Sanford May Increase Trash Fees 17%

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Sanford city commissioners at a 7 p.m. meeting today will consider increasing the monthly garbage collection fees from $7.25 to $8.50, or about a 17 percent increase. The increase would take effect Oct. 1.

Commissioners also will consider a variety of other matters, including whether to let the city's cemeteries pass over into private operation.

With Mayor Lee P. Moore and Commissioner David Farr absent from the City Commission meeting two weeks ago, decisions on both matters were delayed until tonight.

City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles has recommended approval of both items.

If the rate hike for garbage and trash collection is approved by the city commissioners, an amendment to the city code will have to be adopted.

Knowles has explained in recent weeks that the increase in costs the city must pay for disposal of trash and garbage because it is now using the county's transfer station at Upsala plus payments on two new garbage packers bought last year and two more to be purchased during the next two years makes a higher rate to city customers a necessity.

He has said the increased rate will be necessary for two years.

The city in mid-May was given notice by the owner of an Orange City dump which the city used as its disposal site that it was going out of business because of the complexity of trying to comply with ever changing state Department of Environmental Regulation rules.

Knowles told the City Commission two weeks ago that the owners of the Oaklawn Memorial Park at Country Club Road and Rinehart Road are interested in taking over the operation of the city cemetery on West 25th Street.

He said the firm would improve the maintenance overall, would provide maintenance to the old spaces that were sold prior to perpetual care, would provide grave spaces for the needy, would purchase additional land to expand the cemetery facilities and would relieve the taxpayers of Sanford of the annual expense of $36,000 for maintenance.

He said the firm would provide perpetual care for all the spaces with the transfer of the perpetual care funds from the city at the rate of $10 per space or $93,250. Noting the city is holding $155,988 from which the $93,250 could be paid, Knowles added that the city would have a balance of $62,738.

Meanwhile, the city has also received a letter from Glenn McCall of Seminole Monument Co. reiterating his former offer to take over the city cemetery.

"We further feel you, in a sense, would be granting a monopoly to the owners of Oaklawn by giving them control of the only two cemeteries serving the city. This would not be in the best interests of your citizens. So, if you will sell, we feel we should have first choice," McCall's letter said.

Knowles notes there are five cemeteries in the city.

A proposed budget, recommended by Knowles for the 1983-84 fiscal year, is also expected to be presented to the city commission tonight and the commission may discuss the county's proposed 4-cent per gallon local option gas tax.

Drainage Land Funds Are Sought

By Micheal Beha
Herald Staff Writer

The shuffling of $236,000 from drainage construction into drainage land acquisition will be proposed to Seminole County commissioners at their 9:30 a.m. Tuesday meeting.

The plan proposed by Drainage Engineer Paul Magnant calls for eliminating $299,000 worth of work on drainage projects in Rolling Hills, Indian Mound Village and Wekiva in favor of land acquisition and projects on Douglas Avenue near Altamonte Springs and Byrd Avenue in Midway.

Magnant told county commissioners at a work session several weeks ago that because of low interest rates development has increased in Seminole County, sending land prices higher. The increase in development also threatens parcels of land in various sections of the county which are considered essential for solving drainage problems in those areas, he said.

"Increasing pressure is being applied to either purchase the defined parcels or release them for construction," Magnant said.

Magnant suggested spending $200,000 on purchasing property. Most of the parcels sought by the county are in Midway, Rolling Hills, Lockhart and Winwood Park.

Magnant also wants to spend $28,000 on construction at Douglas Avenue. That project also involves work by Altamonte Springs officials and is considered the top-priority drainage project, Magnant said.

He also wants to spend $8,500 on construction of a roadway drainage system on Byrd Avenue in Midway which will include curbs and gutters, replacing the existing roadside swales built several years ago through federal funding.

Construction of a drainage system in Rolling Hills adjacent to Lake Marion will be dropped for this year if Magnant's proposal is accepted. Magnant said the project is still dependent upon paving of Canada Avenue and Marion Drive between Beach Avenue and Canada Avenue. He said the $58,000 project should be dropped until the paving is completed.

Magnant said construction of a drainage system near Lake Seminole in Rolling Hills should also be delayed. A design for that project is completed Magnant said but it is unlikely the county road crews will have time to begin work on the $190,000 project this year.

A $40,000 project at Wekiva Springs Road also will be delayed.

Volunteers, young and old, have pitched in at the Seminole County Historical Museum to landscape around the building with Devonshire Garden Club of Longwood coordinating the project.

The museum is being readied for opening in the building formerly used as the county agricultural center and before that as the old county home. It is located on U.S. Highway 17-92 at the county's Five Points complex.

Landscape design was donated by Poole and Fuller Nursery of Winter Park. Ron Wilson and Garth Schweizer, landscape designers. Material for the sprinkler system was donated by the ACE Hardware of Sanford and Larry Echols. Mulch was donated by Dayle and Ernie Baumeister of Six Flags of Longwood.

Mrs. Grace Bradford of Altamonte Springs donated two crape myrtle trees and the old brick paving. Alan Forward, chairman of the landscaping committee of the Seminole County Historical Commission, donated two sago palms and Mr. and Mrs. Hermes Galanes donated one. The remainder of the plants were purchased by the Devonshire Garden Club at cost from Bolling Farms Nursery of Longwood.

Forward also donated fertilizer and peat used in the planting.

Bonner Carter, chairman of the Historical Commission at the beginning of the museum project, has been overseeing the painting and roof repair of the building.

Alex Dickerson is the present chairman of the commission and Loraine Whiting is museum curator.

New Water Service Halt Considered

The city of Sanford's response to a Lake Mary request for water service to two proposed home developments which would total 164 homes may be a moratorium on additional water connections outside Sanford.

And that could mean not only in Lake Mary but also two other water districts served by the city of Sanford.

At least that is Sanford City Manager W. E. "Pete" Knowles' recommendation to the Sanford City Commission.

The Sanford City Commission may consider Knowles' recommendation at today's 7 p.m. meeting at city hall, 300 N. Park Ave.

Knowles is suggesting a moratorium "pending a firm plan and a firm commitment" from the city of Lake Mary, and the Indian Mound and Midway-Canaan water districts to seek their own water supplies.

In a memo to the City Commission, Knowles advises that Lake Mary Mayor Walter Sorenson informed him about developments in the city of Lake Mary is considering and the impact on the city of Sanford's water systems. Sorenson asked Knowles for information so that Lake Mary would know the extent it could approve more connections to the water system, Knowles said.

"I suggested that anything less than 10, the answer would be to proceed without notice, but as the number passed 10, the city of Sanford should be consulted ... to be kept informed," the manager reports.

Knowles said he also suggested to Sorenson that all new accounts should include connection fees paid to Sanford, the same as connections pay within Sanford. The manager said that Sorenson wanted Lake Mary to get the connection fees to pay for improvements to Lake Mary's system.

Sorenson said that Knowles' discussion about collecting an impact fee from Lake Mary development as though it were in Sanford, "is not an unreasonable request because there is an impact on their system."

"I suggested to him that in the short term we (Lake Mary) will need the impact fee to get off their system and get our own," Sorenson said, "and that probably makes some degree of sense to them as well."

"There's no question that we in Lake Mary will proceed toward getting a system of our own," the Lake Mary mayor said, adding Knowles' response was not what he had anticipated but he (Knowles) has to do what he feels is right.

At a Lake Mary City Commission meeting 10 days ago, Don McIntosh, consulting engineer for Lake Mary Woods, a planned 133-home development, said this developer and another are willing to spend more than $165,000 to get water service for 164 new homes. He said they would spend $75,000 to extend a line 5,200 feet to the Sanford water lines, pay the city of Lake Mary $350 per home in connection fees and the city of Sanford $288 per home in impact fees.

Knowles also reports to the Sanford City Commission that a study is being done of the need for the city to increase Sanford's utility connection fees or impact fees to "provide revenue for capital improvements to the utility system for growth."

Information gathered by the city staff so far shows that Sanford has among the lowest residential water and sewer connection fees at $575 in the entire area. According to the survey, fees charged in Altamonte Springs, as an example, total $1,650 and are as high as $2,568.69 by Orange County, $2,430 by the city of Orlando; $1,960 by Seminole County; and $1,520 by the city of Winter Park.

Returning to the three water districts served by Sanford, Knowles' memo also notes that Sanford is serving water to Lake Mary for 961 accounts, to Indian Mound for 53 accounts and to Midway-Canaan for 620 to 625 accounts. He said there is an engineering problem with all three systems that will require engineering advice and direction.

Florida Plans To Expand Its National Guard

The adjutant general for the Florida National Guard will be in Sanford tonight with other high-ranking guard officers to tour the recently renovated Sanford National Guard armory and to disclose plans to increase the state's troop strength by 6,000 to 7,000.

Maj. Gen. Robert F. Enslin of St. Augustine, adjutant general of the Florida National Guard is expected to arrive tonight with Assistant Adjutant General Charles R. Willis to detail to several other high-ranking guard officers his five-year plan to add 6,000 to 7,000 troops to the current strength of more than 10,000, according to SSG Keith Hinckley of Sanford. Hinckley, attached to the Sanford guard, Co. B, 2nd Battalion, 124th Infantry, said those expansion plans also call for increasing the present Sanford contingent of 84 to 159 — full company strength.

SSG Hinckley said the Sanford contingent had to relocate to Leesburg for about a year while the Sanford armory underwent renovation/rebuilding at a cost of some $250,000 following heavy storm damage when tornadoes ripped through downtown Sanford in April 1982.

Graham Cruises On USS Florida

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham came ashore today after an overnight cruise on the Trident nuclear submarine USS Florida, a vessel he called a "great ship of peace."

Graham boarded the sub in Mayport Sunday and disembarked at Port Canaveral, which will be the Florida's home port for the next several months while it undergoes shakedown training cruises.

The enormous black sub practiced maneuvers off the Atlantic coast Sunday night, and Graham piloted the craft for more than an hour under the direction of the sub's skipper, Capt. William Powell.

"It was a great experience for me," said Graham. "I was impressed with how spacious the facilities were. The accommodations were very hospitable."

Aided by two tugboats, the sleek Florida crawled into a spot in the specially-built Trident wharf at Port Canaveral early today.

The sub, the third member of the Trident class, is nearly the length of two football fields and four stories tall. It is capable of holding 24 Trident ballistic missiles — 42-foot rockets that can carry eight warheads 4,600 miles with accuracy of a quarter-mile.

America's other two Trident subs, the Ohio and Michigan, are stationed in Bangor, Wash., where the Florida will be based by early next year.

Each of the subs cost just under $1 billion. The U.S. Navy has not had a vessel named Florida since 1931, when the battleship Florida was decommissioned.

"There's been a 52-year interval where there hasn't been a Florida in the U.S. Navy," said Graham. "That void has been closed with this great ship of peace."

After brief remarks by Graham and Powell, Navy officials led reporters on the first public tour of the sub.

State Losing Scenic Wetlands Battle

OCALA — The state is fighting a losing battle to retain scenic wetlands and forests in central Florida that officials originally bought for the now-canceled Cross-Florida Barge Canal project.

The pristine wetlands were saved when the Barge Canal project was canceled in 1971 so that they could be preserved in their natural state.

Now, the wetlands are threatened again by former owners of the property, who want to buy their land back for development.

So far, the state has lost 12 legal battles in Marion County over rights to about 14,500 acres along the Ocklawaha River and Lake Ocklawaha Cases with another 10 landowners, involving about 3,800 acres, are now on appeal with the 5th District Court of Appeals in Daytona Beach.

Little Chance Seen For Anti-Abortion Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Even before today's debate on an anti-abortion constitutional amendment, members of the divided anti-abortion movement conceded there was little chance for Senate passage.

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. Orrin Hatch, R-Utah, and Thomas Eagleton, D-Mo., reads simply: "A right to abortion is not secured by this Constitution."

"It is extremely unlikely that the (Hatch-Eagleton amendment) will obtain the two-thirds vote necessary to pass the Senate," John Wilkie, president of the National Right to Life Committee, told committee officials in a memo.

Gary Curran of the American Life Lobby said: "We have asked Hatch and Eagleton not to bring it up for a vote because it is clear it will not pass."

Even if the amendment, aimed at nullifying the Supreme Court's Roe vs. Wade decision that legalized abortion, were to pass the Senate, it would face a steep uphill battle in the House. Then it would need the approval of two-thirds of the states.

Income Tax Cap Unlikely

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Roth, co-author of President Reagan's income tax reduction program, predicts a close vote in the Senate this week on whether to cap the final installment of the tax cut at $720 per family, but says it won't really matter.

Reagan has promised to veto the measure if it reaches his desk and Roth, R-DeL., said supporters of the cap will not have enough support to override a presidential veto.

The final installment of the tax cut takes effect Friday.

"Let the American people know that their full 10 percent tax cut due on July 1 will go into effect on schedule," Reagan said after the House approved the tax cut limit last week.

NATIONAL REPORT: The Colorado River kept on rising today, threatening to wipe out a dike and flood another 75 homes near Grand Junction, Colo. where 1,000 people already have been forced from their homes. Showers and thunderstorms preceded a cold front drifting out of Canada across the northern Plains and upper Great Lakes, promising relief from a heat wave that shoved the mercury to 100 Sunday on Chicago's lakefront. High heat and high humidity teamed the Midwest Sunday. Severe thunderstorms packing heavy rain, hail, high winds and lightning swept from Texas along the Gulf Coast, and across the Plains into the Mississippi Valley. A severe storm at Haskell in north central Texas caused $1 million damage, the National Weather Service reported. High winds tore the roof off a warehouse and more than 2 inches of rain fell in 30 minutes. The storm knocked out power and shattered windows. A 14-year-old Indiana boy was killed and his 19-year-old brother was seriously injured Sunday when lightning struck the top of a tree under which the two were sitting. Two tornadoes touched down southwest of Wichita, Kan. and storms in southern Nebraska dumped 3 1/2 inches of rain in 20 minutes at McCool Junction. Four inches of rain drenched northeast Nebraska and northwest Iowa, causing minor flooding on several roads. Temperatures in the 90s reached north to Virginia, but the Northeast enjoyed highs in the 60s and 70s. Storms and high temperatures that speeded snowmelt threatened most of Colorado with more flooding today. High water closed Interstate 70, and the Colorado River at Grand Junction reached its highest level in 66 years. Officials said they expected a dike at Grand Junction on the south bank of the river to collapse today, washing out as many as 75 homes. Flooding on the Colorado River already has claimed three lives — two in Mexico and one in Arizona, where at least three dozen homes were flooded Sunday as the river broke through dikes in the Mohave Valley.

Reagan Calls For Probe Of 'Bookgate'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan has told the Justice Department to investigate allegations his 1980 campaign aides obtained a debate briefing book prepared for his opponent, Jimmy Carter, the White House said today.

Presidential spokesman Larry Speakes said the directive was relayed to Deputy Attorney General Edward Schmults after members of the White House staff who served in the campaign were urged to review any recollections of the matter.

Speakes refused to use the word "investigation" to describe the Justice Department's role. He said it is "monitoring the development of information," but it is empowered to launch a more extensive investigation if warranted.

"The president has asked the department to assure that this monitoring is pursued vigorously, and that if any evidence of illegality is produced, appropriate further action be taken promptly," Speakes said. "He has asked that anyone with information related to the allegations provide such information to the Justice Department immediately."

Speakes, in a pointed reference to former Carter aides who have kept the "Bookgate" story alive the last two weeks and likened it to a smaller version of Watergate, said Reagan was directing his appeal at "anybody on the outside or the inside" of the administration and his 1980 campaign.

Speakes said the Carter people should come forward with information and supply the White House with the same purported copy of the material "that they so graciously provided to selected members of the press" over the weekend.

At the same time, Speakes disclosed efforts are under way to locate the briefing book, which two top Reagan aides, in letters last week to a House subcommittee chairman, recalled seeing and using during the campaign.

"They would like to find the material and see if it bears any resemblance to the material the Carter people are talking about," Speakes said.

The Washington Post reported today the book was a detailed compilation of Carter debate strategies and issue positions that appeared to help Reagan defend his record and attack Carter's during their only campaign debate.

Reagan aides who remembered seeing or hearing about the material have played down its significance, insisting the information was neither sensitive nor particularly helpful.

Today's developments marked a significant shift from the position Reagan and his aides were taking just days ago.

On Friday, Reagan dismissed it as "much ado about nothing." While voicing his desire to "get at the bottom of this," Speakes indicated the White House saw little need for the matter to be pursued further.

However, most of the top Reagan aides involved met Saturday to review the matter, even after four of them had detailed their recollections in letters to Rep. Donald Albosta, D-Mich.

In his own attempt to minimize the controversy, Speakes described the secret acquisition of campaign material as "nothing new in politics."

Longwood Drug Probe Continuing

Longwood police are continuing their investigation into the city's public works department that has led to the arrest of a heavy equipment operator on a charge of selling marijuana and the resignation of five employees "for personal reasons."

Lt. Terry Baker today said that the department began its investigation, with the assistance of two Winter Park officers, after getting a tip about possible illegal drug dealings. "The investigation is still going on, but we have released the Winter Park officers from the investigation," Baker said.

Arrested Friday at about 12:05 p.m. was Wilbert "Sip" Williams, 34, of 1506 Southwest Drive, Sanford. He is accused of selling a bag of marijuana to a police officer for $35.

Williams was booked at the Seminole County jail Friday and released Saturday without bond on pre-trial release. His hearing is scheduled in county court at 2:30 p.m. July 15, jail personnel said. He has been a city employee since October, 1975.

The five public works employees who have resigned are: Ray Carter, employed with the city since November, 1981; Benny Miller, employed with the city since June, 1979; Mike Holloway, since March, 1981, and Mike Tyson, since last November. All worked for the department as laborers while Fred Linder, who also resigned, was a city mechanic.

Lt. Baker declined to say whether other arrests are pending. Nor would he say whether the resignations had anything to do with the drug probe.

Water Customer Halt Eyed

none of the three have apparently confronted the complexities of their need to the extent there has been the actual retention of engineering advice," Knowles said. He added that he is concerned that efforts by the three to acquire their own water production plants may not be fruitful with results "in an expeditious fashion."

"It may be necessary to apply added incentives by restricting further connections until such time as a plan is provided and a timetable established," Knowles' memo says.

In another matter to do with city water service, Knowles reports that Tom McDonald, as a trustee for a parcel of property to be developed in the southeast section of the city, has provided a site for an elevated water tank. The tract is on the south side of Silver Lake Road, east of Mellonville Avenue.

"The deed (for the site) has been received (by the city), the water and sewer force main plans to the property have been prepared and a county permit obtained," Knowles reports.

The city manager says McDonald's clients will provide the total funds for the sewer force main of $5,756.14 and the city will install the water main. This section of the water main will also be the future elevated tank feed-distribution main, he said. — Donna Estes.

Man Charged In Death Of Casselberry Pedestrian

A 51-year-old Orlando man has been charged with vehicular homicide in the Saturday hit-and-run death of a Casselberry man.

Clifford Lynn Surrant, 1174 Blackfoot Ave., was released from the Seminole County jail on $10,000 bond. In addition to the vehicular homicide charge, he faces charges of leaving the scene of an accident and failure to maintain a single lane.

Mark Anthony Vincent, 27, of Hidden Pines Apartments, was killed just before 2 a.m. Saturday as he was walking along Seminola Boulevard 400 feet west of Wyndham Way in Casselberry.

A man called Casselberry police from a nearby service station and said he thought he had hit something while driving on Seminola Boulevard but wasn't sure what or where or whether he wanted to make a report.

When police questioned the man he thought something had been thrown at his car.

Police found extensive front end damage to the man's vehicle, including a broken side marker, a cracked windshield and they also discovered what appeared to be blood and hair embedded in the windshield. The man had a bruised forehead, but said that happened at his place of employment.

Vincent's death brings to nine the number of traffic-related fatalities in Seminole County this year.

FAMILY JAILED
A Sanford woman and her daughter were arrested for second-degree arson Sunday — a few hours after her husband was jailed for possession of more than 20 grams of marijuana and drug paraphernalia.

The husband, Normal Eugene Dyer, 51, of 4 Winding Ridge, Casselberry, was released from the Seminole County jail on $5,000 bond. His arrest came after Kathleen Peralta Dyer invited Seminole County sheriff's deputies into his residence and pointed out the marijuana. That was 9:20 a.m.

Shortly before 1 p.m., Kathleen Dyer and her daughter, Patty Ann Peralta, 20, both of 1906 Patrick Place, Sanford, were transported to the Seminole County jail. Both were later released on $8,000 bond each.

According to police reports, two women piled Normal Dyer's clothes and other personal items in a bathtub at his home and poured gasoline over them.

When one of the women tried to light the pile, the bathroom caught fire. The other woman then extinguished the flames.

PLO Factions Join To End Rebellion

By United Press International
Two Palestine Liberation Organization factions say they will join forces in an effort to end the mutiny against Yasser Arafat, two days after the PLO chief was expelled from Syria for accusing Damascus of aiding the rebellion.
A joint statement Sunday said the Marxist-Leninist Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine and a more moderate organization, the Democratic Front for the Liberation of Palestine, would join forces.
Sunday's declaration came two days after Arafat was expelled from Syria after accusing Damascus of aiding the six-week mutiny within Al Fatah, the largest and strongest PLO faction.
The statement gave no details of the merger and did not mention Arafat's expulsion from Damascus as a direct cause for the move, but the PLO official said Habash and DFLP leader Nayef Hawatmeh would take a joint stand on the issue.

Siberians Nearer Freedom

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Vashchenko family was a step away from freedom today, five years to the day since five of the Siberian Pentecostalist Christians burst past Soviet guards to seek refuge in the U.S. Embassy.
The official Soviet news agency Tass said Sunday that Pyotr Vashchenko, his wife Avgustina and 13 children would be leaving the country "at the invitation of their daughter, Lydia, who went to Israel earlier."
They were believed to be in Moscow Sunday night but no details were given on the whereabouts of the family, whose members endured prison, labor camps and hunger strikes in their 23-year-bid to emigrate.

Radioactive Shellfish Spark Debate On Danger

TAMPA (UPI) — Radioactive contamination has been discovered in shellfish in the Alafia River, but health officials disagree on the seriousness of the discovery.
A state report revealed that oysters in the river have been contaminated, probably by a fertilizer plant.
However, a Hillsborough County health official disagrees with the report. George Dunson, the county's health physicist, claims the amount of radiation found in the oysters in December, was a fraction of what can be found in orange juice.
"It's nonsense," Dunson said of the state report. "You don't waste resources on surveillance to worry about a dab of radiation in oysters and ignore bacteria, a more important problem."
A ban on harvesting Alafia shellfish existed prior to the radium discovery because the oysters contained unhealthy amounts of bacteria, Dunson said.

'He Wanted To Die'

PLANTATION (UPI) — The widow of a man who was kept alive in a hospital for 25 days after trying to commit suicide says he should have been allowed to die and is charging that the hospital kept him alive "to run up the bill."
Inga Leatherbury filed suit charging Plantation General Hospital with "infliction of emotional distress" because doctors kept her husband, George, alive after the ailing 62-year-old tried to kill himself last July.
Her suit was dismissed earlier this month in Broward County Circuit Court but is on appeal to the state's 4th District Court.
It is against the law to commit suicide in Florida. The main issue in the lawsuit is whether Leatherbury, a former dental surgeon who later became a building contractor, had the right to kill himself.

Two Soviet Cosmonauts To Link Up With Space Station

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union launched a Soyuz T-9 spacecraft with two cosmonauts aboard into Earth orbit today to link up with an orbiting Russian space station, the Tass news agency said.
Soviet television showed the Soyuz T-9 blasting off from the Baikonur cosmodrome in the Soviet Central Asian republic of Kazakhstan at 9:12 GMT (5:12 a.m. EDT) in partly cloudy weather.
After a locomotive pushed the massive, five-engine rocket into place, the Soyuz blasted into space on a column of yellow flame.
Tass identified the cosmonauts as commander Vladimir Lyakhov, 41, and flight engineer Alexander Alexandrov.
The spacecraft was launched only three days after completion of the latest U.S. space shuttle mission and eight weeks after a previous Soviet manned space mission was aborted because of a navigation error.
Tass said the cosmonauts will link up with the orbiting Salyut space station "to perform scientific-technological and medico-biological research."
It said the on-board system of the Soyuz T-9 were working normally and "Cosmonauts Lyakhov and Aleksandrov feel well."
There was no full official explanation for the failure of the previous Soviet manned space flight, but brief official accounts indicated the Soyuz T-8 missed the orbiting space lab by less than a mile.
It was not the first time a manned space mission was canceled after a botched link-up — a joint flight with a Bulgarian cosmonaut was cut short for the same reason in 1979. Despite occasional failures, the Soviets have built a record of reliability for their manned space flights.

This year they launched Cosmos-1443, a satellite that linked up with the Salyut-7 in orbit and effectively added an extra room to the space lab.
Soviet scientists are believed to be planning further expansion, leading eventually to permanent, manned orbiting space stations.
Although such installations could have military uses, Soviet spokesmen deny it, saying their space program is devoted to peaceful uses such as mapping the Earth's resources, medical research and conducting metallurgical experiments.

Court Avoids 'Abortion-On-Demand' Case

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today refused to enter an "abortion-on-demand" case brought by a Maryland man who sought a court order to keep his wife from having an abortion against his wishes.
The justices, without comment, rebuffed arguments by Chris Allen Fritz that the question should be resolved because the situation could recur.
The Maryland Court of Appeal, on a 4-3 vote, had dismissed the case.
Fritz said his wife Bonny Ann, 20, wanted to have an abortion because she was seeking a job and did not want to "have lose time from work."

On Oct. 15, 1982, Fritz sought an injunction to bar his wife from having an abortion. He said he was the "father" of the unborn child, and alleged that his wife earlier had gone to Hagerstown Reproductive Health Service in Maryland for the operation.
Although a trial judge issued an injunction and the Maryland Appeals Court agreed to hear the case, Mrs. Fritz obtained an abortion at an undisclosed location before a hearing could be held.

Mr. Coffee Machines Recalled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Consumer Product Safety Commission says the manufacturer of more than 150,000 "Mr. Coffee" coffeemakers is recalling the machines because of a potential fire hazard.
The commission said the manufacturer, North American Systems Inc., of Bedford Heights, Ohio, voluntarily agreed to the recall and will correct the problem — free of charge — at service centers nationwide.
The commission said it was aware of 20 complaints where the product "failed," resulting in either overheating, smoking or a fire. There were no reports of injuries, it said.
The recall involves the CMX-1000, 12-cup, four-button, digital clock model of the coffee maker. There were more than 300,000 machines manufactured of which 147,000 have already been modified to eliminate the fire hazard.
The commission said the problem occurs while the coffee maker is plugged in and set to any of the three control positions — on, off or automatic. Failure could result in overheating, smoking, or ignition.
Only machines manufactured between September 21, 1981, and April, 1982 are involved, the commission said. No other Mr. Coffee units and models manufactured by the company are involved.
The units subject to recall are date stamped on the bottom metal plate with a three-digit code number starting at 38-1 and ending at 21-2. The first two digits represent the week of the year and the third digit represents the year. Each unit was sold retail to consumers for about $30 to $40.
North American Systems Inc. said consumers should check their machines for the above listed date code numbers and discontinue use if the code numbers fall into this range and if the machine had not been modified earlier.
If a unit is subject to recall, consumers should take it to the nearest authorized Mr. Coffee service center.
To locate the nearest service center, consumers could refer to the telephone yellow pages under appliances, household small repairing and parts, or electrical appliances, repairing and parts, the commission said.
Should the location of an authorized service center be inconvenient, consumers may contact the company at this toll free number 800-321-0370 outside of the state of Ohio, or 800-362-7804 within the state of Ohio.
Information concerning this matter is also available to consumers who call CPSC's toll-free hotline at 800-638-CPSC.

Tax Cut Cap Idea Not Fiscally Sound

The economy is brightening but federal budget deficit forecasts remain frightening. Take the Reagan administration's estimates:

Fiscal year 1983: $210 billion
Fiscal year 1984: $190 billion
Fiscal year 1985: $185 billion
Fiscal year 1986: $145 billion

And those are optimistic estimates, based on the best expectations of economic recovery.

It was the premise of supply-side economics that, if you only cut tax rates enough, the economy would recover so strongly that you would get more tax revenue than before.

It was a kind of "less is more" doctrine. So far, it hasn't worked. Less is still less, a whole lot less than what is needed for fiscal responsibility.

In these circumstances, a good argument could be made for canceling the third round of the Reagan tax cuts, scheduled for July 1. That would generate about $30 billion the first year. Repeal of the third year of the tax cut would dampen recovery from the recession, but reducing the federal deficit would ease upward pressure on long-term interest rates, and that would encourage economic recovery.

President Reagan is adamant on the matter. He wants the tax cuts to take effect on schedule. And Congress has no stomach for opposing the president on the issue.

Tax cuts are popular with the voters, as every politician knows.

But House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill Jr. has proposed to cap the tax cut at the $50,000-a-year income level.

"It is time that the rich started to accept their fair share of the burden," he said.

Well, we don't have the details of the speaker's proposal. But a similar proposal — a cap of $700 on the tax cut for joint tax returns — would recover only about $6 billion.

It would skew the tax brackets so the marginal tax rate would jump sharply from 30 percent up to 39 percent at the $35,200 income mark. That would be inequitable.

Why penalize working couples in this way? Many who have a joint income of $35,200 don't consider themselves rich.

If Tip O'Neill can't get his Democratic troops to vote down the tax cut for everybody, he shouldn't try to penalize those taxpayers in the upper-middle-income range.

The tax cut cap idea is not fiscal responsibility. It is not genuine tax reform. It is nothing but gamesmanship and gimmickry.

The American people deserve better.

Presidents Costly

Last year the American people spent $12,074,720 to support their ex-presidents.

In addition, some $14 million was spent to maintain seven commemorative libraries housing presidential papers and memorabilia.

Richard Nixon, Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter each are paid $70,000 a year in pensions. This is reasonable, for ex-presidents should be able to maintain a high level of living.

For office expenses, Carter received $292,800, Nixon $236,902 and Ford $249,200. In addition, their phone bills came to $24,800, $31,000 and $34,549 respectively.

This does not include travel expenses or the cost of maintaining Secret Service protection.

Former presidents must answer a lot of mail and must maintain offices. And they are entitled to protection. But it does seem that the cost of maintaining them has gotten out of hand.

Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., has introduced a bill to gradually diminish staff and office expenses for ex-presidents. It has much merit and should receive serious consideration as one small way to reduce the federal budget.

BERRY'S WORLD

WILLIAM RUSHER Mondale's Silver Lining

NEW YORK (NEA) — Time was when New Hampshire's February primary marked, for all practical purposes, the beginning of the presidential election campaign. At the time it seemed absurdly early, and the good people of New Hampshire received a fair amount of criticism for getting us all out of bed, so to speak, before dawn.

But now Iowa has party "caucuses" even before New Hampshire holds its primary, and Wisconsin's Democratic state convention has just conducted a "straw poll" on the presidential candidates that threatens to lengthen our quadrennial ordeal by more than half a year all by itself. If presidential campaigns are henceforth going to last nearly two years, we had better take a solemn oath to avoid premature conclusions, lest we end up like NBC's Tom Pettit, who pronounced Ronald Reagan politically "dead" at 8:14 a.m. EST on the morning after the Iowa Republican caucuses of 1980.

Just now, for example, everybody — or at least everybody in the media — is busy "discovering" Alan Cranston, the California senator who surprised most observers by defeating Walter Mondale and the rest of the presidential contenders in that Wisconsin straw poll. Cranston's upset victory was indeed a feather in his cap, but neither it nor anything else is likely to make him the Democrats' nominee, let alone president in 1984.

Cranston is seeking to become the liberals' favorite in the nomination race, and to that end has backed a nuclear freeze and made strenuous bids for the support of almost every voting bloc that has formed around a favorite liberal cause or achieved the coveted status of an "underprivileged minority": blacks, Indians, Hispanics, women, homosexuals; the environmentalist, pro-abortion and gun-control lobbies; and so on.

Conceivably, this amalgam of leftist and liberal issue-blocs could win majority support at next year's Democratic convention — just as the left loonies not long ago swept into control of Britain's Labor Party. But in the present climate of American opinion, there is no hope whatever that such a platform could be made appealing to most of the electorate and (since the Democrats know this) Cranston is best thought of as a sort of Michael Foot without the hair.

The serious contenders for the Democratic nomination at this point are Walter Mondale and John Glenn. A contest strictly between the two of them tends to come down, relatively speaking, to a case of right vs. left, with Glenn coming on as a moderate-conservative and Mondale — Hubert Humphrey's protégé — representing the forces of liberalism.

Saudi Minister May Take Rap

WASHINGTON — If you have no one to feel sorry for at the moment, you might want to shed a few tears for Sheikh Zaki Yamani, the dapper, dashing, smooth-talking Saudi Arabian oil minister who for years has been the man who cheerfully announces OPEC's latest price gouges.

Secret reports reaching the Reagan administration detail the Saudis' financial discomfort caused by the world oil glut, and suggest that Yamani may be the fall guy for the Saudi royal family's displeasure. Insiders say the U.S.-educated sheik may be kicked upstairs as punishment for somehow allowing the flow of petrodollars into the Saudi coffers to dwindle to a relative trickle.

Sources in the administration told my associate Lucette Lagnado that Yamani has always had his enemies within the large and competitive royal family, and the current fiscal crisis gave them an excuse to make him the scapegoat. But he remains a favorite of King Fahd, and if replaced he will be given a face-saving position as a royal adviser.

Internal cable traffic from the U.S. Embassy in Riyadh to Washington

The Florida branch of the National Society to Prevent Blindness is concerned that coming Fourth of July celebrations may bring more fireworks than merriment to the sunshine state.

Last year the United States, fireworks related eye injuries jumped 14.5 percent over 1981, the society reports.

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission figures indicate that in 1982 an estimated 844 people were treated in hospital emergency rooms across the country for fireworks-related injuries. 1,866 of whom were to the eyes. Nearly 70 percent of those treated were between the ages of 5 and 14 years of age.

"Among the common pyrotechnic materials that caused those injuries are small firecrackers, sparklers, bottle rockets, fountains and roman candles," said Arthur G. Garrison, president of the Florida affiliate of the national society.

Sparklers, which are legal in Florida and seemingly harmless in the minds of many people, can be extremely lethal, Garrison said. Burning in excess of 1,800 degrees Fahrenheit, they can cause severe burns to the eye and can ignite clothing. Bystanders are often victims of a sparkler-caused injury.

The society reports that fireworks laws and regulations have been weakened in some areas of the country. This year 23 states, as opposed to 28 two years ago, have laws limiting the use of fireworks to licensed public displays. Florida is among them.

As an unhappy example, in early 1982 the state of Washington liberalized its laws to permit the sale of firecrackers and aerial display devices. A study conducted by the Washington State Department of Social and Health Services sampling hospital emergency room records in nine counties showed that fireworks-related injuries more than doubled during the Fourth of July period that year over the same period in 1981. The department's findings are reported in the May 13 issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

For many years the National Society to Prevent Blindness, which celebrates its 75th anniversary this year, has advocated that all fireworks be limited to licensed public displays.

"We'd like this July 4th to be a happy celebration, not a painful, tragic holiday,"

Garrison said. "We want people to look at fireworks at public displays and not play with them at home where they can get hurt."

The Florida Bar this month honored Sanford attorney George Algernon Speer Jr. for 50 years of service.

Thirty attorneys statewide were so honored at the Bar's 33rd annual convention at Lake Buena Vista June 15-18. To receive the honor an attorney must have been a member of the Bar in good standing for 50 consecutive years.

Speer was born Aug. 8, 1907, in Sanford. Among many posts he has held over the years, Speer has been Oviedo city attorney, prosecuting attorney for Seminole County, president of the Rotary Club of Sanford and president of the Seminole County Bar Association.

Asked about his views on the development of law and law practice during the last fifty years, Speer said: "The prestige and public esteem held by the legal profession has suffered from commercial advertising of professional services and fees...and from the deterioration of the quality of the service of the judiciary, with exceptions."

Measles Imported

ATLANTA (UPI) — The elimination of measles is one of the top goals of U.S. public health policy but cases imported from other advanced nations are complicating the effort. Other countries apparently are less concerned.

In Italy, the level of measles vaccination is 10 percent. In France it is 20 percent and in Great Britain it is 50 percent, according to Dr. Alan Hinman, director of the immunization division of the national Centers for Disease Control.

The contrasts with a 96 percent immunization level in the United States, where measles has been virtually eliminated in many regions.

The incidence of the disease is 10,000 times higher outside the U.S., according to the CDC.

Hinman told immunization experts from state and local governments at the CDC-sponsored 18th Immunization Conference recently that imported cases of measles poses a roadblock for further reduction of the disease in this country.

"We must continue to expect importations from other countries," Hinman warned in urging the public health officials to maintain high vaccination levels, to respond quickly to outbreaks and to keep their surveillance systems in good order.

Hinman, who attended a World Health Organization meeting of immunization officials in Copenhagen, Sweden, earlier this year, said it was his impression that the countries least able to vaccinate against measles showed the most interest in doing so, while nations most able to carry out vaccination programs were the least interested.

"Only if we eliminate measles will other countries follow," Hinman said in calling for global eradication of the disease.

"We feel that measles eradication is both necessary and inevitable," he said. But he added, "this achievement will be another quest of will."

Last year, an average of 2.3 cases of measles were imported each week into the United States. The largest number of imported cases came from England and California reported the most importations.

The majority, 57 percent, of cases were brought into this country by returning U.S. citizens rather than foreigners. Overall, the 118 imported and 613 import-related cases accounted for 43 percent of the 1,697 measles cases provisionally reported to the CDC in 1982.

Through the first week of June, there had been 777 measles cases reported to the CDC, with 143 of that number imported. Many of the other cases listed as indigenous were also traceable to an imported case, the CDC said.

The battle to eliminate measles in the U.S. now centers on getting vaccine to the groups in which most of the cases are occurring — those who were inoculated but failed to get protection through a failure of the vaccine, pre-schoolers and college students.

Health officials estimate that 100,000 to 2 million undergraduates are susceptible to measles. Earlier this year, in the largest recent university-based outbreak of measles, there were 174 cases among 31,000 Indiana University students. Cases linked to that outbreak were reported from 17 states. The outbreak control costs at Indiana University exceeded $225,000.

Despite some setbacks in the drive to eliminate measles in this country, a goal the CDC had hoped to achieve last October, CDC Director William Foege says the measles eradication program "is as close to perfection as any program can be."

Foege said "we're closer to social justice in immunization than in any other area."

Matthew's War In Mexico

I have a 14-year-old son named Matthew, a witty, blond, athletic young man, a skier and lacrosse player who thoroughly enjoys his young life. He has begun to think about going to college. In my judgment, if we do not stop the spreading communist insurgency in Central America and the Caribbean, Matthew and his peers will in a few years be fighting in an all-out war in northern Mexico or some comparable place as the communist revolutionaries try to topple the last domino — us.

It is a chilling thought that he may indeed have such a war waiting for him a little way down the line.

When the Japanese bombed Pearl Harbor, I was 11 and my father anticipated a long struggle both in Europe and in the Pacific. I remember him telling me, "You'll be in this one before it's over." I didn't appreciate the thought at all. Thanks to Eisenhower, MacArthur and the atomic bomb, I missed World War II but made it into the Korean War and spent four years in the Navy. I would like to think that Matthew will miss another installment of this sort of thing, but at the moment the odds do not look good.

The communist regime now established in Managua, Nicaragua, has rapidly built up the largest military establishment in the region, and with Soviet and Cuban help is constructing several large airfields capable of handling Soviet-supplied jets. The Soviets are constructing port facilities in Nicaragua on the Caribbean coast, a half-day sailing distance from the Panama Canal. We can expect Soviet subs to dock there.

Grenada has a Marxist government, and is constructing a new airfield that goes far beyond the ordinary needs of the tiny island. In Surinam, anarchy and slaughter are giving way to a Marxist dictatorship with ties to Castro. Surinam abuts on northern Brazil, so we can reasonably expect trouble along the Amazon. Things seem to be deteriorating in El Salvador, as the U.S. Congress conducts sterile debates about "human rights" there. In Guatemala things appear somewhat brighter, as the anti-communist government is apparently prevailing over the local insurgents, though the means employed have hardly been pretty.

If these rickety states fail to the communists, can anyone doubt that the next target will be Mexico? With an exploding population, widespread poverty, sprawling urban slums, and an economy on the skids, Mexico would seem a ripe target for a communist insurgency. Mexico's economy could be further damaged by sabotage attacks upon its petroleum fields.

Nationals, Americans Open Tonight

Sub-District 2 Little Major Tournament at Leesburg
TONIGHT'S GAMES
6 p.m. Sanford Americans vs. Orlando
8 p.m. Sanford Nationals vs. Clermont

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer
The Sanford Little Major National League All-Stars enter the Sub-District 2 tournament with a team that looks as strong as last year's team that reached the state tournament. Sanford has five players with state tournament experience including its top pitcher, Willie "Sugar Tex" McCloud, who will be on the mound tonight as the Nationals go up against Clermont at Leesburg in the double elimination tourney.

"This team doesn't look bad at all," manager Sylvester "Slick" Franklin, Jr. said. "We have a stronger defensive team than last year and we have a deep pitching staff, but the hitting is not as strong." When McCloud throws his first pitch tonight, Jeff Blake will be in his familiar position behind the plate. Blake and McCloud, who have been on two straight city championship teams with Poppa Jay's, have been the top battery in Sanford the past two years. They were also the starting pitcher and catcher when Sanford competed in last year's state tournament in Tallahassee.

At first base for the nationals is left handed hitting Tim Graham, also a member of last year's all-stars. Graham is one of the league's top hitters. The middle infield will consist of George Gordon at second base and Dwight Brinson at shortstop. Both Gordon and Brinson were on last year's all-star team. At third base is Mike Merthle who played his first year of Little Major League ball after playing at Five Points last season. Merthle is also one of the Nationals' top pitchers. Steve Johnson, Burnette Washington and Kerry Wiggins could also see some action in the infield.

"The only thing that worries me is hitting," Franklin

Sub-District Baseball

said. "We are going to have to depend on the pitching to hold off the opponents bats until we can score some runs."

Adding depth in the pitching department are Blake, Graham, Brinson and Clayton. Blake emerged as an outstanding pitcher in the city series as he pitched a two-hitter in the deciding game of the series. Brinson and Graham both played for Sunnland which finished second to Poppa Jay's in the National League. Clayton was on the only team that beat Poppa Jay's this season, Cardinal Industries.

If the Nationals win tonight, they would go on to play Leesburg National at 8 p.m. on Tuesday. A loss would send the Nationals into a loser's bracket game on Wednesday at 8 p.m.

The Sub-District final is set for Saturday, July 2, at 10 a.m. with a second game, if necessary, Saturday night at 6 p.m. The winner of the Sub-District will advance to the District 4 Tournament which is scheduled to begin on Wednesday, July 13 at Leesburg.

The Sanford American League All-Stars will depend on an all-around team effort as the Americans tangle with Orlando tonight at 6. Manager Lawrence Hawkins said he would go with either Eddie Charles or Ronald Cox on the mound.

"I think we have a pretty good chance of winning" Hawkins said. "We look pretty decent in practice and have an all-around strong team."

Joining Charles and Cox in the starting lineup will be Kyle Faulkner, Patrick Daughtery, Bernard Mitchell, Von Eric Small, Anton Reid, Gerald Morris and Anthony Harris. Others who will play important roles for the Americans include Scooter Leonard, Doug Spann, Ruben Blake, Andre Redding, Jason Koke and Travis Pickens. Mitchell, Small and Pickens were all members of last year's American league all-stars.

A victory over Orlando would send the Americans into a winner's bracket game with Tavares Tuesday night at 6.

Eustis Gift Lifts Oviedo To 3-2 Tournament Win

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer
EUSTIS — The Oviedo Giants must have felt like Saturday was December 25 instead of June 25. The Giants got an early Christmas present as Eustis Rangers shortstop Jay Carter let a grounder go through his legs, allowing Mark Merchant to hobble home with the winning run with two outs in the bottom of the eighth inning as the Giants claimed a 3-2 victory and the Senior League Division II Top Team Tournament title.

Oviedo now advances to the district finals against Pine Hills, the winner of the Division I tourney. The game is set for tonight at 7:30 at the West Volusia field. Pine Hills has yet to lose a game in tournament play while the Giants have one loss. Division losses carry over into the district finals so Oviedo would have to beat Pine Hills twice to win the district.

"We were waiting all game for a break like that," Oviedo coach Tommy Ferguson said. "And we finally got one to go our way."

Craig Duncan went the full eight innings for Oviedo to pick up the win. Duncan allowed only three hits, struck out 11 and walked four. Although he controlled the Rangers hitters most of the game, both of Eustis' runs were directly attributed to Duncan.

Seniors

Eustis got on the board first with a run in the top of the second inning on no hits. Duncan walked Carter and Tom Ruggie to lead off the inning and David Thornton reached on a fielder's choice to load the bases. Duncan then walked Damon Thornton to force home Carter with a 1-0 Eustis lead. The Rangers then attempted to squeeze Ruggie home, but Sean Mikels missed the bunt attempt and Ruggie was tagged out in a run down.

The Giants got the run back in the bottom of the second on a pair of two-out hits. Reggie Williams drilled a ball to the fence in right field and turned a double into a triple when the leftfielder missed the cutoff man. Aaron Gammons followed with an RBI single to knot the score at 1-1.

In the next three innings,

Eustis had only one baserunner and he was cut down by trying to steal by Merchant. On the other hand, Oviedo had a runner in scoring position in the third, fourth and fifth innings but came up empty.

In the third, Randy Ferguson rapped a two-out single and went to second on an error on the right fielder. The inning ended though when Terry Gammons grounded out to short.

In the fourth, Ellis Bell walked to lead off, went to second on a groundout and took third on a wild pitch. With one out in the inning, Eustis pitcher Dave Westgate struck out the next two hitters to end the inning.

In the fifth, Dave Wood drew a walk with one out and Duncan lashed a liner toward the third base line. The Rangers' third sacker, Mikels, made a lunging grab of the liner, but threw wild to first allowing Wood to take second. Wood then went to third on a wild pitch but was stranded there as Westgate came up with another inning-ending strikeout.

The Rangers took a 2-1 lead with a run in the top of the sixth, taking advantage of only one of two Oviedo errors in the game. Richard Curry led off with an infield single, stole second and advanced to third on a wild pitch. Duncan then tried to pick Curry off third, but the pitcher's throw was wild and Curry scampered home.

Oviedo came back to tie the score in the bottom of the sixth as Eustis returned the favor with an error that cost the Rangers a run. Terry Gammons led off with an infield single and he stole second. Bell then ripped a single to left and Gammons would have stopped at third.

Maitland Folds Indians' Tepee

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Altamonte's Major League Indians finally folded their tepee Saturday night, but as usual, not before one more late-inning war cry.

Alex Birle ripped a two-out liner over the right-center field fence for a two-run homer, but Maitland Astro left-hander Willy Daunic whiffed the final batter to preserve an exciting 3-2 Maitland victory for the District 14, Division 2 Top Team Tournament championship at DeLand.

"We've been coming back all year, and we came back tonight," said Altamonte manager Don Birle. "We almost made it. There were a couple close calls (on the last hitter Joseph Difrancesco). It would have been nice to see what the big guy (slugger Tony Ganci) would have done next."

But Ganci never got his shot as Daunic, a cool 12-year-old, battled back from a 3-1 count to fan the hitter. For the game, Daunic allowed the good-hitting Indians just three hits, struck out seven and walked just one to best Birle, who gave up five hits, fanned three and walked one.

"Willy's tough, very tough," said Maitland manager Sid Cash. "We play well behind him and we got the two-out hit. That's the key."

And catcher Greg Llewellyn was the man who unlocked the door in the third inning. With one out, A. J. MacArthur walked, but was forced at second by Billy Magee who just beat the relay by a half-step at first base. Daunic then ripped a shot off a diving Kent Brubaker's glove. Magee raced to third and Daunic moved to second on the throw. Llewellyn followed with a smash to left which chased home two runs for a

Majors

2-0 lead. Altamonte catcher Kevin Wainscott gunned down Llewellyn on a steal attempt to end the inning.

The Astros picked up the game-winner in the next inning. First baseman Dan Schoen stroked a double to left center to open the frame and moved to third on a wild pitch. Dan Royal followed with a slow bouncer which went over Birle's head and just out of Brubaker's reach for an infield single to plate Schoen for a 3-0 lead.

Further damage was averted when Birle pounced on a squeeze bunt, fired to Ganci at first for one out and the big first sacker's peg home nailed Royal for a twin killing.

The Indians' last uprising came in the sixth. Wainscott grounded out, but Brubaker ripped one up the middle for a single. Birle picked on an outside-corner fastball and sent it out of the park in a hurry to pull the Indians within one.

Todd Christensen then lifted a fly ball to right which was slightly misjudged, but pulled in for the second out. Daunic fell behind quickly on Difrancesco, but with Ganci's five homers looming in the on deck circle, he regrouped to slip one past the hitter.

Maitland, which carries one loss into the District 14 final, will take on the Division 1 winner on Monday. DeLand and Ocoee were battling for that spot Saturday night.

Staub's 8th Pinch Hit Ties Record; Niekro Pitches Braves Past Reds

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York's Rusty Staub got his eighth straight pinch hit when he singled off Ron Reed to lead off the bottom of the ninth inning. Staub tied the major-league record set by Dave Philley, of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1958. Staub leads the National League in pinch hits with 13 and in pinch-hit RBI with 11.

A.L./N.L. Roundup

Houston Astros to a 9-7 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Houston used 10 hits, five stolen bases and a costly error by second baseman Steve Sax to post its first victory over the National League West leaders in eight games this season. Mike Scott, 4-3, surrendered five hits and three earned runs in 5 1-3 innings for his fourth straight triumph.

Cubs 9, Expos 5
Jody Davis drove in six runs, four with his second grand slam of the season, to lead the Chicago Cubs to a 9-5 triumph over the Montreal Expos Sunday in a game marred by a bench-clearing brawl.

The Cubs scored four runs with none out in the second. Leon Durham doubled, Keith Moreland singled and Gary Woods walked to load the bases. Davis followed with his 12th homer of the year, a drive over the left-field wall for a 4-0 lead.

In the fifth, Ron Cey led off with a double off Chris Welsh. Durham walked and Welsh hit Moreland on the back of the batting helmet with a fastball. Moreland dropped his bat and charged the mound, tackling Welsh before anyone came to the aid of the Montreal pitcher. Both benches emptied and Moreland was ejected.

Giants 3, Padres 0, 1st game
Allee Hammaker pitched a four-hitter and struck out a career-high 12 Sunday and a squeeze play and an error accounted for two runs, giving the San Francisco Giants a 2-0 triumph over the San Diego Padres in the opener of a double-header.

Hammaker, 9-3, reduced his league-leading ERA to 1.52, yielding a single to Garry Templeton in the second inning, a double to Steve Garvey in the fourth, Garvey's single in the seventh and Luis Salazar's single in the ninth. The second-year left-hander walked none.

Pirates 5, Cardinals 0
Rick Rhoden scattered six hits and Mike Easler and Tony Pena singled in runs Sunday to help the Pittsburgh Pirates extend their winning streak to a National League high eight games with a 5-0 victory over the reeling St. Louis Cardinals.

The loss was the sixth straight for the World Champions, their longest skid in more than three years.

Rhoden raised his record to 5-7 as he struck out five and walked two in pitching his first shutout since July 23, 1982, and the 11th of his career.

Astros 9, Dodgers 7
Dickie Thon cracked a three-run homer and Ray Knight hit three singles and drove in two runs Sunday, lifting the

Greg Luzinski hit a two-run homer onto the left-field roof and Scott Fletcher drove in three runs to lead the Chicago White Sox to a 9-7 victory Sunday over the Minnesota Twins in a game played in 100-degree heat.

Richard Dotson, 7-5, worked into the seventh inning to get the victory. Salome Barojas relieved Dick Tidrow with one out in the ninth and finished for his sixth save. The temperature at gametime was 98 degrees and it reached 100 later in the game.

With Chicago trailing 4-1, Rudy Law opened the third with a triple and scored on Tom Paciorek's single. After one out, Luzinski drove a 3-2 pitch from Bryan Oelkers, 0-5, onto the roof to tie the score 4-4. Luzinski became the 21st player to hit a ball onto or over the roof at Comiskey Park.

Blue Jays 19, Mariners 7
Dave Collins drove in five runs and Lance Mulliniks scored four Sunday to lead the Toronto Blue Jays to a 19-7 hammering of Seattle, the worst defeat in the Mariners' seven-year history.

Del Crandall, in his second game as Mariners manager, used reserve infielder Manny Castillo as a pitcher. Castillo yielded seven runs, including two homers to Mickey Klutts and a homer to Mulliniks, his third of the year.

but Eustis' leftfielder, Curry, let the ball get away from him and Gammons scored to tie the game at 2-2.

The Giants had runners on second and third with one out in the bottom of the seventh, but could not push across the winning run. Wood reached on a fielder's choice, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Duncan then went to first on a dropped third strike and took second on the same wild pitch. Ferguson then looped a line drive to the second baseman who threw on to third to get Wood for a double play, sending the game into extra innings.

Eustis threatened to take the lead in the top of the eighth, but Duncan refused to yield any ground and pitched his way out of the scare. With two outs, Curry reached on an infield single, stole second and went to third when the catcher's throw sailed into center field. Duncan then struck out Chad Tiernan for the third time on the day as Eustis came up empty in the eighth.

Oviedo came back in the bottom of the eighth for the victory. Eustis turned back Oviedo's first threat of the inning as second baseman Damon Thornton gunned down Terry Gammons at the plate on a grounder by Merchant.

Merchant took second on a wild pitch and Williams then stepped to the plate with a chance to win the game for the Giants. Williams hit the first pitch on the ground toward the shortstop. Merchant ran right in front of the shortstop. Carter, who let the grounder go between his legs. The left fielder had no chance to get Merchant at the plate as the Giants claimed the tournament title.

Orioles Win 4 Straight To Claim Rookie Crown

After losing its first game of tournament play, the Orioles stormed back to win four straight including a 12-5 victory over the Cardinals on Friday that clinched the Altamonte Rookie League Championship for the Orioles.

The Orioles dropped a 6-7 decision to the White Sox in the first round of the tourney, then the O's came back to trim the Dodgers, 6-5, and the White Sox, 5-4. Going into the finals, the Orioles had one loss and the Cardinals were unbeaten.

In the first game of the finals, the Orioles scored five runs in the last two innings and Mark Romagosa and Josh Jones rapped three hits each as the Orioles upended the Cards, 10-5. Fred Engles added a pair of hits including a double and the Orioles played outstanding defense to force a second game with the Cardinals.

In the second game, Kevin Scott had three hits including his fourth homer of the season and knocked in three runs as the Orioles rallied for a 12-5 victory. The Orioles erupted for five runs in the first inning and clinched the victory with three runs in the fifth.

Romagosa and Jones each had three hits, giving both players six hits for the two games. Scott Chance added three hits including a pair of doubles. The Orioles also played steady defense again, spearheaded by Dawn Judd's leaping catch in right field.

Mize Sinks Fuzzy At Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Larry Misesanka a 25-foot birdie putt on the final hole Sunday to win the Memphis Classic, defeating Fuzzy Zoeller who muffed a chance to send the tournament into sudden death.

Mize, who finished with a 14-under-par 274, earned $72,000 by winning his first tournament in his two years on the PGA Tour. The 24-year-old Georgian started the day at 12-under-par in a tie with Chip Beck for second place. He finished with a final-round 2-under 70.

'Big Three' Battle For Semi-Final Spots

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Jimmy Connors, John McEnroe and Ivan Lendl, the big three of men's tennis, battle for semifinal berths Monday as the second week of the $1.4 million Wimbledon championships begins with only seven seeds remaining.

The first three rounds also took a toll among the women, with nine survivors left among the final 16, including defending champion Martina Navratilova.

In the men's event, No. 6 Gene Mayer, No. 10 Jimmy Arias dropped out because of injury before the tournament began. And the first round saw the downfall of Argentine clay court specialists Guillermo Vilas (4) and Jose-Luis Clerc (7) along with American serve-and-volleyer Steve Denton (9).

Americans Vitas Gerulaitis (8) and Hank Pfister (15) fell in the second round and were followed one round later by Sweden's Mats Wilander (5) and South African-born American Johan Kriek (11).

A shoulder injury forced No. 4 American Tracy Austin to withdraw from the women's singles. West German

Wimbledon

Bettina Bunge (6) was the only first-round casualty and American Pam Shriver (5) the lone second-round victim.

But it was the third round which inflicted the heaviest damage, claiming three-time champion Chris Evert Lloyd, who reached the previous five finals and never failed to make the semis since her debut in 1972. Also losing were West Germany's Sylvia Hanika (9), Britain's Jo Durie (13) and Hungary's Andrea Temesvari (14).

Connors, the defending champion and favorite to land the men's crown for the third time, has yet to concede in three rounds. He next meets No. 12 South African Kevin Curren.

McEnroe, the No. 2 seed, was the champion in 1981 and a finalist the past three years. He faces a challenge against No. 13 Bill Scanlon, a hard-hitting American.
No. 3 Lendl, the clay court specialist who had never reached the fourth round at Wimbledon in his three previous appearances, has a first-time meeting with 18-year-old Australian Pat Cash, the world junior champion.

Monday's two other men's matches bring into action four unseeded giant-killers: Roscoe Tanner against fellow-American Robert Van't Hof and Nigerian Nduke "The Duke" Odizor against New Zealand's Chris Lewis.

Tanner, runner-up to Sweden's Bjorn Borg in 1979 but now only 140th in the world rankings, eliminated Wilander Friday while Van't Hof despatched Kriek.

Odizor, who learned his tennis at the University of Houston, toppled Vilas in the first round while Lewis eliminated Denton.

Navratilova, even more of a favorite now to retain her title following Evert's dismissal, should have few problems against 16th-seeded West German Claudia Kohde-Kilsch.

SCC Leisure Time Classes

The following classes under the Leisure Time Program at Seminole Community College begin during the month of July 1983. "These classes are self-supported by student fees at no expense to the taxpayer," coordinator Fay C. Broke says.

FITNESS AND FIGURE CONTROL (evening class) Instruction in ways of improving fitness and appearance through diet and exercise.

CONDITIONING (evening class) — Modern day conditioning using the Nautilus equipment. Jogging and calisthenics are also a part of the program.

SUMMER JAZZ BAND WORKSHOP (evening class) — Designed for selected high school seniors and recent high school graduates and college students in an intensive study of contemporary and traditional big band literature.

INTRODUCTION TO PERSONAL COMPUTERS (afternoon and evening classes) — Intended for those interested in learning about how computers work, differences between different models, selection of systems and devices, what small computers can do, and programs available.

PROGRAMMING YOUR PERSONAL COMPUTER (evening class) — This introduction to the features of the "BASIC" language, the most popular programming language for small computers, covers the fundamentals of writing, editing, and running programs.

ADVANCED PERSONAL COMPUTER PROGRAMMING (evening class) — A course for personal computer users who know the fundamentals of the "BASIC" programming language and wish to learn its advanced features. Individual assistance is given to class members in the creation of their own programs.

COLOR AND STYLE WORKSHOP (evening class) — History of color theory will be discussed, along with how color affects our lives; proper make-up colors and proper application; and clothing styles, textures, prints and accessories.

SLIM 'N TRIM (morning, afternoon and evening classes) — An exercise program involving all types of exercise such as calisthenics, slow stretches, barre exercises and others.

AEROBIC DANCE/EXERCISE (morning, afternoon and evening classes) — A physical fitness course involving vigorous exercise to music. Different routines are taught with the emphasis on dancing for movement and exercise.

BASIC DOG OBEDIENCE TRAINING (evening class) — A basic class which will teach the dog owner to teach his animal to heel, sit, stay, down and stay, recall, respect for the word "NO," problem solving and other basic skills. Dogs must be three months old or older and on a leash at all times.

APPALACHIAN BASKET WEAVING (evening class) — This course will teach the technique for weaving four Appalachian baskets: Fanny basket, Wall basket, Potatoe basket, and Hen basket. Students must furnish their own supplies, which may be purchased from the instructor in class if the student wishes.

Miami Graduate

Suzanne Unsworth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Unsworth of Sanford, graduated from University of Miami in May with Bachelor of Science degree in architectural engineering and civil engineering.

She graduated from Seminole High School in 1978 and Seminole Community College in 1980 with an Associate of Arts degree.

While she attended the University of Miami, Miss Unsworth was a member of the Civil Engineering Honor Society and also secretary of the National Society of Architectural Engineers.

She is currently employed at Don Moe Engineering, Inc., Orlando, as a structural engineer.

Marriage Won't Cure Incompatible Romance

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old male and I've been going with a 23-year-old girl for two years. We love each other and are thinking of marriage. She is sure, but I'm not. The problem? She has absolutely no interest whatsoever in sex.

Before you conclude that I am a sex maniac, let me assure you that I am not. It's not as though she's a virgin because we've had sex before, but she has come right out and said she would rather do anything else. It's not a moral issue with her — she doesn't think it's "wrong," she just doesn't care for it.

I don't want to get locked into an unsatisfactory marriage and find myself looking for outside sex. Whenever I bring up the importance of a good sexual relationship in marriage, she says, "Is that all you ever think about?"

DEAR SECOND: It's too much for someone who would "rather do anything else." It's obvious that your appetite for sex and hers are vastly disparate — translation: "incompatibility," the stuff of which bad marriages are made. You're wise to have second thoughts, and third and fourth. Then take the fifth.

DEAR ABBY: Recently a graveyard on the outskirts of town was moved. A young man who had helped with the job reported that he has actually seen that hair and fingernails had continued to grow long after death.

I could hardly believe it, but I recall hearing that it was true some time ago. Is it?

DEAR WONDERING: That myth has been around long enough to grow a beard. Of course it's not true. For hair and fingernails to grow, there must be life. After a person dies, all life ceases, so obviously nothing can grow.

DEAR ABBY: I met a guy four months ago at the home of mutual friends. I took one look at him and I knew he was for me. He told me later it was the same for him. There is just one problem — he's living with a woman and has been for nearly two years. I know he loves me, but he's a very decent guy and doesn't want to walk out on her.

He says she needs him, and she would probably kill herself if he left her. Abby, I need him, too. He is the first guy I have ever loved like this, and I know he loves me just as much.

We have to sneak around to be together, and I hate it! He's on my mind night and day. Now I know what it's like to be lovesick. Please tell me what to do.

LOVESICK Face it, this "decent guy" is cheating on the woman he's been living with for two years. And you're helping him. Tell him you can no longer be a party to this sneaky business, and refuse to see him until you can meet openly and honestly. The rest is up to him.

FBI Never Expected To Trace Bribe Directly To Hastings

MIAMI (UPI) — FBI agents said they did not expect to trace a bribe payment directly to U.S. District Judge Aicee L. Hastings, who was found innocent of bribery-conspiracy charges in February, according to court documents unsealed in the case.

The FBI affidavit said it was "extremely unlikely" that agents could directly link Hastings to a bribe paid to co-defendant William Borders Jr.

Borders, a long-time friend of Hastings, was convicted by an Atlanta federal court in 1982 for collecting a $125,000 payment from undercover agents on Oct. 9, 1981. The payment was allegedly earmarked for Hastings.

Senior U.S. District Judge Edward T. Gignoux of Maine, who presided at the trial, unsealed nine envelopes containing documents Friday at the request of a committee of federal judge's probing Hastings' conduct

In connection with the trial, Hastings, Florida's first black federal judge and a native of Altamonte Springs, was found innocent in February of charges he solicited a bribe from convicted racketeers in exchange for a reduced sentence.

Two of the requested documents remained sealed at the request of Miami attorney Joel Hirschorn, who had represented Hastings briefly after the judge's indictment. The attorney said the memos belonged to him and asked for their return.

The memos were requested by a five-person committee of judges, headed by Chief Judge John Godbold of the 11th Circuit Court of Appeals in Atlanta, which began investigating Hastings April 15.

Godbold began the investigation after U.S. District Judges William Terrell Hodges, of Tampa, and Anthony Alaimo of Brunswick, Ga. asked that Hastings be impeached for "odious conduct."

Judge Aicee Hastings

The panel also seeks the release of the grand jury material which led to Hastings' 1981 indictment on charges of bribery-conspiracy and obstruction of justice.

Tapes Show Illegal Trade Practices

WASHINGTON (UPI) — FBI videotapes obtained for a congressional hearing today on illegal and unfair foreign trade practices show employees of a Japanese computer company making payoffs for secret information stolen from International Business Machine Corp. The House Energy and Commerce oversight and investigations subcommittee got the tapes as part of its probe into the adequacy of U.S. laws in dealing with foreign trade practices.

In the videotapes, Hitachi employees are seen handing over some of the payoff money, ordering further information such as the computer's user's manual, and asking that a receipt and other papers connecting Hitachi with the payoffs be destroyed.

In a nine-month period beginning in October 1981 in the San Jose, Calif. area, senior employees of Hitachi Ltd. met with undercover agents and an IBM security official who posed as members of Glenmar Associates, a bogus California computer firm.

Hitachi paid the bogus firm $612,000 to steal detailed specifications for, and some actual parts of, IBM's newest generation of computers, the 383080.

The giant Japanese electronics firm builds computers so they operate with the same software — program material — as IBM machines.

The undercover operation ended June 22, 1982, when FBI agents walked into a meeting where Hitachi employees had just received notebooks filled with IBM secrets.

The case prompted Rep. Edward Markey, D-Mass., a member of the subcommittee headed by Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., to call for much tougher laws to deal with industrial espionage.

"What we have seen here is the transfer of $600,000 for technology worth millions, and the penalty is a $10,000 fine and you have to give three kids summer jobs," Markey said. "The real issue here is we are in a trade war with Japan and the pattern we see here is one of illegal and unethical conduct."

Hitachi pleaded guilty in the case to a one-count indictment of conspiring to transport stolen IBM property to Japan and paid a fine of $10,000.

One employee was fined $10,000; another was fined $4,000 and a third pleaded no contest to one count of conspiracy and sentence is pending. Nine others are fugitives and are not expected to be indicted.

Yoshida, the only American citizen in the case, was fined $7,500, placed on two years probation and ordered to hire three unemployed youths for the summer.

Subsequent subcommittee hearings will examine piracy and additional cases of industrial espionage, predatory pricing practices, and other illegal commercial behavior by foreign competitors, especially in the areas of steel and electronics.

Bush Attack To Be Probed

BONN (UPI) — Chancellor Helmut Kohl wants an inquiry into the stoning of Vice President George Bush's motorcade during a visit to Krefeld, the West German government said.

Government sources said Kohl wanted to know how rioters could get close enough to pelt Bush's car and motorcade with rocks and bottles Saturday while more than 2,000 police officers were on duty in the Rhine city.

Eleven vehicles were damaged, but no one in the motorcade was injured.

The rioters were protesting American arms policies and the planned deployment of new U.S. nuclear missiles in West Germany later this year.

Bush was in Krefeld for the 300th anniversary celebrations of the first German emigration to the United States. He left for Norway later Saturday.

About 150,000 people turned out to welcome Bush and celebrate the emigration anniversary, but 25,000 peace activists protested his visit.

A Krefeld police official in charge of security during Bush's visit said police, who coordinated their work with U.S. security agents, had received word the motorcade route was clear of protesters before the vice president's car drove along it.

Hans-Juergen Zacharias, who headed the police operation, said a hard-core group of about 1,000 "professional rowdies" were involved in the rioting. About 50 demonstrators and 32 policemen were injured in the clashes, two of them seriously, and 134 people were arrested.

Kohl said in a television interview Sunday his government will not bow to street terror.

"Whoever talks of peace and reaches for stones and attacks our guests cannot expect his will for peace to be taken seriously," Kohl said. "He wants the terror of the streets and we will not tolerate that."

Bush said in another interview he was sorry the rioters had tried to ruin the efforts of the people of Krefeld to welcome him and his wife Barbara.

"A handful of audacious, paid mercenaries out there, whoever they are, cannot cloud ... the good relations between our countries," Bush said. "We are not immune from this sort of thing in the United States ... we have seen the ugly faces, the broken glass, but they don't last."

Police said the 1,000 rioters, many of them masked and armed with mallets, clubs, iron bars and spikes, came by train from other parts of West Germany.

Many were from West Berlin, and were thought to be the same people involved in recent street clashes with police over a squatter rights

Education Dept. Gets F-Minus For 'Blowing' $900,000 Grant

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. William Proxmire's "Golden Fleece" award went this month to the National Institute of Education for allowing part of a $900,000 government contract to go toward buying a disco and promoting a rock concert.

Proxmire, D-Wis., said Education Department auditors had found a flagrant failure by the institute "to keep tabs on a $900,000 government contract," he said.

"This resulted in about $500,000 of the taxpayers' money being blown on everything from unsecured personal loans to purchasing a disco and promoting a rock concert," he said.

"In my grade book, the NIE gets an F-minus for protecting the nation's taxpayers but an A-plus for promoting waste, fraud and abuse," he said Sunday. "They should be given a dunce cap, a good rap on the knuckles, and made to stand in the corner for a fiscal year."

An Education Department spokesman said the agency would have no immediate comment. Officials of the institute, part of the department, could not be reached for comment.

Proxmire, the ranking Democrat on the Senate Banking Committee, gives his monthly "award" for what he considers to be the month's "most ridiculous, wasteful or ironic use of the taxpayers' money."

He noted the institute sponsors numerous conferences each year and that consulting firms are hired to arrange them. The consultants, he said, submit their bills for travel and other costs to the institute for review and reimbursement.

But in the case of the $900,000 contract, Proxmire said, Education Department auditors found the consulting firm had loaned $100,676 to three of its corporate executives and that the money was not repaid.

The institute, he said, "turned a blind eye" to what was happening.

Sanford Rec Winners Honored

The Summer Recreation Program sponsored by the Sanford Recreation Department at the Civic Center is off to a good start. Winners of special events last week included:

—Paper Plane Contest for six, seven- and eight-year-olds: first, Quentin Hunt; second, Lawrence Mason; third, William Erickson.

—Bubble Gum Blowing Contest: 6-9-year-olds: first, Sandra Butler; second, Jennifer Dawson; third, John Bussinger; 10-12-year-olds: first, Melissa Dawson; second, Andy Doering; third, Susan Anderson.

On Tuesday, Fire Department Appreciation Day, a demonstration was given by Sanford firefighters Harold Johnson, Paul Keith and David Base.

The program will continue through July 29, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to noon for children 6-12.

WHEREAS, there has been filed with the City Clerk of the City of Longwood, Florida, a petition containing the names of property owners in the area of Seminole County, Florida, described as follows:
Lots 1 & 2, Block A, Oak Grove, Plat Book 7, Page 83, Seminole County Records.
WHEREAS, said petition was duly certified to the Seminole County Property Appraiser pursuant to the Charter of the City of Longwood, Florida, Chapter 49-1248, Laws of Florida, 1949, and Chapter 73-297, Laws of Florida, 1975, and the certification of the Seminole County Property Appraiser as to the sufficiency of said petition pursuant to the terms of said Charter received; and
WHEREAS, the City Commission of the City of Longwood, Florida, has deemed it in the best interests of the City of Longwood to accept said petition and to annex said area.
NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LONGWOOD, FLORIDA, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1: That the following described property to-wit: LOTS 1 & 2, BLOCK A, OAK GROVE, PLAT BOOK 7, PAGE 83, SEMINOLE COUNTY RECORDS, be and the same is hereby annexed to and made a part of the City of Longwood, Florida, pursuant to the terms of the Charter of the City of Longwood, Florida, Chapter 49-1248, Laws of Florida, 1949, and Chapter 73-297, Laws of Florida, 1975.

SECTION 2: That the corporate limits of the City of Longwood, Florida, be and it is herewith and hereby redefined so as to include said land herein described and annexed to the City of Longwood, Florida, to include the annexation contained in Section 1 hereof.

SECTION 3: That upon this ordinance becoming effective, the residents and property owners in the above described annexed areas shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges and immunities as are, from time to time, determined by the provisions of the Charter of the City of Longwood, Florida, and the provisions of said Charter of the City of Longwood, Florida, Chapter 49-1248, Laws of Florida, 1949, and Chapter 73-297, Laws of Florida, 1975.

SECTION 4: That any section or portion of a section of this ordinance proves to be invalid, unlawful or unconstitutional, it shall not be held to invalidate or impair the validity, force or effect of any other section or part of this ordinance.

SECTION 5: That all ordinances or parts of ordinances in conflict herewith be and the same are hereby repealed.

SECTION 6: This ordinance shall take effect on the date of its passage and adoption by the City Commission. It shall be the duty of the City Clerk to cause a copy of this ordinance to be published in the City of Longwood, Florida, and to be filed with the City Clerk. It shall be the duty of the City Clerk to cause a copy of this ordinance to be published in the City of Longwood, Florida, and to be filed with the City Clerk. Kidney Stone: Water A Key To Treatment

DEAR DR. LAMB - I read your column about medicines that might dissolve gallstones. I was wondering if you could tell me anything about medicines that might dissolve kidney stones.

I've been on a limited dairy product diet and told to drink plenty of water. My kidney stone is the size of a pea. Would it be dangerous if passed? I've been told I do not need an operation.

DEAR READER - It is a safe bet if you pass a kidney stone that large that it will hurt, and I don't mean just a little.

Yes, there are many different things that can be done to dissolve kidney stones. What should be done depends entirely upon what minerals are in the stone. But regardless of the type of stone, almost everyone agrees that it is important to drink lots of liquids and at least half of the liquids should be water.

This will dilute the urine so there is less chance of minerals aggregating to form a stone. You should pass at least two-and-a-half quarts of urine a day. And you should drink fluids around the clock to keep the urine dilute 24 hours.

The concepts about treating kidney stones are constantly changing. Currently many authorities believe you do not need to restrict calcium in the diet (except for excessive intake) unless you can demonstrate an increased amount of calcium in the urine and particularly increased calcium absorption from your intestine.

The crux of the situation is that if you have another disorder that causes an increased level of calcium in the urine and blood, just eliminating calcium from the diet isn't good enough. Your body will

Just take the calcium from your bones unless the underlying problem is solved and corrected.

The approach to dissolving various types of kidney stones is included in The Health Letter 11-2, Kidney Stones: Treatment Has Changed, which I am sending you.

DEAR DR. LAMB - What are platelets? I hear them mentioned more and more. Aspirin affects your platelets to prevent clotting. Are platelets bad for you? Where do they come from and what can you do about them?

DEAR READER - They are cells which are formed in the bone marrow just as red and white cells are, but which are much smaller. There are from 150,000 to 300,000 per milliliter (a teaspoon contains five milliliters).

Whenever the lining of one of your blood vessels is injured, platelets immediately cover the area to start the healing process. If the tear is a little larger the steps that follow produce a blood clot. So it is proper to think of platelets as being the first step in forming a blood clot.

You need them. If you don't have enough you will develop a lot of small black and blue spots all over the body. And you could have a tendency to hemorrhage. Platelets are also called thrombocytes and people without enough of them are said to have thrombocytopenia.

Aspirin and some other medicines act to prevent clumping of the platelets, thereby preventing the first stage of blood clot formation.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY JUNE 26, 1983 Joint ventures look promising for you this coming year, whether they be for social or business purposes. You'll find ways to form helpful combinations in each area.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Try to limit your participation in joint ventures today to your talents and know-how, not your financial resources. Concepts can be better than cash. Order now: The NEW Matchmaker wheel and booklet which reveals romantic compatibilities for all signs, tells how to get along with others, finds rising signs, hidden qualities, plus more. Mail $2 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Send an additional $1 for your Cancer Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead. Be sure to give your zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) To gain the cooperation of associates today, you might have to put yourself in their shoes in order to appreciate their points of view.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you spend your time idly today, it will dilute your feelings of self-worth. Use discipline to be industrious and productive.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Social diversions could do you a world of good today, so don't look upon them as a waste of time. Relaxing now will charge you up for later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Temporarily shelve your other interests and try to focus on domestic priorities today. You'll feel better once family affairs are in order.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You absorb and retain knowledge easily today. If there's something new you've been wanting to learn, now is the time to crack the books.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) In their sequence of importance, matters pertaining to your material security should be placed at the top of the list today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll function best today if you are able to operate independently. Avoid being placed in situations where you're given too many directions.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Being around people today will provide you with enjoyment, especially if you can be more of an observer than a participant.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) If the occasion arises today to make it possible to draw closer as a friend to someone who is now just an acquaintance, take advantage of it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You are now in a cycle where it behooves you to concentrate on goals which could enhance your status or help your reputation.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your imagination, not the ideas of others, can be your greatest asset today. Give precedence to your thoughts over theirs.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Bridge hand layout showing North, South, West, East cards and dealer information.

Portia to her three suitors in 'The Merchant of Venice'. The Prince of Morocco selected the gold brick table, on which this hand was laid out.

Oswald: "The problem was for South to make three no-trump against any possible combination of adverse cards. The Prince said, 'There are lots of possibilities, but it all boils down to getting two club tricks. I would lead a low club to dummy's jack.'"

Jim: "The East-West cards were not shown to the Prince, but his line would fall against the layout shown here."

Oswald: "It is an old problem hand. The ace of clubs must be played first, and after that play there is no way the defense can keep declarer from getting two club tricks. The hand has appeared in this column with a story involving the late Helen Sobel, the greatest woman player of all time. It seems that as a young girl she appeared at the Cavendish Club in New York and made this play in a rubber bridge game only to be criticized by a near expert. Two weeks later she made the same play again and was told, 'You'll never learn!'"

By Oswald Jacoby and James Jacoby

Oswald: "In 1959 the late Donald Parson wrote 'The Fall of the Cards'. The book, now out of print, was a collection of 100 problems in play with fanciful players involved. The hands are all old-time book hands, but the presentations are worth going over."

Jim: "Here is the first of three hands presented by
