Florida's roads will get steadily worse unless the state can come with about $80 million more a year, according to State Road issioner Jay Brown. Brown told the State Budget aission Wednesday a twocent per gallon hike in the gas tex or use of funds from license tag sales are possible ways to catch up on highway needs in the next 16 years.

Although the Road Board's reuested budget for the coming ium will not come out of general revenue funds, the Budet Commission was hit for the hird straight day with proposals from other agencies for a higger bite of tux monies.

Most department heads asked for more money to pay staffers and for building, claiming the rrowth of the state was th came from the Conservation De partment, which asked for a to tal of $58.1 million for 1969-71. Other agencies conferned with natural resources wanted another $30 million.

And the Department of Public Safety asked $37,575,755 Tor the ment two years, including money for $50 new employes. The reapending increase from 1967-69. Brown told Cabinet members that Florida's roadbuilding program "is considerably far behind" already and is sure to get WOTSC.

He said the Road Department plans to spend $749 million in the next two years, including about $482 million or road building projects.

The commissioner said the department hopes to carry over $155 million from the present biennium and to collect $672 million from earmarked funds or federal grants to fund its 1969-71 program. Conservation Director Rap dolph Hodges said "a great awakening in public interest in conservation and demands for new services" accounts for his department's request for a $24.3 million budget hike in the next two years.

Other agencies concerned with policing or preserving Florida's natural resources were the Board of Forestry, which requested $17.4 million: the Board of Parks, $7.2 million; and the Outdoor Recreational Council. $5.5 million.

The Revenue Commission asked for $9.7 million, mostly for pay hikes and hiring 4 more staffers.

Other requests submitted Wednesday were $10,378,213 for Circuit Courts; $4.067,806 for state attorneys: $2,912,846 for public defenders $1,361,393 for the Department of Transportation: $1.428 493 for the Board of Archive and History: $1,260,200 for the Supreme Court: and $1.-042,235 for the Purchasing Commission.

SEP Farewell!

So it's "Good-by" to The Saturday Evening

Too bad! Unhappily it is not, however, unexpected. For this venerable publication after weathering the "slings and arrows of outrage-ous fortune" has finally succumbed to the combined pressures of a space age.

What has gone down the drain is much more than a weekly visitor which introduced generations of reading Americans to some of the best stories ever offered by a popular magazine . There was a SEP tone which rang true, could wax poetic without being maudlin, could offer those warm covers by Artist Norman Reckwell where one could see oneself and one's times in perspective.

Nor would we minimize the extraodrinary attempts in the editorial department to match the changing times with changing approaches. In our eyes this was being done in a remarkably fine way.

But, as we have said from time to time, publishing is also a business enterprise. No matter how fine the product in terms of writing or art, " no matter with what vision and with what devotion the editor contemplates the scene and denicts it, there is the ever-present matter of in Law-and-order, urban trings. faculty revolt on campuses from const to const, strikes and labor unrest, fiscal moves with far-reaching economic impact - all these and more confront the incoming administration. To successfully handle these, the Nixon team has mustered considerable strength in terms of research, in terms of bringing a cabinet tegether which emdies the pragmatic, expertise which is now a halfmark of RMS operations. If the most important - the Vietnam War - is considered, perhaps the most illuminating and cer-tainly the move which has called forth the most serious comments is the naming of Henry Cabot Lodge as chief negotistor in Paris. Mr. Lodge's association with Vistnam is one which rovides critics with a record which certainly puts Bay State Republican and former can the vice-presidency on the 1960 GOP Nixon-Ladge ticket, in the light of favoring the South Victorsmore.

WAITING FOR THE BELL

This is not, of course, something which our chief nee mayotistor in Paris should not reflect but Mr. adge's close association with Vice-President Nguyen Oso Ky, who has furnished much of the heat and little light during the negotiations, is taken to as-sume that the Nixon attitude will hardon, that fruit-ful takes in Paris will be difficult.

No one who has done his homework as carefully ident-elect can have missed the hard lesson which has made this involvement in a landwar in Asia an albatrons that hangs around the neck of any mariner who tries to sail this troubled sea. For it will be on this issue - peace or war in

Should it drag along, then the 1970 mid-term elec-tions would render the public verdict. There are grounds for great expectations, for a return to what probably was reflected in the split popular vote which ran up unexpected strength for the conservatives and so fractured the liberal forces that they were defeated.

We, with all well-wishers for the good of our country, trust that when the Nixon programs, when the Nixon basic philosophy is spelled out, when the opening months of the Nixon administration are ended - the troubles which caught the GOP fire during the campaign will have been attacked and the middle-of-the-road togetherness can be applauded as effective and in action!

Decorations included white wedding bells and yellow and white floral arrangements. A card table was set up in an alcove near the dining area to receive the gifts. The refreshment table was overlaid with an ecru lace cloth, and the yellow and white centerpiece arranged in a hobbail milk white container was flanked by yellow tapers in matching hobnail holders.

A silver coffee service graced one end of the table, and on the other was a beautifully decorated cake, iced in white with colorful roses, green and silver leaves and a miniature bride and bridegroom, all encircled with a white tulle ruffle.

Served with the cake were nuts, mints assorted miniature open faced sandwiches, coffee and fruit punch. The hostess gift to Miss Dekle was an electric mixer.
