Law Makers At Tallahassee And Their Duties - Details Of Legislative Nature By Special Correspondent

The much celebrated Stokes "Mental Anguish" bill, directed at the telegraph companies, formed the central attraction in the Senate Wednesday, following its unanimous passage in the House, and there were evidences that much good work has been done by the telegraph companies in the last few days. The debate was stubborn and will be continued later.

A little bill of less than a page in length, by Mr. Floyd, of Franklin, proposing the appropriation of ten thousand dollars for the purpose of erecting at Key West a monument to Henry M. Flagler "in part payment" for his great work for Florida, threw the House Tuesday morning into an earnest but orderly debate, such as would cause all the press correspondents in the gallery to move forward toward the rail and take notes. It was indeed a spectacular debate.

XXXXXX
Some notable visitors arrived in Tallahassee Tuesday morning, the first mentioned being Former Gov. Albert Jennings, then comes Col. P. A. Vans Agnew, from Kissimmee, and H. G. Bartlett, of Jacksonville. Mr. Jennings is interested in drainage matters and is paying close attention to legislation now pending. The Ex-Governor is one of the most distinguished visitors always welcome to the capital and Col. P. A. Vans Agnew is not far behind. The latter gentleman is one of the big attorneys of the state having his offices in Kissimmee, where he directs a large number of institutions having to do with the welfare of the state at large. H. G. Bartlett is interested in a banking house at Jacksonville, and is rapidly acquiring a reputation for business acumen, coming to Florida from Toledo, O., where he was connected with one of the largest banking houses in that progressive city.

Senator Depew, of New York, arrived in Tallahassee Tuesday after a few days' stay at his home. The Senator is expected to remain in Tallahassee in order to look after large business interests. The member from Osceola and Orange is gaining ground each day, being felicitated on his pleasing manner and persuasive style.

Representative Harry Goldstein, of Nassau, has introduced and is deeply interested in the passage of a bill providing for the placing of fire escapes on any building of more than two stories in height, believing that enforcement of such a law will result in great saving of life from fires in future years.

Last night for the first time since the administration of Gov. Broward the gubernatorial mansion at Tallahassee witnessed the Governor in the receiving line with his wife. His excellency and Mrs. Park Trammell gave the first of their official receptions for the legislators and their families and friends and the general public.

Both houses of the Legislature were in receipt of the following invitation on Saturday last:

"Mrs. Trammell and myself will give on Thursday evening, April 24, from 8:30 p. m. to 11 p. m. a public reception at the Governor's home, in honor of the legislators and their families. All members of the legislature and their families and friends, all connected with the legislature and the public generally are most cordially invited.

"PARK TRAMMELL,
"Governor."

Cameo Bridge Club
Mrs. A. P. Connelly was hostess of the Cameo Bridge Club Wednesday morning. Two tables of bridge were played. The highest score was made by Mrs. C. M. Vorce, who is wearing the lovely cameo brooch, the club prize. Mrs. Connelly's guests were Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. C. M. Vorce, Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. W. R. Anno, Mrs. B. W. Herndon, Mrs. Robert Newman, Mrs. F. L. Miller.

Cecilian Music Club
The regular meeting of the Cecilian Music Club will be held at the studio of Mrs. Fannie S. Munson Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Library Day
The Library Day benefit and birthday party given by the Wednesday Club in celebration of its nineteenth years, at the home of Mrs. S. O. Chase, Wednesday afternoon was both a pleasant social occasion and gratifying success in every way.

Mrs. George L. Maris, president of the Wednesday Club presided in her usual dignified, gracious manner, having in charge also the program, which was most delightfully rendered.

The program committee deserves the appreciation of the club and guests, for the splendid arrangement of their fine program, the excellent selections which were so charmingly rendered by each individual taking part, and contributing so much to the pleasure of the audience.

Mrs. Cruse Barnes presided at one end of the table in the dining room, and dished the delicious apricot ice which was served with cake by Misses Melf Whitner and Mabel Bowler in Mexican costume. Miss Charlotte Keelor presided over the large dish of hot "tamales" at the other end of the table, which she served at five cents each. Mrs. B. F. Whitner also assisted in serving the refreshments.

A very satisfactory sum of money was realized for the benefit of the Library.

The following is the program which was thoroughly appreciated, enjoyed, enthusiastically received and unstintingly praised by the guests at the pleasant birthday party at which the Wednesday Club were hostesses.

Orchestra

Encores were kindly and graciously responded to by every one on the program.

Entre Nous Bridge Club
The Entre Nous Bridge Club was entertained very delightfully Wednesday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played, one of which was a guest table. The club prizes were the work of the hostess as were also the lovely prizes, two water color pictures, one of which, the club prize, was won by Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, Mrs. R. H. Marks was the lucky winner of the guest prize. When the pleasant games of cards were concluded the hostess was assisted by Mrs. B. F. Whitner, Mrs. O. L. Miller and Mrs. J. C. Brady in serving a delicious salad course with water and coffee.

Mrs. DeCottes' guests were Mrs. R. H. Marks, Mrs. G. Keely, Mrs. J. H. Roumillat, Mrs. Samuel Puleston, Mrs. B. W.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here The Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

A long threatened break in the main line Mississippi river levees along the west bank in Upper Louisiana came at an early hour this morning when the Lake St. John levee twelve miles to the north of Ferriday, La., went out, turning the flood waters loose upon the fine farming lands and villages of lower Tensas and Concordia parishes. Approximately twenty thousand persons will be driven from their homes as a result of this crevasse, which will flood a territory embracing about 900 square miles. The property damage will total several thousand dollars.

Further evidence of the aggressiveness of the northern rebels was given today when several hundreds of them well armed and mounted, captured the town of Vanegas, on the National railroad in the state of San Luis Potosi. They cut the railroad to the north and then moved over to Matehuala, a mining and smelting center. Dozens of engagements have occurred during the last week in various parts of the republic.

In deference to Secretary of State Bryan, who is due in Sacramento, California tomorrow to confer with Governor Johnson and the Legislature on the proposed anti-alien land laws, it has been decided to make no plans for the conference until Mr. Bryan has signified the purpose of his visit. Governor Johnson met this afternoon with Attorney General Webb and a dozen of the administration leaders for a general discussion of the situation with regard to Secretary Bryan's visit. But no course of action was proposed. Governor Johnson afterwards said that everything hinged on the desires of the state's visitor.

This is considered the fatal date in the Balkan problem in which new and difficult complications have arisen. The ambassadorial conference is to decide whether the European concern shall influence Montenegro or whether Australia shall be left alone to compel the evacuation of Scutari.

Meeting Commercial Club

The Commercial Club will hold a most interesting meeting next Friday night in the city hall. The meeting is called for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee on county division and other matters of importance will come before them. This is the first meeting of importance held for several weeks and a large attendance is expected.

What Good Is It?

Some persons ask, "What good is it?" This question with the same propriety might be propounded concerning the nature of the discovery of the North Pole. When steam was seen escaping from the tea-kettle, "What good is it?" would have been a sensible inquiry. When Franklin wrestled lightning from the skies and stopped it by a key the people might have credulously smiled as they asked, "What good is it?" He could not have answered, for children ask questions, philosophers cannot answer. What is Hypnotism? How did Svergallo overcome "Trilby"? What power is there in a person's eye that causes another to fall asleep under its gaze? How long does this influence last. Why is it that some people possess it and others do not. Why cannot everyone be hypnotized? All of these are questions that the public take great interest in and all of them are answered by the Great Powers who are to appear at the Opera House next week, with the largest Hypnotic Comedy Company now on the road.

Odd Fellows Anniversary

On account of lack of space the article relating to the Odd Fellows anniversary last Sunday has been crowded out of this issue but will appear in Friday's paper.

SEMINOLE COUNTY IS CREATED

Governor Trammell Signed The Bill Last Friday Morning

Gigantic Parade and Cheering Thousands Greet The Seminole Warriors Returning From Tallahassee.

Seminole county is a fact! Any one alighting from the train Saturday afternoon would have thought so, from the multitude that awaited the warriors returning from Tallahassee with the scalps of the Orlando slugs dangling from their belts.

The bill creating Seminole county passed the Senate last Thursday without a dissenting vote, Senator Donegan waiving the rules and his fellow Senators granting him the usual courtesy on local bills. Almost before the Sanford delegation was aware of the fact the Senate had accomplished the next step in division and then came the enrolling and engrossing and all the other matters so essential at the capital in making bills into laws. Through the good work of Forrest Lake the work was done by working overtime and by nine o'clock Friday morning the bill was ready for the signature of the Governor. First, though it was necessary for Speaker Ferris and President Drain respectively to sign it. Mr. Lake purchased three fine fountain pens, one for the signature of the Speaker, one for the signature of the President of the Senate and one for the Governor. The Speaker called first and rapping for order said the magic words, "I am now signing the bill making the county of Seminole," and the loud clapping of hands attested to the popularity of the movement. In the Senate the act was accomplished in silence, although the Sanford delegation were upon the point of bursting forth.

Then came the march to the Governor's office, and here after a few minutes delay Governor Trammell signed the bill and after a cordial handshake we thanked him and made our way to the telegraph office to wire the folks at home. We had worried and labored so long and faithfully that we were a trifle tired and perhaps not so enthusiastic as formerly and were also intent upon getting home and it was rather a quiet crowd that bade the many friends goodbye. Mr. Thrasher had printed 500 badges and several hat bands for the homeward march and all the representatives were presented one by Mr. Lake and also the senators and the capital was peopled by Seminole men that day as we started down the corkscrew turn to the station. We prevailed upon Lake and Donegan to accompany us but the next morning in Jacksonville Senator Donegan found that he had several important business matters that would not permit his absence from the city and this was a great disappointment to all of us, for could the Senator have accompanied us home and received the honors accorded the delegation and Mr. Lake it would have demonstrated the love for him held by the people of Sanford.

There must have been several thousand people at the station to meet the conquering heroes and they were showered with flowers and best wishes and when they were able to break away from the crowd and climb into the cars a most wonderful procession greeted their eyes. Almost a hundred autos and carriages and wagons as floats lined the street and headed by the Sanford Military band the procession started down Ninth street. There were many Senators and one of Indian Seminole maidens and several cars had small Seminoles in the back. All along the way yelled as no real Indian could do and altogether it was an occasion never to be forgotten and the tired and dusty warriors smiled their appreciation and answered the cheery greetings.

The procession came down First street to Palmetto and thence to the Sanford House where a three course turkey dinner awaited them, and where before they were allowed to eat Representative Lake and Chairman F. P. Forster were introduced by Mayor Spencer and forced to give a brief account of how it happened. Both gentlemen were cheered to the echo and were almost hustled off the steps by their thousands of admiring friends.

At the luncheon merry jest and lively tales were told by those who had participated in the Tallahassee campaign and those who had stayed at home and a pleasant hour was spent. Their only regret was the absence of Senator Donegan.

Those in attendance at the banquet were Hon. Forrest Lake, F. P. Forster, D. L. Thrasher, Charles Hand, A. T. Rosetter, C. R. Walker, S. C. Dixon and W. R. Healey of Longwood; E. T. Woodruff, W. J. Hill, R. J. Holly, F. W. Mahoney, S. Runge, T. J. Miller, L. P. McCuller, Thomas Emmett Wilson, Mayor Spencer, Geo. H. Fernald, A. E. Fatjo, B. G. Smith and E. A. Douglass and wife of Oviedo, H. C. Dubose, A. P. Connelly, H. McLaughlin, G. F. Smith, N. H. Garner, W. F. Shelley, M. F. Robinson, L. R. Phillips and Thomas K. Bates.

After the luncheon the warriors and their friends "scattered" to their homes and the streets were alive with busy groups discussing the event and the crowds were augmented by many shoppers from the country who came in to hear the news.

Many were disappointed that no public speaking was to be indulged in later in the evening, but those who were in Tallahassee and Mr. Lake were already talked to death and much preferring a good evening.

There was never such a home coming for there has never been such an occasion for rejoicing. The affair was impromptu and arranged on very short notice and on Saturday the busiest day of the week, but it was a joyous occasion for the people of Sanford, and for the boys who had accomplished so much in such an able manner and it demonstrated that the Sanford people are the biggest hearted, most generous and best people on earth. The celebration on Saturday was but the preliminary. About the Fourth of July the people of Seminole county will celebrate as only these big hearted people know how and then all our friends of the Legislature from Governor Trammell down will be invited to come to Sanford and see the baby.

Verily Sanford has come into her own!

SANFORD'S PAPER PLANT

Big Pacific Company Invests Large Amount of Capital Here

An industry of state wide importance to Florida will be that of the Crown Columbia Paper Company which is preparing to open up the greatest and only plant of its kind in the state with manufacturing headquarters at Sanford with Mr. George D. Bishop, formerly superintendent of the company's plant at Los Angeles, Cal., as general manager. The Crown Columbia Paper Company is a San Francisco corporation with a capital stock of $15,000,000. It operates manufacturing, finishing and distributing plants in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Oregon City and Portland, Ore., Camas, Wash., and the new plant at Sanford.

The company will manufacture from its own raw materials and place on the market in a ready for use condition, wraps for citrus fruits, wraps for vegetables and melons and wraps for deciduous fruits. Its manufacturing facilities at Sanford will be sufficient to turn out 5,000,000 wraps in eight hours, and such steps have been taken as will necessitate the running of the plant at its full capacity each working day in the year. Long time contracts have been closed with the Florida Citrus Exchange, Chase & Co., and many other consumers and dealers throughout the state, which guarantees the active cooperation of the complete plant throughout all seasons of the year.

The plant will be equipped with three rotary cylinder presses for printing the wraps, latest design of power cutter, bundling machines and counting apparatus, stereotyping plant and such other appliances as will conduce to the rapid and prompt handling of business. The power of the plant will be of the electric type and this will be supplemented with an auxiliary gas plant to be used in emergency cases. Expert mechanics will have charge of the various departments and the resources of the local plant will be so poised that a solid carload of printed wraps with special designs can be sent forward within forty-eight hours after the receipt of the order.

The business of the company at this point will approximate $20,000 per annum and the quantity of paper used will amount to 2,400,000 pounds per year. The paper will be received here from the Pacific coast mills in train loads, it being put up in rolls, ready to go to the presses for printing and cutting. The plant will be in operation by the first day of June and will employ a large force of experts in this particular line.

Mr. George D. Bishop, who will have the entire management of this plant, is a young man who has grown up in the industry in the plants of the company out west and is familiar with the various lines of endeavor necessary to the successful operation of the plant. He has been warmly welcomed to the community.—Times-Union.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

Word reached this city shortly after ten o'clock this morning of the death by suicide of T. T. Tiner of Pine Castle. Mr. Tiner was fifty-five years old, and was one of the prominent citizens of the lower county and was well known in Orlando. He is reported to have been depressed for several days, and was several times heard to talk about the effect of laudanum producing a painless death.—Orlando Star.

What was termed "dirty Republicanism" was scored in the House this morning. It had reference to the closing of the Pensacola navy yards by the recent Republican administration and came up in a debate over the resolution to send Speaker Farris of the House to Pensacola on May 6 to take part in the welcome to be accorded Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels. The House had last week decided to go in a body, also the senate, both branches accepting the invitation sent.

Preparations are being made in Jacksonville for the erection of an armory for the battalion of the 1st Florida Infantry that city. The city attorney has prepared the papers necessary to the carrying out of the project.

The Tribune of Bunnell, St. Johns county, announces that there will soon be a canning factory opened in that town. A. C. Phillips, formerly of Atlanta, has lately purchased twenty-five acres of land there and will make his home upon it. He will plant the entire tract in tomatoes and will build a canning plant for the purpose of taking care of his own crop, as well as those of any other growers who may desire their vegetables canned.

The Florida Military Academy, heretofore located at Green Cove Springs, will be moved to Jacksonville just as soon as the buildings necessary to house it can be completed. The contract has been let to W. T. Hadlow Company and work has already been commenced. The buildings are to be located on Edgewood avenue, in Murray Hill Heights.

Kissimmee, April 27. Atlantic Coast Line train No. 80 from Tampa to Jacksonville ran into a burning trestle at Boggy creek five miles north of here at one two o'clock today. The engine remained in the track but the tender, mail, baggage and two day coaches were ditched. None was hurt. Trains 89, 85, 83 were routed by Orlando to Apopka over the Seaboard to Kissimmee over Midland. A wrecker is on the scene and will possibly clear it by this morning.

Revival Services at Presbyterian church

The revival services at the Presbyterian church are attracting the attention of the people of Sanford this week. Dr. Little of Atlanta who has been in charge of the meetings has endeared himself to the people by his earnest solicitations and excellent lectures. Last Sunday afternoon he talked to the children and all of them love him for his gentle manner in leading the lambs to the Savior. This afternoon he will again talk to the children. Tonight the services will start at 7:30 and every morning service are held at 10 o'clock, lasting one hour, thus giving even the busy housekeepers and business men an opportunity of hearing this wonderful man of God. Dr. Little is forced to leave Sanford this week and Thursday night will be his last night here. If there are any who have not attended these revivals they should take advantage of the few remaining days and attend morning and evening services. Dr. Little is one of the most convincing speakers that has ever been heard in Sanford and his many distinct traits of character and earnest manner have endeared him to the people of this city and his departure will be regretted by the many who have been greatly benefited by his teachings.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chief is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent "Em"— So Says Saunterer.

Goalsby of the Wauchula Advocate takes such a philosophic view of county division defeat in DeSoto county that I reproduce it as an inspiration for losers.

At this writing the county division fight is on in Tallahassee and the divisionists still have a good fighting chance.

Whether the county is divided or not, the divisionists have come near enough succeeding to cause one to seriously consider just what division would mean.

Take the entire county as a whole we feel certain it would be a great benefit to the people. To the Advocate editor, however, there would be some bitter with the sweet.

When we were in Tallahassee the first of the week and realized that possibly the parting of the way was near, the feeling came over us that if victorious our victory would not be unmingled with sorrow.

To part with our old county division fight would be like parting with a friend.

No question that has ever been sprung in DeSoto county has ever furnished the continual round of pleasure, nor the snap and ginger as the division question.

Bonding for good roads, court house removal question and building new court houses come up in a day and are settled, but like the great luminaries of the heavens, the division question goes on forever.

To the divisionists its a game where heads you win, tails you lose.

When our people entered the fight we had a little hamlet of some three hundred souls. After ten years on the firing line we have a little city of over fifteen hundred inhabitants and are growing faster than any other town in the county.

And every citizen is white and every man will make a voter.

Watch Wauchula Win.

We are a fighting people and are growing fat in fighting. The Advocate editor weighed 118 pounds when he entered the division fight ten years ago and today he tips the beam at 150 pounds.

Not only have our people waxed fat and prospered in the scap, but think of the fun it has furnished.

It has been the means of developing orators in our county and in every campaign the woods of old DeSoto have resounded with eloquence and sky-rocket oratory of the opposing forces.

And then the junketing trips to Tallahassee. The division question has been the cause of scores of citizens of DeSoto having the pleasure of visiting Tallahassee, spreading their influence over the red hills of the capital city and enjoying the luxuries of the Leon—at the other fellow's expense.

Why, the great benefits of the division scrap are too numerous to mention. Had it not been for the little skirmish at Tallahassee this week's DeSoto's greatest orator, Mr. Cameron, would probably never have had the privilege of filling the grand old state house with oratory until the attaches had to cut it up into chunks to let it escape through the commodious windows.

Let the fight go on. Life is real and too blame solemn. Why cut all the ginger out of life in old DeSoto by settling the division question. Not a hundred times no!

Now a few words to our brave soldiers in Tallahassee: Give them a good skirmish, draw a little blood, but for the love of Mike bring the old division question back home intact that we may have some fun to look forward to and have some purpose in life.

Keep the flag flying and get the banner ready for the next campaign.

Hurrah for county division and the fun, luxuries and prosperity it brings, for we are advertised by our loving friends.

The Charlotte Observer, which stands for moderate tariff revision, retaining the principle of protection, thinks there "is a little too much prediction of bad times as the result of a Democratic tariff." No doubt of it. The surest way to bring about a depression in business is to constantly proclaim it. Other division results from pessimistic prophecies and for no other reason; whereas optimistic predictions encourage an often tide over a dull season without real hurt. Any change of consequence in the tariff will unsettle business, in some lines at least, for a time. But there is no good reason for the calamity striking in some quarters. Some of the shriekers may honestly believe the things they are saying, but some are shouting for bluff. They want to frighten the people, and through the people frighten Congress, into leaving them in the enjoyment of the special tariff benefits they have so long enjoyed. The people should not be alarmed; they should keep it in mind that most of this calamity howling is for a selfish purpose; and especially do they want to keep in mind the fact that no matter how much money the protected interests may make through the operations of a high tariff, the masses are not the beneficiaries. On the contrary the people pay the bill. The thing for the people to do is to sit steady in the boat. It will all work out right.

I was awakened by the old cannon firing the other night, and upon inquiring the cause of all the commotion was informed that county division had passed the house (whatever that means) and that it was almost an assured fact that Seminole would be born. In a short time an unusual sound made me jump out of bed and grab the fire extinguisher (for it seemed to me that the crack of doom had sounded and I wanted to be prepared for whatever might happen and if the elevator went down instead of up the fire extinguisher would come in handy. After coming down in my pajamas, which I recently purchased at the ten cent store I inquired of my next door neighbor what in the summer breezes all that racket meant and he said the old cannon had burst. And so it had and the wonder is that about two thousand enthusiastic Sanford citizens were not blown over to Enterprise or some other seaport. It seems that the boys had endeavored to ram the cannon with enough powder to make Orlando wake up and not satisfied with that had wadded in some wet paper and sand. We old soldiers can readily understand what such a charge in any cannon would have done in the days of sixty-two when our little brass cannons were often carried over the mountains strapped on the backs of horses and mules and how carefully we wiped them out after they were a fall from the backs of the animals and how we always kept wet paper from going into them. But the boys on the firing line last Tuesday night were in for the noise and racket but little how they obtained it and the result is that our ancient landmark is no more. It grieves me to think that a cannon walk on the shores of the lake any more and pat the little brass Napoleon on the back and dream dreams of the days when we rode with Stuart and Pelham and "joined the cavalres" on many a wild foray.

The old cannon was not of the Napoleonic type used by the boys in those days but it was a gentle reminder of the days of yore and many of us extracted some comfort from the fact that it was the only cannon in Sanford and it was the dream of my life to see it mounted in the yard of the new court house.

The old boy went out in a good cause and now the pieces, some of which weigh round half a mile from the lake shore will be made into paper weights and kept for souvenirs. The old cannon has served its day and died happy no doubt or it could not have done better work than saluting the new county of Seminole.

The insistence on knowing what is in the sausage or canned mince pie has not yet subsided. A lot of people who have had spasms over the packing house revelations might not feel so touch about the subject if the limelight could shed a few rays into their own kitchens. But then one's own slack ways are no near so censurable as those the other fellow is guilty of.

This is indeed a busy age, remorseless in its incessant calls upon even our leisure hours. The art of making haste slowly has been lost in the bustling turmoil, and nothing equivalent has been gained. Still, we may if we wish—the justiest of us—make for ourselves tin oases in the desert of labor—green resting places where we may drink of the waters of refreshment.

The highest, purest love for children is not found in the parent who uses liquor, tobacco, profane and vulgar language, and thus sets examples that debase, demoralize and destroy, as they are taken up and followed.

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 14h

Now we can write it Sanford, Seminole county, Florida and what a pleasure it is to so write it.

Circuit court meets in Orlando next week and the fall circuit will include Sanford and instead of the people of the north end being forced to travel thirty miles they can travel about five and attend circuit court in their own county.

Seminole is the name of the new county sliced off Orange, the Senate and House having passed the bill. Sanford will be the county seat. The Sanford Herald will likely appear next issue with Shanghai roosters on each page.—Tavares Herald.

With Wells in the Senate and a Lake in the House, the Legislature this session should by no means be a dry or thirsty one.—Palatka Herald.

A telegram received yesterday morning stated that the new Seminole county bill had passed the House. We would like to go to that barbecue to be held when the new county is established.—Winter Garden Times.

Arcadia has the distinction of pulling off the first preferential primary for the selection of a postmaster in the state. The primary Tuesday proved a very satisfactory step in the direction of settling this question of an appointment for the office. The two high candidates will stand for nomination at a second primary to be held on Tuesday, May 6th.—Arcadia News.

Walton county has recently abolished the criminal court and it is rumored that Orange county will do the same. Now that Sanford has been cut from the docket. The taxpayers of Orange will soon find out that criminal court is an expensive luxury and only seven other counties in the state have it.

To the hustling Thomas K. Bates much of the honor is due for the magnificent parade and reception of last Saturday. An soon as he received the wire about the home coming he started out and marshalled his forces and right nobly did the good people of Sanford respond. There was never such an outpouring of people and sentiment in Sanford.

Orange county will likely be divided, with Sanford as the seat of the new county of Seminole. The Lower House passed the act on Tuesday, and the Senate unanimously concurred yesterday. Among the foremost in the fight for division were Editor Holly of the Sanford Herald, and Mr. David L. Thrasher. They never let up until victory crowned their efforts.—Eustis Lake Region.

The new county of Seminole, with Sanford as the county seat, is now a fact so far as the Legislature can make it so. The bill to that effect has passed both Houses and the Governor will undoubtedly sign it. Bob Holly can now rest from his gigantic labors and shake hands with himself as he whistles in a low voice not loud enough to disturb the worthy burghers of Orlando, "Hail to the Chief" or "Lo, the Conquering Hero Comes," as a gentle tribute to himself and his prime minister, Sir Thomas K. Bates.—Lakeland Telegram.

TO SENATOR WILSON The citizens of Bay county wish to express their gratitude to Senator J. N. Wilson, of Jackson county, for the material assistance he rendered in the Senate, in securing prompt action on the county division bill. "Jim Ned," as his Bay friends delight to call him, is a big-hearted, brainy Senator, and one whom the state may well be proud of.—Panama City Pilot.

And the Sanford delegation owe a debt of gratitude to big-hearted "Jim Ned" Wilson for his kindness. We expect him to be in Sanford on the Fourth of July and tell us about the yellow ribbon brigade.

QUIET ON THE ST. JOHNS A gentleman returning from Orlando yesterday brought word to the Herald office that if this paper would keep quiet on the county division question they would keep quiet down there and yet the papers are full of good advice to the new county every day. Solicitor Starbuck has a long article in Saturday's Herald. We have no advice to give Orange county except that if the tax payers want to save money they will at once abolish the criminal court since the best part of the county has been lost to them, as they admitted at Tallahassee.

The Reporter-Star editorially states that the people of the new county will be unable to govern themselves and other papers down there are making themselves ridiculous trying to give the new county advice and a slap on the wrist at the same time.

The Herald does not wish to rub it in on the old county. They have troubles of their own and we would much rather fight with victors than with the vanquished.

All we have to say on the subject is that we have been bitterly maligned. Our Senator and Representative have been bitterly maligned and attacked without reason. Let him who is innocent cast the first stone and let him who is defeated crawl into his kennel and quit barking or we shall be under the painful necessity of using mange cure on them.

SOUR GRAPES What a week end in Sanford. Oh the plans that are afoot; the ambitions that are buzzing. A court house to be built, records to be compiled, officers to be elected. Although it is reputed to have been a dull winter in celerytown, there will be doings now. Verily, the Sanford brow will sweat, knowing not the settled calm of our good old summer time.

We ascent from afar the prospect of strife in the army. When the first loud wail of enthusiasm shall have died, envy will paint its face and stalk abroad. The limit of the statutes will work its dire will. Only one clerk of the court, only one sheriff, only one superintendent of public instruction, only one tax assessor for all that vast wealth. Think of the mouths that will water in vain, and stomachs that will ache in pain of hunger.

In the hour of transition, our city goes out to the poor tax payer. Upon his back will be the weight of the new day. The question is, will the back sustain the weight, will loyalty quell revolution. Indeed, as things go it would be so humiliating to have to welcome home again our wayward neighbors. Reporter-Star

No one expected to see the Orlando papers take their defeat with good grace but the bad attack of sour grapes demonstrated by the above is the limit. Whether the officers are appointed by the Governor or left to a primary, Sanford will not be divided because Sanford does not want the offices and will carry out all the pre-division promises to the letter. Unlike Orlando Sanford does not intend to "hog" the offices at any stage of the game and the way Sanford has been united and the way our united efforts swept Orlando opposition off their feet at Tallahassee has made another sore spot on the Orlando people and the papers cannot look at the division in any fair or impartial manner. Being the first time that the north end ever put one over on Orlando and having it done while they were sleeping in fancied security is enough to make them sting themselves to death and the above is the first awan song of the dying county.

ORANGE AND SEMINOLE It is Seminole County—though the bill has yet to pass the Senate before "finis" is written upon its face.

The Sentinel has nothing to retract or apologize for while the fight was on. This paper still holds that Representative Lake and Senator Donegan could have played the game cleaner. This paper believes that both these gentlemen have a considerable job on their hands in explaining matters, particularly to the inhabitants of what will be known as Orange county.

This paper is run, and will be run, on the principles of cleanness. It confesses that it does not like the methods of Representative Lake and Senator Donegan. It much prefers a senator who says, "After due consideration, I vote on the forming of Seminole county" other than one who telegraphs the newspapers of the county that he favors county division, before the bill has been introduced in the house. This saviors of a deal and this paper believes a deal was made, and that the parties who made the deal were Representative Lake and Senator Donegan.

Now that the deal has been pulled off, the Sentinel wishes to join in felicitating the new county on its prospects of life. Located next to St. Johns, the spring ought to be prolific and there should be no kind of rivalry between Orlando and Sanford that should be wholesome. Both counties will enrich by the division. This is destined to become a great country and no tricks of the Legislature can thwart it. Seminole and Orange will be, as they are by nature, the pet counties of Florida. There is not going to be any quarrel between them. It is a divided we fall." Thelogan of the future is, "Divided, we become the greatest counties in Florida." Orange and Seminole counties, hereafter will have the cleanest politics and the most influence in our State Legislature.

Let Orlando and Sanford shake hands and let the two counties set the example to the state for development.

We understand that Sanford busted a cannon in celebrating the birth of the new county. Let her bust herself in helping Orange make Florida the most attractive and progressive state in the Union.—Orlando Sentinel.

In Honor of Miss Keelor Mrs. J. W. Dickins was the charming hostess at a very unique and amusing evening school party complimentary to Miss Charlotte Keelor Thursday evening.

"Backward, turn backward, Oh Time, in your flight, Make me a child again, Just for tonight."

Time is both kind and complaisant, and to all intents and purposes that merry party of grown up children were just as happy "playing school" as they could possibly have been as girls and boys in their dear old school days.

When the pupils arrived the young ladies wore short dresses and had their hair tied with ribbons; the young men were in short trousers and jackets. They all brought gifts to the teacher and a variety of playthings for themselves, also a supply of chewing gum. After the presentation of their gifts, their bonnets and hats were hung up and they took their places at a long table, on which the school books were placed. After the calling of the roll by the teacher, Mrs. Dickins, school was opened by singing "School Days." Lessons were then assigned in "Rithmetic" and "Log raphy."

"Time" evidently did not have very far to turn back, for not a trick, prank or joke of real school days seemed to have been forgotten, and it was not long before Miss Ruth Butler was occupying the room, with the cap on her head. Of course every pupil wanted water and a bucket with a dipper was carried around to the seats by one of the boys and their thirst was quenched with delicious lemonade. At recess the boys peeled apples for the girls and they all sat down on the floor to eat them and amuse themselves with their playthings. Mr. Will Watson was punished by being put on the dunce's stool. His heartbroken sobe were most pathetic. Lessons in Natural History and "Physiology" were recited after recess.

Miss Charlotte Keelor had so many demerits for being a naughty girl that as a punishment she was requested by the teacher to give a recitation and in school girl style she recited, "The Spider in the Water Spout."

Mr. M. L. Raines had a large number of demerits also but was such a bad boy that he would not mind the teacher or be punished. The two star pupils, Mrs. Ruth Butler and W. J. Thigpen received the prizes, a fancy doll pin cushion and a deck of cards. A pretty basket containing chicken salad in paper cases, pimento sandwiches, doughnuts, decorated cookies and lolly pops were given each pupil by their kind, thoughtful teacher, which was enjoyed in school children style. The guest of honor was presented with a lovely ribbon whisk broom holder. Mrs. Dickins guests and pupils were Misses Charlotte Keelor, Madge and Veda Ward, Irene Brady, Ruth Butler, Mabel Bowler, Messrs. Will Watson, R. R. Deas, Tracy McCuller, M. L. Raines, Billie Hill, W. J. Thigpen.

Dr. Little Has Birthday Dr. Little, the beloved minister who is holding a series of revival services at the Presbyterian church had a birthday yesterday, and in honor of the event Mrs. Martin of Comfort Cottage prepared a special dinner in the evening. Several speeches were indulged in and many happy returns wished for the genial Doctor. We have not learned the exact milestone recently passed by Dr. Little but can safely assert that he will never get old, regardless of his age. May he live to be one hundred and be as great a benefit to mankind in his declining years as he has been in the past. And may he pass all of his remaining birthdays in Sanford holding revival meetings, blessing us with the spirit of the Lord.

Notice of Meeting A business meeting of the Woman's Club of Sanford will be held in the Welaka Club rooms Thursday, May 8th, at 3 o'clock. All members of departments urged to be present as matters of importance will come before the meeting.

HUSTLING GENEVA

Sister City Organizes Live Board of Trade

Geneva, a splendid little city situated on Geneva peninsula, in Seminole county, organized a board of trade Friday night and will in the future make a hard effort to keep the resources and possibilities which it possesses in large numbers before home seekers and investors. Extended an invitation to Thomas K. Bates, secretary of the Sanford Commercial Club to come over and assist them in organizing a civic body. Mr. Bates, accompanied by his wife went over and spent the night with the boosters. The meeting was held in the city hall, a spacious two story building owned by the residents of the community. A large gathering was present and much enthusiasm shown in getting together on the matter of a concrete organization.

Mr. Bates took a constitution and by-laws over with him and after making an address set forth the benefits to be derived by a community having a wide awake civic body to handle questions affecting the entire community; after advising them as to the benefits to be derived from systematic advertising their resources and possibilities of the community as related to the homeseeker, went into other details pertinent to the formation of the organization.

The temporary secretary read the constitution clause by clause and it was adopted in its entirety. A canvass was then made of the audience for members. Those who joined were C. A. Raulerson, H. H. Pattishall, C. E. Patterson, A. W. Davis, J. W. Flynt, Thomas K. Bates, D. W. Adams, George Duchart, H. Y. Tarbell, W. J. David, R. R. Dooley, F. W. Pain, J. V. Wicks, E. N. Sutton, M. J. Hutson, C. E. Proctor, L. A. Sheldon, Charles Phillipps, M. W. Taylor, G. G. Flynt, B. F. Sutton, David Speer, Ernest Flynt, L. M. Rheidner, W. A. Whitcomb, M. E. Dooley and J. T. McLain.

The officers elected were as follows: J. T. McLain, president; L. M. Rheidner, vice president; M. E. Dooley, secretary and treasurer. The executive board is composed of Claude Raulerson, J. V. Wicks, H. H. Pattishall, Charles Phillipps, A. A. Moran, B. W. Adams.

The Geneva Board of Trade will at once take up the advertising of the community known as Geneva Peninsula, paying special attention to interesting persons who desire to establish a home in one of the healthiest sections of Florida. The Seminole meaning for the word Geneva is "high place," this being the reason the Indians gave it the name. The section is well drained and is, with the exception of two miles, entirely surrounded by the St. Johns river, Lakes Harney and Jessup and the Econlockhatchie river. These waters teem with toothsome food fish and the woods abound in game. Lands for general farming may be had as low as $40 an acre. There are some acres of bearing citrus groves in and around Geneva. Many of the residents own considerable herds of cattle.

The Lake Okechobee extension of the Florida East Coast railway, which has its northern terminus at Maytown, runs through Geneva and furnished daily train service. This line has been completed to a point just south of the Seminole county line and trains are operated to Chuluota. This extension of the line of transportation is causing a great influx of settlers to Geneva, as more building has been done there in the last ten months than in many years prior. The railway company has erected a very fine station as well as other buildings for its employees. Many new residences, two new packing houses, several new stores, and other improvements of a substantial nature have been made. Ten days ago a party of twenty-five settlers arrived and brought with them four carloads of chattels and stock. They will erect at once a half dozen residences, a blacksmith shop, stores and other buildings. The Geneva Board of Trade will furnish such other information as may be needed by those interested.—Times-Union.

SANFORD THE WONDERFUL

Great Celery Delta Attracts Attention of Strangers Visiting The State.

By C. N. Scholey, in Guilford, Connecticut Tribune.

Last week the editor's story of his recent flight through Florida left his readers at Sanford at the head of steamboat navigation on the beautiful St. Johns river.

The town is not of recent origin and is not a so-called tourist town, though many tourists touch there during each season. For many years it was the victim of the depression that overcame hundreds of southern communities after the civil war and which took half a century to overcome. Added to this the sad catastrophe of the disastrous freeze of a dozen years ago when Florida orange groves were swept to worthlessness in one night it was not until about six years ago that the inhabitants who had the hardihood to remain or the lack of funds to get away from the dead orange groves awoke to the fact that Sanford sand was good for something besides growing oranges and some of the pluckier ones set about to prove it. Meanwhile northern people who had visited the attractive settlement located so pleasantly on beautiful Lake Monroe, a great body of water, a part of the St. Johns river but spreading out over an area of many square miles, recognized the opportunities offered by Sanford sand for market or truck gardening and northern money began to make itself felt. Slowly, like all enterprises that are to be ultimately successful, did the earth begin to yield up its abundance, but pluck and perseverance, backed by cash and hard work soon told until Sanford and its environments won and gained the title of the "Celery City," by reason of the principal crop that was started to replace the orange groves that had proved so ruinous.

And so it was, after viewing and inspecting, through the courtesy of Editor Holly of the Sanford Herald, the astounded by the sand from which the plants had sprung, drawn forth by the tropical sunshine, that we were incited to head the first chapter of this series of stories, "Celery, Land and People."

Nowhere in our travels, east, west, north or south, as we have traveled some, had we seen a like combination with such amazing results to the pockets of the diligent farmers.

A delightful automobile ride covering almost the entire territory of the so-called celery delta revealed hundreds of acres given over to profitable truck farming, celery being the great money maker for every man with brain and brawn.

True it is that failures have been many as in every enterprise but it was shown, quite satisfactorily from records that most of these have been by men who had no previous practical farming experience or those who were really never fitted for the soil and who listened to the wily blandishments of some over-enthusiastic real-estate dealer with which the city abounds. But in every case investigated, and we had several opportunities of meeting successful farmers, was a failure shown where men had applied the practical with the theoretical and many men, who came from the north with only a few hundred dollars and plenty of practical knowledge of farm work have become rich men.

Twenty-five years ago Sanford sand lots could be bought for fifty cents an acre and passed up at that. Today many desirable plantations cannot be purchased for less than a thousand dollars per acre and such are not on the market.

Two crops are the regular order and frequently three, vegetables growing and doing fairly well at all seasons of the year. Lettuce is the first crop and this vegetable starts the special cars of the Growers Express moving in the last months of the year, hundreds of them going out to the northern markets usually at a good price and profit to the growers. This crop is closely followed by celery and on this the farmers as a rule reap a rich harvest. The Atlantic Coast Line Railroad keeps strings of Growers Express refrigerator cars standing up side tracks in the season awaiting loading and as many as 1,200 car-loads of vegetables, largely celery have been shipped north in one season. Of profits $500 an acre is a common occurrence and the high water mark is said to be $1,500 from an acre of ground in lettuce and celery.

It must not be accepted as a fact that Sanford sand alone is responsible for this success, for it must be fed and watered generously. What is one land's food is another's poison and so it is that special fertilizers peculiarly adapted to the sand surface and clay subsoil of Florida must be used abundantly.

Florida like most tropical and semi-tropical countries is subject to wet and dry seasons and during the dry season of six months' duration irrigation must be resorted to as in the west. Fortunately Sanford covers a territory easily tapped by the artesian process for water supply and the farmer with funds need suffer for plenty of water for irrigation purposes. The process of irrigation is different here from most of the western country where the custom is surface or ditch irrigation.

A field is cleared and laid out, all being almost perfectly level and easily worked. Ditches are dug at regular and frequent intervals and small cement tile of about three inches in diameter are laid but not cemented and then recovered. Each line of tilling connects with a large tile a foot or more in diameter set on end and open at the top skirting the edge of the field. If the field is an extensive one several artesian wells are drilled which supplies several lines of underground tilling and by simply turning a gate valve water in abundant quantities flows into these large tile and thence into the irrigating tile lines thus supplying the plant nourishment. That the combination of sand and water is simply demonstrated by the mammoth stalks of green celery sending forth a nerve bracing aromatic odor on the balmy breezes wafted over the land from beautiful Lake Monroe, which at the same time tempers the rays of the tropical sun so much feared by the northern novitiate.

And so it is that a disaster brought about by the eccentricities of Jack Frost proved a blessing in disguise to Sanford and its surrounding territory, for it had become a common belief that Florida was immune from the stinging fingers of the ice king and that wealth flowed through the streams of orange culture alone, the loss of groves being the awakening that was so sorely needed for the ultimate prosperity of the region.

As stated in this story last week the writer made a short visit to Sanford four years ago when it was slowly awakening from the blow it had received. It was then without special attraction. Empty store buildings, typical southern sandy streets, mostly sandy unpaved sidewalks and with all a place to be seen and forgotten. Thanks to the interesting boom stories in Holly's Herald the writer was induced to make a second visit and the change was as a dream of the Arabian Nights.

Splendid brick paved streets, and brick and cement paved sidewalks, new and up to date business blocks, two prosperous banking houses, one a beautiful white marble building, hustling and heavily stocked department stores, electric street lighting, adequate water supply, an ice plant, trolley service, prosperous merchants and last but not by any means least one of the best semi-weekly newspapers and the printing offices to be found in Florida or elsewhere. It was a revelation worth the cost of a trip south and a demonstration of what indomitable courage in the face of ruin will bring forth, and while the stigma of inertia may yet cling to some of the remote southern settlements it falls in every particular in the case of Sanford and other hustling cities visited.

Sanford is a town with a city government of between five and six thousand population and rests entirely upon its merits as a local commercial community unassisted by much of a tourist trade. That it is entitled to more recognition along this line should be made plain to every northern visitor and must, eventually be reckoned with. Situated most desirably at the head of steamboat navigation, on one of the most beautiful lakes in the country, with fishing said to be second to none of the inland waters of the peninsula, it is bound to become a tourist resort in time. This very largely depends on local pride and capital or what inducements can be made to outside capital to invest in a first class tourist hotel. Unfortunately Sanford is sadly lacking in this direction. True, it has hotels like all towns of its size but us northerners are peculiar in our ideas of what a tourist hotel should be, for many of us are given to travel and know what good hotels mean, and Florida is not without them. But Sanford must have another awakening before she can bid for the northern tourist trade and northern vacation dollars. Fortunately we were accommodated at a delightfully pleasant and up to date boarding house, Comfort Cottage, conducted by Mrs. Martin, a native northern lady, and should any of our northern readers ever visit Sanford before that big new tourist hotel is built that our friend, Editor Holly is striving for, we recommend them to quarters and abundant table service with Mrs. Martin at Comfort Cottage.

Of course we couldn't visit a community without dabbling in politics and as Sanford and a few towns in Orange county were in the throes of a demand for county division to set up shop for themselves we became profoundly interested and learned considerable of Floridian political methods and deals. And this we will touch upon in our next story.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here The Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

Secretary Daniels began today a two-weeks' trip to include official visits to south Atlantic navy yards. The first stop will be at Wilson, N. C., where a banquet will be given in his honor tomorrow night. His itinerary for the remainder of the trip follows: Raleigh, N. C., May 2 and 3; New Orleans, May 5; Pensacola, May 6; Jacksonville, May 7; Key West, May 8; Charleston, S. C., May 9 and 10; Port Royal, S. C., Detention Barracks, May 11; Raleigh, May 12.

The British home office today inaugurated its active campaign to put an end to suffragette militancy. Headquarters of the Woman's Social and Political Union, where many outrages are said to have been planned, was occupied by the police and all the active leaders taken into custody. Even "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond and Miss Anne Kenny, who were out on bail, were arrested on a fresh charge of conspiring with the members of the Parkhurst family to commit malicious damage.

During the latter part of 1912 the cost of living in the United States was higher than at any other time during the thirty-three years. The bureau of labor statistics has just issued a list of retail prices from 1880 to 1913. The highest cost was reached in each of the geographical divisions and the United States as a whole in 1896. From that date to 1912 the total increase of the cost of living per year for a working man's family, by geographical divisions, was North Atlantic, $166; South Atlantic, $152; north central, $187; South Central, $186; and Western, $152.

Probably not until the legislative status of the substitute alien land owning bill adopted by the California senate last night clarifies will it be possible for the administration to determine upon its next step. There is little expectation here that the assembly will reverse the action of the senate in view of the reported breaking down of party lines in the legislature, but it is believed the delay may improve the chances for the introduction of some amendment on the lines of the Webb bill, which presumably would have received the approval of the national government.

Social Service Department

At the regular meeting of the Social Service Department was entertained at the home of Mrs. J. K. Mettinger Tuesday afternoon. A large attendance of the members and visitors were present.

Mrs. M. A. Miot, fourth vice president of the missionary society, who has charge of the social service conducted the meeting.

After the opening and devotional exercises the report of Mrs. C. H. Smith, delegate to the annual conference of the missionary society, which was recently held in Ocala, was listened to with much interest and pleasure by every one present. A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Smith for her most excellent report, touching as it did the work in China, Korea and Mexico, as well as that in the homeland. It was both comprehensive and instructive.

Mrs. W. W. Abernathy, who also attended the conference entertained the ladies with the impressions and lessons conveyed to her by the missionary situation and needs as set forth by that body of earnest workers in the cause.

As treasurer of the local society Mrs. Abernathy made a strong appeal to the members to keep their dues promptly paid.

Mrs. H. V. Parry, as a visitor to the conference also brought back some very interesting echoes from the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Council of recent date at Birmingham, Alabama gleaned from reports of the attending delegates made at Ocala.

The newly appointed district secretary, Mrs. Zachary presented the claims

SANFORD CELERY BRINGS GOOD PRICES

Over One Thousand Cars Have Been Shipped This Season

County division has occupied so much of our attention this spring that celery and other crops were forced to take a back seat and have not taken the prominent place usually accorded them in our annuals of good things that come to Sanford.

In looking up the celery situation superinduced by the fine article recently written by C. H. Scholey of Guilford, Conn., who recently visited here The Herald was induced to again take up the celery outlook and make a comment upon this season's crop and the result far exceeded the most sanguine hopes of the growers and others interested.

It would seem from a casual investigation that this season's celery crop will bring more money to the growers than any similar crop gathered here in several years and will bring again King Celery into his own in this section.

Sanford has already shipped this season about nine hundred cars of celery alone. A very low estimate on the entire crop will bring the price to $1.25 per crate. Many growers received $1.50 per crate and much of it went above the $2.00 mark, but summing up the whole crop and allowing for the bad, the price of $1.25 can easily be maintained.

The nine hundred cars of course mean solid cars and added to this the express and broken shipments would bring the grand total up to about 1,082 cars of celery. Each car contains 350 crates, making a total of 378,700 crates.

At the very low estimate of $1.25 per crate there has come to Sanford this season on the celery crop the grand sum of $473,375.00. G. F. Smith, one of the prominent growers stated today that he had marketed 43 cars and would carefully estimate that it brought him

$1.50 per crate. He has since planted beans and will have 20 acres of beans that are bringing good prices and are said to be selling well on account of the vegetables being frozen out in the sections above here.

The history of the different growers here this season will make most interesting reading and the celery crop that poses as an uncertain crop in the markets can be counted upon to leave more money here this season than any of the more staple crops.

A careful estimate of all the crops will be compiled later in the season and given in The Herald and the returns made on a single acre of land in the celery delta will be a great surprise to many people in the north who have heard so many tales of the poor sandy soil, but very little about the greatest vegetable growing center in the world—Sanford.

THURSDAY MORNING BLAZE

Quick Work of Fire Department Saves Several Houses from Burning

The roaring of the auto fire truck as it tore down the street yesterday morning and the shriek of the siren at the water works plant brought out the sight seen to the residence of Mrs. Donna Thayer on Fifth street, where the roof of the house was all ablaze. The volunteers turned in with their customary promptness and carried most of the furniture from the second floor and saved it from the water. Three streams of water were soon playing on the fire and it was extinguished in record time. Mrs. Thayer was sick at the time and had to be assisted from the building and will of necessity be obliged to discontinue her boarding house until repairs are made.

The prompt work of the fire department is very commendable and the volunteers are getting the business of fighting fire down to a nicety. Sanford has the best fire fighting apparatus in interior Florida and the department is all that could be desired.

Best picnic conveniences and amusements for five cents at Woodland Park. 78-U

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain

In Arcadia Monday the spring term of the circuit court was opened up in the new courthouse. DeSoto county now has a modern and well equipped courthouse and Arcadians are pleased to show it as one of the architectural attractions of the place.

Orlando is just now one of the most popular towns on the map with the contractors. Word having gone out that bids for the construction of the city's new sewerage plant will close tomorrow night, for the past three days contractors and contractor's agents have been flocking there, until very this morning there is a lobby of them in town. Reporter-Star

Lake Tohopeuliga is now and always has been fairly well supplied with fish, still it is large enough and deep enough to accommodate a few million more, which will be the case if the bill introduced by congress by Frank Clark becomes a law. The inland homes of many varieties of fish and a hatchery in any of these lakes would prove successful. Kissimmee Valley Gazette

There is still no clue to the whereabouts of E. J. Andrews, the Hillsboro murderer who escaped from the county jail early Monday morning. A telegram received from Fernandina by Sheriff Spencer this morning said that the man who had been apprehended there on suspicion of being Andrews did not at all resemble the picture of the escaped prisoner sent on to Fernandina last night on receipt of a telegram stating Andrews' description had been captured there.

Dunnellon has taken a long step forward and from this time on it will be natural to expect growth and prosperity such as has not been noted before. An election was held Tuesday on the matter of town improvement bonds and the result was an overwhelming call for the bond issue. Only three votes were polled against the measure proposed. The bond issue will amount to $50,000 and the money will be used to purchase the electric light and water plants, to pave the main street and put in a sewerage system.

At a meeting of the Lakeland council the Coast Line asked for a permit to build an addition to their frame building occupied as a freight station for temporary use, agreeing to remove it by December 31 or pay $50 per day thereafter as long as the building remained on the property. In the meantime they propose to erect a large brick freight station and spend $150,000 in the next six months in Lakeland in buildings and other improvements. As a matter of course the council agreed to these flattering terms and contracts were drawn.

As an indication of the heavy movement of perishable freight, fruits and vegetables, from Florida to other sections of the country, it is interesting to note that in one day—on April 29—a total of 147 carloads of fruit and vegetables were received by rail from various points in Florida in Potomac Yards, Va. This movement was consigned to eastern points and consisted of the following: Potatoes, 55 cars; tomatoes, 27 cars; cucumbers, 17 cars; oranges, 22 cars; grapefruit, 17 cars; beans, 2 cars; peppers, 3 cars; celery 3 cars, and eggplants, 1 car.

At the Baptist Church Dr. A. J. Holt, pastor of the First Baptist church of Kissimmee will preach at the Baptist church in this city next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Dr. Holt was for many years missionary to the Indians in Oklahoma and is well informed with reference to the Seminoles of Florida. You are cordially invited to come and hear him. There will be no service at the evening hour.
