Match Between Mann And Lyon Decided By 7-Foot Putt

ORLANDO, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Alberta Little, the sturdy Rollins College golfer, led the following Orlando Country Club course yesterday with a scintillating 38 on the first nine to defeat Mrs. Jack to Fuller of Orlando, 3 and 2, and pace the Mid-Florida women's golf tournament into the semi-final rounds.

Little Miss Little roared out on the first turn leading 5-up and then lost the next two holes to Mrs. Fuller, tied the following two, and then closed out the match on the 18th green.

Mrs. Laddie Irwin Whitehead, one of the pre-tourney favorites, turned in a 5 and 2 victory over Mrs. Georgia Taylor, of Fort Myers, to join the semi-finalists. The day's best match, however, was between Mrs. Lucille Robinson Mann, of Ocala, Fla., and Mrs. Miriam Phibes Lyon of Orlando, with Mrs. Robinson dropping a seven-foot uphill putt on the 18th to win 1-up.

Miss Mary Agnes Wall, of Mims, Fla., rounded out the semi-final round with a 2 and 1 victory over Iva Mae Picher, of Mexico, Mo.

Cooke Forced To Play Hard Game To Hold Place

Riggs, Kovacs Win Their Matches To Stay In Tourney

PORT LAUDERDALE, Feb. 14.—(AP)—Top-ranked tennis players won as expected in the mid-winter invitational tournament here Thursday, but third-seeded Elwood Cooke was forced to play his hardest to stay in the running.

The New Yorker found George Fern, young Miamian, a tough customer and had to call on all his court craft to eke out a 6-4, 8-6 victory.

Fern played Cooke on even terms most of the way and even forged ahead, but late in the second set the Miamian tired badly.

Former national champion, Bobby Riggs of Chicago won his third-round match easily, defeating Gardner Nash of Fort Lauderdale 6-0, 6-1.

But Frank Kovacs, the Oakland Calif. sensation, had to put on steam in the second set to defeat Bob Decker of Miami, 6-1, 8-6.

Wayne Sabin, another of the touring noters, scored an easy 6-1, 6-0 victory over Vincent Paul, Richmond Hill, N. Y.

Gardner Larned of Chicago won a torrid match from Gus Ganzenmuller of Port Washington, N. Y., 6-4, 7-4, while Dick McKel of Miami was eliminating Phill Englehardt of the University of Kentucky, 6-4, 6-2.

Ranking stars were expected to win their next matches, since without exception they were booked to play lesser-known players.

Magazine Article Mentions Hudson

Sid Hudson is mentioned in an article in the current Saturday Evening Post written by John Terrell about Teddy Lyons, veteran pitcher for the Chicago White Sox. Hudson pitched for the Seminoles the year before last, before he went to the Washington Senators.

The article cites the incident of Manager Bucky Harris asking Lyons to have a chat with Hudson, who was trying to "change" the gap between class "D" Lall and the majors in one season. Hudson had won two games and lost nine up to that time but after the talk with Lyons on poles, balance and change of pace, Hudson went on to win 15 games and lose only eight.

The article is entitled "Teddy the Lion-Hearted."

Bachelor Chair Is Announced At Rollins College

WINTER PARK, Feb. 14.—(Special)—A professorship of creative writing named in honor of Irving Bachelor, noted author of "Eden Helder" and 27 other novels and regarded by many as the dean of American novelists, has been established at Rollins College, according to an announcement made today by President Hamilton Holt, Edwin Granberry, who won the O. Henry Memorial Prize for the best short story published in any American magazine in 1932, and who has taught in the English Department of Rollins since 1933, has been the first incumbent of the chair.

President Holt pointed out that the naming of this new chair in honor of Mr. Bachelor was highly appropriate inasmuch as that novelist has been closely associated with Rollins College during the quarter of a century he has lived in Florida, where he has written the major part of 28 novels, 27 short stories, 15 poems, two volumes of an autobiography, and a number of essays and miscellaneous articles.

Prof. Granberry received his training at the University of Florida, Columbia, and Harvard. Two of his three novels, "The Ancient Hoop" and "The Ere King" were given a Florida background. He is the American translator of several French novels, and is a frequent contributor to periodicals.

The field of creative writing in college will be discussed at a luncheon to be given in honor of Prof. Granberry Feb. 21, at the Country Club of Orlando at which the following will act as hosts: Biography, Sidney Homer, author of "Mr. White, author of "Blind Alley," which had a recent successful run on Broadway; Dr. Albert Shaw, for many years editor of "The Review," fiction; Joseph C. Lincoln, author of the Cape Cod Gray; Dr. Howard L. Gray, former head of the History Department, University of Florida; Dr. Robert A. Rudin, noted sociologist of Oberlin College.

Many Seedlings Will Be Planted In Soil Program

GAINESVILLE, Feb. 14.—(Special)—More than 1,250,000 tree seedlings for 1941 erosion control and reforestation plantings have been allotted by Soil Conservation Service nurseries to Florida's seven soil conservation districts, Colin D. Gunn, state coordinator of the Soil Conservation Service, announced today.

Of this number, 1,242,000 are pines and 8,000 hardwoods. In addition, more than 415,000 kudzu plants and 26,850 shrubs have been allotted to the districts, Gunn says.

Since the beginning of the erosion-control program by the Soil Conservation Service in Florida in 1933, approximately 1,570,000 trees and more than 350,000 kudzu plants have been distributed by the Service to Florida farmers in erosion-control demonstration areas and more recently to farmers in soil conservation districts.

Farmers plant the seedlings on poor, eroded land to halt erosion and to establish woodland. Good stands of trees provide almost perfect erosion control when protected against fire and grazing. Leaf litter and undergrowth accumulating on the forest floor keep the soil in condition for absorbing water and protect it against washing.

Most of the shrubs are to be planted along woodland borders to halt erosion, to prevent encroachment of forest trees into cultivated fields, and to provide food and shelter for wildlife.

Kudzu, Gunn says, is rapidly gaining favor as a dual-purpose plant. It is not only an effective erosion control plant but also furnishes high quality hay and pasture. Prior to its widespread use as a farm crop, Kudzu was used to provide shade for pecans. Because of its rapid-growing qualities—a single runner some 20 feet in 3 weeks—Kudzu is commonly referred to by Florida farmers as the "miracle plant."

U. S. Officialdom Eyes Propaganda In South America

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(AP)—No laboratory researcher ever kept his eye glued on the microscope eyepiece of an algae with greater intensity than that with which Washington officialdom watches what goes on in the way of propaganda in South and Central America.

Authoritative reports in diplomatic circles here say some of the republics south of the Rio Grande are up on their hind legs, fighting mad, about anti-American material.

If you want to keep up with this situation, pay particular attention for a while to what effect, if any, the new wave of Spanish Falangist activities will have in the 19 Spanish-speaking republics (in Brazil, they speak Portuguese, you know).

Under orders from Madrid, officials here say, Spanish Falangists have spread out like a duckpond during a cloudburst in several countries. This wouldn't be such a worrisome note in the official eye here if there weren't also signs, they say, that the Falangists will act as "fronts" for Nazis and fascists.

Under a decree issued by General Franco, chief of the Spanish state, a "Hispanic Council" has been set up, officials say, with the object of recovering Spain's ancient glory and establishing Madrid as "the axis of the Spanish speaking world."

A new decree, copies of which have just been received here, designates Serrano Buner, foreign minister, chief of the Falangist and outspoken advocate of close cooperation with the Axis powers, as head of that council.

Members of this "Hispanic Council," in addition to high ranking officials in Spain, include the Spanish ambassador to Argentina, Cuba, Chile, Mexico and Peru and the Spanish consul general in Manila.

The decree specifies that headquarters for the American branch will be established in one of the chief cities of South and Central America.

American Citizens Promise Assistance To Free Rumanians

Movement Has Stayed Under Cover Since November Due To Diplomatic Reasons

Group Seeks To Regain Frontiers

King Mihai Would Be Set Up As Constitutional Monarch

LONDON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A "free" Rumanian movement, which for diplomatic reasons has been working under cover since November, was reported coming out into the open today, backed by the compromised allegiance of 4,000 compatriots in the United States and Canada.

The movement seeks to set up King Mihai as a constitutional monarch to liberate Rumania from the present "servile" collaboration in the creation of a future European order, and to restore Rumania's frontiers.

Part of a world-wide confederation involving a German invasion of Britain, allied with the United States, and a Japanese invasion of Europe, is being planned, it is reported.

Investigation in England revealed the No. 10 consideration in discussion with the British government to set up a new government in Rumania.

The world's most powerful nations—Britain, France, the United States, and the Soviet Union—are reported to be working together to bring about a new world order.

The British are not allowing the present situation in the Balkans to divert their attention from the peril of an invasion of England.

Not since Nazi bombers hammered Coventry and submarines ranned the North Atlantic in fleet to attack has the British Empire's position been so precarious.

Other indications that Britain expects to deal with plenty of trouble are the army's renewed interest in invasion problems.

The British have been told by the Ministry of War that the real threat is a general feeling that the Germans will use gas, but only against military objectives, and not against civilians.

Road Department To Get Brief On Project On February 27

Nixon Butt of Orlando, new member of the State Road Department from this district, has given assurance that he will do "all in his power" to assist in bringing about improvements in State Road 44, which links Sanford with the East Coast, Sen. Ernest F. Housholder said today.

British Occupy Important Port In Somaliland

Libyan Front Is Calm While Pressure On Fascists In Eritrea Is Increased

CAIRO, Egypt, Feb. 15.—(AP)—British headquarters announced today the occupation of the important port of Chisimaio in Italian Somaliland, and of Qelisan in the Blue Nile sector of Ethiopia.

Increasing pressure against the Fascists was reported in Eritrea. No action was reported on the Libyan front.

News of successes on one of a series of far-scattered African battlefronts came almost simultaneously with a British announcement that the Ethiopians were "readily extending the sphere of their control in the East African area."

In Italian Eritrea, military sources said, British troops continued their slow advance, with two columns moving on toward Asmara, the capital. One column gathered its units for the assault upon besieged Cheren and the other operated further to the south toward Arresa.

From the North African theater of Libya, the Associated Press correspondent with the British forces reported that German planes had dropped huge bombs—presumably land mines—on British-occupied Benghazi in a two-hour raid Wednesday night that caused little damage.

Better Prices For Celery Anticipated

Better prices for Seminole County's celery, which is now being cut in the Sanford area and planted in the Sanford section at the present time, were reported today by H. J. Lehman, manager of the Sanford State Farmers Market.

Many vegetables are still obtainable in quantities to meet the demand, Mr. Lehman said, but he anticipated there would be a better supply by March. There are ample supplies of citrus, but the market is short on lettuce, berries, cabbage, and other produce.

The crop has been reduced throughout the state because of bad growing conditions.

Yugoslavia Reported Ready To Join Axis Program In Balkans

Drafted Men Are Still Eligible For Tax Exemption

New Opinion Changes Previous Interpretation, Official Says

Homestead exemption will not be denied to heads of families who temporarily abandon their residences because of military service, Sanford Daudney, Seminole County tax assessor, said today following receipt of a notice from J. Tom Watson, attorney general of Florida, and J. M. Lee, comptroller.

"A person drafted into the service of the United States is entitled to the exemption of his homestead, regardless of whether he rents it or not," Mr. Lee pointed out.

The opinion changes a former interpretation of the law as applied to homes which are rented by owners other than those drafted. Mr. Daudney explained.

"The head of a family who voluntarily removes himself and family from the home and rents it, or who rents it, is equivalent to a commercial use and precludes him from receiving the benefit of homestead exemption," Mr. Daudney explained.

The ruling by Mr. Watson is as follows:

"If a head of a family is drafted, he should be permitted to appear before a local board of a family that, because of his military service, his ability to maintain his homestead, as defined, and, therefore, becomes necessary for said head of a family to remove his family to other quarters and use the income derived from the rental of his home place towards the support of his family, and such a removal is not precluded by such abandonment of a residence in his home place, is purely of a temporary character, and is not a permanent removal from the home place, and such a removal should not be treated as a permanent removal from the home place for the purpose of training and service in the land or naval forces."

"If the head of a family should remove himself and family from his homestead, and such removal is not occasioned by necessary military service of the United States, and upon such removal, rents his homestead, then rental would be equivalent to a commercial use, which would preclude him from receiving the benefit of such homestead exemption, as is provided for in Section 7, Article X of the Constitution of Florida."

"All opinions heretofore rendered in conflict with the above are expressly revoked."

Textbooks To Stress Vocational Learning

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 15.—(AP)—New books for the public schools of Florida will emphasize citizenship and vocational education.

The Textbook Commission, added by a rating committee and experts of the Department of Education, gave orders Friday for replacement texts and new texts to carry out the program of improvements in the educational field.

Texts in social studies, in history and other subjects will bring up to date the frequent changes in world conditions in recent years, the department of Education said. They also will stress citizenship, public health, community responsibilities, and other subjects.

Grape Growers Told They Must Organize

LEESBURG, Feb. 15.—(AP)—A. E. Pickard of Orlando, president of the Florida Grape Growers Exchange, told the mid-winter conference of Florida grape growers here Friday that they would have to "unite before we can talk marketing."

He said a "survey of the State's grape industry is needed before any kind of marketing plan can be worked out. Many growers feel they have been let down by chain stores which promised to buy the bulk of their crop at good prices but did not, saying some growers and California grapes were underselling the exchange grapes."

Nation, Driven Into Corner, Will Take On Role Of Active Partner Of Hitler

British Worried Over Axis Plans

Greeks Push Through Fascist Lines On Front In Albania

Yugoslavia was reported today ready to move actively into the Axis scheme of things as a result of the latest round in the battle of power diplomacy in the Balkans.

An authoritative source in Belgrade indicated that Yugoslavia would assume the role of an active participant in Hitler's "new order" for Europe.

Other informed sources described Yugoslavia as a nation driven into a corner by Bulgarian reports of willingness to accept Nazi pressure for troop movements and by Russian "hands off" policy in the Balkans.

British diplomatic and military authorities admitted grave concern over the possibility that the Axis might be planning to strike simultaneously at England, at Gibraltar through Spain, at Russia through the Balkans and Turkey, at Greece through Yugoslavia and Bulgaria and at Singapore and the Dutch East Indies through the Philippines.

From the Albanian central front, the cables said the Italian lines had cracked at several points while Britain and Germany continued to pound each other with bombing assaults.

German armed forces are expected to move through Bulgaria and perhaps Yugoslavia "in one or a matter of days for the purpose of forcing Greece to agree to a negotiated peace with Italy," a high source said yesterday.

High sources are reported to be planning to occupy the Balkans, and to possibly to put up any resistance "which would be tantamount to committing all national resources to an anticipated Balkan war, including Turkey and Yugoslavia, and which is apparently still being considered as a possibility of a 'last ditch' effort by the Axis in the Balkans."

Although hoping ardently to remain out of actual conflict, Bulgarian leaders are admittedly faced an uncertain future.

"We can't just go on going to bring us. We want peace, but the smaller countries now cannot be the masters of their own destinies. We do not want war. No one here wants war. But what can we do?"

Although Russia always has shown great interest in Bulgarian security no resistance to the German thrust is expected now from that quarter and the Turks, due to their geographical position, are not expected to contest it.

Senate Authorizes Increase In Debt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The Senate Friday by voice vote passed the Administration bill authorizing a $10,000,000 increase in the national debt limit after Democrats had urged higher taxes to finance deficit spending and Republicans had criticized the New Deal's "make-shift" fiscal policy.

The measure now goes to conference with the House, which approved it last week, for adjustment of minor differences.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley said he thought the House would accept the Senate's changes without requesting a conference because they were merely procedural.

New Japanese Threats

In the last few days indications have been increasing that the Japs are about to launch some new venture in the Far East. A Japanese naval squadron is reported off Saigon, the French naval base in Indo-China, only about 600 miles from Singapore, and British concentrations of bombing planes are reported in northern Malaya, while Americans living in the Far East have again been urged by the State Department to return home.

The probabilities are that Japan, acting in concert with new German drives in Europe, will move against British possessions at Hongkong and Singapore, first making sure that her right flank in Indo-China is protected, or at least neutralized. The capture of Singapore could have no other purpose than the protection of a Japanese drive against the Dutch East Indies and Australia.

But if it is important for the Japs to protect their right flank at Saigon and Singapore, it would seem to be equally important to do something about their left flank which would be exposed to American attack, if, as and when, from the Philippines. It does not seem likely that even the rash Japanese generals and admirals would dare stick their necks out all the way from Hainan to Sydney leaving American bombers and warships at Manila to chop them off.

It may be that the Japs will merely try to assure themselves of American neutrality through the good offices of Admiral Nomura in Washington, much as they are trying to do with Russia, or it may be they will feel it incumbent upon themselves to take possession of the Philippines in the interest of their national security before moving south. In any event the southward march of the Japs raises a problem for the American people which must be answered soon.

What is to be the attitude of the United States if Japan attempts to seize the Philippines? Are the Philippines worth fighting about? Does the United States have a moral obligation to protect the Philippine Islands from aggression? If we give the Philippines to Japan will that satisfy the war lords, or will they soon be demanding further concessions, say, in Alaska or the Hawaiian Islands? Is it to the interest of the United States to stand aside and see the Japanese drive the British out of the Far East and seize the Dutch East Indies?

These are questions which the American people will have to answer soon, and quickly, and for which we are afraid they have not been well prepared. When action starts in modern warfare there is not much time for calm deliberation. It may be that the lend-lease bill now in Congress has been drawn with this eventuality in mind. Surely the United States will have to act quickly if it is to protect its interests everywhere in the world at once.

Children And The War

Many thoughtful and conscientious parents have been seriously concerned over what the war and the general atmosphere caused by it might be doing to their offspring. With the radio bringing the gruesome details of bombing raids right into their living room and with the newspapers read more avidly by youngsters because of comics than ever before, the problem of keeping war news from children is not as simple as it once was.

In an effort to find out just how children react to war news, Miss Edna Dean Baker, president of the National College of Education at Evanston, Ill., recently conducted a study leading to the following conclusions and definitely showing that children are affected by war news, with the seriousness depending upon the age of the child and his general temperament:

"Four and five-year-olds bit their bread into the shape of guns and played war at table, started bombing games whenever they got their hands on toy boats or planes, invariably became shrill and tense when they played at war. One child, playing a game with blocks, proposed: 'Let's give this lumbie to the Germans so they won't bomb us.' Another, defying his mother, exclaimed, 'I am Hitler!'

"Highly emotional about the war was the group aged 6 to 8. They hated all Germans, talked much about killing. Said one: 'I've invented a new kind of gas. The dictators will be dead in two weeks.' Another: 'I have invented a new way to kill people. You just think about it in your mind if you want to kill anyone. It can kill 6,000. I want to use it on the Japanese Emperor.'

"Older children (9 to 14) were unemotional, surprisingly well informed about the war. They were keenly interested in geography and battle technique. They did not hate the German people, concentrated their disapproval on Hitler."

Miss Baker also gives the following advice to parents for coping with this situation: "Children under 6—Reassure them frequently that Hitler will not get them; avoid talking about war in their presence; keep them busy with pleasant things. "Six to 8—Discuss the war freely, but avoid talking about destruction, brutality, suffering or war guilt; take their minds off war by playing family games, singing old songs, keeping home fires burning brightly. "Nine to 14—Let them listen to the radio; play up stories of gallantry and cheerfulness among war-stricken peoples; discuss with them the background of war, the peace-to-come."

THE MACHINE AGE ISN'T SO BAD AFTER ALL

Isolation Group's Proposal To Ban Convoys Rejected

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Senate non-interventionists last night decided to use as the spearhead of their attack on the all-out British aid bill two amendments that would ban use of United States convoys and prevent President Roosevelt from disposing of any part of the fleet.

Both proposals were rejected by the House. The decision was made at a strategy conference of 17 oppositionists as Senator Tobey, Republican, New Hampshire, called on the President to make a "candid statement" on his intentions about future disposition of the Navy. He asked Roosevelt to declare that the country has no surplus destroyers, which he had been assured by a high authority whom he conferred after his committee's appearance, that some destroyers were available.

In a telegram to the President, Tobey said: "The people of the country are becoming divided by these conflicting statements of Mr. Willkie and Mr. Knox. In the interest of national unity as well as the interest of our national security, I urge you to make clear to the people and to the congress your intentions in the matter."

The President refused to discuss the controversy at his press conference yesterday. White House Secretary Early said Thursday no dispute exists and that "those differences of expression (between Willkie and Knox) are perceived only by reading the press." Roosevelt stood by the statement and refused to amplify it.

The Secret Service made 3,107 arrests in 1940. His trainer, and at Seminole Park Ben White is regarded as the dean of trainers. Will Cotton, while not training, is spending the winter at nearby Longwood, and is a frequent visitor at the plant. Mr. Cotton is internationally known in horse circles, having trained for the Cass of Russia before the World War. Johnnie Cotton, his son, is at the plant doing training for Will English of Cleveland, Ohio.

Among the other trainers are Clay Hodges, Ed Havens, E. F. Folen, Joe McAdams, W. K. Dickerson, James A. Smith, Arthur McManis, James A. Smith, Gus Hensley, and W. E. "Big" Sprague.

Figures On British Shipping Loss Cited

BERLIN, Feb. 15.—(AP)—German presented figures and predictions yesterday to show that British ship losses from the Brest to mid-Atlantic are such that they cannot be repaired by the shipyards of the whole world. They claimed that attacks on the Brest, where two vessels have been reported sunk, and elsewhere had paralyzed "England's entire shipping traffic from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea"; that roughly one-fifth of the total tonnage available to Britain had been put out of action; that surface warcraft alone have sunk 670,000 tons of enemy merchant ships in distant operations.

False Impression On Strikes Noted

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor said Friday in its monthly economic survey that the public had received a "distorted false impression" about strikes in defense industries, and that actual time lost last year due to strikes amounted to less than two hours per worker employed. The last time it added, was that lost in 1930 and was less than the loss recorded in any of the past 12 years with the exception of 1929 and 1930.

Your Income Tax

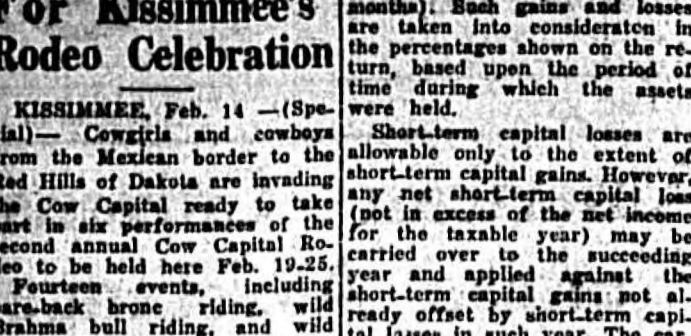

NO. 18 CAPITAL GAINS AND LOSSES The term "capital assets" is defined as the property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business), but does not include stock in trade of the taxpayer or property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale in the ordinary course of his trade or business, or property, used in the trade or business, of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation.

Capital gains and losses are classified as "short-term" (applicable to capital assets held for 18 months or less) and "long-term" (applicable to capital assets held for more than 18 months). Both gains and losses are taken into consideration in the percentages shown on the return, based upon the period of time during which the assets were held.

Short-term capital losses are allowable only to the extent of short-term capital gains. However, any net short-term capital loss (not in excess of the net income for the taxable year) may be carried over to the succeeding year and applied against the short-term capital gains; not already offset by short-term capital losses in such year. The carry-over is restricted to one year. In the case of a net long-term capital gain or loss, an alternative tax is imposed if greater than the normal tax and surtax on net income, and in the event of a loss, such alternative tax is imposed if greater than the normal tax and surtax on net income. Where a taxpayer derives a net long-term capital gain and computes his tax under section 117 (c) (1), relating to alternate taxes, the base for determining the 16-percent limitation on the charitable contribution deduction is "ordinary net income," that is "net income" plus the amount of the net long-term capital loss, and the base for determining the earned income credit is "ordinary net income" as adjusted for the charitable contributions deduction.

Preparations are being made for the opening of the 32nd annual Central Florida Exposition at Orlando Monday, Feb. 24. The Kissimmee stated he was pleased with the program and the outstanding array of talent booked for each show.

De Land, Gainesville Baseball Teams Set; Sanford Hangs Fire

Seminole Directors Pessimistic About a Team This Year

With directors of the Sanford Seminoles answering "I don't know," to questions about the team for this year, DeLand has cast a ray of hope in the Florida League by mailing out contracts to six Red Hat players, Bill Page, temporary chairman of the DeLand Baseball Association, reported Thursday.

Gainesville paved the way for its 1941 baseball season at a meeting of the stockholders of the Gainesville Baseball Association, by electing seven members to serve on the board of directors and appointing a committee to meet with the Junior Chamber of Commerce to make definite plans for financing the club, according to the Gainesville Sun.

Frank Lamson had little to report yesterday on the local situation, saying nothing is being done so far as he knows. Ralph Bagwell, another of the directors of the Sanford Baseball Association, confessed he had not been in touch with the group and did not know what is being done. He explained the business of leaving it up to the people of Sanford.

meant taking up a public subscription, which was had for the team and not agreeable to the public.

Otto Caldwell of the board of directors of the Seminoles said this morning he thought there would be no team this year. "Nothing is being done and everything is waiting for the other fellow to do something. The job of running the team takes a lot of time and needs someone who can give plenty of time to the job," he said.

DeLand has taken a further step by signing five rookies from the Joe Stripes baseball school in Orlando to bolster the regular roster. The men signed are: Bill Burns, pitcher; Bill Whitcomb, catcher; Kenneth McDougal and Cliff Hawley, outfielders; and Donald Finlock, infielder.

If association directors will approve the plan, Page says he expects to go ahead with the organization of funds through sale of pre-season tickets immediately in $100, $25, $10 and $5 groups. The budget being contemplated runs around $10,000 according to reports, and plans are to raise $5,000 of this through the pre-season sales.

Park Carmichael, Gainesville attorney, offered the facilities of his office to the Gainesville association and the offer was accepted. Monday was set as the day for the meeting of the finance committee with the chamber of commerce group.

Two members of the new board, Fred Cone and J. M. Butler, were elected and the selection of a new manager was put off until a later date. Three player-managers are under consideration but their names were not revealed.

DeLand, Bill Page, chairman of the association there, offered his services free as business manager if a plan can be worked out to maintain the team. He proposed that the city donate its customary $1,500, that 100 season tickets at $25 each be sold, and that 250 coupon books valued at $5 each be issued.

New Coaching Place Pays Less Than Salary At Boston

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 15 (AP)—Frank Lesby, 33-year-old Boston College coach, is going back home to Notre Dame.

Father John Cavanaugh, vice president of Notre Dame, announced last night that Lesby had accepted the post as athletic director and head football coach, a vacancy created 11 days ago when Elmer Layden resigned to become pro football commissioner.

Lesby will sign a long-term contract today in the office of the Roy Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., school president.

The youthful, affable college professor said in Boston that going back to Notre Dame would be "just like going home to me."

Lesby played under the immortal Knute Rockney through 1930, being a lineman on the old master's last Irish machine and the last undefeated eleven at the school.

His salary at Notre Dame was not disclosed, but Lesby implied he was making a financial sacrifice in order to take the job.

"The financial element does not figure in my decision to return to Notre Dame," he said, adding that he would never have considered leaving Boston College for any job except this one.

Lesby, a native of Winner, S. D., carved out a brilliant record in his two years as head coach. Boston College signed him in 1929 and in two seasons his teams won 19 of 20 games, finishing an undefeated 1940 campaign with a spectacular victory over Tennessee in the Sugar Bowl.

Wood Sweeps Ahead To Lead New Orleans Open

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Craig Wood, 40-year-old Mamaroneck, N. Y., professional, yesterday swept ahead of the field in the $500 New Orleans open with a two-under-par 70.

Wood's putter sent a 20-footer rolling into the 18th hole for an eagle three that gave him the first round lead. The same hole was a jinx to former tennis champion Ellsworth Vines, who led the amateur contingent with 71.

Vines would have had a 69 if he had not three putted the 18th from 16 feet. Vines, going boldly for the cup, overhot by three feet and missed coming back.

Bunched with Vines were Ralph Guldahl of Chicago, twice U. S. open king, Ben Hogan of White Plains, N. Y., Harold (Jug) MesSpaden of Winchester, N. Y., the pre-tournament favorite, and Clayton Heafner of Louisville, N. C.

The par 72 players included Lleyd Mangrum of Chicago, Jake Fendren of Memphis, Tenn., Henry Picard of Hershey, Pa., the 1939 winner of the local open, and Harry Cooper of Chicago.

Claude Harmon of Orlando, a newcomer to the tournament, shot a 73 after driving into the lagoon on the 16th and thereby lost a stroke by penalty. Other 73s were carded by Dick Metz of Oak Park, Ill., Johnny deVita of Evanston, Ill., and Sammy Byrd of Ardmore, Pa.

A stiff, chilly wind blew down from the north but the sun came out lightly and playing conditions were good. Some pros, however, had their worst scores in many a round.

O'Connor Is Landis' "Good Right Arm" And Baseball Government's Attorney

By CHARLES MUNKLEY
CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—(AP)—Ken-anw Mountain Landis, like many baseball immortals, has a "good right arm."

In his case it's Leslie M. O'Connor.

O'Connor is chief aide to the commissioner of baseball in his role of the $10,000,000-a-year sport.

Always in the background and not known widely to the public, O'Connor, a gifted lawyer, actually is the states attorney of baseball's government. His duties require him to do most of the paper work in investigating manifold deals, drafting reports for Landis' approval, and finally drawing up the findings in decision form, for Landis' signature.

O'Connor, modest and unassuming, prefers to remain behind the scenes. In his duties, however, he is a thorough investigator, expected and feared by baseball executives almost as much as they respect and fear Landis. He has a reputation for ability and honesty.

Officially, he is secretary and treasurer of baseball's advisory council, which is made up of Landis, William Harrod, president of the American League, and Ford Frick, president of the National League. His salary runs into five figures.

O'Connor, short and stocky, looks no older than he is. He is the father of two boys, and a volume of letters and a non-business man.

O'Connor gives the impression of sternness, with his piercing eyes and occasional short, abrupt answers. But his confidence and kind.

O'Connor's 20 years' experience has given him a rare insight into baseball dealings and rarely, if ever, is he fooled. He came into baseball in 1921 when Landis left the federal bench to become commissioner at $50,000 a year. A lawyer was designed to—and did—take the place of confidence to the sport in the wake of the Chicago White Sox and Cincinnati.

When Landis accepted the job he personally selected O'Connor as his assistant. The story goes that Landis, then on the federal bench, was impressed with the courage and legal knowledge of the then youthful O'Connor who had appeared before him as a defendant in a case. O'Connor had the opportunity to talk back to Landis and argue with him, within his legal limits, over disputed points of law. Then and there Landis decided that if he took the baseball position, O'Connor would be the first choice as assistant.

O'Connor graduated from law school in 1916. He is a member of the American and the Chicago Bar Associations, the Chicago Institute, and the National League. He served with the American army in the World War from 1917 to 1919. He is the author of "Professional Baseball in America," a two-volume work on the business of baseball.

Court Upholds Conviction Of Earl Browder

Communist Had Passport Obtained By False Statements,
Tribunal Declares

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—
The Supreme Court today upheld the conviction of Earl Brow-der, 1940 presidential nominee of the Communist Party, on a charge of willfully using a passport obtained by false statements.

Browder was convicted by a jury in a southern New York Federal District Court, sentenced to four years' imprisonment and fined $5,000.

The verdict was upheld by the Federal Circuit Court at New York.

In another decision, the court upheld the government's conviction that the Federal Trade Commission Act outlawing unfair competitive methods should be applied to activities entirely within one state if it affects interstate commerce.

Storm Kills 62 In Spain And Portugal

30,000 In Santander
Driven From Homes
By Fire Following Recent Hurricane

MADRID, Feb. 17.—(AP)—
The San Sebastian radio reported today that 30,000 persons had been forced from their homes by a gigantic fire which swept through Santander yesterday and today in the wake of a disaster-ous hurricane which claimed at least 43 lives in Spain and Portugal.

The flames were still blazing today. Fire losses were estimated between $9,000,000 and $12,

A violent hurricane that swept across Portugal and San Sebastian, killing and injuring hundreds and causing millions of dollars in damage, spent its fury Sunday in northern Spain where more were killed and entire provinces were isolated.

The destructiveness of the storm extended from the Maderis Islands 525 miles west of Lisbon to the Spanish-French frontier near the Bay of Biscay where it ended shortly before noon Sunday.

An estimated 150 persons were killed or injured near the northern Spanish town of Zumana, between Bilbao and San Sebastian, after the howling winds knocked an electric train from a bridge and plunged passenger coaches in the Urola River.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—
The British hinted last night that their fighter pilots are using a new and successful method of fight-reported terrific bomb attacks on the industrial Western Ruhr and the German-held ports of Rotterdam, Calais and Boulogne.

Simultaneously with the acceleration of aerial warfare plane off the English coast, traced it for 10 minutes apparently without attracting attention and then shot the invader out of the skies.

and German governments.

The former president, speaking designed to overcome objections voiced by the belligerents in the rejection of previous proposals of the committee.

Barkley Declares U. S. Should Help British Win War

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—
Democratic leader Barkley, during Senate debate on the administration's British aid bill, declared today if the United States does not help Britain defeat Hitler in Europe, "we shall someday have to surrender to him or defeat him over here."

He asserted that if Germany wins the war, this country will become "not only a hostile Germany but a hostile world."

He urged the President to announce a bill increasing the federal debt limit to $65,000,000 and removing federal tax exemptions from future issues of government securities.

Administration leaders hinted yesterday that approval of the British aid measure would be followed by an immediate request from President Roosevelt for $1,000,000,000 in appropriations and contract authority to build planes, ships, tanks, guns and munitions.

Senator Clark of Missouri, a leading opponent, is scheduled to speak Tuesday on the bill. Beyond that, the program is indefinite, but proponents said they planned to leave the burden of the argument to the other side.

Senate passage of the Home-approved measure within 10 days or two weeks was predicted by its supporters, although some feared the opposition might succeed in writing in some amendments.

In a last minute counting of votes, supporters of the bill said they had listed 11 Republicans seven Democrats and Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin as definitely against the measure, with two Democrats and a Republican in the "doubtful" category.

This tally of 22—or at most 25—votes against final passage conflicted with the opponents claim in a "bulletin" of 29.
