

Juvenile Procedure Involved Court System Long 'Trip' For Youths

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

This simplified flow chart depicts how juveniles accused of crimes are handled in the present juvenile justice system in Florida. Decisions must be made in each case by the arresting officer, DHS intake counselor, state attorney's office and judge before disposition is made of case. Exception is situation where state attorney decides not to file petition on juvenile with court.

Ford To Seek Jobless Pay Program Extension

President Ford says he will ask Congress to extend until the end of 1976 a supplemental benefits program that entitles most workers to as much as 65 weeks of unemployment compensation. Ford, on a working vacation in California, told a meeting of the San Francisco Bay Area Council Friday night that his request for an 18-month extension of the program would be sent to Capitol Hill next week. Without congressional action, the program would expire June 30. Although he made no direct mention of government statistics issued earlier in the day showing that nationwide unemployment climbed to 8.7 per cent, Ford emphasized jobless benefits in his speech.

Bufs Save Airplane

WASHINGTON (AP) — A public outcry from aviation buffs around the country has led to a one-year postponement of a plan to dismantle billionaire Howard Hughes' huge flying boat, the Spruce Goose. "It was purely that," said Director Michael Collins of the Smithsonian's Air and Space Museum of the letter campaign after the Feb. 27 announcement of the plan. Under the plan, the huge wooden craft would be sliced up and displayed at the Smithsonian and at eight other U.S. museums. Collins complained Friday that he had agreed with the Hughes conglomerate firm, Summa Corporation, for the delay. "It seems too bad to me to have the Smithsonian responsible for cutting it up if someone is willing to build a place to exhibit it in Southern California," Collins said. "If someone comes along with a good idea, the Smithsonian won't stand in the way."

Weyand, Ford Confer

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — President Ford is engaged in a series of Vietnam policy review conferences with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and a four-star Army general just back from Vietnam. Ford, who held a midnight meeting with Kissinger Thursday night, set up the first of two meetings today for shortly after daybreak. Gen. Frederick C. Weyand, the Army chief of staff, who made a Vietnam fact-finding tour on the President's behalf, was to join the talks. The early hour of the meeting apparently was arranged so Ford could get in a golf game before rejoining Kissinger and Weyand for an afternoon session.

Hattaway, Fechtel 'Split'

(Continued From Page 1-A) The legislature, which would hold off on a final decision until the Tallahassee meeting, and, of course, Hattaway, a Democrat from Altamonte Springs, backed Vihlen to the hill. However, Hattaway, realizing the give and take of political maneuvering, said the final decision now will be up to the remaining members of the delegation—State Senators John Vogt and Lori Wilson. Neither Vogt nor Wilson were available for comment. A Wilson aide, however, said he doubted the proposal will hold up in the House unless it's supported by the entire delegation. The proposed split of the comptroller's duties from the Clerk of the Circuit Court has generated one of the biggest controversies ever to hit Seminole County's administrative operations.

Chamber To Hear City Hall Plan

By MICK LOCHRIDGE

The Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce has event after event scheduled for the upcoming week to be highlighted by a Board of Directors meeting to discuss a new City Hall. On Monday the Education Committee, headed by Chairman Dan Reynolds, will meet in a regular monthly meeting at 8:15 a.m. in the conference room at the chamber. Reynolds, principal of Seminole High School, has proposed a parent counseling program be established to assist parents who are having problems relating to their high school age children. The Board of Directors meeting on Tuesday morning at 8:15 at the chamber will be attended by Sanford City Manager Warren "Pete" Knowles. Knowles will give a repeat performance of his presentation on the proposal of a new city hall building. The Chamber's Bankers Committee approved the feasibility of a new administration building in March when Knowles presented his proposal to the committee of civic leaders. It is expected that some discussion from the board will be centered on the proposed location of the building in Knowles plan. Knowles has suggested that the building be located on city owned land at the corner of French Avenue and Seminole Boulevard, while a site closer to downtown may be felt to be more suitable by some board members.

In both cases police forward information to the state Division of Youth Services (DYS) officials.

If the juvenile is arrested by an officer the officer can decide not to turn the juvenile over to DHS and release him to his parents instead for a later appearance in hearings.

If the juvenile is turned over to DHS officials the intake counselor also can decide to release the juvenile to parents or can make a decision to detain the juvenile. In either instance the intake counselor will, within 15 days, recommend to the state attorney's office that charges a petition be filed or not filed in juvenile court.

If DHS recommends charges not be filed a letter is sent to the victim stating so. The victim can appeal to the State Attorney asking prosecution.

The State Attorney, if he has information on the arrest or complaint, doesn't have to wait for the DHS recommendation to make a decision on prosecution. He can decide to drop the case, or he can file a petition with the court.

In capital felony charge he can take the case to the grand jury seeking indictment of the juvenile for trial as an adult.

In other serious crimes the State Attorney can also ask the juvenile court for a "waiver hearing" in which he will ask the court to transfer the case to adult court for trial.

If a case goes to juvenile court, the judge hears the case in an adversary proceeding—the juvenile represented by private legal counsel or the public defender's office—and Vogt nor Wilson were available for comment. A Wilson aide, however, said he doubted the proposal will hold up in the House unless it's supported by the entire delegation.

The proposed split of the comptroller's duties from the Clerk of the Circuit Court has generated one of the biggest controversies ever to hit Seminole County's administrative operations.

Herring and Judge Strawn both are seeking changes by the legislature in the law on handling of juveniles.

Herring wants that now requires grand jury indictment of juveniles arrested on capitol felony charges.

Herring is also seeking legislation that would make sure his office gets information on juvenile arrests before the 30 day time limit on prosecution in juvenile court expires. The state attorney's office makes the decision on prosecution and Herring's proposal would require the information be submitted in time to make that decision.

He wants a law requiring arresting officers to file copies of juvenile arrest information with states attorneys at the same time they are filed with DHS.

"Many law enforcement agencies in Seminole and Brevard counties are now doing this at our request," Herring said, "but we need a law to require it so we can be on top of a situation as soon as DHS."

"There's no question," said Judge Strawn. "The juvenile system isn't functioning as envisioned. It has set for itself: trying to keep young people from becoming adult criminals."

CHANGE IN LAW NEEDED
"We need a change in the law," Strawn said, and with his proposed bill he says juveniles accused of serious crimes would find their present "guarantee" of "gentle treatment" would be taken away. "I don't see the problem as people (DYS) but school, place him in a half-way house or other institution or facility for therapy.

The decision on when the juvenile is to be released is up to DHS.

Circuit Court Judge David U. Strawn, who is one of six judges sitting in juvenile court in Seminole said, however, there is one way the court can keep control of a juvenile, where he has no prior record.

In these cases the court can divert the juvenile who isn't ready to return to half-way houses or sometimes private homes or institutions. Many of these are outside Seminole County that judges can use, but since the judge is without a staff for follow-up he must rely on DHS to show availability of a school as an alternative.

Judge Strawn cites an "unsettling" case that occurred in Brevard County (the other half of the 10th Judicial Circuit).

In November the court ruled a juvenile was delinquent (the most severe finding under present state law) after an abduction at gunpoint. Two weeks ago DHS returned the juvenile to his home after the interim period in a half-way house.

As of March 1, according to Seminole DYS Supervisor Robert W. Ritz, DHS changed policy on releasing juveniles from training schools to return home. Now before the juvenile is returned, the committing judge, state attorney, public defender, arresting officer and parents are notified of the proposed release.

There are any strong objections to the release the case goes to DHS headquarters in Tallahassee for review and a decision and the juvenile remains in the school until the decision is reached.

There are five probation counselors assigned to Seminole County to work with juveniles. During the month of February, the latest figures available, these counselors supervised from 44 to 64 juveniles probationers each.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

More Damaging Evidence Revealed Against Dickinson

JACKSONVILLE, (AP)—Two men who described themselves as longtime friends of former state Comptroller Fred O. Dickinson Jr. have brought to his federal extortion conspiracy trial testimony and evidence that may damage him. Ray Clements of Lakeland, president and board chairman of the First State Bank of Winter Garden and chairman of the First Bank of Lutz, testified Friday that Dickinson said he would approve a charter for the Winter Garden bank if E. G. "Jerry" Banks was allowed to buy 30 per cent of the stock and name one director. The gray-haired Clements, 69, who said he has been Dickinson's friend for at least 20 years, testified that he agreed to the proposal after a moment's hesitation. Wilbur Divine, a West Palm Beach accountant who also was on the stand Friday, brought copies of two "private and confidential" letters exchanged between Dickinson and his former law partner, Frederick C. Prior, about profits on the sale of stock in the Palm Beach Mall Bank.

O'Malley Properly Indicted

TALLAHASSEE, (AP)—A Leon County judge says Insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley was properly indicted on a charge of pressuring an insurance company to lend $2.36 million to associates. Judge Hal McClannan denied a motion Friday to dismiss the misdemeanor indictment. He ruled that the issue of "whether the loan was made as a special favor because of the defendant's use of his official position...is a question of proof, the indictment being sufficient on its face." McClannan instructed O'Malley's attorneys and Special Prosecutor Robert Willis of Jacksonville to appear within 10 days on a date for a hearing on other motions. O'Malley was indicted by the Leon County grand jury in February on a misdemeanor charge of using his position to obtain the loan from the Gulf Life Insurance Co. for four North Florida men. The men used the funds to buy a Fort Walton Beach shopping center.

$10 Million Suit On CIA

MIAMI (AP)—A $10 million suit has been filed against the Central Intelligence Agency by former Miami mortgage broker Andres Castro, who claims the CIA was behind his sale of counterfeit mortgages. The CIA declined comment on the suit, filed Friday in federal court here. It also names as defendants the U.S. government and Cuban exiles Guillermo Iglesias and Antonio Yglesias. Castro blamed the CIA for the failure of his mortgage business, threats and personal danger to himself and for alleged humiliation and ridicule.

"Sometimes in cases where juveniles are released to their parents custody but we can't detain a juvenile unless he meets one of three criteria set forth by state law."

These criteria are to protect the person or property of others or of the child; cases where there is no parent or responsible adult relative and cases where it is necessary to detain to secure the juvenile's presence at the next hearing.

IN SOME CASES juveniles are voluntarily placed in "crisis homes" over the county until they get to juvenile court. Ritz says DHS now gets on the average of 200 cases on referral a month in Seminole. Last month there were cases involving 138 delinquent juveniles and 46 runaways.

Delinquents are cases filed by police officers. Truants, runaways and ungovernable children fall in a separate classification of "child in need of supervision." In this type case DHS petitions directly to juvenile court for a hearing.

In addition to the new cases filed last month in Seminole there were 143 juveniles on supervision, 67 on parole and three cases under supervision for other states.

Law enforcement officers can only arrest juveniles when their officers see offenses occur, otherwise complaints must be filed which are forwarded to DHS for action. Juveniles can be released to their parents by officers and also by DHS intake counselors. In both cases the parents sign agreements that they will bring their children to court when directed.

Ritz said statistics show in cases where juveniles have been released by officers 85 per cent of the decisions proved valid. In cases where DHS officials released juveniles to parents' custody 90 per cent of the decisions proved valid.

"The decision by the counselor is more difficult," Ritz noted, "in cases where officers wanted the juveniles held."

"Many policemen don't realize how the system works," Ritz says. "They think we just slap wrists and send kids home."

He said in one instance a juvenile was arrested three times in the same month. The state attorney's office still hadn't gotten the DHS paperwork and recommendation for filing a petition in juvenile court on the first offense by the time of the third arrest.

Ritz says paperwork from DHS intake to Herring's office is usually forwarded within 15 days but there have been exceptions.

"We get lots of static," Ritz said, "sometimes in cases where juveniles are released to their parents custody but we can't detain a juvenile unless he meets one of three criteria set forth by state law."

These criteria are to protect the person or property of others or of the child; cases where there is no parent or responsible adult relative and cases where it is necessary to detain to secure the juvenile's presence at the next hearing.

Legislature Opens Tuesday Recession, Impeach Clouds Session

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) The 1975 session of the Florida Legislature opens Tuesday under a double cloud of recession and impeachment.

Economic demands which are forcing the largest cutback in state spending in Florida history will pervade every House and Senate meeting because nearly all laws involve money. And for the third year in a row, legislators face the issue of impeachment of government officials.

Gov. Reubin Askew has recommended a $252 million slash to $4.49 billion from last year's already-trimmed budget while House Appropriations Chairman Edmund Fortune, D-Pace, talks of a $300 million cut.

Askew says the state income picture, hard hit by recession and inflation, has brightened recently so there probably will be no need for a cut beyond the $252 million mark.

He and legislative leaders have pledged no tax increases to add to the economic woes of most Floridians, but they have called for ending some or all of the rebates to businessmen who also called for diverting $51 million from university construction to local schools. "Teacher groups also have called for more state revenue. The budget picture is a complete reversal from the past two sessions when the state surplus exceeded $250 million each year. Tax-reform proposals of last year also appear to be victims of hard times.

As in each session since 1973, lawmakers must again wrestle with the thorny question of impeachment. In that year, a House committee recommended impeachment of former Lt. Gov. Tom Adams and the House censured him for using state employes for personal errands. Floyd Christian resigned as education commissioner last April rather than go through impeachment before a possible trial on bribery, perjury and conspiracy charges.

Two House impeachment committees are holding hearings this year — one on Treasurer Thomas O'Malley and another on Supreme Court Justice Joseph Boyd and David McCain. They will occupy a lot of time of committee members but other legislators will be little involved unless one should recommend impeachment.

The burden then would fall on the 120 House members where a two-thirds vote would send the case to the Senate for trial. The trial probably would wait until after the regular session ends in June. This also will be the year for governmental reorganization as a follow-up to the major reshuffle of 1969.

Major compromises between Askew and legislative leaders have been reached already on reorganization of the Health and Rehabilitative Services Department and of environmental agencies. The HRS reorganization plan, with differences between House and Senate on details, calls for consolidating its aid programs to the poor, infirmed, crippled and ill at the local level to better serve persons who don't fit into neat bureaucratic categories.

It also calls for removing prisons from HRS and consolidating the Corrections Division with the Parole and Probation Commission field staff to create a new Department of Offender Rehabilitation.

In environmental reorganization, four departments will be reshuffled into three to consolidate environmental permitting in one and land management in another. The Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, and to implement a government efficiency study.

Less emotional, but also high on legislative programs, are bills to require more financial disclosure by government officials, Askew's No. 1 priority, and to implement a government efficiency study.

The aim is to allow persons seeking permits such as for dredge and fill to go to one agency instead of being bounced between several.

Area Bicentennial Should Get Support

People who live in and around Sanford are gearing for the arrival of April 19 on their calendars, as that will be the 200th anniversary of the mid-nineteenth century Paul Revere and thousands of Americans have indicated they want to visit and celebrate the event where a signal from the Old North Church near Boston, relayed by a hard-riding silversmith, alerted the Minutemen to their first encounter with British forces in the American Revolution.

For Lexington and Concord, Mass., that anniversary will remove any doubt that our country's Bicentennial celebration has begun. The "official" opening of the 22-month Bicentennial period passed on March 1—a date with no particular significance in the history of the Revolution—but there are signs that the nation's birthday may be a "sleeper" about to come to life.

Preparations for our Bicentennial have proven two things.

One is that there is no lack of imagination around the country for events and observances that could provide a regional or local focus for the Bicentennial. State and local commissions have registered over 6,000 Bicentennial events to take place from now until the end of 1976—all tied to history, the present scene of ambitions for the future.

The other fact that has emerged is that the rank and file of Americans have done a good job of procrastinating when it comes to final planning and organization for many of these observances.

Many communities may find that the Bicentennial is upon them, a spark of public enthusiasm has been ignited and they are rushing to make this significant period what it deserves to be.

The decision to make the Bicentennial a truly nationwide event, rather than one focused on the Eastern seaboard where events of the Revolution took place, was a good one.

It is not just the American Revolution that we should be remembering at this time, but the entire 200 years of history that unfolded afterwards and the challenges and opportunities that we face for the future.

There is no corner of the country that the Bicentennial should pass by—especially in the Greater Sanford area.

Paul Revere alerted sleeping colonists to the secret approach of the British in April, 1775. It's no secret right now that the Bicentennial is coming, but some Americans need to be routed from their slumber if they are to avoid waking up later to find they missed the chance to make the Bicentennial a memorable occasion for themselves, Sanford and its surrounding communities.

Let's not get caught short. Let's give Jack Horner, head of our area Bicentennial Commission, all the help we can in truly organizing, planning and following through with BIG Bicentennial events.

Horner needs all the help he can get, in ideas and in manpower. Maybe your idea might not seem like much now, but once presented to Horner or any of his committee members it's entirely possible that idea could be worked into an integral part of our Bicentennial celebration.

What can you offer?

BERRY'S WORLD

So you think it was cold Friday morning? Granted, when we passed the First Federal Savings and Loan of Mid-Florida on the way to work at 5:12 a.m. Thursday it was 71 degrees Fahrenheit only to drop to 47 degrees by 5:10 a.m. on Friday.

However, did you notice in the weather reports that Chicago and other mid-western areas were shoveling out from under a blizzard during that same period.

A number of deaths were attributed to the northern snow storm and Chicago's O'Hare Airport was closed to all air traffic for only the third time in its history.

Don't forget, you've got just nine more days until those income taxes are due. And, remember too, the sooner you get them in the mail, the sooner you'll get your rebate from the Internal Revenue Service.

Don't delay, send those forms in today!

That's all...
WATCH OUT, MR. PRESIDENT — IT'S ONE OF THOSE PIE-THROWING HIT MEN!

Around The Clock

For so many years, having been personally exposed to a recreational program in the hills of Pennsylvania, I thought that state's endeavors were probably the best in the nation. After listening to Longwood's Bill Klosky tell me of our own Seminole Baseball League, I've had second thoughts on the matter.

What we have here for our kids rates favorably with all others—anywhere!

Did you realize this program caters to the needs of 1,000 boys from Seminole County? And, there are presently 51 teams in this combination of leagues which feature the diamond talents of baseball addicts from seven through 16 years of age? All of the baseball games are played at Cooper Field, located on SR 419, near Five Points. There are four fields at this baseball "factory," and they play games on Saturdays through Thursday.

You'll probably enjoy learning there is no admission charge to watch any of these games, too.

Klosky said there is a need, however. "If there's anyone who'd like to help in the maintenance of the fields, or help with the concessions... whatever they'd like to do FOR FREE, tell 'em we'd like to have them."

In the event you're a local businessman and feel inclined to help defray some of the financial costs, there are team sponsorships available. For the Pee Wee teams (ages seven through nine) the sponsorship is $100; the Bronco League (11 and 12); Pony (13 and 14); and Colt (15 and 16) costs $200 per team for sponsorship.

The genial Klosky raised a special appeal for two sponsors for the National and American All-Star teams in the Pony Division, the cost of which is $450 each. One of the reasons that cost may seem higher than usual is the need for all new uniforms for the future pros.

If you can help out, it'll be greatly appreciated.

Not too many columns back we were discussing the bad check problems which were being experienced by the area merchants, and deplored the conditions generally.

The adage "Misery loves company" holds true when you consider what neighboring Orange County is going through, too. Figures released by the Orlando Police Dept. reveal during the first quarter of 1975, bad checks in the Orlando area have increased 137 per cent compared to the first quarter figures of 1974.

Approximate dollar value is estimated to have increased from $49,000 for the three-month period of 1974 to $114,000 for the same period this year. The only similarity between Seminole and Orange Counties—other than the obvious bad check situation—is that those who abide by the laws of the land are made to pay for the escapades of the law breakers.

Higher prices are imposed by the merchants because of losses due to bad checks.

GLENN McCASLAND Being Fix-It Doesn't Work Well

Ever try to fix a curtain with 90-pounds of dog hanging on your pants? Don't. It will drive you crazy.

I know because I just finished repairing four sets of curtains in the apartment with the dog yapping and jumping at my heels.

The damage was tremendous. Item: One pair of pants, ripped nearly at the bottom. Item: Footprints over the couch, bed and one chair—all four-footed.

Item: One bruised hand from falling off chair. Item: One bruised dog, kicked outside. And the curtains still tilt forward.

Between my inability to be a handy-man around the house and the dog proving she's a trouble-maker deluxe, the curtains don't stand a chance. Neither does much else around the place.

This reporter is pleased with the reception of the public to the column. The volume of mail has been so outstanding that it takes more than one pair of hands to open it all.

Yep, thus far I've received the total of one letter regarding the column. And that "supporter" didn't sign his name.

I think there was a message in the letter I missed.

The past week saw the climax of a mighty venture for this tired old soul.

After three weeks of work, my trusty automobile—1968 vintage—finally rolled onto the streets, complete with $73 repair bill.

We hurried to the Sanford Motor Vehicle Inspection station so we could comply with the law, only to find the automobile neatly rejected by the inspectors.

It seems the very items which had been repaired on the car were still not adjusted correctly.

Oh, well, I've been walking four months. A couple more days won't flatten my feet any further.

Have a good Sunday.

"Well, Back To The Drawing Board!"

REPORTERS' NOTEBOOK

Just Too Many Words

Winter Springs Council — not noted for brevity—this week voted to impose a 10 p.m. time limit on its meetings. Councilman Irwin Hunter called the action "an answer to prayer," while Councilman Irene Van Espoel quipped "Will the speakers come on at 10 p.m.?"

Pointing out the council has met every week but one since Jan. 1, Councilman Frank Durance summed it all up with "I don't think our problem is not enough meetings, but rather too many words."

Someone's playing "get back in a deplorable way. A Sanford policeman returned home last week to find his personal vehicle had been vandalized. Sprayed in large white letters on the front rear and sides of the car were the words "pig" and "narc." The officer reported damage to the car was estimated at $100.

J.Q. 'Slim' Galloway, a member of the Sanford Planning and Zoning Commission reflected on this impact during discussion of a paramedic unit for the city's fire department. "We can't compete with TV," Galloway said.

JACK ANDERSON

Goldwater Helped French

WASHINGTON — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., is usually one of the first on his feet to oppose giving away U.S. military secrets. Yet two years ago, he helped the French obtain a highly classified, American-made component for a jet engine.

The senator was won over by French officials who courted him assiduously at the Paris air show in May 1973. He responded by cabling the White House from Paris, urging that the sensitive component be shared with the French.

The story is told in State Department cables, which we have now obtained. What the French wanted was a "core element" that General Electric had developed for jet engines. The project had been financed from Pentagon funds for the B-1 bomber.

The French, seeking to revive the European aircraft industry, wanted to join forces with GE to adapt the new engine to commercial use. However, the White House rejected GE's application for an export license on several grounds. Most importantly, the engine was declared to be of strategic importance to the United States.

Still the French persisted. The late President Pompidou took the matter up personally with President Nixon in the summer of 1972, competent sources report.

The following year, the French worked on Goldwater when he showed up at the Paris air show. An official named Henri Ziegler, according to the State Department cables, "welcomed Senator Goldwater to the air show" and "arranged flight to A-300 airport."

The president of a French aircraft company was "host at stag luncheon in Senator's honor on June 1." The same day, the secretary-general of the air show, Jacques Mallet, "called on Senator... at embassy." The next day, Ziegler took over again as Goldwater's "official host at luncheon."

But the crowning touch came when the French Air Force chief, Gen. Claude Grigault, arranged for Goldwater to pilot a Mirage-3 jet fighter.

This is the senator's favorite sport. He prides himself on having flown every plane made in the United States. "Whenever there's a new plane around," he told us, "I want to fly it."

According to the cables, a Bell helicopter whisked Goldwater to Bretigny where, with a copilot named Capt. Charrin, the senator flew the Mirage-3.

Sometimes during the hectic courtship of Goldwater, the French took him aside and explained their great desire for the GE engine component. Goldwater obligingly cabled President Nixon's notorious Mr. Fix-it, Peter Flanigan, at the White House on June 1: "Suggest you contact the President immediately, urging approval of the General Electric... agreement," wired Goldwater.

"This will be most advantageous to our industry but, most importantly, advantageous to the relations between France and the U.S. It will have absolutely no harm on our engine industry. In fact, in my opinion, it will help it, and it needs help. Please follow through immediately."

Flanigan's reply was on the wires that evening: "I agree with your telegram... and appreciate your interest in this matter. This issue is well in hand."

A few days later, the White House ban on the GE export license was lifted. How much of the Goldwater cable influenced the decision can only be speculated, but it is known that Nixon was extremely sensitive to pressure from Goldwater.

The senator told us he had sent the cable "based on meetings with the French." He could not remember the details of the GE-French agreement but recalled that "it had something to do with motors," he said.

PHANTOM CONGRESSMAN: Ex-Rep. Frank Clark, D-Pa., apparently thinks he still represents Pennsylvania's 25th district despite his defeat for re-election last November by Rep. Gary Myers, R-Pa. Clark has just sent 150,000 congressional newsletters to his former constituents at a cost to the taxpayers of more than $10,000 in mailing expenses, although he hasn't been a congressman since January.

Under the law, former congressmen are permitted to continue using the free mailing privilege until April 1 after they leave office. This is intended to give them time to clean up their official correspondence.

But Clark missed the privilege to bombard his former constituents with newsletters reporting on "Accomplishments in the 25th District."

The newsletter, which contains a half-dozen promotional photos referring to himself as "Congressman Clark," gives the impression that he still represents the 25th district.

He invited former constituents to business "as usual" at his "offices" in Washington and Pennsylvania, without mentioning the fact that he is now a professional business consultant and is no longer their congressman.

Contacted in Pennsylvania, Clark told us he saw nothing wrong with spending $10,000 of the taxpayers' money to mail out newsletters. "The franking privilege extension," he said, "was designed to allow former congressmen to report to their constituents."

WORLD IN BRIEF

Navy Task Force Set For Vietnam Evacuation

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—A U.S. Navy task force including four aircraft carriers began assembling in the Western Pacific today for possible evacuation of Americans and South Vietnamese from Saigon, official sources said.

The sources said the task force had no orders to move into Vietnam waters but the threat to the capital was being assessed by the hour.

No major action was reported around Saigon today but intense fighting was reported to the south in the Mekong River delta. The heavily populated delta was held tight by the government during the North Vietnamese-Viet Cong offensive despite loss of the northern and central parts of the country.

Asylum Plan Urged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Law and order may break down in Saigon if Communists attack near the city, there is a sudden change of government or there are wild rumors, State Department analysts say.

It also is possible that Hanoi could call for an uprising of the urban peoples and then sow confusion through infiltrators already in the city, the analysts said Friday.

Meanwhile, retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Edward G. Lendale, who played a major role in an earlier resettlement in Vietnam, called on President Ford to provide asylum to Vietnamese who may be in danger of Communist retaliation.

Portugal Eyes Socialism

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Portugal's political leaders have agreed that the nation's new constitution will give all essential powers to the military to guide the nation to socialism.

Heads of parties campaigning in April 25 elections for a civilian assembly to write the new constitution endorsed a detailed arm forces outline which provides for eventual election of a civilian parliament but relegates civil authority to a decorative role.

Diet Helps Control Gout

Dr. Lamb
By LAWRENCE E. LAMB

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm writing about my husband because he had the gout a few years ago and now he's having it quite often and he's taking pills for it.

He won't let up on his drinking and he doesn't watch what he is eating, either. I want to know what effects this would have on him when he's getting these attacks so often?

DEAR READER — You may be sure it is not doing him any good. With a better appreciation of gout and the development of new medicines, diet is not as important as it once was, but it is still an important consideration.

The most important aspect of the diet is not to eat too much. Food binges can cause a sudden attack. In general it is better for the gouty person to eliminate excess weight gradually and keep it off. The diet should be moderate amount.

Alcohol in repeated quantities or in sudden drinking bouts, like a party, can cause a sudden attack of painful gout. Anyone with gout should certainly restrict their drinking to a very moderate amount.

Finally, anyone who has gout should be followed regularly by his physician. Your doctor can provide medicine that will pretty well eliminate gouty attacks and prevent most of the complications of gout. But the means to cooperate. That means in the diet, exercise and living habits area as well as taking the medicine and having regular checkups.

Reds, Dodgers Baptize 1975 Baseball Season

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Reds, hoping to recapture the National League title, get a crack at the Los Angeles Dodgers right off the bat Monday in the opener of the 1975 baseball season.

The Reds, the team that traditionally opens the major league season, host the defending league champions at Riverfront Stadium before an expected sellout crowd of 52,000, including Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn.

The Reds won National League pennants in 1970 and 1972 and look the West Division title in 1973 before the Dodgers dethroned them last year. The sellout crowd at Riverfront marks the 10th time that those latter rivals have played to a capacity crowd and reflects the most enthusiastic advance ticket sale in baseball history. Half of the 24 major league teams have reported increases in their season's ticket sales.

The game between the West's power teams precedes by hours three more opening games Monday night. In the National League, Montreal will visit St. Louis and Houston will host Atlanta. California will entertain Kansas City in the American League.

Kuhn will travel to Cleveland Tuesday to attend Frank Robinson's debut as the major leagues' first black manager. Jackie Robinson's widow, Rachel, will throw out the first ball before Cleveland's Gaylord Perry pitches with Doc Medich of the New York Yankees in the American League game.

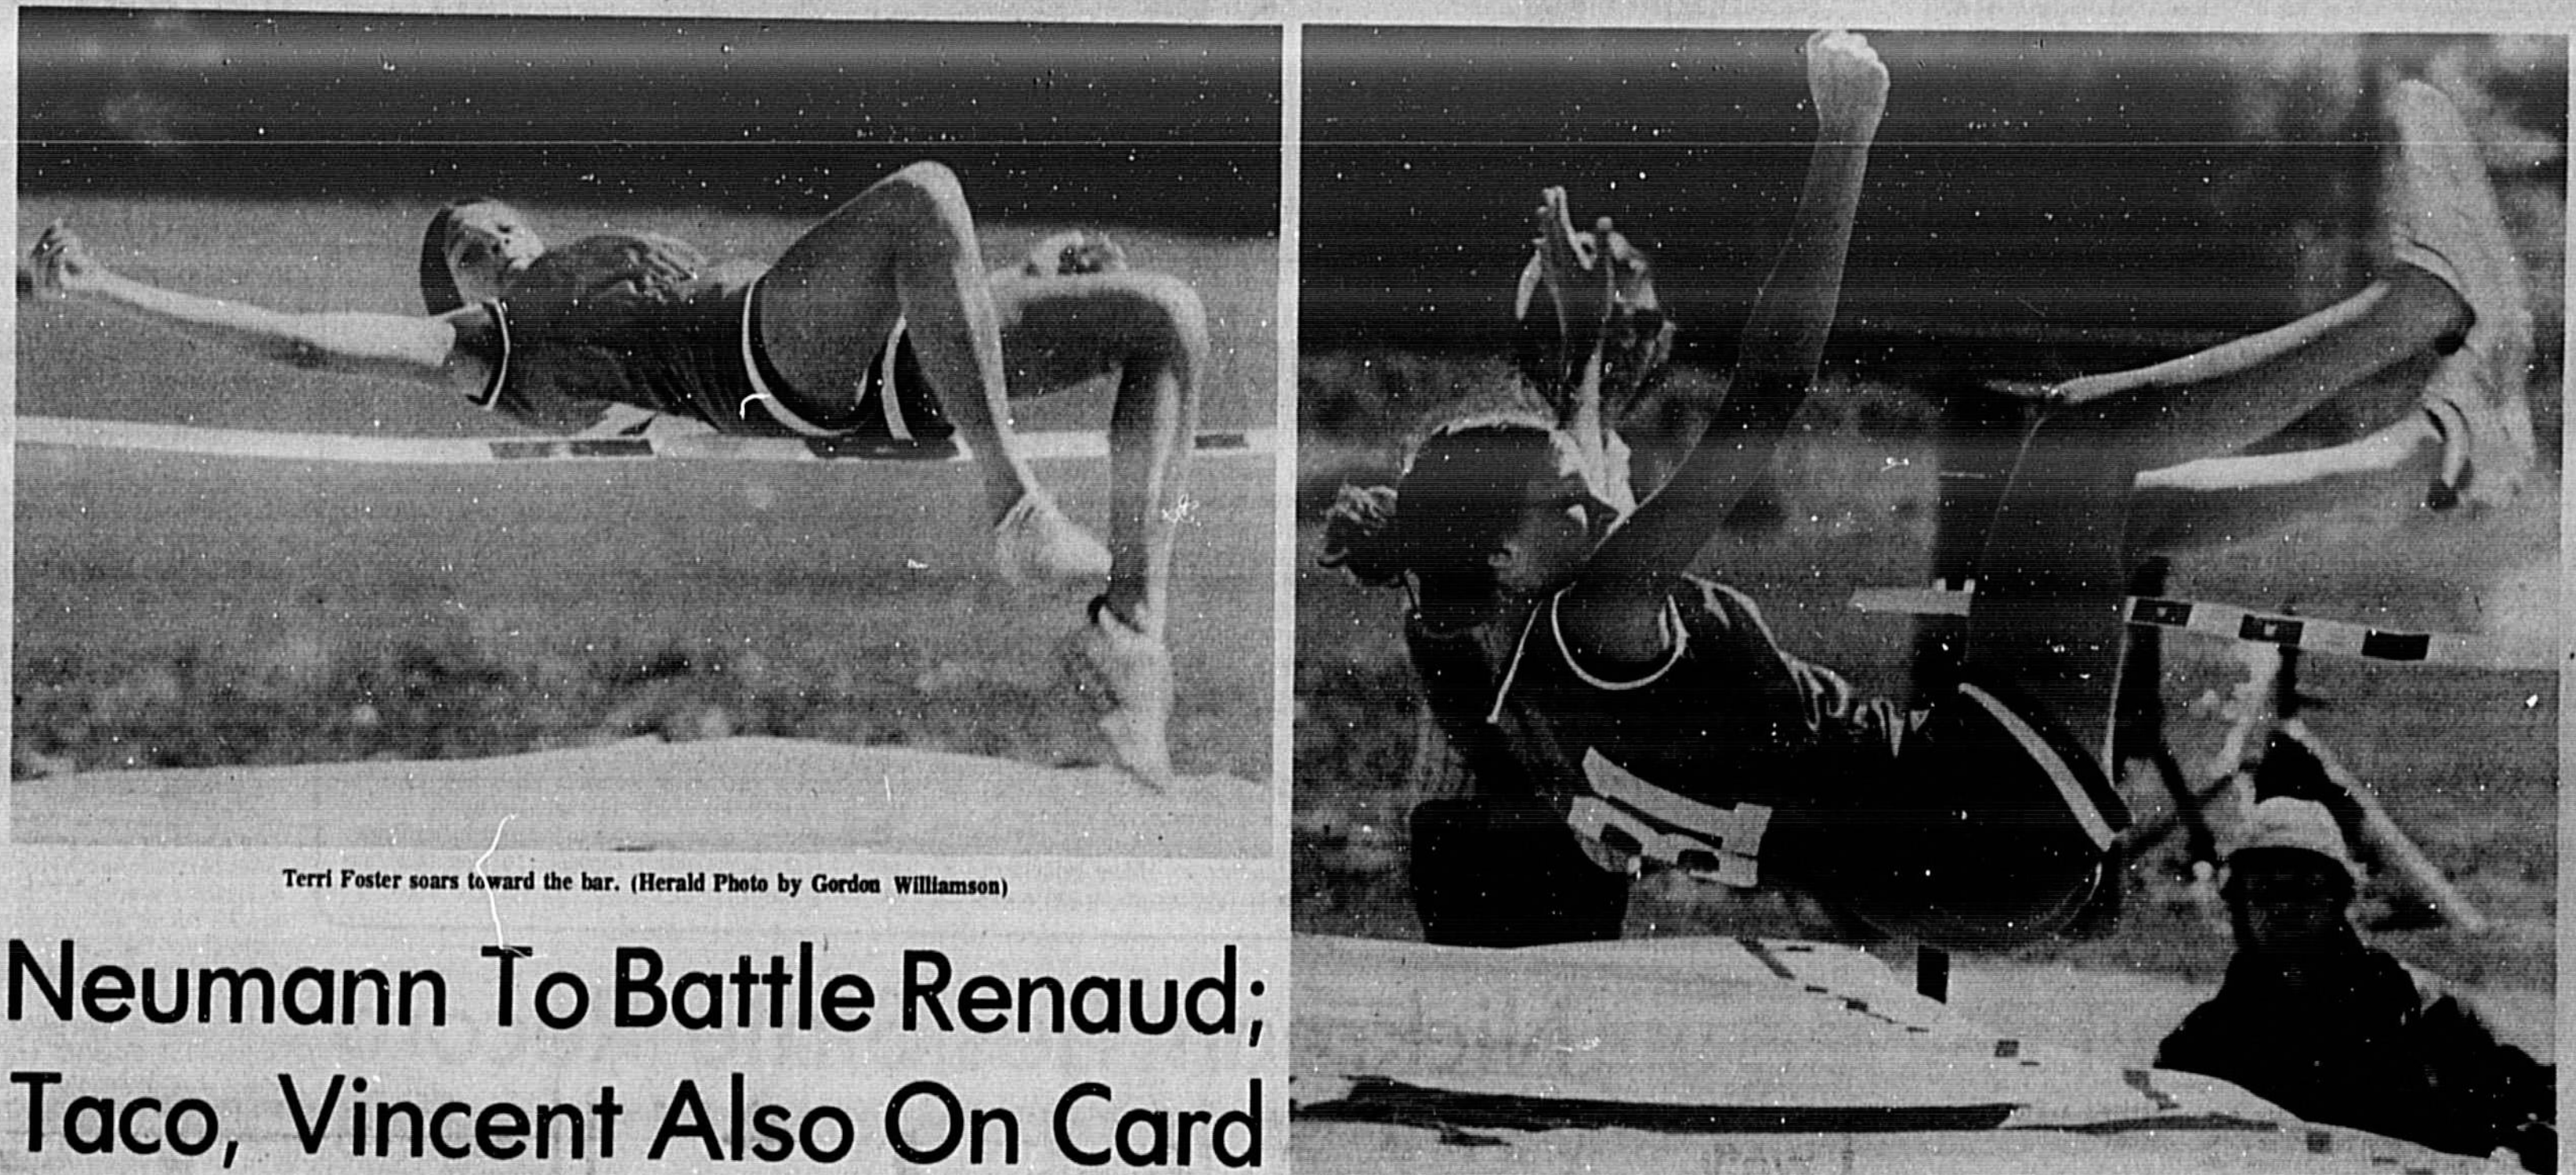

Nine other games will be played Tuesday, including seven openers.

The Milwaukee Brewers, featuring home run king Hank Aaron, will start Jim Stalon against Luis Tiant of the Boston Red Sox. Vida Blue hopes to get the Oakland A's off on the right track toward a fourth straight American League championship, pitching against Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox.

Joe Coleman of Detroit faces Jim Palmer of Baltimore and Minnesota will throw Bert Blyleven against Texas' Ferguson Jenkins in the other American League openers.

In the National League, it's Philadelphia at New York, Pittsburgh at Chicago and San Francisco at San Diego. Steve Carlton goes for the Phillies against the Mets' Tom Seaver; the Pirates will serve Dock Ellis against Chicago's Rick Reuschel and San Francisco will send Jim Barr against San Diego's Randy Johnson.

Neumann To Battle Renaud; Taco, Vincent Also On Card

By LOUIS SAPISS
Herald Boxing Writer

The man who refers to himself as "The Great White Prayer," Randy Neumann, will headline the boxing show Tuesday night at the Orlando Sports Stadium. Neumann's opponent for the 10-rounder will be Canadian-born Larry Renaud, who now calls Tampa his home.

The good-looking Neumann will carry a record of 27-4 into the ring against the burly Renaud. Among those 27 are wins over Chuck Wepper, Jimmy Young and Pedro Agosto.

According to the record book, Wepper holds two wins over Neumann, one of them on a seventh round KO. But if you hear Neumann's half of the story, he was robbed both times.

"The first fight I beat him easy," he said. "The ref gave me 11 out of the 12 rounds. I can't see how he thought I lost that one."

"Being a nice guy, I gave Wepper a rematch in his home town, Jersey City. That was a mistake.

"At the end of the fight they called Wepper the winner. I can produce 10 sports writers who were there that night and said I deserved to win. On top of that, eight of the 10 though I won at least 10 of the 12 rounds.

"The third fight. Now there I was ahead on all three of the official cards.

"On two I was leading 4-2, and on the other I was leading 5-1. But Wepper hit me with his head in a clinch and the ref caused a cut. The doctor stopped it in the strongest ever presented in this area. Promoter Pete Ashlock has given his matchmaker, Bruce Trampler, the green light to put on an all-star card with at least three 10-rounders.

The big fight should be between Gene Wells of Orlando and Miami's Ernie Burns. Both are undefeated in this area and both have scored sensational wins here in recent weeks.

Wells has stopped "Slick" Mitchell and Kenie Pinder, while pointing out one-sided wins over Woody Star and Rocky Halliday. In his only appearance locally, Burns pulled the biggest upset of the year when he stopped previously undefeated KO artist Glen Morgan.

Mac Foster, Ashlock's super heavyweight, will make his initial appearance against Carl Baker of the Bahamas.

Foster will appear on national TV against George Foreman. But Baker has the punch to knock Foster out of the big payday.

The other two pro fights will feature "Taco" Perez and the return of the Donny Osmond of boxing, "Termites" Watkins. Opponents now are being sought for Perez and Watkins. Perez is trying to stay in shape for his bout with Vincent, while the undefeated Watkins is coming back from a broken jaw he suffered in Texas a couple of months ago.

Nickman Ties State Record; Patriots Win Girls' Decathlon

By CHUCK McCLUNG
Herald Correspondent

LONGWOOD — Through the record-shattering season of the Lake Brantley girls' track team, Gina "Stick" Nickman's record Friday stands out.

Nickman equaled the Florida high jump record of 5'6", 1-inch at the Seminole County Decathlon at Lyman.

"I'm glad," said the excited Patriot after the jump. "I don't believe it."

Nickman's jump led the Brantley girls to a victory over Lyman and Lake Howell.

In the final events in the boys' competition, Al Latimer led Lyman to the crown with a first place individual finish with 4,120 points.

In the sophomore division, Bob Burkhardt of Lyman, captured the individual crown with 3,110 points. The sophomore Greyhounds finished well ahead of the Pats, 8,600 to 5,550.

Lisa Eberle of Lake Brantley compiled three firsts, capturing the individual championship by edging teammate Mickman.

Eberle finished first in shot putt with a toss of 31-feet, 6-inches. A clocking of 2:49.5 in the 800-yard run earned top honors for Eberle. Nickman and Eberle tied for first in the long jump with efforts of 15-feet, 2-inches.

Eberle recorded 242 points to Nickman's 223.

Terri Foster of Lake Brantley collected 204 points, giving the Patriots a sweep of the top three and a 60 team total.

Lyman took the runner-up spot with 537 team marks.

Anita Cleveland won the 100-yard dash with a clocking of 11.7. The Greyhound ace ended the day with 184 points.

Lake Howell finished in the cellar, but Cindy Frank recorded a fourth in the individual competition. She ended with 200 points.

Latimer, leading the first-round competition with 2,120 points, almost doubled his points Friday in capturing the individual crown.

Latimer racked up a pair of firsts, combined with two firsts Thursday, leading the Greyhounds to a come-from-behind championship.

Lake Brantley led Friday's action by a 4,910-840 margin. The "Hounds" finished with a total of 10,570. Brantley had 40,430.

Latimer's firsts were in the 100-yard dash (10.1) and the long jump (30-feet, 7-inches). In Thursday's events, the Greyhound ace finished first in the shot putt (42-feet) and the 220-yard dash (23.4).

Ron Harris of Lake Brantley took the runner-up spot with 3,900 points. Harris recorded top honors in the high jump with a 5-foot, 10-inch jump.

ROLLERBALL 21st Century's Grand Old Sporting Pastime?

By MURRAY OLDFERMAN
(Second Of Two Parts)

MUNICH, Germany — (NEA) — Norman Jewison, the producer-director of "Rollerball," and James Caan, the star, became involved in this unique, futuristic sports movie because they felt there was a valid social comment to be made.

Caan risked only his artistic integrity. Jewison made a more tangible commitment — a budget of $4.5 million for the film, which will be released in June.

Norman is a slight, pleasant-looking Canadian (now based in London) who wears an omnipresent baseball cap to keep down his long gray hair.

"I don't know whether this is really a sports movie," he mused during the shooting. "We're not doing the 'Joe Namath Story.' Rollerball is the instrument, the battlefield in which the conflict is played out in the field."

The conflict, without delving too deeply into the plot, is over "the creeping depersonalization of human life."

"It's 30 to 40 years into the future," continued the film maker, "a glimpse at what the world is going to be. And maybe not a good glimpse. I just personally have a fear of corporate entities, and national corporate entities are getting bigger. I really have a fear of professional sport. I'm a big fan of college football and the Olympics. Once professionals get in, the sport takes on a different direction."

"I'm a Canadian and I see where ice hockey is going. I played it as a kid. It used to be a game of grace and skill. Now they're like animals. 'Kill! kill!' In the Stanley Cup last year, it was, 'Get 'em, Schultz!' A kid got his eye put out. Where's it gonna end?"

He remembered, as a kid around Toronto, wrapping old Saturday Evening Posts around his shins when he couldn't afford shin guards because "those skates are sharp."

"The more padding they put on today's athletes," he said, "the rougher it gets." In his movie, the protagonists wear plastic helmets with face bars, shoulder and hip padding, leather pants, gloves with extra padding and webbing and wrist guards.

It is significant that he has chosen to use (or gamble on) sport as the interpreter of social current.

"When I read this short story about this bizarre game," he shrugged, "it immediately brought up the analogy to the Roman empire when Saturday afternoon in the arena became the most violent — they were called games. They were gladiatorial in concept. People got hurt, sometimes killed. That built, too, to Circus Maximus."

"It is kind of gladiatorial," admitted Caan, playing the lead role of Jonathan E., the world's best in Rollerball, "and says something about professional football maybe. But I loved the game. It's part of this fantasy thing 'I'm into. I'm a professional athlete myself, you know."

He actually is a card-carrying member of the Rodeo Cowboys Association. While making a picture in Nebraska once and he was invited to a branding party and got hooked on horses and roping, strange interests for a kid out of Sunny-side, I.L.I., who was a "three-sewer man" in city stickball.

"They called me 'Hollywood,'" he said, "and they probably knew I was Jewish, so they were testing me. I like being around cowboy. You know exactly where you stand. It clears your head."

Caan, now a dimensional star (with fine reviews for "Funny Lady" opposite Barbra Streisand), made his first great impact playing a jock in "Brian's Song." When he first arrived in the camp of the Chicago Bears to film the award-winning TV show, Don Shinnick, then the defensive coach, asked him, "Hey, Caan, you ever have polio?"

Caan has a big upper torso and nothing from the waist down. His legs are bird thin. When he went out for freshman football at Michigan State, he used to wrap them in tape and put on several pairs of socks to make the calves look bigger.

"I've worked out with the Oakland Raiders at training camp," he said, "catching passes. I'm still waiting for them to give me that contract. You think I got a chance?"

He really tried to sound serious.

Hungry Mackerel Feast On Anglers' Bait

True to predictions made by the "old-timers," spanish mackerel moved inshore this week within easy reach of small boats. The mackerel were about two miles outside Ponce DeLeon inlet and were hungry, hitting savagely at trolled spoons, feather jigs, diamond head jigs and other flashing bait.

DOONESBURY (continued)

South wasn't proud of his three notrump call, but he had that allergy about being shut out by a preemptive bid. In any event, the game was rubber bridge, the hour late and South wanted to get home.

If West had opened a heart South would almost surely have found himself left with an unfinished rubber, but West opened his fourth best club and South counted quickly to nine tricks.

He went right up with dummy's ace of clubs. He needed two entries to dummy and he could not afford a heart shift.

He led a spade at trick two.

part of myself. So now I've salvaged my children's dolls, and my grandchildren's, too."

It's a creative hobby, and an interesting one. Most doll collectors are handy seamstresses and dress their own dolls. They also repair old, broken and faded toys. And they spend hours at the library studying the dress and habits of the people who lived in the period during which their favorite dolls were created.

Doll collectors, while they have that essential "hoarding streak," also love to show off what they are so carefully collecting. This weekend, members and friends-of-members of the Central Florida Doll Club will be exhibiting their collections at the Altamonte Springs Civic Center, from 1-8 p.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

It was difficult to preview any of the dolls that will be on exhibit — most were already carefully packed in tissue-lined boxes for transportation. But a few had not been tucked from collectors of stamps, bottles and beer cans. Because dolls are different from the run of the mill collector's item.

Dolls have heart and soul and history in such an intimate, personal way. Not only are they replicas of humans, they're also extensions of human personalities and mingle with the happiest memories of childhood.

"My baby!" a tiny child will exclaim, clutching that huggable bundle of blanket, lace and baby-likeness which is her doll.

This doll, she mothers it the way her own mother cares for her. And it's as real to her as she is to her own mother. Years later, viewing this tattered scrap of her childhood while clearing out an attic, perhaps, or rummaging through her old toy chest, her heart will lurch with nostalgia for that little plastic friend she's outgrown

Blast Off

Cubmaster Lonnie Friend, Pack 196, Central Florida Council, has announced that his pack will participate in the Boy Scouts of America "Blast Off to Eternity" project.

During April, special scrolls will be made available to units which registered scouts may sign. The scrolls will then be turned into the Council and forwarded to the Regional Office where the scroll will be microfilmed and then blasted into space on a space flight mission in the Fall of 1978.

Deadline for turning in scrolls with the names of registered scouts will be the end of June. The Space Agency will certify that the names on the scroll are in space by imprinting the original scroll and returning it to the council for return to the unit. In addition, boys whose names appear on the scroll will receive a special wallet-sized card which certifies that their names have been in space.

This is a great opportunity for all scouts and an incentive to other young boys to join the Scouting program, enjoy all the benefits available through scouting and have the added bonus of having their names in space. Contact Friend for further information.

Garden Club

The next meeting of the North Orlando Garden Club will be held on April 10 at 7:30 p.m., at the home of hostess Sally Boveras, 64 S. Cortez Ave. Co-hostess for the evening will be club president Janet Pottinger.

Youth Dance

The Winter Springs Youth Group will be holding bi-weekly dances for the next few months.

Jaycees

Congratulations and best wishes are extended to Ernie Hendrix and his group for forming the first Winter Springs Chapter of Jaycees.

Egg Hunt

On March 29 at Sunshine Park, the annual Easter Egg Hunt was held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. The hunt was co-sponsored by the Volunteer Fire Dept., of Winter Springs, and its Ladies Auxiliary. Assisting at the hunt representing the Auxiliary were Marie Lathan and Ruth Holzman.

Train Is 'Family' To 'Mother Bunny'

By JEAN PATTESON
Women's Editor

Unaware that the carriage she had just boarded was about to be shunted into a siding at Sanford's Auto Train Terminal, Martha (Marty) Wright browsed happily through the spanking new compartment, admiring the purple and red upholstery, the smart yellow accessories and the general air of luxury.

"This is the way to go..." she was thinking to herself, when suddenly a voice boomed out through a loud hailer: "Get Mother Bunny off the train before we move!"

Marty turned, and came face to face with A.Q. Olson, Vice President in charge of Maintenance. He was a red-faced Olson, blushing that she should have heard his spurs-of-the-moment nickname for Marty. But the name stuck.

It's now three-and-a-half years since the incident, but Auto Train's Director of Training and Recruitment, Marty Wright, is still known affectionately as Mother Bunny to "her girls"—the 100 or so hostesses who ride the train between Sanford and Lorton, Va., or Sanford and Louisville, Ky.

Mothering is what Marty does best, her attractive band of hostesses agree. And when young girls are far from home, "riding the rails" from chilly North to sunny South, there are times when they need a maternal shoulder to cry on or someone who cares to confide in.

"They can come to me with their problems any time of day or night," Marty smiles with warm understanding. "After all, I've been through most of it myself."

Most of Marty's experience as the hostess and travel was gained by with a lot of glamor and not much personality," said Marty. "On the train it's different. The passengers are older folks or families, and a hostess must have plenty of personality and patience for the long trip."

It's 15 1/2 hours to Lorton; 22 to Louisville. Auto Train also stresses individuality. "We like our girls to express their own personalities, that's why we give them such a wide choice of uniform," Marty explained. Hostess uniforms are all in the Auto Train colors of purple, red and yellow, but consist of coordinated jackets and tunics, blouses and sweaters, with slacks, walking shorts or hot pants.

The only mandatory item, of course, is a welcoming "all aboard for a fun ride" smile.

For 10 months Marty lived near Sanford, and loved it. But at the moment all but about 10 hostesses are based in Lorton, so she had to pack her bags and leave the sunny South to be with them.

In her two-week training sessions, Marty gives instruction in first aid, grooming, food and bar service, emergency procedures. Her girls' duties are varied and include bar tending, waitressing in the train's nightclub and dining room, serving coffee, talking with passengers and generally keeping the travellers happy and the carriages clean.

The waiting list for hostess jobs is so long, says Marty, that she never seems to catch up with processing all the applications. It's an attractive job, particularly to younger women who like the freedom, the travel, the two-day-on, five-off schedule and absence of routine. Many of the hostesses are college graduates who want to spend some time "finding themselves" and seeing a bit of the country before they settle into their chosen professions.

The pay is also attractive. Starting salaries are $55 per month—which means about 10 working days.

Marty hires girls who are well groomed and attractive with good figures and that all-important smile. Some experience dealing with the public is useful, but more than anything, it's personality which wins a girl a job as Auto Train hostess.

"On the airlines where most of the passengers are businessmen, a hostess can usually get by with a lot of glamor and not much personality," said Marty. "On the train it's different. The passengers are older folks or families, and a hostess must have plenty of personality and patience for the long trip."

Sanlando Utilities Receives Special State Award

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

County officials this week offered congratulations to Sanlando Utilities, a subsidiary of Greater Construction Co., on the award it recently received from the state Division of Health for the excellence of its water utility.

County Commission Chairman Sid Vihlen and county utility director, William Dale represented Seminole County at special ceremonies held at the Greater offices. The award of merit was won by Sanlando over all other utilities in the state serving up to 10,000 people.

Lester Mandell is president of Greater Construction and Sanlando Utilities and W. L. Mustard is executive vice president of Sanlando.

The six-year old utility company provides water and sewer service to approximately 8,500 residents. The firm's service area includes the Woodlands, Knollwood, the Springs, Sweetwater Oaks and the Wekiva Hunt Club in county territory and Winsor Manor, Devonshire, Sleepy Hollow first addition and the Moorings in Longwood.

Sanlando has three major treatment facilities including the $1 million Wekiva plant which has been in operation one year.

Greater Construction, the parent company of Sanlando, will be celebrating its first decade of service in Seminole County in June. One of the largest and finest builders in the area, it currently has homes available in several developments including Lake Hodge Estates, south of SR 434 in Casselberry, Sausalito Villas on Lake Howell, Casselberry and The Woodlands, west of Longwood.

Lake Hodge Estates boasts of luxurious lakeview living with no city taxes. Homes in the development ranging in price from $24,950, with no closing costs, are of solid construction with good planning, featuring attractive surroundings and quality living on wooded lots.

The Woodlands, north of SR 434 is an established community nestled among the pines. It is known as a prestige area where the fully stuccoed model homes include enclosed utility rooms, rear brick fireplaces, large comfortable family rooms, screened-in patios and two car garages.

Sausalito Villa is located on Lake Howell, one of the largest and most beautiful lakes in South Seminole County. Tennis courts and the pool are featured and one, two and three-bedroom villas and townhouses are available.

The development company over the past decade has provided homes for countless numbers of families in Lake Orienta, Oakland Estates and Charter Oaks in Altamonte Springs; Carriage Hill, Summercrest and Lake Hodge in Casselberry; The Woodlands and Meadows West near Longwood and is now completing the Winsor Manor development in Longwood.

In addition, three apartment complexes — the Summit in Casselberry, Summit East in Thiassville and Summit West in Tampa — were built by Greater.

also proceeding no more single family homes in River Run. Mandell has been active in Brevard, Dade, Orange, Seminole, Duval and Hillsborough Counties.

Other Greater Construction Co. officers are Jack Lazar, vice president; Lester Zimmerman, secretary-treasurer; Marvin Mandell, assistant secretary-treasurer.

Greater in its earlier years, operated from a trailer located on the job sites, later moved to a house in Maitland which was converted into office space and as business rapidly expanded it leased the entire second floor of the South Seminole Bank, now Citibank Casselberry, for its offices.

Levery Marty White plays 'Mother Bunny' to Auto Train's hostesses

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of two articles on the use of solar energy in a medium-size house.

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

The owner of a solar energy house built in Connecticut lives there three or four days a week.

Except for one week in December, enough solar heat was generated during each winter week to take care of the demand over the weekend. In addition to the solar energy equipment itself, other design elements boost the efficiency of energy usage year-round.

Cherestery windows in back of the roof sheds formed by the solar collectors provide natural lighting and ventilation for summer cooling. Roof overhangs protect the one and one-half-story wall of windows facing south from excessive heat gain when the sun is high in summer, yet assist heat gain when the sun is low in winter.

The large window wall also draws attention to the role that windows play in energy conservation. The natural light provided by the window area cuts down on the need for artificial lighting in the daytime. Sliding glass doors and fixed picture windows flanked by operable casements provide ventilation, thus reducing air conditioning loads.

"We've found that windows are very important in solar heated homes," architect Donald Watson says. "Research indicates that a homeowner can expect a minimum of 25 per cent of his annual heating requirements from a well-organized window design facing south with insulating shutters that retain heat inside the house at night."

The windows in the Connecticut house are quality wood window units with insulating glass — two panes of glass with an insulating air space between.

"A top-quality, wood-framed window with insulating glass backed by an insulating shutter to limit heat loss at night," Watson says, "is a superior heat collector to some of the expensive solar panels currently available."

"These low-cost panels have just been put on the market," he adds, "so nobody knows how long they'll last. Good windows, on the other hand, often last as long as the house."

What about costs? "A solar energy system costing $3,500 and providing 50 to 75 per cent of a home's heating requirements would slash $400 to $600 from the annual fuel bill over the average house and return the investment in six to nine years."

(Do-it-yourselfers will find information in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," available by sending $1 to this newspaper at Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

"A top-quality, wood-framed window with insulating glass backed by an insulating shutter to limit heat loss at night," Watson says, "is a superior heat collector to some of the expensive solar panels currently available."

"These low-cost panels have just been put on the market," he adds, "so nobody knows how long they'll last. Good windows, on the other hand, often last as long as the house."

What about costs? "A solar energy system costing $3,500 and providing 50 to 75 per cent of a home's heating requirements would slash $400 to $600 from the annual fuel bill over the average house and return the investment in six to nine years."

(Do-it-yourselfers will find information in Andy Lang's handbook, "Practical Home Repairs," available by sending $1 to this newspaper at Box 5, Teaneck, N.J. 07666.)

aid Watson says. "Research indicates that a homeowner can expect a minimum of 25 per cent of his annual heating requirements from a well-organized window design facing south with insulating shutters that retain heat inside the house at night."

The windows in the Connecticut house are quality wood window units with insulating glass — two panes of glass with an insulating air space between.

Orlando Will Host Sorority Convention

Orlando area Alpha Xi Delta alumnae will host collegians and alumnae from Florida and southern Georgia gathering April 12 to honor outstanding achievements, exchange ideas and plan for future development at their Province Convention to be held at the Dutch Inn in Lake Buena Vista.

"A Trail of Tradition — Proudly We Pledge" is the theme of the Omega Province Convention, as well as the 20 other Alpha Xi Delta Province Conventions being held this month throughout the United States.

The welcoming remarks Saturday morning will be given by general chairman Mrs. David Hansen of Maitland and convention hostess Mrs. Richard Straw of Altamonte Springs. Mrs. Stuart DeLee of Sheepsport, La., who is national council member at large, will speak on "Fraternity Forever" at the opening session.

The Order of the Rose, an honor conferred upon Alpha Xi Deltas who have been members of the sorority for fifty years will be presented by Miss Olga Bowen, a founder of the Sietson University chapter. Those receiving the Order of the Rose are: Mrs. Fabyan Mathe and Mrs. Archy T. Shrock, Deltona; Mrs. E. H. Artz, Clearwater; Mrs. Glen V. Bierman, Dunedin; Mrs. Ernest Mehrkens, Largo; Mrs. Thomas Hudson, Hudson; Mrs. Earl Cunningham, Sarasota; Mrs. E. C. Carr, Tampa; Mrs. Edward P. Fried, Temple Terrace; Mrs. Fred Wieseke, Tampa will also attend the sabb; Mrs. Clyde W. Fox, April 12 event.

Alpha Xi Delta, one of the original 10 Panhellenic groups, has 115 active college chapters, including chapters at Sietson University, DeLand, Florida State University, Tallahassee, Valdosta State College, Valdosta, Georgia, and Georgia Southern College, Statesboro, Georgia. Delegates from alumnae organizations in Daytona Beach, DeLand, Fla., Lauderdale, Jacksonville, Lakeland, Miami, Orlando, Palm Beach, Pensacola, St. Petersburg, Tallahassee, and Tampa will also attend the sabb; Mrs. Clyde W. Fox, April 12 event.

Cancer Conference Scheduled For Nurses

A special cancer conference for nurses—R.N., P.N., Student R.N., and Student L.P.N.—will be held April 15, at the Treasure Island Inn in Daytona Beach. There is no charge or admission fee for the sessions which start at 8:00 a.m. and conclude at 12:30 p.m. However, those who plan to attend are requested to make reservations in advance—before April 12—to assure accommodations. Arrangements should be made by contacting the East Volusia American Cancer Society, 520 Ridgewood Avenue, Daytona Beach, Florida 32114.

Featured speakers and subjects scheduled for the program are: Catherine Hess, M.D., Director of Bureau of Chronic Diseases, Pennsylvania State Health Dept., Harrisburg, Pa. Subject: "Nursing Aspects of OBGYN Cancer"; Ann Belcher, R.N., Instructor, Florida State University School of Nursing, Tallahassee, Fla. Subject: "Psychological Aspects of Cancer Nursing"; Marie Maxson, Coordinator, Southeastern Reach to Recovery Program—Rehabilitation for Mastectomy Patients, President, Broward County Unit, American Cancer Society.

The program has been planned for 35 CEUs from the Florida Nurses Association. Conference sponsors are: East Volusia Unit of American Cancer Society; Comprehensive Cancer Center for the State of Florida; Volusia Flagler Task Force for Continuing Education for Nurses.

Government Women Organize

To kick-off Florida's observance of 1975 as International Women's Year, Governor Askew will install the newly-elected officers of the Florida Women in Government Service, Inc. (WIGS) in a ceremony in the Governor's office in Tallahassee on April 14, 2 p.m.

Florida Women in Government Service, Inc. is a newly-incorporated non-profit organization of present and former elected government officials whose purpose is to provide information, support and inspiration to women aspiring to political office.

The group was founded by Rose Gordon, a City of Miami Council woman and president of the WIGS who believes strongly in the participation of women in politics.

The WIGS hope to develop a statewide membership of elected officials, both male and female, whose purpose shall be to develop support for issues of concern to women and shared by citizens throughout Florida. At their first meeting held

Water, Water Everywhere

Some people must mix business with pleasure and Judd M. DeYoung Jr., 3, shows he knows just how to get the job accomplished.

Setting out to help his dad water the family lawn, young Judd got the job down to almost "bare" facts as he waves the garden hose.

The arrival of Herald photographer Bill Vincent on the scene, causes the lad to take pity on the hired cameraman and offer a drink of water.

Of course, little Judd didn't say just how that drink of water would be delivered as he carried out the mission with a big "splash" in the face.

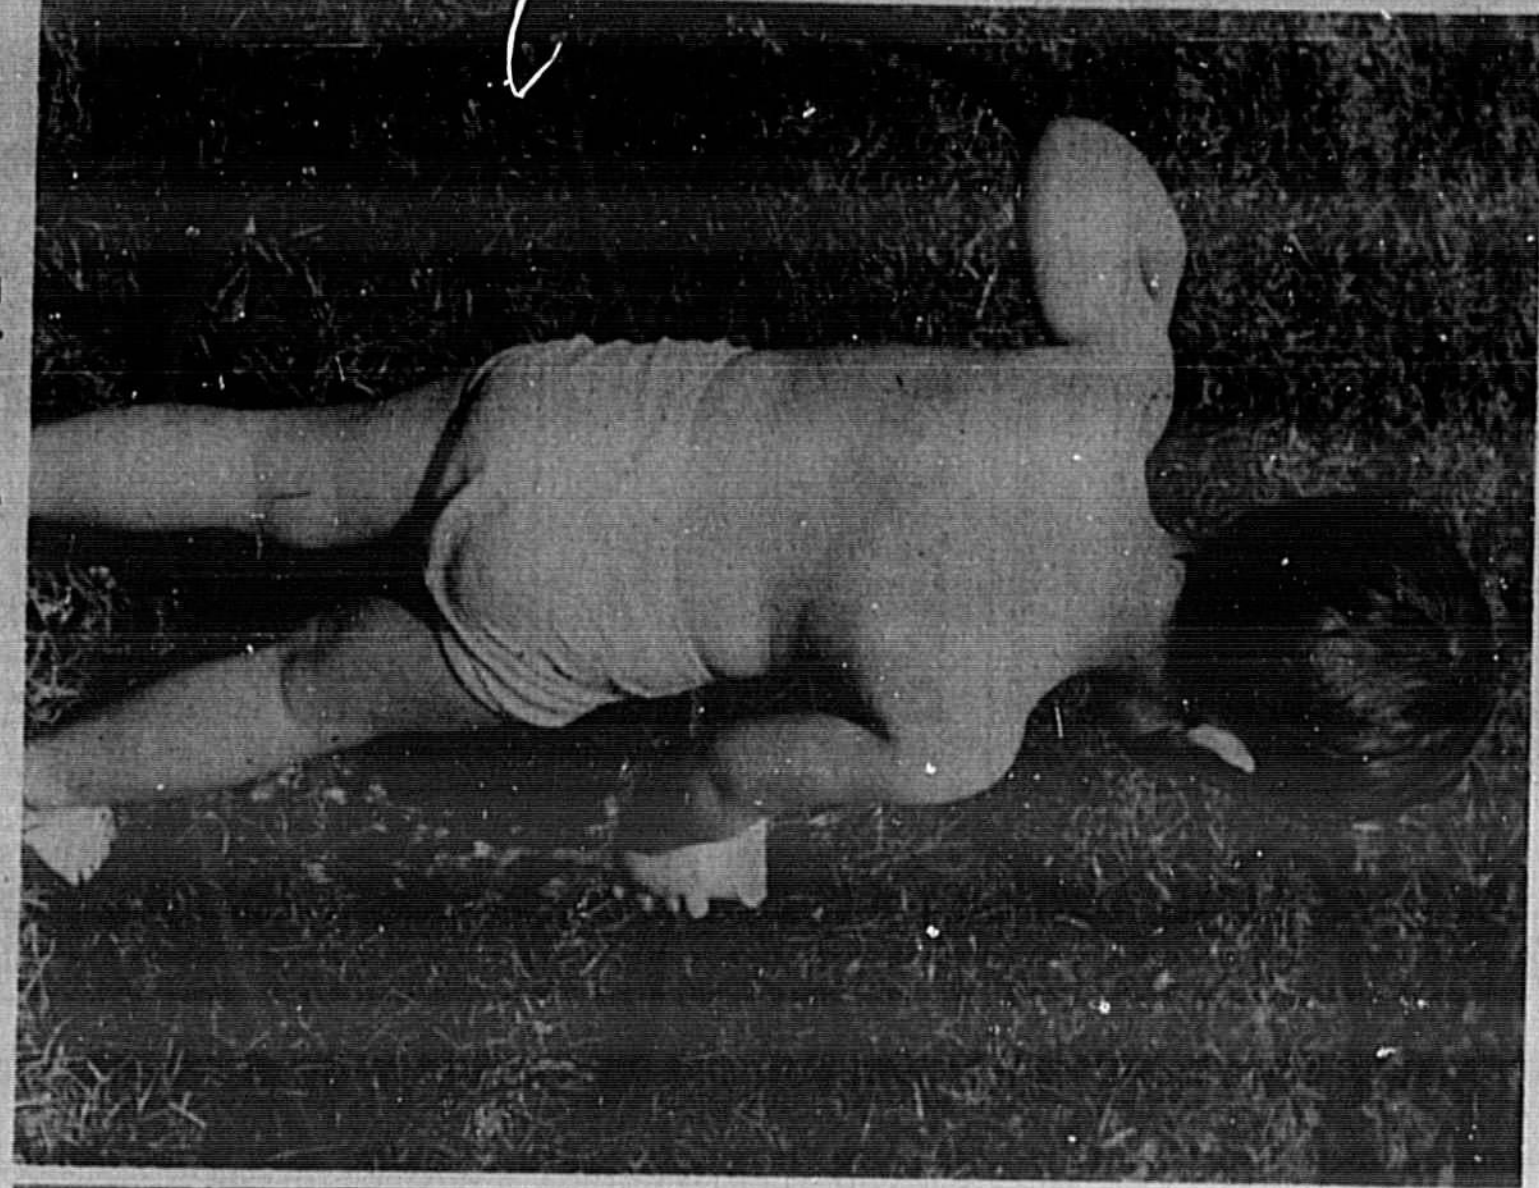

A wet Bill Vincent reported the DeYoung lawn got it's needed water, but almost as much of the cool liquid got on the youngster and Vincent as it did on the grass.

But then that was the pleasurable end of the business of the DeYoung residence.

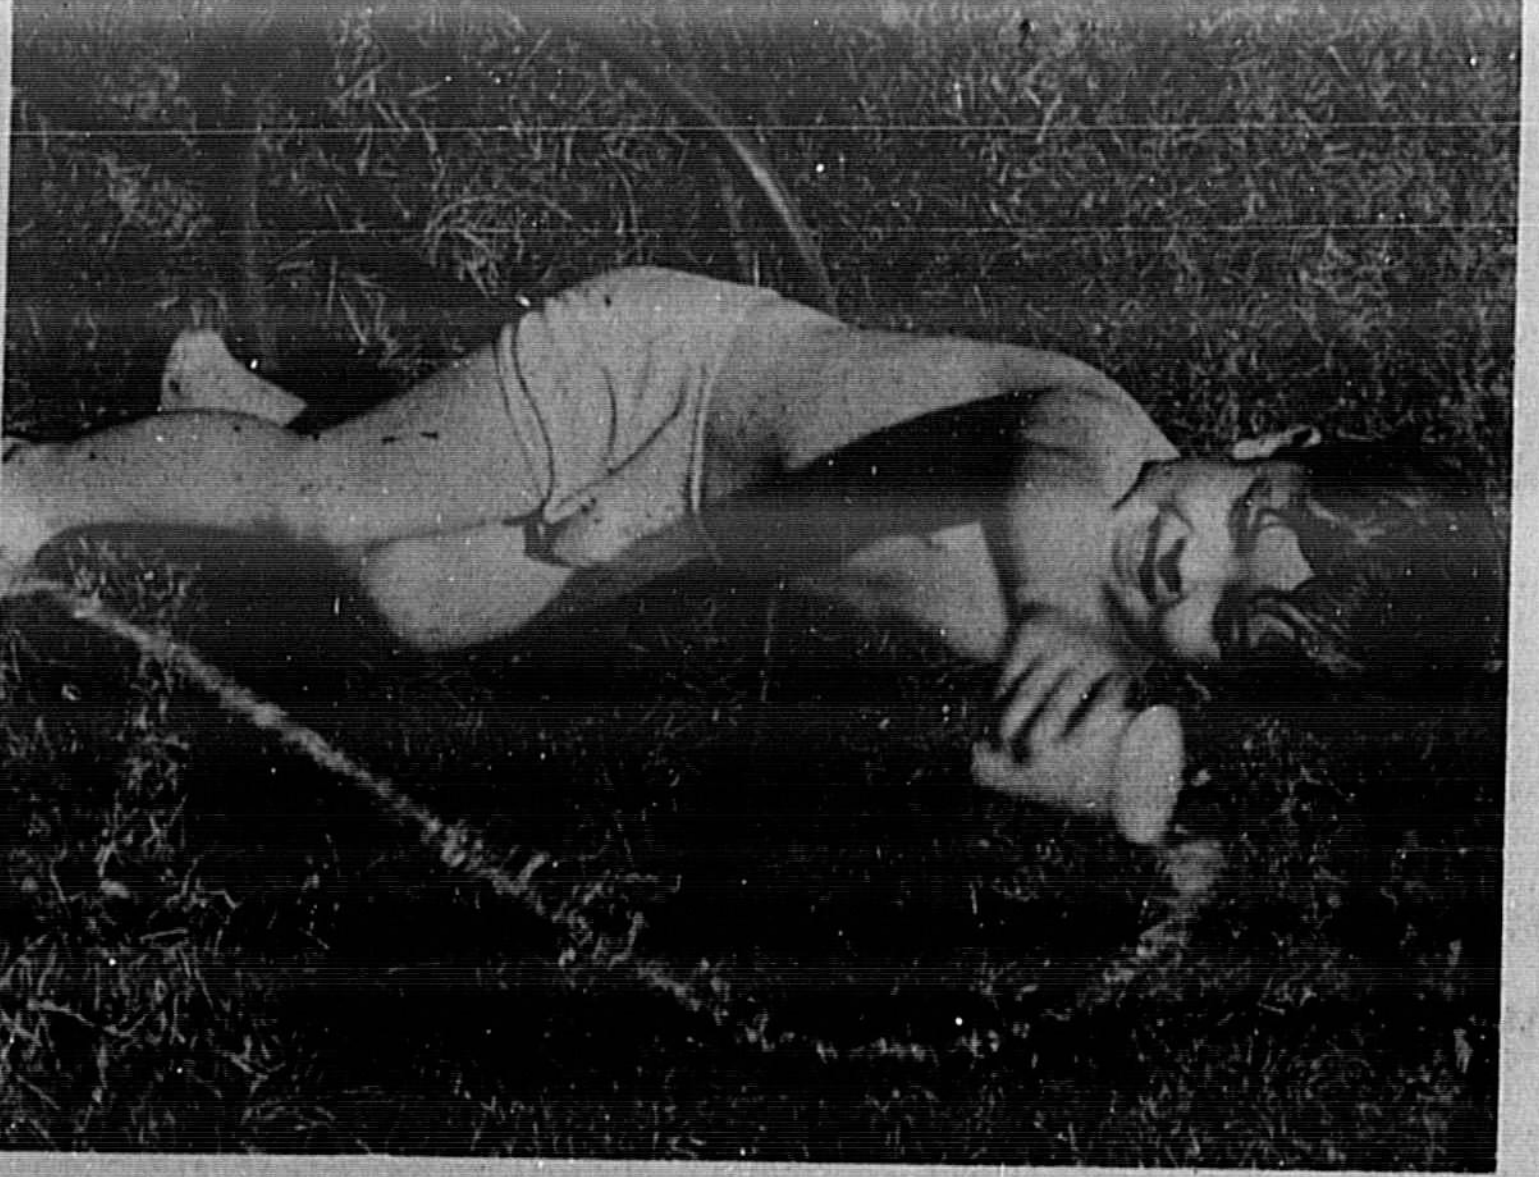

See, I'm watering the garden!

42-Sunday Herald, Sanford, Fl. Sunday, April 6, 1975

Take time for a cool drink!

Better yet, here's water in your eye.

College Thespians Present Production

By CHRISTI WILLIAMS

The Seminole Players of Seminole Junior College are busy again. Participants are the production of "Lampy and Wilson's" "The Gungahm Dog" to be presented on April 10, 11, 12, and 13. Performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. on each night and there will be a matinee on Sunday afternoon at 2.

The play, dealing with the adventures of a dog named "Dog," features three of the college's finest actors, Beverly Speer, Sam Richards and Sam Dennis. Sam Richards has appeared in numerous roles with the Seminole Players.

Seminole players, Kathy Speer, Sam Richards, and Sam Dennis, are busy again. Participants are the production of "Lampy and Wilson's" "The Gungahm Dog" to be presented on April 10, 11, 12, and 13. Performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. on each night and there will be a matinee on Sunday afternoon at 2.

Talented Students Entertain In Show

By WENDY WALKER

A packed auditorium on the nights of April 5 and 6, witnessed the scene of the annual "Seminole Presentations" talent show. The show was directed by Mrs. Jane Eise, director of the school's activities.

Participating students included students of Seminole Junior College, including Kathy Speer, Sam Richards, and Sam Dennis. The show featured a variety of talents, including singing, dancing, and instrumental playing.

The show was a great success, and the students were well-received by the audience. The show was held at the Seminole Junior College auditorium.

BERNICE PREDICTS: THERE'S LOTS OF ACTIVITY BEHIND THE SCENES AS THE WEEK OF APRIL 6-12 BEGINS. GOOD WILL COME OF IT WHICH WILL NOT BE APPARENT AT FIRST. PERSONS BORN UNDER THE SIGNS OF PISCES, SCORPIO, CANCER AND TAURUS WILL BENEFIT MOST. AFTER MIDWEEK, THE TEMPO ACCELERATES CONSIDERABLY. OVERALL CONDITIONS BECOME LESS STABLE. INDIVIDUALS GENERALLY GROW MORE CONCERNED WITH SELF-INTERESTS. CURRENTLY OUR GOVERNMENT WILL HAVE ITS HANDS FULL, AT HOME AND WITH RELATIONS ABROAD.

YOUR WEEK AHEAD!

- ARIES (March 21-April 19) Happenings behind the scenes work for your benefit early in the week. Bright financial prospects Wednesday, Thursday. Complications, delays Friday. An old debt is repaid Saturday.
- TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Good things come your way through friends up till midweek. Thursday, Friday neglected responsibilities overlap one another. Saturday's tricky businesswise, but socially exciting.
- GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday will be days when important goals are reachable. Problems with friends and outside interests Thursday, Friday. Action is required on a career matter Saturday.
- CANCER (June 21-July 22) Early in the week your ideas and plans run like a well-oiled clock. Thursday, Friday are critical days for your ambitious interests. Saturday, there's news from a distance.
- LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Monday and Wednesday you'll do well for yourself in business dealings. Thursday, Friday don't be angry with those who oppose your ideas. You'll take pleasure in competing this weekend.
- VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Monday till Wednesday you're lucky striking bargains. Unresolved obligations will surface and cause complication Thursday and Friday. Don't jump to conclusions this coming Saturday.
- LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Conditions which affect your earnings and career are very favorable up till midweek. Thursday, Friday be extra-considerate of close associates. Saturday there'll be a loss through carelessness.
- SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday you're well received by others - have fun. Thursday, Friday lots of work and responsibilities. Saturday, you may well find your plans change unexpectedly.
- SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Several situations that have been left hanging will be satisfactorily completed at beginning of the week. Thursday, Friday avoid all risky ventures. Saturday, be careful with use of tools.
- CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Unexpected good news Monday. A pleasant, romantic experience Wednesday. It will be difficult to keep a lid on domestic things Thursday and Friday. A friend complicates Saturday.
- AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Bright material prospects early in the week. Wednesday is your best day for finances. Keep your impulsiveness and temper in check Thursday, Friday. A family problem from left field Saturday.
- PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday will be your best days, so adjust accordingly. Thursday and Friday, be very careful in business and financial dealings. Saturday, your ideas are too far-out.

THIS WEEK'S TOP PRIZE QUESTION:

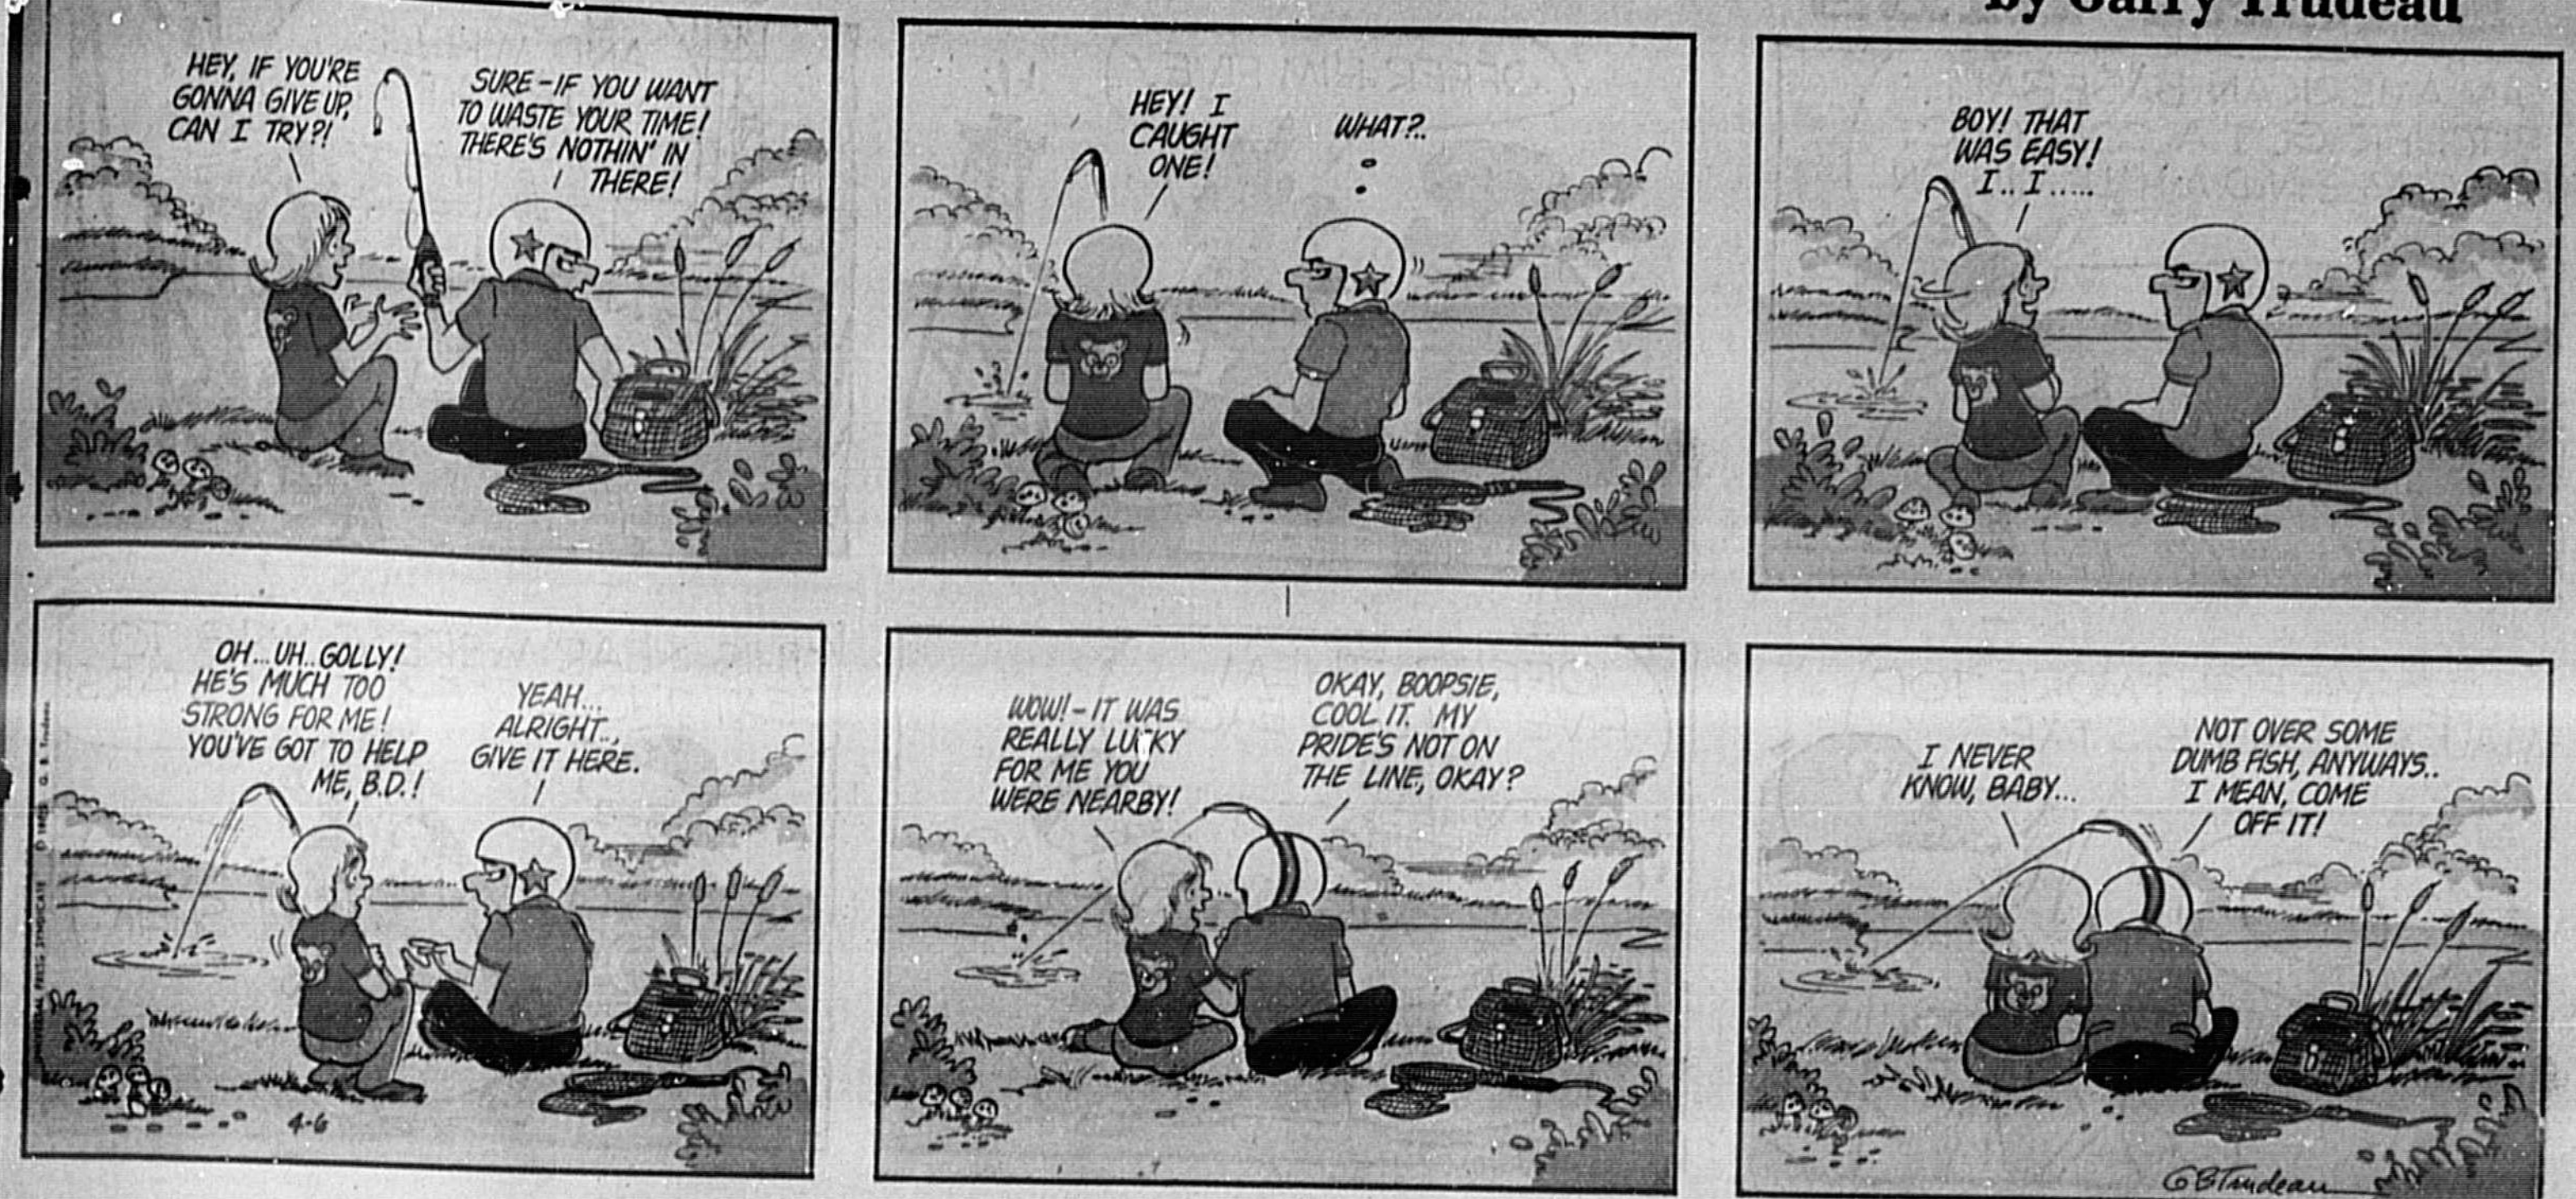

THE LOOP OF PIPE YOU SEE UNDER A SINK IS CALLED A WATER TRAP. EVERY SINK, TUB AND TOILET IN YOUR HOUSE HAS ONE. THE DIRTY WATER THAT GOES DOWN THE SEWER DECAYS AND GIVES OFF A BAD-SMELLING GAS CALLED SEWER GAS. WHEN YOU PULL THE PLUG IN A SINK, THE DIRTY WATER DRAINS THROUGH THE WATER TRAP. SOME OF THE WATER STAYS IN THE BOTTOM OF THE LOOP. THE WATER FORMS A WATER SEAL THAT STOPS THE SMELLY SEWER GAS FROM COMING BACK INTO THE HOUSE.

Non-Partisan Election

Bill Would Remove 'Politics'

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

BOB HATTAWAY
Democrat.

State Rep. Bob Hattaway said today he has prepared a bill to elect state attorneys on a non-partisan basis and will file that bill "sometime this week."

The impetus for the bill came from Commissioner Mike Hattaway who says he would "like to remove as much as possible" the political sponsorships of state attorneys.

The bill is partly aimed at Seminole-Brevard State Atty. Abbott Herring, who, Rep. Hattaway says, is an object of "displeasure" in the county and has been severely criticized by law officials, politicians and the citizens.

"The major complaints with the state attorney stems from political problems. I've had complaints from law enforcement, some from the political leadership and quite a few from citizens," said Hattaway, an Altamonte Springs Democrat.

Strangely enough, Herring, a Republican, has been quoted as saying he would be "tickled pink to see the office on a non-partisan basis. Herring says he "abhors politics and its influence on public endeavors."

Rep. Hattaway believes the bill "might just solve lots of problems in the county." He also said he had "three or four requests" for an investigation of Herring's Seminole office, but Hattaway said he opted not to get involved on that level, but decided instead to "take the issue before the legislature."

Rep. Hattaway's proposal has some solid support. State Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, says he would "favor the plan since there is no political philosophy involved in the administration of justice."

Rep. Hattaway said he would meet later today with Vogt, State Sen. Lori Wilson, I-Merritt Island, and Rep. Vince Fecthel, R-Leesburg, to seek their support of the bill.

Commissioner Hattaway has said he is appalled at the havoc that a politically elected state attorney can cause to the career of a politician indicted by a Grand Jury.

For a politician, a Grand Jury indictment can spell the end of a career. State attorneys recommended to such jurors whom to indict. The state attorney is charged with presenting both sides of a case, but the accused has no attorney present.

Commissioner Hattaway said the bill asks for non-partisan elections. Candidates would file for the office. They would be required to list no party affiliation, or "NP."

Another possibility is the "Missouri Plan," which sets up a judicial committee which selects names of candidates on the basis of credentials and personal interviews. Under that proposal, the final decision to appoint would be left to the governor.

Commissioner Hattaway says he did a lot of thinking on the matter before arriving at his decision. He, unlike Rep. Hattaway, however, said the proposal was not aimed specifically at Herring, but said, "I want this for all state attorneys."

Herring says politics has nothing to do with his motivation during the investigation of a crime.

"When I file charges, I get one side. I'm responsible for the investigation of a crime. I'm concerned with probable cause and if I have a chance for conviction," he said.

Longwood City Police Audit Reveals Discrepancies

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — The audit of the police department's benefit fund completed by certified public accountant Harold G. Hartscock has left more questions than it answers.

Although it had been reported receipts from the sale of accident report copies were deposited in the benefit fund, Hartscock did not find any sums directly attributable to that source.

The report did show the benefit fund charged the city a healthy profit for painting one of the squad cars.

Noted in the expenditure side of the ledger is $100 paid to then Patrolman Jordan Padlock in the period ending Sept. 30, 1974, for painting the 1974

Chevrolet squad car while the city was charged and reimbursed the benefit fund on Oct. 15, 1974 — $151.50 for "Repay Painting — Padlock."

Padlock in January was ordered to remove a noisy person from the City Council meeting audience, refused and resigned on the spot.

While the expenditure side of the benefit fund shows $29.70 for tear gas with an identical rebate from the city in late October, 1974, Acting Public Safety Director James Pleleons found no tear gas in the police station when he assumed office in February, after the resignation of former Police Chief Thomas Hennigan.

Hennigan several weeks ago said the tear gas in the form of pocketbook dispensers was given to women employees of the department for Christmas.

Although it was announced during the Christmas season last year that the police department employees had given their annual holiday party to raise money for an ill family member of a colleague, the audit shows an expenditure of $337.17 to a local motel for "Christmas Party" and a second expenditure of $125 to Hennigan for a "Christmas Party." A $200 contribution is shown for the officer's family.

The benefit fund was initiated in April, 1973, with gross receipts from a gospel sing of $12,620.05 and net income of $3,563.18, according to Hartscock's report. Expenditures including cash for change of $158 and an ad book for $1,282 left a balance at year end, Sept. 30, 1974, of $1,618.71.

The Oct. 1, 1972 to Sept. 30, 1974 year shows total expenditures of $1,177.32 and a balance of $508.89. The only deposit shown was $27.58, the source of which Hartscock could not determine.

During the period covering Oct. 1, 1974 to Jan. 31, 1975, end of the audit period, receipts totaling $565.20 were recorded including a $50 deposit in the form of two $25 checks and a $75 check deposit. Hartscock could not determine the source of these moneys. In addition a $100 "donation J & S" was deposited. The remaining $300.20 in receipts came from city rebates.

The expenditures side during the three-month period included $200 to South Seminole Fraternal Order of Police $200. Hennigan told The Herald the sum was to help the fledgling organization get started and was a loan to be repaid. "Christmas bonuses" of $10 each were given to Hennigan, the patrolmen, and the dispatchers, the report states.

"The fund had a balance in the bank on Jan. 31, 1975 of $8.54," Hartscock said, adding "Chief Pleleons indicated... the fund had an outstanding bill in the amount of $26 for flowers."

The audit of state revenue sharing money paid to police patrolmen for incentive and education is expected to be completed later this month.

Sources have said two or more officers allegedly received more money from the fund than they were entitled to under the law.

City bookkeeper Elise Olliff has said the sums paid to patrolmen from the special fund are identical to the amounts designated on bi-weekly payroll authorizations given by then Chief Hennigan.

Seminole Board, School Teachers Bargain Tuesday

The Public Employee Relations Commission (PERC) is sending a hearing officer to Seminole County to help PERC officials make their decision on whether school principals are considered "managerial" by the commission, Harry Pelley said today.

Pelley, the county's chief negotiator, appeared before the commission on Friday. At that hearing, Pelley presented Seminole's case, which essentially is that principals are managerial because they hire, fire and make up budgets.

Pelley said Seminole County was the first county to raise the issue before the commission and that the issue, basically, represents a "conflict between the law and the constitution."

PERC officials have told The Herald principals may form a separate unit for collective bargaining purposes, but principals may not join the same unit occupied by teachers, which in Seminole County is the Seminole Education Association (SEA).

If principals are classified managerial, Pelley says they will not be able to bargain. He also says that he has assurances Seminole principals have indicated no desire to bargain and are satisfied with their "managerial" status.

Tomorrow at 4:30 in the afternoon, SEA and school officials will sit down at the bargaining table.

SEA Executive Director Gene Grooms said today SEA is looking forward to the session. He also said one member of SEA's negotiating team, Susan Smith, has been elected financial secretary of the Florida Teachers Profession (FTP), the new name for the state-wide teacher's group that claims some 27,000 members.

Other members of SEA's team include Steve Rosenthal — the chief negotiator — Rich Mossman, Linda Antonio, Bill Moore, and Louella Rahming. They will be facing Pelley — the chief negotiator — Ernie Conroy, Bob Hughes and Dick Barnett.

One of the items to be bargained will be salary. SEA officials have indicated they will ask for an additional $1,000 for starting teachers' salaries. At present, a beginning teacher earns $7,800 yearly.

The major portion of the package, however, is working conditions, according to SEA officials. Another important item will be the time length of the contract. All this will be revealed tomorrow when teachers and the county's team sit down to bargain.

HOUSE FIRE PROBED

Seminole County Fire Department and Sheriff's Investigators today were probing cause of a closet fire in a vacant house at 112 Spring St., Altamonte Springs, that caused $1,500 damage over the weekend. Officials said before county fire units could bring the blaze under control a rear bedroom and hallway had been destroyed. Above, firemen rig smoke ejector unit during cleanup after fire. Herald Staff Writer

Burglars looted an Altamonte Springs apartment, stealing an estimated $16,230 and leaving the Royal Arms apartment in "shambles," police reported today.

Howard C. Richmond, 24, told police he left Friday and returned yesterday to find items estimated at $16,230 missing after thieves apparently entered by prying open the kitchen door with a screwdriver.

Patrolman Norman Floyd Jr. reported Richmond's Apr. 24, 24, a "shambles" when police made their investigation, which is continuing.

Thieves who entered the 1060 W. Clemens Dr., Altamonte Springs, home of Fay Sapp left a note of thanks on the kitchen sink, sheriff's deputies reported today. Deputy C. H. Brackklein said the note said, "We do appreciate our findings and we thank you. Yours truly, Masked Bandits."

Brackklein said two shotguns, a pistol, $25 cash and a combination tape deck, record player and amplifier unit were taken in the burglary. Sgt. Oscar Redden Jr. reported two sneak thieves escaped with $281 cash yesterday at Zayre Discount Department Store, Fern Park, after distracting a cashier by dropping items on the floor at the checkout counter. Security Officer John Wright Jr. told investigators a man and a woman ran in a gray car and fled after the money was snatched from a cash drawer.

3 County Jail Inmates Charged With Arson

Sheriff's Sgt. Robert Kunkler today arrested three Seminole County Jail inmates on circuit court warrants charging third degree arson.

Accused in a March 26 mattress fire that sent six inmates to a hospital for treatment for smoke inhalation were Gary Linn Gilvin, 20, of Mt. Sterling, Ky.; Lawrence Grant Shaper, 20, of Appoka, and John Hess Young IV, 21, of Orlando.

Gilvin, scheduled for trial this week in circuit court on robbery and use of a firearm in commission of a felony charges, has already received two life sentences in Indian River County for robberies. Gilvin received minor burns on his hands in the fire that started in his cell in the N-1 cellblock occupied by 12 prisoners.

Shaper, who still faces trial in connection with a March 2 jailbreak attempt, was sentenced last week to three and a half years in prison on a guilty plea to possession of burglary tools.

Young is being held pending a pre-sentence investigation of his plea of guilty to attempted robbery.
