

School Day Extension Plan Facing Battle

By LEONARD KRANSDORF
Herald Staff Writer

A proposal to keep kindergarten and first graders in Seminole County in school six hours a day instead of five is being opposed by teachers and parents.

The plan is proposed by School Superintendent William Layer who said it is designed to save the school district about $80,000 a year in transportation costs.

Keeping the kindergarten and first graders in school the additional hour would eliminate the need for school buses to return for other students after having dropped off the younger students.

Kindergartners and first graders now get out of school at 1:30 p.m., are bused to their drop-off points, and the buses return to the schools for the other children. Layer proposes all students stay until 2:30 p.m. so all can be bused simultaneously.

Parents and teachers claim the proposal is not in the best interest of the students.

To the parents and teachers it is a matter of an idea "that is based more on monetary thoughts rather than educational grounds," according to Sherry O'Leary, a first grade teacher at Lake Orienta elementary school.

According to Layer, "With the way transportation costs have skyrocketed in the past several years we have to look for some ways to save money in that area."

The two sides will air their differences next week in a meeting at the school board office.

"We feel like the enthusiasm will be drained from the student who has to go that extra hour," Mrs. O'Leary says. She adds that "four, five and six year olds have a very short attention span and having that extra hour would be more of a baby-sitting idea rather than an educational one."

Layer said he agreed with the concept expressed by the parents and teachers and noted that it was his idea to go to the shorter system. He notes though, "when idealism meets realism, something has to give."

Mrs. Jeanne Morris, past president of the Lake Orienta Parent Teachers Association, said she understands Layer's concern but believes there is another way. "I think a compromise may be that we keep children in the school who have to be bused there and dismiss the ones who are able to walk to school or whose parents pick them up," she said.

Layer said he will consider the idea but noted, "what may be beneficial to one group may also be beneficial to the other group."

The lone elementary school, Longwood Elementary, that still has a long day for all its students is comfortable with the system, according to its principal Mrs. Arleta Coberly.

Another opponent Mrs. Candy Nabell, a parent, said that the implementation will only result in a baby-sitting service. "The

FRIDAY: FIRST 'BYE TO MIDGE?

A conference committee, composed of members of the Florida House and Senate appropriations committees, is expected to give its approval Friday to the allocation of $50,000 in state money for the blind mosquito research program in Sanford, John Krider said today.

Krider, chairman of the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce task force on the midge, has led the effort to gain state funding to find an environmentally safe way of controlling the insect which has plagued the lakefront, businesses and homes in the Sanford lakefront area and 10 other counties in the state.

Krider said it is expected that the $50,000 appropriation will receive final approval from both houses of the legislature by next Wednesday.

The research program is to be conducted at the University of Florida research center on Celery Avenue in Sanford.

Krider said that in addition to the promised state funding, the University of Florida agriculture department has offered the use of personnel and equipment valued at $25,000 and the Seminole County Commission has allocated under the federally funded Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) $25,000 in salaries for three laboratory technicians for the program.

WINNERS & LOSERS

'Look For Prisoner Wearing A Yellow Shirt'

Operation Breakout Foiled By Combat-Trained Pilot

MARION, Ill. (UPI) — A helicopter pilot today said he wrestled a pistol from a woman hijacker while flying above the nation's chief maximum security prison and shot her to death to foil a daring escape planned by three inmates.

"We were all over the place — everywhere except upside down. I felt sure we were going to crash," Allan Barklage, 30, St. Louis, said.

The woman, identified by the FBI as Mrs. Barbara Annette Oswald, 43, Richmond Heights, Mo., planned to free three inmates from the recreation yard of the Marion federal penitentiary, which replaced Alcatraz as the lockup for the most dangerous federal offenders.

After Barklage shot Mrs. Oswald, he landed the helicopter outside the prison fence. The inmates waiting to be picked up near the fence looked toward the area where other prisoners had congregated but guards spotted them running and pitched them out of the crowd, prison officials said. The FBI would not immediately release the inmates' names.

"The bullet came out at the back of her head; she never got off a shot"

Barklage said Mrs. Oswald chartered the Bell 206B Jet Ranger with a $600 deposit at the Des Moines Heliport in St. Louis Wednesday afternoon, saying she wanted to fly to Cape Girardeau, Mo., to inspect flooded property.

About halfway through the flight, "she pulled a pistol and ripped out the headset so I couldn't communicate with anyone," said Barklage, the chief pilot and manager of Postaire Helicopter Co.

"She told me to fly east to the prison and land in the prison at a low level and come in about treetop height. She showed me a detailed map of the prison and who I should look for. She said I should look for a prisoner wearing a yellow shirt. She said that I would pick up three prisoners and then I would get further instructions."

"I told her that I wanted to get a better look at the prison and convinced her I should make a pass over at 2,500 feet. I convinced her that she would have to open the door because it would be difficult to get it open when we went in. She moved the gun from her right to her left hand to open the door and I noticed she had her finger on the trigger guard and not on the trigger. I grabbed her and got control of the gun."

But he said the woman told him, "I don't mind, I've got another one." As she started to raise up, I fired five times but I only know I hit her once, toward the ear," Barklage said. "The bullet came out at the back of her head. She never got off a shot."

Acting prison warden M.C. Lennon said the three inmates suspected of attempting to escape were in an "out of bounds" area of the prison yard, near the double fence that separates them from the outside world. They scurried to join the other inmates when the helicopter landed on the wrong side of the fence.

Two of the inmates were serving time for air piracy convictions and the third was convicted of bank robbery and flight from federal custody, Lennon said.

PAULINE MYERS-PENNEY'S MANAGER FOR A DAY

Women 'Take Over' Penney's On Friday For 'Ladies Day'

Women's liberation has raised its head. Or when the boss is away, the help will play. Maybe. Mrs. Myers has 17 years service with the J. C. Penney Co., with four years spent at the Sanford Plaza Store. About her manager-for-a-day role, Mrs. Myers said, "It's kind of exciting and it's something different." She said the store roles will be reversed—employees will become department heads, and department heads will become employees. On keeping with Farm-City Day, the clerks will wear country attire covered with aprons (both men and women). According to Mrs. Myers, when employees reach their quotas, the aprons may be removed. Several promotions have been planned for the day with contests and prizes within all departments.

Boyfriends For Everything; Chumps Should Know Score

DEAR ABBY: I am 28 years old, not married, and I work to support myself. I'm not bad looking and live a fairly normal, happy life, but I'm beginning to wonder if maybe I'm foolish to try to say I do.

Dear Abby

What I'm trying to say is, I have a girlfriend who works part-time — like maybe four afternoons a week. She has had three husbands, and now she's single again. She has boyfriends for everything. One pays her rent, another lets her drive his car, another painted and papered her whole house and she bragged that all she gave him was lunch and a few daughterly kisses. She sees the rent-payer on weekends, and she also has a truck driver staying with her of and on when he's in town. I have had a lot of time to think I never told my father I loved him, and I gave both my parents a hard time when they tried to guide me for my own good.

But you should see the way they handle our children! All rules and regulations laid down at home are out the window at the grandparents' house. The kids wine and beg until they get their own way. They talk back, and are fed soft drinks, candy and cookies — all they want at all hours. And they don't have to nap or do anything they don't want to do. I love my parents, Abby, but I wish they'd realize how tough they are making it for me when they do this. It's difficult for children of any age to tell their parents anything, so even though this is from Iowa, I hope you won't think it's too corny for your column.

CELEBRATION, IOWA
DEAR CEDAR RAPIDS: There's a kernel of truth in almost every corny letter. Let's hope your parents have ears, too. Good luck!

Good Weight Loss Gets Good Results

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a 51-year-old male. I have had high blood pressure since I was 18. At that time I weighed 145 pounds. Since then doctors have suggested I lose some more weight to lower my pressure. Since it was high originally at 145, now I didn't think they know what they are talking about. Since my mid-30s I have weighed between 190 and 200 pounds.

After my 51st birthday I went on a 1200-calorie diet and dropped from 205 to 163 pounds. My blood pressure dropped from 190 over 90 while taking three Ser-Ap-Es per day to 118 over 89 on two a day.

A number of friends have cautioned me against losing too much but I think I may continue as I still have some fat on my lower abdomen. As you often remark in your column, how much fat you have under your skin is more important than what the scale reads.

My waist measure has dropped from 46 to 36 inches but I'm disappointed by all the fat I still have in that area and the loose skin. One doctor has warned me the loose skin will probably stay there — just part of the aging process. Can you recommend an exercise to help with this? Or does this have to be done surgically? I will be having a second hernia operation soon and it could perhaps be done at that time. I had a hernia repaired five years ago and it recurred in less than seven months.

I have been doing about 20 to 30 sit-ups a night and they seem to help the muscle above the waistline but not below.

DEAR READER — The high blood pressure seen in young men is often caused by reflex constriction of the arteries and may have been something different from what you developed later in life.

In any case many people who have high blood pressure im-

YOUR BIRTHDAY
May 26, 1978

Your horizons will be greatly expanded this coming year and you are likely to attain goals you never dared to before. You could even take that distant trip you've dreamed of.

GENERAL (May 26-June 20)
Someone presently separated from you by distance with whom you've neglected to stay in touch is worthy of a brief note or a phone call today. Find out who you're romantically linked to by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter. Mail 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 408, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth sign.

CANCER (June 21-July 21)
You're a tough customer to deceive today. You don't take things at face value. However, if you catch someone telling a small fib, try not to embarrass them.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22)
Others find you an agreeable person today because of your strong desire to be cooperative. Each concession you make will be matched to return.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Coworkers are likely to emulate your actions today because you'll handle yourself with such aplomb. You'll know what needs doing and how to do it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
You absorb knowledge quicker than usual today. You're especially

The trick wasn't too abnormal. South just decided that West held just one spade as part of his preemptive hand. Therefore, at trick two South led dummy's queen of spades.

Who would you do as East? Looking at that singleton king in the West hand you don't have to say. But, you are just a bridge player sitting there not superman. You don't have to say. But, you are just a bridge player sitting there not superman. You don't have to say. But, you are just a bridge player sitting there not superman.

Small rooted ferns were added from the outside as well as in soil on the inside of the basket. Printed instructions were distributed to the horticulture chairman of the club.

Each circle was also given a small plastic hanging pot with soil and a choice of plants, with the request that these be displayed at the September meeting of the board.

Stood Up, Seeks $38

By United Press International
A NEW PRECEDENT: Tom Horsley of Campbell, Calif., is suing Alyn Chesselet in small claims court in San Francisco for $38 because she broke an oral contract by standing him up for a date. Ms. Chesselet says Horsley is a "nut." Horsley says he's mad — "most guys would be just as angry" if they had spent time, money and energy planning the evening — for nothing. Horsley's next date with Ms. Chesselet is July 24 — in court.

THANK YOU, MR. PRESIDENT: Former President Richard Nixon, gradually emerging from seclusion, will hold a party at his San Clemente, Calif., home Saturday for 73 former prisoners of war. Many former POWs have often thanked Nixon for increasing the pressure to free them from Vietnam. The former POWs are holding a convention in Los Angeles and many asked to visit Nixon, who finally invited them all to come and bring their wives and girlfriends. About 550 people are expected — the largest party Nixon has hosted since he resigned. It's coming only a week after his party for 37 guests to hail publication of his memoirs.

NEW NEIGHBOR: Former Oklahoma Gov. David Hall, who finished an 18-month stretch Monday at a federal prison camp in Arizona, is now living in Carlsbad, Calif., where he reportedly plans to operate an investment and real estate firm. Hall, a Democrat, was convicted of trying to extort $50,000 from W.W. "Doc" Taylor in return for helping place $1 million in state retirement funds with Taylor's investment firm. Carlsbad is a small town on the Southern California coast, 23 miles south of San Clemente — home of another former political figure.

QUOTE OF THE DAY: Former CIA Director William Casey on why it would be "moral" to assassinate Ugandan President Idi Amin: "If a man is a total tyrant, then somebody under him has the right to shoot him."

COEN TO DIRECT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — James Coen will direct himself in the starring role for "Hole in the Head," an MGM suspense drama about a location in Dublin, N.Y., Washington, D.C. and London, England, who is making his debut as a director, costars with actresses Jaye Poppel, Robert Vihara and Barbara Rose.

Hospital Trustees Meet In Emergency Session On Indigent Birth Fees

By MAX ERKILETIAN

Meeting in special session the Seminole Memorial Hospital's board of trustees voted this afternoon to continue payments to obstetricians and pediatricians for indigent birth care and deliveries for 30 days past the June 1 deadline.

The continuation was granted to allow the full board to decide on the matter. Only three of the five trustees were present. The board today was acting on a resolution passed Thursday night by the hospital's medical staff asking the board to continue such payments.

The board of trustees voted in mid-April to suspend after June 1 its current policy of paying physicians' fees for "walk-in" birth deliveries.

The hospital had been paying obstetricians $275 per indigent delivery and pediatricians $25 for care of indigent newborns. In the event the current policy could not be maintained, the to the board for indigent patients.

Physicians are not presently paid for indigent care other than births. In fact, the hospital's bylaws maintain no physician may receive payment for indigent care of any nature.

The hospital deviated from its bylaws in November 1976 when it voted to pay obstetricians and pediatricians for indigent birth care. That action was prompted following a letter from Dr. W. Vincent Roberts in which he said he would not be responsible for indigent births other than on those evenings when he was on emergency room call.

The Seminole County Commission Tuesday authorized Chairman Dick Williams to make the commission's final reply to the hospital's request for funds to pay physicians' fees in indigent deliveries.

Within a day of its decision to stop paying physicians' fees in indigent cases in mid-April, the hospital board had asked the commission to make such payments.

The commission unanimously voted Tuesday to reject that idea. Several members of the commission suggested the hospital attempt to pay for such fees through an increase in its millage.

The hospital is in the process of researching a millage hike. At present the hospital raises $242,000 annually from its current millage rate of 16 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation. The hike now under study would raise the hospital's millage to the maximum allowed by law of 65 cents per $1,000 assessed valuation to get an estimated $500,000 annually.

The increased revenue would help defray the cost of all indigent care, according to hospital officials, not just that of indigent births.

"It is clear," Williams wrote in his official response to the hospital's request for additional funds, "that the Board of Trustees of the Hospital has the responsibility to deliver health care services within the county and that physicians may retain their privilege to practice within a county hospital so long as they comply with bylaws, rules and regulations as promulgated by the Board of Trustees of the hospital."

The county and hospital have been wrestling with the issue of who should pay physicians' fees in indigent birth cases since January. At that time, the hospital board first proposed the county take on those payments.

The issue was reviewed by Troy Todd, director of human services for the county, in late March. He recommended the county not get involved in direct funding of physicians' fees.

'No physician except obstetricians and pediatricians will make a request for payment to the board for indigent patients' resolution asked the hospital pay the obstetricians and pediatricians on a monthly or annual basis through a contractual agreement. The resolution included an assurance that "no physician except obstetricians and pediatricians will make a request for payment

Lake Mary In Cigarette Tax Bind; Fachtel Vows Help

SIG PEARSON

'It surely didn't mean to give money at the expense of the cities'

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

State Rep. Vince Fachtel of Leesburg, chairman of the Seminole County Legislative Delegation pledged today to make every effort during the last week of the Legislative session to find a way to restore to the Lake Mary and other cities in Florida money lost as a result of the decline in cigarette sales and cigarette smuggling into the state.

The cities of Florida were notified in January by the Department of Revenue, division of administration, that a decline of $5.9 million from cigarette tax collections available for distribution to the cities would be pre-empted from state revenue sharing fund to the cities during the first six months of this year.

Lake Mary City Clerk Sig Pearson told councilmen Thursday night that city's revenues from cigarette taxes from the state will be off by as much as one-third in the fiscal year ending Sept. 30. He said while anticipated revenues from cigarette taxes to the city, based on estimates from the state, totaled $18,000 for the current year, actual receipts show the city will collect $6,000 less than anticipated. At the same time, Otto Fachtel, an accountant with the state department of revenue said that the decline is due either to the drop-off in sales since the Legislature increased from 17 cents to 21 cents per pack taxes on cigarettes last year or to the high incidence of cigarette smuggling from low-cigarette tax states or both.

"I'm appalled at this information," said Fachtel. "I remember last year voting to allocate one cent of the four cent increase to the cities, but the measure failed." Fachtel had no apologies for voting to increase cigarette taxes. He said the choice was between increasing cigarette and liquor taxes and increasing the sales tax. "I thought the tax on cigarettes and liquor was appropriate. Had we increased the tax on cigarettes in proportion to inflation the increase would have been six cents per pack," he said.

"I'll be back in the Legislature next week trying to restore whatever money to the cities that has been lost," he said.

A bill was filed in the Legislature during the current session to repeal the four-cent increase but it never got out of committee, said Fachtel. "That tax is not going to be repealed this year or in any year at all," he said.

Prior to the increase in the cigarette tax, the cities were receiving a return of 13 cents of the 17 cents from every pack sold. When the tax was upped, the cities were to receive a return of 13 cents from every pack sold. When the tax was upped, the cities were to receive a return of 13 cents from every pack sold. When the tax was upped, the cities were to receive a return of 13 cents from every pack sold.

About Nettie And John And Marjorie And Robert...

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Nettie divorced John and married Robert but left him and filed for divorce before becoming pregnant. Her divorce was granted and she remarried John before the baby was born. The baby, now almost 55 years old now, wants part of the $10 million estate of a child born to Robert's second wife before he married her.

Probate Judge Victor Pfau said Wednesday. "It seems like almost everyone involved in this case was married and divorced a couple of times."

Pfau must decide who will share in slain grocery heiress Marjorie Jackson's estate. Mrs. Jackson, 65 at the time she was shot and left to bleed to death a year ago during a multimillion-dollar burglary at her northside home, left no will. So under Indiana law, the estate will go to her nearest relatives.

Robert O'Connell Koers filed a claim as Mrs. Jackson's half-sister. The two women had the same mother, but Mrs. Koers testified that Marjorie's father was Jesse Montgomery, a boyfriend of their mother after her first husband died and before she married Robert O'Connell.

Vivian Wallis has also filed a claim, saying she believed until last year that her father was John Murnan, but she now believes she legally is the child of O'Connell. She said that makes her legally a half-sister to Marjorie Jackson and on equal footing with Mrs. Koers to share the estate.

The divorce between O'Connell and Nettie Murnan — who is now 94 and living in Michigan — was not final when she was conceived, even though Nettie had remarried John before Vivian was born, Vivian's attorney said.

"A child conceived during a marriage is presumed to be the legal issue of the man to whom the woman is married," Pfau said, noting Nettie filed for divorce June 17, 1912; Vivian was conceived about Aug. 31 and the divorce became final Dec. 20. Pfau said even if he grants Mrs. Wall's request for ruling that she legally is O'Con-
