FRENCH OCCUPY NEW TOWNS, RHINE TEXTILE DEPARTMENTS ARE MAKING GOOD HEADWAY

RAILROAD STRIKE IS ONLY SERIOUS FEATURE OF SITUATION

COAL PRODUCTION

Dwindles to Twenty-Five Per Cent of Normal—Mining Cities Are Deserted

(By The Associated Press) ESSEN, Feb. 7.—The German information bureau has announced that the French have occupied Lennep, a Rhinish textile city, as well as Krebssoege and Bergischborn, smaller towns nearby.

DUSSELDORF, Feb. 7.—General Weygand and M. Le Troquer, the French minister of public works arrived here late yesterday for their third visit since the occupation. They found the railroad strike so effective that they had to motor to Aix La Chapelle. They were accompanied by Manager Boue, of the Nord railroad.

A conference at General Dougnette's headquarters dealt particularly with the situation created by the complete railroad strike. Efforts will be directed to improve the services for the transportation of food to the armies and civil population and also to operate a 20 per cent normal passenger schedule. It is understood that every railroad system in France will send a certain percentage of its trained men from all departments.

The efforts of the "committee for the defense of the Ruhr," formed under Chancellor Cuno's direction, are beginning to be seriously felt. This committee at one time was presided over by Burgomaster Schmidt, who, however, was recently expelled from Dusseldorf. The French have abandoned their hope of the German railroad men resuming their posts; they are well supplied with money, which enables them to live on the same standards as when working.

Esse is completely isolated from telephonic and railroad communication and business men and bankers are motoring to Dusseldorf and Gelesenkirchen to transact their affairs with customers. The proud house of the Krupp has had to establish a messenger service to Gelesenkirchen to handle the firms' business. The French aver that Hugo Stinnes' visit to Essen is partly responsible for the renewed resistance of the German leaders.

The road from Dusseldorf to Essen and Gelesenkirchen is filled with foot-wear pedestrians laden with packages who look scowlingly at passing motors as they plod along between the villages and the towns in the absence of trains. The correspondent met 50 or 60 automobiles loaded with prosperous looking Germans bound from Dusseldorf to Gelesenkirchen on the short trip between these cities.

The rails on the main lines are rusty from lack of traffic and continued rain. The stations and railroads are assuming the appearance of abandoned sidings of once prosperous mining towns.

The French announce officially that the Dusseldorf customs receipts, since they assumed charge of the collections a week ago, have reached a little more than 200,000,000 marks. The French officially admit that the Ruhr coal production has dwindled to 25 per cent of normal since the occupation.

FARMERS GAIN BY SHIP BILL IN CONGRESS

WOULD HAVE TO WAIT THE PLEASURE OF FOREIGN SHIPS

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Farmers more than any other group in the country would benefit by the passage of the shipping bill pending in congress, Senator Jones, of Washington, declared in an address read before the convention of National Merchant Marine Association. He declared if "foreign ships alone were available to move crops, farmers must await their pleasure, convenience and must pay such freight rates as they see fit to charge."

BREAD WAR IN CHICAGO FINE BUSINESS

FOR HOUSEWIVES WHO GET A FIRE LOAF WITH EVERY 50 CENTS WORTH

(By The Associated Press) CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Housewives here are taking advantage of the "bread war" between two chain store companies, swarmed today to the stores of one of them to take advantage of a free loaf of bread with each 50 cent purchase. The other company was maintaining its cut or two and a half cents a loaf early in the day.

CONGRESSIONAL APPROVAL OF THE WAR DEBT FUND

AGREEMENT NEGOTIATED WITH GREAT BRITAIN IS REQUESTED

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Congressional approval of the war debt funding agreement which has been negotiated with Great Britain was requested by President Harding today as "recommitment of English speaking world to validity of contract." Coupled with approval, the president added in his address at a joint session of the senate and house that congress should enact into law administration bill because its "as important to avoid losses as to secure funds on debts." Ample time for action on both measures, it declared, remains before the present congress goes out of existence March fourth, and either he said was fit to be recorded as chapter of great achievement. The president made no specific recommendations as to form action congress should take.

TAM O'SHANTER LADIES BAND CONCERT WAS GREAT AND DREW LARGE CROWD

Band and Solo Work and Sketch Made Up a Fine Program

The Tam O'Shanter Ladies Band concert at the High School Auditorium last night drew one of the largest crowds of the season and was greatly enjoyed, being something out of the ordinary in the way of a concert. The Tam O'Shanter ladies dressed in the classy Tam O'Shanter caps and nifty middles looked very sweet and winsome and they made a decided hit with the audience from the first number. This band has only been in existence since the first of October and their work last night was marvelous showing the careful training of Bandmaster Edgar Ball, who has a genius for moulding raw material into finished musicians. Every number on the program was a hit and the program was varied enough to suit the most fastidious. There were solos and duets and ensembles and almost every member of the band had a chance to show what they could do in their particular line and they showed no evidence of stage fright at any part of the program.

Madame Marian Kenefick, of Stetson College was down for several numbers as soloist and the audience expecting something real good were not disappointed. Madame Kenefick has a voice of unusual sweetness and power and the ease with which she rendered the most difficult numbers last night showed her ability and training.

Richard Holtzclaw was also one of the hits of the evening rendering a solo with his usual modesty and demonstrated that he has a fine voice for one so young. In fact every one of the numbers deserve special mention they were so good and the concert will go down in history as one of the finest events in the musical circles of the city. The following program was rendered:

- 1.—March—Tam O'Shanter Bendie
 - 2.—Overture—The Conquest K. King
 - 3.—Vocal Solo—Selected Marian Kenefick
 - 4.—Valse Oriental—Moonlight on the Nile Jewel
 - 5.—Song Hits of '22—Don't Bring Me Piesies Fred Rose
 - 6.—Musical Sketch—Scene: Studio at Young Ladies' Seminary. Time: Commencement Week.
- (a) Excerpts by Clarinet Quartette: Misses Pearl Robson, Madeline Mullen, Florence McKay and Lucille Pope.
- (b) Vocal Solo—R. Holtzclaw
- (c) Saxophone Duet—Mrs. G. E. McKay, Miss Mary Howard.

- (d) Violin Solo—Miss Mary Stoinoff
 - (e) Trombone Solo—Miss Ann Lee
 - (f) Chorus by the Ensemble
 - 7.—March—Victorious—A. Pryor
 - 8.—Serenade—Evening Shadows—C. L. Harthouse
 - 9.—Vocal Solo—Selected Marian Kenefick
 - 10.—Descriptive—Robbing the Hen Roost—Louis Tacaben
- Introduces a colored boy entering a barn yard, steals a chicken, is caught, shot, and falls down, the chicken escapes, the band plays funeral march but suddenly the boy revives and rushes away, the band ends by playing triumphal march.

The following are members of the Tam O'Shanter Band:

(By The Associated Press) EL PASO, Tex., Feb. 7.—Two persons, a man and a woman met death as a result of a fire which partly destroyed the St. Charles Hotel here this morning. The blaze started in an ash can, according to fire officials. The damage is not estimated.

KIWANIANS PLAN FOR BIG THINGS

The regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club was called to order by President Sharon, and the Divine blessing was invoked by Rev. Braylee. Kiwanian W. W. Honeywell of Delhi, N. Y., and Kiwanian C. H. Orr of Washington, Ga., were present as guests and both were eloquent in their praise of Sanford and the local club. Another guest was J. W. Van Kirk of Youngstown, O., who also addressed the membership.

R. W. Pearman, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was present and asked for the cooperation of the Kiwanis club in entertaining the California citrus growers, who will be here next Wednesday. Mr. Pearman requested that several automobiles be donated for Wednesday afternoon—and, needless to say, he secured all the cars needed. Frank Miller spoke a few words on the entertainment of our visitors and stated that Californians knew how to welcome their guests and asked that special efforts be made to make the citrus growers welcome to Sanford.

W. E. Sengelas, who is a real Kiwanian when it comes to building plans for the future, made an earnest appeal for unanimous effort on the part of the membership to vision the glorious future of Sanford and this section and told of what he considered Sanford most needed. He was thoroughly familiar with his subject and was listened to with deep interest.

O. P. Swope, one of the most energetic members of the local club has cast his lot with Orlando and will transfer his membership there. He will be missed at the weekly meetings.

The entire membership was glad to learn of the safe return of Kiwanian Thippen, who has been confined for some time past in a hospital in Baltimore. Mr. Thippen sent his thanks to the club for the flowers sent him during his illness and promised to be at all the meetings as soon as he recovered his health. It was decided to attend the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce meeting next Wednesday evening and aid in entertaining the California citrus growers. There will be no noonday meeting on that date.

Forrest Lake will be the speaker at the next meeting. He was late again today and rendered "Lize Jane" to the deep disgust of all who heard him. Sam Baunmel's lovely brunette voice was also missed—he's taking in the sights on the Bowery, New York City, N. Y., U. S. A.

The automobile manufacturers figure that Americans will spend two billion dollars for autos this year.

SIGNING LAUSANNE TREATY IS IN FAR DISTANT FUTURE; TURKS PLAY OLD GAME

PRESIDENT WILL PRESENT BILL HIMSELF

TO MODIFY THE DEBT REFUNDING LAW APPEARING TODAY

(By The Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—President Harding decided at the last minute today to present to congress in person his message asking modification of the debt funding law. It was announced at the White House he would appear at the joint session of the senate and house at 1 o'clock.

CAMPAIGN OF WATER LEAGUE IN TEN DAYS

Ten thousand new members will be sought by the Florida Water Traffic League in a campaign which will be launched in various sections of the state within the next ten days, it was announced yesterday at the office of S. J. Sligh, president of the organization. A fund of $100,000 will be used to obtain government appropriation of several million dollars for deepening the channel of the St. Johns river and establishing a waterway system which will save millions of dollars for Florida business men.

The league has entered upon its work with greater enthusiasm than has ever been displayed before and its officers are confident they will be successful in securing government aid for the people of Florida. At a recent meeting the name of the organization was changed, the word "Central" being dropped from the title, leaving the name The Florida Water Traffic League.

Mr. Sligh explained that the change was made because the new program which had been outlined will benefit business men in virtually every city in the state. He expressed the belief that Miami, Jacksonville, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Daytona and other cities in the campaign equal to that of Orlando, Sanford and Titusville and other cities, for the reason that the waterway system will be available for all of them. It will reduce transportation charges to practically all points on both incoming and outgoing shipments and will result in immediate saving to all businesses. Through a canal system, the St. Johns and Indian river water transportation would be available everywhere.

Mr. Sligh declared a box of oranges can be shipped from Los Angeles, Cal. to New York City for 60 cents. Such shipments are being made every day, he said, on refrigerator steamers which pass through the Panama canal. He pointed out that developing the St. Johns and other Florida waterways would make immense savings possible not only to the citrus industry but to every line of endeavor. Every merchant and nearly every business man pays freight bills and they will all profit by the reduced water rates, Mr. Sligh declared. He said that with hundreds of acres of new citrus groves coming into bearing it will soon be necessary to find additional markets for Florida's crops. When it is possible for ocean-going steamers to traverse the waterways of the state shipments to foreign markets will be possible, opening up an entirely new field, he asserted.

Judge W. T. Bland, president of the First National Bank of Orlando, and treasurer of the league, also expressed the belief that the campaign will be enthusiastically received all over the state.

"Florida is entitled to the government aid it seeks" he declared. "Congress has appropriated $104,000,000 for work on the Ohio, Missouri and Mississippi rivers and the people of Florida have paid taxes on this fund without receiving any benefit worthy of mention. I believe when the league is in a position to bring the situation before congress properly it will be able to get the amount sought. "It can be shown that thousands (Continued on page 9)

About Treaty as Soon as French Are Out of Sight and Refuse to Sign Anything

(By The Associated Press) LAUSANNE, Feb. 7.—Ismet Pasha and the principal members of the Turkish delegation left Lausanne for Angora at 7 o'clock this morning. A secretary remained behind. Several journalists accompanied the party.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—Even the tenacious optimists admitted today that the prospects of signing the Lausanne treaty between the Powers and the Turks appeared to have receded into the distant future. Ismet Pasha, it seems, had another change of mind, almost before the French delegation, homeward bound, were out of sight of the city. Therefore, when the British declared Ismet must put into writing the text of the agreement Premier Poincare hastened to endorse this viewpoint. The latter, however, put nothing into writing and left the city. All mediation has failed; Turkey will not sign the Allied treaty at present, even with the latest concessions proposed, and within a few hours Ismet Pasha will leave for Angora to consult with his government.

So far as its object to conclude speedy peace, the Near East conference has failed. So Count Massigli, secretary General, in behalf of the powers, urged Ismet Pasha to remain and continue the negotiations. At the same time he asked for a clear statement of the points Turkey insisted upon in the treaty.

Ismet replied that the next move was up to the allies, for Turkey stood by her note of February 4, namely, that she would sign about 80 per cent of the clauses of the treaty, but desired that the others, including the financial and economic clauses should be postponed for later negotiation.

Ismet added that he needed to consult his own government, but was ready to resume negotiations when the allies suggested. As the conference had not officially broken down the armistice would continue, as he promised to do everything humanely possible to prevent an outbreak of hostilities.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA RECREATION BUILDING

This picture shows the proposed $250,000 Y. M. C. A. and Student Activities Building which will soon be erected on the campus of the University of Florida to house the social and religious activities of the University. Funds for this building are now being raised from citizens throughout the state.

The new building will contain facilities which will make it one of the finest buildings of its kind in the United States.

On the ground floor there will be bowling alleys, dressing rooms and shower baths.

The main lobby will be furnished and equipped to give the atmosphere of the home. Leading off from this room will be a game room, music room, parlor, secretary's office, cabinet meeting room and individual studios where pastors may meet students of their faith right on the campus.

On the second floor there will be an auditorium for religious services, bible study rooms and ten bed rooms for parents who find it necessary to be on the campus in case of illness of their sons, or other emergencies. The proposed Student Activities Building will be made of brick, three stories high, built conforming to the architecture of the other University Buildings.

Under constitutional limitations the state can not appropriate funds for the proposed Y. M. C. A. and Student Activities building. The necessary funds must be raised by voluntary subscriptions.

The plans for the new building have been approved by the Board of Control and the State Board of Education, and are heartily endorsed by the University Y. M. C. A., faculty, students and leading business men throughout the state. The Student Activities building, to be located in a convenient place on the campus, where it can be of the greatest service to the students, will be an integral part of the University plant. The new building will be given to the State of Florida, and accepted by the Board of Control and the State Board of Education for the state, with the provision that it shall be forever used for the purpose for which it is dedicated.

"Subject to the general rules and regulations prescribed by the State Board of Control and the State Board of Education, the proposed building shall be used for social and religious purposes, under the management of the trustees of the Y. M. C. A., of the University of Florida, a majority of which shall be members of the faculty of the University."

MAD DOG KILLED TODAY AT LAKE MARY

W. V. Dunn killed a dog today at Lake Mary that had all the symptoms of a dog afflicted with the rabies. Mr. Dunn was keeping the dog for a neighbor and had been noticing that he acted queer for several days. This morning he jumped several other dogs around the place and mangled one of them so badly that the mad dog and the other one were both killed by Mr. Dunn who was not taking any chances. The mad dog leaped at Mr. Dunn and grabbed him by the arm but his coat saved him from being bitten. The head of this dog should be examined and if he has bitten any other dogs in the Lake Mary neighborhood they should all be confined until all danger has passed. It is something out of the ordinary for a dog to go mad in Florida and especially so at this time of the year and it is hoped that the dogs killed had some disease other than rabies.

J. G. Leinecker of Miami is in the city and has the contract for the Puleston-Brymley building and the First National Bank building. He is the head of the J. G. Leinecker Co., of Miami, one of the large plumbing concerns of that city.

"YOU NEVER CAN TELL"

One of the characters in the exciting and admirable play, "The Cat and the Canary" at the Auditorium theatre the other night always raised a good laugh from the audience every time he repeated the old saw: "You never can tell."

The old philosopher used to put it this way, "What happens is always best," and those who can accept that on its face value probably get the most out of life.

A man named Berlioz once studied for medicine because his family had decided that was to be his life work.

Our own country is full of examples of this kind of men and women who have started out either brilliantly or modestly, yet the determining factor must have been character.

STILL THE MANIACS SPEED

Five persons were injured, two painfully, and two automobiles were demolished the other day at Daytona Beach, of which accident the Daytona Journal writes as follows:

"They say the Essex was traveling about 59 miles an hour. Grick Bass, who is said to have been driving the Essex, owned by T. H. Smith, was uninjured. The young woman accompanying him was thrown about thirty feet out of the car.

In both of these cases the victims only suffered injury. In many cases death is the penalty. Death for the whim of a moment. Death because some craven soul with no regard for life or obligation to others chooses to break all laws of man and God.

When a life has been taken no amount of regret, no hours of anguish, no consecration to the future can bring back the life.

The time to be careful is before accidents happen—not afterward. And such accidents can be prevented only in one way, by the individual.

The police officers can prevent cars being driven by minors and can protect the public by enforcing ordinances. But the public must help to protect itself.

There is an old saying that any fool can run a boat. And any fool can drive an automobile—but sometimes the end of that drive is death.

FLORIDA'S BEAUTIFUL WILD FLOWERS

In Monday's issue of the Times there was presented an eloquent and inspiring picture of the charms of Florida—a sermon delivered recently by a Congregational minister in his church at Lake Helen.

Today we give space to a wonderful tribute to the wild flowers of Florida, which is reproduced from the Highland News.

The cycle of the year in Florida swings an every varying panorama of wild flowers before the eyes of the flowered lover.

In spring everything is painted in pastel tints—exquisite shades of old rose, pink, delft, forget-me-not and pale yellow.

Carrying these shades we have all the lovely family of the butterworts, the satyrogen, purple pogonia, Eriogonum and Aconitum blues, violet in all the hues of purple and white, standing elegant and hundreds of tiny, delicate blossoms on creeping plants that form a veritable carpet for the earth beneath.

Added to these frailer plants is the wonderful array of flowering shrubs, pink and white fetterbush, rose colored azalea, Myrica of the valley like bell of the sparkleberry, the snowy white blossoms of the titt and many varieties of plum and haw.

As the sun climbs higher in the sky and summer advances, the colors of the flowers deepen into the deep rose and magenta of the mallow and Indian pink, the tawny shades of yellow and orange in the trumpet vine orange orchid, wild acacia, sensitive pea and St. Johns wort, the henna tints of milkweed and bushes veiled in gorgeous gold and amber doddars with their clusters of greenish-white blossoms.

Then there are the red lilies of the flatwoods with their orange throats spotted with dark brown, hibiscus flinging out scarlet banners along the river's edge, and deep in the shade of the swamp wonderful spikes of the cardinal flower.

Autumn brings a riot of old gold, royal purple and blue in the golden-rod, wild sunflowers, asters, iron-worts of countless varieties and chicory. The dry slopes are often covered and made beautiful by a much spreading plant hidden under a mist of tiny white blossoms touched with soft pink, which has so far baffled all efforts to classify it.

Winter appropriately brings us the yellow stars of Bethlehem that the coldest weather we can produce fails to blight. Through a warm winter the autumn flowers often bloom right on and meet the spring ones.

There is no time in the year when nature will not furnish you with a bouquet, if you will seek for and gather it.

our pine woods, cypress swamps and hammocks and longing to share all of them with flower lovers the world over, I wish that for just one time I might be a great artist and paint a series of flower pictures that would hold the beautiful things forever fadeless.

The first one I should paint would be the soft green of the new spring grass, the soft brown soil beneath it and springing from it would be the marvelous drooping bells of pale yellow set among the leaves of mingled green and gold and bronze—the pitcher plant—while over it would poise two gorgeous golden butterflies, hovering like the souls of the flowers themselves.

And then I'd like to picture a sandy white slope crowned with the moss green of spruce pines against blue sky, and close against the slope clumps and clumps of blue, blue lupine with silvery gray-green leaves.

The next canvas would hold a grassy little stretch hedged about with low palmettos so pink and white with Attaceous lilies that you'd have to look very closely indeed to see whether they were flowers or a band of fairies holding a quiet conversation away from the world of mortals.

What do we find back in the cool shadows of this hammock? Vines, vines, such a tangle of them. Southern anjalax with mottled leaves and fragrant clusters of flowers the color of young corn, lacy clematis with a pinkish lavender bell, honeysuckle, all saffron and white, long snaky ropes of cattan, climbing 15 feet without a leaf, then suddenly thinking better of it and shaking out a glorious riot of leaves and tiny white blossoms.

And queer, over them all with a fragrance like the odors of "Arabia the blest," our own yellow jasmine that can curl and twist and twine itself into the most alluring mowers of loneliness in the world, far back in the velvet shade of these hanging gardens of beauty behind the fern-like leaves of a young cypress, behold shining like stars, a peaty white cluster of spider lilies.

Now, give me all the shades of green that you ever saw or dreamed of—emerald, lime, moss, apple green, sage, olive, bronze, green, the casual greens of young haws and myx hem up in such a ravishing back-sour as will catch at the heart of you, and against it, rank upon rank of purple iris springing from dark brown pools of water. And, oh, if one only might paint sound, too. There's a mocking bird hidden behind the green still wringing even more wonderful notes than our artists can coax from the heart of the piano, and down a treble and shakes in his little throat that would even discourage our great vocalists.

Just one more picture—a crystal clear lake, a real gem of a lake, its margin pure gold with feathery sedge, and on its bosom floating on rafts of their own rose-lined leaves, golden-hearted, snowy-white and dew pearled, the incomparable water lily. Is it any wonder Ponce de Leon called it Florida? And doesn't it just make the long years roll up and seem like a day to realize that he was simply charmed with the same picture of beauty that is now our heritage?

WORK AND SMILE

Many pilgrims grew and grumble as they toddle down life's way, and you often hear 'em mumble words that are not nice to say. Though the sun with rays benignant brightens up a dull old earth, hear them shout in tones indignant, "It's no time for merry mirth. Though today is bright and sunny and all nature seems to smile, we'll not feel so mortal funny when tomorrow takes the air. Storm and flood and brisk tornadoes will rampage this vale of tears and a typhoon from Barbadoes may engulf us to the cars." So they mourn from morn till even and methinks some heavy skate with an ax should do some cleavin' on each croaker's added pate. Though today a howling blizzard grips the country by the throat, Mister Sun, that rare old wizard will soon start his sunshine beam, to wash with prof'iters we're burdened and they go on all to rear, some day they'll be built gloriously and these greens will fill the air. I hope you do your daily labors with a smile that's wide and broad; well be made by all the neighbors when they look us 'neath the sod. Uncle Dud.

CABLE OF THE PUG WHO TOOK IN TOO MUCH TERRITORY

In a two by four hamlet, lived a pug who had won for himself an enviable rep as a bearcat. One by one he had cleaned all the local talent, and his trunkbox was filled with big ideas. He determined to avault to other places, and collect much loose marmos which he had heard was to be had in country place.

He left the family circle, and took the train to the next burg on the Rand and McNally. His successes were repeated here, although he did not get the fat purses that he had expected. So he said to himself that he would hit the grit to other villages, where the pickings were a little heavier.

After a time the news hounds got a line on him, and wasted considerable ink and paper brooding his fame to the populace. Of course the boys higher up in the game, took notice of this, and the pug was offered several chances to show his mitt-slinging ability.

Of course not having as yet earned the right to call himself champion, the pug met only pork and beans, and others of a like ilk.

Then came the day when he was AGONY COLM—GAL TWO matched with Regular Wallpaper. The pug had lots of confidence in his swatting powers, and he managed to stay the limit, thereby earning much applause and considerable cash.

Then he began to put on the dog, and swank around. He didn't know that it is a long way from the preliminary stage, to the main event. He wrote back to the little two by four hamlet and sent them news pictures of himself with fighting togs on and all that. The folks were proud of him, for he had never been licked.

Then came the pug's chance to get into the real money, and in great style he hurneyed to the place of battle.

He was greeted by a committee of sistic fans, and he ust knew that he was some punkins. Down at the gym he went through his stunts before a large gaping audience. Almost everybody, who was anybody was there. But not quite. In this place there lived an old timer who had at one time ben a champion himself. Now this old bird had fallen from grace, and on account of taking on too much alkay was practically a physical wreck.

It so happened that the pug strolled down the street, followed by a gang of hero worshipers, and the old timer asked who this gink might be. He was informed in awe stricken accents that the person referred to was some pug. At this juncture the pug came to the place where the old timer stood, and none too gently cozed the old timer to one side. Immediately, if not sooner, the O. T. forgot that he was a hasbeen and smashed the pug on the button.

To the surprise of all present, the pug stayed down on his back, blinking at the noonday sun, yet seeing all the stars in the firmament.

The O. T. forgetting that this pug was supposed to be good, invited the prostrate one to get up and fight. But the pug wasn't used to bare knuckle stuff, and he arose and sneaked away.

HUPMOBILE RECORD IS FULL OF INSPIRATION

The remarkable record made by Hupmobile during the last year--increasing its domestic sales by more than 100 per cent without any seemingly undue sales effort on its own part--adds another chapter to a story of industrial achievement which in its greatness may be said to be peculiar to Hupmobile alone.

In that story there is probably more human interest and more inspiration for the right thinking employer and worker than one would find in a long journey through other fields of endeavor. With Hupmobile, although its progress has been rapid and effective from its very infancy, there has apparently been no magical influence which has taken it so far along toward the topmost peak of power and success.

When in November, 1908, J. Walter Drake, Joseph R. Drake, John E. Baker and Robert C. Hupp first organized the Hupp Motor Car Corporation they did so in the firm conviction that the most important factor in their manufacturing endeavor was the will and determination to make Hupmobile "the best car of its class in the world."

Perhaps it was as far back as 1911 when Hupmobile first began to attract world wide attention. Certainly it was about this time when the world gasped over the announcement that a Hupmobile had left the factory to encircle the globe under its own power as long as it had land to travel on. A little more than a year later that car was back home after visiting no less than 23 foreign countries and having thereby established a foreign acquaintance that surpassed that of any year--foreign or American.

Today, Hupmobiles are owned and driven in practically every civilized country in the world. Domestic and foreign sales figures themselves reveal impressively Hupmobile's sane and consistent progress. In 1909 the company built and delivered 1618 cars. They were four cylinder cars then just as they are now. In 1910, production and sales increased to 5,349 cars; 1911, 6,079 cars; 7,640 in 1912 and by 1913 the company was on a definitely large basis with an output of 12,543 cars.

Since 1911 the output increased gradually until 15,000 Hupmobiles were turned out in 1921. That, as most people will recall, was a lean automobile year--most companies falling far below their 1920 production figures.

It was not so with Hupmobile, however. The year was the next largest producing year in its career up to that time, exceeded only by 1920, when there was a great volume of export business not available in 1921. Then, came the winter of 1921 with all its uncertainty concerning the future. Even the most optimistic manufacturers hesitated to predict what would happen in the months to come.

However, it was announced in January, 1922, that Hupmobile would not be satisfied with less than a 100 per cent increase over 1921 and a 30,000 production figure was decided upon. To make a long story short, that 30,000 figure was reached in October--almost three months ahead of time--and the year's total exceeded it by a wide margin. Next year--1923--the Army Transport Will Arrive Today at Savannah, Ga.

Bearing American Soldiers Who Have Been on the Rhine for Five Years

(By The Associated Press) SAVANNAH, Feb. 7.--At Quarantine a congressional party and newspaper men boarded the ship, and were given a noisy welcome by the doughboys. The arrival of the transport at the city limits was announced by the booming of two brass cannon, presented to Chatham Artillery by George Washington. The crash of the guns was the signal for a bedlam of noise from every bell, whistle, and siren in the city, while troops lined the rails and responded with cheers.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 7.--The arrival of the transport St. Mihiel off Tybee Bar here will be an hour later than scheduled. According to a wireless from Commander of the ship to Capt. Von Boskirk, of the cutter Yamacraw this morning the ship will reach the bar at 12 o'clock.

SAVANNAH, Feb. 7.--The transport St. Mihiel with American troops from the Rhineland arrived at Tybee bar at noon today and proceeded to quarantine.

PORT ST. MIHIEL, 8 p. m., Feb. 6.--By Wireless to the Associated Press.--Members of the army of occupation returning from their watch on the Rhine aboard the transport St. Mihiel are impatiently pacing the decks in the rain awaiting their first glimpse in five years of the United States. Preparations have been made for the reception planned upon arrival of the ship at Savannah at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 7.--Altho without definite information regarding the exact hour of arrival of the U. S. army transport St. Mihiel today, Savannah last night rehearsed plans for what is regarded as its greatest celebration--welcoming home the last of the American forces which participated in the world war.

Based on their conclusions on radio messages received from the transport saying the St. Mihiel at noon yesterday was still 365 miles off Savannah, marine men argued the ship could not reach Tybee Bar much before 1 p. m. today.

They held to this belief despite radiograms from Captain W. T. Oliver saying the transport would reach the bar at 11 o'clock. Passage through Tybee roads and up the Savannah river to the dock is expected to consume two hours.

Evidence that the St. Mihiel is fighting through heavy seas and bad weather was seen by marine men in radio messages intercepted here yesterday in which the transport asked radio stations in South Carolina to give her radio compass bearings.

Regardless of the time of arrival of the St. Mihiel, however, the citizens' committee directing the celebration has timed its program to start with the appearance of the transport in the Savannah river off Colonial Park Bluff, where two brass cannons captured at Yorktown from the British and presented in 1790 by George Washington to the Chatham artillery will fire a salute. Conveying the St. Mihiel from the bar will be the cutter Yamacraw with the official reception committee on board, accompanied by a tug boat bearing a committee of the American Legion and newspaper men.

The salute will be a signal for the ringing of "Big Duke" a huge bell used to announce fires and riots, after which ship, factory and other bells and whistles will add their blasts to the welcome of the troops from the Rhine.

At the dock, a formal reception will take place, followed by the debarkation of the troops.

Allowing the troopers time to regain their "land legs," the entire complement will parade through Savannah, being reviewed by Major General Charles S. Farnsworth, chief of the infantry branch of the army, and other officials.

A barbecue for the enlisted men will follow the parade, after which some 400 troopers assigned to Fort Screven, will entrain with their families for the fort. For the other soldiers, amusements at local theatres has been provided, the managers announcing all men in uniform will be their guests.

At 2 o'clock Thursday morning, the St. Mihiel will sail for Charleston, S. C., where she will land more troops, continuing on thence to New York.

Germany calls it a crime to seize her mines, but it was perfectly all right for her to ruin those of France.

1922 record of production is to be increased not less than 25 per cent. Hupmobile is confident it will sell that many cars and it bases its conviction on its theory that once a car becomes known as "the best car of the class in the world," the public demand will absorb all output. That existing Hupmobile facilities can furnish

Cold Wave Seems To Have Ignored Central Florida

Warm Weather Continues Here Notwithstanding Adverse Forecast

June weather, with rays of sunshine interspersed with occasional light showers, continued over Central Florida yesterday notwithstanding a prediction of a cold wave for this section of the state. Coming of the showers broke the winter long drought, but beyond that no change in weather conditions was noticeable. Late last night, due to the rains, the thermometer dropped slightly.

At headquarters of large citrus packing companies here the belief was expressed that the cold wave will miss Central Florida, although it was said that a cold snap of no more than ordinary severity would be beneficial to the groves. Straw hats, short sleeves and open air entertainment and band concerts continued to be the order of the day in open defiance of the weather man's forecasts.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 7.--The cold wave that has been sweeping the north and the major portion of the south yesterday resulted in a drop in temperature of 23 degrees from Monday, the local weather bureau announced. The maximum Monday was 77 as compared with a maximum yesterday of 54. There has been no freeze in so far. The cold wave, in the opinion of the forecaster, has passed Florida by. Indications are that there will be little change in temperature, although in the event of clear weather, which is improbable, a light frost is likely. Warmer weather is expected in a few days.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.--Although the weather bureau could promise no important changes in temperature for today, it predicted somewhat higher temperatures almost generally east of the Mississippi river for Thursday. The temperature was lower last night in the South Atlantic and East Gulf states, the upper Mississippi and middle Missouri valleys and the plains states, while cold weather continued in the Eastern States, but somewhat higher temperatures were noted in Texas and the Canadian northwest.

A disturbance of moderate intensity was centered off Cape Hatteras last night and will move rapidly northward, attended by snow Wednesday in the Middle Atlantic and North Atlantic states and the upper Ohio valley, the bureau said tonight. Otherwise generally fair weather will prevail Wednesday and Thursday in the Washington forecast district, the bureau announced, adding that there will be no important changes in temperature Wednesday, but there will be a reaction to somewhat higher temperature Thursday almost generally east of the Mississippi river.

Storm warnings remained displayed on the Atlantic coast from Cape Hatteras to Eastport, Me., the bureau saying the disturbance central off Cape Hatteras will move rapidly northward, attended by thick weather with snow and increasing gale force late Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.--Orlando Sentinel.

Oriental Rug Lovers We have just received 15 bales of Oriental Rugs and upon opening them I was very much surprised upon seeing a wonderful collection of the most exclusive masterpieces of art, especially a Kermanshaw with a beautiful blue and rose color, a 17 1/2 feet by 10 feet 10 inches, which is valued at $4,500; also some small sizes in Kerman, Saronk and Chinese rugs with rose center and blue and tan borders which can't be duplicated anywhere, no matter where you go. Mr. Philibosian left Orlando a week ago to secure these rugs and take them to Miami, but after considerable persuading on my part, he agreed to stay another week. These Rugs are now on exhibition at the corner of Court and Pine Streets from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. and I faithfully promise that if you examine these rugs you will be pleased. These rugs are to be auctioned off Friday and Saturday at 10 a. m., 3 p. m., and 8 p. m. There will be a fine orchestra to give some excellent music this (Wednesday) and Thursday evenings from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m. and at the same time a delicious Oriental coffee will be served free of charge. Stevenson Rolls High With Total of 523 While All Congregationals Roll Big Scores

The Men's Club and the Champs tied up last night for their first game of the second half and the game went to the Champs with a majority of an even 300 pins.

The Congregational Club bowled a good game all the way through, all their players rolling high scores, while the Men's Club, rolling one "dead" man, May absent, and their other best bowler, Betts, away off his usual stride, made things easy for their opposition.

Stevenson rolled high score, getting a total of 523, while Belding, Pennington and A. Renaud rolled better scores than the best one rolled for the Men's Club.

The Farmers and Chase & Co. play tonight and the Rotes and American Legion hold the cards for tomorrow night.

Last night's score follows:

Congregationals
Pennington	100	148	162	470
Belding	155	170	163	488

CHAPMAN GETS RED SOX CONTRACT BUT HAS NOT SIGNED YET

Bert Chapman received his contract from the Boston American League Club this morning and has returned it unsigned. In questioning Mr. Chapman about the contract he made no statement as to what his plans are, other than he didn't care to sign the contract at this time, and has returned it to Boston.

This should prove Chap's big year in the majors and it was generally understood that he was planning on going back to Boston, and we suppose that even now he may be making his plans towards that end, but why Mr. Chapman has refused to sign up at this time he does not state.

Chap has been with the Red Sox two seasons. This past season he was kept out of the game for some time on account of injuries sustained during one of the games in the early part of the season. He was in the game pretty regular towards the tail end of the season and his prospects for this year are such that should he sign up and return to Boston, it will find him, if not the first string catcher, at least the first second string man and perhaps catch half the 1923 games.

New President of State League Will Be Active

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 7.—Al F. Lang, former mayor of St. Petersburg, who was named president of the Florida State Baseball League at Orlando, to succeed Walter Rose, declared his acceptance of the post Monday.

"I am going to take the post because it will give me an opportunity to work for the good of baseball in Florida," Lang said, after going over the conditions attendant upon his election with Bob Caprol, president of the Saints, who was at Orlando. "I appreciate the honor, and because my name had the hearty support of all the members of the league, I believe it is my duty to accept the work."

Lang intimated that he would not be a president in name only and promised a statement of policy and a 1923 program within the next few days. "I can say now that the league will be run on a business basis, strictly, and fair treatment for every club and every individual, from bat boy to club owner, and from fan to umpire will be my earnest aim."

The league headquarters, record, and clerical staff will be moved to St. Petersburg, he said.

STOPS COUGHS AND COLDS
Neglected coughs and colds lead to influenza, la grippe, asthma and bronchitis, and the old method of "letting it run its course" is rapidly giving way to preventive treatment. Three generations of users have testified of the quick relief given by Foley's Honey and Tar from coughs, colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial trouble. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Refuse imitations and substitutes. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

CELERY SEED

The Men's Club missed May last night.

And they also missed Archie Betts' good bowling.

Stevenson and Belding will be the two to run the race for individual averages this second half. At least it looks that way now.

Pennington, of course, will be a strong contender and so should May and Amanns. The American Legion may have a man that can bowl way up also.

Bert Chapman has been given his 1923 contract and has refused to sign. Bert would make them a good man this season, and for the good of Boston we hope he reconsiders and signs up later.

Ed Higgins broke a record at the golf links a day or two ago. Ed has been making good scores right along but his modesty has prevented him from making it known. We checked up on him and find that he is amongst the best in the club.

And Arthur Yowell, also, Arthur is getting to be same golfer and the scores he turns in will make some of the others sit up and take notice.

Ex-Mayor Lang, the new Florida State League president, says he will give 'em mail a fair show, even the bat boy.

The big horse shoe contest starts in Orlando today. We should send Ben Lake, the Seminole county champ down to represent us—he would bring home the bacon.

New Railroad For Central Florida is Being Planned

Application for a charter has been made by the Canaveral, Orlando & Southwestern Railway, it became known yesterday. The line will extend from Cape Canaveral through Orlando and south to Sebring, branching out to include Sanford, Plant City and other towns.

J. F. Ange is president of the company; E. W. Davis is first vice-president; Dr. C. D. Christ, second vice-president; N. T. Cobb, secretary, and Paul T. Davis, treasurer. These officers with General Superintendent David Fairleigh and R. C. Davis, make up the board of directors. The officers have been elected temporarily. All of them live in Orlando.

The new railroad will be capitalized at $5,000,000 and will serve this entire section of Florida. Its main line will be 122 miles long, with branches seventy miles in length. One of the branches will run directly west from Orlando to Winter Garden. Deep waters at Cape Canaveral, in Brevard county, will make connection with water traffic lines at that point possible.

There has been talk of such a railroad in Central Florida for several years and officers of the company are determined to push completion of their project with the least possible delay.—Orlando Sentinel.

FOR THE MOVIE FAN

Guy Bates Post in "The Masquerader" at the Princess tonight.

This is the play that finds the man, owing to a double identity, and the necessity of preserving the family honor, forced to be husband to a strange woman.

It is one of the best bills of the week and a large crowd is expected. And there will be a snappy comedy that goes with this picture.

The complimentary passes for the show tonight are given to Judge and Mrs. Householder, and we can tip you off, Judge, that "The Masquerader" is a good picture. Accept Mr. Herndon's invitation and be his guest tonight.

Of course when we say the Judge and Mrs. Householder, that includes the family. Bring the family along, Judge.

And by all means, you movie fans who are looking for a real feature, don't forget to make your plans to attend the Friday and Saturday picture, "The World's Applause."

The added attraction to this Friday and Saturday night bill is a movie trip through filmland. That will be worth the admission price along.

Rate Reductions Made by Utility Board on Power

Sweeping reductions in certain classes of electric service rates were made by the utilities commission yesterday.

A special rate of four cents a k. w. hour in electricity used for cooking, was the first reduction made by the commissioners. Only five cents a k. w. hour will be charged hospitals and private and public schools. Importance of the commission's action is emphasized when it is considered that the regular rate for electricity has been eleven cents a k. w. hour.

The commission wishes to encourage the use of electricity for cooking purposes and desires to furnish power as cheaply as possible to the people, who are the real owners of the electric plant since municipal ownership, it was said. Consumers who take advantage of the reduced rates will find that cooking with electricity is economical, according to George D. Moffat, Jr., general manager of the municipal plant.

Special meters will be installed for all consumers who use electricity for cooking in order that the amount of power used for that purpose and that used for lighting may be determined separately.

At its meeting yesterday the commission studied rate schedules for more than an hour, going carefully into the matter of making the cut in certain kinds of consumption. It also heard reports on conditions at the new city plant, reviewed the January business, noting its increase, and discussed extensions in both water and power service.—Orlando Sentinel.

"Better See if the Motor Needs Oil"

Get in the habit of saying this to your dealer whenever you stop for gasoline, water or air. Remember, that the only way you can tell whether or not your motor needs oil is; first, by the simple way of looking at the gauge, and second, by the expensive way of finding out too late that cylinders have been scored and bearings burned thru your forgetting to keep up the supply of oil.

Sufficient quantity, the right quality, the proper weight or grade of oil, and the replacing of oil after it has been worn out by six or seven hundred miles of running—these are the important things to watch; and, given proper attention, you can avoid the bother and expense of most motor troubles.

Be safe—be sure—and be satisfied by putting nothing in your crank case but
