By DOROTHY WORLEY

CHAPTER 35
ALVAREZ mouth quirked at one corner. "When you find the chest, you'll know how much is in it."

"That's right," said Bill. "Just thought you might tell me. You've transferred lots of counterfeit before into real money, south of the border. And gambling in Havana, Nassau and Kingston—gambling with counterfeit money. How long did you think you could keep it up? Those bills... Oh, not too many at one place, but sooner or later they turned up. The job then, of course, was to find who had used them. You were always one jump ahead."

"Figured it all out, haven't you?"

"It's been figured for some time. The first suspicion of you came from Miami... Your girl friend who was in the gray Packard today—she's been quite a help, hasn't she? But this has gone far enough. I want you to show me where you put those chests."

"How can I, when you keep pointing that gun at me?"

Bill opened the door and the other two men came in. They both carried pistols. One of them said, "I could handcuff you, Alvarez, but that isn't our plan. Tell us where the chests are hidden." His eyes moved over the room.

Surprisingly, Alvarez said, "At the end of the room there." He nodded his head. "Near the floor, press the wood."

It was said in no matter-of-fact a voice that Bill said, "Wait a minute. Let Alvarez open it. But first, we'll turn his pockets inside out. How about taking over, Nick?"

Alvarez carried no weapons and they permitted him to put his hands down after they had searched him. He opened the panel, and there were the two chests.

"What are you going to tell my guests?" asked Alvarez.

"Considerate of you to think of guests. And the boys and party will proceed as planned. Just remember, Alvarez, that you will be covered at all times on both sides. Don't make a false move. The reason we want the breakfast party to go ahead is that we don't want your crew to get wise. Your two key men are by

Whole New World Without Television

By DOC QUIGG
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK—Our television editor, a beamish broth of a Brooklynite, came into the office with a big grin dimpling his cheeks—hardened phiz. He looked all around.

Then he whispered: "Don't tell anybody."

"Don't tell 'em what?" asked his cellmates.

He peered down the room to see if the boys were safely at his desk, too far away to hear. He was.

"My TV set, conked out," our man said sleepily. "And I've been—READING: Saturday, Sunday, and Monday night, I read. And sh-h-h: You know what? I LIKE IT!"

"What've you been reading?"

"Books: Everything: It's a whole new world."

"But we thought you told us once that you read philosophy at night—you told us about Spinoza and Epicurus and..."

"Oh that!" said the TV editor. "That was only in tiny spurts."

"How come?"

"Well, I only read philosophy during the commercials. As soon as the commercial came on, I would pick up the book and read fast and furious and jam in as much philosophy as I could—but it was only for a minute or two at a time. Soon as the commercial was over, I'd have to start watching again."

"And now?"

"Now... no TV... this is wonderful! Reading is for me!"

Maybe he has stumbled onto something there. I'm told there is a world of information in books that never even gets hinted at on television. Sometimes, I have heard, there are ideas, notions, and tidy language bundles that just seem to jump out of books at you, like Lassie jumping at a burglar or Sgt. Friday leaping at a bad guy.

And here's something else new.

The other day, by accident, I turned on the radio. Terrific. Amos 'n' Andy; Bob and Ray; soft music, sweet music, fast music, muscular music.

People in our house were fascinated with it. Didn't turn on the TV set for maybe an hour or two.

Some day soon, you know what I'm going to do? I'm going to turn on the radio and get me some real nice music. And then—there's no way to test this thing out without actually doing it.

I'm going to read a book. I'll do it if it kills me.

Inmates End Rioting, Release Hostages

Utah Prison Scene

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah.—More than 500 embittered Utah prison inmates ended more than 11 hours of rioting early today by releasing all hostages and surrendering all weapons.

None of the men who had been held since before 7 p. m. Wednesday appeared to have been harmed before they walked from the convict-held cellblocks at 6 a. m. They were preceded by two convicts—armed robbers Billy Randall and Joe Vales—who turned over to authorities the weapons they had taken from a captured sentry turret.

Randall carried a machine gun. He handed it to a guard, then gave the officer the ammunition clip for the weapon. He turned to another guard, calmly opened his jacket and took a revolver from his belt.

Kiwanis Club Receives Award For Best Bulletin

A coveted award was presented to the Sanford Kiwanis Club yesterday by the award's originator, Lloyd Gahr of Orlando.

At the local Kiwanis Club's weekly luncheon meeting, Gahr gave a brief history of the award, pointing out that the "Effect of club bulletins on membership has been greater than expected."

The Lloyd Gahr Cup, only four years old, has been won twice by the local Kiwanis Club for the "best club publication" in the membership bracket of 75 to 100. The cup was won by the local Kiwanis Group in 1934, won honorable mention in the competition for 1935, and then won the award again in 1936.

Committee To Hear Appraisal Report On 17-92 Completion

House Is Destroyed By Fire; Fireman Cut, One Burned

A fireman was hurt and an occupant of the house was burned when flames destroyed a frame dwelling on East 10th St. late yesterday afternoon.

Lt. George Harriott was cut in the right arm from glass as he attempted to enter the home through a window. Fire Chief Mack N. Cleveland, Sr., said "Lt. Harriott's arm was cut pretty bad by glass," at the scene of the fire.

The dwelling, at 309 East 10th St., was occupied by Nellie Baldwin, an employee of Seminole Memorial Hospital, according to nearby residents.

members of the Long Range Highway Planning Committee will hear the appraisal's report for the completion of Highway 17-92 from Five Points to Sanford tonight as they meet at Jim Spencer's Restaurant for a dinner meeting to begin at 6:30.

In addition, there will be reports, according to J. Bralley Mann, chairman of the committee, from at least 20 committees appointed to look into various road and bridge improvements throughout the county.

"Some of the reports will have important significance on highway and road development in various sections of the county," John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce said this morning.

It is expected that there will be lengthy discussions on the completion of State Road 46, according to (Continued on Page 4)

Committees Probe Trucking Problems In Florida, Texas

Wilson Horne of Sanford, vice president of the National Agricultural Transportation League, with headquarters in Tavares, reports that the executive secretary of this organization, C. A. Buchanan, met with joint executive and legislative committees of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers in Harlingen, Tex., recently to discuss trucking problems existing in both states.

The joint committees, in conference with Buchanan, learned that the present truck brokers' law in Florida has not accomplished everything pictured to the committees earlier in the year, and found that the present bill lacks a number of things believed to be needed in such a law in Texas.

At a meeting with the truckers and truck brokers, suggestions were made as to what the association could do to work toward stabilizing truck rates. It was suggested that a schedule of rates be agreed upon by truckers. These rates would be reviewed by the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers traffic committee, and possibly an attempt could then be made to come up with overall rates for trucks for all districts.

Several new members joined NATL at this meeting.

General Sanford Also Noted Horticulturist

By PHILIP J. WESGATE

General Henry Shelton Sanford, founder of Sanford, was a horticulturist, as well as a man of varied world wide interests and accomplishments. The dedication of the General Sanford Memorial Library, located in Fort Mellon Park, Sanford, by General Sanford's daughter, Mrs. Carolina Sanford Dow, on Friday, Feb. 8, focuses attention again on Belair Groves.

General Sanford, world traveler, and at one time Minister to Belgium (1831-1839), first came to Florida in 1869. In the following year he purchased some 23 square miles of land in Central Florida, including Belair near Sanford. The General planted his first citrus trees at St. Gertrude Springs, just west of Sanford, in 1870, but was forced to move his groves to Belair in 1873 because of poor drainage due to a soil hardpan at the earlier location.

As a result of General Sanford's contacts in Central and South America, Africa, Southern Europe, and the East Indies, he was able to import plants and seeds of citrus, and many species of tropical and sub-tropical fruits and ornamentals for trial in Florida. By 1889 his collection contained a great number of species, many of which survived the 1888 freeze. His Belair Groves attained national fame, and attracted many visitors, including General Grant, and President Cleveland.

According to an old letter printed in "Belair, Sanford, Florida, and Their Founder, 1889," General Sanford sent oranges from Belair to Prince von Bismarck in Berlin owned by Gen. Henry Shelton in 1885. Even with the shipping (Continued on Page 4)

CofC Receives New Industrial Booklet For Distribution

A new Industrial Brochure has been received by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce for distribution among industries proposing to set up in and move to Central Florida.

John Krider, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, pointed to the neatness of the brochure which briefly states the advantages of locating in Seminole County.

The folded brochure, which can be mailed in a large letter-size envelope, gives the Salient Facts about Sanford and lists the economical advantages of the city and area. The facts include information on the community, present industrial development, market, labor, transportation, electric power, water, recreation, housing conditions, community facilities, banks and savings and loan associations, climate, taxes, and business trends.

Pictures predominate the easy-reading brochure which will attract the industrialist and individual receiving the newly released pamphlet.

The brochure is printed in pink, black, and white. It also contains a map of the state pointing to the location of Sanford and Seminole County and an outline of the county giving the location of each community.

Over 500 Expected At Founders Day Program Tonight

Attendance of more than 500 members of Seminole County Parent Teachers Associations is expected at the Founders Day program tonight at Southside School, said Mrs. Velma Mitchell, principal.

Speaker for the occasion, she said, is Mrs. Walter Beckham of Miami, who is past president of the Florida Parent Teachers Associations and membership chairman for the National Parent Teachers Association.

"Mrs. Beckham is a noted speaker in great demand all over the country," said Mrs. Mitchell. "I believe" is the topic on which Mrs. Beckham will address the huge audience attending tonight's meeting, which begins at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Mitchell expressed concern over the attendance at tonight's Founders Day program. "I have been trying for six years to get Mrs. Beckham to speak here," she said, "and I am (Continued on Page 4)

U. S. Suffering Atomic Weapons Supply Deficiency

EDITOR'S NOTE: The United States has what I believe to be the largest stockpile of atomic weapons in the world, there is a deficiency in that supply that is causing concern. United Press Correspondent Joseph L. Myler reports on the situation in the following dispatch.

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—More power is packed in the U. S. atomic stockpile than was ever used in war—but the armed forces are a long way from having all the nuclear weapons they want.

This fact was highlighted again in testimony before a Senate arm-services committee task force by Assistant Army Secretary Frank H. Higgins and Lt. Gen. Carter B. Magruder.

The deficiency is not in A-bombs and H-bombs big enough to wipe out targets ranging in size from an airport to a mammoth city. There are enough of those—and their number is growing—to destroy most targets worthy of them in Russia.

Small Weapons Lacking
The deficiency is in small, so-called tactical atomic weapons—weapons designed for every special purpose known to warfare from sinking an enemy submarine to knocking down an enemy bomber.

Sen. Stuart Symington D-Mo. said at the hearing that he had "very startling" information about "the lack of production of small atomic weapons."

Magruder agreed it would be "three to five years" before the Army has enough tactical atomic weapons to reduce use of conventional ammunition in a war by as much as 25 per cent.

Higgins said equipping the Army with small atomic weapons is "progressing very nicely," but he added that it is "largely a development program, still."

It is a fact that actual production of atomic weapons is at an all-time high. The production pace jumped so fast in the past six months that the Atomic Energy Commission has had to project new expansions of its weapons manufacturing plant.

AEC Cites Needs
But it still isn't turning out atomic artillery shells, say, at the production rate of World War II ordnance plants. It still isn't producing tactical atomic weapons by the tens of thousands.

There obviously has been disagreement among members of the AEC as to the relative emphasis that ought to be put on big bombs for the Strategic Air Command and smaller weapons for, say, Army troops.

Commissioner Thomas E. Murray said last April 21 "very small" atomic weapons should be manufactured in the "tens of thousands." Obviously, when he said that, they weren't. He made the same proposal just last Sept. 21, and, in effect, repeated it last Nov. 10.

Murray's point was, and is, that the big bombs are big enough for their purpose, which is deterring aggression on a global scale. What's needed now, he believes, is enough smaller weapons to make America supreme on the battlefield in a "limited war" as well as in any exchange of knock-out blows against cities.

By "very small" Murray apparently means weapons considerably less potent than the A-bomb that destroyed Hiroshima in 1945. That bomb loosed violence equal to 15,000 tons of exploding TNT. The AEC already has tested weapons equivalent to less than 1,000 tons of TNT. They are midgets compared to the biggest U. S. H-bomb yet tested—a 15 million tonner exploded in 1954.

THE POLICE in a Chicago suburb still scratch their noggins over the taxpayer who marched into the station house with a 2-month-old daughter in his arms, asking not only that she be fingerprinted and foot-printed, but that she be given a summons too on some trumped-up charge.

He wanted all this for her baby book! Impressed by his thoroughness, the cop charged the baby with creating a disturbance in the station house. "She did, too," grins one sergeant. "That kid had lungs like a bull!"

How do delegates and their wives spend their time during an important convention in New York? Well, one wife was heard suggesting in a hotel lobby, "Let's hurry and finish this round of drinks, girls, so we can get in another one before we go to the next cocktail party!"

And a man with a fearful hangover threatened, "If I ever catch the man who said two heads are better than one, I'll burn him in oil!"

Communist Party In U. S.

By ROBERT W. JACKSON
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — Is the Communist Party in the United States still a menace?

Many people ask that question in seriousness today. The subject of Communism in America, once in headlines every hour, has ceased to be a big story, election issue or source of fear. The "scare" is over.

There are those who say that the pulverizing blows taken by the party on de-Stalinization and Hungary and the effective counteraction of the FBI have erased any threat to security.

But others, including FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, fear the danger is still there in a new form.

In the late 1940's and early '50's, spurred by the sensational trials of Alger Hiss, the Rosenbergs and top Communists, a "crash" program turned up Reds in the government, in unions, in Hollywood, in the armed forces and in some places where there were none.

A few men seized on the cold-war rush to "clean out the Reds" to frighten the daylight out of the American public. Some innocent victims were caught up.

Sober Second Glance

The entire country now is taking a sober second glance at the conscience-wrenching problem of providing liberty yet security, of guaranteeing constitutional rights without risking the safety of the republic.

President Eisenhower's Department of Justice emphasizes that despite the long delays in board and court actions affecting Communists, it prefers this to any hasty infringement of civil liberties which would violate the Constitution.

While it did not make membership in the party a crime, the Communist Control Act of August, 1954, in effect outlawed the Communist Party. The Subversive Activities Control Board ruled in 1953 that the Communist are "puppets" of the Soviet Union.

The Control Act required the Reds, as "agents of a foreign power," to register their membership and sources of funds. It denied them passports and cut off government labor negotiation machinery to Red-led unions.

Turnabout Witnesses

Yet it is 1957, and the party still has not complied with the law to register. Chiefly because of delays caused by repudiation of testimony by "turnabout" witnesses, the issue is still in the courts.

Five top Communists released from jail terms which they served for advocating a conspiracy were re-arrested immediately on charges of being members of a group dedicated to the overthrow of the government. But they are free on bail and doing business as before.

The administration opposed the Control Act, objected to outlawing the party and won't telegraph its next punches.

In this calmer atmosphere, many Americans have forgotten that there are still Communists among them.

There aren't as many as before. Membership, down two-thirds in 10 years has fallen from 80,000 to a mere 20,000. Sympathizers have diminished from 600,000 to under 200,000. The Daily Workers has suffered a "catastrophic" loss of 35,000 to 10,000.

Parly Treasury In Red

The party's treasury is as red as its emblem. It spent 1 1/2 million dollars on bail and legal fees in the trials. It says it is running a $200,000 annual loss. The government raided its key offices last year, charging the party with owing back taxes.

The party's grip on trade unions, once a source of funds, is slipping. The Reds say they led one-fifth of the unions in the U.S. in 1942. Today, they say, it is only three per cent.

What danger is there from this? Says Hoover:

"The Communist conspiracy is as deadly now as it was before. We relax our vigil at our peril. The American public must not be lulled into complacency by the new Communist propaganda line."

The current Communist tactics do not change the basic goals of Communist conquest.

Hoover noted that 10,000 Communists in China grew to 8 million and conquered a nation of half a billion. Italy's Communists dwindled to 20,000 to increase again to 2 million.

Observing the cataclysms caused by the Nazi-Soviet pact, a New York newspaper ran a series called "The Collapse of American

U. S. Predicted To Recapture Cotton Market

WASHINGTON — The Agriculture Department has predicted that the United States will recapture the major share of the world cotton market during the 1956-57 marketing season.

The U. S. share of the market slumped from 17 per cent in 1951 to 18 per cent in 1955. During the 1956-57 season U. S. cotton exports are expected to be almost three times greater than in 1955-56.

The department said in its publication, "The Cotton Situation," that U. S. exports for the 1956-57 season probably will total 6,500,000 bales, or about 43 per cent of the world market. This compares with 2,200 bales exported in the preceding season.

Shipments of cotton abroad from August through November, this season were about 2,100,000 bales, 1,600,000 more than a year earlier. They included about 23,000 bales of American-Egyptian cotton compared with 3,000 bales a year earlier and the 1955-56 total of about 20,000 bales.

The Commodity Credit Corp. reports it sold about 6,300,000 bales of cotton for export between Aug. 1, 1956, and Aug. 15, 1957. The CCC has aided further carrying charges to the price of its cotton raising its cost slightly. But CCC sales prices still are competitive with foreign spot market prices for foreign grown cotton.

American Traffic Control System Would Help Roman's Problem

By DOC QUIGG

United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK — One of the most arresting — and, to a New Yorker, funniest — pieces of intelligence to reach these shores recently is a dispatch from Rome, Italy, about the eternal city's city's eternal traffic problems.

A Rome traffic expert, Prof. Alberto de Rossi, after a study-visit to the United States, is quoted as saying that the only thing that could really solve the problem would be no gasping now, please replacing all Roman pedestrians with Americans.

The good professor discussed his countrymen's love of walking leisurely across busy streets. He said American traffic control systems would help a lot but:

"A very important element, on which we unfortunately cannot count, is the discipline of American pedestrians."

These statements led to two conclusions about this Roman expert's visit to America. I he shot through New York so fast he didn't have time to look around him, or 2 someone mercifully blindfolded him so he wouldn't contract the screaming horrors at what he saw.

While granting that the general pattern in America is for the pedestrian to be pretty well behaved, let's admit that New York is an island entire to its precious pedestrian self. New York is the place in which the word "pedestrian" notes a headstrong ball of fire. He has a fine disdain for those two-ton hunks of metal hurtling down the street.

The New York pedestrian is the nearest thing to a free soul you can find. In Rome, they may walk leisurely across streets. In New York, it is common to see a pedestrian saunter out against the lights into a stream of traffic and lift his hand in a command that it halt.

Man and boy reporter, I have visited numerous climes and gawked on many streets. An opinion based on that gawking is that a practicing New York pedestrian would be dead or maimed in five minutes if he were suddenly transported to Cleveland, Chicago, Honolulu, or Tokyo.

Russia's 1957 Economic Plan Shows Difficulties

MOSCOW — Qualified observers viewed the Soviet Union's 1957 economic plan as a frank admission the Russian economic system is running into difficulties.

One diplomat said the plan submitted to the opening meeting of the Supreme Soviet Tuesday showed the United States does not have as much to worry about Russian competition as it thought.

"The Russians are not finding it as easy as they thought" to catch up to the United States production capacities, he said.

Maikhal A. Pervukhin, the man who was given the job of revamping the Soviet economic plan a month ago, presented a report which called for a one-third cut in the rate of Russia's industrial expansion.

This reduction was regarded here as the most significant since World War II.

He said industry should be expanded 7.1 per cent. Industry was increased 11 per cent last year.

He explained the government had decided on more modest goals to avoid "excessive strain" in trying to achieve them.

Soviet Finance Minister Arseni Zverev told the Supreme Soviet that the 1957 arms budget would be cut about six per cent from 1956. He said this was made possible by a cut in Soviet armed forces.

Boy Scouts Of Today May Be Among Nation's Top Leaders Of Tomorrow

During February, America observes the birthdays of several of its illustrious sons—Washington, Lincoln and Thomas Edison. Another birthday celebration of national proportions in which all America can properly join is that of the Boy Scouts of America.

Scouting in the United States reaches its 47th anniversary during Boy Scout Week, February 6 to 12. It is difficult to recall when our nation did not have this character-building, leisure time program for its boys and young men.

Since February 8, 1910, more than 26,000,000 American boys and men have been influenced by the Scout Oath and Law. They have had the benefits of Scouting training, fellowship, handicraft skills, and high adventure.

America is all the richer for it. Many men in high places in American affairs today proudly credit Scouting's influence in their lives.

Socialism Fails In London

Writing from London, labor columnist Victor Riesel says: "Socialism has failed here. They nationalized the steel industry, coal mines, railroads and health service. All these lost money. Wages didn't go up. Profits went down. There were strikes. And the Socialist managers were as tough as any old-fashioned capitalist manufacturer's group—more so, believe me."

There is a moral in this for all Americans—and especially for American labor, unionized or non-unionized. Everyone gets hurt by socialism—and the masses of working people get hurt most of all. We should have the intelligence not to imitate failure!

Pravda, the Soviet Communist Party's newspaper, reports that it will print an increased number of "letters to the editor." In this country of free men letters to the editor make one of the most interesting newspaper features. The Russian counterpart is likely to be a little dull.

Pravda could have a more interesting column if contributors were permitted to write actual opinions. There has been no hint of any such change in policy. If there were, the contributors would become mighty poor insurance risks.

The Long Range Highway Planning Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has begun delving into the possibilities of an overall road program for improving existing highways in the county as well as the planning of new arteries for both agricultural, industrial, and development improvements for the future.

The committee, composed of representatives from every section of the county and of leading business and civic organizations as well as the political delegations, has been meeting regularly for approximately two years to plan and add impetus to the highway programs of Seminole County.

Last night, Clifford McKibbin, a member of the cast, said "I think the show is terrific. The people who aren't in it are really missing something."

Vollie Williams Jr., also taking part in the musical, commented "It's the best thing that's happened to Sanford."

Every member of the cast joined in both seriously and gaily, going through their parts, lines, and dance steps and routines, with comments such as the one made by Mrs. Camilla Bruce "we're having fun."

Mrs. Charles Cole, a member of the Women's Auxiliary Committee staging the huge show stated "It's going over big. It's amazing to see the people in it who are usually dignified."

Dean C. Reeder, the director, jokingly commented "After we close in Sanford we're going to take it on the road and book it throughout the South."

Last night's rehearsals went off well as the first "get-together" of the entire show and cast was held. Members of the cast congratulated Reeder for his work and for bringing the group together for the musical revue. The cast gave Reeder a tremendous ovation.

Scenery for the show which is being staged by the Women's Auxiliary of Seminole Memorial Hospital has been completed. Each one of the props will be moved from the warehouse where they were built, to Seminole High School about 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Costumes will also be moved to the Seminole High School in readiness for the cast tonight at its first dress rehearsal.

Girl Scout Troop Is Taken On Tour Of Sanford Herald

Girl Scout Troop No. 234 of All Souls Catholic Church visited the Sanford Herald yesterday afternoon and were taken on a tour of the entire plant.

The 21 girls of the troop were in charge of Miss Dorothy Teslo, Troop Leader, and accompanied also by Mrs. R. J. Bauman, Asst. Troop Leader and Mrs. E. L. Flint.

Charlie Morrison, a member of the Advertising Department Staff at The Sanford Herald conducted the group of girls through the local newspaper plant, explaining in detail the operation of each department.

Shown through the business, advertising and editorial offices of the paper, the group was then taken through the plant where they were shown the operation of a linotype machine, an alloy, the rotary press, and the scanner machine.

Before leaving The Sanford Herald offices each Girl Scout was presented with a "slug" bearing her name, which had been molded on a linotype machine.

Gasoline, Sales Tax Collections Grow Last Month

Both sales and gasoline tax collections during January (based on December sales) continue to show substantial dollar increases over collections for the same months last year, but there has been a notable drop in the percentage rate of increase.

Sales tax collections in January 1957 were $35,259.02 while the December collections were only $28,470.53. In comparison with collections in January, 1956 there was nearly a $2,000 drop. Collections in the comparable month last year were $37,085.29.

The gasoline tax collections for January, 1957 revealed a different picture, however. Last month, the collections based on December sales, amounted to $72,547.02 which was nearly $9,000 in increase over the comparable month last year and a nearly $8,000 increase over the collections in December of 1956.

Ray E. Green, State Comptroller, in his Feb. 5 report stated that January sales tax collections (based on December sales) totaled $10,294,343, an increase of $1,200,421 over the $9,093,921 collected during the same month last year. This is an increase of 13.1 percent—last month's increase over the same month last year was 21.23 percent.

For the seven months of this fiscal year, sales tax collections totaled $54,018,543, an increase of $8,519,218 over the $45,097,324 collected in the same period last fiscal year. This is an increase of 19.1 percent (the percentage rate of increase for the first six months this year over the first six months last year was 19.4 percent)—a percentage drop of 1 percent. (An increase of 18 percent must be maintained for the next five months to produce the $100,000,000 estimated for this fiscal year.)

January is the first month in history which the sales tax has produced in excess of ten million dollars, and the first time that sales tax collections for the fiscal year have exceeded collections of the gasoline tax. (Sales tax: $54,018,543; gas tax: $54,579,404; increase: $37,078).

Green, in reporting the January gas tax collections (based on December sales) said that the total was $5,730,078, an increase of $57,770 over the $5,672,308 collected during the same month last year. This is an increase of 7 percent—last month's increase over the same month last year was 11.69 percent.

For the seven months of this fiscal year, gas tax collections totaled $34,579,404, an increase of $5,426,922 over the $29,152,482 collected in the same period last fiscal year. This is an increase of 19.1 percent (the percentage rate of increase for the first six months this year over the first six months last year was 11.83 percent)—a percentage drop of 1.4 percent.

Appearing at yesterday's luncheon was Dean C. Reeder, director of the Women's Auxiliary of Seminole Memorial Hospital's "High Fever Follies" who introduced members of the cast taking part in the Sultan's Scene.

Miss Pina D'Abati sang one of the selections to be heard on the "Sultan's" program Friday and Saturday night.

Also at the Kiwanis Club were members of the Harem for the Sultan's Scene. Those dancing for the Kiwanians were: Harriett Cowley, Doty Childs, Phyllis Chapman, Candie McClanahan, Janet Michael, Dickie Brazzil, Pat Hardin, Pearl Denman and Jackie Filbury.

Mayor David Gatchel, who will represent the Sanford Kiwanis Club in the Sultan's contest, appeared with members of the Harem in full regalia.

Harold Kastner was program chairman and introduced Reeder.

Sanford and where he lived, was located at that time and where an agent, with a telegraph office was employed," said Frank Evans.

"Next was Crystal Lake Station and then Bent's Station where Mr. Webster was the agent and postmaster," said Evans.

"In about 1883 the name of Bent's Station was changed to Lake Mary. Just south of Lake Mary, about mile and a half was Soldier Creek Station," he stated.

The first Lake Mary School was a log house built by Augustus Adams which was replaced in about 1885 in an area about a quarter of a mile east of the now existing County Home on 17-32, explained Evans.

Evans displayed the first secretary and treasurer's report of the school which showed the cost of the building as $449.75.

The third school, he said, was built just north of the present school building. Then came 1898 and the Spanish American War, said Evans. "I was living with my folks in Sanford," he said, "and was among the first to volunteer from this county which was then Orange County."

After the war, explained Evans, I went to New York and Boston for 21 years, returning to Lake Mary in 1923 to make my home," he said.

"It was the following Jan. 5, 1923 that a mass meeting was called and the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce formed."

Minutes of the first meeting were shown and read at last night's Chamber of Commerce session. After naming Frank Evans as president of the body, committees were appointed. The seven committees were: Good Roads; School Committee; Lighting Committee; Civil Government Committee; and Volunteer Fire; Beautifying and Publicity Committee; and Volunteer Fire Department Committee.

Evans outlined the accomplishments of each of the seven committees. "The Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce can claim to be the first instigator of the Seminole County Bond Issue for Roads," said Evans. "We built facilities available in those days, the fruit was received in good shape, and thankfully acknowledged by Bismarck.

The Tropical Garden or Experimental Tract at Belair was located a short distance from the old Sanford residence (since destroyed by fire) on Crystal Lake. Belair Groves are at present owned by the descendants of Sydney O. and Joshua C. Chase.

Long before other agricultural experimental stations were even thought of, General Sanford instituted extensive and carefully conducted experiments in tropical horticulture. These experiments, while largely for his own satisfaction, were designed, more than all, for the benefit of the agricultural interests of the State of Florida.

In January 1884, General Sanford went before the Committee

a new school which cost over $12,000 and additions have been added to the school since then," he said.

"The lighting committee was able to persuade the Florida Power Co. who was erecting a plant power lines through Lake Mary, in Enterprise then to run their power lines through Lake Mary, and the third objective was accomplished," Evans stated.

"The civil government committee resulted in the State Legislature passing an Act incorporating Lake Mary, with a referendum, which was signed on May 13, 1925. The incorporation was defeated 22 to 9 in the referendum election," stated Evans.

"The telephone committee convinced Southern Bell Telephone Co. to give service to Lake Mary in about 1905," he said and the house utility committee has been active ever since it was formed."

"The volunteer fire department was not successful at this time," Evans said, "due to the lack of young people."

"Over a period of 34 years, we have progressed year by year," said Frank Evans, "and I would like to give credit to all of the presidents, their officers and committees for their efforts in furthering the welfare of our community," he concluded.

of Agriculture of the House of Representatives at Washington to urge the establishment of an Acclimation or Experimental Station in Florida. He went so far as to offer 100 acres of land as a gift for such an Experiment Station, either in South or "Middle Florida," but his offer was turned down.

One hundred varieties of citrus from all over the world were introduced and planted at Belair by General Sanford. Included among these citrus varieties was one called the Tardif orange imported from Thomas Rivers, of England, in 1871. This variety of orange, now called the Valencia, is the backbone of our present day citrus crop in Florida. Family histories show that Joshua Chase introduced budwood of the Tardif orange (Valencia) from Belair to California, at an early date.

The first lychee fruits in the United States were grown at Belair Groves, and exhibited at the Massachusetts Horticultural Society in 1883. Today, fresh lychees are grown as a commercial crop by such growers as Henry Simpson of Geneva. The native home of this delicious fruit is China.

General Sanford, who purchased Belair about 1870, was a pioneer in the introduction of sub-tropical fruits and plants in to the United States from all over the world. Sub-tropical fruits, such as oranges, lemons, pineapples, mangoes, lychees, pineapples, and guavas, many of which were "rare exotics" to this country in those days are now established or potential commercial crops in Florida today.

General Grant is quoted as saying to General Sanford in 1880 in regard to Florida: "You have on this tongue of land, jutting into the tropics, the only soil under our feet capable of producing the rich tropical products the north needs, and must have, and must pay for."

Even though General Sanford died in 1891 at the age of 69, his work lives on in the groves of Central Florida.

His Golden Anniversary at the Wheel!

In Texas, there is a gentleman who is currently driving out his fiftieth year at the wheel of a Cadillac car.

In New Jersey, there is another gentleman who has purchased every yearly model that Cadillac has produced over the past fifty-three years.

These are simply dramatic examples of one of the most remarkable truisms in all motordom: that once a man takes the wheel of a Cadillac, he usually remains at the wheel of a Cadillac!

To be sure, a motor car would have to offer many unique virtues in order to win so generous a place for itself in the affections of so many.

And, in the case of Cadillac, we think these virtues are self-evident.

There is, first of all, quality. No effort of styling or design or craftsmanship is ever spared to make Cadillac the finest possible motor car.

There is beauty and luxury and performance. The car's magnificent styling and interior coachwork have, over the years, brought Cadillac an inbred majesty and elegance that are entirely its own . . . and Cadillac engineering has been the industry's constant inspiration.

Finally, there is reputation. Never in automotive history has another motor car sustained such an abiding public conviction in its own goodness.

And, certainly, these basic Cadillac ingredients have this year reaped their richest harvest.

So whether you've been at the wheel of a Cadillac for half a century . . . or have yet to spend your first hour in the "car of cars" . . . you should see and drive this newest of Cadillacs.

Need we say more?

'Diseases of Heart Account For Bulk Of Deaths' Says Dr. Vincent Roberts

Dr. Vincent Roberts was guest speaker at the regular luncheon and business meeting of the Sanford Woman's Club yesterday, at which Mrs. H. S. Dugger, Mrs. J. R. Jones, Mrs. Clyde Ramey, Miss Adelaide Conte and Miss Alice B. Cooper were hostesses.

The speaker's table held a lovely arrangement of spring flowers with gladioli and chrysanthemums predominating. Greenery and white flowers were used elsewhere throughout the club.

Mrs. F. T. Meriwether, president, presided over the business session. The following guests were introduced: Mrs. Albert Hardesty presented Mrs. Harold Brittain of Orlando; Mrs. W. D. Chisolm was introduced as a new club member, and she in turn presented her guest, Mrs. D. M. Horton, of the state of Minnesota; Mrs. J. R. Johns presented her sister, Mrs. A. L. Wolf of DeFiance, O.; and a former club member, Mrs. Laura P. Brown, of DeFiance, was welcomed as a guest.

On Feb. 13 the Social Department will honor the club members with the annual Valentine Card luncheon, with Mrs. H. W. Rucker as chairman of hostesses. House guests of members will be welcomed at a small fee.

After routine reports were heard, Mrs. Meriwether introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Roberts, who spoke at length on "Diseases of Heart." He first stated that heart diseases are legion and varied, and that in order to understand heart diseases, you must know what the heart really is. He then went on to explain: An average medium-sized person has a heart weighing 7 1/2 of a pound, and this heart has four primary purposes. He then explained in detail these purposes.

Dr. Roberts said that today diseases of the heart account for the bulk of deaths and listed tobacco as being one of the things harmful to the heart. "Yet," he went on, "it is a hard habit to break among patients." He said the anger and excitement must be avoided at all times, and that everyone should remember to have a thorough physical once a year.

At the conclusion of Dr. Roberts' talk, a question and answer period was held.

BPW Makes Plans For District Meet To Be Held Feb. 24

The main topic discussed at Tuesday's meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club held at 8 p. m. at the Yacht Club, was the District Meeting to be held Feb. 24 at the Mayfair Inn, with the Sanford Club acting as hostesses. Members are asked to make their reservations with Mrs. Anna Rinehart by Feb. 22.

Also mentioned was the convention to be held in Jacksonville June 13-15.

Mrs. Gertrude Gilbert, recording secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting, and Mrs. Anna Rinehart, corresponding secretary, read a letter of thank you from Mrs. Betty Baker, for the flowers sent her while in the hospital, and also a note of thanks from Mrs. Euphemia Huntley for the get-well card sent her husband during his recent illness.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Anna Rinehart, Mrs. Myrtle Gradick, Mrs. Josie Carter, Mrs. Gertrude Gilbert, Mrs. Anna Harvey, Mrs. Daisy Knox, Mrs. Evelyn True, Mrs. Harriett Slater, Mrs. Viola Kastner, Mrs. Sybil Routh, and Mrs. Patricia Wood.

The Hibiscus Circle of the Sanford Garden Club will meet on Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Morrison, 2800 Hiawatha Ave. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. H. James Gut, Mrs. R. F. Moule and Mrs. David Fauver.

Line rosters and oven broiler pans with aluminum foil to catch drippings and save time in cleaning these utensils.

A delicious luncheon served by Mrs. B. B. Crumley and her committee concluded the meeting.

W.S.C.S. Fetes New Members With Luncheon

The Womens Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church, honored its new members with a luncheon Tuesday morning in McKinley Hall. Mrs. W. A. Hunter, president, presided over the brief business meeting which was opened by singing a song, accompanied by Mrs. E. C. Williams at the piano.

Mrs. R. W. Turner, treasurer, reported on the financial progress of the Society.

Mrs. William Lockard, spiritual life secretary spoke on the plan for the prayer group which is held in the homes of the shut-ins and those not able to attend regular meetings. She urged all the society members to attend these meetings, and stated transportation would be furnished those who need it.

Mrs. M. E. Baker was appointed as student secretary to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. Robert Reely, who resigned due to illness.

Mrs. E. C. Williams, Mrs. J. S. Williamson Jr. and Mrs. G. B. Hudson were appointed to serve on the nominating committee.

Mrs. Robert Cole, secretary of missionary education, will present a study course at the business and program meeting in March.

Mrs. M. H. Wyatt read a Memorial and tribute in memory of Mrs. J. M. Hayes. At this time circle chairman introduced their new members for the year, each member was presented with a beautiful carnation corsage. Several special guests were also present.

Mrs. E. C. Williams, promotion secretary, introduced Mrs. Roger who is promotion secretary of the Orlando district. Mrs. Roger announced the various activities of the year, and also spoke on "Island In Our Community", in which she compared the strange, the shut-in, and the lonely needing help as much as those off on an isolated island.

Mrs. T. F. McDaniel introduced Judge Ernest Housholder, who gave an interesting talk on the "Juvenile Island". He stressed the importance of working with children of all ages in programs and activities they were interested in and to make them a part of a program. At the close of his talk, a most interesting question and answer period was held.

McKinley Hall was beautifully decorated by Mrs. E. D. Kirchhoff and Mrs. J. W. Brown. Arrangements of azaleas, and carnations were used on the luncheon tables. An arrangement of azaleas at the worship center was most attractive. The group is indebted to Mrs. Joe Jarrell and Mrs. W. A. Hunter for the beautiful carnations, and to Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Kirchhoff for the azaleas.

ONE OF THE SCENES TO BE used in High Fever Follies, the musical revue staged by the Women's Auxiliary of Seminole Memorial Hospital tomorrow and Saturday nights. Members of the committee who prepared and built the scenery are: Bob Hadden, Bob Stone, Ollie Loper, John Hook, Cliff Duncan, W. A. Gray, Polly Brubaker, Mary Must, Spook Hook, Pat Todd, Betty Felini, Marg Hill, Betty McBratney, Mike Stone, and Betty McClane. Several members of the committee are adding finishing touches to the scene before moving it to Seminole High School. (Staff Photo)

Connie the New

BY VIRGINIA CONN

The Station Wives met for bridge Tuesday afternoon at the B.O.Q. Luellie Mitchell was the hostess. Attending were: Dot Leary, Bea Hamrick, Muriel Hawkins, Joy Webber, Katie Jackson, and Mary Gobel and Geneva Quikert. Mary won high and Dot Leary won second and the travelling prize.

The first of the VAH-II contingent has arrived, so the rest cannot be far behind. The welcome home banner is flying over First Street, and the mums are out in many a home. Bob Grandy has as his guests, his parents, who are visiting in the Grandy home in Loch Arbor.

Behind the scenes workers are frequently those who get most of the work done, while busy bees rush around and don't accomplish much. That was a bad beginning because the High Fever Follies has become a reality through the efforts of many extremely hard workers. It comes to my attention, however, that there are some whom I have neglected in publicizing their good deeds. One is: Cathy Stowell, who collected talent, wrote for the Sanfly, is in two numbers herself, and has suggested many worthwhile ways of doing things, which were accepted and used. Another is our own Camy Bruce, who has sold over fifty tickets, is in "Follow the Fold," and has talked Follies in some of the best ears in town. Polly Brubaker comes in for one of the bigs; hands ever, since while her problems are many, has never complained but has contributed her talents not only to dancing, but also the making of all the posters and a good bit of the scenery. Mary Must is another gifted artist, who came in late, because talents are discovered all the time, and Mary was far too modest about hers. Betty McBratney and Harriet Cowley are Theatre Guild members, mainly the director and the star of "Hell, Book and Candle". But they are always at rehearsal, besides making their own. There are so many others of whom I am not aware, simply because they don't tout their own horns ever. Remember them, and congratulate them, with the artists on the stage, and the chairmen, because workers they are, and they have done a magnificent job.

The Box Office Exchange was doing a land office business today, when it opened at eleven this morning. Mary Peterson and Marion Donahue were managing their table, with help from their good committee members. Penny Peterson was selling tickets and urging the deposit of change in the rack of Sultan's jara. By the way, have YOU put anything in one?

The Harvum girls entertained the Kuwanis at noon, decked out in full glamor regalia. I stand they were a real hit. They should all be awarded the order of the safty pin, as the costumes had not yet been fitted, and the girls in other towns don't seem to run to the same shape as ours. Which means that the Sanford girls have much better shapes of course. So before I get into technique, I'll quit and go see Dollie King.

Shower Honors Mrs. Esclavon

BY JOY CROCKER

LONGWOOD Mrs. H. W. Shannon was hostess at a stork shower honoring Mrs. Fred Esclavon of Longwood.

A large stork set the scene of decorations. An attractively decorated hostess in pink and blue held the gifts.

Refreshments were served from a lace covered table and centered with a bowl of snapdragons. The cake was decorated with letters of the alphabet and little colored booties.

Cakes, punch, and mints were enjoyed by the following: Mrs. Marguerite Evans, Mrs. Goldie Engstrom, Mrs. Lib Scarborough, Mrs. Louise Parkherat, Mrs. Clara Hicks, Mrs. Frances Ballard, Mrs. Margie Largent, Mrs. Rosa Simmons, Mrs. Norma Martin, Mrs. Virginia Holland and Mrs. P. Price.

Rev. Landes Is Guest Speaker At Circle Meet

BY GRACE THURSTON

The Eubel Root Circle of the Congregational Christian church met in the fellowship room of the church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Ralph Loring. Mrs. Merrell Robinson led the devotional.

Mrs. Loring then introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Carl J. Landes, professor at Southern Union College in Wadley, Ala.

Mrs. Gus Schmah and Mrs. Ed Simpson gave the secretary's and treasurer's reports.

A sunshine report was made by Mrs. Ed Simpson.

Miss Witte gave a coupon report. Mrs. Herbert Thurston, a history report and Mrs. Moxley, a stork knife report.

The circle was invited to attend a covered dish supper to be Feb. 13 at 6:30 at the church.

Miss Witte had a lovely display of cards for all occasions to be sold by the group.

After the meeting, Miss Helen Witte, hostess, served delicious refreshments of cherry cake topped with cream, open faced cheese crackers and coffee.

Refreshment were served to Mrs. Loring, Mrs. Gus Schmah, Mrs. Bonnie Carter, Mrs. Herbert Thurston, Mrs. E. Moxley, Mrs. W. Billingsley, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Merrell Robinson, and Mrs. John Jones.

Mrs. W. Billingsley will be hostess at the next meeting.

Market Basket Sale Is Held Following Wesley Class Meet

Mrs. C. M. Flowers, Mrs. John N. Gillon, Mrs. O. E. White, Mrs. I. J. Boyette, Mrs. E. H. Laney and Mrs. Ross Adams were hostesses to the Daughters of Wesley Sunday School Class when it held its monthly business and social meeting at McKinley Hall.

The Hall held arrangements, placed at vantage points, of roses, azaleas, and mixed spring flowers.

Mrs. D. M. Paul gave the devotional, the theme being "God and Nature."

She read "God the Artist" by Angela Morgan, which was followed by the "Lord's Prayer" in unison.

Mrs. O. E. White read Resolutions to the beloved late Mrs. J. M. Hayes.

Mrs. Paul was elected as assistant class teacher.

Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. A. D. Zachary, Mrs. J. N. Gillon, Mrs. Zeb Ratliff, and Mrs. Claude Herndon made donations to the Birthday Bank.

Following the business session, a market basket sale was held. The hostesses served cherry pie and coffee to those present who were: Mrs. Harry Brown, Mrs. E. H. Laney, Mrs. Claude Herndon, Mrs. Roy Tillis, Mrs. J. E. Courier, Mrs. R. G. Hickson, Mrs. Clark Leonardy, Mrs. Ben Monroe, Mrs. Donald Dunn, Mrs. Beatrice Williams, Mrs. Ruth Hawthorne, Mrs. Marguerite Paul, Mrs. C. J. Meriwether, Mrs. Lida Stall, Mrs. Ruth Lundquist, Mrs. O. E. White, Mrs. Amelia P. Musick, Mrs. Caroline G. Hill, Mrs. I. J. Boyette, Mrs. J. Stephens, Mrs. Bessie Zachary, Mrs. Mae Gillon, Mrs. Mary Bell Cole, Mrs. R. F. Robinson, Mrs. Z. B. Ratliff, Mrs. C. M. Flowers, Mrs. Versa Woodcock, Mrs. W. E. Raines and Miss Aline Chapman.

CARD OF THANKS

Now that I am home from the hospital, my Grandmother and "Granddaddy" (Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lowe, Sr.) tell me that a good little boy always says "Thank You" when anybody is nice to him and I want to be a good little boy and tell everybody who was so nice to me when I got burned and had to be in the hospital such a long time I appreciate what they all did to help me get well.

I am only six years old—I'll be seven years old next month so I can't remember all the names of everybody, you see. But I love them all, everybody who was so nice, especially the nice nurses and doctors and just everybody. And I want to thank the school folks who fixed it so I'm in school now and even if I missed four months, I've got four different teachers in the first grade to help me catch up and maybe I'll go to school in the summer, too. Won't that be nice?

So I'll pray every night for everybody who prayed for me to get well.

David Lowe

CHAPTER 26

BILL SETTLED back in a corner on the sofa and said, "Like Wischell, I want to tell you all about tomorrow's headlines. I'm sure you all know something has been going on."

"Not F.B.I. Secret Service. We've just broken up a counter-felt racket and that's one thing that doesn't come under the F.B.I. There are other things involved in this, too, that comes under the Smuggling Act and the Bureau of Narcotics. It's a pretty big thing. Smuggled jewels and marijuana are mixed up with the counter-felt."

"When Alvarez came here presumably to fish, I was sent down to keep him covered. We had a hunch that counter-felt would be going on somewhere close by. I was beginning to think Alvarez was too smart to be caught. He paused, smiled, and said, 'Then Rita and Priscilla came.' No one said anything, and he continued, 'And Lookout House entered the picture. At the party on the yacht that night I heard Rita and Alvarez talking about the place and something clicked in my mind—all that talk about the secret room and passage.'

"I located the room the morning I went there and found Priscilla ransacking the cedar chest. And I went back and explored the secret passage after Priscilla had gone."

"You didn't tell us!"

"It wasn't the time. This thing was so big I couldn't afford a slip. The door was open leading from that room to the secret passage and I closed and bolted it. If I had taken the counter-felt equipment then, it—with the marijuana and smuggled jewels—would have been found on property belonging to Priscilla."

Priscilla was staring at him. "And that's why you said you could have placed me under arrest?"

Bill smiled at her. "I wanted to scare you into holding onto the property until the right moment. It was the only way Alvarez had to get into that room, after I had blocked the passage."

"Why didn't he get suspicious? Finding the door locked, I mean."

"That's probably what made them so desperate to conclude the thing and be on their way. Alvarez would have surely supposed if the things had been found, they would be reported at once. Instead, he fell into my trap."

"What about the lights flashing?" Rita asked.

"That was the time. This thing was so big I couldn't afford a slip. The door was open leading from that room to the secret passage and I closed and bolted it. "Because it's going to be a double wedding," he said, dropping an arm from the back of the seat to Priscilla's shoulder.

"What did you say?" Peggy looked at him, not understanding. "Double wedding. You know what that is. Four people. Two couples getting married at the same time. I haven't asked her yet, but I can persuade Priscilla, we'll make it a double ceremony."

"Heavenly days!" Peggy exclaimed. "Why—why that's wonderful, simply wonderful." She looked at Dick, then at Priscilla.

Priscilla was momentarily speechless. When she found her voice, she said, "I haven't been consulted, but I agree that it's a pretty wonderful idea, as Peggy says."

"Then you will?" Dick tilted her head toward him and oblivious of the others, bent and kissed her.

"Hey!" Peggy exclaimed. "You're stealing the spotlight from us."

Bill said, with a glance at Rita, that she was the one who was stealing the spotlight from us.

"Join us?"

"Yes, at the double wedding. Make it a triple one."

"Bill! Oh, Bill!" exclaimed Peggy. "Don't get excited, Bill said. 'Remember I said I'd like to join you, but all I can get out of Rita is her consent to let me come to see her Christmas. And she warns me, no romance. But you never can tell.'"

"I told him we'd do the show and go to a friend's lodge for some skiing. Rita smiled and said, 'You have your material for a book.'"

Priscilla looked at her blankly. "You have?"

"Don't you think all we've gone through would make an interesting story?"

Bill looked at Rita. "What about the last chapter? How are you going to finish that? You left us up there at that skiing lodge, remember?"

Everyone laughed, and Pete said, "That's a setting conducive to romance, if I ever knew one—big snows, roaring fires, moonlight on snow... You never can tell."

"No, you really can't, can you?" Rita smiled at Bill when she said it, and he smiled back.

This other, looking on, had a pretty fair idea of just what would be in the last chapter of Rita's book.

Herlong Report

The 85th Congress got off to a quick start in its first month with the House of Representatives approving President Eisenhower's Middle East "doctrine" by a large majority.

I voted for it. We either had to vote for it or, in effect, tell the world that we did not have confidence in the President.

The President, in my opinion, already had the powers asked for in his resolution. But in making this request of Congress, I must say in all fairness that it was a smart propaganda move that should reach against the Communists.

I never saw a bill that received so much criticism—yet received so many votes. It passed the House 335 to 61.

The letters I received in opposition to the resolution expressed the view that Congress should declare war and not the President. This is absolutely correct.

But there are certain powers that the President has already, and it is my firm belief that what he asked for in this bill was one of them. President Truman exercised this authority without Congressional approval when he sent American troops into Korea.

Since Mr. Eisenhower has been President we have on one other occasion at his request granted this was in connection with our defense of Formosa. In this instance, we let the Chinese Reds know that the President had the power and that it was the sense of Congress that he use it if necessary.

I am sure this action of Congress had a lot to do with the fact that Red China did not pursue Chiang on Formosa. It is hoped that this firm policy spoken by the President and backed up so far by the House will have the same effect in the Middle East.

Please understand that we must be strong enough militarily to back up any position Congress and the President take in this field. This will mean continued high defense expenditures.

I realize that it is a lot easier to explain a vote against this resolution than a vote for it. I felt in voting as I did that I was voting to prevent war and save American lives.

The best and most simple proof of the fact that it will be to our advantage is that the Communists are so bitterly opposed to it.

Among our guests from the District this week were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Guernsey of Orlando, George Brannen of Inverness, Carlisle Rogers of Leesburg, Bill Dial of Orlando, Mrs. Campbell Brown of New Smyrna Beach, County School Supt. Woodrow Darden of Titusville.

We also were pleased to have as a luncheon guest one day, Dan Daniel, a very popular sports announcer with television station WTOP-TV in Washington. Dan is formerly of Orlando and will be remembered as the well-known sports announcer of radio station WHIO. Since leaving Orlando, he has been in Birmingham, and we are now happy to have him in the Nation's Capital. He is continuing to do the same good job he did in Florida.

PROPERTY DAMAGE WAS ESTIMATED AT $1,500 when this car went out of control early this morning on State Road 427 near Sanford. Two Navy men were injured as the car came to a stop near the fence at Green Valley Dairy.

General's Daughter Here For Dedication

2 Early Morning Accidents Result In $3,000 Damage

Two early morning automobile crashes, resulting in nearly $3,000 property damage and five men injured.

A 1957 Dodge coach, driven by Alfred Edwin Rogers, 20-year-old Navy youth attached to the Sanford Naval Air Station failed to negotiate a curve on State Road 427 near Green Valley Dairy and went out of control about 2:15 this morning.

Damage to the car reportedly traveling at between 60 and 70 miles an hour was estimated at $1,500 with the entire front end badly smashed.

Skidmarks of the vehicle were measured at approximately 60 yards.

Both the driver, Alfred Edwin Rogers, and an occupant of the car, John F. Lenway were injured and taken to the Sanford Naval Air Station Dispensary. Extent of their injuries are not known.

Rogers has been charged with driving at an "excessive speed."

Fog this morning at about 6 o'clock contributed to a collision on State Road 46 about three miles east of Geneva when a Ford Coach driven by Walter Brown, 21 year old Negro of Midway crashed into the back end of a 1918 Oldsmobile driven by Willie Adams 42 year old Negro of Midway.

MRS. CAROLA DOW ARRIVES at the Mayfair Inn yesterday afternoon accompanied by Mayor David Gatchel and her maid Rosa Mills. Mrs. Dow will attend the dedication of the General Sanford Memorial Library this afternoon. (Staff Photo)

Big Crowd Greets Mrs. Dow

Mrs. Carola Sanford Dow arrived at Sanford yesterday afternoon by Atlantic Coast Line train at 12:37 p. m. to attend the dedication of a memorial library building in honor of the founder of the City of Sanford and her father, General Henry Shelton Sanford.

Mrs. Dow was met by a huge contingent of Sanford people including representatives of the Sally Harrison Chapter DAR and the Catholic Women's Club as well as Mayor David Gatchel and County Commission Chairman Fred Dyson.

In the group welcoming Mrs. Dow to Sanford were Mrs. F. E. Roumillat, Mrs. Fred T. Williams, and Mrs. B. F. Whitner Sr., as well as other prominent citizens in the group of nearly 100 who were on hand to greet General Sanford's daughter.

Comments from the group as Mrs. Dow stepped down from the pullman coach were "This is a momentous occasion," and "we're proud to have you here with us."

Mrs. Dow, accompanied by her personal maid, Rosa Mills who has been with her for 18 years, said "I'm happy to be here, this is a wonderful occasion and I'm happy."

As members of the group at the station to meet Mrs. Dow were introduced, a tear could be seen falling from her eyes as she shook hands and greeted those who spoke with her briefly.

Mrs. Dow was taken immediately to the Mayfair Inn where she is expected to stay during her visit in Sanford.

On arrival, Mrs. Dow registered herself and was taken to her room where banks of flowers and gifts were arranged to greet her. There were Japaneans from a bush planted at Belair Groves by her father many years ago. These were brought by Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Chase, Orono, and grapefruit from citrus trees in (Continued on Page Ten)

Investigation Into Utah Prison Riot Is Launched Today

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah 48—Warden Marshall Graham launched an investigation today into the worst riot in history of Utah State Prison.

Graham returned to Utah Thursday night from Washington. He had been enroute to New York to attend a prison officials conference.

Penal officials and convict committees studied a list of 43 prisoner grievances amid an uneasy peace at the "model" institution. The grievances, touched off the riot Wednesday.

Some 500 convicts ended the 11-hour riot Thursday after releasing the last of 28 hostages and surrendering a small weapons arsenal.

Tension mounted again shortly after Gov. George D. Clyde negotiated the truce by promising to listen to the prisoners' complaints if they would release the hostages. Order was restored when heavily armed guards and highway patrolmen moved into the cell blocks of the prison in a display of strength.

Benefit Dinner For Fire Dept.'s Budget Saturday

By Mrs. Raymond Morris
CASSELBERRY—The new budget and annual reports of the Casselberry Volunteer Fire Department was distributed to the residents by Fire Chief Paul A. Bates. According to the report the fire department received $4,900.53 during the year 1956 through the medium of contributions and three dinners. Total disbursements were $1,972.56, leaving a balance on hand of $111.81. The budget for the year 1957 calls for $3,179.95, which will pay insurance, and purchase a 600 GPM front mount booster fire pump, 60 foot booster hose, 350 feet of 2 1/2 inch fire hose, operating ex- (Continued on Page 10)

Officials Postpone Action On Proposal To Improve Fruit

LAKELAND 48—Citrus officials have postponed any action on proposals to improve the standard of fruit sold within Florida.

Legislative committees of the Florida Citrus Commission and Florida Citrus Mutual discussed the matter at a meeting here Thursday but decided to shelve any action on it until they meet again Feb. 19.

The proposal would alter the federal marketing agreement by setting up minimum standards of citrus quality for fresh fruit sold within Florida. The marketing agreement, which sets standards of size and grade, applies only to fresh fruit leaving the state.

WASHINGTON (UP)—A high Florida power company official warned Senate subcommittees Thursday that unless the "unjustified" increases in oil are stopped, Florida faces an economic crisis.

BONN, Germany 48—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer received a personal note from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin today and said afterward that a "turning point" in Russian foreign policy is likely in the near future.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. 48—Israel, working to stave off Arab demands for sanctions, has sent further details of its terms for withdrawal from Egypt to U. N. headquarters, Jerusalem reports said today.

CofC Directors Urged To Attend Session Tuesday

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held next Tuesday evening in the Educational Building on E. Commercial Ave. at 8 p. m.

M. W. Bostwick will, it is expected, give a short talk on his survey of Sanford and will have copies of the survey with him for discussion.

This will be the first official announcement and discussion of the survey.

The new Industrial Brochure, set off the press and recently arrived in Sanford will be displayed at Tuesday night's meeting.

John Kridler, manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, said today in his announcement of the forthcoming meeting that there are matters of importance to be discussed at Tuesday night's meeting. "I hope every member of the Board will make every effort to be present," he said.

104's Advantages, Drawbacks Brought Out In Discusson

The economic advantages and disadvantages of the interstate highway system's Route 104 was discussed at last night's meeting of the Long Range Highway Planning Committee.

James A. Wright, a member of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce highway planning group, said "The Interstate Highway system is just another plan to put the state in political hands."

Speaking on the disadvantages of the 100 foot wide fenced highway, Wright stated that "people will have to leave the small communities and move to the large cities in order to make a living."

"Get everybody in the city," he said, "starve the little towns out and put the city into a political machine is the purpose for which these highways are being built."

Wright explained that "our co- (Continued on Page Ten)

Krumheuer Funeral To Be In New York

Funeral services and burial of Emil C. Krumheuer, 78, who died yesterday at his residence in Geneva following a lengthy illness, will be held in Buffalo, N. Y.

Remains will be shipped this afternoon at 3:30 p. m. to Buffalo to be buried in Arcadia Cemetery there.

Arrangements are in charge of Gramkow Funeral Home.

Mr. Krumheuer came here six years ago from Buffalo where he had retired from the steel construction business. He was born in Germany and came to this country when he was three.

in New York harbor last Friday seconds after taking off from LaGuardia field in a snowstorm. Twenty persons were killed.

The House Commerce Committee, which is investigating the crash along with the collision of a jet fighter and a DC7B airliner over Pacoima, Calif., last Thursday, summoned J. R. Durfee, Civil Aeronautics Board chairman, and James T. Pyle, civil aeronautics administrator, for questioning. Chairman Owen Harris D'Aark said he particularly wants information on the certification of Northeast to fly the run.

Northeast was designated by the CAB last August as the third regularly-scheduled airline authorized to fly the prized route.

The CAB, in reaching its decision, overruled recommendations by examiner Thomas L. Wrenn who had favored Delta Air Lines as better qualified to provide service in the area.

The decision ended a year-long battle between Northeast, Delta and five other airlines competing for the route.

In the California crash, eight persons died when the F69 jet fighter and DC7B collided over Pacoima and the big airliner fell into a schoolyard. Both planes were on test flights.

Speaker Tells Packed Auditorium P-TA Important Part Of Community

A packed auditorium at Southside School last night attending a Founders Day program heard Mrs. Walter Beckham, past president of the Florida Parent Teachers Association and Membership Chairman of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, speak on the subject "I Believe."

Mrs. Beckham based her "I Believe" on her belief in the importance that the Parents-Teachers Association plays in the community; the home, the school and the church.

The noted speaker, in demand all over the country, in her 35 minute address emphatically told her audience which numbered over 500 "Children of today don't do anything that we didn't do before them."

The one-time teacher who married a school principal said "In the school there is no problem that could not be handled if the parent-teacher-child sat down together to work it out."

"Don't think for a minute that the teacher can't tell what kind of environment your child comes from," she said as she described the various types of children.

Turning to the teachers side of the problem, Mrs. Beckham told members of Seminole County's Parent Teachers Association "If parents had teaching experience they would be more sympathetic of the teacher problems," and she brought out that "if parents would spend more time at the school the pupil would not spend as much time in the principal's office."

"Build faith in your child—take time to talk with him or her and don't let your child down, build up confidence in them," she said.

On still another phase of her talk, Mrs. Beckham told parents attending the Founders Day program "the church is the most important thing in your child's life and if we aren't giving our children the opportunity to know God, we are depriving them of what is rightfully theirs."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Velma Mitchell, principal of Southside School.

Man, Wife Jump 15 Stories To Death

NEW YORK (UP)—An unemployed Brooklyn man and his wife jumped to their deaths today from the top of their 15-story apartment building in an apparent suicide pact. In their apartment police found the body of their 5-year-old daughter.

Police identified the victims as Joseph Kennedy, 46, his wife, Nan, 45, and their daughter Valerie.

The Kennedy's, married seven years, did not leave any suicide notes behind but police said Kennedy had been sick and unemployed for many years. In the apartment police found numerous medicine bottles and stacks of unpaid medical bills.

The child's body was found in a large twin bed. Police said the girl had died from "asphyxiation or fright." They said there were no marks on her body but said her tongue was sticking out as if she had strangled. Police said she apparently died about three hours before her parents jumped.

Prisoners End Sitdown Strike

DEEP LAKE, Fla. 48—Prisoners who staged a seven-hour sitdown strike at this "Alcatraz of the Everglades" returned to work today at the state prison maximum security road camp.

They were assured they will get their regular 15 minute rest periods.

Twenty-six convicts staged the sitdown strike after breakfast Thursday, protesting they were forced their regular rest period the previous afternoon.

They shouted and burned several mattresses and damaged some of the furniture before tear gas fired by guards sent them choking into their barracks compound.
