

Lakeland Replaces Palatka In F-S-L On Wednesday

Franchise Transfer Receives Approval

By The Associated Press
The bitter three-way battle in first place in the Florida State League was overshadowed today by news that Lakeland is taking over the franchise of Palatka for 14 years a charter member.

League directors approved the sale Sunday and the transfer takes place Wednesday.

Weldon Henley, league director from Palatka, said the Azaleas were getting out because their home attendance has been below expectations and "I don't see how clubs can survive paying a 20 per cent federal tax on each admission ticket. The tax ruins you."

Palatka holds sixth place in the standings.

The league as a whole, however, appears healthy. Directors reported at the special meeting in Daytona Beach Sunday that attendance generally is ahead of the same time last year. Daytona Beach, Sanford, Cocoa Leeburg and Jacksonville Beach took gains while Deland and last-place Orlando joined Palatka in reporting losses.

Lakeland, which dropped out of the Florida International League last year, will be a Detroit Tiger farm. The team will be known as the Pilots Palatka operated as an independent.

At the ball parks Sunday, Daytona Beach took over the league lead on a victory over Cocoa with whom the Islanders had been tied for first place.

Manager Ed Levy led the 13-hit attack of Rindab Simard and his relief with a 40-foot home run over the centerfield fence, a triple and a single. Rookie Dick Mitchell pitched his sixth straight victory, a four-hitter, for the Islanders.

Cocoa fell all the way to third at Jacksonville Beach, a half-game off the top, grabbed second on a 103 Orlando over Palatka.

Leeburg struck Deland, 8-0; and Deland defeated Sanford, 15-12.

Red Foster's sixth inning triple was the big blow in Jacksonville Beach's victory. It brought in three runs and Foster slipped home himself when third baseman Spike Miller dropped the ball on the throw in from left field.

Leeburg's sixth inning triple and a hit attack off two Deland pitchers.

Orlando came from eight runs behind for their second straight victory over Sea Bird.

The transfer of Palatka's franchise to Lakeland is subject to approval by the National Association of Minor Leagues which usually is granted.

Lakeland will take over Palatka's schedule, playing its first game at Daytona Beach Wednesday night. League President J. Dempsey said no schedule changes would be necessary to accommodate the new member during the first half of the split season which ends June 23.

Gainesville, which sought entry into the league last winter and had been promised first refusal of any franchise vacancies, was not represented at the meeting Sunday.

Sanford Cardinal "Gas Housers" Lead FSL With 52 Stolen Bases

Those Sanford (Gas Housers) Cardinals, boasting of the fastest team in the Florida State League, lowered the boom on the Daytona Beach Islanders here last Friday night to end Daytona's red-hot 11-game winning streak. The same Redbird outfit that had triumphed 10 times in 10 games at home through Friday night, but dropped 16 of 17 on the road, paced the F-S-L with 52 stolen bases.

The next best were all Sanford hitters. Tommy Leonard was the lone Sanford survivor in the loop's Top Ten, though his mark plummeted from .417 to .311. Last week Bill Silverthorne was 10th on the list, but the blonde Virginian fell to .303, ranking second high among the rookies.

Price Westbrook, who broke a home in his right leg last Friday night and will be lost to Sanford for at least six weeks, was the pace setter among the rookies with a .355 average.

The top rookie Cardinal base running attack is led by Bob Wagner who has pilfered 13 in 21 games.

The most exciting starting lineup can well be the "mucks or break" week in the Class D Florida State League as far as its top three clubs are concerned, for it will be the week that Cocoa, Jax Beach, and Daytona Beach will be pitted against three of the loop's second division clubs.

The hottest pennant race in years had a midnight Thursday found Hama Howell's Indians tied with Ed Levy's now sensational Islanders whose consecutive win streak had passed the 11 mark. Half a game out was Red Traway's Jax Beach Sea Birds, while the defending champion Deland Red Hots were three games off the pace.

The Islanders meet Deland Monday and Tuesday, Palatka Wednesday and Thursday, last place Orlando Friday and Saturday and Leeburg Sunday and Monday, while the Indians take on Leeburg, Deland, Palatka, and Deland in that order on the same days.

The Birds meet the tough Sanford Cardinals Monday and Tuesday, then Deland, Leeburg, and Orlando.

With the season's first half only 37 days away, this thus is that all-important week for the leaders—the week they can stanch away a string of wins before they star meeting each other again.

As of midnight Thursday, official averages revealed Traway as the loop's top slugger and last year's champion, Deland's Jack Gude, his nearest rival. Dick Zuccato of Daytona was the only rookie in the top ten, and he was proud of a fine .406 figure after 30 games.

Howell's "Cocoa" men were going strong in the top ten for the first time this year with a fine week's work with the willow. He was leading the league in RBI's with 20, and was second to Dick Haller off Daytona in stolen bases, having 15 to Haller's 20. Howell turned in the year's finest pitching performance to date when on Thursday night he pitched a no-hit ball against the Birds for seven innings, finally winning, 1 to 0, in the eighth when he allowed the birds two hits.

Except in isolated cases such as the performances turned in by Daytona's Hartwey Irbly, Palatka's Al Pitzer, Cocoa's Lucky Thurman, Leeburg's Charlie Ramsey and Cocoa's Ramon, and Sanford's Price Westbrook, it was a rough week for the hitters, although it can't be said that the hurlers have started to take over as in the season in the Florida State by late May.

Irbly was leading in runs scored with 27; Traway had the most hits, 36; Pitzer the most homers, five; Haller the most stolen bases, 20; Howell the most RBI's, 20. Zuccato and Traway were tied in doubles with 13 each, while Irbly and team-mates Penn and O'Flynn, and Sloan of Orlando were tied in triples with five each.

Among the pitching regulars, only one was undefeated at midnight Thursday, the Islanders rookie and Kris Crutcher, winner of six straight. Howell had five wins without a loss, but four came in brief runs.

The Birds' Joe Angel had won eight with a single loss, while Leeburg's Don Wright was a seven game winner out of eight decisions, and Cocoa's Lee Simard had won six of eight decisions.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
CHICAGO (AP) — Rocky Marciano, the cobbler's son, had been sitting happily for a half-hour beside his manager, Al Weill, answering a barrage of questions thrown at him by the assembled press. Some of the questions were barbed, tossed in by admirers of Jersey Joe Walcott, but the grinning heavyweight champion handled them with ease and dispatch.

"That's the fellow," observed a reporter on the outside edge, "who was called punchy the other day by Felix Bruchstein (Walcott's manager). I wish I was punchy the way he is. In fact, I would like to be exactly as punchy as he and Weill are together."

It was the exact way of suggesting that, between them, Rocky and his round business agent might possibly comprise the most destructive team in the history of the sport. Rocky can hit and he possesses a remarkable native intelligence. Weill has long been recognized, and not necessarily with admiration by fellow members of the craft, as a genius with the boxing dollar.

They are going to make an excellent team of "Al" and "Rocky" in the years. Not too many others in the game can expect to get wealthy while Rocky and Al are in command. In fact, many of boxing's top figures were very gloomy about the immediate future of Friday night's monuments here. They fear the effects will be felt for some time. But they know that Rocky and Al will do all right for themselves.

The plight of the two leading challengers, Kazari Charles and Roland La Starza, is a rather sad one for the reason that they are losing in one another's way. If either had an outright claim in a title fight they could start heating the drums right now for an outdoor show in New York in September. But La Starza's manager, Jimmy De Angelo, wants no part of Charles, and it is difficult to see where the impasse will end.

"Why should we fight Charles?" De Angelo demands. "We fought a split decision with Marciano three years ago, and he's been dodging us ever since. Now we're not going to do a thing until we get Weill in the ring again."

In the meantime, manager Weill will do as much as he can for the Ring. Himself, except between rounds.

"All right, La Starza doesn't want to fight us," snorted Jake Mintz, a co-manager of Charles. "If that's the way they feel they can go on fighting him and making nothing. Charles deserves the fight, and I'm not worrying about that punch of Marciano's. I don't have to take it."

Meantime, Weill is talking happily of making movie shorts and touring the Orient for "big money." In reply to a direct question he conceded, rather shyly, we thought, that Marciano would take part in both projects. Rocky enjoyed the exchange hugely.

Price Westbrook Is Sidelined For Six-Week Period

Price Westbrook, 19-year-old Sanford first baseman, will be lost to the Cardinals for at least six weeks and possibly two months, Dr. John Morgan stated Saturday.

Westbrook fractured a small bone in his right ankle while sliding back to second base in last Friday night's game with Daytona Beach Islanders at the Memorial Stadium. Only two weeks ago, Westbrook bruised his leg in a slide at second at Jax Beach and was sidelined for several days.

The lanky native of Albany, Ga., was Sanford's leading hitter with a .316 average in 14 games. He had driving in 12 runs on 18 hits, including five doubles and two triples.

Meanwhile, Dr. Morgan said Bob Wagner, 19-year-old second baseman, would be able to return to the Cardinal lineup after a few days of rest. Wagner played into the outfield fence and wrenched his back in the pregame warm up last Friday night.

Jimmy Stepp Wins Marble Tourney At Grammar School

Jimmy Stepp, sixth grade student, won the Fifth Annual Marble Tournament held this week at the school playground. About 60 grade boys participated.

This was young Stepp's first tournament experience. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Stepp.

Mr. Stepp is chief petty officer at the local air station.

Each round eliminated the contestants down to one. The four finalists all played each other in a round-robin. Jimmy only lost one game in matches played with the other three boys.

The runner-up was Charles Koke, room eight. Finalists in the four rooms and runner-up were Room Six champion Jimmy Stepp and runner-up James Gouley; Room Seven, Lester Varnold and runner-up Allan Swartz; Room Eight, Charles Koke and Willie Osler.

The national marble rules, supervised by Principal H. C. Steele, Palmeri, hero of Friday night's

Redbirds 1/2 Game Out Of Cellar; Cards Invade Jax Beach Tonight

After Sanford snapped Daytona Beach's 11-game winning skid behind Ernie Palmeri's nifty seven-hitter on Friday night, the Cardinals went on to blow two leads in being two straight games to the doormat Orlando Senators Saturday and Sunday nights.

Shoddy fielding teamed with erratic hurling to enable the hapless Senators to draw within only one-half game of the seventh place Redbirds who play in Jax Beach this evening. Last night's 15-12 setback in the Sen in Orlando marked the 16th defeat for Sanford in only 18 road games for a dismal .111 non-lost percentage.

Upon first examination the analyst Sanford's Orlando series might contrive a single word to describe the "football" games — "runkin." In the last three games between the two clubs, no less than 75 runs have crossed the plate, 43 for Sanford and 32 for Orlando.

Sanford slaughtered Orlando May 4, 25-5. Last Saturday night 1000 customers watched Orlando overcome a 9-4 deficit to stomp Sanford 12-9 on Boy Scout Appreciation night in the Memorial Stadium. Resuming the run apocalyptic, Orlando fell back 7-1 in the third frame only to overhaul the locals at Tinker Field, 15-12, last night.

Despite the Orlando sweep in the two-game Sanford series, the Cardinals are only one-half game out of sixth place behind the Palatka Azaleas, the same team defeated to become the property of Lakeland on Wednesday night.

Tonight Manager J. C. Dunn, determined there is no such thing as a free lunch for his bustling Cardinal stragglers, will march his charges into Jacksonville Beach to engage the second place Sea Birds who are just one-half game off the pace-setting Daytona Beach Islanders.

Dunn has tentatively designated left-handed outfielder Lou Calvetti for the starting mound role this evening. Calvetti with a 0-2 mark has not been spectacular as a slinger, though he has shown speed. Calvetti is the only southpaw Dunn has on his eight-man hurling corps.

Another dark horse entry on tonight's starting mound slate is Marine vet Bill Ashcraft, 21-year-old right-hander. His claim to fame consists of striking out Bill Leavitt, Braves Ed Mathews and Pete Whisenant—with Atlanta now—while flinging for the Pendleton Marines in San Diego, Calif., during spring training in 1933.

The ex-staff sergeant hails from St. Louis, Mo. He was discharged from the service last May and began his organized ball career with Ada, Okla. of the class D Souther State League. Ashcraft worked 28 innings for Ada in 13 games, fanning 22 and passing 31 with a 7.0 earned run average. He is a rangy fellow standing 6-foot-2 and weighs 175.

As yet Ashcraft has not appeared in his first game with Sanford. He was transferred here from the St. Louis Cardinal farm affiliate at Hazleton, Pa. over a week ago.

Looking back over last night's game one readily sees what happened by reading off the eight errors committed by the Garden. Here is a rundown on the miscues by each player: Tony Bass (2), Bill Harris (2), Bob Wagner (1), Lou Gary (1) and Paul Smith (1). Saturday night's game was facilitated by four more Sanford fielding blunders. A rebash in that game came Manager Dunn (2), Gary (1), and Tom Leonard (1).

Yes, 11 errors in two games certainly indicates the palooka suffering from a severe attack of erroritis fatal to all contenders.

A dash of the unusual also punctuates the twin defeats. Both Orlando and Sanford each made 12 hits in both games for a total of 24.

Murray Byrd—gopher ball specialist—unsuccessfully sought his fourth win of the year and was tagged for 10 runs before Dave Leonard relieved him in the 7th Saturday night. Byrd now has a 3-4 mark. Vince Zingone trifled out his second homer off Byrd in that game. Orlando's Lowery reached third for a circuit drive on May 4 off Byrd.

Last night Clarence Ingram usually very effective, started and lasted only until the fourth. Orlando touched Ingram for four hits and six runs. This showing was helped by Sanford errors and three passes by Ingram. Ernie Palmeri, hero of Friday night's

Daytona Victory, Came On And Batted A Few Batters Yielding Two Hits, A Run and a Pass

Harry Mella twirled one stanza, allowing three tallies, two hits and one walk. Paul Smith came in on the seventh and was tagged for three Orlando runs and the loss. Smith now holds a 1-4 mark.

Sanford fans could derive some solace from the batting average Tommy Leonard booted his team leading figure from .346 to .351. Others increasing their marks were as follows: Bill Harris from .333 to .344; Bill Silverthorne from .317 to .327; Tony Barone from .189 to .316; Bill Batty from .307 to .321.

CAND CAPERS: For the first time in home games in the Memorial Stadium, the Sanford Cardinals have attracted 13,052 fans. Of this total 11,640 have been paid. The large Boy Scout appreciation night last Saturday drew 1,063 total and 950 paid. In spite of the highly billed Marciano-Walcott fight, 668 Cardinal followers paid to see the long leading Daytona Beach Islanders here last Friday night.

VCKC Is Mapping Elaborate Plans For Big Opening

DAYTONA BEACH (Special)—For the third successive year, a vivacious baton twirler will lead the parade of greyhounds to the town where the Volusia County Kennel Club opens its 90 night greyhound season June 4.

Dorothea Rickards, of Holly Hill, a beautiful brunette, has been selected by General Manager Jerry Collins to succeed Pat Coffman, who twirled last season. Miss Coffman is now in California.

Manny Gage, and his famed band will return to the track for his sixth consecutive year. The old maestro is extremely popular with the greyhound fans.

Work on the improvements at the track is progressing rapidly. The Australian totalizer which will be one of the big features this year will be in perfect working order when the curtain rises June 4.

A huge cable must be laid from the mutual department across the infield to the electric odds board. Straight, place and show tickets as well as quiniela tickets will be sold from machines connected with the totalizer.

Jerry Collins, general manager announced that the totalizer will save as much as four minutes on every race and that the fans will leave the track a half hour earlier each night.

Schooling races will begin next Monday night May 28 and continue through June 4. The public is invited to the schooling races and the admission is free.

President To Ask Retention Of Tax Setup

Eisenhower Proposal Goes Against Party

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will ask Congress to extend the excess profits tax for six months beyond July 1, the present expiration date.

He will also recommend that individual income taxes be maintained at the present level for the rest of the year.

GOP congressional leaders reported after a conference with Eisenhower today that these were among his planned fiscal proposals. Eisenhower is expected to announce tonight at 9:30 p. m. (EST) to give the nation the background of financial and defense problems leading to his decision. The address will be broadcast on all major networks.

The President's decisions run contrary to a considerable body of sentiment in his own party in Congress.

There have been demands to let the excess profits tax on corporations die June 30 and some members of Congress have been urging an income tax rate of about 10 per cent effective July 1.

Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Rep. H. R. Hays (R-Mo.), chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, gave newsmen the report on the President's intentions, as outlined to them at the White House earlier.

They held a news conference after they and other GOP congressional leaders had conferred with Eisenhower for more than an hour. At the session, they said, Eisenhower reviewed the radio speech he will make.

Short told reporters that since the Eisenhower administration took office Jan. 20, the effective strength of the Air Force has been "practically doubled."

He said the Air Force had about 47 combat wings in January and that the number has been built up to about 73.

The program calls for about 114 wings by July 1, 1954, and about 120 by July 1, 1955, he said.

Saltonstall said there has been much talk about abandoning a goal of 143 combat wings. He commented that the program actually will provide "more security and efficiency" with less money.

The number of planes in a wing will drop from 30 heavy bombers to 15 fighters.

By designating Saltonstall and Short as spokesmen after the White House session, the GOP congressional leaders emphasized the tie up between financial and defense problems.

Saltonstall said that a total of about $9 billion, 600 million dollars will be available from this year's overall defense spending, including carryover funds for air power construction.

Lions Club Picks Miss Ann Raborn For Queen Contest

Ann Raborn, vivacious 17-year-old blue-eyed brown-haired senior at Seminole High School, was selected today as the Lions Club's entry in New Smyrna Beach's Seaside Fiesta beauty contest on June 13.

Miss Raborn who was a guest of the club received a rousing vote of acclamation at the Lions Club meeting in the Yacht Club.

She was introduced by Jack Stamper, co-chairman with Harry Robinson of the Seaside Fiesta committee for the local club. The New Smyrna Beach Lions are sponsoring the beauty contest for the fourth Seaside Fiesta commemorative of the Golden Anniversary of the City of New Smyrna Beach, June 10 through June 13.

After a brief discussion, King Lion Ed McCall designated the night of June 9 as the tentative date for the installation of the new officers at the Mayfair-Seminole Country Club. It has been originally planned for either the night of May 26 or June 1. However, president-elect Volie Willer.

SEWAGE TREATMENT

Paul Richards, sanitary engineer of the Southern Biscayne Basin office of the U. S. Public Health Service, is in Sanford today to discuss the sewage treatment program with city officials.

He is expected to meet with the City Commission Wednesday noon after the survey is completed to present his report. City Manager Tom Lemon, who presided over the survey, returns to his desk tomorrow morning and will attend the special session.

Attorney General To Give Opinion On Sheriff's Bill

Differences of opinion between Sheriff J. L. Hobby and the Board of County Commissioners over last month's sheriff's office bill of $1,212.83 will be ironed out tomorrow at Tallahassee when County Attorney Lloyd F. Boyle and Sheriff Hobby meet with Attorney General Richard E. Kravitz to get a ruling on all controversial points.

Two weeks ago the County Commission refused to pay the bill because of several items listed which did not meet with their complete approval.

This morning Sheriff Hobby met with the Commissioners again with little evidence of the friction which had prevailed earlier.

Following tomorrow's meeting, Mr. Boyle is expected to write to the Commission giving the Attorney General's ruling. Should they be favorable to the sheriff's cause, Chairman J. F. McClelland said he would immediately sign the check for last month's expenses.

Prior to the meeting two weeks ago, Mr. Boyle had told several of the Commissioners not to pay the bill in question. However, it was brought out in today's session that Mr. Boyle had asked Sheriff Hobby not to file a suit leading to pay.

Lemon Presents Plan In American City

City Manager Tom Lemon, in a story in the May edition of The American City magazine, is quoted as urging a federal department for local government affairs.

The article states: "A suggestion made with various modifications during the past 40 years has been renewed by City Manager Thomas L. Lemon of Sanford, Fla. This is that there be set up in the federal government a 'Department for Local Government Affairs' or 'Permanent Committee to Coordinate Intergovernmental Relations'."

One of the important functions that such an agency might perform, Mr. Lemon suggests, is to plan a program of municipal improvement that would take up the slack in employment if a depression should threaten.

"Critically needed improvements and facilities, running into the millions of dollars in cost, could be started and completed in a program which would not be based on doles or give-away ideas," he asserted.

KIDS TO GOVERN

High School Students Will Take Over Local Rule In Kids County

Students from three high schools in Seminole County will "take over" the Court House tomorrow under a unique project sponsored by the Sanford Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Candidates from Seminole, Oviedo, and Lyman schools will assume the duties of County officials during Kids County according to William Hutcheson and Gordon Frederick, chairman for the educational project.

Elected officials will gather at the Court House at 10:00 a. m. and with a guiding hand from the regular office holders will run the functions of the County for one day. Of special interest will be the plea day in court which will enable the youngsters to watch the proceedings first hand.

Kids County was conceived by the Junior Chamber of Commerce to afford the high school generation a practical lesson in government, its functions, and the importance of voting. It was originated by Judge Douglas Stewart, who also gave it the name.

After students spend Wednesday in the offices in which they were elected, they will report on the functions of that office to their parents. A public hearing official will accompany them to

Proposal Granting Freezing Power To President Downed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today voted down, 45 to 41, a proposal to give the President power to freeze wages, prices and rents for 90 days in the event of grave national emergency.

The stand-by freeze authority, bitterly contested by Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) who said President Eisenhower didn't want it, was sponsored by Sen. Caperhart (R-Ind.), chairman of the Banking Committee.

It was the first vote taken by the Senate on a bill to extend the Defense Production Act in curtailed form.

The vote actually was on an amendment by Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) to limit the President's freeze authority to an actual declaration of war or after a concurrent resolution by Congress. In effect, this means the President could not freeze the economy without congressional action.

The Byrd amendment was adopted by the roll call vote. Taft had said in debate that the Caperhart proposal was "absolutely contrary to the whole theory of a free economy."

Area Rent Offices In State Are Not Affected By Move

Area rent offices in Florida are not affected by the recent order of the Office of Rent Stabilization in Washington closing 26 area rent control offices throughout the United States and transferring their pending operations to the nearest rent control office.

This information was released today by the local Area Rent Office in the Melach Building and quoted Glenwood J. Sherrard, newly named director of the Office of Rent Stabilization, as saying the move was an economy measure in anticipation of the end of federal rent controls altogether in those areas on July 31 as required by law.

Mr. Sherrard explained that this is the first of a series of economy moves in the agency intended to accelerate its liquidation and eliminate its economy measure in damage to the liquidation process.

The average saving to the federal treasury as a result of the closing of offices selected is about $2,000 each for the period involved, or a total of about $50,000.

Guard Company To Undergo Training At Camp Blanding

The Sanford unit in the Florida National Guard, Co. 1, 124th Inf. Regt., will undergo its second week of training this week at Camp Blanding near Saturday and Sunday. It was announced today.

Co. 1, with 93 officers and men, will leave Sanford Friday night and return late Sunday afternoon.

Training will be received in all basic infantry weapons. The main rifle in the 37 mm recoilless rifle will be used in the training. The unit will be equipped with all weapons from the 30 cal. M1 rifle to the 37 mm recoilless rifle.

The average saving to the federal treasury as a result of the closing of offices selected is about $2,000 each for the period involved, or a total of about $50,000.

This will be the last weekend of training for the unit before the annual summer encampment which again this year will be held at Fort McClellan, Ala. from July 19 to July 25.

Battalion drill competition will be held at Blanding this weekend with all units from the 3rd Battalion competing. The winning platoon will be eligible for the regimental competition at Fort McClellan this summer. The drill platoon of Co. 1 is commanded by 2nd Lt. Glenn A. Lingle with Sgt. Joseph Werner as platoon sergeant.

The unit softball team will open league play in the City Softball League this evening Wednesday night against FAARON 51 from the Sanford NAAR. Mr. Lloyd Swain has nominated either Roy Green or Richard (Dick) Frank to pitch the opening game.

Buildings Shake From Big Force Of Atomic Blast

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—An atomic blast powerful enough to shake buildings in Bishop, Calif., 200 miles away, barrel over the Nevada desert before dawn today.

The unusually bright shot also rattled buildings in this gambling community 75 miles from the proving ground, but there were no immediate reports of damage.

Police in Bishop said the shock wave came in two or three short jolts, rumbling like cannon shots, and were the strongest ever felt there.

The blast, ninth and next-to-last of the spring test series, was set off from a 300-foot tower at Yucca Flat, near 26 congressional watches from the center and 1,000 armed force observers in trenches 4,000 yards away.

The shot, four times postponed, was primarily for scientific and observational purposes. The Atomic Energy Commission said 60 tests were conducted.

Besides military equipment and civilian defense structures, anti-aircraft defenses were exposed to the blast. The drugstore tested for resistance to blast effects.

Forty-seven planes, including 12 Strategic Air Command B-50 bombers from Russell, N. M., were in the air on various missions. A Navy AD-2 drone plane was flown into the thermal envelope, but there was no immediate report on how it fared.

There was no military maneuver following the blast.

Last Cancer Fund Activity To Be Held

The last activity of the Cancer Fund Drive will take place on Thursday night at 8:00 p. m. when Mrs. Mary Neely will preside over the fund drive presents senior students of the Duxbury School of Ocala in a recital at the Seminole High School Auditorium.

The presentation will begin at 8:00 p. m. and will portray the title "Dance Varieties" in four colorful and varied acts.

Mr. Horton is serving as business chairman for the recital and Doris Duxbury is dance director. Advanced students of the dancing school will appear in membership of Benbow's, ballet, acrobatic, adagio and baton twirling.

Former Sanfordite Entertains At 80

You are never too old to learn or climb to new heights of fame and glory.

That, at least, seems to be the philosophy of Mrs. Mary Neely, who will be 81 years old on July 14, and who made her debut over WPAM at Pottsville, Pa. just two short months ago.

As a result of her beautiful rendition of Benbow's "Moonlight Sonata" and Rubinstein's "Romance," she was besieged with telephone calls and fan mail which resulted in her appearance at the annual Mother's Day banquet in Lansford, Pa. where her husband's "Ave Maria" was broadcast.

Mrs. Neely formerly lived in Sanford and though she has been in the north for the past five years she has visited here frequently and sold her home here only last fall.

She is the mother of Mrs. H. M. Harris, the former Mrs. Elizabeth Neely, who now lives in Tampa, Fla. where she is the wife of a prominent attorney. Mrs. Neely is also a sister of Florida's Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo.

Mrs. Neely was born in 1872 in Edgcomb county, North Carolina, the daughter of Col. James Meacham Mayo who was the first volunteer in the Confederate army. She moved to Ocala with her family when she was only 14 years of age.

Lake Mary Seeks County's Aid On Bathing Beaches

Lake Mary residents appeared before the County Commission today during their regular meeting with several requests which they feel are vital to their community.

Chief of these was an appeal for the commission to take action in controlling activities at the Lake Mary Public Beach.

Mr. B. H. Hickenbach presented a petition signed by 116 residents and in addition stated he was representing 87 school children in attempting to make the beach a public recreation area.

He declared the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce, the Lake Mary School Teachers Association and the security of the Lake Mary School requested that the Commission pass laws pertaining to the beach which could be enforced by the sheriff's office.

The petition listed the following suggested laws:

1. No alcoholic beverages at beach.
2. Beach to be closed at 9:30 p. m.
3. Cars and boats not to be allowed past post barriers.
4. Motor boats and water skiers to be restricted 100 yards from swimming area.

Chairman J. F. McClelland pointed out to the delegation of 20 persons that the Commission could not pass laws which would be too late to have laws in effect at Tallahassee during this session of the Legislature.

During a discussion, the Rev. J. B. Starnes said the area was littered with broken glass and beer cans. Many persons living in the area, he declared, because of the present circumstances, they do not feel it is safe.

Mr. Hickenbach said Lake Mary was a visitor from other communities and that it was necessary if children were to enjoy the facilities.

The commission said signs would be placed along the beach and in the water which would restrict passage of automobiles and boats. The deputy sheriff for the area will be requested to visit the beach frequently in order to check on the litter.

CUSTOMERS WITHOUT SERVICE Odham Urges Quick Action Toward Getting Industries For Sanford

The Sanford Industrial Board and Sanford industries, in a joint effort to get together on common aims after yesterday afternoon's session concluded on a discussion of the subject.

Sanford Industries, Inc. yesterday presented a plan whereby Friday would be designated as a "Day" on that date an industrial drive was planned by many Sanford people to contact as many Sanford people as possible to get them to sign subscriptions to purchase stock in the company.

But although Chairman Bradley Odham of the Industrial Board presented himself as being in accord with the drive, other members of the City group asked additional time for consideration.

Mr. Odham urged quick action by the city group and the industrial manufacturers are daily expressing their interest in locating in Sanford.

"We are in the position of having customers waiting at the counter before we are ready to serve them," he pointed out. "Earlier I misunderstood the interest of the people of Sanford in the industrial movement, but I am now convinced that the people are in accord with the aims of the program."

Chairman Odham said the commission of Industrial Board members who had written to him as he had earlier requested was the necessity of an industrial survey. He introduced Mayor Joseph Caravaglia, a retired Army officer, as the one who would make the survey.

Mr. Odham said that making a survey would spend two weeks making a survey.

Proposed Amendment Must Clear House

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Rep. Williams today introduced H.R. 3377 repealing a law creating the Seminole small claims court.

The Senate today changed its mind and voted to impose a constitutional ban on the spending of any state funds on the proposed Florida turnpike.

The Senate voted 29-6 to pass the proposed constitutional amendment, which Monday was defeated when it drew only 22 favorable votes, one short of the three-fifths majority required.

The proposed amendment still must clear the House and Gov. McCarty and be put up to a vote of the people.

In the House the Senate approved bill to build a turnpike from Miami to Duval County was referred to the committee on public roads.

Sen. C. L. Talbot, Tallahassee, pleaded with the Senate not to reconsider its defeat of the ban on use of tax funds for a turnpike. He called it a "straight jacket" that would be binding forever.

The amendment was so phrased that it would preclude Florida from taking advantage of any federal aid that might be made available by the congress on toll roads.

Sen. Gunter, Miami, a leader in the fight to build a toll turnpike on the East Coast linking Jacksonville and Miami, supported the amendment.

Proponents of the turnpike bill hold that the credit of the state is not and never will be pledged by finance the tollpike, he said, and the constitutional amendment offered by Sen. Sturges, Ocala, is nothing more than a further safeguard of the state's pledge that the toll road never will cost taxpayers a single penny.

The amendment will not affect toll bridges or tunnel projects if financed by bonds paid off by tolls and counties' shares of surplus gas tax money.

In the House, the Senate approved measure to authorize construction of a turnpike from Miami to Jacksonville was referred to the Committee on Public Roads.

Senators refused to consider the action of last Thursday in deferring the multiple school text book bill which would permit continued cost to rise.

Mrs. Neely resided in this city for many years prior to moving to Pennsylvania about five years ago.

Three dimensional movies have shown conclusively that Jersey Joe Walcott only stirred slightly at the count of 10 which gave Rocky Marciano an official knockout victory in last Friday's heavyweight championship fight. In other words Joe lost fair and square but true to the worst traditions of a so-called sport he had to holler "foul" thereby adding one more blot on the already soiled escutcheon of the boxing profession.

Congratulations to John Pearson on the fine program presented on Armed Forces Day. It was no fault of his that the day was extremely hot, that the loud speaker didn't work and that the audience had difficulty in hearing, not only on account of the static, but also on account of the blaring of horns in the neighborhood. It is too bad that more people could not have heard General Morarty's timely warning on civil defense.

R. H. Gore, Ft. Lauderdale publisher, who once gave the State Park Board 270 acres of land for development, now wants it back so that he can make improvements and give it to the city of Ft. Lauderdale. It isn't always that the government looks out for the interest of the common people, necessarily always doing the right thing to provide recreation spots for the public. Some times it remains lethargic and lets a private benefactor assume the responsibility the State has shirked.

East Germany's Soviet-controlled military command is considering the dispatch of troop units to Poland and Czechoslovakia to stop westward desertions. It seems that at least 500 members of the Soviet Zone military section have fled to West Berlin this year, plus an equal number of regular "people's police." This may not prove it, but it seems to us that such wholesale desire to "get out" indicates a slight degree of dissatisfaction on the part of the "peepul", to live under the "benign" administration of totalitarian dictators.

A typical gangland killing, reminiscent of Chicago at its bloody worst, is reported in Central Florida this week as the body of the missing Polk county gambler is found in a swamp along a highway near Kissimmee. Mysteriously disappearing from his Orlando home Monday May 11, police had already concluded that he had been taken for a ride. His body with three bullet holes in his chest, his glasses and face smashed, was not found until nearly a week later. Rival elements in the bolita racket are presumed to have committed the murder.

What are probably the oldest living citrus trees in Florida are reported at Bayard Point, on the St. Johns River about half way between Palatka and Green Cove Springs. Charles Berdin, a retired publisher, says the trees still producing a fine quality of fruit are of remarkable size with enormous trunks and probably escaped the many freezes of the last century through the protection afforded by the heavy growth of mangrove trees and other trees in the area.

Frankly, from all I've been able to learn the future of television is not as rosy as the set salesman would have you believe. Television got off to a bum start and is mired down with a lot of problems that the laymen knows nothing about. If you happen to be one of those trusting souls who thinks that good television is just around the corner, you would do well to forget it all up your thinking. Television is taking its own good time deciding whom to license. This agency, like most all others, moves at a snail's pace, is all bound up in red tape and doesn't care a codd-eyed hoot about the millions of folks who would like to enjoy television but must wait until the all-wise and all-powerful Washington bureaucrats get around to giving them permission.

Don't get set wrong, I'm not talking against television. I have a set and have had for some time but I can only get a program about once or twice a week, and that is when I'm home. I don't see how it can be any different from television and there is plenty of information to contend with. What would you like to see on a regular schedule?

The Farmer Is Hit

Seminole County farmers have just gone through one of the worst seasons in the history of this county. If there was a single farmer in the Sanford area who made any money on his celery crop this year, we have yet to hear of him. And the returns from cabbage and other crops were almost as bad.

Yet we are advised by the Sanford State Farmers Market that at the same time Sanford farmers were selling their produce at a loss, vegetables were being imported into the United States from foreign countries. We had thought that the unseasonably warm weather in he states to be north of us was largely to blame, but it seems that laws made by our own Congress have something to do with it.

"This country cannot produce its own food and fibre and at the same time purchase its supply of food and fibre from foreign lands", writes Tom Linder in the Market Bulletin published in Atlanta. "If we produce what we need in this country and also buy what we need from foreign countries, we will have a surplus."

Last January when our farmers were growing cabbage which was selling as low as 66 cents a bag, the equivalent of 13 cartons of cabbage arrived in New York City by boat from Holland. Between Jan. 16 and May 9 more than 32 cars of celery were shipped into New York from Belgium when local farmers were losing money on the endive grown here.

We are all too familiar with how the Cuban pineapple growers with their cheap labor drove the Florida pineapple growers out of business. We know what the peon labor of Mexico did to the tomato growers in Florida who cannot compete with them and continue to pay the high wages from our local farm labor demands.

"We hear lots of agitation about trade with other nations", Mr. Linder declares. "Some want free trade, some want protective tariff. The fact is, however, that neither free trade nor protective tariff can of itself solve our problem. Whenever an individual or nation buys anything it does not need, it is an economical loss. Imports at any price should be limited to only those things we need."

Mr. Linder goes on to blast the theory that we must buy from foreign countries because they need our dollars. We need our dollars too, he says. "Most people in this country are short of dollars", he declares. "If we have any ability to sell to people who don't run short of dollars, such obligation would lie to the people here in America whose dollars are the monetary unit."

"We have apparently been trying to send them (overseas) more dollars than they could send back for a number of years, but apparently the more dollars we have sent the more dollars they have demanded."

And in the meantime our own farmers are suffering from this cut throat competition.

Captain Kidd's Hoard

Treasure hunters and those who would like to be should celebrate May 23, as this was the last day on earth of the most famous treasure gatherer of them all, Captain William Kidd. Actually, he neither gathered nor buried any treasure at all, nor was he a pirate. His name, however, is indelibly fixed in people's minds as the accumulator of a stolen hoard which, if found, would make the finder rich. On this account all along the Atlantic Coast from Canada to the West Indies lovers of adventure and easy wealth have dug for Captain Kidd's treasure.

The most unlikely places have been searched. On the Penobscot River in Maine it has been estimated that enough earth has been dug by treasure-seekers to have built embankments and filled cuts on a railroad 20 miles long. The fact that Kidd never visited Maine makes no difference.

As said before, Kidd was no pirate. He was an innocent victim of powerful men seeking a scapegoat. He was a privateer, a private shipmaster commissioned by the British government to prey on enemy commerce. While living in New York in 1695, he was commissioned by the colony's royal governor to wipe out the pirates and to seize their loot. Not only did he fail to get rich, but his men deserted him, and he was finally accused of being a pirate himself. He was tried for this and also for his killing of William Moore, a mutinous seaman. On May 23, 1701, he was hanged for murder at Execution Dock, London.

Praise For Texas

Editor and Publisher, trade magazine for newspapermen, commented favorably recently on a resolution passed by the Texas legislature. The resolution calls on all public officials, on the state, federal and local levels, to provide for full disclosure of information. It asks that the public business be conducted in a public manner. It warns against the dangers of secret proceeding and specifically condemns the order issued by President Truman and still in effect which permits the heads of federal departments to withhold information at will.

The Texas legislature deserves commendation. At a time when too many officials are demonstrating that they believe the conduct of their offices is not the public's business it is good to see one of lawmakers take a positive stand for the right of people to know what their government is doing.

A government in a democracy must have the confidence of the people and it must always be ready to give an account of its actions. It is only on this basis that voters can make intelligent decisions at the polls. Officials who have nothing to hide need never fear the citizens who get out the newspapers nor the citizens who read them.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

With the exception of the Jacksonville and Miami area, Florida has been more or less out of the television picture. While thousands of sets have been sold throughout the state, reception has not been very satisfactory.

This week the first station on Florida's West Coast, WBUN, went on the air with test patterns and expects to be televising regular programs shortly. It is doubtful if any other station will be operating in the Tampa-St. Petersburg area for at least another year.

Applicants for various channels are still quarreling, and the Federal Communications Commission is taking its own good time deciding whom to license. This agency, like most all others, moves at a snail's pace, is all bound up in red tape and doesn't care a codd-eyed hoot about the millions of folks who would like to enjoy television but must wait until the all-wise and all-powerful Washington bureaucrats get around to giving them permission.

Frankly, from all I've been able to learn the future of television is not as rosy as the set salesman would have you believe. Television got off to a bum start and is mired down with a lot of problems that the laymen knows nothing about. If you happen to be one of those trusting souls who thinks that good television is just around the corner, you would do well to forget it all up your thinking. Television is taking its own good time deciding whom to license. This agency, like most all others, moves at a snail's pace, is all bound up in red tape and doesn't care a codd-eyed hoot about the millions of folks who would like to enjoy television but must wait until the all-wise and all-powerful Washington bureaucrats get around to giving them permission.

THE WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The present Joint Chiefs of Staff, long-time opponents in arms of President Eisenhower, stated their positions clearly enough but, all in all, they have been fairly mild and quiet since.

The new Joint Chiefs, named by Eisenhower in a complete overhaul of the top command in the armed forces, may turn out to be more aggressive and vocal and therefore a disappointment to any politicians who want rubber stamps.

The present Joint Chiefs, the top military men of the country, are: Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman; Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff; Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff; and Adm. William M. Fechteler, chief of naval operations.

(Fechteler has had his job only since August, 1951, when he was moved up to succeed the late Adm. Forrest Sherman.)

The Joint Chiefs got mixed up in politics in early 1951 when they opposed Gen. Douglas MacArthur's desire to hit the Chinese with an all-out attack. They said it might involve this country in an all-out Asiatic war. They urged watching Europe. That was before Fechteler succeeded Sherman.

During last year's presidential campaign, Sen. Taft of Ohio, Senate Republican leader and the most powerful man in Congress, said he had no confidence in the present Joint Chiefs.

Advisedly in satisfy Secretary of Defense Wilson, Eisenhower last week announced he was appointing all new Joint Chiefs, including Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman; Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff; Gen. Nathan Twining, chief of the Air Force; and Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations.

At the same time Eisenhower said he was picking Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther to succeed Ridgway as chief of the Allied Powers in Europe.

Radford is an outspoken man, so outspoken that there had been some doubt he would be made chairman of the Joint Chiefs. He is not an old-time politician. It means conflict with Congress.

Ridgway and Gruenther, before taking their new jobs, stepped squarely into the picture yesterday. Ridgway is in the picture in Congress. Gruenther is in a Paris news conference.

The President had recommended big cut in appropriations for the Air Force as the price for the full endorsement of Secretary Wilson.

In his testimony to the House way said he was familiar with the Air Force cuts proposed by the Eisenhower administration. A Democrat, Rep. Hester of Virginia, wanted to know his opinion of "if the reduction would result in any reduction in our minimum requirements (in Western Europe) I would desire seeing that reduction made the committee air power is still the weakest link in Europe's defenses. He said:

"Despite the substantial gains in numbers of aircraft and a steady decline in the number of the United States' mutual defense assistance program, our air forces today are still inadequate to carry out their assigned mission."

And in Paris Gruenther, who had worked closely with Eisenhower when the President held Ridgway's present job, said adequate air power is still one of the major weaknesses in European defenses.

He said the Russians have 20,000 planes in operation and described their Air Force as "not the best in the world, but from the standpoint of quantity and quality it is."

Although he said he does not expect a third world war, he added: "I cannot see the moment when we can start reducing our strength."

And he said: "Our biggest difficulty is that we haven't got adequate air power yet."

BROKEN BACK
ORLANDO (U)—The condition of Herbert Jones, 63, who lay on the ground for five days, unable to seek help because of a broken back was described as serious today at a hospital here.

Jones was found Sunday afternoon near his home at Pittman when he lived alone.

He told Bob Griffin, who went to see if anything was wrong, that he fell from a ladder while pruning pecan trees last Tuesday.

He said the Russians have 20,000 planes in operation and described their Air Force as "not the best in the world, but from the standpoint of quantity and quality it is."

ARTHUR GODFREY, radio and TV star, looks as though he were about to go into a commercial for the tea poured him in Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, by nurse Elizabeth Sneddon, of Milton, Mass. Actually, Godfrey had just been given preliminary tests for a major operation on his hip. Below, he shows how he will use hand grips to move after the surgery. The device will enable him to shift his weight without overburdening the hips. (International Soundphotos)

Natural For Industry

Beautiful and useful Lake Monroe makes Sanford ideal for industry.

The Seminole County seat plans to promote the area's advantages in a business like and efficient manner.

They have employed Maj. Joseph Caccavajo, former consulting engineer of New York City, to study the industrial possibilities and prepare a survey in a drive for new business.

Maj. Caccavajo knows what it takes. His experience well qualifies him to gather the facts and figures necessary for prospects to appreciate what Sanford has to offer.

He knows how best to promote the interests of Sanford and Seminole County. His presence brings enthusiasm to Sanford's program.

Maj. Caccavajo had an outstanding career with the Army engineers in both World Wars overseas. He also won praise for efficient organization of rescue squads when consulting engineer to the Civilian Defense in Washington. He has a long and distinguished experience in many civilian capacities, among them as consultant to the president of New York's World Fair and with the City of Philadelphia.

The Mayor has called for the united support of the community public sentiment. We are sure he will be given this promptly, constructively and helpfully. All of the people, business interests and officials will co-operate with Maj. Caccavajo as he goes about developing the right kind of information to produce the desired results.

Friends of Sanford—and they are legion—are confident the ambitions and desirable goal will be reached. We congratulate this growing city on picking a man so well equipped to lead them to successfully presenting Sanford's great advantages to industry.

SCHOOLS SAID SHACKLED

National Congress Of Parents And Teachers Meets In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Hard hitting speakers at the 57th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers declared yesterday the nation's schools were:

1. Shackled with outmoded concepts.
2. Assuming too many of the responsibilities of parents.
3. Not opposed to congressional investigation for subversion provided no smear tactics are used.

Albert Sydney Rauheneimer, educational vice president of the University of Southern California, told more than 8,000 delegates to the convention that obsolete teaching methods were still being employed.

"Our methods of teaching," he said, "almost universally reflect an acceptance of the idea that a child is merely a blank tablet that has to be impressed and imprinted with facts and preconceived ideas."

Rauheneimer asserted the testing of children on contents of textbooks tends to restrain all possible development of interest and imagination.

G. F. Bruce of Edmonton, Canada, president of the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation, said teachers are asked to accept too much of a burden in many phases of school work.

"I ask you," he said, "is it fair for us to expect any teacher, who has, perhaps, not more than 11 years of schooling, plus six little as seven months of teacher training, to train, teach, counsel and advise all the children he or she instructs?"

He contended, "We are asking them to do far too much if we want any part of the job to be done well."

Meanwhile, at a press conference, Lawrence G. Berthick, superintendent of schools at Chattanooga, Tenn., was asked if congressional probes of subversion among educators constitute a threat to local control of public education.

He replied it "depends largely upon the manner in which the investigating committees function," adding:

"They will render useful service if they report evidence of subversive activities. But he said charges that cannot be substantiated would damage teaching methods through fear."

None Hurt In Early Morning Collision

A Maitland resident roared into the side of a north-bound sedan containing six Negroes early this morning on Route 17-92 without injuring anyone, but was arrested on two counts of driving while intoxicated and causing an accident, it was reported today by Deputy Sheriff Andy E. Evans, the arresting officer.

James Howard Barnes, driving south, sideswiped the approaching car with the Negroes and stopped immediately after the incident. Mr. Barnes then drove to Sanford to notify the sheriff's office and surrender to the authorities.

An estimated $300 damage was inflicted in the colored car, the two side doors were caved in, the left rear fender ripped off and left rear wheel bent. Mr. Barnes' car was almost completely demolished. He was jailed and is being held on a $245 bond.

County Commission

get to keep the area under control.

Two other requests were handled without difficulty.

The Rev. J. M. Thompson, speaking for the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce and that town's road committee, asked what the Commission's plans were for completing the unfinished portion of the road between that community and Sanford running along the railroad tracks. He said the road is in bad shape, but was used daily by a large number of cars.

The Commission advised him that the deed to the last right of way property would be picked up tomorrow, and extension of the road would be commenced soon.

Mr. Ruth Hamilton, a teacher at Lyman School of Longwood, pointed out that cars passed by the narrow road adjacent to the school at speeds of 50 to 60 miles an hour and asked that "slow" signs be posted. Commissioner B. C. Dodd said 15 mile an hour signs had already been ordered for areas adjacent to schools.

Dr. Frank L. Quilman, secretary of the Seminole County Medical Society, appeared before the Commission to request the Board to sanction the action of the Society in voting to try to get a physician appointed to the Seminole County Hospital Board of Trustees.

Dr. Quilman said the Society had elected Dr. Charles L. Park as a member.

However, as was the case two weeks ago when the Commission turned down a suggestion by Chairman McClelland that they submit the name of A. B. Peterson, the group decided to go along with their earlier nomination.

Robert S. Bradford of Altamonte Springs for the post left vacant by the death of Dr. B. F. Seaman.

The Commission voted to pay for a right of way deed on Onora Road where a street would be built by the U. S. Navy at no cost to the County. All rights of way have now been secured except for one parcel which will be obtained immediately. According to the agreement with the Navy, the County will purchase the necessary land for the construction of a road from Sanford Avenue to the Naval Auxiliary Air Station. The Navy will let the contract for construction on Thursday.

Mrs. Troy Hay, supervisor for District 12, Unit 1, of the State Department of Public Welfare, again requested two additional rooms in the Meisch Building.

Two weeks ago the Commission took no action on her request, but at today's session one additional room was approved in which a temporary partition will be erected.

Clerk O. P. Herndon was directed to notify the County's legislative delegation now at Tallahassee to introduce a liability insurance law which would permit the Commission, at its discretion, to purchase automobile insurance on County equipment and permitting the County to sue to the extent of any such insurance the County may have in force at the time of an accident.

At the last meeting H. B. Pope, a former Commissioner, pointed out the risk the County is taking in not having adequate insurance. Today H. James Galt submitted a letter to the board stating such insurance would be advisable.

Mr. Galt said insurance based on five pickup trucks, in regular use, would amount to between $700 and $974, depending on the amount of coverage desired.

The Commission was informed by letter that Earl J. Morris, field auditor for the County Officers and Employees Retirement System, has completed an audit of County payroll. He found 32 employees were officials should be members of the Retirement System according to the compulsory clause in the Retirement laws as amended by the 1947 legislation. No action was taken by the Commission.

The County received checks for $71.22 in returned premiums on insurance due to rate reductions on County property.

50 per cent of all appropriations and carry over funds on the basis of the entire budget.

Short said the plan is to reduce deficit spending in the fiscal year starting July 1 to about $1.6 billion dollars. He said that amounts to a cut of about 2 billion, 300 million dollars below the defense figure recommended last January by former President Truman.

Short said the present combat wing strength of the Air Force will be built up to about 93 wings in another six months — an increase, he said, of about 10 wings over the present strength.

"This administration is striving for security without bankruptcy," Short declared.

Before the White House meeting, Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Senate Republican leader, had indicated to reporters that he expected a hurry-up program for the Air Force to be among the matters Eisenhower would discuss in his radio address. Taft said "it is far better to have a 100-wing Air Force in six months than 143 wings in three years."

Palatka Stages Celebration Of 100 Anniversary

PALATKA (Special) — "Palatka's proudest year—100" is the theme here this week as the Junior Chamber of Commerce gets its centennial celebration under way with a parade, pageant, pageant, pageant of the time 100 years ago, men with beards and ladies with their bonnets and old time dresses.

Jane Chaney was selected queen of the week-long affair and was crowned at a coronation ball Friday night. Sunday night all churches in the city joined together for a mass religious centennial service.

The centennial pageant, first presented last night, will be staged every night this week with the concluding performance on Saturday night, with more than 350 local persons taking part in the drama which depicts the 100 year history of the city which developed its original charter in January, 1853.

The pageant is being performed in pantomime with several persons carrying the script in Marion Stadium. The stage set, which has been erected some 500 feet long and permits horse-drawn carriage and ancient autos to be used in the scenes as the story of the town unfolds in the 2 1/2 hour show.

The starting time for the event has been set each night at 8:30.

In addition to these nightly performances, there will be daytime speeches and down town parades to add to the colorful events as they unfold.

The pantomime begins with the city under the Spanish flag, and covers many of the romantic adventures of the river town, including Indians and the trouble the white people had with them, Palatka in the early days, boat traffic for both passengers and freight, the coming of the first train, later wars, the great fire and the great freeze, both setting the town on the verge of bankruptcy and the growth of the community.

The streets of Palatka are packed with men wearing beards, derby and old time garb while the ladies are sporting bonnets and oldtime costumes as everyone enters the spirit of the centennial celebration and harkens the Joycees in their effort to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the town of Palatka.

The Senate unanimously passed the bill requiring liquor salesmen to be licensed.

The House discussion over putting the referendum date for the bill on the calendar caused tempers to flare.

Rep. McFarlin, Jackson County, rose angrily during the debate to denounce the committee's action and vote for the bill did not indicate he was improperly influenced.

"I want to pay a cent for my vote," he told the House. He said it had been introduced by the bill without knowing what it was.

Liquor Salesmen Bill
TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Senate passed, 33-0, and sent to the House today a bill requiring liquor salesmen to be licensed by the State Beverage Department.

The measure also requires distillers to register their brand name with the beverage department.

Beverage Director Sam Davis has described the bill as "constructive legislation" that would aid in enforcement of beverage laws.

Sen. B. C. Pearce told the Senate brand registration and salesmen licenses fees would bring the state about $200,000 a year in new revenue.

The Senate approved bill to authorize a toll turnpike all the way from Miami to Jacksonville was received in the House and referred to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

A bill proposing addition of two more members to the present three-man State Tuberculosis Board was approved by a House committee today.

Members of the board are not paid.

In another committee action, the measure to let alcoholic beverages be sold to 18-year-olds in the military service was turned down. State law prohibits sale of such beverages to minors.

Bill To Make Pensioners
TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The Senate today was asked to raise the pension of two retired state Cabinet officers — W. V. Knott and W. S. Cawthon — to $4,500 a year.

Sen. Shands, Gainesville, introduced the bill and said they didn't know he was doing it.

Knott, 80, retired in 1940 as state treasurer after more than 40 years in that position and as state auditor, state comptroller and state hospital superintendent. He has a pension of $3,000 a year.

Cawthon, 64, served 15 years as state school superintendent and many years as a school official and University of Florida professor before his retirement several years ago. His pension is $2,050 a year.

Sheriff Starr Is Mum On Probe Of Gangland Murder

ORLANDO (AP) — Sheriff Dave Starr continued a tight-lipped investigation today into the "gangland murder" of Ed Milam while the racketeer's family prepared to bury his beaten and bullet-punctured body.

An autopsy report due today "may be helpful in the investigation," Starr said.

The sheriff who has given out only little bits of information in the case since the body was found Sunday, added that officers are reviewing a little black address book found in Milam's hip pocket.

Starr said earlier that the book, full of names, addresses and phone numbers, did not appear to be a "hit list" because "there are several well known and prominent persons listed in it."

Sheriff Bob Buckels of Osceola County, where the body was found, and Sheriff Pat Jordan of Polk County, where Milam once conducted a lush hotel operation, appeared interested in several

Accused U O F Prof. Tenders Resignation

GAINESVILLE (AP) — Dr. John H. Reynolds, suspended University of Florida professor who refused to tell a U. S. Senate committee whether he had ever been a member of the Communist party, has tendered his resignation.

University President J. Willis Miller Monday he had received a letter from Reynolds who had decided not to avail himself of the opportunity provided by the university constitution of a trial before his colleagues.

Reynolds was suspended April 23, the day he refused to answer the committee's question.

It was brought out that Reynolds a month or so earlier had told a committee investigator in an interview that he was a University of Florida dean that he had been a Communist party member.

Reynolds refused to confirm before the committee that he had denied ever being a party member in the interview.

Hobby

ment of the problem appeared to be split on whether to make payment before a suit was brought, or to await sheriff Hobbby to file suit in order that controversial issues could be clarified once and for all.

According to Clerk O. P. Herndon, seven writs were passed in the State Legislature two years ago which have a definite bearing on legitimate expenses of a sheriff.

Some of the commissioners expressed concern that Mr. Hobbby was not acquainted with the new laws when he recommended no payment be made, but that after checking statutes discovered that Sheriff Hobbby was within his rights.

Mr. Herndon asserted that the county attorney has no enthusiasm for a suit, and also that if the matter went to court, the breach would be widened between the Sheriff and the Commission.

The controversy revolves around two items listed on last month's bill. One is the subject of prisoner meals which Commissioner John Meisch earlier charged that logging of $1.25 a day has been charged following the arrest of people who post bonds and never show up for trial.

Mr. Hobbby stated today that "I have never charged a day's lodging unless a person is admitted to jail," but added that on occasions persons are released from jail before having any meals.

The second bone of contention was the trip made to Ohio by a sheriff's deputy to return a man wanted for writing worthless bank draft. Sheriff Hobbby said he had been directed to return the man here by Assistant State Prosecutor Mr. E. Briggs and was only carrying out his orders.

Milam had been dead several days when his body was discovered in dense underbrush in a swampy area about 10 miles south of Jacksonville. His skull had been crushed, an arm broken and there were three gunshot wounds.

The Orlando Morning Sentinel reported there was another theory that Milam may have been killed to prevent him from squealing.

The funeral will be held at 3 p. m. at the Church of God. The body will lie in state at the church from 9 a. m. until the services.

Surviving Milam are his widow, a son and daughter.

Lions Club

Lions Jr., who is now attending the Legislature in Tallahassee, cannot be present for the installation until June 2.

Jim Wade, son of Lion Ben Wade, was chosen to represent the club at the American Legion-sponsored Boys State. Jim won out over Bubba Bibebe, son of Lion M. Wade, by drawing straws.

These two boys are the only sons of Lions eligible to attend.

King Lion McCall announced that the club is purchasing the official United States Olympic Association's pictorial record book which will be presented to the Seminole High School Library. The club is paying only the printing costs, $3, in conformity with the national distribution of the publication through Lions International.

The book retails for $15.

Four members of the club are representing Sanford at the State Lions Convention, now in session in Miami. They are Jack K. Morrison, Al Skinner, Hugh Duncan, and District Governor Henry Witte Jr.

Latest Type MIG-15 Dumped Into Allied Lap By Daring Pilot

Plane Crash-Landed On Baltic Island

ROENNE, Bornholm, Denmark—Another Soviet-built MIG-15 was said to be the Communist world's latest fighter plane—was dumped into Allied laps today by a young dare-devil Polish pilot who crash-landed his prize on this rocky Baltic island.

Unconfirmed reports said he told Danish police his MIG plane was of a newer type than that landed on Bornholm March 3 in another famous dash by Polish Pilot Lt. Jozef Jurek.

The refugee pilot was reported to have said he was a close friend of a Czech, whose MIG was the first to fall unharmed into the hands of Allied experts, a week ago in the United States where he is seeking citizenship as he can become an officer in the U. S. Air Force. His plane was returned to Poland after it was given a careful once-over by Western aviation experts.

Witnesses caught a glimpse of the MIG landed today before it was hastily wrapped up in a huge canvas by the Danish military. They said they could discern no difference between it and the plane flown by Jurek.

Tight-lipped pilots gave out little information except that the pilot had asked for political asylum.

There was a possibility, however, that he and Jurek had discussed the possibility of flight to the West. Both presumably were stationed at Slupsk Air Base in northern Poland only about five minutes' jet air flight from Bornholm.

Jurek came down on tiny Roenne airport—made for jet landings—but the pilot today succeeded in making an even more risky landing. He set down on the military training ground north of the town.

Touching ground at a speed of 175 miles per hour, his plane bounced on several boulders, tumbled on the edge of several ditches and even managed to hop some electric wires before coming to an abrupt stop in a shallow ravine.

Apparently one of the plane's wings was pulled loose and the undercarriage smashed, but the pilot stepped out smiling and unscathed.

The plane was covered where it stalled because the authorities were afraid that they would accidentally fire the guns. The trigger is mounted near the steering pin.

Erk H. Mussen, Danish air force inspector who examined the first MIG delivered by Jurek, left Copenhagen by air with five technicians to have a look at this.

Enraged Slayer On Deadly Spree Sought In State

FITZGERALD, Ga.,—Officers in three states today sought an enraged six-foot, 250-pound textile worker before he could fulfill threats to cut down other members of his wife's family in a deadly rampage.

Sheriff G. A. Underhill reported that Elgie Gibson, 45, blaming his in-laws for his wife's divorce, already had slain one, shot down two others and vowed to get the others.

Emergency warnings were dispatched to officers in Montgomery, Ala., and Jacksonville, Fla., that the maddened killer might be heading their way in his vengeance quest. Sisters of Mrs. Gibson live in these cities. The sheriff explained Mrs. J. E. Davis at Jacksonville and Miss Daisy Lancaster in Montgomery.

Cauley said Gibson slew one sister-in-law, Mrs. Cullen B. Lancaster, with six pistol or rifle bullets at the Lancaster farm 12 miles from Jacksonville about noon yesterday. At the same time, Cauley added, Gibson fired five shots into Lancaster, critically wounding him. Two hours later, Mrs. Gibson was hiding in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Futch, a sister of Mrs. Gibson, was shot at her home here. The sheriff said Gibson broke down two locked doors to enter a bedroom and shoot six times through a pistol. Five shots hit the woman, breaking one of her arms.

Cauley reported that the FBI state troopers and dozens of sheriffs and deputies had joined the hunt. Gibson was seen soon after the shootings, the officer said, at a filling station in Irwinville. Presumably still heavily armed, he was traveling in a truck and sped away after fleeing it.

At the time, the officer related, the killer was wearing khaki work clothes and a blue railroad cap.

Kiwanis Speaker Gives Antidote For Communism

The Rev. Hugh Hamilton, pastor of the John Knox Presbyterian Church of Orlando, was the guest speaker at today's interclub meeting of the Sanford and Orlando Kiwanis Clubs at the Yacht Club.

Taking as the subject of his talk, "The Life We Live," the Rev. Hamilton declared this country's best defense against Communism is a belief in God along with the dignity and brotherhood of man.

"The Russians have three underlying principles consisting of philosophy, program, and passion," the visiting minister stated. "They believe with all their hearts in the things which they are doing."

"By comparison, the approach toward selling this country's way of life is very weak. We have the best products in the world to sell and the best salesmen, but still don't appear to have as much to offer as the Russians do in the eyes of the rest of the world."

The Rev. Hamilton stated that the philosophy expressed in Rudyard Kipling's "Recessional" could very well be the one that America should follow in order to meet the worldwide threat of Communism.

Attending the interclub meeting from Orlando were President J. Dan Danforth, Joe Patrick, Sol Riggs, Duke Pearson, Jim Snell, Gene Isted, Dr. E. Pendergrass and Welborn Phillips Jr. Also present was Logan Conroy, president of the new North Orlando Club.

Secretary Ralph South read resolutions which will be placed in the minutes on the death of Forrest E. Gatchel and Julius Dingfelder.

Fred Wilson, chairman of the Sanford interclub committee, introduced Russell C. Gatchel, chairman of the Orlando's interclub committee, who in turn introduced other members and the speaker.

President Hamilton announced that next week's program will be under the direction of John Peterson, chairman of the Boy Scout committee.

Commission Has Until June 5 On Hobby Decision

The County Commission has until June 5 to decide whether or not to pay Sheriff J. E. Hobbs' salary for April following the present action yesterday afternoon of the sheriff's office.

During the morning session of the commission the group had decided to abide by the rulings of Attorney General Richard E. Egan on several matters connected with the monthly bill as submitted by the sheriff's office.

However, when Mr. Housholder appeared yesterday afternoon at the commission's meeting, he requested that the commission suspend the ruling on the matter until the morning of June 5. He stated that he was spending the morning in Tallahassee and that he would be in the county by that time.

Mr. Housholder, attorney for Sheriff Hobbs, advised the board that Circuit Judge M. B. Smith had issued a writ ordering the county commission either to pay the bill or to show cause by June 5 why it shouldn't be paid.

The attorney was unaware at the time he appeared that the commission had been working out whereby the attorney general's rulings would be accepted. When Sheriff Hobbs' office had to make a trip to Tallahassee the day after the morning session, Mr. Housholder should be informed of the results at the morning session.

However, the local attorney went directly to the commission's room without dropping it at Mr. Hobbs' office first, and made a trip to Tallahassee the latter part of last week and found that his methods of entering costs have been approved by an auditor, a consultant and the attorney general.

Several of the commissioners stated that they were glad to see the controversy go into a court where it would have state-wide significance. It is expected that Supreme Court rulings may come out of several controversial opinions.

Senate Measure For Abolishing Livestock Board Passes 34 To 2

Intensive Campaign Is Planned To Raise Sum For Sanford Industries

Sanford Industries Inc. will launch a concentrated drive next Tuesday to raise $15,000 in subscriptions for the city industrial movement following action taken yesterday afternoon at the City Hall during a joint meeting of the Industrial Board and Sanford Industries.

May 26 has been designated "S. Day," and on that day an intensive drive will be made to contact as many Sanford people as possible and get them to sign subscriptions for stock.

It was reported that thus far $4,000 has been collected, and an additional $11,000 has been pledged, making a total of $15,000. The decision to go ahead with the concentrated drive was reached unanimously by those present yesterday. Members of both the Sanford Industrial Board and Sanford Industries Inc. who were present included W. C. Hutchison Jr., J. Bralley Odham, Ralph Cowan, George Williams, Herman Jacobson, John Kader, and William Stemper.

Industrial Board members at the session were Gordon Frederick, Sally Dietrich, Al Wilson, E. J. Moughton Sr., and Fred Williams. Plans are being made for a kickoff breakfast the morning of the drive at which the following persons are expected to be present: every member of the Sanford Industrial Board, every director of Sanford Industries Inc., the Sanford City Commission, directors and members of the Sanford County Chamber of Commerce and the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and at least two representatives of the poultry, Kiwanis, Lions Club, Sanford Women's Club, and Sanford Garden Club.

At the breakfast teams will be made up of two persons each. Each team will be given subscription blanks and a list of from five to 10 individuals or firms in Sanford. Each team is to contact every person on its list that same day, and to obtain as many signed subscriptions as possible.

From now until the completion of "S. Day," Sanford will be bombarded with promotional information by the press and radio. In addition, at least two persons will call every person in the Sanford telephone directory to inquire if stock has been purchased.

Meanwhile, several manufacturers are showing a great deal of interest in locating in Sanford. Hal Cowan, president of Sanford Industries Inc., and J. Bralley Odham, chairman of the Sanford Industrial Board, along with other members of those two groups have been in almost continuous conferences with manufacturing representatives during the past few days.

McCarty-Backed Bill Now Goes To House

TALLAHASSEE—The Senate passed H.B. 1117 relating to the extension of the Sanford city limits, but added an amendment to be appointed to Gov. McCarty. Before passing the House approved bill, the senators amended it to require that one of the nine members be a poultryman. It now goes back to the House for consideration of the amendment.

The bill as endorsed by Gov. McCarty and followed his appeal to the Legislature to help him find a solution to a problem which he said arose from "considerable amount" of laws regulating the livestock industry.

The present eight man board (4 made up entirely of appointees of former Gov. Warren) who have terms running as far into the future as 1955. Board members have frequently fought among themselves and have refused to resign to let McCarty get men of his thinking on the board.

Opponents of the bill sought unsuccessfully to amend it to let the Warren appointees stay on the board until their terms expired.

Debate over the measure continued an otherwise dull day in the Legislature where most action was anti-climatic to the day night's dramatic reversal of the Senate's Miscellaneous Legislation committee's stand on the McCarty and track projects cut bill. Where it had rejected the measure 9 to 5 before the committee approved it unanimously on reconsideration.

Only Sens. Tapper, Post St. Joe, and Sen. President Charles Johns voted against the livestock reorganization bill.

Lake Pollution Is Cited By Engineer Conducting Survey

Paul Richards, sanitary engineer for the United States Public Health Service, Atlanta, Ga., yesterday declared after a close investigation of the City's sewerage setup that Sanford should have a primary treatment plant.

He stated that the Lake Monroe at Sanford is one of gross pollution apparent on sight and pointed out that bacterial tests made in 1951 showed Lake Monroe to be so grossly contaminated that the St. Johns River at Jacksonville.

He was accompanied here by Sid Berkowitz of the Orlando State Board of Health office. Mr. Richards made the rounds of the city with Robert M. Angus and Percy Temple, consulting engineers from Robert M. Angus Associates of Jacksonville.

Later, Mr. Richards met with City Commissioners during a luncheon session and promised that he would submit a written report the latter part of next week.

Seminole Band Plays At Leesburg Affair

Discarding their usual wool uniforms for the duration of the summer months, members of the Seminole High School band were applauded today as they paraded in the Leesburg Watermelon Festival.

The novelty uniform worn by the band included white shoes, dungarees, a white sport shirt with a red watermelon sewn on the back, and a farmer's straw hat. The members wore red sashes striped with the usual white leopards. The purpose of wearing the lighter uniforms is to help reduce heat exhaustion, Ernest Cowley, director, revealed.

In commenting on the band's participation in the Armed Forces Day parade, Mr. Cowley pointed out that "our band had the task of playing for the Navy personnel to march by and for the military audience to the military camp, therefore it could not play with its customary amount of snare and cadence."

Mrs. Peter Bukur of DeLand, who are currently interning with the local musical group, were the chaperones for the trip to Leesburg.

Paralyzed Man Is Saved By Dog That Carried Him Water

ORLANDO—Herbert Jones, 63, says his little brown dog saved his life by bringing water while he lay paralyzed on the ground for five days.

Jones, a farmer living alone near Umattila, was found with a broken back in his peacan grove Sunday. He said he fell from a pruning ladder Tuesday, May 12. Jones knew something was wrong after the second day and from then on never left his camp except to get water, Jones said.

"I kept saying 'water, water, water'—I must have said it a thousand times—and he finally went to the well."

The water pail was in the house. Jones made repeated trips to it and Jones licked drops of water off the dog's tongue.

Jones had another companion, a pet black snake. The snake, which the dog had been taught to play with, lay beside him while he fought delirium.

From his bed in an Orlando hospital Tuesday, Jones said "The pain was terrific all the time and when I felt the pangs of thirst I was afraid I would do something terrible. I had to fight to keep my reason and never slept."

Jones supplemented the water the dog brought by licking dew from leaves. He scooped holes in the ground and padded them with leaves to catch the dew. Also, "I could just see a tar barrel out of the corner of my eye and I managed to slide over enough to get a mouthful of water off the top."

He was dressed only in short work pants and covered himself with leaves and branches to keep out the sun and the night chill. Temperature in the area went as low as 63 degrees a couple of nights he was on the ground.

A neuro-surgeon operated on his back Monday. Hospital officials said his condition was fairly good.

Jones, a retired Eastman Kodak Co. employee from Rochester, N. Y., said he wasn't "able to dance."

He added: "I'm getting along fine, though; but I think I will dispense with leaves, grass and bark in my diet for a while."

Boyle Stand On Dog Tracks Hit By County Board

Senator Lloyd F. Boyle's action in the State Legislature in connection with the Governor's Dog Track Tax Bill and beverage tax establishment, closing hours for Seminole County found distasteful with the County Commission at their meeting yesterday afternoon.

The Board of County Commissioners unanimously adopted a resolution requesting and urging that Senator Boyle support the track bill both in committee and on the floor of the Senate.

Mr. Boyle was notified by telegram of the Board's action and a copy of the telegram was also sent to Governor Dan McCarty.

Attorney Ernest Housholder appeared before the Commission as representative of a group of liquor dealers and discussed the law enacted by Mr. Boyle whereby all alcoholic beverages in the county should be closed at midnight.

It is believed the law is now awaiting his signature. His desk is awaiting his signature on the bill.

The Commission therefore adopted the following motion:

"That Senator Boyle along with Messrs. Black, Cleveland Jr. and Solie Williams Jr. be requested to withdraw and kill Senate Bill 416 so as to leave the law regulating sale of beverages in Seminole County the same as is now provided by the present state law. That in case this cannot be done that the present bill be amended so as to provide that all places within the county within the jurisdiction of the county commission and the various municipalities within the county.

In other similar actions, the county commission has a right of way agreement with the State Road Department relative to the construction of the Longwood Sanatorium. Board of Health also agreed to furnish the rights of way for one road from Sanford Avenue east to the south entrance of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

The commission directed Clerk O. P. Hendon to write to the commissioners of Orange and Marion counties in order to be certain if either county would be interested in leasing Seminole County their convales.

McCarthy-Backed Bill Now Goes To House

TALLAHASSEE—The Senate passed H.B. 1117 relating to the extension of the Sanford city limits, but added an amendment to be appointed to Gov. McCarty. Before passing the House approved bill, the senators amended it to require that one of the nine members be a poultryman. It now goes back to the House for consideration of the amendment.

The bill as endorsed by Gov. McCarty and followed his appeal to the Legislature to help him find a solution to a problem which he said arose from "considerable amount" of laws regulating the livestock industry.

The present eight man board (4 made up entirely of appointees of former Gov. Warren) who have terms running as far into the future as 1955. Board members have frequently fought among themselves and have refused to resign to let McCarty get men of his thinking on the board.

Opponents of the bill sought unsuccessfully to amend it to let the Warren appointees stay on the board until their terms expired.

Debate over the measure continued an otherwise dull day in the Legislature where most action was anti-climatic to the day night's dramatic reversal of the Senate's Miscellaneous Legislation committee's stand on the McCarty and track projects cut bill. Where it had rejected the measure 9 to 5 before the committee approved it unanimously on reconsideration.

Only Sens. Tapper, Post St. Joe, and Sen. President Charles Johns voted against the livestock reorganization bill.
