

POPE TAKES STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF ON MURDER CHARGE

Did Not Know Anything About Robbery Plan

DENIES CHARGES

AND ACCUSATIONS OF RAWLINS AND NOVITZKY AND ONLY WANTED HIS FEE.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 6.—Judge Gibbs denied the motion of the defense for instructed verdict and argument will begin at afternoon session of court.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 6.—Counsel for Pope resumed today when court opened argument on motion that the court instruct the jury to render a verdict of acquittal. The grounds upon which the instructed verdict was sought were that allegations of indictment against Pope was at variance, that Hickman was not killed during perpetration of robbery, that Pope was not present and that the state had failed to connect the defendant with the case.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 6.—John H. Pope, local attorney, took the stand in his own behalf yesterday, at his trial on a charge of murder in the first degree. The defense announced it had no other witnesses and began its argument on a motion for an instructed verdict in favor of the defendant.

The argument had not been concluded when the case went over until today. The state rested early in the afternoon session.

Pope was on the stand less than an hour. He denied unequivocally that he had any knowledge of the impending robbery of the Palace theatre here the night of September 4 by Frank Rawlins, who shot and killed George H. Hickman, manager of the playhouse. Pope admitted he had very probably been at certain places described by state's witnesses. He denied that he had told Irwin and Johnny Novitzky, two state's witnesses, when he borrowed their car on the night of the killing that he and Rawlins were going to "stick up" the theatre.

His story was to the effect that he was a victim of circumstances; he had defended Rawlins and W. C. Melton at their trial on a grand larceny charge. Melton was arrested in connection with the present case, but discharged after a grand jury investigation, and so far as known left the city immediately. Neither Rawlins nor Melton had ever paid him anything because of lack of money, Pope said. On the night of the killing Rawlins told him he had learned that Melton had received some money from his sister. He asked that Pope come with him and he would make Melton pay Pope something for the two of them. Rawlins had the impression that Melton, acquiring some money, had gone "under cover."

Rawlins suggested they get Novitzky's automobile, as he didn't know where Melton was. Pope obtained the use of the car and they drove to a downtown poolroom, the location of which is one block behind the theatre and one block west. Rawlins went in search of Melton and returned in a few minutes, saying he lived up the street about a block. They then drove to a point a little more than a block to the rear of the theatre. There Rawlins again sought to find Melton, while Pope waited. He waited a considerable time, he said, probably three-quarters of an hour or an hour, getting out of the car frequently, as he became impatient for Rawlins to return. Finally he drove back to the poolroom in an effort to learn what became of Rawlins. Later, he returned the automobile to its owner. He never met Rawlins again until they were arraigned together on the charge of murder. He disclaimed having ever before seen the pistol, mask and torn pieces of a towel, taken from Rawlins when he was arrested.

The state confined its cross-examination to asking the defendant if he could suggest any motive on the part

TO USE SHIPS TO BREAK UP BIG COMBINE

WORKING TO HAVE AMERICAN CARGOES SHIPPED OVERSEAS IN AMERICAN BOTTOMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Idle Shipping Board vessels will be used by the United States Department of Commerce to combat an international combine by foreign-owned shipping lines to the detriment of American shipping.

During the war these companies accumulated vast reserves of funds. When the armistice was concluded they started their race to exclude American shipping from important trade lanes.

Thus far their operation have been successful. For while scores of Shipping Board vessels drifted idly at their moorings, American business men have been sending their cargoes abroad in foreign bottoms.

The Department of Commerce has countered by organizing a new division of transportation with E. S. Gregg as chief. Gregg now is actively at work.

Here's how he will attempt to set foreign shipping machinations at naught:

He will ask organizations of business men, such as grain growers' organizations, farmer's organizations and chambers of commerce, to co-operate with him.

Suppose the grain growers' association tells Gregg it wants to ship six shiploads of grain from Baltimore to England on a certain date, Gregg sees to it that six American ships are on hand at Baltimore to take the cargo.

And Gregg is inducing the Shipping Board to allocate its vessels to private concerns on the basis of volume of traffic at the port where the private lessee is located. Formerly the board allocated its vessels irrespective of traffic.

That meant that some ports were jammed with idle ships while at neighboring ports wharves were crowded with goods unable to find carriers or were being shipped out on foreign vessels.

Right now Gregg is making a thorough study of inland rail and water transportation in its relation to foreign trade. He's trying to get foreign-bound cargoes to ports by the most economical routes.

The division may later take up the proposed waterway from the Atlantic to the Great Lakes which virtually would make Detroit and Chicago ocean ports.

Gregg also will delve into cables and other communication facilities bound up with foreign trade. Complaints of discrimination against American trade by foreign cable companies continue.

YANKS TAKE SECOND GAME OF WORLD'S SERIES TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—With one victory gained, the Yankees go back to the fray today with the Giants fully confident they can turn the tide their way.

The Giants did not appear discouraged by the initial defeat and determined to win the second game and even the series. The Yanks and their followers believed they would win again by speed or bases, aggressiveness in field and opportune hitting, to say nothing of the kind of pitching Mays exhibited in blanking the Giants 3 to 0. It was in speed the Giants were reputed to have advantage over the American League champions. Even Manager Huggins, of the Yanks, admitted the Giants were faster but his team showed the most speed yesterday. Hoyt, Brooklyn Scholloy or Shawkey, may pitch for the Yanks today while the Giants may send in Nohf, Tony or Barnes. The Giants today will be visiting team while the Yanks will occupy the places of the home crew held by the Giants yesterday, this changing process involves shifting of uniforms and dugouts. There is not likely to be any change in the batting order of the two clubs.

POLO GROUNDS, Oct. 6.—The Giants primed their southpaw single gun, Artie Nohf for today's world series fray with the Yankees. The Giants also held in reserve their right hander, Fred Toney to shell American Leaguers who toppled the Giants yesterday in the first contest. "Can't say whether it will be Hoyt or Shawkey," said Miller Huggins, manager of LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 6.—Money was the root of all questions here today in the second session of the American Bankers' Association, forty-seventh annual convention. One question with a promise of making itself one of the big themes of the meeting was revealed in alignment of forces for and against business extension through branch banks, especially by national banks, as suggested in a proposed law reported to be fostered by national banks. Oscar W. Schaeffer of Girard, Kas., declared an "octopus" menaces state banks. In addressing the state banking division, he branded extension through branch banks as a forbidding of ruin. Discussion ended in the adoption of a motion placing the division on record as "absolutely opposed to branch banking" with the understanding that the question would be taken before the general session tomorrow.

OLD LANDMARK BEING TORN DOWN SALVAGE LUMBER

OLD LIVERY STABLE, CORNER OF PARK AND SANFORD, IS GOING

One of the ancient landmarks of the city, and of later years, one of the eyesores, also, is being torn down this week. This is the old livery stable at the corner of Park avenue and Second streets that at present is the property of I. W. Phillips of Orlando. A force of men, under G. E. Hodges, are tearing down the building and Mr. Hodges will salvage the lumber and sell it for building purposes. There is much good framing timber in the building and like all the lumber put into the buildings of the early days, it is of the best and could be used for many purposes in the building line.

It is not known what the future plans of Mr. Phillips are in regard to building on this lot, but he told a representative of the Herald some time ago that he expected to build a nice structure on the lot in the early spring. At one time, Mr. Phillips contemplated an apartment house on this corner, but the city is building so fast, and the business portion of the city is spreading over the side streets now, that it might be better for store rooms or auto sales rooms or something of the sort. For the present, the lot will be vacant which will be much better than having the old stable building on it that was a menace to other property and looked bad on this fine corner.

It is understood that the City Commissioners will ask other property owners of frame buildings in the business portions of the city to tear down the buildings, especially where they are a menace to other property, and detract from the appearance of Sanford.

Having these buildings on the principal corners of the city was all right in the early days, but the march of progress demands that the owners either build or tear them down, and allow the vacant lots to stand until such time as they can build or sell them to some one who will build. In one way, this seems a hardship on the owners, but any owner of a good corner lot in the business portion of the city, who is unable to build, can easily double his money on his property today and can always sell at a good profit so the ordinance that condemns these buildings is not an injustice to any owner.

The Lakefront Improvement Co., were the pioneers in the work of tearing down old buildings, and they set the pace when they purchased the old Sanford House, and because it was unsightly, demolished this big three-story building, and also tore down other buildings on their property. Their example could well be followed by other owners of this kind of property, and they need not wait to be ordered to tear down buildings that are not only fire traps but are objectionable in many ways.

Fickle Weather Has Played Havoc With Some of the Crops

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Phenomenal heat accumulated which has marked weather conditions all over the northern hemisphere this year has produced equally remarkable and erratic output of agricultural crops, according to summaries of American and foreign production compiled for and by the agriculture department. The world's bread crop, curiously enough, came to abundant fruition in spite of draught and heat, which persisted all during the growing season. The world in 1921, up to Sept. 30, it was indicated, would have a total crop 157,000,000 bushels greater than in 1920.

By another freak fruit crops almost in a world wide sense met havoc from cold in a season which has set new records everywhere for solar heat. This paradox was occasioned by the fact that last February the sun got at its work of bringing spring wheat in advance of normal and trees and shrubs responded by budding out and finally coming into flower and bloom by March in nearly all areas where fruit is grown. Frost could not be averted on all the nights, however, and this year the United States will produce about 9,000,000 bushels of apples against 244,000,000 bushels in 1920. Only the orchards of the Pacific coast, northern New England and northern New York escaped. Cotton, however, suffered greatly, and the agricultural department experts assign the weather as perhaps the principal cause for a fifty per cent reduction in output.

Harold McCormicks Separated—She is the Daughter of John D.

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—Reports that Harold McCormick, president of the International Harvester Company, and Mrs. McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, have separated, are true, it was announced yesterday by Mr. McCormick in a signed statement in which he said:

"Mr. Harold McCormick declines to make any statement beyond confirming the report that he and his wife are not living under the same roof." Mrs. McCormick, who returned to this country last week after spending eight years in Switzerland, reached Chicago yesterday on one train with her daughter Muriel, and Mr. McCormick and his son, arrived later on another train and went to the McCormick country estate at Lake Forest.

Mrs. McCormick last night denied that any separation was impending or had taken place and described her plans for a school in synthetic psychology, a subject she studied in Switzerland.

TELLS BANKERS PESSIMISM IS FAST FLEEING

FINANCIER SAYS CONDITIONS ONLY NATURAL RESULTS OF MALADJUSTMENT

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Oct. 5.—There is nothing in either the domestic or foreign situation to give rise to the pessimistic conclusion that the world is riding straight to ruin, John S. Drum, banker of San Francisco, told the American Bankers' Association, of which he is president, at the opening session here yesterday of its forty-seventh annual convention.

"National examination of our condition today," he said, "must prove to the greatest doubter that our problems are but the natural manifestations of a world-wide maladjustment that great natural forces are working to remedy."

Reports from more than a thousand bankers provided the basis for his subject, he said.

"The output of finished goods throughout the country is considerably smaller than a year ago, and measurably smaller than six months ago," Mr. Drum said. "There is a surplus of manufactured commodities in the hands of the producers. A progressive decline in the costs of manufacturing has taken place during the year. In industry, as a whole, the costs of materials, labor and construction have declined, in order named. Increased efficiency of labor has been the natural result of unemployment on a large scale but the efficiency of men in the building trades as a whole has not increased."

"Taxation in industrial sections has either increased or remained stationary during the year; in no case is a decrease reported. Wholesale prices of manufactured goods have decreased steadily through the year. Retail prices, on the whole, also have declined steadily although not in the same proportion as wholesale prices."

"In the great cotton states of the south, in the agricultural states of the middle west and the west, in the western mining and cattle raising states, in the lumber producing regions of the northwest and the southeast, there has been a great reduction in buying power, consequently a slackened demand for natural products and a reduction in their value without a commensurate decrease in the prices of finished goods."

YANKEES WILL WIN UNLESS BABE'S OUT, SAYS "RED" DAVIS.

By John "Red" Davis.

New York Yankees will win the series. Nothing to be afraid to pick a club. Should Babe Ruth get another cold or stump his toe or scratch a finger nail—then the Giants will win the series.

The American Leaguers can outthier their opponents and they have just as good a flogging club. As for the pitching staffs—they all look alike to Peck, Ruth and Muesel—so what's the use of worrying?

The only way the Giants have anything on the Yanks is the manager, John McGraw knows more baseball in his sleep than Miller Huggins know all his lifetime. So McGraw is a good manager—but Babe Ruth is a better home run hitter.

I also think Wall street is laying 7 to 5 odds could feel much safer if they gave 2 to 1 stuff. However, Wall street can afford to do what ever they want to in that line—as that's their main business. To see the game as its being played at the Polo Grounds come around to the Metropolis scoreboard tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m. Jacksonville time, and watch the first game go the right way.

FLOOD CONDITIONS SERIOUS IN LOWER CALIFORNIA.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 5.—Flood conditions in the Palo Verde and Coachella valley of Southern California, were serious today, according to meagre reports received by railroad officials.

The Western Union, operating the only commercial telegraph wire into the Blythe district, reported that its line had failed.

No mail has been received at Blythe since Monday morning.

The Santa Fe and California Southern railroads reported traffic badly hampered by acres of washouts.

Scores of families have fled from their homes before the rising flood waters, which have done heavy damage to ripening cotton crops.

The flood was started by cloudbursts in the desert northwest of Blythe.

The newschool building at Haines City is nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy in a very short time.

Worthless Debts To Be Subtracted From the Incomes

Also to Require Return on All Gross Incomes Over $5,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—Comparatively little progress on the tax revision bill was made yesterday by the senate. The most important committee amendments reached, those proposing a tax of 15 per cent on corporations and increasing exemptions to heads of families having net incomes of less than $5,000 and on account of dependents, were passed over a second time.

Committee amendments agreed to include those requiring individuals having a gross income of $5,000 a year to make a return regardless of the amount of the net income and permitting the taxpayer to make a deduction for debts ascertained to be worthless and charged off within a taxable year.

Several amendments were proposed from the floor. Senator King, Democrat, Utah, offered a substitute for his previous income surtax amendment, under which the maximum rate would be 40 per cent on that portion of the income in excess of $70,000. The rate on the first $2,000 of net income would be 2 per cent; that on the next $1,000, 3 per cent; that on the next $1,000, 4 per cent, with an additional increase of 1 per cent for each additional $1,000 up to $8,000. Then the rate would be increased 1 per cent for each additional $2,000.

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, the Republican leader, proposed that deductions be allowed to corporations for rents received from buildings of any character to the extent of 6 per cent "of the fair market value of such buildings and the land on which they stand."

Repeal of the freight, passenger and Pullman taxes was proposed by Senator Harris, Democrat, Georgia, who also gave notice that he would offer an amendment proposing that where income is derived from the labor or personal service of the individual taxpayer the rate on the first $4,000 should be 2 per cent and that on the second $4,000 4 per cent.

Charges that retailers and manufacturers in every state had illegally combined to maintain high prices, Senator King, Democrat, Utah, during consideration of the tax bill yesterday, declared the attorney general should "send to the penitentiary thousands of conspirators responsible for paralysis of trade." Until the government takes action, he said, there will be no marked decline in prices or in beginning of prosperity.

Senator King censured the Republican party for "failure to deal with the situation fearlessly."

"Senator King," said Senator Nelson, Republican, Minnesota, in a speech Saturday, had "emphasized too much" the part labor had played in keeping up prices, and added:

"When labor sees retailers and manufacturers refusing to be content with normal profits, it finds justification in combining itself to maintain high wages."

LAKELAND MAN TO BE ATTORNEY FOR SOUTHERN DISTRICT.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 5.—The nomination of W. M. Gober, of Lakeland, to be United States District Attorney for the Southern District of Florida, succeeding Herbert S. Phillips, of Tampa, may go to the senate within the next day or so, according to Republican National Committeeman W. H. Bean, of Tampa, who spent Monday in Jacksonville, enroute to Tampa from Washington, where he has been spending several weeks.

According to Mr. Bean, District Attorney Phillips has already sent his resignation to the attorney general at Washington, effective October 5. Mr. Gober has been settled upon as the nominee and the fact that his nomination has not already gone to the senate is attributed to the illness of the Attorney General. Mr. Daugherty has himself recovered, but his wife is still critically ill at Baltimore.

It is not expected that there will be any move to fill the district attorneyship in the Northern District until after the next term of court. This position is held by John L. Neeley, of Pensacola, and his successor will be Fred C. Cubberly, of Gainesville, who held the position under the previous republican administration.

"Preparatory to the construction of the new bridge at Lake Worth, workmen have started the necessary office and work-building," says the West Palm Beach Post. Actual work on the bridge construction will be started as soon as material is secured and on the ground and the equipment arrives. The bridge is to be a structure of concrete and steel, 2,000 feet long, and there will be eight arches. There will be a thirty foot roadway, with five-foot walks on both sides.

THE DULL SEASON
Under the "No News at All" the society editor of the Columbia (S. C.) State voices the experience of society editors in general just at present, as follows:

"Between seasons—the quietest time of the year. The summer activities have ceased, the autumn hasn't opened up. Nearly all the travelers and vacationists have come home, nearly all the college folks have gone off. The porch and sewing parties have stopped, the bigger and more formal affairs of the regular season have not started. The clubs and patriotic societies are looking forward to their first meetings—but they haven't happened yet."

The Business and Professional Women's Club, in an enthusiastic business meeting on last Monday evening, voted that the next meeting would take the form of a banquet to be given at the new Temple home in November. The club also expects to present Miss Clara William, the new expression teacher, to the Sanford public, in a recital to be given at the high school in the near future.

ROOF GARDEN CLUB.
Monday evening the Roof Garden Club girls met at the home of Miss Nellie Lassing, on Palmetto avenue. Most all of the girls were present.

Plans were discussed as to how we could raise the required amount of money to build a roof garden on the Baptist temple by next summer. The first of these plans will be carried out next Saturday afternoon and night in the form of a big candy sale. There will be plenty of tables on the street and plenty of candy for every one.

At the conclusion of the meeting, the hostess served ice cream and cake, which was immensely enjoyed.

WATER TRAFFIC LEAGUE WILL MEET IN SANFORD FRIDAY NIGHT, OCT. 7.

The Florida Water Traffic League will meet at the hotel Valdez, Friday night, October 7th, at 7:30 p. m. The purpose of the meeting is to act on the by-laws for the organization, which will be presented by the By-Laws Committee, and to select officers and a board of directors, and transact any and all business to come before the meeting.

This is one of the most important meetings of this most important movement started to ship by water and reduce the rates, and it is hoped that everyone interested will be present at this meeting.

Secretary Cox, of the Orlando Board of Trade, has sent out the call for this meeting and his letter reads Saturday, October 7th, which is probably a mistake, as the meeting would not be held on Saturday night, and the real date is no doubt Friday, and the Herald is making it Friday, October 7th, which is the correct date.

OUT FOR CITY COMMISSIONER—STEVENS AND LAKE BEING PETITIONED

Petitions are being circulated today for H. R. Stevens, who is a candidate to succeed himself for City Commissioner and Forest Lake who is also a candidate for city commissioner. The term of H. R. Stevens will expire January first and according to the new charter petitions must be circulated by friends of those who are to become candidates for them to make the race. The election thus early promises to be a warm number as both men have plenty of friends and both of them will get enough names to make the race.

"YELL, CORNELL, YELL!"

Famous University Represented in "The Faith Healer"

Cornell University was represented in the company appearing in "The Faith Healer," George Melford's latest Paramount picture which comes to the Star Theatre next Friday and Saturday. Mrs. William Vaughn Moody, the widow of the late author of the play, who collaborated with Z. Wall Covington on the scenario, was a former student at Cornell and at present she is a trustee and member of the committee which elects the president. Adolphe Menjou, who played the heavy role of "Dr. Littlefield" is also a graduate of Cornell.

"The Faith Healer" proved highly successful on the stage. It was screened by George Melford. Al who saw "Everywoman," "The Sea Wolf," "The Round-Up," "Behind My Wife!" and other pictures filmed under the direction of that noted producer, will agree, that "The Faith Healer," is the greatest picture he has thus far given to the screen.

The paper has adopted a policy of selling papers outright to the news carriers and it is their risk in collecting the weekly assessments. Under the new plan, the Citizen explains, it is confident none of the subscribers desire to cause the newsboys to lose the money. However, if they do its between them and the newsies.

St. Augustine, Fla., Oct. 6.—The Florida State School for the Deaf, here, will put a football team into the field this year after a year's suspension in the game. Games have been scheduled with several elevens and more are sought for the opening dates of October 15 and 29, and November 5. Sarasota, Fla., Oct. 6.—Voters of the new county of Sarasota will name the county seat at a special election to be held November 8, under a decision of the county commissioners.

Cross City, Fla., Oct. 6.—This town has been selected as the county seat of Dixie county, created by the last legislature. At the election held August 31, five towns in the county were contestants for the honor but a second election was necessary as neither received a majority vote. The two towns polling the largest vote were Eugene and Cross City, and in the run-off election held last week this town was victorious by a majority of 97 votes. Cross City, geographically, is almost in the center of the county.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

USE GRANDMOTHER'S SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR RECIPE AND NOBODY WILL KNOW

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this wonderful mixture was applied, with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyleth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known down-town druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.—Adv.

"SKEETS" BURLESON HAS SECOND APPENDIX REMOVED FROM HIS FORM.

The many friends of "Skeets" Burleson, who, at one time, pitched for the Sanford team, will be interested in the following despatch in the Associated Press from St. Petersburg:

A. O. "Skeets" Burleson, of this city, civil engineer, and reputed to be the holder of the organized baseball record for strike outs in a nine inning game, is convalescing after the removal of his "second" appendix. Burleson underwent an operation last year for appendicitis and said he was certain the appendix had been extracted. Last week he entered a local hospital and after the operation was informed his appendix had been taken out. He would not believe it until he viewed it.

Burleson was a pitcher for the Bartow club of the old South Florida league some years ago, and later, in 1910, played with Mobile, of the Southern Association. It was while with the Mobile club that he established a strike-out record, fanning nineteen Nashville batsmen in nine innings.

UNIQUE DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 6.—What attorneys claim was one of the most unique damage suits ever filed in Florida has been settled out of court by counsel for Robert Niven, of Deerfield, the plaintiff, and the Florida East Coast Railway. Niven received $7,500.

According to papers in the case, Niven filed suit for alleged total disability resulting from a accident alleged to have occurred at Deerfield October 9, 1920. The plaintiff claimed that he was walking on the railroad station platform there about ten o'clock on the morning of October 9, and that the wind was blowing strongly from the southeast. A curve in the railroad immediately north of Deerfield, it is believed, prevented Niven from hearing a train approaching. Niven claimed that he did not hear the train, which was running southward at high speed and asserted that as it passed the platform the rush of wind accompanying the swiftly moving cars blew his coat up over his head and sucked his body toward the train. The plaintiff alleged that he was snort knocked unconscious but that his arms were mutilated and so severely injured otherwise that he permanently lost the use of them, due to the accident.

Willis Powell, the live wire who guides the destinies of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce

WHAT WILL THE TRAFFIC BEAR?

In olden days railroads would make the freight rates with the remark that the sky was the limit

Manatee county specializes in early truck. The vegetables on the markets first bring the best prices

This means that, in a big way the producers are dependent upon the railroads for transportation

On the other hand, if cars are available and on the side-track waiting to be loaded, the producer cannot afford to kick against freight rates

What is true of Manatee county is also true of many other Florida counties

The problem of transportation and rates is one that affects the whole state

Commenting on these facts the News says:

"The railroads out of the Palmetto section have asked for higher local freight rates but this will be divided with the Atlantic Coast Line now—that it has entered here. We would remind the railroads that, just because we have no boat lines at present, it is not saying we won't have any

"The railroads have done a great deal for Florida; this must be admitted. They have made it possible for the sections to develop and have been powerful factors in this development

"The railroads, however, have benefited by the development of Florida as well as those who own property here. The proposition of development is strictly a commercial one to the railroads, and the distribution of profits has been general

WHAT TAMPA MERCHANT FOUND IN THE MARKETS

Fred Wolf, one of the leading retail merchants of Tampa has just returned from a visit to the nation's markets in the north and east

"In talking to officers of the houses that we buy from, the one thought constantly hammered home was that in the present period the retailer doing the most and best advertising is the one who is getting the business

"Months ago we anticipated a heavy fall and winter business, and we bought heavily of the well known lines that we represent

COUNTRY NEEDS MORE DRUMS

The country needs more men like John S. Drum, San Francisco banker, who, in an address before the American Bankers' Association, said the impression the world has "gone to the dogs" is all wrong

He informed the members of the association that his opinion was not an individual one, but the substance of reports received from more than a thousand other bankers, which adds to its accuracy

No class of business men is in closer touch with the trend of business than bankers. They are interested in every line of business, for every line of business is connected with banking more or less

False optimism is worse than no optimism at all. But there is a lot of ill-founded pessimism abroad in the land—and this is adding to the complexity of the problem which Mr. Drum referred to as "maladjustment"

Following war there is always a period of depression; this is natural and is to be expected, for nothing is more trying than readjustment—and certainly nothing shatters the established order of things more than war

However, at this time there is no cause for international pessimism. The problems will not settle themselves, nor should this be expected; but neither will pessimism settle them

It is all right to guard the Panama canal, but what we need in these days is something to keep enemy armies out of the alimentary canal

ism and false pessimism—digging in and fighting! The day of miracles has passed. Only the things come true that we want to come true.—Jacksonville Metropolitan

SOMETHING TO CONSIDER

The people of Sanford are now and have been for years and will be for years to come very much concerned over the question of taxation

Do we get it? Sanford is paying more for ice and water and gas and electricity than many of the other cities in the state of Florida and Sanford will continue to pay it as long as the Southern Utilities Co., is allowed to collect it

It is well to take up this matter at once. A new ice factory here would bring down the price of ice and the present company has no franchise to sell ice

PETITIONS FOR NOMINATIONS

Petitions are being circulated again for the nominees for City Commissioner, the election to be held in November, the nominee making the race for election later and the nomination of course being equal to election

This is one part of the present city charter that should be changed. It was put in the present form to do away with politics but as far as doing away with politics is concerned we see no chance to do anything of the kind

You sign a petition and only one, and this binds you to vote for the man whose petition you signed regardless of who may come out later

ARE THE RELATIONS BETWEEN A BANK AND ITS PATRONS INTIMATE AND RECIPROCAL?

To be sure they are. The principal of sound banking requires that for every dollar a bank loans, one dollar must be placed on deposit in the bank?

Thus, the bank becomes a distributing point for the liquid wealth of the community. You help yourself and you further the progress of your city and section every time you deposit a dollar in the bank.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

Greatest weather in the world. Not too cold or too hot and just enough of that fall weather in the air to make you feel like loving your mother-in-law. It took a long time to get here this year but it is here and the cold spell that struck the north will send the tourists shivering to Florida early this year. And it is just as we have been telling the folks in the north—October is one of the finest months of the year in Florida. Come down while the honey is on the honeysuckle and the cowslips on the daisy and the butterflies are making butter, yes, 5:40 A. M. OCTOBER 6

Judge and Mrs. Schelle Maines have returned from a trip to the old Maines home at Lake Butler. While there they attended the big picnic and barbecue celebrating the first birthday of the new Union county. Judge Maines made the speech of the day and told the people about the prosperity of the new counties of South Florida and especially of Seminole.

GIRL STILL MISSING

JOHNSON CITL, Tenn., Oct. 6.—No information has been received by the parents or officials of the whereabouts of Minnie Massey, the fourteen year old girl who disappeared while on a shopping tour with her mother Tuesday afternoon, although search is being conducted. The girl told her mother she would go to another store a short distance away for some articles of food, but she failed to return. The Massey family came to the city several weeks ago from Pocahontas, Va.

NOT MODELS OF CONSTANCY

Observer Has Found That House-Wrens Occasionally Figure in Birds' "Divorce Court."

"Little birds in their nests agree." So likewise do their parents, presumably. But there has been much speculation as to whether pairs of birds, once married, do or do not perpetuate the wedded relation from year to year.

How about the house-wren? It is a gentle and virtuous bird, almost semi-domesticated, as one might say, inasmuch as it customarily builds its nest in or about human habitations. People who have watched the habits of house-wrens have often been heard to say that they were sure the same pairs returned to the same nesting places season after season. They were proclaimed as models of marital constancy.

However, Mr. S. Prentiss Baldwin of Cleveland, who for many years has made the trapping and banding of birds his special hobby (afterward releasing them to be subsequently re-trapped perhaps and identified), has found that house-wrens are no more reliable in their conjugal relations than folks. In some instances these relations are perpetuated from season to season; but often it happens that a house-wren, male or female, indulges in a violent flirtation, even making a bluff at starting housekeeping, and then making final choice of another mate. Divorces occur. A gentleman house-wren may marry, rear a family and then leave his wife, going off with another lady house-wren and setting up an establishment with her. Whereupon there is nothing for the deserted female to do but get another husband.

RESEARCH WORK IN TROPICS

New York Zoological Society Has Station in British Guiana—Woman Is Official Artist.

The two principal fields of activity of the New York Zoological society are the zoological park in the Bronx and the aquarium at the Battery. A third undertaking has been the successful establishing of a tropical research station in British Guiana, South America under the directorship of William Beebe. This laboratory is situated in bungalows at the edge of the tropical jungle, and although almost on the equator, the absence of flies and mosquitoes, the cool nights and the comfortable living conditions make it an ideal place for scientists and artists to carry on research.

This last season 17 workers took advantage of the station. The official artist of the expedition is Miss Isabelle Cooper. This last year she executed over 800 water colors of creatures such as insects, fish, frogs, lizards, snakes, bats and other organisms whose delicate coloring vanishes almost immediately after death. The subjects are all drawn from life, being held in the hand and studied under a hand lens. The intricacy of detail and fidelity to the natural coloration, together with the beauty of very real artistic feeling, makes the paintings worthy of comparison with the work of Japanese artists.

Now, Who'll Answer Jane?

Jane, who lives at Sixty-first street terrace and Main street, is at that "just before kindergarten" age when life appears an exciting experiment. She tries all the possibilities in new things she encounters in her busy days, even going so far as to make the good old English language do a trick for her whim.

Jane experimented with a toy balloon the other day, inflating it to dangerous proportions so that the escaping air would blow the whistle as long as possible. Bystanders foresaw disaster as the balloon, under pressure from Jane's lusty lungs, grew alarmingly.

Jane considered their warning cries without excitement. Then she asked calmly:

"If I break the balloon, will the whistle whistle?"—Kansas City Star.

Much Money Spent for Coal.

One federal building in Wall street, New York, now holds gold coin and bullion having a value of $1,600,000. This is one fifth of all the gold that has been produced in the world since the beginning of civilization. Never before has so much of the precious yellow metal been collected in one place at one time. But great as is this enormous treasure which lies in one of Uncle Sam's assay offices, it has only one half of the value of the total quantity of coal purchased by fuel consumers in the United States in a single year.—Floyd W. Parsons, in World's Work.

Photographs Borealis.

A Norwegian scientist, M. Storer, was able to have photographed, at several points in his country, the aurora borealis seen last May, which upset telegraph lines and cables, and provided a gorgeous display in many parts of the world. Comparing these photographs at the same time, he has calculated the height at which this aurora borealis was spread forth—namely, 312 1/2 miles. Thus, since the aurora borealis is by proof an electrical illumination of the rarefied air gases, the earth's atmosphere extends at least that distance above the earth's surface.

Red Cross Gives $310,000 to Aid 'Clean-Up' Drive

An appropriation of $310,000 for Red Cross work in connection with the "clean-up" campaign instituted by the Government to bring the claims of all disabled service men who are entitled to Federal aid before the proper government bureau for action, has been made by the American Red Cross. The Executive Committee of the American Red Cross in making the appropriation authorized the appropriation of $35,000 of this sum to the American Legion to defray the expense of the Legion representatives assigned to the various districts of the Veterans Bureau. The remainder of the appropriation was authorized for apportionment among the several Divisions of the Red Cross for carrying on that part of the "clean-up" work that falls directly upon the Red Cross organization.

Young America Sends Vast Relief To Needy Abroad

Various relief projects of the Junior American Red Cross in European countries resulted in helping 237,000 destitute children during the last fiscal year, according to the annual report of the American Red Cross for that period. The growth of the activities of the Juniors abroad is manifested by a comparison which shows this figure is 200,000 larger than that of the previous fiscal year.

The National Children's Fund raised by school children, members of the Junior American Red Cross, was drawn upon for $420,557 for these projects. Receipts for the National Children's Fund during the last fiscal year totaled $153,317.

FONTAINE LA RUE IN "THE FAITH HEALER."

Fontaine La Rue, by her human characterization of Mary Beeler, the invalid in "The Faith Healer," George Melford's latest Paramount picture which comes to the Star theatre tonight, proves herself a versatile actress.

In "The Sin of Rosanne," in which Miss La Rue recently made her debut in Paramount pictures, she had the role of a Malay sorceress, and all who saw her in that production and who will see her performance in "The Faith Healer," will notice the difference in the characterizations. Many other noted players appear in the cast of this new production, including Milton Sills, leading man, Ann Forrest, Frederick Vroom, Loyola O'Connor, May Giraci, John Curry, Adolph Menjou, Charles D. Bennett, etc.

THREE MOTHERS ON JURY TRYING MARIAN M'ARDLE FOR MURDER.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 6.—Four witnesses for the state took the stand today in the trial of Miss Marian McArdle, twenty, charged with first degree murder in connection with the stabbing to death of her step-father, Daniel Kaber, in his Lakewood home two years ago.

The jury of nine men and three women was selected and sworn shortly before noon. The three women are mothers of grown daughters.

After the noon recess the jurors were taken to the scene of the crime, the former home of Kaber, and upon their return the opening arguments were made and the first witness called.

Thomas McArdle of Chicago, Marian's father, and the first husband of her mother, Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber, who is now serving life sentence for the murder of Kaber, is expected to be here tomorrow to assist his daughter and may be called as a witness for the defense.

ORLANDO HIGH AND BRADENTOWN MEET ON GRIDIRON SATURDAY.

The game originally booked with Bradentown and later called off, will be played at Bradentown Saturday afternoon. This game promises to be a test for the "Little Golden Tornado" as the Bradentown high school claims to have a very formidable aggregation this year. So the locals will have to put up everything they have into the game if they hope to be successful.

The Freshmen of the high school are now organizing a light weight team under the direction of Walter Menges and Roland Tinker. Coach Boone is encouraging the idea as these youngsters will form the teams of the next few years and the sooner they learn the fundamentals of the game the better it will be for future prospects.

The high school athletic association is electing officers for sports that will be taken up at the close of the football season. It is hoped to start football and track off at that time. If the school vote to take up soccer which has just been recognized as a major sport in the Florida high schools, work will also begin on that sport.

The authorities aim to put athletics for both girls and boys on a firm financial and moral basis. It is aimed to interest as many of the high school students as possible. This tends to foster school spirit; interest more young people in the school by adding attractions of recreational character; raise the interest of the community in the school activities, develop the physical and moral self of the younger generation by directing its energy and activities along standard and beneficial lines. Mr. Alstott, the faculty director of athletics, has charge of the formulation and direction of these plans and is feeling more confident each day that they will mature at an early date.—Orlando Reporter-Star.

KU KLUX KLAN IS REFUSED CHARTER.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Oct. 7.—Informal application for a charter of incorporation was made yesterday by realm of West Virginia Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, according to Houston G. Young, secretary of state. Mr. Young declined to issue the charter, but said he made it plain to the applicant, who did not give his name, that the organization "will not be granted a charter in this state."

Secretary Young did not give his reason for the refusal. He added, however, that he had informed the applicant that "the laws of the state are such that the state supreme court can issue a writ of mandamus compelling the secretary of state to grant the charter."

The death of the lovely little son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Monroe came as a great shock to every one. They have the sincere sympathy of all east Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Jackson were on a week end fishing trip to Daytona Beach. Among their catch was an 18 pound seabass.

Rhode Island Red hens belonging to Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth laid a curious egg one day recently, a perfectly formed, very large sized egg shell with a normal sized egg in side in another shell. Two shells, one egg.

C. E. Chorpensing has accepted the contract of carrying all the east side children to school again for the next eight months with his two trucks and trailers. The parents are all much pleased for they feel their children are safe in Mr. Chorpensing's care.

R. C. Long has just completed the painting of the three school houses for the colored children in Sanford.

East Sanford was favored with a fine shower on Saturday and another on Sunday that done a wonderful lot of good to all growing things.

The policy of the shippers around Sanford and Orlando has won the cooperation of the Clyde Line, says H. G. White, the agent at Jacksonville, in an article in the Jacksonville papers. How wonderful are the works of nature.

The Yanks took the game yesterday by the same old score of 3 to 0. We hope they take five straight and stop the deal. Sanford has no time to talk baseball. We want to talk politics now and if necessary will close up the stores to do so.

A new motion picture soon to be shown in Florida is named: "What's a Wife Worth?" Reminds me of Old Bill Hood who lived at Woodstock, Vermont. The storekeeper asked: "What else can I sell you this morning, Bill?" and Bill said: "Ah, nothing, I guess, I feel pretty poor today. Lost my wife an' yoke of oxen last week—dummed good oxen too."—Kissimmee Gazette.

It is all right to have certain restrictions on Sunday closing but the public will never be in favor of Blue Laws in Sanford. The editor of the Herald believes in being fair in all things and we never could see any harm in the sale of newspapers or cold drinks or cigars on Sunday. The drug stores are obliged to keep open and do not come under that head. It has been our experience that the less city officials tamper with the Blue Laws the better the city is.

It is all right to have politics. It shows that the public is interested in public affairs. An election always clarifies the atmosphere for some time to come and brings out the facts in the case and sometimes things that are not facts. We all have a right to play the game. We all have a right to put up our candidate but under the present charter we do not always get our candidate out on account of the petition feature that precludes running more than two candidates. However, we can always pick two good men at that and any good man will fill the place. We are all Sanford people together and all working for the best interests of the city. Let's get it over with and get down to real business.

Speaking about people "getting the money" is an ugly charge to bring against the members of the legislature, against a public official or against the newspapers. The Herald has never used this charge on any man. We do not think it should be used in a veiled manner and with the idea of clouding the issue. There is too much talk of graft and taking the money and putting out the idea that all officials are corrupt. It is not the right way to get results. Unless a newspaper can come right out in the open and say that this man or that man has accepted a bribe it is better to say nothing. And this holds good of the citizen who continually talks about the corruption of other people. There is less corruption in all the walks of life and especially in politics now than there has ever been in the history of the country. We do not like such charges unless they are backed up with the facts. The majority of people are honest and we are believing in them and standing by them.

POLICEMEN TOO TAKE WITH THEIR PISTOLS.

A St. Petersburg policeman, attempting to stop a speeding automobile, fired—he claims—at a rear tire, but his aim was bad and the bullet passed through the back of the car and seriously wounded one of the occupants. The officer has been suspended by the mayor and will be prosecuted on the charge of assault with intent to murder.

Some months ago a Tampa policeman fired at a speeding automobile. He fired three shots, but fortunately, no one was injured. The chief of police was questioned about the matter and justified the policeman.

The papers are constantly printing items of like purport—particularly where officers have shot and wounded and sometimes killed moonshiners or people suspected of making liquor.

There is too much of this shooting by officers. The making of liquor is but a misdemeanor, and violating the speed law is a lesser offense, and no officer has a right to shoot a misdemeanor down, unless his own life is in danger. It is the duty of an officer to use all other means to subdue and capture a suspect before resorting to the use of firearms, and it is doubtful if there are many occasions where their use is justified at all. One is perhaps justified in shooting at a fleeing homicide or burglar, or one who has committed one of the serious felonies, but even then the object should be to disable and capture rather than to execute a summary justice or vengeance or arbitrary use of power, as the case may be.

Officers are commended for vigilance in the execution of the law—all laws; but they should not themselves break the law in excess of zeal to make arrests and acquire rewards and fines in addition to their regular compensation.—Tampa Times.

REPAIRING THE ROADS.

All counties have the same trouble about the repairing of the roads and keeping them up after they have been laid a few years. No matter how good they are all roads need repairs and if the repairs are made in time the roads are kept in good shape for many years but if they are allowed to get in bad condition through the summer months the heavy winter travel shows them up as nothing else will do and also gives the counties a black eye. The St. Petersburg Times comments on the roads of Pinellas as follows:

Pinellas county roads are in bad condition and it behooves the county commissioners to hurry up their plans for improvements. Unless these roads are repaired the county will suffer irreparable damage as a result of the unfavorable comment which is already filtering its way over the state.

Home folks also are beginning to have their say. Already it is too late to do much repairing before the tourist season is on and the county must bear whatever ill results come from the condition of the highways this winter. However, some repair work can be and should be done. And next spring and summer should see a general improvement campaign in progress with such an impetus behind it that it will be completed before another tourist season with its thousands of visiting automobiles rolls around.

Commenting upon the condition of Pinellas highways, the Clearwater News says:

Of all the highways between Clearwater and Orlando by far the worst were in Pinellas county. One dreads to cross the Pinellas county line at Oldsmar, westward bound. Our brick roads are narrow and rough. The turnpike across the head of Old Tampa Bay and through Safety Harbor is in such condition that most of the travel is diverted by way of Sutherland and Dunedin. A bridge spanning the narrow bay has been declared unsafe, and drivers who would take a chance on the rough road way round rather than risk a plunge through the bridge.

Pinellas county's brick road system cost in the neighborhood of three-quarters of a million dollars. It has been allowed to get into execrable condition.

One road crew was passed, patching a hole in the brick this side of Oldsmar. The operation was an interesting one. At the time this gang was observed, two men were at work and the rest were doing the heavy looking on.

There is a reason for the condition of our roads, which is a sad commentary on the best little county in Florida, and perhaps the way the repair work is carried on may have something to do with it.

The people have had to pay for these highways, and they should not be allowed to go to pieces without the people knowing why. It is the business of every taxpayer to take an interest in the road system. It is said that "everybody's business is nobody's business," but the Morning News intends to make it its business to find out where the trouble lies, and tell the people about it.

GREAT ADVERTISING VALUE IN POST CARD DAY SCHEME.

Florida is a state that has thrived on publicity. The effects of favorable publicity have reflected themselves in all parts of the State, benefiting every resident and property holder, directly or indirectly.

But this publicity has been made possible by a few cities and businesses, comparatively speaking, and much credit is due them. They have rendered a real service to the State, their communities and themselves.

Post Card Day makes it possible for every man, woman and child in Florida to contribute to the State's publicity campaign. The population of the State is in the neighborhood of one million, and if each person sent only one post card to a friend in another State, a card presenting a view of one of the myriad incomparable scenes in the Land of Sunshine, the combined result, if patched together, would be a bill board sign large enough to cover the largest side of the Rock of Gibraltar!

More, these cards would carry greater emphasis, because they would be addressed by one friend to another friend, which means that each would receive careful perusal.

Realizing the possibilities of this intimate method of legitimate advertising, progressive citizens have lined up in a solid phalanx behind the proposal of a Post Card Day, October 22 has been named as the day and organizations and communities are pledging it their support. This support should be State-wide, therefore the reiteration of the appeal.

The suggestion that the citizens of each community send post card pictures of scenes in their respective sections is a splendid one and would distribute the value of the advertising. Form cards should be avoided. Whether any of these have been placed on sale we do not know, but doubtless they will make an appearance soon, and they should be avoided. Their use will detract a great deal from the success of the scheme.—Jacksonville Metropolis.

"BUSINESS HAS TURNED THE CORNER."

"Business has turned the corner," the optimistic words of N. P. Yowell, head of the Yowell-Draw Co. In five words this well known merchant has written a page of editorials and summarized most of the literature sent out by banking institutions and advertising concerns. He means that business is getting back to normal times, that prices are becoming settled, and that the country is getting over the frenzy of stagnation. Mr. Yowell has hit the subject of unemployment and economic ills a telling blow. If we had more business men and merchants preaching this sermon there would be less uncertainty throughout the nation. Fortunately, Orlando is hitting the ball and hitting it hard because there are any number of local men who are in the same mental state as Mr. Yowell—they are going ahead full blast and doing things, building, constructing, making additions, circulating the dollars and expanding. Orlando has turned the corner and is running down the street with speed and certainty. Optimism is everywhere and where there is cheer and vision there is a wonderful community.—Orlando Sentinel

AN ODE TO TIGHTVILLE.

Tightville was a little old town, Out at the heels and much run down; For Tightville was afraid to spend, Afraid to give, afraid to lend.

Plying safe was Tightville's game, And plying safe the town went lame; Each dollar that it tried to save Drew it nearer to the grave.

Nobody sold, nobody bought, Teachers cost money, so nobody taught; The people died from typhoid chills, For none would stand pure water bills.

The undertaker also grew fat, And his job came to an end at that; For no new folks came to Tightville town, Out at the heels and much run down.

But the banks played Tightville a little joke, Since nothing was going, they all went broke; And the money the people had saved with care Melted away into thinnest air.

So Tightville, bereft of all its pelf, Slowly and solemnly buried itself. Epitaph Here lies a town, if any one axes, Died from fear of paying taxes.

FAIR FLORIDA.

Major J. J. Kennedy, of Los Angeles, Cal., who recently purchased property near Haines City, and proposes to make his home there, has written the following enthusiastic tribute to the state to his friend, W. T. Brooks, who gave it to the Haines City Herald for publication:

"Dear old Florida! She's the tail that wags the dog; she is the finger in the map of the United States that points to prosperity; in the anatomy of states she is the thumb, the equal of all the rest combined, and without which the glad hand of happiness would be a sorry thing indeed. Newest of all the sister states, in that she has recently arisen from the ocean, she is fairest and cleanest and loveliest. If scientists are right, she is the baby of the family of states; and allow me to say that as usual the baby is the flower of the flock and he yet unspooled. But she is growing and developing and capitalists from the frozen north and west are flirting with her; the young and able-bodied are coming to Florida to grow up as she grows; the old and infirm from every state in the chilly north are going to Florida to spend their winters, little knowing that they are to fall in love with the state and stay on and on watching the sun come up out of its bed of glory in the great Atlantic, smile down on thousands of happy homes and myriad crystal lakes and orange groves and grapefruit and green, cool forests, and drop regretfully down behind the palms into the placid waters of the Gulf of Mexico. Ah, Florida, how grateful am I that no upheaval of nations severed you from the galaxy of states. Poor indeed would we be without you! You are bound to us by a firmer and more enduring tie than that of mere earth; you, you are bound to us by the ties of blood and kinship, the ties of love, the bonds of material and financial prosperity. Wondrous state, you little dream that you are to be the paly-ground of a tired and nerve-jaded country. Little think you now that soon all of your lovely places are to be inhabited, and you may not know that the time is soon to come when people are to value you at something like your true worth, casting in their lot with you before it is too late. You have been modest, little sister, and you have not told your virtues; you have been the flower that bloomed in woodland solitudes, and I will say that if you the proudest organization of your distant sister on the Pacific coast, you could scare entertain the people who would come to your shores. Do I love you, Florida! You shouldn't ask me, for you know I do. I've flirted with nearly all your older sisters. Some were fatter, some leaner, some richer and many poorer. Some were longer and many were shorter. None gave me the thrill that you alone can give. Why, do you know that before I met you, dear girl, I had become cynical and hardened and skeptical, and wondered why I was on earth."

The Fort Lauderdale Sentinel says that the contract for paving Third street, a distance of four blocks, has been let and the work is to be started very soon. The paving contemplated will give a direct route to the bridge over the North Fork, and will add materially to the comfort and convenience of many. The paving will be sixteen feet wide.

IN THE LAST ANALYSIS

It is the bank which depends upon business for success—not business upon the bank. While it is true that no business can operate successfully without a strong banking connection, in a larger sense the bank itself can look for great success only in the ratio that success comes to its patrons.

The success for which this institution bids is that which comes to us as a direct result of intelligent co-operation and tangible assistance rendered to the friends and patrons of this bank. Let us co-operate with each other.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

That old bulb loves 90 so well that despite the cold weather it tries to get back to that mark again and yesterday the mean thing went up to 88. Of course this is the maximum and when we say that the average temperature was 60 it would sound more like it but just to show you that we have nothing up our sleeve we have been giving the maximum all summer. We are not afraid to publish the worst of it for the worst is so much better than the average temperature of the average state north or south.

Chamber of Commerce Wants All Members to Attend Friday Meeting

Of the Board of Governors at the Valdez Hotel at Noon

The following letter sent out last July to all members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce still holds good and the live members are expected to take advantage of it:

"At a recent meeting of the Board of Governors of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, it was voted to have the secretary write each member individually, extending a personal invitation to attend the weekly luncheon of the Board of Governors which is held each Friday at 12 noon, in the dining room of the Valdez Hotel.

"These meetings will be for the purpose of having the membership offer any practical suggestions which would tend to the further civic and economic development of the city, and will also afford them an opportunity of hearing reports of the chairman of the various committees as to their activities, and keep informed of the efforts being expended by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce in its work of exploiting this section.

"May we ask that you be present at as many of these meetings as possible in order to give the Board of Governors the benefit of your experience and thereby enable them to more readily ascertain the consensus of opinion of the majority on subjects which are of vital importance to the civic and economic development of Sanford.

"Remember, this is your organization. The voluntary efforts expended by the Board will be productive of greater results if you will contribute a corresponding portion of your time at these meetings."

ORLANDO CAMP SITE BONE OF CONTENTION.

ORLANDO, Oct. 7.—The chamber of commerce is still wrestling with the public camp site matter. The old camp has been condemned by the State Board of Health as being unsanitary and to equip a new place or fix the present location satisfactory to the state board will cost a lot of money. J. L. Giles offered a site if the city wants to continue the camp and a committee is out to report Friday in the matter. Meanwhile if no extension of time can be had from the State Board of Health, the camp will be closed until further notice, on Friday. Secretary Cox has been selected to attend the National Association of Secretaries in New Orleans, October 25.

GIBBS STILL LEADS AT TRAP SHOOT

One-tenth of one per cent is not much, but it is enough to put L. H. Gibbs in the lead over Col. G. W. Knight in the season's trap score at the Rod & Gun Club.

Twenty-six men were out yesterday and participated in the shooting at the grounds of the Club on Union avenue. The scores of yesterday were a little under the general average owing to the wind. The top score is being hotly contested by L. H. Gibbs, G. W. Knight and J. H. Cowan, there being but three points between the highest and the lowest of the trio. Col. Knight rose yesterday from the fourth place to second place by a score of forty-one out of fifty pigeons.

On account of the discontinuance of the Thursday afternoon closing several were unable to be out yesterday. The score follows:

DRILLING FOR OIL IN SUMTER COUNTY.

WILDWOOD, Oct. 7.—Two more test wells have been put down by the Longhammock Oil and Gas Co., in Sumter county, in a effort to strike oil. According to reports from company officials, the tests, taken from the results of the drilling, have satisfied all expectations and prospects for drilling in earnest are said to be bright, with the announcement that derricks and drilling machinery will soon be imported to the field and a pipe sunk. Reports from the company state that oil will probably be found in paying quantities in less than 2,000 feet of sinking of the well. The Longhammock Oil and Gas Company, it is said, has recently completed its organization and has made application for charter as a licensed firm. The prospective oil fields are located in Sumter county, near Oxford, between Oxford and the Withlacoochee river.

MERCHANT AND WIFE DIED IN BATHROOM OF JACKSONVILLE HOME.

JACKSONVILLE, Oct. 7.—The bodies of Anatole Valcourt, twenty-seven and his wife, aged twenty-two, members of well known local families, were found dead in the bathroom of their home here this afternoon. A physician who was called, stated that he believed the couple had died as a result of inhaling gas fumes from the hot water heater. Officials who investigated the case, expressed the belief that the deaths had been accidental. A coroner's jury, it is said, will hold an inquest tomorrow.

Mrs. Valcourt was found in the bathtub partly filled with water, while her husband lay, partly clad, alongside the tub with a bruise on the back of his head, apparently received when he fell to the floor. The theory was advanced that his wife had been overcome by gas fumes and that Valcourt, in going to her assistance, also had been stricken.

The bodies were found by Miss Estelle Valcourt, sister of the dead man. Valcourt had not put in appearance at the store this morning where he was engaged in business with his father, in the firm of G. Valcourt and Son. The elder Valcourt thought, however, that his son was probably ill and this afternoon telephoned his daughter to ascertain his condition.

The young woman found the door to the house, a new bungalow, locked, but entrance was gained by a servant. Mrs. Valcourt's was partly submerged in the bathtub, half-filled with water. Valcourt's body was clad in a bathrobe.

It was apparent that the couple had intended to take a bath, the young woman retiring to the bathroom first. Officials advanced the theory that the woman turned on the gas and entered the tub and that the inter the heater failed to function releasing the gas fumes within a tightly closed room. Her husband, either hearing her call or wondering at her length of stay in the room, investigated. The fumes must have been so strong as to overcome him immediately he entered the room.

There was no evidence of foul play, officials said.

The dilated pupils of the eyes and the condition of their bodies, gave mute evidence of the large amount of gas inhaled.

The couple had celebrated their second wedding anniversary Sept. 22. They had only recently moved to their new home.

The disarmament conference will be a success if the men who attend it are as big as the idea.—Indianapolis Star.
