

Thomas E. Dewey Boasts Of Fine Home Background

Public Career Hasn't Thrown Family Life Out of Equilibrium

By JACK STINNETT NEW YORK, Mar. 22.—(AP)—Harmony brought Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Dewey together and although nine of their 12 years of married life have been spent in the limelight, their private life still is an almost perfect interpretation of that old American classic, "Home, Sweet Home."

In recent weeks, Papa Dewey has been striving, with one hand, to get the Republican bandwagon to play "Dewey is Our Leader," while continuing to drum gangsters and racketeers out of New York with the other. But that hasn't thrown the family harmony off-key.

Probably most of the present record is due to the efforts of Mrs. Dewey, a small, quiet, attractive woman in her middle thirties who chucked overboard a promising singing career which already had established her as a musical comedy prima donna to become Mrs. Thomas Edman Dewey, wife of a hopeful but unknown young lawyer.

Mrs. Dewey, under the stage name Frances Hoyt, was prima donna of the road company of George White's "Scandals" and was cast in the same role in the John Murray Anderson show which opened the Paramount

Theater in New York and toured the Paramount circuit. The Deweys met in Chicago. Frances Eileen Hutt, already known and lauded as a mezzo-soprano and musician in her native Sherman, Texas, and in Sapulpa, Okla., where she lived for some years, had gone to Chicago as secretary and star pupil of voice-teacher Percy Rector Stephens. There, also, had gone Tom Dewey, the Owosso, Mich., youth, whose interest in notes musical rather than legal won him a scholarship from the University of Michigan to study with Stephens.

During the summer of 1923, Dewey accepted an invitation from a Chicago lawyer named Held to enter the latter's office and begin reading in the law. By the end of the summer, young Dewey had definitely decided in favor of the bar.

Five years later, in 1928, the Deweys were married. Dewey then was practicing civil law in a New York downtown office. His income was modest. So was the small Manhattan apartment in which the couple set up house-keeping. Mrs. Dewey did all her own work. Even now, though the family income no longer needs such careful budgeting, Mrs. Dewey devotes all of the time she is not with her husband in household duties, marketing and caring for the two children.

The Deweys' social activity formerly consisted of attending concerts and the theater, and dining with friends in recent years. Dewey's double-barreled activities in politics and prosecution has made this impossible.

Recent attendance at the premiere of the movie, "Pinocchio," was the first time, says Mrs. Dewey, that she and her husband had been able to devote an evening to their own recreation in months.

The Deweys live now in a large but not ostentatious apartment on Fifth Avenue, selected so that the boys might have the run of Central Park across the street. Tommy, this year, was started in private school, chosen because of its emphasis on handicraft. The Deweys believe firmly an important part of a child's education is in learning to use his hands.

For years now, Mrs. Dewey's extra-household duties have consisted of reading and briefing magazine and newspaper articles and books for her husband. She also helps him with his speeches, times them, often makes suggestions which are adopted. A grand piano in the corner of a spacious living room goes untouched for days and weeks now. And vocal harmonizing is almost a thing of the past.

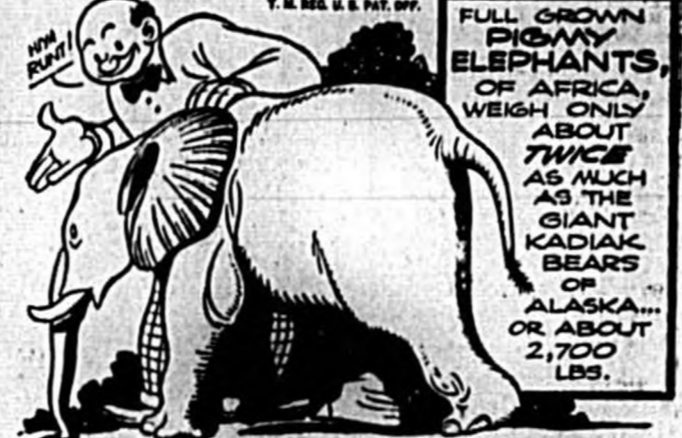

Dewey's plunge into the national political arena has brought his wife and family into the picture. Frankly, Mrs. Dewey doesn't care for it. Not at all ungracious in her dealings with the press, Mrs. Dewey refuses to make any declarations concerning matters national or international.

"That's Tom's business," she says simply. "Whatever public actions he holds will, I'm sure, demand sacrifices, and I am, as I have always been, prepared to meet them. But I don't feel that it would require my making public pronouncements on every matter under the sun."

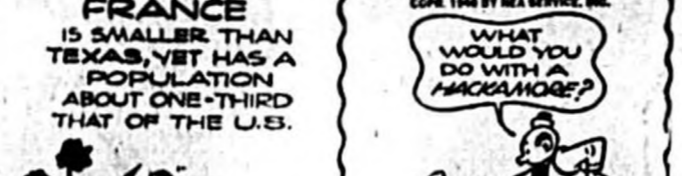

Although Dewey has received many threatening letters and his prosecution of racketeers and gangsters has been considered dangerous by many, the family has never had a guard.

Mrs. Dewey explains it is a simple statement of faith which her husband shares with her that no harm comes to those who do their duty in fighting the forces of evil.

"It is embarrassing to have to apologize for the ungainly clumsiness of regulations which do not regulate; safeguards which do not protect; and paradoxical attacks which are immune to remedial measures now employed. The citrus industry has a great future. We can meet any competition and beat it. We can produce the best citrus in the world and do it at a lower cost than heretofore, thanks to the work of the experimental stations and the county agents who have assisted in developing and adopting new methods of producing better citrus at lower cost."

"We are working more co-operatively in producing and in advertising and in protective measures. Why not in marketing and distribution? Why leave these problems solely to the shipper? The packing house is the result of the grove and not the cause. The grove is the starting point in any co-operative program. This is the problem in which the Citrus Growers Inc. can assist. Every grower should pay his dues and get at least two more members and do it now or the opportunity will be lost and we will blame everybody but ourselves," the letter said in conclusion.

House Approval Of Increases To Farm Bill Is Expected

Desire To Win Farm Vote Is Believed Stronger Than Fear Of New Taxation Senate Approval Given Huge Sum Billion Dollar Bill Found $203,000,000 Above Estimates

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Even economy advocates today predicted the House would accept at least part of the increases made by the Senate in the billion dollar farm bill it approved last night.

There was widespread feeling in both chambers, as they moved for Easter, that the desire to win the farm vote would prove stronger than the fear of new taxes which influenced the House to hold the farm appropriation to $714,000,000 earlier in this session.

The expanded bill, which the Senate passed without a record vote, now goes back to the House for action on the increases. Leaders expect the measure will be sent early next week to a joint congressional committee for adjustment of differences.

The Senate passed the big $714,000,000 farm appropriation bill—$203,000,000 above the budget estimates—yesterday in the face of a warning from Secretary Morgenthau that it should not cost the increase to the Treasury's cash balance.

That balance, Morgenthau said to Senator Byrd, Democrat, Virginia, will run "about as low as it has ever run in the history of the country without dipping into it for unbudgeted agricultural expenditures."

Administration leaders in the Senate had argued in a conference with Byrd as to whether the Senate's increases could be financed in that way with Byrd finally writing to the treasury bureau for information on the matter.

Presenting Morgenthau's letter, he referred to the figures it contained, and said it would not be "evident that it would not cost the Treasury to reduce still further this working balance."

Final action on the measure came at the close of a day spent mostly in a debate over sugar—whether sugar planters should receive their quotas were temporarily lifted last Fall should receive their benefits as usual, and whether a $10,000 limit should be placed upon sugar benefit payments to any one planter.

Senator Klander, Democrat, Louisiana, brought up the first point with a demand that the Senate check out as usual. He lost 28 to 21, Byrd, arguing that some benefit payments had been "exorbitant and excessive," asked for the elimination. His proposal lost 48 to 21. Later, he tried for a $50,000 limitation and was beaten, 87 to 57.

MacFadden Pays Qualifying Fee For Senate Post

Publisher Is Antagonistic Toward New Deal Policies

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Bernard MacFadden, magazine publisher and physical culturist, qualified today as a Democratic United States senatorial candidate as the deadline for qualifications neared.

MacFadden, announced last night that he would be a candidate in the May primaries for nomination as United States senator from Florida.

MacFadden, antagonistic to most new deal policies, said that he would campaign for the post now held by Senator Andrews on a platform of "America for Americans."

He advocated mainly "every effort" to keep the United States out of the European war, a "radical change" in the reciprocal trade treaty with Cuba which he claimed was unfair to Florida sugar producers, and a bid to suppress all "isms" in this country.

Edward F. Lane, native born Sanford business man, today announced his candidacy for the office of registrar of the county.

Cold Easter Is Predicted For Most Of Nation

Only Far West And Deep South Escape Unseasonably Frigid Temperatures

Heavy snow, and polar temperatures hurried upward from the south gave prospective Easter paraders a cold shoulder with forecasts of unseasonably frigid conditions all over the country tomorrow except in the deep south and the far West.

The threat of an Easter snow hung over the East and Midwest, and zero weather was expected to envelope the northern tier of states from North Dakota to Maine.

Today, in Maine, with temperatures ranging upward from the north, a 15 to 20 inch snow blanket represented the heaviest fall in the belt that included all New England, most states westward to Michigan, and scattered areas in West Virginia, the Ohio valley and Missouri.

Lower temperatures accompanied the pre-Easter snow. Moorhead, Minn., had 17 degrees below and it was 3 below at Minneapolis.

Subzero readings were reported unofficially in the Adirondacks. While the South's Easter weather is expected to be balmy, in comparison with other sections, observers said the temperatures will be perhaps 8 degrees below normal for this time of year.

Easter Brings No Lull As Diplomats Work Feverishly

Production Area To Be Discussed At Conferences

Open conferences for the discussion of effects of the "area of production" exemptions under the Fair Labor Standards Act will be held in Jacksonville, Orlando and Tampa next week, according to information received today from William W. Wallis, senior inspector of the Wage and Hour division in Florida.

The meetings are called pursuant to instructions of Administrator Col. Phillip B. Fleming and will be held for the purpose of gathering data pertaining to agricultural and "area of production" exemptions under the act.

The "area of production" definition of the wage and hour law has caused considerable discussion among the citrus and vegetable growers and packers of this county and it is expected that they will have representatives attending at least one of these conferences.

Dr. James G. Johnson, supervising inspector in charge of the Florida-Georgia Regional office, will preside over the sessions. The Jacksonville conference will be held on Tuesday, Mar. 26 in room 310 of the Post Office building. The Orlando meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Mar. 27, while the Tampa meeting is set for Friday, Mar. 29. The place and hour of the latter two meetings will be announced later.

The conference is for information and it is anticipated that the "area of production" definition as applied to the farmer, packer or processor and employee, the notice said.

British Search Delays Welles In Return Home

Vessel Thoroughly Searched For Nazi Economic Expert

ABOARD S. S. CONTE DI SAVOIA, At Sea, Mar. 23.—(AP)—A top to bottom search of the Italian liner by British control officers at Gibraltar yesterday delayed the ship at anchor for nearly 13 hours and by a full day the arrival in New York of Sumner Welles with his confidential report for President Roosevelt.

So thorough was the search for the Nazi financial wizard that every one of the ship's 1,120 passengers with the exception of Welles and his party was compelled to line up for questioning by British control officers who said they were looking for "someone with a fake passport."

Later, after the ship finally sailed, it was revealed they had been looking for Schacht, rumored to be aboard since the ship sailed from Genoa on Wednesday noon.

The American under-secretary of state, who lunched with Schacht in Berlin after seeing Adolf Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim von Ribbentrop, remained in his suite working on his report to the President while the search was in progress.

The British officers searched empty cabins, a dozen British sailors even tore the covers from the liner's life-boats to make sure no one was concealed in them.

Passengers, particularly Americans, grumbled at the delay. This was the longest period Conte di Savoia had been held by the British and the first time the control officers questioned all of the passengers.

At the British control station at Gibraltar were at least 45 merchant ships, including two American vessels. Some were awaiting inspection. Others were awaiting departure of an armed convoy for the British Isles.

The close search of the ship at first started a report that the British were looking for a "German spy."

Walter A. Routh Is Candidate For Legislative Seat

In the list of candidates who qualified at the office of County Clerk G. P. Herndon, appearing in yesterday's Herald, the name of Walter A. Routh was erroneously listed as Walter A. Smith.

Mr. Routh is a candidate for Seminole County representative in the legislature running in Group Two. John G. Leonardy, incumbent, and George H. Bridge, Jr. of Longwood have also announced for this race.

Mr. Routh has been a resident of Sanford since 1907 and has been engaged in the bakery business here for over 19 years. He came to Sanford from New Albany, Ind.

Declaring that his sole interest in running for the office is the "welfare of the people of Seminole County," Mr. Routh said that this is the first time he has ever offered himself as a candidate for public office.

He is a property owner and is married and has two children. He resides on West Second Street.

47-Ton Bomber Is Soon To Be Acquired By United States Army

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The army announced yesterday it soon will acquire from the Douglas Aircraft corporation the world's largest plane, a 47-ton juggernaut capable of making a round-trip, non-stop trans-Atlantic flight while carrying 23 tons of bombs.

The huge ship will be double the size of the famous super flying fortresses, currently the army's biggest bombers, which weigh only 35 tons each.

It is being built under conditions of strictest secrecy, the army said, adding it was plans for the ship which were stolen last year but recovered promptly by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Some doubt exists concerning the ship's prospective speed. The announcement said only that it will go "over 200 miles an hour," but most observers felt the craft's actual speed limits must be considerably in excess of that figure.

"This airplane," the army said, "represents a further step toward fighting for the fields and was solving the question of the best combination of size, speed, range, weight and carrying ability, in view of the latest requirements for bombardment airplanes."

To carry a crew of 10, the ship will have heated cabins and sleeping quarters, and will be equipped with four engines developing 6000 horsepower.

The howitzer has been tested at Aberdeen and at Fort Bragg, N. C. It was said, and will be used by field artillery units as a supporting weapon for the famous "75's."

Whistling Willie Becoming Well Known For Bird Imitations

"Whistling Willie" Williams, Sanford negro who is well known for his lifelike imitations of bird calls, is doing his share to put Sanford on the map.

Tuesday night Willie gave a demonstration of his art over the program called "We the People" on a national radio hook-up heard by millions of people. He appeared on the program as a substitute for Harold E. Dahl, the aviator who became famous when he was down in the Spanish war while fighting for the fields and was imprisoned nearly three years and just recently returned to America.

Dahl was scheduled to appear on the program but was unable to do so as he was arrested by authorities on charges several years old.

Sponsors of the program, being called upon to fill Dahl's place, immediately thought of "Whistling Willie," so widely known has the little ducky become in the past few years. They called him by long distance telephone and found him in church. Of course, Willie said he'd be glad to help out but "How can I get there by tomorrow (Thursday)," he asked.

"Take the early morning plane from the Orlando airport," they told him, "and don't worry about the cost."

Willie made the plane all right, but only by the greatest good luck as reservations were made for several days in advance, but one of the passengers failed to show up and Willie squeezed up too much room.

His first airplane ride didn't phase Willie, he was as gay as a "mocker sittin' on a pussy willow perch," and leaning back began to wobble softly the lilting thrushes of his favorite Southern songbirds.

The passengers were amazed and glanced about to see if there was a bird in the plane. But all they saw was "Whistling Willie." Well, from then on, Willie entertained the passengers until they arrived in New York at 6:15 o'clock.

Also on the program with Willie was the father of John Dillinger, the infamous outlaw. "I got his autograph," Willie says, beaming. But it looks as though people will begin seeking Willie's autograph before long.

Many Appeals Are Received By Post, Capt. Rose Says

In reminding the public that the Salvation Army annual drive for funds begins April 3, Capt. R. E. Rose, head of the local post, said today that various appeals reach the Army headquarters and in that list of appeals are "broken-hearted" wives, strayed sons penniless, jobless, human wrecks due to disease, poverty, and conditions not reflective upon the multiplicity of demands upon the organization.

Capt. Rose quoted General Evangeline Booth, former head of the Salvation Army, who is now retired, as saying: "While there is hunger, while there are unchurched people, and a lost soul, while there is sorrow and heart-ache and while there is one single phase of human suffering we march on."

Capt. Rose said that he has found that many do not fully understand what the Salvation Army is, therefore, he gave the following explanation: The Salvation Army is a world wide service organization, religious and charitable, founded 75 years ago, which gives material, mental and moral aid to humanity. The work is conducted in 98 countries and colonies in the world, and in every case the work is financed by that community in which the Salvation Army is working."

Newspaper Circulation

Whatever else the radio may have done, it has not taken the place of the newspaper. There were those who predicted when radios began broadcasting news events...

During the past twenty years, since the radio began its rise in popularity, newspaper circulation in the United States has increased over 42 percent. The combined circulation of Sunday newspapers have increased 84 percent...

"During the period the rise in wage scales and in cost of newsprint and other supplies," the Post-Dispatch says, "has caused a hike in subscription rates. Yet the increase in number of readers has been steady and continuous. There are fewer daily newspapers now than twenty years ago, but readers have multiplied."

"Starting in 1920, when 2,042 dailies showed a total circulation of 27,790,656 and 522 Sunday papers aggregated 17,088,604, newspaper circulations marched steadily upward until 1931. Sunday papers showed a slight decrease in 1930 over 1929 with seven less Sunday units. Daily papers actually increased their circulations in 1930 over 1929."

"It was not until 1931 that newspaper circulations began to reflect the blight of the business depression which was rapidly blanketing the country. Circulations continued to decline through 1933. Beginning in 1934, the climb has been steadily upward, with Sunday papers showing the largest percent increases."

"Last year showed 1,888 daily newspapers in the United States, with a week-day circulation of 39,670,682, also issuing 524 Sunday newspapers with a combined circulation of 31,519,009, as compared with 2,042 dailies in 1920 whose combined week-day circulation was 27,790,656, and 522 Sunday newspapers with circulation of 17,088,604. Truly a wonderful growth in circulation and reader interest."

Home Grown Criminals

Criminals, like honest and law-abiding citizens, have no mysterious origin, but are "home grown," charges J. Edgar Hoover, America's Number One G-man, who fixes responsibility for crime within the family circle in his current Rotarian Magazine article on juvenile delinquency.

"Character, good or bad, gets its original 'set' at the dinner table, in front of the living-room fire, in the basement workshop or playroom, even perhaps in the woodshed—wherever parents and their children meet, live with one another, react on one another," Hoover tells Rotarian readers. "Very few parents consciously and willfully instill criminal ideals in their youngsters, he says, but criminal tendencies are picked up outside the home because of improper background training."

"Boys seek the street and the outside, and become receptive to the criminal ideas and ideals of tough pals or gangs, usually for just one reason; somehow, whether because of indifference, ignorance, laziness, or stupidity, the home and parents have failed," he reasons out of 15 years' experience based on hundreds of cases. That this is true—and disconcerting—is shown in the fact that throughout the past year the largest number of individuals arrested by agents fell in the 15-year-old group, while those 18 years old were second. One out of every five persons arrested was under 21 years of age.

"The greatest of all recipes for crime prevention is understanding of boy nature by older people, especially parents. It is chiefly from homes where misunderstanding or indifference occurs which drive boys into haphazard relationships outside, that the men are recruited whom we of the Federal Bureau of Investigation later know, and conduct nation-wide hunts for, as kidnapers, murderers, forgers, thieves, rapists, and other public enemies," G-Man Hoover asserts.

"The threat of criminality has to be fought on every front where it shows its ugly head. But it is too bad that we have to ruin so many lives that could be useful, simply because the right influences are not present at the right time." Everyone—parents, taxpayers, and possible victims of criminality—must enlist in this war on crime, he says, adding: "The finest victories against crime can be won before individuals become criminals."

Balkans Expected To Be Next Victim Of Axis Partners

The next victory of the Rome-Berlin and Berlin-Moscow axis probably will be in the Balkans. Rumania is to be the point of entry.

A German "economic mission," now in Bucharest, yesterday opened the way for the impending drive. The mission delivered a four-point letter to the Rumanian government suggesting a basis for German-Rumanian discussions designed to increase commerce between the two countries.

It was carefully pointed out that the letter was not an ultimatum and that everything was expected to go forward in the friendliest possible manner.

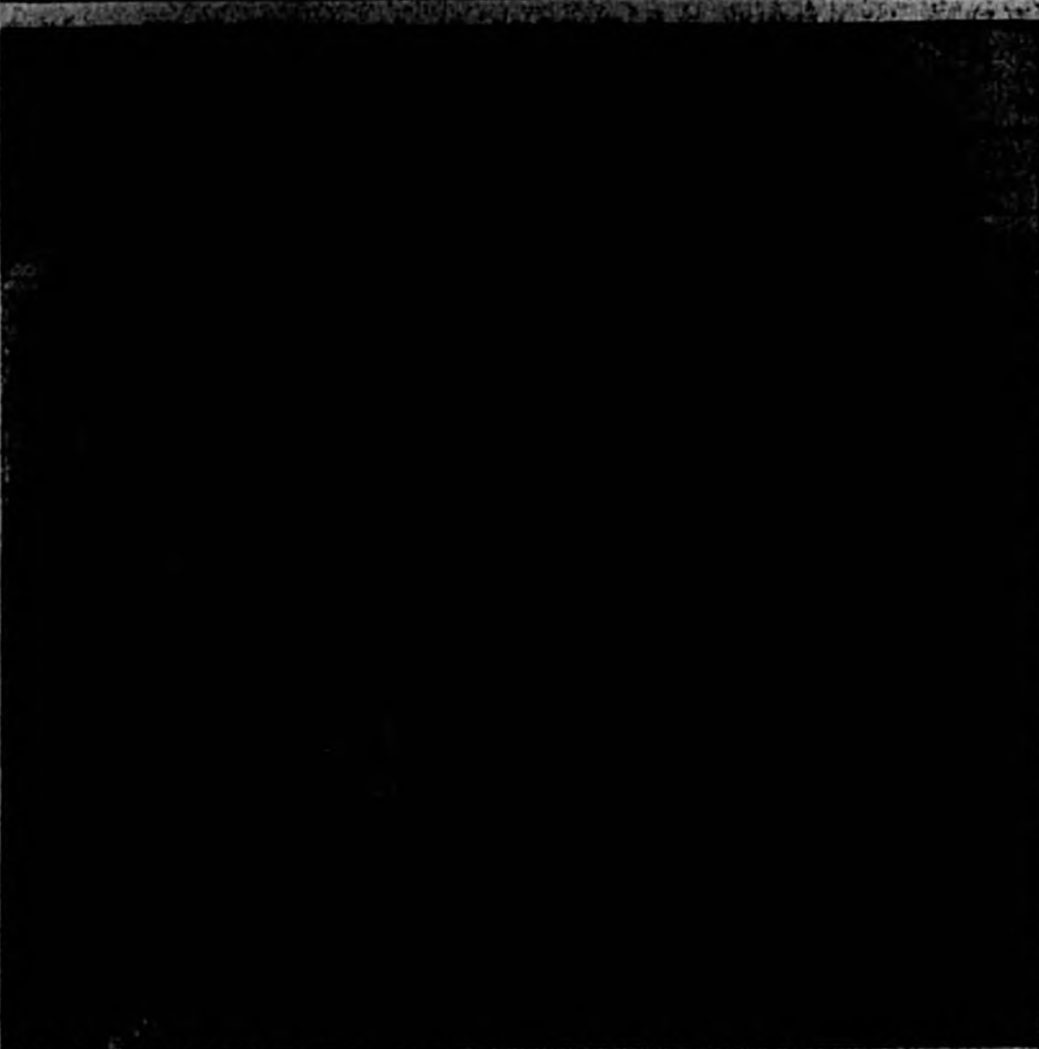

That it was an ultimatum in fact, however, almost probably without a word being said, King Carol II and his advisers are well aware.

Germany wants Rumania all along and has been waiting for the opportunity to take it—

Germany wants Rumania all along and has been waiting for the opportunity to take it—

Germany wants Rumania all along and has been waiting for the opportunity to take it—

ON THESE WORDS HAS MANKIND BUILT

And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away for it was very good. And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were affrighted. And he said unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: He is risen: He is not here: behold the place where they laid Him.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Most Broadway reporters have these books on their desks—W. Somerset Maugham's "The Summing Up"; Katharine Cornwell's "I Want to Be an Actress"; Noel Coward's "Present Indictment"; Edna Ferber's "A Peculiar Treasure"; Sie Cadric Hardwick's "Let's Pretend"; Joseph Verne's "The Curious Fall"; Decca's "A Smattering of Ignorance"; Angus Enter's "First Person Plural"; Helen Hayes Brown's "The Story of Helen Hayes"; William A. Brady's "Showman"; and...

They value to reporters is the fact of factual information that humanizes the great names of the theater and makes of them substantial, everyday people. They give an intimate, revealing background of, well, say, Noel Coward, whose first glimpse of Broadway left such an impression on him that, years after, he wrote: "Broadway was more sharply beautiful than I could ever have imagined—a slightly luscious beauty, detached, impersonal, and a little scaring."

He was broke in those days, of course, and borrowing money from all his friends. You turn a page and come upon St. John Ervine, the guest critic from London, who hurries to his typewriter to record his impressions of Katharine Cornwell: "Her fine, intelligent face, as sensitive as a seismographic instrument which records the most intimate and remotest tremblings of the earth, has a dark, ivory-colored beauty that is almost American in its quality. Her dusky eyes have a stillness in them that is found in deep, dark water, but is not the stillness of life so quiet that the whole of a thought or a feeling can be expressed with the flicker of an eyelid."

You turn another page and find Joseph Verner Reed, at the Ritz in London, staring into the eyes of Jane Cowell. "They were," he says, "as black as liquid ink." Reed isn't so well known throughout the country perhaps, but his confessions as a producer are among the most human and most revealing documents on the theater ever written. He was the man who found a tall, gawky girl named Katharine Hepburn and gave her her first chance in the theater, in the deep disgust of the rest of the cast. "I like these books because they are good working tools for a man whose shop is on Broadway. They give you the background and the picture, and they give you the private opinions of the authors about their contemporaries, unflattering though many of them are. They save a lot of steps and a lot of research. And besides, they are darned good reading."

"And the angel answered and said unto the women: Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here; for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where he lay." Matt. 28: 5-6

And three days before, Jesus Christ was crucified for the sins of men. The whole world, the Temple fell, the graves of the dead opened and their occupants made their way into the world. The rocks of the north, south, east, and west, and the earth trembled, everywhere were sadness and sorrow.

"They feared greatly, saying: 'This was the son of God.'" Matt. 27: 54

How beautiful the dawn! The clear skies held birds singing and happy. The sun's rays shined and the grass grew.

Perfect Attendance Record Is Broken

After going to school for ten years and twenty-four weeks without missing a day or without being late a single time, Josh Hill missed his first day due to measles.

Josh was trying to establish a world record of perfect attendance beginning school at Babson Park kindergarten he never missed a day. He went to Babson Park school for his first three years of primary schooling. He then moved to Princeton and went to school there from the fourth to the sixth grade, then moving to Ocala where he spent the sixth grade and most of the seventh grade years. In Sanford he will have a perfect record till the final day of March 4th, 1940.

Josh's record is something to make every student stop and think of every student who's attitude toward every thing they do this nation would be more progressive by far.

Gulliver's Travels Is Screen Fairy Tale

Have you ever seen a fairy tale? "Gulliver's Travels" is a screen fairy tale. It is a story of a man who travels to different lands and experiences many adventures. It is a classic story that has been adapted for the screen many times.

Miniature Plane Meet At Airport Called Success

Jimmy Ingle won first place in the Sanford Miniature Airplane Contest with the good time of one minute and fifty seconds. Jimmy flying a Comet Zipper powered by a class B motor, made an actual flight of one minute and fifty seconds. While gliding the plane struck the top of a tree and since the tree was over five feet high the rules gave him ten seconds more and his motor ten seconds added to his timing making a total of one minute and fifty seconds. Second was Billy Hollyhead, flying a Comet Zipper powered by a Brown D-a class C motor, with the time of one minute and twenty-nine seconds. Billy's Zipper on the test flight made the best time of the day with two minutes and thirty-eight seconds. Little Billy Gray was third flying a Comet Zipper powered with a Denymite, a fifty cc motor. His time was one minute and fifteen seconds. The prizes were rides in the big tri-motor plane and the boys enjoyed their lot.

There were several crashes although none of the planes were damaged very badly. Danny De-De's Zipper spun in very hard but just broke a propeller. Charlie Park's, Boy Ridge Mike landed on the telephone wires surrounding the airport. After many futile attempts to get it down, a truck driver drove a large truck under the wires and by climbing on top of the truck the plane was recovered.

There were many people at the airport and the large tri-motor plane was continually taking off and landing passengers. There were three planes beside the tri-motor that visited the airport Sunday.

The beginning of aviation week in Sanford got off to a good start.

Easter

From out of darkness came the dawn—
 And all the paths of night are gone:
 The blossoms burst forth in their joyous gladness,
 While birds ring out their melody.
 The shining rainbow lines each cloud,
 With colors nature hath endowed.
 Each sunbeam and flowery thing
 Help the world to "Herald the Spring."

Thus rose the Savior from the tomb,
 His radiance casting out the gloom
 And shedding luster along the way.
 He came that Resurrection Day
 As Spring—to cheer the saddened heart
 And spread delight in every part
 And yet today He still will guide
 And bless us at this Easter-tide.

Analysis Made As To Why Sanford Has Failed To Progress Rapidly

Hats off to the new Progressive Club! At last the citizens of Sanford are awakening. For the last ten years Sanford has not grown an "inch." Our population has not changed much and our business district has not expanded very far.

Sanford has all the qualifications of a city that could progress. We are well-located with a river port that could be better developed. We are in a fertile territory and our weather is almost "perfect." And yet Sanford has not progressed. Why?

On First Street in the middle of our business district is a big empty store (formerly occupied by Woolworth's). It ruins the "look" of this section and is not a pleasant sight for out-of-town visitors. Farther down the street are three more empty stores. They are well-located and should be filled. Why aren't they? Many companies have been trying for years to obtain charters for opening businesses here, but have been refused for "unexplained reasons." I have no personal grudge against filling stations or grocery stores, but on every corner we have one of these kind of stores. Why can't we have some different businesses coming into Sanford for a change?

The one reason Sanford does not progress lies in the fact that there is lack of co-operation among the people. Glancing back, Sanford was offered a new, modern hospital, but we voted it down. Then when we decided differently it was too late. The WPA would not allow the funds for the project. Fitting in with the fact of co-operation is the fact that many of the people are not very energetic and ambitious. If these "unprogressives" rarely exist, they do not try to become "better off." Leaders, who influence the people to better conditions here, were rare until recently.

If more people entered the different local organizations (Elks, Rotary, Kiwanis, Woodmen, etc.) they would be combined in an effort to make Sanford a progressive substantial city. This plan is now being carried out. Will it gain new support? To make Sanford the "Most Progressive Little City in the U. S." you must give your support now to the efforts by the leaders who are trying so hard to make you see the need of a more progressive city. Do not wait for your next-door neighbor to make the first move as he is probably waiting for you to do so.

The energetic leaders are needed badly. Now is the time to get them. It is election year and a good time to be on the "lookout" for a man who wishes the people to have a better living and a better existence. Look and take careful notice at the past deeds of candidates. This is the way to secure a man who is ideal for a "more progressive" Sanford campaign. All the people want an upright man who is a statesman rather than a politician. The difference being that a statesman is "a champion of the people" and a politician is "a champion for himself." Keep that thought in your mind during the May primaries.

Citizens of Sanford: consider everything which I have stated. It is about you yourself. It concerns your personal life. Do your part in securing a BETTER Sanford.

Russia's Next Move Is Debated Now That Finnish War Is Over

The Russo-Finnish War has ended. "Might is greater than right" was witnessed in this tragic war. The Russians forced harsh peace terms on the brave little Finns. But now what will powerful Soviet Russia do?

Russia's next move is debated. Finland and the first line troops are being evacuated. The president has relations with England have been severed. The Russian Bear has its eyes on British India, Iran, Iraq, and even Turkey. Border clashes have been frequent. The danger of a war between the two has been expected for a long period of time. Why should Russia want to strike at Turkey? First, Turkey has a treaty with Great Britain and France. If Britain and France should get at "pin-point" with Russia, Turkey could close the Dardanelles from use by the Russians. The Dardanelles is an opening from the Black Sea to the Mediterranean Sea. The Black Sea is Russia's back door and she must have her raw materials from here as well as export necessary goods through the channel. When the Dardanelles is closed, her trade is cut off and a crisis is presented. No wonder Russia would attack Turkey.

The second possibility is that Russia might attack India. Truly now is the time. England is at war with Germany and Italy and Russia. If Russia would like to safeguard her Far East interests and this could be secured if Russia defeated Japan. This would also be the rivalry between the two nations in Manchuria and China.

All of these are probable. Will she attack one of these? She may not invade any, but the chances are that she will. When? Where? Why? Only time will tell.

—EDWARD MARSHALL

A Guiding Light

God gave us power to think and reason. He will not let us be led by the light of our own minds. We must have a guiding light. The Bible is that light. It is the word of God and it is the only light that can give us life and salvation. We must read the Bible and believe in Jesus Christ. Only then can we have a guiding light.

Florida Teachers Will Hold Annual Meet In Orlando

The fifth annual meeting of the Florida Educational Association will be held in Orlando, March 28, 29, and 30th. As a rule over 4,000 persons are registered at these F. E. A. conventions and it is expected that many will attend the coming one. The first session will begin Thursday evening and continue through all of Friday and Saturday morning. The time is devoted to business sessions and lectures by outstanding speakers of the United States. Stuart Chase, America's number one economist, author of "The New Western Front," "The Tragedy of Words," and other books, will be one of the speakers for the association. Louis Fischer, special European correspondent of "The Nation," author of "The Soviets in World Affairs," "Why Recognize Russia," "The War in Spain," "Why Spain Fights On," "Oil Imperialism" will be another speaker. James T. Wilson, County Superintendent of Duval County, is the president of the association and he is planning to make this one of the best sessions that the F. E. A. has ever had.

There will be no school on Friday, March 29, as the teachers are expected to attend every session of the convention.

FINLAND'S CLIMATE

Finland is between 60 and 70 degrees north latitude. It is about one thousand miles long. It is even with Baffin Island but it is not as cold as Baffin Island because the Gulf Stream warms it.

They are so close to the North Pole they have very little daylight in the middle of winter. In the summer they have very little darkness.

The Tree Story Of How Finland Got Her Lakes

Once upon a time there was a great ice sheet came over Finland. It wore big holes in the solid granite that is under Finland. These holes in the rock filled up with water and that's why there are so many lakes in Finland, and it is called the land of a thousand lakes.

MODERN HATS

The hats they wear in this day and age are far too much for me, instead of being cute and quaint. They're silly as they can be.

I knew a girl who took a shoe and cooked it on her curls. And at the party she was flattered by all the other girls.

Another lady took her broom and turned it wrong side out. "Oh my, this hat is just the thing," she said, "without a doubt."

It'll be so glad when women see their hats are quite a bore. And maybe they will try not to be so silly any more.

Hudson And Dean To Face Nashville Here Tomorrow

Washington-Yanigans To Be Piloted By Charlie Gelbert

Is First Exhibition Game Of Season; Begins At 2:30 O'clock; League Prices Prevail

By FREDDIE RUSSELL, Sports Editor, Nashville Banner

Sid Hudson, Sanford's pitching hero of last season, will test his right hand offering against the Nashville Vols of the Southern Association in the first exhibition game here Sunday.

The Washington second team, piloted by Second Baseman Charlie Gelbert, come over from Orlando as the city's guests for the day.

Starting time is 2:30 o'clock with regular Florida State League prices prevailing.

Nashville's lineup is loaded with big power-hitters algebra of Gus Ungas, who slammed 21 home runs last year; Oris Hockett, from Brooklyn; Roy Pfeiffer, from

Sanford To Play Washington Yanigans, Kansas City Blues

Two additional Spring training games for Sanford's entry in the Florida State League have been announced by Manager Whitey Campbell. They are with the Washington Yanigans on April 1, and with the Kansas City Blues on April 5 at Hialeah City, Fla. A previously scheduled game will be played with the Nashville Vols Mar. 31 here.

Campbell said that efforts to obtain a game with the Jacksonville Tars have proved unavailing thus far. "They won't play us," he said, "but we're still trying to get a game with them."

He added that several other games were being considered but the definite dates had not yet been decided upon.

Daily workouts of the team show considerable improvements, Campbell said, pointing out that already the Sanford squad is far in advance of any other team in the Florida State League, having begun Spring practice nearly three weeks before other member teams of the state loop unshoed their spiked shoes and took down dusty gloves and frayed balls for first workouts.

None of those trying out for the team have been dropped this week, Campbell declaring that his roster was just about complete and that he had the limit of those permitted by the league.

NOTES FROM THE PRESS BOX

—by—
CHARLIE CHALKER

Tomorrow is an auspicious day for local baseball fans. The Nashville Vols and the Washington Yanigans tie-up in what should prove to be an interesting game. Sid Hudson and "Gus" Ungas will divide the hurling duties for the second string Senators. For the Vols Ace Adams will be the starting hurler. The Yanigans will have some fine pitching to offer; the Vols will show plenty of power at the plate. Everything is set for a great day and there should be a great crowd on hand. And if the day is warm and clear, the backyards of Seminole County will have a unity as the farm yard after a gully washer.

Players Sign To Play For Anglers In State League

LEESBURG, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Members of last year's Leesburg entry in the Florida state league who have signed up with Emil Yde, manager, to play with the Anglers again this season are Ray Goolbsy of Apopka, shortstop; Wallace McCormack of Apopka, rookie pitcher; Soddy Groat of Buffalo, N. Y., Mohawk Indian centerfielder; Les Voshell of Kentucky, left fielder, and Charlie Arnold of Growland, pitcher who will not be able to join the team until the close of his college year.

Steve Risk, of Buffalo, N. Y., big third baseman, is holding out but he is expected to sign before Spring training starts next Monday as is Joe Sigmon, pitcher who was recruited from Orlando in the Many On's trade.

Big Jim Frommin, catcher from Buffalo, N. Y., is in correspondence with Yde but is uncertain whether to continue in pro baseball or retain the position he is now holding. Jake Hunch of Leesburg is the only other who was offered a contract who has not signed, but he is now working for a mill in Ferdinand and is planning to retain his position and play semi-pro ball.

Among the rookies who will try out are Charles Game, Bruce White and Carl Webb, the latter coming from Meridian, Miss., where he played short and second with a semi-pro team.

Grantland Lile, Sportlight, started filming a unique short at Rainbow Springs this week, featuring Emil Lairs and his team after. This is the second picture that Sportlight has made with Lairs.

Dark Romance, Lady Max Are Dogs To Beat

ORLANDO, Mar. 23.—Lady Max, bearing the colors of Lester Colia's star-studded kennel, and Mrs. O. Barber's Dark Romance loom as the bounds to beat in the ninth race tonight, headliner of the 76th night of racing at the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club.

Tonight's eleven-race program brings to a close the twelfth full week of racing at the Longwood oval and leaves but two full weeks and three days in the 90-day season.

Although the field named for this heat is a well-matched group of entries Lady Max and Dark Romance stand out as the best bet and will probably be backed heavily in mutual play.

The other entries are Fair Speed, Ted's Choice, Indian Holl, Lamp Light, Ripper Corn and Blonny Coin.

Hudson Seems Sure Of Starting Berth

ORLANDO, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Manager Bucky Harris, of the Senators, desperately in need of pitchers, has all but handed a starting assignment job to Sid Hudson, a rookie from the class D, Florida state league.

"As far as I can see," said the veteran manager, "Hudson's got everything. As I've said before, he's the most promising young pitcher I've handled since Schoolboy Rowe and now it goes double."

Hudson won 21 and lost but four games for Sanford last season. In Spring training games he has allowed only four hits in nine innings of hurling. Hudson's home is Rossville, Ga.

Harrison Seeks Trade Program Continuation

Solon Declares Reciprocal Policy Will Prevent Economic Collapse After War

Pittman Takes Opposition Lead Senate Group Sends Anti-Lynch Bill To Floor By 10-3 Vote

WASHINGTON, Mar. 25.—(AP)—Senator Harrison today opened the Senate debate on extending the reciprocal trade program with an appeal to his almost evenly divided colleagues that they retain the system lest an eventual world trade war threaten this country with "economic collapse."

He said abandonment of the policy of executive tariff-making would invite foreign fields and factories to vie with each other "and with us" as soon as peace returns abroad.

Senator Pittman, leading off for the opposition, said the program is unconstitutional because it does not provide for Senate ratification of the trade agreements.

Ralph Bagwell Resigns From Chamber Post

Secretary of Trade Body Accepts Position With Atlantic Coast Line Railroad

Ralph Bagwell, for seven years affiliated with the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, tendered his resignation as secretary of the trade body at a special meeting of the Executive and Finance Committee this afternoon.

Secretary Bagwell, who has served five years as chief executive of the Chamber of Commerce, resigned to accept employment with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad at Orlando where he will be connected with the freight claims department.

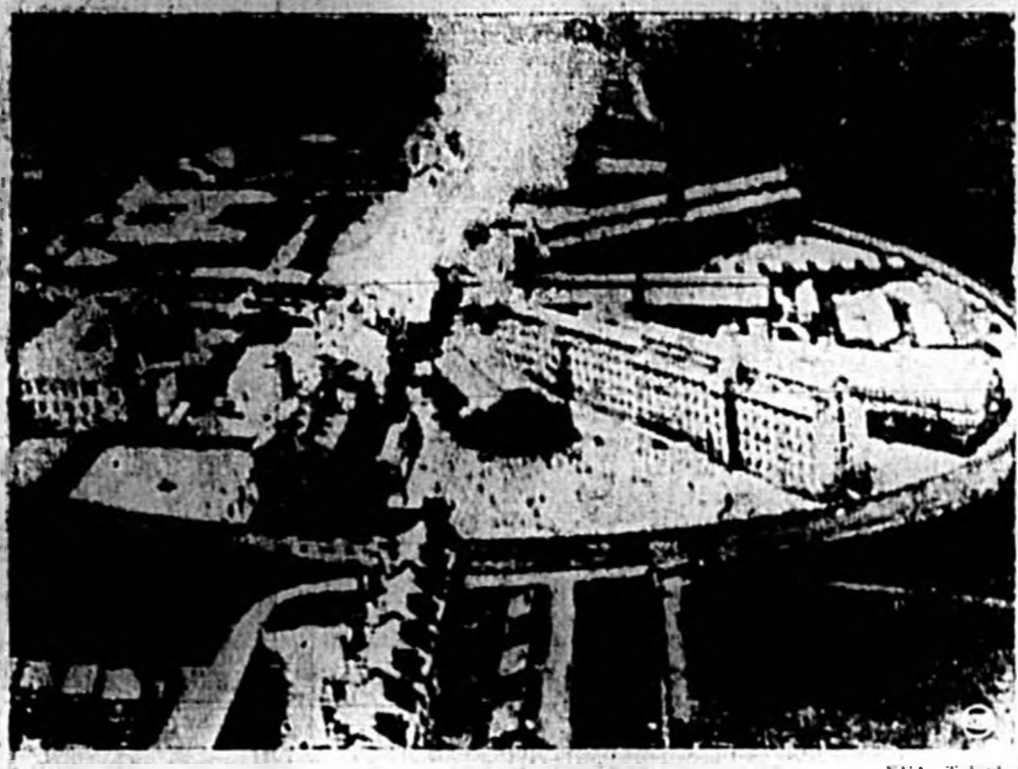

There was no indication as to who might be selected to carry on the work of the Chamber of Commerce but members of the Executive and Finance committees said they hoped to have some recommendations to place before the Board of Directors at its next meeting.

Mr. Bagwell entered the employ of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce as an assistant to Secretary Karl Lehmann in 1933 and succeeded Mr. Lehmann in the position of active secretary in October of 1935.

He was previously employed by the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad in the office of the Division Superintendent and the freight agent in Sanford.

British Navy Begins Drive To Block North Sea Routes

I. R. A. PRISONERS RIOT AT DARTMOOR PRISON

Imprisoned members of the Irish Republican army celebrated the anniversary of the famous Dublin Easter rebellion by rioting in black Dartmoor prison at Princetown, England. They also tried to break through the walls of the prison but were held back by British troops. This view of the prison was made in 1932 during a convict rebellion. Smoke from the fire set then may be seen in the picture.

Effort Being Made To Throttle Scandinavian Lifelines Of Nazi Government

2 German Vessels Are Sunk By Sub

London Paper Says Agents Seeking To Undermine Rumania

Apparently under orders to throttle Germany's Scandinavian lifeline, the merchant shipping lines skirting the coast of the northern neutrals, the British navy counted two Nazi freighters sunk and another chased off.

Germany asserted the capture of the result of territorial conditions and Norway produced a London against all odds of British over-achievement, and a report of a third.

While British naval power in the North Sea was the first attack of British submarines against the Reich's merchant ships, Pope Pius in an Easter homily brought the world to attention to the principles of Christianity.

On the Western Front, the French reported scattering a German patrol, and taking prisoners.

The German freighter Edmund (the Danes were shelled by the British submarine at Eastern port where the Heddobona was torpedoed Thursday) was reported to be on the way to the western front.
