Sales Increase At Market Told

"Sales in volume at the Sanford State Farmers Market showed an increase over the preceding week," Sandy Anderson, manager of the market, said this morning.

Gross sales for the week ending Oct. 29 was $32,981.03. "Leaders last week," said Anderson, "were cucumbers, grapefruit, beans and oranges."

Anderson explained that the "satisfactory prices on oranges and grapefruit raised the valuation in proportion to the number of packages moved off of the market platform."

"Market conditions were satisfactory on most varieties," Anderson reported in his weekly news letter received today.

Celery arrived at the Sanford State Farmers Market on Friday, Oct. 28. "This is the earliest arrival of Florida celery in the history of Sanford and the Sanford State Farmers Market," said the market manager.

Harold H. Kessler Co. was the first receiver of the shipment of celery to be sold here. The celery was grown by A. Duda & Sons at their Zellwood farms.

Anderson reported that the "quality is excellent, with long crisp ribs, and the sizes running heavy to four and six dozen sizes which is not too desirable at this time of the year."

However, they predicted the next harvesting will be heavy to 10 and 15. "There is no doubt by what the trade will take more quickly and satisfactorily to these large sizes," said Anderson.

"We should have a good movement this week of cucumbers, celery, beans, radishes, oranges, grapefruit, and a limited volume of eggplant," Anderson reported.

Lund States Ike's Visit Demonstrates Interest In State

Arnold Lund, Republican candidate for Congress in the Fifth Congressional District declared that President Eisenhower's visit to Florida has demonstrated to the people of this state that he is interested in them and will not forget when he is elected for another four years.

He spoke at a citizens meeting at Casselberry. "I have just received a letter from Ike congratulating me on my efforts in this campaign," Lund stated. "He informed me that the only way, responsibility of government can be fixed, is to have the Administration and the Congress under the same political leadership."

"He informed me that the needs of all Americans can be better served," he said. "By the election of a Republican House of Representatives along with the return of the present administration."

"Several months ago, I help started a movement to get the 'show here' Lund stated. "At that time I thought we might be in danger of losing the State if he didn't. But I believe things look brighter for Ike now than they did four years ago. It is my belief that he will carry this district by a greater vote than in 1952 when he carried it by a vote of 80,000 to 50,000."

"I cannot understand the loyalty of some citizens to Ike," he stated. "They say they are for Ike an will vote for him but they are not interested in whether he gets a Republican Congress or not. Do these same people remember that the Democratic majority thwarted Ike on every turn in the last session of Congress, giving him the presidency without a Republican congress would be like giving him men without guns or guns without bullets in the last world's war."

"Without the support of a Republican Congress," he said, "I will be unable to carry out his program to give the people of this country the legislation it needs to continue our present peace and prosperity."

Man Vanishes From Jail Cell

WILDWOOD, (AP)—A Negro farm laborer, placed in jail for protective custody at his own request after he was accused of insulting a white woman, disappeared under strange circumstances early yesterday.

Jesse Woods, 39, was missing from his jail cell when Police Chief Ed Mullis returned from chasing two speeding cars. There were blood spots on the floor and a bunk was overturned. A day-long search failed to turn up any clues on his disappearance.

First reports of the incident reached The Sanford Herald about 3 o'clock Sunday morning. It was believed at that time that a full-fledged race riot might precipitate from the flaring tempers in and around Wildwood.

Florida Highway Patrol officers were placed on a standby basis and many were called to the scene. And it was reported that sheriffs and sheriff deputies from surrounding counties were summoned to the Central Florida town.

Ammunition for shotguns, rifles and pistols was being sold at a rapid pace at Wildwood's only store open at the time of the incident. However, the sales were discontinued and restricted to those wearing badges of law enforcement agencies.

Gov. LeRoy Collins asked the Florida Sheriff's Bureau and Sheriff M. H. Bowman of Sumter County for a full report and the FBI said it is looking into the case to determine if it has jurisdiction.

Since daylight yesterday all has been quiet in this little central Florida town, 75 miles north of Tampa.

William A. Fordham, president of the Florida conference of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, said at Tampa. "From what I've heard it looks like a lynching. If it was, we definitely will make an investigation."

Steps Taken To Get Treatment Plant Here

By City Manager WARREN E. KNOWLES

Since the construction of a sewage treatment plant is such a vital question to the people of the City of Sanford, it is best that a factual report be given to the public on the steps that are being taken to provide this facility. It is hoped that, in this way, any misunderstandings can be corrected and everyone can discuss the matter in relationship to the action now underway.

In 1934, the City of Sanford, undertook a water and sewer program at an estimated cost of $1,125,000.00. The purpose of this program was to provide a sanitary sewage collection system throughout the city as far as possible. At this time, the Florida State Board of Health requested that a primary sewage treatment plant also be constructed as a part of the program. The City of Sanford did not have the funds needed for this phase in the certificate issue.

On the advice of two separate engineers, the City Commission came to the conclusion that the collection system was of primary importance and that this collection system would remove the sewage from being deposited along the bulkhead.

In March of 1934, representatives of the State Board of Health met with the City Commission to agree on the necessary program. An agreement was made to the satisfaction of both parties in the form of a resolution numbered 830 and was passed on April 12, 1934. This resolution stated very clearly that the construction of a sewage treatment plant as both desirable and expedient and agreed to a commitment that a treatment plant be constructed or under construction by the City of Sanford within three years from April 12, 1934. It was further agreed that the requirement and construction of the plant was based on the financing by an additional revenue certificate issue based "only upon the collateral pledged for the original revenue certificate issue presently authorized."

With the completion of this agreement, the State Board of Health gave their approval to the plans for the sewage collection system. Bills were taken and the work was started. It was then seen that the cost of construction was well over the estimates and that the additional revenue certificate issue would be necessary to offset simply to complete the collection system. The fiscal agents advised the City Commission that the maximum amount that could be secured at that time was $255,000.00. This amount was sold simply to complete the work on the collection system that was already under construction. This was the same issue that was to be used for the treatment plant. The City of Sanford was now faced with having borrowed to its capacity on the utility revenue at that time. However, this did not mean that a treatment plant was abandoned for it was clearly predicted that the normal growth of the utility system would provide additional funds after several years that could service a third issue of revenue certificates.

In August of 1936, the City Commission informed the state Board of Health that it would be approximately four years before here would be a surplus of funds to provide for a treatment plant. In answer to this letter, the State Board of Health sent a letter saying they would not approve any further extensions without a treaty. This same letter was

Big Crowd Expected To Be At Halloween Carnival Tomorrow

Everything is in readiness for tomorrow night's Southside School Halloween Carnival, said Mrs. Velma Mitchell, principal of the school.

Preparations have been underway for weeks, in order to have every booth, every game, every ride, all set for the Halloween crowd.

This year, according to officials of the Southside School P.T.A., the crowds are expected to be bigger and merrier.

Two dance revues will be staged so that everyone will have an opportunity to see the young dancers take part in their Halloween old first fall revue. The first will be at 7:30 p. m. and the second will follow in half an hour.

There will be rides for the children, and plenty of them, a train will be on hand to take them on a tour of the grounds.

The American Legion is furnishing the automotive train, while the Snapping Turtle will be taking other crowds on scenic trips.

The "Pair Tree", Country Store, a booth for pooled prizes, and table arrangements, a Post Office, and other exciting booths will be provided to furnish entertaining shopping for the older folks as well as the young fry.

A hand will be on hand to furnish music under brilliant lights that have already been tested for the event.

Leading off, of course, will be the annual spaghetti supper that will be served beginning at 5:30 p. m. in the school lunch room.

Oviedo Students Pick Cheerleaders; Sisters Preferred

By MARIAN JONES

OVIDIO—When it comes to choosing cheer leaders the students of the Oviedo High School prefer sisters. So it seems from the results of the voting Friday for same.

Numbered among the six finalists are Peggy and Emily, better known as June Fleming; also Melanie and Pat Jackson, Dawn Walker and Betty Stevenson make the six in number.

Peggy, Dawn and Betty are members of the senior class this year and are veterans at the cheer leader game. Melale, a junior, is also a veteran.

June and Pat, both ninth graders, are newcomers to the field. We anticipate great things at the games this year with this lineup of pretty lassies. We know the team will have to win with their backing.

Weather Generally fair through Tuesday, low tonight 58-60.

Gossip Clouds

It seems I've heard rumors about Mr. Laude (Football coach) and Mr. Silvers getting together. Zivis Prasty albums and collections. Could this be true? Evie Kratzer sure does look forward to weekends. Hey gal, could it be cause of a certain Stetson "Rat." Edith Hanson is saving money for a trip to Miami. Edith, who lives in Miami. Virgil Spivey is collecting girls' mailings. You can ask her but she won't admit it! Well in second period there are a couple of eyes looking at that Freshman boy Tommy Archer. Could it be Barbara Thomas? I think Nick Erickson and Faye would make a cute couple but I think they had the same idea. Good luck! Well it seems like Judy Herton just can't get off the subject of Jerry Jones.

Who is that boy Ellen P. has been teasing over. Is it Dickie K? I wonder why Jean Southward always comes out of home so sick. Poor Jean, she is just learning how to eat her own cooking. UGH!

When football season comes Johnny R. Hled starts dreaming of football, and girls are just a passing fancy. Why doesn't some girl take the hint. Who is that little freshman gal who's tried to hook that cute Earl Summerall. Could it be Linda H? Come on "Handsome" give her a break.

Duke, what was it you were looking for in Kay's notebook? Could it have been—D. S. I hear several of your friends told you several different things. Is that right? Who is that Freshman girl floating around on clouds because she

Anthony's Funeral Oration Translated To Modern Terms

(With apologies to the Lord from California) Hipsters, Filibusters, and all cats, hand me your lobes, I have come to plant Caesar, not to dig him. The bad boys squares blow fingers after they is cut out, but the cool quarters is often left undug. So let's leave Caesar cold. The cool Brutus has pitched you that Caesar was a clunk, and if this is the right pitch it was a rough goof and Caesar has met it. In this pad, since cool Brutus and the gang is stepped out, because Brutus is a cool cat, and I dig the gang the most, I'm here to line you about Caesar's planting. He, I dig the most, a cool daddo to me, but Brutus says he was a sube and Brutus is groovy. He jerked many chicks and squares to this pad, and poured the haul into our pockets, and is this cat an lck? When the cats have howled, Caesar has spilled over, a catty cube should be picking, but Brutus said he was a cut out lck, and Brutus is a daddio to all you cats. We were going to give Caesar the topper, but he hung it three times, was this a cube? I dug the line Brutus let, but I am to set up my line too, Caesar was a cool cat to all ones, but now he is cut out, and you tag with Brutus' gang. Caesar the head of this district, is now cut out and no cat will dig him now. If I could cause a ball under your thatches, I would be a square to Brutus, who is a daddio to all you cats. But now Caesar's loot is to be divided up, so all you cats give an ear. When you hear this cat's pitch you will dig him the most. After you get your cut go shln Brutus' gang.

BY ANGELO COMPAIN I consider myself as thoroughly versed on the subject of teachers as the leading expert in the nation thinks he is on the behavior of his uninhibited and sophisticated teenagers — which is, I assure you, far from any small degree at all. Nonetheless, since we delinquent, irresponsible, and intolerable "overgrown children" — in such matter are we defined — are the center of all attention at "psychiatrist" reunions — bedlam, I'm sure — I would think it only fitting and unmistakably proper that one of us should try — and I do mean try to decompose and analyze a haphazard specimen commonly referred to as "teacher," "instructor," "pedagogue," and various other terms denoting the exalted and conduct too embarrassing to mention.

A fellow-executioner has once described a teacher during exams as a father, mother, pal, confessor, advisor, and expert. This, of course, is a prejudicial and virtual definition of the species; for, were it not, we wouldn't have schools from lack of teachers. It must be terrible to be a teacher. Our specimen of teacher must be unaffected by failures, heartless and deadly when grading, incapable of reaching his boiling temperature, and cunning and crafty at asking trick questions. What a destiny! How could he bear it?

Laziness is an evil to be despised by all members of the species. Our specimen-teacher regards laziness as a sign of faltering in his strict pedagogical technique. When an instructor becomes in the impossible way lenient, his, then, time to introduce him to an intern, at the possibility of which our specimen-teacher shudders.

Our specimen, out of social need, must be friendly, but not intimately acquainted, with the students or their immediate families. He must be helpful, but not useful, at moments of greatest gravity. That is, best time, he must be humorous but not jovial; he must be respected, but not venerated.

The most dreadful fate a teacher can suffer is the event of being unable to answer a question, at which point our specimen-teacher frantically would evade the question with such profanity that it becomes obvious to the students that he is merely quibbling. The teacher may resort to various forms and anecdotes, for examples and lectures, most irrelevant to the question asked. At the climax of such a magnificent monologue, the wise student should answer with surprised amazement of his ignorance, "Oh, I see!"

Our specimen-teacher is indeed a difficult subject to understand; he is generally quite unpredictable. However, it is a known fact that when a student disputes the word of his instructor and the instructor, in his turn, challenges the student's argument, the student, right or wrong, should automatically, apologize, and, promptly, devour humble pie.

Apparently, what our specimen-teacher seems to abhor most is the student who uses cold etiquette to the utmost and frozen flattery to its greatest. The teacher must never, under any circumstances, make this detestation noticeable, but reply in even colder terms of etiquette and flattery.

It is safe to assert, however, despite his human imperfections, that, between man and superman, our specimen-teacher's final goal is the latter. Believe me, you teachers all who read this, I am definitely not trying to make your species extinct by this brief and partial attempt at analysis of your character, virtuous and fault-

Spooks, Goblins Are Here Again

BY WANDA GILBERT The night is dark and cool. A house that is said to be haunted stands in the shadow of an old dead tree; the wind is howling raising the bats difficultly with their flying. A shadow creeps along the broken rail fence. It's a cat; could it belong to a witch? Maybe so. I thought I saw one with a broomstick fly across the sky.

Yes, it's October 31. On this night Saman the lord of the dead calls forth hosts of evil spirits; witches collect their black cats for the rides across the sky. One night in the year everyone is afraid of spooks and goblins.

On the fun side, little children with wide eyes, attend carnivals and go trick-or-treating dressed as ghosts, skeletons, and princesses. Everyone's imagination is stretched to the fullest extent as it should be.

Fortune tellers have their light. Lovers and the harvest moon shining over a hay field and pumpkins round out that night usually never forgotten.

It's a time for parties which always include apple-bobbing contests. Gaiety is found where clouds of doubt and fear once stood.

Have a good time. Keep in the spirit. If you don't the goblins will get you. There goes that witch again. She's saying something. I think she's wishing everyone a "spooky Halloween."

Letter To Editor

Why can't we have the first day of duck season off? It has been the practice in the previous years. So we see no reason why it should be changed now.

Tell me, isn't it better to let the boys out the first day than to have them skip school and go anyway? If the boys go without permission then they stand the chance of being expelled, and therefore missing lot of valuable school work. They might not have missed this work if they had been allowed the first day off. Therefore, we ask you on behalf of the other duck hunters of Seminole High School to think it over very carefully before making your decision.

Yours truly,

SHS 'Straight A' Students Revealed

An "A" in the newly-adopted grading system means that a student has done excellent work in a subject. It is not an easy mark to make. An "A" exemplifies careful and courteous attention to classroom lectures plus a lot of outside work in careful study and the doing of homework assignments. It denotes a rigorous self-discipline on the part of the student. Each student should be proud of an "A" if he received one, and all of us, students and faculty alike, should be proud of the following students who received "A's" on all subjects including citizenship.

This is an exclusive "club," and these students are preparing for the future with an exceptional amount of hard work today. It is with pride, respect, and admiration that we salute the following straight A students: Senior girls, Betty Carpenter, Nancy Cash, Nan Cushing, and Gail Smith. Junior boys, Angelo Compain, Sophomore girls, Audrey Bolger, Brenda Elliott. Freshman girls, Nancy Butler, Janet Glenn, Dolores Hargreave and Bobbie Munson.

Wayne Johnson is a new addition to the Junior class. He comes to S. H. S. from Baltimore Md., where he lived until he moved to Florida. He played a game that we in Florida aren't very familiar with, called "soccer." Wayne says that he likes Florida's weather lots better than Maryland's because, and I quote, "it's freer-in' up there."

Half-Time Shows Require Much Preparation, Work

A lot of preparation is gone into making the spectacular shows a success, especially the ones requiring props. The show Friday night, with the theme of "Harvest Time" needed haystacks and trees. Getting the haystacks was a chore in itself. Several of the band members and Mr. Cowley went out and cut bamboo. It was a sight seeing them struggle with the cumbersome poles; trying their best to tie them in such a way that they would at least resemble haystacks, no matter how slight.

Pete Rans, Rickie Roth and Sally Wallace did a terrific job in sticking the colorful leaves on the bare trees, they were modern day Jack Frosts. I'm sure they didn't mind the task. The props were completed, but the rest of us were struggling to memorize music, as our band, never goes out on the field with music.

The majorettes were very excited because of the novel idea of twirling flags. They worked hard before and after school invariably getting the flags wound on their batons, but soon all difficulties were ironed out. After a lot of hard work and morning drills, the show was performed with tremendous success, and already the band and pep club have begun practicing another spectacular.

SHS; Proud Of Pep Club, Band Shows

With their white skirts and orange sweaters contrasting with the trousers and orange and black jackets of the band, the Pep Club made a colorful picture as they marched onto the Winter Park field for one of their very good half-time shows.

For the Wild Cats home people, the Pep Club and Band got into the fall season combined with the near Halloween.

After the Pep Club and Band had finished with their traditional "Fanfare," they marched into a half moon position where the band played "Harvest Moon."

When the band finished playing, the Band and Pep Club, with a lot of excitement and yelling went into an old fashioned square dance, dancing to the tune of that old song "Turkey In The Straw."

After the square dance was over they went into their traditional letter "S." The band played the school song while the Pep Club added effects with their pom-poms. After that the band and Pep Club marched off the field.

We want to take this opportunity to thank Mr. Ernest Cowley and Miss Robn for the encouragement and ideas which they both gave to the Band and Pep Club to make the shows the great shows they are.

Initiation Held By FFA Chapter

The Seminole Chapter held its initiation on Green Hands last week. The following boys were initiated: Arthur Blanton, Glenn Spivey, Bruce Crucker, Bobby Thompson, Larry Mann, Billy Alford, Jimmy Williams, Johnny Jacobs, Bill Elliott, Tommy Sparks, Charles Benham, Burke Winn, Raymond Stranes, Stanley Stevens, Thomas McWaters and Billy Teslo.

Many stunts were played on the boys and they seemed to enjoy it very much. The officers and other members of the Chapter participated in the initiation. Ben Wigline and Randall Priest were there to assist Mr. West in maintaining order. The initiation turned out to be a great success.

Education Dept. Reveals Guide To Help Teachers

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Department of Education has made public a work guide designed to assist Florida public school teachers in developing the classroom the moral and spiritual principles as when the United States was founded.

The guide is the result of the work of a 21-man committee of educators, including teachers from kindergarten through the universities. It was appointed a year ago by State Senator Tom Thomas D. Latta.

Dr. Eugene Joyce, principal of the University School, Florida State University, is committee chairman.

The guide is described as "a new beginning in Florida to attempt to define the appropriate and acceptable role and function of the public school . . . in the realm of moral and spiritual training."

It is not a textbook, but offers suggestions how teachers may bring moral and spiritual precepts into regular school work.

The guide sets forth five statements which it terms "fundamental in our nation's moral and spiritual foundations." They are:

1. Man is a spiritual being of dignity and worth by virtue of the fact that his origin and destiny is in God, his creator.

2. As a spiritual being of dignity and worth, man is to be treated as an end in himself and is not to be exploited to serve the ends of others.

3. As a person of dignity and worth, man should develop self-respect and should endeavor to develop those capacities which are unique to him as an individual. He should not permit his unique individuality to be submerged or unduly threatened by the conformist pressures of society.

4. As a person of dignity and worth, men should recognize and respect these same qualities in his fellowmen and should be responsible for promoting their general welfare.

The guide said, "The committee believes that no matter what a teacher is teaching he should be scrupulously careful to show respect for individual pupil in the classroom."

The guide offers what it calls five safeguards. These are:

1. No teacher should use the classroom as a means of proselytizing students of any particular faith.

2. The atmosphere of the classroom should be such that no student feels rejected because of his beliefs or disabilities.

3. If a student asks questions which require theological interpretation, the teacher should refer the pupil to a priest, rabbi or minister of the student's particular faith.

4. Teachers should deal with moral and spiritual subjects as they arise as an integral part of the classroom instruction and experiences, and in dealing with these subjects the instructor should avoid giving any sectarian slant to the instruction.

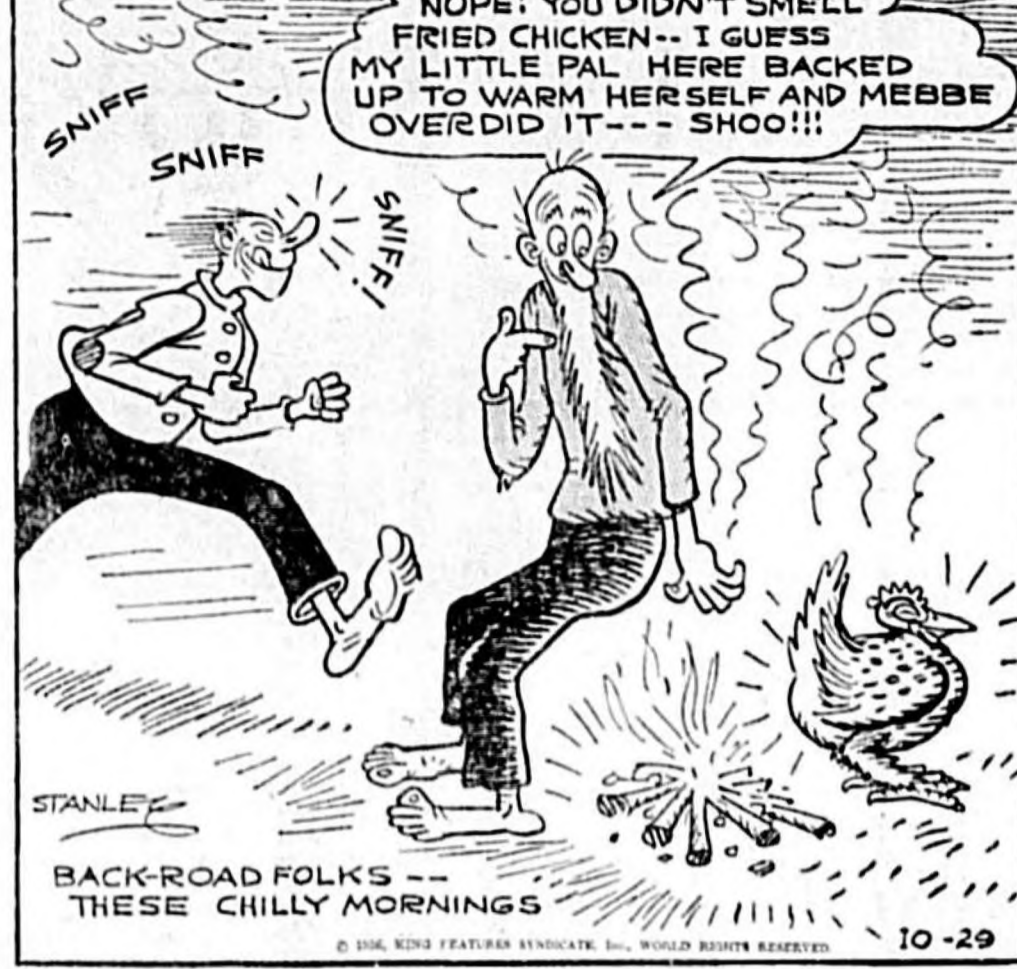

5. In teaching moral and spiritual foundations sound educational principles should be followed. A teacher should include only those types of learning experiences appropriate to the development level of the students of each class.

As a further safeguard the guide recommends that local advisory committees be set up to give local guidance "even more definitive" teachers than is possible at the state level.

BROOKLYN'S Dodgers have played many roles in baseball but Don Larsen, the Yankee's perfect game pitcher, is the first fellow to turn 'em into just so much scenery for the World Series' most dramatic show.

Ten Dodgers went to bat and were mowed down even faster than were those mythical Ten Little Indians of nursery lore.

The Brooklyn bunch had one thing to be thankful for—they did come out of that game alive.

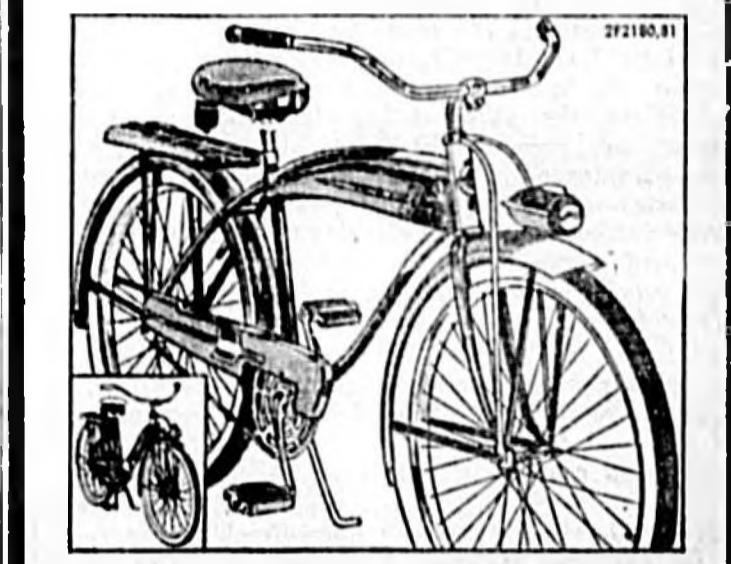

British scientists are starting a search for the $4 million treasure of King John which disappeared 710 years ago. Four million bucks—that's still a fair amount of spending money even in these high-priced days.

Since King John's treasure vanished in 1216 it does seem sort of futile to look for finger prints.

Manager of an English theater complains there's a fair amount of performers for his show. Appears he's just barely getting by.

Seminole County Area Would Be Advantageous Spot For Airport

In this column on July 30 of this year, we suggested that a new airport facility for Central Florida be built to accommodate the growing industrial, commercial, tourist, and air freight demand.

We also suggested that the new facility be constructed at a more central location, perhaps between Sanford and Orlando, where more people, more industries, more freight could use the facilities to a greater advantage.

If the editorial were reread, one would also find that we suggested that a greater number of airlines would find their way into Central Florida with a larger and more modern airport with 15,000 foot runways accessible from a greater number of highways and central Florida cities.

We were contradicted, so it seems, at an early date. And were reminded that no larger facilities were necessary — that the present airport could take care of the air travel and use demand for years to come. This, we knew, was not so.

Now, the suggestions made by The Sanford Herald are being followed. However, we earnestly believe that a new airport to accommodate the mushrooming industrial and military area, should be placed at a more advantageous spot, away from crowded areas — away from intertwining and complex street and highway systems — and at a spot where the facility would serve more people, more industry, more freight shipment, and more military personnel.

Sanford and Seminole County is growing quickly into more than a prominent stage, for recent releases stated that something should be done quickly "before a neighboring community county gets ahead of us."

It isn't the thought of The Sanford Herald to get ahead of anybody. We have never suggested that one community or one area be gagged for the benefit of another. We suggest that the airport for Central Florida be placed at an advantageous location so that "it would serve more people, and more industry, and more freight demand, even more tourists and more military personnel."

Sanford is on the verge of a tide of growth that will bring the population of the now popular city to a mere 50 to 60 thousand citizens. That isn't just "puppy talk" — it is facts that have been projected by experts who know what they are doing. Seminole County will grow presentage-wise — in every section.

And before we know it there will be a docks and terminals located on the St. Johns River at Sanford — this is another fact that we must face and face quickly.

This terminal will make it necessary that we have at our disposal, and not for the exclusive use of the City, but for the use of all Central Florida, an airport that will

A covered dish supper was held Wednesday night at the First Baptist Church in honor of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Balg upon their return from touring the United States for the past year.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoshner of Michigan have returned to their home here after spending the summer months at their home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Herose Day have returned home after spending awhile in New Smyrna Beach.

Mrs. W. L. Alderman has returned home after spending some time in Georgia with her nephew, Oscar Lester.

Philip Bauer has returned home after spending a few days in Maitland with Mrs. Fred Ballard.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Harper have as their guests for a few days, Mrs. Harper's son, Robert Phillips who is on leave from the U. S. Air Force.

readily serve and take care of the actual demand.

It is certainly right — and very true — that 15,000 foot runways be provided for modern planes that will soon be put into use by the airlines. This was brought out on July 30 in our editorial.

Frankly, the air travel industry is not being underestimated — those who must plan and develop for the airlines haven't shouldered the responsibility in a "forward look" to what is needed in the immediate future.

We are thinking, not only in terms of what we will need five and ten years from now, but also at the plain facts in what we need today.

The present facilities that seem to be serving, in a small way, the air travel demands of the central Florida area, must be expanded to meet the growing popularity of air travel — and Sanford, along with Seminole County can't be left out of the picture.

We believe that one of the strongest planning boards that has ever been formed in Seminole County should be formed and appointed now to take care of this pressing problem that is before the community now. Our needs are present not forecast.

It is strongly possible that the planning board which has been formed to serve one community and one community alone should be one formed from a two-county or two-county group of aviation enthusiasts — not from just a single community who plan for themselves alone and for their own accommodation.

An airport for Central Florida that will bring the major airlines — all of them too — into this area is a serious thing.

We are sure that the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will take an active and immediate part in planning the facilities that are needed here — and not miles away in the middle of a web of city streets, highways, limited access thoroughways and expressways — but in the center of the demand for air travel and air freight service.

An airport for Central Florida is another one of the public service facilities that should go to the top of the list parallel with other needs that are important in the creating of a major city in the network of Florida's booming centers.

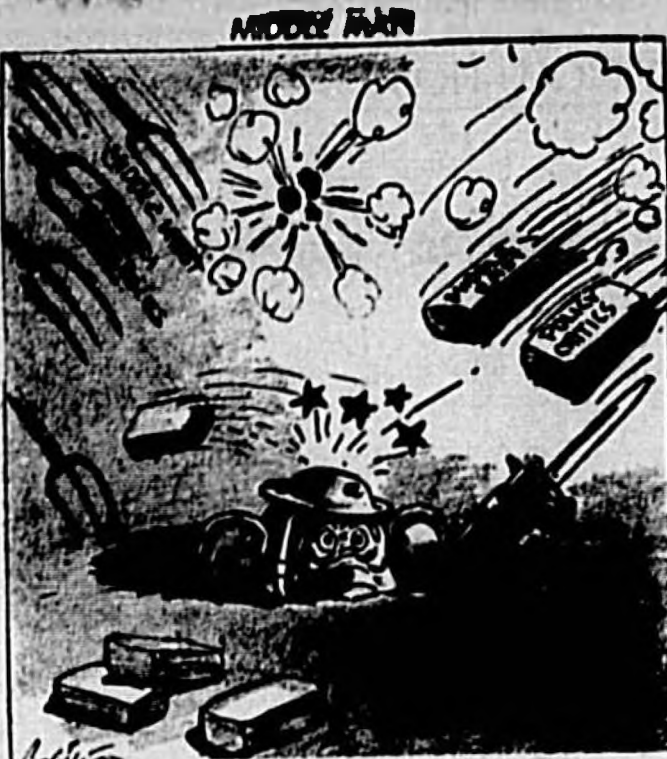

No one can discount the growth of Sanford and Seminole County — for the rate of growth is at such a high percentage that one could not, with accuracy, predict what the top figure might be in years to come.

We have become Navy-minded, industry minded, road-minded, commerce-minded, town-minded, and we MUST include air travel-minded, too.

The Sanford Herald is not going to be so selfish to say that we should work as fast as possible so that another community or county might not get ahead of us. Absolutely not — but we should work as hard, as fast, as complete, and as solidly as possible toward securing an airport for all of the principal airlines at a location where it would serve as many people as possible and as many communities as possible.

We earnestly believe that Seminole County, between Sanford and Orlando, would provide the location that would serve more people than any other site that could be selected.

Now is the time for leading citizens, combined with the efforts of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the City of Casselberry, the City of Longwood, the City of Altamonte Springs, the City of Oviedo, the community of De Bary, Orange City and the City of Deland in locating the airport where it will be more desirable and will benefit the greater number of people.

VOTERS OF SEMINOLE COUNTY

The undersigned Democratic nominees for Seminole County public offices in the General Election on November 6, 1956, urge the voters to support the Democratic Party on the local, state and national level.

It is our belief that only through the election of a Democratic Congress and a Democratic administration can we maintain a voice in national affairs and reflect our views in government.

Our own United States Senators and Representatives from Florida, together with their colleagues from our neighboring states, occupy important chairmanships and positions on the influential committees of Congress. They likewise hold high positions within our own Democratic Party.

Their voices, speaking for us as our representatives, can best be heard in Washington by the party of which they are members — the Democratic Party.

Senators Holland and Smathers, Governor Collins, Congressman Herlong and our six other Democratic Florida Congressmen, have endorsed the nominees for the Democratic Party. We join them in urging the election of a Democratic administration and a Democratic Congress in November. In this way, and in this way only, do we have a chance to make our voices heard.

- DOUGLAS STENSTROM for State Senator, 37th District
- MACK N. CLEVELAND, JR. for State Representative Seminole County
- GORDON V. FREDERICK for State Representative, Seminole County

KRODLATZ IMPROVES NAVY RECORD

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — Ed. Erdlatz is now in his seventh year as Navy's football coach.

When he came here in 1950, the U. S. Naval Academy team had won but five games in four years. The Middies had lost 20 games in that period and tied three.

Under Erdlatz, Navy shows 29 victories, 21 setbacks and five ties in six seasons. However, 24 of those wins came in the last four years.

Ed. Erdlatz ran his golf earnings for 1956 to $72,855 following his 200,000 victory in the Tam O' Shanter world championship in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cader Hart had as their weekend guests, Mrs. Hart's sister, Mrs. Edythe Miller and granddaughter, Stephanie Simmons of Sarasota; her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McKullen of Safety Harbor; and Dr. and Mrs. Melvin Simmons of Sarasota. Dr. Simmons had been attending the State Urological Convention at the Langford Hotel, in Winter Park.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Grant had as their recent guests, Mrs. Grant's sister, Mrs. Lois McKinney and daughter Myrna and Morrison Price of Jacksonville.

Sue Stibbs, H. G. Koch Jr. Wed In Candlelight Service

Miss Sue Alice Stibbs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Willis Stibbs, DeLand, and Harry George Koch Jr., son of Mrs. Cecilia Sanchioli of Miami, and Capt. H. G. Koch, of New Orleans, La., were joined in marriage Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in the First Christian Church in DeLand.

The Rev. Loren A. Dutton officiated at the candlelight, double-ring service, which was performed against a background of large baskets of mums and gladioli and potted palms, with the ten seven-branched candelabra shedding a soft glow over the scene. The family party were distinguished by large satin bows.

Miss Carolyn Peters, of St. Petersburg, soloist, sang "Through the Years" and "Because" and was accompanied by Miss Mary Ross Anderson, of Sanford, organist, who also played the traditional wedding marches and other nuptial music. Miss Peters and Miss Anderson are Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority sisters of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white tulle gown of layers of nylon tulle over taffeta. The bouffant skirt featured appliques of hand-embroidered chintilly lace and sequins with seed pearls. A jacket of chintilly lace was worn over the strapless bodice. She wore white length mitts of tulle, and her finger tip veil, also of nylon tulle, fell from a band of white tulle, edged in pearls. She carried a crescent-shaped cascade of white roses.

Miss Louise Hall, of Sanford, maid of honor, wore a rose-colored cocktail length dress of pure silk. It featured a batwing neckline, ending in a deep "V" in back. The torso waistline was emphasized by clusters of pearls. She wore a pale pink band of velvet with a half veil, and carried a crescent shaped arrangement of pale pink anemones.

Best man was Charles E. Jolley, of DeLand, and the ushers, all Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity brothers of the groom, were John Todd, Sanford, John McEwan, DeLand, John Haeberly, Palm Bay, and John Oltham, Evansville, Ind.

Mrs. Stibbs chose for her daughter's wedding, a dress of teal blue tulle cut on princess lines, with matching velvet hat and black accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Sanchioli, mother of the groom, was attired in a green and black print dress, worn with black accessories and an orchid corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlors, which were decorated with baskets of mums and gladioli and potted palms.

The bride's table was covered with an imported Italian cutwork cloth centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with wedding bells. On either side of the cake were silver candelabra and punch served from a sportling crystal punch bowl.

Mrs. William Walker, DeLand, kept the bride's book and serving at the reception were Miss Arlene Blaque, DeLand, Miss Rosemary Bullis, Orlando, Miss Louise

Girls Learn Rules For Volleyball; Play Tournament

BY PENNY MARION

Here it is basketball time for the girls of S. H. S. but that is not my topic (for this column). What I want to talk about is volleyball.

The girls first started with explanations concerning the rules and regulations from our patient Miss Robn. Of course we didn't like that because we wanted to get busy and play. Finally we did and after a week or two of practice, we started tournament. As each class was divided into squads, they played each other to see who would be the winner and the one to play the winning squad of another class for the semi-finals.

Those captains of the winning squads playing in the semi-finals are Penny Marion of second period and Frances Stanley of sixth period. To these two teams playing Tuesday "Good luck and may the best team win."

Smart, Draper, N. C. Miss Eileen Brammer, DeLand, Miss Margaret Crosby, DeLand, and Mrs. James Batts, DeLand.

Attending the wedding from Sanford were Mrs. C. A. Anderson Jr., Mrs. Vernon Davis, Mrs. J. C. Stetell, Mrs. Mary Prichard, Mrs. William Walker, Mrs. Volie Williams, and half the students from Miss Stibbs' second grade class.

For her going away outfit Mrs. Koch chose a royal blue velvet sheath dress, fashioned with an empire waistline, and worn with a matching lace jacket, featuring a biseau neckline and velvet buttons down the back. This was set off by black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

After a brief honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination, Mr. and Mrs. Koch will make their home on E. Kentucky Ave. in DeLand.

The new Mrs. Koch got her B. A. Degree from Stetson University last June, where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha Social Sorority. She is on the faculty at Southside Primary School in Sanford.

Mr. Koch is a student of Stetson University's School of Business Administration, where he is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Social Fraternity.

Here's A Test Sure To Prove If Lover Is True

GAINESVILLE—Girls, if you want to find out if your boyfriend is true, then Halloween is the day to do it!

According to an old Irish myth, says Miss Felle W. Clark, assistant in the library at the University of Florida, just put three beans upon the hearth on the eve of Oct. 31. Name the beans after your lover. If a bean cracks or jumps, he will prove untrue, but if it begins to blaze or burn, he has a high regard for you. If the beans named after you and your lover burn together, then he is your future husband.

"This is only one of the many international tales about Halloween," says Miss Clark, "and quite different they are from the original meaning of the celebration."

All Halloween's Eve or hallowe'en or hallowe'en, it was probably a religious holiday, but it now celebrated throughout Europe, the British Isles, and the United States as an evening surrounded by the mystery of ghosts, hobgoblins, and witches.

Origin of the festival is believed to be found in the rites of the ancient Druids and the early Romans, says Miss Clark. The Druids believed that on that night the great lord of death, Saman, called together all the wicked souls that had been condemned during the past year, to inhabit the bodies of animals. The peasants gathered together to keep a sharp lookout, and built huge bonfires to ward off these evil spirits.

The Romans celebrated in honor of Pomona, the old Italian goddess of the fruit of the trees. At that festival, nuts and apples were roasted over big fires. Hence the present-day custom of apple bobbing still remains.

Through the years, the mystical aspect developed from the feast, dancing and story-telling around the fires. But it took the Irish to develop the romantic story, for what would be more natural on a mystic evening such as this, than the prophecy of love affairs?

So, if all other tests prove worthless, try eating an apple in front of a mirror on Oct. 31 and watch for the reflection of your future spouse to appear.

Guess that's all for today, but I'll be home, and can't get out to dredge up the news—so please call me and give me the latest. Also the coffee pot is always on "drop" by if you have a chance.

Parkers Blank Out Seminoles 20-0

Winter Park's Homecoming and debut into the Orange Belt Conference this season was marred only by an occasional mist as the Parkers blanked out the Seminoles 20-0 at Harper Shepard Field in Winter Park Friday night.

The Parker's speed and deception kept the Seminoles rocked back on their heels all night, as Winter Park tallied in every quarter but the fourth and penetrated beyond the Seminoles 10 yard marker on two other occasions.

Early in the first quarter Seminoles quarterback Bob Johnson fumbled on his own 43-Jay Bergman and Billy Howell sparked a drive for the Parkers that carried to the six-inch line before the brilliant defensive play of Eddie "The Tiger" Harbour and Branley "Choo-Choo" Schirard, plus a five yard penalty, moved the ball back to the Seminoles six. Parker halfback Jim Taylor, attempting the smooth fake that had allowed Bergman to go to the six inch line, was chilled by Schirard as the three, jarring into the ball, and the Seminoles recovered.

Bergman, making masterful plays all evening, handed off to Howell so perfectly that even the official was fooled. When Bill Tyre cracked through to drop Bergman the official thought the play with the whistle while Howell was rambling around light and for some 65 yards. But three plays later both Bergman and Howell redeemed themselves, as Howell slipped behind Sanford safetyman Jim Warner to latch onto a Bergman pass and go the remaining of the 61 yards for paydirt.

In the second quarter the Parkers drove 70 yards for their second tally. With a first and goal at the Seminoles one-yard line, Ken Plante had little trouble making the tally. Jim Taylor made his first successful conversion of the evening, and the half-time spectacle was performed before the confident homecoming fans as the Parkers led 13-0.

On the second half opening kickoff, Warner fumbled on his own 34 to set up the third Parker score. Winter Park's John Jane, on three successive carries, led the Parkers to the Seminoles 11 yard line, where Harman relieved Jane of his duties and plunged for the 11 yards and paydirt on the next play. Taylor again booted true, and the Parkers had themselves their fifth victory of the season.

The Seminoles made their deepest penetration of the evening in the second quarter. Starting on their own 35 yard line the Seminoles went on the move, with Schirard, Johnson, and Johnny Williams, and Warner sparking the attack. Schirard moved the ball to the 45 yard line, and on the next play Johnson passed to Williams, who snagged the aerial, crossed the mid-field straddled to the 18 before he was brought down. Then, on the next play, Warner picked up a first down for the Seminoles by moving the ball to the Parker's eight. Two plays later the drive chilled as Johnson fired a short aerial to the left side and Howell intercepted for Winter Park.

In the fading minutes of the game the Parkers again went on the move, but this time they were contained by the Seminoles defense. Bergman, on a roll out play around left and rambling for 25 yards before being brought down by Warner on the 10 yard line. At the 10 the defensive unit dug in and held for downs, and the game ended with the Seminoles going to the air in a desperate attempt to get into the scoring column. It was the first time the Seminoles were blanked out this season.

Progress Reports Heard At Peanut Bowl Meeting

Jim Buckler called a meeting of Peanut Bowl Chairman and interested parties at 7:30 on October 25. The purpose of this meeting was for each chairman to make a progress report.

Mrs. R. L. Parker, ticket chairman, reported that tickets were purchased and sales will begin immediately. J. T. Baggerly and Lee Samuels are to handle the ticket sales in the downtown area. No child will be allowed to sell tickets in this area. The Room Mothers have been given tickets for the children to sell and they will release their tickets on November 2.

Dan Wright, publicity chairman, reported that he has obtained banners which will be repainted and strung across streets down town. He also suggested a television interview with Don McAllister to be arranged on December 4.

Buckler gave a short description of the half time ceremonies which are to take place, and announced that Dick Alken will have a portable public address system on the field to announce the game and half time proceedings. Elmer Wontney, the concession chairman, was absent, due to the illness of his son, but a vote of confidence was given to him so that he could make all the necessary arrangements for the peanut and popcorn sales.

Approximately twenty interested persons attended this meeting and over 90 percent of the tickets for the defensive unit, kept the Seminoles respectable in the half game.

Lyman 11 Smothered By Terriers 30-0

The Titusville Terriers broke a close game wide open with a final stanza scoring spree Friday night in Titusville to smother Lyman 30-0.

Terrier Roy Puckett was the fire-ball for the Titusville team as he scored twice, intercepted two Greyhound aerials, and set-up two other touchdowns.

The outmanned Greyhounds held the Terriers scoreless for the first quarter and allowed the Terriers only one TD per quarter in the second and third stanzas before they gave out of gas and Titusville ran wild.

In the second stanza Puckett returned a Greyhound punt in Lyman's own 15, and after an exchange of fumbles near the Greyhound goal, Puckett finally bulldozed over from four yards out.

On the first play of the second half Lyman again fumbled, and the Terriers recovered to set up the second tally. Puckett finally fumbled over from four yards out.

Favored Panthers Lose Friday's Tilt To Palatka 36-6

The Crooms Academy Panthers, after opening the season with a bang, hit the skids Friday night with a 36-6 rout by Palatka. The Panthers were favored two touchdowns.

Last week the highly favored Panthers were tied by Hungerford of Winter Park 6-6. Head mentor Joe Fair attributed the tie to overconfidence on the part of the staff and players and the high spirits of the Winter Park team.

As yet there have been no statements by either Crooms Academy or coach Fair concerning the expected score Friday night in Palatka.

Adults Offered Education Course

There is now being offered in Seminole County several educational courses for adults who desire to further their education, either in the art or academic field.

Adult education courses currently being offered are in the field of general education, ceramics and exploratory art.

The general education course gives an adult an opportunity either to complete their high school education or take individual subjects that will help them to become better employees or citizens of our country. There are approximately thirty adults now taking this course and there is room for additional enrollments. Herold Kenbach is teaching elementary subjects and Edward Christensen is teaching the secondary subjects.

Instruction is usually given on an individual basis. This course is offered every Monday and Tuesday night from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. at the Seminole High School.

The ceramics course has proven to be popular for both men and women. Over fifty adults have registered for the course which is taught on Tuesday and Wednesday nights from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. The exploratory art course, just recently started this year, has eighteen women registered and is offered only on Thursday night from 7:00 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. Both of these courses are held in the art room at Seminole High School and the instructor is Joseph Mathieux.

The adult education courses are offered through the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction and the State Department of Education. A $1.00 registration fee is charged for all of the adult education courses and each student pays for their own materials. The adult education program is under the supervision of Fred C. Murray, Director of Adult & Vocational Education. Further information on these courses can be had by either calling 665 or contacting the above teachers at Seminole High School.

New Cubs Inducted Into Enterprise Den At Ceremonies

By MARY FOWLER
DE BARY—Out into the camp fire's flickering light strode Akela, great warrior of the De Bary Braves, to induct a nearby wigwam of young deputies into den four of Enterprise. In the quiet of the column rises the new densters gave attention to the word of chief Akela, whose pointed visage and awesome feather head dress spelled out adventure to their active minds.

Before this, there had been a sumptuous picnic supper, at the civic center committee by den three, with Mrs. Wells-Loy Lorbert in charge. Following the ceremony there was a puppet show that brought down the house, so fanciful and entertaining the puppetry, so interesting the designs wrought by the Webelos, those sadks, bears and lions lately graduated from the De Bary dens.

Then came the flag ceremony by some of den three who are striving for a Lion award and the meeting closed with a grand bowl and living circle around blanket robed chief Akela.

Trial Is Wednesday For 3 Men Charged With Cattle Theft

The trial of three Seminole County white men charged with feloniously stealing cattle, will be held in Volusia County Circuit Court Wednesday morning at 9 a. m.

The alleged cattle stealing took place on Sunday, Sept. 17 at "22 Ranch" in Volusia County.

Arrest of the men involved in the cattle stealing came when Capt. Arnold Williams of the Sanford Police Department arrested one man for "driving while intoxicated" and took two others into custody following an examination of the car in which the men were riding.

The trial will be heard before Judge Wingfield's court.

Stolen Car Found In Wooded Section

Speculation ran high yesterday when an abandoned 1935 Packard sedan bearing an Orange County license plate was found completely burned shortly after noon in a wooded section of Seminole County.

The Rev. A. J. Petty said that he was taking a walk in the woods "to pray" when he came across the burned automobile shortly after noon Sunday. He notified the Seminole County Sheriff's office.

The Rev. Petty said that earlier in the week, possibly on Tuesday or Wednesday night, both he and his wife heard shots fired that could have come from the vicinity of the automobile. "We did not know from what direction the shots were fired. We heard them sometime around midnight," he said.

Deputy Sheriff Evans, investigating the burned car found that it was left in one scrub about half mile south of State Road 46 near Paola.

The automobile was completely burned with the fire, in all probability, starting from inside the car. Two ignition switch keys were in the car when found.

A preponderance of burned and charred paper was found inside the car leading to the suspicion that the automobile had been set fire.

Deputy Sheriff Evans found that the car had been stolen from DeLand and was registered in the name of Wyland Harris, 2812 Hass Lake Blvd., DeLand.

Deputy Sheriff Evans said that the Packard Clipper was stolen in DeLand and that the car was abandoned in the wooded area shortly after the rains since tire marks were still in good condition.

"Apparently," he said, "someone else followed the car into the woods by auto and brought the driver of the Packard out after the car was set fire."

County Vocational Teachers Attend Extension Course

There are twelve Seminole County Vocational Teachers attending the University of Florida Extension Course called "Teaching Methods."

The classes are being held every Monday and Tuesday afternoon from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. in the board room of the Seminole County School Administration Building. The class is being taught for nine weeks and two college credits are given for completion of course. Jay Morrison, recent newcomer to the University of Florida teaching staff, has charge of the instruction.

Those vocational teachers registered for the course and their subjects taught are Gladys Hall, principal and teacher of business education, Ruby Simpson, business education, Mary George, business education, Irene Stafford, commercial sewing, Vernon Hardin, railroad engineer and fireman, William Cagle, railroad engineer and fireman, Phil Meeks, railroad trainman, J. H. Lee Jr., railroad trainman, Theo Cobb, railroad telegraphy and agents, Bronial Croel, railroad telegraphy

Man Vanishes

afternoon at a grocery store, charged with disorderly conduct and drunkenness. Police Chief Mullis said he "insulted a white woman."

David Hutto, a clerk at the store, quoted Woods as saying "Hello there, baby" to Miss Mary Evelyn Hill, school teacher. She was not available for comment.

Woods was released on bond about midnight and left with his father MacArthur Woods and a brother. Soon they returned and Jesse Woods asked to be allowed to stay in the jail, saying some white men in cars had followed them and he was afraid.

About an hour later Patrolman E. H. Barry found the rock on the little jail door had been knocked off and Woods was gone.

About 150 officers, including state highway patrolmen and deputies from neighboring counties, searched all yesterday without result.

Sheriff Bowman said several rumors were run down but "there is no lead at all."

He said surfaces at the jail were too rough to use fingerprints, though an attempt was made, and slag in front prevented tire marks from showing.

The hunt was resumed today and Bowman said, "We will look until we find him."

The sheriff said there is a possibility the laborer is still alive but declined to speculate whether white men had seized him or a group of Negroes took him away for his own safety.

Newsman and photographers were unable to locate Mullis still, an attractive brunette.

Mrs. C. D. Wadsworth, who was shopping with her, related to newsmen that Miss Hill told her a Negro had said "Oh, baby, or something like that."

Mrs. Wadsworth said she herself did not hear the remark.

Chief Mullis said a crowd was around the jail when Woods returned to ask protection but these people were from a moving picture house whose midnight show had just ended.

The theatre adjoins the jail and Mullis said most of those around the jail were "curiously seekers."

He said there was no crowd in evidence at the time Woods disappeared. The chief and one or two cars race past a filling station where he was parked at the time. "I gave chase then I lost them," Mullis said. "I returned to the jail and found he was out."

Sheriff Bowman said the missing man had never been in any trouble as far as he knew. The father and brother were taken at their request to Marion County Jail at Ocala for protection.

FSL Election Is Delayed; Season To Open April 12

Florida State League directors yesterday voted to delay the election of officers for at least 60 days. John Krieger of Sanford will remain as president of the baseball organization but he set a deadline of Jan. 1 for an election to replace him.

The directors, at their meeting held in Orlando, set April 12 as the starting date for next year's 140-game split season, and scheduled the All-Star game for June 21 but did not choose a site for the midseason league-wide baseball tilt.

The FSL directors approved a franchise for Tampa but temporarily canceled Orlando's membership, leaving the Class D baseball circuit with only seven apparently solid entries for 1957.

Tampa replaces West Palm Beach which was ousted from the league Saturday because of financial difficulties.

The directors declared the Orlando franchise forfeit under ownership of Joe Cambria but President John Krieger explained this does not mean the city will be without organized baseball.

He said Orlando will be acceptable under a new management. Teams were given until Dec. 16, date of the next league meeting, to post a $1,000 entry fee. If a new Orlando organization does not post the fee on time, Lakeland has been promised top priority for consideration for the franchise.

Daytona Beach, Leesburg, Cocoa, St. Augustine, Palatka and Gainesville are the other teams apparently ready to go.

The franchise award to Tampa will give that West Coast city its first organized baseball since 1953 when the Florida International League died.

Krieger asked the directors to act against Cambria who took over the Orlando club late last season but never was sanctioned.

Saying he did not like Cambria's methods of operation, Krieger declared "if a club operator is a league like Cambria's, I wouldn't want it. And I'd say the same thing to Joe if he were here."

Cambria, long time Washington Senators scout who also is linked with Louisville of the American Association, is in Havana where he has been working on a proposed transfer of the Louisville franchise to Tampa. The Louisville to Tampa deal apparently is out now.

Phil O'Hara, Tampa public relations man who represented Cambria at the meeting, said Cambria

SOKC's Schooling Program Will Get Underway Tonight

The vastly modernized Sanford Orlando Kennel Club will give a preview of the up-and-coming official racing season tonight when it turns on the lights for schooling races.

Over 25 qualifying events are on tap on the first schooling program with the first race set for 7:30 p.m. Fans are invited to attend the schooling races free of charge.

The pre-season qualifying action will be held nightly, regular season on Tuesday, Nov. 13.

The coming meet promises to be the finest in track history. Jerry Collins, who took over as track operator last season, predicts this campaign will even top last year's spectacular showing when the Sanford-Orlando oval sported an almost fantastic increase of 58 percent in mutual handle and attendance.

Top new attraction this season is a handsome clubhouse erected at a cost of more than $125,000, including furnishings. The impressive structure is now getting the finishing touches put on by large crews of workmen, but it will be ready in plenty of time for the grand opening on November 13.

Collins says the new clubhouse, which is glass enclosed, heated and air-conditioned throughout, will be the finest in greyhound racing.

The existing grandstand has also been completely renovated in preparation for the big 92-day season.

Outstanding racing stars, as well as young greyhounds, from some 30 well-known kennels, will see action during the schooling races. Close to 600 dogs will compete in all as Racing Secretary R. C. Williams, a veteran of many seasons at the SOKC, classifies them in grades for use during the regular season.

Fast-stepping dogs will perform under regular racing conditions during schooling and many fans are expected to take this opportunity to see their favorites tune up for the official season.

will protest to George Trautman, president of the National Assn. of Professional Baseball Club.

O'Hara quoted Cambria as saying the forfeiture was "an illegal seizure of the Orlando franchise and of the contracts of 21 players" and that he had a "workable agreement" with the Washington Senators. He said Cambria will sue unless compensated for loss of the franchise and the players.

2-Car Collision This Morning Sends One To Hospital

A two car collision at the intersection of Oak Ave. and Ninth Street this morning shortly before 11 o'clock sent one Negro woman to the local hospital.

A 1950 Plymouth sedan was traveling East on Ninth St. and a 1933 Chevrolet was traveling south on Oak Ave. when they collided in the center of the intersection.

The impact forced both cars over the curb on the southeast corner, the Plymouth with its side smashed in and the Chevrolet with its front end caved in.

The Plymouth came to a stop as it reached the sidewalk and the Chevrolet came to a standstill in front of the "stop" sign over the curb.

Sanford Police Chief Roy Williams was at the scene, as was Lt. Jack Hickson and Sgt. Ben Butler. Names of the drivers of the two cars were withheld at the time of the accident until a complete investigation has been made.

Voting Machine Reps To Conduct School Here

The Shoup Voting Machine Corp. will have representatives in Sanford Wednesday, Oct. 31, at 7:30 p. m. to conduct a school of instruction for the benefit of clerks and inspectors appointed for the Nov. 6 general election and the harness horse racing permit referendum.

The school of instruction will be held at the Sanford Canning Kitchen on Geneva Ave. near Sanford.

The table is cordially invited to attend the school so as to see how the new voting machine operates and how the votes are tabulated.

MRS. R. PRUDEN HERNDON, Georgia's first woman Negro lawyer, is shown in Washington after she was admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court. Mrs. Herndon has been practicing law in Atlanta for 13 years. (International)

Spotlight On Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD - Ben Alexander looked natural enough, playing the sardonic to a law enforcer. But there was a difference.

He was playing a deputy sheriff, not officer Frank Smith of TV's Dragnet.

His buddy was not Sgt. Joe Friday, alias Jack Webb, but Jeff Chandler instead.

But the most shocking thing was - Alexander was drunk!

All this was in a movie scene, of course - Universal International's "Pay the Devil." The scene had Alexander drunk on duty at the insistence of the heavy.

"If my partner Webb could see me now, he'd kill me," Alexander laughed.

He was obviously having the time of his life - and no wonder. It was his first film role since Dragnet in 22 years!

"The last picture I made was right on this lot," he reflected. "That was in 1934. After that I went with NBC and I've been with them ever since."

Passport to Happiness

By MAYSIE OREGI

CHAPTER 24
LATER THAT same night Val was with Dirk in Bruce's surgery. The formalities of death were over and Mrs. Featherstone's body had been taken down by two orderlies to the ship's hospital ward. Val had changed back into her uniform, but Dirk was still in costume. That he should still be in fancy costume gave a bizarre touch to the scene. Val was sitting on the edge of a chair, as though she were afraid to relax. She was drooping not only with weariness but with an aching sense of guilt and misery.

Bruce was speaking quietly. "But when you saw the condition of your patient why didn't you call me at once?" He was seated in the chair before his desk, and his manner though professional was not unsympathetic.

"I'm sorry, Doctor. I didn't realize how serious her condition was until toward the end. I was going for you, but it was too late." Despite all her hospital experience she never failed to feel awe in the presence of death, and this time she had an aching sense of pity as well.

"But it might not have been too late if you'd called me earlier."

"I didn't think she had sent for me because she was ill. I thought she'd sent for me for another reason."

"You mean when you came into the cabin she seemed perfectly all right, her pulse was normal, her color healthy?"

"I didn't take her pulse, and if I thought her color unhealthy, I put that down to the temper she was in," she said slowly.

"She was in a temper? You think that may have brought on the heart attack?" he asked sharply.

She looked away from him, biting her lower lip. "I think it may have, Doctor." The awful feeling of guilt rushed over her again. Had she been the unwitting cause of her patient's death?

"But surely, knowing that your patient had a heart condition, you should have done what you could to soothe her." But he still spoke gently.

"I suppose I should have," she admitted.

"I'm afraid I shall have to ask you for an explanation, Nurse Allison," he said, speaking more firmly.

She didn't reply immediately.

"Please answer me, Nurse. I shouldn't like to think you'd been remiss in your duty," he reminded her gravely.

But it was Dirk who answered in an irritated, weary voice.

"Oh, for heaven's sake stop questioning Val, Harridan! Don't you think she's been through enough tonight without having to answer your questions?"

Bruce's manner underwent an instant change. "I'll ask you to keep out of this discussion, Hanson. What I'm saying to Nurse Allison doesn't concern you in any way," he said coldly.

Dirk straightened aggressively. "Of course it does. Everything about Val concerns me, and I won't have her hectoring by you or anyone else." Why had Dirk intervened? Didn't he realize it was the last thing he should have done? It was Bruce's duty to question her; and up to now, although his manner had been formal, there had been an undercurrent of sympathy.

"Nurse Allison happened to have been in charge of one of my patients," Bruce said sternly.

"But can't you drop your professional manner for once and be human?" Dirk retorted angrily.

"Can't we talk it all out as friends?"

"You think we are friends?" Bruce asked.

Dirk shrugged in helpless exasperation. "At least you must admit we know each other well enough to drop all this baloney. Since you're a doctor, you must see that both Val and I have had as much as we can stand tonight, Val especially. I should have thought you'd have sent her to bed with a sedative. But apparently you haven't any feeling for her."

"Oh, please, Dirk," Val whispered.

"You'd darn well better not report that," Dirk said furiously. "You might just as well accuse me of murdering the poor old dear. After all, it was I who thrust those pills into her mouth."

"You gave her the pills? What pills?" Bruce asked slowly.

"Some heart pills Val asked me to get out of the medicine bag. I spilled the wrapped things. Maybe if I'd brought them sooner, it would have helped."

"But why did you give them to her?" Bruce persisted.

"Oh, why not?" Dirk was beginning to lose his temper again. "We were both badly rattled, but we were doing what we could. Val wanted to go for you when Aunt May first and the attack, but I said when she recovered and found you in the cabin it would probably give her a relapse. It might even finish her."

"So it was you who told her not to call me?" Bruce asked. "Well, I'm not altogether surprised. . . . But what does surprise me is that a girl with nursing training should have taken any notice of what you said."

"All this is a waste of time and a lot of nonsense," Dirk retorted angrily. "I'm going to take Val to her cabin whether you like it or not. If you want to go on with this inquisition in the morning, I'll be at your disposal, but for heaven's sake leave Val out of it." As he spoke, he moved forward, took one of Val's hands and pulled her to her feet.

Bruce didn't speak, but as Dirk led her to the door and opened it, Val turned back toward him and gave him a quick, pleading glance.

"Once, I'm sorry. . . ."

"Good night, Nurse," he said coldly.

Use Imagination When Decorating Bedrooms In Home

Don't let convention restrict your imagination when you decorate a bedroom. Have you a hobby? A faraway place that has always fascinated you? A favorite game? Any of these themes can be worked into a decorative scheme.

There are wallpapers which reproduce stamps, music, and dolls, if any one of these is your hobby. Racks and chests for a fan, rock, or souvenir collection make interesting focal points in any room.

An interest in American history can be reflected in a room furnished with antiques. (The crowning touch here — a four-poster bed!) It's easy to work in exotic touches of the Far East nowadays with the great popularity of Japanese and Indian accessories. Chessmen adorn drapery fabrics, and a floor can easily be made into a fine checker board.

The main thing is to use your imagination. Make the room a reflection of your interest. But remember — a bed room is for sleeping. Don't over-decorate to such an extent that the room becomes a confusing jumble. And don't overlook the bedding. No matter how much fun the room is, without a comfortable mattress and spring you won't get much satisfaction or rest from it.

Supermarkets—Save You Many Trips

If you're a homemaker, you're lucky that you live in America! Women in Italy and elsewhere on the European continent need more time for shopping than you do.

In Italy a woman starting on her weekly shopping tour goes to the fresh meat butcher, the dairy, the fruit shop, the smoked meat store, the baker; after that, to the fishmonger, the druggist, and so on. The typical shopping trip may take Signora Romano to 14 stores or more. She'll be a tired homemaker by the time she returns.

Here, in one of our supermarkets — everything from steak to orange juice, from lettuce to dairy products, bread to spaghetti sauce is found under one roof.

Our modern food distribution is one of the essential elements in America's higher standard of living, of nutrition and of health. Here, corn on the cob is available in January; you can enjoy frozen strawberries 12 months a year, lamb isn't sold just in the spring, and you can have a wide variety of vegetables whenever you want them and whatever the season.

In many foreign countries, fruits and vegetables can be bought only when "they're in season," milk is still dipped from a can and many of the frozen foods we know are not even on the market.

Living Costs Rise To Record Level During September

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has reported that living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in September to a record level.

The index of the Labor Department's Bureau of Statistics reached 117.1 per cent of the 1947-49 base period.

This was about one-tenth of one per cent above the prior record of 117 in July, and compares with 116.8 for August.

Prices were higher in September for all major groups of consumer goods and services except food, which remained at the August level.

The bureau said the September living cost level was nearly 2 per cent higher than a year ago and 2.8 per cent higher than in January 1953, at the start of President Eisenhower's administration.

The living cost rise means wage boosts ranging from one to three cents an hour for about 300,000 workers in a variety of industries, mainly the electrical manufacturing industry, including General Electric Co. plants. Wage rates for these workers are geared in part to changes in the government living cost index.

New record levels of worker earnings also were reported. The Bureau of Labor Statistics said take-home-pay—or earnings less tax deductions—reached a new peak in September.

EDWARD K. MEADOR, 71, running as Vice-Presidential candidate on the Greenback Party ticket, is shown in Boston as he outlined some of the principles of his party, which includes abolition of the income tax. A Virginian by birth, Meador claims to be a descendant of Benjamin Franklin. He also thinks that the Government should print its own money to meet operating costs.

The average take-home pay of a factory worker without dependents was $66.65 a week, and that of a worker with a wife and two children was $74.04. Each figure is about $1.10 higher than the rate in August and approximately $2.60 above a year ago.

Revenue Study Of Utility Dept. Will Begin Soon

A study of the revenue derived from the City of Sanford's Utility Department will begin soon...

The survey will deal with the entire fiscal operation of the Utility Department, both revenue and expenditures.

A contract was signed by the City of Sanford with Goodbody and Co. to conduct the survey and study to determine the feasibility for the construction of a sewage disposal plant.

Three or four days will be devoted to the actual study of the City of Sanford Utility Department's books.

The fiscal agents was the one bright picture in the recent water and sewer improvement program.

Following the study of the Utility Department's books here in Sanford, a further study will be made of the findings.

From the additional study conducted by Wilson Holt of the investment brokerage firm, various maturity schedules are drawn and the marketability of the revenue certificates will be determined.

The contract for the study was confirmed by the Board of Sanford City Commissioners at an adjourned meeting of the board held on Oct. 22.

The immediate necessity for a sewage disposal plant and the strenuous interest of the individual members of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, as expressed at the adjourned meeting last week, has prompted the survey study which is being projected immediately.

Harness Racing To Open Many New Jobs To Residents

When harness racing is introduced at Seminole Raceway many new jobs will open to residents of the county.

"I can't predict just how many jobs there will be out there when we get underway. But I can say this—that 85 per cent of those hired for any job whatsoever in connection with the operation must be residents of the county," Kemp stated.

That is not just our desire. It is a requirement under the license which will be granted when the voters ratify the harness racing proposal at the polls on Nov. 6.

Kemp went on to say that people and businessmen in all walks of life in the county will benefit from the big expansion program slated to take place at the raceway.

"We'll be buying thousands of dollars worth of building materials and items in connection with the plant expansion. When the owners and trainers of the don horses to be stabled here for six months move on, every business in Seminole County will feel the impact of new dollars being poured into the area's economy," Kemp promised.

"People from all sections of the county will make Seminole County a vacation visiting spot," Kemp said. "We anticipate that even when there is no racing going on at the raceway, visitors from every state and Canada will be putting up at local hotels, motels and lodging places as they will visit the track daily to watch the workouts—some of the best free attractions offered anywhere in Florida. Our raceway will serve as a magnet, luring thousands into the area who have never before visited Seminole County," Kemp said.

The sheriff also reported he had contacted a number of Negro residents of this small railroad center and told them that if Woods is found "he will be protected."

The contacts were made, he said, on the chance that some Negro home might be harboring Woods, in the fear that something would happen to him if he were found.

Weather: considerable cloudiness through Wednesday; low tonight 52-58.

U.N. Security Council Urged To Order Withdrawal Of Israeli Troops In Egypt

Citizens Council To Conduct Study Of Tax Problems

Members of the Seminole County Citizens Tax Council met yesterday with County officials in their effort to secure reports from various county agencies relative to the tax problems confronting them.

From these reports, which are slated to be completed no later than Nov. 20, the County Council will receive its report to be submitted to the State Citizens Tax Council in a statewide tax survey.

The County Citizens Tax Council was appointed by Gov. LeRoy Collins. The local organization is headed by Ralph Austin Smith and its membership includes: T. E. Tucker, Robert Bauman, Wilson W. Horne, John Evans, W. G. Kilbee, B. F. Wheeler Jr., John Ivey, W. E. Patrick, Robert G. Bradford, R. T. Milwee and J. Bradley Odham.

Ralph A. Smith told the county officials yesterday, at their meeting in the office of R. T. Milwee, that the Citizens Tax Council was created through the enactment of Senate Bill 817.

"There never has been an overall study of Florida's tax problems," he said. "The study will reflect the thinking of business, labor, industry and other interests from which the findings will be used locally, in the city and county governments as well as by the state."

Smith pointed out that the meeting yesterday was an organizational one. "The time element is of extreme importance," he said as he called for the close cooperation of county officials in the completion of the reports requested by Nov. 20.

City officials will meet at a later date with Clifford McKee, in whose charge the collecting of reports from that source has been placed.

Meeting with the County Citizens Tax Council yesterday were: County Commissioners John Meisch, B. C. Dodd and Brown Miller; Clifford McKee, Lawrence Switzer, Homer Little and John Knoff; John Ivey, Tax Assessor Sanford Doudney; Tax Collector Miss Mary Earle; W. G. Kilbee, Clerk of Circuit Court U. P. Herndon, Superintendent of Public Instruction R. T. Milwee, and Frank Wheeler Jr.

Wildwood Sheriff Believes Missing Negro Still Alive

WILDWOOD (P)—Sheriff M. H. Bowman said today he believes Jesse Woods, 39-year-old Negro, who vanished from a bloodstained jail cell Sunday, is alive and "I expect him to be found."

Bowman added, however, there is a possibility Woods was slain and his body "buried or jumped into a pit."

The Negro had been accused of saying "hello there, baby," to a white school teacher.

FBI agents appeared briefly on the scene, then departed without saying whether they would take part in the investigation. Undercover men from the Florida State Sheriff's Bureau are working on the case.

Bowman said he and his deputies had made a thorough search of the area and had asked cowboys to report any finds of fresh dirt in pastures which might point to a newly-dug grave.

The sheriff also reported he had contacted a number of Negro residents of this small railroad center and told them that if Woods is found "he will be protected."

The contacts were made, he said, on the chance that some Negro home might be harboring Woods, in the fear that something would happen to him if he were found.

Middle East Viewer Tells Rotary Club U.S. On Tinder Box

One of the most forceful, dynamic and impressive speakers ever to appear before the Rotary Club of Sanford told his listeners yesterday at the club's regular weekly meeting at the Yacht Club, "I want to report to you what I saw and read and observed during my recent five-week trip in the Middle East. We are sitting on a tinder box, one which is, even at this moment, about to blow up."

Dr. Kadel frankly and candidly and in great detail told of the promises made during the first World War by Great Britain to the Arabs in an effort to win them to the side of the Allies. The promises made to the leaders of Israel were also recounted by the speaker who emphasized the fact that the Zionists were not a Jewish religious group but of a political nature.

He compared the armed might of the Israelis and the Arabs; told of the events that happened in Cairo, Egypt when he and his party were there and just how the Egyptian leaders felt toward the people of the Western world.

Dr. Kadel, who was introduced by George Touhy, one of the elders of the local Presbyterian Church, summed up the logic of the Arabs in these few words: "The friend of my enemy is my enemy."

Time after time, he made mention of the fact that he is not reporting on the things he saw as an expert but one who, being a human being, had the welfare of all people at heart. In his opinion, much of the difficulties being experienced in the Middle East were because of childish thinking on the part of so-called leaders in world affairs. "Some men are trying to act as gods," he said. "I believe that if these men will act as men, not try to act as gods and let God be God, many of the problems can and will be solved."

"His message was received with enthusiastic acclaim," Dr. Charles L. Persons who presided, stated.

Visitors included the Rev. A. G. Malnick, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, here; Willis B. Jones and Gen. J. C. Hutchinson.

Lawsuit Filed Today

A Circuit Court suit was filed today with the Clerk of Circuit Court seeking an injunction restraining the Board of Seminole County Commissioners from holding a referendum election to determine whether or not pari-mutuel betting would be allowed in conjunction with a permit issued by the Florida State Racing Commission.

William H. Kemp, president of Seminole Raceway Park, said this morning that "We have been notified by an Orlando attorney that a Circuit Court suit will be filed today seeking an injunction to prevent the taxpayers of Seminole County from exercising their right to vote for restriction of the harness racing referendum."

W. J. Steel, attorney representing the Sanford Orlando Kennel Club said this morning that "The suit is being filed because 'the law under which racing is permitted states that there cannot be two racing plants within 100 miles of one another.' Steel also pointed out that the Board of County Commissioners cannot call an election in an instance where two plants are so located.

Kemp said today, "We understand that included among those individuals seeking this injunction is Jerry Collins, operator of the local dog track.

"We now know the background of some of the opponents who would, through legal maneuvers, deprive the voters of Seminole County of their right to decide their own economic future," said Kemp.

"The injunction is so worded as to take issue," Kemp stated, "not particularly with us, but rather with the legal opinions of the Attorney General of the State of Florida, the Racing Commission of the State of Florida and the Absentee Ballot Deadline Thursday There are only two more days in which to make application for absentee ballots, according to Mrs. Camilla Bruce, Supervisor of Registration for Seminole County.

The deadline for making application for the absentee ballots is Thursday.

However, marked ballots for the Nov. 6 general election in the absentee voting will be received up until 5 p. m. Nov. 2 by mail, said Mrs. Bruce.

"It seems as if we will have the largest absentee vote in Seminole County's voting history," she said.

Nearly 300 absentee ballots have already been marked and received in the office of the Supervisor of Registration located in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

'Prayer For Day' Joining Spiritual To Physical World

"I feel that the 'Prayer for the Day' is one of the finest civic projects joining the spiritual to the physical world," Rev. Phillip Schlessmann, pastor of the Lutheran Church of The Redeemer, said today as the telephone prayer ends its second month in Sanford.

"The 'Prayer for the Day' is a recorded prayer available to all users of the telephone who call 1828.

Through a leased telephone line, and with the installation of an automatic answering service from Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., the listener may hear a 25-second prayer with no interruption, no mention of church, but timed to the individual day.

The prayer is changed daily, with no prayer repeated. However, the same prayer is heard for 21 hours.

Rev. Schlessmann, when asked about the results of the "Prayer for the Day" said "It is doing much good to those who are perplexed and feel the need of assistance through prayer administered by a pastor."

"We have chosen to use the 'Prayer for the Day' for all people and not to limit it to a particular people," Rev. Schlessmann stated. "It is our desire to serve the community this way and also in the hope that we may also reach the unchurched."

Approximately ten calls per hour are made to the 'Prayer for the Day' apparatus located at the Lutheran Church of The Redeemer just off 17-92 on West 25th Place.

The automatic answering service is placed in Pastor Schlessmann's office at the church where he presides at a new prayer each evening. It is estimated that from 100 to 200 calls per day are made to the 'Prayer for the Day' answering service.

One Sanford man, when at the height of confusion during a day's work, was referred to the 'Prayer for the Day' by his wife. Unknown to him, he called 1828 and heard the prayer recorded for each caller.

According to the business man he called his wife back and said, "You have made this a perfect day for me—I don't know what I would have said or done had it not been for the prayer that solved my troubles."

Others, possibly, have found the same solace for there is no record made of those who might call regardless of the hour of the day.

The purpose of the 'Prayer for the Day,' said Rev. Schlessmann "is the Christian motivation which wants to reach out to fellowmen in Christian love through prayer."

Experts To Conduct Flower Show Course

Two well-known horticultural experts will conduct the Flower Show School course Nov. 13, 14 and 15, at the Garden center, as announced by Mrs. Fred R. Ganas, president of the Sanford Federal Garden Club. J. Crevasse, present sheriff of Alachua county and Mrs. I. J. Varndoe of Jacksonville will be featured speakers and instructors of judging at amateur flower shows and flower arrangements specialists.

It will be remembered that approximately $100,000 was paid by the Florida State Legislature for fellowship of graduate students in any state, with a thesis written on the general topic of horticulture. The first student to receive this was Crevasse, who seems closer to the club's activities and aims because of this interesting link. A former superintendent of grounds at the University of Florida, he is an authority on horticultural problems. Mrs. Varndoe, in her day long visit to Sanford last season, is well known to the group because of the most interesting flower arrangements she built, step by step and illustrated so clearly that the ladies were able to copy the fundamentals in their own flower shows.

The series of lectures may be attended for personal gratification and educational reward or for credits for judgeship in amateur flower show certificate. Those who study for the award certificate will be required to take an examination.

All members of the club are entitled to attend, those from circles adjoining the club may attend without further payment, those attending individually will pay a minimum fee.

Another attack on the pari-mutuel system at Seminole Raceway Park was made by the Negro Ministerial Association for Seminole County at a meeting held yesterday at Shilo Baptist Church.

A resolution opposing pari-mutuel betting was adopted by the body and signed by its president, the Rev. S. M. Daniels and the secretary, the Rev. N. A. Watson.

The resolution points out "We are convinced and know that pari-mutuel gambling in any area is morally wrong, and against God's plan, and being immoral it will greatly hinder and retard the work of our churches, and will lower both the moral and financial standard for life that we have obtained."

It was adopted, in the resolution, that "The Negro Ministerial Association of Seminole County unalterably oppose the extension, in Seminole County to include horse racing and pledge our efforts to oppose the same in any election held for that purpose."

The preamble to the resolution states "The purpose of our life's work is to teach by precept and example, that when God rules all is well, and that all wrongs must be opposed by those who believe in His name."

George W. Jenkins, president of Public Super Markets delivered the address at Saturday night's FNAE banquet.

Attending the meeting from The Herald were Mrs. Evelyn Cushman, Advertising manager and Lew Luster, Classified Manager.

2 Western Powers Warn Israel, Egypt To Stop Fighting

LONDON (AP)—Britain and France declared today their support for the United Nations resolution in the Suez Canal area unless Israel and Egyptians stop fighting within 12 hours.

The two Western powers sent this warning to both Cairo and Jerusalem.

Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons the Anglo-French operation aims to "separate the belligerents and guarantee the freedom of passage" through the Suez Canal.

Eden declared the British and French governments have asked Egypt and Israel to withdraw their forces to within 10 miles of each side of the Suez Canal.

The Anglo-French proposal envisages that forces of the two countries should be "temporarily" based at Port Said, Ismailia and Suez.

Herald Represented At Advertising Meet

Representatives of The Sanford Herald attended the Annual Fall meeting of the Florida Newspaper Advertising Executives which was held Friday and Saturday in Daytona Beach at the Casa Linda Hotel.

More than 30 newsmen were represented at the round table discussions held Friday afternoon and Saturday morning when mutual problems were the subject of the panel study.

Three sessions were held for the various categories of newspaper advertising representatives. Miss Helen Newman presided over the retail group; Harold Canning over the national group; and Heidt Swearingen over the classified group.

Julius Davidson, president and publisher of the Daytona Beach News-Journal delivered the welcome address to the FNAE members Saturday afternoon.

Paul Harris, president of FNAE, presided over the short business session which was followed by reports from the individual group sessions. The Spring meeting of the association will be held in Gainesville.

George W. Jenkins, president of Public Super Markets delivered the address at Saturday night's FNAE banquet.
