First Degree Murder Charges Are Placed On Albert Brenson

Pope Sentenced On Five Counts In Circuit Court

In Circuit Court action Friday Emmett Pope entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced by Circuit Judge Vassar Carlton on five counts of forgery of endorsement. Each count draws one year imprisonment at Ralston State Penitentiary.

Pope, a Sanford Negro fruit picker, was picked up in May when he confessed to passing more than $200 in worthless checks and was identified by operators in Seminole County stores and gas stations, it was reported.

Pope is said to have also cashed at least one check in Volusia County and may have cashed others in Orange and Lake Counties. All the checks were drawn on the Florida State Bank and the Sanford Atlantic National Bank.

An operator of a service station in DeBary reported cashing a check of $29 after which Pope and his wife, Effie, were arrested. Effie Pope admitted she wrote the checks passed by her husband, Constable J. Q. Gallo-way reported.

Officers reiterated that Pope posed as a sawmill worker in cashing the checks. Other checks ranged from $32.50 to $42.75.

Pleading guilty to charges of breaking and entering on the property of Francis Meriwether for whom he worked, Joseph Alexander was sentenced by Judge Carlton for two years at Ralston. An additional two years were added on a charge of grand larceny.

U. N. Delegates Hopeful About Plan Over Disarmament

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — U. N. delegates and officials are hopeful about the French plan to save on disarmament and spend on a better way of life—the plan Premier Edgar Faure plans to put before the summit conference opening today.

He has encouraged them to believe that the U. N. soon can move faster in promoting the stated goal of "higher standards of living, full employment and conditions of economic and social progress."

The Premier has suggested that the Big Four, "along with a program of general disarmament," start putting part of their military budgets into a special fund open to all nations. This fund would be devoted to "the development of countries or regions of the world which are insufficiently developed, and to the improvement of the standards of living of the most unfortunate populations."

New Carrier Routes To Begin Aug. 16 In Various Areas

Beginning August 16 mounted route carrier service will be started for an entirely new area not now being served, it was announced by Postmaster Joel Field.

Proposed new mounted routes will start in the area south of Geneva Ave. between Sanford Ave. and the Oviedo railroad tracks south to Wyley Road then west through the new section both north and south of 27th street including the new school now under construction.

The route will serve that area of Seminole Boulevard south now being served by Route 2 and also the patrons in Dreamworld on those streets that are 50 per cent or more improved. It will then continue west on Geneva Ave. to provide mounted carrier service to those that are qualified; west to the old Lake Mary Road then north to include that section of Loch Arbor that is 50 per cent or more improved as soon as the requirements are met; namely numbering of houses and marking the streets.

"Although the Loch Arbor area is outside the city limits of Sanford this service will be provided as soon as streets are marked," Post Master Field stated.

Undercover Men Aid In Dragnet For Bootleggers

ATLANTA (AP) — Two Negro undercover agents from North Carolina, posing as produce peddlers, have helped spring a dragnet for Atlanta bootleggers in the biggest single raiding operation against moonshine in Georgia's history.

State Revenue Commissioner T. V. Williams said a pre-dawn round-up yesterday by state, federal, city and county officers snared more than 150 persons, half of them women.

Additional arrests which are pending will bring the number to 250, Williams said. All are Negroes.

Williams, who led the raids personally, said while most of those arrested are "hip pocket" bootleggers, many of them are "big boys who deal in wholesale quantities."

The mass arrests culminated a secret investigation started two and a half months ago after the commissioner borrowed the two Negro agents and put them on Georgia's payroll as investigators.

House Leaders Map Forced-Draft Slate Calling For Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Driving hard for July 30 adjournment, House leaders mapped a forced-draft schedule calling for action this week on social security, highway, minimum wage and housing legislation.

And, if that isn't enough to keep it busy, sandwiched into the published House program for the week are votes on airport and atomic ship construction bills, mineral rights, amendments to the Communications Act and half a dozen odds and ends.

Wills plans for adjournment July 30 are far from official and definite, Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts said, "I do not see any reason why we cannot, but that is my own personal opinion."

Minority Leader Martin (R - Mass) said he believes Congress can finish its work by July 30, but he's not betting on it.

Patrolman Receives Bounce From Stick

ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—Patrolman Eric Wachsmuth has found this idea of killing two birds with one stone can be carried too far.

Patrolman George Coston says "amen."

Trying to subdue a violent prisoner in a patrol car, Wachsmuth swung his night stick against the man's head. The stick bounced off the prisoner's head, rattled against Coston's head, and sent him to a hospital for treatment of two bruises and a cut.

Group Inspects Airliner

CHICAGO (AP)—Engineers are examining each instrument and part of a wrecked Braniff airliner today to determine why it crashed in flames, killing 22 persons and injuring 31.

The twin-engine Convair, loaded to capacity was coming in low for an instrument landing in the early morning for yesterday when it clipped a gasoline station sign at the edge of Midway Airport, flipped over and plowed into the ground.

The plane, en route from Dallas attempted the landing," said Cook County Coroner Walter McCarron, who is conducting an inquest.

At Dallas, Braniff headquarters said they would not comment on his statement at this time because "the investigation of the safety of this operation now is in the hands of investigators of the Civil Aeronautics Board."

The plane, en route from Dallas to Chicago, ticked the 15-foot-high electric sign, crashed a fence and spun onto its back inside the airport, one wing ripped off and the other aflame.

The wreckage skidded nearly half a mile, to within a few hundred yards of the airport fire station. Fast-acting crash crews put out the sea of gasoline flames within three minutes, saving many of the 43 persons aboard. The plane carried 40 passengers and a crew of three.

Defense Secretary Continuing Plans Despite Protests

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — Despite protests from Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway and some congressmen, Secretary of Defense Wilson plans continued emphasis on big atomic-air power and smaller ground forces.

"Obviously I think the program is about right or I'd be advocating a different one," he told a news conference yesterday at the conclusion of the annual secretaries' conference.

He also said that President Eisenhower had approved his impounding of 48 million dollars which Congress added to Eisenhower's Marine Corps budget to offset a planned cut in Marine strength. Wilson disclosed Thursday he had ordered the money held up "while we take another look."

Only Sanford Bears Boast Of 'Privacy'

The Sanford Zoo seems to be making progress in both directions as it was announced that the shower and baths in the new bear cages have been completed and a mother coon gave birth to four "little ones" and is doing nicely.

Sid Richard, superintendent, said that "this is the only bear pen in the U. S. that has a private bath and showers."

He also brought out that the zoo has acquired a honey bear in exchange for a buck and a bear. It will receive two more animals, an albino deer and a talking maynab bird.

Herb Thomas of Starke and scout for the New York Giants is starting a small zoo and needs the animals.

Western Powers Give Reds Series Of Plans For European Security

GENEVA (AP) — The summit conference opened today with the Big Three Western Powers laying before Soviet Russia a series of new proposals for European security, built around a unified Germany.

In quick succession President Eisenhower, French Premier Edgar Faure and British Prime Minister Eden advanced separate ideas as to how Russia could be safeguarded against a united and rearmaged Germany.

Eisen also put forward a proposal that the Big Four seek agreement on arms ceilings for Germany and neighboring countries, with the four powers joining in a system of control to prevent violations.

Despite the appearance of a coordinated program by the West, it was understood the leaders of the U. S. delegation were concerned about some of the proposals in Faure's speech.

This included a proposal that arms reductions be controlled in the national budgets and Faure's call for inclusion of Germany in a general European security organization.

Penitentiary Back To Normal Routine

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP)—Operations at the Wyoming State Penitentiary were back to normal today after a 15-hour riot which ended early yesterday in a face-to-face meeting with convict spokesmen, Gov. Milward L. Simpson pledged a full-scale investigation of the institution and promised no general reprisals.

He also said he would seek to improve prison medical care and food, to increase recreation facilities and time.

Blind Mosquitoes 'Invade' Fair City

In answer to the many inquiries concerning the little bugs that seem to be everywhere lately, Sid Richard says that they are blind mosquitoes.

"Seems that at this time of year they all come out of hiding, and for what reason no one knows. They sure are a nuisance as they bump into any and every object. Must be the rains!" he quipped.

New Safety Slogan Is Adopted By FHP For Month Of July

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—"Drive to arrive alive," the safety slogan of the Florida Highway Patrol during the month of July.

"And," says the Patrol Comdr. H. N. Kirkman, "There's a lot of good steady advice packed into that slogan."

"After all, when a driver starts out on a motor trip, his goal is to get where he is going and get there healthy and alive."

What kind of driving, then, should the motorist be prepared to do?

"To begin with," declares Kirkman, "He should be a courteous driver for the courteous driver goes relaxed, gives other drivers the breaks and is always prepared to yield the right-of-way to avoid an accident."

This type of driving is law abiding, too, stresses the Patrol Commander. "The intelligent driver knows that in order to stay safe he must stay with the law. He familiarizes himself with the laws of the area through which he intends to drive, so when he drives through that area he obeys the law," Kirkman said.

"The smart driver," said Kirkman, "knows that if adverse conditions happens to arise, one of the best lifesavers in traffic is application of the rule: 'Slow Down and Live!'"

"One slogan for July is a simple one," said the patrol official. "Unfortunately, many may think they are too smart to obey these simple suggestions. To their sorrow, however, they may arrive in a battered condition — or they may not get there at all."

Man Leaves Letter Stating He's Last Survivor Of Squad

TAMPA (AP)—A Tampa man who died Friday left a letter saying he was the last survivor of an execution squad which shot down 11 Mafia members in a New Orleans jail March 14, 1951.

He was George G. Parke, 37, who had worked as a printer and newspaperman over much of the country.

Parke left a letter saying he had never revealed his connection with the execution because of fear of retaliation from the Mafia, an Italian secret society.

Parke said the 11 Mafia men had been indicted for the murder of Police Chief David C. Hennessy of New Orleans. When the leader was acquitted and the others got light sentences, 12 men including Parke were selected recently to execute the 11 prisoners.

Parke said he believed the selection was made by a committee of 50, appointed by the city council to fight the Mafia.

THE BOSS OF BROKEN SPUR

By Nick Summer

CHAPTER TWENTY-ONE

TIM STOOD staring down at his mother's body, and the sheriff's words, "Don't you go doin' anything foolish—" Lacey sank back in his chair, a heavy, tired, middle-aged man who wasn't at all happy about the way things were going.

He was an honest man according to his own lights—as honest as a politician who lived by his wits could afford to be. He'd been sheriff for ten years, and being sheriff in Meekler County meant staying on the right side of Rob Mallory and Broken Spur. Not that Rob had wanted much of him—only to go easy on that wild foster-son of his, or look the other way when Broken Spur men in town on a jag got a little out of hand. Murder was something else. Lacey had an open mind on the question of Rob's guilt—except that he was sure, if Tim was right, he'd never and the proof he demanded. Rob was too smart to leave a trail.

So he wouldn't have the problem of deciding whether to try to arrest him. But these matters were changing the picture of things in the county. Their numbers were increasing—and if they didn't have money, they had votes. If it came to actual fighting between them and Broken Spur, it might not be possible to go on straddling the fence.

Maybe trouble could be staved off yet, if it wasn't for that hot-head, Tim Larabee. If only the young idiot would do something to justify looking him up until he cooled off...

Tim's first stop after leaving the sheriff's office was at the undertaker's, to make arrangements about Joe and Molly. His second was at the hardware store, where he bought a Colt .45, a gun-belt and a supply of cartridges. His story had traveled ahead of him, and the storekeeper, who had been a friend of Joe's, handed over his purchase with a sympathetic caution. "Watch your step, son," Tim buckled the unaccustomed weight about his hips, and stepped out into the street.

He hadn't had any definite plan in mind, but luck was with him—or against him, as the event might prove. As he stood looking up and down the dusty street, a tall, high-stepping black stallion rode up to the hitching rack of the Last Chance, and the rider swung down.

"Turn around, Mallory!" Tim's shout lashed across the small noisiness of the street, cutting them off to stunned silence. "Turn around and reach for your gun!" Rob turned. To Tim's eyes, the handsome hawk face seemed to wear a smile of gloating mockery. It seemed him to a spate of words. "You give me more chance than you gave Dad! You don't deserve it—I oughta shoot you down in the back like you did him. A fair fight's too good for your kind—but I'm givin' it to you." He almost sobbed. "Reach, you hear?"

The crash of the door as it slammed behind him shook the rocky building and drowned out the sheriff's parting words. "Son, don't you go doin' anything foolish—" Lacey sank back in his chair, a heavy, tired, middle-aged man who wasn't at all happy about the way things were going.

Three Boys Found After Being Held For Ransom Money

ANNISTON, Ala. (AP) — Three small boys were recovering yesterday from a six-hour ordeal during which they were held prisoner by a Negro who demanded $5,000 for their release. They were not harmed bodily.

A search by neighbors began Wednesday when the boys failed to return from a hike. Later, after one of the boy's mother received a telephone call demanding $5,000 ransom, city, county and state officers joined in the search.

A posse of about 100, including armed citizens, combed a wooded section east of Anniston Wednesday night.

Police said the accused kidnaper was identified by the boys from ropes gallery pictures. Police Chief J. L. Peek said the man is well known to Anniston police.

The boys are Max Scroggin, 8; Perry Reynolds, 8; and Horst Carter, 12. Walter Merrill, an attorney, and W. W. Owens found the boys bound in an excavation beneath the flooring of an abandoned housing project.

The boys said they went hiking and met a man who lured them to the abandoned housing project, where he displayed a .38-caliber pistol.

Young Horst said the man let him fire the gun once. The others asked to fire it, but were told: "There are only three bullets left, and I'm going to need them to kill you."

The boys said they were forced into a small opening into the excavation where they were found.

Traffic Jam Broken By Fire Fighters

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Fire fighters used hoses and hundreds of gallons of water last week to break up a traffic jam at the approach to Point Street bridge.

The bridge was opened to permit passage of a tugboat and when leaders tried to lower the draw spans they found that the heat had expanded the steel and the bridge refused to close.

Firefighters played hoses on the metal and—after an hour and 20 minutes delay that backed up traffic four blocks—the bridge cooled and the draw spans slid into place.

Books In The News

Wes Lawrence, a mid-western columnist, conducted an experiment to determine what books have most influenced the day's news. He checked closely a New York City daily paper to see which items would not have been there or would have appeared differently if certain books had not been written.

In that day's paper the Bible did not head the list. Its influence could be traced in only eleven stories. Twelve showed traces of the English philosopher, John Locke. Sir Isaac Newton, discoverer of gravitation, also affected twelve stories and Einstein, eight. The two whose influence occurred most frequently were economists: Maynard Keynes, the Englishman who had much to do with the policy of spending to relieve a depression, and the formidable Karl Marx, to whom Communism owes its being. Marx led all the rest with thirty-three stories touching Communism, mostly against.

This experiment shows that writers are often authors of a destiny they can never know and that reading influences thinking to a degree no man can easily determine. The greatest and the weakest of man's thoughts are recorded in books. Knowledge of every sort can be found in the libraries of the world and the influence of records read, knowledge found, is discovered in even the most casual reading.

TODAY'S BIRTH VERNE

Confidence in an unfaithful man in time of trouble is like a broken tooth, and a foot out of joint.—Prov. 25:19.—A million men were confident that they could get away with robbery and murder and a thousand crimes. They are in prison now.

Physician Still Practices At 94

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. John Mullinger, who is 94 years old, is still active and likes the sport.

Dr. Mullinger, who stands a bent 5 foot 9 and weighs a dwindling 120 pounds, has hazel eyes, comes from Clinton, Iowa, and says the American Medical Assn. has designated him as the nation's oldest practicing physician.

He has been a fine ice skater, doesn't take pills himself, hasn't been sick since he was a youth. The doctor, whose prescription for longevity is based on daily exercise and abstinence from bad habits, is married to a former nurse, age 24.

He came here to appear on an NBC-TV show called "Make the Connection." Here is his life story in his own words:

"I was born Dec. 7, 1861. I lived 68 years with my first wife. She died of the rheumatism of old age the 12th of January, 1932. She was three years younger than I.

"Before I went into medicine I was a principal of schools. She was a teacher under me. She was a good girl and I married her and kept her.

"I remember the principal battles of the Civil War and the assassination of President Lincoln. My father died in operation for gall bladder trouble at 89 years and 6 months, and knowing what we do—I think we could have saved him.

"I lived to be 82 years and died of natural causes. What? What did you say? What is a natural cause? I'd say she died of gastric arthritis—the rheumatism of old age.

"What really kills most people did you ask? Bad habits. I never used tobacco, liquor, coffee or tea. Mental bad habits? Well, worry—but I'd rather not go into that.

"How can you stay young? Well, exercise. I have a garden and when I come in from it I have an appetite that can take on a dead cat. Never tried to eat a live cat.

"Sleep? I sleep 6 to 8 hours a day. Yes, lately I have been taking a nap.

"I started practicing medicine on foot, then I got a bicycle, then a horse and buggy. I wore out two horses, then in 1904 I got a one-hung Cadillac. Since then I wore out 22 cars. I had 13 Maxwell, Chrysler and Plymouths—oh, yes, and a Chevy—and now I drive a Ford.

"I set bones and I've given anesthesia 200 times but I don't do belly operations. That's where the big money is. You can do three in a morning. But I'm a general practitioner.

"Babies? I delivered 13 babies before I was out of medical school. I delivered a baby just last week. I never lost a mother. I have lost a few babies, out of 2,111.

"I'm a firm believer in the Christian religion. I think God has given me this time to do charitable work.

"The most charitable thing I've done is to tell single girls who came and asked money of me and asked for abortions: 'Go ahead and have your child, regardless of money, and I will place the child in a good home.'

"To me abortion is murder. I have placed 20 of these babies at birth in childless homes. All of them are doing fine. People know I feel this way. Right now I have five applications for babies I can't fill.

"I've got $25,000 on my books that isn't worth the paper it's written on. I treat 2 to 3 patients now a week. Now I don't like to get up at night for nothing. For an office visit I charge $1 to $2.

Making Haste Slowly

As America's economy zooms past the 1955 halfway point, what do economists see ahead? Can the present business boom keep booming? Will the indicators—production, profits after taxes, retail sales, wages—keep rising? Or is an economic downturn likely?

Experts in Washington are not fearful of a sharp downturn, nor even of a mild recession like that in 1954. The only thing they seem afraid of is that Americans may become overconfident and plunge themselves into inflation.

Overconfidence could push businessmen into expanding too rapidly and piling up too much inventory. It could push consumers into buying beyond their ability to pay. Overconfidence could encourage too much speculation in stocks.

The answer is to put the brakes on a bit, to think through whatever speculation or purchase or expansion is planned. The advice applies to the average consumer as well as to businessmen.

Washington officials recognize this. They are keeping a foot lightly on the brake pedal by making mortgage money a bit harder to get, holding down on stock credit, urging banks to be more cautious about business loans.

The United States needs to make haste slowly. Indications are that, if we do, our present high level of prosperity will continue for some time to come.

Merriams Of Chicago

The governmental team has been strengthened by naming Robert E. Merriam of Chicago as Assistant Director of the Budget. Merriam is a young man of reformist instincts who made a name for himself as a Democratic member of Chicago's Board of Aldermen. Falling out with the party machine, he declared himself a Republican, and this spring was the GOP candidate for mayor. Though his personality and record won him much support, the Democratic tide in Chicago was too strong, and he was beaten by Richard J. Daley.

Merriam's father, Prof. Charles E. Merriam of the University of Chicago, was both a theoretical expert in city government, and one who practiced what he preached. He also served as a Chicago alderman and ran a good race for mayor. Later, though a Republican, he gave valuable advice to the Roosevelt administration.

The Merriams have served Chicago well and would serve her better if she would let them.

Fatter Pocketbooks Feeding Boom

NEW YORK (AP)—Fatter pocketbooks of many Americans are feeding the business boom.

Personal income totals have topped the 300 billion dollars a year for the first time in history.

That has helped retail sales to climb steadily. It has also given many families confidence enough in their future to sock part of their expected income and buy on the installment plan. So consumer debt also has risen to a new high.

In turn, businessmen have stepped up their own buying of raw materials. They have increased their production schedules, thus adding to their payroll totals. They have raised their sights on future expansion. These three things swell the incomes of the producers of raw materials, of factory workers, of the construction industry and of the makers of tools and equipment.

It is an example of what economists mean when they talk about the present business boom running along for awhile on its own momentum, even if new stimuli don't show up.

Some cynics say the boom on top of the boom is a little like families prospering by taking in each other's washings—that the whole thing could grind to a jolting halt if consumers should stop buying so freely and starting saving instead.

But figures released this week point only to the signs of prosperity on every hand.

Department of Commerce data show that in the first five months of the year personal income was running at an annual rate 10 billion dollars higher than the year before. In May it reached a record 301 billion, figures annually. The jump of two billion over the April rate was credited by the department to higher employment, longer work weeks, and higher hourly wage scales.

A lot of the increase in income has flowed quickly into the hands of the merchants and the providers of various services—and from them it is working its way back to the prime producers.

But much of the additional cash has also gone into personal saving. The percentage of personal income saved isn't as high this year as in some previous ones, but the total has gone on steadily

Russians Have Put On Good Show

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians act like people who hired a public relations adviser to give them a new look. They've put on a good show, even if it should end at Geneva next week.

In the almost 40 years since the Revolution, they've been as cozy as ice cubes. In the past few months they began defrosting, if only temporarily, and at a June embassy party Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan told reporters:

"Horrible things are said about us Bolsheviks but it seems we aren't so horrible as some people think."

At times they've been as cozy as some American politicians. Foreign Minister Molotov posed in a 10-gallon hat in Wyoming. The Kremlin's big wheels patted children on the head at the U.S. Embassy party in Moscow on July 4.

Yesterday they started the world by inviting reporters to a news conference today in the Kremlin itself. The Russian leaders have attended perhaps a dozen recent embassy parties in Moscow, mingling with newsmen, answering questions, making speeches being jolly good fellows, drinking highballs and champagne.

When Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru visited Moscow a few weeks ago children pelted him with flowers, trained white doves wheeled overhead, bands played, and the Kremlin men turned out in a bunch.

Until several months ago Yugoslavia's Marshal Josip Tito, who had committed communism's mortal sin of disobedience to the late Joseph Stalin, was cast out of the Red fold, accorded as a renegade devil and roundly cursed.

Then Moscow's new look set in. To patch up the mess, three of Russia's most important men made a humble pilgrimage to Tito. The three were Prime Minister Nikolai Bulganin, Mikoyan and Nikita Khrushchev, boss of the Communist party.

They wound up their visit calling him a good boy, entitled to his own ideas. In the rigid world of Communist discipline, this was as fantastic as asking Wall Street to buy shares in the Russian railroads.

The Kremlin's treatment of Nehru and Tito can hardly be due entirely to sheer good fellowship. Both are next-door neighbors of Russia's Communist frontiers. So is Austria, which this year was permitted independence by Russia 10 years after the war. It is a close neighbor too. Russia sent Iran several tons of gold in a settlement on old problems.

If the West can't be budged by Russia's new look, at least the rest of the world may be impressed, and the men in the Kremlin must hope by the red carpet treatment they can keep those four close neighbors neutral.

A grin might do it where a growl would send them scampering to the West for protection. But the Kremlin made some concessions to the West too. It made more concessions on disarmament in the past few months than in the past 10 years.

They were dressed alike in blue jeans and jackets, each carrying a knapsack weighing 85 pounds!

They have a total of only 50 pounds—414—in their jeans but hope to pay their way most of the trip by working. They've already lined up temporary jobs on Italian farms and Malaysian rubber plantations.

Speaking for the group, 22-year-old Geoffrey Whitaker said they are calling their trip "a five-year plan for six sensible people."

As a side trip, they expect to take a bus ride across Africa's Sahara Desert and wind up having tea atop Capetown's Table Mountain.

Walking with Whitaker are Harry Harrison, 21; Bill Youner, 18; Ty Shaw, 20; Sheila Woodwart, 17; and Pat Higgins, 20.

Story League Has Dinner Meeting; Mrs. John Lee, Delegate Reports

The annual meeting of the Sanford Story League was held at Toddy's Restaurant on Highway 17-92 in the form of a dinner party. After a delicious meal a short business session was presided over by the outgoing president, Mrs. Lillian Roche. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Ethel Moore presented her with a gold mesh evening bag as a token from the members saying "thanks" and to "show appreciation for the successful work contributed by her in her two years as president of the Story League."

The session was then turned over to Mrs. J. L. Lee who represented the club at the Eastern district meeting which was held in Philadelphia, Pa. the latter part of June. The theme of her talk was "Our Master Storyteller."

Members of the league were "thrilled" by the report she brought back to the effect that the Sanford Story League stood out among the many larger story leagues of our nation as having done an outstanding bit of work during the year. "We were pleased to have Mrs. Lee represent our Story League at Philadelphia because she is a gifted story teller and person of personal charm and ability," several of the members stated.

During her report she brought out the thought that story tellers could and should use the Bible as a guide to story telling. "We all know that our Savior, as a method of teaching both old and young the great truths of eternal life and way of living, used stories," she said.

One of the highlights of the report was the telling of the vesper service held on a Sunday afternoon at the Chapel of the Four Chaplains, with the Rev. Daniel A. Poling in charge.

"As one enters the chapel," she related, "a feeling of remoteness, reverence and awe floods the room and gives an awareness of being in the very presence of God. A mural, showing the scene aboard the "Porchester," when four chaplains aboard, one Jewish, one Catholic, and two Protestants gave their life jackets to the enlisted men aboard then went down, singing with the ship, covers one side of the chapel."

"A military guard stood at attention as the choir came in singing hymns to give a 30 minute recital, ending with the stirring, 'God Bless America'. During one of the hymns, the altar, which was simply decorated in red velvet with a gold cross as the focal point, revolved slowly to reveal the Catholic, Jewish and Protestant altars, symbolizing all faiths under one God.

After the report an installation service was conducted by Mrs. Roche which included installing officers and the members pledging their support to incoming officers of 1933-34. They are Mrs. Maybelle Maxwell, president; Mrs. J. L. Lee, first vice president; Mrs. Claude C. Howard, second vice president; Mrs. C. C. Welsh, third vice president; Mrs. H. L. Moore, recording secretary; Mrs. R. W. Tench, corresponding secretary and Mrs. S. J. Nix as treasurer along with Mrs. R. C. Long as historian.

Church Of The Little Flower Scene For Lamb-Kelly Wedding

A former Sanford girl, Miss Muriel Dorin Lamb, was married Saturday at 4 p.m. to Roger J. Kelly at the Church of the Little Flower in Coral Gables. The Right Reverend Monsignor Thomas Combar officiated.

Miss Lamb was born in Sanford and attended Southside Elementary before she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Lamb, moved their home to Miami. Her mother, Mrs. Dorothy B. Lamb, was public health nurse of Seminole County for twelve years.

Mr. Kelly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Kelly of Russell, N. Y.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Miss Lamb wore a gown of chantilly lace with molded bodice and long point to hand sleeves. The scooped neckline was outlined with rose petal applique, doted with seed pearls and sequins. The very bouffant skirt was of lace with inserts of nylon tulle to form the sweep train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls and sequins, and she carried a cascade bouquet of shasta daisies and stephanotis.

Mrs. Helen Perrin was matron of honor. Mrs. Teresa Pomerville, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Anne Brennels, of Lochloosa, were bridesmaids.

Their wait-length dresses were of blue nylon lace and tulle with altered skirts and matching blue net over taffeta were fashioned for the bride by her matron of honor. They were adorned on one side by a spray of crepe jasmine taken from the garden of the bride's home. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of blue cornflowers and white maroon daisies.

Raymond Pomerville of Star Lake, N. Y. was best man for Mr. Kelly. His ushers were Hugh Lamb, brother of the bride, and David Perrin.

The informal garden reception held at the bride's home was very lovely in a setting of palm trees and tropical flowers. The bride's table was graced by two statues of the Virgin Mary which played Ave Maria. They were placed on each side of the cake and altogether formed a most beautiful picture.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a pink linen sheath dress with matching box jacket of embroidered linen. She wore pink and white accessories.

After honeymooning at Daytona Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly will leave for New York state in August, where he will return to college this fall.

Sylvia Hayes, Robert Brown United In Marriage Friday

In the soft glow of candlelight Miss Sylvia Dalene Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Musselwhite, and Robert R. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald O. Brown of Ann Arbor, Mich., were united in holy matrimony Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. W. P. Brooks officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, white calladium and palm spruce against a background of palm and fern. Four seven branch candelabra held burning white tapers.

Organist, Mrs. Evans McCoy played the traditional wedding music and the song, "Sylvia" for which the bride was named. During the rites "Citra De Luna" was rendered. Miss Norma Faye Harvey, soloist, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in the traditional wedding gown of white chantilly lace and tulle over ivory bridal satin. The bodice was fashioned with a scalloped neckline featuring a Queen Anne collar of lace. Of formal length, the lace skirt was cut in the front showing a peplum falling into a chapel train. Her headpiece was a lace cap embroidered with tiny seed pearls. A fingertip veil of silk French illusion was also worn. She carried a white leather Bible, a gift of the groom, topped with a white orchid tied with ascending satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a tiny gold cross.

Miss Ada Adams, maid of honor, wore a ballroom length gown of white embroidered nylon with an apron effect over pink nylon tulle and taffeta. It featured a large pink taffeta bow at the back. In her hair she wore a pink coronet of taffeta and tulle. Her wrist mitts were pink nylon net with tiny nylon raffia. She carried a colonial bouquet of deep orchid South American asters.

The bridesmaids, Miss Gail Bittling, Miss Patricia Ratigan, Miss Janice Reed, Tampa; and Miss Pat Smith, junior bridesmaid, wore dresses identical to that of the maid of honor and carried bouquets in lighter lavender shades.

Dinner Is Given Thursday Night For Wedding Party

A rehearsal dinner in honor of the wedding party of the former Miss Sylvia Hayes was given Thursday night in the First Baptist Church annex by Mrs. Donald O. Brown and Mrs. O. R. Smith Sr.

The tables were arranged in a "T" with the bride couple and their parents seated at the head. A clever arrangement of dolls made up a mock wedding procession down the center of the tables. White gladioli were also used.

A delicious meal was prepared and served by Mrs. Estelle Russell to the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Musselwhite, the bride's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Donald O. Brown, parents of the groom, Ann Arbor, Mich.; Mrs. Gertrude Brantley, bride's grandmother, Perry Ga.; the Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Brooks, Jr., Miss Norma Faye Harvey, Mrs. F. E. ## Lakeland Tops Cards In 5th Inning Surge Lakeland hunched all its scoring in the fifth inning to defeat Sanford, 4-3, before 558 Florida State League fans last night.

Herm Nelhaus opened the inning with a double, Walt Anderson reached first on a fielder's choice, and winning pitcher Joe Bayno singled in Nelhaus. Jack Ferrell followed with a double

Tip Of Hat Made To Dick Donovan

By JACK HAND
The Associated Press

Now that the Chicago White Sox have seven straight victories and are 14 1/2 games behind the New York Yankees it's time to tip the hat to Dick Donovan.

The 27-year-old "rookie" who flunked so many early tests, leads the American League pitchers in winning percentage with a dazzling 12-1 record.

They used to call Donovan a "spring training wonder." He was a hot shot in Florida but a bust in the North. In the exhibition games he was a new phenom.

When the season opened he couldn't get anybody out.

Times have changed for the big Irishman from Quincy Mass. He hasn't lost since May 27 and owns four shutouts. His latest job yesterday was to nail down the second game decision over Baltimore in relief.

The combination of Chicago's double victory over Baltimore 3-1 and 5-4 and the Yanks' third straight defeat (9 out of 13) by Detroit 6-3 halved New York's lead. At the Sox and Yanks meet Tuesday night at Comiskey Park in the opener of a three-game series, Chicago has a chance to take over first place by Thursday.

Cleveland and Boston each picked up half a game on New York by splitting a pair.

Washington's Spec Shea, making his first start of the year, came up with a three-hit shutout to beat Kansas City's Vic Raschi 4-0.

In the National, the Dodgers, hurting for pitching with a flock of injuries, dipped into the minor league stockpile to come up with a pair of first-time winners in rookies Roger Craig and Don Montreal with a 10-2 record, curbed Cincinnati's sluggers with three hits 6-2, Bossert, up from St. Paul with an 8-5 mark, failed to survive a rough ninth inning but he also won his first big league start 8-5.

Milwaukee swept a double-header from the New York Giants 5-7 on two homers by Joe Adcock and one by Del Crandall. However, they remained 12 1/2 games behind Brooklyn.

The old Pennsylvania Sunday curfew messed up double-headers in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh as usual. The Phillies topped Chicago 12-11 in 10 innings on Bobby Morgan's sacrifice fly but the second game was suspended with Chicago leading 5-4 in the sixth. They'll finish it tonight before their regularly scheduled game.

Rip Repulski hit two homers and batted in four runs for St. Louis in a 9-8 first-game victory over Pittsburgh in 12 innings. Luis Arroyo, who lost to Lino Donoso Saturday, was the winner and Donoso the loser, both in relief.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—School Supt. W. T. White recommended 19 high school band instructors begin work two weeks early next fall so "our high school football bands may be in condition to play creditably at opening football games."

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It must be grand to have the sublime trust in humankind exhibited by officials of the U.S. Golf Assn. in the letter they are mailing to the boys and girls who plan to play in their respective amateur championships this summer.

The recipients are asked to state at once whether they intend to turn professional within the next year, so that in the event they do, their entries may be withdrawn from the women's event, scheduled Aug. 22-27 at Charlotte, N.C., and the men's, Sept. 12-17 at Richmond.

In other words, the golf fathers, headed by Isaac B. Granger, president, are getting good and tired of never having a defending champion to add tone to their prize amateur tournaments. They've had only one in their past five men's events and only two in the past five women's events.

If you intend to become a professional within the next year please inform us immediately so that your entry may be withdrawn," says the letter. "Your help in upholding golf's standards will be most welcome."

Nothing could be more fair than that, surely. Only thing is, we fear that the gentlemen in golf houses are due to suffer a grave disappointment. As a sporting proposition, we will bet them a reasonable sum against any wretched midget in their historic collection that they do not flush a single customer.

We do not mean at all to imply that there breathes a dishonest amateur golfer, man or woman. What we do mean is that there cannot be at this time a player who knows that he or she will win the amateur title and then turn professional. There might be players at Charlotte and Richmond who are thinking vaguely of turning pro next year if they win the title, but they cannot "intend" to do both.

If that ain't clear, let us suggest that the USGA letter is not worded to say what it has in mind. What it means to say is: "Do you promise, providing you win this tournament, to defend your championship next year?" That is a different matter from trying to put every entrant on his honor that he intends "to continue to be an amateur golfer," which is what the letter does say.

Award Taken Home By Detroit Golfer

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The James D. Stashak Jr. trophy was back home today for the first time since the Detroit donor persuaded the U.S. Golf Assn. to establish a tournament for public course players 33 years ago.

Sam D. Kocsis, expediter and personnel man in a Detroit factory won the Public Links championship Saturday from L. T. (Tommy) Bean of Summerville, Ga., 2-up, in 36 holes.

Bean, a completely relaxed, tobacco-chewing auto salesman trailed from the green but his constant good humor and never quail attitude captured most of the non-paying gallery estimated at 1,500.

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Board of Commerce sent this cablegram overseas to Fred Matthei, the Detroit industrialist who failed in his bid to land the 1960 Olympics for the Motor City: "On what date may we plan a civic reception, banquet, commending your efforts, welcoming you home?"

Matthei's reply: "Somewhere the sun is shining, somewhere hearts are gay, but there's no joy or banquet in Mudville, for Casey, mighty Casey, has struck out."

In four seasons of Big Ten baseball, Michigan State first baseman Chuck Mathews compiled a .353 batting average.

Commission Okays Tentative Budget

Herndon Commends County

Bid Is Accepted For Two Trucks

A tentative County budget for the next fiscal year beginning October 1, 1955 was accepted at this morning's session of the County Commission meeting.

The budget consisting of a total of $930,022.51 will come up again before the commissioners for adoption at their meeting on August 2, 1955.

The tentative budget included $148,701.25 in the fine and forfeiture fund; road and bridge fund, $421,326.25, of which $296,796.83 was for appropriations, $10,264.57 for reserve for contingencies, and $64,265.25 reserve for cash balance to be carried forward.

The general fund is $559,993.01 with total appropriations being $257,649.21. Reserve for cash balance to be carried forward is $71,999.00.

Seminole County Clerk, O. P. Herndon complimented the County Commissioners stating that the County was in a healthy financial condition.

The commission accepted the bid of Strickland-Morrison to supply the County with two trucks for $4,010.82 with allowance on old equipment. Others submitting bids were Seminole County Motors and Sanford Motor Truck Co.

John McLaughlin of Lake Mary appeared before the commissioners requesting that the county open a street into some property on which he wanted to build a house. The commissioners refused, stating that if they opened a street for one developer they would have to do the same for others.

John Fox, county right-of-way agent, appeared before the commissioners with a deed from the Overstreet Land Co. that was accepted for future use.

The property that was affected was 2 1/2 feet at the Big Tree Crossing facing Hensons Area one half mile from the Sanford Orlando Highway.

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP)—A power line that fell during a rainstorm was blamed for the death of four persons and the injury of a fifth.

Killed last night were Y. E. Tillman, 26, truck-line operator; William Brosette, 23, dairy truck driver; William L. Voorhies, 33, supervisor of a fleet of dairy trucks, and Voorhies' 6-year-old daughter Linda Carolyn.

Voorhies 5-year-old son William Jr. was treated for minor burns. Police said the Voorhies family had been visiting the Brosettes, and decided to go home about the time a rainstorm was letting up.

The Voorhies boy ran to open the car door and was burned by the current from a power line that was lying in the flooded gutter parallel to the car.

The father ran out to help the boy and was killed. Linda Carolyn and Brosette then met a like fate.

A passing motorist, Tillman, stopped to help and also was electrocuted.

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—The story of a near-tragedy involving a rudderless B36 with 29 men aboard was disclosed by the Air Force yesterday.

The bomber lost a big section of its tail as it headed for Denver last week to fly over dedication ceremonies at the new Air Force Academy. The plane was about 30 miles from Denver at the time, and loss of the 32-foot-high rudder section left the craft without effective controls, the Air Force said.

It made an emergency landing with the help of the aileron controls on its wings and a sister bomber that flew up alongside to accompany it to Ellsworth AFB, S. D., for a safe landing. The lost rudder was found on the ground near Limon, Colo.

ACTRESS'S CONDITION TO BE DIAGNOSED DUARTE, Calif. (AP)—A diagnosis of actress Susan Ball's condition will be issued sometime today by doctors at City of Hope Medical Center. She is suffering from a recurrence of cancer.

She has been hospitalized for two weeks. Eighteen months ago surgeons amputated a leg in which cancer had been detected and it was believed that the dread disease had been controlled.

Catcalls Pierce Silence

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—An occasional catcall pierced the desert silence throughout the night at the Nevada State Prison as some 223 convicts stubbornly carried on a sitdown strike in the flood-lit prison yard.

The prisoners—less 136 trustees—started their rebellion at 3:40 p.m. yesterday when they began milling about the open yard instead of lining up for dinner as is customary.

They demanded an interview with Gov. Charles Russell and declared they would not return to their cell blocks until they talked with him.

Among the inmates demands were "more variety in food... discharge of a prison doctor and captain of the guard... twice yearly personal appearances before the State Parole Board... more work for inmates... no reprisals because of the rebellion... lower prices at the prison commissary." "I'm not promising anything. Most of the grievances are unfounded," Warden Art Bernard said.

Vaccine Provision For Many Children Is Voted By Senate

NEW YORK (AP)—The Senate has voted to provide free Salk polio vaccine for millions of children under 20 and expectant mothers.

The next move is up to the House, whose Commerce Committee last week approved a somewhat different free vaccine bill.

Senate action yesterday came on a voice vote. The only audible "no" vote was cast by Sen. Morse (D-Ore). He objected that the measure "only scratches the surface."

During debate Sen. Welker (R-Idaho) took the Public Health Service to task for what he said was a failure to act against the Cutter Laboratories of Berkeley, Calif. Welker said Cutter vaccine is "directly" responsible for 118 polio cases in Idaho, four of them fatal.

Cutter officials have said in the past they prepared the vaccine according to "rigid safety tests exactly as laid down by a committee of polio experts." They have said they have furnished full information to the government and the ultimate determination must come from the government officials.

No formal report has been made. Both Morse and Welker charged federal health officials with "cover-up" in the vaccine program, but the Idaho senator was not in the chamber when the vote was taken.

His survivors include Mrs. Mae Packard, sister; Mrs. C. H. Moss, niece; Richard Packard, nephew, and Mrs. G. L. Parkhurst, niece, all of Sanford.

A former resident of this city, he was buried in Montgomery, Ala., on July 10.

The Sanford Civil Service Board has called an election to be held in City Hall Thursday from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. to elect two members who will serve as representatives for the employees.

All permanent Civil Service employees are requested to vote. There will also be a Civil Service meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in the City Hall.

Local Delegation Addresses Rotary

The first meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club under the administration of William Bush Jr. for the year 1955-56 was highlighted by the appearance of the Seminole County Legislative Delegation at the Yacht Club yesterday, although Bush was away on a vacation.

Past-president George Touhy presided and after the introduction of one visiting Rotarian, Mort McDonald Jr., of DeLand, and the singing of a few songs led by Charlie Morrison with Francis E. Boumillat Jr., at the piano, the meeting was turned over to William C. Hutchinson Jr., general program chairman for the year who introduced in this order, Hon. Douglas Stenstrom, Senator of the 87th district; Hon. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Hon. Volie A. Williams Jr., local state representatives.

Hutchinson mentioned the fact that Sen. Stenstrom was voted by his senatorial colleagues as the outstanding freshman Senator and that Volie Williams was again voted by the press one of the top outstanding representatives.

In his remarks, Sen. Stenstrom spoke of some of the particularly important things that the legislature accomplished, viz.—the selection of a 37 man committee to revise the antiquated constitution and report back to the 1957 legislature. He quoted many conflicting and inconsistent items and stated there were over 200 grammatical errors in the present document. He pointed with pride to the fact that no new general taxes were imposed and regretted that the consolidation bill to eliminate duplicate taxing agencies failed to pass as did the milk bill revision.

Rep. Cleveland spoke briefly and added to the Senator's remarks by stating that he thought two outstanding contributions were the abolishment of proxies and the organization of committee meetings with practically no conflict in the attendance of the members of various committees. Approximately 3000 bills were introduced and it will be some time before the delegation will have full knowledge of the actual work of the session, he stated.

Rep. Williams told of the creation of the legislative interim auditing committee and that all three voted against the turpentine bill. He, too, regretted

Segni Presses Vote For Confidence Of Italian Senate

ROME (AP)—Premier Antonio Segni pressed today for a vote of confidence from the Senate after getting a 293-266 approval from the Chamber of Deputies for his coalition government.

The vote in the Chamber last night, 7 above the required majority of 280, was Segni's first parliamentary test. The new Premier, a left-of-center Christian Democrat and advocate of social reform, formed his coalition July 6.

His support came from the Christian Democrats, the allied Social Democrats, Liberals and Republicans.

Asking approval of his government last week, Segni told the Chamber the political and economic unification of Europe "remains an absolute necessity."

"Our entire foreign policy," he said, "remains based on our absolute support of Western European unity, and our continued loyalty to the Atlantic Pact as an instrument of defense."

American Farmers Tour Soviet Lands

MOSCOW (AP)—Twelve American farmers headed for the Soviet hinterlands today to see how Russia's farmers do it.

The visiting American farm delegation left last night on a 30-day tour of the Ukraine, Central Asia and previously virgin lands of Siberia now being cultivated.

The Americans got their first Russian soil in their shoes yesterday in a visit to Looch, a collective farm 20 miles west of Moscow.

They reported the livestock looked fine but the expenditure of labor would shock farmers at home.

The number of women at work startled them too. "We saw as many as 30 people in a hay field," Charles J. Hearst, of Cedar Falls, Iowa, reported. "If back home in Iowa we had three people working the same hay field that would be a lot."

GMC Appointment Told For Company

The recent appointment of the Sanford Motor Truck Co., 1401 French Ave., as exclusive dealer for Sanford and Seminole County of the well known line of GMC Trucks, was announced by the GMC Truck and Coach Division of General Motors Corporation.

Daniel Lopez, the owner and general manager of the local organization, has had a long and varied experience in trucks, cabs and buses. Born in Woodbridge, N. J., Lopez was, at one time, general manager of the Middlesex Bus Co. of that city.

He is married to the former Miss Peggy Small, of Pappale, N. J., at one time a TWA Airline hostess. With their two children, Marilyn and Daniel Jr., they reside at 1411 Park Ave.

KEEPS FALSE TEETH

DALLAS (AP)—R. B. Hamilton found one of the windows of his pickup truck broken, a set of lower-jaw false teeth lying on the seat, and a 21-year-old man sleeping beside the truck.

The stranger had no lower teeth. Yesterday the grand jury ruled the evidence of breaking and entering as auto was not enough and freed the man.

All right, said Hamilton, he'd keep the teeth then. And he did.

Suspicion Aids Lengthy Efforts To Find Teller

CLEVELAND (AP)—A woman's suspicion provided the tip which last night enabled the FBI to cut short a months-long effort to find a young bank teller accused of embezzling $98,780 from a Staten Island, N. Y., bank last Sept. 28.

The woman had seen a picture of the teller's wife in a New York newspaper, and last Saturday she thought she saw her bring a pair of men's trousers into a dry cleaning shop in neighboring Lorain County. She was right.

As a result, FBI agents last night arrested John C. Blomer, 24, and his wife Henrietta, 28, in South Amherst (pop. 1,000), 35 miles west of here.

The Blomers were living there under the name of Mr. and Mrs. Charles MacFayick. With them were their three children, aged 4, 2, and 1. They had been there since November, and Blomer was working off and on selling real estate.

H. O. Hawkins, Cleveland FBI chief, said $20,000 was found in a suitcase tucked away over some papers in the house. Previously at Blomer's home in New York, police had recovered $6,500.

Family Of Eight Has House Problem

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A Miami couple with six children and another on the way were looking for an apartment or house today—fast.

They said they had tried 126 times to rent a place since they moved here from St. Louis in January.

"You know these ads in the paper that say children are welcome?" Robert Allen said. "That's okay until they see those six kids of ours, with another on the way. That kills it."

Allen, 34, working as a 95-cent-a-week typewriter repairman, has moved his family into three small shacks offered rent-free by his boss, but the buildings have been condemned.

All eight Allens appeared before the Miami Condominium Board of Appeals, however, and won a three-month delay in tearing down the shacks.

Foodmart Offering Reward For Info

Charles E. Ahrens, manager of the Foodmart which was robbed Sunday night, announced today that $100 reward is being offered for definite information leading to the arrest and conviction of any or all persons involved in the robbery.

The incident was discovered yesterday morning after the intruders chopped a hole in the roof and carried away the cash which was later found. A reported total of $2,500 in cash and checks was said to be missing.

WOMAN GETS COYOTE INSTEAD OF DOG

DALLAS (AP)—About six weeks ago Mrs. Marie Lyons found a shivering, scolding - wet puppy on the street.

The look it gave her, the look of soul and devotion, and watched happily as her new pet tried to make friends with her tiny Chihuahua.

This week Mrs. Lyons took her two dogs to a veterinarian for their rabies vaccinations. It was then she learned her new pet is a wild coyote, not a dog.
