

Europeans Have Completed Cycle Since Versailles

Nations Return To Teetering Balance Of Hectic '14 Days

A tip from the international experts: Don't spend too much time trying to read between the lines of all this diplomatic double-talk coming out of high places in Europe.

The experts identify most of this ambiguous material as mere formulae—the stuff used by a statesman to bluff the other fellow, or to impress his own people. In whatever camp, a statesman must have a "just cause" for his people. The national excitement must emerge from the diplomatic lists unblatantly. The blame for a holocaust must rest on the other nation.

Regardless of what happens from day to day, the fundamental fact to keep in front of you when you read war headlines is this one:

Troubled Europe finally has completed the post-war cycle that began with the treaty of Versailles. This means she has returned to the same old balance of power that teetered back and forth until it dumped the world into war in 1914.

Each speech, each ultimatum, each mysterious piece of double-talk dispensed from the foreign offices of the continent actually defines more sharply the delicate system of weights on each end of the seesaw, only it rarely shows on the surface.

In this corner is the same triple entente of central powers headed by Germany. It is buttressed by Italy and Hungary with a train of lesser European states willing to bet their chips on the German push to the East—the old "Drang nach Osten" dreamed up by the Kaiser.

In the other corner is the Franco-British entente of 1914, supported by Russia and another train of European states so disposed on the map that they must attach themselves to the allies, or Western powers.

Broadly, in 1914, it was a German discipline against the comparatively unready, but wealthier democracies. So it is today. Twenty-four years ago Germany was dreaming of welding eastern Europe and Turkey into a great Teutonic zone of influence. Now Hitler hopes for ascending power and prestige in the Balkans.

Specifically, in 1914, the immediate cause of trouble was the shooting of German-dominated Austria's heir to the throne while visiting in the Balkans. Today's crisis hinges on the asserted persecution of Germans in the near-Balkan state of Czechoslovakia.

Pre-war Austria branded the murder of Archduke Ferdinand a Serbian plot and sent an ultimatum. Post-war Hitler brands Czechoslovakia's President Benes as a criminal plotter and demands in an ultimatum the cession of

THE BLIND MAN WHO SAW...
"My soul is full of whisped song,
By blindness is my sight;
The shadows that I feared so long
Are full of life and light."

These inspirational words penned by Alice Cary well express the amazing life and career of James Holman, an English naval officer who turned to writing travel description books after he had lost his eyesight.

Born in the year 1766, Holman became a lieutenant in the Royal Navy. Unfortunately, he lost his sight at 25 while in service off the coast of Africa. At this point Holman was forced to readjust his whole life and career.

Holman began traveling and visited France, Italy, Russia, Siberia, Poland, Austria, Saxony, Prussia, and Hanover. There he saw, through the words of others, beautiful land exotic lands and people of which he could write.

On later voyages made alone, Holman visited nearly every country in the world, and wrote fluently of each. His travel books were long in popular de-

WILLIAM PENN JAILED...
A good Quaker was William Penn, whose religious belief would not permit him to recognize any loyalty by acts of subservience.

Accordingly, Penn was arrested and jailed in 1670—for refusing to doff his hat in the presence of royalty. Under the Conventicle Acts he was tried, conducting his own trial, and was found not guilty on grounds of an illegal indictment.

INSURANCE RACKET

ALBANY, Ga.—(A)—Fourteen men, including the chairman of the Hancock County Democratic Committee and a prominent physician, yesterday were charged operating an insurance racket by the Federal government with based upon securing life policies on persons suffering from incurable diseases.

The parallel can be drawn, detail for detail, on down the line of changing conditions and new political ideas in the world today also reflect few differences in the line-up of Europe's nations that may prove of great importance.

The post-war ideologies of fascism, nazism and communism have never been subjected to the fire-test of serious warfare. To date minor conquests and unending boasts have marked their relations with other powers. Internally, however, they seem to have developed the ability to get things done fast and efficiently. Have they stamina? That remains to be seen.

Too, one important country whose weight went with Germany in the World War is on the other side of the scales now. Turkey has announced her friendship for the British after a huge loan from London found its way to Ankara. And Poland, the apparent ally of Germany today, was non-existent as a nation in 1914—a battleground between Germany and Russia.

Typical English Girl Might Not Be A Britisher

LONDON, Oct. 7.—(A)—The Women's Air Raids Precaution Organization found itself in a pickle the other day.

The job of the Women's Voluntary Services for A. R. P., as it is officially known, is to recruit women workers for the various services which will function during air raids.

To spur recruiting it flooded the country with a prize-winning poster bearing a girl's head under the admonition "ARP Looks To You."

This was the typical English girl. This was the girl for whom Tommy Atkins would shoulder a machine gun.

The poster had been selected after a nationwide campaign with a tremendous build-up.

Suddenly—as Britain drew closer to war with Germany than at any other time since 1914—there came the awful whisper that perhaps the girls wasn't British. Perhaps she was GERMAN!

Immediately the posters were called in and a frantic search begun for a substitute girl about whose nationality there would be no doubt.

Officials culled through 2,000 photographs before they found what they wanted. They didn't disclose the other girl's name. But they did the new one's.

They outlined her history from A to Z. They were making no mistake this time. They wanted the world to know that Miss Barbara Kershaw came from Yorkshire, England (the home county, incidentally of Anthony Eden and Lord Halifax) and that she is "typically British with hair that is not too dark and not too light, blue eyes, and an open, direct expression."

Miss Kershaw is a 25-year-old mannequin now working in a London fashion house. Some old fuss budgets didn't think that makeup and brightly tinted fingernails went with the typical British girl. But officials replied that her face is basically very British—"whatever she may do to it superficially."

"She is essentially a sensible type of girl," they went on. "Also, she is not too provocative."

Cloud Speaks On The 'Gateway To Heaven'

"Man is born a sinner, and he cannot save himself. There must be a new nature, and that nature must come from above," Stephen L. Cloud, young evangelist, told his listeners at the Full Gospel Tabernacle on the Orlando road last night.

"It will take something more than a change of environment, church membership, water baptism, or good works, to get man into heaven. There must be that inexplicable, mysterious operation of the Holy Spirit on the human heart known as the 'new birth.' It is as the Lord Jesus told Nicodemus, who came by night inquiring the way of eternal life: 'Ye must be born again.'"

The youthful Cloud spoke on "The Gateway to Heaven." Tonight his subject will be, "The Devil's Barber Shop."

It was announced last night there will be three services at Full Gospel Tabernacle Sunday—at 11:00 A. M., 3:00 P. M. and 7:45 P. M., with revivalist preaching at all three meetings. There will be an old-fashioned basket dinner on the grounds.

Evangelist Cloud spoke today at chapel services in the Green and Enterprise schools.

Nominated For Clerk; Wants To Be Constable

ARKANSAS CITY, Kans., Oct. 7.—(A)—Rarity among candidates is George Ray, Democratic nominee for clerk of the city court.

He doesn't want the job he's seeking.

George won the nomination before he discovered it was for the wrong office. He wanted to be constable.

The Democratic county committee declined to permit Ray to withdraw and his only hope is that his friends will give him a write in vote for the constable's job.

THE HEAD OF WARNING

(From The Lantern)

While in the yard the branches of events

As we get it, there are some people opposed to the hospital not because their taxes are too high but because other people's are too low.

Most Britishers do not seem to be particularly worried because Chamberlain sold out Czechoslovakia, they're afraid he sold out the British Empire.

Correct marketing is 60 percent of the job with a farmer—Times-Union. The other 40 percent no doubt is proper plowing under.

One thing about this $30 every Thursday, it's mighty nice to get $30 every Thursday, if you don't have to pay through the nose for it every Friday, Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Haywood Brown, the well known newspaper communist, suggests to President Roosevelt that he appoint a commission to investigate labor conditions in this country. That's a good way to get nothing done.

Chamberlain got a vote of confidence in the House of Commons on his "peace for our times" policy, but the speeding up of the British rearmament program indicates that some of the members of Parliament had their fingers crossed.

On September 30, according to a Treasury statement, there was held exactly $6,621,972,228 in currency and coin outstanding in the United States, including all that is in the banks, and in the old socks under the mattresses, or just about $50 per person.

W. E. DuPre, back from Jacksonville where he underwent two major operations at the St. Vincent's Hospital, urges local freeholders to vote for the proposed Seminole County hospital. Mr. DuPre is one of scores who have found it necessary to go elsewhere for operations or treatments because of inadequate accommodations, or lack of facilities at the present hospital. Mr. DuPre properly regrets the inconvenience of having to go out of town, as well as the annual loss of thousands of dollars suffered by the community because of the failure to provide suitable accommodations here.

Foreign Spies

Good old Uncle Sam, who has always felt that if he was kind to everyone he would always be treated with proper respect and consideration, is beginning to find that the guests he invited into his parlor are pilfering his pantry. The old gentleman has been so sure of his strength and his resources that he has never once suspected that his enemies could do him any harm, even if he had any.

Now he has suddenly discovered, as a result of the investigation of the Dies un-American Activities Committee, that his house has been literally infested with spies as destructive as termites and overrun with bugs as bad as bedbugs. Now that he has been made aware of the type of guests he has been entertaining, it is to be hoped that he will be sweep the whole bunch, kit and boodle, right out of his house.

The Committee reveals that Russia alone has employed over ten thousand spies in this country. It has been known for some time that the Communist Internationale, with headquarters in Moscow, has maintained an elaborate espionage service which has operated in this country through the so-called Communist Party in an endeavor to organize discontented elements of our population and gain political favor. In the ranks of the unemployed they have found a fertile field in which to work.

During the past few years other foreign "isms" have gotten busy. The Nazis have organized that German-American Bund which claims over three million members, and the Fascists have formed similar organizations which have sought to enlist the aid of every Italian in his country as well as Italian sympathizers. It is reported that a number of American industrialists, fearful of the inroads of communists, have helped to finance these Fascist organizations.

It was the growth of just such organizations as these diametrically opposed political philosophies of the extreme right and left which produced the civil war in Spain. It was to stop the spread of communism that the Fascist revolution gained support in Italy. A similar movement in Germany gave Hitler his chance. Wherever one of these political extremes has made its appearance in any country, the other extreme has arisen to meet it.

America should have nothing to do with either one of them. They are as foreign to us as the people who invented them. Good old fashioned American democracy is what made this country and that is what will keep it going. If we get sidetracked on a lot of alien bums unsuited to the temperament of our people, we will only regret it.

Let Uncle Sam drive out the foreign spies. Let him crack down on the propaganda agents of all foreign "isms."

Conserving Forest Resources

As next week has been set aside by the President as Fire Prevention Week, we are glad to call attention to a recent report of Joseph C. Kircher of the U. S. Forest Service which shows that the prosperity of the South in the years immediately ahead is directly bound up with the conservation and wise use of its forest resources.

With the expansion of timber using industries, Mr. Kircher states, it is necessary that everything possible be done to insure adequate permanent timber supplies. The first step in this direction, he says, is to stop the tremendous waste of present and potential timber by fire, which kills and injures trees before they can serve a useful purpose.

Figures show that during the calendar year 1936 600,000 acres of woodlands in the Southern States from the Carolinas to Texas, resulting in an estimated total loss of about $42,000,000, which does not include the tremendous intangible losses which always follow forest fires.

As a tremendous indictment against man's carelessness and indifference, the records show that 90 percent of all forest fires are man-caused. As evidence of the value of protection measures, less than two million acres of the entire 40 million burned over were in areas receiving organized protection.

State and federal foresters and other organized agencies are uniting in an effort to enlist the co-operation of all the people of the nation to prevent this wanton destruction of public wealth. Due to this effort, there are now in the Southern Region more than 85,000,000 acres of forest land under organized protection through the co-operation of the forestry commissions of the Southern States and all federal protection agencies.

Mr. Kircher says that this is an increase of about 34 million acres since 1933. "The timber conserved through this plan is a contribution toward the establishment of permanent industries in the South," he says. "The commercial value of southern forests will increase steadily and every loyal citizen should do his utmost to prevent woods fires from any and every cause."

A new conflict between the Vatican and the Italian government appeared to be brewing as a result of the Fascist grand council's sweeping anti-Jewish decrees, particularly the ban on mixed marriages.

Vatican protests forecast the possibility of a controversy, and the Osservatore Romano, official organ of the Holy See, protested emphatically but with reserve against the marriage decrees which affect not only Jews but Italian Gentiles.

It appeared that the measures expelling Jews from Italy would apply, unless revised, to about 200 American Jews, most of whom represent foreign business firms in Italy. United States Ambassador William Phillips intervened on the behalf of these Jews yesterday with Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano.

Chief Cleveland Announces Fire Prevention Week

leasiness of some kind. If we can impress on the citizens the dangers of fire, we should feel that we are rendering a real service to the community. We are always ready, of course, to fight fires that break out, but we feel we are doing a much better job if we can help folks to prevent fires from starting.

The best time to fight a fire, he pointed out, is before it starts. Even a small fire in a residence or business home may cause a large loss or destroy some possession that is not valued in money alone. Worse, it may cause death of a loved one.

Some of the common causes, the Chief pointed out, are faulty wiring, careless smoking and use of matches, defective heating appliances, use of inflammable liquids for cleaning and failure to remove papers and rubbish from the premises.

"The Fire Department," the Chief concluded, "is anxious to do everything possible to help make the city fire safe. If any one is not sure about the hazards in his home or place of business, we should be glad to come around and make an examination and recommend the necessary corrections."

Celery Feds Defeat Lake City 6 To 0 For Second Win

Williams Makes Lone Tally; Ferguson Makes Most Yards

Excellent Defense Big Factor In Victory Of Locals Over Strong Foe; Ganas Turns In Good Game.

By JULIAN STENSTROM
Herald Sports Editor
Playing heads up ball through out the evening, the Seminoles High School Celery Feds won their second tilt in as many weeks when they conquered the strong Lake City Tigers last night at the high school field by a score of 6 to 0.
The Melrose machine outplayed its opponent in nearly every department and the Seminoles defensive worked so well it can hardly be improved for next week's battle with the Daytona Beach Buccaneers.
Red Williams took the spotlight in the first period for the Celery Feds when he scored the only tally of the game after a 15-yard pass from the Lake City six yard line on the first period for 10:15. Only tally of the game after this fell Ferguson and Fred Ganas. Ferguson missed the placement kick for the conversion and the Celery Feds went approximately six yards.
The Celery Feds also played an offensive game throughout the second half but were unable to get in a scoring position. The Celery Feds never at any time during the game got within ten yards of the goal line until the final play of the game when George Hill passed to Waters, who was tackled in the Seminoles 13 yard line.

Lyman Greyhounds Tounce Mt. Dora By 12 To 6 Score

But Entzminger Is Hero As He Chalks Up 10th Touchdown

By J. R. WILLIAMS
The Lyman Greyhounds tounded the Mt. Dora football team by a score of 12 to 6 in a game played last night at the Lyman High School field. Entzminger, the Greyhound quarterback, was the hero of the game as he scored the 10th touchdown of his career. The Greyhounds' defense was excellent, holding the Mt. Dora team to a total of only 6 points. The game was a hard-fought affair, with both teams playing to the hilt. The Greyhounds' offense was the key to their victory, with Entzminger's leadership and the team's overall coordination. The Mt. Dora team showed some promise but was unable to overcome the Greyhounds' defensive efforts.

Sanford Theater News for the Coming Week

"THREE LOVES HAS NANCY" brings together three of the screens most talented stars in a gay and sparkling piece of entertainment, coming to the Ritz Sunday and Monday. The supporting feature is The March of Time.

Montgomery, Gaynor And Tone Co-Star In Triple Romance

Smartly dialogued, brimming with laughs, and offering finished and believable characterizations by such stellar performers as Janet Gaynor, Robert Montgomery and Franchot Tone, "Three Loves Has Nancy" opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre as one of the most refreshing and original romantic comedies seen here in some time.

The story is that of a flippant novelist who gets into difficulties with a Broadway actress. In an endeavor to escape the overtures of the too eager admirer, he persuades his publisher to send him on a lecture tour of the South. Here he meets Nancy, a small-town girl. Casually inviting her to seek his help should he ever get into trouble in New York, he forgets all about her, only to find her waiting at the penthouse apartment he shares with his friend the publisher, upon his return.

PROGRAM FOR WEEK OF OCT. 9, 1938 AT THE RITZ

Sunday, Oct. 9, Monday, Oct. 10—Janet Gaynor, Robert Montgomery, "THREE LOVES HAS NANCY" Also March of Time.
Tuesday, Oct. 11, Wednesday, Oct. 12—Margaret Lindsay, Pat O'Brien, "GARDEN OF THE MOON." Glenda Farrell, Randolph Scott, "ROAD TO RENO."
Thursday, Oct. 13—Paul Kelly, Rita Hayworth, "JUVENILE COURT." Encores Showing, "THE COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO." Also "THE MAGIC EYE."
Friday, Oct. 14, Saturday, Oct. 15—The Ritz Brothers, "STRAIGHT, PLACE AND SHOW." George O'Brien, "BORDER G MEN."
AT THE PRINCESS
Sunday, October 9—"THE HIGGINS FAMILY." Also "COURAGE OF THE WEST."
Saturday, Oct. 15—"FUGITIVES FOR A NIGHT." Also "RAW TIMBER."

Captivating Melody And Laughervating Mirth "Swing" Hit

Compounded of equal parts of comedy, romance and music—the best formula ever devised for thoroughly enjoyable screen entertainment—"Garden of the Moon," the Warner Bros. production based on the Saturday Evening Post story of the same name, comes to the Ritz Theatre next Tuesday.

Heading an impressive list of entertainers, whose joint efforts are guaranteed to make "Garden of the Moon" one of the most diverting films to come from Hollywood in many months are Pat O'Brien, Margaret Lindsay and John Payne.

They are mentioned first, however, only because they are the most important figures in the story—and this is a musical with a real story.

ALL YOU "jitter-bugs" and "ickies" gather around for one of the most entertaining and successful applications of swing yet produced. "Garden of the Moon," a movie quiz picture comes to the Ritz Tuesday and Wednesday.

Robert Donat and Elissa Landi Relive Dumas Epic

With gold at a premium and the world's attention drawn as never before to fantastic quests for buried treasure, the fictional adventures of Edmond Dantes who found fabulous wealth on a deserted island in Alexandre Dumas' immortal romance, "The Count of Monte Cristo," seem less strange and mythical than ever before.

SEE IF you can tell which RITZ is which (and which is the horse) in this scene from Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show" coming to the Ritz Friday and Saturday.

GEORGE O'BRIEN dancing with Rita LaRoy in "Border G-Man" is the object of Lorraine Johnson's jealousy. In this fast acting tale of a government agent's efforts to clean up a smuggling ring on the Texas gulf coast O'Brien finds himself in love with Miss Johnson, but is forced to make her believe he is a member of the gang. It is billed for Friday and Saturday with "Straight Place and Show."

The Three Wits—The Laff-Hit Ritzes In Riotous Hit At Ritz

Damon has those Ritzes on the Runyon! In other, and more sober, words, this means that the daffy Ritz Brothers are starred in Damon Runyon's "Straight, Place and Show," which opens Friday at the Ritz Theatre.

The film shows the Ritzes off (as usual) to the races, where they buy horses, sell horses, rent horses, steal horses—in fact they're a little hoarse themselves before the story reaches its 149th, and final, climax of laughter.

GLEENDA FARRELL, Randolph Scott and the grand opera singer, Hope Hampton form a gay trio in "The Road to Reno." This gay and tempestuous episode of the "city of broken hearts" comes to the Ritz Tuesday and Wednesday.

Special Trailer In Made For Star Horse

A trailer fit for a king, was built for a race horse at a motion picture studio. Out of fifty-seven animals tested at Hollywood Park in Inglewood for the role of race horse in "Stablemates," which starred Wallace Berry and Mickey Rooney, is on tonight and Saturday at the Ritz Theatre, a three-year-old mare, Maiden Brave, was picked.

High Tribunal Refuses Appeal Of T. J. Mooney

Supreme Court Takes Action On Approx. 300 Petitions For Reviews

Ford Contention Is Given Support

Labor Board Granted Review Of Ruling On Status Of Strikers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The Supreme Court refused today to review Thomas J. Mooney's latest appeal for release from San Quentin penitentiary. Mooney is serving a life sentence for complicity in the 1916 Preparedness Day bombing in San Francisco. The refusal means the high court declined to interfere with a decision against Mooney by the California Supreme Court.

The Mooney action was one of approximately 300 petitions for review upon which the court acted today.

The Ford Motor Company obtained a review of its contention that the National Labor Relations Board should not be allowed to withdraw litigation involving an order directed against the automobile concern.

The court also agreed to review a ruling by the Labor Board that men who strike in connection with a labor dispute retain the status of employees even though under contract not to strike.

The court refused to review the conviction of Anna Marie Hahn of Cincinnati, under sentence to die for the poison slaying of Jacob Wagner, and refused to interfere with the convictions of Charles (Lucky) Luciano and five others sentenced to long terms as members of New York City vice ring.

Sharon Qualifies To Run For City Commission Seat

James G. Sharon, Jr., today qualified as a candidate for the post of City Commissioner in Group One, the group in which H. James Gut and C. H. Dickerson have already announced to succeed W. B. Dupree whose term of office expires on Jan. 1.

Born in Madison, Fla., Mr. Sharon came to Sanford with his father the former county judge, James G. Sharon. He is a graduate of Leon High School and finished work on his college degree in the Class of 1927 at the University of Florida.

While declining to make any promises Mr. Sharon declared he was in favor of the utmost cooperation in the City government and also that he favors progressiveness and will work for greater prosperity in the city.

Mr. Sharon has been practicing law here since his graduation from college, except for the 2 1/2 years in which he was connected with the legal department of the Columbia Land Bank.

He is a member of the Baptist Church and also of the local Elks Lodge.

"HOPPIN' MAD"

Senator Ellison DuRant Smith of South Carolina was "hoppin' mad" when this picture was taken at Washington shortly after his request for a conference between President Roosevelt and a group of southern senators was refused. Although the White House insisted "Cotton Ed," who recently was renominated despite vigorous Roosevelt opposition, was just too late in asking an appointment, Senator Smith saw a direct snub, complained angrily. Senator Smith is spokesman for senators and farm representatives seeking an increase in the cotton loan rate from 50 a pound to more than 11 cents.

"Ezekiel Travels" Brings New Laurels To Mrs. Garner

It's a busy year for Ezekiel as he goes places and sees things in Mrs. Elvira Garner's newest book on the adventures of a "hill" child boy who lives away down in Sanford, Florida.

"Ezekiel Travels," is the name of the new book and it again brings to life all the characters of the first chronicle which brought national fame to Mrs. Garner as an author of children's books.

Those who have read the new book declare that the story of Ezekiel's trip to Silver Springs and New Smyrna, his being caught in a hurricane, and his turtle egg hunt are more intriguing and more interesting than the stories told in the first book.

New Deal's Wage And Hour Law To Become Effective On Oct. 24

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The new deal's most ambitious attempt to stabilize and improve working conditions since the death of NRA becomes effective Oct. 24.

It is the new wage-hour law officially known as the fair labor standards act of 1938, and administered by a mild-mannered, former civil engineer, Elmer F. Andrews, who has the greatest power of any federal administrator since Hugh S. Johnson ruled NRA.

Not even the wage-hour division is exactly sure what industries will be covered by the new statute which was enacted after a lengthy congressional battle, but officials say that "in a general way" the statute applies to the following:

1. Employees engaged in producing, manufacturing, mining, handling, transporting or in any manner working on goods moving in interstate commerce.
2. Employees engaged in any process or occupation necessary to the production of such goods.
3. Employees engaged in interstate transportation, transmission or communication. It does not however apply to farmers, or employees of airlines, street car, motorbus, interurban railroads. The hour provisions do not ap-

Amendments To Labor Act Sought By AFL

Leaders Ordered To Oppose President's Re-Appointment Of Wakefield To Board

HOUSTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor called for congressional amendments of the Wagner Labor Act today and ordered its leadership to oppose Senate confirmation of President Roosevelt's re-appointment of Donald Wakefield to the Labor Board.

With a dissenting vote or confessional debate, the delegates approved the resolutions Committee reports calling for amendments in the Labor law to strip discretionary power of the Board.

This convention action followed a scathing attack on the Board by President William Green who said the Federation wanted only a "square deal" and was not opposing an antagonizing President Roosevelt by assailing both his appointee to the Board and the Board's policies.

Informed labor men predicted yesterday the Federation convention would have a blistering attack on CIO "dualism and secession" instead of labor peace concessions when it reconvened today for its final week of voting and debating.

The attack, they said, will be contained in a report from the policy-making resolutions committee. It will open the way for debate on the federation's attitude toward labor peace and its frequently announced policy that the door to peace is always open.

Week end developments indicated that the leadership, despite strong pressure for immediate negotiations, would not go beyond the open door policy unless a convention opening should force a change in strategy.

A survey of union leaders and delegates failed to disclose any material opposition to the "open door" policy, or notable support for Daniel J. Tobin's urgent plea that the delegates instruct the convention officers to try to obtain immediately a settlement of labor's civil war.

German Rearming To Be Continued, Democracies Told

SAARBRUCKEN, Germany, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler yesterday warned the Western democracies who submitted to his annexation of the Czech Sudetenland that he still distrusts them and intends to keep on arming so that "no power in the world ever will break through our wall of defense."

Such British statesmen as Anthony Eden, Winston Churchill and Alfred Duff Cooper want to come into power, Hitler said, and "their aims would be to start a conflagration. . . This forces us to be on our guard."

He announced that Germany's western frontier fortifications will be extended along virtually the entire length of the French border.

Britain and France still are clinging to the principles of the Versailles treaty, which Germany has repudiated, and in Britain there is a "certain patronizing, supervisory attitude which we simply can not bear," Der Fuehrer added.

Fresh from his triumphal tour of the German-occupied Sudenten areas, Hitler flung his new warning to the Western powers in the setting of his first "bloodless" territorial conquest—the war-torn Saar mining basin which was restored to the Reich by a plebiscite in January, 1935.

He said the new Siegfried line of fortifications along the Rhine would be extended to the Saarbrücken and Aachen districts because the democracies "force us to be on our guard."

He warned, in the course of his 24-minute speech dedicating a new frontier theatre, that certain forces are at work in Great Britain and that if they came to power "their aim would be to start a conflagration."

McKee Addresses Rotary Club On New Organization

Sanford Is Urged To Seek Diversification Of Industries

W. C. McKee, president of the newly formed Business and Professional Men's Association, was the main speaker at the regular weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club today. Mr. McKee urged the members that one of the chief purposes of the new organization will be a campaign to bring new industries to Sanford.

Pointing out that there is a place in Sanford for such an organization as the Business and Professional Men's Association, since the Chamber of Commerce is a county wide organization, and it is necessary to have some group here which is devoted primarily to the development of Sanford, Mr. McKee, who was introduced by Dr. R. W. Ruprecht, chairman of the program committee, said that his organization was yet too young to have formulated a complete program.

However, he mentioned as a few of the things which he hoped to accomplish for Sanford the better advertising of celery, the better lighting of the downtown district, and the securing of the business of the dog track at Longwood. Ninety percent of the present business of the track, Mr. McKee said, now goes to Orlando.

Declaring that there would be no dues or initiation fees in the new organization, Mr. McKee said that anyone was welcome to join. "We are only interested in getting members who are eager to work for the city's growth and prosperity," Mr. McKee said.

Training Of Hunting Dogs In Woods Before Season Is Declared Illegal

It is said that all state conservation officers have strict orders to apprehend and prosecute any person found molesting game birds or game animals under penalty of training dogs.

Invitations To Owners Of Yachts Gets Prompt Reply

Wealthy New Yorker May Again Bring 85-Foot Boat Here

That the efforts of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in their attempt to attract wealthy owners to Sanford via the John's River are not unavailing is shown in the prompt reply to the trade body made by Arthur Curtis Jones, of New York who visited Sanford last year.

Mr. Jones, the world's individual holder of railroad stock, advised Chamber officials that prior to receiving the invitations to an yacht Sanford, he had not intended bringing his 85-foot yacht, "Lamar," down the St. Johns River, but intimated that it is now not unlikely that he will again visit this city sometime during the winter season.

Chamber officials have secured the names of numerous boat owners who visit Manatee and other local coast points during the winter months and daily are sending out invitations to them to visit this city.

The value of the proposed St. Johns Indian River canal in making a two-way waterway was mentioned by Chamber officials who declared that a large portion of the traffic follows the intra-coastal route which takes the inland route via the St. Johns.

Police Patrol Squares Where Anti-Catholic Riot Occurred

ROME, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Soviet aviator Charles A. Lindbergh was accused today of providing "Prose-Morale" for Neville Chamberlain with arguments for approval of Czechoslovakia whose German troops have completed occupation of all territory agreed upon by international negotiation.

In a column in the Communist newspaper Pravda, aviator Charles Lindbergh, who visited Berlin in August, is accused of spreading reports on the strength of the German air force, which is reported to be 100 planes, 100 bombers and 100 fighters.

The American aviator, August 1937, is reported to have been in a general statement in the House of Representatives on Oct. 10, last Thursday.

Edwin Winkler, editor-in-chief of a very prominent American aviator, is reported to have been "shocked" by Lindbergh's statements, which he had told Chamberlain that the German air force was superior to the Russian, British and French combined.

Mr. Lindbergh has made no statement on the reported reports published in London that he had criticized the Soviet air force. He and Mr. Lindbergh took off from London airport in Paris today, reportedly for Berlin, where an aviation conference begins Wednesday.

With much of the industrial area of Czechoslovakia occupied by German troops, German army officers predicted the title republic had but one chance to become a state of Berlin.
