

Opposing Chinese Armies Prepare To Join Against Japs

San Francisco, May 9.—(INS)—The Japanese army is making preparations for the mobilization of 50,000 troops for service in China, it was learned today.

This was taken to indicate that the government anticipates that the situation in China will not be settled by the Tsinan incident, which has resulted in a virtual truce between Japan and the Nationalist Chinese army, under the leadership of General Chiang Kai Shek.

It was also learned today that additional divisions of Japanese troops are ready to embark in China at a moment's notice.

Meanwhile a sanguinary battle was being fought almost continuously during the last 24 hours at Tsinan. The fighting has reached proportions, no reports of casualties have been received.

The Japanese commander issued a statement demanding that the Nationalists evacuate the Tsinan area and that the officers responsible for the hostilities in which Japanese were killed be punished.

The Chinese ignored the ultimatum, and the Japanese, although they had been making a strong offensive and fierce fighting followed, it is reported.

Later Chinese troops frustrated efforts to reinforce the Japanese position in Tsinan by severing the Tsinan-Tsing-Tao railway at Fenchow.

It is believed that 80 foreigners, including a number of Americans, were taken aboard a special train provided by the Japanese, passed that point before the trucks were blown up.

It is reported that propaganda among the Nationalists against the Japanese is being disseminated. This propaganda, it is feared, will heighten Chinese resentment against the beleaguered Japs and further aggravate the situation.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Only a token force of international law stands today between the military reality of war and the diplomatic fiction of peace in the Orient.

Neither China nor Japan has formally declared war, but 70,000 troops of the two powers are in and enroute to the Tsinan area which has already reported casualties on both sides.

Unceasing defiance by the Chinese Nationalist troops of the 24 hours Japanese ultimatum demanding withdrawal from the vital Tsinan area has left the armed forces of the two nations sole arbiters of the gravest crisis in China since the days of the Boxer uprisings, more than a quarter of a century ago.

A new Japanese division of 16,000 troops is enroute from Nagoya, Japan, to Tsingtau, key point of Shandong Province, in which approximately 10,000 troops of Nippon already are in service.

Japan has serviced notice upon Chiang Kai Shek, Nationalist Generalissimo, that no further negotiations will be conducted between the army commanders at Tsinan, the scene of clashes during the last four days.

All communications from Tsinan are in the hands of the Japanese, the Chinese wireless station there having been destroyed by Japanese artillery fire.

POLITICAL JOB SEEKERS TALK AT LAKE MARY

Big Crowd Overflows Town's Community Building To See Thirty Odd Candidates In Race For County Positions

Pearman And Hagan Clash In Speeches

Candidates Deliver Charges And Counter-Charges About Opponents In June Primary

Before a crowd that overflowed the Lake Mary Community House and was forced to listen in the windows, aspirants for Seminole County offices last night charged, counter-charged, volleyed and thundered in an effort to gather in that community's votes.

R. J. Holly, chairman of the meeting, said the large crowd was evidence that people were taking politics seriously. Many Sanford citizens were present.

The first candidates to present their claims for office were those running for county prosecuting attorney. Judge W. E. White was the first speaker and delivered a concise talk on the duties of the office and his qualifications for the job. He was followed by J. G. Leonnay, incumbent, who thanked the people for the support given him in the past and asked to be allowed to serve for a full term as at present he is filling out the term of Judge E. F. Householder who resigned.

D. L. Thrasher was the first candidate to speak for the office of clerk of court. Mr. Thrasher told the audience that he had been faithful to all public trusts in the past and would give the people 100 per cent personal attention if elected on June 5th. V. E. Douglass, incumbent, was sick and unable to attend. E. L. Burdick, deputy clerk, spoke a few words for Mr. Douglass. R. R. Deas told the voters he was running on his past record and asked for their support on that basis.

S. A. B. Wilkinson, candidate for county judge, charged the present holder of that office had been reversed in 75 per cent of the cases appealed to a higher court. Mr. Wilkinson also said the incumbent charged Judge Wallace W. Wright had been reversed in a letter from Tallahassee which said Judge Wright had only been reversed in 4 cases out of 19. J. G. Sharon claimed Wilkinson was distorting the issue and that the cost of re-trying these cases were a great deal less than his opponent would have people believe. Judge Sharon said he believed his past service and qualifications entitled him to another term.

Alexander Vaughan said he had been tax assessor since the first regular election after the county was formed. Mr. Vaughan said he was no orator, but he was a fair assessor and asked for support on his record.

E. H. Kilbee saluted the candidates after he had greeted the audience, saying that he wanted all the job aspirants to vote for him on June 5th. Mr. Kilbee said he and his friends got together in a previous election and beat Bates and gave the job to Vaughan and now he and his friends were working to beat Vaughan and if they succeeded he was going to give the job to Kilbee.

The next candidate for tax assessor to address the audience was Joe D. Chittenden. Mr. Chittenden promised the voters he would appoint an equalization board to equalize taxes if he was elected. Mr. Chittenden charged that Mr. Vaughan refused to appoint a board. He cited instances of all-around.

Prince Carol Preparing To Quit Britain; Revolt Of Peasant Party Ended

LONDON, May 9.—(INS)—Prince Carol of Romania was making preparations today to leave England, but just where he will go could not be learned.

He is rather wrought up over the British order expelling him from the country, according to friends. However, he has made no attempt at official explanation which might in some way answer the claims of the government that he was using his temporary residence at Godstone as a base for disseminating propaganda.

He is welcome in France, provided he refrains from indulging in any practices similar to those the French foreign office stated which got him into trouble here, yesterday.

But should he attempt to go back to Roumania, he will find himself up against a stone wall. Government officials in Bucharest dismissed Carol's threat to return to Roumania as a "mere bluff," in view of the fact that the Peasant Party is reported as indifferent to his return and not in favor of backing him if he does.

BERLIN, May 9.—(INS)—Premier Briarion's government in Roumania stood victorious today in the first test of strength with the Peasant Party which tried to force the cabinet's resignation. Advances from Bucharest said the government press is openly proclaiming a "government victory."

Premier Briarion is defying the peasants and flatly rejected the demand that he and his ministers quit. The peasant march upon Bucharest from Alba Julia has failed. Roumanian government officials claim that the peasant "army" is disorganized and without a leader. Many of the peasants are said to be stranded near Alba Julia, where the National-Peasant Convention was held Sunday.

Julia Maniu, chief leader of the peasant party in Bucharest trying to negotiate with the government. Advances from the Roumanian capital said the regents refused to give Maniu a hearing, but that he was received in private audience by Queen Marie.

The Bucharest government announced that drastic measures would be taken to prevent another anti-government mass meeting by peasants. It announced further that the press would be controlled to prevent the circulation of false reports.

COOLIDGE WINS FIGHT TO LIMIT TAX REDUCTION

Insurgents Rally To Aid Of Administration And Defeat Democrats Effort To Force Larger Increase In Slice

Democrats Still Have Opportunity

Amusement Tax Is Lifted To Exempt All Tickets Below $3; Minority Asks Repeal

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(INS)—The administration appeared well on its way today to a smashing victory in the senate in its fight to place a $203,000,000 limit on tax reduction.

On the first three test votes, the insurgent group rallied to the administration's defense and beat down Democratic proposals for greater tax reduction. The margin was close on all three votes, but the administration won and there were many indications it would continue to win throughout the tax fight in the senate.

The surtax rates, bone of contention between the two major parties were to be considered today with prospects of a vote before nightfall. Both the administration and Democratic plans call for a $25,000,000 slash but the plans differ in extending the relief.

The Democrats proposed a greater reduction in surtaxes on the brackets above $52,000 and $52,000. The Republicans would grant while the Democrats would grant greater relief to the brackets above $52,000.

There was a possibility the insurgents might break away from the administration on this lone item, because their votes would not change the amount of reduction. If they do join the minority, it would give the Democrats probably their only important victory in the tax row.

Corporation taxes also promised to be a subject of considerable debate. The Democrats proposed a reduction from 13 1/2 to 11 1/2 per cent while the Republicans limited the slash to 12 1/2 per cent. If the insurgents follow the path taken on the first three test votes, they will support the administration.

The insurgent theory behind their votes in the tax battle was to force early refunding of the world war debt through use of treasury surpluses. If taxes are slashed, the insurgents maintained, the war debt will be saddled on future generations. The administration opposed the larger slash in corporation and other taxes on the ground the treasury will incur a deficit in 1929, due to additional expenditures necessitated by flood relief, and other new legislation. The Democrats took a directly opposite position, maintaining that if the present generation is paying a sufficient share of the war cost that wartime taxes should be repealed and the deficit is threatened, because treasury surpluses are government's financial condition always have been inaccurate in the past.

On the first test vote, the senate retained the 10 per cent amusement tax but increased the present 75 cent exemption to include all admissions up to $3. The house retained the tax but increased the exemption to $1. The senate Democrats sought to repeal the tax entirely but their amendment lost first by a tie vote of 40 to 40 and later by a vote of 39 to 42.

Candidate Nabbed For Getting Drunk

KOKOMO, Ind., May 9.—(INS)—This city was "shocked" today over the arrest of Olin R. Holt, prominent attorney and candidate in yesterday's primary election for the Democratic nomination for governor. He was charged with "public intoxication." Holt was endorsed as an outstanding dry by the local W. C. T. U. recently, and Dr. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league. He was arrested in an alley last night where, according to police he was staggering around "blind drunk."

He resented the committee's action in questioning him about unfriendly campaign reports and constantly evidenced traces of anger and temper. He twice refused to reveal the name of a senator with whom he talked about his West Virginia campaign, but escaped being in contempt of the committee by saying he would try to furnish the information later.

The secretary's attitude was in sharp contrast to that shown by other presidential candidates, but before he left the stand he explained that he felt the committee was right in investigating "slandering reports" which attacked him.

American Golfers Continue To Lead

SANDWICH, May 9.—(INS)—America's big five of its invading golf team shot the legs out from under the early finishers in the first round of the British Open Golf Championship today. Bill Mehlhorn shooting a 35-36-71, Gene Sarazen a 38-37-75, and Walter Hagen a 38-37-75. Mehlhorn and Sarazen thus placed themselves one-two in the early going with Hagen hovering in the first five. Abe Mitchell, one of England's main dependencies, shot a 78 while the Americans were firing their competitive Roman candles.

CITY TAX CUT IS PLEDGED FOR 1928 IN MASS MEETING

Bankers, Pastor, Lawyer And Chamber Of Commerce Head Appeal To Property Owners To Pay 1927 Assessments

An appeal to the Sanford citizens to pay their taxes this year and obtain a reduction in millage next year was made by five speakers at a Chamber of Commerce "Citizenship" meeting at the City Hall Auditorium last night. Approximately 200 persons attended this meeting.

The speakers were Dr. E. D. Brownlee, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church; Linton E. Allen, president of the Sanford Atlantic National Bank; H. F. Whittier, cashier of the First National Bank; Fred R. Wilson, local attorney, and S. O. Shindler, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

A picture of returning prosperity was presented by Mr. Allen and Mr. Whittier. Bank deposits, according to their figures have reached a new high peak in the history of the city so far as local individual funds are concerned. Mr. Whittier reported over $1,500,000 deposited in savings accounts in the First National Bank alone. Deposits are $2,000,000 more than they were last winter, he said.

Seminole County was called the state by many of the bankers at the state convention in Tampa recently. Mr. Allen told the audience he said the financial condition of the city was reflected in the million.

CANDIDATES WILL STAGE CHULUOTA RALLY THURSDAY

Big Barbecue Planned With All Day Speech Making By Aspirants To Offices In Democratic June Election

The mecca of all candidates tomorrow is the all day speaking and barbecue which will be held at Chuluota and reports indicate a big crowd of citizens will gather to hear their voice their claim for the respective offices they seek.

Elaborate arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the citizens who will attend this meeting. Large quantities of barbecued meats are being prepared and it is said there will be more than enough to eat for every one who attends.

L. C. Bebout will preside at the meeting in the absence of R. J. Holly who has been called to Washington. Mr. Bebout said the speaking would begin at ten o'clock in the morning and continue until twelve-thirty when the barbecue dinner will be served. Speaking will be resumed immediately following the barbecue. Mr. Bebout said that candidates for the various state offices will speak at the morning session and those running for county offices in the afternoon.

Mr. Bebout anticipates a large crowd and as it is an all-day affair each candidate will have more than the usual five minutes in which to talk.

EFFORT TO PASS MUSCLE SHOALS BILL IS LAUNCHED

Measure For Development Of Entire Project By Federal Concern Introduced; Action May Be Taken Before Night

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(INS)—A final drive for legislation to develop the entire $100,000,000 Muscle Shoals hydro-electric project was launched today in the House by the military affairs committee with prospect of a decision before night.

Rep. Morin (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the committee, was prepared to call up the Norris bill, providing for a government corporation to make fertilizer and sell electric power.

Despite the wide-spread demand for a solution of the 10 year old problem, the bill faced strong opposition from opponents of government ownership and backers of private leading bills.

The situation was further complicated by protests from some Tennessee members that the committee's plans for the development of power on the Clinch River invaded rights of the state.

Sponsors of the measure have charged that influence of the "Power Trust" has been exercised against the measure because it provides for the sale of electric power to municipalities.

The government operation plan was devised, according to Chairman Morin, because of the failure of private companies to submit bids which would guarantee the manufacture of fertilizer and maintain the property for manufacturing of ammunition ingredients in time of war.

"The Muscle Shoals Corporation of the United States," which is set up in the bill, would have $10,000,000 capital stock, all owned by the Federal government. It would manufacture fertilizers and sell surplus power produced by the Alabama project.

DRINK COMBINE REPORTED

NEW YORK, May 9.—(INS)—Reports were current in banking circles today that a big consolidation of soft drink manufacturing concerns is in the making. The plans, it is said, call for the merger of the Coca-Cola Inc. and Canada Dry Ginger Ale Inc. Later, according to the reports in Wall Street, the Liquid Carbon Company will be brought into the consolidation.

Smith Supporters Lead In Alabama Primary Election

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 9.—(INS)—Walter Moore, supporter of Governor Al Smith for the Democratic presidential nomination, swung into the lead today over his opponent, Watt Brown, for Democratic national committee, returns from 21 counties in Alabama's primary election showed today.

A. H. Carmichael, Borden Burr and Harry M. Ayres were in the lead for three other delegates-at-large. They are considered anti-Smith.

Endurance Record Holder Is Killed When Plane Falls

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS, N. J., May 9.—(INS)—Lieut. Royal V. Thomas, U. S. Army Reserve, and Vaughan Weatherly, an engineer employed by the Wright Aeronautical Corporation of Paterson, N. J., were killed today when the Bellanca Monoplane, the Bellanca, in which Thomas recently set an official solo record for endurance flying, crashed to the ground at the Terboro golf club near here.

Eyewitnesses to the accident said the Bellanca, which had been making speed tests from Terboro airport, was flying low and seemed to turn sideways several times, as though in a barrel roll, and plunged to earth—striking the ground tail first.

The wings and fuselage of the plane were reduced to a mass of wreckage. The propeller was broken into several pieces and the motor plowed a long furrow in the ground.

State Wins Point In Fight To Keep Hickman In Jail

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 9.—(INS)—To combat the attack on California's "not guilty by reason of insanity" statute launched by attorneys for William Edward Hickman before the state supreme court, Major Walter K. Fuller, president of the California crime commission, today began preparation of a brief which he will present to the high tribunal within the next ten days.

Mayor Fuller, head of the movement which resulted in enactment of the insanity law under which Hickman was convicted of the murder of Marion Parker, was granted permission to file the brief after attorneys for the girl-slayer and the state had conducted a long verbal battle before the Supreme Court over the constitutionality of the statute.

Granting of permission to file the brief virtually means that the high court will not render a decision on Hickman's plea against the conviction and death sentence for at least the next ten days.

HOOVER EXHIBITS ANGER IN SENATE CAMPAIGN PROBE

Testifies He Has Not Spent Cent For Campaign; Defies Committee And Refuses To Answer Questions Put Him

WASHINGTON, May 9.—(INS)—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover told the Senate's presidential campaign committee today that he personally has spent nothing in his race for the Republican nomination. He was asked to tell about his expenditures and the "scope of his campaign."

"On the personal expenditures with the exception perhaps of telephone calls and other odds and ends," said Hoover. "I have made no personal contribution to the campaign."

He resented the committee's action in questioning him about unfriendly campaign reports and constantly evidenced traces of anger and temper. He twice refused to reveal the name of a senator with whom he talked about his West Virginia campaign, but escaped being in contempt of the committee by saying he would try to furnish the information later.

Showing From More Than Two-Thirds Of Precincts In State Make Loss Certain

Senator Leading By 8,000 Ballots

Watson Manager Says Final Counts Will Make Margin 25,000

INDIANAPOLIS, May 9.—(INS)—United States Senator James E. Watson apparently has defeated Herbert Hoover for Indiana's presidential endorsement on the basis of unofficial returns received today from nearly two-thirds of the state's 3,610 precincts in yesterday's primary election.

Admitting the victory of Senator Watson over Hoover yesterday, Oscar G. Foellinger, Hoover's state manager, this afternoon declared in view of Hoover's tremendous popular vote in Indiana it was Senator Watson's "moral duty to permit Indiana's 33 delegates to the national convention to go to Hoover after Watson was eliminated from presidential consideration."

Reports received early today from 2,040 precincts gave Senator Watson a lead of about 8,000 votes over the secretary of commerce. The totals were: Watson, 103,466; Hoover, 95,046.

M. Burt Thurman, Watson manager, today claimed the state by 25,000 majority.

Oscar G. Foellinger, Indiana manager of Hoover's candidacy for the Republican nomination today refused to concede that Senator Watson had defeated Hoover in the election.

"The returns from a number of Hoover strongholds are very incomplete and Hoover is only a little behind Watson at present," Foellinger said.

United States Senator Arthur R. Robinson this morning was running two to one over the total vote of his two opponents, Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom and former Judge Solon J. Carter, and probably was assured of re-nomination.

Albert Stump was leading Walter Myers, his nearest opponent more than two to one for the Democratic senatorial nomination. Both Republican and Democratic gubernatorial races probably will be determined in state conventions for the party vote was so split between the record number of 17 candidates that none this morning had the necessary majority in the primary struggle.

The strength of Frederick Landis, Loganport editor, was the biggest surprise of the gubernatorial contest. He was running second only to Secretary of State Frederick E. Schortemeir, the organization man, with Thomas H. Adams, crusading Vincennes publisher, third.

Henry early returns from the urban districts gave Hoover a comfortable lead over Watson, but shortly after midnight the Senator's strength in the rural precincts began to be heard from sending him into the lead. Hoover swept the industrial district of Northern Indiana, but was halted as he reached the agricultural plains of Central and Southern Indiana.

Although Frank C. Dalley, prosecutor of Truman H. Newberry, was far in the Democratic race for governor, he had not established a majority. Next in order were John E. Frederick, Kokomo steel manufacturer, and Earl H. Crawford, Indiana farm bureau federation official.

Tagging All Bases

NEW YORK, May 8.—(INS)—The Cleveland Indians, the strongest western team in the American League, will undergo their first real test of the season today when they begin a four-game series with the league-leading Yankees here. Although they committed a grave tactical error by dropping a game to the Red Sox, the Indians are the only western outfit to get better than an even break during the eastern invasion. Yesterday they trimmed Boston, 4 to 2.

The Yankees, flushed by four straight victories over the Chicago White Sox, apparently are as unbeatable on their home lot as they were last year.

Connie Mack's Athletics, who made a clean sweep against Detroit, today begin a series with St. Louis which should furnish the heaviest test of the season.

Owen Carroll, Detroit's star pitcher, proved he could take it by striking in the best while the Athletics picked him for seven straight hits in the second inning. Ty Cobb then drove in another run and the A's went on to win by a 10 to 0 count, the Tigers getting only five hits off Lefty Grove.

At Tampa of the White Sox tried to come back against the Yankees but was laid out for the second time during the series, the obnoxious pitcher giving up 8 to 5 yesterday. Phipps had to go to the rescue of Al Smith, who carried for the Sox, but in a moment and the Yankees were back in the lead.

"Terrific" Street Still Keeps Aged Landmarks Of Past Barbary Coast Days

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—Any curious persons who know the Barbary Coast in its heyday still may see landmarks by strolling through Pacific street, better known in an earlier day as "Terrific" street. Pacific street held most of the dance halls, saloons and "theaters of variety," otherwise hokey-tokes.

One of the numerous "Black Cat" cabarets that opened and closed with the change of the moon stood at Kenney and Jackson Streets. It is now a plumbing and electrical shop, though the marquee which cast its beacon out over the human jungle still remains. Directly across the street was another cellar cafe, now a billiard "parlor" frequented by Filipinos.

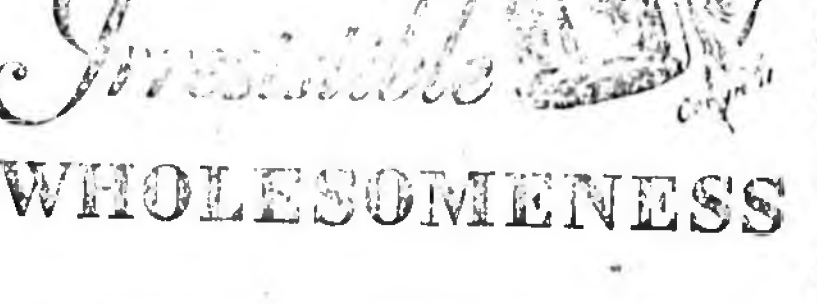

Jackson street nowadays is divided over mostly to negroes. The Thalia dance hall and variety theater, where Lady Frances Hope, owner of the ill-fated Hope diamond, filed a singular engagement as a guarantee. The rear of the shop is painted a vivid blue, a relic of the gaudy decorative scheme of the old Thalia.

A Cellar Cafe

The Midway, a cellar cafe which held three to four hundred patrons and always popular is heavily padlocked and dust begrimed, but ever hopeful of a better day, for only recently a new "For Rent" sign was tacked on the door.

There are two hippodromes, dance halls and theaters of varieties. The original Hippodrome is on the south side of Jackson street. It has a deep lobby, once brilliantly illuminated. Alluring nudes in plaster of Paris cling to the walls of the lobby, and being that of the luring fan and dancing nymph. They have long since cracked, crumbling and mired in spots. Above the entrance is a plaster of Paris relief holding one a welcoming but shattered arm, bent by wind and rain.

trances is the grimy lettering, "Free Show Upstairs." The purpose of this was to lure those too timid to enter the dance hall and saloon on the ground floor. Once upstairs, however, they found themselves hemmed in by ingratiating girls who drew them to boxes where true enough, they could see the show "free." But the beer put down on the table soon cost as Lou did she went about the street waiting.

Friends told how Sam and Lou often looked wistfully across the street at each other but neither would bring himself to speak. It was not long before Lou died. An old negro woman who frequented the street was superstitious. As soon as Lou died she went about the street waiting.

Shortly after Lou's death, Sam died too, although he had been to all physical appearances in good health when Lou passed on.

The dance floor of the second Hippodrome was the pride of the Coast. Passing through the slit of the padlocked swinging doors and past a pasteboard carton lettered "Bean Soup" this boasted floor is seen to have gone the way of most material things in the aged-old battle against time.

In front of one particularly dirty building the rusted frame of an electric sign swings forlornly in the breeze. It was the Comstock, noted for its steam beer.

Out of deference or memory, somebody has removed the electric sign that used to herald Tim McGirth's place. This was a rendezvous for prize fighters and heroes and has been named the "International News Service Staff Correspondent."

Down the street is the building which housed Lou Tarzoff's saloon and dance hall for whites and blacks. Sam King was Lou's partner. They quarreled though they had been lifetime friends. Lou

The building, erected by De Paul University, is 16 stories high. Six additional floors later may be added according to the president, the Very Rev. Thomas F. Levan, C. M.

The structure, costing $2,000,000 was financed through the efforts of the De Paul Educational Aid Society.

Trustees of this corporation include George E. Brennan, political leader; D. F. Kelly, State Street department store head; Francis X. Busch, former corporation counsel and dean emeritus of De Paul's College of Law; F. J. Lewis, manufacturer; and Deal William F. Clarke, of the university's law school.

Attorney Busch also is a trustee of the university project. He boasts that he is the only non-Catholic holding such an office in a Catholic educational institution in the United States.

High Speed Elevators

De Paul's professional departments, including the Colleges of Law and Commerce and pre-law school, will occupy the upper four floors. High-speed express elevators will carry the students to their classes. Stores and shops will occupy the ground level and the remainder of the space will be leased for office purposes.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

OUR HOPE:—The hope of the righteous shall be gladness; but the expectation of the wicked shall perish.—Prov. 10:28.

PRAYER:—"My hope is built on nothing less, Than Jesus' blood and righteousness."

YES

It was years ago, I guess, And the honeyuckles were red When she smiled at me. And "Yes" Was the only word that she said.

And I do not know, and I dare not try To count up the years that have gone passed by.

Or the day before yesterday! Still the rarest blossoms blow, And the honeyuckles are gay.

And when memory the buried past exhumes There is naught of ash on the oldest blossoms.

And the words we say and the fruits we eat Have little that's bitter and much that's sweet.

Let the balance strike that the record show There's a million "Yeses" for every "No."

A New Industry Looms

Because of the local interest which has been manifested in bulb culture it is especially interesting to us to note that this line of agricultural development is meeting with such progress as to indicate wonderful possibilities.

The rapid development of bulb growing in Florida is also attributed by the Times-Union to the state's nearness to eastern markets, and to the restrictions which the government has placed on importation of foreign bulbs.

Duval, Volusia, Lake and Seminole counties have taken the lead in encouraging this industry. Within the past few months seventy bulb growers have secured certificates, which are issued by state agricultural authorities.

With all of the promise which bulb production gives, the Times-Union believes it of much importance to proceed with its development in a most careful manner.

"The growth and evident prosperity of this bulb industry in Florida is but another illustration of the value that is in crop diversification. If all soil cultivators in Florida devoted themselves to the growing of a single crop or even two or three, there would be numerous failures, of course.

Caution always needs to precede giving up a certainty for an uncertainty. Bulb growing, in Florida, needs to be studied in advance, which does not mean that it is a risky line of agricultural industry, but only that precautions are necessary in order to avoid mistakes being made."

Parking Laws

With the ever increasing popularity of automobiles the importance of having more efficient traffic regulations is recognized more than ever before. Hand in hand with the regulation of speed laws goes the problem of parking.

The Bradenton Herald quotes a recent report issued by the civic development department of the United States Chamber of Commerce in which six recommendations are made under the head of "Automobile Parking in Business Districts." They are as follows:

1. Make a traffic survey. Such a survey should include not only a count of vehicles, but also a count of customers. In this count of customers the usual questions about the vehicles they used in getting downtown should be preceded by the question: Did you come downtown to shop or did you come for some other reason with shopping merely incidental?

2. Determine what are the most important traffic needs of your central business district (or of your outlying business districts) and list them as nearly as you can in order of importance.

3. See whether less important traffic is interfering with more important traffic and, if so, whether it can not be diverted from the district or confined to out-of-business hours.

4. Secure the adoption of a traffic ordinance. Don't adopt all the regulations you can think of, but only those which are necessary.

5. Study the effect of buildings of varying bulk and use upon street traffic as a guide in influencing future building.

6. If you have no city plan or zoning regulations, consider their value as means of securing permanent improvement in traffic conditions."

SANFORD FORUM

Editor The Herald, Dear Sir:

In yesterday's Herald you stated that "in other counties are beginning to undertake the production of celery in large quantities or farmers must begin to study other products."

We have tried about every crop own to science and agricultural practice, gathered from the ends of the earth during the past twenty years, but celery has proved to be the only crop upon which we depend to get the working value out of our high-priced land.

We are producing plenty of celery, in fact, more than enough with our present methods of distribution and sale, to be assured of a profit on the transaction. We are not, however, preparing it for market in the proper manner or distributing and selling it in the proper manner.

At present we are permitting the celery washers of the north to do this work on our celery at an enormous cost and what little work we are doing at this end of the line in the way of partially washing it and packing it in the rough is not getting us very far since the celery washers of the north are getting more advantage out of it than we are, and we are not being paid sufficiently for our work.

VOTING

At the last presidential election more than 28,000,000 persons, eligible to have cast their votes, assumed an attitude of indifference and stayed at home.

A nation enters its first stages of political decay when the common masses no longer feel a part of the governmental organization.

A particular effort will be made by various political organizations over the nation to get out the vote at the elections next fall. It will help some, but the fault lies deeper and back in the mental convictions of the voters.

Trapped by Her Past

RECENTLY a woman who a few years ago was a popular actress on Broadway, submitted a story to True Story Magazine which created a stir even among the editors long used to reading startling and unusual stories.

It was the account of why she left the stage abruptly at the height of her career never to be seen on the boards again. It was a tale of dread and terror as each night she swayed her thousands to smiles or tears, her eyes, masking the agony in her soul, were seeking, always seeking among the audience the one man in all the world who had it in his power to drag her down from the pinnacle of success to the ignominy of defeat.

Symphony Concert To Be Offered At Milane Tomorrow

In observance of National Music Week the Sanford Symphony Orchestra will render a program at The Milane Theater Thursday night, according to an announcement made today by Manager J. L. Marentette.

The Sanford Choral Society was enthusiastically received by a large audience at the Milane last night. Four numbers were given and Mrs. Arthur Branam was exceptionally pleasing with a soprano solo.

Organ recitals by Geo. Brockhahn are a feature of the theater's programs for this week. The Sanford Symphony Orchestra selections are certain to be well received as it is a feature of exceptional note.

Dix Picture Now At Milane Is Big Triumph For Star

With Norma Campbell, the beautiful star of the picture, which is a hit of Paramount's present season, "Easy Come, Easy Go" is the leading woman. Dix offers a lively, laugh-provoking characterization of a young man who is made the accomplice of an accomplished crook.

Charles Selby, who plays a prominent role in the picture, has been a star in several important roles of the picture. Selby's work with Dix has come to the attention of the picture's producers, and he is being considered for an important part in the picture's sequel.

The picture develops early and continues throughout the various scenes. Arnold Kent, therefore, as the third member of the love triangle, is much in evidence and very effective. Frank Currier for the part of the bank president and Christian J. Frank, Jack J. Frank and Guy Oliver, have important places as the head of the firm and the train conductor, respectively.

Ambulant Proctology

In the case referred to yesterday it was found that there was a very tight sphincter muscle, which was dilated without instruments. Latex foam rubber and little packets in the rectum were treated by ambulant methods. Almost immediately there was relief from the itching, and he went to sleep that night for the first time without his troublesome symptom.

It is only a question of time until all schools of therapy must adopt this practically painless method of treatment, as people will not run the risk of general anesthesia, surgery and expensive hospitalization when they can get treatment of this kind with less expense and no loss of time from social or business obligations.
