ROK Soldiers Drive Chinese Off Vital Hill

Tough Hand-To-Hand Fighting Marks Recapture Of Blood-soaked Sniper Knob

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
SEOUL (AP) — South Korean infantrymen in savage hand-to-hand fighting, blasted Chinese Communists off a vital knob on a blood-soaked Sniper Ridge, lost to UN forces a few hours earlier.

Even as the battered Chinese reeled back from Lucky Point, a new Red buildup was spotted at the northern end of Sniper. Allied planes, tanks and artillery hammered the Communists with high explosives and searing napalm.

Ten U. S. B29 Superforts last night pushed the Korean air war high to the doorstep of Manchuria. The B29s smashed Chook, a Red mining and processing center within sight of the Yalu River and set off a chain of huge fires and explosions. Other Superforts blasted a Communist ammunition dump near Pyongyang, the North Korean capital.

The bitter fighting for the Kumhwa ridges on Korea's Central Front roared into its 35th straight day when 80 Chinese attacked Rocky Point at dawn. The Point is an important knob on Finger Ridge, which juts out from the main line of Sniper.

First Red assault was hurled back close quarter fighting. At 10 a. m. 175 fanatic Chinese lashed out at the Point again. This time they smashed through the Republic's defenders.

But, before they could consolidate their gains, the ROKs came charging back. By early afternoon the South Koreans had regained Rocky Point and the Point is again in South hands.

Navy Fliers Pot 2 Russian MIGs In Sea Of Japan

Third Is Damaged In Action Yesterday Near Task Force 77

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy reported today that two Russian-made jet fighter planes had been shot down at sea only 35 miles—just a few seconds flying time—from U. S. Task Force 77 off the East Coast of Korea.

A third Russian-made aircraft was damaged in the action, which took place late yesterday. The Navy said it placed the scene in the Sea of Japan, about 100 miles southeast of Chongjin. It said Navy jet pilots shot down the two MIG-15's.

Mickey Rooney Is Shaky As He Weds For His 4th Time

Loopy Mickey, the diminutive film actor, filtered and fumbled for the ring this morning as he married for a fourth time following a surprise elopement from Hollywood.

The bride, a flame-tressed comparatively unknown model, who had been told they'd be wed at the Flamingo Hotel, the couple was married by the Rev. Thomas Daly at the Wee Kirk of the Heather Chapel. Then they hurried to El Rancho Vista Hotel, registering as Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Yule-Mickey's real name.

Rooney's former wives were actresses Ava Gardner and Martha Vickers, and an Alabama beauty Edward J. Welch, who operated the wedding chapel. Said Rooney, who appeared nervous and had trouble locating the wedding ring. The ceremony was performed about 2 a. m. The little star wore a gray suit and his bride a black dress with a no. hat or flowers.

Plans Progress For Launching Of Sewer Program

Authorization for preparing detailed plans and specifications for a four-step sewer improvement program for Sanford was given last night by the City Commission to Robert M. Angus and Associates, Jacksonville engineering firm, which has made a survey of the sewerage system.

Cost of the program being studied by the City is $1,216,507. A method suggested by Angus last night in securing revenue for the project would be to charge a fee to local residents for each of their sewer connections. Under this fee system discussed last night, the charge for the city would be $2 per month per connection. Under the other action, the Commission called for an installation of parking meters in a City-owned parking lot, accepted bids for the purchase of new pipe and meters for the use of the Municipal Stadium for the Orange Amphitheater. The bids were to be opened and approved an accompanying parade, and discussed a right-of-way problem involving the San Old Company.

Eisenhower And Truman Sit Down To Discuss Problems Confronting Next President

Taft Asks Ike To Fix Time-Table For Legislation

Senator Lists Most Pressing Issues To Receive Attention

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON — Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) called on President-elect Eisenhower today to fix the timetable for legislative action in the new Congress.

At the same time, Taft told a news conference he doesn't believe it will be necessary for Eisenhower to intervene in the choice by Senate Republicans of their new leaders.

He predicted the Republicans will fill major posts "without any hitch." He declined to say whether he wants to be chairman of the House's Policy Committee or floor leader in the new organization.

But the Ohio senator said he believes Eisenhower should summon to the White House for weekly conferences the three top leaders in the Senate, the policy chairman, the floor leader and the head of the conference of all Republican senators.

Taft, who will see Eisenhower in New York tomorrow along with Rep. Martin (R-Mass.), prospective speaker of the new House, said the Senate's policy chairman wants action on first.

Taft listed the following as the most pressing: 1. The budget, including possible reorganization of the Budget Bureau and establishment of a congressional budget commission. 2. Taxation. Taft said the decision on this could await budget action. 3. The question of whether the Government Reorganization Act, which expires in April, should be renewed. 4. Possible extension of price, wage and rent controls, as well as allocations powers, which expire on June 30 and June 10. Taft said there had been some suggestions that these powers be ended immediately, but he had heard President Truman might take a week before he goes out of office Jan. 20. 5. Action on proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act. 6. Possible creation of a Com. (Continued On Page Six)

Legal Battle Of Giants Begun As Government Sues 3 Big Industries

CHICAGO — A legal battle of giants involving the government on one side and three huge companies on the other, began today in federal court.

The government's civil anti-trust suits, breaking the links of E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co. and the Du Pont family with other defendants, the General Motors Corp. and the U. S. Rubber Co.

These companies, plus 117 members of the Du Pont family and three Du Pont holding companies are charged with conspiracy to restrain and monopolize trade in violation of anti-trust laws.

WILLIS L. Hotchkiss, head of the Chicago anti-trust division of the Department of Justice, asserted the case will stand in a class by itself and will "divert all previous anti-trust cases in its magnitude."

Hotchkiss, in his opening statement, listed the top defendants this way: The Du Pont Co., the largest chemical company in the United States if not the world; General Motors, the largest manufacturing company in the United States; the largest producer of cars and other products that vitally affect our industrial life; U. S. Rubber is an industrial giant in rubber.

Hotchkiss also stated: "These giants do not stand in doubtful but as one in a combing. The assets of these three companies are in excess of five billion dollars. Their stock value is twice that sum. And their combined profits are in excess of one billion a year."

Both Men Appear Grim Before Hand-Shake That Inaugurates 15-Minute Confab

WASHINGTON — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower sat down with President Truman today for talks on the momentous problems which will confront him as the next President.

Eisenhower arrived at the White House at 10:15 p. m. and sat three minutes later with President Truman in an office for a 15-minute talk with no other present.

It was their opportunity to try to adjust the scene of the differences from the political campaign when many hard words were said.

The photographer, Harvey Green, of the Associated Press, said he had taken a black and white photograph of this first meeting of the two men since last June "when Eisenhower returned from command of Allied defense forces in Europe and became a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination."

Green and both men appeared grim when they first faced each other but readily agreed hands for the picture.

Eisenhower has been from Augusta, Ga., where he has had a pre-dinner rest for the meeting. He was accompanied by thousands of the airport and by thousands from the airport to the White House.

Truman and obviously delighted, the general stood up in his open car for most of the ride. Outside the gates of the executive mansion there was a great crowd of people who sent up a cheer when the general's car appeared.

Mrs. Eisenhower flew up from Augusta with the general but did not go to the White House.

Their plane sat down at 1:12 p. m. and the general and Mrs. Eisenhower walked down the ramp four minutes later.

After a short walk down the driveway, the general walked down a tree-lined boulevard made of District of Columbia and Washington, D. C. (Continued on Page Six)

ROK Governments Planning Welcome For Ike/Eisenhower

By BILL SHINN
PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The South Korean government has reversed its stance once again and is planning a super-doozer welcome for President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, whose proposed visit to this war-ravaged area is to be shrouded in utmost secrecy.

A 15-man committee headed by acting Prime Minister Paik Tsoo-hin is making plans for the show-up. The committee is composed of members of the executive, legislative and judicial branches and four patriotic organizations.

The government will foot the bill for flower carts, posters, banners, arches and the full regalia of a Korean reception.

A government spokesman earlier had promised the biggest spectacle in Seoul's long history.

A special cabinet meeting was called for the formation of the committee.

The government said previously that it might call off its original plan to give a big public reception for Eisenhower for security reasons. But the light is green again.

Special precautionary measures to insure security for Eisenhower have been set up by the Army and Navy.

Local government authorities throughout South Korea will hold welcoming rallies for Eisenhower regardless of his appearance in the area, a government spokesman said.

Former Cops Plead Guilty To Charges

TAMPA (AP)—Six men, two of them former Tampa policemen and another a city employee, pleaded guilty today to charges they were members of a four-county cops and robbers burglary ring.

The six entered surprise pleas of guilty in Criminal Court as their trial was about to begin.

Andrew M. Yelvington and Carl D. Overstreet, who were members of the Tampa police force at the time the ring was operating, were two of its members.

Joe B. Bowers, city water department employee and son of a Tampa detective, was one of the admitted burglars.

Reputed ringleader of the band was John J. Finn, who escaped from the county hospital here where he had feigned illness, and was captured in Cincinnati by the FBI three weeks ago.

Others were Armando Pino and Loy B. Dorris.

Bids To Be Asked For Fish Hospital

Action will get underway for bids on the Bert Fish Memorial Hospital for Sanford about the first of the year, according to an announcement made in the November issue of the magazine, "Construction in the South."

The magazine states in a section entitled, "Southern Construction Projects," the following: "Sanford-G. Medwin Peck, DeLand architect, announced plans will be released for bids about January, 1953, for Bert Fish Memorial Hospital; $200,000."

Already, a County Hospital bond issue has been approved by voters of the County which allows a limit of $200,000 for hospital construction.

The Fish estate already has built a hospital at DeLand and has expressed the intention of building a similar hospital here. Backers of the County Hospital bonds worked from the standpoint of insuring a hospital here in campaigning for passage of the bonds.

Growers To Protest Citrus Price Offer

ORLANDO (AP)—The Florida Independent Citrus Growers Association has called a meeting here Wednesday to protest prices growers are being offered for the current crop.

Barney Cohen, association president, said growers are offered from 80 to 85 cents a box for oranges on the tree and 15 to 25 cents a box for grapefruit on the tree.

He criticized Florida Citrus Mutual for what he termed failure to strengthen the citrus economy of the state. Mutual, a super-co-operative, controls marketing of a large percentage of the crop.

114-Year-Old Wood Is Used From Old Port Mellon Dock

A podium, constructed from the virgin pine wood from the former Old Mellon dock which was salvaged in the waters of Lake Michigan for 114 years, was presented to the Lions Club by Chief Officer C. Welsh today. The podium was presented by the dock when it was presented to King Leon El McCall at the Yacht Club meeting of the Lions.

TUESDAY, NOV. 18, 1953
BIBLE VERSE TODAY

Our house will not fall in ruin if it has a proper foundation of character and faith and love. No storm can destroy such a home.
It fell not for it was founded on a rock — Matt. 7:25.

A public hearing will have to be held before any regulations are set up under the new county zoning law. Before anyone loses any sleep over this matter, we suggest that they read the law in full.

Listed among the qualifications of an applicant the other day we found this rather significant statement, "Also I own a television set." We are not quite sure just how this qualifies one to run a linotype machine, but we learn something new every day.

As long as Democratic leaders are already discussing who should lead the party in 1956, it might be worthwhile to consider Senator Russell again. He would have gotten far more votes in the South than Governor Stevenson did, and the Governor didn't carry a single state outside the South.

The gangsters and racketeers are again heading for Florida in spite of the warning given them by Governor-elect Dan McCarthy to stay out, the Tampa Tribune reports, also revealing that ads are being run in Nevada newspapers for dealers to come to work in gambling houses. Not the least of Florida's difficulties as well as are the other punks that come to this state during the winter to prey upon our tourist population and our local tourists—the gypsies, the gold bricks, the wire-tappers, second story men, light-fingered gentry, and the beggars, itinerant peddlers and other fly-by-nights. Beware of them all.

From Douglass Wells to Mrs.
Garner comes a letter revealing that the Nativity Scene for which a fine group of Sanford ladies has worked so hard and so long was shipped on Nov. 11, and that Mr.
Wells himself hopes to be able to be here during the holiday season.
This Nativity Scene which will be erected at the Band Shell every Christmas will add much to the spiritual quality of our observance of this great occasion and the ladies who sponsored the project and those who contributed to it deserve the lasting gratitude of the general public for whom it is provided.

The most outstanding characteristic of Governor Stevenson during the campaign were the beautiful speeches which he delivered. They captured the hearts of everyone who heard them and won many of the intellectuals (commonly referred to as the "egg-head vote") to his side. But they were written, according to Frank Kent, by left-wing ghost writers. The Salt Lake City speech which we have already referred to as one of the most beautiful we have ever heard was written by Herbert Agar, former editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, and the Richmond speech, another gem, was the polished work of David Cohn, a free lance writer from Mississippi. So says Frank Kent.

Not only did the Republicans stage a come-back in the recent election, with the help of some very good Democrats, but the American dollar did too, according to the executive vice president of the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association, who says: "The dollar will be worth more a year now than it is today. We are inclined to believe he is right. Instead of the dollar being the weakest thing you know it will be something. This is not to say it will be worth more than anything else, that the bottom will not rise as a depression is coming, that it is a reason why dollar exchange should be bought. We are inclined to believe that the dollar that is being bought today is worth more than it was when we last bought it. It will help raise the value of the dollar."

Secret Or Public?

No one can dispute the fact that security measures are necessary to preserve our military secrets. Knowledge of some of the things our government is doing might weaken the country and make it more vulnerable to its enemies. But those responsible for the preservation of security should establish in their own minds first what is and what is not supposed to be secret.

There have been several reports, reprinted in many newspapers, that the United States has succeeded in exploding the first hydrogen bomb. These reports came from service personnel who were described as eye-witnesses to the explosion. Apparently these letters were uncensored, or if they were censored the information concerning the explosion was not considered important enough to delete.

It is difficult to see why competent representatives of the nation's press could not have witnessed the explosion if one did take place, since the authorities at the scene did not think it necessary to stop letters on the subject from reaching the public. If it was not considered desirable to have civilian newspapermen present the government might have made provisions to send hand-outs on what happened to the press.

No American newspaper wishes to undermine this country by publishing material which might endanger its safety.
But it is not wise to prohibit coverage of one of the world's most important news events by trained newspapermen and at the same time permit accounts of what happened to be made public by service personnel.

A Year's Progress

The United States was in less danger at the end of 1951 than a year before. This cheering opinion comes from the Council on Foreign Relations, which has just published its sixth annual volume, covering 1951, on international happenings throughout the world. In 1950 we were in serious danger of involvement in a world war, and were militarily unprepared. A year later rearming had advanced far, and we had held our own or gained in relations with other nations.

On the other side of the picture is the fact that we are more disliked than formerly. While Russian propaganda may have something to do with this, the more compelling cause is probably the universal dread of war, and the fear that our defiance of the Kremlin may bring it on. And in a third world war innocent and guilty would all be involved alike.

Washington Letter
By Senator George Smathers

WASHINGTON: Here we go again in our fight for that VA hospital at Gainesville. Most Floridians by this time are aware that for the past several years, the congressional delegation, pushed vigorously to bring to reality the long-envisioned thousand bed hospital for neuro-psychiatric patients. Victory has been achieved, with even appropriations available for construction, until the President by Executive Order directed a reduction in such facilities.

Last week, the VA took steps to sell the land acquired for this hospital. Senator Holland, Congressman Bennett, and I have urged General Carl Gray, Veterans Affairs Administrator, to withdraw this site from the surplus list. It should be retained, we believe, because we are convinced that the new administration as well as Congress will recognize the need for this institution.

VA medical men have told me that this location, near the state university which is soon to have a medical school, is most desirable and that, politics aside, it should be built.

This matter has statewide interest for two principal reasons.
Most of our citizens believe that our veterans, particularly those suffering what used to be called "shell shock" are deserving of the best available treatment. Many of them, in all parts of the state, have been put into jail to restrain them for lack of hospital facilities.

NOTES FROM HERE AND THERE: Fish and Wildlife Service, quick on the job of studying the new outbreak of "red tide" in the Gulf of Mexico off Florida shores, believe they may be near solution to the problem of slaughter of millions of Gulf fish.
We stayed so close behind this problem several years ago that the experts on the wildlife service needed no prompting when the recent outbreak came. . . . Thousands in the Jacksonville and Miami trading areas will be benefited by the inauguration last week of the Post Office Department's new fast bus service between Jacksonville and Miami. Even in residential areas it will mean 24 hours quicker delivery of mail.
With Senator Holland, Congressmen Lantaff and Bennett, my office had been working for some time on complaints of molasses-like mail service between the two cities. . . . For a Californian, Vice President-elect Dick Nixon shows remarkable taste; he, too, chose

South Florida for a vacation spot to recover from campaign fatigue.
We helped make his arrangements and were careful to keep mum, but Dick Nixon found out quickly what we could have told him: our Florida newspapers don't let many things get by them. . . . Editor Ernest Lyons of the Stuart News wrote me asking that Public Health Service be asked to study the possible dangers which might result if a hurricane struck and freed some of the subtropical snakes on exhibit in tourist-attracting snake farms. I asked for this study but I assured the press that in my opinion "not all tourist attractions in Florida are as beneficial as the health-giving sunshine but none of them are dangerous." . . . I heard that Congressman Walter Judd, of Minnesota, may be General Eisenhower's choice for Secretary of State. I served on the House Foreign Affairs Committee with Dr. Judd and have a great respect for him.
A former medical missionary to China, he is one of the best-informed in the government on the Far East and the world picture. . . .
I have been moving so fast the past week in north and west Florida that I have not had time to record my impressions. Everyone has been fine to me and I feel grateful to them for making my travels. . . . I expect to report in detail on my travels.

Editor:
I have talked to dozens and dozens of our county citizens and they are all in agreement with me, Rev. Miller, Mr. George Bell and others about the County zoning. We all feel that we were imposed on by the city vote in something where they had no business in, they don't live out here and they had no right whatever in that vote. We did not vote for the city commissioner and they should NOT have been permitted a vote on that and it should be thrown out for we believe in the right representation in this democracy of ours. I beg to disagree with Mr. Rolland Dean, we don't BEM to be opposed to it, we ARE opposed to it and not because we did not fully understand it. We DID understand it is why we do not want it. I came from a city of 100,000 five years ago and many of our county citizens also did and we don't NEED anybody to explain it to us WE understand what Mr. Dean meant and he meant well but I want you Mr.
Dean and other residents of Sanford to take time out and drive out Celery Avenue, West First Street, South Cameron Avenue, Hendall Avenue and then come back and drive down South Sanford Avenue to 27th Street, then turn right and go one block, then turn around and drive South for three blocks or to the dead end, then turn back on South Sanford, so on down to the lake, you won't see anything to hurt your eyes.
These folks have just as much pride as the city folks, they also LIKE to build the kind of house they can pay for, that is what makes a solid citizen. WE also have garbage disposal over a lot of this area and here from 20th Street to the 30th block south there have been 25 new houses built in 14 months and they are all very attractive and the people will pay for them too. It is what they want, what they like and what they CAN afford too. Take a look at them, good folks live in them too, the salt of the earth.
Yes, I have bought permits, I've been told that I couldn't build a garage, I have been told that I couldn't store anything in that garage except the FAMILY LAWN MOWER and I hope
NEVER AGAIN!

THE WORLD TODAY
By ARTHUR EDSON
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—You're sitting at the breakfast table and you look over the headlines.
"Well," you say, "I see they've exploded the hydrogen bomb."
"What's a hydrogen bomb?" asks the 12-year-old.
"Why, it's a—" you say, hurriedly running your eyes down the story. Not much help here. Especially from the official announcement.
It says:
"The latest program included experiments contributing to thermonuclear weapons research."
That means exploding the H-bomb?
So you say, "I don't exactly know what a hydrogen bomb is. But I know it's a lot more powerful than an atom bomb."
"What's the difference," the 12-year-old asks, "between a hydrogen bomb and an atom bomb?"
You decide not to try to meet the question head on, but to try a flanking movement.
So you say what you've been reading in the papers. About how there has been this terrific explosion on some little islands out in the Pacific Ocean. About the sailors writing back what a terrific explosion they have seen.
About the sailor who said he saw an island blown clean away.
Now the 7-year-old jumps in.
"Why do they want to blow the island away for?" she asks.
"It's an experiment," you say.
"The government wants to know whether the thing will work, so they take the bomb over there and try it out."
"Will it kill everybody?" the 7-year-old asks.
You think for a moment about that. If it can blow away an island, what can it do to a large city?
You look back at the 7-year-old.
She apparently has forgotten about everyone getting killed and is sliding out of the breakfast nook bench to get ready for school.
"It's your birthday day," your wife says to her. "Don't forget your dime for dues."
And then, pausing on her way to school and the Brownses, she turns to you:
"You and your hydrogen bomb.
The old atom bomb was strong enough for me."
That's pretty much your view too. But even if you can't explain the H-bomb, you're glad your side found it first. And you hope that,

Today's Women
By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Today's bride is a better cook than her mother—or even her husband's mother. So says a woman who has spent her life teaching other women how to cook and trying to lift American culinary standards.
She is a brisk, smiling Clara Snyder, consumer service consultant for the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers and wife of Dr. Lauch, professor, professor of farm economics at the University of Nebraska.
Says Mrs. Snyder:
"Young ladies needn't stand for that nonsense about the pies 'like mother used to make' any longer. Husband who continue the old refrain should be forced to supply proof, and compare one of those mythical pies with a product of his bride's modern kitchen. Ten-to-one the younger generation wins."
Mrs. Snyder has been in New York getting the results of a recent cookbook recipe survey to determine what happens to the millions of recipes poured forth upon the U. S. public each year.
The research specialists came up with the disconcerting report that 24 per cent of U. S. housewives had no recipes at all in their homes; that older, experienced housewives rarely use recipes, and that the most enthusiastic clippers and collectors of this form of literature are the younger, well-educated housewives in the upper-income brackets.
Mrs. Snyder claims this is the reason the younger girls are better cooks—they're not above taking whatever new tips come along, and aren't too set in their ways to see the virtues of such short cuts as frozen foods and cake mixes.
That age-old problem of three-day is a constant challenge to the housewife, says Mrs. Snyder, and she can either be crushed by it or have a whole of a good time getting the best of it. Says she:
"Menu planning seems to be the greatest problem of housewives everywhere. They get a good recipe, but then they try to know what goes with it. The smart ones accumulate a file of quick easy-to-serve meals, try them out on the family, throw away the ones that don't click, and save the ones that do."
Then they add their own individual touches of flavoring and garnishing, and they have combined the best of the old-fashioned housewife who cooked 'by ear,' and modern science, which turns out nutritious, kitchen recipes."

Seminole JVs Are Favored Over Mainland Here Tonight

High School PTA To Sponsor Contest; Proceeds Will Go To Celery Crate

A favored Seminole Junior Varsity eleven will romp the gridiron for the last time this year when they square Mainland at the Celery Crate in a contest that will be sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of Seminole High School in the Memorial Stadium this evening starting at 7:30 p.m.

Boasting a record of three wins and two losses, both to Edgewater, the Junior Vets will be out seeking their fourth win of the year and second over Mainland. Earlier the Scottmen mesmerized the coastal city junior gridiron greats by an appalling 32-0 count. This will be the first game this year sponsored by the Larry Bates and Jim Hawkins, mothers and teachers of SIS. Bates has played his last three JV tussles in the confines of the mammoth Memorial Stadium.

Local fans will have their last chance to get a preview of gridiron prospects who may make the headlines in years to come. Coach Scott boast of a bevy of promising looking gridriders.

There is the driving Johnny Jones, the big sophomore fullback, he can kick a mile and rip through the line like a little Rick Casares. Jones is the leading point producer on the squad with 30 so far in five games.

Then there is wiry Randy Reynolds who has sped to 28 points for the JVs this season, ranking second. Ralph Flowers a bruising blocking back who can take the ball when the occasion arises.

Dallas Turner looks like another dependable halfback gradually improving as he keeps growing. Turner has great potentials as a running back.

Jimmy Hawkins has more than impressed coaches and fans alike with his hard running and fair passing wing. He has to improve, but being just a freshman he has the time.

In the forward wall some players have more than encouraged the coaches' hopes for years to come. Larry Bates is exceptional, promising at the tackle post. The blonde buster, who resembles Jackie Jensen of the Washington Senators and former All-American back from California, has the size and ability to make any prep grid squad. He is only a sophomore too.

Others worth watching are bulky Robert Newton, 218-pound freshman tackle, Harold Pate, end, Gene Bass, Bob Carter and Bob Shoemaker.

Here is the record for the Seminole JVs so far this season:

Seminole Blues To Be Put On Block At Meeting Tomorrow Night

Eight Players, Bus Will Be For Sale Along With Club's Other Equipment

By RENT CHELAIN

Have you ever dreamed of someday owning and operating your own baseball club? Such a dream might become a reality, for you can probably buy the Seminole Blues, complete with seven ball players, bus, concession equipment, uniforms and a franchise in Sanford with accessibility to a "colossal" $200,000 stadium, for a price less than the cost of the average new house today—$1600.

There are no strings attached. All debts will be cleared away for a new owner. Tomorrow night a momentous meeting of the directors and stockholders of the Blues will be held in the Commissioners' room of the City Hall for the "expressed" purpose of selling out the club to liquidate all debts.

If you live in Sanford or Seminole County you will have an inside track to the purchase since John Callahan, president of the Seminole County Baseball Association, stated that the owners of the non-profit organization were particularly interested in selling to someone in this vicinity who will keep the franchise in Sanford.

While the rumor of $1,000 hasn't officially been confirmed by the directors, it has been a hot item and a bidder were to offer that amount Callahan admitted the club would give it "very serious consideration."

"Some fans may not realize the gravity of the local baseball situation," Callahan explained. "Sanford stands a very good chance of not having a team here in the Florida State League next year."

"Unless some local angel or group of angels rallies to the cause tomorrow night, we may be forced to liquidate our assets (meaning players, bus, etc.) and sell the franchise to some other city like Melbourne, Gainesville or Ocala. We might sell the franchise and other assets to another city complete in a bargain package deal too."

Callahan then brought out an important point in making any profit on the sale. This is a non-profit organization as it stands and we are interested in repaying all of our debts.

Hope for Major League help has faded, though there is an outside chance that the New York Giants may decide to add a Sanford entry. Every club in the big leagues were contacted with-out a reply. However Carl Hubbel, farm director of the New York Giants, who would be in Sanford with Horace Stoneham, president of the vast Giant holdings, that was over a month ago and John Arlder, Blue general manager, has given up on the 1951 senior loop winners until after the baseball meetings in Phoenix in two weeks.

Baseball on the whole has assumed a "status quo" role since the end of the season and in tradition nothing of consequence will be decided until these meetings commence.

Now let us briefly take a look at the Seminole Blue Inventory.

A prospective buyer would have the contracts of three infielders, the same number of pitchers and utility player and a catcher. Five of these players would be veterans and only two vets are eligible to play in the FSL next year.

Here are the names of the players you would own and their records in 1950:

Pitchers
 Chico Corrales (13-12)
 Murray Byrd (14-16)
 Jorge Rivera (14-12)

Utility
 George Kenis 27-2

Infielders
 John Imbra .302
 Joe Parise .307
 Chico Gonzalez .261

Catcher
 Dominic Petrosino .158

All the pitchers with the exception of Murray Byrd, who will be limited service, will be veterans next season. Kenis is limited service as is Chico Gonzalez. Joe Parise, Johnny Imbra, and Dominic Petrosino are classified in the veteran group. You can just about cross Petrosino's name off the list, since after he jumped the club in the beginning of the 1952 season, he has retired from baseball and started in the gas station business.

Imbra would bring the most money on the open market since he batted over .300 and had no peer at second base all season in the loop. Joe Parise managed to bat over .300 and hit 14 homers and at 28 years old could bring some money in return.

Probably the best prospect from the standpoint of age and possibilities is Chico Corrales, who posted the best earned run average and showed the most stuff all year on the club. He is just 20-years-old and has had offers in the past from big league clubs.

Rivero is a good D pitcher who is now in the veteran class and Byrd has the highest ERA mark in his initial year. He would be a good bet to keep for next season.

On the list of departed players who performed here as Seminole Blues last summer, we will list their names and what teams they were returned to.

Catcher Dusty Rhodes, Brooklyn organization; Outfielder Fred Cavallaro, released outright; Pitchers Bill Jones and Louis Rentas, Lakeland and West Palm Beach, respectively; Utility Paul Eskew, Lakeland; Outfielder-catcher Frank Smith, Miami Beach; Manager-third baseman Chuck Aleno, drew an automatic release.
