BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"—SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

"They Say"
Have you heard of the terrible family "They,"
And of all the venomous "They say"
And half the gossip under the sun,
If you trace it back, you will find begun
In that wretched house of "They."
A numerous family, so I am told,
And its genealogical tree is old,
For ever since Adam and Eve began
To build up the curious race of man
Has existed the house of "They."

Gossip-mongers and spreaders of lies,
Horrid people whom all despise!
And yet, the best of us, now and then,
Repeat queer tales of women and men
And quote the house of "They."

They live like lords and never labor,
A "They's" one task is to watch his neighbor,
And to tell his business and private affairs
To the world at large; they are sowers of tares
These folks in the house of "They."

It is useless to follow a "They"
With a whip or a gun, for he slips away
And into they house, where they cannot go;
It is locked and bolted and guarded so—
This horrible house of "They."

Though you cannot get in, they get out,
And spread their villainous tales about
Of all the rascals under the sun
Who have come to punishment never one
Belonged to the house of "They."
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

man, every banker, every professional man turn in and help. I am not given to using slang, but there is something in the advice: "Don't Knock! Boost!"

Throughout the entire interview, which is of some length, there is a ringing note of optimism that shows that Mr. Candler does not think that the south is in anything like the condition that the calamity howlers are trying to make out.

Some people may despise the lowly nickel but the man who can corral a bunch of nickels or even of pennies will lay the foundation of a fortune. Some time ago Asa Candler the Coca Cola king of Atlanta gave one million dollars to a Methodist college. One day last week he gave thirty millions to move the cotton crop and when you pause to think about how he reached the million mark just from the sale of nickel drinks the figures are appalling. A few years ago Coca Cola was hardly known outside of a few southern states and I well remember being in the north some twelve years ago and asking the soda fountain man in one of the largest cities for Coca Cola and he asked me what I meant. He finally decided that I wanted the new Atlanta concoction and reaching under the counter brought out a small sample bottle that held enough for two drinks. We had them together and he liked it so well that he concluded to order some more and today that city is probably using Coca Cola by the thousand barrels. All of this popularity of the drink was made by advertising for go where you will the large signs of Coca Cola greet your eye and every paper and magazine carry the advertisements. About ten years ago, while in Atlanta Mr. Candler carried me over his plant and told me the amount of money he was spending on advertising and while I do not remember the amount the figures were in the hundred thousand class and have more than doubled in the time since. This all goes to show that if the man who can get up something that brings in the nickels and advertises it extensively and makes many millions of dollars in the time that Asa Candler has it is high time that the man who does not believe in advertising should get wise to himself and the one who despises nickels can also take a tumble and start to saving them up.

Some people in the past have called me a crank on the subject of the bulkhead and the idea of making Sanford a more beautiful city but in later years many people have come to my rescue and if I was crazy a few years ago I now have some mighty good company. Among my warmest supporters are the good ladies of Sanford and they have joined the attack on the citadel of "fossilism" most valiantly and today the idea is strong in the breasts of the majority of the people to make Sanford the most beautiful city in the country. And why not? We certainly have the foundation for Sanford is undoubtedly endowed by nature most lavishly and all we need to do is to assist by some artificial touches to tone down the harsher angles and here and there pat Dame Nature down a bit and we will have the finest city in the land. The bulkhead is a mighty fine start and when finished will be a thing of beauty and a joy forever. I hear some talk of a yacht club on the lake front that will build a fine pavilion for dancing, having bowling alleys, etc. Now I want to supplement this with the idea that some Sanford man who has the good of the city at heart will erect the pavilion and turn it over to the club for a term of years, the club to pay him a good interest on the investment. This would not be any hardship on either side and the Commercial Club could have the building for headquarters. And there could be no better room in the city than on the lake front. We have often talked of a country club. This would be fine, but let us get ahead of the game and build a yacht club. Any city in Florida can have a country club but mighty few of them can have a yacht club such as Sanford could have.

Is there a man in Sanford who will back this proposition with the prospect of getting interest on his investment and earning the everlasting gratitude of the entire city?

Well, once more the world's championship series is a matter of ball history, and as you all know, Boston romped home with the pennant rag in four straight, thereby claiming a record and accumulating the long end of the gate receipts. To paraphrase an old adage "Only the Braves deserve the fair." Among other things the supremacy of the Boston-baked bean as a diet for base ball players has been established. It makes them astute, agile and aggressively alert when the break comes. Beans will also tout the most persistent jinx that ever hovered over a base ball park. From cellar champs to world's champions in sixty days is some jump but the Braves did it on a bean diet. The humble little "Navy" appears to be a great rejuvenator for a has-been base ball team.

I suggest that some of the calamity howlers in this neck of the woods try a diet of baked beans and maybe they could get up enough life to take part in the progressive movements of Sanford.

F. J. McDannel, who exists in Owosso, Michigan that he may live in Sanford some day and who has the best interests of Sanford at heart all the time, is anxious that the people of Seminole county plant trees along the highways. Mr. McDannel owns a nice place on the Sanford Orlando road and it is safe to assert that when he can divorce himself from his present position and come to Sanford to stay that he will plant trees upon his right of way. He sends the following about trees to The Herald.

"The Indiana office of public roads is urging the public to do something that is so obvious that it ought to require no urging to plant trees along the highways.

In the Old West the road was primarily an economic question, because wood is so scarce and valuable. They would figure how great a value could be created by raising a double line of great trees along thousands of miles of roadway, thus utilizing land that otherwise would be useless. Perhaps the trees would be of some value even in this country, but the main argument is appearance.

Nobody from city or country ever fails to note the beauty of a fine row of trees. Occasionally in driving through the country one enters an avenue that would be an ornament to any city park—a long stretch of road with a row of magnificent maples on each side, their branches interlacing over head. Nobody but a blind man could fail to notice it. Scarcely any one fails to say to himself "Somebody did a good thing when he planted those trees."

And he did do a good thing. Every man who plants a tree does a good thing; for he starts something that goes on without him, and continues to grow more and more beautiful and valuable long after he is dead.

Lenawee county has more than a thousand miles of county roads, and probably 75 per cent of this mileage is altogether treeless, save for an occasional remnant of the original forest, or a stray seedling that has sprung up in a fence corner. Probably not 5 per cent—perhaps not that much—can show rows of shade trees planted by human hands. How could the same amount of effort produce so much beauty and satisfaction as the beautifying of all these barren miles of highway?

It takes work of course to plant a tree. But the work comes at the very time of year when the time can be spared on the farm. To set out one tree is a small chore; but to set out a dozen would not be a very big one. Think what a change would be made around any farm by setting a dozen maples, or forest saplings of any kind each year. Imagine how the road would be transformed, in even so short a space as ten years. Imagine what a beauty spot it would be in thirty or fifty years.

It is a good idea and one that does not need any concerted effort or any act of the legislature. All that is needed is the desire to do it. The man to begin is you; and the place to begin is your own highway; the time to begin is the first day you feel like it. Set out trees. If you can't set out trees set out a tree.

Do it every year. Tree planting is contagious and your neighbor will follow suit. And the people of the next generation will look back with appreciation on your work.

Editor in Trouble
Clearwater, Oct. 23. Choice between publishing an apology in his newspaper or else being sentenced to jail was given by W. L. Straub, editor of the St. Petersburg Times, when arraigned before Circuit Judge F. M. Robles here today on a charge of contempt of court. The charge arose out of editorial comment made in the Times, in which Mr. Straub said that either the "law or the decision" of Judge Robles in the Pinellas jail matter "was a fake."

In calling Mr. Straub before the bar this morning Judge Robles made a very straightforward statement of his past pleasant relations, of his high esteem for newspaper men in general, and of Straub in particular, and of his reasons for making the decision which he did. He emphasized the fact that while newspapers should have the fullest leeway in making proper criticism of courts there was a point beyond which statements might reflect discredit, not upon a judge personally, but upon the judiciary and he stated that his understanding he language used was that it was a contemptuous term. He declared that while he might make mistakes no one had ever had reason to doubt his sincerity, and he felt that an explanation of the article was necessary.

Mr. Straub protested that he meant only to imply that a law which permitted of such a decision was a fake. He declared the highest regard for the judiciary and for Judge Robles in particular, and said he had no reason whatever for using any contemptuous term regarding him.

The judge stated, however, that the language used would undoubtedly be considered by any judge or lawyer as tending to bring derision upon the judiciary and to lessen its influence, if it were generally published that fake decisions were given in important cases. He said that he would hold the matter in abeyance for a few days to see what explanation Mr. Straub would make, and that if a suitable apology appeared in the Times the matter would be dropped. Otherwise the editor would be called up again. The judge also added that he would never in a contempt case, impose a fine, as that would merely take a few dollars out of the pocket. Anyone who would be adjudged guilty of contempt, he said, would have to receive a jail sentence.

BAPTISTS CONVENE

THE WEKIVA BAPTIST ASSOCIATION HAS FINE MEETING

The thirty-eighth annual session of the Wekiva Baptist Association convened with the Lake View Baptist church at Whittier, Fla., last Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 21 and 22. In the absence of the moderator the meeting was called together by the clerk, and organization perfected. Officers elected for the ensuing year, for moderator, Rev. E. Lee Smith of Apopka, and for clerk, Jno. D. Jinkins of Sanford. In spite of the distance the Association was well attended, especially by the churches in the lower part of the territory covered by the Association, but not so well by the churches further north.

Whittier is located fifty miles south of Chuluota, and forty-four miles from Kissimmee, and is on the Lake Okeechobee branch of the F. E. C. Ry., and was at one time the county seat of Brevard county, before the formation of Osceola county.

Reports from the churches showed an encouraging growth and development practically all over the territory covered by this Association, which embraces the churches at DeLand, Sanford, Oviedo, Apopka, Geneva, Longwood, Umatilla, Sorrento, Tavares, Orlando, Kissimmee and many smaller churches.

The introductory sermon was preached by Rev. W. W. Willian of Tavares, and the doctrinal sermon by Dr. A. J. Holt of Kissimmee, the closing sermon by Rev. E. Lee Smith of Apopka.

The delegates were sumptuously entertained by the good people of Whittier and vicinity under the direction of Rev. B. H. Guy, the pastor, and Mr. John H. Baisden, chairman of the entertainment committee.

It has long been thought that the Wekiva Association was too large covering as it does the territory from DeLand to Bassenger and Lake Okeechobee and from Geneva, Chuluota and Fort Christmas to Winter Garden and Umatilla. After careful consideration and conference with Dr. Rogers of the State Board it has been decided to form a new Association, and for that purpose the following churches are expected to disaffiliate to the following churches: Chuluota, Geneva, Lake Gertrude, Lockwood, Oviedo, Pine Grove, Sanford, Sorrento, Tavares and Umatilla, in addition to this the churches of DeLand, Longwood, Enterprise and Altavilla are expected to come into the new association. Also churches from other associations which are expected to unite with the new association are Daytona, New Smyrna, Titusville, Oak Hill, Lake Helen, Osteen and Jarroville. This will give the new association a compact territory and several strong churches. A meeting to perfect the organization has been called to be held with the Sanford Baptist church Thursday, Nov. 12th at 11 a. m.

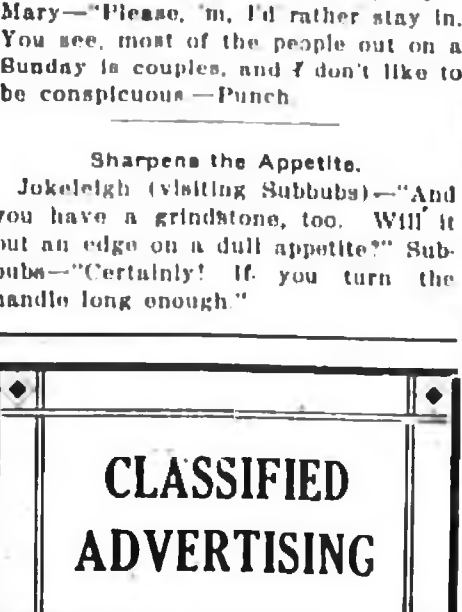

The Seminole Baptist Association is the name suggested for the new organization.

THE POSTAL BANKS GETTING DEPOSITS

WAR SCARE SEEMS TO HAVE MADE POSTAL BANKS VERY POPULAR

The war in Europe is proving a big boon to postal savings in this country. From the very day hostilities opened across the seas postal-savings receipts began to increase by leaps and bounds and withdrawals fell off, a result quite contrary to the predictions of many well informed persons who, in their imagination, saw lines of feverish depositors at postoffice pay windows anxious to again return their savings to the boot-leg and to by belt depositories whence they came before entrusted to Uncle Sam.

Two important results have followed; thousands of people, largely of foreign birth, accustomed to send their savings abroad, are now patrons of our postal savings system, and enormous sums of actual cash have been released for commercial uses among our own people at a time when the need for every available dollar is pressing.

The growth of postal savings in the United States has been steady and healthy and the system has filled an important gap between the ten-cent depository and the factory paymaster. On July 1, when affairs were running smoothly here and abroad and the transmission of money across the Atlantic was safe and expeditious, there was approximately $43,000,000 of postal savings.

The growth of postal savings in the United States has been steady and healthy and the system has filled an important gap between the ten-cent depository and the factory paymaster. On July 1, when affairs were running smoothly here and abroad and the transmission of money across the Atlantic was safe and expeditious, there was approximately $43,000,000 of postal savings.

The unexpected increase in postal-savings business has not only added greatly to the general administrative duties of the system, but has brought up many new and interesting problems which have called for the careful personal consideration of Postmaster General Burleson and Governor Dockery, Third Assistant Postmaster General. But their task has been lightened somewhat by the promptness of depository banks in furnishing additional security to meet the abnormal deposits.

There are now 90 depositories in Sanford, whose deposits amount to $6,724.00.

CHAS. F. HASKINS, P. M.

C. E. Convention The delegates to the convention are arriving in our city today. Preparations are completed for a good, helpful gathering of our Christian Endeavor forces of the district. Sessions, beginning tonight are open for all, and especially the young people of other societies of the cities are cordially invited to be present. Come and bring a friend with you, at the Congregational church.

There is something woefully insidious about a "neutrality" that will begin to talk about the need of American armament "if the Germans invade England."

Prominent Floridian Here

Among the prominent visitors to the city yesterday was Hon. John M. Caldwell, editor of the Jasper News and one of the most prominent men of the state. He is on his rounds as High Priest of the Royal Arch degree of Masons and coming to Sanford to make connections for the East Coast found the people so religious over here that they would not allow the East Coast trains to run on Sunday and he was obliged to stay in Sanford. If Uncle John enjoyed his visit as much as we enjoyed having him the feeling is mutual, for he is one of the most interesting men in Florida, having been born and raised in Florida and has the proud distinction of being the father of seventeen children, all of whom were given an apprenticeship in the printing office and have made good in the various walks of life.

REN. SMITH HARDIN TO BE HERE NEXT SUNDAY

WILL CONDUCT THE EVENING SERVICES AT THE STAR THEATRE

Rev. Hardin, presiding elder of the Palatka district of the Methodist church will be in Sanford next Sunday and Monday. Sunday evening he will preach at 7 o'clock. A. Mr. Hardin is a prominent official visitor to Sanford has made many friends, as is expected that his friends, as well as all members of the Methodist church will be present.

On Monday, the fourth quarterly conference will be held. The time will be announced at 8 o'clock evening.

The Methodist church has had a very harmonious year and more than fifty members have been added to the roll, and from the modest prosperity of the church.

MUST HAVE LICENSE TO HUNT IN STATE

JONES EXPECTS WARDENS TO DO THEIR DUTY THIS SEASON

Jacksonville, Oct. 30.—State Game and Fish Commissioners E. Z. Jones has placed applications for hunting licenses in the hands of the county judges of the peace in the state for the benefit of the Nimrods. He has loaned distributed the blanks with all of the county judges. Commissioner Jones stated that he has taken this step to enable the hunters to procure the necessary licenses with as little trouble as possible. One thing to secure a license may now be before any judge of the peace and make application for such and the official will take his sworn application, send it in to the county judge and secure the desired permit to hunt. In this connection the commissioner makes it plain that where a party secures a state license he is entitled to hunt in any county in the state without the necessity of securing a county license. He states that in many cases he has received inquiries as to whether or not it was necessary to secure two licenses if a party desired to hunt in any county other than that in which he lives. Mr. Jones also desires all hunters to understand that he intends to enforce the law. He does not permit hunting without license. Up to the present time some 200 prosecutions have been started over the state. Those who have been prosecuted by the commissioner have been accused of hunting without licenses, which is contrary to law. Those prosecutions have been begun in 22 counties. Volusia county leads with 14 prosecutions already started. However, Polk, Leon, Marion and Howard counties are not far behind. The number of suits started in Escambia, Manatee and Santa Rosa counties, but one prosecution has been started for each county.

One of the most glib features of modern politics is the way Woodrow Wilson can make congress do about everything he wants him to and close the session by telling 'em of his high admiration for the man who has just introduced and introduced a bill. They have done this in every session since 1901, and it is a very good thing that they do it. They do it so well that they are almost always right. They do it so well that they are almost always right. They do it so well that they are almost always right.

WEATHER CONDITIONS AND THE MARKETS

COLD SNAP MAKES BETTER OUTLOOK FOR THE LETTUCE

The following information on the market and weather conditions in the north is of interest to Sanford growers. It is absolutely authentic and is furnished by F. F. Dutton, who is in daily communication with these markets.

From Chicago. We had our first snow storm yesterday and a heavy freeze last night which we believe will cut down supplies of home-grown vegetables materially. There is little or no change in the celery market at the present time, but we believe this cold weather will stimulate same. New York lettuce is arriving in very bad condition and there is a good demand for fancy stock. We have had several inquiries as to how soon Florida will start and would appreciate your advising us promptly on receipt of this communication relative to the situation there and how soon you will have stock to offer.

From Philadelphia. Referring to your remarks contained in yours of the 22nd regarding lettuce which should be ready to move in the course of the next two or three weeks, wish to say that over night we had a very cold snap and we were advised by wire from New York that the temperature had dropped to 44. While no serious damage has been done to the celery crop, it has done the lettuce crop a lot of harm and there is no question but that if your stock is good and headed the market will be all right when it is ready.

From Pittsburgh. The weather here has turned cold over night, temperature around 35 and we are having snowfall. The predictions for the week are continued cold and today unquestionably puts a quietus on home grown products.

CONFEDERATE VETS HOLDING REUNION

LAKELAND IS HOST TO THE GRAY CLAD WARRIORS OF FLORIDA

Lakeland, Oct. 29.—Following the general reception and address of welcome of Wednesday, the Florida division, meeting here in annual reunion, spent the morning in an important business session. A large increase in attendance was noted today, and the reunion gives promise of being one of the most successful ever held in this state.

Every afternoon the veterans and sons and daughters of veterans will be taken for an automobile ride in and around the city.

Lakeland is maintaining its reputation for hospitality, every incoming train being met by a committee which sees that the old veterans are assigned to their quarters and are taken there with the minimum of inconvenience and trouble to themselves.

A force of boy scouts is in attendance and as soon as a veteran receives his card one of these boys is at his side to act as guide and companion and escort him to his destination.

Due to the nature of general battle the veterans are a fine looking and intelligent body of men, many of them remarkably interesting personalities. A number of them show the effect of service scars and missing limbs, but it is frequently being evidenced. One veteran, A. B. Davis of Plant City is 94 years of age, but he carries his burden of nearly a century as lightly as some men of fifty. Another aged and distinguished member is Gen. H. W. Long of Marion county, known throughout the state. Prominent figures also are those of Y. D. Williams of Jacksonville, brigadier general and assistant adjutant general, F. M. Brimmer of Jacksonville and many others. The sponsors and maids and their charm and beauty in contrast with the rugged qualities of the aged soldiers.

Thought a reception for the sponsors and maids is being held at the residence of Mr. A. H. Johnson, 110 N. E. 1st street, Lakeland, Florida, on Friday, November 13.

SANFORD TO HAVE A FOOT BALL TEAM

BOYS HAVE ORGANIZED AND WILL TRY TO HAVE WINNING AGGREGATION

The Sanford High School is to have a foot ball team this year. The boys have already organized and are practicing hard every afternoon. More athletic spirit is being shown in the school this year than ever before, and it is certain the boys will succeed if they keep up practice and interest as they are doing now.

The years before that the H.S. tried to organize a foot ball team were unsuccessful on account of lack of men and interest, but this year we have a superintendent who is just as enthusiastic over the game as any of the boys, and he has already done much toward making this a successful year in athletics. The freshman class this year brought several good men who are showing up fine.

Those trying for the team are Shepherd, Routh, Spencer, Murrell, Brown, Pope, Wickham, A. Green, Arthur and Fry.

Several games have been arranged, one of which is with St. Augustine H. S. and is to be played here Friday week. The St. Augustine game is strong and a good game is expected.

Football in Tampa

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the courtesies of the sporting editor of the Tampa Tribune for the football games to be played in Tampa tomorrow afternoon, in which Southern College and Stetson will compete. On Thanksgiving Day the big game will be played between Southern College and Florida University. The games are played at Plant Field in Tampa, said to be very fine grounds and large crowds should attend both games. Several of the boys from Sanford expect to see tomorrow's game.

Red Cross Recital Fund

It is desired to make the Red Cross fund, through the coming Recital as large as possible. Every one is interested and anxious to help the cause along. On every hand, each one addressed on the subject expresses the earnest desire to aid to the utmost. The clergy, the merchants, county and city officers, business men and citizens active and retired unitedly wish the project well and promise help generously and gladly. The entertainment itself is going to be superb and worth more than the admission price at which tickets have been placed. All will be ready with their fifty-cent pieces when the admission cards are ready, which will be shortly. It is absolutely necessary, in order to make the right kind of success of the project, to sell two hundred tickets.

MRS. OVERMAN IS STEADILY IMPROVING

REPORTS THAT SHE WAS DEAD FOUND TO HAVE BEEN UNTRUE

In a letter to the editor of the Herald Mrs. J. H. Overman states that she is improving every day and the report that she is dead has been greatly exaggerated. Mrs. Overman, it will be remembered, fell through a broken place in the flooring of the back porch over the Progress Laundry in Tampa and sustained serious injuries, shattering the bones in her leg between the knee and ankle. She is still in the hospital and while suffering greatly is still the cheerful and optimistic lady that the Sanford people knew so well. Her many friends here will be glad to know that her limb will not have to be amputated and that eventually she will regain the full use of it, although it will be some time before she can bear the weight of her body on it.

FORREST DABNEY CARR COMING FOR RECITAL

RED CROSS BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT WILL BE GIVEN FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 13

Mr. Carr's recital and tour for the benefit of the Red Cross, for the purpose of raising funds for the relief of the victims of the war, will be given at the Metropolitan Opera Co. His singing in the Brick Church, N. Y. City (Dr. Henry Van Dyke, pastor) gave him opportunities of appearing before the leading musical clubs of the country, especially the Evanston Musical Club of Evanston, Illinois. P. C. Latham, director of the club, says that the club in Edgar's "King" that was so prominent, he was immediately engaged by this same organization to sing Edgar's master work "Caractacus" which created a sensation at the St. Louis Exposition—winning honors for the club and securing second prize over the leading choral societies of the world. Mr. Carr's singing of Dr. Waldorf Davies setting of "Everyman" under the direction of Mr. Clarence Dickinson, was the first performance in America and will be remembered as one of the most beautiful interpretations this character has ever received.

Death of Mrs. Bishop

Following a lingering illness from paralysis for over four years, Mrs. Bishop, wife of Dr. J. N. Bishop, passed away Sunday morning, the 25th, at "The Norton" their home in Crestwood, New York. The funeral services were held at their residence, conducted by Rev. C. P. Tinker, followed by burial service at New London, Conn. Mrs. Bishop's birthplace and former home.

Dr. and Mrs. Bishop are well known in this community, as he has been identified with the growth and development of Sanford, and has large interests at Paola, where they had their winter residence over thirty five years.

Dr. and Mrs. Bishop were well known in this city, where they resided for many years. Dr. Bishop located in Sanford with Mrs. Bishop about the year 1875. He built the Bishop block and practiced medicine here, leaving for New York in 1887. He and Mrs. Bishop made many visits here, afterward stopping in Sanford and visiting their grove property near Paola. The many friends here of the family extend their sympathy to the bereaved in the hour of affliction.

THE CHRISTMAS SHIP IS READY TO LOAD

SANFORD PEOPLE SHOULD ASSIST IN THIS GREAT MOVEMENT TODAY

The Christmas Ship will be started from this city and the Woman's Club will have the management of the shipments that will go to make the little children happy in war ridden Europe. The school children have been interested in this great movement and Mrs. Terheun paid a visit to each room this week explaining the proposition to all of them and the children of Sanford have taken hold of her idea with much enthusiasm.

Any one having toys or presents of any kind that would help to gladden the little children of Europe at Christmas time should take the articles to the Woman's Club house on Oak avenue this afternoon and tomorrow afternoon or call up Mrs. Terheun for information on the subject.

The Southern Express, with commendable spirit have agreed to carry the articles free of charge and assist the movement in every way and the following letter is self explanatory: Vice President instructs that Christmas gifts donated for the children of Europe for forwarding on United States Government steamers from Brooklyn November tenth will be carried free to Brooklyn from points where express service is necessary because of limited time before sailing date. Shipments must be limited to one hundred pounds and marked "Christmas Gifts for the Children of Europe" and should be timed to reach Brooklyn approximately forty eight hours before November tenth.

In order that this information may reach the largest number of our patrons, I suggest that you advise local papers of this free service offered by express companies.

In acceptance of shipments it will be well to caution shippers of such packages that it is not advisable to pack perishables in their donations or articles that would probably spoil during the long voyage. Respectfully, C. C. WOLFER, Superintendent.

Change in the Cotton

Washington, Oct. 30.—United States Ambassador Gerard, at Berlin, cabled the state department today that Germany and Austria need about 75,000 bales of cotton a month from the United States and he is getting details on the points of shipment.

Baron Von Schuck, one of the German embassy secretaries, made inquiries as to the extent of protection for cotton going to German ports. Indirectly he informed the state department that Germany is pleased with the plan evolved by the United States and Great Britain.

The state department plan, which will undoubtedly be utilized by American shippers, means $3,000,000 worth of cotton a month may now cross the seas safely under the virtual protection of the British navy. Cotton carrying vessels for German ports should be neutral bottoms, as understood by the state department, and also as indicated by Ambassador Gerard. Cotton shipped under the neutral agreement is now fixed may be used by the army of any country to which it is consigned.

MOORE'S STATION

Rev. Price of Cameron City, late of Illinois City, Ill., preached Sunday at the church here to a large congregation.

John Welker passed away at his home on Richmond avenue Monday morning from a complication of diseases hastened by a recent stroke of paralysis. Mr. Welker was about 82 years of age. He was taken to his former home at Bryan, Ohio for interment. Mrs. Welker is quite ill again we hear. Much sympathy is expressed for her and the family.

W. W. Miller is out again from a few days' absence from the house with a cold and complications.

City Engineer F. T. Williams was here last week surveying the continuation of the street that comes from Ohio avenue past the Sam'l Swartz place and C. C. Worthington grove. It will come down on Beardall avenue opposite the south line of the Keelor property. Illinois avenue has been the name decided on, we understand.

The B. A. Howard home on Sanford avenue and Pineway is receiving a beautiful coat of cream colored paint. The inside is also being redecorated.

Miss E. V. Hunter and sister, Mrs. Maude of Bridgeport, O., a suburb of Wheeling, W. Va., have arrived in town and are guests of their cousin, Mrs. Thomas Dunlap on Park avenue. They will soon take possession of their place on Sanford avenue purchased of McBride last spring. They will rebuild, paint and otherwise beautify their place for a winter home.

Miss Ella Ingram went to Ft. Lauderdale today to visit with her brother and family and expects to remain some time.

Miss Edith McClelland arrived home Sunday from Eau Gallie and began attending school in town.

Mr. Miller is out in his new auto often delivering baked goods to the Marshall store in Cameron City.

Mrs. F. T. Williams and children from town were callers at the Ellsworth home Saturday.

The recent rains have been of great benefit to the crops just what was needed.

CASSIA CHATTER

Harry Allison has returned after spending the summer in Charlotte, N. C.

Mr. Putnam of Alabama, who bought the Camp place is making improvements on his new place.

Mrs. Furen and sons were out Saturday, looking over their orange grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Camp's new house will soon be ready for them to move in. When completed they will have a nice home.

Mr. C. Stothoff is the first we have heard of this fall to have lettuce ready for market. It packed 25 heads to the basket. He sold it f. o. b. Sanford $1.20 a basket. The buyer was Mr. Fox.

E. E. Turner is seen quite often out this end of town these days. He delivers groceries out this way now.

Carl Rabun and Jack Fox ride in to town these days for school on their wheels.

Mr. Wian, a guard at the boys' camp spent Sunday with his home folks at Ebenezer.

PAOLA POINTS

Mrs. B. W. Smith and little grand daughter, Pauline Thompson visited relatives in Pine Castle last Friday.

Mr. Geo. Herzberg has gone to Sanford to work at his trade.

Mrs. F. A. Johnson has been laid up for the past two weeks with a sore foot, which we hope will soon allow her to be out again.

Mr. F. A. W. Brown has had an ill turn. Wonder if it was the effect of high living during his house party recently.

Mrs. Cleveland is expected home tonight (Wednesday). There are many people who will be glad to see her and one in particular.

No school to date, and nobody knows why.

Word has been received of the death of Mrs. Dr. J. N. Bishop but no particulars as yet. Mrs. Bishop has been an invalid for several years, and though her death was not unexpected, the news came, as all such news does, as more or less of a shock to her many friends here, where she was greatly loved and respected.

GENEVA ITEMS

Brown Bros. from Minneola, Fla., have purchased half interest in the Musselwhite Turpentine farm and have already moved. These men come well recommended and a warm welcome is extended to them.

The delegates to the association held at Kenansville have returned and report a fine, profitable trip. The Welfare Association, on account of its size will be divided in the future. Pastors and members of the different churches which will be in the new association will meet in Sanford on the 12th of November to fully organize.

OVIDO OCCURRENCES

The first fall meeting of the Wide Hampton Chapter of the U. D. C. was held at the home of our vice president, Mrs. Harry Yonge last Tuesday afternoon. The chapter has increased in interest and membership during the year and contributed generously to Benevolent Fund. This being the annual meeting, officers were elected, also delegates to the state convention at Kissimmee Nov. 4, and the general convention at Savannah, Ga., in Dec. 1914.

The "Christmas Ship" for the relief of the European orphans has aroused much enthusiasm among the people. Mrs. Allison gave a social tea at her handsome residence on Lake Charm and Mrs. Mead is deserving of much praise for her efforts through the Magazine Club in getting up the Victrola concert at the high school hall and the cooked food sale last Saturday. From each was realized a generous sum.

The dredge boat is doing excellent work under the management of W. M. Mitchell and the work of digging the canal to Lake Jessup will be completed by the beginning of the new year. The prospects for fishing is good, as great numbers of small ones have already found their way into this new water course.

The Wilson land, which includes the hammock to the east of the A. C. L. crossing has been sold in lots and considerable clearing work done during the year. Some has been converted into garden land and some portion set out in grapefruit.

TRICE'S TRUMPETEER

(Articles Published under this heading furnished by M. P. A. Trice, Jacksonville)

"Salvation through slavery is worthless salvation from slavery is everything," declared one of the greatest American writers and lecturers. He was speaking of that mental condition of man which makes him a slave to a dogma, or creed, or social condition, dealing always and entirely with an unknown and wholly speculative future. Further along, on the same subject he declared: "We are no endeavoring to chain the future, but to free the present." And again: "While superstition builds walls and creates obstructions, science opens all the highways of thought." What a beautiful picture, the consummation of which would usher in an ideal millennium.

Nearly half a century ago we abolished physical slavery by executive order. The best evidence that the subconscious man knew the whole system was wrong is the fact that all open advocacy or actual practice of slavery forthwith disappeared from the face of the land. But the conflict for mental slavery is more fierce today than at any time in the world's history. The best evidence that it is not right is the fact, everywhere evident, that people refuse to be governed by legislative enactment in behalf of such a monstrous thing.

The habits of men and customs of society, are but the universal harvests of the human mind its earlier cravings and its matured desires. For, as ye sow ye also shall reap. It follows, therefore, that if you would change the harvest you must give attention to the sowing and no man has ever sown strife and reaped that peace that passeth understanding. Put that arrow, in your quiver and pierce through with it the next man who tries to bedevil your mind with the belief you can and it is your Christian duty to make, instead of persuade other men, think and act as you do.

You can direct by kindness and reason, but you cannot control the human mind without enslaving it. And the moment it becomes enslaved it becomes inactive—a peon to some master mind. Search the moulding archives of the ancients, examine upon the witness stand the historians of the present and there is but one testimony. A nation may prosper under the government of unbelievers, if the diversification of opinion be broad enough, but under the slavery of centralized thought it goes out of existence and fades from the memory of man kind.

Nature is our greatest teacher did we but read its open book. All that ever was, that is, or ever will be, has its place in the plan of nature. The seedling comes after rain. But these beautiful countenances cannot meet with us always without destroying life. A seed, an atom, no larger than a pin head, falls into the foulest dump heap of rotting matter. Does it decay with its surroundings? Not much. Gathering unto itself the freezing substances of life from the decaying matter it bursts forth a healthy and vigorous plant. Now the seed of righteous ambition in the foulest human mind and it will do the same thing. But don't try to force spontaneous growth by enclosing the seed in a sealed iron container when you sow it. If you do it will probably never germinate or if it finally breaks through the casing it will be dwarfed. He who thus breaks the pinions of possible boundless human achievement is no less a murderer than the skulking assassin. The first certainly sends a mental deficient struggling through life against unconquerable odds, while the other may have ended only a precarious existence.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for la grippe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

In my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

FROM THE GERMAN VIEWPOINT

SANFORD GERMAN-AMERICAN CITIZEN ANSWERS ARTICLE REGARDING NEUTRALITY

Editor Sanford Herald: Very much to my regret I am forced to answer an article of the Rev. F. P. Strong in your last issue.

The wise and judicial proclamation of our esteemed President for neutrality in thought and action by the citizens of the United States was too high minded a document to be twisted and perverted into different meanings.

Our President recognized that with the descendants of so many different nations in our great country, nervous tension between them would be strained to the utmost through the unfortunate war conditions in Europe, and that it was incumbent upon every law abiding citizen, to avoid any expressions of sympathies, that could bring this tension to the breaking point and endanger the peace and goodwill between our different nationalities.

This being clear to every peace-loving citizen it is a mystery to me why a minister of the gospel should be the first one in our peace-loving city to throw stones at our German Americans, as he certainly does when in public print he disparages the Germans and their cause as a whole.

The German Americans do not resent the apparent lack of sympathy by other Americans, they have never catered to it through their press or otherwise, but they are satisfied that time and results will show a justice loving people, where sympathy belongs in the end.

It is a preposterous aspersion to say that men like Nietzsche, von Treitschke and von Bernhardi are moulders and expressions of the true German character. It is almost as absurd a statement as it would say that Benjamin Young and Theodore Roosevelt are the moulders of American character.

If the reverend gentleman would try and get his information from more than one-sided sources he would find, through statistics alone that these gentlemen belong to their kind in a position that are better known and followed in foreign countries than in their own, also he would find that more, much more, of the public money has been spent every year for armament, or so called "militarism" in England, in France and in the United States, indeed.

The discovery was made by a young man who spends much of his time studying zoology, botany, and such things. He threw a net to a squirrel in the square, expecting to see it do the usual stunt, which is to carry it up a tree and hold it. Instead the little animal skipped across the lawn and accepted a telegraph pole with both hands.

The squirrel was not that they had been playing in the park. They have evidently been robbing of some food they had worked laboriously for days to store up. At least, that is the way the depositors in the daily audience have it figured out. It would be a nutty squirrel, they think, that would risk its life and dignity in such a manner just for a nut.

The performances are held daily. All that is necessary is to give one of the little animals a nut, and the show begins.

Joy of Irresponsible Ownership. The most innocent pleasure can be enjoyed in the ownership of an abandoned farm. Of course one must satisfy his social conscience by making sure that the agricultural district was abandoned for good cause, and that the former owner bettered his condition by moving away.

No Expert. The horny-handed son of toll who had just inherited a fortune went to see a manicure. "Can you do anything with these, ma'am?" he asked, exhibiting his hands. "Yes, sir," she said, "after you've gone to a surgeon and had those cracks stitched up. I don't meddle with jobs that belong to the regular practitioners."

MENTAL CONDITION AND NOT PHYSICAL

CONFRONTING THE PEOPLE OF THE COTTON STATES AND MAKING THEM RIDICULOUS IN EYES OF THE WORLD

It is strictly a mental condition of the people of the south who are hysterical over the present cotton situation, said M. M. Smith this morning as he came in to take up his duties as Acting Cashier of the Peoples Bank, of which institution he is president.

Mr. Smith has just returned from Valdosta where he attended the State Fair for several days. "I made it my business to talk with as many farmers as I could find on the fair grounds for I wanted to find out first hand the real condition of the Georgia farmers and the reason for great howl going up to the heavens about the south going bankrupt on account of a war thousands of miles removed from the shores of America."

I asked one man if he was starving for want of something to eat and he said he had plenty to eat for the next twelve months if cotton brought nothing in that time. My brother-in-law who is a farmer, at whose home I ate breakfast asked for syrup and I asked him why he did not raise his own syrup and he said there was no money in it.

My reply was that he seemed to have money enough to buy syrup. In fact every one of them are living and doing well and they are in such good circumstances that they have nothing to do but kick. Before I left I told them that though Georgia had the best people on earth they were the first to raise a howl and had so little grit that they could not rise above a small thing like the present temporary depression in cotton. That I was glad to get back to my adopted state of Florida.

The Midwinter Exhibition of the South Florida Sub-tropical Agricultural Exposition, which is held annually in Orlando during the month of February, will be visited by greater crowds than ever before upon the occasion of its next appearance.

There are several reasons why this is bound to be true. The fair has grown every successive year, larger and better. The display has been viewed every succeeding year by a greater number of people. A conservative estimate of those who visited the fair last year placed the number at 10,000. This number will be largely increased next year for the simple reason that every person who saw the fair last year became a moving and visible advertisement for it, more publicity is being given the event than ever, more people are interested in it, and in the very nature of things it cannot help proving to be a greater success than ever.

With the prospect it should not be necessary to bring to the attention of the Commissioners of our sister counties the desirability of being represented by good, comprehensive and well prepared exhibits. It is not primarily the business of the commissioners to make appropriations for such things, but as a matter of judicious investment for the progress of the section no similar amounts could be placed to better purpose.

The value of the county fair for setting strongly and convincingly before the world the possibilities of a section is so well recognized that the plan is to use the county fair, and those sections that haven't it are making ready to adopt it. With an established plant and reputation it is of great advantage to the surrounding counties to exhibit at the South Florida Mid-Winter Exposition. No county loses its individuality by putting things with other counties together and exhibiting them as a unit.

The South Florida Mid-Winter Exposition is again to open next year with bigger and better exhibits than ever. It will be held at the same place, the advantage of which is reported Star.

SQUIRRELS SKIP ON WIRE

Tiny Animals Refuse Daring Aerial Feats to Outwit Nut Thieves of Philadelphia

Philadelphia. There has been a crowd of Kensingtoners in North Square, Pennsylvania, this week, every day since the squirrel show, that the squirrels in the section board of Trade put into the open space several years ago will perform incredible climbing feats like a nut.

The discovery was made by a young man who spends much of his time studying zoology, botany, and such things. He threw a net to a squirrel in the square, expecting to see it do the usual stunt, which is to carry it up a tree and hold it. Instead the little animal skipped across the lawn and accepted a telegraph pole with both hands.

The squirrel was not that they had been playing in the park. They have evidently been robbing of some food they had worked laboriously for days to store up. At least, that is the way the depositors in the daily audience have it figured out. It would be a nutty squirrel, they think, that would risk its life and dignity in such a manner just for a nut.

The performances are held daily. All that is necessary is to give one of the little animals a nut, and the show begins.

Joy of Irresponsible Ownership. The most innocent pleasure can be enjoyed in the ownership of an abandoned farm. Of course one must satisfy his social conscience by making sure that the agricultural district was abandoned for good cause, and that the former owner bettered his condition by moving away.

No Expert. The horny-handed son of toll who had just inherited a fortune went to see a manicure. "Can you do anything with these, ma'am?" he asked, exhibiting his hands. "Yes, sir," she said, "after you've gone to a surgeon and had those cracks stitched up. I don't meddle with jobs that belong to the regular practitioners."

THE COUNTRY EDITOR

The country editor's job is not writing," says William Allen White. "The average man who looks at an editor in any Kansas town and finds his career worth emulating, knows little about the aforesaid career. The average man believes that all the editor has to do is to go around with his note-book, and jot down a few personals, write up a batch of desultory thoughts on large affairs and go to press and cut the receipts. "The truth is different. The country editor has to make much of the news he writes. The Commercial Club, the church, the baseball team, the college, the law and order league, the county central committee, the whist club, and the good roads movement all must feel the influence of his guiding hand. He must be in everything and run errands for every one, pass the paper, get the hall, hire the band, send out the circulars, deliver the address of welcome, do the town lying for harmony's sake and hold the sack. He must be guide, philosopher and friend to those in trouble, and be mentor and admonisher to those who are about to get into trouble. "The preacher, the town drunkard, the statesman, the social climber, the real estate boomer, the man from the grand lodge who is about to exemplify the new work, the promoter, the broken soldier kindly bade him stay, the captain of industry and the girl with the fatherless baby, all come to him to help them in their troubles. He is the town confessor, the town boomer and the town goat, doorman, rock of refuge, errand boy and vicarious sacrifice, the editor is the only creature in all the wide animal kingdom that made the most of a dove's strength of a lion, the protective odor of the skunk, the smooth, crawling bully of a worm of the dust, and the aspirations of a god."

SUCCESSFUL CONGRESS

The second session of the sixty-third congress which came to a close Saturday was one of the most remarkable in history both in point of length and achievement. It is the longest session ever held. It has heard more speeches and piled up a larger record than any other previous session in the history of the United States. The Congressional Record will have 20,000 pages, whereas the greatest number heretofore was 13,000 pages. The session has done the following important things: Passed the Federal Reserve act, revising the banking and currency laws. Repealed the exemption clause of the Panama Canal act, thereby imposing tolls upon American coast-wise ships. Passed the Clayton anti-trust act, supplementing the Sherman anti-trust law, making guilt personal. Passed the bill creating the Federal Trade Commission. Provided $35,000,000 for a government railroad in Alaska. Provided for the American registry of foreign built ships. Received more than 5,000 nominations from the president. Ratified 26 arbitration treaties. Appropriated $1,115,908,777.26 for the fiscal year 1915. Adopted a resolution justifying the President in sending troops to Mexico. Appropriated $500,000 to bring Americans out of the war zone in Mexico and $2,750,000 to bring them out of the war zone in Europe. Broke up the lobby. Passed the Alley bill, which Mrs. Woodrow Wilson had urged, to clean up the alley sections of Washington.

Editor Straub of the St. Petersburg Times meant no contempt of court in his utterances and when it was put up to him to apologize or go to jail he explained in a manly way that he had no idea of insulting the court when he wrote the article of criticism. Of course this incident does not give the courts of Florida the right and power to squelch the editors on all court matters and the newspapers will continue to express their opinions. In fact there are several editors in Florida who would go to jail before they would apologize.

HAS PROSPEROUS LOOK

The Savannah Press is in receipt of a copy of the fall trade issue of the Sanford Herald. It requires an editor with courage to issue a trade review right now, but Editor Holly has tackled the job and made good with it. The paper is a credit not alone to Sanford and its immediate section but to all of Florida. There will be some local interest attached to this special number of the paper because of the fact that Mrs. R. A. Terheun, formerly of Savannah, is its society editress. Mrs. Terheun did considerable work for the local papers before leaving this city and she is in every way qualified for the position she now holds in this thriving little Florida city. Savannah Press.

Headline in Ocala Banner states that Robert Holly died in that city last week. It made us sit up and

If there is any reason why south Florida should ship cattle to Kansas City and Chicago to be slaughtered and shipped back to us, we would like for some wise one to state it. We need a large packing concern in this section of the state, and Tampa is the logical place for it. Looks like that town would go after some real big things so as to make the Panama canal of value to it and to us. If she had extensive stockyards and packing facilities, the people of Cuba and South America might prove as foolish as we are and send their cattle north to be slaughtered and sent back home to them. We need a meat packing house in this state so as to enable us to keep at home the millions of dollars which we are now sending north every year for embalmed meats. It is a darn shame, fellows! Wake up and get busy for Florida and home industries!—Arcadia Enterprise.

The German ambassador is discussing the propriety of invading Canada and maintains that it would not be a violation of the Monroe doctrine. Why should he waste his time in discussing purely academic questions?

Letter From Mrs. Overman Tampa, Oct. 27, 1914. Mr. R. J. Holly, Sanford, Fla. My Dear Mr. Holly I had a good laugh when Jim brought me the Herald yesterday and I read the account of my accident and the report that I had "died." Well, I want to say to you I am the "live-heat corpse" you ever saw. I tell the doctor and nurses I'm not near ready for them to "plant" me. It takes more than one broken leg to "knock me out." I tell the nurses I will be a second John L. Sullivan when I get out of here. I pull myself around on the bed with my arms till I feel like I am getting very strong.

You being a Bible reader, as you are, remember the comparison of the camel passing through the needle's eye? Well, that isn't any greater than the hole I fell through in that porch floor. People go and look at the place wonder in astonishment how I ever went through. But I'm here to tell you I sure went and went "scotching" too, landing on my feet on the engine bed, among belting, etc. Neither foot was hurt, but the left leg, halfway between my knee and ankle was shivered in small pieces. When I tried to raise myself up I discovered the bone protruding from the left leg about one and a half inches." Then was when I cried out for help. My husband and all were excited but me, so I told him to get help enough to lift me and take me and lay me on the porch till the ambulance came, and carry me to the hospital. This accident occurred on the night of October 12th, Monday night, two weeks ago yesterday, and thank God I am a great deal better than when I came. All I can do is read, write, eat, sleep, and tease the nurses. I've got them all "buffed" too. They do as I say now.

For awhile Peggy grieved about me and wouldn't eat, so I asked permission to see her and it was granted, so I had her come again and Supt. wouldn't let her in, so I had the little girl slip out and bring her around to a side door near me and slip her in and I loved and petted my dog all I wanted to and the "marble hearted" Supt. was none the wiser nor worse off either, and if I live and stay here much longer I'll see her again, in spite of the whole "bunch."

I never knew I had so many friends, the short time I have been in Tampa. I don't lack for company, anything in the way of flowers and fruits, candy and all kinds of eats. My friends have kept me supplied with beautiful flowers, for which I am truly grateful—would so much rather have them now, when I can enjoy them than wait till only my friends' "spontaneously seekers" could admire them.

Mrs. J. H. Overman,

SANFORD SCHOOLS IN EXCELLENT CONDITION

THE NUMBER OF PUPILS ENROLLED ALMOST REACH THE 700 MARK

Sanford, Fla., Oct. 28, 1914. The Sanford Herald.

I have just completed the report of our city schools for the first month of the present session, and I find that the total enrollment of the white schools exceeds that of the first month of last year by 47. There is a total enrollment in the white schools of 686, 323 boys and 363 girls. The following is the enrollment by grades: First grade, 102; second grade, 72; third grade, 71; fourth grade, 88; fifth grade, 81; sixth grade, 68; seventh grade, 57; eighth grade, 43; ninth grade, 37; tenth grade, 34; eleventh grade, 18; twelfth grade, 19.

In the high school department, which includes grades nine to twelve there are enrolled 102 pupils, 67 of which are girls and 35 boys. This number is out of proportion. More boys should be in the high school. Judged solely from a monetary standpoint, statistics show that the time given to high school work is well spent. The graduate of the high school has an earning capacity very much greater than the graduate of the grammar school; just as the college graduate has an earning capacity very much greater than the high school graduate. I shall not discuss the various other advantages that are to be derived from the pursuit of the high school course, such as culture, discipline, learning and right ideals as to good citizenship. The high school of today should and does touch every side of the development of the student. The boys as well as the girls need this training.

I believe in making the school as attractive as possible. Good buildings with plenty of room, pretty pictures and decorations should be provided. Games in which children are interested should be promoted. Football has been introduced in the high school because boys like to play it. Our team is practicing now to meet two of the best schools in the state. Let us support the teams by attending the games and aiding the Athletic Association financially.

We should like to have more of the patrons visit the schools. There were only twenty-five visits by patrons last month. The children attended 12,494 times. During the month an additional teacher was added in the primary department. The number enrolled in the first grade was too large to be handled by two teachers, and the seating capacity of the rooms used insufficient. Miss Leata Orr, an experienced primary teacher of Lewisburg, Tenn., was employed for this work, and the Catholic school building rented for the use of her grade.

Heretofore the superintendent of the schools has had to teach two classes per day in the high school, and the music and drawing teacher has also given a part of each day to high school class work. In order to allow the teacher of music and drawing to have her full time to devote to her work, and to relieve the superintendent of having to teach regularly, an additional teacher was added to the high school faculty. This arrangement has enabled the high school to broaden its course of study. We are giving a course in American history and civics, whereas only ancient, medieval and modern history was offered formerly. Miss Hazel Stevenson of Atlanta, Ga., I. L. B. Chicago Univ., has been given the position created by the above mentioned arrangement.

It is also with pleasure and pride that we announce the fact that our school has been placed on the accredited list of Southern Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools. This means that our graduates will be admitted without examination to any college in the Association. The requirements for this recognition are strict and high, therefore we should feel glad that our school has obtained a place on this list.

One thing further, in conclusion. At a meeting of the local board of trustees on Oct. 13, a regulation was passed making it a misdemeanor for pupils to come in the school grounds before 8:00 o'clock. The teachers are required to be at the building at this time. Regular work does not begin until 8:30, but pupils who enter their rooms during the half hour between 8:00 and 8:30 are given an opportunity to study. Since the teachers are not at school before eight o'clock, it was thought wise to ask the pupils not to come before this hour. Again, if the children come early and play, besides trouble that is likely to occur, they will be tired and soiled and in poor condition for entering upon the day's work. Now since the teachers and officers of the schools do not wish the children at the buildings before eight o'clock, and as the people who own and keep the streets and

Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. C. M. Vorce entertained the members of the Auction Bridge Club with a charming bridge luncheon at her home at Monroe Wednesday morning. A tempting and appetizing six course luncheon was served. Duplicate auction was played. Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin and Mrs. Frank Miller winning the north and south prizes and Mrs. Herndon and Mrs. Puleston winning the east and west prizes. Mrs. Vorce's guests were Mesdames A. P. Connelly, C. O. McLaughlin, Frank Miller, R. A. Newman, S. E. Puleston, B. W. Herndon and Miss Laura Fish.

Surprise Party

A charming and happy event of last week was the surprise party given Mrs. Peck, mother of Rev. Arthur Peck Saturday afternoon by the ladies of the Episcopal church, the occasion marking the 72nd birthday of Mrs. Peck. Many and beautiful useful gifts testified to the affection and esteem in which Mrs. Peck is held by her friends. Among the cakes prepared for the feast was a beautiful birthday cake, iced in pink, the candles arranged seven above and two below, to designate the seventy two years of life already enjoyed by the estimable lady. Mrs. Peck served salad and dainty sandwiches and Mrs. Forrest Lake presided at the coffee urn.

Dinner for Visiting Girls

Misses Mary and Lucca Chappel were the gracious young hostesses at a beautiful dinner party Tuesday evening in honor of Misses Julia and Rebecca Wicker of Newberry. S. C. Covers were laid for sixteen. A delicious six course dinner was daintily served. Masses of yellow daisies featured the table decorations, showing prettily upon the snowy whiteness of the cover. With its bowls of daisies gleaming silver, sparkling cut glass and dainty china, the table was very attractive. Those enjoying the hospitality of the Misses Chappel besides the guests of honor were Misses Purdon, Margaret Davis, Louise Harris, Lada Connolly, Mervin Leslie Sample, Seth Woodruff, Thos. Gotzen, Sam Young, Howard Swartz, J. Rowland Wildman, A. M. Chase and Mr. Grovenstein.

Macey Osborne

A pretty and attractive home wedding that took place Thursday afternoon was that of Miss Hilda Adams, Miss and Mr. Albert Paul recently of the home of Mrs. A. K. Powell, of Sanford, Fla. The room of the lower floor were very lovely, decorated with the wedding colors of pink and green, the color motif being carried out with the graceful sprays of the pink vine, roses and lilies. Banks of ferns, palms and potted plants adding a touch of green. In the parlors the Dutch fireplace was banked with white and pink flowers and a spray of pine and green, from which was suspended a large white wedding bell had been erected between the rooms. A delightful program of music was erected by Mrs. A. K. Powell. Preceding the ceremony the melody of "Love's Old Sweet Song" filled the rooms. The bridal party entered to the strains of the "Wedding March" from Tannhauser. "Traumerel" was softly played during the ceremony and at the close Mendelssohn's Wedding March. Rev. F. P. Strong, the officiating clergyman entered first, followed by the groom and his best man, Mr. Lyman Frank. The bride entered with her attendant, Miss Addie Vincent. The wedding party grouped beneath the arch, the beautiful ring ceremony uniting the bride and groom in wedlock. The bride was very attractive in her modish going away gown of dark blue ladies' cloth, wearing a white silk blouse, embroidered in Persian colors and stylish hat of black velvet and green feathers. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid was gowned in a handsome frock of dark blue charmeuse. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the dining room, the guests gathering around the table which was very attractive in its charming simplicity. Pink ribbons crossing at the center extended to the corners of the table, upon the white linen and caught at the ends with fern leaves and a spray of Love's wreath. Upon the handsome centerpiece rested a tall vase of roses and ferns. At the bride's place was the beautiful bride's cake iced in pink and white. Miss Genie Pope served punch. Many lovely wedding gifts of silver and cut glass testified to the popularity of the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Osborne left on the evening train for Tampa. Upon their return they will reside at Myrtle avenue and Fifth street.

Mrs. Osborne is the eldest daughter of Mrs. R. M. Macey, possessing a charm and sweetness of manner that has endeared her to a large circle of friends. Mr. Osborne is a young man of fine character, an employee of the Atlantic Coast Line. The young couple hope to have many friends to wish them a life of happiness and prosperity together.

Class Meeting

Class Seven of the Methodist Sunday school, known as the "Dependables," with Miss Lucca Chappel teacher held one of the nicest meetings ever, at the home of Mrs. Allen Jones Thursday afternoon. Carolyn Spencer was hostess for the afternoon and served the most delicious hot chocolate and cakes, toothsome delicacies much enjoyed by the young people. After the business period the time was pleasantly spent in the enjoyment of a social hour. Those present were: Wanda Graves, Mollie Abernathy, Maggie Pearl Smith, Elizabeth Steinhilber, Marie Bragg, Ruth Marshall, Carolyn Spencer, Ellen Chappel and Miss Chappel, members of the class. Guests of the class were LeClare Jones, Ruth and Emma Spencer.

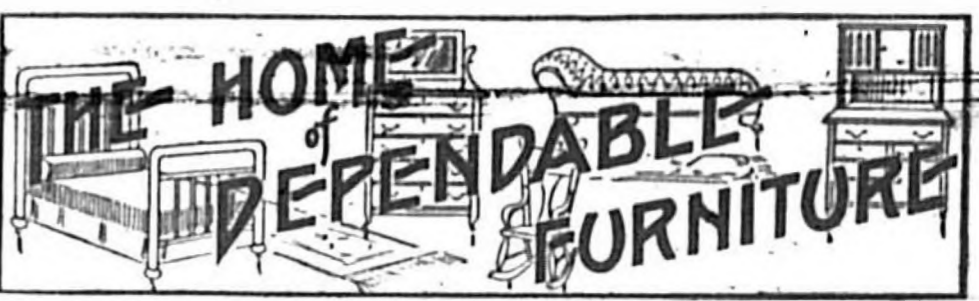

Home Warming

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Parrish gave a home warming to their friends last Friday night to celebrate the completion of their beautiful new bungalow on French avenue. The bungalow situated in a clump of the most beautiful trees several of them being very large and the wide sweep of the veranda gave a roomy effect. The bungalow is a home of the new style. The bungalow was designed by Mr. Parrish at least he says so, and is one of the most complete and comfortable homes in the city. As the guests arrived they were met at the door by the host and hostess and taken over the bungalow. They expressed admiration at each new surprise of the different rooms. The unbleached or chakra arriving about this time shut Prof. DeMont off from any further games on the graphophone and the chairs were pushed back and the guests danced and danced until they were finally dragged away to the dining room to partake of an elegant luncheon consisting of club sandwich, beef, Waldorf salad, baked fish, green peas, potatoes, cauliflower, green beans, collards. After the luncheon dancing was resumed until about the time the clock struck twelve, when the guests departed declaring that they would keep the Parrish house warm and up during the winter and time that the veranda host and hostess visited their property.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. G. F. H. Smith, Mrs. Ethel Ferguson and Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly and Robert, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Hollins Jones, Will Leffler, Juel DeMont and Henry Purdon, and Mr. and Mrs. Parrish and son, Harvey.

Hallowe'en Dance

The spirit of Hallowe'en is all pervading, old and young together feeling the force of its influence. 'Tis the time of the year when ghosts walk at night, cats howl, and owls screech with a mournful cadence that freezes the blood and causes icy chills to race up and down one's spinal column, but what of that? With Hallowe'en comes a time of jollity and fun that one wouldn't

HONOR PAST HISTORY

Warsaw, Ill., Erects Monument to Commemorate Ft. Edwards.

Was the Farthest Western Outpost During the Second War With Great Britain—Commands View of Mississippi.

Warsaw, Illinois. Historic days of a century ago have been honored at Warsaw, Illinois, in the erection there of a monument in commemoration of Fort Edwards, the farthest western outpost during the second war with Great Britain. In 1814 Zachary Taylor, then a major in the United States army, selected the high bluff overlooking the Mississippi river at Warsaw as the most advantageous point available for a frontier stockade, commanding as they did a sweeping view for miles to north and west. Today the point where the monument stands is said to afford the most beautiful river view along the Mississippi. On September 29 and 30 and October 1 the monument will be dedicated by the state of Illinois in connection with a centennial jubilee, and the principal speakers at that time will be Governor Edward F. Dunne and the representatives of the state in congress.

For ten years after its erection Fort Edwards was the headquarters of United States troops. It was of particular value to the government in dealing with the Indians, among whom English agents continually were endeavoring to create trouble. At that time the protection of settlers in that region was not concerning the govern-

MAY SAVE HIS PEARS

NEWARK MAN'S SCHEME REALLY A BRILLIANT ONE.

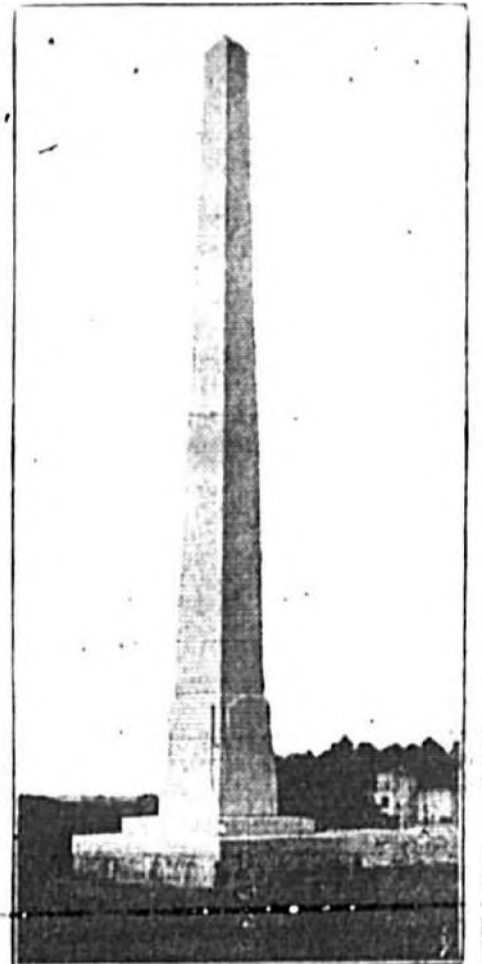

At Least He Is Very Sure Tony Will Leave Fruit Alone After He Explained Composition of Bone Fertilizer.

A well-known gentleman of Forest Hill has a back-lot orchard of which he is no fonder than some of the newcomers to these shores. A ten-foot hedge and a barb-wire fence fail to defend his premises against the invaders. Even locusts in the paper cannot save his peaches, pears, and apples from the hands of the spoiler. In the season when the fruit is ripening, he has discovered that his trees will be watched day and night by self-appointed guards, who warn other fruit takers away. One day he overheard a hot quarrel just outside his grounds, and, understanding a little of the strange tongue in which the argument was carried on, he made out that Pedro was scolding Tomasso in words to this effect:

"Go on away from here, Tom, this is my pear tree. I saw it first, and I've been watching it four weeks."

Pedro's sons will come now and then to relieve him in his vigil. The pear tree is a family treasure, which they conserve with true Pinchotian zeal until the fruit is almost ripe. Then, in the quiet hours of a night when Forest Hill sleeps the sleep of happy innocence or sits up working on its literary papers, Pedro and his tribe will bore through the hedge and garner the prize.

Despairing of hedge and fence and publicly, the Forest Hill gentleman has gone into psychology. One day last month he hired a man to spade up his garden, and with malice prepense he selected a neighbor of Pedro's from across the canal to do the work.

Fort Edwards Monument at Warsaw.

Under the fruit trees while the spading was going on he scattered bone fertilizer with great care.

"This is very precious stuff, Tony," he said as he sprinkled the odoriferous powder over the broken soil. "It is worth almost its weight in gold. No other fertilizer in the world will make fruit grow the way this will. Can you guess what it is made of Tony?"

Tony had no idea.

"It is made," said the voracious gentleman, "from human bones. Have you ever heard of the catacombs, Tony?"

Tony had.

"Well, the American company that manufactures this stuff has discovered some catacombs in Italy that nobody else knows about. The catacombs are filled with human skeletons, millions of them, and the American company sends its steamers over there and brings back shiploads of skulls and thibias and femurs and ribs and the factory turns the bones into this stuff that I am putting into the ground. Some of your ancestors, Tony, may be mixed up in this bag."

Tony shuddered.

"It seems too bad to use human bones in this way, but wait till you see the fruit those trees will bear next fall. Apples as big as your head, Tony, and pears as big as watermelons."

Tony's mouth refused to water at the thought.

"The curious thing about it is that the trees that absorb this stuff into their sap are always haunted. If you come around here any dark night next summer, Tony, you will see all sorts of queer things flying and dancing and twinkling up under the branches—goblins, Tony, and maybe the ghost of your great great grandfather, skipping around up there in the starlight and making faces at you. It gives you a kind of shivery feeling, doesn't it, Tony?"

In such manner spoke the Forest Hiller, and from the look on his laborer's face he felt that his talk had not been in vain—had borne fruit, as it were.

After many years of pomological effort, he believes that he will be able at last to harvest a fine, full crop.—Newark News.

Evaporation and Stream Flow.
An investigation of evaporation and stream flow is being carried out by Prof. John F. Hayford of Northwestern university with the aid of a grant from the Carnegie Institution. Instead of using apparatus on a small scale to measure evaporation, Professor Hayford proposes to consider each of the great lakes in turn as an evaporation pan, evaluate the income, outgo (other than evaporation) and change of content of the lake, and from these data to determine the daily evaporation in its relation to meteorological conditions. Ultimately the knowledge thus acquired will be applied to a study of the laws of stream flow in the United States.—Scientific American.

"Ting-a-Ling," Says Base.
With the kindest of motives and in behalf of the poor umpire of a baseball game, Stephen H. Willis has invented a base which will give an alarm or signal when a runner reaches or touches it, thus avoiding the dispute which now commonly takes place between the runner, the umpire and other members of the team as to whether or not the runner reached first base. This is accomplished by having the baseplate or bag hinged and raised at one edge by a spring. When the runner touches the base it is depressed, making an electrical contact which sounds the alarm or raises the signal.

LEGAL ADVERTISING

This is to certify, That at a special meeting of the stockholders of Sanford Coca Cola Bottling Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the state of Florida, due notice thereof having been given as prescribed by law and by the laws of said corporation, to each and every stockholder of said corporation, by a vote of the entire capital stock of said corporation, it was deemed expedient to amend Article III of the charter of said Sanford Coca Cola Bottling Company, in the manner hereinafter stated, therefore, notice is hereby given, that the Sanford Coca Cola Bottling Company, do hereby apply to the Honorable Park Trammell, Governor of the state of Florida, at Tallahassee, Florida, on the 10th day of November, A. D. 1914, for an amendment of said Article III of the charter of said Sanford Coca Cola Bottling Company, to read as follows, to wit:

Article III. The amount of the capital stock of this corporation shall be Fifteen Thousand ($15,000.00) Dollars, of which Three Thousand ($3,000.00) Dollars shall be preferred stock and Twelve Thousand ($12,000.00) Dollars shall be common stock. The shares of said stock shall be of the par value of One Thousand ($1,000.00) Dollars each, to be paid for in lawful money of the United States. However, all or any portion of the said common stock may be payable in, or issued, or used for, or in the purchase of property, labor or services, at a just valuation thereof, to be determined by the board of directors of this corporation.

Section 1. The said capital stock shall be divided into thirty (30) shares of the par value of the Hundred ($100.00) Dollars, each, and the said stock shall be entitled to receive from the net earnings of this corporation, an annual cumulative dividend of five per cent based on any dividends not yet paid on the said stock, and all dividends declared by the corporation in excess of the guaranteed dividends of said preferred stock; said preferred stock shall be subject to call or redemption by the corporation at any time after the expiration of five years after its issuance, at a fixed value of One Hundred Ten ($110.00) Dollars, together with accrued dividends thereon. The holders of the preferred stock of this corporation, shall not be entitled to vote said stock at any of the meetings of the stockholders of said corporation. Said preferred stock shall have preference over the common stock of this corporation in the distribution of its assets, in case of liquidation or dissolution of said corporation.

In witness whereof, the Sanford Coca Cola Bottling Company has caused this notice and certificate to be signed in its corporate name by its president, attested by its secretary and sealed with its corporate seal on the 10th day of October, A. D. 1914.

PLAN TO REOPEN STOCK EXCHANGES

British and American Financiers Seek Method.

THEY WANT US TO PAY GOLD

Balance Against United States in Favor of Britons Exceeds $200,000,000. We Have Metal to Liquidate Obligation—Treasury Experts Explain Difficulty in Way of Doing So.

In view of business conditions in the United States American business men learn with interest that the British government wants to have the London Stock Exchange reopened as soon as possible. Its views in that connection are being made a subject of conferences in Washington with Sir George Paish and Basil B. Blackett, the representatives of the British government of the exchequer now in Washington with the idea that the discussion may lead to consideration of the opening of American exchanges.

From what was said in well informed quarters the impression was obtained that the matter would be taken up with a view to an arrangement for the simultaneous opening of the London and New York Stock Exchanges and the opening of the British and American Cotton Exchanges. The British view is that if exchanges in both London and New York are reopened, the balance of trade will be in our favor and that this will be the best way to deal with the present situation.

Conferences over the international financial and business situation were held between the two British financial experts, President Wilson, Secretary McAdoo and the members of the federal reserve board. These conferences succeeded in making clear the position of the British financial administration toward the efforts of the United States treasury department to make an amicable arrangement for the settlement of American obligations in the British Isles.

Britons Want Us to Pay.

Generally outlined, the British attitude is that with all the gold that is stored in the United States treasury and in banks American debtors are in an admirable condition to pay what they owe in Great Britain and should pay in gold as the obligations become due. Some difficulty is expected in explaining to the British representatives the circumstances that surround the possession of this great quantity of gold and the financial embarrassments that would come to the United States if payment were insisted on at this time.

With $1,000,000,000 of gold in the federal treasury and about $300,000,000 more in the banks of this country, the British government does not understand why there should be any difficulty on the part of the United States in paying the balances against it in the British possessions. The Bank of England, with a comparatively smaller store of gold, is handling greater financial problems, according to the British representatives. The balance against the United States in favor of the British is estimated to be over $200,000,000 and $200,000,000, this being the estimate of Sir George Paish, and the British government and financiers find it difficult to see why with all the gold that there is at hand, these obligations should not be liquidated easily with out detriment to finance in this country.

Objections to the British Plan.

The United States authorities answer this argument with the statement that while the United States has this large gold reserve there are obstacles which will make it very difficult to attempt to settle the entire balance in the metal.

The argument has been advanced to Sir George and Mr. Blackett that the gold reserve in the treasury is not available for this use, that it is standing against gold certificates which are in circulation, and that the only way in which it could be used would be to acquire a sufficient number of the certificates. Furthermore, the New York banks upon which London draws its exchange have no gold to spare, their reserve already having been depleted to a considerable extent.

According to the American authorities, it would mean that the United States in order to settle the present obligations with England on gold would be obliged to resort to the same method that was employed in the recent raising of the $100,000,000 for the promotion of foreign exchange.

There would have to be a voluntary withdrawal of the amount of the same from the banks of the country, and the gold would be shipped to London.

Biggest Gun For Our Navy.

With the utmost secrecy the navy department, the New York American learns, has completed a powerful six-ton inch gun, the largest ever built, to be the largest and most destructive naval engine of any kind. Plans of the navy department in Washington regarding the gun was met by the reply "The government does not wish anything said about this new construction."

"Call no man wise till you have read his letters," said Tallyrand. Every divorce case helps the student to appreciate the French statesman's depth of worldly knowledge.

The decree of the National Dancing Masters' convention at Cleveland in favor of a tamer tango may help to convince some people that they have been wickeder than they knew.

Court etiquette requires that a person presented to the King of England shall face the king and walk backward. The militant spirit may melt. It is necessary to go further and compel a visitor to hold up both hands.

FLOWERS FOR INDIAN TROOPS

Remarkable Welcome Given by Marseilles to Forces From the East.

The inhabitants of Marseilles, in France, received with open arms the native Indian troops who recently landed there and showered flowers upon them. A correspondent writing of the event says:

"The scene in town when the troops marched through to the different camping grounds was unforgettable. Every man, woman and child in Marseilles turned out, and these numbers were swayed by people who had rushed in from the surrounding country districts."

The excitement of the high strung Marseillais rapidly spread to the Indians and it was a unique experience to see and the joy of the Marseillais. The Indian troops, who were marching with the men for the honor of their country, were met with a shower of flowers. The young girls threw sweet-smelling flowers in their path or pinned pink roses in their tunics and turbans and even stuck them into the Indians' long hair.

By evening they were all encamped in the picturesque park with rocky heights, reminiscent of their faraway hills around them, and in the moonlight groups of Marseillais stood on all adjacent roads watching with unflagging interest the strange eastern rites of these magnificent fighting men from Britain's great dominion.

When an idea hits a small man it is apt to stagger him.

If you listen to honeyed words you are likely to get stung.

golden rod and white aster jessamine. The souvenir cards were pretty hand painted yellow birds. Progressive rook and one table of the new game of millionaire was played. Punch and cake was served throughout the evening.

These pleasant gatherings will take place once a month and a strenuous effort will be made to promote sociability and a spirit of friendliness and cooperation among the young people of the church.

Rose Ball

Plans are going forward rapidly for the Rose Ball which will be held at the Sanford House Friday evening, Nov. 27th, under the auspices of the Woman's Club. A special effort is being made to promote the wearing of cotton gowns upon this occasion. The dry goods merchants of Sanford, Messrs. Yowell, D. A. Caldwell & Sons, J. K. Mettinger and Chas. Kanner are cooperating with the ladies to make the cotton feature a success. D. A. Caldwell & Sons and the N. P. Yowell Co. have offered a prize of $10.00. One is for the handsomest gown made of cotton materials and the other for the most artistic gown made of the cheaper cotton materials. The merchants will put on a cotton sale previous to the ball, in plenty of time to have gowns made. Much enthusiasm and interest is being manifested in the ball that promises a splendid success. The following committees have been appointed:

Reception Committee—The Executive Board.

Music Miss Laura Fish, Mesdames D. J. Thrasher, A. K. Powers and W. L. Morgan.

Decorations Mesdames Dingee, Terwilliger, Householder, Betts and Miss Stumon.

Refreshments, Mesdames Allan Jones, W. H. Peters, C. C. Woodruff, Claude Herndon, W. W. Abernathy, Jewett and Howard.

Floor Miss Florence Frank, Mesdames C. O. McLaughlin, B. W. Herndon and W. E. Watson.

Program Mesdames R. A. Newman, Puleston, Holly, Williams and F. L. Miller.

Serving Misses Mell Whitner, Mary Chappel, Margaret Davis and Maitha Fox.

Place Mrs. J. T. Brady, John Mei ch, J. H. Ferguson and Miss Mahoney.

Woman's Club

The welfare meeting of the Woman's Club was well attended, an interest and enthusiasm prevailing that was most gratifying. Routine business was transacted. The resignations of Miss Mell Whitner, secretary treasurer, and Mrs. C. M. Vorce, chairman of rest room committee were accepted with regrets. Mrs. W. L. Morgan was unanimously elected to succeed Miss Whitner. Committees appointed were Mrs. W. E. Watson, chairman of civics; Mrs. Harry Pilkington, house committee; Mrs. T. A. Neal, chairman house committee and Mrs. Mason committee on birth registration. On motion it was agreed to have Miss J. Pearle Rogers present a musical comedy for the benefit of the department in January. Mrs. W. E. Watson reported that a cleaning up campaign would be observed in December and another in April. Motion was made and carried to operate a rest room at the Woman's Club rooms, provided funds for its maintenance could be raised. A full report was made in behalf of the Junior Civic League.

Dr. T. A. Neal has accepted the invitation from the Welfare Department to address the department on "Health" at the November meeting. His acceptance is greatly appreciated and should secure the response of a large attendance for Dr. Neal is one of our most prominent physicians. All members of the club and their friends are cordially invited to this meeting.

Contests Closed

The popular voting contests that have been running at the Seminole Pharmacy and D. A. Caldwell & Sons for several months closed Friday night to the happiness of several contestants and disappointment of others. In the Seminole Contest Miss Versa Woodcock was the winner of the first prize with a handsome majority of three million votes, having had eleven million in all. She was awarded a fine graphophone; Miss Essie Purdon, second, won the sewing machine; Mrs. Morris and Miss Winnie Smith, winners of the third and fourth prizes of handsome gold watches and Mrs. Vance Douglas, winning fifth prize of a fine brush and comb. In the D. A. Caldwell Contest the prizes were won as follows: Miss Julia Hodges, the piano, 1st prize. Miss Anna Howard, second, the trip to Washington D. C. and a gold watch. Third prize of a handsome rug and gold watch, Miss Mae Foster. Misses Beulah Hutchinson, Clarice Hand Helen Tate and Mrs. I. D. Hart were all presented with fine gold watches.

Junior Civic League

The Junior Civic League will meet Monday afternoon at half past three o'clock at the Woman's Club rooms on Oak avenue. A full attendance is requested.

Personal Mention

Miss Alma Pagenhart returned this week from a very delightful summer spent in Virginia, Maryland and Washington, D. C.

Among the pretty sights to be seen in Sanford this season is a gorgeous red dahlia growing in the garden at Mrs. Henry Wight's residence on Park avenue. The bush is unusually tall and has more than twenty-five rich, beautiful blossoms. When in full bloom there will be at least one hundred in bloom at one time. The Wight and Jones gardens adjoining are very attractive and an ornament to Park avenue.

Mrs. H. E. Tolar returned from Jacksonville Tuesday.

Mrs. J. G. McDonald and Mr. R. A. Anderson of Orlando spent the week end in Sanford, the guests of Miss Esther Malm.

Mr. Julius Schultz and family, who are recent arrivals in Sanford are domiciled in the Howard home on Oak avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ferran of Euftis are the guests of their daughter, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher.

Miss Mary Chappel has gone over to DeLand to be present at the masquerade ball tonight at Stetson University.

Mrs. George Armstrong and son, Mr. Fraser Armstrong have returned from New Hampshire and Canada, where they have been spending the last three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fagg are the guests of Mrs. Henry Wight. Mr. Fagg will be one of the speakers at the C. E. convention.

Miss Addie Vincent of DeLand is the guest of friends in Sanford. She was one of the attendants at the Macey-Osborne wedding.

Mr. James Brice of Orlando was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Phillips on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Eldridge, who spent last winter in Sanford are on their way from Dillwyn, Va., to Sanford, coming in their automobile. They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Long. Mr. Eldridge is a commission man, connected with the H. G. Miles Co. of New York.

Miss Grace Townsend, state secretary of the C. E. Society will be the guest of Mrs. J. N. Whitner during the convention.

VEGETABLES START FROM SANFORD

EGG PLANT STARTS OFF WITH GOOD PRICES

Sanford growers are beginning to perk up a bit and are bringing in the first shipments of the season. The city is beginning to feel the first pulsings of the great vegetable business that has placed Sanford foremost in the winter vegetable growing sections of the world.

First car of vegetables for the season moves on Saturday. Eggplants made up from various shippers and shipped to New York. Previous sales eggplant from Sanford sold from $2.25 to $2.50.

Various western markets beginning to inquire for eggplant, also lettuce and romaine, these markets advising that the cold weather has practically destroyed home grown vegetables, and that by the time our supplies are liberal there should be a fairly good market.

Both Texas and California are getting a good average in lettuce, but with good quality and proper care, and treatment as we will be able to get them in the market in time to meet the demand that would impose on high prices to start.

Sanford is a fish town. The Jacksonville Herald says of the week's catch of fish in the city. "The fish catch in Sanford is a great thing. It has been tried out for some time and it is found that some fine trout. In order to make good in his statement that he really can't get any fish, he sent the editor of the Herald a fine trout marked in the head ready to be sent to him."

Handsome Yacht Here. One of the finest yachts that has been seen here this season was the Willrose that tied up at the city dock last Friday night.

Bold Thief. Victor Schmelz reports that some thief broke into his pavilion at Woodland Park and stole cigars and soda water and other supplies. He came back the second night and helped himself again and Mr. Schmelz is thinking of setting a bear trap to catch the bad, bold burglar.

Busy Business

One of the busiest places in the city is the building formerly the A. C. L. passenger station and recently leased by F. F. Dutton who is engaged in the crate, growers' supplies and commission business. Mr. Dutton has the utmost faith in the future of Sanford and has recently purchased several fine automobile trucks for the transportation of feed and supplies and he keeps them moving.

CHRISTMAS BOX TO EUROPE'S TOTS

BIG HEARTED PEOPLE OF SANFORD RESPOND MOST LIBERALLY

The people of the public schools met with a generous response. The box is now being filled for them and Sanford people are doing their duty with a liberal hand. They have brought clothing, toys, and other necessities for the children of Europe.

Over nine dollars in cash was contributed by the high school and grammar school, that was judiciously expended by Mrs. R. J. Holly, with Sanford merchants, for articles to go in the box. The teachers of the primary school added to the cash brought by the little tots and sent a bolt of outing flannel, to be added to their other contributions.

To Mrs. A. E. Philips is due the credit for the suggestion to send a box to Europe. The Woman's Club cordially thanks all who have contributed in any degree to the success of the movement, and especially the children and young people of the Sanford public schools for their generous support.

CITY BEAUTIFUL CAMPAIGN GROWS

GOOD LADIES OF SANFORD DOING GREAT WORK OF IMPROVEMENT

There seems to be some misapprehension about the meaning of the City Beautiful article published in the Herald two weeks ago. The words semi-annual do not refer to a class of plants, but to the fact that it is the intention of the committee to hold competitions semi-annually. For the spring show, which will be held in April or May, it is the object to encourage the planting of flowers that will make an immediate show, and this for two reasons.

Firstly, when one begins to plant in a small way, like nasturtiums, pinks and the like, the gardening germ gets in its best work, nobody ever stops with annuals if they make a success of them, and the planting of heavy shrubbery that will endure and grow more beautiful as years go on, follows easily and naturally.

Secondly, in the spring of the year we have more visitors than at any other season, and these pretty blooming things are at their best then, showing what our soil and climate will do. It is to be expected that a large number of people for the splendid plant prizes and garden decorations will be attracted to the city.

Local Stars to Twinkle. Never before in the history of Sanford have the people had the opportunity that will be given them on Tuesday evening, Nov. 10th, at the Imperial, to see local stars playing in a most creditable manner, a comic rural drama that has had a New York run.

The play, "Out of the Fold," by Langdon McCormick, is the dramatization of Moody and Sankey's "Ninety and Nine," and is arranged so as to present a succession of appealing scenes, each scene containing a clever plot and a telling moral interspersed with enough humor to make one forget the sterner things of life.

Not long ago the City Department of the Woman's Club expects to hold a plant sale, and it would be a good idea for intending customers to study their plant catalogues a bit, and indicate to some member of the committee just what sorts of things they would like to have.

This thing of studying a flower catalogue is a very curious development. At the staff one may order a miscellaneous fifty cent collection, or maybe in a great spurt of extravagance decides to blow in a whole year in plants of the florist's own selection. By and by the germ grows more active and one begins to have ideas of one's own, ordering a twenty-five cent novelty to try out, or several of some favorite plants.

When this begins the infection is serious, and by the easiest degree one comes to the point where they are almost buying themselves new plants. It is not until one has some of them that one would not care to be without them. The first step is to buy a few plants, and then one is hooked.

TURKEY COMES IN. The war, still are progressing with fury almost unparalleled, but there have been no changes of importance at any point along the 300-mile line of the official reports. The British and Paris agree that the situation is not promising.

The German and Austrian forces in the east, compelled to retire before the Russian advance, have left a flank are claimed in Berlin. Apparently Turkey is now definitely involved in the general war.

Bulgaria, allied with the official ally of opposing war, has just declared war on Greece and Serbia. In the war, has declared, according to a message from Sofia, to remain neutral. No word has been received regarding the decision of Greece and Roumania, whose participation in the war is regarded as not unlikely.

Christian Endeavor Program. Owing to the rush of business of the Endeavorers the local secretary could not get the article relative to their meeting here ready for this issue. The same in full will appear in Friday's issue.

Death of Hans Nelson

Hans Nelson, one of the pioneers of this section died at his home on Elm avenue last Friday night. The funeral occurred Sunday morning from the late residence at nine o'clock. Dr. H. H. ... officiating. Interment was made in Lake View.

Mr. Nelson was 77 years of age at the time of his death and had been in feeble health for several years, his rapid decline being due to a stroke of paralysis suffered about a year ago.

Mr. Nelson came to the Upsala section with the Swedish colony and was one of the original land owners getting his property from General Sanford when the colony was located there and planted grove, suffering the loss of his trees in the freeze but sticking to his place in adversity with the characteristic fidelity of his race.

He leaves a loving wife and six children to mourn his loss: Mrs. Van Ness, Mrs. J. Y. White, Edward Nelson, Benjamin Nelson, Ernest Nelson.

ON HONOR LIST ACCREDITED SCHOOLS

TWENTY HIGH SCHOOLS OF FLORIDA OBTAIN PLACES

With happy news for Florida High schools, an expert report has been issued by the Florida Education Commission. The report states that twenty high schools in Florida have been accredited by the National Education Association.

When the Florida delegation brought up the Florida schools, the application of the Florida High School Accreditation Commission was accepted. Mr. Robinson was the spokesman for the Florida delegation.

Then came the call for the best. Dr. Conradi and Mr. Thackston selected the application of the Hillsborough High School. When Prof. Robinson had read it several jumped to their feet to make a motion for the adoption of the Florida committee's recommendations.

Hillsborough High school of this city has been an accredited school for years, as has a number of the twenty accredited the other day. The twenty were the choice of the committee, from thirty applications.

The schools thus accredited are: Gwynne Institute, Arcadia; Lee County High, Fort Myers; Daytona High, Daytona; Manatee County High, Bradentown; Pinellas County High, Clearwater; Alachua County High, Gainesville; Duval County High, Jacksonville; Florida M. A. Institute, Monroe County High, Key West; Osceola County High, Kissimmee; Lakeland High, Lakeland; Duval County High, Miami; Ocala High, Ocala; Escambia County High, Pensacola; Plant City High, Plant City; Seminole County High, Sanford; St. Johns County High, St. Augustine; St. Petersburg High, St. Petersburg; Hillsborough County High, Tampa; Palm Beach County High, West Palm Beach.

SEMINOLE FAIR NOW ASSURED

CITY AND COUNTY WILL ASSIST THE COUNTY FAIR

Seminole county will have a fair in February.

This has been decided upon by the action of the citizens and council last night in making an additional appropriation for the Seminole county fair and the board of county commissioners will do the same today. Both of these bodies had already pledged a sum of money for an exhibition at Orlando, and recognizing the fact that a display of Seminole county products here would be fruitful in results to the business interests of the county decided that the display in Sanford could be removed to the Orlando fair and a much better exhibit made there.

Seminole county can have a fair of large proportions if the people of the city and county will stand together and work for our own interests. There is no reason in the world why Sanford and Seminole county should not have a fair and make the start this year. It is true that we cannot make a big display of poultry, and cattle and hogs without suitable buildings but the spirit of the fair will be started this season and the people will recognize the value of a fair. Let us have our own fair and let it pass with a big county fair.

Retail Trade Without Newspapers

A writer in an exchange remarks that recently when the Chicago papers stopped publication for three days, business at the city stores was practically at a standstill. Such stores reach the public through the advertising in the papers and if that is stopped, the trade is lost.

New York Party Here

L. S. Matton of Endicott, New York and Fred Aldridge and Frank Snyder of Binghamton, New York were in the city yesterday on a prospecting tour. Mr. Matton is an old friend of E. D. Chittenton of this city and the party spent the day very pleasantly looking over the city. Mr. Matton is engaged in the hotel business and owns and controls several fine hotels in his native state and has an interest in several in Florida. He is also interested in starting a hotel in Sanford, for after looking over the prospects here and noting the lack of hotels here he has decided to return about January first and start something here.

Cooperative Farming?

In this age of cooperation, in which manufacturing and commercial interests have attained wonderful development and success by merging their resources, it is not to be wondered at that cooperation has slowly but inevitably wended its way into rural life. The old method of individualism is gradually giving way to the cooperative spirit and the result is a greatly reduced cost of living and lessened expense of farming.

Florida farmers are leading the cooperative movement and it is gradually being extended into every feature of community life.
