BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

MY STRENGTH: I will sing of thy power...

The stock market, we read, is characterized by nervousness.

Wall street has no monopoly of the big fish in this country.

New York law which permits horse racing prohibits betting on the stock exchange.

As we got it, Jack Sharkey was winning that fight until a mountain peak tipped over and hit him on the head.

Assistant Secretary Moley is figuring on a loan to Russia to enable them to buy some American cotton.

Secretary Ickes promises to use the utmost caution in the prevention of graft and corruption in connection with the $3,500,000 public works program.

As some wise-cracking columnist said the other day, we forget which one, "We can't get out of paying an income tax, but Otto Kahn."

Hearings on the "code" for the textile industry have lasted five days since a dispatch from Washington.

It is probably this axing aspect that makes the occasion so admirably suited to all kinds of complications and misfortunes.

President Roosevelt appears to have made his choice between economic isolation and international cooperation.

There is no need to remind our readers of the wisdom in avoiding the usual patriotic meetings.

After all the most sensible way to observe the Fourth of July is to stay at home and avoid the dangers from highway maniacs.

Federal Savings And Loan Associations

Since our government, more or less in response to popular demand, has decided to enter upon a spending orgy in its battle against the combined forces of the depression.

One of the most important measures, from the standpoint of this community, enacted in the special session of Congress, was the "Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933."

As a means of encouraging thrift, facilitating the refinancing of certain types of mortgages, and fostering the construction of small homes and apartment houses.

The funds, realized from the sale of shares in the Association, must be used in certain limited ways.

Inasmuch as the government proposes to maintain rigid supervision of all loans made under this Act, and no money can be borrowed by the Association without the approval of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

Incidentally the organization of such an Association in Sanford would provide a strong stimulus to the construction of new homes.

Sanford needs this boost for its building trades, and no time should be lost in taking full advantage of the "Federal Savings and Loan Associations."

SANFORD FORUM

Editor The Herald:

We all know, especially the farmers of Seminole County, that the railroads, using misleading information, appealed to the I. C. C. for granting them permission in increasing freight rates upon celery.

The shippers and farmers are in an uproar, feeling that evil intentions will deprive them of a fair existence, and appealed to the I. C. C. asking for a new hearing.

At these hearings the shippers laid before the examiner, Mr. Archie, evidence destructive for the railroad's charge and in unmistakable terms showing that great injustice was done to the agriculture of Florida in general.

The Golden Text was from Exodus 15:18, "The Lord shall reign for ever and ever."

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was "And Solomon stood before the altar of the Lord in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread forth his hands toward heaven: And he said, Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee, in heaven above, or on earth beneath, who keepeth covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with all their heart (I Kings 8:22, 23).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Re-creation, you must begin by recognizing God as the divine Principle of all that really is, Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, combine as one, and are the Scriptural names for God" (p. 275).

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Brumley, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bell, and Mrs. Ben Guthrie and little Mary are all enjoying the mountain air at Charlotte, N. C. where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Grace Barnes delightfully entertained the Every Wek Bridge Club at her charming home on the Heights Wednesday afternoon.

Editor The Herald:

Now, Mr. Shipper, Farmer, and public in general, if you all are acquainted with the present condition in your home towns, are you satisfied with the insignificant 11% reduction which in my opinion is nothing more or less than an insult to the celery industry in general?

The examiner's duty would be to study the present condition in contrast with pre-war level and accordingly the reduction should be based upon pre-war level.

Now Mr. Farmer, permit me a question, the shippers did all they could do for you, probably their mission ended this chapter closed and you are the only one left to pay the freight bill.

TEACHERS WILL WAGE FIGHT TO COMBAT 'CUTS'

Major Drive Planned in Nation Against "False Economists"

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—A major offensive against "false economists" who, it is felt by school leaders, are making the economic slump an excuse for crippling educational facilities of the country, is being planned by delegates here for the annual convention of the American Federation of Teachers.

Educational leaders attending the meeting from all sections of the country gave much the same testimony relative to influences threatening schools in their home communities. They showed concern for the adoption of some program by the convention of sufficient scope to arouse the public to the peril of "crippling economies."

Speaking for the executive committee of the teachers' federation which held a pre-convention session here, Miss Selma Borchardt of Washington, D. C., said:

"In many sections of the United States, public education is collapsing before false economy programs. Kindergartens and night schools are being closed in a large number of instances. More alarming, however, is the fact that in New England and some other centers which have long been known for their interest in education, tuition is being charged for high school attendance.

"Such tuition cases are isolated, but they show an alarming trend. In other communities, teachers' salaries are going unpaid; frequent cases have come to public attention where teachers are being boarded up in the homes of their pupils instead of being paid. Under such conditions, public education can scarcely be said to be functioning.

"In the face of all this, our convention will strive to shape a state and national program which will protect our schools from further attacks by economists who, unless they are halted, will thoroughly cripple our national facilities. Our indebtedness and responsibility to childhood cannot be postponed.

"The mobilization of the Civilian Conservation Corps with time as the essential element in the execution of the task has been the most valuable experience the Army has had since the World War. It has tested the organization of the War Department and of the corps areas in responding to a mission which is similar to mobilization for war."

Long's Meat IS A Treat To Eat

RETURN OF HORSE MAY BE ONE STEP IN FARM RELIEF

Measure Of Economy Is Seen In Supplying Of Tractors

SEATTLE, Wash.—The recent return of horses to the farm as a measure of economy over the more expensive tractor, may mean a substantial measure of farm relief, according to the theory of Dr. Robert Prior of the State Department of Agriculture and other farm experts here.

"The farms of the United States," Dr. Prior said, "were modernized ahead of any economic necessity, and as a result thereof the replacement of horse-drawn machinery by automotive machinery liberated some 25,000,000 acres of farm lands which had previously been used for the production of grain and forage crops for the horse power."

"This land having been put largely into wheat, created an enormous surplus on our domestic markets, so that farmers would be working out one of their principal problems if they returned to horse-drawn machinery."

But will the farmers return permanently and to any great measure to the use of horses? Dr. Prior doubts that they will unless forced by economic necessity. On the other hand, Fred W. Lewis, secretary of the Washington State Grange, notes many instances where farmers are using the horse from choice and letting their tractors rust, having given the tractor a trial, the horse is found to be cheaper in initial cost, in maintenance and the horse lasts longer than the tractor. Such comparative economy, according to Mr. Lewis, will appeal to the farmer when in "good times."

The actual difficulty of returning to horses in the Pacific northwest is that there are not enough horses to supply the demand. In this state, while the demand for horses increased during 1932, 97.8 per cent and 4000 had to be imported from outside the state.

The explanation is that with the influx of farm machinery the production of horses decreased and has not increased again to meet the new demand. "Drive by farm and you don't see a tractor of colts as you used to," Mr. Lewis pointed out.

Then the supply of wild horses or Indian "kayusta" that once eked out the horse supply is largely depleted, both here and in Oregon. Even in the country between the Columbia and Yakima Rivers known as "horse heaven" few of the wild bred are left.

Even with the depletion, however, the number of horses in use in this state runs into the substantial figures of 150,000 and 20,000 mules.

All members are urged to attend, particularly members of the Farm Makers' staff, for a rehearsal will be held after the meeting.

Feds Lost 1st Half Flag, Chance in Being Shut-Out; Open 2nd Half With Win

CENTRAL FLORIDA LEAGUE
Team	W	L	Pct.
Orlando	13	11	.542
Daytona	11	14	.438
Cocoa	11	14	.438
Sanford	10	14	.417
Leesburg	9	15	.375
New Smyrna	7	17	.291

After ending the first half season in disappointing fashion here on Saturday afternoon when Lefty Fiora held them to six hits and shut them out 2 to 0, the Sanford Calceyeds, with Tige Minor hurling seven-hit baseball, opened the second half of the Central Florida Baseball League season with a 6 to 0 victory over the Daytona Beach Islanders in that city yesterday afternoon.

Saturday's game, delayed three times on account of rain, was played in a setting that was highly dramatic and full of import for both teams. Because of the action of directors in forfeiting three of Sanford's victories, the contest was the one which decided whether or not Sanford or Orlando would have one or two chances at winning a pennant during the second half.

Had Sanford won, it, with Cocoa and Daytona would have been tied for first place to end the first half, and, all during the second half, Sanford could have played with the knowledge that it could win either the first or second half pennant, depending upon how long they kept ahead of Cocoa, Daytona, and the rest of the clubs.

But, the Feds, lost by a shut-out in what was the most ineffectual showing of their once powerful batting attack seen this year. It was the first time the Feds have been shut-out since Aug. 18, 1932 when Tom Phillips and Otis Carrey hooked up in a duel.

As a result of the defeat, the Feds must fight hard to win the second half flag or else there will be no post-season series this year. In other words, it may turn out that because a batting attack failed at a crucial moment, the Feds were kept out of a series they should have been in.

The Saturday contest was all that the fans could ask for from a hurling and fielding viewpoint. Cal Dennis, aided by some great fielding, bressed his way great through the innings against probably the strongest club in the league today. Cal faltered only once, in the seventh, when, by batting only one ball of seven out of the infield, the Tigers scored a pair of runs on a scratch hit, Abbott's error, and Dennis' free ticket.

Lefty Fiora, Orlando hurling ace, completely subdued the Feds. Only seven Feds reached first all afternoon. The Feds put a runner on third in the first inning, but he died there when Eddie Moore pulled the ancient hidden ball trick on Charlis Abbott. After that inning not a Fed passed second, and only three got there.

Sensational fielding by the rival short-stops, Moore and Bonner, was another feature of the game, as was Abbott's great catch of Copps' high fly back of first base.

Yesterday's game at Daytona had several features of interest. Tige Minor set a new league record for pitching shut-out games in that yesterday's tilt was his seventh of the season. Otis Hurst hurled six shut-outs in 1931 to set the record which fell yesterday.

What probably was the most sensational catch of the year saw Roy Harrison robbed of a home run in the third when Bob Burness, after a long run, reached up to catch the drive that was destined for the river. Burness was going so fast that he almost ran into the river, and he got a real ovation when he came to the bench.

The Feds got started early, before Bud Haas had a chance to settle down and hurl a pretty fair game for a team that is now shot to pieces and is far from the dangerous batting combine it once was.

Four runs came over in the first inning. Bonner walked, was sacrificed to second and scored on Barnes' single. Charlie Abbott hit a line drive home run that all but rolled into the river in left field, scoring Barnes and Abbott. Maxwell bounced a drive off Shannon's legs. Maxwell went to second on Haas' poor throw to first. Harrison fled out, but Newcomb was safe at first on Apgar's high throw. On the same play, Maxwell scored when Holton dropped O'Brien's throw. Chapman fled out to left field after Newcomb's triple base.

The Feds filled the bases on hits by Bonner and Culbreth, and a walk to Abbott in the second, but were unable to score.

With one out in the third, Newcomb singled, went to second when Chapman was hit in the leg, and scored on Minor's single before Bonner and Culbreth forced base runners out.

The final Fed marker came in the usual lucky seventh. Harrison reached first on Apgar's bobble. He stole second and went to third on Newcomb's single at second. Chapman forced Newcomb at second as Harrison scored. Minor singled, his third hit of the day, and the bases were filled when Bonner walked. With one out, Culbreth hit to Haas who got Chapman at the plate while Holton completed the double play by tossing Culbreth out at first.

The Islanders put men on the base in the first, second, fourth, fifth and ninth but couldn't move them up. One runner reached third, and three more reached second, but that's all. Paul Bonner worked the hidden ball trick on Wally Shannon to stop what might have proved a scoring rally in the fifth.

The sensational play of Paul Bonner at short again stood out as identifying the greatest short-sacker ever known to the Central Florida League, and probably the greatest ever to play for a Sanford team. Eight hard chances were made to look like child's play as the youngster pulled balls out of the earth and air like a magician.

The Feds will be away from home until next Tuesday afternoon. Tomorrow they play an exhibition game at Daytona; Thursday they visit Leesburg, and Sunday they visit Cocoa. New Smyrna comes here next Tuesday to play the Feds in the first of five straight home games.

COCOA IS LEESBURG 1
LEESBURG, July 2.—The Cocoa Indians opened the second-half season here yesterday afternoon by combining 10 hits off Bill Ferrazzi and A. J. Johnson, seven errors, and a streak of Ferrazzi's wildness to score a 12 to 1 victory which found Ana Wall tearing in a fine performance for the winners.

An unusual twist of the game came in the fourth when Ferrazzi went wild to hit three batters before singles by Hopkins, Edge and Headley produced four runs. Ferrazzi was blasted from the mound in the fifth after Edge and Frise had doubled and Wall singled to score both runners.

Containing their rampage against Johnson, the Indians scored two runs in the sixth on doubles by Harrell and Wall, and McCully's single.

Two hits, an error and a sacrifice in the eighth brought three more runs over while a final run came in the ninth on Howard's single. C. Pope's error sent him to second. He went to third on a passed ball, and scored when B. Pope dropped Wall's easy infield fly.

Leesburg's only run came in the fourth. C. Pope singled, went to second on Harrell's error, took third on an infield out, and scored on a passed ball.

Errors played a big part in the Bruins' defeat, for seven miscues were chalked up against them. Edge led the Indian attack with four hits in five tries to drive to four runs, while Medlin led the Bruins with two hits in four tries.

You'd like the ROBINSONS

THEY'RE the kind of people it's nice to have as neighbors. They always seem to have such a good time together. Their home isn't large, but it's furnished in excellent taste; everything fits perfectly, as though it had been made especially for the very space it occupies.

And their dinners are charming. Not expensive, but different... new and interesting dishes that other people haven't had of yet. Mrs. Robinson dresses beautifully, too. Her clothes have that air of coming straight from Paris, yet she doesn't spend much on them.

If you should ask her how it is she manages things so well, Mrs. Robinson would smile and say, "It's really very simple. We budget our income. That tells us how much money we have to spend. And we read the advertisements. That tells us how to spend our money wisely."

Scores Of Whales Washed Upon Shore

MIAMI, July 3.—(AP)—Scores of whales have been cast upon the beach in the desolate Cape Sable region south of here, fishermen reported yesterday. The whales were 12 to 30 feet in length and veteran fishermen estimated their weight would range from 2,000 to 6,000 pounds each. Cape Sable is on the Gulf of Mexico, at the extreme southern part of the Florida mainland. It is virtually inaccessible except by boat. Kay and Coleman Irwin, Cape Sable fishermen, reported they counted 75 whales dead along the beach, but said they did not attempt to count others they saw on the lower part of the cape. They said the whales apparently had been dead for 10 days. They could offer no explanation of how the whales were cast out of the water. E. J. Pacetti and others in the Cape Sable region also said they could offer no explanation.

Jimmie Wedell Is Winner Of Honors In Airplane Races

MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, LOS ANGELES, July 3.—(AP)—Jimmie Wedell, New Orleans pilot-designer, flew off with honors at the national air races which drew crowd officials estimated at 38,000 yesterday. Many seen paraded their speed. Wedell shot around 20 laps of a five-mile course at an average speed of 207.46 miles per hour, to win the fastest race yet run. On one lap he averaged 270 miles per hour. Just as the sandy-haired aviator was dipping across the finish line to the accompaniment of cheers from the crowd, the red monoplane of Amelia Earhart, trans-Atlantic woman flyer, roared in from the East and landed here at 5:15 P. M. Miss Earhart, a contestant in the transcontinental speed race which Col. Roscoe Turner of Hollywood won in record time, with Wedell, second, dropped out at Wichita, Kan., far behind the leaders. She left there at 6 A. M. yesterday, making a trip from Hankou to Los Angeles in 12 hours, 15 minutes. Wedell flashed his speed in the final race of the day, a 50-mile contest for planes with engines of 1,000 cubic inch displacement. He used the famous "44" red and black low-wing monoplane in which he flew in the cross-country dash and the victory made him the second largest money winner of the races.

Lieut. Tito Falcone, of Italy, and Maj. Ernest Udet, of Germany, greatest living war ace, thrilled the crowd with hair-raising stunts near the ground and army and navy planes dived with deafening roars at the field, once in a bombing attack which proved one of the most spectacular attractions of the day.

Farley said he felt no need to answer Snell's "futile attack in detail," contending that was being done daily by "reports of the steady rise of commodity prices, increases in employment and wages, railroad and retail businesses and in prices of securities."
