

Indiana's Own Is Up Against Attempts Of Pelley To 'Move In'

By L. E. NUSSBAUM
MOBLEVILLE, Ind., Jan. 8—

Twenty $500 bills carelessly tossed before a small town newspaper editor have led to the revelation that William Dudley Pelley is "moving in" on Nobleville—and now this town of 6000 is mad clear through.

Nobleville is so downright resentful against Pelley, founder and leader of the Fascistic and anti-Semitic Silver Shirts of America, that threats to bomb the publishing plant Pelley is setting up have been reported.

Several weeks ago Pelley slipped into town under an assumed name. With several associates he tried to buy the weekly newspaper and job printing plant. The owner, Dally M. Hudler, was willing to sell for a good price. Then followed a mysterious fire, dark inspection of the plant and then Hudler was summoned to a lawyer's office to close the deal.

The lawyer, George A. Henry of Indianapolis, flipped the $10,000 in $500 bills on his desk, as a down payment, and Hudler's eyebrows raised.

You just don't handle that much cash, and in $500 bills, in

Abuse In Threat Of Night Bombers

By BILL WHITE
LONDON, Jan. 8—

War-weary Britons, satisfied that the Luftwaffe has almost completely nullified the threat of daytime air raids, are demanding now an answer to the four-month-old horror of night raids.

And there seems to be no immediate hope in sight. Some 14 weeks ago, Sir Archibald Sinclair, minister for air, declared, "I am able to look forward to a time when the pleasure of night bombing over Britain will cease to be attractive to the German Government and his aerial minions."

These words were hailed by everyone who had huddled in a shelter or had sleep broken by the terrifying whump of bombs and the answering clatter of anti-aircraft guns.

But the two-part job of ending the night-proving enemy and downing him is not simple as it first appeared.

Anti-aircraft guns, even by day, are none too accurate. The World War average of "20,000 shells per hit" still appears to hold good. By night, the guns are less accurate. They can keep the enemy high and spend his aim, but they aren't likely to turn back a determined raid.

The "Nobleville" is a conservative floosier community, one of its leading citizens comments, "We didn't like the notoriety we got in 1929 during the trial when D. C. Stephenson, the Klan leader, was tried here and convicted of a murder for which he now is serving time."

And we don't intend to get any more notoriety by letting the Silver Shirts or any other fanatic group move in on us.

Not all the town's residents, apparently, are content to wait for the magazine to appear, as Loney is reported to have turned over to the FBI a note threatening to bomb the plant.

As a result of newspaper suggestions that Pelley "get out of Indiana," Loney has redoubled the secrecy surrounding the publishing plant.

Pelley, who has taken up residence in Indianapolis, continues to keep out of sight.

Stinnett Lists Rules To Guide Senate Novices

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 8—

To the handful of new senators who are just settling in their chairs for the first time—some for the first time—here are some hints of what might have been. If you had taken your seat a long time ago:

1. Don't carry firearms onto the Senate floor.

Just because Vice President Van Buren used to preside with a brace of pistols in his jeans, don't think it's an old Senate custom to come to work armed.

Since the days when Senator Foote of Mississippi drew his trusty derringer on a colleague and some years later when Sen. Sulzberry tried to shoot the vice-president, packing a gun in the Senate has been looked on with high disfavor. There's even a rule that you have to check your six-gun at the door.

2. Don't invite ladies to visit you on the Senate floor.

There was a day, as one lady observer put it, when "The Senate chamber was crowded to crushing with ladies. I never go on such occasions."

And again when it was supposed yesterday there were 300 ladies, besides their beaux on the floor of the Senate. Those days are gone forever. As far back as 1884, "Somebody of a senator was caused by entrance of a woman to the floor, outside the bar, accompanied by two men. It proved to be Frau Schuller, who bears a member of the German Reichstag, was entitled to the privilege of the floor." The gallery is the place for women nowadays.

3. Don't prepare any speeches with the idea that you are going to deliver them on the floor and away any pending legislation.

Sen. Carter Glass' in the 28 years I have been a member of one of the other branches of Congress, I have never known a speech to change a vote.

4. If it is your custom to shoot off an occasional blizzard, don't expect to be used in the Capitol corridors.

As long as a hundred years ago there was a rule against sale of liquor in the Capitol. One observer, visiting the Capitol cafe, noticed that "You go there and ask for pale sherry and they hand you gin; brown sherry and it is brandy; white sherry and it is brandy; and as recently as Vice President Curtis' day when he consented to the planing of a prohibition agent in the Capitol they caught the "congressional bootlegger" with an embarrassing list of his clients. But these days are gone.

5. If you're a chain smoker of cigars or cigars or can't clamp your teeth together without a cigarette between them, better get yourself a new habit at once.

Not so very long ago, Sen. Tillman, to whom tobacco smoking was obsessive, waged a successful one-man battle to ban smoking on the floor. The only concession was "except during legislative sessions." Check up through Vice President Waller

Health Is Called Important Factor In Defense Setup

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 7—

Healthy and vigorous rural and urban people—a major point in the program of the University of Florida College of Agriculture for more than a quarter of a century—is to be stressed more than ever before in 1941 in line with the national defense movement.

Dr. J. W. Newell, director of the college, said today that "Recent developments have revealed that the health of our people is not nearly so good as it should be, and it is our aim to place more stress on the phase of our work in 1941 than ever before. As most of the food comes from the farms of this and other states, the health of the farmer and his family and of the consumer is largely dependent on the farmer and the quantity and quality of the products he raises."

Dr. Newell asserted that "The present pointed out that workers of the College of Agriculture—research workers, county agents, home demonstration agents and teachers—have been striving to improve the rural and living conditions of the people. Improvements of the quality of a crop also directly affect the consumer, because it provides a product of higher nutritive value for him and thereby contributes to his good health."

Dr. Newell explained that while our work has been primarily with rural people, it has been carried on with the aim of giving rural people the same benefits as the urban consumer.

For years, the present agricultural and home demonstration agents and other extension workers and the college have preached the principles of good nutrition and good health to farm people, urging them to plant their gardens and orchards to produce vegetables and fruits for their own use and for the market.

Dr. Newell said that the college will be especially interested in the health of the rural people in 1941, and will be especially interested in the health of the rural people in 1941, and will be especially interested in the health of the rural people in 1941.

Carl Loney, Pelley associate, stands beside son of the gunman taken to Nobleville from the Pelley plant formerly in operation at wanted the "Mr. Garrison" who had sought to buy his paper was Pelley.

Loney then admitted that the firm, incorporated as the Fellowship Press, with Loney as president, would publish Pelley's writings on metaphysics and esoterics.

The presses and other equipment being moved into the old box factory had been shipped from Pelley's former publishing plant in Asheville, N. C.

Revelation of Pelley's connection with the venture raised a storm. The Dies Committee, which had had some dealings with Pelley back in 1939, learned of the situation and sent W. H. Fowler, one of its investigators, here.

The committee was particularly interested in who was financing the company, and whether any subversive groups had an interest.

Loney told Fowler that Pelley was the firm's financial "angel." The box factory was bought in the name of Mrs. A. M. Henderson, Indianapolis. In some of his writings, Pelley has referred to "Marion Henderson" as his secretary.

Nobleville's residents are somewhat "up in the air" about it all.

If, as Loney says, it's a legitimate publishing adventure, they are willing to let it stay. New business don't come to a small town every day.

But if it's going to foster any un-American policies or crusades, there's "no room for it here."

Defense Supplies For Britain Asked

Administration Leaders Want Broad Powers For Roosevelt To Send Equipment

Program Urged To Save Time

Necessary Funds Provided In Measure Up Before Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—After Roosevelt had urged quick action on the vast lend-lease program, Administration leaders today asked Congress to grant the President sweeping powers to transfer American made military equipment to Great Britain and other warring nations.

The President told a press conference just before the legislation was introduced in both houses of Congress that the powers granted the program gave him were needed to avoid delay.

The bill would permit the President to send, repair, outfit or otherwise to place in good working order any defense articles for the Allies.

The measure authorizes the expenditure of funds in such amounts as may be necessary. Estimated cost of the program has been placed at $10,000,000,000.

In the business session which followed the election of Mayor Hill, a letter was read from the Sallie Harrison Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, asking permission to put up a marker at the old Speer Grove at Nineteenth Street and Melonville Avenue.

The City authorized $15 to be paid to the chapter to help in defraying the cost of the marker, and the Chamber of Commerce will contribute $10 toward the total cost of $66.25.

The letter asking permission to install the marker was signed by Mrs. H. J. Lehman, regent, and Mrs. F. E. Roumlat, regent, of the Founders' Day Committee.

Bills were received on a car for Grady Duncan, City building inspector, and one from the Sanford Bulk Co. for a used Chevrolet was accepted.

A resolution addressed to the United States Bureau of Roads and the State Highway Department was drawn up requesting that State Road 3 be designated a military highway, following a request from Edward Higgins, City commissioner and secretary of the St. Johns River Trail Association, which is sponsoring the road.

The Cecilia Realty and Trust Co. of Atlanta, Ga., offered to sell the City a warehouse 60 feet by 100 feet on French Avenue and Sixth Street, and the Commission took the offer under advisement.
