If The Victim Later Dies...

Lawmakers Look To Change Murder Charge Time Limit

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

Two area lawmakers who read about a child abuse/death case in the Sanford Herald are looking to replace existing common law which says a person cannot be charged with the death of his victim if the victim dies more than a year and a day after the injury.

State Rep. Art Grindle, R-Altamonte Springs, has asked that legislation be drafted to replace the common law tenet, and State Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, has asked the state attorney's office to examine the common law provision to determine what other states have done about it.

The issue surfaced following the death of Christopher Gettys, 26 months, on July 29 and a subsequent Herald article about the problem prosecutors will face if they file murder charges against the infant's father, James Michael Gettys, 25. The child had been in a coma 23 months, since shortly after a beating at his father's hands in August 1985. The father was convicted of child abuse in the case.

The lawmakers believe the year-and-a-day rule may be archaic in view of the life-prolonging capabilities of modern medicine.

Gettys was sentenced to five years in prison — the maximum sentence — for child abuse. When the brain-damaged child's death occurred July 29, it was almost a year beyond the reach of the common law provision. He was on life-support system the entire 23 months.

Since no Florida statute replacing the common law rule has been enacted, the common law rule has been replaced by the common law rule. See RULE, page 14A

Girl Undergoes Surgery After Doberman Bites

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

"It was mean. I'm afraid of it. I'm afraid of everything," said 8-year-old Amanda Heard today, after surgery to repair the ravages of a Doberman's bites.

Amanda, of southwest Seminole County, was severely bitten by a neighbor's dog at about 11 a.m. Thursday. She is in satisfactory condition today after undergoing surgery to repair several puncture wounds and a 3-inch by 1-inch wound in the center of her back, over her spinal column.

"It's a mean dog. It barks all the time. If you go in the back yard with it it will eat you. They are going to give it some medicine and it will die. I'm glad," Amanda said.

She was transferred from Florida Hospital-Altamonte Springs to Humana Hospital Lucerne in Orlando.

The fate of the 135-pound mixed Rotweiler-Doberman that attacked Amanda, who lives at 6100 Linneal Beach Drive, had not been decided early today, said Bob Young of Seminole County Animal Control, which has custody of the dog.

Amanda said today she is feeling better. She was in the dog's grip for "a long time. I was scared," she said.

Amanda was attacked when she went to the home of the dog's owner Nellie Rummel, 64, of 6120 Linneal Beach Drive, to ask if she could retrieve a ball accidentally thrown into Rummel's yard.

Rummel told deputies she told Amanda to stay inside the house.

Amanda had walked outside of Rummel's home. "The lady said, 'where was it?' (the ball). I was going to show her and 'Clutch,' (the dog) came after me. It was scary," Amanda said.

Rummel pulled the dog's ears until it released its grip on Amanda.

"I'm in the newspapers," said Amanda, who is set to enter second grade at Bear Lake Elementary School.

Young said that Thursday Rummel said she didn't want her dog back. It remains in quarantine awaiting a decision on its fate, he said.

Dead fish line southeast shore of Lake Jesup near Oviedo. Catfish, shad, mullet, Nile perch, bream, eel, stingray, speckled perch, bluegills and other types of fish were involved in the kill.

3 Million Fish Dead In Lake; Weather May Extend The Kill

Fluctuating oxygen levels in Lake Jesup killed an estimated three million fish Wednesday and Thursday and the toll may rise if the summer weather pattern of sunny mornings and rainy afternoons does not return.

Only about 300,000 of the dead fish were adult fish with the remainder young fish one-half inch to one inch long, said Lawson Snyder of Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission.

Snyder said algae bloom in the 10,000-acre lake and related oxygen levels is the direct cause of the kill and probably will continue if the weather pattern does not change. Sunny mornings and rainy afternoons keeps the algae level in the lake at a constant level.

He said several weeks of sunny days with little rain caused the algae population to skyrocket. Nutrients in the water from years of sewer and agricultural run-off provide food for the algae. As the algae population increases individual members are forced to lower depth because of overcrowding but as long as the sun is bright the individual members at lower levels get enough light to live and reproduce. During this period the oxygen levels in the lake are also high because oxygen is a by-product of algae photosynthesis.

However, when cloudy or rainy days follow a sunny period, the algae on the bottom die from lack of light and as the algae population drops the oxygen level drops. The depletion occurs when bacteria use up the remaining oxygen to decompose the dead algae. The shortage of oxygen then kills the fish, Snyder said.

Killed in the bloom were bluegill, shell cracker, Nile perch, stingrays, eels, shad, and brim.

Snyder said the majority of fish killed, 2,900,000, were young shad and brim, mostly under one-inch in length. He said the lake, which averages just over a yard deep, would not have had

Woman Found Dead In Car

Shot At Least Once, Police Suspect Foul Play

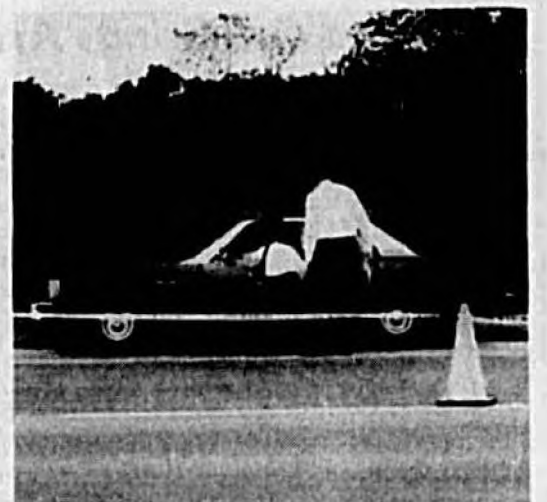

Altamonte Springs police were searching today for clues into the death of an elderly woman who was found dead in a car alongside State Road 414 at 7:20 a.m. today. She was shot at least once, and foul play is suspected, said Altamonte police spokesman Jim Viner.

The woman's body, situated on the passenger side of the car, was still in the automobile, a 1970s model Buick Skylark, at mid-morning.

Seminole County sheriff's deputy Vicki Morris checked the Skylark after the sheriff's department received a call of a woman sleeping in a car parked on the side of the highway.

Early reports from law enforcement sources said the woman died of one or more gunshot wounds. Altamonte Springs would not confirm the cause of death at press time, ruling out neither suicide nor murder.

Sheriff's Captain Roy Hughey said Morris, the first officer on the scene, said the woman was obviously dead and had been there for some time.

There was blood on her, but Morris did not see any bullet holes, Hughey said.

Malpractice Flap

Martinez To Visit Sick Child

ORANGE PARK, Fla. (UPI) — Gov. Bob Martinez today will personally reassure a chronically ill 9-year-old girl whose doctor warned he would stop treating her unless the medical malpractice insurance crisis is solved.

Press Secretary Susan Traylor said the visit with Michele Perry was added to Martinez' schedule Thursday afternoon after he learned of a letter written to him June 13 by the girl, who suffers from a birth defect.

The letter, written on stationery decorated with a drawing of a butterfly and a puppy leaning against a mushroom, said Michele has undergone major surgery 18 times, has only one leg and has had a metal rod implanted in her spine.

Michele, whose letter includes the sort of spelling errors one might expect from a 9-year-old, said she probably will undergo "many surgeries in the future."

"If you raise malpractice insurances any more, I won't be able to see my orthopedic doctor — he will stop his practice — he said so yesterday. Then I will have to leave Florida because of my medical needs," Michele wrote.

2 Men Released After Questioning In 'Near-Miss' With Reagan Chopper

SANTA ANA, Calif. (UPI) — Two men who flew a small plane within 150 feet of a Marine helicopter carrying President Reagan have been released following questioning, the Secret Service said today.

"It appears there was no criminal intent on the part of the two men," Secret Service spokesman Rich Adams said in Washington. "Both were released following questioning."

White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said the incident, close enough to be classified by the Federal Aviation Administration as a "near-miss," occurred as Marine One was about four miles southeast of Reagan's 688-acre ranch.

Adams said the two were let go without federal criminal charges being filed after undergoing several hours of interrogation.

The Secret Service did not identify the men.

The pilot of the small plane could still face charges from the Federal Aviation Administration for violating restricted airspace.

The men, flying a single-engine Piper Archer, were pursued 120 to 130 miles down the California coast from Reagan's mountaintop ranch near Santa Barbara to John Wayne Airport in Orange County, Calif., after the 3:35 p.m. PDT Thursday incident. They were taken into custody by Orange County sheriff's deputies when they landed at about 5:50 p.m.

Sheriff's deputies and Secret Service agents questioned the two men in a small office at the end of the airport's terminal, taping newspaper over the office window.

At about 1:15 a.m., Secret Service agents rushed one of the men out of the office with a brown leather jacket over his head, pushing him into the back seat of a gray sedan and refusing to respond to questions. The agents then left the terminal, but the whereabouts of the second man were not known.

The Secret Service earlier said it would have no immediate comment on its investigation of the incident.

The crew of the presidential chopper, Marine One, estimated the plane — bearing tail number N840A — buzzed the ranch at an altitude of about 100 feet and passed within 200 to 300 feet horizontally and 150 feet below the presidential helicopter, said Fitzwater.

The president's chopper landed safely a short time later.

"It (the plane) was coming real fast, real low," said Rafael Maldonado, a photographer for the Santa Barbara News-Press, who witnessed the incident.

"I thought at first it was a sheriff's plane making a sweep before the landing," he said. "I noticed it was almost simultaneous (with the arrival of the helicopter)."

'Central Florida Phenomenon'

Preserve Sand Brick, Historic Board Told

The sand brick used in many of the buildings in Sanford's downtown historic district is of historic significance and its appearance and character should not be altered, according to the state bureau of historic preservation.

Walter S. Marder, preservation architect for the bureau, laid out state and federal standards for preserving such brick in a letter to Jerry Mills, chairman of the Sanford Historic Preservation Board. Mills had inquired of Marder whether the staining of such brick should be allowed in the historic district.

The board also heard a report from

'It is one of the few local building materials developed in our state's history.'

Sanford City Planner Jay Marder (no relation to Walter Marder) on his plan for coordinating planning efforts for the entire downtown and marina areas, which he will include in the city's updated comprehensive plan.

Concerning the brick, architect Marder wrote:

"This type of brick employed in the area around Sanford is a central Florida phenomenon, only slightly known outside the small geographic area of Orange, Seminole and Volusia counties. It is one of the few local building materials developed in our state's history."

The state architect said great effort is being made to preserve such materials used in construction. Because of this type of brick's uniqueness, Marder said they fall under the U.S. Secretary of Interior's guidelines for historic preservation. The standard says in part, "The distinguishing original qualities or character of

Accident Survivors Improving

The conditions of two most seriously injured survivors of an Aug. 6 auto accident on Interstate 4, about 11 miles west of Kissimmee, have been upgraded to fair, a spokesman for the Orlando Regional Medical Center said. The early morning accident involving six area people left two men dead and four other passengers injured.

Lori Berkey, 25, Winter Springs has been listed in fair condition after she had been admitted to ORMC with multiple head injuries and fractures. She was said to be in critical condition the morning of the accident.

Alton Issac, 18, Sanford, is also listed in fair condition by the ORMC. He was originally admitted in serious condition with head and neck injuries.

Berkey and Issac are both employees of Hardy's restaurant in Sanford.

The other two survivors of the crash, Richard Armstrong, 15, and Elwell Ferrell III, 19, were both admitted to Kissimmee Memorial Hospital after the accident. Armstrong and Ferrell, who are brothers, are both from Sanford.

Ferrell was released from the hospital the day after the accident after being treated for back injuries, but Armstrong had to undergo surgery for a broken leg, arm and reported internal bleeding.

POLICE

IN BRIEF

More Than Coffee Found At Cafe, Suspect Jailed On Drug Charges

A Seminole County sheriff's deputy who confronted a man walking away from The Cafe, on Sipes Avenue at Midway Street, Midway, at about 11 a.m. Wednesday, reported the man shoved the deputy and tried to run.

The deputy had reported finding a bag containing cocaine and drug paraphernalia near where the man had walked away from The Cafe. A witness, who had been nearby reportedly told the deputy the bag belonged to the man.

While the deputy questioned two women at the scene he had the suspect sit in his patrol car. When he ordered the man out of the car the suspect reportedly shoved the deputy and tried to flee.

Earl Coley Myers, 23, of 1813 Knox Ave., Sanford, was arrested at 11:05 a.m. Wednesday on charges of battery on a policeman and possession of cocaine. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Hoe Wielder Nabbed

A man, who allegedly brandished a hoe against another Sanford man in a fight after the hoe wielder had been asked to leave the victim's home and returned to fight armed with the hoe, has been arrested by Sanford police.

When police arrived at the home of Donald Thomas, 78 Lake Monroe Terrace at about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, they saw Thomas and the suspect struggling on the ground.

The man arrested had a hoe in his right hand and Thomas was trying to keep him from getting up, police said.

Police broke up the fight and determined Thomas left arm had been cut with the hoe and his right arm had been bitten. He was transported to the Central Florida Regional Hospital emergency room in Sanford.

Lorenzo Brundidge, 25, of 61 Castle Brewer court, Sanford, has been charged with aggravated battery and trespassing after a warning. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

Second Call Brings Arrest

Seminole County sheriff's deputies called for a second time Thursday to a home at 540 Dew Drop Cove, Casselberry, reported arresting a man on charges of spouse abuse-battery and disorderly conduct on the return visit at about 1:13 a.m.

James E. Dominguez, 30, is accused of hitting and kicking his wife as deputies were assisting her as she was leaving her home. He was arrested was being held in lieu of $500 bond.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

At least 16 cars were burglarized in Howell Estates, Winter Park, between 9:30 p.m. Tuesday and 7:50 a.m. Wednesday, a sheriff's report said. A handgun valued at about $100 was stolen from one car. Items of minor value or nothing were stolen from other vehicles.

A briefcase valued at $250 was stolen from the car of Marlin G. Nielson, 44, of 279 Sorrento Circle, Winter Park, Tuesday or Wednesday, a sheriff's report said.

Sherry Morton, 35, of 2808 Charmont Drive, Apopka, reported to sheriff's deputies that her husband left their dog outside for about 10 minutes Tuesday and when he returned for the 12-year-old, white, female Maltese, it was gone and a car was speeding away from the area. The dog is valued at $400.

Sanford Burglaries, Thefts

A roast and some broccoli were stolen from a refrigerator in the Marcelle Smith home, 1417 Oak Ave., between 6 p.m. and 9:15 p.m. Wednesday. The thief entered the house by cutting a screen and breaking the glass in the back door.

A wallet was taken from a purse owned by Edith H. McDaniel, 310 E. 18th St. The purse was left in her car about 6 p.m. Wednesday while the car was parked at 525 Plumosa Drive.

A Smith & Wesson .32 caliber revolver was stolen from the Robert C. West home, 618 E. Second St., between 6:40 p.m. and 10:10 p.m. Wednesday. A window was broken to enter the residence.

Man Arrested In Traffic Death

An Orlando man is scheduled to appear in court Aug. 31 on a Seminole County vehicular homicide charge in connection with an April 17 traffic accident that killed a Winter Springs man.

about noon on State Road 419, east of U.S. Highway 17-92. Methany's 1985 Toyota passed a cement truck and collided with a station wagon driven in the opposite direction by Manfredi.

Manfredi was transported to South Seminole Community Hospital in Longwood, where he died about 90 minutes after the accident. His wife, Margaret, 60, who was traveling with him, was treated for injuries to her knees and ribs.

Manfredi's car was dragged 38 feet after impact with Methany's vehicle. Troopers reported that Methany, who is diabetic, may have had an insulin reaction which caused him to stay in the wrong lane too long after having passed the truck.

Methany was released on $1,000 bond after being booked into the jail. —Susan Loden

Judge Denies Video Shop Plea

A judge refused a request to prevent State Attorney Norman Wolfinger from filing charges against a Longwood adult video shop that Wolfinger said he hadn't planned on prosecuting anyway.

The twisted issue involves whether The Erotic Emporium is selling and renting obscene video tapes. Adult tapes are not illegal, but obscene ones are.

The shop went to court to prevent Wolfinger from filing charges against it after he gave it a list of films that have been judged obscene in Brevard County, which is also in his jurisdiction.

Wolfinger, however, told the Sanford Herald last week before the Erotic Emporium filed suit that he had no plans to crack down on such shops in Seminole County as he was in Brevard County because the type of shops were different. He said he gave the list of judge-obscene films to the shop's representative because they asked him for a legal opinion on what is obscene.

The shop said it took the listed films off its shelves but believes it has a constitutional right to sell them. It also maintained in the suit that it did not want Wolfinger to press charges against it for having films that have not locally been judged obscene.

Circuit Judge Kenneth Leffler Wednesday refused the shop's request. Its owners plan to appeal. Wolfinger said he gave the list to the shop because he cannot legally assert what is or is not obscene. He said, however, he could tell them what has been judged obscene elsewhere in the judicial circuit and let the shop owners make their own decision as to what to do.

The shops and owners Wolfinger prosecuted in Brevard County also sold sex paraphernalia and had private viewing booths. Wolfinger said he was unaware of such shops in Seminole County and had not received any complaints about video shops in this county.

WINS Subcommittee Chairmen Named

By Brad Church
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford's WINS Steering Committee for the proposed west side improvement program organized itself into subcommittees Tuesday night and made plans for an informational meeting and opening an office in the target area.

The group decided that its informational meeting will be held about two weeks after consultants present a revised proposal for the improvement project.

Florida Center Consultants, based in Tampa, presented two alternate plans for revitalizing the area bounded by French Avenue, W. 13th Street, Olive Avenue and W. Seventh Street on July 31. After considering the plans, the steering committee asked for a revision of one of the alternatives. The revised plan is expected to be complete some time in September.

The plans call for a combination of public and private funds to be used for low-interest loans to renovate substandard homes in the area, demolish dilapidated homes, and to build new housing.

Tuesday night the steering committee agreed that, besides having a meeting to inform residents of the target area of the plans, an office would be opened in the area, and a telephone installed. Office personnel would be available, on a part-time basis, to answer questions about the plan and to publicize developments in the program.

America Geuka, special projects coordinator for Cardinal Industries and committee chairman, also appointed five subcommittees to carry out various tasks. They are: information dissemination, business, finance, neighborhood association, and land use.

Thelma Mike, secretary for the Good Samaritan Home, was appointed to head the information committee, which will be in charge of finding an office site and organizing informational meetings.

Willie King, 141 Bethune Circle, was named to head the business committee, whose charge will be to coordinate the development plan, which is concerned primarily with housing and with the improvement of business districts in the target area.

James Barks, Sanford attorney, will head the finance committee, which will investigate possibilities for financing the project, which is estimated to cost between $12.8 million and $23 million.

Phyllis Richardson, social services director for the Sanford Housing Authority, was appointed chairman of a committee to organize a Goldsboro Neighborhood Association.

which is intended to build support for and interest in the program among area residents.

Rev. Amos Jones, pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church, will head the land use committee, whose task will be to decide issues involving possible city condemnation of land for new housing construction, and issues relating to the number and placement of multiple housing units.

Geuka also appointed Beth Bridges, 100 Mayfair Court, to the steering committee. Bridges attended Tuesday night's meeting in place of member Gail Smith, 2509 Park Drive, who was out of town.

Since only one of the committee members is a resident of the target area, and many are not familiar with it, a tour of the area was planned for the afternoon of Aug. 21. Rich Woods, Sanford community development officer, was charged with arranging vehicles for the tour.

Longwood Pares Proposed City Budget Before Passage

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Longwood City Commission made some department cuts in the proposed revised city budget for the 1987-88 fiscal year and approved by consensus the general fund budget of $4,545,691. The money saved goes to increase the contingency fund.

The tax rate set at $3.15 per $1,000 assessed property valuation (up 25 cents from last year's $2.90 rate) still stands.

The commission went over the revised budget at a budget worksession Tuesday night and set another worksession on the proposed budget for Sept. 3 at 7 p.m. in city hall to complete it prior to the Sept. 14 public hearing. The final public hearing and adoption of the budget will be on Sept. 28.

Substantial increases in the budgets for police and fire departments remained intact, but the finance department had $20,595 cut from its budget. The police budget is more than $1.4 million and the fire budget is $999,243. Included in the amount cut from finance was a 4.9 percent merit pay of $1.619 budgeted for Finance Director Barry Weeks. The total budget for finance is now $77,578.

City Commissioner Harvey Smerlison said, "I don't remember approving a salary increase and merit pay for the finance director." He complained that figures in the proposed finance budget didn't add up. "The finance department can't balance its own budget," he said.

Mayor Ed Myers asked, "Does that surprise you?"

Smerlison responded, "Not me."

Smerlison also said the accounting clerk and administrative secretary positions requested by Weeks for the finance department had not been approved.

The beginning salary proposed for an executive secretary for City Administrator Ron Waller also came under fire and was reduced from $19,500 to $14,500.

The budget includes $1,006,572 for the street department; $46,141, city commission; $155,490 for the city clerk's office; $37,416, personnel; $30,680, purchasing; $186,667, general services; $91,183, city attorney's office; $35,574, Land Planning Agency; $3,000, city elections; $32,834, codes enforcement; $173,211, building, planning and zoning; $172,811, parks and recreation; $91,323, and city administrator's office.

Presenting the latest up-to-the-minute revenue estimates, Waller had good news and bad news.

The good news is the cable television franchise revenues area expected to be up by $3,500 next year and local revenues are up.

The bad news is state revenues are down. Revenue projections from water fees for the coming year were reduced from $846,242 to $745,000 and anticipated connection charge revenues were reduced from $100,000 to $88,000. The estimated carry over of $130,288 in the water-sewer fund is being cut by $31,000.

The commission cut $1,200 for the purchase of an electronic meter reader from the water budget.

Red Bug Widening Start Set

Work is about to start on four-laning the first one-mile section of Red Bug Road — Seminole County's busiest two lane highway.

Jerry McCollum, county engineer, said this week he expects construction of the section from State Road 436 to Autumn Glenn to begin within 30 to 45 days. Putting in the two additional lanes will take about 16 months and cost about $2.2 million, he said.

The timetable for starting the four-laning of the rest of Red Bug Road south to near Oviedo depends on the amount of transportation impact fees collected from new development, according to McCollum, who said, however, that design work for the section from Autumn Glenn to Tuscawilla Road is under way.

The plan, he said, is to keep the present two lanes open while building the new ones. Once the new lanes are built, the other two can be torn up and rebuilt to conform with the project, said the county engineer.

Traffic problems during the construction are inevitable, he said, noting the road carries 25,000 cars a day. "Most of our four-lane roads don't have that amount of traffic. Red Bug is the most used two-lane road in the county."

He added there may be periods in which only one lane will be open.

Unsuspected Possibilities

In 1913, British mathematician G.H. Hardy received a strange scribbled letter from a shipping clerk in southern India listing 60 mathematical formulas, each intriguing and none with a proof or other explanation of how it was arrived at.

It was an appropriately bizarre introduction to Srinivasa Ramanujan. "A simple look," Hardy later said, was "enough to show that they could only be written down by a mathematician of the highest class. They must be true, because if they were not true, no one would have had the imagination to invent them."

Hardy brought Ramanujan to Cambridge. It was the 27-year-old clerk's first exposure to professional mathematicians, in fact to math books. At home, he had worked — and worked obsessively; his wife later said she used to feed him so that he wouldn't have to stop writing while he ate — under the guidance of nothing but his own genius.

The results were odd, so odd that much of Ramanujan's work fit into no known context at the time and hasn't been understood until recently. But the work was spectacular. There is hardly a mathematical field, another Cambridge mathematician said at the time, "in which he has not revealed unsuspected possibilities. The beauty and singularity of his results is entirely uncanny."

Tragically, after only a few years in Cambridge, Ramanujan became mysteriously sick and returned to India, where he wrote feverishly for a year — filling a trunk with hundreds of unlabeled pages of results, no proofs, reverting to the methods of his youth — until he died at the age of 32.

That legacy is only now beginning to be fully explored. For it's only now becoming clear — in fields of physics and information theory that didn't even exist in Ramanujan's day — what problems his theorems can help solve.

At a conference held recently on the 100th anniversary of Ramanujan's birth, researchers seemed to be celebrating both that incredible relevance and their own continuing perplexity at the working of Ramanujan's mind. Was his genius thwarted, as Hardy thought, by lack of education; or was Ramanujan's thinking freed by his very isolation from the conventions of his times? His work "would have been greater," Hardy said, "if it was less strange." But scientists who have long since outgrown Hardy's own practical contributions are now amazed at the insights to be gleaned from Ramanujan's pursuit of pure mathematical beauty.

Will there ever be another like him? "We're always hoping," says Princeton physicist Freeman Dyson. "That's one reason why I always read letters that come in from obscure places and are written in an illegible scrawl."

Research Needed

Farmers and ranchers aren't the only people who have been affected by the financial problems in agriculture. Sources of money for agriculture research have dried up, affecting researchers at universities and agribusinesses. That's unfortunate, because more research — not less — could help improve the agricultural economy by uncovering new uses for farm products.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says the push to discover additional uses for crops — and to make those already available more practical — is already being hampered by the lack of research dollars.

One way to improve the situation would be to create a federal institute that would provide grants to private industry and universities to conduct research on new uses for farm products. Nebraska Rep. Virginia Smith has introduced a bill that would make $2.5 million available annually in federal research funds.

Critics of the bill say it would add to the already large amount of federal money spent on agriculture. Finding new ways to use farm products, however, could strengthen agriculture and make it more able to survive without government support.

Central American Accord Shows Promise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has been preoccupied with Central America since he took office. Some might say obsessed when it comes to Nicaragua and its Marxist-led regime.

Early on he threw down the gauntlet determined to resist the establishment of another Cuba in the Western Hemisphere.

He sent task forces to the region, and ordered permanent maneuvers of U.S. troops in Honduras, a constant rotating force of some 3,000 men, some taken from the reserves and state National Guards.

All of these moves were to put the Sandinista government on warning. Under the direction and training of the CIA, the resistance movement, or Contras, was formed with its own avowed purpose to overthrow the government in Managua.

The Contras are made up of the disenchanted who suffered the systematic suppression of rights and liberties in Nicaragua and fled, feeling their revolution had been betrayed. The others in the guerrillas forces are former members of the ousted Somoza regime.

The money has come mainly from the United States government, along with donations from wealthy contributors and foreign countries urged to contribute by U.S. officials and private groups.

The publicly stated purposes of the U.S. drive in Central America have changed as time went on. At first the U.S. sole desire was to stop Nicaragua from exporting its revolution as well as weapons to leftist rebels in neighboring countries.

Later on, the goal was to force the government of Daniel Ortega to change its authoritarian ways and to move toward democracy. Reagan wanted the entrenched Ortega to "cry uncle" and to give up his ruling power.

Neighboring countries drew up plans for a negotiated peace, all of them rejected by Reagan and the Sandinistas.

No American official has said publicly that the policy is aimed at overthrowing the Sandinista government, although that is well understood. Why else all the military pressure.

Because of a lack of public support and the Vietnam syndrome Reagan found Americans were not prepared to get involved. Congress voted military aid to the Contras under Reagan's relentless lobbying, then cut it off after the CIA mined Nicaragua's harbor, and then approved more financing.

In the interim, Reagan's national security staff was very busy making end runs around the congressional prohibition against aid, and using various subterfuges to keep the Contras going. The result is well known — a major equation of the scandal that engulfed the presidency.

Now there are two Central American peace plans — one drawn up by the Central American nations and accepted by Nicaragua; the other a U.S. bipartisan initiative by the president and Speaker Jim Wright.

The American plan is much more specific in outlining terms to move toward peace and democracy following a ceasefire. The Central American plan calls for a ceasefire in 90 days and democratization is more flexible and lenient to the Sandinista regime.

But there is always hope that the violence will come to an end and that the Central American neighbors will keep the pressure on Nicaragua to live up to its commitment.

Salute A Fallen Comrade

When I was an undergraduate at Princeton in 1941, I was required to read a book called "The Managerial Revolution" by James Burnham. Burnham had noticed that corporations were no longer being run by their owners, but rather by a brand-new group he called the "managers." He further noticed that these managers closely resembled the technocrats who were increasingly running things in the Soviet Union, and concluded that we might be witnessing the birth of a new class, in the strict Marxist sense, which would seize power from both the capitalist owners and the Marxist ideologues.

In later years, after Burnham had helped Bill Buckley found National Review in 1955 and I had become its publisher in 1957, I had the privilege of meeting Jim and getting to know him well. By then the focus of his attention had shifted from the managerial "class" to the Cold War and the worldwide advance of communism, but the basic cast of his mind remained unchanged: He was the supreme realist, coldly analytical, implacably logical, proudly unsentimental. In his youth he had toyed at some length with Trotskyism; at National Review he concentrated unrelentingly on the menace he now believed communism represented. But throughout his life the central question of politics remained, for him, "Who shall be master in the house?"

Like all points of view, of course, this one has its limitations. At National Review, it precipitated many an intramural quarrel between Burnham and our house metaphysician, the late Frank Meyer, whose column in the magazine was entitled "Principles and Heresies," liked to discuss such matters as whether political freedom is a moral necessity. Burnham, whose column was long called "The Third World War" and later "The Protracted Conflict," was much more likely to want to know what the noted Kurd leader Khalid Bagdash was doing in Damascus last week.

But on the basics — above all, on the need to stop communism — Jim Burnham was a rock. President Reagan generously recognized this when, in 1983, he conferred on him our nation's highest civilian award, the Medal of Freedom. By then Jim had retired from National Review, felled by a stroke in 1978. But he soldiered on, largely silent now but sustained by his family and friends, until his death from cancer on July 28, at the age of 81.

Illegal Sales To Soviets Discovered In '84

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The U.S. intelligence community took far too long to discover the illegal sale of submarine propeller-making machinery to the Soviets by C. Itoh and Toshiba — especially since major clues on such diversions from Japan were available as early as 1984.

We can say this with some authority because we were reporting that year on the Soviets' legal and illegal acquisition of high technology from Japan. Dale Van Atta flew to Tokyo to investigate the situation, while our associate Michael Binstein developed Washington sources.

The result was columns in April and May 1984 that offered solid evidence that "the KGB has found Japan a rich source of high-technology products that can be turned to military advantage by the Kremlin."

We reported that the CIA had uncovered "about three dozen doc-

DICK WEST

Middle Roaders Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the many current candidates for president has described himself as a "raging moderate."

Maybe that's what we need in the White House after all this time — a militant middle-of-the-roader.

Among the ingredients missing from the executive branch — and by extension from the government at large — for too many years has been aggressive temperance.

We voters want chief executives to base their policies on the median strip between two extremes. But all too often we have elected right-wing or left-wing activists.

In other words, we inaugurate someone who insists on traveling one way while most of the rest of us are headed in the opposite direction.

What we desire is a president who will contentiously cling to the broad middle ground, veering to neither side during his terms — someone who is willing to fight for mediocrity.

President Reagan appears doomed to be remembered in history as "the great communicator." Wouldn't a president rather be known as a "great compromiser?"

We pride ourselves on being average, don't we? Isn't the middle class in America always spoken of with an upbeat adjective? Yet, it has been years since any public official, particularly a president, has taken a firm stand on behalf of ordinariness.

The last president to say a good word for normality, or normalcy, was, I believe, Warren Harding, and we all know what happened to him.

I blame the lack of modern belligerent moderation on our educational system.

All too often, there is no praise in the classroom for students who maintain a commendable "C" average. There is either the honor roll or dropouts.

In college commencement exercises, the emphasis has been on cum laude graduates, with scant attention paid to the majority who graduate mala fide, or with bad faith.

And the same has been true in life.

In literature, for instance, we have demanded that our authors produce a magnum opus, with no room on the best-seller lists for a sans verborum, in which they profess "enough of words."

In 1988, we don't wish to have to make a choice at the ballot box between a ball of fire, nominated by one party, and a whizbang, on the other hand. Let us also have candidates in the race who are run of the mill.

SCIENCE WORLD

Radon Build Up Risky

By Larry Doyle
UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) — Radon is an invisible and odorless radioactive gas that can build up in homes and may be responsible for thousands of cancer deaths in the United States every year.

But beyond that, the facts are not clear, the American Medical Association concluded recently.

Despite its current high profile as the carcinogen of the moment, much more research is needed to determine exactly what levels of radon gas are dangerous, how dangerous they are, and what is the best way to reduce or eliminate that danger, the AMA's Council on Scientific Affairs reported to its members.

"Nevertheless," the council said, "it is clear that exposure to radon and its decay products represents a risk of substantial magnitude, which can be reduced by reducing the exposures."

Earlier this month, a U.S. Environmental Protection Agency survey revealed high levels of radon gas in many of 11,600 homes tested in 10 states. More than a fifth of the homes tested had what the EPA deemed dangerously high levels of radon, with the average level highest in Colorado and lowest in Alabama.

The EPA also estimated that the radon, caused by the natural decaying of uranium underground, may be causing 5,000 to 20,000 lung cancer deaths per year in the United States.

But the "may" in that estimate is crucial, the AMA said, and the accuracy of it is uncertain.

"There is a serious question is what can you really say about the health risks and how specific you can get," said William Hendee, who helped draft the AMA report.

"We can make projections based on other models of radiation injuries at low exposures," he said. "But it's not certain that radon follows that model at all."

Hendee also said there is a public misunderstanding about what the EPA means when it says certain levels of radon are too high. Radon is measured in "picocuries per liter of air," a commonly used measure of radioactivity, with the EPA determining an "action level" at four picocuries.

"People look at that and they tend to think if their home is over four picocuries, they better do something and fast," Hendee said. "But what you really have is a cost-benefit analysis, because in an absolute sense, the cost of the intervention may not be worth the risk."

All risk is relative. For example, the AMA report points out the lung cancer risk from radon in the average home over a year's time is roughly equivalent to smoking 1 1/2 cigarettes.

"It would make no sense in the average home to try to reduce radon exposure to zero, but in others it might be advisable and practical to do something," Hendee said.

However, Hendee warned, people should be careful who they hire to determine their radon risks, because "there are a lot of opportunists out there." He suggests homeowners only use firms who have been certified by the EPA to do such testing, or to call the local EPA office if they cannot find one.

Most interventions to rid a home of radon are of two basic types: those which try to keep radon from getting in and those which try to flush it out once it gets there.

umented cases of high-tech diversion by the Soviets through Japan since 1968." More than half of these, we noted, had been approved by the Japanese government, which "put short-term profits ahead of the West's long-term security needs."

We even pinpointed the areas of Soviet interest, reporting that "the KGB has gone after micro-electronic equipment, machine tools, computers, telecommunications, automation devices and specialty steel." The Itoh/Toshiba sale was in the machine-tool category, and enabled the Soviets to develop quieter submarines that are much more difficult to detect.

Even if the CIA brass wasn't reading our columns, they might at least have paid some heed to a highly sensitive report completed in 1984 by their own analysts. Still classified "Secret," the report not only described the kind of tricks that Itoh and Toshiba later used to disguise their illegal sale, but actually identified Itoh as one of five Japanese companies to watch for illegal trade with the Soviets. The others were Mitsubishi, Mitsui, Marubeni and a small trading company, Tairiku.

"If there is a truth in illegal trade it is that no two cases involving illegal shipments of goods to proscribed destinations are ever the same," the secret report stated. "But it cited as a 'typical example' the following scenario:

"First the Soviets, through a foreign trade organization, would indicate to one of the 'friendly' Japanese companies that it is interested in obtaining a certain piece of ... restricted technology.

"The friendly company ... contacts a local wholesaler who would place an order with a major trading firm to import the equipment that contains the restricted technology from the United States. ... The wholesaler arranges to resell the item to either the friendly company or to a 'cutout' firm.

"Ultimately, the friendly firm takes possession of the article and extracts the restricted portion of the equipment. The extracted portion is then installed inside a low-grade piece of machinery that is sent to an exporter for shipment to the Soviets.

"The exporter and wholesaler are often unwitting of the illegal nature of the transaction, and the cursory check by Japanese customs officials is not sufficient to determine the exact nature of the machinery's internal components."

In the Itoh/Toshiba case, this scenario was followed almost exactly. The Soviet foreign trade organization, Tekmashimport, contacted a "friendly" Japanese company, Wako Koeki, which then found a company that would supply the desired technology (in this case made in Japan). The company was Toshiba Machinery, a subsidiary of Toshiba Corp.

Toshiba Machinery then asked its regular export broker, Itoh, to be the "cutout" firm that actually handled the sale.

Lincoln, Churchill Papers Found Charges Filed Against Author

BOSTON (UPI) — An author who was arrested at a local bookstore as he attempted to sell three memos by Abraham Lincoln that were apparently taken from the National Archives has been charged with transporting stolen property.

Charles Merrill Mount, 59, of Washington, D.C., was charged in federal court Thursday with transporting the Lincoln memos and other stolen documents across state lines. Court documents allege he previously sold documents that had been taken from the Library of Congress.

When arrested at Goodspeed's bookstore in Boston, Mount was carrying three notes written by President Lincoln at the height of the Civil War as well as about 50 other historical documents valued at an estimated $300,000, FBI agents said.

Among the other documents were a letter penned by Winston Churchill in 1914 and documents signed by Gens. Ulysses S. Grant and Abner Doubleday.

Tax Reform Means More Forms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — People who get home equity loans, use tax shelters or put money into Individual Retirement Accounts must fill out new Internal Revenue Service forms, which will take an extra 20 minutes to an hour and a half at tax time.

The IRS also unveiled Thursday its revamped form for business deductions to make it more readable and touched up the 1040, 1040A and 1040EZ tax returns to cover some minor changes for people who claim the standard deduction.

All the changes were prompted by last year's tax reforms, and most will be included in the tax packages the IRS will mail to an estimated 90 million taxpayers in December.

An IRS spokeswoman said the agency estimates the easiest of the three new forms will take an average of 20 minutes to complete, while the longest will require nearly an hour and a half.

Defections Leave NASA Hurting

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The space agency is struggling to cope with a slow but steady erosion of key flight skills as "frustrated" shuttle controllers and engineers leave the program at a time when work to launch the first post-Challenger flight next June is reaching "monumental" proportions, a top NASA manager says.

"People do the best they can to fix the flight hardware, but once it is fixed and once it has launched, it then becomes a people problem," Eugene Kranz, director of flight operations at the Johnson Space Center, said Thursday.

"We had basically five full-blown teams, five super-qualified flight directors," Kranz said. "We have lost flight directors, we have lost many of our lead controllers, we have been at an extremely low level of training just due to the basic funding process. We have lost proficiency."

"An operator likes to fly, he likes to work, he likes to match his wits with the flight environment," Kranz said.

Eatonville Celebrates Centennial With Festivities

Eatonville, the nation's oldest black incorporated municipality, will celebrate its centennial with special events today through Tuesday. Beginning with a centennial reception at 7:30 p.m. today, the celebration will include a parade with more than 150 units will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, a Living Legends Awards dinner with U.S. Rep. William Gray as speaker Saturday at 7 p.m., a Hungerford School Reunion banquet at 7 p.m., Sunday; historical display in the community center, Monday, 10-7; Centennial Street Festival, Tuesday, 10-10 and Ramsey Lewis Concert, Tuesday, 8 p.m. Eatonville is located south of Maitland in north Orange County.

Employee Drug Use Is Topic

The impact of drug use upon productivity among public employees and costs to taxpayers is the theme of an Aug. 28 conference sponsored by the University of Central Florida Institute of Government. Seven representatives from area municipalities and agencies will discuss programs to curb drug use and legal aspects of testing of employees and possible reactions from labor organizations and the public. There will be group sessions with question and answer sessions. The $35 registration includes materials. Advance registration is required. For information, contact W.E. "Petie" Knowles at 275-2123.

School Board Plans Citizenship Celebration

By Richard Whittaker
Herald Staff Writer

The Seminole County School Board voted unanimously this week to declare Sept. 16 "Celebration of Citizenship" day in honor of the bicentennial of the United States Constitution. The board acted on the resolution during its 2 p.m. meeting Wednesday.

The resolution states the nation's educators have traditionally been responsible for teaching the meaning, rights and privileges of the Constitution. It will reflect the support the board for the country's commitment to universal freedom and self-government.

The resolution will be presented to the board by Jim Elliott, Coordinator of social studies for Seminole County Schools.

The national celebration of the Constitution is a five year program beginning this year to last through 1991. The resolution by the school board will coincide with the declaration by the Commission on the Centennial of the U.S. Constitution to use the September date for commemorating the adoption of the document and the Bill of Rights.

Calling for the school board to establish a system of patriotic education in their comprehensive plan as a priority, the resolution is intended to help promote an understanding of the development of the constitution among students. Supporting the goals of civic competence and responsibility are also aims of the resolution.

A Sept. 16 national broadcast on radio and television is scheduled to feature President Reagan leading students all over America in the pledge of allegiance. The broadcast is scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. EDT.

Former Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren Burger will read and explain the preamble to the Constitution during the broadcast, which will be seen by students all over the nation.

Elliott said the plans by the school district to honor the Constitution and the Bill of Rights over the next five years include more than just a celebration.

"We're going to actually root patriotic education into the school curriculum," Elliott said. He said there would be many activities over the five year period that would involve Seminole County students in learning more about the Constitution, Bill of Rights and their heritage.

Attorney Gets 2nd Chance In Contempt Of Court Case

An Orlando attorney put on probation by the Florida bar will have a second chance to show why he should not be held in contempt of court in Seminole County for reportedly failing to keep court dates.

Ed Leinster told Circuit Judge O.H. Eaton Jr. Thursday that he did not show up for two scheduled hearings July 20 because his secretary apparently made a mistake. Leinster, however, did apologize to Eaton for not showing up for a felony trial July 2. Leinster said he was not aware he was the attorney of record in that case, although court documents signed by Leinster show that he apparently was the attorney of record.

Leinster said July 2 he had to attend trial in Orange County and that Judge Eaton's office had been informed of the conflict. Testimony, however, from Eaton's staff indicated they determined that the case Leinster was to be involved in ended the previous day with a jury decision and Leinster apparently was not in court that day.

In the July 20 instances, Leinster said he believed his secretary had told Eaton's office that he (Leinster) could not be there. Again, testimony by Eaton's staff indicated they did not remember nor have any record of being told Leinster could not make the appointments.

Eaton continued the contempt of court hearing to Sept. 18. Leinster's secretary is expected to testify at that time.

Leinster's law practice is on a probationary status until January 1989, a Florida Bar spokesman said. That probation stems from a possession of cocaine case in Orange County in September 1984, records show.

Whether a contempt of court adjudication would influence the bar's probationary status would have to be determined, the spokesman said.

Court ordered probation involving the cocaine possession case ended for Leinster March 25, court records show.

Multi-Purpose Sportsman's License Scheduled For Sales In September

Florida residents will be able to buy a single license to fish and hunt for a variety of game with a variety of weapons at considerable savings beginning next month.

The Florida Resident Sportsman's License, approved by the Legislature this spring, will cost $40.

It will be sold by the Florida Game and Freshwater Fish Commission through county tax collectors and subagents, such as sporting goods stores and tackle shops. The tax collectors and subagents will collect an additional small fee.

The Seminole County Tax Collector's office has not been notified of exactly when the licenses will go on sale, only that it will be sometime in September. An employee in the office said all private businesses that now sell hunting or fishing licenses will also sell the new Resident Sportsman's License.

The permit will not take the place of state trapping, resident commercial fishing and retail fish dealer licenses or federal duck stamps. But virtually every other outdoor activity will be covered, officials said.

Andrena Greve, revenue manager for the commission, said hunting and fishing licenses and muzzleloading gun, archery, turkey and state waterfowl stamps would cost a total of $52 if purchased separately from a subagent.

But a Resident Sportsman's License would cost only $41.50, including the subagent fee, and would cover all the activities.

Individual stamps will still be available.

Florida sells a combination hunting and fishing license to residents for $17. Sold separately, hunting licenses cost $11 and fishing license cost $7 per year, not including agents fees.

Beathard, 'Noles Are Ready To Roll

By Scott Sander
Herald Sports Writer

After a week's vacation in hometown Cincinnati, first-year Seminole High School football coach Roger Beathard is more than ready for the 1987 campaign to get underway.

"I can't tell how anxious I am for Saturday to come," Beathard, whose team along with all of the other Seminole County teams except Lake Howell, will begin practice Saturday, said. Howell opens Monday.

"The kids are ready, and the coaches are ready," Beathard said. "We have got a lot of work to do, but I think that we are going to get a lot accomplished before our first game." The regular season opens up on Sept. 11. Seminole, 4-6 a year ago, will host Titusville Astronaut.

Beathard said that his club will practice daily from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. "There's no sense in having a practice in the morning and having them come back again in the afternoon," Beathard said. "One thing that will be stressed in the first few weeks will be conditioning."

"I told these guys midway through the summer that I was going to emphasize conditioning more than normal this year."

Football

Beathard, who replaced Dave "Mr. Intensity" Mosure, said. "We don't have a great deal of depth on this team, so our conditioning is of vital importance to us."

One player that Beathard and the rest of the Seminoles will be counting on this season is linebacker Earnie "Sackman" Lewis. Lewis, a first-team all-stater last year, was a player that was very close to Mosure but he said nothing has basically changed since Beathard took over.

"Coach Beathard is doing a great job," Lewis, who averaged 16.2 tackles per game last year, said. "I think that it is good that we got a coach who has been with us. He is running the system the same way it was run when coach Mosure was here."

Lewis said that Seminole's offseason program went well. "The weightroom was packed every day," Lewis, who stands 6-foot-2, and weighs 210, said. "We pumped some serious iron over the summer, and I think that a lot of us got stronger." Lewis has raised his bench-press to 305.

Seminole has always had the reputation of being a tough defensive team, and Lewis said that he is going to do all he can to live up to that reputation. "I think that this will be one of the best defenses that Seminole has ever had," Lewis, who recorded five sacks last year, said. "We will be aggressive, and once we start working well together, we will be tough."

After sitting out all of last year with a broken leg, Seminole quarterback Jeff Blake is more anxious than anybody to return to the gridiron. "This is going to be just great," Blake, who gained 15 pounds over the summer as he now weighs 175, said. "We've got a lot of confidence, and I think that we might be one of the better teams in the area."

Blake, who possesses a rifle arm, said that he threw the ball regularly over the summer. "I threw just about every day," Blake said. "My arm feels good, and I'm ready to go."

Beathard said that having Blake at the helm will open things up offensively for the 'Noles. "Last year, we didn't have much of a passing offense," Beathard said. "But with Jeff

Texans' Gamble Pays Off

By Chris Flater

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — San Antonio Northwest is proof positive that Texans like to take an occasional gamble.

Thursday night, San Antonio took a chance by saving its top pitchers and came away winners with a 10-6 victory over Windermere in the losers' bracket final of the Little League Baseball Junior Southern Region Tournament. Now the Texas State Champions hope the gamble payoff will be in the form of a trip to the Junior World Series.

"We're coming out with all our horses tomorrow," San Antonio coach Pete White said after Thursday's victory. "We were able to save all of our hard throwers and believe we have a shot at Tennessee now."

San Antonio and Bristol, Tenn., will collide tonight at 7:05 at Eastmonte Park. Bristol, undefeated in the tournament, needs only one win to advance to next week's Junior World Series in Taylor, Mich. San Antonio must win two in a row.

White said San Antonio would go with either Sonny Torres, Mike Heafner or David Sammons in tonight's game. Torres, a hard-throwing right-hander, was the winning pitcher in Tuesday's game while Heafner took the loss Wednesday against Bristol. Sammons, who has turned in some spectacular play at shortstop, has not been used in the three games thus far but White says Sammons is the team's "ace in the hole."

"He (Sammons) was the winning pitcher in the state-championship game," White said. "We feel confident with him on the mound and it will be even tougher on Tennessee if we use him, because they have not seen David yet."

Bristol, which has a 13-1 tournament record this summer, will most likely go with big right-hander Joey Malone in tonight's game. Malone tossed a four-hitter in the 3-1 opening day victory over Windermere.

In two games, Bristol pitching has given up just two runs and nine hits. The pitching has been backed by some excellent defense as well as the Tennessee champions have committed just three errors in two games.

"Defense has kept us in every ballgame we've played," Bristol manager Brian Jessee said. "The pitching has been excellent and the kids have great attitudes toward the game. All we need now is to get our bats going. We haven't hit like we are capable of yet."

to cut down Windermere's Bryant Purdin for the inning-ending out. San Antonio faces Bristol, Tenn., tonight at 7 in the Little League Junior Southern Region at Eastmonte.

'It's hard to believe that I have 500 stolen bases, I don't even feel like I have been around that long.'

— Tim Raines

Raines Steals 500th

MONTREAL (UPI) — Tim Wallach reached new heights in an unexpected season and Tim Raines an inevitable milestone Thursday night in the Montreal Expos' triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Wallach hit a triple and three-run homer en route to a five-RBI performance that gave him the National League lead with 99 on the season. Raines stole his 500th base and scored five times in the Expos' 9-7 victory.

"It was just a game which saw everything fall into place for me," Raines said. "I have never had that happen to me before and tonight I only got two official times at-bat with those three walks. I've been struggling lately and maybe this is going to get me over the hump."

Sanford's Raines also set the stage to help the Expos come back after they trailed 5-0 in the first inning.

With Montreal down again, 6-5 in the seventh, Raines led off with a single and then stole second. Mitch Webster also walked and with two out, Raines led the way for a double steal that gave him the 500th theft in seven full seasons.

"It's hard to believe that I have 500 stolen bases. I don't even feel like I have been around that long," the outfielder said. "When we tried the double steal it was a game situation because there was two down and we had to take a chance."

Pirates catcher Mike Lavalliere threw the ball into center field and Raines scored the tying run.

"Lavalliere is one of the best throwers in the league but tonight he was under the weather," Pirates Manager Jim Leyland said. "That Raines is a heck of a player. But he was walked three times and when you do that you are just looking for trouble."

Wallach tripled in a run in the first and added a three run homer in the third, narrowing the Pirates lead to 5-4. He got another RBI in the ninth, when the Expos got two more runs.

"Right now I am No. 1 in RBI's," said Wallach, "but there are still 48 games to go, so who knows if I will be No. 1 at the end?"

Pinch hitter Dave Engle singled home the game winning run in the same inning as the Expos went ahead 7-6.

Pittsburgh shelled Expos starter Bryn Smith for six hits and five runs in the first inning but he then settled down.

"I felt bad about that inning, especially after we came off that rough road trip (2-5) but I didn't want to let my teammates down," Smith said. "I battled back and showed them that we could win this one."

Added Montreal Manager Buck Rodgers: "Smith sure had a miserable first inning but he was the key to our win because after that he kept throwing zeros. If he didn't do that we would have lost the game 11-0."

Raines tied the score 5-5 in the fourth with his 15th homer and the Pirates went ahead 6-5 in the top of the seventh on Bobby Bonilla's second RBI.

San Antonio Ends Windermere's Dream

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The Cinderella run of the Windermere Junior All-Stars came to an end Thursday night, but not before the Florida State champions turned what started out as a rout into a thriller.

Down 7-0 after four innings, Windermere came back within four runs and had the tying run at the plate in the top of the seventh before bowing to San Antonio Northwest, 10-6, in the losers' bracket final of the Little League Baseball Junior Southern Region Tournament at Eastmonte Park.

The loss ended the most successful season ever for the Windermere program, which had no championships to speak of in the 16 years prior to 1987.

"It's disappointing to lose, but this team has a lot to be proud of," Windermere manager Tim Bates said. "Going into tonight, there were only 12 teams left in the nation. Being one of the top 12 teams in the nation is quite an accomplishment."

San Antonio, meanwhile, kept its hopes alive as it advances to the final round against unbeaten Bristol, Tenn., tonight at 7:05. San Antonio needs two victories in a row to win the tournament while Bristol needs just one win.

"Even though we had a 7-0 lead we were not comfortable with it," San Antonio coach Pete White said. "We knew Windermere was capable of coming back. We're just happy that our pitchers (Brett Altman and James McQueen) were able to get us through tonight."

The key inning for San Antonio was the bottom of the first when it scored six times on only one hit. Five walks and two Windermere errors opened the floodgates for the big inning.

"It was probably a bad decision to leave Reston (Grosch) in as long as I did," Bates said. "John (Hubbard) did a good job despite being in pain from a sore hip. I just left Reston in a little too long."

San Antonio went on to take a 7-0 lead into the top of the fifth when Windermere, which had 14 hits and left 15 men on base in the game, got its offense cranked up and got back in the game.

With one out in the fifth, Matt Fipps singled to center, stole second and scored when Kevin Chabot launched a double to deep right center. Hubbard followed with a walk and Bryant Purdin looped a single to right to load the bases. Pinch runner Mike Walsh then scored when Ryan Strandquest reached on an error and Bryan Bruce's fielder's choice scored Hubbard to cut San Antonio's lead to 7-3.

San Antonio came back with two runs in the bottom of the fifth for a 9-3 lead. Karl Hoffman ripped a double to left to lead off and took third on a groundout. Dough Wilson then walked and stole second to put runners on second and third. Josh Ammons' grounder scored the first run of the frame while Wilson scored on a base hit by David Sammons.

Windermere came back with three more runs in the sixth to pull within 9-6. Grosch reached on an error to leadoff, stole second and took third on a one-out single by Fipps. Chabot, who was 3 for 4 in the game, then singled up the middle to drive in Grosch and Fipps. Hubbard followed with a walk and Purdin then poked a single to right to drive in Chabot. After Ryan Strandquest walked, San Antonio starter Altman was relieved by McQueen. McQueen got Bruce to pop to first for the second out and Will Bland followed with a soft line drive that looked like it had a chance to fall into shallow left field but shortstop Sammons made a nice running catch to end the inning.

"He (Sammons) made some big plays for us today," White said. "He's been a sure-handed defensive player for us all summer."

San Antonio added one more run in the bottom of the sixth to make it 10-6. Sonny Torres beat out an infield hit, stole second, took third on Mike Heafner's groundout and scored on a nicely-executed squeeze bunt by Mike Gann.

Windermere did not go down without one last fight, though, as it loaded the bases with two outs in the top of the seventh. Purdin, who was 3 for 3 in the game, then stepped up representing the tying run. Purdin ripped a McQueen fastball about as hard as he could hit it, but lined it right at third baseman Heafner who loved it for the final out.

"Altman and McQueen came through for us and enabled us to save our hard throwers for the finals," White said. "They did the same thing at the state tournament when we needed a win in the losers' bracket. We feel like we're in good position now."

Joyner-Kersee's Leap Leads Gold Harvest

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Americans enjoyed their biggest gold medal harvest of the Pan American Games Thursday — on Fidel Castro's birthday.

While Cuba could manage only one gold medal in honor of their leader on his 61st birthday, the United States amassed 17 gold medals to run their total for the Games to 80.

Jackie Joyner-Kersee, the recipient of the 1986 Sullivan Award as the nation's top amateur athlete, led the way for the United States by equalling the world record in the women's long jump with a leap of 24 feet, 5 1/2 inches.

Joyner-Kersee tied the mark set by East German Heike Drechsler in 1986 at Dresden, West Germany, on her sixth and final attempt. On her second jump, Joyner-Kersee exceeded Drechsler's mark but the leap was disallowed because her right foot went over the takeoff line.

Games

"I was just trying to ride it out," the 25-year-old from Long Beach, Calif., said of her record jump. "Once I had finished the jump, I didn't think it was a world record, but then when it took so long (for the judges to rule on an official distance), I knew it might be something. We were waiting a long time, then I felt like throwing my shoes in the air."

Joyner-Kersee's victory was one of five gold medals won by the United States in the track and field competition Thursday. Colleen Sommer of Chandler, Ariz., won the high jump with a Pan Am record leap of 6-5 1/4. Marty Cooksey of Chesterfield, Mo., celebrated her 33rd birthday by winning the 10,000 meters in 33 minutes flat. Mike Gonzales of Los Angeles won the decathlon with 7,649 points and Raymond Pierre of Missouri City, Texas, won the men's 400 in 44.60.

U.S. swimmers won four gold medals and set two Pan Am records to raise their total to 15 gold medals in four days.

NCAA champion Jeff Kubiak, painting his toenails red and blue to symbolize "team spirit," won the 200-meter breaststroke in 2 minutes 17.62 seconds, breaking the Games record of 2:19.31 set four years ago by Steve Lundquist.

The United States also won three gold medals in weight lifting, two in shooting and one each in table tennis mixed doubles and team gymnastics.

Mario Martinez of San Francisco won all three weight lifting gold medals for the United States in the super heavyweight class and Daniel Nygard of Placentia, Calif., won two medals in the air pistol competition.

On the opening night of boxing, Kelcie Banks of Chicago, the world amateur featherweight champion, scored a unanimous decision over Marcos Cristafalo of Argentina, and light heavyweight Andrew Maynard of Colorado Springs, Colo., knocked out Oscar Gonzalez of Argentina at 2:52 of the first round.

In men's basketball, the United States crushed Venezuela 109-74. David Robinson and Rex Chapman had 17 points apiece to pace the United States.

The United States won the team gold in men's gymnastics with a Pan Am record of 577.050 points, and Scott Johnson of Colorado Springs, Colo., was the top point getter with a Games record 117.30. His score counts as one-half toward the individual count.

Michele Granger, after throwing a no-hitter in her previous start, pitched a one-hitter to lead the U.S. women's softball team to a 6-0 victory over Belize. The men's softball team, 5-0, beat Colombia 10-4.

Blue Streak's Outstanding AAU Effort Captures 9th In Tourney

Although the tournament ended on a disappointing note, the Central Florida Blue Streak turned in an outstanding effort this past week at the AAU 11 and Under National Tournament at Le Moyne College in Syracuse, N.Y.

The Blue Streak, coached by Nancy Coalter, finished with a 3-2 record and tied for ninth in the tournament Wednesday.

After winning three of its first four games, Team Central Florida went up against Oklahoma in a losers' bracket contest. The Blue Streak had the lead late in the game when it was hurt by two controversial calls. On one call, Nikl Washington was called for charging with four seconds left. Coalter was then whistled for a technical foul and Oklahoma made the two free throws to seal the 27-24 victory.

The Blue Streak opened the tourney with a 26-21 victory over Middle Atlantic (Philadelphia) with Washington's 10 points leading the way. After a loss to West Virginia, Team Central rebounded with a 35-20 rout of Washington State Inland Empire. Washington, Tracy Coalter and Karen Morris had nine points each for the Streak.

Team Central made it two in a row with a 35-25 victory over Ohio in which Washington had tremendous all-around game with 11 points, nine rebounds and 11 steals. LeShawn Merrick also pumped in 11 points while Morris added nine.

Angler's 100 Miles Pay Dividend

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — A North Carolina angler reeled 100 miles down the Ohio River Thursday, caught three fish totaling 7 pounds, 7 ounces and avoided a homebound river traffic jam to lead the $125,000 BASS Masters Classic.

Guy H. Eaker Sr., 47, a pro fisherman from Cherryville, N.C., said the river offered him just what he wanted: five good fish bites.

"I wanted to get five strikes," said Eaker, one of 41 anglers participating in the three-day tournament considered the "World Series" of bass fishing and offering a top prize of $50,000. "I got my five strikes but I missed my biggest fish. I missed two before I got one."

Eaker, making his sixth appearance since joining the pro fishing tour in 1980, said he was able to spend just 2 1/2 hours fishing, with the rest of the 7 1/2-hour competition period spent racing downriver and back home.

Lundgren (No. 112) Stuns Cash

MONTREAL (UPI) — Former Wimbledon champion Boris Becker had a few words of advice for the current champion, Pat Cash, after the Australian was eliminated in a third-round upset at the Player's International.

"He has to hang in there and play it out," Becker said. "My friend, I know what's going on there. It's easier to play out there when you're not Wimbledon champion."

Peter Lundgren, ranked No. 112 in the world, pulled the major upset of the round Thursday when he beat No. 5 seed Cash 6-4, 7-6 (7-2).

In other third-round play, No. 2 seed Stefan Edberg came back from a 5-2 first set deficit to beat No. 15 seed Jimmy Arias 7-5, 6-2. No. 1 seed Ivan Lendl beat Canadian Andrew Sznajder 6-1, 6-1.

Martina, Evert Win Tie-Breakers

MANHATTAN BEACH, Calif. (UPI) — Top-seeded Martina Navratilova and No. 3 seed Chris Evert won tie-breakers en route to straight-sets victories Thursday in advancing to the quarterfinals of the $250,000 Virginia Slims of Los Angeles tennis tournament.

Also posting third-round triumphs were fourth-seeded Hana Mandlikova of Czechoslovakia, No. 8 seed Lori McNeill, ninth-seeded Bettina Bunge of Monaco and 17-year-old qualifier Elly Hakami.

Bunge registered the lone upset of the afternoon session, outlasting fifth seed Helena Sukova of Czechoslovakia, 6-3, 2-6, 6-3.

'Pettymania' Seizes Australia

Seven time NASCAR Winston Cup champion Richard Petty had been in Australia only a week and already "Pettymania" had settled in in the "Land Down Under."

Petty, along with fellow drivers Bobby Hill Jr. and Rodney Combs, left for the island continent following the July 26th Talladega 500 and flew to the new Calder Park Thunderdome to participate in a series of tire tests. Before the 1.13-mile super speedway official opened, Petty souvenirs were already a hot item.

The new track is part of a racing complex for several forms of speed sport competition and is patterned after Charlotte Motor Speedway. After turning several laps, Petty said that the third turn is hard to get through and does not lend itself to side by side racing. The rest of the track was all right he said.

An exhibition race featuring as yet unnamed NASCAR Winston Cup teams is scheduled at Calder Park for Nov. 29, a week after the Winston Cup season ends. The $1 million event is not sanctioned by NASCAR, but speedway owner Bob Jane said he hopes, if the inaugural event is successful, to have the race added to the Winston Cup schedule.

DRAW ONE — If you are an aspiring drag racer who is feeling a little lucky, the Drag Racing Association of Women (DRAW) may give you the opportunity to get behind the wheel of a race car.

Champion Frank Hawley and his wife Lana, one lucky drag race fan will turn the investment of a $5 DRAW ticket into a course at Hawley's renowned Drag Racing School in Gainesville.

The winner will receive an intensive two-day course that includes classroom lectures, starting and basic driving exercises, and burnout technique training, culminating in a series of runs in a gas dragster or gas Funny car down the quarter mile. The value of the course is $1,000.

A random drawing that will determine the winner won't be held until the Winston Finals in Pomona, so racer and fans still have time to purchase tickets at the DRAW booth at all NHRA National events.

Tickets can also be purchased through the mail by sending a check made out to DRAW with your name, address, and phone number to Drag School, c/o DRAW, 498 NW 157th St., Miami 33169.

SPEED WORLD — Longwood driver Ed Meredith won the Late Model heat and was fourth in the exciting 25 lap feature won by Lee Faulk. Jeff Biehr, Deltona made a fine showing in the Florida Modifieds and Bobby Sears. Oatzen ran strong in the Mini Stock class.

NEW BMYENA — The Limited Late Model class was full of local racers as Ed Meredith, Junior Simmons and James Carter all finished in the top 10 on the super-fast, half-mile oval.

Sanford's Jocj Wannack finished a fine fifth place in the Street Stocks. Bobby Sears and Bill Martin were leaders in the Four Cylinder class. The Roadrunner class was dominated by the locals as Mike Kubanek took his new car to the front of the pack once again and won the feature event.

John Hack, John Ripley, Don Even, Rosemary Pistor and Terry McDade all finished in the top 10. Dave Reinschuessel of Casselberry won the Bomber "B" feature.

VOLUSIA — Greg Ward of Ormond Beach won his third feature of the year at Volusia County Speedway. Ward had to hold off the challenge of James Powell III, winner of last week's feature.

Powell had run third through most of the race until three laps remained when he got past Truck Trenham. Dennis Bennett of Jacksonville, still driving with a broken wrist, finished fourth.

David Showers of St. Augustine made it four wins in a row and his ninth of the season in the Street Stock class.

Angry Fouts Denies Raise From Spanos For $250,000

United Press International
LA JOLLA, Calif. (UPI) — An angry Dan Fouts Thursday denied he was seeking a new contract and said he was never offered a $250,000 raise by team officials.

Team owner Alex Spanos Wednesday issued a statement in which he said he would trade the 15-year veteran because Fouts had solicited and then refused a raise that would have boosted his salary to $1 million a year.

"I really don't want to dignify that statement with a comment," said Fouts, who has been in camp for two weeks but has been on restricted duty because of a lower back strain.

"I'm following orders, receiving treatments. I'm stepping up my practice every day," said Fouts.

Steve Ortmyer, director of football operations, also refused to discuss the matter in detail, but said that Spanos' statement was accurate.

"I think that statement is very self-explanatory," said Ortmyer.

Spanos, who was out of town Thursday, said in his statement that Fouts and agent Howard Slusher had approached him and said that the team would have to pay Fouts more money if he was to remain with the Chargers.

"I offered Dan $1 million to

play for the Chargers this year," Spanos said. "This offer was turned down by Dan and his representative."

The statement concluded by saying that the only alternative was to trade Fouts. Coach Al Saunders said he had not been asked for his input on any possible trades.

TAMPA — Keith Williams, a second-year running back for the Atlanta Falcons, was acquired by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers for a conditional seventh-round pick in next year's NFL draft.

Williams, 5-foot-10, 173, was drafted by the Falcons in the sixth round in 1986 and carried just three times in his rookie season. Williams also caught 12 passes for 164 yards and averaged 18.2 yards on 14 kickoff returns.

The addition of Williams increased Tampa Bay's roster to 87 players entering Saturday night's exhibition opener against Cincinnati.

PLATTEVILLE, Wis. — Chicago quarterback Mike Tomczak's impressive start at training camp has earned him the starting job against Miami Sunday, but Bears Coach Mike Ditka made it clear Thursday that Tomczak is only keeping the spot warm for injured Jim McMahon.

"I think he's had a pretty good camp," Ditka said of Tomczak, who started seven victorious games for the 14-2 Bears last year. "He's very impressive. He looks like he's willing to take charge. He's worked hard. He's improved a lot of things mechanically."

"I think the big thing that I see is I think his confidence level has gone up tremendously because he's had that year under his belt where he played quite a bit and he seems much more in control," Ditka said. "I think the club's responded to him pretty well."

GREEN BAY, Wis. — Quarterback Randy Wright will travel to Arizona with the Green Bay Packers for the team's exhibition opener against the Denver Broncos Saturday even though he has just rejoined the team.

Coach Forrest Gregg said Thursday he was not sure whether he will use Wright, who was last year's starter but has missed the first two weeks of training camp because of a contract holdout.

Wright ended a 15-day absence when he signed a contract for an estimated base

SMITHFIELD, R.I. — The Super Bowl champion New York Giants open the preseason Sunday against the New England Patriots without a wide receiver who consistently can go deep.

New York's leading receiver last season was tight end Mark Bavaro, who caught 66 passes for 1,001 yards, an average of 15.2 yards per reception. Running back Tony Galbreath was second in receptions with 33.

The Giants' primary deep threats were Bobby Johnson, who averaged 17.2 yards on 31 receptions, and rookie Stacy Robinson, who averaged 17 yards on 29 catches.

Zoeller's Eagle Keeps Him Alive In 'Unique' Tourney

CASTLE ROCK, Colo. (UPI) — Fuzzy Zoeller loves the unusual format of the International and while Bruce Lietzke is less than pleased, both survived the opening round of the unique tournament and will be in action today as the pressure begins to build in the $1 million event.

There are 78 players left in the tournament and that number will be cut to 54 after today's round. That group will be further trimmed to 18 for Sunday's climatic round over the Castle Pines Country Club course with those 18 playing for $700,000.

"I believe they have got a winner here," said Zoeller, whose eagle at the par-5 14th hole kept him in the tournament. "It's different but there is nothing wrong with being different. I kind of like change. I think it's fun."

Lietzke, who eagled the par-5 17th and saved par with a chip-in at the 18th, did not share Zoeller's opinion.

"I really don't like it," said Lietzke, who hasn't won a tournament in more than two years. "I don't hate it, though, or I wouldn't be here. Golf is hard enough without having to try to figure all of this out. I just try to play and don't worry about counting."

Under the international format, an eagle is worth five points and a birdie worth two. One point is subtracted for a bogey and three for a double-bogey or worse. Players with the most points make it to the next round.

Lietzke's eagle in a round of 66 helped give him 14 points which won him $10,000 for the day's best score.

Cubbies Pound Gooden

United Press International: New York ace Dwight Gooden made two starts this week against the Chicago Cubs...

The Cubs, four days after pounding Gooden for nine hits and six runs, Thursday crased a 5-0 deficit against the former Cy Young Award winner to beat New York 7-5.

"I wasn't in a good rhythm today. I didn't feel comfortable," said Gooden, who entered the game with a 12-3 record and 1.67 ERA in his career against the Cubs...

New York had taken a 2-0 lead in the first on Tim Teufel's two-run homer and added three runs in the second to go ahead 5-0. A 5-0 lead with Gooden on the mound usually assures the Mets victory...

"A lot of the games, we find ourselves down 7- or 8-0 against Gooden. We just believe if we stay close, we've got a chance," Cubs Manager Gene Michael said.

Jody Davis' two-run single off Darryl Strawberry's glove in right field with one out in the eighth inning snapped the 5-5 tie to give the Cubs the victory.

In other games, Philadelphia edged St. Louis 4-2 in 13 innings. Montreal outslugged Pittsburgh 9-7. San Francisco shaded Houston 7-6 in 11 innings. Cincinnati defeated Los Angeles 5-2 and San Diego beat Atlanta 5-3.

In the AL, it was California 5, Minnesota 1; Chicago 10, Toronto 3; Baltimore 5, Milwaukee 4; and Detroit 4, Kansas City 1.

Morris Fans 11, Detroit Closes In

United Press International: Without Jack Morris, the Detroit Tigers dispatched the New York Yankees in their series earlier this week. With Morris, the Tigers soon may prevent the Yankees and even the first-place Toronto Blue Jays from claiming the American League East title.

After going nearly six weeks and five starts without a victory, Morris Thursday turned in a 11-strikeout, five-hitter in a 4-1 triumph over the Kansas City Royals that drew the Tigers within half a game of Toronto for the AL East lead.

Morris improved to 13-6 as the Tigers win for the 18th time in 27 games since the All-Star break.

"This was the first time in a long time I've thrown all four of my pitches and had a pretty good idea where they were going," Morris said. "I had an exceptional fastball and that touched everything else off."

Morris lost his shutout when pinch hitter Jim Eisenreich homered with one out in the eighth.

"He was hot and we were not. By the time I got in there he was just going right at the guys," Eisenreich said. "I knew he was throwing fastballs and being a pinch hitter, I just waited for him to throw it in there. That's the first hit I've ever gotten off of him."

Morris' 11 strikeouts matched a season high. He retired 16 straight batters until Danny Tartabull walked in the seventh.

Royals starter Mark Gubicza, 9-12, lasted two batters into the sixth inning. He walked six and gave up five hits.

Control problems plagued Gubicza in the first inning. Bill Madlock and Kirk Gibson walked and Alan Trammell was hit by a pitch. Nokes bounced a grounder to first baseman Steve Balboni, who bobbed the ball. Nokes was retired on the play, but Madlock scored for a 1-0 lead.

In the third, Nokes' RBI double pushed Detroit's lead to 2-0.

Steinbrenner Doubts Selection Of Piniella

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees return home this weekend after a 2-8 road trip knocked them from first to third place in the American League East and raised uncertainty concerning Manager Lou Piniella's future.

Yankees owner George Steinbrenner now says Piniella may have been the wrong choice to pilot the Yankees.

"I've done everything for this guy," Steinbrenner told the Tampa Tribune. "I gave him a chance to manage the New York Yankees without going to the minors. In retrospect, maybe that was a mistake."

"Lou Piniella has no reason to be hurt — I do. I've made every player move, every shift he's asked for since Day One of this season, and this is what happens. If anyone should feel hurt, it should be me — not Lou."

Pressure on Piniella grew in Kansas City Wednesday as three former Yankee managers — Billy Martin, Clyde King and Joe Altobelli — watched New York complete the road trip with a 2-1 loss to the Royals.

The game ended with Yankees shortstop Wayne Tolleson being thrown out at the plate after third base coach Mike Ferraro waved him home.

The loss dropped the Yankees 2 1-2 games behind the first-place Toronto Blue Jays and one game behind the Detroit Tigers.

A.L. Baseball

New York collected eight hits off Royals starter Charlie Leibrand, but went 0 for 10 with runners in scoring position.

The Yankees' recent slide has fueled rumors that Steinbrenner might fire pitching coach Mark Connor or hitting coach Jay Ward, or that Martin will return for a fifth stint as Yankees manager.

Steinbrenner criticized Piniella publicly several times this week for the team's poor play and the manager's failure to be available for the owner's phone calls.

Steinbrenner was particularly incensed when Piniella failed to be available for a scheduled telephone call Aug. 4, but he told the Tribune that was not the first time that has happened.

He said he scheduled a call with Piniella July 23 while the Yankees were in Chicago, but Piniella was unavailable because he was at the race track.

"Lou was at Arlington Park," Steinbrenner said. "We had the day off and sure, that's his privilege to go to the races if he wants to. But we were in a slump and we had some things we needed to talk about. I was concerned about fixing my ball club and he was at the horse races."

back, we will move the ball in the air, and it will give our offense another dimension.

"I think that his throwing the ball will also open up our running game," Beathard continued. "It is going to be good to have him out there once again."

Cornerback "Nasty Nick" Casiello said that the team is already fired up. "We just can't wait to start," Casiello, who has increased his weight to 185, said. "This team has got a heck of a lot of potential, and I think that we will live up to it."

Casiello said that playing for Beathard is fun. "He (Beathard) is a great guy. He'll come up and start telling us jokes," Casiello said. "He's more relaxed than coach Moore, but he can get his point across when he wants to."

Casiello, who picked off four passes last season, said that the team is in good physical condition. "A lot of us played basketball every day," Casiello said. "I played hoops and went to South Dakota for a few weeks and lifted every day. Overall, I think that we are in good shape."

Control Moles By Cutting Off Their Food Supply

There have been a lot of calls at the Agriculture Center lately concerning moles and how to control them. If you have large mounds of sand 4 to 6 inches high tunneling around your lawn, then chances are you have moles in your yard, too!

Moles commonly live underground in lawns and gardens in Florida. With their oversized spade-like feet, they can do considerable damage. Moles are most active in the early morning and late evening as they endlessly pursue a meal.

Moles can be considered beneficial, though, because they eat the larvae of many common lawn and garden insects including chinch bugs, sod webworms, and mole crickets, which in turn attack our beautiful flowers, vegetables and ornamentals. It is very rare for a mole to eat these things. Instead, they like to burrow in moist soils, preferring them to dry areas. This burrowing actually provides aeration of the soil, but what a price to pay. The tunneling is of two types: permanent tunnels used as a nest which extend as deep as 2 feet below the surface and feeding tunnels which are just beneath the soil surface. It is these feeding tunnels that give homeowners a headache.

It is not easy to control moles as you would think, but you do have a few options from which to choose. Since there is no effective repellent or toxicant to kill moles, the best technique is to cut off their food supply by applying an insecticide to your lawn and garden. When moles are deprived of food, they will go elsewhere for it. There are many available products at your local garden centers to kill insects in your lawn and garden but applying an insecticide can be an expensive option. Always follow label directions carefully and water the insecticide in after applying it. It will take a few weeks for it to be effective, so don't expect the burrowing to cease immediately.

Another less expensive method for control of moles is to trap them in their burrows. Traps are available at local garden centers and hardware stores, but call first to see if they're in stock. Traps can be either a harpoon or choke type. To be successful in trapping moles, you must understand their feeding habits and locate actively used tunnels. These tunnels can be identified by stepping on short sections of tunnels, which the moles will repair in a few hours. The traps are then set in active tunnels. No luck in a few days? Set your traps in another active tunnel.

Fencing is the third option for controlling moles and it works best in small areas, like flower beds, small lawns and gardens. An impenetrable fence along the perimeter of the area can be made of sheet metal or small mesh (1/4 inch or less) hardware cloth. Bury the material at least 2 feet beneath the surface with all joints and corners securely sealed. Extend the fence several inches above the ground as well.

These methods for controlling moles in lawns and gardens are your options from which to choose. If you try one method that doesn't work, try another until one works for you.

'All Things Are Ours,' Walker Tells SEEDCO

The membership and friends of SEEDCO, Seminole Employment Economic Development Corporation, gathered for their annual Membership Breakfast at the Sanford Civic Center last Saturday with Mrs. Grace S. Miller of Orlando as the mistress of ceremonies.

Marva Hawkins

The invocation, greeting and occasion were given by chairman of SEEDCO's Board of Directors, Rev. Amos C. Jones. A musical program was presented by Vincent Smith at the piano and soloist Sharita Johnson. The business session was presided over by the secretary Marva Y. Hawkins who gave the secretary's report and read the minutes of the organization.

Highlight of the morning was the address given by William "Sonny" Walker, regional vice president of the National Alliance of Business, Atlanta, Ga. He was introduced by the then acting Mayor of Sanford, City Commissioner Robert "Bob" Thomas.

The speaker reminded the group "that all things are ours, all men are created equal, all goals can be accomplished through the unification of America. Forget the color and let's all be friends, let's work for the growth of the total community. Work for what is ours, our children and their children. Build friends, not fences."

The patrons were attentive to the speaker's words of wisdom. He commended Sanford and SEEDCO for their success in their community effort but said there is still work to do.

Ruthia Hester, vice chairman of the Seedco Board of Directors, announced the program was honoring Dr. J. C. Ringling, a board member, who has been ill. Mrs. Heater presented his wife, Dorothy, and daughter, Loraine Offer, with a clock in appreciation. A special musical dedication to Dr. Ringling "Sweet, Sweet Spirit" was sung by Cynthia Brown. The president and executive director of SEEDCO, Horace Orr, was presented by the mistress of ceremonies. He reported on the status of the corporation and reminded the members, friends and well-wishers of SEEDCO that "without you we cannot succeed. All of us are needed to make this a bigger and bigger SEEDCO and community."

Special guest for the breakfast was Selma McKenzie, representing Congressman Bill McCollum and bringing greetings from his office in Washington, D.C.

Unity Builds Strength was the theme of the Hamiter, Hillman, Merritt, Smith and Williams Family Festival Reunion held in July. The opening activity was a luau and get acquainted hour at the home of Mrs. Patricia Merritt Hitchmon. The yard and home was beautifully decorated in a Hawaiian theme.

Family and guest dined on the traditional foods of roast pig, chicken wings, tropical fruits and drinks of the island, and the music of the evening was presented by family member Charles "The D.J." Merritt of Mobile, Ala.

The morning of July 3 was devoted to registration and greeting the new arrivals at the Holiday Inn, Sanford Marina. At 2:30 p.m. the captain said all aboard to the happy guests as they boarded the Romance cruise ship for an afternoon of entertainment and fun. The guests were welcomed aboard by the staff and the hostess for the day presented Cynthia G. Brown, Vincent Smith and Conway Thomas who musically entertained the guests with songs and the latest hits.

The guests were treated to the latest in fashions as family members modeled new fashions for all occasions. Guests were wined and dined and enjoyed the scenic St. Johns River and Lake Monroe sites.

The family festival celebration for July 4 was the gathering of the family at the Fellowship and Awards Banquet at the Sanora clubhouse. The evening was presided over by Dr. Gordon Merritt of Ft. Lauderdale. The scripture and prayer by the master of ceremonies Merritt, the evening of musical enjoyment began with the lovely voice of Ms. Sallye Gordon, accompanied by Edward Mayo. The dinner of prime rib, baked potato, broccoli, tossed salad, lemon pie, coffee and iced tea, catered by Ernest Colbert and staff. Musical entertainment continued by the presentation of instrumental music by Mrs. and Mr. Ronald Nathan at the console and saxophone. Introduction of family members and guests were made by Mrs. Cora James Snead, Altamonte Springs. Mrs. Joyce Hillman Wagner, Eatonville.

Words of wisdom from The New Generation were given to the family by Condor Emerson Stone of Cocoa. These words of encouragement to the group were well received. Presentation was made by Mrs. Camilla Wilson Barnes and others who say the need to honor those who help to make the reunion a grand one and to those who deserve honoring for their contribution to the families.

The closing day was a fellowship church service held at First Shiloh Missionary Baptist Church where many of the Merritts and Williamses have attended for generations. The closing and parting fellowship dinner was held in the education hall of St. Paul where a delicious dinner was served.

The oldest family member attending the reunion was Mrs. Josephine Harris of Crescent City who is 103 years old. Mrs. Corrie Wilson, 85, of Sanford, and Iona M. James presented a video program tracing the family history which covered four generations.

Other family members attending were from Pasadena, Calif., Houston, Texas, Roxbury, Mass., Rochester and Rockville Center, N.Y., Philadelphia, Atlanta, Jacksonville, Palatka, Crescent City, Altamonte Springs, Eatonville, Winter Park, Fort Lauderdale and Miami.

Special thanks to the planning committee: Pat Merritt Hitchman, Joyce Hillman Wagner, Louise Franklin, Cora James Snead, Camilla Wilson Barnes, Iona Merritt James and all friends of the families.

Gift Of One-Way Ticket Puzzles Mom

DEAR ABBY: You've had so much in your column lately about gifts. I want to tell you what happened to me. First of all, I'm a widow, past 60, with grown children, and I know I'm hard to buy for, but last Christmas my son and daughter-in-law gave me a gift certificate for a one-way ticket to Phoenix!

Abby, my home is in Ohio, and I have been to Phoenix, and I don't care to make my home there. They said I could go anywhere in the United States and they would pay for it — but it had to be one way. I told them there was no place in the U.S. I wanted to go — and stay — so they said, "Either take a one-way ticket, or you're out of luck!"

What is your opinion of this?
LIKES OHIO

DEAR LIKES OHIO: If this was supposed to be a joke, I don't think it's funny. If you son and daughter-in-law were encouraging you to travel, there are kinder ways to get their point across.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, I'll call him Derrick, is 18 and lives with a woman who has two small children and is 10 years older than he is. He is planning to marry her when she gets her divorce. Derrick seems happy living the way he is although he was raised in a Christian home. In this state, he can get married at 18 without parental consent.

Derrick is a big, strong, healthy kid, but he doesn't like to work, so he seldom holds a job for very long. He has obligations at the bank for a new truck and is looking for his father and me to bail him out. Should we help him financially, or let him sink or swim?

DERRICK'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: A young man who is old enough to marry without parental consent is old enough to pay his own bills. When he knows he has to hold down a job, he will.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 14-year-old girl who needs your help to settle a dispute between my mom and me. My mom will not allow me to wear men's boxer shorts and a tank top in public. I am trying to tell her there is nothing wrong with it. It's the style. Lots of girls are wearing them. Mom says it's gross for girls to wear boys' underwear in public. I would like to hear your opinion. Sign this...

THE BOXER REBELLION

DEAR BOXER REBELLION: Boxer shorts and tank tops are a summer fad that will probably fall out of favor when the first chill of autumn arrives. Gross and offensive. No.

P.S. I like your signature. With that kind of creativity, you could write an advice column one day.

DEAR ABBY: The other day I washed a shirt out and put it in the dryer, then I went upstairs. When I went to get the shirt, I found our cat, dead in the dryer! Abby, I beg of you, please warn people to always check their dryers before using them if they have a cat.

I cried a lot of days afterward just thinking of the pain my cat must have suffered.

CRYING IN MONROE, MICH.

DEAR CRYING: I'm sorry about the loss of your pet. I hope others will learn from your tragedy. Readers: If you have a cat, do not turn on your washer-dryer until you know where your cat is.

Mama said, "Never work in the kitchen with the counter drawers open. Always keep a cup of the pasta water in case the pasta is too dry." And Pap said, "Always put a date on everything you write and on every piece of paper that's not going into the trash basket."

All wise advice indeed. Had I only heeded it, I would have been spared many a cleanup job, my pasta al pesto would always have been magnificent, and my tangled affairs would now be in order.

Husband's Protection Seems To Be Enough

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — My husband installs fiberglass insulation. He's careful to wear a respirator, gloves and overalls, but he still gets that stuff all over him. Does it remain in the body if ingested? Can it work its way through the skin?

serious consequences of industrial fiberglass exposure.

Dr. Gott's new Health Report, WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT NURSING HOMES, offers a step-by-step guide to rating facilities and finding the best care available. For your copy, send $1 and your name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR READER — Your husband appears to be taking adequate protection against the small particles of fiberglass that break off from insulation. Despite his efforts, fiberglass is getting under his clothing, and this can cause unbearable itching and a skin rash that is difficult to control.

Fiberglass is made up of glassy filaments that break easily. Such broken filaments, usually in the form of dust spicules, penetrate the skin, producing irritation. Although the particles are too short and brittle to penetrate deeply, they tend to stick to skin made moist by perspiration and oils. This results in a superficial rash as the body responds to the foreign material, much as it would to a splinter.

Fiberglass workers can usually prevent this problem by washing thoroughly after work to remove the fiberglass that has worked its way under protective garments to the skin. Some fiberglass contractors swear by cold showers because this method closes the pores and allows the fiberglass to be more readily washed off.

Although, in theory, swallowed fiberglass could cause intestinal irritation, I am not aware of any studies linking ingestion of fiberglass particles to disease. On the other hand, inhaled fiberglass can cause pulmonary inflammation, increased mucus secretion, chronic cough and — if present in sufficient quantity — a syndrome of chronic lung disease that resembles silicosis, lung disease caused by sand particles.

If your husband carefully protects himself at work and washes thoroughly at the end of the day, he is not likely to suffer any

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
South arrived at a three no-trump contract, even though East had opened the bidding with one heart. And it looked fairly easy if the club suit divided 3-2, surely a reasonable expectation. In such circumstances the proficient declarer looks for some additional insurance.

A low heart was led to East's ace and a heart was returned. When South put in the 10, West won the jack and played a third heart. Declarer now won the nine. Meanwhile three diamonds had been discarded from dummy. Although it was likely the club suit would pose no problem, South could see that taking six club tricks would create some discarding cramps in his hand. For example, if he blanked the king of diamonds and the spade finesse lost, the defenders might take two diamond tricks to set him. So it seemed prudent to just lead the jack of spades out of his hand.

East won the king and, fearing that the club suit was solid, cashed the ace of diamonds and played another, hoping West had the king. Declarer won the king and now proved his mettle.

He cashed the king of hearts, on which West discarded a spade. He then played the ace and queen of spades. Now what was poor West to do? If he threw a club, all of dummy's clubs would become good. And if he let his queen of diamonds go, the four of diamonds left in South's hand would be a winner. By not taking the club suit for granted, declarer had brought in three no-trump.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

By Bernice Bede Osol
YOUR BIRTHDAY AUGUST 18, 1987

You will establish several important objectives in the year ahead. Some of them will be of a financial nature, but others will be secret desires you hope to fulfill.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If you are involved in competitive events today, be a gracious winner or a graceful loser, whichever the case may be. Unbecoming behavior will hurt your image. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker set instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Just because an acquaintance is a faster and more glib talker than you doesn't mean that this person's ideas are superior to yours. Don't worry about it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today, it will not prove wise for you to tell a friend about something your instincts warn you to keep secret. Heed your inner voice.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Usually you are a rather forthright person, but today you might feel compelled to butter up someone just because this person can do you a favor.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You might not be as attentive as you should to instructions that are given to you today. Later, when you try to follow them, you'll wish you had been a better listener.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today, if you get involved in a game of chance with friends, don't start raising the stakes if you are on a losing streak. Things could get worse.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't make last-minute changes today regarding plans that affect others as well as yourself. Adhere to what you agreed upon, even if it's inconvenient.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You'll come up with some pretty creative excuses today when explaining to a friend why you were unable to do that person a favor.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today, you still don't have as tight a grip on your credit card as you should. There is a possibility that you may purchase some items you can do without.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Tolerance on your behalf will be required with your family today, or else you might make issues out of a situation that usually wouldn't faze you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) This may not be one of your better days for conceiving ingenious ideas. Sleep on your thoughts before you reveal them to others.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't be pressured by friends into making social commitments today that you either don't enjoy or can't comfortably afford.

Elvis Presley

Rock 'N' Roll King

*Le Roi Est Mort,
Vive Le Roi*

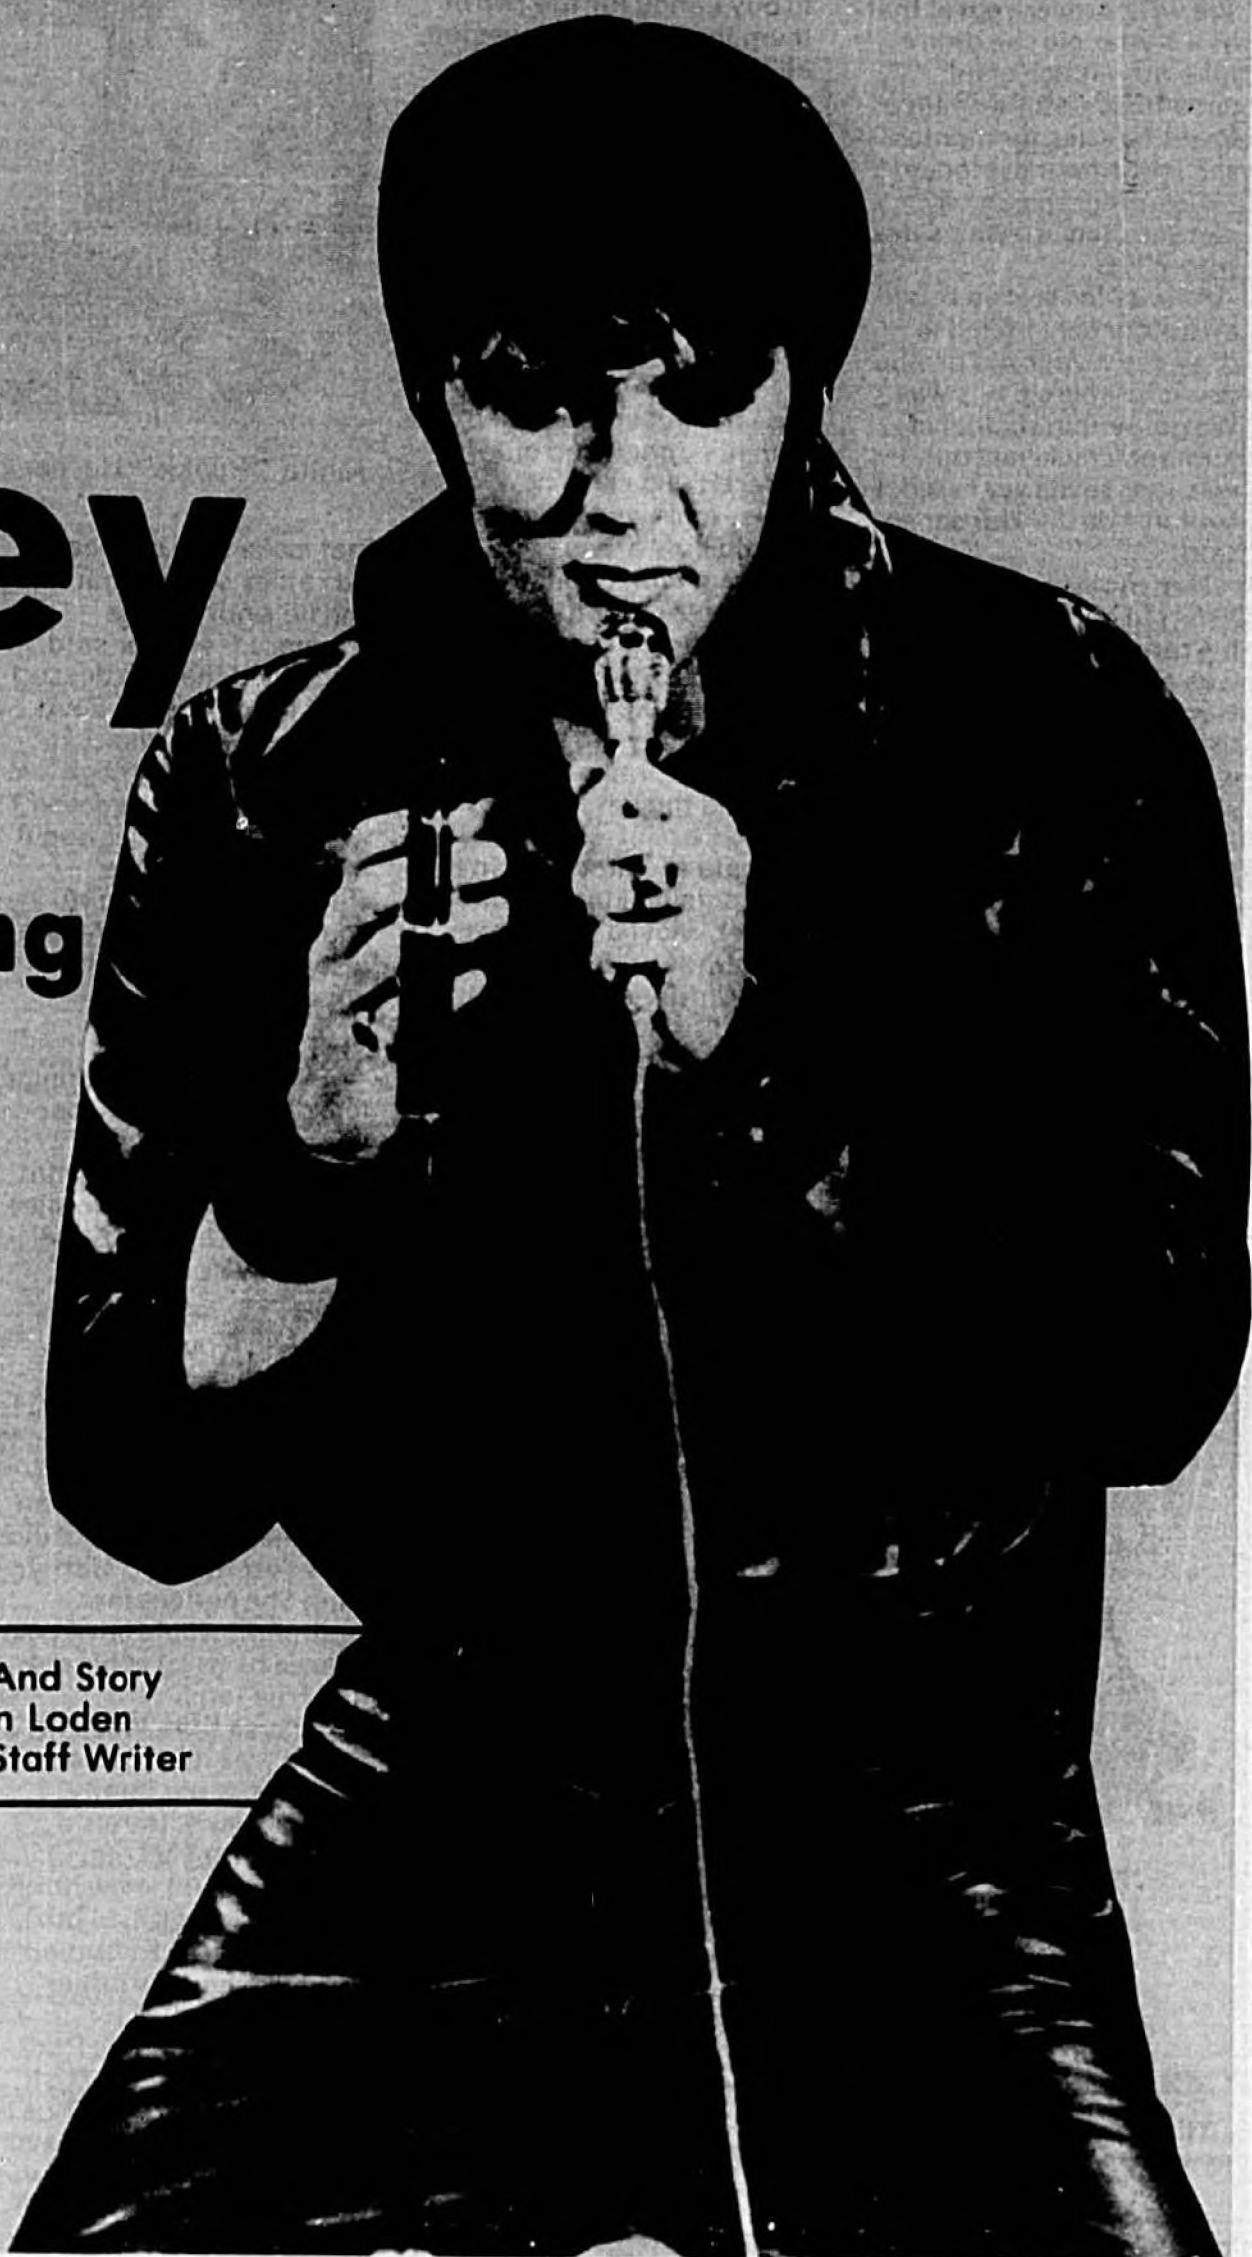

A decade after his death the legend of the King of Rock 'n' Roll lives and grows. But for some, like Sanford's Janita "Punkie" Harper, the love affair began before the mystique of Elvis Presley became a mass mania.

It was 1955 when then 7-year-old Harper, her 5-year-old brother John and their mother Juanita Fortier, ventured from their Sanford home to Orlando to see a concert by the then bleached-blond haired "Hillbilly Cat." He had caught the ear of Fortier, who thought Elvis was an upbeat change of pace from Patti Page and Frank Sinatra.

The crowd was sparse. "Elvis was 20. He was dressed in a purple and orange outfit; I remember it because it was great!" 39-year-old Harper recalled.

She didn't realize at the time that Presley would become a major focus of her interest; to become the person she called her best friend through her teenage years even though they never met. So, Harper said she will forever regret that as a 7 year old she didn't take advantage of her once-in-a-lifetime chance to get Presley mementos she longs for most today: "His autograph and a picture of me side by side with Elvis."

"I was too scared to get an autograph. I tried to drag my 5-year-old brother down to where Elvis was. We got within six feet of him and chickened out. I was just seven years old. I couldn't do it," Harper said.

Her mother continued to listen to and love Elvis as his fame grew. Until she was about 12 years old, Harper said, Elvis was in the background of her every day life. But when she heard "Are You Lonesome Tonight" for the first time, "I really listened to it. I'd been missing out all of this time and I started to collect Elvis' records."

She also began spending Saturday afternoons and evenings at Sanford's Ritz theater whenever an Elvis movie was showing. The price of a single admission in those days bought a whole day of viewing the same movie as many times as it played. "I sat through some seven times in a day and then went back the next day," she said.

Her allowance and school lunch money each week totaled the $2.50 price of a Presley album and Harper had to rely on her brother to buy candy for the two of them, because she invested all her money in Elvis music.

Her Elvis albums, some of which she has had 28 years, are her prized possessions. They are stored in a safe place, and she listens to tapes made from the albums. Harper is surrounded by reminders of Presley. Almost every type trinket embellished with his image and old tattered and crisp new copies of news stories about Elvis are in her personal collection. Elvis is still cover story material.

The star in her Elvis cache is a $90 gold necklace, like the one he wore and gave to friends, which features a lightning bolt and the letters TCB (Take Care of Business). She said she made a trip to Memphis just to buy that trinket. Most of her other mementos have been gifts from family and friends, but she said she can truly appreciate such items only if the image is a true likeness of Presley.

"I don't want anything

that looks fake or cheap. I'd rather see the real thing and he's not with us anymore," Harper said. She added that she doesn't want to see or hear Elvis imitators and refuses to listen to anything negative about her idol. She doesn't want to hear stories about reputed Elvis "love children" surfacing 10 years after his death. She also doesn't want to hear anyone else singing Presley's songs.

When Elvis made annual tours of Florida, Harper always caught him in concert. She last saw him in Orlando in 1977. Presley died in Memphis on Aug. 16, that year.

"Elvis was overweight and sick. You could tell. He didn't move around so much and sat down a lot. I didn't care if he was 40 pound overweight. All I cared about was this man was on the stage. He could have just talked," Harper said. She believes that sentiment would have been shared by most of his old and true fans.

"I loved him. When he died it was like I lost a member of my family. I cried so hard. Here's a man I never met, never talked to, but I knew him like he was family. I hurt as much when Elvis died as I did when my father and brother died.

"I lost part of me. Part of my childhood. Part of my life. I only hope Elvis is at peace, because he never got any peace while he was alive. I love Elvis even 10 years after he died. I hope

I never lose that.

"I know I'm not the only one. That's what makes it so wonderful that there are others who have loved him as long as I have. Elvis had a lot of true fans and he never knew it. I'm proud to say I was a fan before he died. I've been an Elvis fan 28 years.

She sent roses to Graceland when Elvis died and always sent Elvis a birthday card. "I never got an answer, of course. I never expected to. I just wanted him to know I cared," she said.

When Elvis married, Harper said, she heard the news on her car radio. "I pulled off the road and cried because he had married somebody other than me." But she was happy for Elvis to have a chance for happiness, even though her dream, shared with thousands of other fans, of being Elvis' true love was shattered. Her admiration of the man didn't diminish then and it didn't fade as Elvis' star and looks began to fade.

Harper said Elvis' sex appeal didn't mean that much to her as a youngster, "but like all teens, Elvis was my fantasy man. I imagined him to be the perfect man. I saw the man, not the superstar. He had a kind heart. He gave away Cadillacs and visited children in hospitals. He never forgot where he came from

"He seemed to be a down to earth, common person. He came from, I guess, the kind of environment I grew up in. He showed you didn't have to be rich to make it. He created the American Dream for everyone. When I was growing up you didn't have a lot of money," Harper said.

Harper has made two visits to Elvis' Memphis home, Graceland, and also one pilgrimage to his Tupelo, Miss., birth site. She toured Graceland once before Presley died and again seven years after he died. She doesn't expect to go back.

Harper doesn't like it that Elvis' home has become such a commercialized tourist mecca, which 50,000 people were expected to tour in the week of this 10th anniversary of his death.

"People are packed in. I feel Elvis would be disappointed to have tourist seeing his possessions. He cherished what he had. People just go to look. I don't want to go back. It meant a lot to me to see his personal things, but not at the expense of what he felt," she said.

Someday Harper hopes that a small part of herself will be at home somewhere on the Graceland site where Elvis is buried. After her death she has ordered that she be cremated along with an Elvis album. She then wants at least a handful of her ashes scattered at Graceland.

The dream and love live on, even after death.

GUIDING LIGHT

Rick injected Philip with an antitoxin after he realized that Philip had been poisoned. The hit man escaped from Rusty and then boarded the Spaulding jet to confront a recovered Philip. Also on board the plane were Alan-Michael and Dinah. Josh was furious when he learned that H.B. knew about Marah's parentage long before Josh did. Jackson interviewed a prospective employee, Rae Armani. Reva learned that Josh is having financial difficulties. Kaz and Josh signed partnership papers even though Kaz's construction company has money problems. Cameron felt guilty that he suspected his father, George, of robbing H.B.'s home and stealing money from Alan's safe. Jackson's mother, Lady Agnes, kept him in the dark that she's not in good health. Roxie and Will are becoming fast friends. Roxie urged Lacey to rent an airplane hanger from Johnny so that she has a place to practice her gymnastics routines.

LOVING

While on a New York City business trip, Jack romped in the sack with Lily. A recovering Clay told his family that despite their objections, he's going to start dating Ava openly. Marty insisted to Jim that she's off booze and that he's responsible for her starting to get her life together again. Ned got into a flat fight with another kid, Will, who taunted April about her hooker past. Jack felt guilty when Stacey phoned New York City just to say that she loves him and misses him. Eban, Gus and another thug, Ernest, planned a jailbreak.

ONE LIFE TO LIVE

Marla, who was disguised as Tina, chloroformed Tina and then tried to run Viki down with Tina's car. Gilbert pushed Viki out of harm's way, thwarting Marla's attempt to kill Viki. Viki didn't recognize Marla. Gilbert avoided Wanda after she said she likes him. Jonathan and Cassie suspect that Frank punched Sandra, who had a black eye. Cyndy refused to come on to Cord so that Patrick could woo Kate. Wanda's being evicted from her restaurant. Rafe arrested Marla on charges she helped to kidnap Jessica. Jonathan realized that Cassie lied that she has a new man in her life. Like Tina, Patrick had severe headaches after he had Kate treat him with his burn alive. Gabrielle insisted to Steve that there's nothing romantic between her and Max. Marla sneaked into Patrick's laboratory and stole a vial of lethal poison. Wade told Frank that Kitty (Cassie) works for Jonathan.

RYAN'S HOPE

Ben freaked out when he learned that John and Conetta have been having an affair. Lizzie was baptized in the Catholic Church in preparation for her marriage to John. Frank and Dakota can't get along. At Ryan's request, Jack wrote another editorial about the mysterious goings on at the college campus laboratory. Dee informed Maeve that Zena was growing marijuana plants among Maeve's potted plants. Ryan hasn't gotten anywhere with her investigation into Dr. Humphries' death. Rick doesn't like Emily's cousin, C h a z l C h u c k l.

SANTA BARBARA

Jane threatened Keith, who pressured Marsha into giving him a phone number that ultimately led Eleanor (Elena) to learn Johnny's whereabouts. Brick was reunited with Johnny after Eleanor (Elena) took the child from the couple who had adopted him. Kelly rescued Jeffrey, who had been captured by Willie. Jeffrey and Kelly were unable to rescue Mason, who's still being held captive by Willie. Cruz was shocked when Eden told him that Cain, who has amnesia, will recuperate at the Capwell mansion. Alex realized that Elena (Eleanor) arranged for his former patient, Cain, to "rescue" Eden. Eden told a shocked Cruz that their relationship is over. Eden forced Keith to drop charges that Cain tried to murder her. C.C. and Cruz argued over who should care for Chip while Tori is on trial for shooting Paul. Hayley was unable to go through with her plan to sleep with Jake. Laken and Ted romped in the sack.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Steven insisted he wasn't shocked by Ashley's kiss and then accepted her date offer. Jill arranged for Rex to meet Kay, who thanked him for rescuing her from the drunk at the Colonade Room Restaurant. Philip insisted to Cricket that he can quit drinking any time he wants to. Victor told Nikki he knows that Jack put her up to asking Victor for his Mergeron stock, but Victor signed the stock over to Nikki anyway. Steven accepted Ashley's date offer after she teased him about his surprised reaction to her kiss. Kay changed her will so that Philip is the sole heir to her estate and made sure that Jill won't get any of Philip's inheritance. Ashley told Victor that she observed Nikki playing with Victoria and Nikki didn't look like she was at death's door. Ship wrangled a date with Jill, who accused him of wanting to sleep with her to get a promotion.

ALL MY CHILDREN

In Texas, Hillary met Louba, who confirmed that she's married to Mitch and that they have a daughter, Maria. Elizabeth told a shell-shocked Mark that he's Julie's father. Erica agreed to marry Travis, who said that he wants their child. Noelle insisted to Jeremy that she has good memories about her father and that Constance is making up the gruesome facts about Noelle's past. Adam failed to dissuade Skye from going through with her plans to marry Tom. Jeremy objected when Constance insisted that shrink, Dr. Lazarre, should treat Noelle from now on. Mark kissed Ellen, who nixed his suggestion that she dump Ross and move in with Mark. Cecily overheard Julie telling Charlie that she's ready to sleep with him. Ellen noted that Mark and Elizabeth are nervous when they're around each other. Bridget, a woman who knew Noelle, was murdered. Jeremy and Constance found Bridget's body. Brooke told Adam that she loves him.

AS THE WORLD TURNS

James led to Lucinda that Craig is still alive and that his thugs are holding him prisoner. Duncan freaked when he found Doris, who had been murdered in his bed. James demanded that Lucinda pay big bucks in blackmail money if she ever wants to see Craig again. Paul pretended to believe Emily, who warned him that James is a dangerous man. James, who is using the Stewart's cabin as a hideout, told his long-time lover, Corinne Lawrence, that he had nothing to do with the murder of his boat captain, Nigel. Pam got a summer job at Memorial Hospital. Holden was seething with jealousy as he watched Lance flirt with Lily. Before her murder, Doris phoned Duncan and told him that she knew the identity of James' Oakland contact. Duncan finally admitted to Shannon that he fears his enemies might harm her. Lyla turned down Casey's marriage proposal. Simon and Geraldine reported Duncan's every move to James.

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

Caroline was raped by Ron, a man she met in a restaurant/bar. Brooke comforted Caroline and convinced her to report her rape to the police. Katie freaked when she saw Rocco kiss Donna. Thorne admitted to Ridge that he loves Caroline. Donna was disappointed when Mark refused to attend a family dinner with her. Stephanie cautioned Ridge about the health hazards associated with his promiscuous sexual habit. Kristen accepted a date with Charles Garner. Caroline was counseled by former rape victim, Pam Wilson.

Population Centers
 When the U.S. Census started in 1790, the geographic population center was 23 miles east of Baltimore. By 1850, the center moved to 23 miles southeast of Parkersburg, W.Va. Six miles southeast of Columbus, Ind., became the middle of the country's population by 1900.

The Wonderful World Of Hanks
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Tom Hanks has signed a longterm, multi-picture agreement with Walt Disney Pictures and its subsidiary, Touchstone. Hanks, currently starring in "Dragnet," made his major film debut in "Splash" for Touchstone in 1984. Since then he has starred in "Nothing In Common," "The Money Pit," "Volunteers" and "Bachelor Party."

Fox Network's Bright Light

VIDEOT

Guy MacMillin

You might have wondered if we really needed another TV network. After all, we already had three, all pumping out nearly identical stuff.

But Rupert Murdoch wanted his own network, and he gets what he wants. It's called Fox, and it's on the air Saturday and Sunday evenings.

Does Fox offer anything the other networks don't? Well, one of its shows is superb, and a few others are at least bizarre.

Consider the comedies. The strangest is Sunday's "Married With Children." We hear a lot these days, from certain puffed-up politicians and religious leaders, about the sanctity of the family and the delights of family life. Here's the other side, a show about an absolutely awful couple with two atrocious children. The husband's bored. The wife has a terminal case of cynicism. The kids stop by for purposes of allowances only. What fun.

Then comes "Duet," one of two bland Fox sitcoms about yuppie love. Shows about yuppies are thought to attract yuppie viewers who enjoy buying sponsors' products. (Incidentally, Fox has only a few advertisers, so the same commercials keep coming up from show to show, as if to say: Why haven't you brought some Kraft cheese slices or Chex Snack Mix? We've told you 10 times!)

"Duet" is about Laura and Ben, two confused lovers who are constantly being advised by eccentric friends.

The other yuppie show, Saturday night's "Karen's Story," stars Patty Duke as Karen, a 40-year-old woman who dates Steven, who is in his 20s. Karen, too, has a friend to advise her.

The most interesting thing about these shows is the fact that both Laura of "Duet" and Steven of "Karen's Story" are caterers. Somebody ought to fix them up; it might make an interesting show.

Sunday night's "Mr. President" is another odd piece of work. George C. Scott brings his considerable talent to bear on awfully thin material. The show is reminiscent of bad summer theater; you know, where the owner spent a ton of money getting one big star and then couldn't afford the rights to a decent play.

Let's get to the good stuff. I'll skip two other comedies — "The New Adventures of Beans Baxter" and "Down and Out in Beverly Hills" — and I suggest you do, too.

The real spark in the Fox schedule is Sunday night's "Tracey Ullman Show." Don't miss this one. Ullman, previously known as a pop singer with one good album, turns out to be a really fine comedian. And, after a shaky start, her writers have recently been providing her with uncommonly good scripts.

If the Fox Network needed a reason to exist, Ullman's show will do for now.

ANOTHER WORLD

Mitch was surprised when his half-brother, Sam Fowler, showed up on his doorstep. Rachel and Mac were furious with their daughter, Amanda, who was in Bay City for hours before she arrived at their home. Vince reacted with intense anger when M.J. leveled with him that she had worked as a hooker. Mary warned M.J. that Vince will go after Chad once he learns that M.J. was one of Chad's "girls" when she was hooking. Photos were taken of John and Donna, who can't resist each other. Vicky warned Reginald not to interfere in her life anymore. Matthew is upset that he can't get a second glance from Suzy, a schoolmate that he's smitten with. Mitch and Felicia tried to help Sam find gainful employment. Diane warned Vince that she doesn't think his reunion with Mary will work out. Donna joined Michael, who was on an out-of-town business trip, then told him that she wants to have a baby.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Frankie rescued Jennifer from Nick's teen hooker ring, but she is worried that she wasn't able to find their missing friend, Sasha. After Jack was rushed to the hospital, Patch learned that Jack has cancer. Neil and Grace shared a tender kiss. Tom told Mike that Mike's father, Bill

Horton, is taking over Robin's former job as chief of surgery at Salem Hospital. Harper, who recognized Jo, warned her to keep mum that she's Jack's (Billy) real mother. Abe was wounded by an armed thug when his new police partner, Lexie, didn't get to him in time to prevent the shooting. Eve stole a photo of Emma from Shane. Patch decided not to propose marriage to Kayla after he learned how much Jack (Billy) loves her. Adrienne admitted to Justin that she accepted money from Victor, then insisted that her romance with Justin is over for good. Nick paid Eve's bail after she was arrested on shoplifting charges.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Robert, Anna and Robin returned to Port Charles, narrowly sidestepping a hit man that Elena sent to Paris to kill them. When the leader of the DVX was found murdered, Robert realized that someone other than DVX agents are trying to murder Robert's WSB comrades. Tony suddenly realized that he's physically attracted to Lucy, but so far they've only shared a kiss. Simone was jealous when she saw Tom and Camilla out on the town together. Dusty assured Terry that he has no romantic feelings for Elena. Elena arranged another hit on Anna. Robert and Sean, Amy took a shine to Patrick, who took her out on a date after she was dumped by her latest beau. Bobbi is worried about her handicapped friend, Martha, who isn't feeling well. Martha's daughter, Melissa, rebuffed Corey's attempt to be friendly. Tiffany and Alan are plotting against HTI owner, Von Shuler.

Are Barbara And Merv Really Mr. & Mrs?

Dear Dick: Is Barbara Walters presently married to Merv Griffin? — G.R.B., Kalamazoo, Mich.

Dear G.R.B.: No, but this is another case of the names being close. Barbara is married to Merv Adelson, not Merv Griffin.

Dear Dick: Please settle a bet for me and my husband. I say the actress who played in the movie "Flashdance" is not the same one who danced in the movie. My husband insists they are the same. Please help. — T.A., Huffman, Texas.

Dear T.A.: Another wife wins. Jennifer Beals was the star of that film. After it was released, it became known that she had not done the real dancing. That lithe lady was Marine Jahan.

Dear Dick: My husband and I have a bet going on this question: he says the Leo G. Carroll who played "Topper" is the same person who played Pancho in "The Cisco Kid" movies. I say no. Who is right? — G.C., Port St. Lucie, Fla.

Dear G.C.: You win. But I can understand the confusion. The names are similar. Leo Carrillo, an American of Mexican descent, was Pancho. Leo G. Carroll, an English actor, was Topper; he also was Mr. Waverly on "The Man From U.N.C.L.E."

Dear Dick: I have a bet with my family on this. I say the Monkees made a movie, but my family does not think so. Can you settle this for me? And, if they made a movie, is it available on video cassette? — B.N., Pasadena, Texas.

Dear B.N.: Yes, the Monkees made a movie, and a pretty good one. It was called "Head," and came out in 1969. According to my lists, it is not available on cassette.

Dear Dick: Please help settle an argument. Is the actress who plays Sandy, on the show "Throb," the same person who played Maude's daughter on "Maude"? If not, what else did she play in? — C.B., Moncton, N.B., Canada.

Dear C.B.: No, two different ladies. Adrienne Barbeau was Carol, Maude's daughter. Diana Canova is Sandy. Diana has had a few sitcoms of her own before this — "I'm a Big Girl Now," "Foot In the Door" and "Soap."

Dear Dick: My favorite television show is "Murder, She Wrote." And, being a piano player, I would love to know what the name of the theme song is. I have taped the portion of the introduction and learned it by ear, but would love to get the music to learn the entire song. Can you help? — D.T., Temple, Texas.

Dear D.T.: Not much. The problem is that it has not been published, so no sheet music is available. That theme — and it is a good one — was written for the show by John Addison, and he won an Emmy for it. But that doesn't help you, and there is no help available — it simply isn't in any form you can acquire it. It has no title, either.

Dear Dick: Our family watched a program on TV called "The Young Rebels," in which a young black actor played a part. My two daughters maintain he is Lou Gossett wearing a wig, while my son and I say they are mistaken. Please settle this argument for us once and for all. — T.M., Reading, Pa.

Dear T.M.: It was Lou all right. That series was made back in 1970, and a lot of aging has gone over the dam, but that was Gossett as Isak Poole on that show.

Dear Dick: I'm looking for the name of a movie. It starred Alan Alda and a man and woman whose names I don't know. The man and woman rented a summer house from Alda, who played a war veteran who was mentally unstable and eventually held the couple prisoner and they feared for their lives. — M.A.M., Moncton, New Brunswick

Dear M.A.M.: That was a little gem called "To Kill a Clown," which was released in 1972. The couple was played by Blythe Danner and Heath Lambert.

Dear Dick: What was the name of the television show that starred Patty Duke as a lawyer and mother, Richard Crenna as her doctor husband, Billie Bird as the grandmother and Anthony Edwards as the son. And who was the actress who played her daughter? I saw her recently in the movie, "Girls Just Want to Have Fun." — L.B., Shelby, Mich.

Dear L.B.: That was "It Takes Two," and the actress in question is Helen Hunt.

GO GUIDE

Bleary-Eyed Critics Go Home

By Mark Schwed
UPI TV Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lazing in the lounge at poolside, chasing margaritas and sunsets, schmoozing with the stars and cruising with the powers of Hollywood — the life of a television critic is the good life, indeed.

About 140 of the nation's television writers gathered in Los Angeles and Redondo Beach, Calif., recently for the inside story on the new fall programs.

They were bombarded by visual images — an open heart surgery, more shots of the Challenger explosion, a live satellite news conference from Moscow, along with more sitcoms, more dramas and even more talk shows.

Stars, executive producers, network executives and publicists rolled out in magnum force to sell the new television shows that begin airing in September on the networks, cable, and independent stations.

There was a yacht ride, dinner and songs with Dolly Parton, cocktails with Raquel Welch, a press interview with Farrah Fawcett and lunch with gymnast Mary Lou Retton, who plugged the Olympics until she tore her tight skirt while posing for pictures.

Nearly all the critics donned Hawaiian shirts supplied by CBS to make Tom Selleck of "Magnum, P.I." feel right at home.

Sounds like a ball, right? Wrong, but this has nothing to do with the fact that those in attendance must return to their hometown newspapers and justify nearly $3,000 in expenses, including one $20 bill that was set aflame during a heated pool match.

After three weeks of non-stop 12-hour days featuring a never-ending variety of chicken entrees, it is now left to the critics to make sense of the new season.

First, the unforgettable programs.

At CBS, look for "Tour of Duty" about Vietnam and "Frank's Place" about folks in New Orleans.

From NBC, hunt for "Private Eye," "ThirtySomething" and "A Day in the Life."

At ABC, it's "Hooperman" and "The 'Slap' Maxwell Story."

At PBS, it's "Degraasi Junior High," and the absolutely wonderful "Trying Times," public television's first stab at prime-time American comedy, and the most outstanding program unveiled during the three-week tour.

Remakes are making a comeback. "Star Trek" is back with a new generation and "Bonanza" hits the trail again. Even "Eight Is Enough" hasn't had enough.

Now, the forgettable. As usual, the bulk of new programs fall into this category. After a day, they are nothing more than a blur.

Leading the pap pack is a program that has the best time slot on television this fall, NBC's "A Different World," a spinoff of the top-rated "The Cosby Show," starring Lisa Bonet and airing immediately after Cosby on Thursday night.

The show is a dog and that's too kind an assessment. Bonet can't speak, much less act. The kid from the perfect Cosby family has turned into a parent's nightmare. She bounces checks, lies and flunks her courses at college. Cosby makes a couple appearances when she calls home.

NBC recognizes that the show is in trouble. Already a new executive producer, Ann Beatts of "Saturday Night Live" and "Square Pegs," has been brought in to straighten out the mess.

The big bomb at CBS is "Everything's Relative," another show about two bachelors. Bachelor shows are big this year, three in all, including one that features two bachelors with one kid.

Then there's ABC's "Full

House," about a widower and a comic brother-in-law raising three "lively" young girls. This full house couldn't beat a busted flush.

But syndicators get the credit for the biggest turkeys on the tube.

First there's "Fan Club," where fans ask probing questions of their idols such as, "Why are you so wonderful?" Some stars, like Chicago Bears quarterback Jim McMahon, get to ask their own questions and then answer them.

"Why are you so wonderful, Jim?" Jim asked. "Just because," Jim answered. He also plugs his sunglasses.

Perhaps the worst syndicated stinkbomb is "The Rita Davenport Show." Davenport used to give motivational seminars to corporate types. You know the kind: "You can succeed. You can be wonderful. You can live a good life."

Now she's doing the same on a talk show. Her resume: she has been married 22 years and has two kids. Who could be more qualified?

So, for the next few weeks before the fall TV season, all those television critics who sat through three weeks of drama and drivel will be filling you in on the new shows. If they can remember what they saw, stay tuned.

'Godspell', a musical for the whole family based on the Gospel of Matthew, will be presented Aug. 14-16, Ice House Theatre, 1100 N. Unser St., Mount Dora. Friday and Saturday performances, 8 p.m.; Sunday matinee, 2:30 p.m. For reservations call (904) 383-4616.

Barbershop
Hawaiian-Style will be presented at 2 p.m., Aug. 16, Maitland Civic Center. Proceeds will benefit "Classified". Sweet Adeline semifinalists representing Region 9 at the International competition in Hawaii this fall. Classified will be joined by "The Sidekicks", men's international finalists, and quartets from Miami and West Palm Beach. Cash bar.

Laser Magic, a totally new type of laser-light show, will be held at John Young Planetarium at the Orlando Science Center at 810 E. Rollins St., 6 p.m., throughout the summer for the whole family. Admission price includes general admission to the OSC and special displays including Gary Larson's Farside of Science Exhibit.

Singout Barbecue will be hosted by Orlando Chapter of the Society of Barbershoppers on Aug. 22 at 2 p.m. at Melody Manor, 813 Montana St., Orlando. Barbershop Quartets will compete and there will be an activity tent for children. A nominal fee of $2 per person or $5 per family. For more information call Ken Bragg at 894-4956.

Cosmic Concert featuring the best of heavy metal group AC/DC, 9 and 10 p.m., Friday and Saturday nights through Aug. 29 at John Young Planetarium, Orlando Science Center, 810 E. Rollins St., Orlando. The 11 p.m. concert will be "U2." Admission $3 per person per show.

Multi-dimensional art exhibit, "You Can't Get There From Here" featuring work of local artists, Jane Porter, John Wesley Williams and Pam Coffman, Creative Art Gallery, 345 Maitland Ave., Maitland, through August 16, Tuesday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Sunday, 1-4 p.m.

1987 Member's Juried Exhibition at Maitland Art Center, July 26 through Aug. 16 featuring 45 area artists.
