

HOOVER RELIEF BILL IS PASSED BY U. S. SENATE

65 To 8 Vote Approves Two-Billion Dollar Reconstruction Fi- nancing Corporation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(A.P.)—The first and mightiest of the administration's measures designed to lead the way to better times swept through the Senate last night on the crest of bi-partisan support.

A vote of 65 to 8 the emergency two billion dollar reconstruction financing corporation agreed by President Hoover was approved and sent to the House, where a vote is expected Wednesday or Thursday.

Promised similar support there, the mammoth government credit institution is expected to be functioning within a week. Debate on a companion measure was begun in the House yesterday without waiting for Senate action.

On motion of Sen. Carey, (R), Wyoming, the Senate turned to consideration of the bill to increase authorization of the federal land banks by $125,000,000, immediately after disposing of the finance corporation measure.

This is the second of the administration sponsored economic rehabilitation bills.

As passed by the Senate the finance corporation will have power to pour its billions in loans into tanks, saving banks, truck companies, and other business concerns.

Holt Hits Prohibition In Address At Democratic Rally Now On At Orlando

ORLANDO, Jan. 12.—(A.P.)—Dr. Hamilton Holt, president of Rollins College, presiding at a statewide Democratic rally today, said the present prohibition laws are unenforceable and advocated government regulation of liquor sales as a possible plank in the national Democratic platform.

He said, adding the only solution seems a compromise which possibly will be government regulation of liquor sales, as a possible plank in the national Democratic platform.

He did not name his source, but warned if the press did not clear itself of the charge a congressional investigation might be asked.

At the hearing, Dr. William C. Morgan of this city, a former president of the American Medical Association, said four percent of the population is addicted to alcohol.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—

(A.P.)—A prohibitionist's charge that newspapers give "unfair and unbalanced publicity" to the wet side of prohibition" was made yesterday in the Senate.

Senator Brookhart, Republican, of Iowa, spoke after attending a committee hearing on the Bingham beer bill at which four more advocates of the measure were heard. Opponents will not testify for several weeks.

The senator said that information "very innocently" came to him a few days ago that the anti-Saloon league and other dry societies had refused to neglect, they were in the newspapers and that the newspapers had turned against those organizations and organized "a sort of 'track' against them."

He did not name his source, but warned if the press did not clear itself of the charge a congressional investigation might be asked.

At the hearing, Dr. William C. Morgan of this city, a former president of the American Medical Association, said four percent of the population is addicted to alcohol.

FULL REPORT ON HAWAII AFFAIR MADE TO ADAMS

Honolulu Commander
Details Attack On
Navy Man's Wife

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The following report was sent to the Secretary of the Navy, December 23, 1931, by Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, Jr., U. S. Navy, commander of the 14th Naval District:

"On the evening of September 12, 1931, the wife of a lieutenant (junior grade), in the navy, in company with her husband and two other service couples, went to the Ala Wai Inn, a rather popular place on Kalakaua Avenue, which is the main thoroughfare of the Waikiki district in the city of Honolulu. At 11:30 P. M., becoming bored and tired at the party, the young wife, who was not twenty years old, decided to take a walk. While alone she bestirred herself when she testified on the witness stand as the complaining witness against the man on trial. For brevity the testimony is placed in narrative form:

"I walked toward Waikiki Boulevard and when I came to John Ena Road, I turned down there. I walked in near the place where the road turns toward Fort de Russy. I intended to walk to the turn of the road and then return to the Ala Wai Inn.

"There a car drove up beside me and two men got out. They

Martin Visits City; Says Race Between Self, Cary Hardee

John W. Martin, governor of Florida from 1925 to 1931, and candidate for re-election to that office in the June primary, was a visitor in Sanford today calling upon old friends and reviewing the political situation. That the gubernatorial campaign has slumbered down to a contest between the two former governors, was Mr. Martin's expressed conviction.

The former governor has just completed a tour of West Florida in which he visited every court house in that section and called upon most of the merchants and farmers, and is said to have found a very friendly attitude toward his candidacy.

He expects to complete his tour throughout the state with a visit to the lower East Coast, thence across the Tamiami Trail to the West Coast and up to Tampa. Immediately following this tour he will begin his active speaking campaign in which he expects to deliver at least one address in every county in the state.

HOLMES GIVES UP SEAT UPON HIGHEST BENCH

Aged Supreme Court Justice Is Forced By Infirmities To Relinquish Duties

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(A.P.)—Oliver Wendell Holmes, associate justice of the United States Supreme Court and one of the noted poets has resigned. President Hoover today accepted the resignation.

In a letter to the President the justice stated the condition of his health made the more necessary Holmes told the President the "time has come when I must bow to the inevitable. The Supreme Court will be left Mar. 6. Holmes was named to the bench by Roosevelt in 1903. His liberal views brought flaming dissenting opinions, his words repeat of commanding attention at the nation.

Holmes has broken in health greatly in the last few months. It has been with the greatest difficulty that he has been able to take his seat on the bench and for weeks he has been assisted. However, he worked until the end of the year, his final opinion.

JOHNSON URGED TO ENTER RACE FOR PRESIDENT

Support Of Anti-Hoover
Forces Appears
Sure For Senator

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—(A.P.)—Republican opponents of President Hoover came forward yesterday with a name that Henry Johnson, of California, once the presidential primary to be held Mar. 15.

North Dakota's own Republican senator, Nye and Foster, urged Johnson to enter the race. Johnson's presidential primary to be held Mar. 15.

The California man, who came to prominence in 1920 and 1924 for his advocacy of a new party, but who was defeated in the primary election, has maintained over the last few months that he has no intention of entering the race.

Johnson was urged by several groups to go into the presidential contest against Hoover. It has been said that Hoover's battle that would enter in the primary of California, home state of the two.

But the senator is weighing carefully the heavy odds against defeating a president for re-election. It hasn't been done in half a century.

Should Johnson go in, it is expected he would have the backing of a Republican organization being formed under Horace Mann, of Tennessee, who directed the successful Hoover campaign in the South in 1928.

It is the first open break to a specific candidate by the Republican opponents of President Hoover. There has been a lot of talk revolving about Senators Norris of Nebraska, Borah of Idaho, Johnson and Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania, but this is the first crystallization.

Senator Norris, who bolted Hoover in the 1928 campaign, has declined to enter the Republican convention drive. However, upon him centers a lot of discussion over a third party.

Senator Borah, who vigorously supported Hoover in 1928, but who has opposed some of the major Hoover policies in Congress, likewise has held back on suggestions that he go into the contest.

PLANE HANGAR IS TO BE BUILT AT CIVIC AIRFIELD

Authorization Given
Goeringer For Constructing Building

When six weeks, the city of Sanford will have a large modern hangar on a 143-acre airport south of the city.

The Sanford City Commission last night authorized the construction of a 60 by 80 foot hangar with a 12 and one-half foot ceiling, and appointed E. J. Goeringer, local aviator, as manager of the field.

Mr. Goeringer was given the exclusive right to sell gasoline and oil of whatever type he chooses, and will have complete charge of the field and all its municipal properties. In return for a small monthly salary, he has agreed to provide the field with an airplane, and to provide for the maintenance and convenience of all visiting and local aircraft.

Mr. Goeringer has agreed to construct the building out of his own funds. The city commission is merely leasing him the ground and providing him with a three-year exclusive gasoline and oil privilege. The building becomes the property of the city at the end of the three-year term, provided all terms of a short contract between the city and Mr. Goeringer are fulfilled.

The commission's main thought in granting Mr. Goeringer privileges which were strenuously objected to by Commissioner H. J. Lehman, is that of securing government recognition and rating for the field, so that it may at once become an active enterprise. The type of hangar to be constructed, plus the size and location of the field, plus the appointment of a capable attendant, will give Sanford a high rating, and materially assist in placing this city on the airways of the nation.

While giving Mr. Goeringer a three-year contract, the commission also signed a lease with the Texas Co., who will, in exchange for a five-year lease on a plot of ground comprising 20 square feet, will construct a building on the airways of the nation.

Killing Is Blamed On Racketeer Activities

CHICAGO, Jan. 12.—(A.P.)—A new war in Chicago's underworld cleaning and dyeing industry was believed by police today to have been responsible for the killing of Benjamin Rosenberg, manager of a dry cleaning concern, and campaigner against racketeering.

Rosenberg was slugged near his home and shot six times by three assassins as he lay helpless on a street. It was the first incident of its kind in the bloody warfare between the G-men and George Moran over control of the cleaning racket.

A booklet Rosenberg wrote several months ago revealing the racketeering in the cleaning industry is regarded as a possible reason for his slaying.

Commission Takes Steps Toward End Of Bond Problem

UNIFORM PAY FOR CELERY CREWS IS AGREED AT MEET

The Sanford City Commissioners' reasons for asking for an early bond debt conference between members of the Bondholders' Protective Committee and themselves, was revealed in a letter, prepared by City Attorney Fred J. Wilson, at the direction of the Commission, and read at the meeting of the Commission last night.

It recited the unanimous approval of the entire Commission, and the praise of City Commissioners W. A. Laffler and V. A. Spear, who termed it one of the most comprehensive and reasonable statements of this city's condition over a period of years. It was sent to Francis P. Fleming and L. E. L. and Shanks, Jacksonville attorneys representing the bondholders' Protective Committee this morning.

There is the text of the letter, condensed the meeting on a question which the Commission has indicated they will give considerable thought to during the next few months.

"I have been directed by the City Commissioners of Sanford to communicate to you their desire to bring about a permanent adjustment of the bond debt problem."

AGRICULTURAL CLUB IS SPONSOR OF PLAN TO EQUALIZE SCHEDULE

Uniformity in wages and celery cutting rates, one of the more important phases of Seminole County's highly scientific farming development, formed the topic for a session of last night's special meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce at the high school.

As a result of a thorough discussion of the matter, in which representatives from the various farming departments and every shipping organization took part, the shipping association, which is aligned with the celery growers, agreed to pay a wage rate that will be uniform in all celery cutting in this county. This rate is to be printed on cards, and placed in various advantageous locations throughout the county, in packing plants and with houses, and in all other places, so that all laborers may be well acquainted with the wage rate they are to receive.

This action is believed to be of considerable advantage to the laborer and eliminates an investigation which began some weeks ago when it was learned that celery cutting crews were being paid varying rates, although the growers understood that only one wage was being paid a uniform rate.

The action anticipates preventing so much changing of one laborer from one contractor to another, thereby keeping the money of a crew together, tending to build up the crew teams which will become more expert and improve the pack.

F. E. Dornier, president of the club, sees this action as being a great step forward in the progress of the celery industry, for it shows that the laborer and shipper can get together and work in unison when the situation demands it.

"The farmers are beginning to realize that they have got to work together with the large industries that are endeavoring to protect and help themselves," Mr. Dornier said. "The farmer for his own preservation has got to do the same."

A committee was appointed to meet with the truckmen who haul celery for some of the farmers, for a considerable difference in prices has been reported, and truckmen rarely existing while others are making a profit which is considerable. The committee has been authorized to try and establish a uniform rate.

Reports from several standing committees were read and approved. After a report by the Facts and Publicity committee, it was voted to make this committee a standing committee, subject to the call of the chairman.

The membership is as follows: George Smith, chairman; George E. Holmes, Roy Spruce, Emil Kasper, Ralph H. Chapman, Kirby W. Pitt, Joseph Ludwig, Henry Thurston, and W. E. Hathaway.

NUMEROUS VIEWS BATTALINO LOSES ARE REVEALED ON TITLE ON FAILING GRIDIRON RULES TO MAKE WEIGHT

Many Suggestions Are Made As To Means Of Improving Game

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(A.P.)—What will be the next big change in football? While revision of the rules in the direction of safety is being widely demanded, there is another group of fans who are suggesting modifications which will "take some of the unfairness out of football." Collier's Weekly urges that this can be effected by limiting the number of men eligible to play in any one contest.

Many football followers and coaches will agree that this suggestion follows out the best traditions of Walter Camp, who for the greater part of his life officiated as the football editor of Collier's, and used its columns as the medium for discussing ways and means of making the game worthy of a constantly growing place of leadership in American athletics.

Football as a game breaks all records when it comes to the number of fanatics suggesting changes in its playing code. It is surprising how many letters come in to every sporting editor, offering a wide variety of departures from the present system.

Yet there are certain changes recommended which deserve a complete hearing. And one of these deserving suggestions certainly is that which concerns the number of players for each game.

"In the early days of football," Collier's suggests, "frequently only eleven, twelve or thirteen men were used throughout a contest. In those days, if a college could send a squad of fifteen players to the field it had an equal chance, numerically at least, against almost any rival."

"The situation has changed entirely in the last few years. In some games during the past season a team has used forty-five men. Teams would come on the field with squads of sixty, seventy or even eighty men."

"Against this human tidal wave of first-string men and reserves, the coach of the opposing team might have only twenty men to call on. As a result it might put on an even and an equal contest for two periods, only to be finally battered down by fresh recruits."

After all, football is supposed to be something more than a test of man-power and numerical superiority. It is supposed to be a battle in which the main factors are skill, speed, strategy, alertness, power and quick thinking.

In professional football the squad limit is twenty-two men. The pro teams frequently play twice a week. They may know better how to protect themselves and they may not always collide with the crashing abandon of collegians, but they play good hard football.

"On the New York Giants," says Benny Friedman, "we rarely call on more than fifteen men, even when we have two hard games in one week. The others spend most of their time learning the added technique of the professional game. If we had no such rule the team with the most money would soon have thirty or more stars with the result that a fresh team would be facing a half-tired team many times a season."

It has been argued also that big squads have to be used to protect tired players and prevent injuries. This is only true to a degree. A coach might find it necessary to have eleven substitutes ready, but it takes more than twenty-two men to play an hour of football, with only eleven playing at one time, then the game seems to be just a trifle to annihilating in its own form.

What change in football rule should be suggested to correct this unbalanced condition? Suppose Coach Smith finds that he can only call on twenty-two players in each game for his first string and his reserves. Why should Coach Robinson in a much larger institution be able to nominate fifty men to face those twenty-two? It would be a much fairer test to have the rival squads limited to twenty-two men on each side. Then the deciding factor would be skill, speed, power and smartness and not the preponderance of man-power.

The squad personnel could be changed each week, which still would prevent one fresh wave after another finally overwhelming the smaller side.

This past year the Army team played through an average hard schedule that carried Michigan, Harvard, Yale, Pittsburgh, Notre Dame, among others. In the Notre Dame game the team had used only twelve men up to the start of the fourth period and made only a few substitutions after that.

Limiting the numerical strength of opposing teams at least would take some of the unfairness out of football.

Championship Match Is Cancelled When "Bat" Is Disqualified

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(A.P.)—The time came yesterday for Christopher "Bat" Battalino to step down from his featherweight throne and he did it in a large way. Not only did the youngster from Hartford, Conn., weigh in almost 10 pounds over the class limit of 126 pounds for a 15-round tilt defense against Lew Feldman last night, but he automatically depriving himself of his championship, but he forced cancellation of the entire card he was supposed to head in Madison Square Garden.

It had been known the Hartford Italian, growing fast, was having difficulty getting down again to the poundage of his class after weighing 135 1/2 pounds for an over-weight match in which he knocked out Al Sniger, a lightweight, in two rounds less than a month ago.

When the featherweight titleholder stepped on the weighing machine yesterday, the bar tilted to 135 3/4, 9 3/4 pounds above the class limit, 10 pounds more than Feldman weighed.

Gen John J. Phelan, member of the commission, immediately declared Battalino's title forfeited. Feldman announced that he would not fight any man and concede him that much weight, and Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden promoter, scurried around frantically looking for substitutes. He found none, and a few minutes later called off the entire show.

A doctor's certificate said Battalino had injured his right knee doing roadwork Jan. 2, had been unable to run thereafter, suffered great pain, and was thus prevented from training sufficiently to pass his weight down to the featherweight limit.

In rebuttal Dr. William Walker, commission physician, examined the warrior, found a slight abrasion on the knee, and declared that in his opinion the bruise was not serious enough either to prevent his training or fighting last night. The dethroned titleholder, weighed 110 pounds when he started training two weeks ago. Although Feldman claimed the featherweight title as soon as Battalino defaulted, he was informed by Commissioner Phelan the claim would not be considered.

"Hack" Wilson Is 1st Major League Holdout For 1932

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 11.—(A.P.)—"Hack" Wilson, leading home run hitter of the National League in 1930 and batting failure of last season, required recently from Chicago by the world champion Cardinals, is this year's first big league holdout.

This was disclosed recently by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch in a story from a staff writer at Martin's W. Va. Wilson's home. The story said "Hack" had refused to sign a one-year contract for $7500 or $25,500 less than the contract he had with the Cubs.

"I would not sign for $7500 under any conditions," Wilson said. "I do not think it is fair to ask me to sign for that kind of money. When I had that good year in 1930 I was given an increase of $12,000 and my contract called for $31,000 and now, after building myself up with a flock of good years, I am asked to take a $25,500 cut just because I had one bad year."

The husky outfielder revealed Branch Rickey, business manager of the Cards, had written him asking that if he had a good season, on and off the field, he could expect a substantial sum in addition to the contract amount, but that nothing was said as to what the sum might be. Wilson said he had been prepared to take a 50 percent cut and would like to play with the Cardinals.

Defending the contract offered Wilson, Business Manager Rickey said:

"A man who expects a salary of $33,000 for his services, the value of which is chiefly based upon physical expertise or skill and does not keep himself in condition to earn that salary, ought to expect a classification as a ball player."

Mrs. Norman De Forest came home with her husband from North Carolina where he spent the holidays with his family. The daughter being in school there remained. We are all very pleased to have Mrs. De Forest with us again.

We had a good report from our treasurer at the Union Sunday School, for, after all our gifts to the orphans and in other ways, and our supplies purchased for three months, we still have a few dollars left.

All the officers were re-elected. Rev. Clark again for the Bible class teacher. We are sorry to give up the Spendlove family. They were a great help but they are now at Floral Heights and with Brother Clark and Mrs. Ansley helped to put on a good Christmas program there.

Our next Dorcas meeting will be on the 29th with Mrs. L. Vihlen as hostess.

GERMAN STAND ON WAR DEBTS BINDS FRANCE

The widely read political writer Fortinax said Germany's new stand was a "deplorable consequence" of France's evacuation of the Rhine.

In Paris the noted economist, Lucien Romer, remarked that nothing definite could be done to solve the war debt problem until the United States had elected a new president. Romer advised European leaders to await that event.

Both of Alabama's triumphs were at the expense of Tulane, 15 to 10, and 38 to 16, while Tennessee won from Clemson, 23 to 18, and defeated Georgia, 24 to 17, following a fine last half drive.

Kentucky, runner-up for the 1931 title, won its only conference game from Clemson, 43 to 24, and Auburn and Georgia Tech also captured their single contests. Tech's Yellow Jackets offered the first surprise of the season by routing Florida, one of the semi-finalists of last year's championship tournament, 41 to 32. Auburn, with its 1931 team almost intact scored an impressive 36 to 23 win over Vanderbilt.

South Carolina split even in its two-game series with Clemson, dropping the first, 22 to 24, and winning the final, 31 to 25. Maryland, the defending champion, did not play in the conference ranks.

Among the non-conference engagements, Duke won an extra-period fray with William & Mary, 23 to 24. W. & M. also lost to Virginia, 32 to 23, and to North Carolina State, 19 to 23. St. John's of Annapolis defeated V. M. I., 25 to 16, and W. & L., 23 to 17. Navy overtook a 15-point lead to conquer Virginia, 25 to 24. North Carolina won from Davidson, 45 to 29.

Louisiana State defeated Southwestern Louisiana, 50-35; Auburn won from Birmingham-Southern, 41-27; Mississippi took its opener from an Ecu, Miss., independent team, 76-30; Georgia, defeated Chattanooga, 58 to 38, and Alabama beat Howard, 35 to 22.

Mississippi College, with two victories over Howard, 55-25, and 55-24, led the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association parade. Chattanooga and Mercer broke even in their series, Mercer winning, 39 to 31, and losing, 32 to 20. West Kentucky defeated Louisville, 21 to 12, but Kentucky Wesleyan lost to Louisville, 31 to 15. Millaps defeated Howard, 29 to 15, and West Kentucky won from Union of Tennessee, 39-16. Louisiana Normal beat Louisiana College, 49 to 25, and Siskion won over Citadel, 39 to 24. Citadel later defeated Rollins, 45 to 22.

Prominent conference games this week include Auburn and Georgia Tech, Virginia and V. M. I., Clemson and Kentucky, Alabama and Florida, Louisiana State and Mississippi, Maryland and Washington & Lee, North Carolina

BAKER REVEALS HIS VIEWS UPON DEBT SITUATION

Says It Is Surprising Germany Has Paid Any Of Reparations

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 12 (A.P.)—It is surprising that Germany has paid any of her reparations, former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker said yesterday.

Commenting on the announcement of Chancellor Brüning that Germany can pay no more reparations, Baker said that if it had been made a year ago, France would have seized the left bank of the Rhine.

"I am inclined to believe that Brüning's statement had been made a year ago instead of now, the French army would have marched up the Rhine as far as Düsseldorf, taken over the left bank of the Rhine and seized the German ports in order to collect the customs, and then taken over the German railroads, which produce considerable revenue."

"Fortunately, Germany didn't."

Officers Elected To Circle Number Three

The following officers were elected at the meeting of Circle Number Three of the First Methodist Church held on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. O. Shubaker, Oak Avenue: Mrs. Walter L. Morgan, chairman; Mrs. O. J. Pope, vice-chairman; Mrs. Z. H. Ralston, connectional and local treasurer, and Mrs. S. O. Shubaker, secretary.

At the conclusion of all business a social hour was enjoyed when refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Jarrell. Those present were: Mrs. Tom Williams, Mrs. Cappell, Mrs. J. D. Parker, Mrs. W. B. Jarrell, Mrs. O. J. Pope, Mrs. Z. H. Ralston, Mrs. J. M. Hayes, Mrs. Walter L. Morgan, Mr. C. A. Haines, Mrs. Lola S. Legett, Mrs. Shubaker and Mrs. J. E. Preson.

any 10th year ago. And France, has learned something but not much in the last year."

Baker reiterated his recent statement that there is danger of war and added that the danger is greater now than in 1914.

The reparations question, he added, is only one out of which most of us do not realize that all of the troubles of the world are not financial, they are also military and national, he said. "All of them are dangerous."

"I can name to you dangerous situation the present attitude of Japan toward China. In both the nine power and the four power treaty Japan promised that it would not interfere with either the territorial or the administrative integrity of China. Yet Japan has done in complete disregard. On these two most solemn treaties has been imposed the most valuable part of China and Manchuria."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12 (A.P.)—Current reparations payments and Germany's declaration of inability to make further conditional payments have revived the controversial question of just how much the nation has paid to its World War foes.

Official figures were lacking last night, but unofficial estimates ranged from $2,000,000,000 to $1,700,000,000. The first figure was advanced by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, former president of the Reich Bank, in his book, "The End of Reparations."

The second figure is that of George Auld, former assistant general of the reparations commission.

Dr. Schacht's estimate included property, interests, concessions lost and lost of other kinds. Dr. Schacht pointed out that the reparations commission did not accept this estimate. It was not accepted by the Young plan committee.

Auld's estimate included $1,800,000,000 in cash and kind, of which he said France received about 40 percent, and about $200,000,000 in the properties of which France received an indeterminate amount.

France has received receipts from Germany of about $1,250,160,000. The French government estimates the total property damage of the war at about $1,115,240,000. The government has paid out a total of $400,210,000 on account and still owes a large part of the devastated areas about $200,000,000.

Elks Club every afternoon, starting at 2:15 p. m. and the interested parties are invited to visit the club on that day.

Cabinet Crisis Arises In Regime Of Laval

PARIS, Jan. 12 (A.P.)—The French cabinet today was in a state of crisis, with Laval's position as premier being questioned.

The action followed a meeting between the premier and the cabinet members, who were all present, and who were all expected to be in the cabinet. The cabinet members were expected to be in the cabinet, and the cabinet members were expected to be in the cabinet.
