featuring a long bodice, V-neckline and a very full skirt. Her accessories were pink also. She wore a bandeau of pink flowers and carried a bouquet of pink rose buds.

Mike Browne of Beacon, N. Y., acted as best man and there were no ushers.

Mrs. Andes chose for her daughter's wedding a pink glazed cotton dress with onion skin accessories and an orchid corsage surrounded by pink roses.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the dining room of the home. The table was overlaid with a maderia cloth and was centered with a tiered wedding cake surrounded by lilies-of-the-valley and green fern. White tapers burned in silver candelabra and tea, and coffee were served from a silver service along with juice, minis and nuts.

For a wedding trip to Daytona Beach Mrs. Beaulieu wore a blue and white summer suit with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

The couple will reside at 2121 W. Second Street.

Out-of-town guests included Miss McLin Shedden.

The bride was born here and attended local schools. She graduated with the class of 1955 and is a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

CHIFFON PUDDING

Ingredients: 1 package coconut cream pudding and pie filling mix, 2 cups milk, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 3 eggs (separated), 3/4 cup light cream, 1/2 cup milk, dash of salt, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1/4 cup slivered blanched almonds.

Method: For this recipe, you must use an 8- or 9-inch square baking pan that is 2 inches deep, or one that is 10 by 6 by 2 inches. Stir pudding mix and milk together in a saucepan; cook and stir over moderate heat until mixture comes to a full boil; remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Measure out 3/4 cup cooked pudding and combine with slightly beaten egg yolks; reserve. Mix cream with remaining pudding; pour this sauce into baking pan. Beat egg whites and salt until soft peaks are formed; beat in sugar gradually; continue beating until very stiff peaks are formed. Fold meringue into reserved pudding-egg yolk mixture; carefully spread over sauce in baking pan. Sprinkle with almonds. Set in pan of hot water and bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven 45 to 50 minutes, or until golden brown. Serve warm; sauce will be too thin if pudding is served hot. Makes 6 servings.

New food product: pineapple filling comes in a No. 2 can ready to use in a pie or tart or as a cake filling. For pie use, the filling is turned into an unbaked pastry shell. As a filling for baked tart shells or cake layers, the pineapple mixture needs to be simmered for several minutes and cooled slightly before it is used.

Air Hangs Heavy With Drawling Of Deep Dixie

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—The atmosphere is heavy with the drawling of deep Dixie in the Los Angeles Rams' football camp, and to date perhaps the most commanding accent-in-action belongs to a 215-pound rookie from Georgia Tech, Larry Morris.

Big Charlie Toogood from Nebraska, dropping in to look over the pro freshman crop, summed it up with: "This team sure is gettin' a southern twang. Southern fight doesn't hurt, either."

Morris, his teammate Billy Teas from the Ramblin' Wreck; Sid Fournet from Louisiana State; Ed Beatty from Mississippi; Don Wade Vanderbilt; Corky Tharp from Alabama, are included among the strong youngsters trying to make the flashy Ram squad.

Head Coach Sid Gillman already has been impressed with the rookie crop in general and Morris, the Decatur, Ga., giant who was merely the No. 1 draft choice by the club.

"I'm convinced," said Gillman, "that we could put him at practically any position and he'd show up well. He's the type of player any coach looks for."

So Morris is listed as a line-backer and offensive center behind regular Leon McLaughlin, and he may back up Dan Towler at fullback, a position he played in high school.

Teas weighs a mere 150 pounds and at the moment is rated with Maryland's Tom Walker, Norm Nygaard of San Diego State, and Tharp as the leading rookie half-back candidates.

Robson Takes First Game This Season

Robson Sporting Goods won their first game of the season last night by defeating top-place Hunt McRoberts 9-4. Abe Pennell, Robson pitcher, gave up five hits to the Hunt players while the Robson team collected seven hits from Hunt pitcher, Elmond Rohrer.

Cleveland Gets Evers On Waivers From Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—Moot Evers, Baltimore outfielder, went to Cleveland today on waivers in exchange for southpaw relief pitcher Bill Wright who the Orioles claimed off the waiver list.

Oriole General Manager Paul Richards, who announced the deal, indicated he hoped Wright would give his pitching staff a boost.

Evers, who was among the American League's top hitters early in the season and was batting .354 on May 18 went into a slump and has played only occasionally the last month and a half.

He Oriole record in 60 games was 44 hits, including 6 home runs, a triple, 10 doubles and 20 runs batted in, for an average of .322.

Wright, 26-year-old, 6-1, 190-pounder, had a 17-6 record last season with San Diego, but has been only called duty with Cleveland and has no win-loss record.

Wright will be only the second southpaw on the Oriole roster. Ed Sabatelli is the other.

Sanford Rained Out In Last Nite's Play

Orlando (AP)—Orlando, first half champion of the Florida State League's, will rely on a couple of rookie pitchers in the 13th annual league all-star game tonight.

Manager Tommy O'Brien plans to start Chuck Snyder or Sammy White against the top hitting talent. Snyder, from Aurora, Ill., has a record of one victory, one defeat in relief; White, from Lakeland has a 9-1 record.

Either righthander Rolando Ortega of Gainesville or Lefty Jack Herlihy of Cocoa will start for the All-Stars.

The All-Stars, managed by Daytona Beach's Johnny Vander Meer, the former major league pitcher of double no-hit fame, also have on tap Orlando Pena of Daytona Beach, Gasper Del Monte of St. Petersburg, both righthanders, and Pete Peterson, a Sanford left-hander.

A heavy task is ahead for the Orlando pitchers as Vander Meer's lineup includes six players with averages above .300.

Leading batter is Jim Miller, Cocoa second baseman who has a .302 average. Billy Wyatt, Gainesville, .312, third base, and Terry Terrell, Sanford, .322, left field, will go next with Dan Keith, Daytona Beach, at .297 the league's top hitter, in the cleanup role. Keith will play first base.

Others in the All-Star lineup: Ivo Rodriguez, Cocoa, .344, right field; Jerry Micham, Daytona Beach, .308, center field; Bill Parrish, Daytona Beach, .298, shortstop; and Doug Williams, Cocoa, .286, catcher. Jim Turner, Lakeland, .273, will relieve Williams.

Last night Orlando took offensive possession of first place in the second-half standings by beating Daytona Beach 4-3 while Gainesville's game with Sanford was rained out. Sanford had been tied with Orlando.

Orlando's Joe Valmas finished the Islanders to six hits before 645 Daytona Beach fans.

West Palm Beach whipped Lakeland 4-0 on Claude Raymond's two-hitter. Some 1,000 fans at West Palm Beach saw the fray. Cocoa, playing before 200 at home, won over last-place St. Petersburg 10-6 in 10 innings. The winning blow was Jim Miller's homer with pitcher Joe Drach aboard.

Tom Brewer, right handed hurler for the Boston Red Sox, at home Elton (N.C.) College during the off-season. He is majoring in accounting.

Bill Showen, first baseman for the Yankees, bats and throws right handed. But as a football star at Purdue he was a left-footed kicker.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—If the harried minor leaguers can hold on only a little longer against the television menace, help is on the way from an unexpected source.

With each passing day the voice which comes along with the picture is driving more and more fans from living rooms and bars into the blessed sanctuary of the ball parks where they can watch a game in peace and make up their own minds about it if they feel so disposed. After what they've seen put through, they mostly just sit and sigh contentedly.

It isn't the commercials between innings. What has become almost impossible for him to take is the incessant boring chatter while play is in progress.

"Look, folks, we've got the camera on old Joe Glutz at first base. He's got a strange habit that I don't think I've ever seen before in my long experience. He always leans forward just as the ball is delivered. There, did you see that? Yes, sir, he leaned, folks. Now I want to tell you about a wire I just got asking my opinion on whether Ty Cobb could have licked Birdie Tebbetta, ha ha. There's a foul coming up right over our microphone."

It's going to be a sad day for somebody when the sponsors learn of the emergency measures being taken by this is an estimate—millions of set owners who wish to watch a ball game and still preserve their reason. They have found it both simple and soothing to switch off the voice of the "personality" behind the picture and flick on the radio broadcast of the game—sorry.

You might not believe it, but there's all the difference in the world, folks. In contrast to his TV counterpart, the radio announcer is a simple child of nature who merely tells his listeners what is taking place on the field of play. He seldom shouts, he permits periods of silence, and his commercials are less drippy. At least, you don't have to watch him emote while he delivers the mail.

Charles, outweighing Andrews 190 pounds to 120, opened a gash under his opponent's right eye in the fourth round and it kept bleeding most of the way. He battered Andrews in a sledgeing body attack to slow him down from the fifth on. But Charles' only impressive punch of the fight was a long right that staggered his lanky foe in the first round.

The Cincinnati fighter, who outside the ring shows little wear and tear for a 34-year-old veteran of 104 bouts, appeared to have lost all the finesse that once carried him to the heavyweight title.

Asked bluntly why he goes on, he said: "Fighting is my business. I don't have another job. Besides, how can you turn down money?"

Charles' next stop on the comeback treadmill? Probably in Syracuse Aug. 3 against Hurricane Jackson.

Charles Gets Split Decision

CHICAGO (AP)—A slowed-down Ezzard Charles plodded to a split 10-round decision over young Paul Andrews last night to keep grinding away on the comeback treadmill.

He proved he still has the heart of a champion if little else. He was decked by a short right for the eighth count in the second round.

But he weathered Andrews' savage left hooks and right uppercuts and fought back. He earned the decision from Referee Frank Sikora, 94-91, and Judge Frank McAdams, 96-90. Judge James McManus gave it to the 25-year-old ex-paratrooper from Buffalo, N.Y., 95-90.

Major League Races Swing Into Action After Short Rest

AT LONG LAST . . . . . By Alan Mauer
By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

THE YANKEES top the AL by five games at the All-Star Game break comes to an end, while only one game separates each of the other first-division teams — Cleveland, Chicago and Boston. That means the runner-up Indians, who had a half-game lead on the Yanks at this point in '54, and the third-place White Sox have to worry about kicking off the Red Sox as well as catching the New Yorkers.

Manager Al Lopez, naming Bob Lemon (12-6) to face Tommy Byrne (7-3) and the Yanks tonight, claims his pitching staff is back in shape. It better be. After facing the Yanks for two, the Tribe must then take on the bustling Boston, who have lost only six of their last 24, for three games Saturday and Sunday.

The Yanks will have a three-game "breather" against fifth-place Detroit over the weekend, then start the one-two punch all over again at Chicago. They play the White Sox Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with the Red Sox barging into Comiskey park Friday, Saturday and Sunday in a four-game series.

The National presents a different picture. It hardly seems possible, but the Brooklyn, a league and a half ahead of the pack, are hurting. The only thing that's kept them away out front is, oddly enough, the even-Stephen mabsep of the circuit.

There's no panic yet, but a team that loses 10 of its last 19 games can't be sleeping too well — even with that 114-game haul.

Roy Campanella, insists he's ready to go back to work behind the plate tonight when the Dodgers take on the St. Louis Cardinals at Ebbets field, but Manager Walt Alton indicates he has other plans.

That disturbing 9-10 record followed Campy's knee injury and Alton doesn't want to start his big guy before the leg is healed completely.

Top Women Golfers Challenging Lead

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Some of the nation's top women golfers started out today to challenge the money-winning lead of Louise Suggs, Sea Island, Ga., in the Ladies Professional Golf Assn. National tournament.

Back to try to repeat last year's win here is Marilyn Smith, Wichita, Kan., as well as Fay Crocker, winner of the recent National Open Tourney in Wichita, and Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., who tied for runner-up in the Open.

Miss Suggs leads the LPGA's "dollar derby" with winnings of 10,458.

Medal play opened today and will continue over 54 holes through Saturday before the top two are paired for a 6-hole title match.

istered by Frank Willett of Atlanta who came within two points of ousting sixth seeded Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex. The final score was 7-5, 2-6, 7-5.

Eddie Moylan of Trenton, N.J., Gerald Moss of Modesto, Calif., and Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., all seeded players, completed the quarter-finals lineup.

Quarter-final play, originally scheduled for tomorrow, was moved up to today under threat of rain. In today's play Moylan faced Kuperberger; Richardson met Frost; Trabert played Giammalva, and Barton fought Moss.

Favorites Meeting In Quarter-Finals Of Tennis Tourney

ATLANTA (AP)—Favorites, led by top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, met today in the quarter-finals of the National Clay Courts tennis tournament.

Of the seeded players, only Bill Quilliam of Seattle, rated No. 7 has fallen out of line. He was topped in a marathon match Wednesday with second-seeded foreign entry Johann Kuperberger of South Africa 6-2, 8-10, 8-4.

Trabert had a rough time of it for a spell against 18-year-old Mike Green of Miami. He trimmed Green 6-0 in the first set, but the youngster broke his service and took the second set 6-4. Tony, who won his Wimbledon crown without dropping a set, topped Green 6-3 for the third set and the match.

Ham Richardson, seeded No. 2, found himself up against a toughie and appeared to tire after breaking 6-3 in the first set against Tim Coss of Washington, D.C. He dropped the second set 5-7 but took command again to score an impressive 6-1 final set.

Defending champion Bernard Barton of San Angelo, Tex., seeded No. 4, took Atlanta's 15-year-old Ned Neely in straight sets 6-3, 6-0 to gain the quarter-finals.

Closed bid for an upset was registered by Frank Willett of Atlanta who came within two points of ousting sixth seeded Sam Giammalva of Houston, Tex. The final score was 7-5, 2-6, 7-5.

Birmingham Host To All-Star Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Birmingham Barons, fourth place club in the sizzling Southern Assn. flag chase a month ago, will play host to the Class AA circuit's All-Star Tuesday night.

Birmingham got an assist from the Atlanta Crackers last night and backed into the host role. Little Rock's last-place Trave defeated the Barons 1-0 in 10 innings but Atlanta knocked off Memphis 10-9 and ended the second-place Chick's chances of getting the All-Star contest. The team leading the league through games of tonight is All-Star host Birmingham in two games out of front.

New Orleans turned back Nashville 7-5 in last night's other encounter. Chattanooga's scheduled twin bill at Mobile was rained out.
