FBI Questions Walton In Patty Hearst Case

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Walton, rookie star center for the Portland Trail Blazers of the National Basketball Association, has been questioned by the FBI in connection with a grand jury investigation of the disappearance of newspaper heiress Patricia Hearst, the Portland Oregonian said today. The paper said Walton drove from his Portland home to San Francisco Wednesday for a 20-minute session with FBI agents. It quoted Walton's lawyer, Charles Garry, as saying that Walton had no knowledge of the whereabouts of Miss Hearst or the involvement of any of his acquaintances in the Hearst case. A federal grand jury in Harrisburg, Pa., heard testimony Thursday from a Philadelphia college student and freelance sports writer who visited Portland earlier this winter to interview Walton for a story. The grand jury recessed without returning an indictment and was expected to reconvene in about a month. Jurors are investigating reports that Miss Hearst and some companions may have hidden out in a Pennsylvania farm house last fall.

Old Ironsides Is Reopened

BOSTON (AP)—Old Ironsides, closed to the public for two years during a major restoration for the nation's bicentennial celebration, returns to service today, hosting tourists at a berth in Boston Harbor. "This marks its return to service in its current mission—to represent an important chapter in American and naval history," said Lt. John Hanley, a Navy spokesman, before ceremonies for the reopening of the 181-year-old frigate, more formally known as the USS Constitution. The sleek, black-hulled vessel is the world's oldest commissioned warship still afloat. Although the ship is open again, restoration work continues, and the job is scheduled to be finished in June 1976. In all, the government will spend $4.4 million to restore a ship that cost $302,718 when it was built in 1794.

Regional Incinerator Sought For Seminole

ALBAMONTE SPRINGS—Pursuit of state and federal money to build a metropolitan regional incinerator in Seminole County for the disposal of trash and garbage was placed on the CALNO council list of priorities. A unanimous vote Wednesday night.

The action was taken after Robert Davis and Charles Carpenter of the Orlando Sanitation Dept. explained the city's operation in Orange County to the Seminole city and county delegates.

Saying everyone knows of the Pershing Avenue incinerator built in 1963 that doesn't work, Carpenter said Orlando does have a new functioning incinerator in the heart of the city and has stopped sanitary landfill operations.

Carpenter said, the operation is costly. The Orlando incinerator capacity is 300 tons of garbage and trash daily while Orlando has 400 tons daily to dispose of.

Currently operation costs for incineration are $8 per ton while the much cheaper landfill method was costing about $1.60 per ton. A daily burn of 650 tons would make the operation a paying one, he said, but Orlando cannot finance the move alone.

No effort has been made, as yet, to go to recycling of glass and metal or to harness energy from the plant, Carpenter said. Costs to include these operations would rise 60 per cent.

Open House For Field Office Set

An open house will be held March 23 for the new East Central Florida Field Office of the Department of Commerce located at the Seminole County Port Authority building on Orange Boulevard.

The open house is from 4-6 p.m. The field office is a division of economic development for the state department of commerce.

The office has been established to serve the economic development needs of Seminole, Orange, Volusia, Hernando, Levy, Citrus, Marion, Sumter, Lake, Brevard, Osceola and Indian River counties.

Budget Cut Leaves Area Schools Relieved

By ED FRICKEIT
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County school officials had anticipated a $65 million cut in education funds statewide, but were relieved to learn that Gov. Askew's budget only contains a proposal for a $23 million cut, school officials said today.

Assistant School Superintendent Roger Harris said in Seminole County Askew's budget means the school system would lose only about $500,000—instead of a $1.9 million slash education experts had predicted.

Of course, Harris noted, all figures at this point in time are "purely speculative" since the final budget will be approved by the legislature after additions and subtractions in both the House and Senate.

School Supt. Bud Laver had anticipated the possibility of a reduction in personnel of $13 million, figure held true, but now Laver says the county can handle a $500,000 reduction without any layoffs.

However, Laver, along with Education Commissioner Ralph Turlington, were disappointed with the governor's budget recommendations on cutting education spending for next year.

Although Turlington said he appreciated the "difficult problem" Askew's staff faced in preparing the budget, he said, "I cannot, at this time, commit to full support of the recommendations dealing with education."

"The budget allocations for education are still being analyzed item by item by staff of the Department of Education, and I intend to go before the appropriate committees of the legislature to seek adjustments and changes wherever necessary," Turlington said.

Calling Askew's proposals "rather disappointing," Laver said he's "sure" the governor will keep in mind education objectives and not cut anything of value to the school districts.

"It has always been the case that the governor and the legislators talk more poorly than what the income of the state will finally reflect," Laver added.

Turlington said everyone in education is concerned that budget cuts will dilute education programs throughout the state, result in either teacher dismissals or larger class sizes, or both.

"I intend to be meeting with school leaders from throughout the state from now until the legislative session, and I will have some specific recommendations to make at that time," he said.

In the wake of a cabinet roll back, Seminole County's budget was trimmed this year by $500,000 at the request of Turlington. That cut resulted in no major turnovers here, and it's doubtful, school sources say, that a $500,000 cut in next year's budget would seriously harm education in Seminole County.

request City Attorney Ned Julian Jr. to give an opinion. "If I have to check the payroll, I will not be able to do all my work," Mrs. Shomate complained. Grant noted the question concerned incentive pay for police patrolmen.

Mrs. Shomate insisted that the bookkeeper last year had been called the city's financial officer and perhaps the city council's finance committee, Councilmen H.A. Scott and June Lormann, should properly sign as fiscal officers.

In other business, council frowned on the Central Florida Society for Historic Preservation's plans to close a section of SR 427 from 6 p.m. to midnight, April 5, for a street dance. Council suggested instead the city would view favorably a request to close Warren Street from SR 427 to the city hall area for the dance if neighbors do not object.

Blackburn Freedom Denied
Seminole Circuit Court Judge Robert E. McGregor today denied a defense motion seeking to free Marian A. Blackburn on bond pending an appeals court decision on his conviction in connection with an assassination attempt on Clyde Lee.

A spokesman for Blackburn's court-appointed attorney, J. Cheney Mason of Orlando, said Mason will appeal the two-page ruling by McGregor to the Fourth District Court of Appeals at West Palm Beach.

The appeals court, after five months, hasn't ruled on the appeal of Blackburn, 54-year-old former central Florida gambler, car, of the six-month to 18-month prison sentence in the attempt to kill Lee. Lee survived gunshot wounds and is now reported working as a Sunday jailer in Cobb County, Georgia.

Blackburn's wife Lucille testified earlier this week in a hearing before Judge McGregor that her husband no longer has any source of income and she manages to live quietly at their mortgaged south Seminole home on the salary she receives as a secretary at Orlando's Mercy Hospital.

Project Residents Get Direct Power Billing

By MICKEY LOCHRIDGE
Herald Staff Writer

Residents of four of five federally subsidized housing projects in Sanford will begin receiving direct billing probably on Jan. 1 for Florida Power & Light (FPL) electric bills.

The more than 400 tenants will have their rents reduced but will have to pay a $20 hook-up deposit and will be subject to FPL rate hikes.

The Sanford Housing Authority (SHA) last night approved the sale of the electrical distribution system of William Clark and Castle Brewer Court apartments to FPL, a move which has already been negotiated between FPL and the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

HUD provides funding for the Edward Higgins Terrace and Cowan Moughton complexes also will receive direct billing for their utility charges from FPL at the same time.

The more than 400 tenants of the four complexes have been receiving a utility allowance from the SHA, which has been paying the total utility bill to FPL.

But now federal monies are tight and the SHA will not receive the needed amount of money to continue paying the excess utility charges accumulated after the allowances are made.

When tenants begin receiving direct billing, rent rates will be reduced by the amount of the utility allowance.

The tenants of Redding Gardens Apartments, a complex for senior citizens will not be effected by the transfer of billing.

Tenants also will be required, in order to receive electricity will have to pay the $20 hook-up deposit to FPL.

Fund Raising Scheme Told In Gurney Trial Testimony

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—A onetime federal housing officer has testified in the bribery-conspiracy trial of former Sen. Edward Gurney about an alleged fund-raising scheme to trade mortgage commitments for cash.

William Pelski, former Federal Housing Authority director in Miami, said Thursday he was in on the operation and received $70,000 from a Dade County builder in 1971-72.

"I agreed to help them," said Pelski, the first witness called in the three-week old trial of Gurney and four co-defendants.

O'Malley Involvement Told

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A retired Gulf Life Insurance Co. officer has testified that insurance Commissioner Thomas O'Malley sought a preferential interest rate in urging the firm to lend four business partners $2.36 million.

But the credibility of the insurance officer, Winston Jarvis, was questioned by a House impeachment committee Thursday as three other company officials testified that they were subjected to no undue pressure from O'Malley.

Mayor Norman Floyd said the cost to employees under the new plan, to become effective Saturday, will be less than current insurance coverage while benefits have been expanded.

In other business, the commission authorized Florida Power Corp. on a contract for installation of poles and street lighting on Spring Oaks Boulevard, the entranceway from SR 436 to Spring Oaks subdivision.

Winter Springs Moves On Fire Pact

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

WINTER SPRINGS—Mayor Troy Piland this week asked council to be prepared to take action on a proposed Inter-Local Fire Mutual Aid Agreement with the county at the next council meeting. At the council's request County Commissioner Mike Hattaway will be invited to discuss the agreement.

County Fire Administrator Gray Kaiser responded with copies of the agreement for the city after criticism last week that he had failed to contact the Winter Springs Fire Chief Charles Holzman concerning the mutual aid pact.

Council postponed action on the agreement until the city attorney Newman Brock could review it.

The attorney was instructed to set up a public hearing on a proposed Street and Right-of-Way ordinance. Council asked the ordinance require a final inspection on streets before the final expiration of the contractor's bond or require that it be forfeited.

Councilman John Daniels had inquired about the status of a bond posted by Winter Springs Development Corp. saying Unit 4 of Winter Springs (now Tusawilla) streets were in need of repair and not acceptable. He was told the bond had expired.

"Since this happened after the city was put on notice the streets were not acceptable, and the bond allowed to expire I think the responsible city officials should be reprimanded," Daniels said.

Council instructed the attorney to notify Western Land Corp. the request for extension for construction on the Crooked Creek Planned Unit Development has been denied, only or to remit cost of these services paid by property taxes from city residents.

A Resolution was passed urging creation of a joint municipalities—county study group to consist of representatives of Seminole County and municipalities to provide guidelines for an evaluation of the county budget relative to double taxation.

A second resolution passed was in reference to services provided by the county for residents in unincorporated areas financed by countywide revenues. The resolution requests the county to develop an appropriate mechanism to finance such services by special tax or assessment on property owners of unincorporated areas within the county.

Council member Harry Terry also stressed that a special meeting for the whole town should be held before any decisions are made on the matter.

Arab Blacklist Intolerable Action

The Arabs are arguing that their anti-Jewish trade and investment policy aimed at American business firms is "legitimate self-defense." The argument will not sell. The Arabs and their "blacklist" represent a clumsy and dangerous adventure in religious discrimination.

It is clumsy because, while the Arabs may think they are hurting Israel, they are really hurting themselves. It is dangerous because it links a medieval form of intolerance with economic power of growing magnitude and influence in the modern world.

Our government must let the Arabs know that American principles of tolerance are not for sale for oil or dollars. If our Defense Department has been obliging the Arabs by not assigning Jewish officers to U.S. military missions in Saudi Arabia, the practice should stop. The Arabs do not have to buy our weapons or accept our training if they do not like the religion of the people who deliver them.

Private business firms are quite free to strike whatever bargains with the Arabs that they choose. However, if they knuckle under to Arab demands that they maintain an anti-Jewish or anti-Israel policy, they will have to explain it to their stockholders and customers who include Jews and non-Jews and people of all shades of opinion about Israel. There is an element of absurdity in the Arab "blacklist," which includes such industrial giants as Ford, RCA, Xerox and the Sears Roebuck Co. among the 1,500 American firms it regards as too sympathetic to Israel. The Arabs may not understand that our economy and our social and political institutions represent the same amalgam of religions and races that is found in our population as a whole.

Why don't the Arabs boycott the United States altogether, since it is our official policy to support the existence of Israel and supply the Israelis with arms to defend themselves? The reason is plain—they can't afford it. They need the money we pay them for their oil. They need the goods and technology they can buy with our dollars. They need to make investments in our country to secure their wealth for the future when their oil is depleted.

By employing a blacklist they are allowing their quarrel with Israel to blind them to the way the rest of the world does business and to their own dependence on the productive and profitable economic structure which our way of life has created.

It is our guess that the more overt the Arabs become in their attempt to introduce religious discrimination into their business dealings, the more most Americans will want to tell them to peddle their oil and invest their money somewhere else. The reason we cannot do so now is that we have not yet found a way to satisfy our needs for energy without patronizing the Arab oil producers. If we have needed a spur to get us to work harder on Project Independence, the Arabs are providing it.

The Daley Bread

At the height of the corrupt Tammany Hall organization's power in New York earlier this century, its leader, George Washington Plunkitt, defended his spoils system of operations by declaring "I seen my opportunities and I took them."

Much the same can be said of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, who won that city's Democratic mayoralty primary election by a stunning 62 per cent margin and will likely retain his office in the fall. His Republican opponent has said that he is withdrawing from the race.

In the last four years Mayor Daley, the epitome of 19th Century machine politician, has had no less than 19 major scandals touch his administration. Some involved his closest associates.

Is this or is it not the post-Watergate era of clean politics? At least we have learned that it is not in Chicago.

BERRY'S WORLD

Why do you have to go around telling people we're broke, when you could simply say we're "without cash flow?"

Around The Clock

It's too soon to crow, but I'm feeling better with each state's rejection of the Equal Rights Amendment (ERA).

Just this past Thursday there was a local group of more than 100 who attended an anti-ERA meeting at the Sanford Civic Center and heard Mrs. Jack Epperson address herself to the subject. It was surprising to see so many people respond to the meeting which did NOT have any advance press build-up, either.

Rev. Billy Graham on TV Wednesday evening, didn't hesitate on expressing his displeasure with ERA.

It would appear there are more and more who are now willing to express their opinion on this matter. Hopefully, this movement will extend itself to a letter-writing campaign directed to our state legislators, too.

There's a misconception in the minds of so many men and women — that because of its title...

Equal Rights, that by its passage ERA would give women "equal pay for equal work," better paying jobs, promotions, or better working conditions.

That's not so. Equal pay for equal work is already guaranteed by the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and by the Equal Employment Opportunities Act of 1972. If a woman is discriminated against in employment, she can file a claim with the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission, and it will pay the costs of processing the claim and filing the suit for back pay.

Much has been inferred will be done by the passage of ERA. Let's talk about what ERA really means.

—It will invalidate all state laws which require the husband to financially support his wife. ERA will make a wife share equal responsibility with her husband to support her family.

—It will wipe out a woman's present freedom of choice to take a paying job OR to be a fulltime wife and mother supported by her husband. — It will eliminate all-girls' and all-boys' colleges if they receive any Federal aid whatsoever, and integrate boys' and girls' physical education classes in colleges and high schools.

And probably what bothers me most of all, if ERA were passed it would transfer jurisdiction over women's rights — including marriage law, property rights, divorce, alimony, child custody, and inheritance rights — out of the hands of the individual states and put it into the hands of the Federal Government.

Most of us agree there is already too much power at the Federal level.

"Every man should make up his mind that if he expects to succeed, he must give an honest return for the other man's dollar." — Edward H. Harriman, American industrialist.

RAY CROMLEY Government America's Business

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A few days ago I looked with some chagrin at a series of charts and tables a highly respected senior policy analyst had prepared for his boss, a member of President Ford's cabinet.

The figures indicated that within five years, government — federal state and local — will be absorbing and managing $6 to 40 to 45 percent of the gross national product, depending on which set of assumptions was used.

The most likely figure was in the middle of this range. A tank of what this will mean to middle class taxes. With lower-income families excluded from a hefty share of the levies, and with superhigh incomes too few in the aggregate to meet government needs, the strongest blows will fall on those who are in between.

A variety of Social Security, welfare and health and medical programs could absorb between 13 and 17.2 per cent of the 1980 GNP. But the story is more than Social Security and welfare.

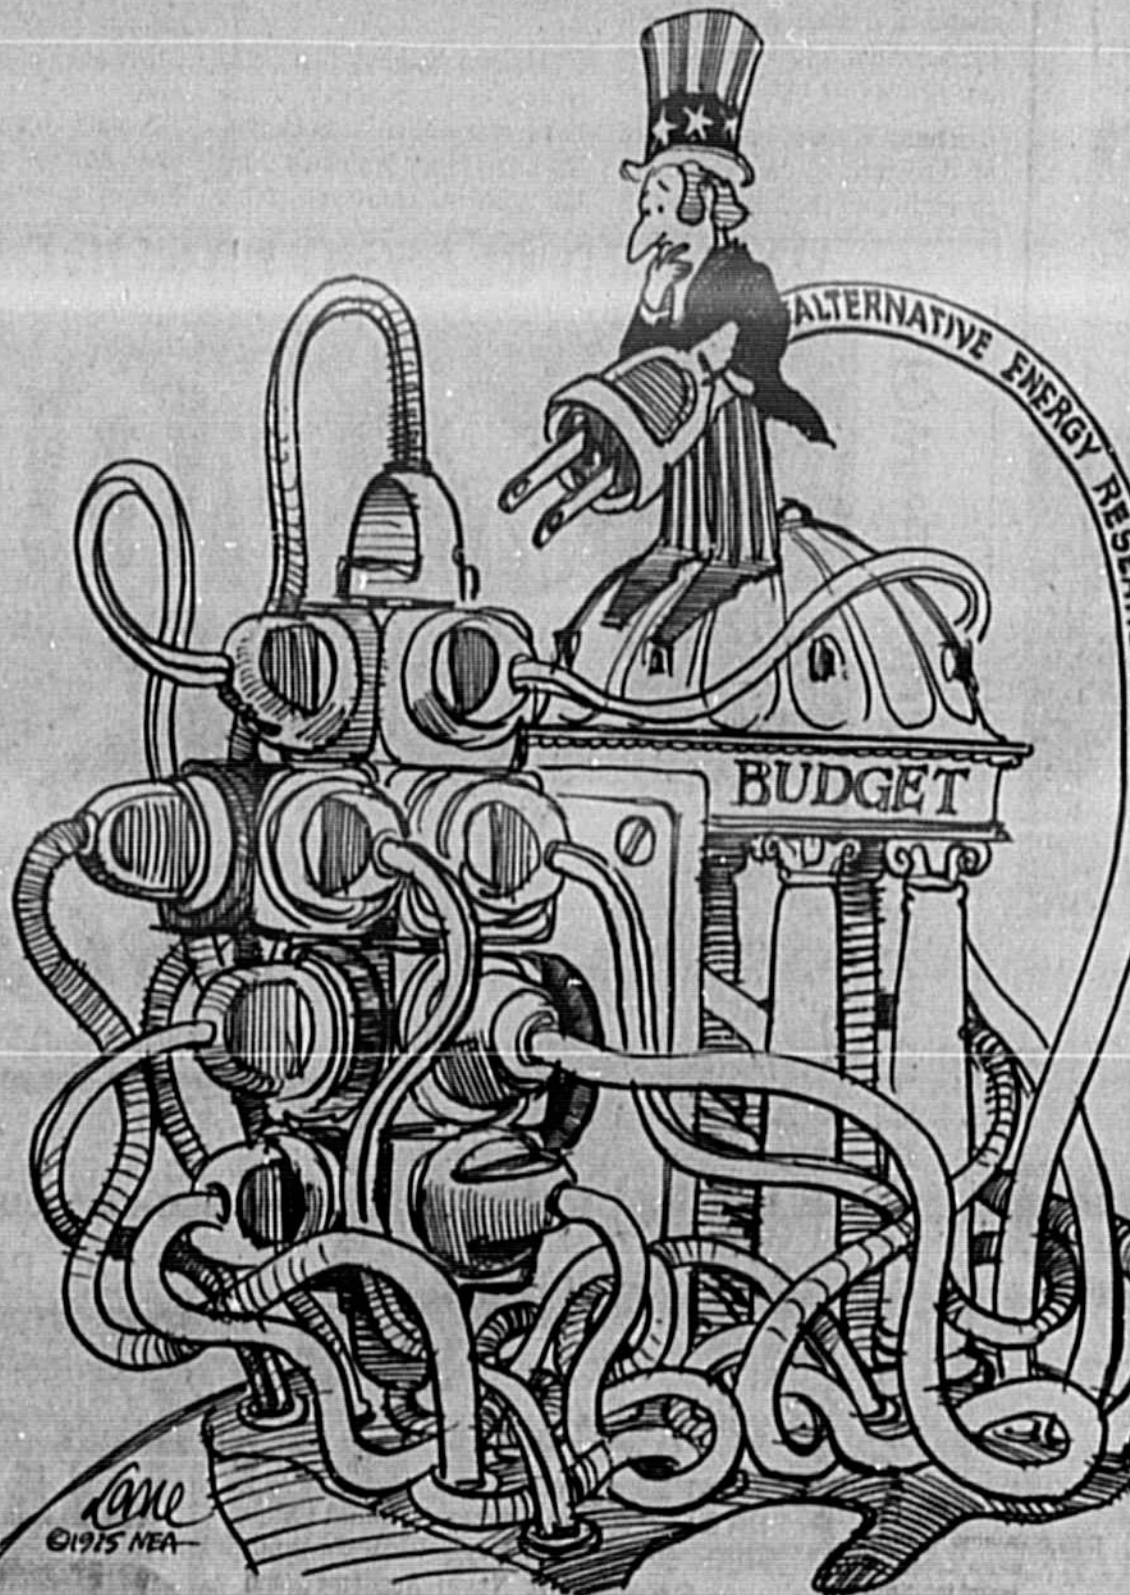

Government subsidies for energy, agriculture and environmental protection are expected to run into the hundreds of billions. To take one example, it's estimated the petroleum and other energy programs will require between $70 billion and $80 billion in private and government financing over the next decade. Some put the figure as high as $1 trillion.

It had been expected that private industry could put up $450 billion of that total, leaving a gap of $20 billion to $70 billion or even $500 billion, depending on which figures were used. It is now believed the current stagnation will, in one form or another, be with us for years, with industrial growth, industrial profits and GNP not again achieving their former vigor within this time period. This would mean industry will have less to invest, leaving the government a lion's share of the task.

Energy is just one problem. The United States is running out of available crop land. Development of the additional acreage deemed necessary would require an investment of $30 billion to $40 billion. The specialists expect a great share of this must come from the government.

That is, from the taxpayer. Then there's the environment. Our government experts laugh at the Environmental Protection Agency estimate of $200 billion or so required over the next decade. They believe the figure may be double or triple that total. In any event, it should be the cost too great for U.S. industry to absorb and pay solvent. Here, then, is a likely sinkhole for hundreds of billions more tax money.

By 1980, government involvement in housing and construction is estimated at levels this writer finds unbelievable. In the tortuous state of world affairs, with every think the world is facing, rough seas and a long time to come, U.S. assistance to foreign allies and other countries could rise strongly and defense and space spending could run to 8 percent of GNP in a bare five years.

AP NEWS ANALYSIS Revolt: What Revolt?

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The leftist officers running Portugal have taken extraordinary powers by searing the country with what they say was a reactionary plot to stall the march of their revolution.

So great was the danger from the enemies of democracy, the official version goes, that the "progressives" in the army must purge suspected conservatives and remain in politics permanently.

But the so-called uprising on Tuesday had only slightly more ferocity than a Mack Sennett comedy, leading moderate and conservative Portuguese and foreign diplomats to wonder whether the plot was a fake and who was doing the plotting.

The attack consisted of a number of passes by two air force planes on the barracks of an artillery regiment near the Lisbon airport, accompanied by the deployment of a paratroop unit outside the barracks.

Persons who arrived on the scene soon after the planes asked one paratrooper officer why he and his men were there. He said he didn't know. His troops relaxed 100 yards from the barracks, smoking and chatting with civilians.

The paratroopers fired no shots and made no attempt to attack the artillery regiment. The planes the "rebels" chose were the air force's oldest, prop-driven T8 trainers from World War II with a top speed of about 250 miles an hour.

First reports said they bombed the barracks. But the holes in the red roof tiles were not much bigger than a man's head. Later a military spokesman said the pilots fired rockets. Still later, another spokesman talked of bombs again. Officials say one man was killed and about 15 were wounded.

For three hours the planes made slow circles overhead while two air force jets stalked them. No shots were fired.

The planes were still aloft when Premier Vasco Goncalves, the leader of the army's radical wing, announced that the uprising had been crushed.

Capt. Manuel Clemente of the army's psychological warfare section reported to newsmen that the two rebel pilots managed to fly back to Tancos Air Base 60 miles north of Lisbon, land, board a helicopter and escape to Spain.

"Operational measures were taken to prevent the flight," said Clemente. "But the rebels passed through the net. Those things happen."

The government also asserted that Gen. Antonio de Spínola, the most prestigious officer in recent Portuguese history and reportedly a tactician of genius, was the leader of the "uprising." The government cited his flight to Spain with 18 other officers Tuesday afternoon.

Capt. Clemente and Information Minister Jorge Jesuso conceded that they did not have a full explanation for Spínola's departure. They said one theory they heard was that the general had been told he was marked for assassination. One skeptical journalist asked whether it was credible that a man of Spínola's stature would have associated himself with such a hare-brained scheme.

Terrorists Sell Drugs For Financial Needs

WASHINGTON — Urban terrorists in Latin America have turned to narcotics smuggling to finance their revolutionary activities. The drugs usually are sneaked into the United States by methods which have made U.S. enforcement practices largely obsolete.

Our information comes from underworld sources who have inside knowledge of the smuggling operations. They have risked their lives to tell us what they know. We have checked their disclosures with federal investigators who have been able to confirm most of the details.

The terrorists have found the narcotics trade a more dependable source of revenue than kidnappings and bank robberies. They use most of the money to purchase arms, preferably American and Israeli automatic weapons, from gun dealers in Africa.

The revolutionaries go deep into the hinterlands of Latin America, particularly Bolivia, to buy up coca leaves treated with kerosene. This produces a cocaine sulfate, which can be refined into pure cocaine.

They sell the pure cocaine to underworld contacts who may smuggle it directly into the United States or may exchange it for heroin in Europe under a complicated barter deal. Whether it's Bolivian cocaine or bartered heroin, Phew! All this discussion lately about what the Equal Rights Amendment will or will not do, cause, change, etc. In all the hullabaloo it seems we've altogether missed scrutinizing Section II of the E.R.A. This empowers the (federal) Congress to carry out the provisions of the amendment. And that could very well cause a transfer of powers and authority from the state to the federal level in the areas of marriage, divorce, domestic relations, alimony, child custody and support, and who knows what else.

It may not sound very awesome — except, we all know that anything done at the federal level ALWAYS COSTS MORE, and results in another bumbling bureaucracy. Washington, D.C., is always willing to make room for another agency, but can our National Deficit take the added strain?

I hope this letter will serve to adequately answer those readers of the Evening Herald who wrote expressing pleasure in reading my column SMORGASBORDEN which appears each Sunday.

As much as I would like to answer each letter individually, I regret that time does not permit such joyful indulgence so I must take this way of saying "Thanks."

I concur with their underlying expression that "a world without humor is a dull world indeed," and might add that if we can still find a laugh in our everyday adversity there is hope galore.

Letters to the editor are always welcome. They should be as brief as possible and comment on matters of general interest. The letters should deal with issues and avoid personalities.

The editor reserves the right to edit those letters for reasons of space, but will exercise great care that the thrust of the letter is not lost in the editing.

All letters must be signed with a mailing address and, when possible, a telephone number so the identity of the writer may be checked and established. However, the Evening Herald will respect the wishes of writers who do not want their names to appear in print.

We reserve, of course, the right to reject any letters this newspaper considers to be libelous or slanderous.

here's how the stuff is now smuggled into the United States. —Parachutists, carrying drugs in back packs, have dropped into the California mountains. One husky courier, known in the underworld as "Crazy Tony," made three parachute jumps with 100 pounds of narcotics strapped to his back. After the last drop, our sources say, he and the narcotics disappeared.

—Businessmen with clean records usually can get past Customs without a thorough search. Some have been unable to resist the $2,000 fee they are offered for every kilo of heroin they can sneak into the country.

—The smugglers have been able to bribe airline cargo handlers or plant their own men on cargo crews at U.S. airports. For $50 a kilo, they divert the drugs before customs agents make their inspections.

—Sometimes, a corrupt cargo handler may simply empty the heroin from a package. Or he may pull a switch, substituting some legitimate item for the arriving heroin. The manifest is doctored to show the substitute item.

—Another tactic is to address the heroin parcel to a destination in Europe or Asia, and then bribe a cargo crewman to put it on a plane for the United States. The paperwork will show that a package was misrouted to the United States

WORLD IN BRIEF

Two Provincial Capitals

Center Of Vietnam Fight

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A serious threat to the capital of Tay Ninh province appeared to be developing today as North and South Vietnamese forces battled for the capital of Darlac province.

In Cambodia, the U.S. airlift to Phnom Penh, suspended at noon Thursday when a Khmer Rouge shell exploded an ammunition dump, resumed despite more bombardment. Diplomatic sources said Anzania was closing its embassy in the Cambodian capital Saturday, and the French Embassy announced an airlift to evacuate French, Swiss, Swedish and West German citizens.

The Saigon command said North Vietnamese infantrymen and tanks overran one outpost near the Cambodian border about five miles southwest of Tay Ninh City, and a second outpost about five miles away was under heavy attack.

The government claimed three North Vietnamese tanks destroyed at the second outpost. But field reports said a South Vietnamese A7 jet bomber, and a small observation plane were shot down, killing the three fliers.

Kissinger Makes Request

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger returned from Egypt today to urge the Israelis to enlarge the amount of Egyptian territory they are willing to return.

A senior American official told newsmen accompanying Kissinger on his flight from Aswan that Egypt had conveyed "something additional." If there is to be a new Sinai agreement, there must be some "input" from Israel, the official said.

U.S. officials acknowledged that Israel is faced with a "crunch" situation and must expand its initial proposal if an agreement is to be reached. They said the Israelis must consider revising the territory in the Sinai desert that they are willing to give up.

Israel originally offered to retreat up to 30 miles but the Abu Rudeis oilfield. "We are making progress slowly and I am hopeful we can come to an agreement, but it is far from guaranteed," Kissinger said during the flight from Aswan.

"We have passed from examining general principles to concrete ideas which I will take to Israel," the secretary of state said Thursday night after a 2 1/2-hour meeting with President Anwar Sadat.

Sanford Finances Termed 'Excellent'

By MICKEY LOCHRIDGE Herald Staff Writer

The City of Sanford is in "excellent financial condition" and within earshot of paying off

Committee Sets Goals

With a main purpose of educating the entire Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce to discriminatory practices in the city, the newly organized Affirmative Action Committee this morning took on three major goals for 1975.

Chairwoman Joann Rowe said that the committee will try to educate and inform the community on the actions of the Sickle Cell Anemia Association of Seminole County, initiate a volunteer program to assist non-English speaking people who move into the area and to gather data from local businesses and industry concerning women and blacks as to the various positions the two minority groups hold in working conditions.

approximately $1,900,000 of bonded debt, a local certified public accountant told city commissioners yesterday.

Harold Hartsock, an auditor of the city's financial department, reviewed the city's audit ending Sept. 30, 1974, with commissioners over lunch at the Holiday Inn and reported that the city's books were in the "black."

Fitzpatrick and Hartsock is the Sanford accounting firm which handles the city's audit each year.

City Manager Warren "Pete" Knowles expressed relief that the city would pay off all the bonded debt during the next fiscal year.

"This bonded debt has been an albatross around the city's neck," Knowles said. The city has been paying the bonded debt for more than 20 years.

Several Commissioners pointed out that the value of buildings and property was not brought up to date in the audit.

In the audit, the City Hall property is valued at more than $123,000, but Commissioner Julian Stenstrom, a real estate agent, said that if the property (building and land) was reassessed it would be worth several times the recorded value.

Other buildings and city properties also were not brought up to date in the audit.

Pastor's Corner

By FRED L. NEAL, Minister, Congregational Christian Church... I can sympathize with the popular Country-Western star Loretta Lynn who sings "They Don't Make Them Like My Daddy Anymore." Looking at the American scene I am convinced that we are faced with a hero crisis.

When I was a young person, and that was not too many years ago, we had some heroes. My favorite baseball hero was Big Klu, the gigantic, mammoth first baseman of the Cincinnati Redlegs. There were other heroes: Rocky Marciano, the boxer who never lost a fight; Johnny Lajack, the quarterback of Notre Dame who popularized the jump pass in college football; Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics who could perform magic with a basketball; and Johnny Mack Brown, the great cowboy who would rather kiss his horse than a woman.

Seriously, there were God-fearing, honest, decent individuals whose word was their bond. They were just ordinary men from all walks of life but they were willing to pay the necessary price to accomplish the extraordinary and become a hero. I am convinced that one of the big reasons for our hero crisis is the dangerous downward drift toward socialism in our land. As we are becoming more and more socialist, we are producing less great men and hence the lack of heroes. Godless, aesthetical, mind-bending, soul robbing, self-destructing socialism cannot and does not produce many great men. I am afraid we have grown too soft and if we do not wake up we are going to discover that Easy Street ends on Rotten Row. Looking forward to our 200th Birthday we are in desperate need of a revival of the American ideal of "Government of the people, by the people and for the people."

"God give us men; men of character and high ability to lead our government; men of vision and courage to be educators; men of integrity and high purpose to be prophets and preachers; men with keen minds and great hearts to keep America morally and financially solvent; men who will serve and sacrifice to keep bright and clean the ideal for which men died that we might live; men who will lead with humility and magnanimity and follow with loyalty and dignity. Yes, God give us men."

Seven Cardinal Virtues: Faith Victorious Over Oppression

By DAVID POLING, The Herald Services... "Faith in God involves us in a permanent revolution of the mind and heart..." (H. Richard Niebuhr). Everyone has faith and that trust and allegiance is put into all sorts of things, people, places, and that is the problem. Faith is not a virtue and misplaced faith is a major sin.

"Faith in God involves us in a permanent revolution of the mind and heart..." (H. Richard Niebuhr). Everyone has faith and that trust and allegiance is put into all sorts of things, people, places, and that is the problem. Faith is not a virtue and misplaced faith is a major sin. Faith in a political party, an air force, a football team, a dem, a rich uncle will can be come a major disaster for the individual. The faith that belongs to the cardinal virtues is that trust and ultimate conviction about God for one's life and destiny. True faith has what the Bible calls, "the assurance of things hoped for, of things not seen" (Hebrews). Faith looks beyond mountains and rivers, it challenges itself.

Non-Stop Speakers
Are Struck Dumb

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We had a couple over last week, and when one started to talk, the spouse interrupted to talk about something entirely different. Both continued talking to both my husband and me in this manner throughout the entire evening. At one point in the evening, the husband and I were talking, and his wife interrupted by shouting my name; then she addressed a question to me which was completely unrelated to the subject I was discussing with her husband.

I cannot do justice to two conversations at one time, especially when each is trying to be heard over the other. This lack of consideration for each other strikes me as being very rude, but I may be wrong. By the end of the evening I was completely exhausted.

What does one do when he finds himself in this kind of predicament?

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for 18 years to a fellow who, for the most part, is a marvelous husband, father, lover and provider. His job keeps him away from home quite a bit, so when he's in town, I enjoy having the house nice for him, cooking the meals he likes, and keeping myself up. The kids and I look forward to his coming home in the evening. Now, the problem: If something comes up, like meeting with the boys after work, or something related to his work, he doesn't think it's necessary to call and let me know he'll not be home for dinner. He feels that phoning makes him less of a "man." Needless to say, when he doesn't phone, I become angry. When I ask him why he couldn't at least have phoned to let me know, he says he doesn't want to be bespecked. This is getting to me, Abby. Am I asking too much? Any suggestions as to how I can handle this?

TRYING HARD
DEAR TRYING: If your husband thinks a call to say he will not be home for dinner qualifies him for the bespecked flock, he's got his birds mixed up. He's a silly goose.

Brown All-American Wells Demolishes Halliday

Randy Brown of Seminole High School has been named All-American by the Florida High School All-Americans organization in Cambridge, Mass.

Brown was chosen because of athletic performance, sportsmanship and extracurricular activities. Brown averaged 15 points a game for Seminole. His outstanding performance was in Seminole's upset win over Daytona Beach Mainland. He scored 25 points.

"He did an excellent job for us," Seminole Coach Joe Mills said. "We switched him from forward to guard, and although he probably would have been more comfortable at forward, he made the switch easily."

Brown has a grade point average of 3.8 on a 4.0 scale.

ORLANDO—Central Florida boxing fans got a preview of the Muhammad Ali-Chuck Wepner fight at the American Legion Hall Thursday night when "Irish" Gene Wells pounced on a bloody 10-round decision over Rocky Halliday.

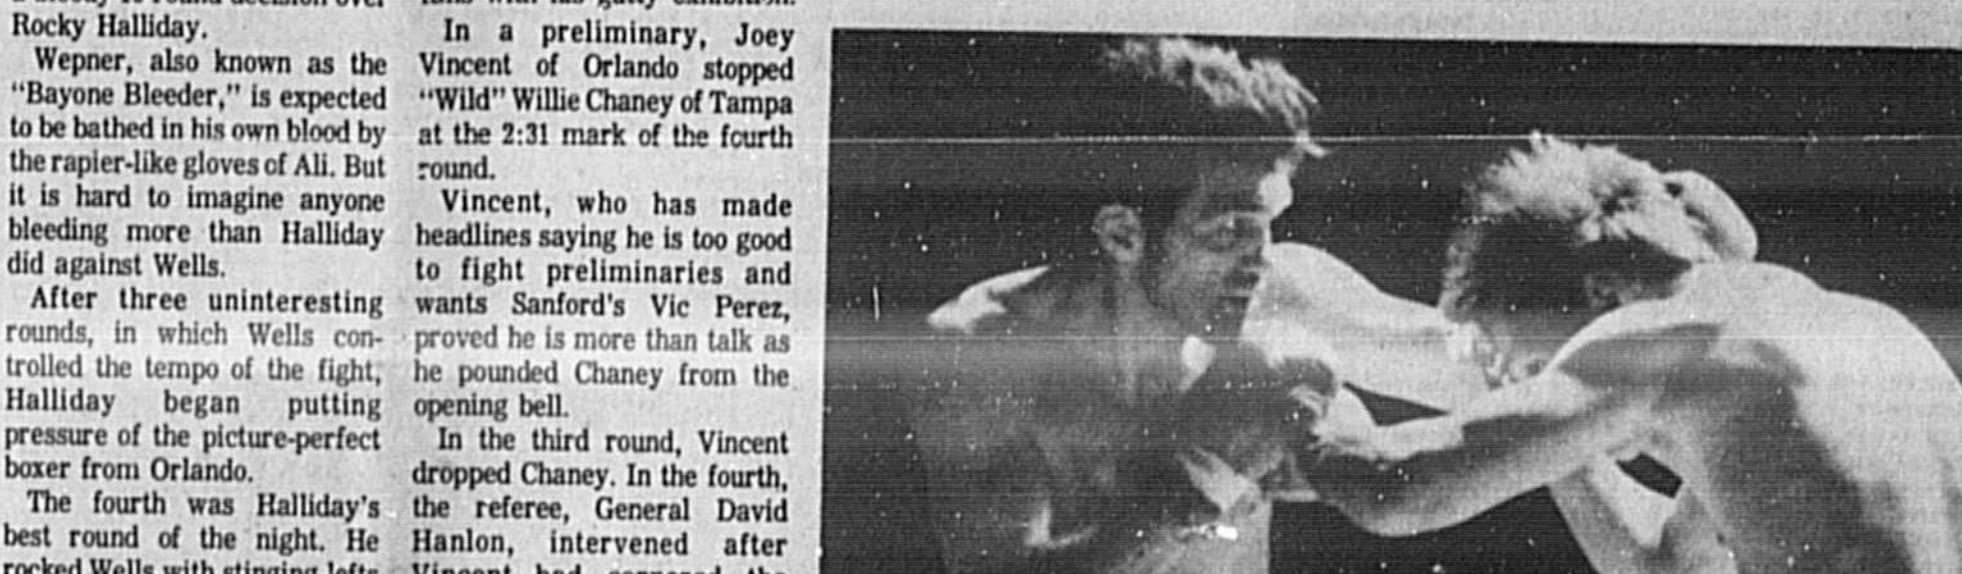

Wepner, also known as the "Bayone Bleeder," is expected to be bathed in his own blood by the rapier-like gloves of Ali. But it is hard to imagine anyone bleeding more than Halliday did against Wells.

After three uninteresting rounds, in which Wells controlled the tempo of the fight; Halliday began putting pressure on the picture-perfect boxer from Orlando.

The fourth was Halliday's best round of the night. He rocked Wells with stinging lefts and rights.

In the fifth, Halliday opened a cut on the left eye of Wells. But Wells stormed back with a mixture of straight lefts and rights to the head and body that caused the left eyebrow of Halliday to rupture.

It then became a question of how much blood Halliday would shed before the doctor terminated the exciting contest. Much to the surprise of many in attendance, the fight wasn't Patriots Stomp Foes;

Girls Set State Marks

By CHUCK McCLUNG
Herald Correspondent

"They put forth their best effort," said Lake Brantley girls' track coach Mike Gibson, "and it was almost a massacre."

The Brantley girls rolled up 138 points in a four-team meet Thursday at DeLand. DeLand was a distant second with 84.5 points. Father Lopez amassed 12 and Palatka Central recorded 5.5.

In a meet Wednesday at Lyman, Seminole won a three-team meet, accumulating 96 points. Lyman had 49 and Lake Howell registered 35.

Record-breaking performances have been the partners of Gibson's girls throughout the year. Thursday, the Patriots girls entered the state book again.

The 800 and 440-yard relay teams shattered state records, recording 1:56.2 and 5:41.1 times respectively.

The 800 team consisted of Gina Nickman, Terri Hunt, Karen Rosenbierner and Terri Foster. The 440 was Carla Foster, Becky Hagle, Susan Lannon and Mary Neals.

Other Brantley firsts were Hagle in the long jump (15-feet, seven-inches), Lisa Eberle in the high jump (four-feet, eight-inches), Laurie Ball in the 110-yard low hurdles (17.1), Kerri Heffernan in the mile (5:53.5), Eberle in the shot putt (33-feet, 3/4 inches), Lynn Thompson in the discus (87-feet, 10 1/2 inches), Darlene Berkley in the 800 (2:36.2).

Wednesday, she stood glancing at the tracksters preparing to run the 440, her blonde hair perfectly in place, the sun reflected by her sunglasses.

inning when Russ Lizzoli scored home Dwayne Gray, who led off the game with a single.

In the third, Gary Jacobs tripled across Gray, who had singled, and Jacobs scampered home when the throw at third base hit him in the back and went astray.

Jacobs walked in the seventh, advanced on Jeff Brockway's single and a fielder's choice, and scored on Jeff Kelly's ground out.

In the ninth, trailing 7-4, Gray and Jacobs doubled. Gray scored on a wild pitch and Jacobs scored on Brockway's sacrifice fly to rightfield.

Lizzoli kept the rally alive with a single. Kelly then lined out to the center fielder. Steve Zurkahlen added a pinch-hit single to left and Skip Skelton singled Lizzoli home with the tying run. Frankie McDonald lined out to the shortstop to end the inning.

Before poking the single, Skelton belted a shot over the leftfield fence that was fouled by a few feet.

SIC rallied in the top of the 10th when Steve Crandall singled and Gray reached base on an error. Jacobs lined a shot down the leftfield line that South Florida's left fielder snagged and doubled Crandall off second.

Gray then stole second but Brockway few out to the left fielder at the base of the fence for the third out.

Raiders Succumb In Extra Innings

AVON PARK — The Seminole Junior College baseball team fell to South Florida Junior College 8-7 Thursday, but the crucial game is Saturday against Lyman Community College.

The Raiders met Valencia Saturday at 2 p.m. at the SJC field, located on the school's campus. Valencia dropped the Raiders 7-4 last week.

Valencia and Seminole, in addition to being arch-rivals, are battling for the Division II championship.

Against South Florida, SJC rallied for three runs to knot the game at 7-7 in the ninth, but South Florida pushed across a run in the bottom of the 10th for the win.

SJC scored a run in the first.

Nicklaus Behind At Doral

MIAMI (AP) — Jack Nicklaus failed to get home again. He had a good round going and couldn't finish it.

Nicklaus, who blew the title in the Jackie Gleason Classic with a collapse over the last seven holes, had it five under par and was two strokes clear of the field when he prepared to hit his second shot on the 18th hole Thursday in the first round of the $150,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament.

He hit it in the lake to the left of the 18th green.

"I turned something exceptional into a 69," said Nicklaus. "It's disappointing. I had a chance to get a couple of shots in front and I let it get away."

Instead of a couple of shots in front, his 69 put him one behind co-leaders Gary McCord and Wally Armstrong, who matched four-under-par efforts in the gusty, whipping winds that swept the 7,025-yard Blue Monster course at the Doral Country Club.

Nicklaus was one stroke off the pace and tied with former Doral champion Mike Hill, long-hitting Jim Dent, Bobby Mitchell and Larry Nelson.

Frank Robinson was a loser the first time out, but he was still played.

"Gaylor and Jim Perry were very good," Cleveland's rookie baseball manager said of his top two pitchers, who blanked San Francisco through the first six innings.

"Gaylor wasn't quite as sharp as usual, but he got the job done."

With the Perry brothers doing their thing, Cleveland jumped out to a 3-0 lead. But the Giants battled back in the late innings and won 6-4 on Ed Gooden's two-out double in the 10th.

Thompson Heads Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — North Carolina State's David Thompson is an All-American for the third straight year—which shouldn't surprise his fans, his coach or the pro scouts.

Thompson, everybody's darling, was named to The Associated Press 1975 All-American team Friday along with Notre Dame's Adrian Dantley, Dave Meyers of UCLA, Luther "Ticky" Burden of Utah and Indiana's Scott May.

Drugs A Cancer Link?

DEAR DR. LAMB - Recently I read an article that quoted from the medical journal Lancet stating that women over 50 who use reserpine drugs for high blood pressure had a greater chance of developing breast cancer.

The article made no mention of adverse effects on males. I am a male, 45 years old, and have been taking Serpasil. Should I continue taking this drug? Is it safe?

DEAR READER - Yes, it

Dr. Lamb
By LAWRENCE E. LAMB

was reported that reserpine, Serpasil and related medicines used in treating high blood pressure will increase the chances of having breast cancer. This is also true for men. But men have such a low incidence of breast cancer anyway that the increase is not of very much practical significance. In fact, because you have an advantage, you have less to worry about than women. At least that is true for most men as compared to a reasonable percentage of women.

This report does not mean that either men or women taking these medicines for high blood pressure should stop them. The dangers of high blood pressure in many cases far outweigh the dangers of breast cancer. In women past 50, if possible, it is probably better to use other medicines when it is necessary to treat high blood pressure.

time was an officer of the corporation. Circuit Court Judge Volie Williams Jr. threw out the raid case Aug. 18, declaring the search warrant used was defective. Herring appealed the decision to the Fourth District Court of Appeals at West Palm Beach.

Mable later filed a federal court suit charging Herring, Sheriff John Polk and Altamonte Police chief Justus East with willful and reckless disregard of Trancon's rights. The suit sought an injunction and $10,000 damages.

Herring said Saturday that the agreement entered into by Mable stipulates that the federal court suit will be dismissed upon approval of the court and an approximately 60 per cent of the materials seized in the warehouse raid will be returned to Mable for transportation out of the county. The state has returned the materials to Mable, officials said, except for three cartons of books and magazines valued at about $2,000. These will be destroyed by Herring's office.

Herring said, under the agreement, he will drop his appeal of the warehouse raid evidence suppression.

"This is a big step in wiping out pornography in Seminole," Herring said, reflecting that the negotiations through Mable's attorney, Gerald Rutberg of Casselberry, "were probably the prudent thing to do."

At one time Mable had a residence in south Seminole but authorities say he has now moved from the county.

Mable was fined $2,400 by a Federal Court last year for interstate transportation of obscene materials and later charged with probation violation for failure to pay a fine.

He was arrested at Sanford in mid-December on Pinellas County warrants charging he sold or distributed obscene magazines to adult book stores over the state.

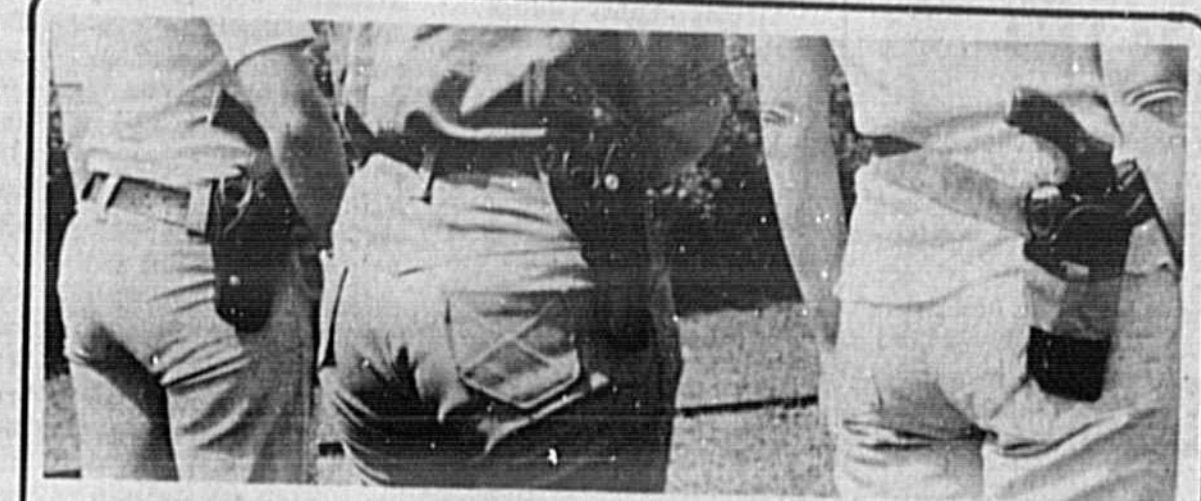

Officials said that case is still pending in Pinellas County. Authorities said that Mable, at one time in the past, was associated with the Olympiad Book Store on SR-46 at Altamonte Springs.

Action Ends Seminole 'Smut' Operation Herring Makes Porno Deal

Comptroller Opinion Asked By Vogt

By DONNA ESTES Herald Staff Writer
State Sen. John Vogt (D-Cocoa) has asked Attorney General Robert Shavin for an opinion on the legality of creating an appointed office of county comptroller for Seminole County. The senator, chairman of the Seminole County Legislative delegation, indicated at a recent legislative hearing, he would like the new opinion to be a formal one on legality and be written in language that any citizen could interpret without the assistance of a Philadelphia lawyer. Vogt first asked for an opinion when the Seminole County Commission proposed legislation separating the county and finance responsibilities of Circuit Court Clerk Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. The county's plan is to appoint a comptroller to handle its fiscal affairs, in line with modernization and consolidation of courthouse departments. What Vogt received from Shavin was "an advisory opinion" on the "County Comptroller — propriety of special law providing for appointment by the board — of county commissioners." The lead paragraph in the somewhat complicated opinion said, "This is a response to your request for an advisory opinion concerning a proposed special act creating the office of county comptroller of Seminole County and providing for the appointment of the incumbent by the board of county commissioners — presumably, as to its propriety as a practical matter as well as its legality." At one of the legislative hearings held in Seminole it has been suggested that the county plans to name the comptroller, Beckwith, county controller. At the end of the four page opinion which details a Supreme Court advisory opinion, Shavin's office said, "It would appear that the Legislature, with the concurrence of a majority of the county commissioners might... (provide) for the appointment of the county comptroller of Seminole County." In the last paragraph the opinion states, "As a practical matter, however, the provision for the appointment of the county comptroller by the board of county commissioners raises serious questions." "The impracticability — and indeed impropriety — in giving the county commissioners the right to hire and fire, at their pleasure, the county officer who is charged by the constitution with the responsibility of pre-auditing county expenditures and made criminally responsible by statute for a misfeasance of his duty in this respect — is immediately apparent," the opinion states. The delegation apparently saw some merit in the problem an appointed comptroller would face in this respect. Sen. Lori Wilson (D-Merritt Island) said the legislation would be amended to include a provision placing legal responsibility on the county commission for spending. The legislators also included a provision in the law once passed by the Legislature must receive approval by Seminole County's voters. "I don't believe the attorney general has given us adequate advice," Vogt said at the recent legislative hearing, indicating Shavin's opinion was confusing at best.

Resources Council Okays Wekiva Tag

By MICKEY LOCHRIDGE Herald Staff Writer
A 4.5 mile Seminole County segment of the Wekiva River definitely will be recommended by the state Department of Natural Resources as being designated a "wild and scenic river," an official with the department said Saturday. Also to be included in the department's recommendations to the governor and cabinet will be designating a 6 mile segment of the controversial river in Lake County. Euga reported the latest developments on the much debated Wekiva River from discussions this week with officials of the department of natural resources in Tallahassee. Euga said recommendations on the 4.5 mile segment in Seminole County, from the Wekiva River Haven Fish Camp to the St. Johns River, and the 6 mile stretch in Lake County, from SR 46 to the St. Johns, may be presented to the governor and the cabinet for approval within two weeks. Euga said guidelines would have to be worked out in order that the more than 40 well kept fishing camps may remain on the islands in the river, while that 8-mile section of the river receives a "scenic" river designation. If approved, the Wekiva River would be the first and only river in Florida to receive the "wild and scenic river" designation. Requirements for the "wild and scenic" designation provide for no encroachment by man in the area. Euga, a local environmentalist, said the council will be "in agreement" to retain the well-kept fishing camps in order that they may be used for ranger stations and other state use, if the state has that segment of the river designated as "scenic." The "scenic" designation allows for well-groomed development, but at present there are several run down camps which must be removed before the designation will be approved, Euga said. Euga said he "wouldn't even guess" at a date when the developed area of the river would be recommended for designation as "scenic." He said a lot of work has to be done in the area of scheduling man power to enforce state environmental regulations on the river and that funds must be approved.

Armed Robbery Probed

Two black men, one armed with a .38 caliber pistol, robbed an Exxon Service Station of $200 in Sanford early Saturday morning and fled on foot, according to the Seminole County Sheriff's department. Sheriff's deputies Saturday were searching for the two men, one identified as in his 20s and the second man about 18 years old. Service station attendant Dennis J. Bohula told deputies the two men came from behind the station and told him, "We are going to rob you... put the money in the bag." The older man pressed the pistol to Bohula's side and Bohula put the money in the cash drawer into the white bag that the younger man was carrying, deputies said. The two men also stole $5 from Bohula's wallet. Bohula told deputies the two men were intoxicated at the time of the robbery. (Continued On Page 3-A)

Impact Fees On Shaky Ground

By BILL BELLEVILLE Herald Staff Writer
The future of impact fees—"voluntary" commitments by builders to schools, police and fire and other services—in Seminole County stands on shaky grounds in the face of organized opposition by area builders. If the builders are successful, other sources of revenue will have to be found to replace the millions of dollars already committed. Representatives from the Home Builders Association of Mid-Florida have already been talking with individual county commissioners about tossing out the fees, and generally relaxing zoning standards. The Herald has learned. A strong organization says their requests will soon be brought before all of the commission at a regular meeting. Goetz said that if the county wanted to have impact fees then they should pass an ordinance to that effect, and not ask developers to "volunteer" them. "It's not a self interest we're trying to serve," Goetz declared. "We just want to provide housing for moderate income individuals." Goetz said that his organization has discussed the legality of the impact fees, but has made no definite decisions on that approach. Goetz said that a typical example of overcharging to the builders is the requirement that a 100-foot cul de sac be paved beyond the end of a road. "We have to build that just so as an issue that has consistently done on matters since its re-organization." Commissioner Mike Hattaway, who has been contacted by the Association but has not yet met with their representatives, admitted that "the time is perfect for a change in zoning regulations. We are in a square footage charge for fire
