Permits Needed For Pesticides

By FRANK J. JASA
County Extension Director

Present Florida pesticide regulations require users of designated restricted pesticides for agricultural purposes to obtain a permit for their use. These permits must be renewed each year. The procedure for renewal is as follows: Approximately 2 to 4 weeks prior to expiration date, a renewal notice will be sent to permit holder from the State Inspection Division of the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services. This form will request permit holder to show corrections and/or changes in permit. When renewal form is returned, the Department will issue a new permit based upon updated information. The same permit number will be used as a control number. A follow-up notice will be sent a permit holder who fails to return the renewal form. If the permit holder does not intend to renew his permit, he should make note of this on the form and return it. The entire form should be returned so that complete information is available.

Those agricultural producers who find that they are required to use any of the restricted pesticides and need the permit can obtain the application form at the County Agricultural Office. This application must be signed by the county Extension Director who certifies eligibility. Commercial or industrial users of restricted pesticides shall be certified by an agent of the Florida Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services.

'Throwaway Society' Has New Disposables

By LOUISE L. GILL

Our "throwaway" society has some new disposables: Paper dresses, graduation caps and gowns, bed sheets, and medical items. These new products, finding acceptance because of their "use once, toss out" advantage are made of nonwoven fibers.

Some potentially large markets are hospitals, hotels and motels. Disposable sheets, pillow cases, bath towels, examination gowns, and draw sheets seem to be the greatest outlet for nonwovens at the moment.

Right now, stationery stores report that Christmas and party paper dresses sell best. The traditional rented cap and gown may give way increasingly to a throwaway set available at about $5.

Industry spokesmen are optimistic enough to consider a 12 percent annual growth rate in production to be conservative for the nonwoven future.

Nonwovens had their start during the 1930's when cotton textile mills tried to raise the value of waste fiber by marketing a mat of cotton fibers bonded with starch. The process by-passes spinning, knitting, weaving a mat of cotton fibers bonded steps in the making of cloth. Nonwovens are used in felt, padding and fabrics.

Only a few thousand pounds of the fabric were produced annually by the end of World War II. By the mid 1950's production passed 30 million pounds, ataining to 140 million pounds by 1960. In 1960, estimated production stood at almost 230 million pounds.

Cotton was used exclusively in early nonwovens, but rayon soon appeared and became quite popular. In the mid 1950's man-made fibers began to compete more extensively. They captured increasing shares of the market. By 1960, cotton comprised less than 10 per cent of the fibers used in nonwoven fabrics, while rayon held about 40 percent.

The nonwoven fabric market will grow rapidly if some of the markets the industry wows shift largely to non-wovens.

Consider the paper dress. Not every woman will wear one. But if 1 per cent used paper dresses several times a week, it would create a market for $6 million

Trumpeter James Appears Tuesday

Harry James, whose trumpet created traffic jams in New York's Times Square, will bring back nostalgic memories to many when he appears Tuesday evening at the Civic Center as the fourth attraction in the Seminole Mutual Concert Association's current season.

"You Made Me Love You," the recording that catapulted James to fame, probably will be one of the numbers the virtuoso will call from the stage as there is no set program for the 14-member "Music Makers." There will be other selections from his many movies, as well as current popular songs.

Seven credits include "Do You Love Me," "I'll Get By," "Springtime in the Rockies," "Beat Foot Forward," "Two Girls and a Sailor," "Carnegie Hall" and a number of others. He was technical adviser and played all the trumpet parts in "Young Man with a Horn."

During his career, Harry James helped launch the careers of several vocalists, including Frank Sinatra, Helen Forrest, Dick Haymes, Kitty Kallen and many others.

The Texas musician's first break came when Benny Goodman caught James' horn on a Ben Pollack recording and immediately signed him for his band. But the trumpeter, who had been playing a horn in public since he was eight years old, left the Goodman band after three years and formed his own "Music Makers."

After several years of tough sledding the big break came when "You Made Me Love You" was put on the air and James became a household name. In 1943 he married the No. 1 pin-up girl, Betty Grable, and they have two daughters.

Harry James has guested on all the network music shows with his band and has appeared in straight dramatic roles on several television series. Currently, plans are being formulated for his own half-hour dramatic series.

Certain time is 8 p.m.

Jailed In Slaying Of Husband Sylvia Powell Rearrested In Murder

By BILL SCOTT
Sylvia Powell, 37, facing first degree murder charges in the shooting of her husband, Maynard Powell, 52, was being held without bond in county jail today as her self-confessed lover, Henry Joyce, 39, was being taken to Raiford state prison to begin a life sentence for the murder.

HENRY JOYCE (right in top photo) leaves with Sheriff's Deputy J. Q. Galloway for Raiford Prison while Sylvia Powell (right in lower photo) is accompanied by Sheriff's Deputy Sherry Clark to arraignment this morning. Joyce was found guilty of murdering Mrs. Powell's husband; she has been arrested on similar charges.

Mrs. Powell was taken before Justice of the Peace Robert Carroll for arraignment this morning but was granted a postponement when she requested time for consultation with her attorney, from Merritt Island.

Judge Carroll said she will face arraignment Wednesday, with or without her attorney.

Mrs. Powell was arrested on the second time Saturday night by sheriff's deputies while shopping at the Sanford Plaza immediately following the verdict of a jury that found the woman's confessed lover, Joyce, guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy.

The woman was first arrested and charged in her husband's death in October but the charges were dropped by State Attorney Abbott Herring and she was allowed to go free after being "promised" by Herring that a state's witness in the Joyce trial.

However, Mrs. Powell refused to testify in the trial just concluded Saturday night, when she was informed she would not be given immunity from prosecution for whatever evidence she might give.

Today, Ned Julian Jr., public defender and Joyce's attorney during the weeklong trial, came to the county jail to get his client's signatures on legal documents necessary in filing an appeal.

J. Q. Galloway, county detective chief, said the attorney had requested permission to consult with Joyce now rather than later in preparing the appeal.

Joyce En Route To State Prison Trucker Found Guilty In Love Triangle

By MARRION BETHEA
Another stated, "There is no way you could have been with more truck driver, was en route to Raiford state prison today to commence serving a life sentence at hard labor for the murder of Maynard Powell, 52, of Lake Monroe.

Joyce was found guilty of first degree murder with a recommendation for mercy by a 12-man jury Saturday evening. He maintained an icy calm throughout trial and showed no emotion as the jury verdict was read or when he was sentenced by Circuit Judge Roger Dykes.

The jury retired to deliberate at 2:30 p. m. Saturday and returned its verdict at 7:03 p. m. They returned to the courtroom for questions twice; once to a question when Joyce's wife, who had accompanied him on a trip to this state, had returned (Joyce testified that 24 hours after sending his wife home he was intimate with Sylvia Powell and the degree of homicide. The jury was told that Mrs. Joyce had returned the latter part of August.

The second time the jury returned, they questioned if the driver of the "get away car" was equally as guilty as the party who fired the shot. Judge Dykes told the jury that the only determination was the guilt or innocence of the defendant.

Sylvia Powell did not testify in the case, refusing on the fifth amendment. She was not granted immunity by the state.

Possibly the most damning factor in Joyce's trial was the letters which he wrote to Mrs. Powell, which State Attorney Abbott Herring was successful in having published in the paper. One such letter stated, in relation to the hearing by the defense to suppress evidence, "If they dismiss the gun, they won't have no case against me."

Florida Land Corporation plans to initiate a development encompassing single family dwellings, semidetached homes, patio homes and garden apartments.

Discussions will be centered around finances of the Village, with the meeting having been requested by Finance Commissioner Richard Allen.

Allen has proposed a moratorium upon spending, with the exception of emergencies, until the financial aspects of the Village have been ascertained.

Allen has also requested that each councilman present a budget for expenses under his portfolio, and further that the Village should inventory assets, since many items have been lost or buried.

Also to be considered is an ordinance for planned unit development (PUD). This classification is necessary in order for Florida Land Corporation to proceed with its development.

The classification has been recommended by the Village Planning and Zoning Commission.

3 Held For Dope

Seminole County and Sanford authorities arrested three youths during the weekend in two separate incidents involving charges of drug violations.

James Stewart Farwig, 18, of 126 Hattaway Drive, and Allen Phillip Layman, 18, P. O. Box 194, both of Altamonte Springs, were charged with possession of marijuana by Detectives Daniel Lane and A. F. Davis when a large quantity of high grade marijuana was found in possession of the pair after deputies followed them from a wooded area near Roll-Hills to a Barton Street house.

Chief Deputy Doane Harrell said authorities had located the drug cached in the woods and had placed a surveillance on the scene. Farwig and Layman arrived and proceeded to remove the cannabis to the house where they were subsequently arrested, Harrell said. Both men are being held in lieu of $2,000 bond.

Sanford police Saturday charged Norman William Turcotte, 27, of 6028 Bear Lake Terrace, Longwood, with possession of narcotics and improper license tag after Lt. Michael Rotundo and Patrolman John Petruncio observed Turcotte's car was improperly licensed.

Further investigation disclosed the man had vials con-

Altamonte Parents Want Children 'Arrive Alive'

By ANN HILEY
"We want our children to arrive alive" is the slogan of a group of parents at Orienta Gardens, Spring Gardens and Dolray Manor, whose elementary age children have to cross busy SR 436 to get to and from Altamonte School. Some 50 concerned parents met Saturday night at the home of Mrs. Barbara Herbert with County Commissioner Al Davis to discuss the need for better protection.

A petition is to be presented to the Board of Seminole County Commissioners requesting immediate consideration be given to the dangerous situation that exists at the school crossing.

The parents pointed out that although the school crossing guard, Parvatha Bryson, has done a commendable job, it has become impossible for her to handle the increased volume of traffic, which will become even greater with the increased construction planned in the immediate area.

The petition continues, "For

Has Cambodian Gamble Paid Off As Expected?

It has taken about nine months for the full significance of Commander-in-Chief Richard M. Nixon's bold and hazardous order for United States armed forces to invade Cambodia, show the shape and nature of its progeny.

Neither the shape nor the nature of what appears to be developing in that part of Indochina is encouraging or indicative of attaining the purpose for which the Nixon gamble was taken.

Ending the United States involvement in what President Nixon has now termed the "nightmare war" is the stated goal. Withdrawal of the armed forces — the "grunts" especially — has taken place but with some consequences which would have seemed impossible in May, 1970, but which are now inescapably true.

One is that the extreme hazards which now center on the peace-loving, kind and unarmal people of Cambodia has demanded and received personal visits from Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird and Admiral Thomas Moorer, Chief of Staff.

For what was sought when American fighting men and American battle power — land, air and sea — destroyed the "sanctuaries" along the South Vietnamese border, namely security for the withdrawal of United States forces appears to be resting on quite shaky ground.

Another is the break-down of military authority, military morale and the alarming increase in drug use by Americans in uniform which is reliably reported from that troubled area.

The bright side of the Nixon-coin is the lowering of the casualties reported weekly from Saigon and the slow but steady improvement of the ground forces of South Vietnam who are counted on to take the place as Americans come home.

Realistically, however, every citizen who will look with clear eyes at the Vietnam scene must raise them to Cambodia, over into Thailand and along the Laotian border where the next outbreak of heavy fighting could well take place.

Day after day and week after week there come the reports of our massive airpower with B52 bombers raining their load on North Vietnam routes and North Vietnam forces mustering for a knock-out blow on Lon Nol's government in Phnom Penh.

Yet so ineffective has been this historic deployment of unequalled air power, flying missions with little or no opposition in the air or from the ground, that trained South Vietnamese troops are believed to be gathering for a drive into Cambodia should this be required.

This is the nub of the question which bothered us in May, 1970 when we expressed our opinion that the Cambodian adventure extended the war and did not cut it back.

As the South Vietnamese trained and equipped forces were to be sent into Cambodia or other areas of Indochina, will not their presence in South Vietnam have to be filled by United States ground forces?

Does not this hazard exist with no terminal point at all? President Nixon arrived at the Cambodian adventure after several weeks in the field by both military and civilian strategists.

Has not the time now come when another top level assessment should be made to include both the Commander-in-Chief and the military command, the gathered foreign policy experts who are at the President's beck and call and — most emphatically — the Congress?

Like most Americans we want an end to this war. And, like some, we believe that to end it is to bring our fighting forces home and to do it in 1971!

New Federalism

The concept that government is best when it is closest to the people is as old as the Constitution of the United States of America.

It was restated forcefully by President Eisenhower in his address to the Congress in his administration on October 22, 1957. In that speech, Mr. Eisenhower announced a new program to return to the states some of the power that had been flowing to Washington.

The message was eloquently restated by President Nixon in his inaugural speech:

"We are approaching the limits of what government alone can do. Our greatest need now is to reach beyond government to enlist the legions of the concerned and the committed."

Eight months later, the President submitted to the governors of the United States, assembled at Colorado Springs, a sound program of "New Federalism" based squarely on the Constitution.

Said Mr. Nixon: "If there is one thing we know, it is that the federal government cannot solve all the nation's problems by itself; yet there has been an overshift of jurisdiction and responsibility to the federal government. We must kindle a new partnership between government and the people, and among various levels of government."

President Nixon has tried manfully to live up to his promise to decentralize. He has actually decreased the number of federal employees. He has offered programs for revenue sharing, manpower training, welfare, health, decentralization of management, unemployment compensation and others.

Admittedly all are not perfect. However, the 91st Congress, with two years of opportunity, saw fit to approve practically none of them.

Surprisingly, there has been little demand from local governments for a return of the responsibilities and accountability that should be theirs.

Yet this return is the only possible road toward government which respects the interests of the grass roots.

In September, 1969, Mr. Nixon told the governors: "We can only toss the ball; the states and localities have to catch it and carry on."

It is time to start catching.

The Lighter Side

Senatorial "Believe-It-Or-Not"

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — I had a 4 a.m. telephone call this week and for once it wasn't from Martha Mitchell. It was from an anonymous informant.

Usually, when a senator takes such a drastic and extremely unorthodox step as not running for president, he will play it for maximum dramatic impact.

In the beginning he will be coy about his intentions, gradually building up suspense and then announcing his decision at a televised news conference that leaves the nation emotionally drained.

I was prepared for some such routine when I contacted one of Mondale's aides. Hoping that I could catch him by surprise, I tossed out an irrelevant question to put him off guard.

"How's the weather in Minnesota?" I asked.

"The senator is not running for president. If that's what you're getting at," the aide replied.

Nevertheless, I was determined to pin him down.

"What are Mondale's plans for 1972?" I said.

"He plans to seek re-election to the Senate," the aide said. But I didn't let that throw me.

"How about Mondale's future political ambitions?"

"He just wants to be a good senator," the aide said.

As I was saying my good-byes, I could tell that Mondale had written himself out of the presidential race.

"How's the weather in Minnesota?" I asked.

"The senator is not running for president. If that's what you're getting at," the aide replied.

Political Notebook

Fun IS The Name Of This Game!

By SAM STEWART
Copley News Service

Politics can be fun — and when it ceases to be fun, the republic is in trouble — but it's more fun when there are nearly a couple of years ahead, open to conjecture.

Thus at no time more than right now will it be more fun to speculate on the situation for 1972 — which is why so many pundits are doing it.

Just for random historical examples: In 1958, nobody in this whole broad land would have guessed that Wendell Wilkie would be a presidential nominee in 1960. Adlai Stevenson was barely mentioned in 1960, but in 1962 and 1964 he was his party's choice for the highest office in the land.

In 1962, nobody would have given Lyndon Johnson a nickel for his presidential chances two years later, but nobody anticipates an assassin's bullet.

Even the Seaverids accept the probability that Richard Nixon will play it for the Republican again in 1972. This could change if the bottom falls out of everything, on both the home and foreign fronts.

Should he be not aware of this — a ridiculous unlikelyhood — you could scratch Nixon on two years hence.

But as matters stand now, the conversation turns most frequently to his opponent, Muskie of Maine? McGovern? Today Kennedy? Hubert Humphrey? Jackson of Washington? Mayor Lindsay of New York?

The early line would discount Humphrey. History hasn't been kind to retros — such names as Adlai Stevenson, Tom Dewey, William Jennings Bryan, Henry Clay and a few more come to mind.

In the important combination of name and money, nobody can match Sen. Teddy Kennedy, yet it seems that nothing short of a Nixon collapse would lure the youngest son of Old Joe into the main event two years hence.

Teddy's target date would seem to be 1976, when Nixon — should he run again, and win again — won't be eligible for another go at it. And by that time people won't even be able to spell Chappaquiddick, much less remember its significance.

Nixon's Reform Goals High

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon spoke recently of his plans for what he calls "the most significant (governmental) reform that we have had, perhaps in a century."

Nixon has had government reform in his mind for quite a number of years, long before he entered the White House. He is known to believe that re-organizing the structure of this government, within the framework of the Constitution is perhaps his role in history. And to take no chances, he wants that change to come within his first term of office, in case it is his only term.

Because of that Nixon dream, this reporter has spent considerable time at the White House in the past year checking to get just what it is that Nixon philosophically wants to achieve. My conclusions can now be reported to you with some confidence:

Nixon is neither a conservative nor a liberal. What's more, Nixon believes most Americans are like him — somewhat close to center (regardless of how they label themselves).

That is, Nixon believes most Americans are in basic agreement on what they want — "conservatives" and "liberals" — Republicans and Democrats.

As one White House staffer puts it:

"The President in his conversations with us continually repeats the theme that what he is trying to do is to reform the structure of American government so that it can achieve the goals which have been fairly clearly defined in the last 20 years in this society but, singularly and outrageously somehow, not attained."

Says one Nixon adviser:

"If there was ever a paradox, it was in the 1960s. In that period we had the longest, strongest economic expansion in history, a period that end-

Letters to the Editor

'Potheads' Slapped By GI

Editor, Herald:

For sometime now marijuana has been considered a serious problem in this country. The problem is not marijuana since it is only a plant. The problem is how to make an illiterate understand that this is just another bad habit the human race has discovered. We have introduced the name of Henry Jackson for 1972. Short of the emergence of a dark horse in the Willie mode, Jackson could be the Democrats' nominee for 1972. Let's wait and see. But don't remind me; I'll remind you.

Most Sincerely,

Corporate Taxes Could Produce $110 Million

By TOM HENDERSON
TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A state tax on businesses would not hurt big businesses because they could write some of it off their federal taxes and shift most of the rest to out-of-state consumers, according to a legislative staff report.

In a report to the Senate Ways and Means Committee, the staff said a five per cent corporate income tax would have produced about $110 million for Florida last year if it had been enacted by some previous legislative session.

Dr. L. L. Qualls, an economist for the Senate finance and taxation subcommittee, headed the staff project with assistance from two committee aides.

Their findings were submitted to Ways and Means Committee Chairman Louis De La Parte, D-Tampa, who said he wants to wait for more research and subcommittee hearings before

Canadian Snowball Melts In Rain

Generous Girl, 11, Remembers Policeman

MIAMI (AP) — Rain had melted away the snowball she was saving for a friendly policeman, but Mary Perkins returned to Miami Sunday from a Canadian television appearance to find even more letters expressing admiration for her generosity.

The 11-year-old Miami girl had saved $10 to buy Christmas presents for her parents, but she spent it on presents for four black children evicted from their home.

Her act of charity earned her a beating and cries of "nigger lover" from four teen-agers who harassed her for several days.

Stories of her charity resulted in thousands of letters and telephone calls from people across the country and Canada who praised her for her kindness.

The four teen-agers have been charged with assault.

Among the letters waiting for her when she returned from Canada, where she had appeared on a Canadian television program in Toronto, was a package from a group of 30- to 11-year-old girls who belong to Girls in Action at Jacksonville's Park Lane Baptist Church.

Some of the comments were: "I thought that was very brave of you, Brenda Hepe."

"I laughed at you! I would never show myself in public. Tammy Coker."

"Even if you don't have any friends, God loves you. LuAnn Suram."

"You may not have any friends where you live, but I remember I am your friend. Gwen Davis."

Mary's mother, Isabel Perkins, said Mary had tried to bring a Canadian snowball for St. William Kimbro, a black policeman who paid motel costs for the two black families after they were evicted, but a rain storm melted it away.

For Mary and Mrs. Perkins the trip marked their first air plane flight, their first look at snow and gave Mary her first opportunity to use stars.

"It's all so beautiful! I feel very good helping people," Mary said. "I'll never change."

State Computers Bring On Hassle

By RICH PEPPEL
Associated Press Writer

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Tom Adams has delivered a thinly veiled threat to General Services Department Director Chester Blakemore to make a vast computer center "function properly" or risk the consequences.

Sharp words were traded between the two in an exchange of letters ending Dec. 22. State government's No. 2 man says it left him perturbed.

"Well, yes, I was perturbed that just a little memorandum on my part got that number of people disturbed," the lieutenant governor said at Sarasota's legislative weekend.

The 11-page memorandum was a four-page brief written Nov. 20 by V. L. Whittier Jr., then Secretary of State Adams' office manager, assessing the performance of the Carlton Data Center under Blakemore's control.

His creation was a result of a state Cabinet decision to pool the expensive hardware and manpower of various computer operations proliferating state government for the sake of efficiency.

Consolidation came on Blakemore's recommendation, and Whittier reported planning for what he termed a "wind-down" program designed to sell the program with actualy operation whether the center would be able to handle critical demands of user agencies in the future.

Whittier also raised questions about the center's "efficiency" and "ration" of the new computers by Blakemore's staff.

The Adams' aide further said "personnel morale is at a low ebb," and partly blamed this on "lack of positive direction."

Whittier scored the center for failing to establish priorities on use of the computers.

Blakemore, who serves at the pleasure of the Cabinet, fired back on Dec. 14 a memorandum twice as long as Whittier's.

"Center personnel were shocked when asked about their low morale," he said. "As a matter of fact, it appears that morale is on the upswing and that center personnel are experiencing a new sense of purpose."

Instead of priorities on usage, a "give and take" system was in effect and "the user agency has no need to become involved in the international operations of the data center so long as his product is out on time," Blakemore said.

"We guarantee accurate preparation of every tax return. If we make any error that cost you any penalty of interest, we will pay these penalties for you."

State Agency Heads Ask For $2 Billion

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Reubin Askew says he must determine program priorities and learn if he will get his corporate income tax before he can set a ceiling on 1972 state spending.

In three days of budget hearings last week, agency heads asked for $2 billion in general spending, a 58 per cent increase over present spending of $1.26 billion.

Concerning a spending ceiling, Askew said, "I don't think we can really do that until we sit down and evaluate each budget and then set some priorities, which we have asked the agencies to do."

Askew hopes the Florida Supreme Court will decide before Feb. 15 if a constitutional amendment is needed to implement his proposed corporate income tax. Feb. 15 is the deadline for submitting the state budget to the Legislature.

A Senate Ways and Means Committee report says the state could take in an additional $140 million to $175 million a year by taxing corporations at the national average of 7 per cent. Budget analysts estimate it will take an additional $218 million.

"To the extent that these taxes are being shifted to the consumers of these firms dealing in interstate commerce, Florida residents are now bearing portions of those taxes," said the report. "Levy of a similar tax by Florida would permit some shifting forward to business customers outside the state."

The report based its estimate that Florida would gross $110 million from the corporate income tax with exemptions for banks, insurance companies and non-profit corporations.

AUTO STORE
Next Door To A-Mart
Nov. 17-19 at 27th

No time to get to the store? That's when an electric freezer spells convenience. And for economy, you can stock up in quantity when there's a sale on. In fact, you get double economy because the no-flame, no-tube electric power that runs your freezer is one of life's great bargains. The average price paid per kilowatt hour by FPL-served families today is one-third less than it was back in 1957.

In these inflationary times, that should warm the heart of any budget-conscious Floridian.

Miss Marcia Lynn Goldstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Louis Goldstein, Milledgeville, Ga., and Charles Ira Stein, son of Mrs. Fred Stein...

The Chapel featured a white satin canopy covered with gladioli, carnations, chrysanthemums and leafy ferns.

Traditional nuptial music was presented by Sal Canio, pianist and Mary Boddington, violinist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length, A-line gown of white tulle with a full, long, full skirt.

The gown extended in the back to form a train and had a bouffant floor length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of crown-shaped tulle adorned with the same decorative material.

The groom extended in the back to form a train and had a bouffant floor length veil of imported silk illusion was attached to a headpiece of crown-shaped tulle adorned with the same decorative material.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Milledgeville Country Club. The entrance hall featured a large gold candelstick with an arrangement of gold gladioli, gold carnations, gold spray roses, champagne and bronze numms and greenery.

Leading from the balcony to the main ballroom guests walked through a flower-covered arch interspersed with greenery and gold velvet ribbon.

Behind the serving table was a large arched candelabra decorated with greenery and gold tulle. The candelabra was decorated with greenery decorated the wall area.

Rice bags made of gold net and tied with brown satin ribbon were given out on silver galley trays by three cousins of the bride, the Misses Julie Goldstein, Milledgeville; Julie Shapiro, Jacksonville; and Rhonda Turman, Milledgeville.

Horoscope We The Women: By Betty Canary

Tuesday, January 19, 1971. GENERAL TENDENCIES: The daytime is certainly not good for reading horoscopes.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19): Try to be tactful with an associate early in the day or you lose backing you need so much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Show assurance; you will carry through with any promises you have made.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Don't be afraid of all that work ahead of you and run out on some tangent or other.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Steer clear of anything that constitutes a big risk and get out for a little.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Some argument has been brewing at home so use tact, or you could really be something you had not anticipated.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Much care will be exercised in whatever you are engaged in today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You are tempted to overstep or take on some responsibility that is beyond your knowledge.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you think others are endeavoring to take them over, you find out the reason why.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Some annoying situation keeps coming up, but do nothing about it now until you study it well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Take care you do not tell off a higher-up or you would find yourself in quite a pickle.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Looking into those appealing projects is good today, but don't act hastily.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who will try to get into all types of mischief.

Television: A Giant Stride Since Zoo Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY, AP Television Radio Writer. NEW YORK (AP) - Television has come a long way since the days when Marlin Perkins used to stroll around Chicago's Lincoln Park Zoo, petting the animals and urging children to come to handle their own pets gently.

It has become a loud and powerful ally in the conservation movement, calling attention dramatically to disappearing or endangered species and explaining in concrete and easily understood sequences the weak reasons and breaks in the vital ecological chain.

Over the weekend there were two such programs. On Friday night "Elephant Country" on NBC reported on the dwindling herds of Africa. On Saturday, "Arthur Godfrey's America: the Everglades" on ABC was con-

Highlights

7:30-8:30 CBS, Game Show. (Hollywood) This is an oldie but a good action yarn with Marshal Dillon the central figure. He's trailing two desperadoes who high tail it to Mexico but can't shake the dedicated law man. Once there, a gun battle erupts in one brother and leaves the marshal wounded. He's taken in by a Mexican woman whose brother the marshal had not at the same time clean out the nest of local bandits preying on his village.

8:30-9:30 CBS, Here's Lucy. Few can demonstrate unrestrained joy like Lucy's and fewer still can follow it with bottomless depression. The joy is motivated by Kim's good fortune when she wins a new car in a local raffle. But joy turns to despair when the fan jay learns the size of the tax bite that accompanies her car. Lucy's brain goes quickly to work, thinking that if she won the car on a raffle why not hold another to make the tax money?

8:30-9:30 ABC, The Real Game (Premiere) ABC continues to infuse in prime time quiz programs, this one sounding like a variation of "The Movie Game," but it's not. Jack Barry, a venerable veteran of the quiz show circuit, hosts this quiz which will have contestants betting on their knowledge.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You are tempted to overstep or take on some responsibility that is beyond your knowledge, so use care and caution. Economy is necessary right now. Try to get your property fixed up properly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you think others are endeavoring to take them over, you find out the reason why and do what is of a constructive nature. Try to meet expectations of good pals. Show that you can be relied upon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Some annoying situation keeps coming up, but do nothing about it now until you study it well. A real manly trouble and needs your assistance. Give it in a thoughtful, kind way.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Take care you do not tell off a higher-up or you would find yourself in quite a pickle. Observe every law and regulation that applies to you. Show you are a wise and clever person.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Looking into those appealing projects is good today, but don't act hastily. Don't be impressed with one who is overly dazzling that you regret it later on. Show that you have good common sense.

Polly's Problem
 DEAR POLLY—I need some help, please. I am young and behind-the-ear hearing aid which presents a moisture problem. I like to garden, play at several sports, swim and so on but the dampness builds up and shuts the aid off. What do other readers do when they swim? If the hearing aid companies can invent such wonderful little instruments, why can't they invent something about this problem? I would be grateful for any pointers from hearing-aid users—MRS. H. W. E.

DEAR POLLY—Mrs. F. L. M. could try removing the candle wax from her velvet-covered footstool by placing a folded paper towel of a piece of white blotting paper over the wax and then iron with a setting that is not too hot.

Waste Treatment

DEAR GIRLS—Much to my surprise this old tried-and-true method for removing candle wax was almost worded well on velvet and any other fabric. The paper must be shifted as soon as any wax appears on and kept shifting to have a clean spot before putting the iron down on it. When no more shows on the paper, the wax is gone. The only noticeable effect was that part of the velvet was a bit stiffer than the rest. If need be, brush up the way a bit.

This was for white candle wax. Wax from colored candles could be an entirely different matter. Sometimes the dye leaves another spot—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—When I am even if the dress is sleeveless and gets only binding, the job is easier if done before the side seams of the dress are sewed up. The unfinished garment lays flat, making it so simple to adjust the sleeve to the armhole. Next sew from the hem of the dress to the hem of the sleeve in one operation. The sleeve hem is put in afterwards for a nice finish.

Paid Less

BROCKVILLE, Canada (AP)—For no other reason than their sex, many women professors in Canadian universities receive anywhere from 8 to 40 per cent less pay than their male counterparts, the director of the women's bureau in the federal department said recently.

Speaking to the Canadian Federation of University Women, Sylvia Gelber criticized the association for stalling in the past the battle for women's equal rights but said now in the universities.

Police Offer Aid To New York Slum

By FRANK MACIMBER

One of the great social hang-ups of the day seems to be the inability of law enforcement authorities to communicate with the very people they are hired to protect.

system works, Police Sgt. William Ambrose believes it might ease the tension between the citizens and the law.
They are calling Ambrose a veteran of 26 years in law enforcement, the "Little Police Chief." That's because he heads up the new, elite 16-man "neighborhood police team."

Bread-Butter Issues Face Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 92nd Congress will tackle three bread-and-butter issues of crucial importance to relief-welfare recipients: government and private security, welfare reform and revenue sharing.

Revenue sharing is a priority item for President Nixon and federal funds with no strings attached to meet their pressing needs.

But it is uncertain when the Social Security measure will be acted upon. On the opening day of Congress, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D Ark., will introduce a Social Security bill as part of the welfare reform measure with its key "family assistance plan."

Colts Stop Dallas 16-13 In 1971 Super Bowl

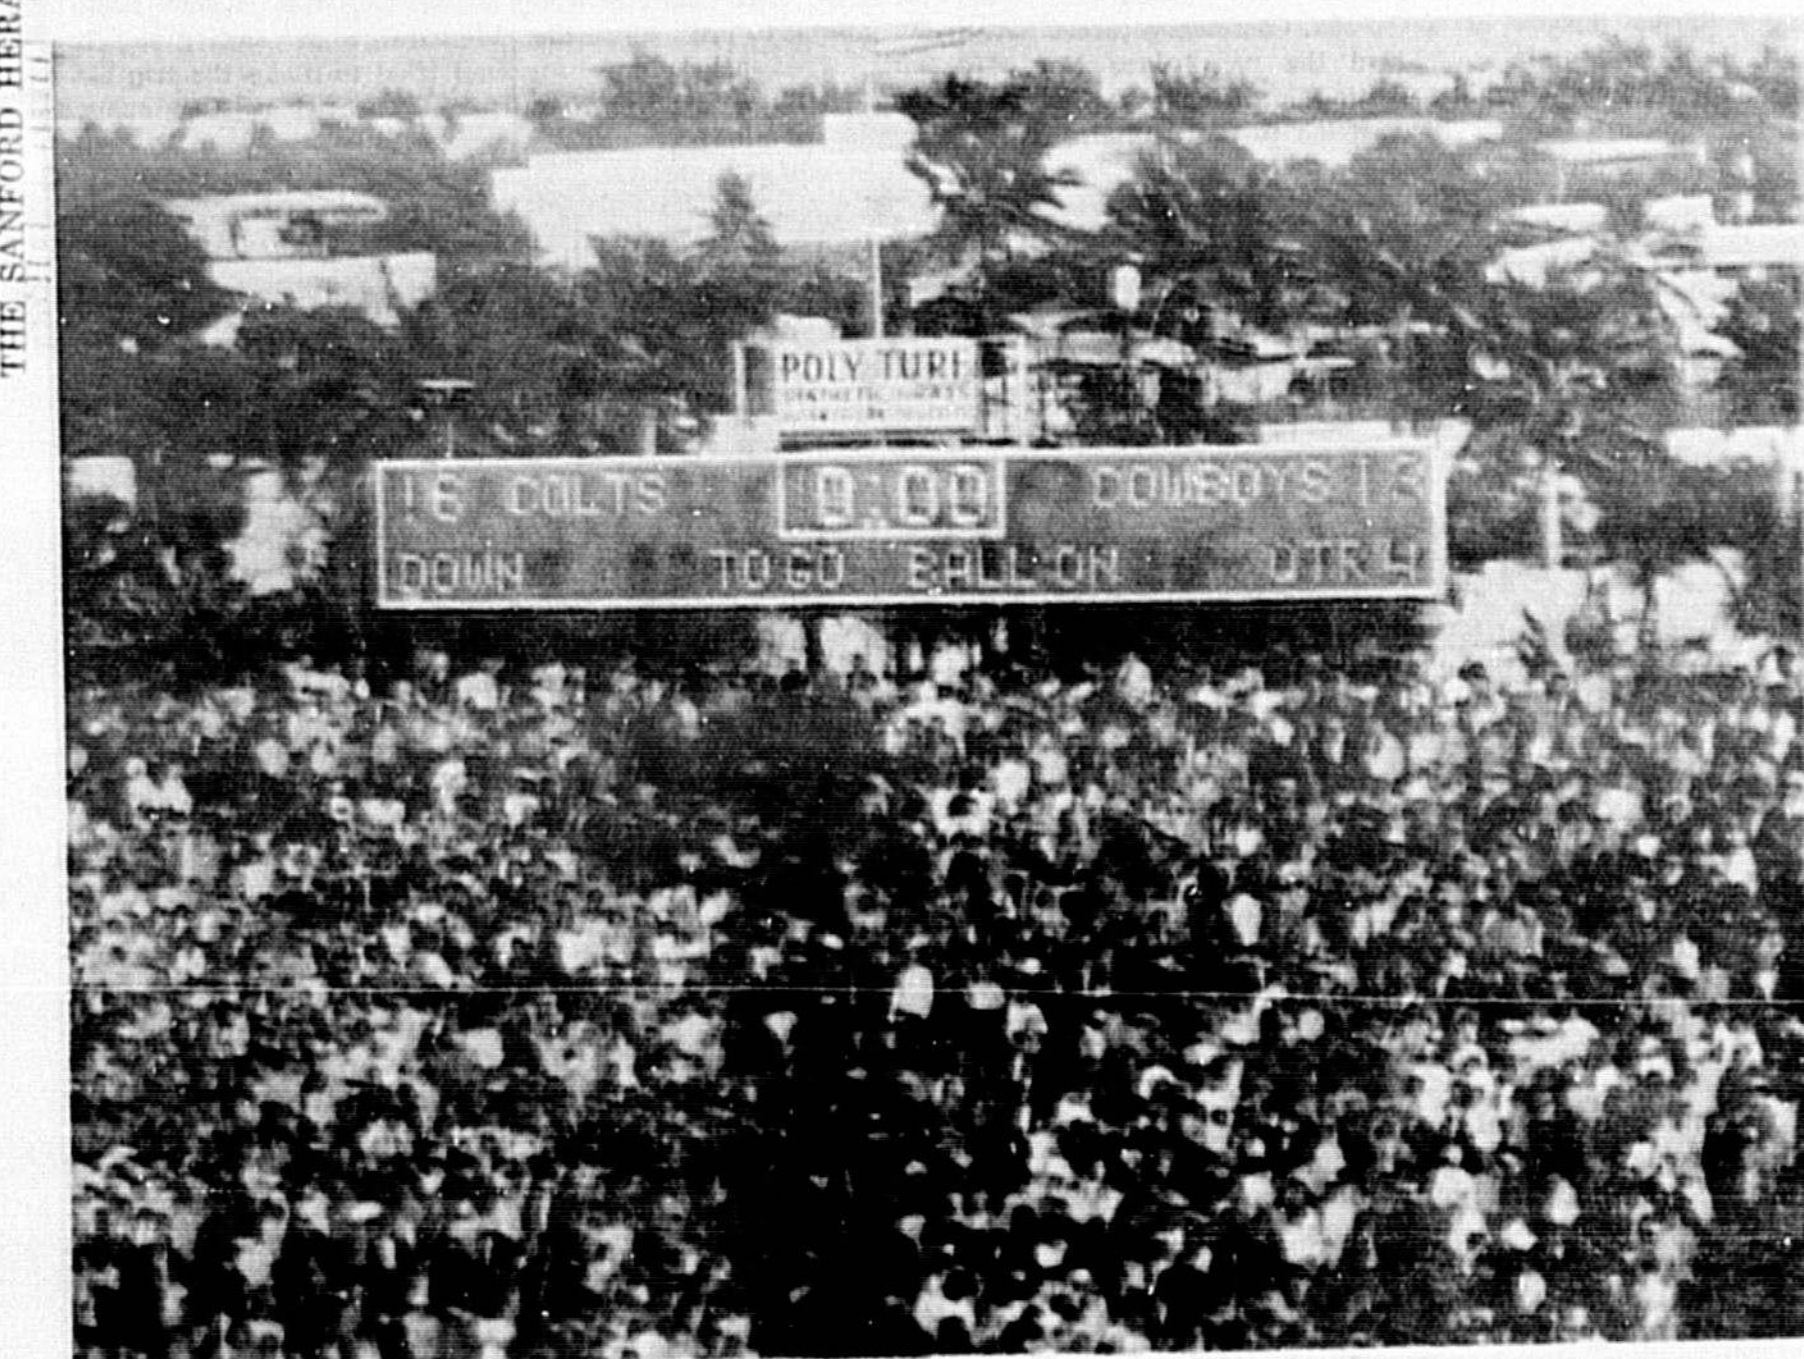

O'Brien's Golden Toe Wins It For Baltimore

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor
MIAMI — The official Super Bowl game, held yesterday at the Orange Bowl Stadium, was a 16-13 win over the Dallas Cowboys.

It was Super Bowl V, a game that 80,055 screaming, yelling fans will never forget. A game marked by turnovers and costly errors and a game that just went to show that the "colts" is back in football as a team that can win.

With 1:57 remaining in the first half, the Colts had the ball at the two yard line. John Unitas threw a 30 yard pass to Earl Morrall. Morrall passed incomplete to Herb Adderley. THE SCOREBOARD tells the tale of the 1971 Super Bowl as the Baltimore Colts defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 16-13. Here, the scoreboard is shown as the time runs out on the clock and the 80,055 fans start to make their way to the exits.

Another Colt fumble cost them six points midway through the second period. Unitas was hit and fumbled the ball. Detroit Pugh fell on it to give Dallas possession. Three plays later, the Cowboys scored on a seven-yard pass from Morton to Duane Thomas. Clark converted and the score was 13-6.

But the Cowboys didn't have it for long as Morton threw an interception on the third play. Unitas threw a 30 yard pass to Earl Morrall. Morrall passed incomplete to Herb Adderley. Unitas threw a 30 yard pass to Earl Morrall.

Dallas Just Cannot Win The Big Football Games

MIAMI — Inside the ballroom dressing room, television cameras were rolling, champagne was flowing, and every one was merry. It seemed like there were a thousand members of the press in there, all clamoring to get at the various members of the new world champions.

There wasn't a first down in the game until Walt Garrison carried five yards for Dallas with 2:12 left in the first period. Baltimore never did get a first down in the opening period.

Seminoles Drop 2 Over Busy Weekend

By GARY TAYLOR
Herald Sports Editor
The owners of Seminole High School have won a pair of games over the weekend. On both Friday night and Saturday night, the Seminoles were within reach of victory when they just seemed to give up as if it were a fruitless effort.

Seabreeze promptly built a 19-14 lead, but the Seminoles rallied and went ahead 20-19, scoring six straight times. The Tribe went to the dressing room trailing 27-24.

Seminole fell to Seabreeze Friday night, 55-53 in overtime, and then dropped their season high to 5-8 as they lost to Bishop Moore 49-46 Saturday night.

Mystified by a Tartan floor and a cold night in the field, Seminole Junior College, led by Jim Gilchrist, rallied and wound up downing the Rollins five, 84-74, in a game played at Egard Alumni Fieldhouse, Saturday night.

Rollins appeared ready to avenge the earlier defeat at the hands of the Raiders. Frank Gilchrist blew in with a three-point play to even the score.

Just 30 seconds into the second period, Baltimore tied the game 6-6 on a 75-yard pass play from Johnny Unitas to John Mackey. The ball was deflected off one or more hands before Mackey hauled it in, but no one seems to know who deflected it.

Tech Cage Season Will Be Winner

By HERKY CUSH
Herald Sports Staff

It took a lot of doing but Tech's cage team has had a winning season as a basketball coach.

While he's had many seasons where his teams have had winning records, perhaps none were assured in such an exciting manner as was the case last Saturday when Florida Tech's Tech Knights put on a second half upsurge to overtake Fort Lauderdale University, 63-61.

It was the second down-to-the-wire thriller in as many nights for Clark and his charges. Friday night Tech edged Patrick Air Force, 67-65. And while he may not give his team a few days off, he may need a rest himself.

In pulling out the victory on Saturday, the Knights came back from a deficit that reached 15 points in the second half. With the kind of a night the Tech team was encountering in the Oviedo High Gym on Saturday night few were willing to believe they could pull out the decision.

One of the highest scoring college quints in the state, the Knights had nine points in the first half and 20 points of work. They took a 2-0 lead on a hoop by Jim Flanagan but trailed until the final minute thereafter.

Nothing was working for the Techmen who weren't playing their best ball of the season either. Few times did they get for the good shot and when it did come they either passed it up or blew it.

Only Mike Clark and Red Jesse were able to produce much in the way of scoring for the Knights in the first 20 minutes of the game. But Clark wasn't enjoying his best night and while he had 10 points in the first half, he had only three in the second. Jesse had nine first half points but missed on four of 11 from the field. However, this duo did manage to keep Lauderdale from making a complete rout of it in the first half.

After Flanagan hit his field goal, Lauderdale's Dana Ditty, one of four mountain-like board men, the Roadrunners had at their disposal, clicked on three straight jumpers to send the visitors off to a 6-2 lead. Tech closed it to 8-3 before the Roadrunners stroked to a 25-9 margin with five minutes left in the half. The teams played the rest of the half and it was a 36-22 count at the intermission.

High scorer for the visitors in that first half was a 40-foot Tech player, Steve Peeler, who substituted, Steve Peeler, who replaced Ditty when the latter was charged with a technical foul hit on six of eight shots from the floor in the time he played in the first half. Lauderdale coach Peeler took over the bench at the outset of the second half and it might have been the deciding factor in the tough struggle.

Tech came out pressing at the outset of the second half and it worked to some degree as they came within 10, 38-28.

In the first two minutes, Lauderdale rebuilt its lead to 40-30 with 15:46 to play.

Once again Clark urged his men to press "all over the place" and inserted Mike LaLone to aid in the effort. LaLone proved just the man for the job as he used his 6-1 frame to good advantage under the boards and on the press.

It was a pair of free throws by LaLone with 12:15 left to play that ignited the Tech rally. That pulled the Knights to within eight, 46-38. Later off the press a doubleheader by LaLone cut the Lauderdale lead to six, 50-44.

Ed Smith, who was not having an especially good night, got in two key buckets, both from long range, to give Tech to tie the Knights, 50-50.

Clark is high man for the Knights in both weekend games, scoring 36 against the Flyers and 30 against Lauderdale but it was the 13 point outburst by LaLone that sparked the victory over Lauderdale.

Next action for the Knights will be Saturday, Jan. 23, when they travel to Florida Institute or Technology.

FSU Falls To Knights; First Win For Grapplers

By HERKY CUSH
Herald Sports Staff

Gerry Geesley's Florida Tech wrestling team came up with an unprecedented victory Friday night when they turned back the visiting Florida State Seminoles, 28-17.

Another overwork crowd filled the Village Center Multipurpose room to view the action which provided Tech with its first win in a long time.

The triumph was a tribute to the work of Geesley, his assistant, John Ellis, and the Knight grapplers themselves. Wins are hard to come by for most teams in their first few seasons of competition and this Tech's first such venture on the canvas.

The teams split in forfeits. Tech losing the 118 and 167 pound events via forfeits and FSU losing similarly in the 126 and 242 pound classes.

In a 126 pound class exhibition match Tech's Chris Seltzer pinned Jerry Leonard at the 6:48 mark. Leonard had been declared the winner by forfeit in the 118 pound class and Seltzer the forfeit winner in the 126 pound class.

It was still a tie score when the 154 pound event came to a close as Tech's Tommy Denton battled to a 6-6 draw with Chris LaClair. LaClair is the brother of Tech's 150 pounder, Bob LaClair. The tie left Denton with a 2-0-1 record in dual meet competition.

Scott Campbell's victory by a forfeit in the 142 pound class gave Tech a 1-2-1 lead.

Patt Anderson put Florida State even with the Knights when he pinned Bob LaClair in four minutes, 35 seconds of their 150 pound meeting.

Tech took the lead for good after the 158 pound affair in which Fred Maust destroyed Allan Bailey in two minutes, 38 seconds. Maust had a 5-0 lead before falling by a forfeit before falling in the 167 pound class.

In what was undoubtedly the most exciting match of the night came in the 167 pound class where Tech's Jim Weaver defeated Wayne Catell, 17-10. After a scoreless first period Weaver managed a 5-6 lead in a hectic second stanza. He overhauled his man in the third period and finished with a seven point decision.

Tech's second forfeit, this one in the 177 pound event, allowed FSU to pull within a point, 18-17 but Charlie Patton and John Rouse wrapped up the night's work.

Patton had little difficulty in disposing of Harry Ireland, an Orlando native, 9-1 in their 190 pound bout.

Rouse closed out the meet with his rapid pin of Steve Batten. The end came in 50 seconds as the crowd went berserk. Batten, a member of the Seminole grid team, proved no match for the powerful efforts of Rouse.

Tech made it a clean sweep on the mats over the weekend when they captured the first place team trophy in the Naval Training Center AAU Open Meet Saturday.

No less than eight Knights made it to the finals of the Orlando AAU event as the FTU team amassed 50 team points and overwhelmed the remainder of the field. Second place team, Rouse had 26 total points.

Other top teams in the event were Miami Dade South and the Florida Wrestling League who tied with 17 points. Steinborn's Gym had 12 as did Florida State University.

Oviedo '5' Downed In Final Seconds

By LARRY NEELY

COCOA BEACH - After being down 29-14 at the half, the Oviedo Lions battled their way to a three point lead with three minutes remaining in the contest against the Mountaineers of Cocoa Beach last Friday night. The comeback was stopped short with three seconds to go as Sven Walker came up under the basket for a two pointer to give the lead and the game to the Mountaineers.

The Lions held to six points in the first three periods of the game but for four field goals and two for two at the charity stripe for a game total of 14 points as the Oviedo quint out scored the Cocoa Beach team by ten in the final frame.

A technical foul in the first seconds of the game cost Oviedo the one point they needed for victory. Umpire Bill Seay was most unpopular with the Oviedo fans as he called a technical on Tossie for failing to raise his hand before the 15 points and Burch an even tie. The Mountaineers were paced by Ron Rees with 18 points and the game's leading scorer.

The loss was Oviedo's second in 11 outings. The non-conference game leaves Oviedo behind the Lions 1-3 Orange Belt record.

Oviedo fell somewhat into foul trouble in the initial half recording nine personals with Cocoa Beach registering only three. The tables turned abruptly at the game's mid-point. The Mountaineers had 11 personal fouls called on them in the final half with Oviedo getting six. Despite the full court press they utilized during most of the second half, in addition to Tossie, who paced the Lions' scoring with 17 points, Curtis Carwise and Lynn Burch also appeared in netted figures. Carwise netted

Clark's Coat Toss May Be Record

FTU cage coach Gene Clark may have set some sort of record for throwing a sports jacket when he thrust his coat into the air after his Knights pulled out an amazing 63-61 decision against Fort Lauderdale.

Now it was Tech's turn to hold the ball. And they did it 46 seconds. Here Smith drove down the key and passed off to LaLone who drew the foul. LaLone hit the second of the two shot foul to put Tech in the lead for the first time since the opening tip.

Again Lauderdale came down working for the good shot which did not come.

Only nine in the second. However, he did prove his worth when the teams clashed last season as he ripped the cords for 56 points.

And despite his lack of scoring against Tech it's proven that the 6-5, 240 pound Ditty is one of the most deadly shots Tech will ever face. He was held out of action in his past encounter after being slipped with a technical foul.

FTU's wrestling team may be forced to change the site of its home meets because of the limited seating at the Village Center Multipurpose room.

Marquette Keeps Rolling; Unblemished In Twenty-Five

By KEN RAPPOPORT

Shed no tears for Al McGuire. Things are looking better at Marquette.

"Fortunately, we're starting to jell," says the Warriors' coaching basketball coach.

"Oh, yeah? What do you do for an encore after 25 straight victories?"

As if Marquette's opponents don't have enough trouble now, the Warriors' modest miracle man claims they're finally looking like a good team should.

"You'd get an argument from New Mexico State, which lost 63-51 Saturday to the second ranked Warriors in their first game since their first loss in 13 games, 67-66. No. 15 North Carolina fell to Wake Forest 96-81. Bradley stopped No. 19 Louisville 78-71 and Tulsa upended No. 19 Memphis State 90-85.

Top ranked UCLA won its 10th straight meeting California 91-76. No. 3 Southern California stomped Stanford 71-51. No. 4 Penn. ripped Manhattan 91-56. No. 8 Kansas routed Georgia home City 191-77.

"I never dreamed we'd be ranked as high as we are this year," said McGuire, pointing out that he had lost four of his six years from last year's NIT championships.

"But the ranking has given me more of a feeling of pride. I keep on top of my boys and we make our team believe we're tough. We just do our thing."

"You're doing something all right - a dream of a season with Dean Meminger an imposing figure in Marquette's dazzling 116 start."

Not only is Dean "The Dream" waking up the offense, but a McGuire coached team for the first time features a big man. He's 6-foot-11 sophomore Jim Chones, who really had to be something to crack McGuire's lineup.

"I'm just learning how to play the big man," says McGuire, whose previous teams featured guilty defense and precision ball handling without a hovering giant. "I said I wouldn't change my style until Chones showed me. Well, he showed me."

Malenko Vs. Brisco; Amateur Rules Bout

Never before has Central Florida seen a match that will compare with the main event of the 1971 amateur wrestling matches tonight at the Orlando Stadium.

In fact, it is a match almost unheard of.

The Great Malenko, 243 pounds, 5-foot-11 from Moscow, U.S.S.R., will take on 231 pound, 5-foot-11 Jack Brisco from Blackwell, Oklahoma in an amateur wrestling match, using the AAU point system. Don Curtis, an AAU collegiate official, will referee. Four spectator judges will be chosen at ringside, which wrestle Ole Skakina.

Also on tap is a special grade match between J. C. Dykes, manager of the Inferno, and Leo Garibaldi, a referee from St. Louis who Dykes doesn't care much for.

The Florida Tag Team title will be a stake tonight in Fern Miller and El Gran Lathrop to team up to challenge the Inferno.

P-E-R-H-E-B-E-A-G-H, Calif. (UPI)—Arnold Palmer still is chasing his own private rain bow, Tommy Shaw isn't.

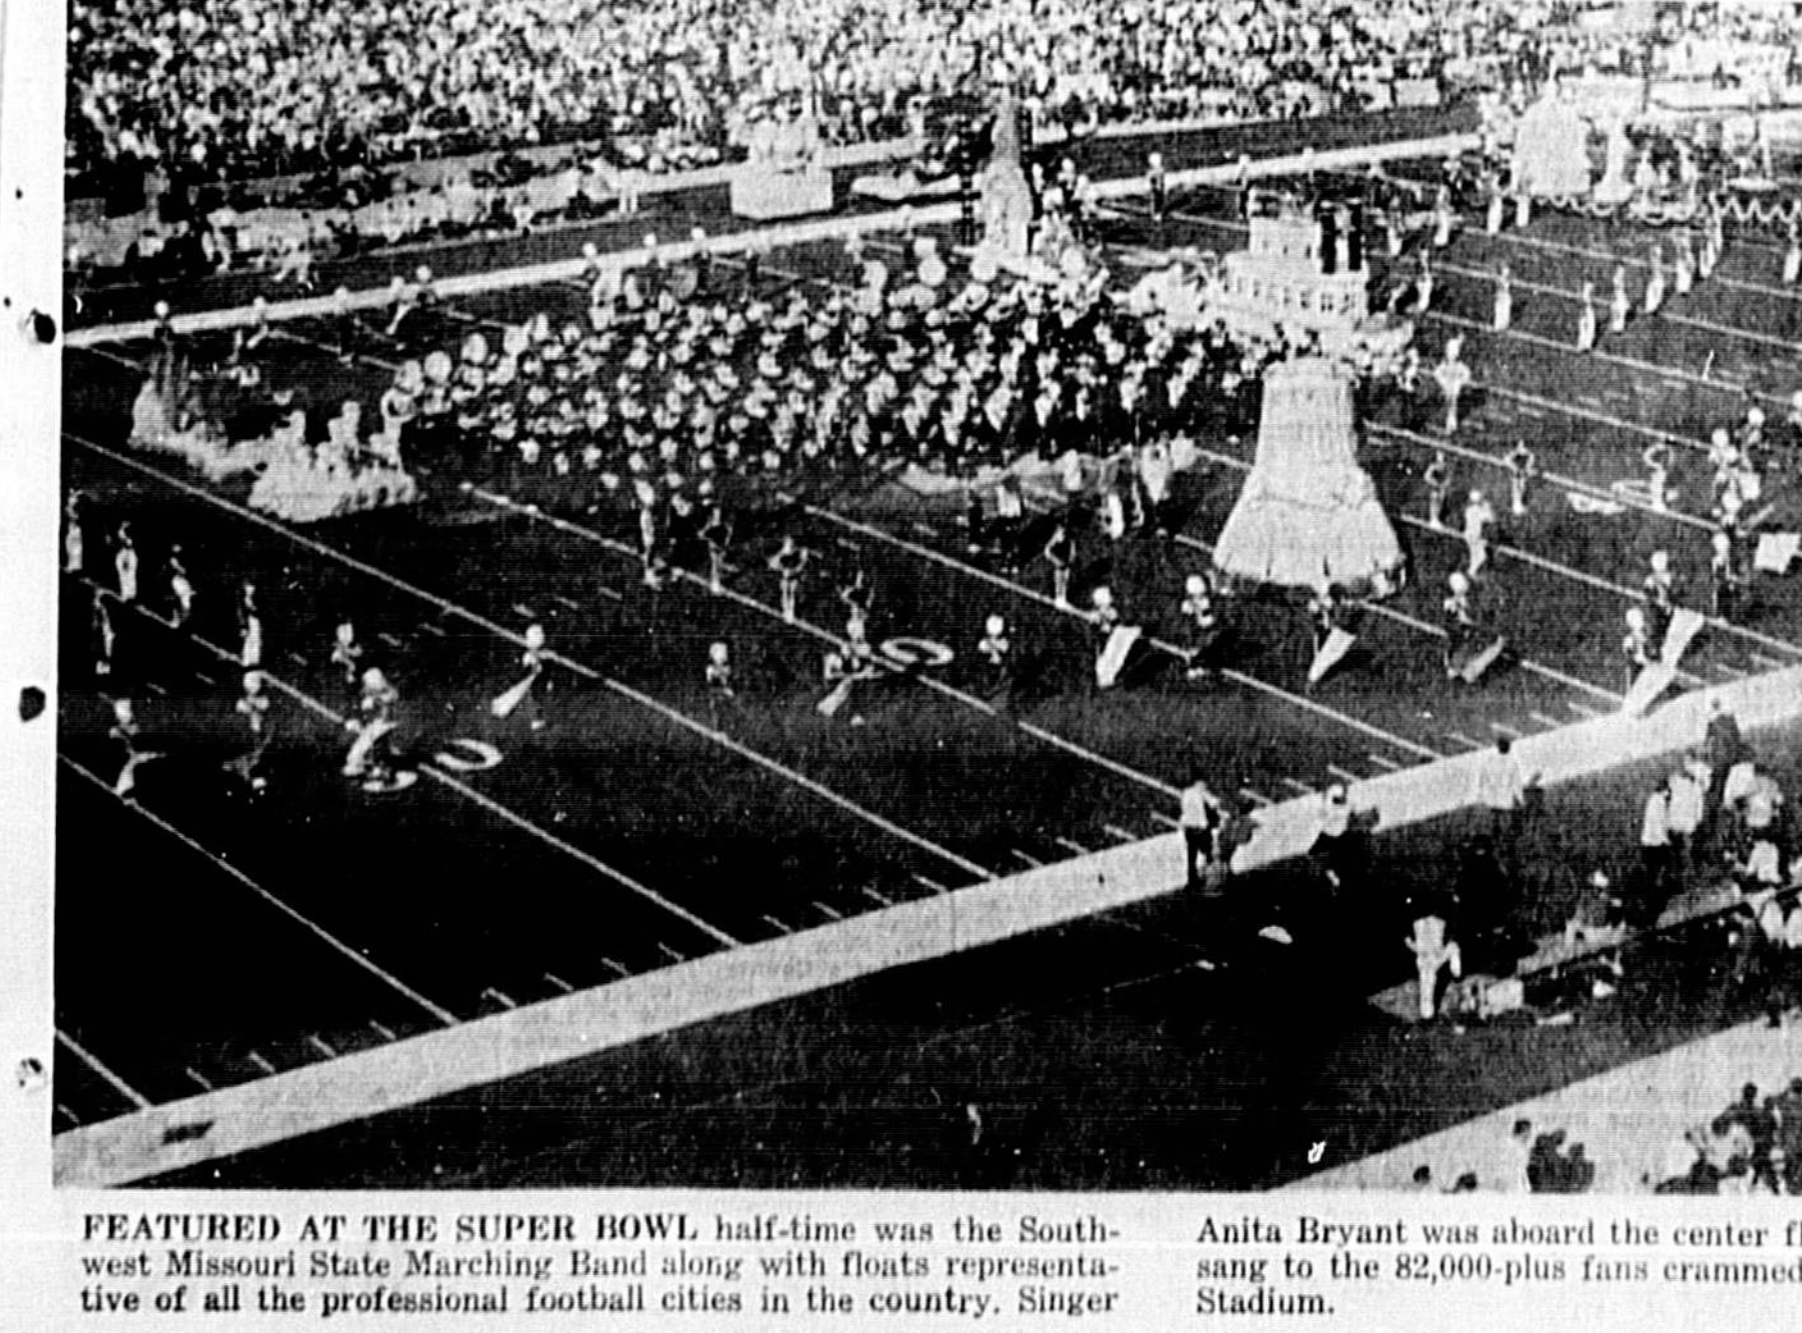

Palmer, who wants a journey title so bad he can taste it, almost pulled it off at Bing Crosby's annual clam bake during the weekend. But it was a case of close, but no cigar.

Shaw, who hadn't won a trophy himself since mid-1969, scrambled home with a two-under-par 70 Sunday to beat Palmer by two strokes and win the fourth quarter.

The first three periods were scoreless. The Saints as well as Lake Highland took many shots. This match was a goalless game. Each goal made ten or more saves and as a result it was a low scoring game.

The Saints will be waiting to take on Bishop Moore tomorrow at 3:00 p.m. at the Hornet field. The Saints are looking for their fourth victory.

Congress May Doom SST As A Billion-Dollar Mistake

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If you were a politician, Congress would you feel about a sleek new superjet — let global computers cut their travel time in half?

Would you spend a lot of government money to build it and keep America in competition with other nations building a similar plane?

Or would you scrap the idea as silly in the face of unmet domestic needs such as poverty, hunger and disease?

Would you give the go-ahead to build the plane so as not to lose nearly $1 billion already invested in it and risk a multibillion-dollar loss in jobs and balance of payments?

Or would you reject the superjet as a dirty, noisy monster likely to benefit the few at the expense of the health and hearing of earth-bound millions?

The question may give you an idea of why the Congress is having trouble making up its collective mind on the fate of the superjet transport (SST) — a proposed 1,300-mile-an-hour jetliner.

Some time before March 30, the 92nd Congress will make another decision on the SST. For the past 30 years, the decision has been, and work is due to start on two prototype models this year.

But there is evidence that the SST might doom the SST to death on the drawing boards as a billion-dollar mistake, despite frantic efforts by the Nixon administration to salvage it.

The 300-passenger plane is envisioned as America's answer to the British-French Concorde and the Russian TU-144 now being tested.

An SST could zip travelers from New York to London in three hours instead of the usual six at 2.7 times the speed of sound. It could also cruise at subsonic speeds.

When President John F. Kennedy launched the project in 1963, he indicated the government's share of developing an SST would never exceed $200 million.

But this far, more than $800 million in federal funds has been pledged — and the government's own estimates now are that it will cost about $1.3 billion just to get a prototype in the air.

The Boeing Co., the prime backer of SST development, has not until last year that its muscle started to flinch. In the House, anti-SST forces (left) only 14 votes shy of rejecting President Nixon's request for $290 million to continue SST development. The Senate later voted to scrap the project on a 52-41 vote. It was the first time a majority had been mustered in either house against the plane.

But a House-Senate conference committee "concerned" over a $270 million figure for the current fiscal year and another up-or-down vote then on spending for the two-week Senate filibuster that wasn't cracked until opponents won a promise of funding only through March and another up-or-down vote then on spending for the balance of the year.

State Canal Faces Court Injunction

JACKSONVILLE (AP) — Current projects continued on the Cross-Florida Barge Canal today and the federal agency building it said some work may go on even after a preliminary injunction becomes official.

"We have received no official word to stop," said Col. A. S. Fullerton, U.S. district engineer for public works projects in most of Florida.

Even if the shutdown order is given by a federal judge Wednesday and it affects work in progress, Fullerton said some projects must be carried to a certain point for safety reasons.

The Environmental Defense Fund, Inc., which won a declaration of a preliminary injunction Friday, must post a bond of an amount to be determined by U.S. District Court Judge Barrington Parker in Washington.

Fullerton and his staff in the Army Engineers office are estimating how much it would cost the government to interrupt work on the $18 million contracts in progress and how much it would cost to permanently cease work on the project which is about one-third complete between Jacksonville and Yanketown.

These figures, after review by the chief of engineers, will be submitted to the court Wednesday.

CASSELBERRY — Many familiar names appeared on the list of 1971 appointments which was confirmed by the Casselberry City Council in a regular meeting last night. But there were also some new ones presented by Mayor Curtis Blow.

Conspicuous by its absence was an appointment for the post of chief of police, which was not mentioned by the mayor.

Appointments to city positions for 1971 include: City attorney and prosecuting attorney, Kenneth McIntosh; municipal judge, Donald L. Findell; city inspector, William Roth; electrical inspector, Otto Unluar; city engineer, B. C. Conklin; acting city fire control officer, Paul Bates; fire chief, Herman Joyce; assistant fire chief, Don Rainer; cartographer, Barbara Damper; custodian, Edgar Mathiet; groundskeeper, James L. Bickemeyer Sr., and animal control officer (a new position), Harvey Nagel.

New appointments to city boards were also confirmed last night. They are as follows: Planning Board — Robert D. Goddard, Owen Shepherd, William Franklin, John E. Martinsson; Zoning Board — Cecil Harmon, Gerald Warren, Robert Lowe, George Shaffer, George Schrader; Board of Adjustment — Louis Sacci, Michael Reed, John Mattison, John Feighly, Mrs. Betty Cass; Recreation Board — Mrs. David Stevens, Don Rainer, Ernest Hall, Robert Gardner; Civil Service Board — William Otto, John Armstrong, Fred Watsman, Mrs. Barbara Burginon, W. Jury Trial Opens For Zane Clark

Jury Of 4 Men, 2 Women Hear Evidence On Drugs

By MARION BETHIA

Trial begins this morning in the case of Zane Edward Clark, charged with possession of barbiturates. Clark is represented by Richard Rhodes, of an Orlando law firm. Prosecuting for the state is Thomas Spier.

A jury of four men and two women was seated this morning.

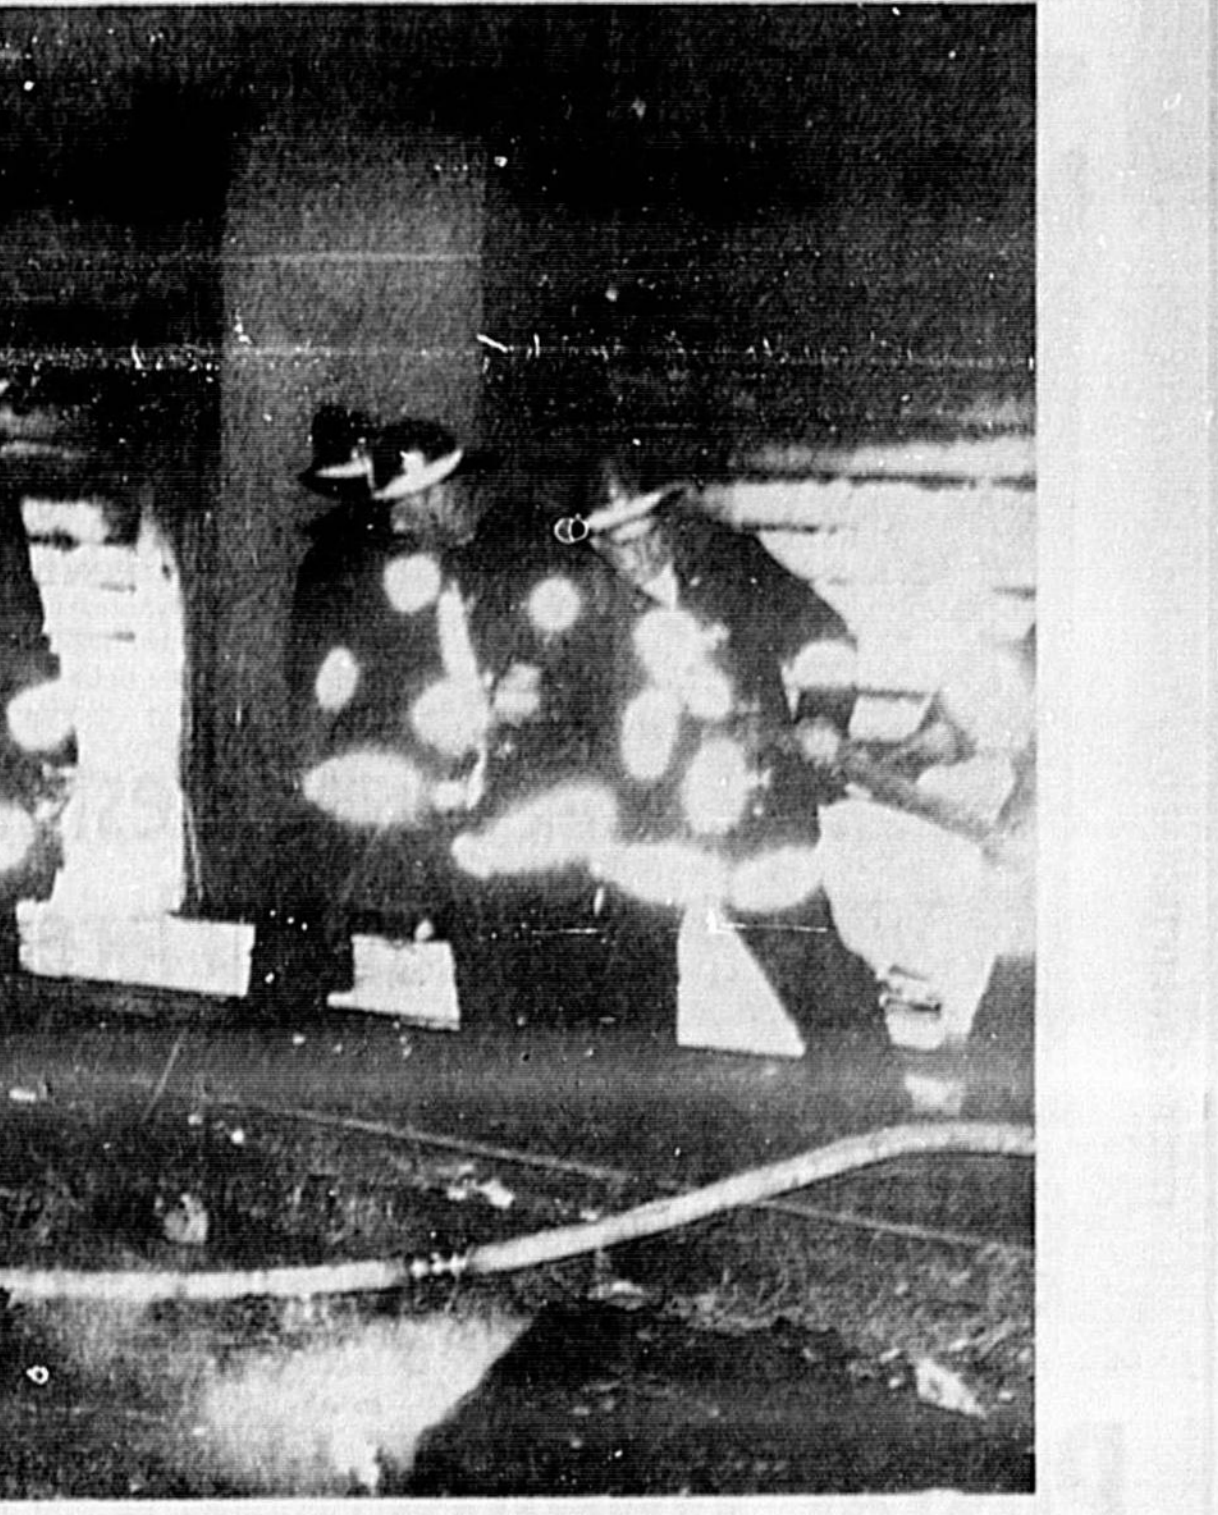

Clark, 30-year-old South Seminole resident, was found not guilty on Sept. 16 on charges of the sale of narcotics but was re-arrested on Sept. 18 upon the charges for which he is being tried. He was arrested on April 9 at the home of Andrew Caraway, Altamonte Springs, with five other persons. They were alleged to have been in possession of $32,000 worth of marijuana; that is, 46 pounds of the narcotic.

Since his acquittal on Sept. 16, Clark has been in and out of difficulties with the law. He was arrested on Sept. 17 on traffic charges, and had four jabs in his possession at that time. Clark was charged with no driver's license and no inspection sticker.

Rhodes, in his interrogation of jurors, intimated that the defendant may not take the stand in his own defense, and inquired if this would prejudice the decision of the jury.

Rhodes also questioned if the fact that an expert witness, which he anticipated to be a chemist, should testify, if the juror would give any more credence to expert testimony than he would to any other, and if he would recognize that an expert could make mistakes and have inconsistencies in his testimony.

Rhodes told the jury that law enforcement has become a "big political issue" and asked if they had any attitude upon the matter which would affect their judgment. He stressed the juror's attitude upon the publicizing of cases being dismissed due to not being brought to a speedy trial but was interrupted on this point by Judge Thomas Waddell as being "too philosophical."

Canal Appointees Questioned

St. Johns-Indian River Canal District attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. is writing to Gov. Reubin Askew and Secretary of State Richard Stone to determine if two new appointments to the canal district were signed by Gov. Claude Kirk before he left office.

Cleveland, in an action at the canal district meeting, held that unless Kirk had signed the appointments or unless Governor Askew would approve them, if they were unsigned, then neither Keith Reeves, Winter Park, nor William E. Keller, of Volusia County, would be allowed to take part in any board actions.

Noting the recent decision by Attorney General Robert Shevin, who ruled that canal directors' held that unless Kirk had signed the appointments or unless Governor Askew would approve them, if they were unsigned, then neither Keith Reeves, Winter Park, nor William E. Keller, of Volusia County, would be allowed to take part in any board actions.

Hazardous Canopies Eyed

The matter of requiring Sanford property owners to repair or remove hazardous marquees of business firms that overhang public property has been turned over to City Attorney W. C. Huthinson to take appropriate legal action.

During discussions concerning the problem it was pointed out that the city may be held accountable in court for allowing the situation to continue in the event an accident should occur.

The second hearing is to amend the usage of C-2 and C-3 districts. During the business session, council will consider a request by Supt. of Public Works Don Busby for filling equipment.

Three matters have been continued from a Dec. 15 meeting: the abandonment of Adelaide Drive, rezoning of lots 5, 3 in Adelaide Estates from R-1AA to R-3. The lots presently owned by property owned C.E. Consideration will be given to rezoning lots 377-383 Altamonte, Land, Hotel and Navigation Company from R-3 to C-1. Plans for the lots encompass a meat shop and restaurant on SR 438.

Swingin' Meeting

A "swingin'" meeting is planned by Seminole County Council of Parent Teacher Associations Thursday, Jan. 21, at 7:30 p.m. at Lyman High School, as they endeavor to bridge the proverbial generation gap.

All teenagers and interested adults are invited to the general meeting which will feature a program on the "Teenage Hotline" and rock music by "Blinnam Wood". Mrs. Nancy Grim, Hotline coordinator will present the program, which will include skits portraying how Hotline works.

There is no charge and the meeting is open to the public.

Rezoning Requests On Agenda

By MARION BETHIA

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Rezoning requests was to occupy the bulk of the meeting of City Council at 4:30 p.m. today. Two public hearings were scheduled prior to the meeting, and include rezoning of lot 489, Altamonte, Land, Hotel and Navigation Company. Although the lot is in an R-3 area, it is presently zoned R-1AA. The request is to rezone to R-3. The lot is located near the Capitan Apartments.
