Bachelor's Tax Seen Subsidy On Marriage

NEW YORK (AP) — A single person with a taxable income of $6,000 will pay $130 more in federal income tax this April than a married couple will pay on the same amount.

This situation has persisted since the late 1940s despite the inability of anyone to convince the single taxpayer that it is fair. To him, it amounts to a subsidy of marriages and babies.

Moreover, some single persons are finding the situation becoming more burdensome. The higher the income the wider is the payment disparity. And more Americans are working up into these higher income brackets.

A married taxpayer with $6,000 taxable income is scheduled to pay, according to the official charts, a tax of $1,380. On this same income the single taxpayer will pay $1,630, or $250 more.

At a taxable income of $24,000 this differences reaches a peak in percentage. At that figure the married taxpayer pays $5,560. The single taxpayer pays $8,030, or $2,470 or 29.5 per cent more.

Tax authorities now note that there are many more workers in the $6,000 or higher categories than in 1948, when the present law was passed, and that it can be argued that the present tax setup is thus becoming more discriminatory.

In answer to the argument that a married couple is entitled to a tax break they draw attention to the fact that a married couple gets an automatic deduction of $1,200, or $600 more than the single person.

How did this situation develop?

In the 1940s nine states had laws, upheld later in the courts, that said earned income and property income belonged equally to the husband and the wife. More states made plans to copy these laws.

What did this mean? Well, look at your income tax schedule of rates. It is progressive. More, proportionately, is taken from an $8,000 income —a bit more than 20 per cent—than from a $6,000 income—about 19 per cent. The tax take escalates.

So, the single taxpayer with $8,000 taxable income must pay $1,630.

Under these state laws, however, the married taxpayer could divide his $8,000 income into two $4,000 incomes—one for him and one for his wife.

Because a $4,000 income is taxed proportionately less—$690 — two $4,000 incomes are taxed a total of only $1,380, a $250 difference.

Well, in 1948 the federal government decided that if some states had this advantage it must be applied to all.

Tanglewood To Hear Talk On Taxes

Assistant county tax assessor S. O. Dorminey will be the speaker at the next meeting of the Tanglewood Civic Association to be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Richards Episcopal Church.

He will discuss how new homes are assessed for tax purposes and other subjects of interest.

There will be a baby sitter service for those who must bring their young children to the meeting.

Residents of Tanglewood, Temple Terrace, and Ridge High are asked to fill out and return the questionnaire concerning the association that was included in the newsletter distributed this week.

Butterflies

Steve Ryan, an eighth grade student at All Souls Parochial School, Sanford, spoke to the biology and science classes of Mrs. C. Humphrey at South Seminole Junior High School, Casselberry, Friday on the topic of insect collecting. He displayed his collection of butterflies, most of which were collected in Trinidad when his father, Cdr. P. J. Ryan was stationed there for a year in the Navy. Some of the specimens were collected in Florida.

Al Peeples stars on SHS football and track teams . . . and in other ways, too. He was telling his mother the track and field needed about $1,500 worth of renovation. "Talk to your father," Mrs. Peeples suggested. Al talked to his father, Eric J. Peeples, who is a retired Navy chief and a foreman at the Cobia boat works. The father advised the son to have the track coach call on Cobia officials. Result: One Cobia cruiser, with trailer, for the track team to use. Like raising the necessary funds to put their field in shape. But school officials decided otherwise and will put the money in a general fund.

Demo Candidate Breaks Up Unity

Democratic party unity in the new Seminole-Orange coalition was "thrown out the window" today when Marty Sullivan, Orlando, qualified to seek the House of Representatives seat now held by Sanford's Tom McDonald.

Orange County incumbent Democrats had announced they were running as a slate and requested no opposition in that county against McDonald. In turn, it was expected no Seminole Democrats would file against the Orange Democrats in the party primary Feb. 28.

Deadline for qualifying was 5 p.m. today in the secretary of state's office at Tallahassee. At noon today McDonald was the only Seminole candidate to qualify.

However, William Medcalf, chairman of the Seminole County Republican executive committee, announced at noon today that three Seminole GOP candidates were en route to Tallahassee to qualify before the 5 p.m. deadline for the Feb. 28 Republican primary.

E. P. BASSETT

JAN FORTUNE

The GOP "boss" confirmed today the report in Thursday's Sanford Herald that Kenneth Plante would qualify against incumbent Sen. Beth Johnson, Orange Democrat, for the 16th senatorial district, in the March 28 general election.

Plante served as state area co-ordinator for Republican Claude Kirk in his successful campaign last year for governor. Plante resides in Altamonte Springs.

Medcalf said that E. Pope Bassett, Republican state committeeman for Seminole County, was to qualify for the seat held by McDonald in the House, and former Rep. Jan Fortune was to qualify for the House seat in district 43.

Medcalf said the Orange County Republican executive committee also had lined up a slate of GOP candidates to run against the Democrats in Orange in the general election.

Associated Press reported the secretary of state's office was braced for a last minute rush today before the 5 p.m. deadline.

Hint 60 Percent May Turn Out For Primaries

Hope that at least 60 per cent of the electorate of Seminole County will vote in the primaries and general election for members to the Legislature was expressed by Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of registration, today.

Preparations have been made, Mrs. Bruce to handle the same number of voters in the Feb. 28 and March 14 primaries and March 28 general elections as were seen in the November elections.

Entitled to vote in the primaries here are 22,070 persons.

With qualifying deadline for candidates set for 5 p.m. today, Mrs. Bruce will obtain official list of candidates from Tallahassee early Saturday morning and arrange for printing absentee and sample ballots.

Both absentee and sample ballots are scheduled to be available to the public at either the courthouse in Sanford or the branch office in Seminole Plaza Monday morning.

Persons wishing to vote absentee may do so at either office during the open hours Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Deadline for absentee voting is 5 p.m. Feb. 27 for the first primary.

Mrs. Bruce reminds registration books are closed.

Lake Mary Sets Post Office Open House, Dedication

Official dedication and open house for the new Lake Mary Post Office will take place at 3 p.m., Saturday, Postmaster John A. Norden, announced today.

Speakers will be Former State Senator Douglas Stenstrom of Sanford and Percy Manley, postal service officer of Orlando, representing the Post Office Department.

Lake Mary Boy Scout Troop 242 will raise the colors, using a flag which has flown over the capitol building in Washington, D. C.

Following the ceremony, the building, which is located at Wilber Avenue and Second Street, will be open for inspection. Decorating will be done by the Lake Mary Garden Club and refreshments will be served by the Lake Mary Woman's Club and the Lake Mary Homemakers Club.

Those attending the dedication are invited by the Lake Mary Volunteer Firemen to remain for their annual barbecue chicken dinner at the Fire Hall, with serving from 4:30 until 7 p.m. On menu with the chicken is cole slaw, baked beans, rolls, and coffee. Tickets will be available at the door.

New Phone Service Kicks Off

Seminole County will become "one" communication-wise early Sunday.

Winter Park Telephone and Southern Bell Telephone will link to give county-wide telephone service. This will eliminate toll charges; Winter Park subscribers will receive the service without extra charge, but Sanford subscribers will pay extra fees starting at 50 cents a month.

The new telephone service was formally launched this afternoon at a celebration luncheon of state, county, municipal officials and telephone company officers at the Lookout Restaurant in Fern Park.

On hand were the three members of the Florida Public Service Commission who approved the link: Chairman W. T. Mayo, Jerry W. Carter and Edwin L. Mason.

Also present were L. E. Rast, Jacksonville, vice president and general manager for Florida of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph, and his staff.

Winter Park Telephone officials attending included President R. F. Hulbert, A. E. Lobsiger, Frank Hutsell and M. L. Barre, and the company's founder and first president, Joseph K. Galloway.

Update Charters

Area Cities Go Modern

Modern and updated charters for the cities of Longwood, Altamonte Springs and Oviedo will be submitted to the legislative delegation on Saturday, Feb. 25.

Information on the type of government to be called for in Longwood's new charter was not available. However, Mayor A. R. Lormann revealed a rough draft will be submitted to the legislative delegation with the charter in its final form to be submitted at a later date.

Mayor Lormann stated, "It is my hope a series of public hearings will be scheduled prior to and even after beginning of the session of the Legislature to inform the citizens of Longwood on the new charter."

Lormann also remarked, "The charter may be adopted with or without a referendum."

Altamonte Springs charter will continue the present strong mayor type government. Major changes include provision for all offices to be elected by a majority of the electorate with run-off elections called if necessary.

A referendum of the people to vote for or against the charter will also be included and public hearings will be scheduled.

Oviedo also plans to update its charter, leaving the same type of government, but permitting hiring of a city manager at a later date, if council desires.

Determination as to whether a referendum will be included has not been made.

The City of Casselberry has not decided at this time if local legislation or charter changes will be sought.

Florida Tech To 'Stay' At Oviedo Site

The executive committee of the board of regents has decided not to change the site of Florida Technological University and has opened bids for the first buildings.

Smith and Sapp of Orlando was the apparent low bidder for construction of a library building and a science building at the university, south of Oviedo.

The firm's bid of $1,148,010 was approved yesterday by the executive committee. Regents Architect Forrest Kelley said the construction can start next month, following approval of the contract by the state cabinet.

Attending the meeting were Regents Chairman Chester Ferguson of Tampa, Vice Chairman Wayne McCall of Ocala, and members Henry Kramer of Jacksonville and Dr. Louis Murray of Orlando.

The action came after Gov. Claude Kirk visited the regents office and looked over the master plan for university construction during the next 10 years.

The possibility of moving the new university, which will open next year, to the Disneyworld complex was brought up at the regula regents board meeting earlier this month.

McCall was named chairman of a special committee to investigate the feasibility of moving the university to the entertainment complex site, 12 miles southwest of Orlando.

The committee's report, approved by the executive committee, recommended that the university be built at the original site.

It also recommended that Orange and Seminole Counties be asked to provide proper zoning for adequate "buffer zones" around the campus.

Jury To Return Feria Verdict Early Next Week

Volusia County grand jury is expected to report Tuesday or Wednesday its findings in the first degree murder charges against a Sanford Naval Air Station sailor, Delfin M. Feria, 33.

The jury, at DeLand, spent Wednesday and Thursday hearing evidence in the Feria and other capital punishment cases.

Feria is charged in the fatal stabbing of Bubby Ray Risner, another SNAS sailor, and the wounding of Feria's wife, Mildred.

NAS Probes Death Of Petty Officer

Naval Air Station officials today are investigating the death of a petty officer found hanging from a chain between two trees off south Sanford Ave. early this morning.

NAS personnel declined to reveal the identity of the sailor pending notification of next of kin. However, it was revealed the petty officer was attached to VAH-3.

Deputies found the body at 7:43 a.m. behind an automobile. An autopsy is being performed at press time as to the cause of death, NAS authorities reported.

Measles Battle Set For Feb. 26 Here

Free vaccination against measles will be offered in Seminole County, Sunday, Feb. 26, for the first time, Dr. Frank Leone, director of the Seminole County Health Department, has announced.

The vaccine, which will be given with special equipment (no needles used) will be available from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. that date at Midway Elementary School, Jackson Heights School in Oviedo, Altamonte Elementary on W. SR 436, and at Seminole High School in Sanford.

Application blanks are available at the County Health Center, 900 French Avenue, Sanford.

The program is being supported by the State Health Department and the Seminole County Medical Society in cooperation with the county.

Dr Leone points out that complications of measles are the major problem. One-fourth of all who develop encephalitis (inflammation of the brain) die and another third suffer some form of permanent damage such as paralysis or mental impairment.

"The time of year when measles are most prevalent is nearing and the time for vaccination is now! It takes weeks to build up enough immunity for protection and the chain of immunity is weakest today where it should be strongest—in children from one to five years old. All children one through eight years should be immunized," Dr. Leone stressed.

Feb. 26 will be the only time an intensive county-wide measles immunization campaign is conducted and parents are strongly urged to take advantage of this opportunity to protect their children.

Pastor's Corner

Do In Name Of Jesus

By REV. LEROY D. SOPER
Holy Cross Episcopal Church

The Epistle to the Colossians says, "Whatsoever ye do in world or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." This is a real appropriate word for us during the Lenten season, but it is awfully hard to do. Nowadays we don't seem to be as conscious of God's working as were people of the past, and we forget from one Sunday to the next that our religion permeates everything we do, think, or say. In fact, whether we work hard with our muscles or spend a great deal of time using our minds, we seldom think about doing anything to the glory of God. Housewives find it extremely difficult to dedicate such things as washing diapers or mopping the floor to the "name of the Lord Jesus."

Still, if we will consciously work at it, we can do all our work to God's glory. Long ago there was a Saint Theresa who despised working in the convent kitchen, yet she forced herself to do it simply to make herself conscious of the fact that even the most distasteful of tasks could be done in a prayerful manner.

We think of our problem as being that of God's absence from our daily lives. But that is not the situation at all. He is with us always, even in our most embarrassing situations. "Lo I will be with you always, even unto the end of the world," is what our Lord Jesus told us. Our problem is rather like wanting to have radio music playing, but having the radio cut off from the electric power source. We shut off the presence of God from our minds and hearts just as we turn off the radio. The power is still there, we just aren't using it.

What we need to do is to remember God as we go about all our tasks, little or big. As a housewife scrubs the kitchen floor she might well pray, "Create in me a clean heart, O O Lord, and renew a right spirit within me." As we give the windows their spring washing we can remember the old poem: "To God be eternal praise! Praise without ceasing—praise! That in His Goodness Infinite He blessed the world with Light. Subserve it to His high employ, and see thou use it right!"

One does not have to be expressing himself audibly, either. The very acts of doing office work, or ironing, or mending can be acts of prayer themselves. Day after day, as women prepare the family meals they are helping themselves and the members of their household be strong and healthy people. Day after day as we work at our appointed tasks we can be effective witnesses to our religion. We need to continually remind ourselves of the presence of God, and remembering his presence, our work should grow a little better and a little easier.

Do you hate one aspect of your work? Do you hate to iron a shirt? The next time you face that particular thing, or as you smooth the wrinkles from the collar, just remember that the work is done in the presence of God, and dedicated to His Glory. It is amazing how this makes the drudgery lighter.

"O Lord Jesus, who didn't dwell in an earthy home in Nazareth, come and dwell in our home, I pray thee. May Thy love, peace, and joy be in our hearts and show forth in our lives, so that all who come within our walls may find Thy presence here."

Deaconess To Speak At Good Shepherd

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church has announced that Katherine Homburg, deaconess assistant on the Board of College Education and Church Vocations of the Lutheran Church in America, will speak at the Congregational birthday party at the church at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The event, sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women, commemorates the organization of the congregation in Sanford. The birthdays, by month, of all members and friends also will be honored. All members and friends are invited to attend.

Sister Katherine hopes to meet with young people and their parents in Luther League groups, Lutheran Student groups, Sunday School youth departments, mother-daughter banquets, Sunday services, and catechetical classes.

She will present a brief description of careers of service in education, parish work, medical and social work, stressing the field of the diaconate. Questions and answers will follow her presentation.

Sister Katherine entered the diaconate in September, 1965, from the Church of the Holy Redeemer, Brooklyn, N. Y. She graduated in 1958 from Hunter College, New York City, with a bachelor of Arts degree and in 1962 from the Lutheran Deaconess School in Baltimore, Md. She has done graduate work at Hunter College and work in guidance and counseling at Temple University, Philadelphia, Pa.

The Board of College Education and Church Vocations called Sister Katherine to the office of deaconess assistant in February, 1966, following her service as director of Christian Education at Gloria Dei Lutheran Church, Huntingdon Valley, Pa. Before entering the diaconate, she served for two years as a Board of American Missions parish worker and as a survey research worker for new mission areas.

As deaconess assistant, she works with annual Church Vocations Committees and plans itineraries for visits to congregations, youth camps, and colleges. Her duties include interpretation of the diaconate to church members and enlistment of interested and qualified young women for careers in church occupations.

She is one of 202 LCA deaconesses now serving with churches, units and agencies in the United States, Canada and abroad.

Two To Speak At Pinecrest This Sunday

HAROLD BROOKS

CHARLES SELPH

J. Gaines Dobbins, field secretary for the Florida Baptist Convention in Miami, will be the speaker at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday, at Pinecrest Baptist Church. Dobbins will be in Sanford for several days to lead in the Sunday School Witnessing Campaign in all the church of the Seminole Baptist Association.

Speaker at the 7:30 Sunday evening worship service will be Bill R. Baggett, dean of men at Stetson University, DeLand. Baggett will be speaking in observance of Baptist College Day. He is a graduate of Howard College, Birmingham, Ala., and received his masters' degree from the University of Alabama. He presently is working toward his doctorate in counseling and guidance. While a student at Howard, he received the John R. Mott Award for the outstanding male student, and he served as president of the student body.

Baggett taught high school English at Tuscaloosa, Ala., and served as counselor on social and academic problems at Florida State University before coming to Stetson.

At the University of Alabama he has worked in the summer freshman counseling program, and has supervised the counseling practicum for elementary and high school counselors. In an NDEA Counseling Institute at the University of Alabama, he worked with 30 trained counselors and lectured on the use of case study and counseling techniques. He also was supervisor of the Advanced Seminar in Counseling for the Human Development Laboratory. In addition to his duties as dean of men at Stetson, he teaches a course in personality development.

Evangelism Week Slated By Methodists

Rev. Harold Brooks, minister of Christ Methodist Church, Ft. Lauderdale, will conduct revival services at Casselberry Community Methodist Church during a Week of Total Evangelism beginning Sunday and continuing through Friday at 7:30 p.m. daily.

Song leader will be Charles Selph of Lake Alfred.

According to Rev. Delmas Copeland, local minister, the meetings are being held in conjunction with the "Venture In Faith," a statewide evangelistic effort by Methodist Churches.

Bishop James W. Henley, Lakeland, has called the program a "bold assertion of our confidence that Jesus is the Christ, the Savior of the world and redeemer of mankind."

The public is invited to attend all services.

Joy Circle To Provide MYF Supper

Plans to provide dinner for the Methodist Youth Fellowship this Sunday at Grace Methodist Church were made by the Joy Circle of the church's Woman's Society of Christian Service at the February meeting. Members volunteered to serve include Mrs. Jack Rossman, Mrs. Lamar Williams, Mrs. Samuel Greene, Mrs. Roger Harris, and Mrs. Robert Bennett.

Mrs. Lamar Williams, co-chairman, presided over the meeting of Feb. 9, due to a leave of absence of Mrs. William Rape. Mrs. Marjorie Williams was welcomed as a visitor. The devotions were given by Mrs. Ottis Taylor followed by reports from various officers.

Announcements were made of the hat sale planned for March 17th and 18th, and the Annual District Meeting on March 2 at Palatka at St. James Church.

The program was presented by Mrs. James Leonard with emphasis on the story of "The Good Samaritan," and how it applied to lives today.

Prior to the meeting, Mrs. Malcolm Lodge served homemade breakfast rolls and brownies with coffee.

Members attending other were Mrs. Aylene Kelley and Mrs. John Martin.

The next regular meeting of the Joy Circle will be March 9 at the home of Mrs. James Leonard.

Holy Cross Committees Named

Committees of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, appointed at a meeting of the Vestry, Monday, have been announced by Rev. Leroy D. Soper, rector.

Serving will be Phil Roche and Hawkins Connolly, stewardship; Lt. Allen Ruth and Jack Bolt, building and grounds; Harlan Rhondes, Henry Tamm and Bruce Bauder, finance, and Sal Manfre, Phil Logan and Rhoades, youth.

In other announcements from the church, it is reported classes for study of the Psalms will begin at 1:30 p.m., Monday, in the choir room of the Parish Hall. Sessions are expected to last approximately one hour.

Episcopal Young Churchmen will meet at 5:30 p.m., Sunday, with Father Soper, at the rectory, 818 Palmetto Avenue. EYC Youth Project for the South Florida Diocese this summer will be sending eight young people, high school juniors or seniors, to Jamaica to build a church. Deadline for applications is March 15. Expenses will be paid by young people of the diocese.

New Members To Be Received In Deltona

New members will be received at United Church of Deltona at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday at the Deltona Community Center on Lake Monroe.

Welcoming committee will be Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wert Jr. Ushers will be Cleveland Ashman and William Davis. House Committee for Feburary is Willis Soullard, Adolph Grannemann, Reno Chicoland and Everett Franzen.

A group form the church will attend the 7:30 p.m. dedication service for the new Hope United Church of Christ in Rockledge this Sunday. A tour of the new building, followed by a picnic supper, is planned prior to the dedication. Those wishing to attend should contact Harold Carrier, deacon.

Meetings announced during the week for building program committees of the Deltona Church are those of the Worship Committee, 2 p.m., Tuesday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ashman, and the Christian Educational Committee, 2 p.m. Wednesday, place to be announced. Choir rehearsal will be at 7:30 p.m., Friday, at the parsonage.

Reminder is issued that the carry-in Fellowship Luncheon, normally scheduled this Sunday, has been postponed until the following week due to the arts and crafts exhibit at the Center.

Fidelis Class Has Meeting

Monthly meeting of the Fidelis Class of First Baptist Church was at the home of Mrs. Ray Slaton.

Mrs. H. W. Rucker, teacher of the class, opened the meeting with prayer. "Love" was the theme of the devotional given by Miss Evelyn Morris.

Following the general business meeting, refreshments with a valentine motif were served to Mrs. John Malloy, Mrs. S. J. Brooks, Mrs. E. B. Woods, Mrs. Arnold Williams, Mrs. William T. Cavanaugh, Mrs. Rucker, Mrs. Ernest Nelson, Mrs. Wesley Giles, Mrs. H. H. Grier and Miss Morris.

Church Sets Sales

Christ Methodist Church of Sanford will have a rummage sale and bake sale, 9 a.m. until 6 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Feb. 24-25, in the old Western Auto store building on First Street in downtown Sanford. Arrangements for pick-up of items to be donated may be made by calling Ed Burns at his home.

Young Baptists Honored At Fete

The annual Sweetheart Banquet for the young people of Pinecrest Baptist Church was held at the Tradewinds Cafeteria in Casselberry.

A romantic atmosphere was created by decorations in different shades of blue accented by a cloudy mist and a backdrop scene of lovers on a bridge surrounded by trees and flower with reflections from a big glittering moon . . . all depicting the theme for the banquet. . . . "Blue Moonlight."

Crowning the king and queen for the gala event was Rev. Roy Hamilton, pastor. Dale Duncan and Janis Crawford were chosen king and queen by popular vote.

Deltona Church To Observe Woman's Day

Deltona Christian Church will observe Woman's Day at the morning worship service this Sunday, with Mrs. J. Warren Hastings of the Department of Interpretation of the United Christian Missionary Society in Indianapolis, Ind., as guest speaker. Theme will be "Courage to act in Mission."

All women of the church are urged to attend a workshop with Mrs. Hastings to be held at 10 a.m. Saturday at the church. Coffee will be provided and those attending should bring a sack lunch.

The Deltona church will join all Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) in the observance of The Week of Compassion, Feb. 19-25, on the theme, "Show Them God Lives."

FLOWERS for the altar and memorial.

Pilgrim Class Entertained At Banquet Party

Members of the Pilgrim Fellowship, junior and senior divisions of Congregational Christian Church, Sanford, were entertained at an appreciation banquet given in Fellowship Hall of the church with the Ethel Root Circle as hostess.

Circle members who participated in decorating the hall and preparing and serving the menu included Mrs. Walter Bethea, Mrs. Helen Remuzat, Mrs. LeRoy Benton, Mrs. L. C. Green, Mrs. LeRoy Taylor and Mrs. Cylde Stinson.

Guests were Rev. Glenn Aspinn, minister of the church, and LeRoy Taylor.

Following the banquet, the young people went to the Taylor home for a Valentine party and evening of games and dancing. Party rooms were appropriately decorated in the Valentine theme and two beautifully decorated heart-shaped cakes were served along with punch and cookies during the refreshment period.

Rummage Sale

The Community Methodist Church of DeBary will hold a rummage sale at the Old Sears Building in Enterprise Saturday and Saturday, March 3-4, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. each day. The public is invited to support the sale.

WORSHIP KNOWS NO CALENDAR

Some select Sunday as a day of worship. Others prefer Friday or Saturday. But the solace of worship knows no boundaries—temporal or spatial.

Some find their God in church. Others see him in a spring sunrise, or in a fresh-mown meadow at cusk. Children oft find peace in an evening prayer.

Each seeks peace in his own way. All place their trust in a Supreme Being and worship as conscience dictates.

Why not join them? You, too, can find solace and guidance in prayer.

Welcome Wagon

Erika, Claude Say 'I Do' Saturday

PALM BEACH (AP) — Simplicity and elegance will be the keynotes—at least flowerwise, the florist for Gov. Claude Kirk's wedding said today.

"He's spending very little, you know," said Vincent Mercurio, owner of the Vincente Florida Floral Mart. "He wanted it simple."

Yellow carnations, which Mercurio says are Erika Mattfeld's favorite flower, will be combined with orange blossoms, the state flower of Florida and possibly Kirk's favorite bloom since he became the first Republican to capture the governorship of Florida in 94 years.

Mercurio admitted the first arrangements he offered were a bit more grandiose. Kirk vetoed those. Kirk is paying for the flowers.

"He just wanted simple arrangements," Mercurio said. "That's why he came to me—a hometown florist. I'm his family florist, so to speak. I did a Christmas tree for him which won him over as a customer."

Erika will carry a small nosegay, Mercurio said, and it will probably be made of either orange blossoms or lilies-of-the-valley. But, Mercurio added, yellow carnations haven't been ruled out.

Miss Mattfeld, the German-born beauty Kirk presented at his inaugural ball, was spending her final days before the wedding in a pink and white cottage by the sea.

A Florida Highway Patrol trooper stood guard outside.

SEN. BETH JOHNSON and Rep. Tom McDonald, Democrats seeking re-election in the special legislative election next month, will hold public hearings for proposed legislation by Seminole County political groups on Feb. 25 at the courthouse.

Mrs. Tom Ferguson, wife of the governor's aide, was acting as companion to the statuesque former model.

Mrs. Ferguson told a Palm Beach Times reporter Thursday that Miss Mattfeld had "just a bare glimpse of the governor's mansion in Tallahassee on the night of Kirk's inauguration.

"She hardly remembers it," Mrs. Ferguson said, "but I believe she's very interested in decorating the family quarters there. Avocado green is her favorite color."

Mrs. Ferguson also said Miss Mattfeld often thought about her five-year-old daughter by a former marriage.

Adriana Dolabella, daughter of Erika's marriage to Carlos Eduardo Dolabella of Rio de Janeiro, is in Brazil with her paternal grandmother.

Kirk's four children—ages 12 to 18—by his marriage to the former Sarah Stokes will be on hand for the Saturday wedding.

The nuptials will take place at 4:45 p.m. as the Breakers Hotel, Florida Supreme Court Justice Millard Caldwell will perform the ceremony.

Only family members and close friends will attend, but some 125 guests are invited to a reception at the hotel 45 minutes later. A two-day honeymoon trip will follow before the Kirks set up housekeeping Monday in Tallahassee.

MIAMI (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk invites excommunication from the Episcopal Church when he marries Erika Mattfeld Saturday, but he can apply for reconciliation in a year.

Suffragan Bishop James L. Duncan of Miami said Thursday that under canon law Kirk can remain a church member, but he won't be able to receive communion until the reconciliation is effected.

The church denies communion to anyone who has not been married in the church, and declines church marriage to those who have not been divorced legally for at least a year.

Kirk and Miss Mattfeld fall into both categories.

Guerrillas Reported Fleeing

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — South Vietnamese troops reported killing 100 guerrillas today as the Communists apparently were fleeing from their disastrous battle with Korean marines two days ago.

A government spokesman said the enemy troops were caught in a crossfire between 15 armored personnel carriers and artillery and air strikes. The government troops suffered no casualties, the spokesman reported.

The Korean marines on Wednesday reported killing 240 North Vietnamese regulars in a 3½-hour battle on the central coast about six miles east of today's action.

The U.S. Air Force announced that its B52s made a record number of seven raids in South Vietnam Thursday. It said five of the strikes, were in support of some 2,200 U.S. 4th Infantry Division troops heavily engaged with a North vietnamese regiment of some 2,000 men near the Cambodian border 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

After two days of battle, the fighting along the border slacked off today. A U.S. spokesman said the men of the 4th Division's 2nd Brigade had killed at least 128 North Vietnamese, but one American company sweeping an area three miles east of the border suffered heavy casualties from Communist mortars and automatic weapons Thursday.

The term "heavy casualties" usually means the unit is no longer an effective fighting force.

Another American company suffered moderate casualties, the spokesman said.

The other two B52 attacks Thursday were in Thua Thien Province 20 miles west of Hue and on the fringe of the iron triangle 19 miles northwest of Saigon.

The B52s returned today for two more raids near the coast 119 miles northeast of Saigon and 250 miles northeast of Saigon in Binh Dinh Province.

Officers to be elected include president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and a board of directors.

An "all you can eat" spaghetti dinner will be served.

Club participation in projects to be discussed include support and sponsorship of little League Baseball, club oratorical contest, and organization of a South Seminole Junior Patrol in cooperation with municipal and county law enforcement officials.

All active and prospective members are urged to attend.

Jayne In Vietnam: Dons Combat Bra

DONG TAM, South Vietnam (AP) — Curvaceous Jayne Mansfield braved the dangers of the Mekong River delta today and American fighting men gave her special protection for her special assets.

"We wanted to give you a flak jacket — an armored vest — said the presentation officer, in red — combat bra.

Miss Mansfield, standing on a stage aboard a truck, doubled up with laughter and then gamely strapped on the twin helmets to the roars of cheering infantrymen crowding around the vehicle.

When the din subsided, the laughing entertainer cooed into a microphone: "I certainly want to thank all you boys for thinking of me. You can be sure I'll never forget you."

Miss Mansfield was at the Dong Tam base camp of the 3rd Brigade, 9th Jy Infantry Division. She flew in by helicopter to spend a couple of hours visiting the troops at the first permanent U.S. base in the Mekong River delta.

Longwood Baptist Adopts New Budget

The new $48,000 budget for First Baptist Church of Longwood represents several advances for the church, Rev. Jack Lindsay, pastor, advised today.

A total of $7,600 of the budget will go to world missions outside of the local church and $15,324 will go for debt retirement, part of which is intended for early payment of the total church debt.

In addition to other regular operating expenses, $250 will be used for the new church library, $1,050 for new church equipment, $350 for church activities and youth work, and $400 for Vacation Bible School.

"These are but some of the highlights of the $925 per week budget, Lindsay said, "the church also is erecting a campsite on the Wekiva River for the benefit of the Royal Ambassador and Girls Auxiliary activities."

Next major project for the church will be securing a minister of education and youth to enable the church to perform a more effective ministry, Lindsay concluded.

Noted Author To Be Speaker In Maitland

John Stormer, author of "None Dare Call it Treason," will speak at an eight-day "God and Country" conference Sunday at Maitland Bible Presbyterian Church located on Highway 17-92 in Maitland. He will speak at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. on Sundays and each week day at 10 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Stormer, who has just returned from Vietnam, will discuss the "nation's involvement in the war in Vietnam, American schools, and how far the liberal churches, including those in the Central Florida are, are favoring the Communist aggressor on the one hand and calling for youth to rebel against constitutional authority on the other."

The public is invited.

Christ Church WSCS Meets

A program entitled "Bringing Life Abundant" was given for members of the Christ Methodist Church Woman's Society of Christian Service at Monday night's meeting at the home of Mrs. William Hornsby.

Purpose of the program, given under direction of Mrs. Clifford Johnson, was to teach how to renew faith for better society and how to provide community centers for underprivileged groups. Participating were Mrs. Edith Bradbury, Mrs. Ann Burns, Mrs. Hornsby and Mrs. Johnson. Devotional was given by Mrs. Diane Jarvis, who also was elected WSCS key woman to United Church Women.

Northerners Flee Blizzards

— MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The fury of those northern blizzards finally hit Miami Beach when sun - starved vacationers overstayed their visit and locked incoming tourists out of a place to stay.

Embittered travelers got the cold shoulder at places where they are supposed to have confirmed reservations.

Tourists still in traveling clothes Thursday milled around the lobby of the Dunes Motel as the desk clerks called other establishments trying to get them a place to spend the night.

Dunes Manager Irving Canner said "a combination of things" created the human traffic jam.

"The blizzard up north kept guests from coming when they had planned to come. Now these guests are staying longer and won't give up their rooms" Canner said.

"Some guests have come earlier than the date of their reservations state, too," he said. "And the travel agents don't tell the guests about one stipulation on their reservations—that if we have no room for them they'll have to go to another motel for a night or two."

Canner said the Dunes is picking up the tab for any guests with reservations who can't get into his motel.

Canner said between 20 and 25 per cent of the Dunes' 170 room are filled with guests who don't want to go home. "The only way I can get them to leave under Florida law is to serve them eviction notices," Canner said, "and I won't do that."

But the Doral Hotel, also "jam packed," refuses to let guests stay longer than their reservations stipulate, according to Jean Weis, secretary to the general manager.

"They absolutely must get out so that others can come in," she said. "But we're so full now that we're praying for someone to check out."

The Fontainebleau Hotel also reported every room filled a day in. Driftwood and Desert Inn Motels, among others. The Newport Motor Lodge, which opened on Wednesday, was reported 100 per cent filled on Thursday.

But all of this was of no comfort to Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDonald from Boston.

"We have a confirmed reservation and made a $25 deposit," Mrs. McDonald, 'but the manager tells us he doesn't know where he's going to put us.

"What a way to start a vacation."

Stormy weather, with snow, sleet, rain, gusty winds and cold, continued to plague wide areas of the nation today. There were indications of moderating temperatures — but icy air will maintain a grip of many sections.

A storm which left from 6 to 10 inches of snow in southern parts of Missouri and Illinois, northern Arkansas and Oklahoma, spread eastward across the Tennessee Valley into the Virginias early today.

Snow of 4 inches or more was expected in central and eastern Kentucky and the mountains of Eastern Tennessee. Hazardous-driving warnings were posted for adjacent sections of Indiana, Kentucky, the mountain areas of North Carolina, the Virginias and Maryland.

DATED THIS 14th day of February, 1967.

Loss Of A Valuable Man

When Seminole's veteran Legislator Mack Cleveland Jr. decided not to enter the court-ordered legislative election it was "Black Friday" for a lot more people than those in Seminole County.

As always within the Democratic leadership, there is division of opinion in Tallahassee on almost any subject you care to throw out. But judgment is unanimous there that Cleveland is too valuable a man for the state of Florida and Central Florida to lose.

Many people who have the money have offered to finance whatever kind of campaign Cleveland wanted to wage, we are told.

But we are also told Mr. Cleveland looked at the map, at the legislative court inspired "fiasco" and said it was too much.

Will Seminole County have a voice in the legislature even if Tom McDonald should win despite the insurmountable odds of defeating an Orange County candidate who can muster five times Seminole in registered voters?

Even if McDonald should get in under the proposed slate of candidates how much power will he have?

This is not to say that Mr. McDonald could not be an able legislator.

But he does not have the 14 years experience in Tallahassee that Cleveland possesses. Neither would his seniority rate anything like the potency of the appropriations committee as the popular Sanford attorney has.

We have been accused of tooting Mr. Cleveland's horn on many occasions. Mack does not need anyone to toot his horn, nor does he have to do it himself.

All you have to do is look at the record.

Cleveland worked to establish Seminole Junior College here.

He worked through a maze of political skullduggery to get the county zoning and plat laws enforced and the extension of phone service for better communications for all of Seminole County.

Without him I doubt if we would have had that vital St. Johns-Indian River Canal legislation and the Port Authority or, the marina project.

Cleveland's decision to quit is just an outstanding example of the price the people of Florida will pay for the court decision.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Advices from Washington State suggest strongly that moderate Republican Gov. Daniel Evans may have more trouble than he imagines in trying to put a decisively moderate stamp on his state's 1968 delegation to the national convention.

It is now an old story, of course, that powerful conservative elements in the state's three most populous counties—King (Seattle), Pierce (Tacoma) and Spokane (Spokane city)—hold or seized control of GOP county organizations in open combat with Evans' forces.

Earlier in 1966, the governor had scored a series of victories over arch-conservatives in Washington, with much attendant publicity. Favorable precinct-level results in the November elections left him poised for further triumphs.

When these hopes were smashed, Evans and his aides insisted the situation was not as bad as it seemed. Basically, this is still their position.

Their argument is that men like King County Chairman Kenneth Rogstad, while admittedly very conservative, are in essence "power structure" politicians who will not allow "right-wing kooks" to gain any positions of authority — though they may use their numbers in head-count fights with Evans.

The Evans forces contend further that Rogstad and the other conservative county leaders may in time be brought into some sort of accommodation with the governor. They concede, however, that it will not be easy going.

Other sources in the state assert that the moderate cause in the party is under much graver threat. One experienced politician refuses to accept the idea that Rogstad and his counterparts in Pierce and Spokane counties can be neatly separated from the extreme rightists who supplied a good deal of their winning muscle. Says this man in a detailed memorandum:

"The strength of the extreme right is just as great as in 1964—and just as determined. The only difference is that they are now more entrenched.

"'Everyone' is pretty discouraged at the prospects of another Goldwaterish delegation in 1968. As you can see, stopping it will be very, very hard."

This party figure declares that Rogstad has quietly but consistently opposed the governor, has undercut some programs advanced by GOP State Chairman C. Montgomery Johnson, has given 95 per cent of his appointments to well-known extreme right-wingers.

Departing from local custom, Rogstad last year mixed into eight state legislative races. Right-wing candidates were filed against incumbents. All were beaten in the primary.

None of these reports is intended to suggest that Evans and his moderate supporters are not alert to the problem. And they are frank to point out other sticky spots—Snohomish county (Everett), where strong rightists are clearly in command, and Yakima county, where similar elements were beaten but are still stirring about.

A source here on Capitol Hill, who is familiar with Washington state politics, says Evans might get caught in the middle on another front, too. New Left, nonstudents' activity at the University of Washington's huge Seattle campus is sufficient, it is said, to threaten "another Berkeley." Extreme rightists in Seattle might react sharply to any outburst and produce an ugly confrontation. The governor's people minimize this prospect, though, and insist they are watching university affairs closely.

Nevertheless, what it all seems to boil down to is that Evans, one of the Republicans' most promising young governors, may be very hard-pressed to prevent more than half of Washington's 24-member 1968 presidential delegation from doing some sort of anti-Evans, Goldwaterish act at the next convention.

Analysis Of The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 16 years it's the "great debate" all over again, maybe. The argument is the same — about American troops for Europe — but this time with a twist.

Last time Republicans led the pitch for fewer U. S. troops in Europe, or none at all. Democrats argued for more. Now 31 Senate Democrats and 11 Republicans call for fewer troops in Europe. But some Republicans say "wait."

The original argument had its roots in the1940's, with Republicans divided then, too. Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, long an isolationist, abandoned that position.

He asked in 1948, and got, Senate approval of a resolution for U. S. military alliances and mutual help among the allies. This paved the way for the creation of the North American Treaty Organization a year later as a bulwark against possible Soviet attack.

But Senate Republicans, led by Robert A. Taft, did their best to scuttle NATO. They failed and the Senate approved the treaty in 1949. President Harry S. Truman quickly said he would send troops to Europe as part of NATO.

Then the opposition began in earnest. The first big shot came from former President Herbert Hoover in September, 1950. He was against U. S. troops in Europe until the allies did more to produce their own battalions.

He thought of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans as American moats, with the United States committed for its own sake to defending the Atlantic east to Britain and the Pacific west to Japan.

On Dec. 20, 1950 — when the United States had been fighting the Korean War almost six months — he made a famous speech, calling this country the "Gibraltar of western civilization."

He called for a big American Navy and Air Force but he saw little need for "large armies." This was exactly the view taken by American foreign policy critics in this country up to the time of Pearl Harbor.

Their view was summed up this way: All this country needed was a small, mobile army to defend both coasts — although how they figured this country could survive if fascism and communism took over the rest of the world is hard to say.

Within less than a month after Hoover made his second speech Taft backed him, opposing the use of any large American force in Europe. But Taft, and these Republicans who supported him, lost.

The wheels turn. Last year the Senate's Democratic leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, called for a big reduction in U.S. forces in Europe. The Senate didn't do anything about it in 1966.

But this year Mansfield and 41 other Senators joined in challenging U.S. policy in Europe and offered a resolution urging a substantial reduction in American troops there.

This resolution, if it passed, would simply say U.S. forces in NATO should be reduced, leaving it to President Johnson to decide by how much.

This might seem an almost innocent kind of resolution except for one fact: It would be putting a lot of pressure on Johnson to bring a lot of troops home.

Now a Republican steps forward to oppose Mansfield's troop-reduction thinking. This is Sen. Jacob A. Javits of New York who, with a team of fellow Republicans, prepared to offer the Senate a different kind of resolution today.

This would call for a broad study of U.S. policy in Europe before there were any troop cuts. At the moment it is not known exactly how many senators will support Javits but Wednesday night he had only five lined up with him.

Johnson would probably prefer Javits' resolution to Mansfield's. No matter what happens to it, it is a bit of a switch from 16 years ago.

Hal Boyle Says:

NEW YORK (AP) — Now hear this, young man.

One of the chores of a columnist is to tell youth how to live. No one knows just why columnists are entitled to this privilege, but if they don't exercise it at least once a year they are likely to have their licenses revoked.

So, young fellow, here is my free advice for 1967 on how to wrest the best from life and avoid the pitfalls of a trap-filled world.

If you are idealistic and year to improve the human race, try to get the job done by the time you are 25. If you haven't, then concentrate on improving yourself.

Sleep on a firm bed. Half the people who wake up tired do so because their bed is too soft.

The other chief source of fatigue is boredom. To avoid boredom make change a routine thing in your life. Never spend two days in a row exactly alike, even if you only eat in a different restaurant or go home by a different route.

Always dry between your toes thoroughly after shower. You can't go far on sore feet.

If you are unable for one reason or another to marry your employer's daughter, marry a girl with a merry mind and a responsible heart. These qualities endure long after beauty does.

Never drink anything except milk or water at lunch until your 60th birthday. Avoid drinking hard liquor before dusk or after midnight.

If you play golf, play it on weekends. The young fellows who sneak out to the country club during the week usually wind up bums.

Ask for a pay raise every 18 months—whether you need it or not. There is no surer way to find out how you stand with the firm. If you get turned down twice, better look for another job.

Don't quit a good job, however, just because you are piqued with your boss. The chances are fairly good that in time he will retire, get fired himself or be sidelined by an ulcer.

Take as little medicine as possible. Too much medicine probably keeps as many people sick as it makes well.

If you learn early that you are inept at handling money, let your wife handle the family income. Then, if you both wind up in the poorhouse, you'll at least have someone besides yourself to blame.

Have at least two children, or adopt a couple. And keep a pet cat, dog, or goldfish in the home. Children and pets do more than anything to keep a household sane—and in an uproar.

If you must gamble, bet on the one thing you can't afford to lose—yourself. It is foolish to bet on a race horse that could have no possible interest in your welfare.

Save 16 per cent of what you earn until get your house paid for, and after that save 15 per cent.

Take your wife out at least one evening a week, even if you only stroll around the block together.

Read a book—new or old, good or bad—at least once a month.

Eat sparingly. Every time you eat fried foods follow them with an ounce of castor oil. In time this will cure you of eating fried foods at all.

Whenever you feel tense, or depressed, go for a three-mile walk, sit down and write a poem, or take a vacation.

Don't expect too much of other people, and don't depend on good luck. As Jim Farley observed, "Things don't just happen, they are made to happen."

See as many sunrises as you do sunsets.

Any young fellow of 21 who follows these tips and isn't happy and hale at 65 can bring his complaints to me. By then I'll be 100 years old—and probably have even better advice.

Fix Own Prices

Barbers are organized in a union which not only regulates wages and hours of labor, but fixes prices charged to patrons. It is the only trade where employes fix the price of the commodity sold.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE B-565: Larry J., aged 21, is infatuated.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "I have fallen in love with one of the most popular girls on the campus.

"She is being rushed by many other college men so I don't believe she even knows I exist.

"But I am crazy about her. So is there any special psychological strategy that I could use to help improve my chances?"

Use Pope's Strategy

Alexander Pope was a famous English poet who once said:

"If you wish to win a person, don't praise him on that in which he obviously excels. For everybody else does that.

"Instead, compliment him on that in which he secretly yearns to be outstanding."

Dozens of men thus have uttered waif whistles when Larry's girl friend has passed by.

And on her many dates with various boys, they have been lavish with their compliments about her face and figure.

Like the late Marilyn Monroe, however, she probably wishes to be admired for something more than merely her 36-26-36.

A classy chassis is the acme of most girls' dreams, but many Beauty Queens who rate tops in that regard, then get fed up with being merely a "body," so they crave recognition for character acting or for musical skill or literary talent or ventriloquism, like our former Miss America.

Larry happened to be in a psychology class with his sweetheart where they were giving I.Q. tests to subnormal children.

Since the girl he admired was very deft in guining the co-operation of the youngsters she tested, Larry used that fact as the basis of his compliment.

"I see that you have a winning way with children, too," he smilingly volunteered his bit of double-barrel praise.

"How did you learn to gain their confidence so easily? Do you have any younger brothers or sisters?"

This was an unusual approach, so Larry caught her attention for the first time.

She meanwhile flushed with pleasure at his sincere praise about her skill in dealing with youngsters.

For it was doubly refreshing to have a boy admire her educational talents instead of merely her perfect 36 measurements.

Soon she was telling Larry about her work at a church summer camp, where she had served as a leader of Junior High students.

Larry asked her questions about her educational major and conversed in a casual man-to-man manner, making no comments about her classy chassis.

"Mind having a soda with me?" he asked as the class was ending, "for I'm writing a theme on child psychology and I'd like to get your opinions on a couple of the pages?"

She declined, saying she was heading immediately to another class in sociology, but would be free at four o'clock, so he said he'd meet her then.

And that was the beginning of a happy friendship that blossomed into a wedding ceremony!

So send for my "Rating Scale for Sweethearts," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 26 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs.

47-Year-Old Area Experiment Station Still Expanding

(Editor's Note: The following is the text of a brand new brochure of the Central Florida Experiment Station, on Celery Avenue, which is being distributed this week.)

During the 1920s, celery growers in the vicinity of Sanford became aware of a disorder of celery which they called "cracked stem." As time passed, the disease became widespread and more severe until it became a very serious threat to celery production in the area. As a result of this disastrous situation, the 1933 Legislature appropriated funds for the development of control measures for the disease.

Celery Investigations Laboratory.—The City of Sanford donated a house, a greenhouse, and approximately six acres of land at the eastern edge of the town to be used by the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station for research on the celery problem. This became known as the Celery Investigations Laboratory. In October 1933, Dr. E. R. Purvis initiated a research program at the new laboratory. The work progressed so well that in little over a year it was announced that cracked stem of celery was caused by a deficiency of boron. Applications of 10 pounds of borax per acre about two weeks after transplanting celery to the field prevented cracked stem symptoms and increased yields.

Following the successful solution of this critical problem, further studies on nutrition of celery and other vegetable crops were undertaken.

Dr. R. W. Ruprecht, First Permanent Staff Member.—During 1937, Dr. Purvis accepted a position with the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. That same year, Dr. R. W. Ruprecht was assigned to the Laboratory to carry on the vegetable nutrition research and to conduct the facility's administrative affairs. The scope of the work also was enlarged with the assignment of a plant pathologist to the Laboratory staff. A vigorous study of diseases attacking celery in the seedbed and in the field was undertaken.

Entomologist Assigned to Laboratory. — Again in 1941, the research program was broadened when the legislature authorized addition of an entomologist to the staff. By this time, investigations conducted at the Sanford Laboratory and at other branches of the Experiment Stations system had demonstrated that new hybrid varieties of sweet corn were well adapted to Florida soils and climate. An effective and economical method of control of the corn earworm was required if the full potential of this new crop were to be realized.

Some of the first experiments by the entomologist involved testing the new insecticide, DDT, for corn earworm control. These early experiments demonstrated the highly effective activity of DDT for control of this insect. It was not until after the close of World War II, however, that DDT became available for general use by farmers. The hybrid varieties, coupled with effective corn earworm control, have been the foundation of the sweet corn industry, which in 1964-65 brought over 20 million dollars to Florida growers.

Central Florida Experiment Station.—In 1945, progressive growers and members of the landed together under the Seminole County Farm Bureau leadership of M. L. Cullum and donated 25 acres of land to the Experiment Station to permit expansion of the research program. The 1945 Legislature recognized the need for improved facilities by providing funds for an addition to the office and laboratory building and for addition of a horticulturist to the staff. The name of the Laboratory was changed to the Central Florida Experiment Station and Dr. Ruprecht's title was changed to Vice-Director in Charge. These changes indicated a growing appreciation of the importance of a research program to the advancement of agriculture in the area.

USDA Nematologists Assigned to Station.—For a number of years prior to 1948, sweet corn, celery, and other vegetable crops had exhibited symptoms that were generally thought to be caused by plant parasitic nematodes. Through co-operation with the Agricultural Research Service of the United States Department of Agriculture, two nematologists were assigned to the Central Florida Station beginning in 1948 to work on nematodes attacking vegetable crops.

Zellwood Farm Established.—The scope of the staff's research activity was greatly increased in 1955 when growers along the north shore of Lake Apopka in Orange County provided 10 acres of "muckland" to be used by the Central Florida Experiment Station for research on problems connected with vegetable production in that area. Since that time, studies have been conducted on disease, insect, weed, and nematode control; varieties of sweet corn, carrots, celery, and other crops adapted to the area; and the nutritional requirements of spinach, carrots, celery, and other crops grown on the peat soils.

Growth Continued through Additional Staff.—Scope of the research program has gradually increased through the years. Trained research workers have been added to develop improved methods of crop production. Positions for another horticulturist (1949), a third horticulturist (1955), and a soils chemist (1953) were created. Facilities were also improved in 1955 with construction of headhouse and greenhouse, three offices, and a soils laboratory.

Upon withdrawal of the USDA nematologists in 1959, a nematologist position was created as a part of the regular staff of the station. Presently, there are 7 scientists on the staff with a supporting group of workers that includes 2 secretaries, 2 farm foremen, 5 field assistants, and 6 laborers.

Entomologist Dr. John W. Wilson, transferred from the Everglades Station in 1948 and was named Head at Sanford upon Dr. Ruprecht's retirement in 1959. Dr. John F. Darby, Plant Pathologist, was transferred from the Indian River Field Laboratory in 1954 and was named Plant Pathologist and Head upon the retirement of Dr. Wilson in 1966.

New Office and Laboratory Building and Additional Land.—For several years, it has been necessary to house 3 staff members in a building at the farm—a mile from the main office building where the other 4 staff members maintain offices. Only 2 laboratories have been available, one used largely by the nematologist at the main building and one used by the soils chemist at the farm. These facilities have been very inadequate.

The 1965 Legislature recognized the need for laboratory facilities for all staff members if a sound research program was to be developed. Funds were provided for construction of a modern laboratory and office building necessary to carry out the kind of research program required to meet the demands of a progressive agriculture. In addition to funds for new laboratory and greenhouse facilities, provision was also made by the 1965 Legislature for acquisition of an additional 38 acres. This enables the staff to use to the fullest extent its energy and training in the prosecution of a broad research program.

Because of its interest in developing the facilities of the local Experiment Station, Chase and Company reduced its holding of scarp land and made a tract adjacent to the original farm available to the Experiment Station at below market value. The shortage of land suitable for vegetable production in this area must be considered to fully appreciate the contribution made by Chase and Company.

The additional tract and completion of the new facilities at the farm site allow the Central Florida Experiment Station to be one consolidated unit.

BIDS WILL BE opened April 13 for the new office building of the Central Florida Experiment Station on Celery Avenue.

Outstanding Farmer Jack Schirard's Title

If you were to pass by the long, low warehouse of the Patrick Fruit Company, across the street from Sanford Naval Academy early any morning, you would probably find Jack Schirard already well on his way towards a long day's work. His day begins with the dispatching of many men and machines to the more than 1,000 acres of citrus groves he oversees in the Seminole-Orange County area. He may stop a moment to help one of the men chanics repair a hauler-trailer, and although you don't see him do it, you have a feeling that whatever needs to be done to get the men on their way he will lend a helping hand.

Here is a young man in his early thirties that anyone would like to have on his team, football or otherwise. Tall, rugged, he looks as if he were to jump up and down nothing would shake or ripple. Large, bespeckled hands reach out in a firm, warm greeting. An almost shy smile that widens to pleasant grin advises you that the voice to come will be soft in volume yet loud in wisdom.

It is true, too, for after a short conversation with this young man you understand well why only last month the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees gave him the Distinguished Service Award as the Outstanding Young Farmer of 1966.

Short cropped, copper hair tops him off, brilliant plaid shirt and jacket protect his superstructure from chill February winds and the rugged work boots show marks of having earned their keep. When he removes the heavy, horned rimmed glasses to make a point, you try to figure whether the eyes match the hair or the hair matches the eyes. You are impressed, however, with the fact that the eyes are clear, and so is the outdoors complexion of this serious man.

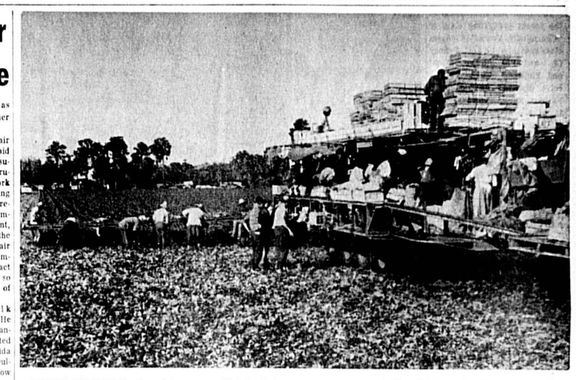
Serious, yes, when the talk turns to the citrus industry. He was born here, attended Sanford schools, and was graduated from the University of Florida in 1956 with a BSA in Horticulture and Agriculture. You know that he knows his business.

Although he says that his job is simply taking land, irrigation, chemicals, trees, machines and manpower and making citrus, you find that his knowledge of the industry goes deeper than just production. He is cognizant of the fact that this is a young industry. He has gone through many changes in the past twenty years and will have many changes in the years to come if it is to continue to thrive.

Schirard talks of many things that he, and others, feel need to be done. New methods of production and picking, new methods of packaging and marketing. Yes, he knows all these phases well. He has seen automation creep into the industry. He looks for more, and feels it to be a healthful progress. Jack remembers when the culls were shipped to other states to be used in soft drinks. He has seen the innovation of frozen concentrate and reconstituted juices. A look in the sky, watching helicopters spray insecticides, fungicides and weed killers reminds him of the time that many offshore hands did this the hard way. He sees the present grove worker making many times the wages of years gone past.

All these things Jack Schirard has seen and is now seeing, yet he envisions the many new things that are still in the future. He glows when he talks about them. Instead of the stories of concentrate to offset the ups and downs of the industry — and prices to the consumer, he sees a stabilizing crop agreement to benefit the grower, processor, distributor and consumer. He is not alone in this thinking, and as Jack and other forward looking members of the industry feel that these things must come about, then you knowing him, feel that it must surely come.

Seminole County ranks fifth in Florida in the production of tangerines.



"MULE TRAIN" is the nickname applied to this all-in-one operation for celery harvesting on a Chase & Company farm. Pickers place the celery on a conveyor belt, which carries it up onto this truck for washing, cleaning and boxing.

Jack is all business when about his job. The reasons behind this are practical and wonderful. His wife, Hope, and five children, three boys and two girls, inspire this hard working young man to follow the life that seems to fit him so well.

When time provides he relaxes by visiting his favorite spots for hunting or fishing. It is hard to picture this man elsewhere than in the wondrous outdoors that he has known all his life.

Jack Schirard stands optimistic. Asked about the disastrous freeze of 1962 he simply states that "we made it." When confronted with today's picture of a bumper crop, he replies; "The more we pick, the more there are — and we'll pick 'em."

If only the oranges produced by Seminole County growers (no grapefruit or tangerines) were juiced, it would be enough juice to provide a glass a day for a whole year for every man, woman and child in the counties of Seminole, Lake, Orange and Osceola combined. The value of the 1965 citrus grown by Seminole County growers was $7.0 million on the trees. The citrus agri-business value was $13.2 million.

Public Invited To Fashion Show Saturday

The third and final group of the recent graduating class of "Charmingly Yours," a charm class sponsored by J. C. Penney Co. and Pat Flesher Model and Finishing School, will receive diplomas and stage a Fashion Show, Saturday, Feb. 18, at 2 p.m. at Florida State Bank.

Approximately 60 young ladies will model and receive their diplomas.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Bear Lake Circle Slates Meeting

February meeting of the Bear Lake Garden Circle will be at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Richard Hale, 2502 Jamison Drive, Bear Lake. All members are urged to attend.

Enterprise Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Henderson went to St. Petersburg, Friday, where they had lunch with Mrs. Anna Wollenwebber and Mrs. Orville Baker who had flown down from DeKalb Illinois. In the afternoon they met Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Davis of Daytona Beach and they all had dinner together in Clearwater. Mrs. Davis is director of the Florida Chain of Missionary Assemblies which was meeting in Clearwater at that time. Mrs. Baker, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Henderson were friends in high school in Orlando and have kept in touch through the years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ryan and children have moved into the Kirby Sellers house on DeBary Avenue. They moved here from Sanford.

Miss H. McMann of Pittsburg, Penn., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hise at their home on Pine Street.

Col. and Mrs. John C. Scott of Columbia, S.C., are houseguests of Col. and Mrs. H. C. Piapp.

Mr. and Mrs. John Earl Ogden and family of Jacksonville, spent the weekend with Mrs. Ogden's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dunn.

Mrs. Birdie Snodgrass is spending this week with her nieces Mrs. Chester Bethune, Mrs. Mamie Stoner and Mrs. Calle Johnson in Daytona Beach.

Friends will be happy to learn that Mrs. Rosa Lee Peterman is out of Seminole Memorial Hospital and back on her job at the school lunchroom.

Friends will also regret to learn that Joe White is a patient at West Volusia Memorial Hospital in DeLand.

Fashionettes

The elegant small bag is of great importance to the fashion scene right now. Adorned with gleaming chain handles and glittering clasps, they make elegant after-5 appearances.

Little girls will stay flower fresh and always neat in a slip that is also a blouse. Prettily embroidered with eyelet or dainty lace, some have long torsos bottomed with full skirts or tailored shift styles. Short or long sleeves for your little lady's preference.

The chicest hostess ever will be known by her long flowing robe of velvet. Collared and cuffed quite naturally with flutted or cascaded ruffles, it's one of the loveliest ways to make the romantic revival scene at home.

To keep your feet comfortable, shoes should extend a half-inch beyond your big toes. They should support the width of your feet without pinching. And they should be snug to your heels without rubbing. Sizes vary with styles, so have your feet measured every time you buy shoes.

When you are ready to slice a many-layered cake-type torte, do it this way: With a thin sharp knife blade, cut a circle about three inches in diameter in the center of the torte and then slice the outside ring.

Luboff Choir Attracts Capacity Crowd

DORIS WILLIAMS, NORMAN LUBOFF AND KAY BARTHOLOMEW

MR. AND MRS. JACK SCHIRARD

The appearance of the Norman Luboff Choir Tuesday at the Civic Center attracted music lovers from Central Florida to the second concert of the season under the auspices of Seminole County Mutual Concert Association.

The dynamic choir held the appreciative audience spellbound with the unusual arrangements by Luboff which included a repertoire of sacred, secular, folk, popular, spirituals and extended works.

Attired in Delphinium blue crepe gowns, elegantly designed, the distaff choir members reflected not only outstanding talent, but also a touch of added attractiveness to the vast auditorium stage.

Concert patrons reveled in the sensational performance of the virtuoso and talented choir.

It was a big night for the ladies who represented fashion a la mode at the second concert. Elegant furs, beautiful gowns and high-fashion hair styles were the order of the evening for milady.

An added attraction at the concert was an Art Exhibit presented by the students of Lyman High School under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Hodgins.

Pretty ushers in beautiful ball gowns were Gail Lincoln and Pat Sweeney from Lyman High and Christine Almquist, Carol Brumbaugh, Georgie Littleton, Kathy Sloan and Connie Stewart, Seminole High.

Who's Your Ideal Mother? Nominate Her For Award

Nomination blanks are now being distributed throughout the State by the Florida Mothers Committee.

Many of our state organizations and Chambers of Commerce are submitting worthy candidates. Anyone may send in the name of a candidate if they have the recommendation by a recognized organization.

Their youngest child must be over 15 years of age. Not only must the 1967 State Mother be a woman of achievement herself, but her children must also have fine records. She must be a regular member and worker in her church or synagogue.

The American Mothers Committee, Inc., headquarters in the Waldorf-Astoria, 301 Park Avenue, New York City, N.Y., a distinguished 30-year old national organization, establishes a National jury of well-known persons to select from the 50 elected State Mothers, the National Mother of the Year each May.

If you know a wonderful mother whom you think qualifies, send her name today to the chairman, Mrs. Norman A. Trevey, 1735 Orlando Circle South, Jacksonville, Fla. 32207, for a nomination blank.

Perhaps your choice will be honored in the American Mothers Hall of Fame as the National Mother this year. The deadline for receipts of entries is April 3rd, 1967.

When you are grinding or chopping baked ham to use in a mousse do not do the chopping or grinding until shortly before you plan to assemble the dish.

Social Security Answers

Q. How much of my earnings must I pay social security taxes on for 1967?

A. Only the first $6,600.00 of your earnings are taxable, for 1967 — the same is true for 1966.

Q. Is it possible for a person to check their social security record and see how it stands?

A. Yes, you can get a handy post card form designed for this purpose, at the social security office at 1309 East 2nd Street in Sanford.

Q. I have recently married. Should I get my name changed on my social security card and if so how?

A. Yes, your card should be changed to show your new name. You can call the Sanford Social Security Office at 322-2711 and we will mail you the form (OAAN-7093) you need to change the name on your social security card.

Q. How much do I have to earn from my business before I must pay social security self-employment tax?

A. If you clear $400.00 or more from your business you must fill a self-employment tax return and pay the tax.

Sunland Baptist Groundbreaking Set Sunday

Sunland Baptist Church will celebrate its first anniversary Sunday by inaugurating a church building program with groundbreaking ceremonies at 2626 Palmetto Avenue scheduled for 2:30 p.m. following the morning worship service and a dinner on the grounds.

The congregation, organized from a mission in February, 1966, has experienced growth, both numerical and financial, according to Rev. G. E. Hodges, pastor. Contributions to foreign missions is more than 13 per cent, taking part in the support of six missionaries.

Officiating in the services, in addition to Rev. Hodges, will be Dewy Ring, Charles Lick, Bill Carte, and James Henry, trustees, and the church treasurer, Wilbert Smith. All the congregation will take part in dedication of the 2½ acre site.

The new building will accommodate more than 250, with a choir of 22 voices. Upon completion, the project will have a total value of $82,700. The property includes frontage on Palmetto, 26th Place and Magnolia Avenue.

The public is invited to attend the special services.

Nine To Be Confirmed In Longwood

Bishop James Duncan, Suffragan Bishop of South Florida, will administer the Sacrament of Confirmation to nine persons during special ceremonies at Christ Episcopal Church, Longwood, at 5 p.m. Sunday.

To be confirmed are Patricia Ann, Mary Catherine and Richard Oldham and Robin Hammond, Dwane Pittman, James Kelley, William Pittman, Denis Douvagio and Phillip Graham.

Mrs. James Kelley and Mrs. Dennis Douvagio will be received.

A covered dish supper in honor of Bishop Duncan and the confirmands is scheduled in the Parish House immediately following the ceremonies. The Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church are sponsoring the dinner.

Rev. Warren Thompson is vicar of the church.

Groundbreaking

Santalndo Springs Baptist Church will have groundbreaking Saturday afternoon for a new addition to the church plant. A fish fry will follow with serving to begin at 6 p.m.

DISPLAYING ship-shape form, pretty Elizabeth Jevnaas is set to attend an exhibit worth some $20 million, including nearly 400 craft of all sizes, marine equipment, gear and gadgets assembled for the 26th annual Miami International Boat Show at Dinner Key Auditorium Feb. 17-22.

Seminole Downs Program Told

Two "firsts" will be on record for Thoroughbred horse racing in Florida when Seminole Downs opens its season on April 21, One will be the first night Thoroughbred horse-racing meet to be held in the Sunshine State. The other will be the first summer racing card ever offered in Florida. The schedule will continue until July 8.

These two points were emphasized by Ralph Cholosser, general manager, in a talk to the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees at their weekly meeting in the Civic Center Thursday.

The reclaiming of the old Seminole Raceway properties has resulted in a present asset to this Central Florida area and promises considerable traceable economic benefits to the Sanford-Winter Park sector. When the season gets underway Cholosser promised the employment of local people in the capacities of security guards, and employes in the pari-mutel betting offices with an expected total of more than 100 required.

The 1967 Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia will be played Dec. 2.

Then there will be the 150 trainers, 30 grooms, the star jockeys and visiting breeders and owners living near the Downs. But the veteran manager took a longer view in pointing out the possibility that Florida breeders would want to establish horse farms of 40-50 acres. He cited the comparitive nearness of the great Ocala farms as an important asset.

During this pioneer season the races at Seminole Downs will start at 7:45 p.m." . . . and we'll try to get everyone out by 11 p.m. They will be held every week-day except Thursday. The track will be dark on Thursdays and Sundays." Races will be held every 20 minutes and Cholosser classed them as "first-rate." Good horses, skillful jockeys and watchful stewards will be the rule.

Presbyterians To Hear Talk By Shepherd

Stephen A. Haboush, native Galilean shepherd, will bring his presentation of "The Shepherd Psalm" at the 9 a.m. worship of Presbyterian Church of the Covenant Sunday.

The speaker was born and reared on the western shores of the Sea of Galilee, and was a shepherd n his youth. He brings an unusual message on The Twenty-Third Psalm from the point of view of a shepherd appearing in his native garb.

World Mission will be the emphasis of the Witness Season this month with a Family Night Supper at 6:30, Tuesday. The speaker will be Mrs. Kenneth Kepler, missionary to Taiwan (Formosa), who will show slides in color and tell about her many years of service in the Far East. The self-denial offering for Mission will be received at the morning service, Feb. 26.

Should the Jaycees like to attend as a group, Robert Wade, track publicity man, offered to not only provide the seating for the group but even have a race named for the Jaycees that night and allow the group to award prizes.

PTO Feted By Amateur Talent Show

Sanford talent graced the stage at Westside Grammar School's PTO talent show.

After a brief business meeting, President Carem Gager presented awards for service to Mrs. Mildred Nicholas, clinic chairman, and to Mrs. Frances Walton, principal.

Judges for the show were Mayor Joseph Baker, Mrs. Hannah Smith, teacher at Sanford Junior High School, and William Vincent of the Sanford Herald.

The judges awarded first place to Miss Jane Wakefield, a ninth grade twirler, who performed three excellent routines. Miss Susan Largen, a 10-year-old toe dancer, won second place. Jenni Wallace, John Doyle, Linda Pfeifauf, Cheryl Brown and Gayle Ries from Miss Lucille Campbell's fourth grade class placed third with a Spanish skit and donkey dance.

Also performing were pianist Mrs. Lucille Morgan playing "More." Four members of the Salvation Army did a tambourine routine. Junior High School teacher, Wayne Joiner, did his "Comedy in Music" routine with the piano. Mrs. Carol Goodermote's sixth grade class did a bamboo dance with poles to the "Alley Cat." A high school student, Miss Sharon Jones, sang while several sixth grade boys from Mr. Richard Jones' room played in a combo group.

KING AND QUEEN of the Sweetheart Banquet at First Baptist Church of Longwood this year were Jan Loftin and Miss Debbie Horne. Last year's king and queen, Jerry Warren and Martha Giddens, performed the coronation ceremonies.

Nativity Guild Names Speaker

Announcement that Dr. Maria Perez, Toastmistress president, will be guest speaker for Monday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Nativity Parish Women's Guild was made by Mrs. Virginia Fox, guild president, at last meeting of the board.

The meeting will take place in the social hall of Nativity Catholic Church, Lake Mary, with Mrs. Estelle Leone, Mrs. Laura Checefey, Mrs. Terry Fay and Mrs. Jo Stankiewicz as refreshment hostesses.

In other reports from the board meeting, Mrs. Mary Oyler, way and means chairman, announced the guild will have a bake sale Feb. 25 at the Winn-Dixie Store in Longwood. All members will be urged to bake for this project.

J. RICHARDS ON DUFFERS AND DIVOTS

Remember our little surprise concerning events at Mid-Florida? Well, Jim Haley tells us that things are starting to pick-up out his way with a Blind Bogey tournament to be held Saturday, Feb. 25.

After the golfing, there'll be a buffet supper and election of officers for the golfing association. Sunday, there will be a three-man team scramble tournament. The teams will be grouped according to handicap and the best lie will be used on each stroke. (The only way to golf, huh John? Use someone better than you for your lies and your boogy to find out how good golfing feels.)

Presently, the Mid-Florida staff is hard at work applying a top-dressing to the greens to straighten the grass and eliminate the rolls and bad breaks. (It's a pleasure watching all the activity out at this fine course. It's getting easier to write about golf. That's what I like, less work.)

• • • • •

Well Duffers, what say we take a look see at Deltona happenings. John Yanesh is our liason there and he reports that the ladies picked three holes to throw out of the final scoring for a men's tournament and L. R. Johnson took the top honors with a net 16. Fred Jansen was second with a net 18 and there was a three-way tie for third with a net 20—John Heutler, John Yanesh, and Duval Hunter being the lucky threes.

Next week there will be a best ball tournament for foursomes only. The play is scheduled to start Feb. 20 and run through Feb. 26. You may form your own foursome.

Remember members, Feb. 27-Mar. 4 is your opportunity on a book of tickets to the Orlando Citrus Open. The tourney to be held for Deltona Golf and Country Club members sponsored by the Mackle Brothers. (What better reward could a golfing nut ask for a chance to see the big pros in action.)

Oh, wait, I almost forgot. The Deltona Women's Golf Association held its weekly go-round Monday and Miroka Midkiff came off as the top gross winner and Verna Williams had the best low net score.

I got another sooper scooper for ya. Poor ole John—he ain't never, nohow gonna get rid of his two buddies in the sports department. Billy Vincent and I are having a field-day with this sporting character.

It seems that our hero is still walking on a green carpet 20 feet in the air. Yes, our intrepid editor almost got his hole in one. Missed it on the first bounce by five feet it seems. (Just because it was on the wrong green didn't seem to worry him too much.) (Ed Note—It was not that long. I used a liar's fish scale and it was only five inches away.)

• • • • •

NEWS FROM MAYFAIR. . . . "We miss all the pros around . . . it was wonderful having them back," stated the gal who I suspect really runs the pro shop. . . .

LONG TIME - NO SEE . . . 25 years ago, Bob Besserer and well known golfing professional Marty Furgol were in the service together. They hadn't seen one another during the interim but were teamed as "surprise" partners in the Mayfair Pro-Am last weekend.

Things are still cooling off from the big get-together at Mayfair and we are told that plans are being made to run a Calloway System tourney in which the winners will receive tickets to the Orlando Citrus Open.

By the way, John (SOS)), how bout moving the lie detector over near your desk after the Sandtrap Safari. Now I don't mean your score seems a trifle too good, but. . . .

As I was standing around out at the Mayfair Open I was suddenly struck with the question of, "Why so long?"

I seems to me that the game could be speeded up by following a few simple, common sense rules which would make for faster, more courteous play.

Always go straight to your ball and be ready to play it promptly when it is your turn to do so. I guess nothing is more irksome than to stand around on a tee, waiting for the gabbing golfers, (not me of course), to get on with their shots.

When you are using a golf cart, which was intended to speed up the play, select the clubs you feel that you will need for the hole and go to your ball, eliminating those unnecessary return trips for clubs.

If you have been delayed in making your shots, then common courtesy dictates that you should motion for your partner to play his.

Leave the green immediately when play is completed. Marking the scorecard and re-putting that last shot which would have been a birdie is just taking up time and prolonging a great game.

In general, just do whatever is designed to give you the most pleasure in your game and this will in turn give you more relaxation and relieve the anxiety of the people behind you.

Boy would Billy Vincent go crazy if he saw that bass out at Mid-Florida Country Club. Jim Haley said the pond near the clubhouse was stocked two years ago with bass and there are at least a dozen of the beauties so long any angler would be ready to hop in after 'em. Sorry, no fishing is allowed in the pond.

Now that's what I'd like to see in the water traps instead of my new hex-pensive balls which always wind up wet, six feet deep and brother is it cold going after them.

Lyman Makes OBC Semi-Finals

Powerful Lakeview Next For 'Hounds

Lyman overcame the first obstacle in its quest for the Orange Belt Conference Championship last night, outlasting the Apopka Blue Darters 34-26 in the opening round of the OBC tournament in Apopka.

Coach Murray Arnold's Greyhounds (17-5) will move into the semi-finals tonight, meeting powerful Lakeview and towering 6-11 Doug Gamble, easy winners over Wildwood yesterday.

The Hounds came from behind in the second half last night to trim the defending title holders in a slow-moving contest. Apopka, taking advantage of Lyman floor mistakes, jumped off to an early lead, with guard Mike Grady and pivot man Howard Beckert pacing the attack. The Darters held an 8-4 lead after the first quarter of play.

Lyman sliced the lead to one point, 14-13 at the intermission and went ahead on a field goal by Mike Hargis at the outset of the third period. Lenny West, who was the games leading pointmaker with 10, jumped in a two-pointer, to give the Hounds a 22-21 bulge going into the final period.

Forward Bob Hendricks put the Darters back on top, 23-22 with a field goal after the tipoff, but Lymans Chris Butterworth tied things up moments later with a free throw. Baskets by Ron Tulbert and Bob Means, plus a foul shot by Means gave Lyman a 28-23 edge with three minutes remaining.

The Hounds increased the final margin with charity shots in the final seconds and wrapped up their third win of the season over the Blue Darters.

West led the scorers with 10 markers. Hargis and Tulbert had seven apiece while Butterworth and Means each had five for Lyman.

LENNY WEST

The Lakeview Red Devils (18-6), tonights opponent, won easily 73-54 over Wildwood and Kissimmee upset Leesburg 67-43 in other first round action. Gamble, averaging 27 points per game, had 34 against the Wildcats. Jack Lindsey with 28 points (22 of them in the second half rally) paced Kissimmees win over Leesburg.

In a game beginning at 3:30 in Apopka, the Lyman Junior Varsity and the Lakeview JVs will meet to decide opponents for DeLand in Saturday nights championship game. The two teams tied for second place in the regular seasons standings. Lyman (14-7) will use a starting five of Bobby Owens and Alan Clack; forwards Tom Pinnock and Mark Dowell and center Mike Rickett.

Oviedo Plays 2 In Cage Wrap-Ups

The Oviedo Lions will be winding up their regular season play this weekend against Dunnellon and Dunedin. The Lions tackle the Dunnellon Tigers at home on Friday night and travel to Dunedin for Saturday night's tilt.

The Lions mastered Dunnellon at the start of their successful season, but considering the Tigers' great improvement over the start of their play at the beginning of the season, tonights encounter should prove to be an exciting one.

Coach Dick Prater and his quint will have their hands full on Saturday night at Dunedin, the returning Class A Champs. Dunedin recently edged-out St. Petersburg Gibbs, the number one team in the state, and are themselves rated in the top ten with a 17-5 record.

Pivotman Simon Harper will give the Lions their strength on the boards with assistance from forward Roy Johnson and guard Joe McCellan.

Defensive actson from McClain and Rex Clonts, the other guard, will give Oviedos press an added effectiveness. Phillip Walker is the remaining starter in the forward slot.

Carson Coleman's Baby Lions will see action in the preliminary games both nights after getting back into the winning column against Florida Air on Tuesday night.

SIMON HARPER

Starting for the Oviedo JVs will be Bob Tulp, Alonzo McKeever, Rex Riepe, Andy Jepson and Steve Bratton. Because of the overnight stay at Dunedin, only six players will be on the traveling squad for the JVs.

Lions Capture Crown In Intermediate Loop

The final standings for the Intermediate Basketball League show the Lions capturing the pennant with a record of 11 wins against only four losses.

Members of the championship team are Jim Henry, Kip Braden, Harley Sykes, Bill Corso, Danny Hale, Fred Halbeck, Calvin Griner, Scott Harris, John Foster and Billy Hope.

The Colts team won second place position after defeating the Rams in a play-off game when both of these teams ended their regular schedule with records of nine and 6.

In the Biddy Division, another tie developed for first place between Pinecrest Rexall and Sanford Electric, both six and one. The pennant went to Pinecrest after a play-off game.

Team members include Ricky Grant, Robert Ashby, Joe Steffans, Jimmy LeCuyer, Bart Peterson, Richard Skelton, Ken Griffith, Jimmy Smith, Tim Boggajla and David Runnels.

From Court To Tee

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Stallworth is playing basketball with the New York Knicks and when he ends his career he hopes to become a golf pro. He shoots in the low 70s.

Bill Bridges of the St. Louis Hawks is a 4 handicap golfer and his coach, Richie Guerin, shoots in the low 80s. Rookie Jack Martin of the Baltimore Bullets is a southpaw golfer, also in the 80s.

Sports News In Brief

Tops In Field

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of international stars will fight it out with some home grown products tonight in a star-laden line up at the New York Athletic Club indoor games.

No less than seven—and possibly eight—world and indoor record holders will compete in the meet, which has come out of the feud between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association with its fields virtually unharmed.

Ruffing Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles (Red) Ruffing, the newest member of baseball's Hall of Fame, advocates the automatic placing in the sport's shrine of all those who've played in the big leagues 20 or more years.

"You have to be doing something to play in the majors for 20 years," said the New York Yankee pitching great of the 1930s and 40s after being named to the Hall Thursday in a special run-off election.

The junior varsity will be paced by top scorers Kenny Hinson and Sidney Loyd. Mett Morgan, Bruce McKibbin, Stewart Cleveland and Bill Bracken make up the other possible starters.

Crisis For Vols

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tennessee, which hasn't won the Southeastern Conference basketball title since 1945, hopes to turn back invading Vanderbilt Saturday night to take command of this season's championship chase.

Palmer Leads

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Chuck Courtney went into Friday's second round of the $60,000 Tucson Open Golf tourney one stroke behind Arnold Palmer while taking putting lessons along the way.

Courtney, who finished with a five-under par 67 in the gathering darkness Thursday, says he owes his good showing to Bob Charles, tour veteran from Christchurch, New Zealand.

Lefebvre Signs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jim Lefebvre of the Los Angeles Dodgers made certain he will be well paid for whatever he does in 1967, although he is not sure where he will be doing it.

The slugging 24-year-old infielder signed a contract Thursday that will bring him an estimated $30,000 for his third season in the major leagues.

Smoky Back

CHICAGO (AP) — A pudgy figure will chug up to the plate in Comiskey Park again this baseball season while the organist plays "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" and White Sox fans chant for a pinch hit.

Catch Smoky Burgess, holder of a major league record of 137 pinch hits, was rehired Friday by the Sox who had given him his unconditional release last fall.

Cinci Set

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP)—The city of Cincinnati and the name of Paul Brown came to the forefront in unofficial discussion among American Football League club owners as they arranged up four days of meetings here Thursday.

Cincinnati appeared to have the inside track to become the league's tenth franchise. The name of the legendary former coach of the Cleveland Browns added luster to the most prominent of three solid groups in the Ohio metropolis which are bidding for the club.

Freshmen Set

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Tulane University plans to allow freshmen to compete in varsity spring sports — baseball, track, golf and tennis.

The action, announced Thursday by Athletic Director Hix Yard, is in line with a recent similar decision by the Southeastern Conference. Tulane, an independent, competes against SEC schools.

Fight Results

BALTIMORE — Sweetlherbie Lee, Washington, D.C., outpointed Dave Morine, Philadelphia, 10, welterweights.

LOS ANGELES — Matt Blow, 209, Los Angeles, knocked out Tom Pawlaski, 198, Oakland, Calif., 1.

FRAN McROBERTS

JANE McKIBBIN

McRoberts, McKibbin Cop Play

The Mayfair Golf and Country Club's Women's association held a one-half handicap even bole tournament this week with Fran McRoberts winning the A Class with a 35.

Jane McKibbin took the top honors in the B Class with a 34 and Genevieve Woodruff was first in the C Class with a 36.

Atlanta Top SOKC Choice

L. G.'s Alanta is the morning line choice to score her fourth victory of the season in tonight's featured 11th race at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

The Clager and Martin speedster has been a quiniela factor in eight of 17 starts this year against the top greyhounds at the track.

Also running in the feature will be I'm Princess, Ole Smiley, Blazing Flash, Sandover, Stella Sango, Indian Hemp and Berkley Swamper.

Tonight's 12-race program will be concluded with an event over the 7/16th mile Sanlando course. Going postward for the marathon will be Zino, Silver Vale, Elga, Sharon Jane, Hedger, Lonesome Laddie, Chuckie Browning and Whistle Awhile.

Takes Lead

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — Bert Weaver of Biloxi, Miss., played through rain and hail Thursday and took the first round lead in the Los Lagartos International Golf Tournament with a six-under par 66.

Season Finale For Seminole 5

Seminole High (17-17) will host a strong Winter Park High School cage team in the last regular game of its season tonight at the Seminole High gym at 8. The Parkers won the first meeting in an 86-64 rout.

The Sanford team's junior varsity, which has suffered a losing streak in the past few weeks, will be out to end the season on a winning note at 6:30. The JVs upended the Baby Wildcats 63-59 in their first encounter.

The Parkers are paced by their super star, Kent Gaydos, a 6-1 player who leads them in scoring and rebounding. Gaydos is considered to be Winter Parks top prospect for any post season cage awards. Gaydos picked up 26 points against the Seminoles the first time.

The job of watching Gaydos probably will go to Mike Long, who scored 22 against the Parkers, and along with Frank Whigham, who hit for 20, were the only effective scorers in the game for the Tribe.

Buddy Stumpf, Lamar Gaford and Bobby Lundquist will get the nod for the other starting roles as the Seminoles begin the last phase of their season—the preparation to defend their group championship title.

The junior varsity will be paced by top scorers Kenny Gym at Lyman High in Longwood starting at 6:30. The South Seminole Hurricanes will be out to try to regain possession of the junior high basketball title they lost to the Braves last year in both the varsity and jay vee divisions.

Coach John Kazouski, of the Sanford Braves, feels that his team, though 6-9 for the season, has a very good chance of retaining the ninth grade title. The Braves dropped both tilts to the 'Canes by close scores of 39-30 and 41-34.

Kegler Tourney Starts Tonight

The Men's Handicapped Doubles Bowling Tournament gets underway tonight at Jet Lanes with the keglers vieing for an anticipated $4,000 prize bounty, with the top two positions carrying a guarantee of $500 and $250.

Completition will continue on Saturday and Sunday of this weekend and is scheduled for the next four weeks, ending on Mar. 12.

The public is invited to watch the bowlers with new squads starting every hour-and-a-half apart during the entire tournament.

Tourney Set

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The $15,000 World Invitational Tennis Tournament will be held June 30 July 4.

The tournament is expected to draw 12 to 14 of the world's top professional tennis players. It will be held at the Oklahoma City Golf and Country Club and will be played at night.

Sanford Junior, Hurricanes Fight For County Title

Sanford Junior High and South Seminole Junior High will vie for the county cage title tonight at the Bistline

The Sanford varsity will rely on the scoring punch of eighth grader Tommy Barks and ninth grader Mike Krecek. Mike Phillips and Andy Adcock are the Braves top board men. Brian Geebis and Ricky Smith round out the possible starters.

South Seminole will counter with the high scoring and top rebounding of Rickey Browne and Bob Olson.

Tommy Whigham, Tommy Gracey, and Al Grooms star for the junior varsity, which holds an impressive 11-2 mark and is favored to win its division. Eugene and John Bertrong complete the team's starting five.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a woman in our town who works for a loan company, and she blabs all the confidential information she picks up thru her job. She tells everything she knows, and she knows plenty.

I understand that her boss has been informed of this fact but he won't fire her, because he has a "personal" interest in her, if you know what I mean. (The boss is married and so is this woman.)

How can innocent people be tipped off to what the deal is there?

HEARD TELL

DEAR HEARD: A business that keeps a "tipsy-tell" blabbermouth will not last long. Those who come within earshot of her will see to that.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Recently we moved into a very nice home, and our problem is the interference we get when we try to use our television set. Now we find out that a neighbor is a ham radio operator, and that's the reason for the interference. My son spoke to his son about it, and the kid gave him some kind of silly answer—maybe something was wrong with OUR set!

Abby, do you mean to tell me that just because some nut fools around with ham radio for a hobby, we have to hold still for this? In this country where there are so many ridiculous laws, are there none to control these useless nuts? Please advise.

RECEPTION RUINED

DEAR RUINED: Ham operators are usually very cooperative and perhaps your neighbor would be, too, if you approached him properly. I am advised by a veteran ham operator that if a neighbor complains about interference, he (the ham) will gladly provide him with a coil which filters out the interference.

DEAR ABBY: We have two daughters, Joyce who is 20 and Jessica who is 16.

Joyce is getting married in May. She insists on having her wedding in her boy friend's church because it is bigger. We live in a small town and belong to a small, but very nice little church. Her boy friend lives in a bigger town and belongs to a bigger church.

I don't feel like doing any of the planning in a church where all are strangers. Also Joyce says Jessica can't be in the wedding party because she is too young. Jessica is just as tall as Joyce, and she is heartbroken. Please reply soon and tell me what to do.

DEAR MRS. A.: Joyce needs a kindly lesson in values and humility. A wedding launched from a platform of such materialism and lack of family concerns is off to a poor start. But if at 20, your daughter must be told these things, don't be surprised if she doesn't hear.

CONFIDENTIAL TO F.H.T. IN WATERLOO: Psychiatry is NOT an atheistic concept. The greatest textbook on human behavior ever written is the Bible in which the principl of psychoanalysis was set forth.

"And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." (New Testament, John VIII: 32)

Not until one knows "the truth" about himself, complete with all the grim hostilities, insecurities, and unresolved conflicts, is he truly "free."

It is the role of the psychiatrist to remove the camouflage, self-deception, and rationalizations, and to bring the unconscious conflicts into the conscious mind where reason can deal with them. Once reason is gained, the cure begins, because the truth does makes one free.

Beauty after Forty

By Edyth Thornton McLeod

I enjoy your letters and many of you write such nice things about this column; it is most rewarding. When I asked you recently to send in your favorite "words to live by" inspired by a book about which I had written, many of you responded. I want to say "Thank you."

One reader who does work hospital work because "I just had to do something," tells me her sons are grown and married and have their own homes. Her husband makes a comfortable living but she is needed now and has her L.P.N. (Licensed Practical Nurse). Her "words to live by" are: "She will love myself and if my garden grows, one sweet spring morning, I will pick myself a rose." She writes further, "To me, self-respect is the basis of all good. I am far from perfect but as long as I keep trying, I feel worthy of that rose."

Very nice, don't you think? Do any readers know where these "words to live by" originate, and have you any of your own to send in? They may be helpful to others who have not yet found their own "words to live by."

I enjoy reading poetry. So few people seem to do this now but I find poetry-reading very soothing after the busy tensions of hectic days.

* * *

I have space for one letter, and I think you will find this of particular interest.

"Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod: Please tell me, should a mother live with her married children? I'm 'rotated' about and I hardly get set in one place when I must go on to another married son or daughter. At 60, I find this exhausting. Would it be better to live alone on meager funds? I usually baby sit for grandchildren. Please help."—Reader

Here's my answer: Live alone and enjoy your freedom!

To-morrow: "Dear Edyth Thornton McLeod"

Horoscope Forecast

SATURDAY, FEB. 18, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Much confusion is in effect concerning any sales or purchases and you would be wise to double-check whatever you say or do. Make sure you make no mistakes whatever in connection with your desire to arrange both pleasure and practical matters in the future according to your own special technique.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 Apr. 19) Put that plan into effect that bring into focus your finest objectives and do a little angling that will make it perfect. Get reports out, shop, make calls that leave you feeling more content and ease tensions.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) You may be quite in error over some matter of finances, so consider well, otherwise you will not be able to add to your abundance. Show others that you have good judgment, practical sense. Be happy tonight.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) Try to get the right perspective in worldly affairs since you may be daydreaming pretty much. Certain social affairs may seem more important than they are. Choose well and do not be very extravagant.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 23) Some secret anxiety could certainly spoil your chances to get ahead in the business world, if you permit. Forget it and be highly inspired. Be very serious and you improve your position remarkably well.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) Keep busy at any obligations that are a must right now and you can then get out for social fun with a free mind, says worry. Do not take to heart your sister Beryl (guest star Leslie Parrish) appears with art collector Peter Maas (guest star Martin Gabel), Tarzan agrees to lead them into the jungle to look for Rona. It turns out, however, that Maas is less interested in art than in the restless natives, whom he sees as a potential market for gunrunning.

8:30-9:30 p.m. (NBC) The Man From U.N.C.L.E. "The Hula Doll Affair." (Color). A falling out among Thrush beginners is highlighted tonight when the men involved, brothers Simon and Peter Sweet (guest stars Jan Murray and Pat Harrington), unwittingly play host to a hula doll containing a high explosive set to blow up New York City when the temperature hits 90 degrees. They're having a heat wave, all right, and it's a good funny episode, largely due to the efforts of Jan Murray. Patsy Kelly plays the fat-from-dear little old Mama Sweet.

9-11:45 p.m. (CBS) The CBS Friday Night Movies. "Pepe." (1960). (Color). Cantinflas, Mexico's top comedian, struggles valiantly to save this wan little effort, but it doesn't do much good. He plays Pepe, a gentle Mexican ranchhand whose horse is sold to Ted Hall (Dan Dailey), a Hollywood movie director. Nothing will do but that Pepe should take off for Hollywood, which makes the movie a showcase for miniature appearances by hundreds of guest stars, among them Maurice Chevalier, Michael Callan, Richard Conte, Bobby Darin, Sammy Davis Jr., Jimmy Durante, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Judy Garland's voice, Greer Garson, Hedda Hopper, Joey Bishop, Ernie Kovacs, Peter Lawford, Janet Leigh, Jack Lemmon, Jay North, Andrew Prine, Debbie Reynolds, Edward G. Robinson, Cesar Romero and Frank Sinatra. Oh yes, Shirley Jones plays pretty Suzie Murphy.

10-11 p.m. (ABC) The Avengers. "The Winged Avenger." (Color). Is it a plane? Is it Superman? No, it's a bird, evidently, that is swooping down and murdering selfish executives. Steed and Mrs. Peel get on the trail when publisher Simon Roberts (William Fox), his son Peter (Donald Pickering), whom he has just promoted, and a thoughtless businessman Dumayn are all clawed to death by what seems to be a giant bird. Nigel Green appears as Sir Lexius Cray, a falcon-fancying author, and Jack MacGowran as Professor Poole.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when you really need to abide by the Golden Rule and whatever lofty principles in which you profess to believe otherwise, you may find that you are nervous, snappy at others and just unable to plan or carry out arrangements of an important nature with any degree of confidence or efficiency.

ARIES: (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) —If you do not schedule your time wisely, you can get bogged down between annoying matters that have to be straightened out and activities you like. Partners are full of ennui—cheer them up. Increase harmony.

TAURUS: (Apr. 20 to May 20) —Be careful you are not extravagant in some recreational activity or other or you could jeopardize security immeasurably. Some business person at leisure could give you wonderful advice. Ask for it diplomatically.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 21) —You could get into peck of trouble because you feel frustrated, so plan your activities early, well. Be sure you do whatever improves health and appearance. Some service to others could be highly appreciated.

MOON CHILDREN: (June 22 to July 23)— Listening carefully to ideas of a clever person who is much interested in your welfare is very wise. But you have to be the one to separate mere precise facts. Go to right sources for information you need, also.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) —Don't expect pals to cooperate with you very much today, since they are pretty busy with own affairs and problems. Be courteous regardless. Carry on pretty much on your own and handle personal matters you have been delaying about.

VIRGO: (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) —Whatever is of a civic or charitable nature can be done on this free day with ease and enthusiasm. Be careful to do nothing that can place a cloud over your good reputation. This could lead into something very serious.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) —Remain steadfast to what is tried and true instead of going after the unknown right now in the middle of winter. Go to that person of wisdom and ask for advice. Don't beat around the proverbial bush.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)— Why try to wriggle out of agreements you have made with others? Show that you are a most conscientious person. Stop any arguments with a close tie by being very calm and composed. He wise as the serpent.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)— If you must criticize another, do so quietly at a more opportune time and with diplomacy. Remember that every dark situation has a light side as well. Have a brighter attitude.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)— You can eliminate some anxiety by being of real service to one who deserves it. Show ingenuity and you increase abundance appreciably. Avoid those persons who simply give you a lot of trouble.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)— Although you desire to have an extravagant time, it is better to be more simple, but wholesome pleasures for now. Try not to be forceful with one you love who happens to be in a petulant mood. Be gentle.

PISCES: (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) —Avoid getting into those troublesome matters with kin right now—tomorrow may be a better day to do so, and calmly. Some personal problem should be handled at some other time also. Be very circumspect.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those young ones who early seems to be frustrated at almost everything. You must be careful of the diet and rest, and teach to look at the world in general in a calm and unperturbed way. Corporation work, promotional, sales, etc., are fine here. There is great breadth of thought and activity if it is channelled wisely. Give spiritual training.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

MONDAY, FEB. 20, 1967

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A wonderful day and evening for a fresh start to put your ideas as well as your merchandise across to those with whom you have any sort of interest that can bring mutually advantageous results. You can also learn pretty clearly what to do about things of an emotional nature which have been bugging you.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Sitting down with a clever person within your own family in a quiet manner and extracting ideas, information, that will be helpful to you is fine. Be sure your attitude is right. Your success in the future depends largely upon that.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you become more efficient in whatever may be your job or business, you find that you make big progress right now, more than you had anticipated. Be with good firm friends or relations in P.M. Relax and have fun.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you use good, practical sense where real estate and other interests are concerned, you make big strides forward. Be sure you get OK and ideas from co-owners as well. Then you find that all works out to everybody's benefit.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 23) A day when you can accomplish almost anything you set your mind to, so make decisions early and then start working enthusiastically. You are very charming now. Many will want to be of service to you.

LEO: (July 22 to Aug. 21) Much information you need is available now since an authority is willing to release it. That one to whom you feel so romantically inclined can be in a receptive mood tonight. Plan for marriage, if single. Be happy.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Meeting good friends who can be of assistance and have been in the past will lead to very fine benefits, results. Some important call can be made who will become quite a powerful influence in your life. This will be good.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get into any activity that gives you a chance to become better known, especially since a big wig who knows exactly what is the best course to follow. Be more popular in your neighborhood. Show others you are a kind person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Strive to gain the favor of new and powerful personalities and you do much to put your finest talents to work. Good day to plan for that trip you have in mind. Make sure you handle all details wisely.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Try to devote that sixth sense you possess and you can have greater prosperity in the days ahead. Show deep devotion to one you like very much. Make every phase of your life more worthwhile.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have only to ask that clever associate and you get the exact advice you need. Get perplexities out of the way quickly. Certain situations demand that you be dealing with the public in general.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You can find just the explicit methods now to make your work more efficient, effective. Eliminate delays. Talk over with partners your specialized line jobs and all can go very nicely in the days ahead.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) An ideal day to get out to pleasures and recreations that truly appeal to you. Get an early start. Get those plans in motion that will bring you a tremendous amount of success in the days ahead.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY . . . he, or she, will be one of those fascinating young ones who comprehends the emotions of others and how they will react. For that reason he or she can accomplish a great deal in whatever is the force in this chart, which could be commodities of all kinds. The nature is a very romantic one and a most happy emotional life is in the offing. Give a good educational start.

The best play with a particular card combination may depend on how many tricks you need.

South has a wealth of material for a three no-trump contract. At least, he is looking at 20 high card points. He also is looking at cards that are likely to take only nine tricks.

Of course, if everything goes well South will make a lot more tricks. He will win the first spade, cash his ace of clubs and lead a club to dummy for a finesse of the jack.

If the finesse works, he will cash dummy's king of clubs. Then, if clubs break, he will have four club tricks. He will also have time to go after the diamond suit and, if diamonds break 3-3, he will make three diamond tricks.

Unfortunately, this line of play is not going to work. East is going to place his queen of clubs on dummy's jack and lead back a spade. Later, clubs and diamonds won't break and, assuming that East and West defend correctly South is going to make eight tricks and no more.

Opening lead—♣ Q

An alert South should be aware of this possibility and give up any play for four club tricks in order to give himself the best play for three club tricks.

The best play starts with the ♦ K of a club to dummy's king and a club back to the ace. This time the queen drops and dummy's jack of clubs is established. If the queen of clubs failed to drop, South still can play for three tricks in the suit. He simply leads a third club toward dummy. If West holds the queen of clubs, dummy's jack will be good. If East holds the queen of clubs and West follows suit, dummy will have a third club trick. The only losing case is if East started with four clubs to the queen and in that case no line of direct attack would work.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

In Reno a housewife who told police she wanted to swear out a complaint of assault and battery against her husband because he beat her also confided that she planned to stay married to him for six more years.

"I intend to make the next six years as miserable for him as the past six have been for me," she explained.

Well, that ought to be easy. Just to start with she could see that he frequently has a button missing from his shirts. Nothing starts the day off worse for a husband than putting on a shirt with a button missing.

Then she could irritate him at every meal by either overcooking or undercooking his food; serving him the same old menus over and over again without a change; ruining his digestion by using mealtime to recount all the disheartening news she knows.

She could make it a point to correct his facts when he tells a story and invariably stop his telling a joke with, "You're going to tell that one again, are you?"

She could worry him at work by frequent telephone calls asking him to do errands on his way home from work or to let him know that the washer has broken down or that she is facing some other household crisis.

She could get laughs from their friends by telling how helpless he is about fixing anything around the house or what a big baby he is when he is suffering from nothing worse than the common cold.

She could remind him sweetly, and often, of all the things other men do for their wives that he doesn't do for her and of how hard she has to work to make ends meet on what he earns.

Why, she could make him utterly miserable without even half-trying or doing anything that hasn't been done by wives who never consciously wanted to make their husbands miserable at all.

She could even make him so it will be nice and smooth again? I will be grateful for a quick solution.—CAROLINE

DEAR CAROLINE— Wind the yarn around a piece of heavy cardboard and tie together in several places. Slip hank off the cardboard and dip up and down in warm water. Let the skein drip dry and the weight of the water should remove the kinks.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—I save the plastic bags that dry cleaning comes home in as they are wonderful to peel fruits and vegetables on. Just roll up well when the job is finished and throw in the garbage can which stays clean and dry and free from odors.—MRS. D. M. H.

DEAR GIRLS—If there are small children in the house do cut such bags into pieces before storing in a drawer so there is no danger of harmful misuse by the little ones.—POLLY

DEAR POLLY—My first advice to Mrs. E. C. W. who has trouble putting sleeves in dresses without folds is to allow ease in every good pattern. The make I use gives these excellent directions: Run two rows of long machine-stitching around the top of the sleeve. Then, while pinning and basting the sleeve into the armhole, hold the sleeve toward you. The slight fullness can be eased out with the double-stitching so all is smooth.—MRS. W. M.

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—When getting ready to make buttonholes in a new garment made of unfamiliar material, practice for size and stitch on a scrap of the proper thickness. Also, make the first buttonhole at the lowest point on the garment so the nicest work will be at the top or neck which is more noticeable. If corduroy or any material that tends to be wiry or fray easily in being used, sew around the marked buttonhole a couple of times with the sewing machine. Cut the hole with a sharp razor blade, then apply clear nail polish to the edges with a toothpick. When the polish is dry, work with close stitches just below the line of machine stitches. This proves most satisfactory for me. Thank you, Polly and all the girls, for the most helpful suggestions.—ELLEN

And thank you, Ellen, on behalf of all the girls who have made this column.—POLLY

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY—I raveled two new sweaters and would like to reknit them. How can I get the kinks out of the wool

Created Command

Gen. R. H. Arnold's recommendation, in 1939, for the establishment of a unit for air defenses resulted in creation of the Air Defense Command. Today, ADC is an organization of almost 100,000 personnel stationed at over 300 locations, ranging from Thule, Greenland, to the Gulf of Mexico.

Delayed Development

Invention and use of the sewing machine was delayed by the opposition of workers who feared unemployment would result. The machines made by Barthelemy Thimonnier, a Frenchman of the 18th century, the first made for commercial use, were destroyed by a mob, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Ancient Boat

Welsh fishermen engaged in netting salmon from the swift waters of the River Teifi use a boat of ancient design. Their craft, known as a coracle, consists of a wicker frame covered with pitch-smeared calico.

Mummification

Early Egyptians not only mummified their dead but some sacred animals as well. The practice included mummification of cats, dogs, ibis bulls, falcons and owls, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Outstanding In Sports

While he was an undergraduate at Syracuse University, Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns was an outstanding football, track, lacrosse and basketball player.

IDRIS EVANS

Welsh Pianist Entertains At Freddie's

Currently appearing nightly at Freddie's Steak House on Highway 17-92 is Idris Evans, a skillful and sensitive Welsh-man, who readily admits that piano bars are a new experience to him.

Since his arrival in this country, less than a year ago, the virtuoso has emerged with finesse and versatility, never before equalled in the piano bars.

Rotund and personable, Evans can adjust his melodies to fit the mood and interest of his audience, regardless as to their requests. Although his albums are top sellers, the maestro has to be seen to be fully appreciated.

Primarily a musican, Evans has appeared in a number of films and on television, but has a secret yen for the legitimate theatre and has been involved in many productions. He hopes someday to direct a play.

The background of Evans includes studies at the University of Wales, the Royal Academy and the Guildhall School of Music and Drama in London. He has worked as accompanist with many prominent artists.

American Air Force officers, who sponsored his first trip to the United States in 1952, encouraged the artist to leave the concert stage to become a popular pianist. Since then he has toured most parts of the world, including Russia on a cultural exchange invitation.

His home in the heart of London's Russell Square, near the British Museum, seems far away indeed. However, the talented pianist loves this area and hopes to remain here long enough to get a good start on the book he has already outlined and annotated.

A fling as an author is yet another facet of this vital and part of Idris Evans, musician, exciting personality, another actor and entertainer par excellence.

BILL AILER, violinist, is currently appearing in the Gas Light Room and pianist and entertainment, Idris Evans, is starring in the Lamplighter Lounge.

SAM AND KENNY, your friendly bartenders, are on hand to mix your favorite drink to perfection.

For plush atmosphere, top entertainment and the best in prime beef, STEVE AND FRAN LARSSON, host and hostess, guarantee Freddie's is "in".

The crowds are still flocking to TROPHY LOUNGE for LEON WALKER'S fabulous "7 Seas Buffet" luncheon. The menu is changed daily and you never saw so much variety for such a moderate price. So you're a heavy eater, perhaps even a trenchman? Forget it and serve yourself to all you can hold.

Dinner is served nightly and the beverages are blended to your choice.

Let Leon cater your party, no matter how large or small. The service is deluxe and the price is right.

Friday night special at PINE CREST INN is all the fish you can eat for a very low price. Children under 12 are also given a special price.

Monday is the day for tender, crispy fried chicken at the Inn and once again, all you can eat for a reasonable charge.

The walk-up take-out window is available for the convenience of the customers in a hurry and your orders can be phone in ahead of time.

Desserts at Pine Crest Inn are real special treats and can be ordered in advance. For family dining at Sanford, Pine Crest Inn is highly recommended.

The Buger family at A & W ROOT BEER is known to all in the area. There's a burger designed for pops, mama, teen and baby.

MR. AND MRS. PLACEK want all to know that root beer is available by the gallon to go and all the true flavor of the delicious drink is sealed in the air-tight bottle.

Frothy root beer is served in tall frosted glasses and a "Baby Root Beer" is free to children under five.

Any time is the time for delicious short orders and icy soft drinks at the A& W ROOT BEER.

The KC STEAK with all the trimmings is still going strong at the FIESTA COCKTAIL LOUNGE AND RESTAURANT. Everyone who has tried the house specialty is raving over the delicious meal and comments that it can't be equalled. Try it for yourself!

A business luncheon is served daily at the Fiesta with pretty MARTHA in the cozy lounge to mix your favorite drink.

Hostess, NINA, and night bartender, JIM, cordially invite everyone to the Fiesta for the best in moderately priced food and drink.

'Team' Seeking Re-election

In a statement issued to The Herald Wednesday evening, North Orlando Councilman Granville Brown proclaimed he had been appointed spokesman to announce the candidacy of councilmen whose seats are up for election this year.

Brown spoke for Councilmen Jay Wetz, Charles Rowell and Lloyd Brown, as well as for himself.

He stated "though I joined the council late, I feel I'm part of the team. We feel we've done a good job and finances are in the black. We raised taxes but we hired a police chief, purchased a road grader and a tractor, and have a police cruiser on order.

"We wish to utilize this equipment for the protection and improvement of the village and we feel our experience will help us."

'First To Fight'

"FIRST TO FIGHT" — Story of the Marines on Guadalcanal in World War II — stars Chad Everett and opens March 3 at the Park West Theatre.

In "First To Fight," powerful new action drama which opens March 3 at the Park West Theatre, Warner Bros. has accomplished the difficult movie feat of combining an effective story of war in the South Pacific with a heart-tugging story of young love. The Technicolor-Panavision release stars Chad Everett, Marilyn Devin, Dean Jagger and Bobby Troup in the leading roles, and co-stars Claude Akins, Gene Hackman, James Best and Norman Alden. "First to Fight," which was directed by Christian Nyby for executive producer William Conrad, takes its name from a line in the famous U. S. Marine Corps hymn, "First to fight for right and freedom and to keep our honor clean."

The screenplay of "First to Fight" was written by Gene L. Coons, a Marine sergeant during both Korean War and World War II. The film tells the story of a Marine who becomes a Congressional Medal of Honor winner for heroism on Guadalcanal, then leaves active service to tour the U. S. on a war-bond selling tour. In the course of the tour he also wins a beautiful bride. He returns to duty on Saipan and now must battle himself as well as the Japanese.

The central figure of the story is portrayed by Chad Everett. The handsome six-footer was originally brought to Hollywood by Warner Bros. to appear in several television dramas. He made his film debut in "Claudelle Inglish." Later, he starred in the "Dakotas" video series and was signed by MGM for "Made in Paris," "The Singing Nun" and "Return of the Gunfighter."

Blonde Marilyn Devin is proof that dreams still come true. Three months after reaching Hollywood, the former Queens College mathematics major was able to make her film debut as the love interest in "First to Fight." A screen test won her the role.

After a self-imposed retirement, Dean Jagger returns to the screen world as a Marine commander in "First to Fight." Jagger's acting honors include an Emmy nomination and an Academy Award.

Composer-musician Bobby Troup proves he is also a fine actor in "First to Fight." He portrays a Navy lieutenant with an eye for the ladies. In one scene, Troup plays and sings his own long-time hit song, "Daddy."

'Alfie' Featured

A ribald, frank and earthy drama of life, "Alfie," starring Michael Caine, is the No. 1 feature starting Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre. It is adult entertainment.

This picture was the winner of the special Jury Award at the Cannes Film Festival.

No. 2 feature is "Assault on a Queen," starring Frank Sinatra and Virni Lisa.

A triple shocker is on the agenda for Thursday through Saturday: "The Undertaker and His Pals," "Dr. Blood's Coffin" and "Blood and Black Lace." Children under 16 not permitted because of the "horrors."

As far as Michael Caine is concerned, he is totally committed to motion pictures.

And he makes no pretense over the fact that his ambition is to become a fully established international film star.

Paramount's "Alfie" is only his second starring role.

So tremendous was the impact Caine scored in his first, "The Ipcress File," that even before "Alfie's" release, Mike had completed or was in the throes of production with such other starring vehicles as "The Wrong Box," "Gambit," "Funeral in Berlin," "Harry Sundown" and "Billion-Dollar Brain." Also in the works is a film to be made in Australia.

"I believe it takes at least five movies to make a star of anyone," he reasoned, "no matter what the billing reads. 'Alfie' is my third major picture, counting 'Zulu' in which I was not starred, but which gained me recognition.

"I've got to keep going, one after the other and the more the better. Now's the time. It just wouldn't make sense to pace myself any differently. I was forcibly paced a few years ago when all I was getting were walk-ons and I couldn't get a decent part to save my life.

"Now I'm hot, I'm getting offers for a quarter-of-a-million dollars and more for each picture, plus percentages. And I want to take advantage of everything I can while I have the opportunity.

"Give me the choice and I'd have to say I'd rather be a movie star than a great actor. It's the stars who get the great parts, not the great actors. And the money is so much better.

"Once I get some money in the bank, tax-paid, then I may start gambling again. If there's something special I'd want to do, I want to be able to afford to buy it for myself. And I'll do it, once I'm established three of production with such other starring vehicles as "The Wrong Box," "Gambit," "Funeral in Berlin," "Harry Sundown" and "Billion-Dollar Brain." Also in the works is a film to be made in Australia.

"I believe it takes at least five movies to make a star of anyone," he reasoned, "no matter what the billing reads. 'Alfie' is my third major picture, counting 'Zulu' in which I was-

"ALFIE," ribald drama of life, opens Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theater.

Status Symbols

The sun helmets worn by U.S. naval officers in the Pacific Islands became status symbols after the Americans left the area, and tribal chiefs forlade storekeepers to sell them to commoners.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the salvation of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual wisdom. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday: 1 Chronicles 16:1-29 | Monday: Psalms 28:6-9 | Tuesday: Jeremiah 1:11-18 | Wednesday: Acts 16:11-25 | Thursday: Galatians 6:6-10 | Friday: Ephesians 3:14-21 | Saturday: Philemon 8-20

Last night a miracle occurred. It happened on the night after Johnny bought a new guitar and all of us joined in a family hootenanny.

When he came to live with us over a year ago, Sam didn't even talk. Raised in a sub-standard home, he was a mighty unhappy little boy with problems galore.

He didn't like us at first—he wasn't glad to be with us. But, gradually, as the months were on, he began to trust us and believe in our love.

That night as the family sang together—Sam suddenly began to sing with us. The miracle had occurred. He was now one of the family.

You see, the Church had taught us that the love of God accepts us completely and unconditionally. We had learned that we could love and accept Sam in the same way. In becoming a part of God's family, we had discovered how to create a new family of our own.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By LARRY VERSHEL

Sunday afternoon in Sanford . . . I take my daughter to the zoo . . . Hundreds and hundreds of people there . . . License plates from New Hampshire, Colorado, Duval, Dade, Volusia, Hillsborough Counties . . . Cages in disgraceful condition . . . people kick sand in your eyes . . . What a gold mine this could be for Sanford . . . And the concession stand kicks in only $50 per month to the city . . . They probably made that much in two hours yesterday . . . City should look into that five-year lease agreement.

• • •

Earlier in the day I take in the art show . . . Over 100 paintings . . . Since I'm a loser I like the ones that didn't take home any prizes . . . Like Bill Brannon's "Calypso" or Jackie Cando's "With Hands and Heart" . . . Also junior division probably was the outstanding exhibit in the show . . . I get so tired of all the still lifes and routine landscapes . . . How come there wasn't any sculpture in the show?

• • •

The Housing and Urban Development Department says Seminole County doesn't need a workable program . . . and that is that.

• • •

There are five vital meetings scheduled for the Sanford area within the next 40 hours . . . Long Range Planning Committee of the Chamber meets tonight on Lake Jessup Causeway . . . Board of Adjustment (tonight) on Sanford's request for a sanitary landfill north of Vihlen Road . . . Tomorrow night . . . "Proud Moment" For Lake Mary

Post Office Dedicated

By FRANCES WESTER

A proud moment in the history of Lake Mary came Saturday afternoon when the new United States Post Office was dedicated with grand ceremonies and the assistance of dignitaries before a large turnout of people.

The program began with a concert by the Seminole High School Band under the direction of William A. Elmore.

Postmaster John A. Norden gave the opening remarks and Welcome. "This is a turning point for Lake Mary. Many other programs are planned to follow this achievement," he said.

The Invocation was given by Rev. J. H. East, retired Baptist minister.

Master of ceremonies, Donald G. Jackson, president of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce, recognized and introduced visiting postmasters in the audience: Margaret Ashley, Fern Park; "Buck" Brannon, Longwood; James Myers, Casselberry; Charles Perry, Maitland; Howard Warner, Orange City; Oakley Seivers, Clermont, and Mrs. P. D. (Virginia) Anderson, former Lake Mary postmaster who served 14 years.

Other distinguished guests recognized were John Alexander, County Commission chairman; Morris Ruby, principal of the Lake Mary School, and Chief Deputy John Q. Galloway, County Commissioners Bob Parker and Lawrence Swofford sent regrets they could not attend. Congressman A. Sidney Herlong Jr. also sent regrets.

Jackson expressed credit to the former Lake Mary postmaster, "Cracker" Donaldson, under whose term of office the embryo was started.

Guest speaker, Douglas Stenstrom, former State Senator, representing Herlong, brought his congratulations and greetings. "You people are to be commended, and all the people of Seminole County. You do not often in the life of a community dedicate a new Post Office," he said. "This exemplifies the new spirit in this community. I have never ceased to marvel at the enthusiasm, the eagerness and the effort put forth by the civic workers here. No wonder they are moving dirt out here west of town. Progress would not be going on here if it were not for these officials working so hard."

P. C. Manley, postal service officer, representing Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien, and C. B. Gladden, regional director at Atlanta, Ga., expressed their regrets that they could not be present. He recognized Harold Kentz in the audience, a retired postmaster from Miami now living in Lake Mary.

The flag ceremony followed with the presentation of colors by Manley, who gave the Post Office a flag that had flown over the national capitol. Boy Scout Troop 242 Color Guard raised the Colors while the band played the National Anthem. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Frank Luecker, commander of Campbell-Lossing Post 53, American Legion. Also assisting were the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion.

The benediction was given by Rev. A. F. Stevens Jr., pastor of the Community Presbyterian Church.

Past postmasters in Lake Mary and their date of appointment were William N. Webster, Feb. 26, 1897; Axel E. Sjoblom, Aug. 16, 1906; Bertie C. Martin, Oct. 31, 1906; Axel E. Sjoblom, Aug. 16, 1919; Johnathan D. Evans, Feb. 3, 1932; Mrs. Virginia M. Douglas, Dec. 31, 1933; John R. Reaves, Dec. 13, 1947; Mrs. Virginia P. Anderson, Oct. 16, 1948; Clarence D. Donaldson, Nov. 30, 1962.

Present Postmaster Norden was appointed Aug. 13, 1965. Mrs. Lillian B. Burke and Mrs. Helen A. Thorne are clerks. The lessor of the building is Dr. Fred Bolding of Daytona Beach.

Longwood Pushes 'Strong Mayor' In Charter

(First in a series of articles on how county municipalities are revising their charters for the coming legislative session.)

By DONNA ESTES

Sweeping changes to completely modernize government of the City of Longwood are contained in the rough draft of a new charter being considered by the City Council for presentation to the legislative delegation.

The city has been operating under a charter adopted in 1923 —44 years ago.

A "strong mayor" type government would replace the present "weak mayor" type government in the city under the new charter. The mayor, while being neglected by the people as mayor, would also function as a councilman, having a vote on the five-man board and acting as council chairman.

Council would elect one of its four remaining members to serve as mayor pro tem to act in the absence of the mayor.

Stiffer qualifications would be required for candidates seeking the office of mayor or councilman.

Candidates for the posts would be required not only to be residents of the city for one year, but also be freeholders. The present charter permits candidates to run for office after residing in the city for only six months and land-ownership is not required.

Filing fee of five per cent ($30) of annual compensation paid for the office is stipulated for candidates to the offices. Notification of candidacy would have to be filed no later than 30 days before an election.

The present charter calls for no qualifying fee and candidates may file for office up to 10 days before an election.

Candidates for the posts of councilmen while being elected at large would have to reside in designated districts.

Instead of plurality determining winners of elections to the board or the office of mayor, majority vote would be the deciding factor and run-off elections could be held, if necessary.

Absence from four consecutive regular meetings of the council by a member would vacate the seat of the member unless such absences were excused by the Council by resolution.

Upon the failure of a council member to vote, an affirmative vote would be required.

The proposed charter also spells out the illegality of a member of the city government doing business with the city.

"All official meetings of the council shall be open to the public," the new charter says.

Predict 'Complete Urbanization' Of Sanford-Orlando Complex

"Complete urbanization" of the area between Sanford and Orlando within "a very short period," was pictured by L. E. Rast, Jackson gas vice president and general manager for Florida of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company, Friday.

Rast made the prediction at the "telephone celebration" of link-up between Southern Bell and Winter Park Telephone Company to serve all Seminole County with one metropolitan system.

"This area is destined for tremendous growth in the years to come," Rast told public and commercial officials at a luncheon meeting at the Lookout Restaurant. "This is a delightful place to live and soon will be a huge metropolitan area."

President H. P. Hulbert, of Winter Park Telephone, said that the link-up "is a step forward in unity. We are on the threshold of the development of many projects and we soon will begin to feel the impact from many great undertakings."

Chairman W. T. Mayo, speaking for himself and his two associates on the Florida Public Service Commission, Edwin L. Mason and Jerry W. Carter, pointed out that Winter Park Telephone had spent $190,000 and Southern Bell $139,000 to bring about the connecting link between the two communications firms.

"Metro" service went into effect early Sunday, connecting all Seminole County.
